DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP

This wonderful cough and cold medicine contains all those very pine principles which make the pine woods so valuable in the treatment of all lung affections.

Combined with these are Wild Cherry Bark and the soothing, healing and expectorant properties of other powerful herbs and barks.

For Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Pain in the Chest, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Hoarseness or any affection of the Throat or Lungs, you will find a sure cure in

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

Mrs. H. A. Mison, Port Williams, N.S., says: "My son had a dreadful cough. It started in the fall and lasted all through the winter."

At last we became very much alarmed about it and started to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and before he had used one bottle his cold was completely cured."

Price 25 cents per bottle. Put up in a yellow wrapper. Three pine trees the trade mark.

Refuse substitutes. Dr. Wood's is the genuine.

ACTUALLY CURES CATARRH

W. T. Strong's Faith in Hyomei Is So Strong He Sells It Under Guarantee.

It is one thing to claim, another thing to back up the claim by a statement that if it is not proven true, there will be no charge for the service or the goods.

It is in this way that W. T. Strong sells Hyomei, for he has so much faith in its powers to cure all forms of catarrh and bronchial troubles, that he gives an absolute, unqualified guarantee with every outfit that if the remedy does not cure, the money will be refunded.

Hyomei is based on nature's way of curing catarrh. It contains the concentrated healing oils and gums of the pine woods, prepared in such form that they can be brought into your own home. It gives the health advantages of the Adirondacks in such form that you can be cured of catarrh and affections of the nose, throat and lungs while at home or at work.

A complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1. and extra bottles, if needed, may be obtained for 50 cents.

With Hyomei you can cure catarrh pleasantly and easily at small expense, with no risk of the treatment costing a penny unless it cures.

Permanent Impairment of Vitality

Should Be Carefully Guarded Against

Continuous coughs, colds, chills, attacks of influenza and la grippe, if not carefully looked after produce permanent impairment of vitality and produce inability to resist or throw off disease. There is one unfailing remedy that can always and ever be depended to not only cure these and the more advanced and serious ills which result from these diseases, such as pneumonia, consumption and all wasting diseases. It builds up the system by strengthening the stomach, aiding digestion and building the entire system. "I consider it a duty to other mothers and other sufferers to tell of my experience with PSYCHINE. One year has already passed since I discontinued taking these remedies, and there has been no return of my former trouble. Before taking PSYCHINE my system became run down. I lost flesh and strength rapidly. It was as much as my life was worth to eat ordinary heavy food. I owe my present splendid health to PSYCHINE."

OBSEQUIES OF DEAD I. O. F. CHIEF

Will Lie in State at Toronto and Be Interred at Deseronto.

Toronto, March 4.—The executive council of the I. O. F. was in session this morning at the Temple building with a view to arranging the details of the funeral of the late Dr. Oronhyatekha.

The members were all present with the exception of Mr. Victor Marin, of Montreal, and J. D. Clark, of Dayton, Ohio.

Those members who deliberated were Messrs. Robert Matheson, Toronto; H. A. Collins, Toronto, and E. G. Stevenson, of Detroit. Assistant Supreme Chief Ranger Thomas Lawless was also in attendance.

The announcement was made that the body would reach the city at 10:50 on Wednesday morning. At the Union station it will be met by the members of the executive council and head office staff, and also a uniformed guard, composed of Royal Foresters.

The band of the Forty-eighth Highlanders will supply the funeral music. When the cortege has been formed it will proceed along Front to York, up York to King, along King to Yonge, up Yonge to Shuter, and thence to Massey Hall.

Here preparation will have been made to admit of the remains lying in state during the afternoon, when an opportunity will be given to the members of the order to take a last view of the face of their beloved chief.

A public memorial service is timed for 7:30 o'clock that evening in Massey Hall, when, in all probability, a eulogy will be pronounced by Rev. Dr. W. J. McCaughan, of the First Presbyterian Church, Chicago. When Dr. McCaughan was pastor of New St. Andrew's Church, King street west, he was one of the closest personal friends of the deceased, and continued so up to the end.

A special car will be attached to the 9:30 train on the G. T. R. Thursday morning for the accommodation of the principal mourners. In this car the body will be conveyed to Deseronto, where interment is to take place in the old Indian burying ground.

Further details as to the burial cannot be arranged until an opportunity has been taken to consult with the members of the family. Dr. Oronhyatekha's daughter, Mrs. Johnson, of Deseronto, who married in June last, is expected in the city this evening. His son, Dr. Ackland Oronhyatekha, reached Washington this morning, where he will await the coming of his father's remains. The corpse will reach the American capital at 11:40 this evening, but, owing to poor train connection, the journey cannot be continued until tomorrow morning.

Another delay will be met for a similar reason at Buffalo tomorrow evening, so that the body cannot reach Toronto before Wednesday morning.

When the late Dr. Oronhyatekha visited the old Indian reserve near Deseronto he was always welcomed with those evidences of respect which became his position as a chief, but he was not legally the head of the tribe any longer. In the burial ground there, however, his wife, a daughter of Chief Joseph Brant, who died in 1901, lies buried, along with one son who was drowned in the Thames disaster on the 24th of May, 1851. Alongside their remains the doctor will be interred, but whether on Thursday or Friday has not been as yet determined.

The pallbearers will not be selected until Mrs. Johnson has had an opportunity to confer with the executive council.

Mr. Robert Matheson, the supreme secretary, was this morning in receipt of telegrams of condolence from all over Canada and the United States. Rumor as to the doctor's precarious condition had reached London, Eng., and a cablegram of inquiry was also received from that point.

As regards Dr. Oronhyatekha's successor, Mr. Matheson said that, not only had this subject not been considered by the executive council, but that no step would be taken in this direction until after the obsequies had been completed.

In the meantime the executive council has itself all the powers of the supreme chief ranger, and will be, of course, required to fill the vacancy in the shortest possible time. It is said to be untrue, as alleged in a morning paper, that Mr. Victor Marin is temporarily the head of the order. There are certain conditions under which he would assume charge, but those conditions, it is said, do not exist now.

On the Temple building this morning four flags floated at half-mast. On the main tower the Forestry banner was unfurled—a combination of the British ensign and the American flag; a design of the late supreme chief himself. On the principal corner of the building the British flag flew, while the United States on the other corners the Stars and Stripes and the Tri-color were in evidence. The composite flag to which reference has been made, was adopted by the deceased, because this order is mainly entrenched in Canada and the United States.

City Council Made a Short Meeting Record Last Night

Concluded Its Business in Less Than an Hour—Minor Matters Dealt With.

The city council met last night and distinguished itself by concluding its session in less than one hour.

There was a complete absence of oratorical pyrotechnics. True, there was an abundance of latent oratory, but nothing occurred to arouse it.

Mayor Judd, Ald. Cooper, Rose, Gillman, Saunders, Booth, Gerry, Scarlett, Beattie, Stevely, Mr. Garratt, and City Clerk Baker were present.

No. 1 committee's report recommended that the application of C. H. Bayley for remission of business tax for 1906, be filed, as Ald. Stevely, who thought to have the tax remitted at the committee meeting, again endeavored to have what he termed justice done to Mr. Bayley, who was only in business one month in 1906, and whose business was not sold to anyone but was put out of existence. Ald. Gillman seconded Ald. Stevely's motion.

Ald. Beattie opposed the motion, stating that the city solicitor had advised that the city had no power to do anything for Mr. Bayley.

Ald. Stevely's motion was carried on the following vote:

Yeas—Ald. Stevely, Gillman, Gerry, Saunders, Cooper and Rose—5.

Nays—Ald. Beattie, Scarlett, Garratt, Booth, and Mayor Judd—5.

Ald. Beattie determined to carry the fight into Africa, however. He gave notice of motion to have the clause reconsidered at the next meeting of the council.

The other clauses of No. 1 report were carried.

Dufferin Avenue East.

When No. 2 committee's report was read, Mr. Garratt objected to clause 2, which recommended that a further sum of $200 be set aside, in addition to the $500 appropriated last year, for the purpose of opening up Dufferin avenue east. Mr. Garratt succeeded in having the clause so amended that in order to get the total of $700, the interested property owners must present sufficiently signed petitions for cement walks and a sewer on the street.

All the other clauses of No. 2 report were carried without amendment.

No. 3 committee's report was carried. It included a clause making arrangements for the watering of the permanent pavements this year, and also other streets which may be petitioned for, the water commissioners can supply the water. Also, for disposing of the services of street watering inspectors this year.

Tenders for fire hall supplies were awarded in accordance with the recommendation of No. 3 committee as follows: Uniforms, overcoats and winter caps, R. J. Young & Co.; shirts, Graham Bros.; caps, E. Beltz. The price of the uniforms, with an extra pair of pants, was $18 each.

Nothing Doing.

Under the head of inquiries, Ald. Gillman asked if the Bell Telephone Company is at present paying the city anything for its franchise in London.

Ald. Beattie replied that he was not in possession of the facts, and did not know whether any sum was being paid the city by the company.

Mr. Garratt asked if it is the intention to have the bylaws revised this year. Chairman Beattie, of No. 1, said nothing has been done so far.

"Is No. 1 going to take a census this year?" Ald. Cooper asked.

"I'll answer that question," the mayor said. "It all depends upon whether we get the power from the Legislature to take it."

Secretary Hunt, of the Western Fair board, presented a request for a sum of $2,500, being half the cost of certain improvements which it is proposed to make to the fair grounds and buildings. No. 1.

The Orlan Baseball Club asked for the use of the city hall for a benefit concert. No. 1 with power.

Chas. G. Moorhead, secretary of the East End Baseball League, asked for the use of the grounds on Queen's Park on Saturday afternoons during the season, for baseball matches. Granted.

The Wortman & Ward Baseball Club asked for the use of the east end hall for a concert on March 22. Granted.

Dates of Elections.

T. H. Preston, M. L. A. for South Brant, wrote the council that a bill, promoted by the Ontario Municipal Union, has been placed in his hands, to be moved in the Legislature, giving cities the option of holding municipal nominations on the last Monday in November, and polling the first Monday in December. He asked for the council's views on the matter. No. 1.

City Engineer Graydon wrote the council that in 1899 the London Street Railway Company agreed to stop its cars at Talbot and Dundas streets, King street and Dundas streets, but that they have been ignoring the practice for some years, with the result that several accidents have occurred. He recommended that a bylaw be passed to compel the company to stop its cars before crossings the intersections named. No. 1.

The Y. M. C. A. asked to be relieved of the payment of a license fee for the auditorium. No. 3.

The public library board presented its estimates for the year, the sum being $11,215, the amount required from the city being $5,695.00, equaling two-fifths of a mill on the taxation. No. 1.

Dr. MacCallum, superintendent of the London Insane Asylum, presented an account of $25 for the examination of five persons in the London Jail, who were supposed to be insane. No. 1.

Other Matters.

The Y. M. C. A. asked for the annual grant of $100. No. 1.

The Children's Aid Society requested the usual grant of $750. No. 1.

The Charity Organization Society asked for the usual grant of $200. No. 1.

Smallman & Ingram, drygoods merchants, asked permission to excavate under sidewalks on Dundas street, Richmond street and the market square, upon which the firm's new store will have frontages. No. 2.

The residents of the district named asked for the filling in of the south end of Anderson avenue, as it is now a very dangerous condition, the street being impassable to Trafalgar street. No. 2.

James D. Wilson and John Quail asked for a sewer on Carling street to connect with the police station sewer. No. 2.

London and Middlesex Historical Society proposed to erect brass tablets on the guns in Victoria Park at a cost of $35. The society, which is willing to pay one-half the cost, asked the co-operation of the city council. No. 1.

A petition was presented for an electric light at the corner of York and Rectory streets. No. 3.

The following petitions for local improvements were sent to No. 2 committee:

For a tile sewer on Emery street, High street to Ridout.

Against the sewer on Rectory street to Egerton to Simcoe streets.

For a cement walk on Ontario street, west side, Elias street to Central avenue.

For a cement walk on south Oxford street, William to Midland street.

For a cement walk on north Victoria street, Richmond to St. George streets.

