Conference Outlook Is Brighter After Week-end Meetings
WORKERS STARTED ON BIG HOTEL

DISPUTED POINTS ARE LIKELY TO BE CLEARED UP TODAY

Decision to Invite German Delegates Improves International Sentiment.

HERRIOT AGREES

Evacuation of Ruhr Approved—U. S. State Secretary Aids in Negotiation.

BY LLOYD ALLEN (United Press Staff Cor.)

London, July 28.—The conference outlook had brightened considerably over the week-end and indications of agreement on disputed points at this afternoon's session ran high.

The reason for the remarkable improvement in sentiment was a decision, reported reached after week-end consultations by Premier Herriot, to approve inviting the German delegation to London, with the prerogative of freely discussing major issues, such as economic evacuation of the Ruhr, as a means of restoring Germany's financial and economic structure.

It was after talks with Hughes and Secretary of the Treasury Andrew Mellon, that Herriot agreed to this.

Agree to Ruhr Evacuation.

The French Premier also agreed that French and Belgian troops should evacuate the Ruhr soon after economic evacuation had been effected.

The Daily Telegraph praises Herriot's courage for his reported change of front which is equivalent to an open challenge to Poincare and his extreme Nationalist followers.

"Herriot's attitude," the Telegraph says, "will win him the whole-hearted support not only of his own followers in France, but of all friends of European peace throughout two hemispheres."

Owing to the magnitude of the questions now involving today on the conference, well informed observers warned today against premature and excessive optimism and indicated that Poincare and his followers might yet organize and inaugurate the strongest kind of opposition, possibly forcing further delay.

The British and Americans refused to admit the possibility of ultimate failure, and persistently reiterate that inauguration of the experts' plan, although most important as the foundation stone to be overshadowed later by an immense flow of English and American private credits to Germany, and also to France. For this reason, they say, the recovery of the world from the war is based upon these British and U. S. financiers receiving definite assurance that no European nation, especially France, is embarking on any more adventures against Germany, like that of the Ruhr.

"Big Five" Meets.

Informal mediation by Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes is generally understood to have been the turning point in the reparations conference towards a spirit of renewed confidence. The Evening Standard said today: "Hughes left for Paris today laden with the station by Ambassador Kellogg and allied officials, after which the 'Big Five,' Kellogg, MacDonald, Thiennes, Herriot and DeStefani went to No. 10 Downing street to discuss details of this afternoon's plenary session.

The Bird Committee of the conference was working today on the question of what body should interpret the experts' report and plan. The committee is now working out a suggestion that the Hague court be asked to decide in case the Reparations Commission proves unable to agree unanimously on any point.

The "Big Five" adjourned their conference at 11 a.m. They were unanimously well satisfied with what had happened.

French Parliament To Meet Tomorrow

(United Press.) Paris, July 28.—Premier Herriot, who is in London attending the Allied conference, will remain in England for several days more and will not attend the session of Parliament on Tuesday, according to an official communique from the Foreign Office.

Bobbed Hair Causes Chicago Barbers to Demand More Money

Chicago, July 28.—Bobbed hair is given as the cause of wage increase demands being made by the journeymen barbers' union, which threatens to take a strike vote next week if an agreement is not reached. "With bobs ranging in price from $1 to $1.50, with the prospect of curling, marcelling and shampooing, with the barber having to go to school to learn how to do it, we want more money," W. S. Laidy, union president, says.

CLIMBERS ASSAIL ROCKIES' HEIGHTS

Mount Robson is Conquered For Third Time—Alpinists in Camp.

Berg Lake Camp, via Mount Robson, B. C., July 28.—With perfect weather for climbing and unclouded in attendance, this year's camp of the Alpine Club of Canada bids fair to outlive all previous gatherings of its kind. Not only is there the highest and most difficult peak in the Canadian Rockies to be conquered, but also there are literally dozens of other difficult and challenging climbs awaiting the alpinists. Climbers here from various parts of Canada, the U. S. and the British Empire.

Already Mount Robson has been conquered on the third time, this ascent having been made Friday evening by a party composed of M. C. Geddes of Calgary, who recently made the first ascent of the mountain, Harry Pollard of Calgary, H. B. Moffatt and Conrad Kain. The party reached the summit after a difficult and hazardous ascent. In one instance they had crossed an ice ledge only a few moments before the entire ledge gave way and with rocks were sliding down thousands of feet to the valley below.

Today Moffatt is on the mountain again attempting the climb from the north side, and with him is a party including a lady alpinist. Another party, under the guidance of Conrad Kain, is also attempting the ascent today.

A party composed of George Hardreave and Windsor Putnam, the latter having climbed Mount Robson two years ago, left here four days ago to attempt a lady alpinist. Another party, under the guidance of Conrad Kain, is also attempting the ascent today.

Vienna, July 28.—All Vienna turned out yesterday for an anti-war demonstration. The parade was most imposing with 300,000 persons in lines.

Boston, July 28.—Dr. John H. Cunningham, surgeon, attending Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, who is ill, said this morning that the condition of his patient was "excellent for a man of his years."

Kingston, Ja., July 28.—The British special cruiser squadron comprising the Hood, Repulse, and Adelaide, arrived here Saturday morning and was greeted enthusiastically by British residents.

London, July 28.—New American proposals which both the French and the British hope will break the deadlock in the reparations conference during a meeting of the experts of the conference.

Vineyard Haven, Mass., July 28.—The passenger steamer Myles Standish, bound from here for Woods Hole, struck a rock while rounding East Chop today and sprang a leak. She was able to reach Oak Bluffs, where her 25 passengers were landed and the steamer beached. A dense fog prevailed.

STEAMER TAIREI MARU IS WRECKED; 23 ONLY RESCUED

Was Carrying 138 Passengers and Had a Crew of Fifty-four.

ALL JAPANESE.

One Report Says Collision; Another That Vessel Hit Rocks.

(Canadian Press Cable.)

Tokyo, July 28.—One hundred and fifty-nine persons were drowned in the wreck of the steamer Tairei Maru off Cape Noto, Northeast of Hokkaido at 10:45 o'clock last night says a dispatch to a Tokyo newspaper.

The Tairei Maru nominally is a freight steamer, but was carrying 138 passengers besides the crew of 54. She is operated by the North Japan Steamship Company between the Island of Sapporo and Hokkaido, northernmost of the main Japanese Islands. She was bound for Otaru at the time of the wreck. She is a vessel of 1,240 tons. Eighteen passengers and five members of the crew survived, reaching Toyohara in lifeboats.

The cause of the wreck is obscure. The press dispatch says it resulted from a collision with the Kamikura Maru but other advices declare it was due to striking rocks.

All aboard the ship were Japanese.

KILLS BROTHER; WOUNDS 2 OTHERS

80-Year Old Man Fled to Woods and is Shot by Posses.

Danielson, Conn., July 28.—Benjamin White, 80, who yesterday shot and killed his brother, Edwin T. White, 72, killed his brother, Edwin T. White, and wounded his nephew, Howard White and David Matson, fiancé of his niece, Sadie Phyllis White, was shot and killed by one of the members of a posse who were searching for him shortly after noon today.

Putnam, Conn., July 28.—State police and a posse of residents of Pomfret Landing had failed up to early forenoon today to find any trace of Benjamin White, 80, who yesterday shot and killed his brother, Edwin T. White, 72, and slightly wounded Howard White, his nephew, and David Matson, of Hartford, who is to marry his niece, Sadie Phyllis White.

White fled into the woods after killing his brother. It was announced following the shooting that the wedding of Matson and Miss White would take place as planned, next Saturday at the White residence.

Police, after interviewing members of the family of Edwin White, expressed the belief that objection by Benjamin White to his niece wedding with Matson may have something to do with the shooting.

York County Man Left $41,000 Estate

Fredericton, N. B., July 28.—The will of the late ex-Warden John McKean of the Parish of Bright has been admitted to probate before P. J. Hughes, K. C., Judge of Probate. The estate is valued at somewhat in excess of $41,000, about $2,000 in real estate and $39,000 personal. The property is left entirely to the widow, who also is sole executrix. R. B. Hanson, K. C., is proctor.

No public bequests were made. It is understood that by a previous will Victoria Hospital was to be a beneficiary.

The testator was a resident of McKean's Corner and was a retired lumber operator and farmer.

Offer For Maternity Home In Fredericton

Fredericton, N. B., July 28.—The board of trustees of Victoria Public Hospital has received an offer to purchase the building in Smythe street which has been used for some time as a maternity hospital. The matter was left in the hands of a special committee with power to act. The maternity hospital operated in connection with Victoria Hospital, has never met expenses.

Thinks Alligator Is Log; Steps On It; Is Attacked

Markville, La., July 28.—Thomas Briggs of Little River, near here, is recovering from the attack of a sixteen-foot alligator which he encountered while picking moss in the swamps.

In crossing a ditch containing about four feet of water, Briggs stepped on something he thought was a log. The "log" proved to be an alligator, which caught Briggs just above the knee, cracking the bone of his leg. After a struggle the alligator let go and made a vicious attempt to catch Briggs' body, but the man leaped in time to prevent the animal getting a firm hold. Briggs' cries for help attracted the attention of a brother near by who shot and killed the alligator.

SAYS DEFENCE WILL REQUIRE TEN DAYS

State's Case is Completed in Trial of Leopold and Loeb.

Chicago, July 28.—State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe today presented the last of the evidence with which he expects to gain the extreme penalty for Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, confessed kidnapers and slayers of young Robert Franks.

When the state rests, the defence will put on the stand the alienists who for the last several weeks have been examining the two wealthy university students.

In a manner of capping the peak of the "mountain of evidence" which Mr. Crowe has been piling up since Wednesday of last week, will be read today the confessions of the two defendants.

The defence, according to Mr. Darrow, will consume about 10 days in presenting its side.

Relatives of the boys may take the stand in their behalf and Loeb and Leopold themselves, it was intimated, may testify.

Alienists Report.

By the report of the two defence alienists Dr. C. M. Bowman, Boston, and Dr. H. S. Hulbert, Chicago, have been made public, in the opinion of the doctors, both were fundamentally sane at the time they committed the crime but both were habitually bent on ideas of their importance and daring.

Loeb is analyzed as a criminal since the cradle. Loeb is the "king" and Leopold the "slave." The report says: "An absolute solemn pact is made under which Leopold places himself absolutely under the commands of Loeb and has made him the hero. He is a physical coward, shuns pain, but has no fear of death. He is an atheist.

Loeb fantasized himself as a slave who was the strongest man in the world and who would often fight for the champion of his side against the strongest man of the other side and always win, the report stated.

In taking up Leopold's estimates of himself, the report says: "He is an intellect. I tried to cut out the emotional type. He has always been pre-eminently intellectual. He has studiously tried to make intelligence the most important thing in his life and to repress his emotional side. As he puts it: 'My idea was cold-blooded intellect. I tried to cut out the emotional.' "Loeb," the report of him says, "indulged in many criminalistic reveries and criminalistic practices."

OUTLAWS KILL FOUR

Excursionists Attacked Near Mexico City—Cavalry Hunting Assaultants.

