Russia Plunging to Chaos and Anarchy; News From Petersburg Is of Darkest

Count Witte's Downfall at Hand and Reactionaries Calling for a Dictator— Massacres Continue in Interior and Panic-Stricken Thousands Leave Country.

Berlin, Dec. 6.—The Tageblatt's St. Petersburg correspondent in a dispatch sent by way of Eydtkuhnen, Dec. 6, says: "The situation is visibly growing worse. The critical moment for Count Witte is coming when the Liberal elements will demand his resignation."

"A resolution by the agriculturists at Moscow demanding the immediate dismissal of the present cabinet denotes the beginning of the movement away from Count Witte and signs indicate that this movement will gain intensity soon."

Mutiny at Moscow

St. Petersburg, via Eydtkuhnen, Dec. 6.—Private accounts from Kieff say that mutinous troops there were shot down in a narrow lane by Cossacks the mutineers being caught between two fires. It is reported here today that symptoms of mutiny have appeared in the Seventh Finnish Regiment at Viborg.

Caught Between Fires.

London, Dec. 6.—A dispatch to a news agency from St. Petersburg dated Dec. 5, says that 22 were killed and 40 wounded at Kieff after the regular battle. A dispatch of the same date from St. Petersburg to another news agency sent by way of Eydtkuhnen, says that three battalions of infantry at Moscow have mutined.

The same dispatch says that a general strike has been declared at Khar-koff.

St. Petersburg, via Eydtkuhnen, Dec. 6.—The delegation sent by the Zemstvo Congress to consult with Count Witte today addressed a communication to the Premier in which they pointed out that they were not speaking for themselves, but for the great mass of the country, when they demanded universal suffrage.

They said it was a fact that universal suffrage would be contrary to their interests, but that only thereby could the country be saved from anarchy and ruin.

The reactionary influence, on the contrary, which the members of the deputation said they found to be strongly entrenched in St. Petersburg and Tsarskoe-Selo, were pushing their own selfish ends with an utter disregard of the consequences. It is further pointed out in the communication that the only salvation for the Government would be the issuance immediately of a definite statement, outlining a liberal policy, to be followed at once by corresponding acts.

Anarchy and Chaos.

Vjenna, Dec. 7.—Dispatches received from Lemberg say that large numbers of Russian refugees are coming in daily. There are 800 of them at Cracow. They all give exciting, terrified accounts of the occurrences in Russia. Many of the refugees were formerly men of considerable wealth and standing, but they left everything behind, and now are almost reduced to beggary.

The people of Lemberg declare that murders and rioting continue at Kieff. The refugees, who have arrived at Podwoloczka say that excesses against the Jews have occurred at Schmerynka and Serbinowow. No details are given.

The Telegraph operators at Czernowitz say that the governor of Odessa has posted notices in the streets to the effect that the slightest disturbances will immediately be put down with rifles. Large numbers of soldiers are stationed in and around Odessa. An official statement says 8,000 persons have been killed at Odessa since the beginning of the troubles.

Advices from Bucharest, Roumania, say the people of Moscow and Nikolai-ef are suffering from lack of water, bread, light and meat. Almost all the factories and Jewish homes in Rostoff have been destroyed.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 6.—Tuesday (Continued on Page Three.)

TOKIO ACCLAIMS MARSHAL OYAMA

Japanese Commander-in-Chief and Staff Have Triumphant Homecoming.

Tokio, Dec. 7, 11:30 a.m.—Field Marshal Oyama and his staff made a triumphal entry into Tokio today. The enthusiasm and magnitude of his reception equaled that given to Admiral Togo. Despite the inclement weather, crowds of students and representatives of various classes thickly lined the route, and, although exposed to the rain, lustily cheered the marshal and his staff while en route to the Imperial Palace.

The newspapers of all shades of opinion are highly eulogistic today of the achievements of Marquis Oyama, his generals and the men under his command.

A holiday has been declared in the whole city in honor of the day.

CHEMICAL ENGINE BREAKS DOWN, ANOTHER FIREMAN IS INJURED

Oscar Hannah, the Driver, Is Thrown to Ground and Sustains Fracture of Knee.

This appears to be hoodoo week for the firemen. Monday Fireman Mason was severely injured, and today Fireman Oscar Hannah, second driver of the chemical engine in No. 1 station, was the victim of an accident at the corner of Richmond and Dundas streets. Happily, his injuries are not of a serious nature.

At 9:40 an alarm was received from the corner of Richmond and Dundas, box 124 at the corner of Richmond and Dundas. The brigades responded promptly. The apparatus from the Central station turned north from King street onto Richmond. The chief, who the horses pulled the heavy apparatus the hook and ladder truck and the chemical engine was not so lucky. The chemical engine skidded fully ten or twelve feet to the east. A lorry approaching from the east had been halted by P. C. Newman when he saw the firemen approaching, and the horses were drawn up alongside the Bank of Commerce building.

The chemical engine, despite the best efforts of Hannah to control his team, skidded so violently that the horses were carried with it. A large number of people were on the four corners of the crossing at the time, and they were horrified to see the right rear wheel of the chemical engine snap off and go rolling in between the team of lorry horses.

On the chemical, besides the driver, were Station Foreman Case and Fireman Stinchcombe. When the wheel came off the engine with the heavy tanks fell to the ground, the axle grinding on the icy pavement. Despite this, the horses pulled the heavy apparatus fifteen feet north on Richmond. Case and Stinchcombe escaped unhurt, but Hannah was thrown heavily to the ground and sustained a fracture of the knee. The other fire apparatus took no notice of what happened, but continued their journey to the fire. Hannah reached the corner of Dundas and Richmond, the chemical engine skidded

THIRD RAIL FOR TUNNEL

G. T. R. To Put in Electric System at Cost of $700,000.

Toronto, Dec. 7.—A Port Huron dispatch says: The G. T. R. has let a contract for equipment of the Sarnia tunnel with electric power to operate trains. Big power houses are to be built on both sides at a cost of $700,000. The third rail system and powerful electric locomotives will be used.

ANOTHER I. C. R. SURPLUS

Month of October Shows Government Road $18,814 to the Good.

Ottawa, Dec. 7.—Operations on the Intercolonial for October resulted in a net surplus of $18,814, as compared with a surplus of $24,659 for the month previous. The falling off in the earnings amounted altogether to $23,395, attributable to the decline in passenger traffic. The freight earnings showed a slight increase, while the working expenses were reduced by $37,550, as compared with September. Expectations are, unless an abnormal change for the worse occurs—as, for instance, a series of heavy snowstorms—that from this time forward the road will exhibit a surplus of receipts over expenses. Following are the expenditures and earnings for the four months of the present fiscal year ending Oct. 31:

	Working expenses.	Earnings.
July .....	$ 655,553	$ 634,611
August .....	746,261	674,748
September .....	661,612	636,271
October .....	624,961	642,876
Total .....	$2,688,587	$2,628,506

THE WATERWORKS BYLAW

Ratepayers Vote on It in Every Ward Where They Own Property.

It is not generally known that persons who own property in several wards will have a vote on the water works bylaw in each ward in which they hold property.

There will be but one vote for the temperance bylaw, however, and it is feared that the deputy returning officers and the others will become hopelessly mixed on election day. A voter can only vote for aldermen in one ward, but he can vote for any number up to twelve he may choose. Only one vote for mayor, no matter how much property you may own in different wards.

PERKINS AND McALL QUIT

Frenzied Financiers to Resign From the New York Life Company.

New York, Dec. 6.—The Evening Sun today says that President John McCall and Vice-President George W. Perkins, of the New York Life Insurance Company, are going to retire from office in that company. Mr. Perkins' retirement, the Sun says, will probably take place soon, and Mr. McCall's before the next annual election of trustees in April.

WOULDN'T THIS JAB YOU?

Hatpins Used at a Roughhouse Affair at a Special Sale.

Ionis, Mich., Dec. 7.—It was illustrated in this city yesterday that a crowd of women can be, if they choose, more disorderly than a crowd of men. A sale of graniteware had been advertised by a local store.

Jabbing each other with hatpins, pushing, pulling and hauling, young, middle-aged and old women were smashed with glassware, crockery was smashed and small articles crushed by the jam. Anful of goods were carried out without having been paid for. The crowd filled the store and the street in the vicinity. The police were called in to restore order.

Several women were more or less injured.

DIED IN DENTIST'S CHAIR

Stanley Township Woman Passes Away After the Operation.

Seaford, Dec. 6.—Mrs. Thomas Dawson, a young woman from Stanley Township, came to town this morning to have a number of teeth extracted. She was accompanied by her sister, and Dr. Rodgers, of Brucefield, who came to administer chloroform. Before giving the anesthetic, which was successfully done, the doctor examined the patient carefully and found her in good physical condition. After the teeth had been extracted, Mrs. Dawson, who had been breathing regularly, suddenly collapsed and expired in the chair without a moment's warning. The deceased was about 30 years of age. Her husband died about three months ago.

WOMAN DID NOT STICK TO STORY

She Contradicted Herself Many Times and Admitted Stat- ing What Was Untrue.

John Piper, the Lucan constable, was acquitted before Judge Macbeth this morning on a charge of criminal assault preferred by Mrs. Phillips. His honor did not hear the evidence for the defense.

Mrs. Phillips told about the same story as she told at the examination, but under the cross-examination of Lawyer Faulds, she made admissions that materially damaged her case. She contradicted herself in many instances, and admitted that parts of the story told at the examination were untrue. She stuck to the main statements of the story, however.

J. McFallis, the proprietor of the hotel where Mrs. Phillips worked, was called to corroborate Mrs. Phillips' evidence.

Mrs. McFallis, wife of the previous witness, was the last person called. She said the complainant had come to her house after the assault was alleged to have taken place, and had complained of the cold and also of hunger, and blamed the constable about it. She did not complain about the assault for three days.

When asked by the judge whether Mrs. Phillips said assault or insult, Mrs. McFallis said insult.

In the preliminary examination, Mrs. Phillips swore that she had returned from London on the train, but she swore today that she had driven home with Mr. Hilliard. She admitted that she had told what was untrue, as she was ashamed to say that she had ridden with Hilliard.

After Mr. Faulds had finished his cross-examination, the complainant was questioned closely by the court, and contradicted herself many times.

