SYDNEY, Aug. 29.—Rev. Clarence McKinnon, associate pastor of St. Andrew's church, and who has just returned from Scotland, preached last ing at Narraganset Pier today. While Russian forces have been disappointed heavy loss.

The fighting from Aug. 17 to Aug. 22 given over to a few Highland congregations was intolerable, and in conat the time the startling news reached there and he said that the effect was stounding. Never in the history of Scotland was the public mind roused to such a high tension of excitement. He then went on to review the case, giving its salient features back as far as the founding of Presbyterianism in that country. The history of Presby terianism is the history of a grand struggle for undying liberty. There was the secession in 1733 from the established church. In 1761 a relief thurch was founded, and in 1847 these two bodies united as the United Presbyterian church. In 1843 the Free church came into existence by the seession of four hundred and fifty minsters, led by Dr. Chalmers, from the Established church. In 1900 there was ought about the union of the Free church and the United, the fusion being chiefly due to the efforts Dr. Rainy of Edinburgh. In the Free church there were twenty-four who protested against amalgamation and remained outside the new United Free church. They then began to claim control of the funds and properties of the Free church, and while defeated in the lower courts, they carried their case to the house of lords and won. The lords maintained there was a difference upon church doctrine between the two bodies, and holding that the fusion involved a violation of trust with regard to the doctrine of Murderer of Von Plehve Has Not Yet still abided by the liberal interpretation of the confession of faith on this point were entitled to the vested in rests of the church, founded in 1843. Mr. McKinnon, however, said there was no difference between the two of trust, and so far as he could see t was only an assumption on the part tions. "We can't stand it in this 20th

> May Lead to the Discovery of the Murderer of Frank Burns.

ATHOL, Mass., Aug. 29.—The accidental discovery of a piece of flesh in the sawdust pile at the Southland saw mills by a little girl and the subsequent finding of another bit of flesh four inches square by detectives, has furnished a new clew to the supposed murder of Frank J. Burns, the Worcester jewelry salesman, who disappeared on the night of Dec. 17th last. On the night of his disappearance Burns in the company of Walter E. Smith, drove to the vicinity of the Southland mill with the expectation of disposing of jewelry to the men employed there. So far as known Smith was the last one to see Burns alive. Smith was arrested in Boston on June 28, charged with the larceny of jewelry from Burns and at that time property supposed to belong to the jewelry firm represented by Burns was found on the prisoner. At the time Smith said that by agreement he left Burns near the saw mill and afterwards by accident discovered a grip formerly carried by Burns and containing jewelry. Smith was later indicted for larceny and is now held in the Worcester jail for trial. While plant in a sawdust pile, Ethel Richards accovered a piece of flesh to which she called the attention of her father. The matter was reported to id a state detective. P. F. Murray, came here today and instituted a systematic search of the sawdust pile. His investigation resulted in the discovery of a piece of flesh about four inches square near where the little girl had found the first piece. The two pieces of flesh were turned over to Medical Examiner Oliver, who was inclined to believe they had formed part of a human thigh. Detective Murray with Deputy Sheriff Giddard and Chief of Police Jacques devoted two hours to an examination of the sawdust pile but it is understood that they have not concluded their search at this point. Some time ago the police bceame convinced that the remains had been burned. Several promising clews have been run down, but the accidental discovery of the flesh is the first tangible clew to the possible disposition of the

A NEGRO MURDERED.

Before Dying He Gave the Names of White Men Who Were Concerned in the Deed.

STATESBORO, Ga., Aug. J.-Sebastine McBride, a negro, living near Portal, in the upper part of Bullock Co., was taken from his house Saturday night by five men, carried out in the woods and whipped severely and then shot. He died soon afterwards. Before death came, however, he related to a number of white men the manner in which he was handled and told the names of three of his assailants, all white men.

He said the men came to his house and hailed him at the door. When it was opened they came in with guns and threatened his wife while they carried him away. After they had been gone some time, his wife heard several guns fired. Some time in the night McBride returned to his house badly beaten and shot in the back in several places. Several of the white neighbors were notified and went to see the negro and took his testimony. The sheriff has gone to arrest the persons named by the negro.