Against a cement walk on Lovett street, Rectory street to Chesley avenue.

Against a cement walk on south Elmwood avenue, Cathcart to Edward.

Against a cement walk on north Dundas street, Wilson avenue to Wharncliffe road.

City Clerk Baker recommended that the printing contract held by C. P. Heal & Co. be canceled, as the work done for the city this year has been generally unsatisfactory. No. 1.

CAN'T MOVE THE WHEAT

Millions of Bushels of Last Year's Crop Still Unmoved.

Regina, March 4.—From reports received by the department of agriculture it is apparent that 50 per cent of the 1906 wheat crop is still in the hands of the farmers of the province. Grain is lying on the prairie covered only with straw, and unless shipped before spring will be a total loss.

To the new settlers the effect is most disastrous. Unable to market their grain they are as a result financially embarrassed and will be more so before spring comes. By March 15 the roads will be impassable in many places and to haul grain will be impossible.

At many points more than 75 per cent of the grain is still in the farmers' hands, while, striking an average, it is estimated that the farmers of the province are still held up with 50 per cent of their wheat. With an estimated crop of 6,420,000 bushels at fourteen points on the Soo line, only 2,274,000 bushels have been shipped, while 1,404 bushels are in the elevators; sixteen points on the C. P. R. main line, with an estimated crop of 7,505,000 bushels, show a total of 1,813,000 bushels shipped and 1,937,000 bushels in the elevators, and other branches tell a similar tale of millions and millions of bushels of wheat still in the farmers' hands.

CHURCHILL TURNS UP.

Stratford, March 4.—Fred Churchill, the young Englishman who was reported to have mysteriously disappeared about a month ago from the farm of W. P. Thompson, in East Zorra, has been located in this city, and is employed as a fireman on the Grand Trunk.

Pine Wood Treatment Cures Catarrh

Nothing in the Annals of Medicine so Effective for Bronchitis and Throat Trouble as

CATARRHOZONE

The significant freedom from respiratory troubles in pine woods regions led scientists to work on a remedy that would combine all the healing balsams of these trees.

This research led to the discovery of Catarrhazone, which is probably the greatest healer known.

Its action on catarrh is simply wonderful—relieves, prevents, cures the worst cases.

Cough medicines go to the stomach—of course they fall.

Catarrhazone goes right where the germs are—and it cures. The tiniest cell in the lungs is treated by Catarrhazone. The sore bronchial tubes are soothed and healed, inflamed nostrils are cleared of discharge—weak throat is strengthened and all trace of catarrh disappears.

A thousand times doctors have proved Catarrh can't live if Catarrhazone is used.

It's a cure that works quickly and thoroughly, too.

Extremely pleasant—quite free from drugs (because you breathe it), nothing compares with Catarrhazone for winter ills.

The large $1 size is guaranteed; small (trial) size, 25c. All dealers or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U. S. A.

New Styles in American Silkolines 17c a Yard

A large spring shipment of American Silkolines has just been delivered and are now on display in our Drapery Department.

All the designs are new and include some decided novelties in Oriental and Japanese patterns, besides a "hunting scene" design that is quite unusual and very attractive. These you must see to admire fully.

A large range of the dark green grounds so popular for draperies, screens, comforters, cushions, etc., will be found in the collection, which includes all the desirable shades.

The quality is excellent—strong and serviceable, with a dainty, silk-like finish. Colors are fast and the materials wash splendidly. 36 inches wide. Per yard.17c

OTHERS in floral and conventional designs, same width, at.15c

PLAIN SILKOLINES—now in much demand for shirtwaist slips. Pink, blue, yellow, pale green, olive and crimson.12½c and 15c

Draperies—Second Floor.

Black Sateen Underskirts With Parisian Circular Flounce

This style is often called for, and the skirt we are showing it in is generously cut and particularly well made. The Parisian circular flounce is prettily trimmed with deep pleating and several rows of stitching, and finished with narrow frill. The sateen has a fine, soft, brilliant finish—and will return a splendid degree of service. Price is reasonable. $2.00

Underskirts—Second Floor.

Charlotte Bronte's handwriting seemed to have been traced with a needle, and the penmanship of Bryant was aggressive, well formed and decidedly pleasing to the eye. Thackeray's writing was marvelously neat and precise, but it was so small that microscope eyes were needed to read it. Longfellow wrote a bold, open black hand, which was the delight of printers. Joaquin Miller writes such a bad hand that he often becomes puzzled over his own work. The handwriting of Capt. Marryatt was so microscopic that when he rested from his labors he was obliged to mark the place he left off by sticking a pin in the paper. Napoleon's handwriting was worse than illegible. It is said that his letters from Germany to the Empress Josephine were at first taken for rough maps of the seat of war. Much of Carlyle's temperament may be read in his handwriting. He wrote a patient, crabbed, oddly emphasized hand. The chirography of Walter Scott, Leigh Hunt, Moore and Gray was easy to read, and ran smoothly. It was not expressive of any special individuality, however. The writing of Dickens was minute, and the author's habit of writing with blue ink upon blue paper, with frequent erasures and interlineations, made his copy a burden to his publisher. Byron's handwriting was a mere scrawl. His additions in his proofs often exceeded in volume the original copy. To one of his poems, which contained only 400 lines in the original, 1,000 lines were added in the proofs.

THEY ARE A POWERFUL NERVEINE.—Dyspepsia causes derangement of the nervous system, and nervous debility once engendered is difficult to deal with. There are many testimonials as to the efficacy of Parmentier's Vegetable Pills in treating this disorder, showing that they never fail to produce good results. By giving proper tone to the digestive organs, they restore equilibrium to the nerve centers.

LONDON, TUESDAY, MARCH 5.

THE REVOLUTION IN LONDON.The results of the London County Council elections are little short of revolutionary.For nearly twenty years the County Council, which exercises a variety of administrative functions over six millions of people, has been controlled by the Progressives, who have followed a programme of radical municipal ownership, or "municipal socialism," as its adversaries prefer to call it.In the last Council the Progressives numbered 33, and their opponents, styling themselves Moderates, 34. In the Council elected on Saturday the Moderates, now called Reformers, will have 79 members, the Progressives 34, and the Laborites 3. The result is one of portentous significance for Great Britain and America alike.There is impartial testimony that the Progressives, with whom Lord Rose-berry and many prominent public men allied themselves, did good work in fostering a civic spirit in the metropolis, and rousing it from an inertia which had left it sadly behind the times. Its local government was an anachronism, London being merely a congeries of loosely-connected boroughs, lacking in efficient co-operation. The Progressives rose above parochialism and regarded the metropolis as a civic unit.
They magnified the powers of the County Council at the expense of the borough authorities. As a result of their enterprising and vigorous policy, London is a changed city and in many respects an improved one. The County Council has opened up magnificent thoroughfares; has torn down festering slums and replaced them with wholesome dwellings; has enormously increased the area of parks and open spaces; has established a great system of electric traction, and has effected other reforms which have made London a handsomer and more modern city, and conduced to the convenience and comfort of its inhabitants.The Progressives have failed because they did not know when to stop.
They went municipal-ownership-mad, and the ratepayers have grown tired of footing the bills. Enormous sums have been sunk in unprofitable investments which should have been left to private enterprise. For example, the County Council established a steamboat service on the Thames which is annually losing hundreds of thousands of dollars. The council has not been satisfied with municipal operation of public utilities which are natural monopolies, but has gone to such extremes as providing municipal billiards and dominoes. In London the taxes fall entirely upon the tenants, and the tenants have rebelled.Fifteen years ago the tax rate on rents was 2 1/2 pence on the pound or about ten per cent., so that the man who was paying a rent of $500 had to contribute a little less than $50 a year to the County Council treasury. But the tax has been steadily increased until now it stands at 3 shillings on the pound, or 15 per cent on the rent, so that the $500 tenant is now being forced to pay $80 a year to defray the cost of the Council's experiments. In addition to this,
the tenant has to pay the borough tax, which averages 30 per cent on the rent, so that when the levy of the County Council is added, the total tax is nearly one-half the rent charged.The last straw which broke the patient back of the London tenant was the County Council's plan to spend $120,000,000 in buying up electrical plants and municipalizing the whole electrical business of the metropolis.
The Reformers fought this proposition and made it the prominent issue of the campaign. The result is a blow for municipal ownership, from which it may never recover in Great Britain, the country in which the principle has been carried to the greatest extreme, and has had the fairest trial.WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN.Toronto is arranging for a daily train service into Cobalt and New Ontario. And to think that Ottawa might have been the base of supplies for this great new region if that line had been built in from Matawona! But our representative men would not have it.—Ottawa Citizen.Then Mr. Whitney, Col. Matheson, Mr. Foy, Dr. Pyne, and the other Conservative members of the Legislature five years ago were not representative men, for they supported the Matawona route. Messrs. Hanna and Gandy had the assurance to tell a West Middlesex audience that Cobalt had turned a million dollars into the Provincial treasury, which would have been lost had the Ross Government remained in power. Had the Matawona route been chosen it is doubtful whether the silver mines of Cobalt would have been yet discovered. The object of building the railway was to give access to theagricultural district north of Lake Temiskaming. If Matawona had been the starting point the road would have taken the shortest cut to Halleybury and New Liskeard, and would probably have run several miles east of the present site of Cobalt. The Ross Government chose the North Bay route because it would bring the Temiskam-ing country into direct connection with the heart of Old Ontario. By the other route every passenger and every pound of freight would be forced through Matawona, at the eastern extremity of the Province, with some profit to Ottawa and Montreal, but to the disad-vantage of the greater part of Ontario and of the Temiskaming district itself.The Ross Government builded even better than it knew. The railroad stumbled upon the richest silver mines in the world; it opened up a great tourist traffic to the Lake Temagami region; and it will link Central and Western Ontario with the new transcontinental railway. These great benefits would have been lost if the Conservative party in the Legislature had had its way five years ago. Its attitude toward this great public enterprise, which has proved so rich an investment for the Province, was determined merely by a desire to make party capital in the Ottawa Valley. Yet the members of the present Government and their followers have the gall to claim all the credit for the marvelous results of the Ross Government's policy.BRITAIN'S MARITIME SUPREMACYThe year 1906 was a record-breaking one for the shipyards of Great Britain, being the most prosperous twelve months in their history. The total tonnage of the merchant vessels turned out was 1,800,000, of which 1,550,000 is registered under the British flag. Sailing vessels are no longer an important factor in the British merchant marine, and last year sailing craft amounting to 200,000 tons was removed from British registry. The indications are that Britain will continue to hold first place among the nations in the building and sailing of a merchant marine for many years to come, cheap raw materials and the most skilled labor in the world enabling her to beat all competitors. British ships do the bulk of the world's carrying trade, and the Union Jack is on every sea and in every port. The British traffic with every people, and wherever there is buying and selling there the Britisher is to be found busy making money. Cheap food for the British artisan and cheap material for the British manufacturer have raised Britain to first commercial place among the nations, and the people of the mother country realize that she owes her present proud position to the trade policy established through the efforts of Cobden and Bright. They are wedded to the principle of free trade, and proved anew their loyalty to that principle in the elections last year.Canadians who failed to get their yellow journals on Sunday from across the line are no losers.Governor Swettenham has resigned, but will look in vain for an address and a gold-headed cane from Uncle Sam.Ottawa is discussing the improvement of its garbage removal system.
Mr. Borden might spare a few scavengers from parliament hill.It will be remembered that Dr. Oronhyatekha came through the insurance investigation with more credit than some of the men he trusted.The Boers have been placed upon their good behavior. It is not probable they will be so foolish as to abuse a trust which can be taken from them.AS IT MIGHT BE.[Sam Kiser.]
A few small changes here and there Would save mankind a world of woes;
The length of Cleopatra's nose Caused war and murder and despair.The jealous lover still might grip
His hand in friendship whom he hates,
And still be happy had the fates
Made hair grow on the woman's lip.The frenzied one whose hands are dyed
With human blood that he has shed, Might still be sane and free from dread
If she were snub-nosed or cross-eyed.ANYTHING TO OBLIGE.[Ladies' Home Journal.] The clerk was most obliging, but the young woman customer was hard to please.
Roll after roll of blankets did he patiently take down and show to her, nothing suited.For some fifteen minutes this mock sale went on, then the young woman said, con-descendingly: "Well, I don't intend to buy.
I was just looking for a friend."
"Wait a moment, madam," cried the clerk. "There is one more blanket left on the shelf. Maybe you will find your friend in it."THE DEFINED SUITOR.[Life.] Conversation lagged for a moment; then, as he sipped his tea, he remarked quietly, but with a meaning emphasis, "You are to be married!"
"Married me! To whom?" was the startled reply."To me. I came today on purpose to tell you."WORN OFF.[Denver News.] One day, after the brokenman had been reigniting out the window and explaining the scenery, one of the passengers whispered to the conductor: "Conductor, can you tell me how that brokenman lost his finger? He seems to be a very nice fellow.
It seems a pity he should be crippled.""That's just it, ma'am. He is a good fellow. He is so obliging that the just wore his finger off pointing out the scenery along the line."THE TAILOR'S CREST.[Ladies' Home Journal.]
The tailor's sign in a little inland town was an apple simply an apple. The people were amazed at it. They came in crowds to the tailor, asking him what on earth the meaning of the sign was:
The tailor, with a complacent smile, replied:"If it hadn't been for an apple where would the clothing business be today?"THE GREAT PROBLEM.[Life.]
"Miss Smith has written a problem novel, hasn't she?"
"Yes."
"What is the problem?"
"How to make it sell."THE WINDS OF MARCH.[S. E. Kiser.] Blow, blow, ye blustering winds of March!
Blow o'er the hills and down the lanes;
Assail the oak and rend the larch
And howl away across the plains!
Let croaking signs and biting sleet
Be heralds of your mighty rage;
Your domination is complete;
Blow, winds of March, you have the stage!
Blow, blow where skirts may flap and swish
And flying hats may disappear; Blow on, O March winds, let no wish
That I may harbor interfere.
Blow, blow, ye winds where'er ye list,
I do not rise in weak dismay
To ask you kindly to desist—
You'd probably blow, anyway.ONE ON THE DENTIST.[Chicago Record.] Pat—Did you hear about the joke on Hoover, the dentist?
Mike—No.
Pat—Oh went to him on Chewahda to have me tot' pulled.
Mike—Yes.
Pat—And before Oi could tell him to shop he pulled the wrong wam.
Mike—Yes.
Pat—And thin he had to pull the roight wan for nothin'.THE INSURANCE REPORT.[Toronto News.]
The long-looked-for report of the insurance commission is an outspoken and courageous document. It shows that the commission has taken its work seriously, uninfluenced by one-sided considerations of partisan politics, and comparatively free from the panic-born excesses which to a certain extent marred the work of the New York States investigation of last year.CANADIAN LONGEVITY.[Ottawa Journal.]
It is commonly observed that Canadians are long-lived. There are no statistics to prove that they are the longest lived of any race of people, but instances of long evity are so common in this country that it is probably the case that no other nation can show a more telling record.
As an example, take the obituary column of the current number of the Dominion Presbyterian. There are thirteen deaths recorded, seven of them women and six men. Being Presbyterian, practically all of them are of Scottish descent, which may or may not account for their longevity.
Every one of the thirteen was over 70 years of age, five of them were over 80, and five of them over 90, one being 99.
This, of course, is exceptional, even in Canada, yet this is an obituary record taken at random, and it would seem to establish this country as a place where the evening of our days is long.UNSUCCESSFUL ORIENTAL ECON-OMIST.[Menach Chronicle.] Choy Hok Wan, a tutor of Swatow, while on a visit to Shanghai, urged during a lecture that if every member of the vast population of China paid only a dollar a year, the country would soon be able to liquidate her foreign debt. The tutor's appeal was not received sympa-thetically, and he committed suicide.THE WOOLLY WEST.[Judge.]
"What are they moving the church for?"
"Well, stranger, I'm mayor of these diggins, an' I'm ter law enforcement.
We've got an ordinance what says no saloon shall be nearer than 300 feet from a church. I gave 'em three days to move the church."CROSSING THE BAR.[Zenonson.] Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea.
But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep Turns again home.Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark;
For, though from out our bourne of time and place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have cross'd the bar.WHERE SHE FAILS.[Chicago Record.]
"There's only one thing I know of that a woman can't do with a hairpin."
"What's that?"
"Button her waist down the back."THE PLEASURE HATERS.[Chicago Record.] A good many people go through this life as if they were trying to punish themselves for a grudge they had brought along from some former existence.ELEVEN YEARS AFTER.[Chicago Record.]
He married her to have a home,
A dear and cosy little nest, Where she would be the mistress, and Contentment would be in his breast.
Alas! how oft the dreams and schemes
Of mice and men are still upset;
He married her to have a home,
And he and she are boarding yet.KEPT A DIARY.[Chicago News.]
It seems that Evelyn Thaw kept a diary for fear she would forget some of the slang she had picked up.Malta-Vita

