FOOD CONTROLLER S CONSIDERING MEANS TO STOP HOARDING

Bakers Suggest Checking Up
Flour Purchases.

SEND INSPECTORS AROUND

Hint That Something May Happen if Spoiled Flour Is Found on Premises.

OTTAWA, Jan. 31.—Drastic measures against persons hoarding food are being considered by the food controller.
Warning is issued tonight that householders and others must not themselves
in an unenviable position if spoiled flour is found on their premises. Few houses have proper storage facilities,
and persons who have bought large quantities of flour are liable to have it spoil on their hands next summer.
The bakers, who have been in conference with the food controller communicating with every grocer and with all retail dealers in flour in Canada,
requiring from them the names and addresses of persons who have purchased more than a 35-pound bag of flour during the last month.
Furthermore, it is suggested that dealers and grocers failing to make correct returns would have very little chance of obtaining a license under the licensing system which will soon be extended to this trade. The recommendation adds that effective steps should be taken to prevent the possibility of serious waste.

Such action has been taken in Great Britain, where the books of departmental stores have already been examined and summons have been issued in hundreds of cases against persons who have been hoarding food.
"The food controller," says the food controller,
"absolutely no necessity for excuse for Canadians buying more flour than is required for current needs. The belief that the new standard flour is a poor quality is entirely unfounded. Few persons will be able to tell the difference between bread made from standard flour and that made from flour hoarded in use. Hoarding, therefore, is unnecessary, unprofitable and unpatriotic and food hoarders may be exposed as a result of measures now
under consideration."

PRESBYTERIANS OF THAMESFORD CLOSE SATISFACTORY YEAR

Patriotic Appeals Responded to Generously by the Members.

THAMESFORD, Jan. 31.—At the annual meeting of the members of St.
Andrew's Church reported presented by the various departments showed a most satisfactory year's work.
All showed an increase over last year except missions, which was more than made up by the sums given to the Belgian relief and other appeals that came before the congregation. The amounts raised were as follows: General fund, $2,750; Belgian relief, British Red Cross, etc., $1,000; missions, $750;
W.M.S., $200; Aid. Aid. $50; Sabbath school and Bible Class, $50.
The following officers were elected:
Treasurer, Jas. Patterson; managers,
Jas. Patterson, Jas. Young; John Reith,
Jas. Forster; agent for Record,
Bain; pew steward, Allen Young; ceremony officer, B. Young; usher, recording, missionary committee, John Kerr, George T. Patterson, James
Hogg, Wm. Sutherland, James S.
Young, George McKay, George Wallace, M. J. Bain, Rev. W. S. Galbraith; singers, George Hamilton, Alex. Sutherland.

Ice harvesting has started on the mill pond. This pond is the best harvested for some time. The ice is over 22 inches thick, and very clear.
The farmers sending to the condensing factory are putting in a lot of ice this year to help keep the milk in the summer.
The scarcity of water is becoming alarming. Some are driving their stock to the creek and river, as the wells have gone dry. A great number have had water pipes frozen under ground, and are put to a great deal of trouble to obtain water. A thaw would help the situation greatly.
Many in this vicinity are getting coal from Ingersoll, as the local dealer cannot get enough to supply all. More coal is expected shortly, and this will help out for a short time again.

WILSON EXTENDS BAKERY LICENSE TO RESTAURANTS

Hotels and Clubs Come Under Regulations Effective February 4.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Licensing regulations as applied to bakers were extended by President Wilson in a proclamation tonight to take in hotels, restaurants and clubs which do their own baking, including thousands of small bakers heretofore exempt, and to cover the manufacture of bread of every kind, including cake, crackers,
biscuits, pastries and other bakery products.

At the same time the president put under license all importers and distributors of green coffee to prevent speculative prices in the coffee market.
All licenses must be obtained by February 4, when the new regulations
become effective.