Judge Macbeth declared it was unnecessary to go into the evidence for the defense, as the woman's story was highly improbable. Accordingly, he dismissed Piper.

ADMITS ROBBERY CHARGE

Garfield Jennings Pleads Guilty to "Touching" a Farmer.

Garfield Jennings, who was sent for trial yesterday on a charge of robbing a man named Robert Shaver near Odell in November last, came up before Judge Macbeth this morning for election. He elected to be tried by the judge without a jury and pleaded guilty to the offense. He was remanded until Dec. 18 for sentence.

Detective Northgreaves had a very strong case against Jennings and the young man apparently realized that his conviction was sure. Jennings comes up next Tuesday to answer the charge of robbing a Chinaman on King street.

William Howard also came before Judge Macbeth this morning and elected to be tried by the judge on a charge of stealing. His trial is set for Saturday next at 11 o'clock.

Last April, while on a spree, Ernest Fitzallen was deprived of a gold chain and locket. He and Howard had been drinking together, and in June, Howard was arrested and sent for trial at the December. He changed his mind and will now receive his trial on Saturday next.

A Ninety-Mile Footrace.

Chicago, Dec. 7.—Albert Corey, the French long distance foot-racer, is running to Chicago from Milwaukee, a distance of 90 miles. He started at 11 o'clock last night and hopes to cross the tape on Michigan avenue at Adams street before 2 o'clock this afternoon, and establishing a record for the distance of fifteen hours.

SPOILS SYSTEM AT WINTER FAIR

Conservatives Want All the Billets at the Guelph Stock Show.

Guelph, Dec. 6.—The Mercury charges that the local Conservatives have demanded of the Government that the whole of the local Winter Fair patronage be placed in the hands of the patronage committee of the Conservative Association of South Wellington, and that the Government has acceded to their request. The patronage committee which is said to be composed of Mr. Lincoln Goldie, Mr. Drew, Mr. Gummer, Mr. Heffernan and others, met in judgment a day or two ago on the matter of the men to be employed at the fair, and it was decided to make the whole local staff Conservative, and their places have been supplied by good Conservatives. It may be that there will not be a clean sweep this year, as the secretary and superintendents may object to have all their experienced men fired, and they themselves left with green hands, but the fact is gone forth that every bit of patronage that can possibly be grabbed by the local junta shall be at the disposal of the Conservative committee of the Conservative Association of South Wellington.

$1,000,000 STENOGRAPHER

Heiress Will Continue to Work, Al- though Awarded a Fortune.

Chicago, Dec. 7.—Although Miss Edna Dickerson has been awarded a fortune of $1,000,000, she will continue to work as a stenographer.

While most girls in similar circumstances would go in for automobiles and trips to Paris, Miss Dickerson is one of the quiet kind. In fact, it was her devotion to her invalid mother that was the indirect cause of her windfall.

The probate court of St. Paul yesterday awarded the fortune to her. It was the contested estate of her uncle, Albert Johnston. Several months ago Johnston died, bequeathing his entire estate to the girl. The will was contested by a brother, Dr. Asa Johnston, but the court dismissed the contest.

A Kingston Candidate.

Kingston, Dec. 6.—The Conservatives met tonight in convention and unanimously selected Donald McIntyre as candidate for the coming bye-elections for the Legislature.

Seddon Wins.

London, Dec. 6.—A Wellington dispatch states that Sir Seddon Government has swept the New Zealand polls, only thirteen members of the Opposition being returned, against 59 of the Government. Several prohibitionists were defeated, indicating a serious setback for the prohibition movement.

FRANCE PASSES SEPARATION BILL; CUTS LAST TIE WITH THE CHURCH

Paris, Dec. 6.—The Senate today adopted the bill for the separation of church and state by a vote of 181 against 102.

Former Premier Combes participated in the debate, contending that the measure assured neutrality of religion and social pacification.

This is the final parliamentary stage of the bill, which will be promulgated in the official Journal tomorrow, when it will become immediately effective. The council of state will devote three months to the framing of the administrative details of the new regime.

The action of the Senate regarding the law has not yet been announced definitely. The French clergy, while opposing the measure, appear to be disposed to conform to the new system. The public worship budget of 1906

TERRORIST BULLET KILLS SAKHAROFF

Former Russian Minister of War Assassinated.

SHOT TO DEATH BY A WOMAN

Sent to Quell Riots He Had Peasants Whipped and Tortured by Drunken Cossacks.

London, Dec. 7.—Lieut.-General Sakharoff, former minister of war, was assassinated today. The Government had deputed General Sakharoff to visit the province of Saratoff for the purpose of quelling the agrarian riots there.

A woman belonging to the so-called "Flying Columns" of the revolutionary movement, called at the house of the Governor of Saratoff at the moment and asked to see General Sakharoff. She fired three revolver shots at the general killing him on the spot.

Tortured the Peasants.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 6, via Eydtkuhnen, East Prussia, Dec. 7.—The news of the assassination of Lieut.-Gen. Sakharoff, former minister of war, who was shot three times and instantly killed in the governor's palace, at Saratoff in Southeast Russia on Monday last, had been preceded by the most horrible stories of the manner in which Sakharoff had been repressing the Agrarian disorders. He corralled peasants with Cossacks, and had them beaten with the soldiers' whips. In so doing Sakharoff pursued the system adopted by Prince John Obolensky, former governor-general of Finland, in suppression of the Agrarians in the vicinity of Khar-koff several years ago, when the prince caused the peasants to be whipped by relays of Cossacks and compelled in turn to beat their comrades.

The assassin of Sakharoff has not been identified. When arrested, the woman who committed the crime, declared that she had executed a deed of the terrorist section of the social revolutionists.

The following is a description of Sakharoff's arrival at Hovonschinsk, one of the villages of the Province of Saratoff.

"He came with Cossacks and artillery. The peasants were surrounded by Cossacks, and Sakharoff addressed them, demanding that they surrender their leaders. The village elder replied, but gave the general no information.

GENERAL SAKHAROFF,
Former Russian War Minister, Assassinated Yesterday by a Female Nihilist.

The elder was immediately beaten until he lost consciousness.

"Sakharoff then retired to the court house, leaving the peasants at the mercy of the Cossacks, most of whom were drunk, and they began torturing them, pulling out their hair and beards, and even tearing pieces of flesh from their faces. Thirty-three peasants were thus maltreated."

Norway Rejoices.

Christiana, Dec. 7.—All Norway today is celebrating the half anniversary of the dissolution June 7 of the union with Sweden. There were thanksgiving services in all the churches and the people enjoyed a general holiday. King Haakon VII., Queen Maud, and the ministers attended the services at the Church of the Redeemer.

FRANCE PASSES SEPARATION BILL; CUTS LAST TIE WITH THE CHURCH

will be reduced from $8,400,000 to nearly $8,000,000, consequent on the gradual diminution of the salaries paid by the state to the clergy. The fundamental principles of the bill insure entire liberty of conscience, respecting religion with restrictions concerning the exercise of religion which are intended to preserve public order.

In the future the state will be entirely free from connection with all religious sects.

The bill for the separation of church and state passed the Chamber of Deputies, July 3, by 341 to 233. Its final passage marks the culmination of the strained relations which have long existed between the French Government and the Vatican. It sweeps away a system which dates from 1801, when the famous concordat was signed by Pius VII. and Napoleon.

Constables Deemed Unfit; Dismissals Will Be Asked

County Council Wants Quarter Removed From Force by Judge Macbeth.

At yesterday afternoon's session of the county council a motion was introduced by County Councillor T. G. Turnbull, seconded by Councillor Geo. Lewis, that County Judge Macbeth be asked to dismiss from office County Constables Northgreaves, Sadler, Corbett and Patsley, "as this council deems them unfit for the positions they now hold as county constables."

Before the motion was put County Constable Sadler, who was present, asked for the privilege of addressing the council.

Councillor McDonald arose and said that he was not in favor of listening to Mr. Sadler. The council had appointed a committee for the purpose of investigating the conditions existing in the county constabulary, and that committee at a considerable expense to the county had gathered the evidence and brought in its report. He had waded through the mass of evidence and some of it did not seem good. He was not in favor of opening the case. If the council gave one man the privilege of being heard, it could not deny the rest. That would simply mean that the whole case would be opened again, and no good would come out of it.

Constables are Slippery Fellows.

Councillor McCullum was in favor of listening to the constable. If the council gave one man the privilege of being heard, it could not deny the rest. That would simply mean that the whole case would be opened again, and no good would come out of it.

"I'll admit that they are pretty slippery fellows, but with the salary they get, where are you going to get better men?" declared Mr. McCullum.

Councillor Lewis, chairman of the committee, explained that the committee had been sent around, and that it was at the disposal of the council.

Councillor McDonald again arose, and laid particular emphasis on the fact that the committee had disposed of the matter, and that it would not be fair to them to open the case again. He was not in favor of sending it over to the January session, as they wanted the affairs of the county looked after a little better than they had been in the past. If Sadler and the rest got a fair show at the investigation, that ought to be enough.

The motion was then put, and carried unanimously.

MIDNIGHT CAB FEST

Thirty-three Vehicles Chase Phantom Wedding About City.

New York, Dec. 7.—People who live along West Twentieth street near Ninth avenue were startled out of bed about 2 o'clock yesterday morning by a clatter of horses on the asphalt. All along the street people looked at their bare heads out of doors to see the cavalcade pass. Thirty-three cabs, hansom cabs and hacks trotted around the corner and pulled up at the West Twentieth street police station. It was William Taylor's hack fest. He began the fest at Madison Square Garden. He finally landed in the insane ward at Bellevue.

Some time after midnight a prosperous-looking man in a slouch hat and a light overcoat drifted up Broadway. He looked like a well-to-do westerner seeking the Tenderloin. The police took note of him. The show at Madison Square Garden finally caught his eye. He was looking for some kind of a show. He strided into the bicycle races and the police lost count.

About 1 o'clock he came out. He called a hansom. Then he went the rounds of the cab stands near the garden and called out all he could find. There was a big blowout, a wedding, over on the west side, and he wanted all the hacks in sight to take home the wedding guests. He got about twenty in the garden. Then he drove over to Broadway and got a dozen more. They were all to fall in and trot along behind his hansom until they got to the wedding.

"Just fall in behind, boys," he shouted. They asked me to come over and see you because I'm particularly good at organization."