ing place. Immense sums had been ex-the diffusion of literature, sufferers had been taught to protect themselves and their families. The result had been that the German death rate had been reduced from 38.35 in 1886 to 46.78 in 1902, despite a large increase in population.How Norway Fights ItNorway's anti-tuberculosis legislation was a model, that country having gone the whole length. The system of compulsory notification was enforced, and if the patient's surroundings were such as to make the disease dangerous to others, he was removed to an hospital. Much had been done in the United States to encourage sanatoria, but little had been attempted in Canada. Despite a strong recommendation by a parliamentary committee that the Dominion should aid the provinces in combating phthisis, no action along that line had been taken.Grants for Sanatoria.The Ontario Legislature in 1900 had passed an act by which municipalities establishing sanatoria would receive a grant of one-fifth of the cost up to $20,000, but Hamilton was the only city which had so far taken advantage of that legislation. As showing the need for aggressive work, Mr. Downey said that in 1904 there were 3,877 deaths in Ontario from Tuberculosis. In the five years, 1901-2-3-4-5, there were 14,204 deaths from consumption, or over 50 per cent more than the deaths from all other infectious diseases, which totalled 9,927.Features of the Bill.Mr. Downey explained that compulsory notification was an essential feature of his bill, as without this provision the system would be of no avail, and the taking of other measures were of little avail. The bill also provided for the creation of county boards of health, to the secretary of which attending physicians would report cases or suspected cases within one week of their diagnosis. Such bacteriological examination by the department at Toronto would follow, and on the diagnosis being confirmed, the county board would take charge of the case, issuing literature to the family, and seeing that instructions were carried out, and in case the invalid's surroundings were such as to endanger others or prevent recovery, the board would have power to order removal to the sanatorium, which under the act would have to be provided by the county.The Legislature, said Mr. Downey in closing his remarks, owed a solemn and sacred duty to the people of the province to see that the ravages of the white plague, which had been so long a scourge in comparison to this destroyer, which carried off more people in one year than war did in twenty years. If wise and advanced legislation was adopted, a flood of gratitude would well up in the hearts of the thousands who would be benefited.Opposition Approves.Mr. MacKay, who spoke for the Opposition, approved of the principle of the bill, criticised a few of its details. He did not think that a sanatorium for each of forty counties, and a corresponding number of county boards of health, with a paid secretary for each, would be necessary. The county boards should be made as permanent as possible, which would not be the case if the wardens were chairmen.

The proposed system of reporting and analyzing was too complicated and tedious and should be simplified, and the provincial board of health should do more of the work. He did not think the county boards should have the power to compel county councils to provide sanatoria. Finally, he said that if the bill was to be passed, it would be better to make it a Government bill, and deal with the question from a provincial standpoint.Mr. Hanna said that there had been a change of opinion regarding the centralization of sanatoria. A couple of years ago, doctors and municipal officers of five counties had interviewed the Government regarding the establishment of an institution to be maintained by all five. Recently the sameJ. H. CHAPMAN & CO*Big Sale Wednesday Morning of

J. H. Chapman & Co., 126, 128, 128 1/2 Dundas Stdelegates conferred with the Government, but they had reached the conclusion that instead of one sanatorium doing for four or five counties, each county should have one or more such institutions.The provincial board of health, said Mr. Hanna, had been considering the whole question of public health in a large way. That body was drafting a bill providing for county boards of health, with a skilled doctor at the head of each. Mr. Hanna said the board would be best able to pass upon Mr. Downey's bill, and to obtain a consensus of opinion from the municipalities. Should the Government then take up the bill it would have the benefit of the work of the board of health. On the understanding that this would be done, he asked Mr. Downey to withdraw the bill.

The House adjourned at 4:45.

As it appears that the watering of the terrible annoyance, during the hot this cause?Of course, the down-town merchants have to be considered, but what is fair for Peter, also applies to Paul, or should be so, and it is hoped and expected by the writer, as also by hunsome way to occasionally water the streets on car lines, thus saving them the annoyance, dirt and bother before view that the time has come for reconsideration of the whole question of postal relations with the United States, especially as regards second-class mat-

10,000 tons of newspapers and periodicals from the United States to every 1,000 sent from this country. But our grievance is not so much in this disproportion of things as in the fact that under cover of second-class mat-manner of publications that are not entitled to the privileges. Canada takes the natural view under the circum-

under the ban as immoral or scurrilous.
The effect has been an unjust dis-

78—A PRETTY MORNING GOWN.

Some of the latest pretentious morning gowns are made chic and out of the ordinary by just a well-placed bow or trimming band. One of challs, which is most simple in design, yet very attractive and modish, is sketched here for the benefit of the woman who fashions her own clothes. It is made to appear like a real Empire. The fullness at the shoulder, back and front, may be tucked to yoke depth and girdled at the waist by a ribbon or belt, or it may be shirred and held in place by an Empire waistband, which makes quite a different garment of it and one of real style. The simplest of material may be used with no other trimming than the ribbon or waistband, yet the result will be altogether pleasing and graceful. Either style may be followed in the development according to the weaver and her tastes. In the medium size the pattern calls for 23-8 yards of 7-inch material.

trouts were more in unison with their holiday mood. Robert Ord glanced at them half in envy and half in contempt, and marveled how the world had dealt with them that they could stand so happily on those smooth white boulders, looking down into the deep sunny pools for the silvery splash, which was just now the object of their thoughts.

One of them was a poor artisan, with a disabled arm—a thin, sickly-looking man; he was humming a Methodist hymn tune as he mended his rod—a sturdy white dog was barking savagely at his own shadow in the water at his feet. Robert Ord noticed that his elbows were ragged, and by a queer transition of mood tossed him a silver coin. The man took it up languidly and thanked him in a subdued sort of way.

"There's a storm coming up, mister; there's a taint of thunder in the air,"
he said in a rough Yorkshire dialect, and then he went on with his tune.
Robert Ord stood and envied him before he turned away. What a bad, bitter mood was on him! As the old lawyer quaintly expressed it, he was just in the humor to play at fist-cuffs with the world at large.

A great blow had just been dealt him, and he was by no means a man disposed at any time to turn the other cheek to his enemy; all such sniftings were odious to him, and he was much given to show a very muscular sort of Christianity on such occasions. Mr.
Tracy's generous defense of Miss Maturin had secretly exasperated him, and he had some difficulty the previous night in concealing the fact that the whole tenor of the conversation had been insupportable to him. In his own mind he called him a fool for his credulity, and mocked at the old-fashioned chivalry that prompted him to go down into the lists. And being very slow at all times to yield up a preconceived idea, however erroneous, he was not likely to be won over even by the lawyer's eloquence, and least of all by his generous hospitality.

He chose to believe that Miss Maturin had gained influence over his aunt for her own purposes, and nothing short of a miracle would be ever likely to alter his opinion, and of course, less judging, he was not disposed to hold out the scepter of his favor to so hardened a sinner because she had eloquent eyes and a soft voice.

