Local Money Lenders Say They Were Not in Usury Case

DO NOT GET HIGH RATES

John W. White, the local barrister and money lender, wishes it distinctly understood that he is not the usurer who charged a poor widow woman 149 1-2 per cent. on a chattel mortgage for $30, an account of which was published in The Planet. It is therefore unfair for people to associate his name in connection with the affair.

"My rates of interest can easily be found out," he told The Planet. "I do not keep them secret."

"When such items are published, the name of the scoundrel should be put in print," continued Mr. White. "The papers should show no mercy. When they do not publish the name, they cast a reflection on the rest of us."

"I think it is a shame that some money lenders are allowed to charge such high percentages. It should not be allowed in a Christian community."

"If there is any way to get at these money sharks some one should investigate proceedings. If there is not, the law should certainly be amended."

W. J. Martin and Henry Dagueau, who also loan on chattel mortgages, repudiate any connection with the item that appeared in Thursday's issue.

SEASON IS ENDED

St. Andrew's Mutual Improvement Society Entertain Debating Society of No. 1 Harwich

The St. Andrew's Mutual Improvement Society finished up a successful season last evening, when they entertained the members of the Harwich No. 1 Debating and Literary Society to a social evening in their room.

The time was devoted to music and entertainment, and solos were rendered by Miss Ada Ross and Garnet Brackin. Miss Mary Brackin presided at the piano.

A guessing contest was held and caused a great deal of amusement, after which dainty refreshments were served, the meeting breaking up at a late hour.

This was the last meeting of the season, and a most satisfactory record is placed to the credit of the society. During the past few months interesting debates on various topics have been undertaken, and the lives and works of the most prominent literatures and poets have been carefully studied.

SAT 15 MINUTES

Government Brings Down Order-In-Council Appointing Commission.

Ottawa, March 10.—The session of the House of Commons lasted but 15 minutes yesterday afternoon and the business was routine, principally petitions for private bills.

The only matter the Government side placed before the House was the Order-In-Council appointing the royal commission for the insurance investigation.

Hon. Mr. Foster asked a number of questions regarding reports promised during last session, and asked that the auditor-general's report be brought down as soon as possible. Sir Wilfrid promised it for Monday, and the House adjourned.

Opposition Caucus.

The customary opening caucus of the Opposition was held in the railway committee room of the Commons last evening and the sessional program was discussed at considerable length. E. D. Smith of Westworth was chairman. The caucus appointed several committees to look after details of the parliamentary work which falls to the Opposition.

May Not Retire.

A conference of Conservative Senators was held yesterday morning to consider the situation created by Sir Mackenzie Bowell's resignation of the Conservative leadership in the Senate. Senator De Boucherville presided.

A resolution was passed unanimously thanking Sir Mackenzie for his past services, expressing confidence in him and asking him to retain the position. Sir Mackenzie was urged not to answer at once, but to take time to consider and he agreed to do so.

Too many people spend their time hoping for the best instead of working for it.

IS STILL HUSTLING

H. S. Clements is Assured by Telephone Company That a New Line Will be Constructed

Mr. H. S. Clements, M. P., has received the following letter from the Bell Telephone Company relative to the telephone line between Chatham and the lighthouse, for which Mr. Clements has worked so faithfully, and which, Mr. Clements is now assured, will immediately be constructed.

The letter given below is self explanatory. The people living in the district covered between these two points are very grateful to Mr. Clements for his splendid work in connection with the establishing of this line, for if he had not interested himself in the work, the line might possibly never have been built. It certainly would not have been considered at this early date.

The following is the letter: Re Chatham, Prairie Riding and Jeanette's Creek Party Line.

The Bell Telephone Co. of Canada, District Superintendent's Office, Toronto, March 7, 1906.

H. S. Clements, Esq., M. P., House of Commons, Ottawa.

Dear Sir.—Supplementing my letter of 28th re above, we have forwarded to head office the necessary particulars and requisition for supplies required for this work, and have completed arrangements for the construction as soon as supplies arrive and poles can be shipped in. No time will be lost in completing the line and promoting service to subscribers.

Yours truly,
A. T. SMITH,
District Superintendent.

ON CANADA "HUMP"

Farmers and Grocers Must not Sell Until it Passes Through Inland Revenue Dept.

Charles Dunlop, the local collector of inland revenue, has received a circular from W. J. Gerald, Deputy Minister of the Department at Ottawa, a portion of which is of vital interest to many farmers and grocers of Chatham and vicinity.

The circular refers to the selling of Canadian grown tobacco, a great amount of which is grown and disposed of in this county. The farmers and grocers in many districts have been in the habit of disposing of their product on the market, and in grocery stores, being unaware that this is strictly against the law. After this notice, however, they will have no excuse for a continuance of this practice, and in future all tobacco will have to be entered in the Inland Revenue office before it is offered for sale.

Farmers are allowed to grow tobacco for their own use only. If they wish to sell it they will have to pay the regulation tax.

The part of the circular referring to this particular subject is as follows:—

Except as herein specially provided, every person who sells or offers for sale or not being a licensed tobacco or cigar manufacturer, has in his possession any kind of manufactured tobacco or cigars, not put in packages and stamped in accordance with the provisions of this act, shall incur a penalty not exceeding $500, and not less than $50; and any tobacco or cigars so found, which are not put in packages and stamped as herein provided, shall be forfeited to the Crown and shall be seized by any officer of Inland Revenue and dealt with accordingly."

CAUGHT IN SHAFT

Woman Meets Terrible Death in Vienna Grist Mill.

Vienna, March 10.—Mrs. Charles Thornwhite, wife of the proprietor of the grist mill here, was killed yesterday.

She was standing near a revolving shaft which caught her dress and wound her up on the shaft, her head striking on two hoppers which stood on each side of the shaft as she was carried around.

Before employees could shut down the mill, part of her skull was torn off. She was quite dead before they could get her released from the shaft.

Crushed to Death.

St. John, N. B., March 10.—In the Ouman plaster quarries at Hillsboro, N. B., yesterday, Richard Milton was crushed to death by cave-in in the tunnel, in which he worked. A large quantity of plaster, which fell, buried him several feet deep.

Boy's Arm Shattered.

St. John, N. B., March 10.—While in pursuit of a flock of ducks near this city yesterday Jarvis Harrington, a lad 16 years old, was terribly shot in the arm and side. He was creeping along the shore, dragging the gun behind him, when it went off. The right arm was shattered to bits. The boy lies at the point of death.

Snow Avalanche Kills 21.

Trondhjem, Norway, March 10.—A snow avalanche at the Lofoten Islands Thursday night buried a number of fishermen's huts. Rescuers extricated twenty-one dead and thirty-nine injured.

A NEW MERCHANT

C. H. Mills of Berlin Accepts a Partnership in the Firm of Thomas Stone & Son

Under the caption of "Berlin's loss and Chatham's gain," the Berlin, Ont., Daily Telegraph, under date of March 6, says many complimentary things of Mr. C. H. Mills, of that place, who is leaving Berlin for this city, where he has taken a partnership with the firm of Thomas Stone & Son. The following is a portion of a very flattering half-column write-up appearing in the Telegraph:—

"The citizens of Berlin and vicinity will sincerely regret to learn that Mr. C. H. Mills, who has been the enterprising and successful manager of G. B. Ryan & Co.'s store in Berlin since its establishment in Berlin, nearly eight years ago, will sever his connection with the firm on Saturday evening, and will move to Chatham in a few weeks."

"Mr. Mills has entered into partnership with the well-known dry goods firm of Thos. Stone & Co., of that city, which is one of the oldest established firms of its kind in Western Ontario, and has been doing a large and successful business since 1852."

"Mr. Mills will enter upon his new duties about April 1st, and will take charge of a store that is complete and carries about the same grade of goods as are handled in Berlin."

A LACROSSE TEAM

Juniors Are Setting Things in Shape For Organization for Coming Season

The great Canadian game lacrosse bids fair to be popular in Chatham next summer again. This time, however, the juniors will be the favorites to whom the lovers of sport will look for big things. And the prospects are that the youngsters will put up a game for the money. They are already banking on getting away to an early start.

A subscription list has been opened and, will shortly go the rounds. A little towards helping the boys along will do much towards providing an enlightening season during the coming summer.

It is definitely announced that the lacrosse team for this year will be composed solely of home-brewed young men of this city who have learned the game right here in Chatham. The prospects are that if the boys are given the proper encouragement, that they will in time become the seniors.

In organizing the boys want to see to it that certain body individuals are formed off the executive. The kind of officers who are selected have much to do with the success or failure of the team. Men who take a sincere and enthusiastic interest in the welfare of the game are the ones who should be most sought after, and not those who seek the office simply for the notoriety they may derive from it.

Others of a more desirable variety from taking an interest in the sport. Some individuals would do sport a good turn by refraining from becoming so conspicuous in every organization that is contemplated. Recent experience should teach a lesson along this line, and it is to be hoped for their own welfare that the boys select a bunch of officers who are true lovers of sport, and leave certain four-flushers in their proper place.

EXPORTS FELL OFF

But, Though Our Exports to Britain Fell Off in Last Fiscal Year, U.S. Was Better Customer.

Ottawa, March 10.—The report of the Department of Trade and Commerce for the fiscal year, ending June 30, was issued yesterday.

In it Deputy Minister Parmelee notes an apparent falling off in the aggregate trade of Canada of two and a half millions. Imports for the period increased $7,600,000, but there was a decline of $10,200,000 in exports. Imports from Great Britain remained about stationary, while there was a considerable increase in the imports from France and the United States.

Canada's exports to Great Britain fell off considerably, and those to Germany and Holland moderately, while there was an increase of four millions in exports to the United States. During the year there was a decline of $6,100,000 in grain exports, $5,700,000 being wheat, cheese fell off four millions, bacon one million, and apples two millions.

There was an increase in export butter of a million and a quarter, a million in canned meats, eight hundred thousand in animal and a like amount in wood manufactures.

BECAUSE SHE'D BEEN SASSY

The Reason the Belleville Man Gives For Beating Wife to Death

GETS LITTLE SYMPATHY

Belleville, March 10.—The preliminary investigation into the Klingebell murder case began in the police court here before Magistrate Flint yesterday afternoon. Intense interest is manifested in the case, and the court room was crowded.

William Little told of his discovery of the crime, and how he had informed the authorities. Dr. Yeomans, who was first called to the injured woman, told of how he had visited her and how old Klingebell had said he pounded her with his fists because she was "sassy," he also told that they had quarreled over their son, Herman, who, the old fellow said, was not his son.

Drs. Gibson and Boyce, who conducted the postmortem, gave technical descriptions of the woman's injuries, which, they said, caused death and could not have been self-inflicted.

Mrs. Dulmage, daughter of the Klingebells, was the object of much sympathy as she gave her testimony. She sobbed all the time, and the old prisoner broke down and cried as his daughter told of finding her mother in a dying condition. Her father told her that he and her mother quarreled, her mother was sassy and he beat her. Drink, he said, was the cause of it. He also spoke of her brother Herman.

Herman Klingebell was a new witness. He testified that before he left home, years ago, he had known his father to abuse his mother, both with his tongue and his fist.

