PEACE CONFERENCE MAKING PROGRESS TOWARDS A CLOSE

Many of Essentials Already Agreed Upon, Though Not Publicly.

THE AMMUNITION TROUBLE

Mexicans Have Succeeded in Landing Supplies, Despite Vera Cruz Occupation.

[Canadian Press.]
Niagara Falls, May 28.—After a conference this morning with the Mexican delegates here, the mediators went over to the American side, where they conferred with Justice Lamar and Mr. Lehmann, the American representatives. It was indicated that the understanding between the opposing parties to the negotiation has proceeded to a point where plans are about in shape for a full conference between both sides. This means, it is said, that a common basis of agreement virtually has been reached, after which the main problem, which would remain would be the actual preparation of the protocol which will be signed at the final full conference between all the parties to the mediation proceedings.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 28.—Mediation conferences have been in progress a week today, and already many of the essentials of a plan for the pacification of Mexico have been agreed upon. Details are being withheld until there is a complete agreement on all subjects, but the main points of the plan on which both sides at present look favorably are the following:
The transfer of the executive power at Mexico City from the hands of Gen. Huerta to a provisional president and four cabinet ministers. This talked-of body has often been referred to as a commission or junta.
These five men would share equally the responsibility of putting into operation a program adopted at the conference here for the conduct, as soon as practicable, of new elections for president, vice-president and members of congress. The five men would be neutral persons so far as political affiliations are concerned, but would be representatives of all factions in Mexico, including the Constitutionalist, and approved also by the American Government.

Prompt recognition of the provisional government would be given by the United States.
Withdrawal of American troops is expected by the Mexican delegates to follow as a matter of course as soon as the new government is installed. While there may be no formal declaration on the subject, the Mexican delegates expect a tacit understanding to be reached that the United States will regard as legal the financial transactions of the present Mexican Congress.

No Individuals Named.
In the protocol there will be no proclamation on which a study of the agrarian and educational problems in Mexico will be based, but there will be made no mention of individuals to comprise the government.

The mediators and delegates intend to use every effort to maintain the secrecy of the names of individuals until all elements in the present Mexican government have assented to the plan, or the actual change in government accomplished. There is every reason to believe, however, that already the Washington Government has in its possession a list of names from which five men acceptable to it eventually will be agreed upon.

Protocol Declarations.
It is understood there will be no reference in the protocol to details of future elections, either as to foreclosing any individuals from becoming candidates or prescribing the electoral machinery. The protocol will declare simply for a general election, fair to all factions, and looking to the restoration of permanent government. The new president would be elected for a term of four years.

COUNCIL MEMBERS WILL FIGHT FOR SUBWAY BUILDING

Revelation of Government Aid
Possibility Encourages Aldermen.

ANXIOUS FOR REMEDY

Informal Meeting of Special Committee May Be Held
to Consider New Phase.

The story in yesterday's Advertiser to the effect that London might get Government aid in its subway in this city by making application to the Dominion Railway Commission was read with keen interest by aldermen who had not heard of this feature of the controversy before. The aldermen had considered a resolution by Alderman Wilson at the last meeting of the council, which provided for a committee to lay the whole matter before the Dominion Railway Commission, but it was sidetracked by an amendment which sought to find out the city solicitor's opinion on the matter.

Get Refusal of the Roads.
The main objection on the part of the controllers at the last meeting of the council to taking the subway question before the Dominion commission was based on the fact that the refusal of the Grand Trunk and the London street railway had not yet been secured. It was the opinion of the controllers that before the city appears before the commission it should get from these companies a flat refusal to join in any project for the subway. This refusal would show the commission that the city was acting alone in the matter.

May Touch on It in Report.
Ald. Wilson, chairman of the special committee, consisting of Ald. Haney, Merrifield, Mitchell, Tancock and Controller Moore, said today that he would try and have a meeting of his committee this week, when he would bring up the question of Government aid and the sections of the railway act, whereby the city might get $5,000 each for three crossings in the city. Personally he said he was in favor of going to Ottawa, and that was what prompted him to introduce the original resolution to take the matter to the Dominion commission. Other members of the committee are said to express the same views in bringing in their report to council at the next meeting they will undoubtedly make some recommendation along this line, together with the city solicitor's opinion. The latter has advised against the action at this time, on the ground that the city has not the money to finance any subway projects.

May Meet Informally.
Some of the aldermen suggested today that a few of them meet informally to delve into the subway question, and they (Continued on Page Eleven.)

SAM'S JOY RIDES HARD ON HORSES OF SIXTH BATTERY

Expenses of European Trips
Means Curtailing of Militia
Expenses.

CATTLE CARS IN FUTURE

No Palace Horse Cars Can Be Obtained for London Unit's
Trip to Petawawa.

Hon. Sam Hughes has experienced a twinge of conscience and is now trying to curb the expenditures of the militia department to a certain extent by making the Sixth Field Battery of London the goat.

In previous years the Government has always provided palace horse cars to transport the battery's horses to Petawawa, but this year the Government cannot afford it!

The battery has never been able to get horses from the farmers unless it promised to take them to camp in a regular horse car. This year the same promise was made as in previous years, until word was received that Hon. Sam could afford only cattle cars this year for all the militia units in Canada. Why this sudden change? The Hon. Minister of Militia is said to have spent so much on his trips to England that his conscience pricked him, and he is now cutting down expenses. The officers do not object to loading the horses on stock cars for short trips, but a ride of 24 hours makes it difficult to feed and water the animals.

Major Wood Leonard, of the Sixth Field Battery, refused to be interviewed by The Advertiser this morning, but admitted that the horses going to Petawawa on Saturday were not up to the standard. The advance party, under Sgt. F. Barlow, leaves at 5:30 this afternoon via C. P. R. for Petawawa, the main body leaving at noon Saturday, arriving at camp Sunday afternoon. The battery will be gone two weeks. It will take four passenger cars, five stock, three flat, and one box car to take the battery to camp.

'BOOSTERS' GIVE RIVALS BUSINESS

Lip-Loyalty of Civic Administration Shown By Action in Deliberately Declining To Give City Business to L. and P. S. Railway.

How loyal these so-called boosters are to London!
Recently a member of the Port Stanley Railway Commission complained that the citizens did not patronize the city's road. But how loyal is the administration itself to this municipally-owned railroad.
Ten per cent of the earnings of the road above a certain figure come to the city of London at the present time. The more business done by the Pere Marquette

VANCOUVER WOULD BAR ALL ORIENTALS

May Make Demand on Government to Keep Out Hindus,

[Canadian Press.]
Vancouver, B. C., May 28.—The Vancouver Board of Trade will soon commence an agitation to culminate in a demand on the Government to exclude all Orientals from British Columbia. They wish for a sweeping regulation of exclusion against all Hindus, Japanese and Chinese. A deputation may be sent to Ottawa to interview the Government on the question.

'NO INFORMATION' IS PREMIER'S REPLY

When Asked About Election—
Will Not Attend His Nomination Meeting.

[Canadian Press.]
Toronto, May 28.—Sir James Whitney was asked this morning if he reported in the morning papers to the effect that he would announce the date of the elections on Friday was correct. "I have no information on that subject," replied the Premier.
"Will you attend your convention at Winchester Springs on June 1?"
The Premier intimated that he would stand for nomination, but would not be present at the convention for the Dundas riding.

FIRE AT TIFFANY'S.

GOVERNMENT RISKS THE LIVES OF 1,000 OF ITS EMPLOYEES

Printing Bureau, With 600 Tons of Paper at Top, Cracked
From Top to the Bottom.

Special to The Advertiser.
Ottawa, May 28.—That a great disaster has been risked by the Government was shown Parliament by a question asked this morning by Mr. Edwards, of Frontenac. He said he had been informed that there was a crack from the top to the bottom of the Government printing bureau, where 1,000 men are employed, that on this top floor there were 600 tons of paper, and that there was a danger of a collapse of the building with serious consequences.

AN INQUIRY BEFORE DUNCAN ROSS ASKS AID BILL IS VOTED

Middlesex Member's Amendment Is, However, Rejected in Spite of Sir Wilfrid's Logical Reasoning.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ottawa, May 28.—A demand for a parliamentary inquiry before aid is voted Mackenzie & Mann was made in Parliament this morning by Duncan Ross, of Middlesex. He moved an amendment to the Government's resolution.
Premier Borden said that the resolution was for political effect only, and that there had been investigation enough, and that he would only delay work on the Canadian Northern and keep Mackenzie & Mann out of their money. Liberals had made advances to Mackenzie & Mann without inquiry.

OFFICIAL REPORT ON THE DINGMAN WELL

Brook Says It Justifies Businesslike Intelligent Prospecting.

[Canadian Press.]
Winnipeg, Man., May 28.—R. W. Brock, Dominion deputy minister of mines, who has visited the Calgary oil fields, says that striking oil in the Dingman well does not establish the existence of an important commercial field. While much more profitable as a producer than a well of similar capacity of ordinary crude oil would be, it is not as satisfactory as an "indication," but it does add materially, he says, to the already widespread evidence of oil in the Northwest and justifies businesslike, technically-directed, intelligent prospecting.