No, that was not probable, and as he walked along he strengthened himself in his indignation at the more than the smart of his injuries was fresh upon him. She had coveted that money; all these rich belongings had seemed desirable to her poverty. Very young women could be designing sometimes, and scheme for their own benefit.
Doubtless she had so schemed, and less durably those four years she had so ingratiated herself into her por-tress's favor with her smooth subtle ways, that it was no wonder that she had forgotten her own flesh and blood, seeing that her own flesh and blood had so shined against her. Her hands were not clean, so he told himself—not clean, that is, with an honest whiteness, and as he suffered no degrees of comparison in his mind, he soon grew to believe that they were of absolute blackness, that her deceit was odious, and that any forgiveness on his part would be a reprehensible act of weakness.

There are few gems without a flaw, comparatively few, that is to say, and so it is with human nature. The time came when Robert Ord owned that he was more shining than shined against;
when the scales of his own self-conscience fell from his eyes; when he saw clearly and judged righteously; when he owned that his pride and his un-charitableness had wrought his troubles and marred so long the beauty of his life; that he had himself to thank, and not the subtle ways of the world.

"That it was good for him that he had been afflicted," and that he had gained his knowledge through the bitterness of experience.

He had reached the Abbey bridge by this time; about three-quarters of mile beyond the Rokeby. The river knew, but he felt no sort of desire to see it. Already he had passed "Eggle-stone's gray ruins" unnoticed, and now he stood leaning his elbows on the stone battlements of the bridge, and looking moodily down into the bubbling river with eyes that saw nothing.

And yet the scene that lay before him was fair enough for a poet's dream; behind him was Egglestone, or, as the guide books have it, Athelstone or Egglestone, Abbey, built on the Angle formed by the little dell called Thor-scill with the Tees.

In this abbey Sir Walter Scott laid the closing scene of his "Rokeby."
From the abbey bridge one looks down the magnificent valley of the Tees, with its richly-wooded banks; the river itself flowing in a deep trench of solid rock, chiefly limestone, and marble; and from where Robert Ord stood the view was exquisitely beautiful the whole course of the river was broken up by huge boulders of snowy whiteness, over which the water bubbled and frothed in the sunshine with an endless fret.

By and by the noonday glare disturbed him, and he left the bridge and climbed down amongst the underwood to the very edge of the water; the smell of the cool dark vegetation refreshed him, and then he seated himself astride a low bough that hung over the water.
He had set himself a task; he was looking things in the face, as he called it—reviewing his past, present and future, all the time that he was dropping the loose pebbles into the current and watching the tiny eddies in which they disappeared. The shiver of leaves and the wet splash of large stone, and face recalled him from this dreamy introspection, and the low growling of suppressed thunder warned him that a storm was impending. The air was close to suffocation, and the clouds looked electric. He always keenly enjoyed a storm, and as he scrambled up the banks it came into his head that he would seek shelter in the abbey ruins that towered a little way above him; it would be better than having to exchange civilities with the tollgate keeper on the bridge.

The drops were coming down faster now, with an ominous patter and splutter, and he was obliged to hasten his steps; but as he ran up the green slopes and was about to vault over the low palings, he saw to his chagrin that someone else, a female, had taken shelter in the same refuge.

YUKON ONCE SCENE OF FIERCE FIGHT

Alenuts and Inuits Are Remnants of Original Prosperous Inhabitants.

Vancouver, B. C., March 3. — Long before the discovery of Alaska by the Russians the Lower Kuskokwim and Yukon Rivers and the adjacent Bering Sea coast was densely populated by a primitive race of people. The mighty Yukon River was known as the Kus-pok, and the Kuskokwim River as the Kuskokop.

At a point 200 miles up the Kuskokwim River you have it to enter the famous water portage known as the Kuskokwim-Yukon portage. While it is only 35 miles from river to river, it is as the crow flies, it is necessary to travel 100 miles by water and make by this route, over a low flat tundra country covered with innumerable lakes, and around these lakes is a favored breeding ground for countless numbers of snipe, ducks, geese, cranes, and the bloodthirsty Yukon mosquito, while the lakes and streams are full of whitefish and pickerel. The willow ptarmigan is also very beautiful on the tundras.

You leave the Kuskokwim River and paddle four miles up the Mah-kah-tuk-tah-lee, a small canal-like stream, the banks being heavily lined with dense growth of willows and alder brush. Six hours' paddling down this stream brings you to a group of old-time barrabaras, now deserted and tumbled in. If you are traveling light this will be the first day's travel.

Just a few yards below this camping ground you turn into and travel up a stream similar to the one you have just left, leading to a lovely lake.
On the tanks of this lake over 200 years ago it was customary for the primitive races of the Kuskok and Kuskokop to meet annually for barter and play.

When the first preliminary exchange of smaller articles was over, there would be three or four weeks spent in the yung - a yung (a singing), dancing, weird ceremonies, feasting and other sports and pastimes. The long-haired, supple bucks of one section would eagerly barter for the dark-eyed forward women of other villages, while the more crafty older men would add still another shrinking maid to their already long string of wives. Their argument for having so many wives being, the more wives they had the more fish would be caught and dried.

The trading for wives finished, then the games began for another week.

On one of these occasions when the sports were at their height, one small boy belonging to the Kuskok people accidentally or otherwise shot out the eye of one of the Kuskokop boys with a bow and arrow. It was then, and yet, a universal law among these primitive people, to demand an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth, unless other compensation were agreed on.

In this case the father of the injured boy was not satisfied with taking one eye from the boy who did the shooting, claiming that it was no accident, but that it was done intentionally, and without further parley put out both eyes of the aggressor.
This caused trouble and the Kuskokop people withdrew to their own country to prepare for battle, and fight this dispute to a finish.

In a few days the warriors of both tribes met in force four miles up the Mah-kah-tuk-tah-lee, at the first portage from the Kuskokwim side, where a decisive battle was fought and the Yukon natives proved victorious.
The remnant of the Kuskokwims who escaped fled down to the Alaska peninsula and, mixing with the Aleuts, soon lost their identity as a tribe.

The Yukon natives moved over to the Kuskok possession of the Kuskokwim country, and are now known as Inuits.

Henley (England) bridge, the condition of which, owing to the wear and tear, is causing some anxiety to the London Corporation, was designed about 1786 and took its name from the Yukon natives proved victorious.

He died before the bridge was completed, but was buried in the churchyard close by.

Mrs. Olga Scott, of Prairie du Rocher, Ill., started to walk back to her old Kentucky home. At East St. Louis the police, notified by her husband, took her. She sold her wedding ring during the 60-mile walk.

METAL POLISHERS' UNION PROVIDES A HOME FOR CONSUMPTIVE MEMBERS.

That trades' unions should take up the fight against consumption is one of the many signs that the age is awakening. The metal polishers, among whom the death rate from lung trouble is highest, have bought property on Long Island for a sanatorium, and the ministers of Brooklyn have agreed to raise a fund of $50,000 with which to build.

Since it has been learned that these lung diseases will yield to treatment, the mortality therefrom has been greatly reduced. In addition to fresh air, moderate exercise and nourishing food, great care should be taken to protect the lungs from severe colds. There is probably no more effective cure for a cold or cough than the formula prescribed by a well-known authority, calling for a half pint of whiskey, two ounces of glycerine and a half ounce of Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure). Mix well and take a teaspoonful every four hours.

The ingredients are not expensive and can be purchased at almost any good drug store. Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure) is put up, for dispensing only, in half-ounce vials, each vial securely sealed in a round wooden case, with engraved wrapper showing the name—Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), prepared only by Leach Chemical Co., Windsor, Ontario, plainly printed thereon. The oils that are sold in bulk and the various cheap imitations of Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure) put out under similar name and style of package are not only ineffective for this purpose, but under certain conditions dangerous to health. It is always well to remember that the object of an imitator is to deceive. There is no known substitute for Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure).

Cultivation and Smokers Various Periods to Quit.

London, March 4.—The present war for the suppression of the opium evil in China, in which Great Britain has expressed its willingness to participate, brings to mind the opium war of 1840, in which China and the British government were the chief participants.

This conflict was the immediate attempt of the Chinese government to prevent the importation of opium. At the end of the war Great Britain had won her object of opening China to general English trade, and to the opium trade in particular. By the Treaty of Nanking (1842) Hong Kong was ceded to the conquering power. By the same treaty Canton, Amoy, Shanghai, Fuchow and Ningpo were opened to British commerce. China also paid an indemnity of $21,000,000.

The approximate causes of the opium war arose several years earlier. Up to 1833 the English East India Company held a monopoly of the Chinese trade. In that year the monopoly was withdrawn by Great Britain in its own interest. This means that England had determined upon the opening of Chinese trade.

Today we find Great Britain willing to join in a conference with regard to a general and impartial investigation of the scientific and material conditions of the opium trade and the opium habit in the Far East, to be conducted by the principal powers having possessions and direct interests in that quarter—the United States, France, the Netherlands, Germany, Japan, and China—with a view to entirely suppressing the evil in the Orient.

The regulations for the suppression of opium growing and smoking in China drawn up by the council of government reforms have been approved by the Chinese imperial rescript.

A Great Inquiry.

The cultivation of the poppy is the greatest infamy in agriculture in China, and the provinces of Szechuan, Shensi and Kiangsu, abound in this product. As the idea is to abolish entirely the smoking of opium within ten years' limit, the discontinuance of the cultivation of the drug is taken as a fundamental step. The cultivation will be eliminated gradually in the ten years.

The viceroy and governors of provinces have been instructed to see that magistrates investigate and report on the acreage of poppy lands, and licenses will be issued only to farmers owning such lands on the condition that they will be reduced each year by a certain quantity of poppy, and the quantity of poppy will be replaced with whatever grain the soil may be found suitable for. The magistrates are to make inspection trips from time to time, and the licenses to be renewed each year until the fifth year, after which any land on which the poppy is grown will be confiscated.

If a magistrate induces a farmer to stop growing poppy and employ his land in useful grain previous to the expiration of the ten years he will be recommended to the throne of reward.

Opium has been in use for so long by the Chinese that nearly two-fifths of them are smokers. The government of China has urged officials, gentry, the government graduates, to get rid of the habit as an example to the common people. All smokers, irrespective of class, men and women alike, must report to the local official office of the place in which they live, where their name, age, residence and occupation and quantity of opium consumed will be recorded.

Will Receive a License.

At this time the smoker will be furnished with a duly stamped license, granting him the privilege of smoking for one year. There will be two classes of licenses issued, the Class A and B. The former will be given to persons above the age of 60 and the latter to persons below that age. But those who get the second class will not be allowed to change for the first class when they reach the age of 60. The time limit for the habit to be overcome is not specifically set. Persons of 60 whose health is declining will be treated with leniency, but those who are under 60, and hold the second class license must reduce the quantity by two or three-tenths each year. If the smokers have not given up when the

COUGHED ALL NIGHT, COULD GET NO SLEEP

Colds on the Chest Would Yield to No Treatment Until Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linsseed and Turpentine Was Used.

Overwhelming evidence from the people of Canada attests that there is no treatment so effective in the cure of bronchitis and cold on the chest as Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linsseed and Turpentine.

This is positively proven in two ways. First, by the extraordinary increase in sales, and secondly, by hundreds of such letters as this which follows:

Mr. James M. Thompson, Yonge Mills, Leeds County, Ont., writes: "Last winter my two boys were so bad with colds on the chest that they coughed all night and we could get no sleep or rest. Several cough remedies were tried to no avail until I was told about Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linsseed and Turpentine. This treatment soon cured them. It is invaluable as a remedy for colds on the lungs and bronchitis."

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linsseed and Turpentine should not be confused with more cough mixtures, and as there are imitations it is necessary for you to be careful in buying; 25 cents a bottle, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

time of grace has expired, officials will be ordered to resign, government graduates will be deprived of their degrees, and common people will be registered as "opium smoking class" and their names will be posted on the thoroughfares of the city in which they live, and they will be excluded from public social gatherings.

