Catarrh

[A blood disease. Until the poison is expelled from the system, there can be no cure for this loathsome and dangerous malady. Therefore, the only effective treatment is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood purifiers. The sooner you begin the better; delay is dangerous.

"I was troubled with catarrh for over two years. I tried various remedies, and was treated by a number of physicians, but received no benefit until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A few bottles of this medicine cured me of this troublesome complaint, and completely restored my health."—Jesse M.

Boggs, Holman's Mills, N. C. mended to me for catarrh, I was inclined to doubt its efficacy. Having tried so many remedies, with little benefit, I had no faith that anything would cure me. I became discouraged from loss of appetite and impaired digestion. I had nearly lost the sense of smell, and slide. (Boston Herald.)

CAPITAL NOTES.

(Special to the ADVERTISER.)

OTTAWA, April 26.—Lord Stanley of Preston is to have the degree of Doctor of Laws conferred upon him by McGill University at the approaching meeting of convocation next week. Lord Stanley is a graduate of Oxford, Eng., and is the visitor of McGill University.

Messrs. Prior, M.P., Mara, M.P., and Bernard, M.P., left for home last night.
They go direct to British Columbia.

The election to-day is being very warmly contested. The Journal, the organ of the Equal Rights, issued an "extra" this morning calling upon all lovers of the "old flag" to vote for Hay. The Citizen is simply hysterical in its appeals to the old-time Tories to stand the candidate.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.

A Twelve-Year-Old Boy Ground to Death on a Roller.

One of the most shocking accidents which has occurred in this vicinity in many years is reported from lot 16, com. 10, London township, about ten miles north of this city. George Foggett, the 12-year-old son of Mrs. Foggett, who lives near the "check gate" on the Proof Line road, a couple of miles from here, had recently been unwell and was sent out to visit his grandfather, Mr. Bolton, living on com. 10, London township, in order to regain health. On Thursday afternoon the boy and his uncle went to a farm on the same concession, which had formerly been occupied by his grandfather in order to remove a roller which had been left there. When in front of lot 16 returning with the roller, Bolton asked young Foggett to hold the horses a moment while he ran in to the cheese factory to speak to some of the employees. The boy placed a couple of blankets on the top of the roller, which had no cover, and climbing on it, sat down.
Bolton had just reached the factory door when the horses became frightened and started off at a gallop. One of the boy's feet was caught between the frame and the roller in such a manner that as the team rushed along his body was being dragged into the frame and against the roller.
About 25 rods from where the horses started was a small bridge. The jolt occasioned by going over it pulled one of the poor boy's legs completely off, and the limb was left in the roadway. About half a mile further his mangled body was thrown from the roller and the team dashed on for a couple of miles further dragging the roller after them. As soon as Bolton saw the horses start he rushed up the road after them and was horrified when he came to the dismembered limb of his nephew. He ran to where the boy lay, and as he approached the little fellow said, "Turn me over." His request was granted, but a glance at the fearfully mangled state of the entire lower portion of his body showed that he could not live.
He expired in a few minutes on the roadside where he had fallen. A peculiar feature of the accident was that the roller was in two sections and before the team had gone a few yards the half opposite to that on which George Foggett sat fell from the firmly and caused his death. The deceased was a bright boy and prior to going to visit his grandfather had been attending school at John R. Mininick, H. N. T. Colquhoun, T. P. Hobbs and John Burridge. Six of these refused to stand, and the ballot resulted in favor of Messrs. Pritchett, Judd and Cameron. Mr. E. F. Parnell being next on the list. The latter said he had decided to run in any case, and a motion to make the nomination of the first three gentlemen unanimous, was thus upset. He did not believe in keeping up the division of the people which an amalgamation ticket would mean. Messrs. Cameron and Pritchett expressed their willingness to retire, but the meeting did not entertain the proposal.
The nomination for school trustees was unanimous, Messrs. James Luney and J. S.
Dewar being chosen. After a vote of thanks to the Chairman the meeting adjourned.

WARD SIX NOMINEES.

Candidates for the New Ward Chosen—Committee Meeting Nominates Representatives.

A joint meeting of the Amalgamation Committee was held yesterday evening at Mr. John Heaman's residence for the purpose of nominating three candidates for aldermanic honors and two for school trustees. Mr. Heaman took the chair, Mr.
John Macpherson acting as secretary.

Mr. Cameron explained that a member of the committee had requested him to call a meeting for the purpose of taking into consideration first, the advisability of having an amalgamation ticket, and secondly if it were decided on to select candidates, and that the meeting was for the purpose of winding up the affairs pertaining to the late vote. After discussion it was decided to run no amalgamation ticket and thereby carry out the expressions made Trebilcock's Halliburton in the late issue. It was the feeling of the meeting that some expression should be given as to the best candidates from London South.