BREAK OF VERANDAH RAIL INJURES SIGHTSEERS AT GEORGETOWN HOTEL

Eight Badly Hurt When Crush of Those Looking at Circus
Parade Forces Them Over Edge—London Woman
Among the Injured.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Georgetown, May 28.—Eight people, including Mrs. John Sage, of London, were seriously injured, and about a dozen others suffered minor hurts, when part of the high verandah at the Hotel Bennett went down shortly before noon today.

There was a circus in town, and many townspeople, together with visitors from Glen Williams, were waiting in the hotel for the parade to come along. Suddenly word was passed that the show was coming, and instantly the crowd rushed for the verandah, which is about fifteen feet from the ground. The weight proved too much for the railing around the structure and it gave way, allowing about twenty of the foremost to be pushed over the edge by those behind.

The unfortunate ones were mainly women, with some children, and the injuries included two broken legs, two broken arms, one broken shoulder and several severe cuts. Mrs. Sage, of London, had her face badly gashed.

The injured were promptly attended to by physicians and taken to the homes of friends. No fatal results are expected.

PERE MARQUETTE CUTS OFF TRAINS FROM CITY LINE

Will Handle Port Stanley Business Only Over L. and
P. S. R.

Nothing But Excursion Business Will Now Be Handled.

Four Pere Marquette trains, two into the city and two out of the city, giving direct connections to and from Walkerville and many intermediate points, will be cut off the time card on June 21 or June 26, according to semi-official information received this morning.
This reduction of service means that a staff of four crews will not come into London any longer, and that a staff of six car cleaners will make their homes in St. Thomas. The cause of the reduction of the service has not been made known.
At the present time one train leaves London at 7:10 o'clock in the morning, and another leaves at 4:20 o'clock in the afternoon. Both are through trains for Walkerville, no stop-over or transfer at St. Thomas being required, as will be the case after the trains are cut off. One of the trains from Walkerville arrives at 12:50 o'clock in the afternoon, and the other at 10:10 o'clock in the evening.

Comes as Dull Thud.
The announcement will come as a dull thud to those hysterical motorists who claimed that the Pere Marquette Railway was falling over itself to use the electrified London and Port Stanley Railroad. It means that after the date set all passenger trains on the Pere Marquette out of London, except on the Port Stanley branch, will be cut off. Except for business to the lakeside and the freight trains, the Pere Marquette's use of the London and Port Stanley road is at an end.

It is possible that the time of summer trains will be changed to allow passengers for western points to make change at St. Thomas.

No reason has been given for the change in the time card. It is possible that when the matter is brought to the attention of the board of trade, an effort will be made to induce the Pere Marquette to maintain its present service.

Bennett's Predictions.
At the time of the electrification campaign, ex-Ald. B. W. Bennett stated on the public platform that as an employee of the Pere Marquette, he wished to warn the city of London that the scheme to electrify the road meant the removal of many families from the city. It would appear that Mr. Bennett was aware of the facts.

STRENUOUS EFFORTS MADE TO CHANGE SENTINEL'S POLICY

Hookin Admits Leading Conservatives Have Approached

DENIES SENATOR STORY
More Friendly Attitude to Roblin Government Asked—E.
T. Essery Speaks.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Regina, Sask., May 28.—At Orange Grand Lodge of British North America yesterday answers to address of welcome were made E. T. Essery K. C., former mayor of London, Ontario, who made patriotic speech that brought the house down. He expressed the opinion that if the school question were handled properly, the peace of many nations now entering the country would be welded into one grand Canada and be worthy of the motherland. The Manitoba school question is up today and a decision is expected. The Roblin Government has a large following in attendance. The report that he had been offered a senatorship by leading Conservatives as a price for muzzling his paper, the Orange Sentinel, on the affairs of the Orange Order in Manitoba is absolutely denied by Mayor Hocken of Toronto. He admits that strenuous efforts are being made to get him to alter the course of the Sentinel and adopt a policy more friendly to the Roblin Government on the school question, but he declares emphatically that no improper suggestions of any kind were ever made. He states that the case was laid before him by several men high in the councils of the Conservative party, but he has no reason for deviating from the policy of the Sentinel in telling the truth as it appears and of standing alone for the principals of the Orange Order, irrespective of party politics.

MONTREAL TO GET CHAMPLAIN RELICS

Arch and Sidelstones of Gate of Birthplace Offered to City.

[Canadian Press.]
Montreal, May 28.—Thinking Montreal the most suitable place to house the finest fragment of architecture in the Americas, which is reminiscent of the days of the old French domination, Dr. Finley, president of the University of New York, sent a telegram yesterday to W. D. Lighthall, K.C., as president of the antiquarian society, offering the city of Montreal, through the society, the arch and side stones of the principal gateway of the Chateau at Brouage, in Brittany, France, in which Samuel de Champlain, the famous governor of the first French settlers in Lower Canada, was born in 1567.

This is not the only gift which Dr. Finley proposes to make. Later on it is his intention to send the stone top of the wall which used to exist on the garden of the Chateau at Brouage.

A TERRIFIC STORM SWEEPS ACROSS WESTERN ONTARIO

Buildings Struck in Several Townships, and Children Injured by Lightning—One Boy Struck on Way to School May Die as Result.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

MITCHELL, May 27.—Between eleven and twelve o'clock, this morning, a terrific wind, rain and hail storm passed over Logan township, three miles north of Mitchell, and travelled in a northeasterly direction. In less than twenty minutes after the rain commenced to fall many fields were covered with water to a depth of from six to ten inches.

The school building at Willowgrove was struck by lightning, and two children, by the name of Wood, were stunned, but the building was not burned. The hail storm was one of the worst that has ever visited that vicinity. Nearly all the windows in the school house were broken, and many of the windows in a number of the farm houses met with the same fate.

The tender growing grain was packed into the earth, blossoming trees were badly damaged, shingles, boards and roofs were blown off, barns and one building was struck by lightning and burned to the ground.

KILLED HOGS.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

BLENNHIM, May 27.—During the thunderstorm which passed over this morning, during which a heavy rain fell, lightning killed three hogs near the house of John Cleveland, just east of town, it also entered the house by a telephone wire, tearing out a telephone instrument which was used in the home by one of the sons, who had private line to one of the neighbors, who also had lightning enter his home a few weeks ago, on the connecting wires but little damage was done. The Cleveland house was struck last year and the chimney destroyed.

The rain was just what the farmers required. Corn planting is in full swing and all crops look splendid. Great preparations are being made for tomato planting which begins in a few days. The canning factory have 450 acres promised which is more than they asked for.

TREES BLOWN DOWN, LIGHT PLANT CRIPPLED.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CLINTON, May 27.—A terrific hail storm, accompanied by a torrential rain, swept this district at 8:30 this morning. Trees were blown down, field crops were badly cut or levelled, and the electric light service was crippled by falling branches breaking the wires.

The new hydro station survived the ravages of the elements and the play of the lightning. There was no trouble on the line, save for the broken wires, due to falling limbs.

Many windows were broken, in stores and houses, and the smoke stack on the power house was blown down.

Several buildings were struck by lightning, but no serious consequences have been reported.

ROOFS TORN OFF GALT BUILDINGS.

[Special to The Advertiser.] GALT, May 27.—This morning Galt was visited by the worst thunder storm of many years. The deluge was accompanied by lightning which struck in two places. A building at the rear of the Royal Bank on Main street, used as a storehouse by the Bell Telephone Company, had the chimney knocked off and the roof torn open, while at the Galt Brass Company's works the roof was damaged and an electric motor burned out.

FOUR BOYS BURNED, ONE MAY DIE.

[Special to The Advertiser.] CHATHAM, May 27.—Willfred Meredith, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Meredith, of Chatham township, was struck by lightning while on his way to school at half past eight o'clock this morning. He was badly burned, and it is doubtful if he can recover.

The unfortunate lad, with three companions, two Wilcox boys and a nephew of Mrs. Meredith, were caught in a rain storm and sought shelter under a tree. A heavy bolt of lightning struck the tree and all four boys were burnt. Young Meredith received the worst injuries, and had to be removed to the general hospital this afternoon. His left side, from top of his head to his foot, is badly burned, and his left leg has to be amputated. His head is very severely burned. The other three boys were also badly burned, but they are being treated at their homes and undoubtedly recover.

A cow which was standing in the pasture across the road from the tree under which the boys took shelter was instantly killed by the same bolt of lightning.

GLENCOE MANSE WAS DAMAGED.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

GLENCOE, May 27.—A severe electric and rain storm, accompanied by hail, passed over Glencoe and vicinity last night. The house occupied by Rev. Mr. Weir was struck and slightly damaged. Apparently the current followed the electric wires into the house, and spent itself in passing the fuse. Boards were torn off the front of the house, plaster removed, and part of the electric fixtures destroyed. The family, together with a class of communicants, were in the house, and experienced only a very slight shock.

The electric light plant was forced to shut down for a few hours, owing to the severity of the lightning. The halatones accompanying the storm were very large, breaking a number of window panes in the southern part of the township.

The firemen were busy yesterday and today installing their new bell, which they purchased from the Vandusen Co. of Cincinnati. The bell is the gift of the firemen to the corporation. It is of fine quality, and larger, weighing nearly half a ton. Today, at noon, its peals rang out for the first time, and all are delighted with its tone and quality.