The number carried last year was 13,000. Those estimates are both based on actual reports made by the farmers in each section of the immigration offices at Winnipeg. This system of centralizing the distribution in Winnipeg has been in vogue for the past two years, and has worked admirably. In former years there was a congestion at outlying points, such as Estevan, Moosejaw and Yorkton, Harvesters who had previously worked in these districts insisted on returning there, regardless of the fact that their places in many instances were already filled. This caused unnecessary rehaulage to points on other lines. An interesting feature in the crop development of the west is the number of threshing machines imported. Last year there was seen a train of 27 cars carrying 42 threshing engines and separators of one firm's mark alone. This firm manufactures in Racine Wisconsin. Bolgier said that he and Prevost left here yesterday afternoon on a fishing trip to Hayden Lake. Arriving at the lake they went out in one boat while Weymouth, Newell and the stranger had gone out in another boat a short time previous.

After Prevost and Bolgier had been fishing for some time Prevost stood up in the boat and started to put on a rubber coat. He lost his balance and fell overboard, capsizing the boat. His arms were bound by the coat, which was only partly on, and he was therefore unable to save himself. Bolgier moments. He tried to find Prevost, but was unable to discover any trace of his companion. Finally he struck out for the shore, which he finally reached. A search for Prevost's body was begun, and this morning the body of the unfortunate man was found near the upturned boat. Prevost's arms were pinioned by the sleeves of his heavy rubber coat, proving conclusively that he had no chance to make any struggle for his life. His coat and boots had weighted him down and it is not believed that he rose to

THE KING'S PRINTER.

Dr. S. E. Dawson is Neither Dead No Moribund, and Does Not Yet

The King's printer at Ottawa, Dr. Samuel Edward Dawson, is in his 72nd he has since 1891 filled to the satisfac tion of both conservative and liberal governments the post he now holds. He has at his back a staff with a capable superintendent whose duty it is to order the purely technical requirements of the printing bureau. But the King's printer has a larger task He must play practically the part of deputy minister on the one hand and by the way he bears this title-but, on the other hand, the post of headship is an institution which calls for a combination of a large measure of technical knowledge, tact and firmness. Dr. Dawson has to handle the affairs of what is largely a departtendance on the sitting of the Royal Society of Canada, of which for literary merit he is a fellow, and presently honorary secretary. Samuel Edward Dawson was born in Halifax in 1833. He was son to Benjamin Dawson, who after coming to Montreal became a Protestant Episcopal clergyman. The present King's printer had something to do with the forming of the Dominion Bank Note Company and the Montreal News Company. He was a member of the Protestant school commission in Montreal. His affiliation with the historic Dawson book firm in Montreal seems to have given his mind that literary bent which was rewarded in 1890 by his decoration by the University of Laval with the degree of Doctor of Literature. He was made Queen's printer in 1891. In the same year he was a delegate to the International Copyright Conference in cidents at Hayden Lake last night, in Washington. In 1898 he was made fellow of the Royal Society of Canada of which he is now secretary.

St. John is to have a modern pork! packing factory with one of the most up to date slaughter houses in eastern Canada. If this is not the first factory of its kind, it is the only one within recent years, and a description will be of interest. The factory is that of Dunn Bros., not exactly in St. John, but near enough for all ordinary purposes, and at this factory the new slaughter house is just being completed. It was commenced some months ago and will be ready for work in a very few days. This new slaughter house is seventy feet long by twenty feet wide, one story high. It is fully equipped with all modern devices for the killing and treating of hogs, and will have ancapacity of three hundred head per day. Owing, however, to the fact that the supply of hogs in this province is limited the place will not be run to its full capacity for some time at any