The old man grew excited as his son gave this testimony, and afterwards denied it to the police magistrate. At 4.30 the hearing was adjourned till Tuesday morning next. Very little sympathy is expressed for Klingebell, especially among those who know him best.

ARE DISGRACEFUL

Muddy Conditions of the Streets the Subject of Much Comment—B. of W. Busy

The muddy condition of Chatham's thoroughfares has occasioned much comment from both citizens and visitors. Try as she will Chatham does not seem to get a great deal cleaner, although the city fathers are making most strenuous efforts to combat the evil every year.

Probably when paved streets become universal and the city grows large enough to demand and pay for a large force of street cleaners the Chathamites will no longer have to kick against the clinging and disheartening mud that he has come to look on as a natural adjunct to the Maple City.

During the past fortnight there has been an unusually large amount of mud on our main streets, and even King street, "the clean street," has been able to boast of three or four inches of sticky slush. Matters are getting better, however, and at the instigation of the Board of Works the street scavenging staff has been doubled for the week in order to combat the nuisance. Both yesterday and to-day the augmented company have been hard at work and now we can cross King street without being up to our ankles in the dirt.

Ald. Hensen told a Planet reporter yesterday that the Board of Works were doing their best to get the city clean, but owing to the extraordinary softness of the weather the mud was proving a tough customer to tackle, and that body were not satisfied altogether with the progress of the work. The street cleaners, however, were putting forth their best efforts and the city would soon become, if not as clean as the Board of Works would like it, at least as mudless as it is possible to make it.

A SERIOUS FAMINE

Canada's Agent in Japan Says Millions Or More Are Starving.

Ottawa, March 10.—In a report to the Trade and Commerce Department, Alexander Maclean, Canada's commercial agent in Japan, writes that the famine conditions as described in official statements, are appalling.

Private munificence is doing its best to relieve the distress. It is said that there are a million or more Japanese of all classes affected by the famine. Imperial and provincial authorities are carrying on public works to give employment to relieve the distress.

Aid For Japan.

Albany, March 10.—Gov. Higgins, in a proclamation issued yesterday, calls the attention of the people of the State of New York to an appeal of the American National Red Cross for aid for the sufferers from famine in Japan.

The struggle for life grows heavy when there is nothing but hunger in the house and nothing but sorrow in the heart.

EX-MAYOR W. E. McKEOUGH TALKS ON TRIP TO FLORIDA

One of the Most Interesting Lectures Ever Delivered in the Maple City Given by this Experienced Tourist, to the Young Men's Club

A PLEASANT SOJOURN IN THE SUNNY SOUTH

Ex-Mayor W. E. McKeough, one of Chatham's most eloquent and interesting lecturers, has just recently returned from a very pleasant trip to Florida. Mr. McKeough is a very observant traveller and has the happy faculty of noticing the things that are the most interesting to the ordinary person. His lecture to the Young Men's Club last Tuesday evening was very much enjoyed by every young man who had the privilege of being present. Mr. McKeough gave a graphic description of his trip and his address was one of his most scholarly efforts.

The address in part (as follows):

Travel to the Sunny South has become so universal that special Florida trains leave Detroit each day of the week, except Sunday, between the hours of twelve and one o'clock, which will bring one to St. Augustine, Florida, the following night at ten o'clock.

We boarded the Florida special via M. C. R., Big Four, Queen and Crescent and Southern Railways on the 15th of last month, which was a cold February day, and before night we had passed Toledo, Springfield and Dayton, reaching Cincinnati about eight p. m. It was still cold, but when we arrived at Chattanooga the next morning, having passed through the States of Kentucky and Tennessee during the night, we found the water in the streams quite clear and apparently no signs of frost or snow. Atlanta, Georgia, was our first objective point and our fellow passengers all declared that it was the most progressive city in the South, and so we found it to be. Although it has a population of only 150,000 it has the appearance of a much larger place, and although its population is only one-half that of our neighboring city of Detroit, yet it possesses many stores of larger size than those of Chatham's big suburb, and has so many skyscrapers that it resembles the great metropolis New York.

The chief industry of the South has been for many years the growing of cotton, which product amounts to $600,000,000 annually. Some of the cotton is manufactured in the South, but most of it is shipped North and to England, where the finer materials are made.

Atlanta is the capital of Georgia and consequently is the seat of government and the law courts. Its public buildings are imposing, its churches and schools numerous, its hotels are large and well equipped and its private residences handsome and palatial. It is also the centre of the insurance business of the South and is essentially an office city. There are numerous large industries, chief among which is a large steel plant of which our host is the energetic head, which competes successfully with the Great United States Steel Corporation on account of its being situated in the centre of the South, thus affording the consumers of their output in the South a great advantage in freight rates which renders them fearless of their great rival.

The Southerners are a delightful and hospitable people who entertain well and abundantly, their homes are cultured and brilliant, and their women beautiful, sparkling, vivacious in whose company wit and humor flow unconfined. They pronounce their A's very broadly and drop their R's, and the expression "bello" for "well" becomes quite familiar.

Among the elderly Southerners who were in affluent circumstances and who suffered great privation during and since the war, there still rankles hatred for the North. They claim that they were Sovereign States and had the legal right to secede from the Union whenever they saw fit, and they have been left to themselves. They would have gained their freedom without the disastrous effects of the most destructive war in history, where thousands of homes were destroyed and where brother fought against brother and where fathers and sons were in opposing armies.

The younger generation view the war differently and realize that the South was morally although not legally wrong in dissolving the Union which has become one of the greatest nations of the earth and which yields so beneficial an influence over the whole world. As the great Boer War bound the colonies more firmly to the Mother Country so the Spanish-American War has welded the North and South more closely together, for the South sent many brave soldiers to fight for the cause of the Star Spangled Banner and the North has generously recognized the valor and bravery of their heroes who took so prominent a part in that great expedition.

Northern capital also is assisting to soften the sentiment of resentment which has existed so long, as it is being used to great advantage in fostering new industries and developing the great resources of the South. Georgia is a very rich State. It has iron and coal and granite and marble in vast quantities, but the Georgia pine of which we see considerable in the North is diminishing.

The climate of Atlanta is delightful. The peach trees were in blossom and violets and jonquils were growing in great profusion. The Magnolia trees retain their rich green foliage all winter.

The colored people are in evidence everywhere. Every household of any pretensions has several servants. They make excellent cooks and the old mammies are the most faithful of nurses. It is quite usual to find in many of the old families those who were formerly their slaves and the affection which exists between them and their former owners is constant, sincere, and at times pathetic.

We were loathe to leave our gracious entertainers. On our way to Florida in the southern part of Georgia we noticed the pine trees were slashed on two sides near the roots for the purpose of extracting the gum which makes resin and turpentine, and which is gathered every week. These trees continue to grow after having been slashed for five years, when they are handed over to the saw mills.

Our first stop in Florida was at St. Augustine, which is said to be the oldest city in America, founded by the Spaniards in 1565. It is a quaint, interesting city, containing some of the finest hotels in America. We stayed at the celebrated Hotel Ponce de Leon, named after that noted Spanish adventurer, which is one of the numerous hotels built by the Standard Oil king, H. M. Flagler, all along the east coast of Florida. After luncheon I accosted a driver of a smart surrey and asked him what he would charge to take us for a drive. He said, "4.50 to West Beach."

"But how much by the hour," I asked.

"Don't drive by the hour here, Boss; just by the job," he replied.

"I will drive you about the city for $3.00, Boss," he continued.

"Well, we wish to visit the old cathedral, the old slave market, the narrow streets, the old gate and Fort Marion; will the drive include these?"

"Yes, and much more, Boss; and when I get through you will want no other than Willie Sam to drive you again."

The drive was very pleasant. The old cathedral contains the original bells bearing the inscription, "Sanctus Joseph, a. m. d. c. xvi. 1682." The old narrow streets, with overhanging balconies, are picturesque, and the old gate and Fort Marion, built of a concrete composed of cement and sea-shells, called coquina, are exceedingly interesting. Here the windows and doors were wide open and we discarded our heavy coats. Large palm trees and orange trees are a feature of St. Augustine.

The next day we journeyed south by the Florida East Coast Railway. Our train, composed of all parlor cars, left St. Augustine about 9.30 a. m. and reached Palm Beach at 5.00 p. m., passing through Ormond, Rockledge and other resorts.

At Rockledge we were in the midst of the orange groves of Florida, and a little farther south we passed through acres and acres of pine-apples. The growth of tropical trees and plants is prodigious, the railway in many places running through large swamps overgrown with huge palm-trees, live oaks hung with mosses and other tropical vegetation.

Florida differs considerably from Southern California. Florida is low and swampy, while Southern California is high and dry. The palms are indigenous to Florida and grow there in their wild state—every clearing is overrun with them.

Southern California was a mountainous desert before the era of irrigation. When water was found and brought down to the hills, the palms, oranges and flowers were planted and flourished with the greatest profusion, and the desert was made to blossom like a rose. The climate, consequently, of Southern California is more temperate than that of Florida, which is somewhat enervating on account of the swampy character of the country, which is all very flat except along the coast, which is slightly higher.

Palm Beach is certainly the Paradise of America, and probably of the world. The hotels Royal Poinciana, situated on Lake Worth and about half a mile from the sea, and "The Breakers," on the ocean's shore, were built by Mr. Flagler and are the largest on earth. The grounds about the hotels are enriched with rare and costly plants, trees and shrubs, which have been brought from every quarter of the globe. We saw for the first time coconuts growing on the trees. All kinds of palms are here and the sapodillo, poinciana and rubber trees, and pine-apples and bananas are in abundance. What attracted me most was the luxuriant growth of the Hydrangea, a large shrub of dark green foliage, covered with brilliant scarlet blossoms six inches in diameter. The Salvia, which beautifies many of Chatham's lawns in August, and many other beautiful flowers were in full bloom, and the delicatest and graceful climbing orange-colored honeysuckle covered many houses. We were delighted with the wonderful floral display.

Each day we enjoyed the luxury of a swim in the ocean. Asked at the office as to the temperature of the water and was smilingly told that the sea here was warm enough to bathe in every day of the year.

One of the amusements here is to be pushed in a biplane chair through the jungles to the alligator farm, where about thirty big, ugly alligators are engaged. The men play golf and lawn tennis, and a few of the women bathe, but the chief occupation of the majority of the fair sex is to display their modiste creations to the admiration of the men.

The climate of Atlanta is delightful. The peach trees were in blossom and violets and jonquils were growing in great profusion. The Magnolia trees retain their rich green foliage all winter.

The colored people are in evidence everywhere. Every household of any pretensions has several servants. They make excellent cooks and the old mammies are the most faithful of nurses. It is quite usual to find in many of the old families those who were formerly their slaves and the affection which exists between them and their former owners is constant, sincere, and at times pathetic.

FIVE GOLDEN RULES.

First—Eat only 3 meals a day, 5 hours apart.

It requires 4 to 4½ hours to digest a meal. This leaves ½ to 1 hour for the stomach to rest.

Second—Eat nothing between meals.

If anything is taken into the stomach while digestion is going on, digestion stops and may not start again for an hour.

Third—Eat slowly and chew food thoroughly.