Mexico City, July 28.—Four persons were killed last night by a band of about 20 outlaws. The outlaws fired upon a party of excursionists in automobiles while on their way from Mexico City to Cuernavaca, as the motor cars were climbing a hill 20 miles outside the capital. A cavalry column has been sent in pursuit of the outlaws.

On the other hand Mr. MacDonald is not really interested in the British Empire. He has visited most parts of it, but it has left him cold.

It has never really touched his imagination as a political instrument of enormous power, as a potential instrument of perhaps decisive power, in the future history of man.

He talks indeed the most correct sentiments, but when it comes to the point of action his attitude is a rigid negative. It cannot be said that his imperial policy has failed; but that is because he has not in fact an imperial policy at all. A correct attitude and a polite refusal cannot in any true sense of the word be called a policy; in the current slang of the day, it is a gesture and nothing more—a gesture of impotence.

Believe that this attitude of mind is profoundly mistaken. Admittedly Britain is a European power and therefore the affairs of Europe can never be

DOMINIONS' STATUS

Noted Publicist Says They are Equal With Mother Country.

By SIR CHARLES ROSS, BART (Editor of The London Outlook, published by arrangement with The Outlook, copyright, 1924, by United Press.)

London, July 28.—The first six months of Ramsay MacDonald's premiership of Great Britain have left no doubt as to the character of his foreign policy. He is more interested in European than in British Empire affairs, and therefore his policy is more European than imperial. He has gone to immense pains to effect the pacification of Europe and, although I doubt whether he will ultimately succeed in the re-settlement of the continent, it would be extremely unfair to reproach him with failure. The time has been too short, the materials too refractory and the conflict of wills and rival interests and ambitions too strong for any statesman to complete what may after all prove to be an impossible task.

It may be impossible to pacify Europe because Europe does not wish to be pacified. This may seem a pessimistic view, but every honest observer will admit that the facts of the last five years appear to support it.

Says Premier Cold.

On the other hand Mr. MacDonald is not really interested in the British Empire. He has visited most parts of it, but it has left him cold. It has never really touched his imagination as a political instrument of enormous power, as a potential instrument of perhaps decisive power, in the future history of man.

Lives Life of Jean Valjean's Story, But is Pardoned on Return to Prison

Little Rock, Ark., July 28.—The tragedy of Jean Valjean has found a counterpart in the story of Jim Pikey, an escaped convict from the Arkansas Penitentiary. But Pikey's story has a happy ending.

Pikey lived for six years without detection. He became a trusted employee of the Oklahoma City water works. He married and became a father. He built a home, made a garden and planted flowers. He adopted the name Chester Moore and became known as honest and industrious. He almost forgot he was Jim Pikey.

Then he was recognized, blackmailed and finally exposed by a former fellow convict. He returned to the Arkansas Penitentiary ready to complete his sentence.

Then came the happy ending of his story. Instead of commitment papers to the penitentiary, Governor McRae issued the sixth pardon of his three and one-half years of office and freed Pikey from all consequences of the judgment against him and restored him to citizenship.

FLIERS PREPARE

U. S. Airmen Get Ready to Cross Atlantic—Argentine Off for Rome.

(United Press.)

Brough, England, July 28.—The American world fliers tested their planes today, preparatory to hopping off on Wednesday for the Orkneys, whence they will cross the Atlantic via Iceland and Greenland homeward bound.

Lyons, July 28.—(United Press.)—Major Petro Zanni, Argentine aviator who is setting out on a world flight, continues to encounter the worst possible weather conditions. Driven back last evening when he attempted to go on from Lyons to Rome, he set out today for the Italian capital.

Zanni, who started from Amsterdam and reached Paris Saturday, arrived here at 1:35 p.m. Sunday.

London, July 28.—(United Press.)—The Italian aviator, Locatelli who set out from Pisa Friday morning to join the American world fliers at Brough has been located near Marseilles.

Indifferent to her, as they are, in effect, to America; she must bear her share in the responsibilities of Europe; but it is not and I doubt whether—except in some great crisis such as 1914—it can ever be a decisive share.

Britain can advise and counsel; she cannot control the course of events. But with the British Empire it is different. The Dominions are equal with the Mother Country in theory, but in fact Britain is the head in political and economic power, in prestige and reputation, in everything that makes for the leadership of states. But the position of leadership is nothing unless the faculty and the will to lead is there; and it is in this that Mr. MacDonald is lacking.

Britain must have both a European and an empire policy; but ultimately her policy must be based on the empire, not on Europe, both because her interests are permanently imperial and she only occasionally European and because in Europe she can never play a decisive part, whereas in the empire she can be the effective leader.

Or, to express it more shortly, England may have a European policy, but the British Empire must have a world policy; because England is not only related to the European family, but is the actual head of the British Empire that is spread throughout the world.

COMMITTEE GOES $1,000 OVER TOP IN $120,000 DRIVE

Contract is Signed and Work Starts Less Than Three Hours Later.

WORK FOR MANY

Officials of Cape Co., Contractors, Says Several Hundred.

Work on the construction of the new Admiral Beatty Hotel in King Square started this afternoon at 2 o'clock, within three hours after the contract was signed by the directors of the hotel company and E. G. M. Cape Co., Ltd., Montreal, contractors.

The final drive of the citizens' committee, which had in hand the obtaining of subscriptions amounting to $120,300, without which the hotel was impossible, resulted in success which was even beyond the fondest hopes of any of its members, and when the committee held its last session at noon today it was four that the objective had been passed by more than $1,000.

A sigh of genuine relief went up from the members of the committee, which was echoed by the citizens in general, when it became known that the days of suspense were past and the big new hotel was assured for St. John.

Contract Is Signed.

Just before noon today the members of the board of directors of the Admiral Beatty Hotel Co., Ltd., met with R. H. MacDonald, of the firm of Ross & MacDonald, Montreal, architects of the new structure, and T. A. Somerville, vice-president of the E. G. M. Cape Co., Ltd., Montreal, the lowest tenderers, and the contract was then formally signed.

Immediately afterwards the members of the board, the contractors and architects' representatives, as well as members of the firm of Thomas, Armstrong & Bell, who handled the financing of the project, met with the citizens' committee in the latter's headquarters in the Macaulay Building in King street.

Here G. Ernest Barbour, chairman of the citizens' committee, announced that the committee had done better than react its objective—$120,300 and that, therefore, the construction of the hotel had been assured. He said that it was realized late on Saturday that the necessary $120,000 was in sight, and it was with pleasure that he announced that subscriptions secured by the committee now totaled $121,350 with the possibility of this being further augmented by a few small amounts that had not yet been reported.

Mr. Barbour complimented the members of the committee on the fine showing they had made, but felt that at the same time a great deal of credit for the successful finish of the campaign was due to the energies of the president of the hotel company, Frank M. Ross. Never had he taken part in a campaign, Mr. Barbour said, where the difficulties which confronted them at the outset were harder, nor was there ever a campaign in his experience where the men stuck to it in spite of everything that was against them. He thanked those who had taken part.

Mr. Barbour said that it was gratifying to note that the subscriptions secured during the campaign were from about 400 different people.

Mr. Ross speaks

Frank M. Ross, president of the Admiral Beatty Hotel Co., Ltd., after expressing his personal appreciation of that of his conferees in the enterprise, of the valuable service rendered voluntarily by the committee, said that without them there would have been no hotel.

Mr. Ross referred to the fact that while all the stock in the original proposition had now been taken care of, the firm of Thomas, Armstrong & Bell had underwritten $72,000 in stock, some of which he understood, had not yet been disposed of. He expressed hope that the Citizens' Committee (Continued on page 2, col. 2)

WILL FISH AND TELL READERS ABOUT IT

"Sporting Life" Editor and Party Brought Here by Joe Page.

There came to the city this morning on the Montreal train a party of Philadelphia visitors who are going after the pleasures of a fishing outing in attractive New Brunswick. The party consists of E. F. Wolfe, editor of Sporting Life, Mrs. Wolfe and their son Douglas; Robert Schroder, a freelance writer for sport magazines, and Benjamin McFarland, nephew of T. D. Shibe, secretary-treasurer of the Philadelphia Athletics Baseball Club. Mr. Shibe also is the president of the company which publishes Sporting Life. Accompanying the party was Joe Page, of the C. P. R. He is the organizer of the outing, which is along lines similar to others he has promoted and which have resulted in making this province much better known and increased the number of tourists with consequent benefit to New Brunswick and pleasure to those participating. The party left this afternoon for Fredericton and will go thence to New Hare's Point, about 22 miles away, and will spend 10 days at the Mills camp site. In addition to the good things New Brunswick has to offer the sport of fishing, in articles and pictures, the many thousands of readers of Sporting Life will learn of the good things New Brunswick has to offer the lover of the great outdoors. Mr. Wolfe told a Times-Star reporter that his publication designed to print a series of illustrated sections of various parts of the country, starting in the issue of next April, and will devote a lot of attention to articles which he will write as a result of his present visit. This afternoon, E. A. Schofield took Mr. Wolfe and the party on an automobile tour of the city and surroundings. Mr. Page, who joined the party at Montreal and looked after all the arrangements, will not remain for the fishing trip, but will return to Montreal.

ENDS SERVICE WITH MOUNTIES; IS HOME

William McMahon Reaches St. John After Years in Famous Force.

William McMahon, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McMahon of this city, is home after completing five years of service with the famous North West Mounted Police force. Although only a young man he has gone through many experiences. At the age of 16 years he enlisted with a Canadian unit and went overseas where he spent four years fighting the Germans and on his return to Canada he joined the Mounties. On his arrival home he was warmly greeted by many friends. A Regina newspaper had the following article about members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police: "From the frozen wilds of the Yukon to the tanness and sweltering heat of Regina is the experience of eight members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who arrived here recently. The terms of service of these men in the northland ranged from two to six years, but most of them seem to prefer the solitude of the Arctic country to their present surroundings. "All of the men were uncommunicative concerning their experiences in the northwest territory. With headquarters in Dawson, Yukon, the Mounties went on outpost duty in the surrounding country and patrolled hundreds of miles of territory. When the order reached the men telling them to return to Regina some of them had to travel hundreds of miles to reach Dawson. The party was under the command of Corporal Roberts, who spent six years in the north. "Among the eight was William McMahon of this city. "BILL" IS SHIP'S MASCOT. On the cruiser Constance, now in port, is "Bill," a goat. "Bill" is the biggest favorite on board, but is a stickler for his rights, which consist of much petting and little teasing. "One of the tars on board "Bill" has taken a great fancy but views with suspicion many of the others. When "Bill" gets riled he uses effective weapons and there is a helter and skelter to get out of his reach when he feels aggrieved.

First Stone Turned for New Hotel Today

Here is the Admiral Beatty, the big new hotel, work on which was commenced today on the site of the old Dufferin Hotel, King Square. The signing of the contract today followed a campaign of less than a week during which a Citizen's Committee raised in subscriptions $121,350, of which $120,300 was needed before the project was assured. Many people today witnessed the start of actual construction work.