CHATHAM HOUSE IS STRUCK.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CHATHAM, May 27.—A dozen or more bricks were dislodged from the chimney and shingles torn from the roof and scattered about the yard below when a bolt of lightning struck the residence at 21 Patteson avenue, owned by Miss Bennett, and occupied by Rev. Mr. Dodge, the new pastor of the Central Baptist Church, shortly before 10 o'clock this morning. The fire department was called out into a driving rain, but upon arriving at the scene of the supposed fire, found there was no need for their services. The storm was a very severe one, and the rain fell in torrents.

WESTMINSTER FARMER LOSES BARNS AND COWS

Belmont, May 27.—A couple of barns belonging to Charles McGill, seventh concession of Westminster, were struck by lightning yesterday morning and burned, also five valuable cows. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

LIBERALS STOP AN ATTEMPT TO RUSH THE DEAL THROUGH

Sir Wilfrid Protests Against Second Reading for the C. N. R. Measure.

IS AGAINST THE RULES

Premier Borden Admits This But Professes To Be Astonished at Protest.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, May 27.—That $45,000,000 aid shall be extended Mackenzie & Mann was again declared by the Government and its majority in Parliament tonight. For five days the Liberals have steadily resisted and continuously debated the resolution, searching for more information, pointing to the dangerous features of the deal, and offering amending remedies for the protection of Canada. The Government has as steadily stuck to its guns and its friends. Persistence and majority have won, and the resolutions were adopted tonight without change.

Tomorrow the struggle will be renewed upon concurrence in the resolution, and the resistance will be continued. When the resolution was adopted, Premier Borden at once moved the formal second reading.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier instantly objected that the resolution did not permit of a money resolution receiving second reading at the sitting at which it is reported, except by consent. As there was determined and conscientious opposition to the resolutions, he did not intend to consent.

Money Incidental, Says Speaker. Speaker Stourde said he understood the rule applied only to purely money resolutions and that where money was only incidental there was not the same application.

"It is not incidental here," declared Sir Wilfrid, emphatically. Premier Borden said that he would accept Sir Wilfrid's interpretation of the rule, but complained that the leader of the Opposition had taken him by surprise and had given no notice of intention to object.

"I never anticipated that my right honorable friend would attempt to proceed under the circumstances," said Sir Wilfrid.

Second Reading Thursday. Second reading of the resolution was set for Thursday. Hon. Dr. Pugsley will modify his amendment. It provided for reduction of the capital stock to $30,000,000 and the placing of it with trustees, subject to purchase by the Government, at any time, for that sum and for the operation of the system by Mackenzie & Mann and the release of the stock at the end of five years, if there had been no default. The modification which will be moved strikes out a provision that in case of default Mackenzie & Mann shall remain the directors of the company and control its affairs while assuming responsibility.

It is understood that there is a strong wing of the Liberal party, supported by R. B. Bennett and W. F. Nickle, who hold that any aid now given under a provision that the removal of Mackenzie & Mann from the management until the liabilities of the Canadian Northern are liquidated to the Canadian treasury.

The Government this afternoon declined to give Parliament any information as to the financial standing of Mackenzie & Mann and Company, Limited. Liberal members asked for a statement of the assets and liabilities of the firm with which Canada is being put in partnership, and were refused by Premier Borden and Solicitor-General Meighan. That the affairs of the company were not the business of Parliament was the position which the solicitor-general took.

"These affairs have become public affairs when the public is asked to guarantee forty-five million dollars bonds on the strength of their guarantee. Why does the Government refuse the country this information?" asked Mr. Pardee.

Mr. Meighan replied that when the Liberals guaranteed bonds for the Ontario section in 1911, they had not investigated the affairs of the company. E. M. MacDonald said, that in 1911 the company was not charged with being bankrupt, as was now the case.

ORANGE ORDER FINANCED THE TREMBLAY CASE

Co-Operated With Catholics to Maintain Equal Rights—School Question Discussed.

[Canadian Press.]

REGINA, Sask., May 27.—The remarkable fact that it was the Orange Order which supplied funds which enabled Madame Tremblay to take her case to the privy council in an effort to establish her married status, was made known this afternoon by Judge Scott, of Halifax, grand master of the Grand Orange Lodge of British America, in his address at the opening of the sessions of the grand lodge here this afternoon.

This case, which has been attracting wide attention, embodies the whole difficulty with regard to the marriage laws of Quebec, and the decision of the privy council in the case will, it is expected, settle the question of what effect the religious laws of Quebec have on the civil marriage law.

According to Judge Scott, the Orange Order contributed the sum of $4,000 to assist the woman in taking her case to the "foot of the throne." It is probable by the first case on record in which the Orange Order has co-operated with a Roman Catholic to maintain their doctrine of equal rights and civil liberty.

Lightning's Pranks at Kingston House

KINGSTON, May 27.—Lightning played queer pranks at the home of Robert Kidd on Pine street, and members of the family had very narrow escapes. The bolt of lightning came down the chimney and knocked the top off the kitchen stove, took the sole off a small boot, lying on the floor, made its way under the carpet, ripped it into shreds and also made its way into the bedroom, where Kidd and his wife were sleeping, but luckily they escaped.

SIR JAMES A CHANGED MAN

This picture of Ontario's Premier was snapped at the Woodbine race-track Toronto, and is perhaps the best that has been taken of Sir James Whitney since his recent serious illness. The effect of the Proudfoot charges and the turmoil in the Provincial cabinet as well as the ravages of sickness are clearly depicted on the Premier's face.

NEW SCHOOL SITE CALLED DETRIMENT

Trustees Who Located It Must Pay $800 Damages.

TOO NEAR LAKE FRONT

Judge McWatt Hands Down Unique Decision Affecting School Authorities.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SARNIA, May 27.—Judge McWatt has handed down judgment in the case of Hugh Mann and Paul Jones against the school trustees of Section No. 3, Sarnia Township, for an order to determine the amount that the trustees must pay for having the new school site, which is on the lake front, nine miles above Sarnia, located within a prescribed distance from the owner's dwelling, orchard and pleasure ground.

His honor finds that the school will materialize to the detriment of the lake front, which is of value for summer cottage sites, and will also be detrimental to the comfort of the owner and his family in the use of the pleasure ground, orchard and dwelling house. The trustees are ordered to pay to the owners eight hundred dollars, this to cover all for the present and for all time to come. The trustees are also ordered to pay the owners the costs of the proceedings.

BLENHEIM IS AFTER AN ELECTRIC ROAD

Meeting Called for Various Municipalities on June 2.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Blenheim, May 27.—Blenheim Council believes that there should be an electric road from St. Thomas to Leamington between the present steam roads and Lake Erie, and is taking steps to secure one. By resolution it has authorized Mayor J. B. Little and Reeve J. H. Ferguson to call a meeting and send out invitations to the various municipalities to send representatives to Blenheim from the district.

In accordance with the instructions from the council, Mayor Little has called a meeting for June 2 at 2 p.m. in the opera house, and is asking each municipality to send from four to six at least.

Mayor Graham of London has promised to address the meeting on behalf of the hydro-electric commission. An effort is being made to have Hon. Adam Beck present.

A railway through this district would cover a splendid territory, and should be a good paying proposition.

AT TOWN PLANNING CONFERENCE.

J. Vipond Davies, noted New York engineer who is a delegate to the conference on Town Planning now in progress at Toronto. He had charge of a great deal of the tunnel and railway work in and around New York. Mr. Davies is a Welshman by birth, having been born and grown to manhood at Swansea, South Wales.

SARNIA ASSESSMENT GETS A BIG BOOST

Residents Kick Over Increase of Nearly Two Millions.

TO NAME REVISION COURT

Changing of Town to City Throws Out Three Members of Education Board.

SARNIA, May 27.—Sheriff Plintoff and two other men will be the court of revision on the assessment this year on account of Sarnia being a city. One of the two will be appointed by Mayor Dagan, and the other will receive his appointment at the hands of the city council.

This is a change from the past, when the finance committee, with a couple of other members of the council, had the work in hand, and were subject to a great deal of pulling and hauling by citizens, anxious to have their assessment reduced.

Mayor Dagan has not announced who he will appoint, but the council, but the job is not one which will be eagerly sought for. The act does not allow for any compensation, but it is the belief of the chairman of the finance committee that the three men will have to be remunerated for their time and trouble.

So far there are a great many complaints on the present assessment, which shows an increase of about $1,800,000 over $13. The council is being published, and this fact will give those who have complaints an opportunity to compare their assessment with that of their neighbors. Twenty-five hundred of the booklets are being printed, and it is expected that they will be ready for distribution by the city clerk about the end of this week. The booklets are free and it is safe to say that there will be very few left over.

Reducing Board of Education.

The changing of Sarnia from a town to a city throws out three of the members of the board of education, appointed by the county council, these gentlemen being Chairman George Proctor, Dr. Maxwell and Dr. D. B. Bentley. Two new members are required to make up the board of the city body, and nominations for these positions will be held on Friday morning at the city hall. The retiring members are all efficient, and valuable members of the board, and if they can arrange among themselves as to whom will retire it will save the town and ratepayers the trouble and expense of an election, if the remaining two were placed in by acclamation. One of the men elected will hold office until the end of this year, and the other will have one year longer.