This insures food being well mixed with saliva and partially digested before it reaches the stomach.

Fourth—Drink little fluid with meals.

The stomach gives out about a pint of gastric juice to digest each meal. If you take another pint of tea, wine or water, then the digestive juices are too diluted to properly digest the food.

Fifth—Take one "Fruit-a-tives" tablet about twenty minutes before meals.

"Fruit-a-tives" tone up and sweeten the stomach—insure an abundant flow of digestive juices—and cure Dyspepsia.

Follow these directions for a month and see how much better you are in every way.

THE STAGE

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

At the Grand—
The German Gipsy—March 10.
Her Only Sin—March 12.

(Supplied to The Planet by Press Agents.)

AL. H. WILSON.

That popular young German dialect comedian and singer, Al. H. Wilson, (Metz), in a new rollicking comedy, entitled, "The German Gipsy," is to be the attraction at the Grand this (Saturday) evening.

The title role is a young German, (Metz), a poor rovers, whose poverty is no check to his effervescent spirit, nor his mishaps to his ambition. This enjoyable type of German is peculiarly adapted to Mr. Wilson's great talents, even more happily than all his former successes.

The stage pictures required are exceedingly elaborate and massive, which, together with the costumes, furniture, properties, electrical effects and color schemes, mark a memorable event in this modern day of realism.

Mr. Wilson's songs are entirely new and will be heard in the Maple City this evening for the first time. They are, "No Love Like Thine," "Under the Harvest Moon," "Gretchen," "The Love Trust," "My German Rose," "The Girl for Me," "Katie Krause," and "The Rocky Road to Dublin," introducing also, in character selections, the Famous Zangara Gipsy Trio.

To-night at the Grand.

"HER ONLY SIN."

Miss Julia Gray, the handsome and talented young English actress, is entering on her third annual tour this season with this play, "Her Only Sin," as her vehicle.

Manager Prisco, of the Grand, announces that he has consummated arrangements with Mr. Carter, her manager, for the appearance of Miss Gray at the Grand on Monday night.

Some exceedingly clever character work are shown in the play. The character of Adolphus Bond, the eccentric little English barrister, is one of the most pleasant bits of comedy work that has appeared on the stage. Julia Gray, who plays the stellar role in which she is given a wide scope to show her dramatic abilities, plays the part to perfection and in a way that always elicits the applause and sympathy of an audience.

Very flattering press comments and enthusiastic receptions were given the production during its run in several of the larger cities, the company having played to splendid audiences everywhere.

Miss Julia Gray is an emotional actress of rare ability, and it is expected that the capacity of the Grand will be taxed on Monday night.

GLENWOOD.

Mr. John Mabbett and Geo. Handy have returned from Detroit, after a two weeks' visit with friends there.

Mr. T. W. Chester and wife and Mrs. John Chester spent Sunday with relatives in Renwick.

Mrs. A. W. Gilbert has sold her farm to Martin Johnson, of Victoria. Mrs. Gilbert and family and T. W. Chester and family leave within a month for Alberta, where Mr. Gilbert has been for the past year.

Rufus Newham and Fred Rollett, of Detroit, are visiting relatives here. Mr. Rollett, Sr., is a little better.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Hetherington, of Leamington, spent Sunday with friends here.

BLOOD HUMORS

PIMPLES Many an otherwise beautiful and attractive face is sadly disfigured by unsightly blotches, eruptions, pimples, eruptions, flesh worms and humors, and various other blood diseases.

Their presence is a source of embarrassment to those afflicted, as well as pain and regret to their friends.

Many a cheek and brow—cast in the mould of grace and beauty—have been sadly defaced, their attractiveness lost, and their possessor rendered unhappy for years.

OPERATED IN CANADA.

Many Legislators Operated in Deals Known to Andrew Hamilton.
Albany, N.Y., March 9.—Andrew Hamilton, who disbursed $1,847,382 of the "yellow dog" funds of the New York Life in influencing legislation in ways unexplained, and who came back to New York unexpectedly on the steamship Deutschland, has gone to his home in Albany.

Hamilton comes chiefly to face any criminal charges which may be lodged against him and to do everything with his power to clear the name of John A. McCall.

His return is fraught with many possibilities. One of the company's officers says: "Hamilton has been doing his confidential work for the New York Life for fourteen years and in that time handled more than $1,300,000. He did work at one time or another with every Legislature of every state in the union and in Canada. You can wager that many legislators in many sections of the country will be awake to-night wondering how much Hamilton is going to reveal."

Insurance Men Indicted.
New York, March 9.—Indictments charging grand larceny in the first degree and forgery in the third degree by Frederick Burnham, president, George D. Eldridge, first vice-president, and George Burnham, Jr., second vice-president of the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance Co., were found by the grand jury yesterday. In all, five indictments were brought against each; two for grand larceny and three for forgery.

The alleged larceny and forgery was brought about, according to the indictments, by payment of $3,000 to the company's money to law firms, the apparent purpose of which is alleged to have been to settle claims against the company while the real object is alleged to have been to settle actions which had been brought against officers of the company as individuals.

The indictments on which a charge of grand larceny is based, alleged that the officers embezzled two sums—$7,500 and $1,500—on Oct. 24, 1901.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
Is a powerful, invigorating tonic, imparting health and strength in particular to the organs distinctly feminine. The local womanly health is so intimately related to the general health that when diseases of the delicate womanly organs are cured the whole body gains health and strength. For weak and sickly women who are "worn-out," "run-down," or debilitated, especially for women who work in store, office or sewing machine, or bear heavy household burdens, and for nervous, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proven a priceless benefit because of its health-restoring and strength-giving powers. As a soothing and strengthening nerve-tonic, "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea, or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womanly organs. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency. Cures obstinate cases. "Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of "female weakness," painful periods, irregularities, prolapse or falling of the pelvic organs, weak back, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration. Dr. Pierce's medicines are made from harmless but efficient medical roots found growing in our American forests. The Indians knew of the marvelous curative value of some of these roots and imparted that knowledge to some of the friendlier whites, and gradually some of the more progressive physicians came to test and use them, and ever since they have grown in favor by reason of their superior curative virtues and their safe and harmless nature.

Your druggists sell the "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" and also that famous alterative and purgative stomach tonic, the "GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY." Write to Dr. Pierce about your case. He is an experienced physician and without charge will give you confidential and without charge for correspondence. Address him at the "Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute," N. Y., of which he is chief consulting physician.

INTERNATIONAL BIBLE LESSON FOR TO-MORROW.

The Tongue and the Temper.—Matt. 5:33-45. Read Matt. 5:17-32.
Golden Text—"Keep the door of my lips."—Ps. 141:3.

Are the teachings of this sermon on the mount practicable? Yes, but only to those whose hearts are filled with God's love. People are agreed that degenerates and outcasts need to be born again, and so they do, but this sermon proves that all men not only need regeneration, but the indwelling of God's spirit in sanctifying power, to obey their King.

The life lived by the Jew, in obedience to the Mosaic law as he understood it, was a much lower moral life than a Christian life lived in obedience to the Holy Spirit now. Read Rom. 8:1-5. The law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus imparts life and power to the trusting soul, and then new found heartfelt energy inspires obedience to the will of God, and the will of God, in its indwelling, executive power, is our only sanctification.

Verse 33—Mark, thou shalt not swear by thyself, and verses 34 to 37, but I say unto you, swear not at all, but let your yea be yea, and your nay be no, in truthful simplicity; anything added as emphasis is of the evil one. R.—An oath implies the that without its use you are at liberty and liable to be untruthful.

Verses 38-42—An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth, all right in Moses' time, but far below the requirement of my followers, inspired by the Holy Spirit—Luke 11, 13—which your Heavenly Father gives to those who ask Him. Herein is meekness, to be smitten and submit willingly to its reproaches when the verdict is against you to restore over and above what the law requires. See Zechariah. If government officers compel you to drive them a mile drive them two miles. If the poor come to borrow, make a gift. Verses 43 to 48—Love your friend, hate your enemy? No! The law of my kingdom is love your enemy also. John 3:16—"For God so loved the world, that he gave his only-begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life." Salute each other in their synagogues and societies, with a friendly grasp, but your children of God will be like Him, and love everybody. We are created and redeemed to glorify God and enjoy Him forever.

This Pretty Girl Saved From Catarrh of the Lungs By Pe-ru-na.

MISS FLORENCE KENAH.

Miss Florence E. Kenah, 434 Maria street, Ottawa, Ont., writes: "A few months ago I caught a severe cold, which settled on my lungs and remained there so persistently that I became alarmed. I took medicine without benefit, until my digestive organs became upset, and my head and back began to ache severely and frequently. I was advised to try Peru-na, and although I had little faith I felt so sick that I was ready to try anything. It brought me blessed relief at once, and I felt that I had the right medicine at last. Within three weeks I was completely restored and have enjoyed perfect health since. I now have the greatest faith in Peru-na."

Florence E. Kenah.

The cold wind and rain, slash and mud of winter are especially conducive to catarrhal derangements. Few women escape.

Upon the first symptoms of catching cold Peru-na should be taken. It fortifies the system against colds and catarrh.

Pe-ru-na for Colds and Catarrh.
The following interesting letter gives one young woman's experience with Peru-na:

Miss Rose Gerbing, a popular society woman of Crown Point, Ind., writes: "Recently I took a long drive in the country, and being too thinly clad I caught a bad cold which settled on my lungs, and which I could not seem to shake off. I had heard a great deal of Peru-na for colds and catarrh and I bought a bottle to try. I am pleased that I did, for it brought speedy relief. It only took about two bottles, and I consider this money well spent. "You have a firm friend in me, and I not only advise its use to my friends, but have purchased several bottles to give to those without the means to buy, and have noticed without exception that it has brought about a speedy cure wherever it has been used."—Rose Gerbing.

Pe-ru-na Contains no Narcotics.
One reason why Peru-na has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Peru-na is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peru-na does not produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh. There are a multitude of homes where Peru-na has been used off and on for twenty years. Such a thing could not be possible if Peru-na contained any drugs of a narcotic nature.

A PLEASANT TRIP

Rev. A. H. MacGillivray Returns from a Visit to Nashville Tenn.

Rev. A. H. MacGillivray returned last evening from Nashville, Tenn., where he has been for the past week attending the Students Convention. Rev. Mr. MacGillivray enjoyed his trip very much, and says that he derived much information that will be of future benefit.

"The convention at Nashville last week has been recognized as the greatest religious gathering that has ever taken place on this continent," said Rev. Mr. MacGillivray in a short talk with The Planet this morning. "There were upwards of 4,000 delegates present from the various colleges, and among the speakers were many of continental, some even of world-wide reputation."

"The only Canadian speaker who addressed the assemblage was Rev. J. A. McDonald, editor of the Toronto Globe, who gave an address that was commented upon as being an exceptionally able one."

"On Monday evening we spent a very pleasant and profitable time at the Mammoth Cave of Kentucky."

Space will not permit of a detailed account of Mr. MacGillivray's trip to-day, but Mr. MacGillivray has promised The Planet a more detailed account for a later issue.