Then he told the cabs about his former experiences as a truck contractor. He replaced the slouch hat on his head and climbed into his hansom, and the 33 cabs followed down Fifth avenue to Seventeenth street, 22 sets of carriage lamps lighted up the mist, 33 cab horses stirred up the echoes. They turned west into Seventeenth street.

At Eighth avenue the driver opened the box over the slouch hat and wanted to know just where the wedding was to be pulled off. "Just near the telephone exchange," he was told. In front of the exchange he inquired to drive up to Ninth avenue and turn north, Saunders was suspicious then and drove up the avenue to the West Twentieth street police station. Thirty-three cabs clattered around the corner and blocked the street. The man in the slouch hat was questioned by Sgt. O'Neill.

"I am one of the Vanderbilt boys," he explained. "I'm a little surprised, sergeant, that you don't know me. This adventure with the cabs is rather a lark."

Later on he tacked around and said his name was William Taylor. He lived at George O'Neill's hotel in Sixth avenue, near the Jefferson market police court. The sergeant looked him over and sent for an ambulance. Dr. Farr, of the New York Hospital, still further looked him over and took him to Bellevue's psychiatric ward.

In the meantime the 33 cabs were blocking the street. Battalion Chief Howe, who figured at the Baltimore fire, came out of the fire house and complained. There wasn't a chance for a fire engine in Twentieth street. He wouldn't even let them hang around until Sam D. Saunders had registered his kick.

Suicide at Dutton.
Dutton, Dec. 6.—David Migill, a man 65 years of age, whose home is in Detroit, committed suicide by taking carbolic acid while at the Queen's Hotel here this afternoon.

FAMOUS BRITISH SOLDIER RETIRES

Military Career of Sir William Butler Ends.

GOVT. IGNORED HIS WARNINGS

War Office Made Greatest Mistake of South African War When He Was Recalled.

London, Dec. 7.—Having attained his 67th birthday, which marks the age limit in the British army, Lieut.-Gen. Sir William Butler, K.C.B., has retired from the active list, and the empire loses thereby the services of one of its most fearlessly honest and capable soldiers. There are not a few who are glad to see him go, for he is a sworn foe to red tapeism, old fogeyism, and the take-things-easy system which are responsible for some dry rot and incompetence in the British army.

In his distinguished career of 47 years, thoroughness has always been characteristic of this supremely able man. His last service was a gaudy exposure of the South African war stores scandals, by which the country was swindled out of millions of money. He shocked the military establishment of the war office and violated all the traditions of the service by writing the report in such a style that it actually made interesting reading. The government did its best to shelve it by starting a cumbersome and protracted inquiry into the matter, but the Liberal party can be depended on when it comes into power to see to it that it is not dropped. Sir William himself is a staunch Liberal, and it is not improbable that he will be elected to Parliament at the next general election. Unmuzzled and free from the military shackles, he would be a power there.

Was Born in Ireland.

Like many brilliant British soldiers, he was born in Ireland. He entered Sandhurst, the Government military college, in 1858, and two years later was gazetted a regiment. Those were the days when commissions were obtained by purchase, and as he had not the means to buy one, promotion came to him slowly. He served in Canada, where his military talents and map sketching attracted the attention of (now Viscount) Wolseley, who appointed him to a military survey party. After twelve years' service he was at the age of 31 only a subaltern, while many other men with far less ability, but blessed with much longer purses and backed by aristocratic influence, had got far ahead of him. Repeated applications to be put on special service met with no response, because he lacked the necessary "pull," and his career seemed almost closed.

But in 1879 he saw his chance, and went for it. Col. Wolseley was then organizing the Red River expedition. With characteristic disregard for red tape, Butler sent this cable to the future commander-in-chief:

"Col. Wolseley, Winnipeg, expedition.—Please remember me. Butler, Sixty-ninth Regiment."

No reply came, and the War Office, proving equally deaf to his importunities, obtained leave of absence and sailed for Canada at his own expense. There he personally interviewed Col. Wolseley. The latter was greatly impressed by the spirit of the young officer, but shook his head at the suggestion of his becoming a regular soldier. He was, however, so declaring that every post had been filled.

Good Secret Service.

The pertinacious and audacious Butler, however, insisted that there was one berth yet unfilled, and that was in the intelligence office, who would let him know what was afoot in Minnesota and along the flank of his own army. He was a good shot, and the post was created for him. During the advance he met Col. Wolseley in a forest by preconcerted arrangement, and supplied him with most valuable information. This was the foundation of his career, for he was now in the expedition, destined to be a great military figure, never again left Butler out of any active service with which he himself was connected. His services in Ashanti received special recognition in the Zulu war, and did magnificent work in the Egyptian war, 1882, and in the later Sudan campaign.

The story of what at the time was Sir William's military martyrdom in South Africa is well known. He not only foresaw the fighting strength of the Boers, but mistrusted the capitalists of South Africa and all their ways and works. His warning to the Government prior to the war made him the target of the most malignant attacks by the imperialists party, and led to his recall under circumstances hardly short of public dishonor. He was not only heeded there would either have been no war or a war much more brief and much less costly, because his warning had entered upon with knowledge what sort of job the army had to tackle. Yet, owing to the obtuseness of the Government and its advisers, the British Empire was deprived of the advantage of the intimate knowledge and experience of Sir William Butler at a time when his services would have been of priceless value in the field. It took him a long time, and did not have long to wait for it. He has written several books. "The Great Lone Land," a delightful work, published last year, has won him a new class of admirers. He has to his credit literary biography, and has written the lives of Gen. Gordon, Sir Charles Napier, and Sir George Colley. He married in 1877 Miss Elizabeth Thompson, daughter of "Roll Call" and other military publications, made her as famous as is her husband.

ANOTHER OPINION OF US

Canadians Said To Be Slaves of Small Band of Monopolists.

London, Dec. 7.—J. A. Hobson, well-known economist, continuing his series of articles, says that there is no free trade party or strong free trade sentiment anywhere in Canada. Even among Liberals the continuity of United States with her vexatious tariff breeds belief in retaliation, which is most demoralizing in its effects.

After discussing Canada's distrust of the United States, Hobson says that it is evident in her present mood with her present confidence in her own resources, Canada will make no move towards new commerce treaty with the States.

The article concludes by stating that Canada is going through a long era of protection, molded in usual fashion by industrial greed and political policy. Whether the tilters of the soil, the workers in mills, mines, stores and on railroads who form the immense majority of the population will have intelligence and power to rescue themselves from the coils of this protective

Mooney's Perfection Cream Sodas

Mooney's Biscuits are an evenly balanced, wholesome, nourishing food, equally good for young and old. Made from Canada's finest wheat flour, rich cream and pure butter. Baked by the Mooney baker in the Mooney way.

Say "Mooney's" to your grocer.

serpent is a great question for the future.

It arouses little interest at present. When the workers in Canada wake up they will find that protection is only one among several economic fangs fastened in their "Corpus Vile" by the little group of railroad, lumber and manufacturing monopolies who own their country.

DEPEW IS OUT
Resigns as Director of the Equitable Life Insurance Company.

New York, Dec. 6.—The resignation of United States Senator Chauncey M. Depew as a director of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, was one of the most interesting developments today in the situation growing out of the life insurance investigation.

The senator's resignation was tendered to President Paul Morton, of the Equitable Society, in a brief note, in which no reason for the action was stated.

The attention of the legislative investigating committee today was devoted chiefly to the affairs of the Security Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Binghamton, N. Y., whose president, Charles M. Turner, was on the stand most of the day.

The Truth Will Out.
That is why Putnam's Corn Extract or has such an enormous sale; it's good, sure cure, and better than any substitute. Insist on having Putnam's only.

Seized Sealer Is Home.
Halifax, N. S., Dec. 6.—The Halifax sealing schooner, Agnes Donahoe, which was seized off Montevideo, charged with sealing within the three-mile limit, and held for a year, the captain and crew being imprisoned, has arrived here from Montevideo. Her owner will now make a heavy claim on all the Montevideo authorities for illegal seizure and detention.

On the Shelf

of every home in Canada there should be found a bottle of Shiloh's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, the throat, lungs and air passages. It is easy to take, gives instant relief and cures permanently.

Generation after Generation

have pronounced Shiloh to be the safest, surest, and best family cure for Colds and Coughs. Nothing has ever been found to take its place in the home. Try Shiloh and be cured, or say you were not cured and get your money back. Isn't that fair? Mrs. E. James, of Hibbing, Minn., says:—"There is no other like Shiloh for Cough, Colds, Whooping Cough, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, and all the ailments of the throat and lungs. I used two bottles of Shiloh and was completely cured. It has no equal."

BLOOD HUMORS

PIMPLES
BLOTCHES
ERUPTIONS
FLESHWORMS
HUMORS

Many an otherwise beautiful and attractive face is sadly marred by unsightly blotches, eruptions, fleshworms and humors, and various other blood diseases.

Their presence is a source of embarrassment to those afflicted, as well as pain and regret to their friends.

Many a cheek and brow—cast in the mould of grace and beauty—have been sadly defaced, their attractiveness lost, and their possessor rendered unhappy for years.

Why, then, consent to rest under this cloud of embarrassment? There is an effective remedy for all these defects, it is,

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

This remedy will drive out all the impurities from the blood and leave the complexion healthy and clear.

Miss Annie Tobin, Madoc, Ont., writes: "I take great pleasure in recommending your Burdock Blood Bitters to anyone who may be troubled with pimples on the face. I paid out money to doctors, but could not get cured, and was almost discouraged, and despaired of ever getting rid of them. I thought I would give B.B.B. a trial, so got two bottles, and before I had taken them I was completely cured and have had no sign of pimples since."

Burdock Blood Bitters has been manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, for over 30 years, and has cured thousands in that time. Do not accept a substitute which unscrupulous dealers say is "just as good." "It can't be."

Wayward But Winning

"Here comes her ladyship," says Philippa. "For goodness' sake, chase that air of melancholy from your face—raise those dark eyebrows of yours!" As she speaks Lord Cecil, the countess and one or two others, come down the steps and approach them. "Carrie, with instinctive good manners, rises; but the countess puts her hand upon the fair lord's arm, and gently forces her into her seat, and then seats herself beside her. Lord Cecil goes behind her and leans over her, Carrie, that, unseen by others, he may touch her hand.