COMMITTEE GOES $1,000 OVER TOP IN $120,000 DRIVE

(Continued from page 1.) might still take an active interest in the project and possibly assist Thomas, Armstrong & Bell, who had done much towards making the hotel possible, in placing the balance for which they had accepted responsibility. He reported regarding the meeting of the contractors' representatives and the signing of the contract, and announced that the first work would be at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Work is commenced. People congregated at the hotel site at 2 o'clock this afternoon when the actual work of erection of the new hotel was commenced, the first operation being the drilling of rock with an electric drill. Among those present were Mayor Potts and other members of the City Council, Board of Trade, Rotary Club, the Citizens' Committee and others.

Will Employ Many.

T. A. Somerville, vice-president of E. G. M. Cape Co. Ltd., the successful tenderers, announced this afternoon that, as soon as the work was well under way, he expected that several hundred men would be kept employed. Arrangements with the N. B. Power Co. he said, to connect up with the job their power wires and the assembling of the excavating apparatus would proceed immediately. He expected that 80 to 40 men would be employed during the excavating work and this number would be added to as the job progressed. The equipment which is now on its way to the site includes air compressors, electric drills, diggers, and a large steam shovel. Several teams and possibly motor trucks will be used in carting away waste material.

Built the Refinery.

"This will be the second big contract which the E. G. M. Cape Company have had in this city, they having been the contractors for the Atlantic Sugar Refinery when that structure was erected at White Head, near Carleton Place, N. S.

WILL LOOSEN UP, SAYS THE MAYOR FOR THE ORPHANS

Declares New Hotel Means New Era—Rotarians March to Site. Will Utilize Interest for Annual J. D. O'Connell Picnics. The City Council this morning decided to accept an offer made by J. D. O'Connell to place in the hands of the city the sum of $5,000, to be held in trust for all time and the income used to provide an annual picnic for the orphans in the various institutions in and near the city.

Mr. O'Connell called on Mayor Potts on Saturday and offered to hand over to the city $5,000 in 5-1-2 per cent. Dominion Government bonds, to be used for this purpose. He has done this in about twenty cities and towns of the United States and Canada in order to make sure that the work started by him, which has given unlimited joy to thousands of kiddies, might be carried on after he had passed into the "great beyond." His Worship assured Mr. O'Connell that he did not think there would be any doubt of the city accepting the trust.

The resolution adopted was follows: Whereas Mr. J. D. O'Connell of Canagony, Cuba, has informed His Worship the Mayor that he proposes to place with the City of Saint John in trust the sum of $5,000, provided that the city will consent to accept such trust, the income of which is to be used annually for entertaining the orphans of this city; and Whereas there appears to be no reason why the city should not comply with this request, therefore, resolved, that Mr. O'Connell be informed that the city is willing to accept such trust upon a proper trust deed satisfactory to the city solicitor being drawn up.

Among the guests at today's luncheon were the Mayor, Chairman Geo. E. Barbour of the Citizens' Committee, Don Armstrong of Thomas, Armstrong & Bell, A. E. Massie, Hammond Evans and W. E. Anderson, captain of the committee of seventy. W. H. Harrison, a director of the hotel company, Architect Ross of Montreal, who is a Rotarian, and Mr. Childs of the Dry Dock Co., who was to have spoken before the club, but gave way to the hotel enterprise.

Mr. Barbour paid a high tribute to H. P. Robinson and Frank Ross, deputy dock manager, for preparing a list of names that brought in fully fifty per cent of the $120,000. Mayor Potts also eulogized Mr. Ross as a great booster for St. John. Architect Ross said it would be hard to estimate the immense benefit the new hotel would be to the city.

ENTHUSES OVER SCENERY OF N. B.

Lt. Col. Nasmith, Prominent in War and Red Cross, Visits Here.

Greatly impressed with the scenery in St. John and its environs and particularly the St. John river, Lt. Col. George G. Nasmith, C. M. G., Ph. D., D. Sc. of Toronto will leave for his home today after spending a brief vacation at Smith's Cove, N. S. Col. Nasmith, who is the inventor of the gas mask during the war, is accompanied by Mrs. Nasmith. If he is enthusiastic about the scenery down east, his wife is more so and describes the view of the city coming into the harbor as one of the finest it has been her privilege to see. While here, the distinguished Toronto man, who is honorary adviser on public health and chairman of the junior section of the Canadian Red Cross, conferred with local Red Cross officials and was guest at luncheon today of R. T. Hayes, M. L. A., chairman of the New Brunswick Red Cross.

Col. Nasmith had planned to return to Toronto via Bangor, by which route he was entering the province. He conferred this morning, however, with J. Charlton Berrie, secretary-treasurer of the N. B. Automobile Association, respecting the roads to Quebec city by way of Woodstock and Edmundston, and if Professor Murdoch, who came on the trip and now is at St. Stephen, is agreed, the provincial route will be followed on the return trip. Yesterday afternoon, Col. and Mrs. Nasmith were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. Carter and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Carter and motored through some of the loveliest sections of the St. John and Kennebec rivers, touring via Gondola Point and the Cedars and historic church at Kingston, returning through Hampton to Rothesay and Fair Vale. They were delighted with the two great rivers and some of the choicest bits of scenery in New Brunswick.

Col. Nasmith is one of the outstanding laboratory experts on the continuing outbreak of war in 1914, he was placed in charge of the water supply for Valcartier Camp and sailed overseas with the First Contingent. In 1915, he went to France as officer commanding No. 5 Mobile Laboratory and that year was mentioned in despatches and was made Companion of St. Michael and St. George by His Majesty. He evaded the method of chlorinating water used by the Allied armies at the front and was present at the second battle of Ypres when the Germans first used poison gas. He correctly diagnosed this at the time and recommended the use of gas masks. He suggested the use of a mobile filter and sterilizing unit for purifying water in the field. He was in the British army. He is the author of several texts on purification of water, milk, etc. Mrs. Nasmith is principal of the McArthur school, founded by the generosity of the late Mrs. Timothy Eaton and the late Sir John Eaton. Many St. John and New Brunswick school graduates have graduated from this school, which is considered one of the finest of its kind in Canada.

SAO PAULO REBELS HAVE CAPITULATED TO FEDERAL FORCES

(United Press Staff Correspondent.) Sao Paulo, July 26.—Rebel forces which have held the city of Sao Paulo since July 4, have capitulated, it was officially announced here today. The rebels are reported to have been rapidly returning to normal. Buenos Aires, July 28.—(Canadian Press).—The heaviest fighting since the rebellion broke out 22 days ago in Brazil is reported to have occurred on Sunday around Sao Paulo, especially on the South, where the federal forces have been well within the city limits for some days. The Federals are reported to have bombarded with heavy artillery, whereupon the rebels are said to have delivered a strong attack, driving back the Federals at some points. Official news on yesterday's activities was lacking up to a late hour last night. The usual noon day communication had not been received from Rio Janeiro. While a large part of the civilian population had evacuated the city, many thousands of persons are remaining there to assist the rebels.

ARTIFICIAL KIDNEY TO WASH POISONS OUT OF THE BLOOD

Article by New York Doctor, Formerly of New Brunswick.

A remarkable mechanical apparatus that will draw off blood from the human body, wash it and return it to the system again is described in an article in the New York Times by Dr. Van Buren Thorne, former Kings County man now holding a high position on the staff of the big metropolitan newspaper. Dr. Thorne's article is as follows: "When anything becomes fouled or contaminated, the obvious procedure is to clean it. The cleaning act is simple enough when the object of attack happens to be a dial, a pane of glass, or one of the blood out of one's body and submit it to an overhauling in order to remove undesirable substances in a procedure well calculated to cause amazement. Yet the thing is quite simple; indeed, its practicability has already been established experimentally in many animals, thanks to American ingenuity. These animals have not suffered, and the blood temporarily removed has been returned to the circulation as good as new.

circulation is established in the apparatus called the artificial kidney, the system of tubes is filled with salt solution. The blood starts through the tubes; it pushes the salt solution ahead of it; the salt solution enters the vein. As soon as the system of tubes becomes exactly filled with blood (one-third of the amount of blood in the body) it follows that a corresponding amount of blood permeable to certain solids, among which are mineral poisons and other substances which it is desirable to be rid of, and pass through the tubes of the artificial kidney while the blood is circulating through it. "The apparatus contains between its outer glass covering and the system of tubes a solution in which these solids pass, whence they may be collected, measured, weighed and analyzed at will. The stock laboratory expression to denote this procedure is that the solids have been 'dialyzed out.' But there were other difficulties that had to be considered. Well might one ask: Suppose other substances in the blood which it is necessary or desirable to keep there should escape through the porous tubes into the surrounding solution—how is that guarded against? The investigators foresaw this contingency and provided for it. Knowing the amounts of such substances which the blood normally contains, they simply dissolved equal amounts in the surrounding solution so that it could neither yield nor take from the blood anything which the experimenters had decided in advance they did not want disturbed. In this manner, then, all of the blood in the body can be removed, cleaned and returned.

"It is not recorded that Dr. Abel and his co-workers have tried to use the artificial kidney in the endeavor either to save human life or to improve the condition of human patients. That their ultimate object, when the European war set everything awry. They had used it, however, on dogs weighing up to fifty pounds, and ten years ago they were engaged in constructing a machine capable of handling a body weighing 200 pounds—which, of course, meant man himself. The war temporarily put an end to this work.

"A few days ago, however, the authorities at Johns Hopkins received word that German scientists were preparing to use Dr. Abel's invention of mercury, and for other purposes. They expressed the opinion that many lives could be saved that otherwise would be lost.

"Since the immortal Harvey discovered the circulation of the blood, every school boy has been taught that the heart pumps the blood into the arteries, which carry it to the capillaries, from which it gets into the veins, which finally return it to the heart. The idea of the artificial kidney, which is simpler than to tap a large artery, allow the blood to flow into some sort of receptacle, where it could be dealt with, and return it to the body by means of a large vein which had also been tapped? It sounds simple enough, and this is exactly what the actual procedure was far more complicated than it sounds, because so many delicate considerations had to be taken into consideration.

"For instance, something had to be put back into the body to take the place of the missing blood and so maintain an equilibrium of the animal. Scientists long before had determined that a salt solution, properly proportioned, could very well take the place of a quantity of blood; indeed, what is known as a 'normal-saline solution' is frequently injected into the veins of those who have suffered extensive hemorrhages.

"The explanation of how this saline solution gets into the veins to replace the temporarily absent blood is a matter of a brief description of the artificial kidney itself. Its outer surface consists of a glass cylinder, and this contains a system of tubes, one part of which is connected with the tube of an artery that has been tapped and thus allows the blood to escape from the body. "Another part of the system of tubes serves as the exit, since it is connected with that tube, or cannula, which is inserted into the vein by which the blood re-enters the body. Now, before

Saved from an Operation by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Edith, M.—"I was a nervous wreck. I was suffering from a pain in my left side, which was almost unbearable, and I could not even lie in bed. I had been sick for seven years, but not the doctors told me that an operation was all there was left. I would not consent to that, so my husband brought me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begged me to take it. I have taken fourteen bottles of it and I feel ten years younger. Life is full of hope. I do all my house work and had a large garden this year. I never will be without the Vegetable Compound in the house, and when my two little girls reach womanhood I intend to teach them to take it. I am never too busy to tell you how my sister of my help, and you can use my name and letter to spread the good news of Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine."—Mrs. Ida M. Coffman, R. B. 2, Sidell, N. B.

