FLOODS LOSS EXAGGERATED SAY REPORTS THIS MORNING

Revised Estimates are of More Hopeful Nature, But Anxiety About Dayton, Ohio Still Lasts—Death Toll at Columbus Not as Heavy as at First Reported.

Revised estimates which came in early to-day from the flooded districts of Ohio and Indiana showed that reports of loss of life in many cities and towns had been exaggerated.

The greatest anxiety still centred about Dayton, where an accurate estimate of the number of the victims of the flood continued to be an impossibility.

The death toll promises to be much less heavy at Columbus, Ohio, than first reports from the western part of that city indicated.

In the parts of Dayton which have been explored by a motor boat the death list has been greatly reduced from first estimates, and unless the number of victims in the north section of the city is found to be large, the dead in the entire city may not number more than 200.

In Piqua, where more than 500 persons were reported drowned, less than 20 lost their lives, according to advices to-day.

In Chillicothe, where the number of drowned was reported to be in the neighborhood of 500, the dead will not exceed 25. Similar results were expected as to Zanesville and other Muskingum Valley towns.

Indiana points continued to report improving conditions during the night, with the estimates as to deaths shrinking as more accurate reports were made.

Shot Looters Down ZANESVILLE, Ohio, March 28.—(By long distance phone to Pittsburg)—With the coming of dawn to-day Zanesville, 30,000 inhabitants of whom are homeless, saw the first gleam of hope since the flood in the Muskingum River swept through the city three days ago.

The river had commenced to recede, soldiers, reinforcements for the National guard on duty in the streets were entering the suburbs, and provisions had arrived to a point within four miles from the city.

The sun rose clear and bright and there were indications that the bitter cold of the past 24 hours was passing. Conditions are still frightful.

Looting has commenced and the militia has been given orders to shoot down the first thief caught at work. However, the city and county authorities are beginning to see electric light and water companies are out of commission and will be for days. One small gas line is serving the city with a fitful supply of fuel, and there is little if any coal available. Provisions are scarce and many families in the flooded sections are without food. Communication between the city and the section known as Putnam, where it is believed the loss of life will be the greatest, is still cut off and public and private business is at a standstill.

Looting has commenced and the militia has been given orders to shoot down the first thief caught at work. However, the city and county authorities are beginning to see

CARNEGIE GIVES $13,000 TO BRANTFORD LIBRARY

Andrew Carnegie has "come across" again for the Brantford Library. This time it is $13,000, and the pleasing announcement was made by members of the Library Board this morning. A year ago, under the chairmanship of Mr. Thos. Hendry, the Library Board decided that extensions were necessary and Mr. Hendry, with His Honor Judge Hardy, planned to make the effort to secure the amount needed from the Laird of Skibo Castle. Plans were drawn up a year ago for the extension, but it was not until this week that the announcement of the gift was received.

The library will be built practically to the rear of the present lot. The addition will include a new board room, a new stack room, an extension to the rotunda. It is also likely that special provision will be made for technical work. The front appearance of the library will not be changed.

The Carnegie gift, of course, is subject to the usual conditions that a fixed sum will be spent yearly on maintenance.

CATARACT IS FAILURE AGAIN

What Happens When The Lights in a Big City All Go Out.

The Cataract lights went out last night and there was a fine commotion in the dark in many places.

At the Western Counties office this morning little definite information could be secured in the matter of explanation of just why the lights went out, but it is thought that the trouble originated in the big turbines at Dicew Falls.

At St. John's church in the midst of a most impressive confirmation service at which 11 candidates were presented to His Lordship Bishop Williams, the electric glimmer went out and left the congregation in darkness. A hasty effort to light the gleam enshrouded surroundings by means of coal oil lamps was made and proved successful.

In the City Council Chamber the Pastime Bowlers were engaged in reading the minutes of the last meeting. It took them some minutes longer because Janitor George Smith was commissioned to get a supply of matches. The Pastimes wished for the time being that they were on their own green where they have the one original lighting system plant of their own design.

The theatricians and opera house also were victimized by the illusive Cataract and the crowds hankered for Hydro-lectric during the interval.

Safe Crackers Said To Have Had Plans on Brantford Office

Police Last Night Swooped Down in the Hope of Catching Expert Dynamite Men at Work, But the Birds Apparently Had Flown.

Is there a gang of crooks, thieves, marauders and desperadoes at work in the city?

Recent police activities would lead one to believe that something is doing, although a special raid by four stalwarts of the peace proved last night a case of a lot of smoke but really no fire.

Some one tipped it off to police headquarters that there were safe-crackers in the city and that they had plans laid to commence operations in the city. They were to start in at Geo. Foster and Co., wholesale grocers on Colborne St.

For a few nights past an officer has been stationed in front of Kerr and Goodwin's to keep on the look out for desperadoes, but no one seemed to put in an appearance. Last night the officials got uneasy, and thought there was to be "a job pulled off," especially when the electric lights were out of commission, and the city in darkness.