Mr. MacGillivray's sermon at the First Church to-morrow will be based on the convention, and the wonderful energy of its promoter, John B. Mott. Next Friday evening Mr. MacGillivray will deliver an address on his trip to the Mammoth Cave of Kentucky at the meeting of the Young People of the First Church.

TALK ON JAPAN

Miss Ermatinger Gives a Delightful Lecture in the Garner House Parlors

To the lay mind Japan has ever been a land of mystery and romance. An Oriental charm of quaintness and originality characterizes the home of wistaria bowers and tea gardens, and irresistibly attracts the curiosity and attention of the foreigner.

Probably this fact will account for the large attendance of cultured and refined Chathamites at Miss Ermatinger's lecture in the Garner House Parlors last evening.

An air of Eastern art pervaded the rooms, which were tastefully decorated with the splendid collection of Japanese curios belonging to the ladies of the Japanese booth, which will be one of the chief attractions at the coming "Fair of Nations."

The musical program was excellent and added greatly to the success of the evening. Miss Edythe Hall contributed the first number, a Japanese Serenade. Following this she gave a much appreciated rendition of the quaint National Anthem of Japan; and then Miss Hollinsworth sang an old Japanese love-song, which met with a most enthusiastic reception.

Miss Ermatinger then delivered a most enjoyable and instructive talk on Japanese social and domestic matters. She dealt exhaustively with the quaint habits and interesting customs of these fascinating people, describing their houses, manners and bearing, in a lucid and attractive way, illustrating her clever descriptions of the places she had visited by a collection of photographs taken during her stay in the happy island. Altogether, her lecture was a literary treat and her listeners accorded her a round of hearty applause upon its completion.

Mrs. Milton Bogart then favored the gathering with an acceptable Japanese song and was well applauded.

Mr. James Simon made an excellent chairman and considerably helped toward the success of the event.

The ladies are very grateful to the proprietors of the Garner House for the use of the parlors and for the many courtesies they have extended to them.

The receipts from the admission fees were most satisfactory, and altogether the affair was a success in every way.

Following are the names of the ladies who had the lecture in charge: Mrs. W. A. Hadley, Mrs. Joseph Simon, Mrs. J. Post, and the Misses Nora Stephenson, Mary Shannon and Edythe Hall.

To-day, for the first time, the various banking institutions in the city were kept open till three o'clock in the afternoon. This new departure, it has been learned, will be continued every Saturday in the future.

It will mean a great convenience to business men and farmers.

The advisability of keeping the banks open Saturday evenings, from seven till nine, is also being considered, but no definite arrangements have so far been made for the latter departure.

COCKFIGHT POSTPONED

The cockfight which was announced to take place in Detroit during the past week, for some unknown reason it seems, did not materialize.

It is a certainty, however, that all arrangements had been made for the fight, which was to have been between local birds, and game chickens owned by a gentleman prominently connected with the Hamilton Jockey Club.

The mill was to have been pulled off on the Hamilton man's property in Detroit.

The local birds are still in training and it is surmised that the mill has been postponed till a later date, when the talk about the affair quiets down.

A case of assault has been preferred against a Chatham young man, and the case will, in all probability, come up before Judge Houston on Monday. The young man has been trying to settle the case and it may, if possible, be settled out of Court. It is understood the assault took place in a city hotel. The woman in the case is a waitress in this hotel.

Mr. E. B. Tole, of Blenheim, shipped a fine colt to a horse fancier in Appleton yesterday. The colt was one of the finest ever raised in this district. The man who purchased it has never seen the animal. He saw Mr. Tole's advertisement in the paper and fancied the colt from the description therein contained. Local horsemen who have seen the animal say that the purchaser will not be disappointed.

WAS POSTPONED

The big race, which was to have been run on the market square yesterday morning, due notice of which was given in this journal, did not come off. The contestants were Andrew Harbert and James Scott. J. C. Northwood was starter and Col. Sam Holmes was the stakeholder.

When one of the contestants went home he found that his wife had been ill. She was afraid that her husband would lose that hundred and told him so in no uncertain language. As a result, he decided to listen to the advice of his better half, and so the race was off.

Col. Holmes still holds the money, and it is hoped the race will be pulled off in the near future.

Mrs. Punched is visiting her mother, Mrs. Tackaberry, Grant street. Mr. Punched, who was obliged to take a long rest last fall owing to ill health, has so far recovered that he was able to return to Chicago last week to resume his position.

Miss Ethel Cucksey, Queen street, gave a most enjoyable evening last night to about forty of her young friends. Dancing and cards were indulged in until the " wee sma' " hours. In a guessing contest which caused considerable amusement, Mr. Frank Mount and Miss Eva Wilson were prize winners.

The ladies of the United States and Italian Booths will hold a rummage sale March 30th and 31st at the Urban Store. McFADDEN—McCORKERELL.
A pretty wedding took place on Wednesday evening when Jennie McCorkerell was united in matrimony to George McFadden, both young people being natives of Harwich.

The event took place at the home of the bride on the 3rd concession, Harwich, and was a brilliant function in every way.

The bride was attired in a splendid wedding gown of silk elaine trimmed with pearl trimming and silk lace, while her bridesmaid, Miss McCorkerell, of Ottawa, wore a beautiful dress of mauve silk.

Mr. Clarke, of the 8th concession, Harwich, was best man, and Dan McCorkerell, brother of the bride, gave her away. The bride carried a bouquet of white carnations while the bridesmaid bore a bouquet of pink flowers. The wedding presents were both numerous and costly.

Miss Tuck played the wedding march after the ceremony and presided at the piano during the evening.

The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a sunburst of pearls, and to the bridesmaid an oval ring, and to the best man a jewelled stickpin.

Over fifty guests sat down to the wedding feast, and after this sumptuous spread had been disposed of the company spent a very enjoyable social evening, breaking up at a late hour. The happy couple left Harwich for Fletche on the following day, where Mr. McFadden has built a fine brick residence in which to commence his married life.

The bride is a sister of Mrs. Owen Crow, Emma street, Chatham.

PRESENTED

Wednesday evening the employees of the machine department at the Gray Carriage Works gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Moore, St. George street, to bid farewell to their brother workman and his good wife, who are leaving for Los Angeles, Cal., in a couple of weeks to take up their home. Mr. Moore was presented with a fine shaving set and an address. The address was as follows:—
Mr. George Moore:

We, your fellow-workmen, learning that you are about to leave us, take this opportunity of brightening the last links of our golden chain of friendship, which we hope will not grow dim during your absence. We never realize the true value of a friend as much as when we are about to lose him. I am sure we can all express our feelings toward Mr. Moore in four little words—"a jolly good fellow." We are glad you found time to spend this evening with us before going, and we ask you to accept this shaving companion as a slight token of our regard and to express to some extent the high esteem in which you are held by your fellow-workmen.

Assuring you that the best wishes of those present here to-night and those unable to be here, will travel with you and your family to your new home, where we are sure you will soon make many new friends, as you have done in Chatham.

Your fellow-workmen, Wm. Gray & Sons Co., Ltd.

O. McBride read the address and the presentation was made by James Dyer.

Afterwards a pleasant social time was spent.

FAIR TO THE COMPANY.
The conductor on a little Southern railway took the fare and counted it, and then, carefully, he put part of it in his coat pocket, and the rest in the hip pocket of his pantaloons.

"Why," said the passenger, "do you divide the money in that way?"
The conductor, with a frown, replied:—"The company's got to get something, ain't it?"—New York Tribune.

Mr. M. N. Dafeo, Manager The Dustless Brush Co., 29 Colborne St., Toronto, is telling his friends how he found health after years of illness and pain. If I say at all, but since using Anti-Pill I can eat anything the same as when I was a boy. My old time vigor has returned, so that my spirits are buoyant and temper normal. NOT A GAME BIRD

Ever since the fact was announced that there was going to be a cock fight in Detroit in the near future, the inquisitive ones have been wondering who the sports are who are interested. So far little information has been obtained. Thus it was that the wise ones thought they had a clue to the mystery when they saw ex-Mayor Geo. W. Cowan going home the other evening with a likely looking bird under his arm.

All the way down King street the popular shoe man was kept busy explaining that his bird was not of the fighting variety. It is quite likely the bird will be adorning Mr. Cowan's table some of these fine Sundays.

Thirty Women Storm "C. B."
London, March 10.—A band of thirty zealous women suffragists attempted to storm Premier Campbell-Bannerman's official residence on Downing street yesterday afternoon. They used the knocker vigorously and attempted to force an entrance when the door was opened. Three ring-leaders of the women suffragists were taken to the nearest police station struggling and screaming and followed by 27 of their companions shouting: "Down with the C. B." and other cries. "C. B." otherwise Premier Campbell-Bannerman, was presiding at a Cabinet Council at the time the women called and he refused to see them.

But Enough to Convince any Jury that Psychine Cures all Ills That Lead to Consumption

Thousands of people who have used Psychine are spreading abroad the good news that they have at last discovered a sure cure for all those diseases that are fore-runners of consumption—a sure preventive of consumption. Only a few can be given here, but it is to your interest to study them carefully.

Psychine Cures Colds and Grippe

My wife took La Grippe when she was in Ottawa. She got a bottle of Psychine, and after using it for a few days she was quite well. I took a cold, am using it, and am getting all right.—R. N. DAFOE, Northfield Farm, Quebec.

Psychine Cures Night Sweats and Chills

I suffered with lung trouble, and was subject to night sweats, chills and fever, and a terrific cough. Friends thought I'd never get better, but found in Psychine a sure and permanent cure.—G. H. BRISTOW, Bath, Ont.

Psychine Cures Bronchitis

I got a severe cold, which turned to Bronchitis, and my lungs were seriously affected. I had a cough all summer. Psychine proved a great blessing to me, and I now know it is a sure cure for Bronchitis.—CHESLEY SCHELL, Ravenswood, Ont.

Psychine Cures Pneumonia

My son Laurence was taken down with Pneumonia. Two doctors attended him. He lay for three months almost like a dead child. Then we started to use Psychine. The effect was wonderful. We saw a difference in two days. Our boy was soon strong and well.—MRS. A. O. FISHER, Newmarket, Ont.

Psychine Builds Up the General Health

Having used Psychine while in a state of convalescence, I deem it well worth using by those in search of robust health in cases where La Grippe or any Throat or Lung Trouble has left the patient emaciated or depressed in spirits. Psychine has the marked property of reviving and restoring and bringing joy and pleasure into life.—REV. P. C. MILLOR, The Rectory, Cornwallis, N.S.

There is proof that Psychine cures throat and lung trouble, and builds up the general health. As a tonic, a giver of good all-round health, nothing ever given to the public or known to science can compete with

A DIET FOR THE BEAUTY

FOOD FOR HER WHO WOULD BE HANDSOME AND HEALTHY.

Too Many Follow the Unbiblical Custom of Drinking Milk and Eating Meat At the Same Meal—Fine Complexion Comes From Eating More Than the Customary Amount of Fruit.