BOLSHEVIKI LAY WASTE SIBERIAN MINE AREA

PEKING, Jan. 31.—The Tcheremovo
coal mining district, 70 miles from Irk-utsk, Siberia, according to a dispatch from Harbin, has been laid waste by order of the local Bolshevik authorities. The district annually sends out about 2,000,000 tons of coal and supplies the Siberian Railway. The damage is estimated at 10,000,000 rubles. Many Austrian and German prisoners were employed in the mine.

G. T. R. TRACK TORN UP FOR STRETCH OF MILE

BROCKVILLE, Jan. 31.—The wreck of a Grand Trunk freight train wrecked
of here this afternoon held up traffic
for several hours, including three passenger trains, two for Montreal and one for Toronto. Upwards of 25 cars were derailed, tearing up the track over a section a mile long.

DORMAN-TREVETICH.
AISA CRAIG, Jan. 31.—A quiet wedding took place at the home of John Trevetich, general merchant of Brinsley, at high noon on Wednesday, when his eldest daughter, Stella, was united in marriage to Howard Dorman, son of Jeremiah Dorman of McGilllivray, by Rev. J. Snowden of Aisa Craig. Immediately after dinner the young couple left on the Montreal train from Aisa Craig for a honeymoon trip to Toronto and Brantford, after which on their return they will reside on the groom's farm in McGilllivray.

HOLD DRESS CARNIVAL.
AISA CRAIG, Jan. 30.—A fancy
dress carnival will be held in the rink
by the Curriers' Club on Friday evening, February 1, when all cash prizes will be given to the winners. The prize will be put up for a mile race for residents of North Middlesex. Parkhill brass band will furnish the music.

KIEV SURRENDERS TO THE BOLSHEVIKI AFTER FOUR SHOTS

LONDON, Jan. 31.—Kiev, which for some time past has been invested by the Bolshevik troops, who are engaged against the Ukrainians, has surrendered, according to an Exchange Telegraph Company dispatch from Petrograd.

A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Petrograd dated Thursday,
says:
"Bolshevik forces entered Kiev last night. They have occupied the arsenal.
The town surrendered after four shots
had been fired."

Kiev, the capital of the Province of Kiev, lies on the right bank of the Dnieper. It is called the "Mother of Russian Cities," and in 1902 had about 250,000 inhabitants. Recent dispatches said many of the Russian nobility
seeking safety from the Bolsheviks,
had taken up their residence in Kiev.

TORONTO HOSPITAL WILL SECURE $30,000 FROM SARNIA ESTATE

Judge Decides J. I. Carter
Legacy Shall Be Handed
Over in Lump.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
TORONTO, Jan. 31.—James I. Carter, salt manufacturer of Sarnia, left $30,000
to be invested in Ontario Government stock, the income to be paid to the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto.
Ms. Justice Middleton, who was asked to construe the will, holds that the hospital need not wait for the interest, but receive the legacy at once in a lump sum.
The hospital contended that the ordinary rule applied, and that as there was a gift of the income in perpetuity, it was in effect and in law a gift of the "corpus." The executors contended that to give effect to this rule would be to frustrate the intention of the testator, which was that in perpetuity
there should be an annual payment to the hospital from the fund.

DENIES SPECIAL ORDER FOR SOLDIERS' VOTE

OTTAWA, Jan. 31.—General Returning Officer O'Connor denies that a special ruling order-in-council has been passed in regard to overseas voters belonging to constituencies in which there were acclamations, and others, placing their votes in ridings in which they have never lived.
"The act," he says, "is perfectly clear. It is merely a question of carrying out its provisions."

The Opinion of the "War Office Times."

EXTRACT FROM
"WAR OFFICE TIMES"

Amongst the troubles with which the Army has to cope is the question of sore feet amongst the men.
This may sound trivial, but in reality is a matter of the gravest importance. Obviously, to be of use, an army must be in good marching condition, but it is a physical impossibility for even the bravest man to go on if he is suffering from sore feet.