Smokestacks Increasing.

One of the striking features of the city of Sarnia today is the steady increase in the number of tall smokestacks at the south end of the town. When the first circular brick stacks were erected for the Imperial and for the Cleveland mills, they were the only two of their kind in the city, while at the present time seven or eight additional ones have been constructed by the Imperial, and more are in course of erection. With the one being constructed at the Imperial, the one being constructed at the Imperial, and the one at the stove workers, and the Mueller plant, brings the total up to about fifteen, including the one at the new waterworks.

Peace Sitings June 9. The next sittings of the general session of the peace of the County of Lambton will be held at the courthouse on the 9th of June. It is not as yet known what cases will be up.

Welded Butcher-Knife.

Nick Zubic and George Chienik, two Pollocks of Rosenberg's boarding-house, were up in court this morning, charged with causing a disturbance by fighting. This is the result of a police investigation which showed that the two men were fighting on Monday night. The men were remanded until tomorrow, when they will again come up before the bench.

Looking for His Wife.

Mark Peace, whom the local police declared is too much married, was up again before the magistrate this morning on a charge of bigamy. Peace has been resting up in the county jail for the past few days, as the local authorities are getting evidence. The man was remanded to another short spell in the county building, while the officers continue to gather the necessary evidence with which to complete their case.

The second boat will be repaired and floated off the shore and brought to Port Huron.

Dainty refreshments were served to all at the close of the program.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

The flag was raised below the Union Jack in honor of Victoria Day as it has been on all national holidays for seven years.

The incident has inflicted a wound upon the sensibilities of the large German population.

Warwick was badly burned about the face and neck. At great danger to himself, he fought the flames on the deck, and, with a bucket of water, he saved the ship from a probable total loss. Though severely injured, he will recover. The Calvert was not greatly damaged owing to Warwick's diligence and presence of mind.

BLACK AND WHITE DOG STARTLE PEOPLE OF GALT

Fled to Country Before Police Arrived.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

GALT, May 27.—There was a mad dog scare today on Brant road, the west end residential quarter. A large black and white dog was acting in a very suspicious hydrophobic. It was strange also in the ownership sense. A phone message to police headquarters brought two armed officers, but in the meantime, the supposed mad dog had made off towards the country, to which point the scare was transferred.

A civic edict was issued today that all dogs found running at large will be shot by the police.

LEVELLING UP.

THE nineteenth century was the age of natural and material science. The twentieth may be indexed in the volume of time as the age when moral and social science similarly developed out of the awakening of the social conscience. Has a man the right to sweat his fellow-men ten hours a day, always excepting Sunday (fold hands and look up), in order that he may himself have ease and gorge and travel in a touring car? At present the favorite maxim in Christian lands is "don't work yourself, but make somebody else work for you." This is the ethical standard of soldier ants. Won't the twentieth century do something to change exploitation into brotherhood? We want a more brotherly distribution of profits and rest.

Mr. Lloyd George proposes a scientifically graduated income tax, so as to put the heavy burden on the broad back. This will do something to level things up. There are those who want others to pay taxes for them, as well as work for them. Rich men may sell pictures to American collectors by way of "protest," but England will be better off all the same, and will have more energy and life to produce new pictures of worth, which is more important than treasuring up the works of antiquity.

In Ontario, Mr. Rowell is the one leader who has any vision of the Lloyd George ideal. He also labors for a levelling up of burdens, in his thorough study and advocacy of tax reform and workmen's compensation, on liberal lines. While our Government fights shy of a measure that will put Ontario in the ranks of civilized and modern states, Mr. Rowell presses ever for the worker's rights to consideration as a man and brother. Does the Ontario workingman want his rights?

LIQUOR IS IN POLITICS.

THE talk of keeping the liquor question out of politics is stuff and nonsense. Because it is in politics now, every license inspector and license commissioner in the country is a political appointee. And there is a certain amount of patronage in the license administration. The men who get contracts from the hotels these days are usually fast in the faith. And a Government derives a large part of its very necessary revenue through the proper manipulation of licenses, and by the money obtained through the drunkenness of sons and fathers.

The whole system is iniquitous. Any one who touches it becomes tainted with it. Wipe it out.

TEMPERANCE IN POLITICS.

CONSERVATIVES who claim to be in favor of the closing of the bars, and even total prohibition, attempt to justify themselves in refusing to support the man and the party who have adopted this policy by claiming that temperance must be kept out of politics. Nor are they alone. Some Liberals, even while professing to approve of the most radical temperance measures, claim that it will injure both the cause of temperance and the Liberal party if prohibition in any shape is made a political question. It is easy to understand why they take this ground. In both cases the reason is the same—fear of injury to party prospects. The Liberal dissenters fear their party will lose more support than it will gain; the Conservatives fear their party will suffer from the loss of the temperance voters. In other words, both are thinking more of party success than anything else.

That men who have been strong supporters of a political party should view with alarm anything that seems to threaten the weakening of their party is perfectly natural. But that men who profess to believe in the absolute necessity of radical temperance legislation as the most pressing remedy for many social evils should want to keep the question out of politics lest it might injure their party shows only that they prefer party success to necessary legislation.

No great reform can be kept out of politics. No reform can be effected unless it becomes a party question. There are men who honestly believe that a protective tariff is absolutely necessary for the prosperity of a country. But no country has ever adopted protection until it became a party question. There were men in England years ago who fought hard for free trade. But it was not until it was taken up by political leaders and made a party question that it was adopted. And prohibition of the liquor traffic will never be found on a Canadian statute book until a political party places it there.

It is quite possible the political party that takes up some new proposition may labor under a temporary disadvantage. It certainly will if it finds opposed to it powerful moneyed interests. But that is a secondary matter. Is its policy right? Is the new plank in its platform essential to the well-being of the state? If so, then it becomes an imperative duty to adopt it, and work for it, regardless of consequences. And as it is the duty of a party to take up and sustain the policy it deems to be right, so it is equally the duty of every citizen to support that policy. When political parties think more of the welfare of the community than of their own success; and when voters think more of the success of principles than of the advancement of party; we shall have reached a much higher standard of self-government and of citizenship than we have ever yet attained.

Mr. Hanna will need to be well oiled for today's work. Commencing with Mona Lisa, then the Rokeby Venus, high art has been catching it lately.

Even to the wild animals Western Ontario looks good. Witness that lynx shot near Sarnia.

Is the Honorable W. J. Hanna, who hopes to be Ontario's next premier, really honorable?

The Government is determined to put through the "obnoxious and pernicious" raid on the treasury.

Some men, like some cigars, look good in the showcase, but strip off the wrapper and they are a vile combination.

Why should any province plead in defence of the revenue it raises through debauching its own people?

It may be officially denied that Mr. Hanna sent a pressing invitation for the Seafarers' convention to Rev. E. G. Powell.

"Twenty-five drunks were gathered in over Sunday and Saturday"—News item. What are you going to do about it, Mr. Voter?

A chemist has produced a bichloride tablet with sufficient emetic in it to save the life of careless persons. But how aggravating to the would-be suicide.

Tetennamiquilziti is Mexican for kiss. If the operation is as long as the word, Mexican sweethearts must begin saying good-night as soon as the gentleman arrives.

Here's hoping that the skillfully gentle hands of those new Victoria nurses may for many years continue to bring ease and health in the incessant battle with pain and death.

And who will blame the peace delegates for being lured to that garden party at the Lieutenant-Governor's? It was reported on good authority that Sir John had arranged for strawberries and cream.

FILLING ONE'S PLACE.

[Montreal Mail.] It doesn't matter much really what one's position may be, so long as one fills it well. The main thing is to fit into one's place, whatever the place may be; and when one does that all other things take care of themselves. There is no superiority but in superiority of service. The way up is always open to all climbers.

JEALOUS WOMEN.

[The Tatler.] Women are jealous creatures; they are even jealous of their own noses, as any powder-puff will testify. There is no woman likes her nose to shine in society.

THE PUBLIC IS PUNISHED.

[Cincinnati Inquirer.] Gabe—Only one man in a thousand can whistle. Sheve—But the other 999 think they can.

AUTOCRACY AND DEMOCRACY.

[Montreal Herald-Telegraph.] The Hon. Government wants to spend the proposed $1,500,000 for good roads according to the sweet will of the cabinet. That is autocracy. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Liberals want the money to be distributed to the provinces in proportion to population, and spend by them. That is democracy.

PERVERSE.

[Detroit Free Press.] After a Toledo man died in a skin-grazing operation to save his wife's life, it would be the perversity of fate to have her marry again real soon.

HIGH-SOULSD.

[Hamilton Times.] The probate of the will of the late Cy Warman, the Grand Trunk post, revealed the fact that his estate amounted to $498. Milton only got $25 for "Paradise Lost"; and Warman got it, was said, many thousands for "Sweet Marie" in the way of royalties. Warman might have died rich, poet though he was, if he had not had a soul above bank accounts.

CLOTHED AND IN THEIR RIGHT MIND.

[Ottawa Journal.] "After next fall," says a manufacturer of women's clothing, "men will not be ashamed to see their wives dressed in the height of the season's fashions." Which is probably merely a hint that clothes are once more to become all the rage.