"We thought we should find you here, my dear," says the countess. "We have come on a special embassy."

And she smiles at Carrie graciously, affectionately.

"Yes," says Lord Cecil, "we come, to speak, to place our destiny in your hands."

"I mine?" says Carrie with a smile of curiosity. "What has happened?"

"Nothing. It is what is to happen," she says, and she looks at her with a smile on his handsome face. "My mother has received an invitation from an old friend who lives near. I don't know whether I have mentioned her—Lady Ferndale?"

"No," says Carrie.

"She lives at Ferndale, a dozen miles from here, and she is going to give a fancy ball before she leaves the town, and she has sent begging us to go to it."

Carrie's eyes glister.

"A fancy ball," she says. "I have never been to one." Then she sighs with heart-felt content. "And I am not so very anxious to go. I am so happy as it is!"

The countess smiles at the artless admission.

"That was very nicely said, my dear," she says, patting Carrie's hand. "But Cecil ought to have said that Lady Ferndale is a very old and dear friend of ours and that we ought to accept her invitation."

"Special pleading, mother," says Cecil, holding up his finger with a smile. "We agreed that no arguments should be used."

Carrie flushes and looks round shyly. "But—but it does rest with me!" she says, half nervously.

The countess smiles.

"My dear, the invitation is for you and myself, principally, and it does rest with you, very properly, whether we go or stay."

"Say you'll go," says Lord Cecil. The rest look at Carrie as if she were a dispute, upon which their happiness and fate depend, and the ever-ready countess rushes to the face of Carrie.

"I should like to go," she murmurs, after glancing round at the expectant faces. "But—a fancy ball, you said, Lady Fitz-Harwood? I haven't got anything to go in."

Lord Cecil laughs.

"Oh, as to that, all you want in addition to an evening dress is a domino."

"What is that?" asks Carrie innocently.

"A large cloak, my dear, which will conceal the whole of your figure."

"And a mask, Cecil, you forget that."

"A mask, certainly," says Lord Cecil. "Nothing is easier, and if you prefer a fancy costume, why, nothing is easier still than to order one from London. There is a week to get it in."

"Pray say that you will go, Miss Harrington!" pleads a young attaché, fervently.

Carrie nods.

"I should like to go," she says, "if—and she glances at the countess, doubtfully.

The countess inclines her head.

"Yes, go, my dear. If you haven't

Lumbago, Sciatica Gout, Neuralgia

All Caused by Rheumatic Poison in the Blood—Cure Guaranteed—Relief Swift and Sure From
DR. HAMILTON'S PILLS

There is a new life ahead for every sufferer from rheumatic poison who has not yet used Dr. Hamilton's Pills; their prompt cures are the marvel of the medical profession of many nations.

The unspeakable anguish of rheumatic torture need no longer be suffered—use Dr. Hamilton's Pills and permanent cure is assured. In so many thousands of cases have Dr. Hamilton's Pills been successful, the manufacturers are willing to guarantee a lasting cure to all that use them.

No one can doubt the efficacy of Dr. Hamilton's Pills after reading the experience of Miss Minnie Saunders, of Halifax, who says:

"Scores of different remedies failed to relieve me. I suffered incessantly from neuralgia and sciatica. Sometimes the pain was unbearable.

"A friend recommended Dr. Hamilton's Pills. In a few days I was relieved. I continued the treatment, using in all five boxes, and was cured.

"I have not felt the slightest pain or ache since taking Dr. Hamilton's Pills and consider my cure absolutely perfect."

Why delay any longer? Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills at once. They will restore your health in a short time. Price 25 cents per box, or five boxes for $1, at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

says Lord Cecil lazily, "But it looks as if your rare avis were playing a deep game, Ken!"

Lord Kenworth gazes at the ground thoughtfully.

"I thought the same, Neville, but I can't see what she can be aiming at."

"There is an old and favorite game among ladies—called matrimony," says the countess, gently.

"No, Lady Fitz-Harwood, I don't think that is it. She refused one or two good offers to my knowledge."

The countess smiles.

"And your knowledge, Lord Kenworth, is comprehensive and unimpeachable."

"Why, mother, we are all learning to trim compliments," says Lord Cecil, with a smile.

"Then—then," says Philippa, whose curiosity is still unsatisfied—"then why is such a fuss made about her?"

"Because she is a remarkable personage," replies the attaché. "There is something about her, an air, a tone, which excites one's interest and piques one's curiosity. They say—But I am no judge of a lady's dress—"

"Oh, leave that to me," says Lord Cecil, accompanied by a ripple of incredulous laughter from the rest.

"They say," goes on Lord Kenworth with admiring gravity, "that her style is perfect, and that, though her toilet is simplicity itself, it is in its way a masterpiece."

"Wonderful woman!" exclaims Lord Cecil, stretching his long legs.

"And we are to meet this modern mystery at Lady Ferndale's," says the countess. "I suppose they are none of our friends, or the princess would not be at Ferndale. If there was any doubt about our going it is dispelled now, is it not?" and she smiles affectionately at Carrie.

"Oh, yes, I am filled with curiosity now, but I warn Lord Kenworth that if the princess does not prove very wonderful and extraordinary, I shall for one, be bitterly disappointed."

"I also," says Lord Cecil. "But I think we can trust Lord Kenworth; he has seen too many wonderful people to raise false hopes. But isn't it rather strange, Ken, that you, who have been all over the world, have never met this striking personage?" he adds carelessly.

"No," replied Lord Kenworth. "She has been living in strict privacy until she came to London. But talking of going all over the world, I remember my master," he says, as the earl is seen approaching the group with a well-worn dispatch bag. "I wonder whether I am bound for now—Paris, St. Petersburg, Rome."

"Neither," says the earl, who has caught the sentence. "Only to London this time, Kenworth."

And he hands him the case, with his grave, kindly smile.

"Poor Ken," says Lord Cecil. "See what it is to be an attaché. You will let him have a crust of bread and cheese before he starts, sir?"

The earl laughs.

"Yes, and I came to tell you that the lunch-bell rang a quarter of an hour ago."

"Come in, then," says Lord Cecil, "and let us drain a bowl to speed the parting guest."

"It is the first time," says Lord Kenworth, with a courtesy bow to Carrie, "that I have felt inclined to resign my berth."

"Very nice and so true," laughs Lord Cecil, "seeing that Kenworth is a position rather higher than that of a king upon his throne. Go to, Ken! You are a dissembler."

And so, with general laughter, they go in.

NEW CARPENTRY COMPANY

Will Operate a Freight and Passenger Service on Lake Huron

Ottawa, Dec. 6.—The Ontario Car ferry Company has just been incorporated here with a capital of $500,000. Its connection with the Grand Trunk is evident from the appearance of the names of Charles M. Hays, Earl H. Fitzgibbon and John W. Loud among the incorporators. The remaining incorporators are A. G. Yates, William T. Noonan and Robert W. Davis, of Rochester. They propose to operate the freight, passenger and mail service between the United States and Canada on Lake Huron. Power is given to conduct business in the United States and Canada, and to enter into arrangements with any railway company in the Dominion or the Republic for the operation of car ferries in connection with their system.

A BIG QUARTER'S WORTH.

For 25 cents you can't get anything so useful in the home as a bottle of Polson's Nervine. Why it cures the ills of the entire family! Headache, neuralgia, it relieves instantly. For indigestion, stomach trouble or cramps it's "just what the doctor ordered." Mothers find Nervine invaluable for breaking up colds and curing, croup, hoarseness and sore throat. Don't be without Nervine—it is economical and reliable. In use for nearly fifty years.

A MEDICINE CHEST IN ITSELF.—Only the well-do do an effort to possess a medicine chest, but Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, which is a medicine chest in itself, is the only one. It cures rheumatism, lumbago, sore throat, colds, coughs, catarrhs, asthma and a potent healer for wounds, cuts, bruises, sprains, etc. It is within the reach of the poorest, owing to its cheapness. It should be in every house.

TOPICS OF TALK IN THAMESFORD

Winter Series of University Lectures—Lively Local Option Campaign.

Thamesford, Dec. 5.—Mr. Arnold Wilkie left on Tuesday for a few morning visits to his father and brothers at Saskatoon, Sask. Mr. Wilkie will be much missed during the winter, especially in social circles.

Mr. P. Weisbrod and family, of Toronto, will shortly move to Thamesford. Mr. Weisbrod has taken a business situation with his father-in-law, Mr. N. C. McCarty. He will prove a valuable addition to the well-known firm of McCarty & Son.

The first of a series of university lectures will be given in the Presbyterian Church on Friday evening, Dec. 15, by Prof. Wallace M. A., Ph. D., of Toronto University. Subject, "George Eliot's Philosophy." As many as possible should avail themselves of the opportunity to hear what will doubtless prove a great literary treat.

In spite of the very disagreeable weather Saturday was a good day with the business men and merchants of the town. The holiday trade has started and all of the stores will likely be very busy until after Christmas.

At a meeting of the North Oxford Council on Monday a resolution to submit a local option bylaw to the people was passed. A vigorous campaign is likely to be carried on both sides. The people of East Nissouri will also have an opportunity of expressing their views on this question. Every voter should carefully study the matter before casting his ballot.

Miss Laura Reaveley, of Ingersoll, spent Sunday at her home here.

Mr. H. Laing is ill with appendicitis at the home of Mrs. Grant.

Mr. Pittzell, of Nova Scotia, who was expected to assume the pastorate of the Methodist Church here, has decided not to do so. Mr. Green, of Clinton, has been appointed to the charge.

Mrs. Robert Nichol has returned from St. Thomas, where she was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Sutton.

Mrs. W. Lumley returned last night from a week's visit to friends at Alisa Craig.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Donaldson returned home on Saturday from a month's visit to friends at a distance.

Mr. Robert Henderson returned from the Northwest on Saturday. He was delighted with the prospects of the country.

The inspector of the Sutherland-Lindsay Steamship Company called the local institution a visit on Monday. Some changes are likely to be made in the staff.

Mr. Austin Biggs is visiting his sister, Mrs. W. Lumley, and will spend the holiday season with her.

Mr. E. J. McMurray shipped a carload of hogs on Monday.

A consignment of coal has arrived and everyone in the need of coal is advised to get it early.

Mr. D. Quinn is attending the session of the county council at Woodstock.