After the majority had agreed to abide by the decision of the meeting, the following were nominated: Messrs. E. R.
Cameron, J. G. Pritchett, E. Parnell, J.
C. Judd, W. M. Gartschore, John Beattie, John R. Mininick, H. N. T. Colquhoun, T. P. Hobbs and John Burridge. Six of these refused to stand, and the ballot resulted in favor of Messrs. Pritchett, Judd and Cameron. Mr. E. F. Parnell being next on the list. The latter said he had decided to run in any case, and a motion to make
the nomination of the first three gentlemen unanimous, was thus upset. He did not believe in keeping up the division of the people which an amalgamation ticket would
mean. Messrs. Cameron and Pritchett expressed their willingness to retire, but
the meeting did not entertain the proposal.

Dewar being chosen. After a vote of thanks to the Chairman the meeting adjourned.

STANLEY has accomplished more than any other discover before him, and has made for himself a name that will go down through the coming ages. People will read of his arduous and perilous achievements with wonder and amazement, and on all sides honors and decorations will overwhelm him. During his late expedition, much labor and inconvenience could have been obviated by a liberal use of cod-liver oil washing compound, by means of which all dirt and infections of disease could have been removed and utterly destroyed. It is the safest, most effective and economical washing compound that has ever been discovered, and the people of Canada use and appreciate it more every day. Be sure and ask your grocer for it and let no amount of plausible excuses induce you to take a substitute.

The Question Settled.—Those eminent men, Dr. James Clark, Physician to Queen Victoria, and Dr. Hughes Bennett, say that consumption can be cured. Dr. Wistar knows this when he discovered his widely-known BALRAM OF WILD CHERRY, and experience has proved the correctness of his opinion.

Messrs. Douglas and Leonard. A communication was read from Hon. Charles H.
Tupper, of the Department of Marine, asking for an expression of opinion from the Board as to the best means of furthering the herring industry. It was received and acknowledged.

A communication was also read from W.
R. Meredith, Q.C., M.P.P., donating a copy of the revised statutes of Ontario for the year 1888-9 to the library of the Board.
A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Meredith.

INSUFFICIENT MAIL SERVICE.

Mr. John Green, in connection with the question of train service, read a letter from Mr. Barker, of the postoffice, concerning the mail service between Berlin and this city. The letter showed that there were three mails between the two points each week, but that, however, that a letter was posted five minutes too late for the 4:20 mail on Monday in Berlin it would not arrive at the business house in this city until Wednesday. There was, he claimed, practically but one mail, and this was not sufficient. He would recommend a morning train from Guelph, calling at all intermediate points.

Mr. J. W. Little explained that Mr. Alexander had had the matter in hand, but the amalgamation excitement and work had doubtless taken up his time. Action was deferred.

COLLECTING DEBTS.

A committee composed of Messrs. J.
Campbell, W. J. Reid, W. R. Reid, W. R.
Reid, of the postoffice, during the matter of collecting debts in Division Courts with a view of having the law changed so that suit may be entered at any place where part of the transaction took place.

Mr. J. W. Little reported on behalf of the deputation sent to Toronto to refute the statements made by Mr. R. B. Reid, of the London South amalgamation campaign. He expressed the opinion that the Board were fully justified in sending the deputation down to Toronto, as the statements made were of a very damaging character.

IMPROVING PORT STANLEY HARBOR.

President Marsh reported as to his trip to Ottawa re the Port Stanley Harbor.
He said he had been very kindly received by the Minister of Public Works, who assured him that he would bring the matter before the Government, and who also gave him every reason to believe that the piers and entrance to the harbor would be repaired, but as to cleaning out the basin, that was purely a matter for the city of London and the village of Port Stanley to attend to.

accounts against assets. He referred to the members' fees, and he was not inclined to have men sitting on the Board year after year without paying a cent. He moved that the back fees for the years 1886-7-8 be collected or the names struck off the list.

Secretary Nelles said several old accounts had been lately collected, and if the motion carried it would mean a loss to the Board.

Mr. Masuret changed his mind and made a motion to the effect that the Secretary be given power to collect all back dues.

Mr. Little suggested that the matter be left in the hands of the President, Vice-President and Secretary. Mr. Masuret consented to the change and the motion was carried.

NEW MEMBERS.

The balloting for new members was then proceeded with and resulted in the unanimous election of Mayor Taylor, Messrs.
J. D. Clarke and William Yates.