The capacity of this new slaughter house will be, as stated, three hundre head per day, but while the demand is strong enough to warrant the packing of this amount of pork, yet the supply of hogs in the provinces, and especially in New Brunswick, is limited. Up till the present Dunn Bros. have been handling only dressed pork, sent to them in small consignments from farmers all over the country, There is at all times some objection to dressed pork, for farmers as a rule have not any proper facilities for killing. The pork is often shipped before it is in proper condition, and as this is often done in cars which are not suited to the carrying of meats, the pork is sometimes tainted when received at the factory. 'In 1902 (I am speaking from memory and my dates may not be correct), Mr. Maloney on two occasions Wrote to Dr. Bush, as secretary of the Manitoba Dental Association, for information as to the qualifications required by practitioners in Manitoba. each instance Dr. Bush sent Mr. aloney, as is usual with all law sotieites, universities, and other examining bodies, a printed synopsis of the I notice that Mr. Maloney, in paper, states that a further letter was sent Dr. Bush which was unanswered. Dr. Bush, acrding to his evidence, told him that ne examinations were then in proress; that as previously advised, they were only held each six months; that mination that term, which was then half through, and that it was necessary, if he wished an examination, in event to send in a written application to state the qualifications upon which he based his claim to be examned and admitted. Further, that the Dental Association was having its come guest if he would attend. Dr. Bush inquired what Mr. Maloney's qualifications were, and on being told, said that he doubted if the Dental Association would recognize them as sufficient. He, however, did not in any point. There was practically no disagreemnt between Dr. Bush and Mr. Maloney as to this interview. Here the matter ended. Mr. Maloney did not attend the annual meeting of the asosciation, and did not, at that time, send in any written application, as required by the rules of the association. for an examination. The question, therefore, of allowing Mr. Maloney to take an examination has never, up to in its raw state and compressing and the present, come before the executive of the Dental Association. 'Mr. Maloney, according to his own story, shortly thereafter returned to the east. About March of 1903, more han a year after his interview with or. Bush, he and Mr. Kennedy determined to come to Manitoba to pracce dentistry. During the year and three months which had elapsed since is interview with Dr. Bush, he made application whatever to be allowed take an examination. POLITICAL PRESSURE.

When Messrs, Maloney and Kenhedy arrived in Manitoba they seemed take up the question of their practiging dentistry from a political rather than a business point of view, as according to Mr. Maloney's evidence, pressure was brought to bear on Dr. McInnis through the Hon. R. P. Roblin, the Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald, and

Former St. Andrews Man

Catch, however, was ever made to the executive, as requested by the rules, for an examination, and, according to Mr. Maloney's evidence, about a week after his arrival, he and Mr. Kennedy formed a connection with Dr. Ham-

"At the trial it was contended that Mr. Maloney was an employe of Dr. Hammond. Mr. Maloney contends in this respect that Dr. Hammond was acting within the practice of many dentists throughout this province. To support his statement of the relations between Dr. Hammond and himself he put in a carefully prepared document, drawn by a prominent firm of solicitors in Winnipeg, setting out that he (Maloney) for his services was to receive 9-20ths of the total net receipts from Dr. Hammond's business, the remaining 11-20ths going to Dr. Ham mond, but on being pressed he admitted that of the 11-20ths which Dr. Hammond was supposed to receive, 9-10ths under the terms of another written agreement prepared at the same time, were paid to Mr. Kennedy, leaving Dr. Hammond the munificent remuneration of 2-20ths of the total receipts of his own business in full payment for his own time, services and responsibilities as head of the concern. Further, he admitted that the furniture for Dr. Hammond's business was all purchased by Mr. Kennedy and nedy mentioned is also well known in himself; that Mr. Kennedy and himself had provided the improvements of torture with which Dr. Hammond's chamber was fitted up, and that in fact. Dr. Hammond's only possession was the large sign at the foot of the stairs and that this had been ordered by Maloney, and paid out of the receipts of the institution. "Under these circumstances it is not improbable that the magistrate had little difficulty in coming to the conclusion that the whole arrangement with Dr. Hammond was for the purpose of borrowing unlicensed practitioners to carry on their business in Manitoba, and that if such practices were allowed to prevail that it would be possible for any dentist, doctor or lawyer to open as many offices throughout the province as business considerations might dictate, using his own judgment as to the qualifications of the employes whom he might hire of "practise his profession at his various places of business."

Dr. Clint, president of the executiv board of the Manitoba Dental Association, was interviewed in reference to charges brought by Dr. Maloney, against whom legal action was taken but refused to make any statement either one way or the other.

BIG ORDERS FOR LIFE PRESERVERS.