From information which reaches us from the front, however, this difficulty is being met by the use of Zam-Buk, which is proving most effective for this painful ailment.
We should like to see a box or two of this excellent "first aid" supplied to every soldier. In our opinion it would greatly add to the efficiency of the Army.

on the requirements of the men in the Army will naturally be of interest to those who have relations or friends in the service. The clipping, given herewith, is an extract from this paper and shows that Zam-Buk is regarded by those in authority as indispensable. So much so, in fact, that large orders for Zam-Buk have been received from the Government for the British Army in France.
Zam-Buk is put up in boxes of convenient size for carrying in the pocket, so that a man may have it ready to apply at the right moment. Many a case of blood-poisoning has been avoided by the timely use of Zam-Buk. There is nothing can take its place for cuts, burns, barbed wire scratches, blisters, bruises, sprains, rheumatism, chapped hands, cold cracks and sores of all kinds.
Don't let your soldier go without his box of Zam-Buk.
In the home, also, Zam-Buk is just as necessary for the many little accidents which are of almost daily occurrence, as well as for more serious troubles such as eczema, chronic sores, blood-poisoning and piles. All dealers or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. 50c box, 3 for $1.25.

COUNSEL PLEADS FOR MEASURES TO INSURE SAFETY OF HALIFAX

Main Thing Is To Prevent
Recurrence of Tragedy
Which Wrecked City.

HALIFAX, Jan. 31.—The argument of counsel in the Inco-Mont Blanc investigation was resumed today by Humphrey Mellish, K.C., who addressed
the court on behalf of the French ship.
In his presentation of the case, Mr.
Mellish claimed that there is no law
to compel a ship to take any particular course, and that the judgment of the pilot and master must have play in a particularly dangerous situation.
The really essential argument of the day, so far as the citizens of Halifax were concerned, centered around the presentation of the case by Andrew Clancy, K.C., on behalf of the attorney-general and the public.
While the finding as to any technical lack was a matter of prime importance to the court, he contended, the

How To Get Coal

Leading Coal Experts and Railroad Executives Make Practical Suggestions for Relieving
the Present Acute Situation.

Despite the Garfield holidays, the "coal famine" in the United States still persists. In view of this condition, what further steps should be taken to get coal where it is needed, and what should be done to prevent another such fuel crisis?

To get an answer to this question, THE LITERARY DIGEST requested an expression of opinion from those men who should be best qualified to know—the heads of the coal-producing and coal-carrying businesses.

The result of this canvass of experts is presented in THE LITERARY DIGEST for February 2, and a reading of this article will do much to enlighten the Canadian public and acquaint it with constructive and practical methods for relief.

URIC ACID IN MEAT
CLOGS THE KIDNEYS

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that most forms of uric acid which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weak, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get your share of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys will then act free. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, and to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent dilative-drink.

Burnall Corporation, North American Bldg., Chicago:
Gentlemen,—Replying to yours of the 13th inst., I am very much pleased with the Burnall attachment to my furnace, and I have taken the trouble to look into the matter very carefully, so that I could determine what use it would be to me, and I am satisfied beyond any doubt that it saves 25 per cent of my fuel and increases my heat 25 per cent. It also makes it easier to regulate the heat. When we have sudden changes of weather we can reduce or increase a great deal quicker than we could before we had this attachment.

I was so well pleased with it that last evening, while having dinner at the Athletic Club, the coal question was mentioned, and I recommended this Burnall attachment to several of my friends. Yours respectfully,

A. R. JONES.

Our Consumers' League

BY ISABEL C. ARMSTRONG.

About the time readers of this department, and the editor, too, in fact, had begun to wonder if Jane Wiggins had gone to sleep, or gone to another climate for the winter, Jane suddenly sat up and took notice. Another famous housekeeper had been discovered in the person of Chrissy Mackenzie, Thrifty Chrissy, with her common sense Scotch economy. Jane isn't Scotch, far from it, but the best housekeeper living would be obliged to exert herself and her ingenuity to the utmost to beat Jane in a thrift contest where the kitchen is concerned. Jane read Chrissy's letter of last week on "My Pet Economies," and, fortunately for us, has been inspired to tell about some of her own.