ROADS AND MOTORISTS

Motorists on the Maine highways are being questioned, says the Bangor Commercial, as to their destinations and homes and if they are on business or pleasure bent by squads of men who are taking a census of automobile traffic under the joint auspices of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads and the Maine Highway Commission. The object of the census is to obtain definite information regarding the amount of traffic over the given highways and should serve at least two useful purposes. As a result of the census the public will be informed of the value of good roads to the state and the communities and the highway commission will obtain knowledge as to the sections in which expenditure will most benefit the public, although in this estimate there must be taken into account the fact that motorists are likely to be selecting certain roads because of their superiority over others.

It eliminates the pound, scurry and echo of busy steps and aids concentration by the air of restful quiet it imparts. Banks, offices, schools, hospitals and public buildings and stores of every description are using Dominion Battleship Linoleum. They find it unequalled for durability and walking comfort. Its sanitary qualities are welcomed, too, and the fact that it is so easy to clean, reduces upkeep to a minimum. Properly laid with waterproof cement, Dominion Battleship becomes a permanent floor. It resists the heaviest traffic and never needs expensive re-finishing.

WILL FRANCE YIELD?

France is at the cross-roads. So far as may be judged from a careful reading of the news of the day she must either modify her demands or become responsible for the failure of the Dawes plan, which appears to be the only hope for the restoration of Europe.

THE BRITISH ASSOCIATION.

The British Association for the Advancement of Science will hold its annual meeting this year in Toronto, from the sixth to the thirteenth of August. This is its fourth meeting in Canada. It met in Montreal in 1884, in Toronto in 1890, and in Winnipeg in 1909.

As yet, unfortunately, there is no announcement that the Maritime Provinces will be included in that tour. This is not unusual. Too often Canada is set down as beginning at Quebec or Montreal.

PROGRESSIVE ITALY.

The anticipated explosion in Italy as a result of the assassination of Premier Mussolini appears to be master of the situation. The London Daily Mail sent a correspondent to Italy to study conditions, and the result is a remarkable tribute to Mussolini and to the transformation he has wrought.

The Italian press is critical of France, which it charges with "throwing a monkey wrench" into the machinery. One Rome newspaper declares that the nations "should once for all put squarely up to France full responsibility for the rupture and failure to execute the Dawes plan."

The National Industrial Conference Board of the United States presents the following facts about the wage situation in that country: "The lot of the average industrial workman, expressed in terms of what he can get for the money his employer gives him, was the lowest in May, 1924, since March, 1923. At that, however, he was 20 per cent. better off than he was in July, 1914. In May average weekly earnings in twenty-three industries in this country surveyed by the board stood at $26.10, a decrease of 21 per cent. from the April level.

Patriotism cost a Cleveland, Ohio, man sixty days in jail. He had come from Canada, according to the Cleveland Press, and aimed to convince his guest that the United States has good a brand as can be got in Canada. This, at all events, was what he told the judge when arrested for driving a car while he was under the influence of liquor.

The Chicago murderers, Loeb and Leopold, are pronounced "fundamentally sane." That ought to speed up the cause of justice, whose wheels have been somewhat clogged in dealing with the case of these sons of millionaires. No alienists are needed to show that their victims is still dead.

TROUBLES IN BRAZIL.

The insurrectionary movement in Brazil is continuing longer than was expected. The country has not been greatly troubled with the work of revolutionists. It is in population, if not in size, the second state on the continent of America. In 1920 it had a population of over 30,000,000, about half whites and half colored, the latter including native Indians and negroes introduced into the country as slaves. It was formally occupied by the Portuguese in 1530. It continued to be administered from Portugal till 1822, when the separation took place by the royal family of that country moving across the Atlantic. On its return to the motherland, Dom Pedro, a younger member, remained in Brazil. He favored the independence of the country, and in 1822 he was proclaimed Emperor. He abdicated in 1888, and after a period of rule by regents, his son, Dom Pedro II., became Emperor. He held the throne till 1890, period of progress ruling throughout the period. He retired without resistance when a republican movement threatened civil war, and a democratic constitution was adopted. A mutiny of the navy followed, promoted by the imperialists and certain ecclesiastical influences, some Montevideo, it is said, being certain in the effort. It soon failed, and since then Brazil has had a relatively small figure in the news. Since 1890 the population of the country has doubled. There has been a large immigration of Portuguese, Italians and Germans, with a smaller number of English-speaking people. They have generally been workers, and the growth in the commerce and production of the country has been notable. The half-breeds, who constitute a considerable element in the population, are an industrious and enterprising class. Rio de Janeiro, the capital, is one of the finest cities on the continent. Sao Paulo, the chief city of the province of the same name which is the centre of the rising, is a place of quite 800,000 inhabitants and is well built. Its main industry is agricultural, and as farming communities are rarely revolutionary, the expectation is that the troubles will soon be finished. They may have sectional rather than political causes. Many of the disturbances are due to the fact that the methods of the outsets were harsh; and that the real aim of the leaders, and particularly of Mussolini, is a unified and prosperous Italy. The American writer enumerates a number of treaties concluded with neighboring nations since Mussolini came into power, and says he has not only improved Italy at home but strengthened her abroad.

THE RIGHT WAY TO HELP BOYS

The general character of the plans of the Ferguson Government for taking care of under-privileged and delinquent boys on a farm near Bowmanville, and give a new training, is a number of treaties concluded with neighboring nations since Mussolini came into power, and says he has not only improved Italy at home but strengthened her abroad.

AN OUTDOORS CANADIAN BOY.

Desmond Burke's victory at Bixley brings the highest honor in British rifle shooting to Ottawa. Picked rifleman from every quarter of the globe under the British flag got to Bixley, to compete for the Kilmartin Prize. The second man in this year's competition came from the Queen's Westminster's London regiment. The third from South Africa. Among the other competitors were marksmen from Australia, New Zealand, India, and almost every part of the British Commonwealth where any military organization is maintained.

THE LOGANBERRY.

Now that berry growers are beginning to do business on an economic basis, thanks to the possession of a machinery to handle their surplus, the real value of the loganberry is becoming apparent. Excelling as a canning berry and for wine making, the loganberry should have a big future in British Columbia. This berry makes one of the most delicious articles offered on the market in canned form. Its fullest flavor and quality are brought out in the canning process. The loganberry will probably never be popular for jam making purposes or for uncooked table use. It is best when preserved in its own wine-like syrup. It is in this latter form that the British public has received so much of it from Oregon. That canned logans are popular on the British market is evident from the steadily increasing exports from the neighboring states. British Columbia can enter into that export trade.

BRYAN'S TRIUMPHAL RETURN

SHEDIAC UNVEILS WAR MEMORIAL

Nearly 2,000 Present at Ceremony—Prominent Men Speak.

Shediac, July 27.—Nearly 2,000 residents and visitors yesterday afternoon attended the unveiling of a monument to the 18 boys of Shediac parish who fell in the world war. The speakers were F. J. Robidoux, former M. P., mayor of Shediac; Hon. Dr. P. J. Veniot, Dr. Webster, Col. Boyd Anderson, of Montreal; Rev. Father A. D. Cormier, secretary-treasurer of the Grand Pré Memorial Association; Rev. Mr. Ives, Methodist pastor, and Rev. W. Tomalin, Anglican rector and rural dean.

Dr. Webster in a strong patriotic address said he got the idea from the design of the monument from a memorial on Queenstown Heights, Ont., to General Brock. He expressed great appreciation to the Shediac brass band which supplied an excellent programme, preceding the speech making, from the Weidon House grounds. There was a parade of war veterans and school children headed by the band.

BALLADE OF THE GOLFIAC.

(Clinton Scollard) He roars when the bird of dawn sounds its reveille at the pane, And forth he strides upon the lawn To see if there's a threat of rain; For him the days were wild and vain; Could he not track the grassy track That leads by moor and mead and main; I sing the gusty Golfiac.

He may not be a man of brain, This devotee so fond of pain, The least amid a skilful train; And yet his spirit does not wane, Of a fine zeal he has no lack, And only Bogy is his bane; I sing the gusty Golfiac.

What time the daylight has withdrawn, And beacons star each heavenly lane, And his dear occupation's gone, He will discourse in rambling strain, And in his fancy play again Out to the furthest hole and back until you wish he would refrain; I sing the gusty Golfiac.

From California to Maine Here his interminable clack; To whom do I refer? It's plain I sing the gusty Golfiac!

LIGHTER VEIN.

The Sermon Hit Him. "Brethren an' sistahs, Ah demolishes go' 'gainst de crime ob melon stealin'." A brother in the back seat made an odd sound with his lips, rose and snapped his fingers. Then he sat down again with an abashed look. "Whuffo, mah fren," said the parson sternly, "does you rar up an' snap yo' fingers when Ah speaks ob melon stealin'?" "Yo' jes' reminded me, pahson," the man in the back seat answered meekly, "whar Ah done lef' mah knife."

Not Salvation. A gawky country youth and his best girl, visiting a town at night, became separated. The boy sought everywhere for his lost love, and finally wandered into a tabernacle where a revival was under way.

"Brother," was the greeting from an usher, "are you looking for salvation?" "No," blurted the yokel, "sal Sittin'."

Disappointment. "Did I ever bring you back your ladder that you lent me a week ago?" "No, you certainly did not."

"I'm sorry, but I just stopped in to borrow it again."

Locating His Record. "Well, Johnny," said the visiting uncle, "do you get any head marks at school?" "None," replied Johnny, "got 'em all over my back, though."

SAYS QUESTIONS ARE GUESSWORK

Toronto, July 27.—According to the Toronto Star, Premier Ferguson "vigorously denied" the published report which purported to give the four questions that will be submitted to the electorate in the plebiscite on the Ontario Temperance Act on October 23. "It has no foundation, in fact," said the Premier. "It is purely guess work and imagination."

CHIEF JUSTICE OF ALBERTA DEAD

Edmonton, July 27.—Hon. D. L. Scott, Chief Justice of Alberta, died suddenly at his summer home at Cooking Lake, Alta., Saturday, aged 78. He was born in Brampton, Ont.

TENDERED SHOWER.

A shower of kitchen equipment was tendered Rev. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Epworth Park on Friday by the members of the W. M. S. of the Portland Methodist church, who had met at the pastor's summer home for their regular meeting that day. The shower was given following the meeting and a delightful la fresco supper was served under the trees in the grove. Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin were taken completely by surprise and expressed their delight and appreciation in the gifts for their summer home. The gifts were brought in in baskets prettily trimmed with summer flowers. About 60 members of the W. M. S. were present as well as several neighboring summer residents, including Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Neil MacLaughlin.

In the local office of the Dominion Archives are preserved copies of many historical documents, the originals of which have not been placed in the care of the archives. TAKES OWN LIFE
ON BOARD SHIP

Montreal, July 27.—The suicide of Dr. D. E. Lang, of Toronto, was a tragedy that marred the voyage of the Ausonia, which docked here this morning. He was found in his cabin with a revolver by his side on the morning of July 22. The body was taken from the vessel at Quebec, where arrangements were made for its disposal.