Use of Powdered Cork in the Floats Is Likely To Be Abandoned as Result of Slocum Disaster.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 25.-What is perhaps the thickest piece of cork in inches thick, the thickness of the bark of the tree from which it was cut in Spain. The shipment from which this sample came was sent to a company at Oakdale, the second largest cork factory in this country. There are few cork manufacturing concerns, because it is difficult to obtain the machinery, each piece being made from special designs, which are not public property, and which the ordinary machine shop cannot turn out. In fact, the machinery used for the manufacture of cork specialties is guarded closely, everything being designed from blue prints which are kept under lock and

This company succeeded in obtaining their machinery by taking into their concern men who were familiar with what was required.

"It is strange," said a member of the firm, "what wonderful strides this industry has taken in the last few years. WERE THERE TWO BRIGHAMS?

Trip From, Instead of To.

The Portland Evening Express says: Whether or not George H. Brigham of South Framingham, did in reality commit suicide by jumping from the steamer Calvin Austin on her recent trip from St. John, as the despatches from Boston show is not believed in that city, there is one man who was aboard the boat who is positive in his belief that Brigham came to his death at that time and place. This person is Henry S. Bridges of St. John, a salesman for the Canadian Paint Co. of that city, who with another travelling companion shared a stateroom with Brigham. Bridges' ground for so believing was told in his interview with the Express, yesterday. Bridges came to the Express and repeated his story with more detail in such a manner as would seem to leave no doubt as to the death of Brigham. He felt that the case had been made light of in some quarters, and said that he say Brigham after the Calvin Austin left Eastport, where it was thought he might have stayed ashore. Bridges who is a Mason first met

Brigham, who was also a Mason, through the medium of that order. They travelled together from Halifax and boarded the Calvin Austin together at St. John, where with another man, Michael Cleary, they shared a stateroom having three berths in it. The Austin left St. John, Wednesday morning ,and put in at Eastport that evening, where she lay at the dock some time loading freight. There the three men went ashore and visited some of the sardine factories and came aboard the boat later. The Austin left Eastport at six o'clock Thursday morning, and Bridges knew that Brigham did not remain ashore at that time because he took breakfast with the latter on board the boat. Bridges saw him as late as 9 o'clock Thursday morning, three hours after the Austin had left her wharf at Eastport. Brigham was at that time going abaft and was just going under the rope that is placed to prevent passengers from going farther in that direction. Bridges called to him and asked where he was going. "Nowhere," said Brigham. Bridges tried to persuade him to go below with him, but he refused. No one saw more of him after that. The officers were notified and a thorough search made of every nook and corner of the Austin. There were several of those aboard that were likewise Masons and they made every effort to locate the missing man. When the Austin reached Portland, Bridges telegraphed Boston, but got no reply.

The first that he knew that it was not believed that Brigham was in reality dead was when he read the Boston papers. Then he told his story to the Express. Bridges became very friendly with Brigham on the trip and the latter confided to him his family troubles. He told the story of his separation from his wife, and laid it to the intervention of her sister, who, he said, had hated him from the time he was married. He was depressed and ment that he had but little time to live and twice he tried to put into the effect the intention to end his life. near him and drew him back from the

On both those times Bridges was rail. Indeed he was with him constantly, fearing that he would do that very thing.

"He was a broken man," said Bridger again, "and there is not the slightest doubt that his body is in the ocean at this time. He cannot have gone ashore for I saw him three hours after we left Eastport.

The despatch received here from Eastport about this man Bridges was not clear enough to give his statement as above, and conveyed the impression that the suicide took place as reported by the captain of the Austin on the trip to St. John. It now appears that from Bridges' story that it was on the trip from St. John, and as Brigham was undoubtedly on the steamer coming this way there must be a mistake somewhere.

THE CONSERVATIVES OF THE EAST ARE READY FOR FRAY.

An M. P. Who Visited East Says He Never Knew Party in Better Shape. WINNIPEG, Aug. 1 .- "Let the government bring on the elections as soon as they can, the conservatives are ready," said Nathaniel Boyd, M. P., who reached the city yesterday from the east. "I have never known the conservative party in better shape, or more hopeful. This applies to every part of the east. The men in maritime provinces assert that they can not only hold liberals there, but come out with majority of members. "This will not be so hard to do, for the conservative party is today stronger than in 1900 in representation in the house, and R. L. Borden's popularity has increased enormously." 600 WANTED TO MARRY HIM, Miss Alice Bailey, of Atlanta, Ga, tells how she was permanently cured of inflammation of the ovaries, and escaped the surgeon's knife, by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The universal indications of the approach of woman's great enemy, inflammation and disease of the owaries, are a dull throbbing pain, accompanied by a sense of tenderness and heat low down in the side, with occasional shooting pains. On examination it may be found that the region of pain will show some swelling. This is the first stage of inflammation of the ovaries.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I wish to express my gratitude for the restored health and happiness Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought into my life.