By way of a foreword, Jane's most precious economy is SOUP. It happens to be a pet economy of Chrissy as well, and, but for the fact that the space ran out last week, readers would have known that Chrissy always has the stock pot on the range and into it go all kinds of odds and ends of bones, trimmings of steak, and all the rest. Chrissy always has the foundation of a tempting soup ready at a moment's notice.

Talking about bones, did it ever jar your sense of thrift to see all the perfectly good bones going to waste in the butcher shop?

The writer had stepped into the butcher's to order a roast of beef for Sunday last Saturday morning early. There on the counter, all nicely rolled, was exactly the sized roast that was wanted. There was a hull in trade at the time, and the clerk prepared to wrap it up at once. As he did so, he explained the system of having a number of roasts all rolled to save time on Saturday mornings.

"Just where are bones that were taken out?" was a question which arrested his act of folding the paper nicely over the top.

"Why, yes, the bones, to be sure," he said, turning to the big clothes basket in plain sight, already a third full of bones.

"Perfectly clean," he assured as he fished out the bones, which looked as if they might have come from the cut, and proceeded to crack them.

Then he commented: "They are fine for soup, but they would be surprised the number of people who don't seem to know it. They never think of asking for the bones and it is just sheer waste. People have a whole lot to learn yet about conserving food, as they call it." And so, some perfectly good marrowy bones were rescued from the boneyard for the stock pot.

But this isn't anything to the economy of Jane Wiggins' soup.

JANE WIGGINS' SOUP POT.

Somewhere in London, Jan. 29, 1918.

My Dear Lady Editor:

Here I am over the top again, though never, never, did I expect to see the other side of those snow drifts which have pretty nearly buried my dwelling. (I was going to say humble, but I'm not that kind of a person). Now, that I have recovered my breath, let me say where am I at. Oh, yes, I know why it is that I have sort of catapulted myself like into your serene circle this week. My housewifely reputation is at stake (with myself) for being the thriftest housekeeper in Western Ontario and its counties.

I read Chrissy Mackenzie's last week and approve of her immensely, but I don't believe even Chrissy is more thrifty than I am, particularly when it comes to soup. In fact, I pride myself that I am in a class by myself.

Sunday we had what we called "Saturday soup" for dinner, because everything went into it that was left over from the week on the pantry shelves, excepting the dishes. I almost never buy soup meat, and yet we very seldom let a day go by without having soup at one meal.

And the varieties we achieve! Every last bit of leftover vegetable, bits of bread, the water in which vegetables have been cooked, the water in which rice and macaroni have been cooked, leftovers of cereals too small to make anything else, scraps of porridge, all go into the soup. Potato water is excellent, and best of all, is the water in which asparagus has been cooked. The liquid in which onion or turnip has been boiled is too strong and should be used in small quantity.

ALL BUT BABY'S BOOTS.

If half a cold potato is what the larger shows in the way of leftover, pop it goes into the soup pot. And I mention bones? Of course they are taken for granted. Everything almost goes in to our soup, excepting, perhaps, the baby's worn boots.

You may think I have been straining the truth to tell about my soup economy. Nothing of the kind, gentle editor and readers. But I'll tell you what I do frequently, strain, and that is the soup. Like Ruggier of Red Cap, I am always ready to serve the soup to suit the occasion and the menu. But that is by no means the only reason I strain the soup.

You know the bits of meat that float around in the soup and aren't at all palatable, and do not add to the flavor or appearance in any way. Well, I put them through the mincer with the odd bits of vegetable which come out in the straining. Then possibly I add a spoonful or so of tomato and pour on some of the soup. I put this in a bowl, and behold from the dress of the soup there arises a tempting mound of jellyed meat, etc., to form a supper dish, or to use for sandwiches.