Rev. Mr. Lindsay, of Kintore, occupied the pulpit of St. Andrew's Church on Sunday and preached very acceptable sermons to large congregations.

Rev. Mr. Watson occupied Mr. Lindsay's pulpit.

Arrangements are being made for Christmas entertainments in the different churches. From now until after the holiday season the children will be in the realm of delight.

Miss Mary Patterson spent a few days last week in Watford, where she attended the funeral of her cousin, Miss Florence Peller.

Mr. E. J. Day, sen., spent a few days in London last week.

Mr. Alex. Campbell, of the 5th line, lost a valuable horse, a bay gelding. The animal after being turned loose, attempted to jump over a small bridge, fell, and died from its injuries in a few minutes.

Mr. N. C. McCarty has completed the renovations of his house and is to be congratulated on the fine appearance which it presents. Those who had the work in hand speak in high terms of their dealings with Mr. McCarty.

Quite a number from here will attend the Fat Stock Show at Guelph next week. Single fare on railroads.

Mr. Milne, of Hamilton, was here on Saturday on business.

Miss Maggie Lawrence has been engaged a teacher in the Drumbo public school.

Mr. William Keshner, who moved here a few weeks ago from Lakeside, has moved to Ingersoll, where he has secured a good position with Mr. Hollinrake.

What promises to be the best concert of the season will be given in the Presbyterian Church tomorrow night under the auspices of the King's Daughters and Sons. Mr. Donald McGregor, of Toronto, and Miss Estelle Livingstone, of London, will supply the programme.

ANNUAL CHOR CONCERT

Delightful Musical Programme at Dundas Street Methodist Church.

The choir of the Dundas Street Methodist Church gave its annual concert on Tuesday, and the event proved in every way very successful, both artistically and in point of attendance.

Of the several numbers rendered, the choruses were particularly good, and were very well received. In every instance the attack was fine and the power sustained. Fifty voices, directed by Mr. J. Parnell Morris, blended well, and their efforts will long be remembered by all who were fortunate enough to be present. Particularly in Mendelssohn's "Hear My Prayer" did the choir excel, that beautiful selection being given in a most masterly manner.

Miss Lillian Wilson found opportunity in this number to distinguish herself, and she took every advantage of it. Her singing proved to be a delightful feature of the evening.

Of the visiting talent, Miss Lillian Kirby and Mr. Frank Bemrose, the former was particularly a favorite, though the singing of each proved to be a pleasing surprise. The quartet, in which Miss Wilson and Mr. Skinner sang with these two artists, was one of the finest numbers of the evening.

Miss Kirby's voice is a deep contralto and is resonant and sweet. She has a pleasing personality, and her every number was well received. She rendered Gounod's "O Divine Redeemer" and "The Day is Ended," by Bartlett.

Mr. Bemrose's tenor voice is powerful and very pleasing. His number with the choir won the appreciation of the entire audience.

Under Mr. J. Parnell Morris' direction, the choir has attained a very high standard. Mr. Morris is most energetic in his work, and to him is chiefly due the success of the concert. The several numbers that he rendered on the organ were heartily appreciated by the critical audience. Mr. Morris ranks among the first organists of the city, and his future performances are pleasantly anticipated by all who have heard him in the past. The concert was one of the best that has been given in the church.

Big Northwest Land Deal.

Port Huron, Dec. 6.—Ten thousand acres of land have been bought in Leon Creek district, Province of Saskatchewan, at prices averaging $12 50 per acre. Wm. S. Taylor and E. Welcott, of this city, are interested in the deal, together with several St. Clair, Mich., people. Mr. Taylor says that the land is the finest and highest-priced in the Canadian Northwest and would raise three times as much to the acre as any land in Michigan.

COSTIVENESS SPELLS SICK ALL OVER

Costiveness, if allowed to go unremedied, will lead to habitual constipation, and that means bad blood, poor digestion, unhealthy complexion, headaches and nervousness. It is the business of the liver to secrete and remove the bile from the blood, which acts as a cathartic and keeps the bowels regular. Let the liver become torpid or inactive, and you are as sure to become costive as the arm is to rattle. Smith's Pinapple and Bismarck Pills cure costiveness in Nature's way. They regulate the liver's normal activity, they remove food secretions and establish regularity. No matter what you have tried, get Smith's Pinapple and Bismarck Pills. They will clean the bowels and establish the liver and bowels in healthy action. They cure constipation, biliousness, headaches in one night. Price 25 cents at all dealers.

CURES CATARRHAL DEAFNESS

One Week's Use of Hyomei Did More Than Six Months' Treatment by Specialists.

In the treatment of deafness which is often a result of catarrh, Hyomei acts almost immediately upon the inflamed membrane and the hearing begins to return at once.

Miss Meeks, of Mattawan, N. Y., says: "Hyomei is truly wonderful. I have used it but a short time and see a great change in my condition. My hearing is improving rapidly and I had no idea I would improve so rapidly in so short a time. My husband, who was very offensive to myself and others, has lost his bad odor entirely. I have spent a great deal of money with catarrh specialists, and can truly say that six months of their treatment is not equal to one month of Hyomei."

A complete outfit costs but $1.00, and consists of an inhaler, that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler will last a lifetime and there is enough Hyomei for several weeks' treatment. Additional bottles of Hyomei can be procured for 50 cents. Compare this small expense with the fees charged by specialists.

If you cannot obtain Hyomei of your dealer, it will be forwarded by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Write today for consultation blank that will entitle you to services of our medical department without charge. The R. T. Company, Hyomei Building, Ithaca, N. Y.

A STRONG HEART AND STEADY NERVES

Very important it is in this age of competition to have a clear cool head, a strong heart and steady nerves.

Too much rush and bustle, work and worry, fall to the lot of the average business man—his heart and nerve system will not stand it—he gives them too much work to do.

Women also are doing the same thing attending to their household duties and looking after their social obligations. The constant strain under which they have to continue day in and day out, the irregularities of habits and loss of rest will soon shatter the strongest system. Before long you become nervous, starting at the least sudden sound, the heart flutters and palpitates, specks float before the eyes, the pulse becomes weak and irregular, you have faint and dizzy spells, lack of self-confidence, rush of blood to the head, irritability of temper, shortness of breath, starting in sleep, sensation of pins and needles, sleeplessness, restlessness and finally physical breakdown or nervous prostration.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

are the remedy you require to restore your strength and health. Their powerful curative power is proven by the fact that they are taken. Through the medium of the nervous system they impart a strengthening and restorative influence to every organ and tissue of the body. Many have been cured, among them being Mr. Ray V. Coomer, Wellington, P.E.I., Mrs. E. Kilmer, Hamberstone, Ont., Mrs. C. McDonald, Portage la Prairie, Man., Mr. Walter Cleveland, Baywater, N.S., Mrs. Owen Martin, Alima, N.B. and thousands of others.

The price of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills is 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25. Can be procured at all drug and general stores or will be sent on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MATE OF MATAAFA TELLS EXPERIENCE

Pictures Vivid Horrors of Superior's Storm.

NO SLEEP FOR SIXTY HOURS

The Overwhelming Power of Sea—Weird Calls From City Docks—Death of Nine of Crew.

Detroit, Dec. 6.—A survivor of Lake Superior's fury, Wallace Brown, mate of the ill-fated Mataafa, reached his home at 91 Adams avenue this morning his mind still crowded with the vivid horrors of the night.

It was as if the big steel ship was hurled from the open sea and pounded to pieces on the very gates of Duluth, and the cold irony that wrecked the Mataafa within hailing distance of a big city and a storm's threat of the frozen throng on shore has left an impression on Mate Brown's mind that he cannot shake off.

Bronzed and disabled, Brown relates his remarkable tale to the eager landlubbers gathered about him this morning. He told of the bitter death of nine of the crew, the long vigil on the wreck, the overwhelming power of the sea, the weird calls from the city docks and the icy grave that yawned for the survivors through every moment of the night, and the final rescue at dawn.

"I would never have attempted to make the gap at Duluth harbor, had it been possible to live in that sea," Mate Brown told in the seafaring man's graphic speech. "It was hell. The sea broke over the big ship. She shivered from stem to stern. The captain and I saw that we must make the pier or founder."

"The after cabin was fast filling with water. Part of the crew was cut off. Several of them tried to make the long run between the stern and bow. The waves, dashing over, tossed them about like corks. It required superhuman strength. Woodcock, the Toronto man, tried it and was washed off. The sea hurled him back and he lay hold once more. He was a powerful man."

"It availed nothing. The bitter cold of the water soon ended his sufferings. These made the run in safety, but the others did not master up the courage. One of them plunged into the surf, to be immediately lost in the maelstrom."

"We thought of launching a raft. But no human being could live in that water a moment. The temperature dropped to zero and the fury of the wind rose. Little by little the water encroached on us in the forward cabin. We took refuge in the captain's room, fifteen of us."

"Did the lifeboat, they said, they feared the fury of the sea. Maybe they were right. O God, how bitter cold it was, as the sea pounded the cabin. We were without sleep."

"To relieve our hunger as midnight came we munched a sandwich. For 60 hours I had no sleep. We saw the poor fellows go down, one after another, victims to the cruel cold rather than to drowning."

"On shore a great hubbub was kept up. There were, within sight of a big city. We could see the people walking in the streets and on the docks. While the city slept one after another of the poor fellows were washing and dying in the after cabin."

"The vessel was kept up until daybreak. Not until then did the seas fall off and the wind go down. It was 10 degrees below zero and the narrow cabin in which the fifteen were huddled was icy and wet. We were taken off in the early morning, nine of the fellows victims to the worst storm I ever hope to see."

A. FARICAL REVOLUTION

How Two Students and Doctor Took Possession of Town.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 7.—Even the Russian revolution has its comic episodes. At Proseuroff, a considerable town near the Austrian frontier, two students and a doctor suddenly proclaimed themselves leaders of the revolutionary party, haranguing the populace in the market place. The governor, to their amazement, took them at their own valuation and summoned them to his residence. They, fearing a trap, loyally replied that if he wished to see them they would give him audience at their house the following morning at 10 o'clock.

Thoroughly alarmed, he dispatched an aide-de-camp to interview them. They asked, "Are you representative of the proletariat?" They replied in the affirmative. "What," asked the aide, "are your demands?" "The withdrawal of troops and police from the town, except such as wish to accept the revolution."