NOT TO BE EXPLAINED.

[Toledo Blade.] Nobody has ever explained, scientifically or otherwise, how it is that one man will haul in a nice string of fish in an hour or two while another, fishing near him, catches nothing but an old shoe and the left leg of a pair of overalls.

DISGRUNTLED DAD.

[Kansas City Journal.] "I haven't had a satisfactory kiss from my daughter since she was two years old." "How's that?" "In childhood she always had molasses on her face, and now her makeup is even worse."

GETTING HIM THE OTHER WAY.

[Brooklyn Life.] Her Father—You have been paying attention to my daughter. You haven't proposed yet? His Lordship—Not yet, sir. Her Father—Now let us come right down to business. What will you take to propose?

IDLE THOUGHTS.

[Louisville Courier-Journal.] "Why are you watching that fly so intently?" "It was just wondering if men will ever be able to tango up and down the walls like that. Wouldn't it be fine?"

APPLE BLOSSOMS.
 Shy, amorous,
 The brown-haired dreads of the apple trees
 I saw them in, among the blowing blossoms;
 Their white knees,
 Hidden by blossom tapestries
 The wind had woven, weaving cunningly.

Yet their arms and faces,
 And shoulders bloomy pink, by swaying spray,
 I saw; and their long glances,
 In the sunny places,
 Where the sunlight dances,
 Held me in sweet trances.

While they begged me come to play,
 Bathe with them in blossoms,
 On a white spring day.

DISLOYALTY—TWO KINDS.
 [Joseph Mercury.]
 In view of the things that have happened since in the British Isles it is interesting to wonder if the Reformers of Canada were really all disloyal as the Conservatives shout and flag flappers made them appear to be. The crime of trying to cheapen living by making trade in natural products easier doesn't look like a disloyal thing. The Reformers of Canada never attempted anything like that but we haven't noticed the Conservative press in Canada calling Sir Edward Carson or his soldiers disloyal? Why don't they? If they were empire savers in 1911, why are they not looking after it now?

"THE PERSIAN EXTRA"

LONDON, May 27.—Students of Persian affairs had awaited with considerable eagerness what is called the "Persian Extra" in other words, the Blue Book containing the latest correspondence between the British legation and the foreign office. Now at the "Persian Extra" has been published, it is found to throw light upon what many people desire to know—the present state of the Russian-Anglo-Indian of the southern sphere. The period covered by the correspondence extends from the middle of February of last year to the end of September. Most of the early telegrams and dispatches which passed between Sir Walter Townley, minister at Teheran, and Sir Edward Grey refer to the Persian government and the terms of its repatriation.

Eventually the India office agreed to the payment from Indian revenues of $500,000 as half of the British share of the Anglo-Russian loan of $2,000,000. Later the treasury also agreed to advance $500,000. In March telegrams passed with regard to the departure of the ex-shah from Odessa for Berlin, and later reporting that he had gone to Nice. On March 19 the India office announced that $500,000 had been paid to the Imperial Bank of Persia. Apparently the ex-shah was lost sight of, since on March 28 Sir Edward Grey telegraphed to Sir R. Rood to know if he were in Venice, and in reply was told that he was not.

Later Sir George Buchanan telegraphed from St. Petersburg stating, on the authority of the minister for foreign affairs, that the ex-shah was ill in a sanatorium near Dresden, while the Persian government learned that he had gone thence to Vienna.

On April 30 Sir W. Townley telegraphed that he had paid over $1,000,000 to the Persian government. On the previous day a communication had come from the ambassador at St. Petersburg stating that the ex-shah could expect no support from the Russian government. In June the telegrams refer mainly to landing of Salar-ed-Dowleh near Resht, his defeat by the government forces and the operations in Tangistan. Salar-ed-Dowleh's capture was incorrectly reported in July. Telegrams in August and September discuss the question of the pensioning and banishment of Salar-ed-Dowleh, and the final message announces his departure from Kermanshah for Resht and Europe. Other telegrams at this period describe the journey of Captain Wilson through Luristan and his arrival at Burujird.

HOW JOHN WARD WOULD DEMOCRATIZE THE BRITISH ARMY

LONDON, May 27.—Recent speeches by public men, both in and out of parliament, have directed attention to the officers now hitherto considered possible. When the question came to the front recently in the course of an animated debate in the House of Commons, the "Navy's" member, John Ward, made his point conspicuous by his attack on "an exclusive aristocratically officered army."

Mr. Ward offered the following suggestions for the reform of the army: "The education, personnel and organization of the army, so far as its main principles are concerned, were settled," says Mr. Ward, "by the report of the royal commission of 1883, and have not been radically changed since." "The main idea is that the officer must be a 'gentleman,' in the strict and narrow sense in which 'society' uses that term; in other words, that it is presumption on the part of any man, however capable, who does not belong to the king's commission as an officer. The commission of 1883 laid it down as a cardinal principle 'that ability as a soldier is of secondary importance compared to the best material at our disposal the officers would be called upon to command.'

"That the officer of the army is the perquisite of the wealthy few is shown by the fact that 27 per cent of the officers now holding commissions in the cavalry and infantry come into the army either through the universities or the royal military college, Sandhurst—a system supplemented by a special patronage system against the many of the patrician class for war and the first lord of the admiralty and is specially reserved for the sons of officers holding high commissioned positions in the sister services."

Reason for System Now.
 "No more perfect system for sterilizing real merit could have ever been devised, and its success in this direction shows how well the few knew how to entrench themselves against the many. This system was devised at a time before the education acts, when our army was largely recruited from an illiterate class and it was difficult to find enough men with a fair amount of education to fill the non-commissioned ranks. There may have been some reason for it then; there is none now."

"The question will be asked: 'What do you mean by democratizing the army?' I mean that we should get rid of securing an army officered by men of proved ability from the part of our young men who voluntarily choose the army as a calling or profession, without distinction of class or family position. That such an alteration is necessary is proved by the fact that the 'class' test has completely broken down. It no longer supplies the number of officers required, and it does not enable us to make use of the best material at our disposal in the non-commissioned ranks. "For some years there has been an actual shortage of officers on mobilization of between 3,000 and 4,000. Strenuous effort has been made within the limits of the cadres fixed by army orders and history to recruit candidates for these posts. The public school radius has been slightly extended and college principles have been turned into recruiting sergeants with little or no result. The army is still under-staffed, still starved for want of a steady and permanent flow of young, capable and serious soldiers from the bottom to the top of its organization."

Non-Commissioned Men Are Best.
 "I would begin the democratizing of the British army at once by reorganizing half the commissioned posts to those who joined the army as ordinary recruits and have run through the non-commissioned grades. That our non-commissioned officers are the backbone of the army and the element from which the major part of its fighting value is derived no expert will deny."

The only point about which there has ever been any doubt is whether the non-commissioned class, having had no prospects of promotion, have been purposely deprived of knowledge which would fit them for the higher duties. That is not the experience of military men. The evidence of the past is overwhelmingly in favor of the contention that there are few regimental duties which are beyond the range of the upper grades of the non-commissioned class.

"The principle of promotion from the ranks, if adopted, will at once tend completely to alter the character of the recruit for the army. Ambitious young men would then join because of the possibilities of a future career that would then be offered, and with promotion from the ranks the army as a whole would improve in physique and character. It is the only way to secure a really national democratic army."

"It may be asked, 'What is the evidence that the non-commissioned ranks contain the material necessary for the creation of a national democratic army?' As said, on mobilization the army is short of officers to the extent of several thousands. Now the military authorities have been obliged to consider that difficulty can be overcome in case of sudden emergency. For not only will there be the existing shortage of officers, but the casualties among this devoted body of men would be immediate and crushing to the army as a whole, unless steps had already been taken to provide for such a contingency. "There need be no secrecy about the business. The first definite sign of European conflict will see nearly half of the present non-commissioned officers promoted to commissioned rank. Here we have the frank admission that for actual war these are the men upon whom the nation will and must rely. If it were not so serious it would be comic that these men should be thought good enough to officer and lead the army in battle, but not good enough to officer it in barracks."

INVESTIGATION AT EDMONTON.

EDMONTON, May 27.—At an exciting meeting of the city council, filled with bitter attacks on Mayor McNamara's administration, and counter-attacks on the accusing alderman, the council decided to take steps to hold a judicial investigation into charges made against the police department. Following the dismissal of Chief Lacey, nearly all the morality department have been dismissed, and a number of plain clothed men and constables have also fallen victims.

CLAIM FOREIGNERS ARE HIRED.

KINGSTON, May 27.—A communication from the city council will on the request of the trades and labor council, investigate the claim that native laborers are being laid off from paving work by Messrs. Prieley & Gleason, and their places filled by foreigners, and at the same time, ask that the Company adhere to the nine hour day by law. Alderman H. Nickles made the charge in the city council that local men were kept on the job a few days, worked like slaves, and were then dismissed. The contractors promised to give local labor men the first chance.

TO PUT AN EGG IN A BOTTLE.