SMASHED IN COLLISION.

A collision between two automobiles on the corner of Paddock and Waterloo streets Saturday afternoon about 1.30 o'clock resulted in considerable damage to both cars. Automobile No. 14,409, owned and driven by Harold V. Dole, proceeding down Paddock street, was in collision with car No. 12,422 owned by Thomas Wiggins and driven by Fred Bigges, 14 Golding street. A front wheel of the Dole car was torn off and a fender damaged.

UNEXPECTED SHOWER.

Early yesterday morning three men called at police headquarters and complained that while they were on Carman street, some person threw from an upper window of a residence a bucket full of water, which drenched them. A resident of Orange street complained over the telephone late Saturday night that he and his family were being disturbed by some men and women in front of his house. When officers arrived on the scene the alleged disturbers had departed.

In addition to the wives of several distinguished delegates, there will be a considerable number of women who have made a name for themselves in various departments of scientific achievement.

Among the learned ladies who will attend the coming meeting of the British Association in Toronto, will be Dr. Marion L. Newbigin, a well-known Scottish geographer; Mrs. Alex. Tweedie, traveler and writer; Miss E. A. Stoney, of London University, who was radiologist and engineer to the Scottish Women's Hospital in France, Serbia and Greece during the war; Dr. Gertrude Elles of Newnham College, Cambridge, who has contributed much to the knowledge of fossils; Miss Kathleen E. Carpenter, biologist, authority on river fisheries; Miss E. R. Saunders of Cambridge, and Mrs. Ethel N. Miles Thomas, of Leicester, distinguished botanist, and Mrs. Pixell Goodrich.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

"Looker what I got!" cried Cutie.

The next day Cutie Cottontail woke up bright and early. That was really one reason why he went to bed so early the night before. And he got dressed in a hurry and slipped on the trousers his mother had mended for him. But he never thought of looking in the pockets. If he had, he might have saved himself a whole lot of trouble later. He wanted to show the lucky brass ring he had got on the merry-go-round at Happy Go Lucky Park to all of his friends. Then after that he was going to the park and get his free ride, which the brass ring entitled him to. You had to be pretty smart to get the brass ring. It stuck pretty hard and you had to pull like everything. "I'll go and show Ben and Billy Bunny first," he said. "They'd never believe me if I didn't show it to them! I'll—why, hello, here, what's this?" he cried, picking something up from the front porch. "Why, it's my brass ring! How did it ever get out here? I must have dropped it when I was coming in last night. Lucky I found it before I got too far away." So he put it into his pocket, not knowing that it was the very curtain ring his mother had been looking for and which she had dropped when the pastman came. Away he went whistling to the Bunny's house. Ben and Billy were just up. "Looker what I got!" cried Cutie, holding up the brass ring. "Let's see! What is it? Where'd you get it? Gee! Aren't you lucky, though?" was what they said and Cutie was prouder than ever. "Yes," he admitted. "It was pretty hard work but I got it just the same." "Wish I wuz you," said Billy. "So do I," said Ben. "What more could any little boy want. Next he went to show Coryn and Cobly Coon. "Humph!" laughed fat Coryn Coon, who was sort of a clown. "You haven't any rings on your tail like we have! That's a good way to get one." "My goodness!" laughed Cutie. "I wish you'd tell me how to get a tail first!" And they all laughed and laughed at that. Cutie was quite a hero and he was getting prouder by the minute. But they do say that pride goeth before a fall and I believe it's true. Cutie met Mosey Mud Turtle Junior next and Mosey was cross and sulky that morning. Besides, he was jealous of Cutie because he could run so fast. He never could have gotten a brass ring in a thousand years and when Cutie held it up he was furious. "Huh! A brass ring! Why, anybody can get a brass ring. I can go right this minute and get one off my mother's curtain pole. Look here, fellows, I bet you this brass ring is of Cutie's mother's curtain pole." All Cutie's friends began to take sides then. Some said he did and some said he didn't. Poor Cutie was in a dreadful way. "Nick and Mister Zip can tell you if I did or not," said Cutie. "Sure he did," said Nick when they got there. "I saw him get it myself. But this isn't it." But when Mrs. Cottontail heard the story she laughed and laughed. "I'll show you where it is," she said. And there it was on her curtain pole! Mosey Turtle wasn't so far from wrong after all! (To Be Continued.)

MATHEMATICAL WONDER

Robert J. Harris, 6, of Los Angeles, amazes teachers and psychologists with his mathematical genius. Unable to read or write, he calculates interest on any sum as rapidly as a bank clerk. He also can solve problems in cubic and linear measurement in a flash. His uncanny faculty grew from listening to his father, a contractor, making oral computations, says the latter. Robert is physically, as well as mentally, well developed and his ambition is to be another Babe Ruth or Jack Dempsey.

MANY PEOPLE INSPECT CONSTANCE; CHURCH PARADE IS SUNDAY FEATURE

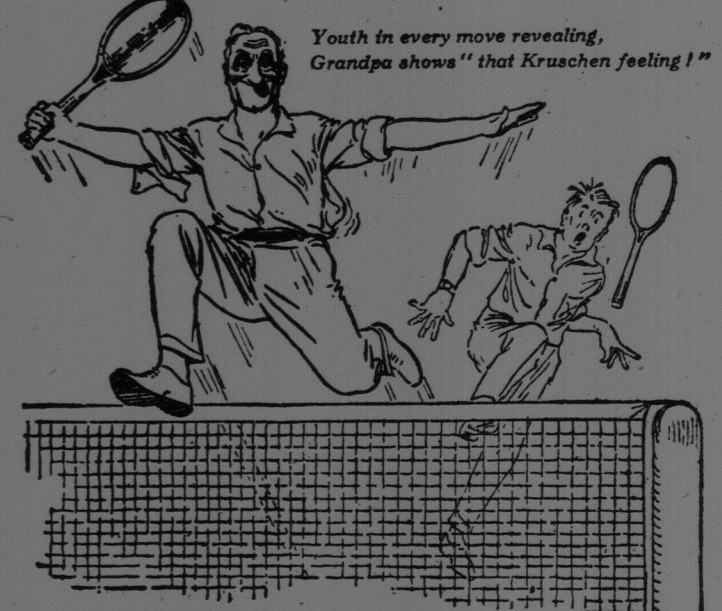

Visiting Sailors are Guests at Dance in R.C.N.V.R. Headquarters.

H. M. S. Constance was thrown open to the public for inspection between the hours of 2 and 6 o'clock on Saturday and Sunday afternoons. The people who visited the cruiser numbered thousands during the two days, there being continuous lines of visitors boarding the ship on one gangway and leaving by another. To inspect a warship takes considerable time. On many occasions there was hardly room enough for people to pass each other and it was necessary to stop people from going on board until a sufficient number had left the ship. The crowds yesterday afternoon were even larger than on Saturday and all were delighted. Members of the crew were detailed to show the visitors through the ship and they were most attentive in their duties. The large and small guns were worked and described to all. The size of shell sent from the gun, how far it would travel, the time the shell should explode, the torpedoes, how they were propelled through the water, how they were constructed and how many inches of steel they would pierce and what damage they would do when they exploded all were explained. The manner of signalling, which is an important part of the work on board a ship of war, was described. The signals for the range of guns and the time to fire all come from the officers aloft and the gunners, housed in the casement of steel do not even see the enemy but take their orders by electric signals from officers quite a distance away from them. How the ship appears when sent into action with decks cleared was described. The power of the engines, how many knots an hour she could travel, and the manner in which discipline is worked out among such a large crew of men were all explained. Then came descriptions of the stoke hold, or the part of the ship where the firemen work; the hours on and off for all members of the crew during each 24 hours and the sick bay or hospital. The galleys or kitchens proved a wonderful sight, especially for female visitors. They examined how the blast ovens were heated, where the bread was baked in many hundreds of loaves per day and where the meat and vegetables were cooked. When a visitor would inquire: "Where are the beds for the men to sleep in?" the man who was conducting a party would remove a small bundle from a locker and reveal a remarkably short space of time would swing a hammock, blanket and all, put the rings over hooks on each end and so present the sailor's bed.

Parade To Church

Crowds of citizens lined the city streets yesterday morning to see the naval parade when officers and men of H. M. S. Constance attended the morning service in Trinity church. The band of the 62nd Fusiliers led the parade apt between 150 and 200 sailors were on the march. Their blue uniforms and their precision and smartness made a strong appeal to the people and there were many admiring comments to be heard. The parade went by way of King Street and Charlottetown street, then by way of German, Charlotte and King streets.

The centre the naval party occupied the church aisle seats and filled a large portion of the church. Their hearty singing of the familiar hymns chosen for the service added to its impressiveness. Rev. Canon R. A. Armstrong, in his words of greeting to the party from the Constance, said that on several occasions it had been the privilege of the church to welcome members of the Navy, and for residents of the seashore there was, perhaps, a deeper sensibility of the protection which the Navy had given during the recent war. The naval uniform had power to thrill the imagination of those who lived by the sea. Of sea power Canon Armstrong said that it had been the deciding factor throughout history when there had arisen those who sought world domination. He recalled the overthrow of Carthage by Rome; the defeat of the Spanish Armada, Nelson's victories over the French, and the achievements of the Navy in the recent war, pointing out that in each instance the navy had blocked the way of those who purposed world conquest. He maintained that it had been a great dispensation of God that the possession of sea power had always involved characteristics antagonistic to despotic rule and expressed the hope that in days to come Canada would have a more conspicuous part in upholding sea power. For the text of his sermon Canon Armstrong took: "Whoso would save his life shall lose it, but whoso would lose his life for My sake shall save it. He showed how the principles of self-sacrifice and service were to be found throughout nature and shone on the pages of history, and he re-

Health Bubbling Over

The old boy's as pleased with himself as a puppy-dog with two tails. At sixty he's just as young in feeling, just as full of life and "go," as he was in his teens. From the crown of his head to the soles of his feet his whole frame tingles with the sheer joy of being alive. It does one good to look at him. That's what Kruschen has done for him—given him "that Kruschen feeling" of perfect health and happiness. It's so simple to gain too! A daily tasteless pinch of Kruschen, taken in the breakfast cup of coffee or tea, gently and naturally cleanses the system of all impurities. There are six different salts in every pinch, and under their energizing influence the headaches and fits of depression, the listlessness and lack of appetite, the twinges of gout and rheumatism—in fact, all the little ills that make life burdensome, vanish away to give place to the vigorous cheeriness that comes from physical well-being. For Kruschen gets down to the cause of these ills—to the impure blood stream and the sluggish internal organs. The regular daily dose stimulates the liver and kidneys to the proper performance of their duty, removes all impurities, and sends new refreshed blood to carry health and vigour to every part of the body. Take the first step towards renewing health and happiness and the whole-hearted enjoyment of life, by buying a 75c bottle straight away and beginning the Kruschen Habit of Health, with your breakfast cup of coffee or tea to-morrow morning.