The governor immediately acceded, shut himself up in his house, and the three revolutionaries proceeded to administer the affairs of the district, to the astonishment of the population. When the provincial governor heard of the farce he sent a company of soldiers to arrest the triumvirate and restore the czar's authority. But the three revolutionaries fled across the frontier, taking with them the contents of the treasury, which they are now understood to be spending in Paris.

Nourishing.

Tens of thousands of physicians are constantly prescribing Angier's Emulsion because it makes easy the digestion of wholesome food and nourishes the blood, and it is the only thing you can fill any empty bowl full of to make it weigh less in holes. PREVENT DISORDER.—At the first symptoms of internal disorder, Parmentier's Vegetable Pills should be resorted to immediately. Two or three of these salutary pellets, taken before going to bed, followed by doses of one or two pills for two or three nights in succession, will serve as a preventive of attacks of dyspepsia and all the troubles which follow in the train of that fell disorder. The means are simple when the way is known.

DUCHESS CONSUELO HELD UP

Her Ready Wit Foiled a Man Who Eyed Her Jewels.

London, Dec. 6.—When Consuelo, Duchess of Rothschilde's dinner to the San Carlo opera stars, on Tuesday night, she thrilled the company with her account of an adventure she had had on the way. When turning out of Park Lane a rough-looking man ran into the road and held up his hand, telling the coachman something was wrong with the harness. Simultaneously another desperate-looking character appeared at the open window and demanded the duchess' diamond and emerald necklace. The duchess instantly opened her purse and gave the man a sovereign, saying: "Take this; I hope you will have a good dinner, tell the coachman to drive on, as I am rather late for mine." The man obeyed, but the duchess felt certain it was a plan to snatch her jewels.

KING GEORGE OF GREECE

Attempts of the Greek King to Advise Sals of the Project.

London, Dec. 7.—King George of Greece is a recent visitor to King Edward. In one sense he is a royal traveler. His visit may give an impetus to the consumption of currants in England.

Greece has only one great source of wealth—currants. A bank was actually founded into which the growers paid their fruit instead of money. Currants have been the great problem of Greece for many years. The French grape crop had failed, and the currants, which she turned into wine, were sold at a low price. The king, however, substituted the use of the grape to protect them from the competition of the French.

Greece had spent twenty millions on currant plantations to meet the demand, when France suddenly imposed a tariff that completely ruined the trade.

Real times followed. Wages fell 50 per cent. in the currant districts. Starving and hungry, the people were reduced to a state of despair. The king, however, tried to distract the peasants' minds by showing them the luxuries of the world. He was prevented by the women, who, knowing that the armed collectors would not fire upon them, turned out in force with broomsticks.

Rifles, if one could fire them, are no match for broomsticks, so the women won. The whole country was disturbed. At last a great syndicate, in which King George showed interest, was formed to control the yearly output of currants, and Greece was saved.

To English people currants do not seem of great importance. They suggest indigestible Christmas puddings. But to the Greeks they are a life-saver. Germany and Holland long ago discovered the great value of currant bread, and Sir Francis Laing, King Edward's physician, thinks we might adopt it in this country with advantage.

The armies of laborers in the fields or in the mines, on the contrary, would require no other food. He cries, "because currants contain sufficient nutriment, and especially the saccharine element in its best form—that of grape sugar."

In a postscript to the letter in which Sir Francis Laing made this suggestion, he said: "The great physician, Sir William Gull, thought so highly of currants that he always advised his patients, when on a long journey, to carry with them plum pudding."

King Edward will set the example to his subjects today, when, as a compliment to his guest, he will have a special dish of currants served at dessert.

IDVL OF GEM-PACKED IDOL

Story of $600,000 Worth of Sparklers Smuggled, Then Stolen.

Philadelphia, Dec. 6.—In the head of an antique and hideous stone idol, the whereabouts of which is puzzling the local police, are believed to have been smuggled into this country gems valued at $600,000.

The story of the idol, which has been sold in strange, illicit letters from the supposed owner of the image, includes a chapter from the lives of Cecil Rhodes and Barney Barnato, the famous diamond hunters.

It was discovered in the stable of the diamond firm of Groves & Son, at 4218 Lancaster avenue, in West Philadelphia, and placed in the show window of the store as an attractive decoration.

Shortly afterward the members of the firm were warned in an anonymous letter not to give or sell the image, promising a reward if it should be placed in the stable. The firm did not wish to part with it, and notified the police, and their employees to prevent its being stolen.

Notwithstanding their precautions it was stolen at an hour when the store was filled with people, and yesterday morning a letter told how the writer had been in the confidence of Rhodes and Barnato and how through a series of travel adventures became possessed of a treasure chest of precious stones.

Not knowing how to get them into this country without paying duty, which he could not afford, the owner hid them in the hollow head of the idol and concealed the eyes with paste gems.

In a hospital in this city the owner confessed the stealing of the gems and their hiding place to a friend, who went to the stable to secure them. The idol disappeared, and not until this morning a letter told how the writer had been in the confidence of Rhodes and Barnato and how through a series of travel adventures became possessed of a treasure chest of precious stones.

Not knowing how to get them into this country without paying duty, which he could not afford, the owner hid them in the hollow head of the idol and concealed the eyes with paste gems.

WOMAN A HERO OF THE ALPS

Makes One of the Season's Most Daring Climbs.

SOUGHT TO SCALE AIGUILLE

Almost Perished in the Attempt—New Routes Up Well-Known Mountain.

London, Dec. 7.—More than 250,000 persons have swarmed over the Alps in the last four or five months. Nearly 200 of them have been injured and 65 have been killed.

Among the thrilling ascents none has been more loudly applauded than the attempt of Miss Alma Brownlee, of Chicago to scale the Aiguille de Grepion in company with two guides. That she lived to relate her experience is hardly less than miraculous. As it was, both her hands were frozen and she was on the verge of giving up when she descended to the village of Chamounix at the base of Mont Blanc.

Miss Brownlee succeeded in reaching an altitude of about 10,000 feet and would not doubt have been the first woman to reach the pinnacle of the Aiguille had not her progress been barred by the blinding snowstorm. At the inn of Chamounix on the day following her hazardous excursion, Miss Brownlee told her experience.

"Of course, it was a mad thing to do," she said, "but having climbed several difficult peaks among the Rockies preparatory to essaying the Matterhorn last year it was my ambition to be the first woman to scale the Aiguille. Everything went smoothly as we passed through the Blaitiere woods and mounted to the hut. Arriving there we found the guides had frozen up, but by building a roaring fire we succeeded in thawing out the hut enough to make it habitable."

"Shortly after midnight we resumed the journey and were soon picking our way up the hard snow slopes toward the Nantillon glacier. Gradually we mounted the glacier until we arrived at a sort of oasis of overhanging rock jutting out from the glacier."

"Pausing there, one of the guides suddenly pointed out a heavy snowstorm was blowing across the valley and approaching in our direction. Almost simultaneously a ragged cloud began blanketing us, a strong, cold wind sprang up and it began to snow."

"In less than ten minutes the whole aspect of the mountain was transformed. Snowflakes fell fast, lashing our faces, so that it was necessary to get out our blankets and cover up. So furious did the storm become that it presently turned into a blizzard, and it became impossible to see more than two or three yards ahead."

"At length the guide suggested that we begin retracing our steps. But having mounted so far, they were persuaded to wait in hopes that the storm would blow over and permit us to continue the climb. Two hours passed, however, without any prospect of the clearing and then, mastering my disappointment, we turned all hope of reaching the summit."

"We hurriedly packed up and started down, hoping to reach the hut before darkness set in. But the storm would blow over and permit us to continue the climb. Two hours passed, however, without any prospect of the clearing and then, mastering my disappointment, we turned all hope of reaching the summit."

not disclose, and the Welner-Bonn party succeeded in reaching the summit without further accident.

As with the Whymper-Douglas party 40 years ago, the German mountaineers met disaster near the famous shoulder on the downward trip. The order of descent was the same as during the ascent. WHEEL KIDNEY
RHEUMATISM
BRIGHT'S DISEASE
DIABETES BACKACHE

SNAP-SHOTS AT VARIOUS SPORTS.

Kid Lavigne, the greatest lightweight that ever pulled on a mitt, is returning to the ring, and hooks up with a boy named O'Leary at Saginaw soon. The Kid will get his all right, as the game is too strenuous for him just now.

A racer that can step three times in 2:19 to 2:22 over ice can win all the money in the $1,000 stake events for 2:35 horses at Ottawa, Canada, next February. Put that in your pipe and smoke it, and get ready to count the King Edward money.

Battling Nelson appears to be having a little difference of opinion with himself. Now that he has decided to take on Terry McGovern some time during the last week in January, and that the arrangements for the bout are all but completed, eastern papers are carrying lengthy interviews with the battler on the subject of the coming mill. In all of these Nelson tells just why he will beat McGovern, and gives interesting analyses of McGovern's style, to show that he is right. When Nelson was in Detroit at which time negotiations for the bout were beginning, he viewed things differently.

"I don't know much about McGovern excepting what I've been told," he said then. "I never saw him in the ring. When he was getting the money I didn't have the price to get into a fight club."

The press agent is responsible for many a modern sin.

General Nelson A. Miles, late commander-in-chief of the United States army, has not been heard from for such a length of time that he decided this week that he must be heard, and immediately began to knock the football game. The aforesaid Miles would eliminate bloodshed from war, and make soldier boys wear corsets. Every time he changes his mind he dons another suit, so that everything will be harmonious, and he knows as much about football, as Carrie Nation does about the Higher Life.

Sarah Bernhardt was almost mobbed in Quebec because she knocked Canada and the Canadians. We wonder what will happen here when she reaches Hamilton, if she dares say one word against the Tigers. The divine one has not acquired any more sense with her years.

The most exciting affair in Buffalo of late was a waltzing match. What next! Learn the game of hockey and have some excitement this winter.

Now that the football season is over, the American cities will give themselves up to such violent pastimes as pinocle, blindfold chess, bowling and physical culture by means of highballs. The yarn-spinners' union will also work.

Now, it is Woods' skating records that have been removed from the rolls. If they keep on, Hal Walters' fine will be remitted.