"I had suffered for three years with terrible pains at the time of menstruation, and did not know what the trouble was until the doctor pronounced it inflammation of the ovaries, and proposed an operation.

"I felt so weak and sick that I felt sure that I could not survive the ordeal, and so I told him that I would not undergo it. The following week I read an advertisement in the paper of your Vegetable Compound in such an emergency, and so I decided to try it. Great was my joy to find that I actually improved after taking two bottles, so I kept taking it for ten weeks, and at the end of that time I was cured. I had gained eighteen pounds and was in excellent health, and am now. "You surely deserve great success, and you have my very best wishes."—Miss Arlor Barley, 50 North Boulevard, Atlanta, Ga.

Another woman saved from a surgical operation by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Read what she says:—

"DEAR MES. PINKHAM: I cannot thank you enough for what your Vegetable Compound has done for me. If it had not been for your medicine, I think I would have died.

"I will tell you how I suffered. I could hardly walk, was unable to sleep or est. Men-struction was irregular. At last I had to stay in my bed, and flowed so badly that they sent for a doctor, who said I had indammation of the ovaries, and must go through an operation, as no medicine could bely me, but I could not do that.
"I received a little book of yours, and after reading it, I concluded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am now a well woman. I shall praise your medicine as long as I live, and also recommend the same to anyone suffering as I was."—Mrs. Mrs. Orrosox, Otho, Iowa. All sick women would be wise if they would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and be well.

* A GREAT WRONG.

The contrast between the Panama canal commission appointed by the president of the United States and the commission appointed by the Canadian government to construct the railway from Moncton to Winnipeg is rather startling. This country has a rebuke from Washington, and it is one that is likely to be taken to heart. President Roosevelt must have had his temptations. There is a republican around the United States capital as they hang around Ottawa. The line may be constructed for $30,000 a mile. It may cost $50,000 a mile. It will involve the spending of anywhere from fifty to ninety millions. It is impossible guess at this moment which of these figures will be nearer the mark.

"Consider the possibilities in the disbursing of such an amount by unscruplous servants of the party in power Contracts are to be let which will nvolve the paying out of sums unpreedented in Canadian history An un isually free hand will be given to the men in control. The remoteness of the operations will stand in the way of supervision by public opinion. Contracada, but never before were such opportunities for plunder presented. Mr. S. A. Cassidy, of Ottawa, Permanently Cured After Years of Suffering by the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 26.-(Special.) While all Canada knows that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the standard reme for all Kidney Complaints it may su prise some people to know they cur such extreme cases as Stone in Kidneys. Yet that is what they have done right here in Ottawa. Mr. S. A. Cassidy, the man cured the well-known proprietor of the Bil Hotel on Metcalf street, and in an terview he says: "My friends know that I have been a martyr Stone in the Kidneys for years. The know that besides consulting the bes doctors in the city and trying every medicine I could think of I was unable "Some time ago a friend told me Dodd's Kidney Pills would cure me As a last resort I tried them and they have cured me. "I could not imagine more sever suffering than one endures who has Stone in the Kidneys and I feel the greatest gratitude to Dodd's Kidney If the disease is of the kidneys from the kidneys Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. DEATH OF JOHN CARNEY.