Although the opium shops cannot possibly be prohibited at present, new shops will not be allowed to open. Those in the villages, towns and cities will be registered and licenses issued, and, under a heavy penalty, opium can only be sold to holders of licenses. At the end of each year a return of the quantity sold must be made by each shop to the local officials for record, and the total of each district must be reduced in proportion each year until the business is entirely obliterated. If any shop is caught selling the drug after the expiration of ten years the establishment, with its contents, will be confiscated by the authorities and the violator heavily fined.

Short Time for Officials.

The ten-year limit for breaking oneself of the noxious habit is for the common people. The officials of the government, who are to set an example for the people, have only a few months to rid themselves of the habit. However, all officials, metropolitan and provincial, civil and military, high and low, above the age of 60, who cannot afford to leave off the practice on account of endangering their lives, will be treated leniently; but princes, dukes, hereditary nobles, presidents of the boards, Tartar generals, viceroys, governors, lieutenant-generals, deputy lieutenant-generals, and provincial generals will not be screened, but will be dealt with summarily if caught violating the law.

If opium is smoked, secretly by any official he will be recommended for dismissal as a warning for deception if the offense is proved, and his superior will also be punished for negligence of discovery. The instructors, students and members of the army and navy must all overcome the practice within six months.

Doctors Will Aid.

To assist the smokers in a speedy cure, skillful doctors will be selected to study and consult in the preparation of anti-opium pills suitable to smokers of different climates and degrees. The magistrates will be furnished with these pills to distribute among charitable institutions and drug stores in their districts, and if the poor smokers will be rewarded by the throne.

The Waiyupu has been ordered to negotiate some arrangement with the British minister to China in the hope that both foreign and native opium may be alike reduced in quantity each year and entirely done away with at the time stipulated. In addition to Indian opium, there is also the Persian, Annam and that of the Dutch colonies imported to China. If the country from which the drug is imported has entered into treaty obligation, China may approach the minister for negotiation, and if the country has not entered into treaty, China can exercise her sovereignty by strictly prohibiting the import.

PALPITATION AND DIZZINESS

For Five Years She Suffered Before Trying Bileans—Now Cured!

Palpitation, spells of dizziness, "smothering" and "sinking" feelings, stabbing pains around the heart and that "all gone" sensation. Do you have these serious symptoms? If so, read what Mrs. J. S. Blackabee, of Eighsburg, Ont., says: "For almost five years I suffered in that way," is her statement. "After meals I had pain and felt bloated, and when the dizzy spells and palpitation came on I had to go to bed and lie down for an hour or two. I feared heart trouble, but found when I began to take Bileans that my heart was sound enough and the trouble arose from acute digestive disorder. This Bileans soon corrected, and today I am cured completely. Bileans are just as good for constipation, headache, piles, female ailments, anaemia, blood impurities, pimples, etc. All druggists and stores at 50c a box, or from Bilean Company, Toronto, for price.

QUIDA AND AMERICANS

New York, March 4.—In New York they are telling an amusing anecdote of "Quida," the authoress, who is notorious for her frankness and candor. An American lady, who told the story, says that, being in Florence for a few weeks, she determined to call upon the famous writer and see for herself what sort of a woman she is. Climbing five pairs of stairs to the top of an ancient apartment-house, she knocked on the door. A maid of rather slovenly appearance responded and took the offered card, leaving the door open and the visitor waiting outside the threshold. Within a very few moments the maid returned to inquire what the visitor wanted. The latter replied that she was an American admirer of Mme. de la Ramee and was very anxious to make her acquaintance. Before the maid had reached the door a voice like that of a parrot was heard saying in Italian: "Go back and tell her I cannot see her. I don't like Americans."

The visitor followed the maid down the hallway and replied to the unseen speaker with equal emphasis: "I am not the only people who read your nasty books. I tried all over Paris to buy several of your novels, and the book-sellers told me there was no call for them, but you can find them in every bookshop in America."

At the end of the dialogue a stout woman of 60 or so, in a much-soiled wrapper and frouzy hair, appeared in a doorway, laughing, and said: "Come in, you American, with all your American impudence. I like you wit. Tell me about my admirers in America. It is true, as you say, I have very few over here."

The visit lasted for an hour and was very much enjoyed on both sides.

WOMEN STRIVE FOR THE BALLOT

Recent Demonstrations in London Sufficient to Show Determination.

London, March 5.—The sayings and doings of women who want the vote is the topic of the hour. The great procession of a week ago was an argument that it was difficult to refute, as to whether women desired to be enfranchised or not. Through the mud, the slush and the rain, the long procession wound its way to Hyde Park, and there was no doubt that women must be in earnest who could tramp through such weather and under such difficulties. Three points seemed to be clear to all who took part in the demonstration.

First, suffrage must come before party and blind party. Secondly, women are not prepared to wait for it until the question of universal suffrage is before the nation. Thirdly, that women, once accorded the vote, will be content to wait until a dissolution occurs in the natural course, exercising their power only at the by-elections. "Qui veut la fin veut le moyen," Mr. Zangwill said in his speech at Exeter Hall, and the million procession of women proved that many were willing to go through any difficulties in order to arrive at that end.

There were many who had never demonstrated publicly before, who had for years been working quietly for the principles of women suffrage, many lately used by some of the noisy means and yet one and all were imbued with the feeling that something must be done. "I hate crowds, I loathe processions and I feel a fool, but I want the vote, and if I stay at home and let others get it for me I feel mean," said a tired woman in the crowd. But women are beginning to learn that if they desire a thing they must put aside other considerations and make straight for the goal.

Men Managed Education Bill.

The event of the day undoubtedly was the speech of the well-known writer, Mr. Isaac Zangwill, at Exeter Hall. "Like a simple truth," he said, "this axiom took the human race a long time to learn. Women was a personality, a human soul, and what was more to the point, a taxpayer. The last great measure brought in by the male half of the population in this country was the education bill, but if there was a subject in the world with which women had a right to deal, it was education; but men managed this alone and the mammoth fiasco which had been brought about was a monumental example of made mismanagement."

"There is nothing particularly feminine in being ignorant of the affairs of your country," he said. "The late Queen Victoria, who had much to do with the politics of the world, was a domesticated woman, not to say Early Victorian. Women demand capacities, and a husband and wife who wanted to quarrel had no need of politics. The tactics woman adopted were called unwomanly, but they had to do dirty work. Ladylike means were all very well when they were dealing with gentlemen, but they were dealing with politicians." Mr. Keir Hardie, the labor leader in the House of Commons, was also present at the meeting to show his sympathy with the cause.

A discussion has recently been carried on as to whether women should be allowed to serve on juries. It has been said that women should adjudicate such cases as are brought about by differences between a woman and her dressmaker. A garment is brought into court, and the males are asked to judge whether or not it is worth the money asked for it, or whether or not it is a misfit. A woman juror would know at once, it has been urged, and would save much valuable time.

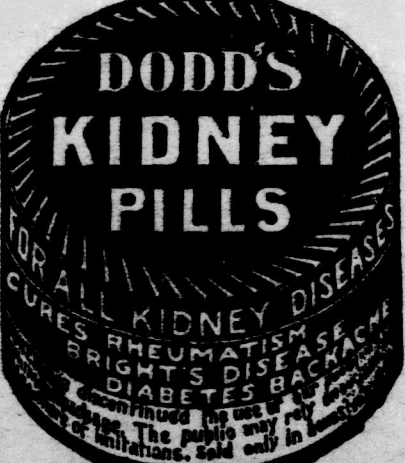

Women Strong on Justice.

The question is whether it would be possible to restrict women—jurors to matters which so vitally affect their own sex. I do not think there is anybody who has ever discussed a question which requires unbiased opinion with the ordinary woman who would not say that a sense of justice was not at present her strong point. Undoubtedly this can be cultivated, and must be cultivated; but I feel that it belongs to all those who are interested in her educational progress to realize the deficiency and to endeavor to educate girls to a stronger sense of the value of impartiality.

ILL-FITTING BOOTS and shoes cause corns. Holloway's Corn Cure is the article to use. Get a bottle at once and cure your corns.

Mr. Thomas Hardy says that he began to scribble when he was 16, and in his early years he appears to have acquired some reputation as a writer—as a calligraphist, if not as an author. Long before he was old enough to understand much about Cupid he would write love letters for the village girls to their soldier sweethearts in India. Mr. Hardy remembers to this day how he came to be regarded in the village as a sort of writing machine.

A woman doesn't have to get the legislature to change her name; a minister can do it.

Map showing location of the Silver Mountain Mine beside the University Mine.

The Property of the Cobalt Silver Mountain Mining Company, Limited, is located in the heart of the richest silver belt in the world, and consists of twenty acres.

It is surrounded by five of the best and richest shipping Mines in the Cobalt Camp, viz., The University, Bailey, Pig Pete (or Cobalt-Central), McKinley-Darrah-Savage and Silver Bar Mines, and it is also adjacent to the famous Gilles Timber Limit and only a few hundred feet from the Nipissing and Foster Mines, as shown on the map.

The Silver Mountain Co. has the best located and most promising undeveloped property in the Cobalt camp to-day and the men most largely interested in the company comprising some of Cobalt's largest mine owners and some of the best-known and most influential men throughout Canada, including over a dozen members of parliament, confidently expect that

THE SILVER MOUNTAIN CO.

Will Be Just as Large a Shipper as the Mines Adjacent to it in a Few Months

Mr. C. E. Kingswell, one of the best engineers in the Cobalt camp has made an extensive report on the property, and the company will gladly send a copy of same to anyone interested, upon request. He says in his report among other things:

ENGINEER'S REPORT

"Your lot is within one lot of and surrounded by the Foster, Big Pete and the McKinley-Darrah-Savage Mines and within two lots of the Nipissing, all of which are among the most famous mines in the camp. The property lies wholly in Diabase, and has thirty-eight veins so far discovered, and these veins form a perfect network all over the property. I carefully assayed this property some time ago, and never failed to get silver in any assay I took. The famous timber limit lies immediately southeast of this property, and borders it, and upon this limit the government are now working a very good mine, and this mine lies only a short distance from your property. Near your property and the timber limit a good small ledge was discovered last June by the foreman of the Silver Bar Company, and this ledge runs directly into your property. I know veins on your property that carry more lead than ever the Big Pete did at the start and no attempt has been made to follow these leads down. One ledge on your property has been explored for four hundred feet, and this ledge in places is quite four inches wide and is all free from the walls and have every sign of permanency and value, and my humble opinion is, that if a shaft was put down to a reasonable depth good paying ore would be found, and you could cross-cut to strike other ledges. I have explored and reported upon most of the good mines here and also upon a large number of prospects, and have never yet inspected one with as many leads as yours has and I consider that it would be a freak of nature if your claim does not prove a good payable one. The fact that the Bailey Mine, which adjoins your property, and the Big Pete Mine, which is within one lot, are both located on this same Diabase hill on which your property is, and the fact that they are two of the best mines in the camp, is one of the greatest proofs to my mind that your lot will be found to contain the same kind of ore as is being shipped from these mines."

THIS IS A CHANCE OF A LIFETIME.

THE PROPERTY OF THE SILVER MOUNTAIN CO. HAS NEVER BEEN DEVELOPED, THOUGH SOME

Thirty-eight Veins Carrying Silver Have Been Discovered on the Surface

And all the property should need to bring it to the shipping point is some development work. The property has been completely paid for with stock of the company, and not one dollar is required except for development purposes.

Just about a year ago, as you know, a block of stock of the Foster Mine, a close neighbor to the Silver Mountain, was offered to the public for 80 cents per share in order to raise money for development work. You know also that this stock has sold since for over $4.00 per share and can be sold to-day to yield an immense profit to the original purchasers.

BUT REMEMBER it is the man who bought the stock when first offered who made the most money, NOT the man who waited until it reached somewhere near its real value. Please remember the above and read the following offer:

THE SILVER MOUNTAIN CO. IS PREPARING TO COMMENCE OPERATIONS ON ITS PROPERTY ON A LARGE SCALE

And needs some working capital, consequently the directors have decided to offer for public subscription a small block of stock at

A SPECIAL PRICE OF

SIXTY CENTS PER SHARE

Cash with subscription. This is the first and only allotment which will be offered to the public at this price. SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR ANY NUMBER OF SHARES WILL BE RECEIVED UP UNTIL NOON ON THE 15TH DAY OF MARCH, 1907, and the directors reserve the right to refund all over-subscriptions as soon as the necessary amount has been subscribed. Subscription will be accepted according to the order in which they are received, whether by wire or letter, and may be sent direct to the secretary of the company, 95 Sparks Street, Ottawa.