Nourishing, palatable food eaten at a table where harmony reigns promotes health, long life and good looks. Canadians hurry their cooking too much. It is better to have simple food that does not need much preparation than to attempt boiled, baked and stewed dishes that require a long time in cooking. Such dishes as these last are daily served on many a Canadian table half cooked and wholly indigestible. For another thing we Canadians eat far too much meat. Again, many families follow the thoroughly unibiblical custom of drinking milk and eating meat at the same meal. Milk itself is a food and a strong one.

The woman who would be beautiful and have a fine complexion must eat much more fruit than the average Canadian girl does. Such vegetables as tomatoes, celery, spinach, lettuce, carrots, onions, parsnips and even the honest, homely cabbage should enter liberally into the beauty seeker's diet. Cabbage served as cold slaw, chopped fine and eaten with lemon juice and salad oil, is a healthful food. Onions, raw, boiled or roasted, have an excellent medicinal effect, though they are not to be recommended when one is going anywhere. Some beauty seekers habitually eat raw carrots, sliced fine and find the dish most palatable.

Breakfast should always begin with fruit, even if one can have nothing better than nicely stewed dried apples cooked with slices of lemon. But stewed prunes are a valuable corrective of a stuffed and packed intestinal canal. Lemon slices, the rind left on, stewed with them make them more palatable. Stewed rhubarb, or pieplant, especially in the spring, is also good for clearing out the system.

One of the best health promoting agents in the family is the apple barrel. Before or after meals apples may be eaten at will. The apple contains a considerable proportion of that phosphoric acid which some doctors claim as the sovereign solvent for washing away the lime and other earth salts that gather about the human system and make the individual old.

The best way to eat an apple is in the raw state, but it should be ripe and sound. This noble fruit contains much nourishment and in general is easily digested, though there are a few persons with whom it does not agree. But each individual must decide for himself which foods agree with him.

As to grapes, some German sanitarians have established regular grape cure establishments in the vineyard regions, where patients from the cities go and eat little else than ripe, fresh grapes. The effect on gouty and rheumatic persons is said to be wonderful. For a breakfast cereal nothing made by machinery and christened with a fancy name has ever equaled the "cracked wheat" prepared by intelligent country matrons for their families twenty-five years ago. A pint, say, of plump wheat grains was carefully looked over, and all defective grains or foreign substances were removed. The wheat was thoroughly washed, then as thoroughly dried in the oven of the kitchen stove. After that it was cracked or ground in the hand vegetable and meat mill that ought to be in every family and slowly cooked, perhaps two hours.

Then, too, nothing was ever more palatable and nourishing, especially in cold weather, than just the so called "Iye hominy" our grandmothers made from Indian corn. Still on some farms wise and skillful women make it, and it is a brave standby in the family menu. Dried lima beans and sweet corn soaked and made into succotash constitute a health and beauty food that the money of the city millionaire cannot buy.

The woman who is too fat should take all the vigorous exercise in the open air that she can and live on lean meats, eggs, toast and acid fruits. She should eat as little bread, potatoes, fats and sweet foods as possible, not drinking much.

Queer Insurance.

In Denmark there is a company which insures women who have a fear of becoming old maids. They pay stated sums every year and should they marry before they are forty the amount they have paid in goes to the less fortunate. After they are forty they receive pensions for life.

RECORDS TO MARVEL AT

F. MARRIOTT TRAVELS MILE IN AUTOMOBILE IN 23 1-5 SECONDS.

He Described Sensations During His Record-Breaking Trip — Thought Top of Head Was Being Torn Away — His Eyes Were Turning to Water, And He Had No Sense of Distance or Time—As From a Projectile.

Fred Marriott's sensational record breaking auto racing feats at Ormond, Fla., have created worldwide discussion. The first reports of his great speeding exploits on the beach course were thought to be untrue, but later the public was amazed to learn their truth.

Marriott has made Barney Oldfield and W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., look like novices. He broke all existing records for one mile, two miles, five miles and for a kilometer.

He traveled the mile in 23 1-5 seconds, two miles in 58 4-5 seconds and five miles in 2 minutes 47 seconds.

A mile in 23 1-5 seconds means 2.13 miles a minute, 100 miles in 47 minutes, from New York to Chicago in 74 1-2 hours. The fastest railroad time from New York to Chicago is 16 1-2 hours.

FRED MARRIOTT.

Marriott's mile race was at the rate of 127 1-2 miles an hour, faster than the fastest wind whose speed has ever been measured.

Those who saw the feat will never forget it. At the time they could hardly realize what it meant, for they might as well have tried to estimate the speed of a comet flashing across the sky.

And like a comet was the great event. The crowd saw the long red canoe-like steamer pass slowly up the beach to the starting point. With its low body and sharp pointed ends and its great wheels it looked like some vicious red sea monster crawling along the sand. In the middle of its back was a slit, whence peered a begoggled and masked head. It was seemingly a part of the whole.

The crowd waited, watching the little spot on the beach. Then it began to move, they thought. In another second there was no mistaking it. The dot had grown to the size of a man's hand. There was no more chance to estimate. Like some apparition seen in a dream it flashed forth into a great blur of red seen through haze dimly visible in a cloud of steam and flying sand. With a humming noise that grew into a roar the cloud was past the judges' stand, where the signal rang out that the mile had begun. Almost before the signal had ceased the shot from the automatic pistol at the finish line told that the mile was over. And far below the finish line the blurring cloud with its throbbing heart of red was fading from sight like a shooting star.

"I thought the top of my head was being torn away," said Marriott. "My eyes were turning to water. From the time I started until I slowed down I had no sense of distance or time. I did not know when I passed the judges' stand, nor did I hear the pistol at the finish. I expected it would be this way when I laid out my course as if I were aiming a gun. Then I clung to the wheel and was carried on.

"I might just as well have been riding in a projectile for all I knew of my speed. I guessed I must have passed the finish line, and then I began to slow down."

The speed made by the Stanley steamer in this race may be appreciated when compared with the mild record of 1 minute 35 seconds made by the running horse Salvador. The fastest time for a mile ever made on a bicycle was that of Robert Walthour, 1 minute 7 seconds. The Stanley steamer was built by F. E. Stanley of Boston and looks like an inverted racing shell on wheels. It appears to a point at each end, and the driver sits midway between the front and rear wheels, only his head showing above the tapering bonnets before and behind him. In its flight of a mile in less than half a minute the wheels of the machine did not appear to touch the ground.

Red Rose Tea costs no more than other teas

EVERYONE agrees that the best in anything is always the most economical even if it costs more.

But when you can get the best in tea at the same price you pay for inferior teas,

—when you can get that "rich fruity flavor" of Red Rose Tea,

—when you can get all the good qualities of both Indian and Ceylon teas with none of their weaknesses,

—when, in short, you can get Red Rose Tea at the same price as other teas; why not have it?

THREATENED WITH PARALYSIS.

Peter B. Summers, of Kalamazoo, Mich., relates his experience: "I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in early youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me, teased my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Summertime in the Augusts set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, were an electric belt for the months, but received little benefit. While after treatment at Dr. Kennedy & Kergan, though I had lost all faith in doctors, I was cured. I was cured of my nervous debility, my blood was purified, my nerves were strengthened, my eyes became bright, my face full and clear, energy returned to the body, and the moral, physical and sexual systems were invigorated. All drains ceased—no more vital waste from the system. The various organs became natural and manly. You feel yourself a man and know marriage cannot be a failure. We invite all the afflicted to consult us confidentially and free of charge. Don't let quacks and fakirs rob you of your hard-earned dollars. WE WILL CURE YOU OR NO PAY.

GIVES TWO REAL GOOD REASONS

For Believing Dodd's Kidney Pills Cure all Kidney Ailments

Cured His Backache of Twenty-five Years Standing And Satisfied Everyone He Recommended Them To.

Economy Point, N. S., March 5.—(Special).—George S. McLaughlin, of this place, gives two splendid reasons for his belief that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the one remedy for kidney ailments. Here are the two reasons in his own words:

"I was troubled with lame back for 25 years or more, sometimes so severe that I could not get myself in bed. One box of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, and I have had no return of the trouble since."

"I have recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills to a number of persons who had kidney trouble. All who have used them have been benefited or cured."

Dodd's Kidney Pills not only relieve all kidney diseases, from backache to Bright's disease, but they absolutely cure them. But sometimes where one or two boxes relieve it takes more to make a complete cure.

Dozen Insurance Presidents Meet in Secret Session in Toronto—Will Give Press Nothing.

Toronto, March 9.—Premier Whitney said yesterday that an expert would be appointed to give the counsel for the province actuarial assistance during the coming insurance inquiry.

One dozen insurance presidents from throughout the province held a secret session at the King Edward yesterday. Important matters re the impending insurance investigation were discussed pro and con.

T. H. Purdon of London, president of the Northern Life Co., said that the meetings were secret, and that nothing would be given to the press. The subjects discussed dealt entirely with insurance management.

A CHICAGO ALDERMAN OWES HIS ELECTION TO CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY.

"I can heartily and conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for affections of the throat and lungs," says Hon. John Shenick, 220 So. Peoria St., Chicago. "Two years ago during a political campaign, I caught cold after being over-exerted, which irritated my throat and I was finally compelled to stop, as I could not speak aloud. In my extremity a friend advised me to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I took two doses that afternoon and could not believe my senses when I found the next morning the inflammation had largely subsided. I took several doses that day, kept right on talking through the campaign, and I thank this medicine that I won my seat in the Council." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

Silk Hat Band Bag.—A very useful hat band bag may be made of an old, but not too old, silk hat. Carefully remove binding, band and soft lining and brush all the nap thoroughly. With a sharp penknife cut the brim from the crown, and the "beaver" will peel off easily. Rejoin the crown to the base and brim and fit the whole with a silk lining. The rings for the drawing strings should be fastened inside, and the appearance is much improved by a full silk fringe behind the rings. This bag will not roughen and look shabby in a very short time, as might be expected, and a particular convenience will be found in its flat base, which enables the contents to be seen at a glance.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY.

The great success of this preparation in the relief and cure of bowel complaints has brought it into almost universal use. It is never fails, and when reduced with water and sweetened is pleasant to take. It is equally valuable for children and adults. For sale by all druggists.

Home Distilled Water.

Distilled water can be made easily at home and be continually on hand for cooking, drinking or bathing. It is the only water that should be used upon the face, while for a drink for dyspepsia it is unequalled, causing no discomfort after it is taken. Take a teacupful with a closely fitting cover and a gutta percha or lead pipe fastened to the spout. The pipe should lead through a pall of cold water into a receptacle for holding the distilled water. The steam from the boiling water goes off through the tube, condenses under the cold water and runs out pure into the receiver.

WOMAN'S WORLD

MISS FLORENCE H. KING.

A Noted Patent Attorney Who Is a Self-Made Woman.

Fifteen years ago a maid of all work in an Iowa farmhouse earning $1.25 a week "and her keep" by cooking, washing, scrubbing and scrubbing floors; today a "patent" attorney in Chicago with an annual income of $10,000—licensed to practice in the United States supreme court and with the record of having put a $5,000,000 corporation entirely out of existence by proving in open court that the corporation was wrong and that her client was right.

These are the extremes of the achievements of Miss Florence H. King of Chicago, who is a self-made woman if ever there was one. While working as a maid she saved enough money to take a business course in college, and then she set herself to the study of her chosen profession, with the result that today she is one of the best patent attorneys in the country.