May I talk on just a little bit longer? I want to get in my say about roasts of beef before they have disappeared from the domestic market by order of the food controller. Think what would be the use of telling about the way to exercise economy with something that had disappeared like the dodo? Or is it the auk or the phoenix?

I am always getting those extinct varieties of poultry mixed up. There are those who hold the opinion that a T-bone or porterhouse roast is a great extravagance. It all depends what you do with it.

Give attention to another economy of thrifty Jane! When I buy a T-bone roast I do not ask my butcher to roll it and send it home ready to put in the oven. I have it sent home as it is. Then I take out the bone and in it goes the soup pot. I slice the under cut in rounds, broil them and serve them with melted butter on toast, the kind of a dish you used to pay for at the rate of 75 cents an order in Delmonico's in New York in the nice old low-cost-of-living days before the war.

The tougher portions of the top and I trim off, days before the war. The tougher portions of the top and I trim off, days before the war. The tougher portions of the top and I trim off, days before the war.

Salisbury is the right name for it. The family name of the Salisbury is "Cecil," so you can serve "Cecils" instead of Salisbury steak by taking the minced meat, making up very small balls, securing well on the outside and serving quite rare. This is especially good for invalids. The remainder of the roast I roll with a dressing and serve as a roast. This method of using up a roast is suggested for families which have not been properly educated to like cold beef.

If I were a really economical person I suppose I would have a bone grinder and grind up the bones of the roast after making soup with them, to use as bonemeal for a fertilizer for my garden.

That reminds me, spring will be upon us before we know it, even if it is hard to believe in the midst of this cold and coal trouble. And then it will be "back to the land" for me, sooner than ever, armed for greater successes by last year's experiences.

It's Chrissy's move next. In the meantime, devotedly as ever, JANE WIGGINS.

BABY'S EFFICIENCY TEST.

During the past ten days, a number of inquiries have come in regarding the clinics for children under three years to be held in connection with the child welfare exhibit daily, from February 11 to 15 inclusive, on the second floor of the Y. M. C. A. building on Wellington street. Mothers have been wondering how their little ones measure up to the standard of perfect physical efficiency for tots of their age, and several small boys and girls have been heard telling confidently that they know the baby brothers or sisters at their houses are real prize babies, and going to win a five-dollar gold piece. At least three proud fathers have stated that they would like to take their babies to the clinics, just to let the specialist see a perfect physical specimen of superior babyhood. One father, indeed, says that the only thing which will prevent him from putting all his other people's children in the shade.

Official score cards have been ordered, and will be made out in duplicate, perhaps in triplicate, one to go to the mother or other guardian.

THE TESTS.

The first test is mental and developmental. The two years old who is up to the standard, according to the score card, should be able to run, imitate movements, or simple commands, recognize simple objects in pictures, such as a man, dog, ball, use paper and pencil.

The next test is of measurements, height, weight, circumference of head, chest, abdomen. The physical examination follows. Head (abnormally small, almost normal, face, neck (enlarged glands, etc.); back (spine, curvature, etc.); abdomen, arms, hands, fingers; legs, feet, skin, nutrition (abnormally thin or abnormally fat), muscles, nerves, defects or evidences of disease not listed. An oral and dental examination will next be made, and after that the condition of eye, ear, nose and throat. Adenoids and diseased tonsils, eye weaknesses and all kinds of weaknesses which should be overcome as early as possible, will not be able to elude the keen eye of the specialist. All this, along with the score card and advice regarding general care, feeding, etc., will be given entirely free of charge.

While much interest has been manifested in the exhibits, and the educational moving pictures and lectures to be given in the Auditorium, probably no feature has made a stronger appeal than the clinics. Weather permitting, it is expected a large number of parents from out of town points will bring in their little ones, and if this is not possible, come themselves, at least, on Thursday, February 14th, Western Ontario Day.

Many are aware that the day which will be the St. Valentine's Day, otherwise the Western Ontario day, prize baby, because no other babies will be allowed to enter the lists but the tots from out of town.

