

GOLD ON LAKE SUPERIOR

THE reports of rich gold deposits on Lake Superior, long deemed fabulous, appear to be a fair and well-founded conclusion. Private letters received in New York during the last few days state that there could be no doubt of the existence of valuable gold deposits in and around the Huron Mountains. Preparations are being made for a thorough excavation as soon as the snow disappears from the mountains. The Houghton Mining Company, of the same instant, has the following editorial paragraph, the editor having just returned from the district where the gold veins are supposed to exist:

The discoveries in gold bid fair to eclipse, so far, the most sanguine expectations ever formed of the silver lead. At first the assumed amount of gold in the Huron Mountains of 1860, 1861 and 1862, of tons of iron, equal to 1860, 1861 and 1862, of tons of ore. Other samples have been obtained within the last three weeks, which, upon analysis, have, much to the astonishment of the people, yielded as many, and in some cases, more ounces of gold than it had been supposed to contain.

"These analyses, which have shown one pound of gold per 100 lbs. of clean ore and one ounce, made by Mr. Williams, this week, has shown thirty-two pounds per ton, and had he the facilities to make a complete analysis, it would have shown a small amount more.

"Large entries of land have been made in and around the Huron Mountains, and within the last week 20,000 acres of land were taken up for the last week. But little more land was left for entry in that section we should think, and another field must be found for operation.

"The snow will soon disappear from the mountains when the work of thorough excavations will commence, and great discoveries be made."

BILL TO RESTRICT THE PURCHASE OF EXCHANGE.

One of the most heedless attempts of our legislators to interfere with the ordinary transactions of commerce is presented in a bill before the House of Representatives at Washington, which, as sanctioned by the Senate, provides as follows:

That any person, partnership, or corporation, or any other body, corporate or unincorporated, who shall arouse and sale of a bill on London. P

[illegible]

gathered from the following extract from report of the Treasury Board of Trade—

"that your country is expected to be the principal Reciprocity arrangement with the United States, and require the former duty on lumber from there, it would undoubtedly divert the whole of their lumber trade from throughout the State, down the St. Lawrence to the New England States, South America, Mexico, and Australia, which would supply to a great extent, the lumber, extent, and revenue of your country. Our Canada would lose the annual sum of millions of dollars annually while if the present reciprocity is continued and our State would enlarge the capacity of the canals to admit it, the amount of lumber received through the Champlain Canal would be largely increased, as well as other products, to a great extent, but a few commodities, which are expected to be constructed, and, in addition, the large quantity of lumber, and other products, which would acquire to our citizens."

FLOODING OF WOMEN IN AUSTRIAN PRISON.—A letter from Leuberg (Gaietta) in the Press of Vienna, says:—"Since the beginning of the month the military prison in this city has been steadily overcrowded, as at present, even a day, the enormous number of persons have been condemned to corporal punishments for various offences, particularly for having insulted sentences when in duty. Several individuals have been bastinadoed among them two women, one, Charlotte, a dress-maker, aged thirty-four, who received ten lashes, and Katherine Szaborska a servant, aged twenty-two, who had a similar punishment. A great number of persons have been condemned to imprisonment for from one month to four."

CHILD DROWNED.—On Tuesday morning, the body of a boy named William Hart, nine years of age, and of a Scotch-man's family in Potomac, was found floating in the Chesapeake near Bluffs near Bridge Landing. It is supposed that the child died during the storm on Sunday night.

Daring Burglary in Woodstock.

A most barbed robbery was perpetrated in this town on Sunday morning last. At about half past three o'clock three desperate villains (evidently old and expert hands at the business), broke into the office of the American Express Company, and stole therefrom a large sum of money, a silver watch with a valuable gold chain, and a revolver.