Two Little Stories of Great Unhappiness Unraveled From Ellis Island's Red Tape

MRS. PAUL BARBARA AND HER BOY, MALIO.

Somersville, Mass., July 28.—Mrs. Paul Barbara holds up her baby, Malio, as an horrible example of the red tape that makes Ellis Island and the operation of the immigration law a terrible experience for women and little children.

Malio probably will get well now, but for the three weeks he was held on Ellis Island with his mother his life was despaired of.

Immigration officials told the mother that she could not enter the United States, but that her baby could not. All that time Olympia and Donella, Mrs. Barbara's other two children, waited here. If their baby brother had died on Ellis Island, there would have been no question of their mother's return to them.

Mrs. Barbara was born in the United States. She went to Italy on a visit. Malio was born there. By the time she returned the Italian quota had been filled. And for that reason the wise old heads at Ellis Island said the mother could return, but that the baby was "excess quota."

THEY WAGE WAR ON PETTING PARTIES

Vigilantes Chase Lingering Lovers From Night Nooks in Ohio.

(Cleveland Press.)

War—wild, vigorous, valiant war—continues to wage its violence upon the pesky petters in the hamlet of Bay Village, O.

Mayor Carroll Beck informed all men by these presents early Monday that the war would continue until not a solitary smacker broke the still night air of Bay Village.

The mayor himself declares that those same strong arms of the law that flashed their flashlights into every secluded nook of the village from the early hours of Sunday, were flinching until 83 good smackers and true had been lodged in the village jail, will continue to flash until even the fireflies of the village give up the contest.

Eight of 'em! The mayor deputized his vigilantes committee Saturday night. Eight red-blooded, virile, strong deputy marshals raced through the great open spaces of a man's man and a spooner's spooner, and flashed their beams into the faces of the 33 listers.

The same beaming, scintillating, trusty flashlights held in the brawny arms of the trusty eight will continue to flash nightly until the amorous learn that Bay Village is not the proper habitat for osculations and embraces.

Not a Joke! "This is no funny matter," the mayor himself said Monday.

The mayor proceeded to elucidate on the seriousness of the matter. It seems that for nearly three years his native city has been harassed by the amorous.

The beautiful sunsets over the lake were completely blotted out by heads close, close together!

The drowsy chirp of the cricket and tree food was drowned by the smack of loving lips.

Even the aroma of John Barleycorn mingled with the honey-scented hedges! And when they weren't spooning, they were speeding!

His honor himself seen his dooty and done it. But he's not unduly harsh, no, siree! Gotta Be Proper.

If they'll park their car by the side of the roadway over in a rut so that it doesn't stop legitimate traffic; if they'll leave the lights on and act like perfect little ladies and gentlemen, Hizzoner has nothing to say.

He was young once himself. He doesn't mean to be harsh with the young folks. But God's County shall not be spoiled by the influx of a flippant method.

Alcohol and resin are said to make a very good soldering paste.

BOY STOLE IN STORE IN FREDERICTON. The display of wares at Woolworth's proved too much for a juvenile from Queensbury who was at that store Friday, says the Fredericton Mail. The store staff rounded him up and handed him over to the police.

A crowd of boys had a fine time at the Mill street siding on Saturday afternoon when a number of water-melons, which had reached the stage where they ought to be consumed at once, were given away by the owners and leav'ly blessings were heaped on his head by the lucky fellows who participated in the treat.

The Board of Education has completed its tentative budget estimates. It will ask for more than $112,000,000, an increase of $18,000,000 over the 1924 budget figure, if present plans be followed.

With this single department alone demanding approximately a 15 per cent. increase in its allotment from the city purse, budget officials predict that increases ranging from 5 to 12 per cent. will be sought by many other departments.

Tax Exemption Threatened. In official circles the prospect of another enormous increase in the realty assessment, or, as an alternative, a substantial increase in the tax rate, is considered as sounding the death knell of the proposed new tax exemption ordinance. Although the old ordinance expired in April and the question of its re-enactment has been before the Board of Aldermen ever since, the board failed to take any action in the matter when it adjourned for the summer on July 11.

It has been reported that the aldermen received authoritative "tips" that Mayor Hylan, under pressure from the officials of the tax department, had let it be known that he would refuse to sign a new tax exemption measure if one were laid before him.

For the year 1923 between $500,000,000 and $600,000,000 of real property was exempted from taxation as an ostensible spur to new housing construction. Not only did this represent a heavy loss in the receipts of the tax collector, but the mayor, in common with many others, is said to have been measured as among the beneficiaries that had failed utterly to benefit the home seeker and had benefited chiefly the speculative builder.

U. S. GIRL WEDS ITALIAN COURT Daughter of Former Governor of Illinois Marries in Rome.

Rome, July 28.—Miss Felicitie Oglesby, daughter of the late Governor Richard J. Oglesby of Illinois, was married here last week to Count Alessandro Cenci Bolognotti of Rome. The religious ceremony took place in the private chapel of the famous Palazzo Cenci, renowned as the home of the ill-fated Beatrice Cenci, sixteenth century heroine.

Prince Civarolo, head of the Cenci Bolognotti family, was one of the witnesses at the civil marriage, performed in the Capitoline Hall.

The ceremony was celebrated by Mgr. Charles A. O'Hara, rector of the American College in Rome. The historical chapel was beautifully decorated with a profusion of flowers sent by many friends. There were many splendid gifts, mostly of jewelry and including several magnificent ones from the Prince and Princess Civarolo.

The married couple, according to the Roman customs, visited St. Peter's, descended into the crypt and prayed at the tomb of the apostle.

Westerly, R. I., July 28.—More than 20 years ago Sabatini Lombardo came to the U. S. to gain for his children educational advantages he could not find in Italy.

He did the hardest sort of manual labor to provide for them and to send them all to school. He is proud of the fact that he helped to build the school at Westerly which his children attended.

Lombardo went to Italy for a visit. He returned to Ellis Island more than three weeks ago and has been held there because he could not read the 40 words required in the literacy test.

His family has been unofficially informed that Lombardo is to be released.

The fight for his release was led by his daughter, Rosa, 17, for whom he worked so hard to gain an education.

NEW YORK BUDGET OF $400,000,000

That is Outlook With Assessment Increase or Higher Taxes.

A 1925 city budget from $50,000,000 to $60,000,000 larger than that of the current year, which aggregated $75,000,000, faces the New York City administration, according to initial departmental estimates received by Howard W. Buckley, director of the budget.

The Board of Education, says the New York Times, requests $12,000,000 which is $18,000,000 in excess of its appropriation for 1924. Virtually all the other city and county departments, if present indications are trustworthy, will ask for increased appropriations this fall, and some of them, will be increasing running into the millions.

A budget of $400,000,000 or more will mean another billion dollar increase, at least, in the next year's assessment on the real estate, it was pointed out. For the current year the total increase, compared with the assessment for 1923, was $1,000,000,000.

The thirty-seven city departments are now preparing tentatively their budget estimates in consultation with Budget Director Buckley. Some of the estimates are as follows: Police, $10,000,000; Fire, $10,000,000; Public Works, $10,000,000; Health, $10,000,000; Education, $12,000,000; Public Safety, $10,000,000; Parks, $10,000,000; Public Health, $10,000,000; Public Welfare, $10,000,000; Public Works, $10,000,000; Health, $10,000,000; Education, $12,000,000; Public Safety, $10,000,000; Parks, $10,000,000; Public Health, $10,000,000; Public Welfare, $10,000,000.

The Board of Education has completed its tentative budget estimates. It will ask for more than $112,000,000, an increase of $18,000,000 over the 1924 budget figure, if present plans be followed.

With this single department alone demanding approximately a 15 per cent. increase in its allotment from the city purse, budget officials predict that increases ranging from 5 to 12 per cent. will be sought by many other departments.

Tax Exemption Threatened. In official circles the prospect of another enormous increase in the realty assessment, or, as an alternative, a substantial increase in the tax rate, is considered as sounding the death knell of the proposed new tax exemption ordinance. Although the old ordinance expired in April and the question of its re-enactment has been before the Board of Aldermen ever since, the board failed to take any action in the matter when it adjourned for the summer on July 11.

It has been reported that the aldermen received authoritative "tips" that Mayor Hylan, under pressure from the officials of the tax department, had let it be known that he would refuse to sign a new tax exemption measure if one were laid before him.

For the year 1923 between $500,000,000 and $600,000,000 of real property was exempted from taxation as an ostensible spur to new housing construction. Not only did this represent a heavy loss in the receipts of the tax collector, but the mayor, in common with many others, is said to have been measured as among the beneficiaries that had failed utterly to benefit the home seeker and had benefited chiefly the speculative builder.

U. S. GIRL WEDS ITALIAN COURT Daughter of Former Governor of Illinois Marries in Rome.

Rome, July 28.—Miss Felicitie Oglesby, daughter of the late Governor Richard J. Oglesby of Illinois, was married here last week to Count Alessandro Cenci Bolognotti of Rome. The religious ceremony took place in the private chapel of the famous Palazzo Cenci, renowned as the home of the ill-fated Beatrice Cenci, sixteenth century heroine.

Prince Civarolo, head of the Cenci Bolognotti family, was one of the witnesses at the civil marriage, performed in the Capitoline Hall.

The ceremony was celebrated by Mgr. Charles A. O'Hara, rector of the American College in Rome. The historical chapel was beautifully decorated with a profusion of flowers sent by many friends. There were many splendid gifts, mostly of jewelry and including several magnificent ones from the Prince and Princess Civarolo.

The married couple, according to the Roman customs, visited St. Peter's, descended into the crypt and prayed at the tomb of the apostle.

Five children were born in this country. He did the hardest sort of manual labor to provide for them and to send them all to school. He is proud of the fact that he helped to build the school at Westerly which his children attended.

Lombardo went to Italy for a visit. He returned to Ellis Island more than three weeks ago and has been held there because he could not read the 40 words required in the literacy test.

His family has been unofficially informed that Lombardo is to be released.

The fight for his release was led by his daughter, Rosa, 17, for whom he worked so hard to gain an education.

NEW YORK BUDGET OF $400,000,000 That is Outlook With Assessment Increase or Higher Taxes.

A 1925 city budget from $50,000,000 to $60,000,000 larger than that of the current year, which aggregated $75,000,000, faces the New York City administration, according to initial departmental estimates received by Howard W. Buckley, director of the budget.

The Board of Education, says the New York Times, requests $12,000,000 which is $18,000,000 in excess of its appropriation for 1924. Virtually all the other city and county departments, if present indications are trustworthy, will ask for increased appropriations this fall, and some of them, will be increasing running into the millions.

A budget of $400,000,000 or more will mean another billion dollar increase, at least, in the next year's assessment on the real estate, it was pointed out. For the current year the total increase, compared with the assessment for 1923, was $1,000,000,000.

The thirty-seven city departments are now preparing tentatively their budget estimates in consultation with Budget Director Buckley. Some of the estimates are as follows: Police, $10,000,000; Fire, $10,000,000; Public Works, $10,000,000; Health, $10,000,000; Education, $12,000,000; Public Safety, $10,000,000; Parks, $10,000,000; Public Health, $10,000,000; Public Welfare, $10,000,000.