If you want to have lots of fun and mystify your friends try this trick: Steep an egg in strong vinegar for a time; this will make the shell soft and pliable so that it can be manipulated without danger of breaking. Insert it in the neck of a bottle and slowly work it down until it is inside. Of course a bottle having a neck considerably smaller than the egg, yet large enough to insure its entrance without breaking, should be selected.

After the egg is safely inside, fill the bottle with cold water, which will harden the shell and cause the egg to resume its natural shape. Everyone will marvel at your skill in inserting an egg through the small neck of a bottle without breaking either the egg or the bottle. Now that the price of eggs has fallen from the high point reached a few months ago the materials for the trick can be easily secured without mortgaging the home and it can be performed without difficulty. HOW YOU MAY USE RIBBON

Odds and Ends Come in Handy for Many Purposes.

Nowadays ribbons are put to a great variety of uses, and it is often money well spent to purchase odd pieces found on the bargain counter. The little camisole which is so rapidly ousting the corset-cover is easily made entirely from gingham, but even though preferred chiefly in lace or net it still must have shoulder-straps, belt and draw-strings or ribbon somewhat wider than that used on all kinds of lingerie. The daintiest of boudoir slippers are evolved from four-inch wide ribbons, and to colonial shoes are added shirred widths of ribbon which, flaring from under the insteps and covering the front of the insteps make the feet look many sizes shorter.

Pin "Cushion" Novelties.
A novel type of dressing-table pin cushion is seen in a miniature hat stand everywhere thickly padded with cotton attractively covered with flowered ribbon. Its broad top is for hat pins, its pole for stick pins and its wide base for ordinary toilet pins.

A clown's cap surmounting a blouse doll's head makes a novel pin cushion. The tall, shapely pointed piece of headgear, firmly stuffed with batting, is of printed silk or crepe de chine and terminates in a wide cape that spreads over the doll's shoulders under which is placed a reel of lingerie ribbon which unwinds when the end that runs between the half-opened mouth of the doll is gently pulled.

A storeroom in bisque or china is the foundation for a most unique pin cushion. His feet are firmly attached to the base of a square little wicker basket which, padded with down and attractively covered, makes a cushion for ordinary pins. His body is harnessed with inch wide-satin ribbons, thickly padded, from which safety pins depend.

When Jacket Fronts Are Left Open.
When the fronts of the tailored street jackets are allowed to remain unfastened, the opening should be filled in with something a bit more conventional looking than whatever blouse is customarily worn with the tailored skirt. For this purpose there is nothing to equal the Medic collar, extending into a waistcoat. It is made precisely as are the separate collar and vestee, save that it is cut in a single strip that is fastened about the inner edges of the neck and the fronts, and closed from the bust down with a row of fancy buttons.

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letters can be answered privately.]

Seed and Bead Bag.

Dear Miss Grey:—I would like to know how to make a small hand bag from muskellon seeds and beads. Have you seen them and can you help me? Any information will greatly oblige one.
FREDERICK.

Ans.—Sorry, but to date I have not been able to secure the information. Yes, I have seen the bags and think them extremely pretty. Could not some of the stores that have fancy work departments give you the information, or does any of our readers know how to make the bags?

Name on Cards.

Dear Miss Grey: Am here again with some questions.

1. Which is the more used, calling cards with name written or name engraved?
2. What would be a nice luncheon for a number of girls whom I intend having in? Hoping I am not too troublesome yours,
BACKWOODS BILL.

Ans.—1. Visiting cards should be either printed or engraved. At one time it was almost a breach of propriety not to have the name engraved. But the printed card is so much cheaper and is now presented in such attractive form, that many people of good standing use it. The name is never written on a card only under exceptional circumstances.

2. This would be a nice menu:

Iced Bouillon.
Sweetbread with Peas.

Scalloped Potatoes.
Fruit Salad on Lettuce Leaves.

Strawberries and Ice Cream.
Cake.
Coffee.

Dandelion Wine.

Dear Miss Grey: Will you kindly publish the recipe for dandelion wine, also the words of an old song entitled "Gathering Up the Shells From the Seashore"?

Ans.—1. The recipe appeared two or three days ago, but in case you missed it, I am reprinting the formula again:
Dandelion Wine: Two quarts of blossoms, four quarts boiling water poured on the blossoms; let stand 24 hours, then strain into the kettle; add three pounds white sugar and three lemons sliced; let boil 20 minutes; pour the liquid into a crock and let stand until it ferments; then bottle and cork up tight.

2. I think this song has been asked for by someone else, but has not been sent in. Does any reader know the words?

As you will have noticed, the missing lines of the song, "Gathering Up the Shells From the Seashore," were printed since your letter was written.

Ann's Wedding Dinner.

Dear Miss Grey: Since you have helped so many others would you please come to my aid?

1. Suggest a menu for a wedding dinner. The wedding to take place at 4:30 p.m.

2. Would a routine suit be suitable for a travelling suit for a June bride?

3. As there will be no bridesmaid, who will remove the bride's glove?

Thanking you in advance, and hoping to see this in print soon, I am, yours respectfully, ANN.

A.—1. This menu would be very nice for a June wedding repast: Jellied chicken; creamed potatoes, green peas, cucumber and tomato salad with shredded lettuce.

2. I think this is a simple and easy to wear suit.

3. As to the glove, I think, I rub it in with the tips of the fingers for four nights, then wash scalp thoroughly, then resume appearance every other night.

4. This lotion is a simple as any, and is very healing: One ounce of rose water, one ounce glycerine, juice of half a lemon. Rub in after bathing.

5. The songs you ask for are popular music which may be purchased at any music counter.

6. It is said that a good preventive is made by mixing fifty parts glycerine to one part carbolic acid and rubbing this on the exposed parts. Oil of pennyroyal diluted with a little water is also recommended.

Tell little sister that "Miss Grey says for her never to mind the freckles, but just to run and play out in the sun and fresh air all she wants to."

Carpets, rugs and curtains not in use should be swept, beaten and exposed for several hours to the hot sun before packing. These may be well sprayed with benzine, rolled in light bundles, wrapped with newspapers that are pasted together and pasted at ends.

Songs We Used to Whistle and Sing

Oh! my love stood under the walnut tree,
She whispered and said she'd be true to me,
Over the garden wall,
She'd beautiful eyes, and beautiful hair,
She'd not very tall, so she stood on a chair,
And many a time have I kissed her there,
Chorus—
Over the garden wall,
The sweetest girl of all,
There never were yet such eyes of jet,
And you may bet I'll never forget
The night our lips in kisses met,
Over the garden wall;

But her father stamped, her father raved
Over the garden wall,
And like an old madman he behaved,
Over the garden wall;
She made a bouquet of roses red,
But immediately I popped it on my head
He gave me a bucket of water instead,
Over the garden wall;

Chorus—
One day I jumped down on the other side,
Over the garden wall,
And she bravely promised to be my bride,
Over the garden wall,
But she screamed in a fright, "Here's
My father, quick!"
I have an impression he's bringing a stick,
But I brought the impression of half a brick,
Over the garden wall.

Chorus—
But where there's a will, there's always a way—
Over the garden wall,
There's always a night as well as a day—
Over the garden wall,
We hadn't much money, but weddings
Are cheap,
So while the old fellow was snoring
Asleep,
With a ladder and a ladder she managed to creep
Over the garden wall.

Chorus—
THE HOROSCOPE
FRIDAY, MAY 29, 1914.

Astrologers find this a day in which to avoid all risks, as the stars are adverse and the indications not encouraging. Saturn is strongly evil in aspect and Neptune's influence is read as doubtful.

Venus is in a place that is interpreted as good for most of the occupations of women.

Dressmakers, milliners, all who deal in cooked foods and all who provide for the needs of women, should be successful under this rule of the planets.

It is a fairly good day for actresses, artists and musicians, but they should not put fate to the test. Extreme foresight is counselled for all who belong to the artistic professions, as the outlook is not altogether encouraging. Financial conditions will probably be unsatisfactory.

While Saturn is in activities it is well to postpone any important initiative as whatever is begun under this sway of the planet is likely to be retarded in its progress. This deterrent influence, however, may prove to be beneficial in certain enterprises.

The aspect of Neptune is interpreted as indicating plots and schemes, which may produce plots of violence and even loss of life in conflicts between workmen and guardians of the peace. It is prophesied that the next few months will develop critical conditions, which may not be recognized until late in the year.

London astrologers find that the early summer will be most unfavorable for the health of the King of Norway, who will have serious troubles in the autumn.

The Queen of Holland is still subject to influences, which are disturbing. Financial difficulties are fore-shadowed for a royal family.

There is a warning omen for the Mayor of New York. The seers predict that he will meet many enemies and face serious problems during his administration.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the prognostication of anxiety during the year, but, by close attention to business affairs, profit will be assured. Danger of accident is foretold. The augury is good for domestic happiness both for men and women.

Children born on this day probably will be exceedingly fond of travel. Both boys and girls have the possibility of unusual mentality. Their magnetic centre is the sun in Gemini and their principal ruling planet Mercury.

PRICES OF PRODUCE

$1.25 to $1.37.

Hay and oats were easier on the local market today. Out of thirty odd loads of hay sold, only one or two loads brought as high as $16 a ton. Ruling prices were $15 and $15.50 a ton.