It appears that Mr. McKay, the agent, had intended to deposit the greater part of the cash on Saturday in the Gore Bank, but for some two hours earlier than usual, consequently he was behind time and, to return to his own safe—which, however, afforded little security as the sequel will show. Entrance was made by the robbers through the front door. The key had been left in the lock on the inside of the door. A pair of piers were brought into requisition, and these so firmly grasped the key as to enable the rascals to turn back the bolt. Once inside, the office desk was the first thing to undergo their inspection. In it was found a loaded revolver. The safe was next visited, it was locked, and they had no instruments with them to open it. It was clear that unless the proper key could be procured, they could not turn their first success to any very great account; and hence the desperate resolve which they determined upon, to go up stairs and awaken Mr. McKay, and demand its surrender. A gentle pressure upon the shoulder was all that was required to cause him to start up in his bed, and inquire for the cause of the presence of men at his bedside at such an unreasonable hour, but a touch of the cold muzzle of the revolver upon his cheek, and a caution from one of the thieves against either noise or delay in fulfilling his requests, satisfied Mr. McKay that he was at the mercy of his captors. Still he did not rush compliance with the demand made so suddenly, and would have aroused Mr. H. Sutherland, who was asleep in the adjoining room, had not the assurance been given that any such effort would result upon his brains being scattered upon his pillow. Finally, he was allowed the time required to dress, and to render the key. He was told that it was not intended to injure him personally, but give up his money he must, and at the earnest solicitation of Mrs. McKay, the thieves were directed to the drawer containing the key. While one still kept the revolver pointed at Mr. McKay's head, the other unlocked the safe and took out the cash-box and the watch. The cash-box was in its turn opened, and the drawers containing the money carried off—in all $1,000. Of this sum, about $250 were recovered—some thieves, in their hurry, having dropped several parcels on the floor, and others, on the stairs. The worst feature of this affair is, that so far no clue to its perpetrators has been obtained. There is little doubt that had Mr. McKay not listened to the advice of his wife, a horrible murder would have been committed; the ruffians had gone too far in their villainous work to admit of being unfinished.—Woodstock Times.

Arrival of the "City of Baltimore."

New York, April 27.

The "City of Baltimore" has arrived here.

The "Arabia" arrived out on the 12th.

The bombardment of Duppel continues.

It is stated that the Danes show signs of retreat.

Maximilian probably sails on the 14th for Mexico.

The Conference has not yet assembled.

In the House of Commons, on the 12th,

Government was supported by a majority of 20.

A minor educational question.

Minister Gibson stated there was no immediate intention of placing a light on Dunlop's Rock, where the "City of New York" was wrecked, but the light at the entrance of Cork harbour would be improved.

The Garibaldi enthusiasm was unabated.

He visited Lord Palmerston for an hour, also Mr. Stanfield who was implicated in recent conspiracy.

The "Morning Herald" says Clarendon's mission to Paris is to restore amicable relations and to dispel Napoleon's irritation against England.

Maximilian's health has improved. It is stated he will quit Miranor en route for Mexico on April 14th. He has made sundry diplomatic and ministerial appointments.

The Prussians continued vigorously to bombard Duppel. Reported Danish fire is very weak, and several batteries were silenced.

The Finsburg despatch says that the Danes are preparing to evacuate the entrenchment.

The Prussians in Jutland advanced further northward, and drove the Danes out of Horsens after a short engagement.

Paris Bourse firmer at 66 3/4.

The overland mail from Calcutta, China, and Australia is forwarded per "City of Baltimore." News anticipated.

Liverpool, April 16, p. m.—The cotton sales of the past three days, including today, add up to 40,000 bales. Prices generally advanced 1/2 to 3/4 per pound, since the departure of the "Australia."

Braconstuffs—Flax, limited and irregular. Wheat in very restricted demand, and partially a shade easier. Winter red 8s to 8s 1/2 per cwt. Corn dull, and in some instances 6d lower, mixed 28s to 28s 1/2 per 480 pounds. Provision—beef quiet and drooping. Pork dull at 65s to 67s for Easter. Bacon very dull, but prices are unchanged. Lard inoperative.

London Markets.—Braconstuffs generally unchanged. Sugar dull and easier. Coffee quiet. Tea dull.

London money market and the funds were without fluctuation. Consols closed at 91 1/2 to 91 3/4. Demand for money active at full rates.

The steamship Hanza arrived at Southampton, and the Edinburgh, at Queens town, on the 14th.

The bombardment of Duppel continues vigorously. An unsuccessful attempt has been made to recapture the place.

Mr. Locke King's Bill for extending the franchise in the counties, has been rejected by 27 majority in a full House.