If you have any faith in Cobalt you will get some of this stock and get it at once, for to-morrow may be too late. Opportunities like this only come once. We believe if you know anything about Cobalt, we have said enough, and if you want to learn more, we will be glad to tell you all we can. Send in your wire for reservation of stock, and your subscription to

From Singapore comes the story of a Chinese cook who had been addicted to gambling, but repented his evil ways. Finding that his debts were accumulating day by day, he went into the kitchen and chopped off the forefinger of his left hand as a self-punishment and warning to himself that he must relinquish the evil habit of gambling in the future. He became unconscious through the pain, but was brought round again in a few minutes.

SOUTHPAW SNAPSHOTS AT VARIOUS SPORTS

Tonight at Paris our pet Oriens bump into trouble—or victory. The contest will be the second of the series for the Carling Cup, and Bill (Wee) Macgregor says that he can already see Paris' downfall in his mind's eye. Billy is certainly the optimistic kid. When his team met defeat last week at the hands of the tinware holders, Bill said, "Luck."

"Why," he continued, "do you know that three or four of Paris' goals were mere accidents? Fact, I assure you. One time Pearson went to kick the puck away from our net, and instead it stuck in his skate and he backed into the goal with it. Another time the disc hit one of our boys in the back and bounced off into the net. And then again one of our boys mistook another of the bunch for an opposing player and took the puck away from him just as he was about to score. We're not squealing, you understand, but we are certainly convinced that there is such a thing in hockey as luck."

The local boys all spoke highly of the work of the Paris goaltender, and look upon him as a veritable "brick wall." However, the homebrews are confident of a victory tonight and next Friday night, when the Paris crew comes here, and will not give up until the last bell rings.

The City Hockey League officials met last night and wound up this season's league business. The reports showed that the season had been a most successful one, and barring one dispute which was withdrawn, no disputes of any kind arose between the teams. The Hortons, winners of the league series, have not as yet been presented with the beautiful cup emblematic of their victory, as the trophy has not yet been suitably engraved. The presentation will take place shortly, and announcement of the date will be in these columns in a few days.

What will happen to the O. H. A. next season? A few teams are still standing for the executive, but the bulk of the good teams are already on the outside of the fold. Peterboro seniors are the latest deserters.

Almost every other local hockey team having had a crack at (or from) St. Thomas, the premier Hortons have decided to take a chance, too, and they clash with the Howe aggregation tomorrow night at the railroad water-tank. With Mr. Howe at the head of the Saints, predictions are a rather dangerous proposition. Mum's the word.

There promises to be some great sport at the local armories next Saturday night, when the Twenty-first Fusiliers meet the officers of the Seventh in an indoor baseball battle. The indoor article isn't quite as fast as the real thing, but it is certainly a very interesting game to witness at that.

Well, the baseball season is on—in Los Angeles. The salary-cut Giants trimmed a team of scrubs in the coast village recently, and the New York sports made as much fuss over it when the returns came in as if it had been a real championship battle. Time was when this old bug had one of the best teams on the continent, bar none. But that was long ago. At that we can enjoy our City League and East End League brands just as thoroughly as the big league fans do their contests.

Evidently England was not to Billy Nolan's liking, for he and Battling Nelson have returned to the land of trusts, senators and baseball teams, and are running around with a chip on each shoulder looking for trouble—the Gans' brand preferred, maybe. Nolan tried to bluff the English, and was called. If he wanted a match for a 15-round bout with a possible chance of English rates: A $5,000 purse for a 15-round bout for some time to raise the defeat didn't look good to Bill, and after trying for some time to raise the ante, and failing, Nolan pulled stakes, taking nothing with him but regrets.

Jack Johnson isn't doing a thing over in the antipodes. In less than a month he has met and trimmed two alleged heavy-weights, and has been refused a bout with Bill Squires, the Australian champion. Squires says that he is looking for bigger game, and for that reason must decline to give the black visitor a look-in. If reports are to be relied on, Squires knows whereof he speaks. He does want bigger purses, and with less risk attached to getting them than would be the case with Johnson, who is recognized by authorities on pugilism to be dangerous at all stages of the game.

Lacrosse men who are interested in the proposed new C. L. A. senior series met at Hamilton on Saturday. Representatives were present from St. Catharines, Brantford, Buffalo, Toronto, and Hamilton, and according to reports they were bubbling over with enthusiasm at the prospects of reviving the series, which dropped out of existence last year, when the Tecumseh and Toronto threw in their lot with the N. L. U., an organization which permits amateurs and professionals to play on the same teams without interfering with the standing of the former. The outcome of the meeting was that it was decided to have a five-club senior series this summer. Whether the clubs will affiliate with the C. L. A. and play their games under its auspices will depend on what happens at the annual meeting of that organization to be held in Toronto on Good Friday. The representatives of the senior teams want some amendments made to the C. L. A. rules, and unless it is decided at the annual meeting to comply with their wishes they will likely form another association and will operate independent of the C. L. A. The sticking-point is a clause in the C. L. A. rules requiring senior teams to make a deposit of $50.

"Mooney" Gibson, the popular backstop of the Pittsburgh National League team, left this city for West Baden, where one section of the Pirates will train, and then join the remainder of the bunch at Hot Springs later on. Here's hoping that Mooney's batting and fielding averages will be away up this year.

Norval Bappte, the crack Canadian pro skater, is taking down records right and left on the other side, and only recently added the quarter and one mile marks to his splendid record. In the recent professional races at Pittsburgh nearly every entry was a Canadian.

WANDERERS WANT THE STANLEY CUP

Formally Enter Challenge for Trophy—Want No Outsiders on Kenora's Lineup, Either.

Ottawa, March 4.—Immediately after the conclusion of Saturday night's match, won by the Wanderers from Ottawa, 10 to 0, and which decided the Eastern Canada League championship, the Wanderers, through their president, Mr. James Strachan, waited upon Mr. Wm. Foran, president of the National Lacrosse Union and acting trustee of the Stanley cup, and formally entered a challenge for the trophy. Incidentally, they also protested against any will-bona-fide members of the team which will defend the trophy in the west playing in the series. This is to cover such a case as arose when Kenora came east with Ross, or Brandon, in their lineup. Wanderers fear that this will be repeated should Kenora, out in the west, or that in the event of Brandon winning they might pick up Tom Phillips or some other good man out there.

Trustees Foran took both challenge and protest into consideration. While, of course, the Wanderers' protest was accepted, he is not likely to give the formal decision for a day or two, probably not until the western championship has been decided.

TIE AT BERLIN.
Berlin, March 4. — The Uniformal Giants of Baden were tied tonight in a game of hockey with Grug's factory team, the score being one all. About 1,000 were in attendance and keen interest was manifested in the game. Nelson Selbert refereed satisfactorily.

INTERMEDIATE FINALS.
Toronto, March 4. — The dates for the intermediate finals have been arranged between Collingwood and Berlin. The first will be played on Wednesday at Berlin and the second at Collingwood on Friday.

LOOKS LIKE STRATFORD INDIANS FOR THE SENIOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Take First of Home-and-Home Games From Kingston Soldiers—7 to 3.

Stratford, March 4. — The Indians defeated the Fourteenth Regiment team of Kingston tonight in the first game of the finals for the senior championship by a score of 7 to 3. The score at half-time was 4 to 0.

The Indians played the soldiers off their feet in the first half, but in the second period they seemed to become disorganized and Kingston waded in with hard, close checking and two-man combination play. This was the most effective style and Kingston had things their own way at various periods. Richardson, on the left wing, was the most dangerous man on the team, and he rushed repeatedly right into the midst of the Stratford defense. His elusive dodging puzzled the defense, and had it not been for the stellar work of MacLaren in goal the score in the last half might easily have been made a tie.

The game was snappy and full of "ginger" throughout. Referee Hancock was kept busy penalizing the players for little bits of rough play and tripping. In this Kingston excelled and many pieces of backhand slashing and caped his notice. Van Horne was the principal offender, and by objectionable tripping saved Kingston's goal many times when the red line men were swooping down upon the nets.

ANOTHER CLUB DESERTS O. H. A.

Peterboro Pulls Out Because of Unfair Treatment at Hands of Executive.

Peterboro, March 4.—The Peterboro Hockey Club has played its last game under O. H. A. auspices. At a meeting of the club, held this morning, it was decided to withdraw from the association, and a communication announcing that decision has been sent to the secretary. There is a feeling among the officers of the club and the players that the team this season has not been dealt fairly with by the governing body.

About two weeks ago the secretary of the club was asked by Secretary Fitzgerald to send a statement of the claim in reference to the schedule arrangement, promising that it would be given consideration. This has evidently not been done, at any rate the local club has heard nothing further from the O. H. A., although it was understood that a meeting of the committee was to have been held on Monday night of last week.

It was later stated that the meeting would be held on Wednesday, but the explanation forthcoming as to the failure to hold that meeting was that President Darroch had failed to show up, though he promised to be present, first at 8 o'clock, and later at 10.

In many years of Peterboro's connection with the O. H. A., the team or club has never been disciplined by that body, and has taken what has sometimes been considered unfair treatment in silence. Last year to win the intermediate championship they were forced to travel 1,400 miles and play four games in a little over a week.

BILLY AMOS WILL RUN AT TORONTO

Londoner to Compete at the Garrison Amateur Athletic Meet Next Month.

Toronto Star: The feature of Canada's first big indoor athletic meet, which will be held by the Garrison Amateur Athletic Association at Toronto the first Saturday in April, will be a race between Tom Longboat, the Indian distance sprinter, and three Toronto men. The chances are that this will be a pit himself for five miles against Sellers, Goldsboro, and Cummings. The three white men will only be asked to relay against the great red runner.

Longboat has already agreed to take any three amateurs of his choice, and to secure the consent of the three men named. They are undoubtedly the three best distance men the city can pull together, and the chances are that they will take the floor against the Indian. If they do the race should be put on here, the most exciting of the season.

The Garrison meet, at this distance, looks like a huge success. Things are going along swimmingly, and competitors from Hamilton, London, Brantford, and Kingston have already signed their intention of competing. There will be all the usual events, except the 100 yards. This will be cut to 75 yards. Robert Kerr, the great Hamilton sprinter, will be down, and with him will be a couple of good short-distance men, who will make the Toronto side up, along with a few of the local home boys. The London distance man, will be here, too.

seemed to keep a mile away from him. Soured at this discourteous treatment, the hero eventually laid his tomahawk on the bench and departed for parts unknown. His absence, however, regrettable, was scarcely felt for allowance had been made for just such occurrences, and each band of warriors numbered eight.

When the bout began it had been agreed to play hockey. After the affair was on awhile, it turned into shin-lapping, and, later, into a game of checkers. Each player waited for someone else to make a move. Science? Yes; the goal judges were experts, only they had nothing to do for 50 minutes, and consequently, were given but little opportunity to display their adroitness.

Up and down the ice galloped the gallant braves, each eager to put a dent in the slippery, elusive puck, which for sheer perversion, seemed to outrun anything ever seen on local ice. For instance, one time Craig shot straight for the goal, and the disc went up in the gallery. Another time McNabb accidentally struck it and it almost took a button off Referee Balfour's coat. McKellar (the great), was the candy kid, though. Notwithstanding the fact that he had played in a game an hour previous to the last great contest, he was there with the goods. Of course, he didn't shoot any goals—but what of that? Weren't there many others who hadn't done so?

And so the warfare raged. First one side would almost carry the puck two feet and then the other fellows followed suit. Verily, it was most exciting, and if the goaltenders indulged in a nice little 50-minute nap the spectators didn't care. Neither did the referee: he was too busy protecting his corns to idle.