Miss King is her own technician and expert. She can make intricate drawings and specifications and elucidate mechanical principles to the finest detail.

MISS FLORENCE H. KING.

tail. She is intimately familiar with the construction, purpose and operation of every one of the hundreds of parts of a locomotive or dynamo. She discusses them fluently and authoritatively. The keenest mechanic is unable to confound her once she has made a study of a particular device.

The triumph of her career as a lawyer came in the supreme court of the United States in 1903 in a suit involving the rights in a packing for journals used in axle boxes on railroad equipments. The inventor had spent three years, from 1887, the year the patent was issued, until 1900, trying to induce the railroads to use his packing. In 1900 he died and left his patent to his widow, who had no other means of support. She licensed the patent to a big supply company with a capital of $5,000,000, the company agreeing to pay her a minimum royalty of $8,000 a year for a time and then canceled the license and refused to pay the royalty.

Choosing Miss King as her attorney the widow brought suit against the company. Opposed to the Chicago woman as counsel were several of the most brilliant lawyers, aided by high priced experts. The case was carried through to the federal supreme court, and in 1903 Miss King won her case. The result was the annihilation of the big corporation, which went out of business entirely.

In this case were involved some very fine technical distinctions as well as legal principles. Miss King was master of them all, and her argument was one of the most lucid, forcible and comprehensive of the kind ever delivered in the nation's highest tribunal. Since that victory Miss King's practice has grown by leaps and bounds, especially as it relates to anything in the way of railway equipment.—New York Herald.

Crape Paper Vell Holders.

Beautiful vell holders may be fashioned out of crape paper, and if made at home are inexpensive. The only difficult thing is the hand painted decorations, but if a woman has a little experience this will be easy. One holder may be fashioned from two plain white or colored napkins of crape paper, wide and from twenty-four to twenty-six inches long. Between them is placed a sheet or two of fine cotton batting delicately scented with rose or violet, and the edges are bound with ribbon to match the decorations to be painted or stamped on the paper. If red roses are painted in water color, then red satin ribbon is used, while if bunches of violets are put in the border blue ribbon is sewed to the edges, or, with chrysanthemums, a yellow ribbon. When both sides are decorated fold the napkins once, sew the corners of one end together and fasten with one or two dainty bows of baby ribbon of a shade to match that used on the edges. Then fold one corner of the other end, bring it down to the bottom and fasten in place. Put on one or two bows like those at the top and the holder is complete. The one side turned over makes it easier to slip the vell into place and shows the one on top, so that the woman who goes to get a vell can readily see the color.

Managing Husbands.

"If a wife would keep her husband her lover let him miss her now and then," is the advice of a worldly wise woman. "Men get tired of their wives just from seeing them round so much."

the same race at breakfast 365 times a year, the same face at dinner year in and year out. Neither realizes what the trouble is, and the wife as often as not thinks it is her fault and prods herself into greater conscientiousness, greater fidelity. Stuff and nonsense! Let her pack her grief and go off for a holiday. Give him the jolt of finding that he must eat his dinner alone once in awhile. The use and want attitude toward the wife, the taking her for granted—it is this which, unguessed, lies at the bottom of much domestic friction of the day. In nine cases out of ten the woman is its victim; but, on the other hand, it is generally her fault to begin with. These self-offending, meek, ultra conscientious little wives—oh, how much they have to answer for!"—New York Tribune.

Buying Remnants.

It is seldom the part of wisdom to buy remnants of anything unless they are of a length to make some complete garment. Odds and ends of silk, lace, insertion and passementerie may look irresistible on the counter in company with others of their kind, but what are they good for when you get them home? Shirtwaists, fancy stocks, gumpies and so on may be concocted with success out of marked down bits and shreds, but to buy odd lengths of things at random, hoping to employ them on new gowns or wraps, is generally foolish. Unless one buys with an exact use in mind one is apt to find one's self burdened with a lot of impossible things, and there is certainly no economy in that.

Faith

You cannot be expected to have faith in Shiloh's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, as a cure for Colds, Coughs and all diseases of the air passages, if you have not tried it. We have faith in it, and we guarantee it. If it doesn't cure you it costs you nothing. If it does, it costs you 25c. That's fair. Try it to-day. Shiloh has cured many thousands of the most obstinate cases, and we do not hesitate to say that it will cure your Cold, Cough, Throat or Lung trouble. If we did not believe this we would not guarantee it. Shiloh has had an unbroken record of success for thirty years. It has stood every possible test without failure. Further is found in the many testimonials of those who have tried Shiloh and been cured. Mrs. Archie Taylor, Annapolis, Pa., writes: "I bought a bottle of Shiloh's Consumption Cure and found it very beneficial. I have two children, and they had a terrible cough. I gave them everything I could think of, but they got no better, until one evening my husband brought a bottle of Shiloh. We were in a fix. We were when they went to bed, and they slept all night. It cured them completely. I shall always keep it in house."

THE FRILLED LIZARD.

R. Carries an Umbrella and Has a Fighting Tail.

The frilled lizard is found in Australian woods, being tolerably abundant in north Queensland and the Kimberley district of western Australia. It lives on beetles such as are found on the tree barks. It is about three feet long, measured from head to tail point. What makes it remarkable consists of two things—its hurried walk and its fighting anger.

It carries a sort of natural umbrella top about its neck, which it elevates suddenly with an alarming effect even to ordinary lizard killing dogs, scaring them as an umbrella opened in the face of a charging bull; hence it is called the frilled lizard. Its teeth are not of much use as a defense against a vigorous animal, but when it fights it uses its long, lithe tail in a way to bring long bruises on one's hands—in fact, could it be properly trained, it might serve as an automatic switch, which, like the magic rub-a-dub-dub stick, would at the word administer a thrashing to the disobedient child.

From the scientific point of view the creature's peculiar method of ambulation is most interesting, because it presents an absurdly grotesque appearance at such times, more especially from the rear. It walks bipedally or on two feet, like a bird, and so much does it resemble a bird in its walk that it seems to be the connecting link between the ancestors of birds and the lizards of today.

HANGED TO MUSIC.

Doomed Man Sang "I Want to Be an Angel" With the Crowd.

"In the early days of Wyoming, when there were but a few churches and many infractions of law, a man of the name of Barstow, who never knew fear and was a devout Christian, was elected to the office of sheriff," said a citizen of that state. "Soon after Barstow entered upon the duties of his office a man was convicted for a capital crime.

"The fact that there was no minister within reach preyed upon the mind of the sheriff, who undertook to supply the lack by holding an hour's Bible reading in the condemned man's cell and praying with him. As the time for the hanging approached Barstow became possessed with the fear that he had not acquitted himself of the spiritual responsibility devolving upon him and devised a programme that was new and unique. After the victim of the law's mandate was placed upon the platform and everything was in readiness the sheriff prayed long and fervently. Then he called for some one to start a hymn, and a man near the platform began the only one he knew, 'I Want to Be an Angel,' in which the prisoner joined.

As the last verse was sung the sheriff busied himself adjusting the noose, and immediately upon its conclusion the trap was sprung."

Geography Set to Music.

"I don't know," said a Bangor man the other day, "what their methods of teaching are in the schools these days, but I was surprised not long ago when talking to a youngster to find that he couldn't tell how many counties there were in the state of Maine, nor could he name the capital without looking up the information in his geography. He was a bright boy, too, and I wondered. When I went to school we learned the names of the sixteen counties to the tune of 'Yankee Doodle,' and to this day I have never forgotten how the class sounded singing the useful little jingle. It went this way:

"Sixteen counties in the state—Cumberland and Franklin, Piscataquis and Somerset, Aroostook, Androscoggin, Sagadahoc and Kennebec, Lincoln, Knox and Hancock, Waldo, Washington and York, Oxford and Penobscot."

—Lewiston Journal.

Diminutive Aztecs.

The feminine direct descendants of the famous Aztecs are tiny creatures, exquisitely formed and refined in feature. They carry the head with the up-bearing grace of the full blooded Indian; their skins are not red, but a clear, smooth copper color that shines like gold in the sun; their hair is coarse and black as ebony, and they are decorated with bright feathers and gay ornaments. These women make the most wonderful pottery that comes to us from Mexico, for they have kept the old Aztec forms and decorations in their art, and they also weave wonderful baskets and do exquisite embroidery.

Order.

Order is a lovely nymph, the child of beauty and wisdom; her attendants are comfort, neatness and activity; her abode is the valley of happiness; she is always to be found when sought for, and never appears so lovely as when compared with her opponent, disorder. —Johnson.

Glycerin in the Laundry.

For laundry purposes pure glycerin is simply invaluable, especially in the washing of blankets, flannels and all materials for which softened water is necessary. It is not extravagant, for a tablespoonful of the pure article in a large bucket in which the blankets are to be washed will prove exceedingly useful.

House Flannels.

Cut off the feet of old stockings, cut the legs open and sew them up, two together, for rubbers. These will be found to make excellent "house flannels" and useful polishers for furniture, etc. The cut feet, opened out, are handy for applying the beeswax and turpentine or other polishing medium.

Pay bills weekly. A wise housewife never allows them to run longer. Monthly bills mean an additional cent tacked onto nearly every article that is bought, as some tradesmen will tell you themselves.

The Fiddle Drill.

The "fiddle drill" is one of the oldest stonecutting tools in existence. It is said to antedate Greek sculpture and is in use today in about the same form as it was 2,000 years ago. As its name implies, its action resembles a fiddle. The drill is of two pieces. In one hand a carver holds the drill stock, which is like a carpenter's brace, except that it is straight instead of having a crank. In the other hand he holds the "bow," which is given a turn around the drill.

To use the drill, the carver places the drill stock against his breast, holding it with his left hand, and with his right he draws the bow back and forth, fiddle fashion. This imparts a rotary motion to the drill stock, and the drill is ground to cut in either way it turns. The fiddle drill is used in the finest work, in carvings where the sculptor could not reach with his chisel and hammer without endangering the carving.

"Cleanliness is next to godliness."

Dirt and depravity go hand in hand. This is just as true of the inside of the body as of the outside. Constipation clogs the body and clouds the mind. Constipation means that corruption is breeding in the body, poisoning the blood with its foul emanations, befogging the brain with its tainted exhalations. Constipation is the beginning of more diseases than, perhaps any other single disorder. The consequences of constipation are legion. Headache, pain in the side, shortness of breath, undue fullness after eating, coldness of the extremities, nervousness, indecision, lassitude, dizziness, sallowness, flatulence, and a score of other ailments are directly caused by constipation. Cure constipation and you cure its consequences. The quickest cure of this evil is obtained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are small in size but wonderful in result. They cure permanently. They contain no injurious ingredients. The use of them does not breed the "pill habit." Ask your druggist for them. Send 31 one-cent stamps, the expense of mailing and customs, and receive Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers. This work contains 1008 pages and 700 illustrations. For 50 stamps it can be addressed Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE TROUBLE CLOUDS RISE

Agreement Probable Between France and Germany

THE QUESTION OF POLICE

Algiers, March 10.—Expressions by the French and German delegates to the conference on Moroccan reforms last night give the impression that a compromise on the points hitherto dead-locked may be reached to-day.