The Duncans were all fined $1 and costs for disorderly conduct. They had carried their case to Evanson on a change of venue. Indications now are the Cicero policemen, especially Charles Waddock, known in court, also will have their day in court, for the Duncans have preferred charges against them.

PONY HERO SAVED FROM DISGRACE

Res, world's greatest pony hero, has not been forgotten in his time of need. His five owners, members of a rescue party that freed him from his prison in the New mine near Bicknell, Ind., a year ago, succeeded in borrowing enough money to pay his board bill just before he was to have been sold at auction to satisfy the debt.

Mail Bandit Leads Hard Life and Keeps Little of His Loot

By MILTON MacKAYE (United Press Staff Correspondent). Washington, July 17—The mail bandit leads the most precarious existence of the criminal world.

He plies his trade under the most perilous conditions; he has only the slightest chance of getting away with his loot and his hide intact. His profession is essentially a sporting one—he must play a long shot for big stakes.

Beside mail robbery, forging is a sure thing; kidnaping is a sure and gang murder is child's play. And the reason is that Uncle Sam never admits defeat. The hounds in the postal inspector's office will maintain their chase indefinitely.

One feature of all the thefts was that after the letters had been opened, they were re-sealed. This gave one of the inspectors an idea—which he secretly followed out.

Traced By Odor
A few weeks later, he was handed another letter which had been opened and re-sealed. He moistened the mucilage on the flap and lifted the envelope to his nose.

Figures recently prepared by Rush D. Simmons, chief post office inspector, show that the mail robber hasn't one chance in 10 of success.

According to the figures there were 16 big holdups in 1921, 18 in 1922, and six in 1923. In the 1921 cases, 72 per cent of the loot was recovered.

In 1923, with six holdups, there were 23 arrests and but one case in which neither arrests nor recoveries were made—about a 17 per cent, average for the criminal.

The Net Losses
The total losses resulting from the holdups of mail trains and other postal agencies from 1920 to 1923, inclusive, totalled $11,217,209.

Millions are carried to the various federal reserve banks yearly—to say nothing of the money and valuables representing the property of thousands of national and state banks, and the annual transmission of 500,000,000 postage stamps.

During the war $50,000,000,000 in Liberty Bonds found their way to the mail cars belonging to Uncle Sam. This enormous amount was transported without the loss of a dollar.

Millions are carried to the various federal reserve banks yearly—to say nothing of the money and valuables representing the property of thousands of national and state banks, and the annual transmission of 500,000,000 postage stamps.

VETS WON SERIES WITH THE CLOWNS

Split Even in Well-attended Doubleheader on Saturday in East End.

The Vets broke even with the Detroit Clowns here on Saturday, losing the afternoon contest 7 to 5 and winning the evening affair 6 to 3. The localists thus secured the edge over the visitors in the series of three games. Before the afternoon game started the fans were entertained with a short concert given by the Clowns' quartette. Both games were very largely attended.

In the afternoon Towle was in the box for the Vets and he might have captured the game if he had been accorded better support. Johnny McCloskey, who played one of the poorest games of his career, and his four errors played a small part in his team's downfall. Other members of the localists who helped along the visiting scoring, French, who hurled for the visitors, was touched up for no less than 13 hits, but he was given better support.

The Clowns counted twice in the second on two hits, an error and a sacrifice. The localists tied the score in the third frame on a single followed by two doubles. The score saw-sawed until at the end of the sixth the count was tied. The Vets scored a lone run in the seventh, but their lead was short, as two hits, a pass and two bad errors in the eighth gave the Clowns three runs and the game, held over features of the afternoon contest. Three double plays also featured this game.

In the evening both teams played better ball and Tippetts, who returned to the mound after pitching the night before, again was very effective, holding the visitors to six hits. With, for the visitors, was hit hard by the Vets when his meat runs. A pass and a double in the initial frame netted one run for the locals, while a single, a double and the visitors' lone error gave the Vets two more in the second inning. Three singles and a double by the Clowns in the fifth netted two runs, while they secured one more in the sixth. The Vets won the game, the fielder's choice scored one in the sixth. A triple, a single and an out gave the locals two more in the seventh frame and clinched the game.

Daddy of Padded Mitt

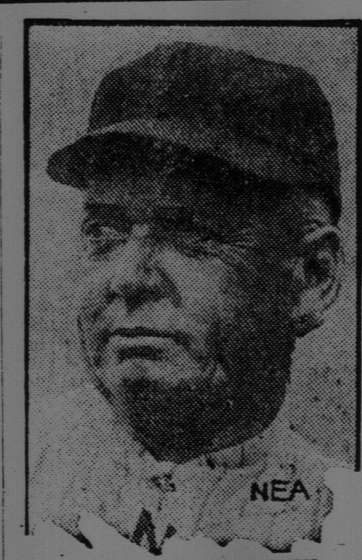

Old John McCloskey, First Catcher to Wear Glove, is Still Active in Game at Age of 55.

Newton, Kas., July 28.—The man who introduced the padded mitt is still active in professional baseball—John J. McCloskey, now announcer and manager of the (Kas.) club of the Southwestern League. The "grand old man of the minors" has been in the game since 1887 and he keeps him young, though he's past 55.

He was born in Louisville in 1869 and won prominence as the "father of the Texas League" which he organized in 1888.

The year before he was catcher on the Houston Independents and it was that year he introduced the catcher's mitt, which, at the time, brought down the ridicule of the country. But in due time the padded mitt was generally adopted. Eventually it did much to speed up the game.

McCloskey organized the Union Association and owned and managed the Butte team of that circuit. He has been connected at various times as player, manager and coach with St. Joseph, Austin, Sacramento, Houston, Montgomery, Savannah, Louisville, Dallas, Great Falls, Tacoma, San Francisco, Vancouver, St. Louis and Milwaukee.

JOHN J. McCLOSKEY Truly he is one of the old war horses of the game—and he is still going strong.

RENFORTH LOSES TO HAMPTON CLUB

Drury Cove and Pamdenec Win Other Matches in Suburban Tennis.

The Suburban Tennis League play-off for the title between the winners of the C. P. R. and C. N. R. sections has been postponed indefinitely as the main result of Hampton's win over Renforth at Hampton on Saturday in the C. N. R. section and all eyes are now turned to meeting Grand Bay, winners of the C. P. R. section, at once for the title and if Hampton can defeat Drury Cove on Saturday, it will qualify for the title round. On the other hand, if Drury Cove wins, the C. N. R. section will be involved in a three-cornered tie that will take some time to straighten out.

In the other matches Saturday Drury Cove defeated Fair Vale and Pamdenec won from Westfield. The Cove players won 9 of the 11 events played and the unfinished match between Miss Jean Knight and Mrs. C. H. Scott, D. C., and Miss G. Costley and Mrs. G. Stubbs will be concluded this week. The strong contenders for the title are Miss Jean Knight and Miss Knight, had a close call from defeat Saturday, Miss Costley and Fred Richard taking the first set and had the second set at 5-0 when the Cove players regained their form and finally won it.

The league standing is as follows:

Ball Problems By Billy Evans

QUESTIONS. 1. With a runner on third, pitcher starts to wind up, and while so doing strikes his arm against his pitch, causing the ball to drop from his pitching hand, rolling several yards away. A contends it is a balk and the runner on third is entitled to score. B says it is treated as an accident, play being immediately suspended by the umpire. C insists the ball is in play and runners advance at their peril. Who is right?—E. T.

2. Manager of home team sends in a left-handed pinch-hitter to bat against right hander, pitching for visitors. Manager of visiting club takes out right hander and sends in a south-paw. Manager of home team elects to remove left-handed pinch-hitter and put in a right hander. No balls have been pitched to the pinch-hitter. Can this be done?—O. C. L.

3. Is the spitball barred in all minor leagues? Are there 20 spitball pitchers in the two major leagues?—D. C.

ANSWERS.

1. A is correct. Once the pitcher starts to deliver the ball to the batsman he must complete the play, otherwise it is a balk and the runner on third is entitled to score.

2. A pinch-hitter is removed at any time. A pinch-pitcher, when announced, must pitch until one man has been retired or reaches first.

3. As I understand it, certain minor leagues do not bar the use of the spitball. There are about a dozen major leaguers using the spitter.

LIZIE MURPHY ARRIVES IN CITY

World's Champion Girl Base Ball Player Here With Eddie Carr's All-Stars.

Eddie Carr's All Stars arrived in the city this morning from Boston to play a series of games with St. John, Fredericton and Moncton clubs. Accompanying the team is Lizzie Murphy, reputed to be the world's champion girl baseball player. She played first base with an all-star American League team against the Red Sox on August 11, 1922, at Fenway Park and her good work won the highest commendations from the thousands of fans present as well as flattering press notices from the big sport writers. She is the highest paid woman baseball player in the world, drawing down $3,000 a season. She is at present receiving $300 a week from Mr. Carr.

Lizzie Murphy started playing 10 years ago. She has always taken a liking to the game and she has used to play first base on a team managed by one of her brothers. She became so proficient as a player and so deadly an all-star team which was to tour the English States. Since that time she has become famous and is one of the biggest attractions in the game throughout the Eastern States.

In addition to Lizzie Murphy local enthusiasts will have an opportunity to see two former popular stars in action, Eddie Carr, the manager of the All-Stars whose sensational playing will here with the Auburn's is still fresh in the memory of the fans, and "Vigil Bill" Glennon, whose great fielding and terrific hitting made such a popular hit three years ago. Eddie Carr is not only a brilliant player, but an energetic and successful manager, who has the reputation of getting the best has out of his club. In addition to these two stars and Lizzie Murphy the team has catcher Maloney, who was the best of the Eastern States.

ATTENDED FREDERICTON MEET.

Fredericton Mail: Among old-timers in attendance at the race meeting was ex-Sheriff Sterling of this city, now living in retirement, who is probably the senior racing fan of New Brunswick. Mr. Sterling has always been keenly interested in harness racing and was for years connected with the Fredericton Park Association and has held the park at some horse held which were considered pretty fast in their day. Speaking of old-time races perhaps it might be well to state that it was on the old race course in this city that the first mile on a martingale province track was trotted in less than 2:30.

A MEDALIST WINS.

By way of showing that a Jinx does not always follow the medalist, Freddie Lamprich of Tulane University, low in the qualifying round, stepped out and won the Cleveland district golf championship in decisive style.

FIRPO IN SHAPE.

ARENA CARD IS WELL-BALANCED

Fruzzetti Billed for Main Bout With Vandersteen of H.M.S. Constance.

The five bouts billed for the Arena this evening with sailors off the H. M. S. Constance in the leading roles are expected to produce considerable action. The main bout between "Jimmy" Fruzzetti, one of the fastest lightweights ever to show his wares in this city, and Supply Asst. Vandersteen, reputed to be lightweight champion, is expected to go good. For a while on Saturday, it was feared that Fruzzetti would be unable to compete as he is now here on a tour.