The following names were proposed to be balloted for at the next meeting: Messrs.
Samuel Stevely, N. F. Yeo, H. E. Nelles, R. D. Miller, J. M. Slater and J. Sutherland.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The election of officers was then proceeded with. President Marsh, Vice-President Masuret and Secretary-Treasurer Nelles were all elected by acclamation.

Mr. Little moved that the Nominating Committee to appoint members to the several committees be appointed by the President, the appointments to be made at a subsequent meeting. Carried.

MEMBERS' FEES.

Secretary Nelles called attention to the unsatisfactory manner of the rating of members' fees.

Mr. Lewis held that it was a great injustice for a man to be charged a year's dues for the last few months in the year.

Secretary Nelles stated that it would meet the views, and if it did the dues were divided into quarterly payments.

Mr. James Cowan was of the opinion that the year should date from the time of the member joining the Board. He moved to that effect.

Mr. Little moved that the dues be collected from new members for the first year quarterly, and after that they be collected yearly.

THE MARKET CLERK MATTER.

Under the heading of new business Mr.
J. W. Little moved the adoption of the following motion:

"That this Board desires to place on record its approval of the action of Aldermen Wyatt, Moore, Jones, Skinner, Heaman and Garratt with reference to the matter of Market Clerk Wilson, and that the Board tender to these gentlemen its hearty support in their endeavor to insist upon integrity and honesty, and to insist upon the right of the Board to be kept informed of the proceedings of the men who were frequently blamed, and it was but right that these gentlemen should be commended for the stand they had taken in that matter. He hoped that the Board would let them know that it sympathized with them by adopting the resolution.
That although the Board had not the right to speak for all the ratepayers, yet it represented a large number, and it should do all in its power to help and induce them to purify matters as much as possible." In putting the motion the President said:
"I think we should all assist these aldermen and see that as far as possible matters are carried on honestly."
The motion was carried unanimously.

GREAT DAY

ON THURSDAY AND FOLLOWING DAYS

GREAT KID GLOVE HOUSE,

When Powell, Allen & Brickenden will offer some extraordinary drives in Canadian and English goods which have just been received.

Customers, citizens and others will please observe that the goods that are offered are not only this season's productions, but fresh and new in pattern and design.

We make no apology for offering these goods so early in the season, but having purchased them at very close prices, we are determined to give our customers the benefits of close buying.

1st.—The first great drive is an extraordinary one, as it is seldom you find so early in the season wholesale houses prepared to sacrifice the prices of ladies' jackets. However, we have got them, and now offer them at the following extraordinary prices, which will be found on an inspection of the jackets a little over half value, viz., $2, $2 50, $3, $3 50, $3 75, $4 50 and $6 50. Fit perfect and mostly black.

2nd.—Tremendous drives in Black Royal Silk, which is the newest make of any silk in the market. Every yard will be sold for the extraordinary price of 93 cents. We challenge any silk like this line to be found at any other store under $1 20.

3rd.—One case of East Colored Gingham in this big lot of goods, every yard of which will be sold for 54 cents per yard.

4th.—Also contained in the piles of goods just received, Prints and Dress Goods, every yard of which will be sold at startling prices.

N. B.—This special lot of goods which we are offering, combined with the special novelty of this spring's importations, we think gives us the most attractive drygoods stock in London. We ask for an inspection of these great drives on Thursday and following days, which means the saving of money to every purchaser.

The Northwest Miller (Minneapolis) says: The flour output last week was 121,170 barrels, against 114,100 barrels the week before and 100,000 barrels for the corresponding time in 1908. The flour market is strong, but sales are restricted to comparatively small limits, and do not equal the manufacture. The export shipments for last week were 35,229 barrels, against 27,859 barrels the preceding week. The spring wheat crop has gone into the ground under the most promising conditions. It is late, but otherwise there is now no justifiable complaint from any large section of an unfavorable situation. There appears to be no place now suffering for rain.

LOCAL MARKETS.

Reported by A. M. Hamilton & Son.

LONDON, Saturday, April 25.

The attendance of sellers on the market today was small, and the demand for wheat was very weak, sales of which were dull at 7 1/2 to 8s. Wheat and all kinds of grain were firm and receipts only moderate. Choice wheat was scarce and prices active and a shade higher. There was a good inquiry for buckwheat and rye, but no sales. Provisions steady and unchanged in most lines. Eggs were active and in demand. All other lines unchanged. Quotations are as follows:

COLONEL QUARITCH, V.C.

By H. RIDER HAGGARD.

(Copyrighted by Rose Publishing Co., Toronto, Ont., and printed by special arrangement, through the American Press Association.)