Scott Murray, the handsome, had the misfortune to stop the puck with his eyebrow near the close of the contest, and received a bad cut, while Cal Parker received a dent in the knee. With the score blank at the end of 20 minutes longer, and this extra time was productive of two points for the Vics. Who shot 'em? Nobody knows. And then one of them shouldn't have counted, anyway. At least Thompson, at goal, says so, and he knows, or ought to. "How could it go in, if I was right in front of it, the goal," he queried, but nobody replied.

Mention must be made of C. Clarke, the hero of two hard-fought battles last night. Somebody said that he played like a hoop in the second contest. The puck always seemed to go by him or through him. However, somebody was evidently trying to knock the gallant Clark, for his work was really on the nod Stuart order.

To attempt to describe the various excellent rushes intended, would mean to fill a page; therefore the heroes of the battle whose names are not here mentioned, may rest assured that their photos will rest in the hall of fame—or some other place. The line of battle:

Referee—Dick Balfour.
Goal Judges—G. Howell, F. Millar.
Penalty—C. Martin.
Timekeeper—G. Tait.

HOCKEY.
BLANKED THE RETAILERS.
London Life handed it to the Spittal-Sabine hockey team last night at the Jubilee Rink by a score of 2 to 0. The line-up:

London Life—Waugh, goal; Smith, point; Rowlands, cover; Clark, center; Fitzgerald, rover; Smith, left wing; Ball, right wing. Spittal-Sabine & Co.—Glover, goal; Young, point; Smith, cover; Reid, center; Phillips, left wing; Gray, right wing; Grosch, rover.

Referee—Padden.
MADE IT TWO STRAIGHT.
The crack Struthers seven defeated the Lobo team by a score of 3 to 1 in a fast, hard contest played at the Jubilee Rink last evening. After the contest the teams were given a splendid supper. This makes two straight for the local team, the previous game resulting in a score of 4 to 2. The line-ups:

Referee—Neville Chaloner.
A DOUBLE PROTEST.
Cornwall, March 4. — The Cornwall Hockey Club has entered a double protest in the Federal League against the Montagnards in connection with the match played here last Friday night.

The charges are that Montagnards broke the rules by playing Brennan and Baxter, of the Shamrocks, and Carr, of Brockville, also that they had not carried out their agreement regarding the referee. Cornwall's contention was that "Red" Kennedy was agreed upon, and would have been here had not the Montagnards taken two other gentlemen along, and gave Kennedy to understand that a change had been made. A meeting of the Federal League will be held in Montreal Tuesday night, to deal with this protest.

FINALS POSTPONED AGAIN.
Toronto, March 4. — The junior finals have again been postponed, owing to the serious illness of Mrs. Rankin, mother of the late Charlie Rankin, of Stratford, and of two of the players on the junior team. Lindsay consented to the postponement of tonight's game at Lindsay until Wednesday night, the return on Friday. Another of the Stratford team is confined to his bed through illness. The postponement was made by mutual agreement, with the consent of the O. H. A.

HEART TROUBLE CURED

In the rush, hurry and worry of modern times, we overwork the heart. Is it any wonder then that there comes a breakdown of this wonderful little engine, when such a continued strain is placed upon it day after day. There are many forms of heart trouble and the slightest derangement of this important organ is extremely dangerous. To strengthen the weak heart it is necessary to use a remedy that will act upon the heart tissue, restore and revitalize it and at the same time tone up and invigorate the nervous system, we have such a combination in

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

Mrs. Ella Fingman, Mangano, Ont., writes of her experience with them: "It is with the greatest of pleasure that I recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I was troubled for a long time with my heart; I had weak and dizzy spells, could not rest at night, and I would have to sit up in the greater part of some nights, and it was absolutely impossible for me to lie on my left side. At last I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and they did me so much good I got another box and they effected a complete cure. I have not been troubled with my heart since."

Price 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25. All dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Health Insurance for Women.

"Woman's work is never done." There is always something to do—running up and down stairs, lifting, bending, straining—no wonder the kidneys become affected. That is why so many women suffer with headaches, lame back, dragging pains through the hips, nervousness, are weakened or strained, the delicate female organs are disturbed and inflamed, bringing on a train of female complaints.

Bu-Ju The Gentle Kidney Pill

Insures health to women who work. Bu-Ju keeps the Kidneys strong and healthy, purifies the blood supply, and acts as a gentle, strengthening tonic on the delicate female organs.

"I was not able to do my own work in the house, and was barely able to dress myself. My fingers and hands were all swollen up with pain. I think there is nothing here Bu-Ju. Am able to do my own work now with comfort, which I was not able to do before taking Bu-Ju."

THE CIGARETTE AND COMMONS

Motion to Prohibit Sale Brought Up Too Late for This Session.

Ottawa, March 4.—Mr. Blain, of Peel, watched from the gallery of the House by the delegates of the W.C.T.U., introduced in the House of Commons this afternoon his motion for the prohibition of the sale of cigarettes in Canada. The House discussed the matter in a very leisurely way, the only real point of interest in the debate being the Prime Minister's statement that there could be no hope of considering a bill such as proposed this session, as he hoped, with the aid of kind Providence, the consent of the Opposition, and the third party, that the session would conclude early next month. In the connection it is of interest to note that the Government have given notice of their intention to take Mondays, the only day now left to private members. After dinner the debate was resumed on Mr. Bennett's motion in favour of legislation being introduced on the lines of the report of the commission on transportation. Mr. Arch Campbell moved an amendment to the effect that the report was being acted on by the Government and reasonable progress was being made. The amendment was carried without a division, and the Prime Minister, having announced that the tariff will be taken up tomorrow, the House adjourned.

The Speaker announced the re-election of Mr. Jacques Bureau as member for Three Rivers. The Prime Minister agreed with Mr. Blain that the question was not one which should be relegated to the Sunday schools. It was a practical one, and he was largely, but not altogether, in agreement with the view Mr. Blain had presented. If his information were correct, the smoking of cigarettes was injurious to immature youths, as was any form of using tobacco, but absolutely innocuous to grown people. He would ask, therefore, if it were fair to ask the House to pass such a drastic resolution, which would deprive of their smoke those to whom the use of tobacco was not injurious. If he might express his own feelings, there was nothing more effective than to see a young boy of 10 to 12 years of age with a cigarette in his mouth. That, he thought, would be a matter for police regulation and parental influence, and every possible means should be adopted to stop young boys smoking. The motion, however, went too far, and he did not think that such legislation would be beneficial, unsupported as it must be by a large section of the community.

In his estimation, the motion calling for the enactment of a law prohibiting the importation, manufacture and sale of cigarettes went too far. In any case, it would not be possible to have the latter part of his resolution effect, namely, the part dealing with the exportation of cigarettes in a bill this session. "We are in the third month of the session," proceeded Mr. Wilfrid, "and we hope by the blessing of a kind Providence and the consent of his Majesty's loyal Opposition, and the consent of the third party also (laughter) to bring the session to a close early next month." (Liberal cheers.)

Hon. Mr. Fisher thought that they should not act too hastily. He pointed out that the provincial authorities had taken steps to check the use of cigarettes, and his information and observations led him to believe that the laws which had been passed were more honored in the breach than in the observance. On the other hand, it might be argued that the law had not been fairly enforced, and that the inferior powers to accomplish the end they might reasonably demand. So far as he could see, the influence of the home, school, and church had lessened in Canada in the regard to the bringing of cigarettes to the youth. He believed the use of tobacco in any shape or form was hurtful to the user, and was prepared to support legislation in the interests of youth, even though it might be necessary to restrict the privilege of some part of the community for the benefit of others.

The resolution was finally talked out.

BID FOR EAST END HALL

City Reserves One, But Name of Tenderer is Withheld

An offer for the east end hall has at last been received. Out of deference to the wishes of the person tendering, the name of the tenderer is being suppressed. If the offer is accepted the name will be given to the press, but not otherwise.

No committee has the offer now under consideration.

SHADOW PIE SOCIAL

Unique Entertainment In Aid of the School Library Fund.

School section No. 11, Westminster, will have a considerable addition to its library as the result of the "Shadow Pie Social" held there Friday evening. This form of entertainment was quite a novelty, and attracted a large crowd in spite of the bad weather. In the first part of the evening there was a varied programme, consisting of dialogues, songs and recitations by the pupils; solos by Mr. T. H. Nichol, Mr. Hatch, Mr. Hart and Miss Maggie Nichol; instrumental solos by Miss Mary Nichol, and a reading by Miss Lovelace. There were also a number of phonograph selections, and an address by Rev. Dr. McCrae.

Then arrangements were made for selling the shadows. A large number of ladies, after just enough of a show of reluctance, went up behind a large curtain stretched across the front of the school. Then the lights at the back were turned down, and the fun began. Shadow after shadow was knocked down in quick succession, while the anxious bidders tried to recognize the shadowy features. The buyer was entitled to the shadow and half of a specially-prepared pie.

Mr. Hatch, of London, and Mr. Vanslyke were the auctioneers. Mr. Hatch is a licensed auctioneer, and any man who can sell shadows as well as he can should be in demand at spring sales. Mr. Vanslyke also distinguished himself. The evening was a decided success, and Dr. McCrae voiced the feeling of the people, when he praised the excellent work of Miss McCrae and her clever little pupils. Mr. Tait, one of the trustees, was chairman for the evening.

labor Mr. R. S. Hockin, general representative and organizer for the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, with headquarters at Indianapolis, Ind., has succeeded in organizing all of the skilled workmen engaged on the iron work connected with the raising of the Cove bridge.

The men, many of whom are from Montreal, already carry union cards, and the Dominion Bridge Company, which is doing the work, is highly in favor of having their workmen organized, and have agreed to sign a scale of wages embracing 40 cents per hour for a nine hour work-day, providing all the men provide themselves with union cards.

The men themselves were quick to realize the material benefits organization would give them and are very enthusiastic over the Company's willingness to sign the Union agreement.

In New York, Chicago and St. Louis the Structural Iron Workers receive a minimum rate of 60 cents an hour for an eight hour day, while in Montreal, Toronto and other Canadian cities the scale ranges from 40 cents an hour upward.

A general open meeting of the newly-organized iron workers will be held tomorrow night when the men will make application for their cards.

One fact which appeals strongly to the workmen is that a membership card in the Bridgemen's Union is recognized in every city in North America and a member can transfer from one local to another without cost.

The membership of the I. A. of B. and S. I. W. at present is about 35,000, and it is constantly growing larger.

CONDENSED LOCAL NEWS

—Miss Lillian McKinnon, of Woodstock, has taken a position in this city.

—Miss Kathleen Kirchoffer, of Toronto, is the guest of Mrs. Adam Beck.

—The annual meeting of the London Rowing Club has been called for Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

—A regular meeting of the board of education will be held this afternoon at 4:30. It is understood the estimates will not be discussed.

—A fire which caught the woodwork from a grate in the residence of Mr. Gillespie, 269 Albert street, caused slight damage last night. It was overcome by the chemicals.

—The case of Kelly vs. the Electrical Construction Company of this city, came up at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, yesterday, before Chief Justice Mulock, and was further adjourned until tomorrow.

—Mr. Frank Reid has returned from a business trip to the Pacific coast. Mr. Reid says there is a great real estate boom in Victoria, and Vancouver is growing rapidly. The outlook is bright in the province.

—On Friday evening W. Bro. O'Neill, of Thamesford, D. D. G. M., of London Masonic district, will pay an official visit to St. John's Lodge, No. 2094. It is also expected that a team will be present from Galt to put on the degree work.

—Brantford Expositor: Harold Meyers and Norman Bennett rode into the city from London via the Grand Trunk on the bumpers, and were taken into custody as vagrants. They looked the part in the police court this (Monday) morning, and were held for a week to await developments.

—The Salvation Army are holding cottage prayer-meetings at the following places tonight: 31 Oxford street, 852 Princess avenue, 182 Langarth street, 322 Burwell street, and at Mr. Burgess, Chelsea Green. They are also arranging for a birthday concert and social in the Citadel for Thursday night, for which a splendid programme has been arranged.