Oats were also easier in demand, but not greatly so. Prices ranged from $1.25 to $1.37 per cwt.

Butter retailed at from 23c to 25c per lb. in the dairy hall, and eggs brought 22c a dozen. Prices on the open market were a cent or two lower than the dairy hall prices.

The market was not overly large, about the usual Thursday magnitude. Fresh produce for a good market on Saturday are expected, and there is little doubt that the demand for hay and oats will be generally steady on Friday.

JUST A HALF DOZEN OF LONDON'S BIG EGGS

THEIR WEIGHTS.

Six record-breaking eggs from the Black Minorca hens of Frank Calhoun, 1217 Dundas street. These eggs were brought to the Advertiser this morning by Mr. Calhoun. He was the third Black Minorca, winner who has laid claim to the egg-laying championship of the city. On Tuesday, Gordon Booth, 11 Rathgar street, brought in an egg weighing 4 ounces and measuring 3 1/2 inches, the long way. Since then the big-egg records have been coming to come in.

There is a substantial looking Minorca, the property of T. Brown, 441 Piccadilly street, that got real busy yesterday and laid an egg that under the tape measured eight inches around, lengthwise, and four inches the other way.

According to Mr. Brown, the hen, while never quite equaling yesterday's performance, is in the habit of laying large eggs. The other ladies of the flock are also good layers, and can hold their own when it comes to producing eggs that in size are worth the money.

This morning Mr. Calhoun came to the Advertiser with his half-dozen specimens. The "big" went to him, for the largest was 8 1/2 inches the long way. He did not keep the championship long, for he had hardly left the office before Mrs. Whitlaw, of rural route No. 8, arrived with the biggest of them all—an egg weighing 5 ounces and measuring 8 1/2 inches. Her specimen was from a Buff Orpington hen.

The Canadian general council of the Boy Scouts Association is to get a grant of five thousand dollars.

Londoner Gets Increase.
The salary of the superintendent of the railway mail service in the London division is increased from $2,000 to $2,500, the maximum salary of a superintendent of the railway mail service. Four hundred is down for the payment of a compensation allowance to Mrs. Susan Tye, widow of the late William Daniel Tye, formerly a railway mail clerk in the London district, who was killed in a railway wreck on the Grand Trunk, while on duty in the postal car, on the 4th of February, 1911.

Grand Ave. Lad Fears Reckoning
Had 50 of His Small Friends Look For Non-existing Money.

There are about fifty small boys in South London, "laying for" Keith Lanning, of 87 High street.

When Grand avenue school got out at noon today, Keith was with the crowd. He was a purse, belonging to his mother. He told playmates that he "lost the whole school" match in the sewer.

Immediately, between forty and fifty small Grand avenue boys crowded around the sewer hole, just east of High street, and with fish hooks and sticks, and by plain whistling, tried to discover the $1.35 supposedly lying at the bottom of the slimy sewer.

The boys took off the iron grating and one small chap almost went in head first. After a half-hour search, the money-seekers gradually thinned out, and went home. Many of them were muddy, and Lanning admitted to close friends that he never lost the money at all. He fears a reckoning at 4 o'clock.

PEACE CONFERENCE

While the industrial farm committee appointed at the last session of the Mid-diesex county council to consider the project of an industrial farm for Mid-diesex County, has not held any regular meetings, the members have individually been studying the situation and it is understood that several have in mind omissions where suitable sites can be secured. The members of the committee are Warden L. L. McTaggart, Counsellors J. W. Laidlaw, C. W. Hawshaw, Duncan Gordon, J. V. Laughton, D. H. Graham. The June sessions of the county council will open next Monday, June 4.

Sheriff D. M. Cameron is the most enthusiastic local advocate of the prison-farm idea. According to Sheriff Cameron there is no reason why Middlesex, one of the largest and wealthiest counties in Ontario, should be behind other counties in instituting this progressive and humanitarian reform. The establishment of such an institution would, he says, be quite as important an achievement on the part of the county council as the abolition of toll roads, or the establishment of the county house of refuge, in the previous history of the county.

Sheriff Cameron has just received a copy of the regulations of industrial farms in the judicial districts of Ontario. He would to a large extent shape his own regulations and are accorded much greater latitude in the establishment of industrial farms than the judicial districts which are more closely supervised by the Government.

To provide open-air employment, with moral and reformatory methods, for persons who would otherwise have been kept in idleness in a common jail. Making Them Self-Sustaining.

To lessen the expenditure hitherto made for jail maintenance, by making industrial farms self-sustaining. To permit the earnings of a person sentenced to an industrial farm to be applied towards his own maintenance, the maintenance of his wife, children or other members of his family dependent upon him, and to pay the travelling expenses of a person to any place where employment has been secured for such person on his parole or discharge.

In the industrial farms in the districts the inmates rise at 5:30, breakfast at 6, work from 7 to 12 and from 1 to 4, and retire at 8:30.

Abundance of wholesome food is provided the inmates, and they are allowed to dine at the discretion of the superintendent.

St. Clair Gravel Not Cheap For This City
Local Officials Declare Thames River Can Supply Local Demand.

Building Inspector Piper and other officials of London do not believe the scheme of supplying Ontario cities with gravel and sand from the mouth of the St. Clair river will be feasible. They say the cost of loading and unloading would be considerable, not to mention the freight on the long haul to this city.

Sarnia is enthusiastic about the proposition and believes it will develop quite an industry for that city.

Whit Lancaster, proprietor of the boat house at the foot of Dundas street, is of the opinion that gravel and sand from the St. Clair river cannot be delivered here as cheap as it can be taken out of the Thames.

MORE RESIDENTS SEEK ORNAMENTAL LIGHTING
Yale Street and Windsor Avenue Property Owners Want Underground Wires.

The ornamental street lighting system which it is proposed to install on Thornton avenue, between St. James' and Grosvenor, has met with such popular approval that residents of Yale street and Windsor avenue, between Ridout and Wortley road, have petitioned the city for similar improvements. They want the wires underground and the poles taken off the street. Petitions were filed with City Clerk Baker today.

PATRONS TELL OF POOR SERVICE TO WEST LONDON

Tecumseh Park Delays Cause Residents to Leave Cars and Walk.

HURTS SUBURB, SAYS ONE
E. A. Pocock Suggests Plan to Remedy Conditions on Dundas Street Line.

London West residents are somewhat aroused over the squabble between the board of control and the street railway company which up to date has resulted in giving such poor service to their end of the city. Some go so far as to say that they have boycotted the company and until a normal service is reported they will walk. The chief objection to the present service is that there is too long a wait at Tecumseh Park for cars to return from Wharncliffe road, a distance of one mile.

"The West London car service is very, very poor," George A. McMillan, 31 Mount Pleasant avenue, told The Advertiser. "We have a fine suburb here, one of the best in the city, and it would be a finer one if the car service were better. The children are often late for school, and West Londoners more often walk than ride into town, because the wait for the cars is so long. There is no doubt that we need a much better service."

"I do not think the railway company is altogether to blame. I spoke to Mayor Graham about the poor service and irregular cars and he said that he would have a switch put in at Paul street, to overcome the blockade." This is the view of William Moore, 19 Oxford street. Mr. Moore was one of the West Londoners who agitated the car service when it first came into use in this part of the city. There was a twenty-minute service then.

Cars in Blockade.
"At present we are supposed to have a ten-minute service. A few months ago the service was a twelve-minute one, with five cars instead of six. Six cars are too many on the present line," said Mr. Moore. "We really have to wait longer for cars now, on account of blockades than when there were only five cars on the line. It would, of course, be all right if there was another switch, or else a 'Y' at Wilson avenue for the ball park extra cars."

John Hobbs, 72 Oxford street, thinks that the West London street cars come far too irregularly. "There should be a switch near Park street to do away with the long waits."

"It took me three-quarters of an hour to ride home from Dundas and Richmond a couple of days ago," said Mr. Hobbs.

Bad Service Says Pocock.
"West London car service is, plainly speaking, rotten," declared E. A. Pocock, real estate and insurance agent, 111 Blackfriars street. It takes me about fourteen minutes to walk there from downtown, but I walk instead of taking a car. The shortest time I ever spent on the Dundas street line was 22 minutes. There should undoubtedly be a switch between Paul and Charles streets."

"As it is now, Dundas cars must wait at Tecumseh Park on the way to West London, while the car ahead of it goes all the way north on the Wharncliffe road to Oxford street, and back again to the switch—almost one mile."

"This results in most West Londoners getting out of the car at the switch and walking the rest of the way. Hundreds of West London residents walk all the time and do not bother with the cars," said Mr. Pocock.

Suggests a Remedy.
He outlined a means of booming West London at little expense to the street railway.

"The location of the Dundas car turning east on Oxford street, why does it not turn west and reach more people?" "Better still," said Mr. Pocock, there should be a loop taking in the district between Mount Pleasant cemetery and the Wharncliffe road, Oxford street, and Mount Pleasant avenue. There are more than 1,500 people in the district, which is one of the best in London. None of the residents who live near Mount Pleasant are inconvenienced by the present service, and whenever a person wishes to go there from other parts of the city, he is obliged to take a cab or taxi."

On a map of the city Mr. Pocock showed that Mount Pleasant cemetery is within the one mile limit. South London, he pointed out, East London has a service more than two miles from the city's centre.