When immigration officials heard of his compelling tonight, they demanded duty on Fruzzetti's United States-licensed car but this difficulty was overcome by Fruzzetti driving back to Canada. He is due to return on the noon train today in plenty of time for tonight's card.

Included in the list of sailors who will compete tonight is Able Seaman Kite, who saved a young newswife's life last week at the wharf. Kite will meet a mate, Seaman Snow. Other bouts have Kid Wheeler and Seaman Howden drawn together; Porter McIntyre and Seaman Dabs and Seaman Alf. Davis and Seaman H. Apps. The bouts start at 8 o'clock.

THREE CLUBS HOLD SHOOT SATURDAY

The St. John Civilian Rifle Association held a noon shoot on Saturday for those in the League and for the range in the Corporation Cup match. W. H. Aulley of Windsor, veteran marksman who represented the Maritimes at the recent Olympic marathon, and hero of many a grueling road race. Mr. MacAulay, who arrived here on his way home from France yesterday, mentioned that after the easterners had so well conditioned and looked after by France and he particularly mentioned their progress impeded by Canadian officials who accompanied the team to London. This meant that the athletes landed in Paris times commenced to go wrong. In the first place the Maritimes men were stationed at a hotel 13 miles from the stadium. While the hotel was excellent in all respects, Mr. MacAulay stated that the fare was in accordance with the appointments, but the Maritimes men had to train on food which, although daily and appetizing, was entirely opposite to the kind of training food they required to enable them to stand the tiring grind of the Olympic contests, particularly in the race events.

Victor MacAulay Charges Eastern Athletes Were Given Poor Show.

When asked about William J. "Billy" Maynes, the local pride in the quarter mile, MacAulay stated that he considered him a beautiful runner and neither he nor Maynes had as yet been informed as to why Cornelius would not let him run in the Olympic 400 metres. A. L. (Zan) Miller, of Sussex, MacAulay remarked, had a badly sprained leg and could not jump, MacDonald, of Charlottetown, was taken out of the hop, step and jump and placed in the hurdles by Cornelius. As that was only the second time in his life the Island boy had entered the hurdles' event, he was entirely unaccustomed to that event just as much as he was perfectly at home in the hop, step and jump, an event in which he would have probably placed if Cornelius had not seen fit to take him out.

Nunn, Ritola, Stenroos and Abraham were all wonderful runners, MacAulay said, but then they had the advantage of perfect condition and excellent training quarters. MacAulay will leave for his home in Amherst this morning via the Empress.

Deserted, He Charges.

Captain Cornelius and other Canadian officials along with upper Canadian athletes were quartered at another hotel three miles distant from the quarters of the Maritime men and they took no interest whatever in the manner in which the Maritimers were observing their rules of training. MacAulay said. There was no one there to see that the boys retired at an early hour, no one to look after various little incidents that were bound to crop up where a crowd of athletes were housed and no one to see that the men did their training regularly and well. "Of course," MacAulay remarked, "we were very careful to keep the closest watch over each other and tried to do our best to progress just as if a trainer had us in his charge."

"On the question of trainers, Mr. MacAulay stated that none in his opinion could equal Tom Trenholm, of Amherst, the man who put MacAulay in the best shape of his career before he left Amherst for Montreal and subsequently for Paris.

"Had the Canadian team any system whereby they could be governed," MacAulay stated, "the whole story might have had a different and more satisfactory ending from the point of view of Maritime people who were interested in their representatives. We had to drive three-quarters of an hour before we were even at the stadium and after this drive we felt stiff and ungainly. On the other hand, the American and Finnish teams had their training camps right at the stadium. They had only to step out of the front door and they were practically on the field or track. THINK THEY HAVE A SECOND JOHNSON

Fred Marberry, of Senators, May Supplant Great Fireball King.

Is Pitcher Fred Marberry to supplant Walter Johnson as the idol of the Washington fans? asks Billy Evans. Walter Johnson, wonder that he cannot go on forever. There must come a time when Sir Walter will say goodby to the majors.

In Fred Marberry, Clarke Griffith, head of the Nationals, believes he has a second Johnson. Manager Harris and Catcher Ruel concur in the opinion.

Marberry, big, husky right hander, is built along the lines of Johnson and has the same free, easy delivery of the veteran star. He gets everything into his swing. That should make for a long career.

Like Walter Johnson in the early period of his career, Marberry's best asset is his terrific speed. He gets a hop on his fast ball that makes him a hard man to beat.

At present his curve ball is just fair. He is making good progress developing a change of pace. However, his fast ball is his best bet at present. It is his fast ball that makes for a comparison with Johnson.

As a matter of fact, the hop that Marberry gets on his fast ball has been making opposing teams suspicious. He has already been accused of doctoring the ball. American League umpires, however, have been unable to find anything wrong with his style.

Maddy Ruel, rated the best catcher in the American League last season by no less an authority than Connie Mack, and who is having another big year, says this of Marberry: "I never caught a more deceptive fast ball than the one thrown by Marberry. He can make a new ball do tricks just as easily as an old one. The big hop on his fast ball is made possible by his manner of delivering it. The lessons that Marberry is learning this year should make him a much improved pitcher next season."

"In addition to plenty of stuff, Marberry has a world of courage. There is no greater asset than courage. No situation is too tough for him."

Marberry has the physical assets to step into Walter Johnson's shoes. It remains to be seen if he has the even temperament and fine disposition that has featured Johnson's memorable career.

MOVE TO EXEMPT IMPROVEMENTS

Mayor Says Idea is to Carry Out Pledge of Election Time.

A move toward implementing his pre-election pledge of no taxes on improvements for five years was made this morning when Mayor Potts had a resolution introduced at city council providing for obtaining legislation at the next session of the legislature along that line.

Tenders for the repairs to the Sun building were opened and referred to the Civic Power Commission for a report.

The request of the Imperial Tobacco Company for permission to erect a roof sign was referred to Commissioner Harding for a report and Commissioner Harding gave notice that he would bring up the matter of a record book for the office of the Mayor.

Commissioner Wigmore moved the following resolution: "That a bill be prepared and forwarded to the legislature at the next session thereof to amend the 'Saint John City Assessment Law, 1918,' so as to provide that the assessors shall not increase the valuation of any building for assessment purposes by reason of any improvements being made thereon for a period of five years."

Mayor Potts said this motion was brought in to make good his election pledge and it carried unanimously.

Eleven tenders for the repairs to the Sun building, purchased for the Civic Power Commission, were opened at the meeting. Two of these did not come in until 11.30 but it was decided to open them and both were found to be higher than the lowest which was in on time.

The tenders were as follows: J. A. Grant and Co. $8,240; Kane and Parker $8,180; S. A. Williams $7,900; Stackhouse Brothers $9,025; John A. Adams $8,260; James Sproul $8,640; F. M. Belyea $7,658; H. Davis $8,248; W. A. LeBlanc $8,300; East St. John Building Co. $9,500; J. H. Pullen, painting, $475; glazing $495.

These were referred to the Civic Commission for a report.

Commissioner Harding presented a request from the Imperial Tobacco Company for permission to erect an electric sign on the roof of the building on King street. Formerly occupied by "Mary Ann." Commissioner Wigmore said before permission was granted an indemnity guarantee bond should be secured. The matter was referred to Commissioner Harding for a report.

Commissioner Harding said he had been thinking there should be some special record book in the office of the Mayor to show what had been done by the council and this would be a big help to an incoming Mayor. This book should contain a record of all resolutions passed by the council. He thought if the city had a general manager he would have something of this kind before him all the time and it would be a good thing for the city. It was decided to discuss the matter at a future meeting.

PICNIC AND SHOWER.

The Misses Mary and Margaret Brennan were hostesses on Saturday at a delightful picnic and shower in honor of Miss Kathleen Doherty, who is soon to be married. The guests, numbering about 30, motored to Wildwood Camp where they spent a very jolly afternoon. During the supper a wheelbarrow, piled high with attractive packages, was placed before the bride-to-be who spent an exciting hour opening and admiring the lovely gifts received. A marshmallow roast, bridge and music completed the altogether delightful event.

WAS NEAR DEATH ON C. P. R. TRESTLE

Lena Northrup is Saved by Prompt Action of Brakeman Tobin.

Only the prompt action of William C. Tobin of 332 City Line, West End, a brakeman of the C. P. R., saved Lena Northrup from being killed this morning on the trestle running from Long wharf to Acadia street. The young woman was walking to Indian town and decided to take a short cut over the trestle. Mr. Tobin, realising her precarious position rushed up one side of the trestle and frantically signalled the engineer, who saw him and brought his train to a stop only a short distance from the young woman.

A charge of trespassing was made against her and she was summoned to the police court. Her mother explained that she was very deaf and could not hear what was being said. Magistrate Henderson pointed out the narrow escape she had and explained that it was against the law to trespass on railway property. He said she was liable to a fine of $20, but would allow a $10 fine to stand against her.

EXPECT BEL YEA TO RETURN SOON

Hilton Belyea, Canadian oarsman, is expected home this week or early next week, according to word received this morning by Mrs. Belyea. Victor MacAulay, marathoner, who passed through the city today, said that he saw Hilton in London just prior to his departure and the West St. John sculler was completing arrangements then to have his shell returned.

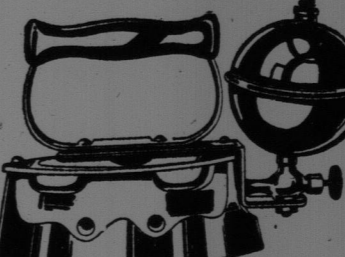

Mrs. Belyea received a note from Hilton this morning, dated July 11. It was written from France and in it Hilton expressed the hope that he would be able to row in the Olympics. He added he would leave for home as soon as possible. These facts led Mrs. Belyea to think that the former Canadian champion will arrive home soon.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram" said The Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "I had a strange experience last evening. I was walking along the street, thinking of some thing I had been reading about conditions in Europe, when I heard the cry of a night-hawk just over my head. It came so suddenly—so startlingly—that I seemed to be changed in a twinkling into a little boy in a little clearing beside a country road in the twilight. There were no brick houses—no smooth pavements—just the country road and the clearing—fringed on three sides with woods—in front of it, the valley, and the river separating the farms. Overhead, the stars were coming out, and the night-hawks flying, soaring, uttering their strange cry. A great loneliness came over me, and a great longing, and instinctively I turned to see if my dog were at my heels—my dog that chased the terrors of the night from a boy who had all too vivid an imagination when the shadows fell. A horn sounded, a car rushed by, and the vision passed. Is it not strange how unexpectedly the chords of memory are sometimes touched?"

"It is so," said Hiram—"I can't look at a single 'without thinking' of the one mother used to live where it had always been handy—Yes, sir."

The Test of Hospitality

In no other place in the home is hospitality more rigidly put to the test than in the Dining Room. Here, beneath the critical eyes of guests, the service, the menu and the appointments reflect the taste of the hostess. The service is a matter of domestic supervision; the menu the result of housewifely skill, but the appointments—the furnishing of the room itself—bespeaks the innate character of the owner.

The success with which we have met in this department of our store recently indicates that our wonderful stock and our advice and counsel to customers have been appreciated. Your visits will be welcome.