The German delegates have now moved from the hitherto rigid standpoint which they have maintained relative to the Moroccan Bank declaring their readiness to grant to French subscribers to the existing loan two shares of the capital of the bank, instead of one share at first.

The French delegates, though outwardly determined not to reduce their demand for four shares, appear inclined to accept the German offer, but in return expect the Germans to meet with concessions in the matter of the police.

France will not agree to the scheme of allotting certain parts to France and Spain, according to the Austrian plan, nor to the appointment of a commander who is not French, but is willing to consent to appointment of an inspector from a neutral nation who shall not have command of the police.

The bank question will come up first to-day. The indications point to mutual concessions, and in the event of their realization a discussion of the police question will proceed with great chances of an agreement being reached.

THE INSURANCE INTERESTS.

New York State Investigating Committee Hears "Big Three" Presidents.

Albany, N. Y., March 10.—For many dreary hours yesterday, until nearly midnight last night, the joint special legislative insurance investigating committee listened to arguments of insurance president, actuaries and agents against some of the most important and far-reaching provisions of the bills amending the state insurance law and embodying the recommendations of that committee as the results of its protracted and sensational investigations of the conditions of the life insurance business in this state.

The hearing was in striking contrast with the investigation itself, and was a marked disappointment to those who had expected either a bitter onslaught upon the bills or an occasion of sensational utterances. With few exceptions the speeches were of an extremely technical character.

An interesting feature of the hearing was the presence and speeches of three new presidents of the "Big Three" life companies of the New York City, Paul Morton, ex-Secretary of the Navy, who succeeded James W. Alexander at the head of the Equitable; Alexander E. Orr, successor to the late John A. McCull, as president of the New York Life; and Charles A. Peabody, successor to Richard A. McCurdy, as president of the Mutual Life.

The hearing was adjourned at about 11:30 p. m., until next Thursday at 2 p. m., when it will be resumed and continued Friday as long as may be necessary.

Kentucky Reforms.
 The Kentucky House of Representatives has by unanimous vote, passed a bill providing for an annual accounting and distribution to policyholders by all insurance companies doing business in Kentucky.

In House of Lords Also.
 London, March 10.—The Earl of Onslow, Conservative, gave notice in the House of Lords yesterday of his intention to question the Government as to whether, in view of the disclosures made regarding certain American insurance companies, it proposes to compel foreign companies doing business in Great Britain to keep in this country a sufficient proportion of their securities to cover the claims of British policyholders. The matter will come up in the House next week.

Four Men Hurt and Hamilton Building is Wrecked

A LANTERN IS THE CAUSE

Hamilton, March 10.—Four men were hurt last evening about 7 o'clock at F. W. Bird & Sons roofing paper factory in the annex, and a small building was wrecked, by the explosion of a tank of benzine.

The men were engaged in a little brick building, about 15 feet square, in which benzine was stored in iron tanks. They were mixing benzine with a preparation used for roofing paper.

They had a lantern, and one of the men, John Leith, saw that it was beginning to splutter. He grabbed and started for the door, but he was not quick enough to prevent it from igniting the benzine fumes.

The whole tank of benzine exploded, blowing Leith out into the yard. He was not very badly injured, but the other three men who were penned in the building were very seriously, though not fatally injured.

The explosion practically blew the whole building down, and the men were battered by the flying bricks and pieces of iron, badly burned about the face and arms.

The injured are: Supt. Fisher, 211 South James street; J. Hainsworth, 297 North James street, and Hugh Reid, 81 Charles street. All were taken to the city hospital.

THE STORY

Is Misleading and False

Some manufacturers of weak and almost worthless package dyes, now advertising their common products, and advising the ladies to use them, make the false and misleading claim that their "diamond" dyes will color all kinds of materials—wool, silk, cotton and mixed goods—equally well. This false claim has deceived many women in Canada, and to-day, disappointed women and girls deplore the loss of good garments and materials as well as hard-earned money.

Moral:—Carefully avoid all adulterated, weak and common package dyes that may be offered to you by dealers looking for large profits and caring little for the comfort and welfare of our thrifty and economical women.

DIAMOND DYES, the world's favorites for successful home coloring, have scientifically prepared dyes for wool and silk, and for cotton and mixed goods, giving the best, and most profitable results—bright, full and everlasting colors that never fade in sun or washing. Each color of the DIAMOND DYES sells for 10 cents per package, same price that is demanded for the imitation and worthless dyes which destroy your goods and ruin your hands. Ask for the DIAMOND DYES and refuse all others.

Send your name and address to Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, Montreal, P. Q., and you will receive free of cost new Dye Book, Card of Dyed Cloth Samples and Booklet in verse, entitled "The Longjohns' Trip to the Klondike."

ELECTION LAW CHANGE

Toronto, March 10.—In the Legislature yesterday, Hon. Mr. Hanna introduced a bill to amend the Toronto General Hospital Act, providing for a board of 25 trustees instead of 5, 8 to be appointed by the Government, 5 by the university, 5 by the city, and 7 by subscribers.

A clause in the bill provides as follows: Should the trustees under the power of this act expropriate the block of land south of College street, west of Elizabeth street, north of Hayter and Christopher street, and east of University street, or any portion thereof, then those portions of Avenue street, Avenue lane, Centre and Christopher street, lying within said limits, shall be closed, and the fee therein shall be vested in the trustees.

Mr. Hanna remarked that it was desired to get through the second and third readings as soon as possible. Those interested in the hospital had asked that this should be done, and there appeared to be good reasons.

Election Law Change.
 A change in the election act is sought in a bill by Mr. Duff, whereby sheriffs and registrars would be debarred from acting as returning officers unless given authority by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

Mr. Pratt introduced a bill to amend the Toll Roads Act by removing the maintenance of an expropriated toll road lying wholly within a single township from the county, and to place the responsibility upon the township in which the expropriated road lies.

Mr. McDougall was given an order for a return showing amounts and prices of commodities supplied either to the Government, or the commissioners of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, by the license inspector at Mattawa.

Also for a return giving names of all officials replaced by the Government in East and West Nipissing, stating positions formerly held by them, the reasons for their dismissal, and the names of the persons appointed in their places.

Indian Claims.

Mr. Ross moved for a return of copies of all papers and correspondence regarding the settlement of the Indian claim of Northern Ontario, known as Treaty No. 9, together with a copy of the treaty as finally agreed upon.

Mr. Matheson replied to Mr. Ross that by the terms of negotiations with the Dominion Government, the latter was to pay the cost of all inspections and surveys of reserves, and of the cost of education and of supplies which amounted to a considerable sum. All that the province had to bear was the cost of annuities at the rate of $3 a year for each reserve dweller for the first year, $5 for the next year, and $4 for each succeeding year. This would amount for the first year to about $10,000 and about $5,000 for each year thereafter.

Living on the Country.
 Mr. Eliber moved the second reading of his bill to recover from inmates of houses of refuge who might come into property. He knew of four cases in the County of Huron where inmates had property amounting to $4,000. One inmate had $1,000 in the bank, and a house and lot worth $7,500; another had a paid-up life insurance policy. Mr. Eliber's bill also gives power to inspectors of jails to inspect houses of refuge.

Hon. Mr. Harcourt did not think the Legislature contemplated taking care of persons owning farms.

The following other bills were read a second time: To amend Assessment Act (Hoyle); to amend the Municipal Act (Thompson, Simcoe); respecting the police village of West Lorne (Macdonald); empowering the London and Western Trust Co. to sell certain lands in the County of Lambton (Montgomery); respecting the Town of Oshawa (Calder); to confirm bylaw 718 of the Town of Napanee (Carssellien).

Ross Objects.
 The House was about to go into supply when Mr. Ross objected. Mr. Whitney said he was always, willing to accommodate the members, but a good deal had been said both in and out of the House about business being delayed.

commemorate the members, but a good deal had been said both in and out of the House about business being delayed.

Mr. Ross thought some Government bills should be down. The House would have to stay here five or six weeks on Government bills.

Mr. Whitney: I'm glad to hear it. The Premier continued that as there was to be a session of six weeks, it might as well be understood that while there was any business on the order paper it would be gone on with till it was cleared off. Beginning Monday, this would be the practice.

Mr. Harcourt called for the county council's bills, but it was not ready.

Then ensued a rather sharp bit of cross-firing, the two leaders bandying hot words, the outcome of which was that Mr. Whitney did not care whether Mr. Ross cared whether the House stayed five or six weeks or even longer. It was apparent that the Opposition leader had only one purpose, which was to rattle the Premier.

The House adjourned at 4 o'clock.

ARE YOU LOOKING FOR A HAPPY MAN?

If So Find One Who Has Used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets And Can Now Eat And Enjoy Three Square Meals a Day.

Three happy is the man who can take three square meals a day and enjoy every one of them. But in these days of bad teeth and quick lunches, how many people can do this? Can you? If you can't it's your own fault.

Modern science has overcome the handicap of bad teeth, quick eating and scanty saliva. It has provided Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, the greatest help to the Stomach ever discovered. They contain the necessary ingredients for digestion; to put it in brief they digest the food while the Stomach rests and recuperates. That they are an easy and natural cure for all Stomach ailments anybody who has used them will tell you. Louis M. Boudreau, of St. Louis, N. B., says:

"I recommend anyone who suffers from Dyspepsia to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. I had it badly, and the doctors I consulted did me no good. Three boxes of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cured me completely."

SATURDAY, MARCH 10, 1906.

THE OLD MARKET BUILDING.

A matter of more than passing interest, which is agitating the minds of many ratepayers to-day, is, what is to be done with the old market building; and, in view of the inextinguishable condition at the rear part of this structure, the question is being asked if the Property Committee intend spending the balance of the money in their hands in the same unsatisfactory manner as the former Council made use of the greater portion of the funds that were voted by the people for a market place which would have met all the requirements and have given us a building that would have been an ornament to our city.

Many of our best citizens, who have sat at the Council Board, and the Board of Trade, hold to the idea that the King street property should be sold and that no part of the market should be so near our main thoroughfare; others want an arcade erected, and still others hold to the view that, having an offer to lease the old building for a term of years, we should get an annual revenue for the city and keep the land in the hands of the corporation to be used for municipal purposes, until the unexpended monies could be supplemented for the erection of a handsome building for our city offices, which some day will become necessary if the city continues to grow.

The Planet is not prepared here to advise as to which of these first two courses is the better one for the city, but it is opposed to the leasing of the old building, as is strongly favored by some members of the present Council, to a financial institution desirous of locating in Chatham, as it would be manifestly unfair to the five existing banks already doing business in the city, who are heavy taxpayers. The location of a bank in this building would give the institution exceptionally advantageous quarters for transacting business, and, under a long lease, the property would be tied up for some years, as extensive alterations would have to be made before it could be occupied.

We hope the present Council will at once abandon any idea it may have of even considering the proposal. If other banking institutions want to locate in the city they will be welcomed, but they must know that this can only be done in the same way as the banks have already done, by being willing to take their chances to make their agencies pay without getting any special privileges from the municipality, as would be done if the offers now before the Council were entertained.

PROFITS OF TREE CULTURE.