"The West Londoners want to know why the partiality is shown to these other districts," said Mr. Pocock. "The Dundas line is the second best paying line in London. It has the worst service."

COUNCIL MEMBERS

may do so this evening. Alderman Tancock, Merryfield, McDonald, Donnelly and Stein took interested parts in the proceedings at the last meeting of the council, indicating they were anxious to see the problem solved. The aldermen can see nothing to be gained by continued delay today it was intimated that they would endeavor to have everything over which objection on the ground of haste has been made, smoothed out by their next meeting night.

Name The Crossings.
Ald. Wilson said today that if his committee was agreeable he would suggest that the three crossings to be recommended for Government aid should be Rector, Richmond and Rectory streets.

Crossing Death List.
With unrelenting regularity a life and sometimes two lives are snuffed out in a year on the grade crossings in London. To emphasize the need of subways at these points, Ald. Wilson has presented to the city council a toll of the dead exacted by the joint negligence of the city and the railroads. In the list are four persons killed, into whose deaths Mrs. Dewar, a person conducted inquiries as a result of accidents on Rectory, Egerton, Richmond and Talbot street crossings.

Under Coroner MacLaren inquests into the deaths of the four persons were held. On November 28, 1906—Eva May Simpson, Colborne street.

August 20, 1909—Howard Shirley, Maitland street.

October 14, 1911—Ed. Lugl, Adelaide street.

February 21, 1914—John Mann, Colborne street.

May 2, 1914—W. J. Garside, Wellington street.

WEDDING BELLS
DEWAN—McILHARGY.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Patrick's Church, Balduph, on Wednesday, May 20, when Loretta Mary McIlhargy, daughter of Zachariah McIlhargy, was united in marriage to James Edward Dewan, of London. Rev. Father Hogan, assisted by his brother, Father Hogan, celebrated high mass. The bride, entering the church on the arm of her father, looked charming in a gown of white duchess satin, with black picture hat, and carried the customary bridal roses. Her sister, Miss Sadie McIlhargy, acted as bridesmaid, and was beautifully gowned in King's blue silk, with hat to match, and carried pink carnations. William Dewan, brother of the groom, acted as best man. After congratulations were exchanged, the bride and groom, attended by the bridesmaids, travelled in black silk, and after a short honeymoon will be at home to their many friends.

POLICE FIND NO CLUE
IN CONNELLY MURDER

Hope of Finding Three Men Who Quarrelled Seems Slim.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CHATHAM, May 27.—There have been no further developments in the Connelly murder case. The police have very little to work on in the evidence as brought out at the inquest last evening. One witness told of hearing a fight on the bridge and of seeing the outlines of three men on the bridge and a fracas. The officers have found it impossible to get any information as to the three men mentioned by the witness. It is not an uncommon thing for fights to occur in this particular locality, so that those who passed the spot and heard the loud language and profane talk did not think that anything unusual was going on. It appears as though the matter will

GRAVEL FOR LONDON
FROM ST. CLAIR RIVER

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SARNIA, May 27.—Hon. Robert Rogers is sending an engineer into Western Ontario this week, who will make inquiries into the proposition put forward by J. E. Armstrong, M.P., for supplying Western Ontario municipalities with gravel from the mouth of the St. Clair river here. It is understood that the man will visit Point Edward, Windsor and other points on the rivers Detroit and St. Clair, and will also go to Chatham, Petrolia, London and other places, which are interested in the plan for securing a cheap and abundant supply of gravel for road making and other municipal purposes.

12 MILLIONS DECREASE
IN BANK LIABILITIES

Similar Decrease in Assets—Great Increase in Loans in Canada and Elsewhere.

OTTAWA, May 27.—A decrease of slightly over $12,000,000 in liabilities in comparison with March, and a corresponding decrease in assets are shown in the statement of the Canadian banks for April, 1914, issued by the finance department today. There is also a decrease shown in demand and notice deposits, while the deposits other than Canada show an increase. Loans in Canada and elsewhere show heavy increases, while current loans in Canada have slumped over $12,000,000 and call loans elsewhere are also down $1,000,000. Note circulation and the circulation of Dominion bills have increased. The figures for the two months are:

Assets	March	April
Total	$1,521,738	$1,509,809
Current deposits	312,590,642	306,515,991

Hon. Frank Cochrane Opposed To Mackenzie and Mann Deal

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, May 27.—It is understood in Parliament that Hon. Frank Cochrane, the Minister of Railways and Canals, is not at all in sympathy with the Government's proposals to grant forty-five millions aid to Mackenzie & Mann.

Hon. Mr. Cochrane was in Ottawa just one day after his return from Europe. He is understood to have expressed himself very frankly on the matter, and that only his personal friendship for Premier Borden restrained him from giving Parliament his views.

While the Minister of Railways is not the sort of man to shirk a task, it is understood that he yielded to the representations made to him on personal grounds, and left Ottawa rather than stay and witness something which was distasteful to him.

AN AMENDMENT TO THE INDIAN ACT IS OPPOSED IN SENATE

Some Members of Upper House Consider It Unfair to Compel Surrender of Reservations Near to Growing Cities.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, May 28.—There was considerable opposition in the Senate yesterday to the bill which has passed the Commons to amend the Indian act. The chief discussion was upon a new provision requiring the compulsory surrender of reserves by Indians in case of a "reserve which adjoins or is situated wholly or partly within an incorporated town or city, or in the immediate neighborhood thereof, or which is so situated as to materially retard the natural development of the surrounding country." In such case the compulsory surrender must be recommended by the superintendent of Indian affairs to the Government, which must refer the case to the exchequer court for inquiry and report as to whether it is expedient in the interest of the public and the Indians that the whole or a part of the reserve should be sold for the benefit of the Indians and they removed to some other suitable reserve.

Hon. Mr. Loughheed said that, with the settlement of Western Canada, towns and even cities had grown up right beside and in some cases actually around Indian reservations. Such conditions developed in Victoria and Vancouver.

Senators Bostock and Davis opposed the clause, as being unfair to the Indians without their consent. Senator Bostock moved an amendment, striking out the words "so situated as to materially retard the natural development of the surrounding country."

Hon. Mr. Loughheed said that the acceptance of Senator Bostock's amendment would destroy the whole purpose of the act, and said that the passage of the bill would prevent repetition of the sort of thing that Senator Bostock complained the British Columbia authorities have done.

"NO DRINK BEFORE TEN" IS LAW IN SCOTLAND

Aimed at Prevention of Early Morning Drinking by "Black Squad."

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, May 28.—Beginning today, says a London cable, the "no drink before ten" law will be rigorously enforced in Scotland. The act is aimed at the "black squad," namely the open-air workers in the shipyards, who are addicted to early refreshment, generally a gill of whiskey, followed by a pint of beer.

This leads to excessive drinking at other hours. The loss to the licensees is not estimated, except in Aberdeen, where there is no "black squad," the estimate being that it will mean a reduction of $240,000 a year in that city.

NEW CARDINALS GET THEIR HATS AND RINGS

Public Consistory Attended by Several Thousands—Cardinal Begin a Recipient.

[Canadian Press.]

Rome, May 28.—The public consistory at the Vatican, at which the red hat was conferred on those now in Rome of the thirteen new cardinals created on Monday, including Cardinal Begin, of Quebec, was held today, and was attended by several thousand people, most of whom were foreigners. A special mission will be sent to take the berretas to the absent cardinals.

The ceremony attracted much attention even outside the Vatican, the public being interested in the departure of each cardinal from his residence to the go to the apostolic palace.

The papal procession and the ceremony which followed were conducted with great pomp. The passage of the Pontiff, surrounded and followed by many ecclesiastical, military and civil dignitaries, both going to and returning from the consistory, was most impressive.

After the consistory the cardinals, both old and new, gathered in the Sistine Chapel to return thanks, and then met, presided over by the Pope, in the consistorial hall, where Pious X. bestowed the cardinals' rings, granted them the privileges of their position, and named their titular churches.

ANDREE BALLOON REPORTED FOUND IN EAST SIBERIA

Telegram Received at Swedish Foreign Office Says Remains of Airship Were Located in Forest.

[Canadian Press.]

Stockholm, Sweden, May 27.—What is believed to be the remains of the balloon in which Professor Salomon A. Andree ascended from Dane's Island near Spitzbergen, July 11, 1897, in an attempt to reach the North Pole, have been found in a forest in Eastern Siberia, according to a telegram received at the Swedish Foreign Office today from Yakutsk.

A thorough investigation of the reported discovery has been ordered by the Government.

The Arctic explorer was accompanied by two scientists, and after leaving Dane's Island no report was ever received from the party.

BALLOON REPORTED AT MANY PLACES.

Although traces of Andree's balloon have been reported at various places from time to time, and while even the body of the famous Swedish Arctic explorer was said to have been discovered on the coast of Labrador, nothing has ever definitely been established as to what actually happened to the expedition, or what became of the balloon.

Andree and his two companions, Messrs. Strindberg and Fraenkel, started from Dane's Island, in the hope of being carried by trade winds to the North Pole. The explorer believed the steady current of air would take him into the polar regions in a week, carry him over the