TRIAL TREATMENT AND 64-PAGE BOOK FREE

At last there is a scientific way to cure yourself of any kidney, bladder or rheumatic disease in a very short time in your own home and without the expense of doctors, druggists or surgeons. The credit belongs to Dr Edwin Turnock, a noted French-American physician and scientist who has made a life-long study of these diseases and is now in sole possession of certain ingredients which have all along been needed and without which cures were impossible. The doctor seems justified in his strong statements as the treatment has been thoroughly investigated besides being tried in hospitals, sanitariums, etc., and has been found to be all that is claimed for it. It contains nothing harmful but nevertheless the highest authorities say it will positively cure Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, gravel, weak back, stone man, woman or child. That the ingredients will do all this is the opinion of such authorities as Dr. Wilks of Guy's Hospital, London; the editors of the United States Dispensatory and the American Pharmacopoeia,, both official works; Dr. H. C. Wood, member of the National Academy of Science and a long list of others who speak of it in the highest terms. But all this and more is explained in a 64-page illustrated book which sets forth the doctor's original views and goes deeply into the subject of kidney, bladder and rheumatic diseases. He wants you to have this book as well as a trial treatment of his tirely free, without stamps or money, by addressing the Turnock Medical Co. 2,030 Bush Temple, Chicago, Ill., and as thousands have already been cured there is every reason to believe it will cure you if only you will be thoughtful enough to send for the free trial and book. Write the first spare moment you have and soon you will be cured.

It would seem that any reader se afflicted should write the company at once since no import duty is involved and the indorsements are from such a high and trustworthy source.

SHEFFIELD

SHEFFIELD, N. B., Aug. 23 .- The Gibson and Marysville Baptist Sunday school held their annual picnic last Wednesday at Swan Creek. Though the day was unfavorable, quite an enjoyable day was spent in the usual musements and games.

Mrs. Mary Ann Sparks, relict of the late Daniel Sparks of Little River, Sheffield, a lady well admired in life, became demented on account of the death of a favorite grandson in the family, an invalid. She left the house and went away, no one knew where. Search was made for days for her: the forest was searched and the river dragged; the whole community turned out en masse in search of the missing woman. While search was being mad on the waters of Little River and the searching party was about to leave, to their astonishment the corpse arose from the bottom of the river with little or no clothing on its body. A thunder storm had passed over the section of the county that day and it was thought it had much to do with raising the dead body.

Customs Department Tells of the New Clause

And Officially Explains the Working of the Scheme-New Declarations Required.

OTTAWA, Aug. 27.-The customs department has, after careful deliberation, promulgated regulations giving effect to what is popularly known as the "anti-dumping clause" and has given the press the following explanation of the regulations:

view of the facts that the new law has an important bearing upon the trace and commerce of the country and that it is the adoption of an entirely new and striking idea in tariff making, it is considered that it would be beneficial to the business communty to give a full explanation of the principal features of the legislation and the regulations thereunder. For a proper understanding of the matter, it is necessary at the outset o state that the customs law of Canada now and for many years past in force provides, in effect, that the value for customs duty purposes of any imorted articles subject to an advalorem duty shall be the fair market value of such article as sold for home consumption in the principal markets of the country of export at the time of export in he ordinary course of trade and on the usual terms of credit in ike quantity and condition. Heretofore, therefore, although a manufaccurer or merchant in any other counry might sell goods (subject to an adalorem duty) to Canada at lower rices than he sold similar goods for ome consumption in his own country, he Canadian customs law required payment of customs duty, not upon the special price for export, but upon he basis of the home consumption value in the country of export.

Briefly stated, the Canadian parliament has now provided that in any case where imported dutiable goods of class or kind manufactured or proluced in Canada (whether subject to specific or advalorem duties, are sold to Canada at a price below the fair market value of such goods as sold for home consumption in the open market of the country of export, in the usual and ordinary way, and on the usual credit terms, at the time of export, there shall be levied thereon, in addition to the ordinary duty established by the customs laws, a special duty equal to the difference between the selling price to Canada and the said fair market value for home consumption in the country of export, provided, lowever, that such special duty shall not exceed one-half the ordinary duty provided by law. The rate and extent f the special duty is, however, varled in respect of the following articles, upon which bounties are paid when manufactured in Canada, viz.: Iron in pigs, iron kentledge and cast erap iron; iron or steel ingots, cogged pars, and loops or other forms n. o. ter of customs under the provisions of bars but more advanced than pig iron, goods being exported or imported unexcept castings; rolled from or steel der unusual conditions, the value so angles, tees, beams, channels, joists, determined shall be held to be the ped to Canada on consignment without girders, zees, stars or other shapes or trough, bridge, building or structural rolled sections or shapes that the special duty (which is in addition to the ordinary duty) shall be the amount of the difference between the selling price to Canada and the fair market value for home consumption in the country of export, but that such special duty shall not exceed 15 per cent, of such market value. To illustrate the working of the clause the following suppositious instances may be cited:

AN EXAMPLE. Take the case of a piece of machinery sold from another country to Canada at say $90, but which is usually sold for home consumption in the country of export at $100, the calculation under such circumstances would be as follows: ist. Ordinary duty at 25 p. c. on the fair market value for home consumption, viz., $100 ......$25.00 2nd. Add for special duty the difference between the se'ling price and the fair market value, viz .. .. .. .. .. .. 10.00 maximum special duty would be im- scribed; posed, namely $12.50, or one-half the ordinary duty charges based upon the spects true; fair market value.

ANOTHER EXAMPLE

Take the case of bar steel sold from abroad to Canada at, say $23 per ton, but which is usually sold for home consumption in the country of export at say $27 per ton. The rate of duty is $7 per ton. The calculation would be as follows:

1st. Ordinary duty at $7 per ton.$ 7 00 2nd. Add for special duty onehalf the ordinary duty, or $3.50, the difference between the ruling price and the full market value in the country of export being equal to and in excess of that amount.... 3 50

Total duty ..... $10 50 It is provided in the law that exemption from the special duty may be allowed in respect of any article which is rated for duty in the tariff at 50 per cent. ad valorem or upwards. or at specific rates of duty equal to 50 per cent. ad valorem or upwards, based upon the fair market value for home consumption in the country of export.

For instance, take the case of certain soap which is dutiable at two cents per pound under the tariff. If the fair market value of such soap for home consumption in the country of export is four cents per pound or under, the equivalent ad valorem duty would be 50 per cent. or upwards, and the exemption referred to in this paragraph would, therefore, apply.

Provision has also been made for exemption from the special duty when The new certificate gives a succinct Myron Wooden, a farmer of Chapin-uppermost in their minds. The dean the difference between the fair market value as aforesaid and the selling price to Canada amounts to only a small certificate is, therefore, enhanced. The special duty clause does not apply to articles of a class which are subject to excise duty in Canada. . It should be particularly observed also that the law does not apply to articles of a kind or class which are not made or produced in Canada. It is declared in the regulations that when the value of goods for duty gots, blooms, slabs, billets, puddled purposes is determined by the minisless finished than iron or steel the Customs Act, by reason of the

The regulations require in the first place that invoices in suplicate, properly certified to, shall be delivered to the custom house with the bills of entry for all imported goods. Here-tofore, the regulations only required one copy of each invoice to be produc ed and left with the customs. Such copy was filed at the port of entry and vas not forwarded to the department at Ottawa unless when called for. The idea of the department in requiring invoices to be produced and delivered in duplicate is that one copy shall be iled as usual at the ports, and that the other shall be sent with a copy of the entry to a special checking branch at headquarters in Ottawa. will undoubtedly be of much benefit inasmuch as it will tend greatly to enn accordance with the law. It is the ntention to have all invoices closely scrutinized and compared at the checking branch at headquarters by a competent staff.

It may be noted here that the United States customs' authorities require two copies of each invoice to be presented and left with them. The regulations further provide that each invoice shall show in one column the actual price at which the articles have been sold to the importer in Canada, and in a separate column the fair market value of each article as sold for home consumption in the country of export. Under the old regulations the exporter was required to note the fair market value in the margin of the invoices only where there was a difference between such market value and the selling price, and the practice was to make a very brief notation, which very often only referred to the total cost, and not to the cost of each article. The new requirement will, it is believed, impress more firmly upon the minds of exporters the importance of the information as to the home value and will probably result in more accurate information in that respect being given. The department has prepared and approved a form of invoice and it s intended that such form shall be adopted by all exporters to Canada as soon as possible. Specimen copies of such forms for the information and for suspicion and that an investigation convenience of exporters will be furnished at the various customs houses, An important change has been made in the form of certification of invoices. The certificate known as form "J," which heretofore has been required on all invoices of goods except for entry under British preferential tariff has been abolished, and a new and more comprehensive one substituted. The said form "J" which is abolished is as follows: "This invoice is true and correct: and where there is a difference between any of the prices shown therein and the ordinary credit prices at which the same articles are now sold bona fide by the exporter in like quantity and condition at this place for consumption in this country, the latter prices are. shown on the margin or elsewhere