Breadstuffs dull and steady. Provisions dull and unchanged. Sugar easier. Petroleum firm.

London, April 14.—Consols for money 91 1/2 to 91 3/4. Ill. Central 15 to 13 discount. Erie 68 to 70.

New York, April 27.—The following is a summary of the steamship "Pennsylvania" news, which sailed from Liverpool a day before the "City of Baltimore":

It is stated that all hopes of saving the steamship "City of New York" are abandoned.

Garibaldi arrived in London on the 11th instant, and met with a tremendous reception. The crowd exceeded anything that was ever seen. It was a perfect ovation.

At every step he was greeted with enthusiastic cheers. He was five hours in getting from the railroad station to the Duke of Sutherland's mansion, which is only two or three miles.

The leading statesmen and men of all parties are at the Duke of Sutherland's, an entertainment at the Duke of Sutherland's.

The London Daily News gives it as a report that the Attorney General has given an opinion that every registered shareholder in the Atlantic Trading Company, the great blockade-running scheme, will be guilty of a midemeanor under the Foreign Enlistment Act which prohibits the equipping of transports to be used by belligerents.

In the House of Lords the Danish question has been debated at length.

Strasden moved a resolution condemning the Government.

The resolution was then withdrawn.

Lords Grey and Derby found fault with the action of the Government. The latter denounced the German Powers and had no faith in the Conference.

Earl Russell, the Duke of Argyll and Earl Granville defended the Government.

The resolution was then withdrawn.

Queen Victoria received the diplomatic corps in State on the 9th.

The London Times says that Lord Clarendon will soon go to Paris on a private mission.

Archduke Maximilian received the Mexican representatives on the 16th inst. In a speech he said that as the people of Mexico by an overwhelming majority, had confirmed the resolution of the notables, and as France guarantees the independence of Mexico and the Emperor of Austria consents, he solemnly declares his acceptance of the proposed constitution, and pledged himself to govern constitutionally and for the benefit of the people of Mexico. He claimed the Union and good will of the people, and expressed his gratitude to the Emperor of the French, who had brought about a solution of the Mexican question.

The Emperor of Austria confirmed his bid by a slight fever on the 11th inst., and his departure from Mexico was therefore uncertain. He goes via Rome.

The Emperor of Austria permits the formation of a corps of 6,000 Volunteers and 300 sailors for Mexico.

The new armaments of $2,000,000 sterling at 63 will be opened on the 15th inst.

The bombardment of Duppel and Sonderburg continues, but it is rather feeble. The allies have extended their trenches and breached another parallel.

The Danish representatives in the conference had arrived in London.

There was nothing else to indicate a meeting of the Conference.

A committee of the German Diet had recommended the Diet to send a representative.

AMERICAN NEWS.

Surrender of Plymouth to the Confederates.

By the surrender of Plymouth, (N. C.) to the Confederates as detailed in the following telegram, General Wessels and the garrison of 2,500 men have been made prisoners:

Fortress Moore, April 24, via Baltimore April 25.—Captain Weatherford, of the Twenty-third Massachusetts regiment, has just arrived from Roanoke Island. He makes the following report:

General Wessels surrendered to the enemy on Wednesday, the 20th inst., when the rebels took possession of Plymouth, after four days hard fighting.

Our loss is one hundred and fifty killed and twenty-five hundred captured.

The rebel loss is 1,500 killed.

Baltimore, April 25.—There are reports on the streets here this morning, purporting to have been brought by a colored sutler, that the colored federal troops at Plymouth, were murdered after the surrender of the place by the rebels.

There are no means of verifying this statement, and the rumor is probably without foundation.

Army of the Potomac, April 24.—The Richmond Sentinel of the 22nd says the following despatch has been received by Gen. Bragg:—Plymouth, N. C., April 20.—To General Braxton Bragg:—I have stormed and captured this place, capturing one Brigadier, 1,600 men, stores, and twenty-five pieces of artillery.

Signed, R. F. Hoke, Brig. General.