The convention rates offered on railways are an added inducement for making the trip to London. Those coming in from out of town points, however, should remember to secure their convention standard certificates at the starting point, and present these at the exhibit headquarters as soon as possible after arriving in London.

It Can't Be Did!

Do not be misled by statements from little corner butcher shops that they can and do undersell us. Did you ever stop to think how Henry Ford can and does turn out an automobile for $475.00 when his nearest competitor has to charge $675.00? He does this by buying for cash; by his enormous output; by his great mechanical system. This is exactly the same principle as we have applied to our business.

WE BUY FOR CASH—WE BUY BY THE CARLOT.

We do our own slaughtering and have our own pork packing plant, where everything we sell we make. With these three institutions combined OUR COSTS are so greatly reduced that we can give you the very choicest meats at prices that our competitors dare not attempt. Try us this time. We have the quality; we have the service, and we have the price.

U. S. Holds Five Ships About To Sail For Spain

Discrimination Against the Entente Results in Coercive Steps.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Because of certain conditions in Spain, which the Government considers to be an advantage of Germany and discriminatory against the United States and the Entente Allies, the war trade board ceased to issue licenses for export of merchandise to that country, and held five ships about to sail for Spain.

Recently when Gen. Pershing was authorized to buy 200,000 blankets in Spain for American troops, and attempted to buy other merchandise, some influence, suspected of being German, intervened. Other incidents convinced the Government here of German activity. Measures similar to those recently adopted toward other European neutrals are in preparation.

The war trade board, however, in a formal statement tonight, denied that vessels under the Spanish flag generally were being kept in port.

AWFUL ATTACKS OF HEART TROUBLE Eased by Second Dose of MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

One of the first danger signals announcing something wrong with the heart is the irregular beat or violent throbs. Often this is only a fluttering sensation, or an "all-gone" sinking feeling, or again, you may experience a smothering sensation, gasp for breath and feel as though about to die.

In such cases the action of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills in quieting the heart, restoring its normal beat and imparting tone to the nerve centres, is, beyond question, marvellous.

Mrs. Frank Asenau, Newcastle, N. B., writes: "I had awful attacks of heart trouble for the past five or six years, and as I had been getting no better, I decided to give Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a trial, and to my surprise I found ease from the second dose. I continued taking them until I had used six boxes, and now I feel as well as can be."

"At present my sister is taking them for nervousness, and finds great comfort by their use."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are $6 a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., 11-13 d, Toronto, Ont.

LEMONS BRING OUT THE HIDDEN BEAUTY

Make This Lotion For Very Little Cost and Just See For Yourself.

An attractive skin wins admiration. In social life and in business the girl or woman whose face and hands show evidence of constant care enjoys a tremendous advantage over those who do not realize the value of a healthy skin and a spotless complexion.

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quarter pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white, at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer, and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin.

OPEN NOSTRILS! END A COLD OR CATARRH

How To Get Relief When Head and Nose are Stuffed Up.

Count fifty! Your cold in head or catarrh disappears. Your clogged nostrils will open, the air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more snuffling, hawking, mucous discharge, dryness or headache, no struggling for breath at night.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist and apply a little of this fragrant antiseptic cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, softening and healing the swollen or inflamed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief. Head colds and catarrh yield like magic! Don't stay stuffed up and miserable. Relief is sure—Advt.

LANDSDOWNE NOW FOR PROLONGING WAR FOR PEACE

Man Who Lately Started Europe Backs George and Wilson.

GET GERMANY IN PACT

Cohesion of Germany to League of Nations Would Negate Militarism.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—The Marquis of Lansdowne, in an address today, said he concurred entirely with the recent speeches of Premier Lloyd George and President Wilson on peace aims.

"I believe we are ready to prolong this war as terrible as it is, until we can get a clean peace," said the leader of the Opposition in the House of Lords.