A dispatch says that Toronto is going to "can" the C. L. A. and play in the east. St. Kitts and Brantford will have this end of it all to themselves. By the way, it is almost up to President Allen to remove the suspension from the Brantford bunch for playing on Sunday.

Crescent, 2:02 1/4, will be trained next year and an attempt will be made to lower his record. He and Dan Patch are advertising agents, and will get Savage the money next year sure enough.

Wealthy eastern men who take an interest in horse racing are gradually drifting toward the continental customs of conducting the sport. In England the race tracks are not grouped around London, but are scattered throughout the country, while around them are the breeding farms of the rich men who maintain the sport. In the United States racing has been confined almost exclusively to the big cities. The tracks have been built with an idea to transportation facilities and "drawing" powers. This, of course, was a concession strictly to the money making side of the sport. The exceptions have been Saratoga, and, in a small way, Lexington. Saratoga has been an immense success as a racing resort, although it has surrounded the annual sport there with certain features that have been anything but a boon to it. The Spa has proved, however, that a well-conducted race track does not have to be located in the environs of a great city in order to be a success. Now, there is to be another great race track at some distance from any big city, according to dispatches from the east. This is to be located at Salem, N. H., just across the Massachusetts state line. August Belmont and other wealthy New Yorkers are said to be behind the enterprise which contemplates the building of a great plant. The promoters are said to have secured a big tract of land. All of this will be inclosed by a tall fence, and within this inclosure, in accordance with the provisions of a recently enacted New Hampshire law, the wealthy New Yorkers will be permitted to conduct their racing in accordance with their own ideas. Salem is near enough to Boston to permit people of moderate means to make the trip and witness the sport, but it is too far away to make it possible for the much talked of "poor clerk" and others of his kind to become enlisted in an attraction that is beyond their financial capabilities. In other words, the drift of racing in the east is in the right direction—it is becoming the sport of the wealthy, which is all it can be if it is maintained as a sport and not as a gambling institution.

Here are some more autoing hints: Keep all parts of the machine well lubricated—especially the brakes. On approaching a steep descent, pour oil into your brakes liberally. That will prevent them interfering with the revolution of the wheels, and if you will try it alone some dark night on a long hill, with one or two sharp curves, it is possible you will find it as exhilarating as falling out of a balloon. Your heirs will be so proud of you that they will cheerfully pay any small fine for exceeding the speed limit.

Chaffeur is derived from the French word meaning "nerve," and as it is always necessary to have your nerve with you when touring it will be seen that the chaffeur is an indispensable auto accessory.

In selecting a chaffeur, one with sharp, aquiline features, as offering the least wind resistance, is to be preferred, as it must be remembered that in automobiling personal appearance, dress, in fact everything, is subordinate to speed. You will not care how hideous or ludicrous you look after you have owned a touring car for a short time.

A chaffeur should not only be fearless but must possess personal magnetism and even hypnotic power of a high order, so that he may have no trouble in convincing the most irate village magistrate that a car which appeared to him to be moving at a rate of 60 miles an hour was, in point of fact, crawling along well within the speed limit.

When touring, cultivate a spirit of contemptuous superiority and pitiless indifference for all moving objects. The law, unfortunately, is not yet off on pedestrians, so you must be patient, but trolley cars and railway locomotives are your natural competitors and as such are entitled to no consideration.

If a steam engine is insolent enough to get in your way, don't hesitate to butt in. It will not hurt the engine any and you will be much happier—if your past life has been all that it should have been.

COVERPOINT.

ATHLETICS.
HAMILTON HAS STRONG TEAM.
Buffalo, Dec. 6.—Hamilton is coming here strong to compete in the games at the Sixty-Fifth Regiment Armory on Friday night. The half-mile international relay race will bring five entries from the Senator A. C. Hamilton, Ont. The Canadian runners are out to beat their competitors, who will be the Central Y. M. C. A. and the Mohawkians. The Canadian team will consist of Kerr, who has won races at the Sixty-fifth Armory; Scotty Northington, Canadian all-around champion; Frank Sullivan, a short distance crack; Skinn Jamison, F. W. Farmer and Chick W. Sheridan.

SKATING.
ROBSON CLAIMS THE RECORD.
Toronto, Dec. 6.—F. B. Robson, the Toronto skater, has written S. J. Montgomery, of New York, claiming the 220-yard record of Canada.

CANADA TO PLAY STATES AT GOLF NEXT SEASON

Cumming and Bennett Have Issued Challenges to Anderson and Smith, American Champs.

Toronto, Dec. 6.—Negotiations are in progress for a big international golf match next year between Canadian and United States champion professional golfers.

George Cumming, of the Toronto club, once champion of Canada, and Percy Barrett, of Lambton, who was a bang-up third in the open championship of the United States last year, have challenged Will Anderson, once champion of America, and Aleck Smith, admittedly the best professional in the United States, to a series of matches in the spring. The links of the Toronto club, 26 holes at the Lambton club, and an equal number on the American course, are the ones that the best players in both countries will be engaged.

POLO.
The Free Press Roller Polo team defeated the Horstons at the Jubilee Rink last night in an exhibition game by a score of 3 to 1.

WINDSOR WILL BE ITS HEADQUARTERS

Highland Park Association Decides to Abandon Detroit Track, Owing to War.

Detroit, Dec. 6.—Whatever the outcome of the struggle between the Western Jockey Club and the American Turf Association the Western Jockey Club will have Detroit to itself. The Highland Park association has abandoned the race track at Highland Park, Detroit, and will make Windsor its headquarters.

The latter plant is to be greatly improved, and 20 new barns built, increasing the stabling capacity to 600 horses. The Windsor Jockey Club has a very strong and probably will not be until after the American Turf Association meeting in January. If the Grande Point (Detroit) dates conflict, the Highland Park meeting at Windsor probably will be a long one.

The Western Jockey Club has secured the track at Fort Erie, at present not come into possession of it. The Highland Park association has a new track at the same place, but in a location much more convenient to the ferry on the Canadian side, opposite Buffalo.

THE TURF.
HALF DOZEN EXPULSIONS.
New York, Dec. 6.—The board of review of the National Trotting Association, in session here today, expelled six members and disqualified four well known jockeys, the disqualification of the latter to be removed on payment of $100 fines.

YESTERDAY'S WINNERS.
At New Orleans, Fair Grounds—Dr. Heard 8 to 5, Ben Lear 25 to 1, High Leggett 4 to 5, La. Sordere 13 to 10, Loggitt 10 to 5, Club 7 to 5.

BOWLING.
PRIMEAU DEFEATS SHEERE.
Captain Walter Primeau's team defeated a team captained by Alf Sheere by 37 points on the Y. M. C. A. alleys last night. Only one frame was bowled. The scores: 19—41—33—W. Primeau...122 A. Sheere...129

JOCKEYS GET SOME HANDSOME GIFTS

Generous Presents From Kings and Turfmen—A Life Annuity For Winner of Big Event.

Since the 5 lb. apprentice allowance to jockeys was instituted large sums have been paid to these small horsemen for their services as important handicappers. York and contingencies in the event of success is about the average amount required to enable a jockey to match his requirements of the present. The great success of his success in big races, says the London Times, Lord Archer, the famous English rider, once told me that the present present he remembered was a pound of green tallow which an old farmer jockey's parents to mark their son's rise in a small race.

The biggest present he ever received was £200 to nothing about it. The jockey's success in the most recent race was the horse lost. One of the most generous presents this jockey ever received, he said, was when he was sent to him, care of the Turfmen, to the great race. There was a sum of £25, carriage to week or so, Archer refused to take the gift, as he suspected a hoax. Archer, however, the stationmaster, refused him to accept it and now the carriage is a prize race. Upon opening it he discovered a handsome gold-mounted riding whip, and wrapped round it as a sort of packing were 50 crisp 5s notes. There was no explanation as to the sender, who was never discovered. Altogether jockeys have a good time.

The King gave Anthony, the rider of Ambush II, £500 and a memento scarf pin when he won the Grand National, and Herbert Jones received a similar douceur when successful on His Majesty's Diamond Jubilee in the Derby. J. Daley, the rider of Hermit, the snowstorm Derby winner, was presented with £200 by Mr. H. Chaplin, who won over £100,000 in bets on the race.

The rider of a Grand National winner a couple of years ago was handed the full value of the race, approximately £2,000, in addition to which securities were transferred to his name assuring him a certainty of £1 a week for life. Arthur Nightingall received a check for £1,000 for winning the same race on Dec. Last year over crack steeplechase jockey, P. Woodland, rode in France, and when he won the Grand Steeplechase de Paris on Sunday, M. Fischhoff made him a present of £2,000. A jockey's life is a very strenuous one, with early rising, plenty of hard work riding in all weathers, and little to eat, but his cloud has certainly a golden lining.

DANGER OF GAME IS TOO GREAT

Chicago 'Varsity Senate is in Move for Reform in Football.

Chicago, Dec. 6.—The University of Chicago has started a movement to secure needed reforms in football and the plans have gone so far that a committee has been appointed to investigate the game and make recommendations. A decision has been reached to the effect that some changes are needed in the game both to decrease the physical danger to the players and to do away with moral evils, which is declared, plainly exists.

Football is one of the subjects discussed at meetings of the university senate, the highest academic body in the school, on Dec. 3 and 4. The senate is composed of heads of departments and members of the faculty representing the alumni. The discussion brought out practical unanimity on the following points: 1. The promotion of physical culture and the discouragement of athletics have been from the beginning and should continue to be integral parts of the programme of the university. 2. The history of football in the middle west for the last dozen years is by no means a story of indifference on the part of university authorities to the various forms of danger, both physical and moral, which have attended its development. On the contrary much has been done in reducing the roughness of the game and in elevating the standards of its surroundings.

3. In spite of these considerations it is evident that football at present calls for an intensity of physical exertion and endures the players to a degree of danger of students. 4. More serious than these physical dangers are numerous moral evils which plainly exist. It is not necessary at this time to attempt the appointment of responsibility for these evils, but it is clear that they have for outgrown the vigilance of faculties in foreseeing dangers and in providing remedies.

5. The situation involves so much more than mere athletic relations that it should be treated as an academic problem of grave importance, and for that reason the essentials should be considered by the highest university authorities.

In order to carry the above views into effect the university senate adopted the following resolution: "In view of the moral and physical evils connected with intercollegiate football as at present conducted, it is the opinion of the university senate that the university should take immediate steps in reforming the game and in providing remedies."