—The funeral of the late Mrs. Annie Heffernan, who died on Sunday last, at the age of 75 years, took place this morning from the undertaking parlors of Smith, Son & Clarke, to the G. T. R. station, whence the remains were taken to Rlyth for interment. They were accompanied by Miss Christina Heffernan, of Detroit, and her son, Mr. Wm. Heffernan, of Grand Rapids, Mich.

—Victoria Lodge, No. 2, Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association, held a very successful concert and cushion drawing in the Knights of Pythias Hall on Richmond street, last evening. Mr. E. T. Essery presided and the attendance was very large. The programme was a very pleasing one, consisting chiefly of music. An admission of 15 cents was charged and each ticket entitled its purchaser to one coupon, or one chance, in the draw for a large and beautiful cushion.

—"Mason" writes: "In your review of the life of the late Dr. Oronhyatkeha in last evening's edition of The Advertiser you state that he 'was a thirty-third degree Mason.' This is an error. The doctor was never a member of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Masonry, where only this degree is attainable. Many years ago he was actively associated with what was then known, but now non-existent, as the 'Egyptian Rite of Memphis.'"

NO CRIMINAL CASES YET.

The Middlesex spring assizes will open at the court house on Tuesday, April 2. Chief Justice Mulock will preside. As yet, there is not a prisoner in the county jail awaiting trial at the court.

FEBRUARY REALTY SALES.

There were 82 realty sales during the month of February, which is a very good showing for a winter month. There were no large deals. A couple of stores changed hands, but particulars of the sales have already been given.

PINED FOR ASSAULT.

This morning at the police court, James Springer was fined $10 or 21 days for drunkenness. Golden Smart was fined $3 for being drunk, and $2 and 42 cents for assaulting James Baker, a porter at a hotel. Mary Bigger appeared for being drunk, and was allowed to go. Two first-time drunks were discharged.

TYPES OF ORATORY.

Mr. John M. Gunn, B. A., delivered a most interesting and instructive address on "Types of Oratory," at the Congregational Church, last evening. The First Congregational Church last evening, which was much enjoyed by all present. Another special feature of the programme was a much-appreciated solo, "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton," contributed by Mr. Gibson, of the First Methodist Church League.

DIED IN HIS CHAIR.

Thomas Howay, a resident of West Nissouri, lot 7, concession 1, died early Friday while sitting in his chair. Mr. Howay had been living with his son for over eight years in the township, and was subject to paralytic strokes. His son was out at the time of death, but it is supposed that the old trouble was the cause of the father's sudden death. The deceased was the father of Thomas Howay, now working on a railroad.

BASEBALL MEETING TONIGHT.

Members of the South London Liberal Club who are interested in the game of baseball should make it a point to attend the meeting tonight at the club rooms. A move is on foot to organize a South London Liberal baseball club, and it has met with every encouragement. There is some good baseball material in the Liberal ranks on the south side, and should a club be entered in the proposed Liberal baseball league, South London will certainly take a prominent place in it.

A GIFTED WOMAN.

"Her perfect pronunciation and the real humor she possesses brought her complete success," says the London Times of Miss Marie Shedlock. This gifted woman will appear in London this week for the first time, under the auspices of the Women Teachers' Guild. She will give four lectures in the Auditorium, beginning Thursday night with "The Fun and Philosophy of Hans Christian Andersen," the great Danish story-teller. The American press describes Miss Shedlock as an English fairly god-mother, and in the literary and artistic circles of Boston she is a prime favorite.

DR. GRENPELL'S LECTURE.

Citizens should avail themselves of the privilege of hearing Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell, missionary to the Labrador fishermen, at Crayon Hall this evening. Dr. Grenfell will give a most entertaining account of his work, which he carries on despite innumerable obstacles. This morning he addressed the children of the Park school over the public library.

An Aged Pensioner of Thamesville, Ont., Instantly Killed.

Thamesville, March 4.—An aged pensioner named Goodrich, was struck by the eastbound Grand Trunk mail train this morning about 9 o'clock. He was instantly killed.

Mr. Goodrich was walking on the track and it is thought became confused by the noise of the approaching train and stepped directly in front of it.

BIG CARNATION SHOW

To Be Held in the City Hall on the 14th of March

A meeting of the executive committee of the Canadian Horticultural Society will be held in the city hall on March 14 to arrange the date for the annual convention to be held in this city in August or early in September. Mr. W. J. Lawrence, of England, Toronto, president, will be in the chair, and among the other members of the executive will be Messrs. W. W. Gammage, A. G. Stephens and Fred Dick, all of this city.

In connection with the meeting of the executive committee, a carnation show will be held, afternoon and evening, at the hall, to which the public are cordially invited. In the past it has been the custom of any person connected with the trade to exhibit anything of particular excellence that they may be growing, and the show has invariably been interesting, not only to the florists themselves, but to the residents of the cities where they have been held. At the show to be held on March 14, there will be exhibits by all of the leading Canadian growers, as well as a number of prominent horticulturists from the United States, including the Chicago Carnation Company, of Joliet, Ill.; the F. D. Porter Company, of Lafayette, Ind.; F. R. Pearson & Co., of Tarrytown, N. Y.; Cottage Gardens, of Queens, N. Y.; John Haines, of Bethlehem, Pa.; Palmer & Sons, of Buffalo, and Peter J. Griffin, of Boston, who introduced the great Lawson carnation, a few years ago, and sold it for $20,000.

The convention of the Canadian florists has not been held in London for five years. Since then the membership of the association has grown very rapidly. The attendance at the convention this year will be over a hundred.

NO SURPLUS FOR THE CITY

some very important developments shortly along the Titus scheme line.

Chairman Darch has requested Mr. Titus to give the city a figure on the supplying of 1,500,000 gallons of water daily for a period of say three or four years.

It is felt that this amount of water will carry the city along until it is a financial problem to go ahead with a more pretentious scheme.

"We could not finance a deal with Mr. Titus on the terms he laid down when he was here," Chairman Darch said today. "He wanted to sell us 3,000,000 gallons of water daily for $25,000 per 1,000,000 gallons per annum. In reality more than our cash revenue. But if we can come to terms with him for 1,500,000 gallons daily, we can finance the scheme without asking the city to issue debentures for us. Buying water is an investment, and so debentures for such a purpose could not be issued."

Present indications are that the commissioners will adopt the Titus scheme, if reasonable terms can be secured.

HARRY THAW ACTS IN ODD MANNER

In insanity," replied Dr. Wagner. "There is no natural way in which things are done. Insanity in itself is unnatural."

He then cited two cases in which impulse controlled the patient.

Mr. Jerome asked Dr. Wagner if he knew personally of any case similar to that of Thaw.

"I have seen thousands of cases of insanity," replied Dr. Wagner, "but no two of them were alike."

"Since you will not answer my question direct, am I right in assuming that you have never observed a case of brain storm or mental fulmination in which the persons committed acts of violence with calmness?"

"I have seen such a case," Dr. Wagner said.

"You could not tell what was going on in the defendant's brain except what was apparent to the eye, could you?"

"No."

"Now, was there any single thing in the hypothetical question indicative of a brain storm?"

"Of course not," replied Dr. Wagner. "The district attorney read extracts from the question, and asked if they individually suggested a brain storm. Dr. Wagner said that taken collectively, the facts indicated a mental fulmination—an extraordinary state of mind."

After reading more of the hypothetical questions Mr. Jerome said: "Now, doctor, tell me whether you think this defendant was suffering from a brain storm."

"Yes, I think he was."

"Do persons suffering from brain storms kill others without following out some logical motive?"

"Sometimes they do and sometimes they do not."

While Dr. Wagner was testifying, word came into the courtroom that Mrs. Wm. Thaw, accompanied by her daughters, Mrs. George L. Carnegie, had arrived in the building, ready to be called as a witness whenever desired.

"Dr. Evans has testified that this defendant was suffering from paranoid form of adolescent insanity," said Mr. Jerome. "Do you subscribe to that?"

"Paranoia," replied the witness, "may mean a dozen different forms. Paranoia means 'like in character,' and that is all. It does not mean specifically delusions of persecutions."

"Do you think this defendant ever had delusions of persecution?"

"Yes."

"Did he ever have logorrhea?"

"Yes, there was an abnormal flow of words. I don't use the term logorrhea myself, but it has been injected into the literature and has a place there, but I prefer simply to say a rapid flow of words. Logorrhea really means a pathological increase in the flow of language."

During a discussion as to the admissibility of certain evidence, District Attorney Jerome said today that the presumption before the court is that Thaw is insane now, nothing having been adduced to show the insane state had not continued.

THE INSURANCE BILL

A Discussion of Measure Necessary, and it Will Stand Over.

Ottawa, March 5.—While not officially announced, it is understood that the Government will not attempt to put through this session the new insurance bill, drafted by the insurance commission. The bill is sure to cause long discussion when it comes up in the House, and the insurance companies will undoubtedly wish to modify and alter many of its provisions. In view of the fact that the Government is anxious to conclude the session early next month, it is felt that it would be useless to attempt to pass the bill in the short time now available, and that no harm will be done, either the companies or the public by allowing it to stand over until next session. The Opposition side of the House is said to have no objection to facilitating the bill, with Government orders having precedence from now on at every sitting of the House, it is expected the next few weeks will see rapid progress, and legislation will be reached early in April.

THE PAKOTA A TOTAL LOSS

Is Stranded Off the Japanese Coast, and is Slowly Sinking.

Tokio, March 4.—The captain of the Japanese steamer Tokai, who was steaming abreast of the American liner Dakota yesterday, reports that when sighted, the steamer was at full speed, heading south, when she changed her course quickly in order to avoid danger just at the moment she struck with her head down and lower screw exposed. The passengers were panicked, but were rescued by boats from the Tokai and from the land, which took them all ashore. The day was calm, but the dreaded current peculiar to that locality was strong.

The Japanese steamer Omi has been sent to the rescue, but the wreck is unapproachable, and, owing to the heavy seas, it is impossible to establish connection with the land.

The Dakota lies one mile off shore with her bow under water, up to the second mast. She is still sinking.

The Japanese cruiser Yae Yama and a torpedo boat were dispatched from Yokohama last night to the relief of the Dakota.

MAY MEAN STRIKE

Toronto Trade Unionists Preparing for Fresh Demands This Spring.

Toronto, March 4.—The trade unionists of Toronto are looking forward to the approaching spring with a great deal of interest and expectancy. Many leaders of the trades union movement who should know say that the coming season will likely prove an epoch in the history of organized labor in Toronto.

The agreements under which many important organizations have been working with the employers, some of them for as much as three years, expire this spring, among these being the printers, in job offices, the bookbinders, the photo engravers, the stereotypers and electrotypes, the pressmen, the brewery workmen, the plumbers and the street railway employees. In many cases, it is said, these organizations will insist upon the condition being improved, which it is feared will, at least in some instances, not be secured without a struggle. Among the allied printing trades it is estimated that about 1,020 men will be involved in the request for better conditions.

The International Association of Machinists and the Builders' Laborers have also determined upon making an effort to improve their conditions.

A PLEASING BILL IS AT BENNETT'S

Many Good Acts Provided by

Manager Aloz for Patrons

This Week.

Bennett's bill this week embodies all that is expected of a first-class vaudeville entertainment. The bill has been admirably selected, is well balanced, and will be sure to please the patrons of the favorite theater.

Miss Julia Kingsley and Mr. Nelson are entitled to first place on the bill. They present their act which so pleased Londoners some time ago. "After the Honeymoon." This act, which is widely known and as widely appreciated, is one of pure merit. It bristles with apt sayings, and is a cycle of action. It never stops going, and the time it is going, the house is in an uproar. It may be said of Miss Kingasley and Mr. Nelson that they are well cast for the roles. Their work is very clever.

Another act of intrinsic merit is that presented by Miss Maybelle Adams, the "Walt Violinist." It is a pity that the demands of vaudeville render it financially necessary that she should appear in rags and tatters, or that she should not spell

appears a lady of refinement, and a soul for music which carries her far from the audience she plays to in every number