This brought them to breakfast time, and after breakfast George's accounts were thoroughly gone into, with the result that confusion was soon won, for neither George could not keep accounts or the Squire could not follow them. Ida, sitting in the drawing room, could continually hear her father's ejaculatory outbursts after this kind:

"Why that stupid donkey, you've added it up all wrong; it's 600 not 550," followed by a "No, no, Squire, you're looking on the wrong side—there, there are the debits," and so on till both parties were fairly out, and the only thing that remained clear was that the balance was considerably on the wrong side.

This was the state of affairs, when the door bell rang and Edward Croxley, looking particularly handsome and rather overpowering, was shown into the room.

The Squire shook hands with him this time, though coldly enough, and George touched his forehead and said: "Servant, sir," in the approved fashion. Thereupon his master told him that he might retire, though he was to be sure not to get out of hearing, as he should want him again presently.

"Very well, sir," answered George, "I'll just step up to the Poplars. I told a man to be around there to-day, as I want to see if I can come to an understanding with him about this year's rent of the wood."

"There," said the Squire with an expression of disgust, "there, that's just like your way, your horrid, edging way; the idea of telling a man to be round about the Poplars some time or other to-day, because you wanted to speak to him about a fell. Why didn't you write him a letter like any ordinary Christian and make an offer, instead of doing him around a farm for half a day like a wild Indian? Besides, the Poplars is half a mile off if it's a yard."

"Lord, sir," said George, as he retired, "that ain't the way that folks in these parts like to do business, that ain't. Letter writing is all very well for Londoners and other fellows, but it don't do here. Besides, sir, I shall hear you well enough up there."

Servant, sir—this to Edward Croxley—and he was gone.

Edward burst out laughing; and the Squire looked after him, remainer with a contented air.

"No wonder that the place has got in such a mess with such a fellow as that to manage it," he said aloud. "The idea of hunting a man round the Poplars Farm—like an Indian squaw. He's a regular cadger, that's what he is, and that's all he's fit for. However, it's his way of doing business, and I shan't alter him. Well, Mr. Cossey, he went on, 'this is a very sad state of affairs, at any rate so far as I am concerned. I presume, of course, that you know of the steps which have been taken by Cossey & Son to force a foreclosure, for that is what it amounts to, though I have not as yet received the formal notice; indeed I presume that those steps have been taken under your advice.'

"Yes, Mr. de la Mole, I know all about it and here is the notice calling in the loans," and he placed a folded paper on the table.

"Ah," said the Squire, "I see. As I remarked to your manager, Mr. Quest, yesterday, I think that, considering the nature of the relationship which has existed for so many generations between our family and the business firm, of which you are a member, considering, too, the peculiar circumstances in which the owners of land find themselves at this moment, and the ruinous loss—to put questions of sentiment aside—that must be inflicted by the sale upon the owner of property, that more consideration might have been shown. However, it is useless to try to make a silk purse out of a sow's ear or to get blood from a stone, so I suppose that I must make the best of a bad job, and, with a most polite bow, 'I really do not know that I have anything more to say to you, Mr. Cossey. I will forward the notice to my lawyers; indeed, I think that it might have been sent to them in the first instance.'

Edward Cossey had all this while been sitting on an old oak chair, his eyes fixed upon the ground, and slowly wringing his hat between his legs. Suddenly, he looked up, and to the Squire's surprise, said quickly:

"I quite agree with you. I don't think you can say anything too bad about the behavior of my people. A Shoreditch Jew could not have been worse. And look here, Mr. de la Mole, to come to the point here, to prevent any misunderstanding, I may as well say at once that, with your permission, I am anxious to take up these mortgages myself, for two reasons: I regard them as a desirable investment even in the present condition of land, and also I wish to save Cossey & Son from the discredit of the step which they meditate."

For the second time that morning the Squire looked up with the sharp and searching gaze he usually assumed, and for the second time his instinct—for he was too heady a man to reason much—came into play and warned him that in making this offer Edward Cossey had other motives than those which he had brought forward. He paused to consider what they might be. Was he anxious to get the estate for himself? Was he put forward by somebody else? Quest, perhaps, or was it something to do with Ida? The first alternative seemed the most probable to him. But whatever was the lender's object, the result to him was the same—it gave him a respite. For Mr. de la Mole knew well enough that he had no more chance of raising the money from any ordinary source of investment than he had of altering the condition of agriculture.

"Hum," he said, "this is an important matter, a most important matter. I presume Mr. Cossey, that before making this definite offer you have consulted a legal adviser?"