A telegram was also received by the President from Col. J. Taylor Wood, dated Rocky Mount, April 24th, giving further particulars of the capture of Plymouth by the forces under General Hoke, with naval co-operation. He says that 2,500 prisoners were taken, 300 or 400 of them negroes; 30 pieces of artillery, 100,000 pounds of meat, 1,000 barrels of flour, and a full garrison outfit. Our loss was about 300 in all. Colonel Rice was among the killed. Two gunboats were sunk, another disabled, and one small steamer captured.

Grand Ecore, April 15.—About 25 miles above here, on the left bank of the Red River, the rebels opened on the transports and the Bell and the Rey, and fired 12 shots into them. A force of 1,000 mounted infantry, said to be part of the rebel Gen. Green's command, came down in front of the battery, and poured volleys of musketry into the steamers, which were getting the worst of it, when a small gunboat opportunely came up, shelled and silenced the battery, and compelled the rebels to fall back. Gen. Smith's 16th corps subsequently arrived near the scene of action, having crossed the river from Grand Ecore, marching up the right bank of the river, and again crossed over to push and punish the enemy. They captured two guns and seventeen wounded prisoners, who were positively killed. The rebel Gen. Green was killed by a shell from the Rob Roy. This is another signal victory.

The rebels left 164 of their dead on the field, slaughtered by the terrific fire of our gunboats and transports in their precipitate retreat. Their slightly wounded were taken off. The death of Gen. Green was greatly swollen. The Potomac is also exceedingly high.

New York, April 25.—The World's army despatch says the weather is pleasant. The mud is once again dust, which is kept down by an occasional dash of April rain. The enemy shows increased signs of activity. Yesterday they crossed the river with logs to try to sweep off our bridges, but the scheme failed.

Moody's guerrillas in quite a strong force, appeared near our lines yesterday. No civilians are allowed to go the front. Several with passes from Gen. Meade were sent out of the train today.

Halifax, April 23.—A fleet of gunboats, under the command of Commodore Smith, arrived at the Rappahannock River, below Rappahannock, a drizzling machine in advance, to search for torpedoes. It is believed that Rappahannock, or Port Royal will be the base of Burnside's co-operation movement against Richmond.

Mobile, April 22.—On Wednesday Gen.

West Adams, April 22.—Confederate news.

On Monday, April 22, it is reported that the enemy commenced a day's movement up their river, and that they are now in the immediate vicinity of the 15th.

Rebels are dry and hard.

Portland, April 23, p. m.—There are no signs of the steamship Banquet up to this time. She is fully due at the date of the 15th, and is probably to the 15th.

Philadelphia, April 23.—The Inquirer has a letter from Norfolk which says:—A flag of truce boat went to Plymouth to enquire about our wounded, but the rebels refused to receive it.

Gen. Graham made a reconnaissance to Plymouth and threw several shells into the town.

It is reported that all the Union and loyal North Carolinians, as well as the negroes, were shot after the surrender.

New York, April 24.—The steamer America, from New Orleans on the 19th, arrived here about 10 o'clock.

The Era of the 19th contains late news from the army of Gen. Banks.

An expedition under Gen. Smith, which, with a portion of Admiral Porter's fleet, went up Red river previous to three days' battle, returned safely on the 13th inst.

The greater portion of the rebel army is at Mansfield and on the river opposite that place. At the Cowpasture a rebel force was stationed which had 14 guns in a battery along the river.

Our gunboats in returning were obliged to run the gauntlet of these guns. In the fighting which followed the attempt of the gunboats to pass the rebel battery the rebels were compelled to fall back from the river, giving the transports a clear passage. The boats suffered very little more splintered work being all the injury sustained. As soon as this expedition arrived at Grand Ecore, the rebels retreated to the north, and a full supply of ammunition, the lack of which was its principal cause of return to Grand Ecore, and the delay at that point.

DEATH OF DR. GRIFIN.

Another well-known face has passed away from our midst.

Dr. Griffin, the ablest surgeon, the talented 'Miles' of the press, the kind friend and accomplished gentleman, died this morning.

There are not a few living who remember him as surgeon of the 85th Regiment, and these know that, coupled with great ability, sympathy for our country past and present, he had a large heart and strong human sympathies.

For some years past he has been a staff appointment, as surgeon of the military prison, and in that capacity, as in all others his good qualities were conspicuous. We sincerely mourn his loss.—Quebec Mercury.
