Boyle and a Boston school girl are the dramatic personae. It seems that young Boyle came to Boston from the old country in January last, having a cash capital of $1,000 with which to start in business.—

After acting in the capacity of a clerk for some time he opened an ale and cigar store on his own account in Washington street. He boarded in Springfield street, and there became acquainted with Miss Lucy Kennedy, whom he wooed and won. The father of the young lady was delighted with the prospective match and proposed that the marriage be celebrated in the Church of the Immaculate Conception.—

The young lady made the required confession to the priest on presenting herself before the altar, but Boyle refused to do any thing of the sort, and thus the naptials were preterored. SAILED. Taylor is being tried. THERE's no perishable or corrodible material used in any of the working parts of these Gauges. The Bourdon's Tube is made of Nickel, which is non-corrosive, and retains its elasticity unimpaired for a great length of time.

The Arbours are made of best hard rolled Brase, to prevent oxidation of the pivot, which in many cases is productive of great inaccuracy. All parts of these Gauges are made with the greatest care and attention to details, and every Gauge is accurately tested against a mercurial column, so as to ensure their being perfectly correct. **Memoranda.*

Capt Jones of the ship Universe at Savansh reports: Left Liverpool 3d of August While in the channel, and until she reached 10 deg W, she experienced light variable winds from S and N.E. There to 50 deg had nothing but strong SW and W win is. It took her thirty-nine days to reach this far. While in the latter longitude and latitude 41 deg N she was much retarded by the current of the stream which ran to ESE at the rate of thirty to forty miles in twenty-four hours. Finding this the made southing as quick as possible, and in lat. 35 deg found a streak of easterly winds, and a current runing to SW at the rate of twenty miles per day. On the Irth of September fell in with schr Tropic Bird, of St John, N.B. from St Domingo to Biston, Woods, master; ciew all sick. Some having decit on the voyage; the vessel apparently in charge of a colored man; the master, who was very ill, begged for assistance. Two of the er w of the Universe volunteered to take her to Boston for £20 cach, which was granted. The two men proceeded North, having been instructed how to act in case the master died.