"Oh, yes, I have done all that, and am quite satisfied with the security—an advance of £30,000 charged on all the Honham castle estates at 4 per cent. The question now is if you are prepared to consent to the transfer. In that case all the old charges on the property will be paid off, and Mr. Quest, who will act for me in this matter, will prepare a simple deed charging the property for the amount advanced."

"Ah, yes, the plan seems a satisfactory one; but, of course, in so important a matter I should prefer to consult my legal adviser before giving a final answer; indeed I think that it will be better if the whole affair were carried out in a proper and formal way."

"Surely, surely, Mr. de la Mole," said the younger man with some irritation, for the old gentleman's somewhat ungainly manner rather annoyed him, which, under the circumstances, was not unnatural. "Surely you do not want to consult a legal adviser to make up your mind as to whether or not you will allow a foreclosure. I offer you the money at 4 per cent. Cannot you let me have an answer—yes or no?"

Beautiful Women

BEAUTIFUL WOMEN.

Their Influence on London Society.

[From the London Saturday Journal.]

The tendency of the present day is the laxity of conversation permitted by many ladies of society in their male friends. This evil has been of very rapid growth and has spread in many cases from the married women even to the girls, who think they can thus make themselves agreeable to the men as their successful rivals. This to a great extent is attributable to the rage for beautiful women which is dominating London society, as well as elsewhere throughout the world. A woman, if she is extremely lovely, can always get an introduction and is sure to be a star in society. This rage for beauty has been a great bane in London society for a long time, and has been a great source of annoyance to many women who felt themselves shelved and neglected by the men in favor of fashionable beauties.

Society has lately advanced a step further, and the beauties of London society, whose faces are their fortunes, are now becoming more numerous. Many women with brilliant minds and goddess-like forms have been neglected and passed by unnoticed for the woman who could only claim a beautiful face.

Most women of intellect and figure have felt these charms to be sufficient and have neglected their faces. The result has been an army of women with almost hideous faces caused by blotches, redness, roughness of the skin, pimples, disgusting blackheads, liver spots and other imperfections which the professional beauty has with much acumen been careful to either cure or prevent.

Mrs. Langtry, Adeline Patti, Clara Louise Kellogg, Mrs. James Brown Potter, Mrs. Holjeska, Fanny Davenport and Helen Dary are but a few of the beauties of the present day.

Importance among women's attractions of a perfect complexion. They have tried every imaginable remedy and have unanimously agreed on one—the one used by all the professional beauties. It is a well-known fact to every thoughtful woman that any imperfection on the face suggests uncleanness to men, and honest confessions made by 'men of the world' all reveal the fact that they have been absolutely disgusted with women because of imperfections on their faces.

Note.—The Becamier Preparations are the remedies referred to in the above article.

What They Are and Why They Are To Be Used.

Recamier Cream, which is first of these world-famous preparations, is made from the recipe used by Julie Recamier. It is not a cosmetic, but an emollient, to be applied at night just before retiring, and to be removed in the morning by bathing freely. It will remove all redness, pimples, red spots or blotches, and make your face and hands as smooth, as white, and as soft as an infant's.

Recamier Balm is a beautiful, pure and simple. It is not a whitewash, and unlike most liquids Recamier Balm is exceedingly beneficial and is absolutely imperceptible except in the delicate freshness and youthfulness which it imparts to the skin.

Recamier Lotion will remove freckles and moth patches, is soothing and efficacious for any irritation of the cuticle, and is the most delightful of washes for removing the dust from the face after traveling, and is also invaluable to gentlemen to be used after shaving.

Recamier Powder is in three shades, white, flesh and cream. It is the finest powder ever manufactured, and is delightful in the nursery, for gentlemen after shaving, and for the toilet generally.

Recamier Soap is a perfectly pure article, guaranteed free from animal fat. This soap contains many of the healing ingredients used in compounding Recamier Cream and Lotion.

The Recamier Toilet Preparations are positively free from all injurious ingredients, and contain neither Lead, Bismuth nor Arsenic, as attested to after a searching analysis by prominent chemists as HENRY A. MOTT, PH.D., LL.D.

Member of the London, Paris, Berlin, and American Chemical Societies.

THOS. B. STILLMAN, M.Sc., Ph.D., Professor of Chemistry of the Stevens Institute of Technology.

PETER T. AUSTEN, Ph.D., F.C.S., Professor of General and Applied Chemistry, Rutgers College, and New Jersey State Scientific School.

If your druggist does not keep the Recamier Preparations, refuse substitutes. Let him order for you, or order yourself from either of the Canadian offices of the Recamier Manufacturing Company, 374 and 376 St. Paul street, Montreal, and 59 and 61 St. James street, Toronto.