To the president that a committee be formed to consider the subject and to report recommendations to an early date, such committee to consist of a chairman, members each from the faculty and of the university council and the board of physical culture and athletics. 6. In accordance with this action the president has appointed the committee as follows: Chairman, Dean Harry Pratt Judson; from university senate, Professors W. G. Hale and Abner W. Shaw; from the university council, the dean of the senior classes, Professor F. W. Sherman, and the dean of the junior classes, Professor Geo. E. Vincent; from the board of physical culture and athletics, Professor A. A. Stage and Dean E. B. Hulbert.

TWIN SULLIVAN THINKS HE CAN TRIM HART

Match With the Louisville Man May Shortly Be Made—Sullivan Confident of the Outcome.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 5.—It took but a short time for the news that Marvin Hart is at some game to reach this city. Today Tom McCarty, matchmaker of the Pacific Coast Club, wired Hart in California, and told him that he had agreed to a fight with Sullivan, and that should the Kentucky man agree, a good-sized purse will be offered. McCarty says Hart can come to the coast and start training at once. When this news reached the fight fans here it was at first looked upon in a rather dim light, but when Sullivan spoke regarding the match they took it more seriously.

"It will be almost impossible for Hart to make my weight, but I will not ask that of him. If I can go up a few and win, I will be content. The match is on. I never felt better in all my fighting days, and I honestly believe I can beat Hart's measure."

"Hart is in arrest of seeking a match, let him communicate with me, and I am sure we can come to a suitable agreement."

Hart is at present in Michigan, stopping at Tommy Ryan's farm. Neither Hart nor his manager have yet expressed their willingness to accept the match, but it is expected that Hart will say "yes" some time today.

Jack "Twin" is still training hard, with the hopes of getting on some of the top-notchers of his class.

Hart and Tommy Ryan are going through many different exercises, preparatory to their tour around the country.

BASEBALL.
Detroit, Dec. 6.—Frank Kitson, the old Detroit pitcher, has been traded to Washington by the Detroit Club for Jack Townsend, who has pitched for Washington during the past three seasons. Manager Armour, of the Tigers, consummated the deal this morning.

ECKERSALL IS CAPTAIN.
Chicago, Dec. 4.—Walter Eckersall was today elected captain of the Chicago University eleven for 1906.

DROWNED WHILE SKATING.

LOCAL MARKET.

London, Thursday, Dec. 7. The market today was a large one for this day of the week; in fact, the attendance was the largest for a Thursday in several months. There was a good demand in most lines represented, about the only exception being hay, as the market was over-supplied in this line. Prices as a rule were firm.

Grain—The supply of oats were the largest for some time back, as there were fully 20 loads offered; prices were firm, at $1.04 to $1.08 per cwt., mostly at $1.06. Barley was higher, at $1.01 to $1.04 per cwt.

Hay and Straw—Hay was again in large supply, there being over 40 loads offered; sales were fair at $2.50 to $2.59 per ton. Straw sold at $2.50 per load.

Butter and Eggs—Butter was steady, at 22c to 23c for crocks and pound rolls. Eggs were higher, at 25c to 26c per dozen. Poultry—There was no change in prices of any account; there was considerable offered.

Dressed Hogs—The number was larger than usual; sales were brisk, at $5.25 to $5.50 per cwt.

Potatoes—There was quite a large supply offered; prices were steady, at 50c to $1 per bag.

Butcher's Meats—Prices are higher, except for beef, veal sold at $7 to $8 per cwt.; lamb, 100c to 11c per lb.; mutton, 90c to 95c.

Farmers' Poultry.

Highest prices paid for all kinds, alive and dressed, will be today for quotations. FLAVELL & LAMBERT, 564 BATHURST STREET, LONDON.

DAIRY MARKETS.

LIVERPOOL, DAILY REPORT, WEEK ENDING NOV. 27. (Hodgson Bros' Letter.)

Cheese—The demand has been but moderate, although the market has ruled firm, and there is no alteration in quotations to report. The trading is decidedly speculative, no speculation being manifest. Under grades are in demand, but this supply is limited. We quote today: Export—Canadian, September and October, 100c to 105c per cwt.; do, white, 105c to 110c; medium qualities, full cream, 105c to 110c; lower grades, chiefly States, according to quality, 45c to 55c.

Butter—Strictly choice quality is a rare article, and is dearer on the week. Grades below best are plentiful and freely offered. The market is steady. Medium and confectionery grades of butter are in moderate demand. The Copenhagen quotation is called 2c lower for next week. We quote today: Choice Canadian creamery, in 5-lb boxes, 112c to 115c per cwt.; choice Danish, in 4-lb boxes, 112c to 115c; choice Russian, do, 105c to 108c; choice Australian and New Zealand, 112c to 115c; choice Argentine, 112c to 115c; choice Irish creamery, 112c to 115c; medium grades, States and Canadian, 85c to 95c.

NEW YORK.

New York, Dec. 6.—Butter—Best firm, elsewhere easy; creamery, 112c to 115c; dairies, 112c to 115c. Cheese—Quiet, 112c to 115c.

The Doctor's Deduction.

Mary A. Livermore was fond of telling the following story:

"Years ago, when the members of the medical profession were not so numerous as now, there lived in one of the suburbs of London a physician who had a large practice. Dr. X finally hired a younger and less experienced man to help him. The younger man was still a student, and was the companion of Dr. X."

One day the older doctor turned to his subordinate and said: "Henry, you had better come with me tomorrow. I've got a call from her later in the week you'll know what to do."

So together they visited the patient, a very sick lady. I should say," said Dr. X, catching his breath. "What have you been eating lately, lobster, eh?"

"But how in the world could you know?" asked the lady in surprise.

"Why, by the shells by the bedside. Stop all food of that description, and change the diet."

Take this medicine three times daily."

Both doctors then left, and the younger man was the next day alone when a call came for Dr. X. The young man responded. He went into the sick room and took the pulse of the patient, a man.

"Very sick, indeed," said Dr. Henry, with a professional air. "What have you been eating? Ah! too much horse."

"Horse?" cried the patient.

"What do you mean?"

"I saw the harness on the floor. You'd better change your diet."

"Get out of my house!" cried the old man in a rage. "I sent for a doctor, not a fool!"—Boston Herald.

Buyer paid $2,000 down, then discovered that the dealer had bought the picture for 20 francs. He wants his $2,000 back. But three experts have pronounced the painting genuine.

KAISER'S FINANCES IN BAD SHAPE

Germany Is Living From Hand to Mouth.

SHE OWES NEARLY $900,000,000

Von Buelow Says Fatherland Must Reckon With Deepened Antipathy of Britain.

Berlin, Dec. 6. — Chancellor Von Buelow today opened the debate in the Reichstag on the Government's new measures for increasing and adjusting taxation so as to properly meet the empire's increased requirements.

The imperial finances, he said, presented a troubled picture in comparison with those of Great Britain and France. Germany had been living from hand to mouth. The deficits which had occurred since October, 1899, were even larger.

The empire until 1875 was free from debt. Now it owed $75,000,000 for which $25,000,000 in interest was required. The debt of the empire and those of the confederated German states amounted to $750,000,000, or over $2 per capita.

The United States, while Germany had been increasing her debt to the great sum he had mentioned, had reduced her debt of $350,000,000 to a fraction of that amount.

The other great states also had regular plans for the gradual reduction of their debts. Germany's expenditures in spite of severe economy had increased rapidly and in advance of the income.

Taking up the matter of foreign relations, the chancellor admitted that Germany must reckon with a deep-seated antipathy in Britain, but he greeted with satisfaction the recent signs of an improved feeling on the part of the British people toward Germany.

Between Germany and the other two members of the triple alliance, the chancellor said, not the slightest conflict of interests existed. Nevertheless Germany must be strong enough to stand alone without allies, if need be.

The relations between Germany and Japan, Prince Von Buelow said, were friendly, and he refused to believe that Japan would disregard the treaty rights of Germany, which had never sought anything else in the far east than an open door for German trade and industry.

It was for this reason that Germany wanted to preserve the integrity and independence of China. Prince Von Buelow said that Germany's policy had been complete abstention from meddling in the internal affairs of Russia.

He repelled the assertions regarding German political ambitions in Russia. Poland, which, he said, had been put forth in the former treaty, was not a German political ambition.

He maintained that Germany was a peace-loving nation, and said that the idea of German thirst for revenge against France was absurd.

HALIFAX SQUAD TO NUMBER 34

Entire Force at Wolseley Barracks Will Not Join Garrison—The Men Chosen.

The names of the soldiers who are to go to Halifax were given out last night at the barracks by Col. McDougall, the commanding officer. The company had been asked to send twenty men at least with more if at all possible. Col. McDougall was able to send 34 besides majors.

Major Carpenter, who has for several years been a resident of London, will go to Halifax. The major will be much missed, as both himself and Mrs. Carpenter were most favorably known in the city.

In the city, Major Carpenter has served several years as a volunteer, and through the South African war. The only other married man to go is Sergt. Moule. It is probable that Lieut. George Macbeth will be in charge of the soldiers at the barracks temporarily.

Only about 40 soldiers of the regiment have been striving for the control of the Republican party machinery, and which reached its violent stage in the assault upon Commissioner Kopf by George G. Roberts, a clerk identified with the Farmer-Jackson faction, shortly after the ward club election began the afternoon of Nov. 28. Last night Farnum's friends were loud in denouncing the arrest as a result of his personal enemies to destroy him and accusing the police of being party to the scheme.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6. — State Senator Frank C. Farnum was taken into custody yesterday afternoon by the police on the charge of being an accessory to the killing of County Commissioner John V. Kopf, whose death resulted Sunday from a knife thrust received during the election of the Thirteenth Ward Republican Club at 1460 West Madison street. He spent last night a prisoner at the Warren avenue police station, while his personal and political friends were planning to secure his release this morning, either on a writ of habeas corpus or on bonds.

The arrest of Senator Farnum marked the climax of the bitter feud between the two ward factions that have been striving for the control of the Republican party machinery, and which reached its violent stage in the assault upon Commissioner Kopf by George G. Roberts, a clerk identified with the Farmer-Jackson faction, shortly after the ward club election began the afternoon of Nov. 28.