Lord Lansdowne added that the time for obtaining such a peace should not be too long delayed, and that no opportunity should be neglected to bring it nearer.

Lord Lansdowne was replying to an address presented by Earl Lorcuburn, former lord high chancellor, and other persons, including authors and journalists.

"By a clean peace I mean a peace which will be honorable as well as durable," said Lord Lansdowne.

The only way, he said, was to get this peace, and this was by forming a combination of great powers, under which the powers would hold themselves bound to refer international disputes to some kind of international tribunal.

He asked if it would not be true to add that if the cohesion of Germany could be obtained to such a pact it would mean the negation of Prussian militarism. He said there would be no room for Prussian militarism inside such a combination.

The speaker said he accepted wholeheartedly the suggestion of Mr. Lloyd George that territorial questions should be settled on the basis of national self-determination. The speech of Count von Hertling, the imperial German chancellor, was a disappointment to him, Lord Lansdowne added. "I think nobody would be more surprised than von Hertling," the speaker said, "if he thought we were going to hand over Gibraltar, Hong Kong, and some other little quarters of the earth."

Lord Lansdowne, referring to his peace letter, said he thought he could claim that it had led to a discussion which had useful results in the coalition. Among the reasons which led him to write the letter was the fact that he was convinced that a great many persons were perplexed and uneasy because they did not know clearly the objects for which the country was asked to prolong the war.

Crushing Victory Not Needed. Lord Lansdowne said it was untrue to say that a victory in the war would be a really complete victory until one belligerent had got the other completely at his mercy. He added that the Allies had had some glorious successes in the field, but he did not know whether any high authority at this moment is prepared to tell us that a crushing decisive victory in the field is within sight.

On the contrary," continued Lord Lansdowne, "we constantly are told and are led to custom ourselves more and more to the idea of a victory which can be accomplished by the gradual exhaustion of the resources military and economic of the enemy."

The speaker said he thought that such a process of attrition necessarily must take a very long time to accomplish. He had seen it stated that it would take two years and if that was so, "are we not justified in asking ourselves what a delay of two years really means?"

The speaker then told of the loss in lives and money and by force during the war, and said he could draw a picture of what the condition of the world would be two or three years hence if a peace could not be obtained.

Durable Peace Needed. Lord Lansdowne said it is neither unpatriotic nor un-Christian. Lord Lansdowne continued to think of these things. I say then, let us endeavor for all we are worth to get our clean peace in good time. How are we going to get a durable peace? To my mind there is only one way, and that is by bringing about a combination of great powers. I do not mean a coalition of a crowd of powers against another group of powers. I mean a combination of all the powers, under which they will hold themselves bound to refer international disputes to some kind of international tribunal and under which they will bind themselves as Mr. Balfour said the other day, to use coercion against any criminal or unruly member of the combination.

A Hopeful Sign. Lord Lansdowne thought the fact that the idea in principle had been accepted by neutrals and belligerents was hopeful. In forming such a combination, he added, the international system must be in a condition of natural stability to begin with. He thought that President Wilson had the right idea to proceed on the troubled lines of allegiance and nationality. Some people might say he was trying for the moon and refer him to von Hertling's speech, which seemed unsatisfactory in its and uncompromising in its substance.

Discounts Hertling. "But may we not, after all, perhaps discount any utterance of this kind?" said Lord Lansdowne. "I am disposed to discount von Hertling a little. We know in the first place that great diplomats often say rather more than they mean."

Referring to the speech of Count Czernin, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, Lord Lansdowne said his precise position was a little obscure, but in this speech, "certainly, language of a very much more hopeful character was used."

The speaker said he attached more importance to the view of peoples than to the language of their statesmen. He thought the intention of both Germany and Great Britain were molding to views of their governments.

"I feel that the German people have been grossly and deliberately misled as to the reasons for which Germany went to war, and equally misled as to the objects for which we are prolonging the war," said Lord Lansdowne, who added: "We might do well to enlighten ourselves and them as well as to the objective the Allies have in view."