Commenting on an item taken from The Planet to the effect that Neil Watson had sold five acres of elm timber on his farm near Melf for $1,500, the Galt Reporter makes the following sensible recommendations:

"The Reporter believes in the establishment of municipal, as well as Provincial and Federal forests. In the production of trees the municipality would be taking the future into account, as they do in Germany, where forestry is the pride of the people and the source of immense revenues for public bodies. A town like Galt could, with two hundred acres devoted to the growth of elm, maple, walnut, hickory and oak, see wealth piling up for it in the passing of the years."

"When our farmers take the future into consideration and realize what a good wood lot means they will not be so anxious to denude their lands—and they will pay more attention to the advice proffered them by the Forestry Departments at Toronto and Ottawa."

NEWSPAPER AS A DIRECTORY.

Many a man who thinks advertising would be of little value to his business would work himself up to a high pitch of indignation if his name were left out of the city directory or the telephone book or erased from the sign in front of his store. To be in the swim the merchant must be found where the public looks for him—and it looks first of all in the newspapers. The business man whose name and address cannot be found in the newspapers is not likely to be eagerly hunted up elsewhere by purchasers.

The South Ontario election results in the election of Mr. Mowat, Postmaster of Whitby, to represent that riding in the House.

Another great fire occurs in Dundas St., London, Ont., resulting in the total destruction of seven large stores, the loss being estimated at $100,000.

The marriage is announced at Chatham of J. A. Johnston to Rebecca Rachel, eldest daughter of W. A. Crow, all of Chatham township.

On Sunday, the 20th June, the dwelling house of William Loveless, Gosfield, was burned down, and only a part of the furniture was saved.

John Owen, of Dover, who met with an accident at Saginaw, Mich., died at his home, after an operation had been performed on him by a Chatham doctor.

William Green, of King St., Chatham, advises that in his ice-cream parlors he will in future supply summer drinks, such as soda water, lemonade and ginger beer.

The papers report the sinking of the famous Liverpool privateer, the Alabama, after an engagement with the Federal war vessel, Kearsarge, off the French coast near Cherbourg.

THE THUMB STRING.

A Simple Little Trick Which May Be Made Very Puzzling.

This is a very simple trick, but by performing it swiftly you may surprise and puzzle a spectator very much. Wind a piece of string about your thumb, thus: Let one end of it (A) drop between the thumb and forefinger of your left hand; then wind the other part, which you retain in your right hand, two or three times round your thumb, next make a little loop (B) with the same end, which hold between your finger and thumb.

Now let go the end (C) and take hold of the end (A), which you must have left, about six or eight inches long, and you may make a spectator fancy you pass it through the loop, and take hold of it again when so passed through in the twinkling of an eye.

To increase the surprise you may make the loop as small as possible. This apparent piece of manual dexterity is performed by passing that end of the string marked A as quickly as possible around the top of the thumb, so as to come between the forefinger and thumb. It will thus get into the loop, and you will seem to have passed the end through it, much to the wonderment of the audience at the seeming impossibility of such a thing.

Vanilla.

It is curious to read that vanilla was employed by the Aztecs of Mexico as an ingredient in the manufacture of chocolate prior to the discovery of America by the Spaniards and that it was brought to Europe as a perfume with indigo, cochineal and cacao ten years before the arrival of tobacco on our shores. The name vanilla is derived from the Spanish vaina, a pod or capsule. Dampier described it as a little pod full of small black seeds and like the stem of a tobacco leaf, so much so that his men when they found the dried pods at first threw them away, "wondering why the Spaniards should lay on tobacco stems."—Chambers' Journal.

A very sad case of family bereavement occurred in Chatham, Mr. Edward Hall losing his two sons and his daughter, through diphtheria. The three children died within a week of each other.

On Friday last Mr. Edwin Kerby struck a good oil well at Enneskilen, a short distance from the bridge crossing the creek in that village. The depth at which oil was struck was forty feet. The well will likely prove a paying one.

We observe that Mr. Caleb Wheeler, of this town, was one of the contestants in the great foot race which came off at Detroit on July 4th, and that he easily outstripped all his opponents, seven in number, in all heats, thereby winning the purse of $17.50, made up for the fleetest runner.

The Orange lodges of Chatham, Elmhurst, Morpeth, Ridgeway, Botany, Clearville and Dart hold a celebration at Elmhurst. After partaking of dinner at the various hotels in that place, the Orangemen formed a large procession and marched, headed by their bands, to the Town Hall, where a sermon was preached by the Rev. Mr. Hazard.

There was great excitement in Chatham over the success of the Chatham Salt and Oil Co., who, after many weeks of patient boring, struck oil at a well at a depth of 422 feet.

The drill, at the time that the oil was met with, was in a strata of shale rock, and it is believed that after this is passed a paying, if not a flowing, oil well will be found.

On Friday last the match between J. W. Buck's pacing horse, "Grey Eagle," and John Smith's trotting horse, "Old Bill," came off on the new Mineral Springs Course. After two exciting heats the match was brought to a conclusion by "Grey Eagle" winning for a second time, and securing the purse of $150. "Old Bill" went a mile dash with a horse known as "Baby Doney," and won a prize of $20. A bet was made that Tom Veitch's pony could not go round the track, one mile, on a trot in 3.40. She did the distance in 2.36, and the money was handed over to her owner.

"A dozen makes a fair sized meal. It big an' plump," says Harry Dean. "With good string beans an' new potatoes I've et as high as seventeen."

Then Uncle Ned an' Hiram Jedd They raised the ante six or eight, Till finally some one in the crowd Jest mentioned Uncle Henry Tate.

"Oh, Uncle Hank!" the crowd exclaimed. "Now, there's a man likes roastin' ears. He liked 'em when he was a boy And kept his taste through manhood's years."

"I'll tell you what," says Harry Dean. "I 'spect I'll make you fellows laugh. But I will bet that, slick an' clean, He'll eat a bushel an' a half."

Bill Jones pulled out his pocketbook To back old Hank's appetite. "This here ten dollars says," says he, "Two bushels will be nearer right."

Then all the crowd began to bet— Some put it less, some put it more— And just then lean old Uncle Hank Came amblin' in to Danby's store.

"Now, Uncle Hank, you tell us true," Said Harry Dean, "Speak up an' say How many roastin' ears of corn You find that you can put away."

A hungry look came in his eyes. Says he: "My luck was always tough. So, boys, I couldn't tell. Fact is, I never, never had enough."

—Kansas City Times.

An Interruption.

A teacher in a western public school was giving her class the first lesson in subtraction. "Now, in order to subtract," she explained, "things have to always be of the same denomination. For instance, we couldn't take three apples from four pears nor six horses from nine dogs."

A hand went up in the back part of the room. "Teacher," shouted a small boy, "can't you take four quarts of milk from three cows?"—Detroit Free Press.

In Doubt.

He—You might as well acknowledge that from the first you intended to reject me.

She—Oh, nonsense! Why, half the time I didn't know whether you were going to propose.—New York World.

Reducing His Surplus.

It was in a city drug store, and the little boy's mother, tired of waiting for him to finish his ice cream soda, slipped at it occasionally herself to pass the time. At the third slip the boy said suggestively:

"Why don't you get some for your self, mamma?"

"I don't want any," was her reply.

"Gee whizz, but I do!" exclaimed the boy.—New York Press.

Relievement.

"My father once won a prize of $500 for an essay on Greek poetry."

"Huh, that's nothin'! My old man once got a cash prize of $10,000 for inventin' a new scheme so that a railroad could allow a rebate without technically violatin' the interstate commerce law."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Choice.

"What is it this morning?" asked the new waitress. "Ham and eggs, isn't it?"

"No," replied Mrs. Starvem, "not exactly, and I want you to note this well. You must be careful to say to each boarder, 'Ham or eggs?'"—Catholic Standard and Times.

As She Understood It.

"According to the old proverb," remarked the bachelor, "we should prepare for war in times of peace."

"Well, I'm willing," replied the young widow, "but as poor, dear George has been dead only six weeks I think we ought to wait a little longer."—Detroit Tribune.

Too Violent.

"Do you take any muscular exercise?" asked the physician.

"I hang on to the strap in a street car for four miles twice a day."

"That's too violent. After this be content with walking the distance."—Washington Star.

CONCILIATION SPIRIT STRONG.

French Delegates Think Way For Understanding Opens.

Algiers, March 9.—Success of the conference on Moroccan reform cannot be described as absolutely secure since two of the main points in dispute, the allotment of bank capital and control of the police, are not yet settled. The French delegates show an inclination to regard the way as opened to an understanding, and the other delegates consider that a great forward step was made yesterday when a strong spirit of conciliation became evident.

France Has No Cabinet Yet. Paris, March 9.—President Fallieres' efforts to induce one or other of the several statesmen with whom he conferred yesterday to undertake the task of forming a Cabinet, have not yet borne results. It is understood that M. Poincaré will be called to the Elysee to-day.

Speaking Their Minds.

The queer thing about the people who boast of always speaking their minds is that they nearly always have such disagreeable minds to speak. Did you ever hear any one preface a compliment, a commendation or anything gracious or pleasant by saying, "I always must speak my mind?"—Woman's Life.

SURE PROOF.

He's a person of great self-control, isn't he?

I should say he is. Why, he can walk right up to a "Fresh Paint" sign without putting his hands on the paint to see if it's fresh.

Woman Who Won't Talk.

Three Rivers, March 9.—Mrs. Slater yesterday resolutely refused to say a word. Before she could be examined, counsel for McCraw, who is on trial for the murder of her husband, demanded to know whether she believed in God, to see whether she was fit for a witness. She simply and repeatedly declined to answer, and was promptly sent down by Judge Cannon for contempt of court, to stay in jail until she should become more communicative. Mrs. Skene was then put in the box, and to Mr. Guerin told in detail the story of the fatal night.

Forged Mining Certificates.

London, March 9.—Harry Samuel Simons and Franklin Everhart, Americans, were arrested here yesterday and were each remanded in $10,000 bail on charges of conspiracy and obtaining large sums of money by fraud. The prisoners, who are described as stock and share brokers, are alleged to have issued forged shares and certificates in connection with Alaska, Oklahoma, Cripple Creek and Manitoba mining companies.

There is no book so bad but that something valuable may be derived from it.

Arrow Shields.

The other day I saw a little, modern book, in a green cover, on a table in a drawing room. I picked it up. It was about the early French in Canada, and my eye fell on a copy of a drawing by their leader, Champlain, or Champlain. The scene represented was an attack by the native allies of the French, the Algonquins, on a fort held by Iroquois. The Algonquins advanced through showers of arrows under shields nearly as tall as themselves, like doors with rounded tops. Now, you may see exactly the same sort of shields in a picture of a lion hunt, in gold and silver, on the bronze blade of a dagger found by Dr. Schliemann in "the grave of Agamemnon." These monstrous Mycenaean shields cause much discussion among the learned. Why were they so huge? The Algonquins used the very same shields, hung from their necks, and the reason was the same—their battles were battles of archers, and nobody can parry a shower of arrows with a smaller shield. Shields grew small in Greece as bow and arrow went out and sword and spear came in.—London Illustrated News.