FREDERICTON, Aug. 28.-Freder-Rothesay opponents in a tournament on Monday, Labor Day. The str. Aberdeen was chartered to take players and their friends and it was decided to leave here on the previous Sunday. The excursion is not apt now to take place, at least as far as the Sunday part of it is concerned. It happens that a great majority of the Fredericton club consists of members of the Church of England and it was quietly whispered about town today that Dean Partridge would probably have something to say on the subject in his evening's sermon. The dean always draws a large congregation, but tonight the cathedral was full. On the threshold could be seen some prominent tennis players. After the dean had ascended the pulpit and given out his text it was quite evident that the anticipation of the great congregation would be realized.

After some preliminary remarks the preacher in an eloquent and forcible manner told of how once in a certain city an interesting sport was indulged in and that a game was arranged for Monday. A meeting of players was held by a young man who promoted the idea of leaving for the scene of play on the previous Sunday. A young lady said that she would not sacrifice her religion in this way and her remarks had such an effect that the club decided not to break the Sabbath. The H. H. PICKETT, dean told of this as a parable and said that perhaps in the course of a week or so the temptation might present itself, and he urged strongly against it believed in it thoroughly. There were, it is true, wild rumors of war, diplomatic relations had two days before been abruptly suspended, but it was scarcely thought possible that Japan would do violence against the giant of Europe, who had but to give the order and his vast fighting forces would annihilate the Mikado and all his works. TOGO'S TORPEDO BOAT RAID.

It was under these circumstances that Admiral Togo executed his initial surprise. Under cover of night, his torpedo boats attacked the Russian fleet and began scattering destruction right and left. Seven vessels, including two battleships and a cruiser, were disabled in a few minutes. The daring move was executed without the loss of a single ship on the Japanese side Thus with one bold stroke Japan wor the supremacy of the Yellow Sea. All Russia howled, and the Czar waxed furious over the "treachery" of his "barbarous foe." But what appeared And Albert in Russian eyes to be treachery was regarded by the world as a splendid naval achievement. It did not dispose of the Russian fleet; it merely made the vessels prisoners at Port Arthur From that hour the fortress was be-Millidgeville road about six o'clock last sieged from the sea. This was the beginning of the bottling-up opera- mot in a fit condition to be moved. If It now became necessary for Mr. Taylor is better today he will prothe Russian fleet to play a more active part. On the appearance of the Inerney said last night that he thought bottling-up expeditions the Russians Mr. Taylor's injuries would not prove would send out vessels to drive off the serious, although he is in a very bad Japanese. Thus it happened that Togo condition. A very large crowd gatherenticed the Russians out of the harbor by means of decoys. Admiral cident, composed chiefly of persons who Makharoff, a naval genius, had been had been spending the day at Millsent to the front as the hope of Russia. Under his leadership the Port Arthur fleet on the 18th of April ventured in pursuit of some Japanese vessels The presence of Togo's fleet was hidden by a fog, which lifted in time for the Russians to discover the danger It was in the hurried and disorderly retreat to the harbor that the Petropavlosk, with the gallant admiral and hearly seven hundred men, was sunk, either by a Japanese mine or torpedo. Thus the day ended disastrously to Russia, although, but for the fog, it might have easily proven worse.

BOTTLED UP FOR A TIME.

Japanese plans required that the Russian fleet should be securely imprisoned at Port Arthur. This was necessary in order that Japanese transports might be free from attack. On the 9th of May, after many failures, der the protection of an Argentine Admiral Togo succeeded in sealing the harbor. Five merchant ships laden with stones were sunk in the narrow entrance. At the same time mines were placed so as to add further dangers to navigation. The harbor was open only to the smallest craft. Russta, too, had recourse to submarine mines. While it proceeded to clear the harbor entrance it placed mines in the outer roadstead. One of these mines sunk the Japanese battleship Hatsuse on May 15th, with 480 officers and men. On the same disastrous day a Japanese cruiser accidentally rammed the Kasuga and sent it to the bottom with 232 Japs. While the Russian flee was bottled up Japan effected landings on several points of the Liao-Tung Peninsula, and began the land invest ment of Port Arthur.