General citizens of course are not aware of the fact, but there landed in Brantford early in the week, four of what are believed to be among the most expert safe blowers in the United States.

The Buffalo police wired the various departments that they had left a quartette of men, were here whose names were not given, but whose appearance tallied with the Bison dope.

A man in plain clothes quietly visited the local hotels and found that the quartette were located two in one assumed name and two in another under the name of "The Bisons."

It was understood that their first job was to be at the wholesale warehouse of George Foster and Sons on Colborne street and an officer was stationed in the Kerr and Goodwin works to be on the look out.

When the lights went out it was decided to phone Mr. Trussdale, one of the members of the firm and it was found that he was out of town, the advice was given to phone Mr. George Hawkins, a city traveller, who was at that time attending a private dance in the Masonic Temple.

The idea was to get admission to the Foster premises. He immediately left for police headquarters and Sergeant Wallace and three constables immediately went to the premises and made a thorough search without any result.

It is believed some one tipped the men off from the Bison City, or else they got wise to the fact that they had been located.

At any rate the quartette left the city this morning.

Lloyd George On The Stand Says He Is Quite a Poor Man

Interest of British Members in Marconi Contract Stirs Up Considerable Interest—Chancellor of Exchequer Tells All He Knows About Transaction.

At the Marconi enquiry in London this afternoon the Chancellor of the Exchequer informed the committee that the whole of his investments yielded a yearly income of only $2,000. Although he was reported to have mansions in various parts of Great Britain and France, he owned only a single house of the value of $10,000.

Mr. Lloyd-George, while admitting that he made a profit of about $500 on his first sale of wireless shares, added, lugubriously, "I wish I had left it there."

There was a dramatic moment as Chancellor Lloyd-George, with a trembling voice, spoke of his early struggles as a lawyer, his rise to the rank of Cabinet Minister and the salary attached to that high office—"a substantial one to me, having regard to the life I was leading at the time."

Mr. Lloyd-George's eyes filled with tears, and he was unable to proceed for a few moments.

LONDON, March 28.—British ministers of state were more interested than was at first thought in stock transactions at the time of the agreement made by the British Government with the Marconi Company for the erection of a chain of wireless stations throughout the British Empire. A second deal by David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, and the Master of Elibank, the chief Liberal whip in the House of Commons, involving an additional three thousand shares in an American wireless company was revealed during today's meeting of the parliamentary committee of inquiry and created surprise among both the committeemen and the public.

The evidence was first divulged in the evidence of Sir Rufus Isaacs, the Attorney-General, just before he left the witness stand this morning and was subsequently confirmed by Mr. Lloyd-George himself.

When he took the stand this afternoon, the chancellor of the exchequer explained that he had been very anxious that the fact should be stated during the suit for libel brought by Sir Rufus Isaacs and Postmaster-

General Herbert Samuel, against the newspaper Le Matin, but omitted on that occasion thought it would strain the rules of evidence.

Mr. Lloyd-George, added that beyond the two deals which were now directly or indirectly bought or had any interest in any wireless concern, he asserted that there was nothing about the investment except what was perfectly reputable and creditable for any one and took occasion to remark that he was sorry in spite of the rumors as to prodigious fortune, that he was a comparatively poor man.

CITY ENGINEER TO GET AUTO

Board of Works will Recommend Purchase of Buzz Cart for Department.

The report of the Board of Works to be submitted to the Council on Monday night will likely contain a recommendation for the purchase of an automobile for the city engineer, a new traction engine and steam shovel for the Board of Works department, and a new street sweeper. The estimated cost is in the neighborhood of $8,000.

Price Paid By Allens In The Chair

RICHMOND, Va., March 28.—Floyd Allen and his son, Claude, the only two of the Hillside gunmen to pay the death penalty for the Carroll County murders a year ago, were electrocuted in the state penitentiary shortly after 1 p.m. to-day after a dramatic eleventh hour attempt to save them had been thwarted by Gov. Mann unexpectedly returning to the capitol and thus preventing the lieutenant governor from acting upon a request for a commutation.

The old mountaineer, once the terror of a whole section of the Blue Ridge, and his strapping young son, were electrocuted within ten minutes of one another. The old man who went to the chair shaking but brave, was pronounced dead at 1.26 o'clock. His son was dead at 1.35.

Marriage Under New Auspices

A new act regulating marriages will shortly be introduced in the Ontario Legislature. Its main features are: 1—The prohibition of the custom at present prevailing in Niagara Falls, Windsor and other places on the border of adjoining couples and people of unsound mind from the United States became united, thus over-coming the preventive legislation in the different states. 2—A clause prohibiting a minister from marrying people who are under the influence of liquor or who are of unsound mind. 3—A clause making the clerk of the municipality the sole issuer of marriage licenses. 4—A clause providing for notice of 30 days or three weeks when the applicant for the license has not been a resident of the municipality for a stated time.

REFUSE BRICK SENT TO CITY

Secord and Sons, Contractors, Determined to Secure Very Best Material for Post Office.

There has been a good deal of criticism of the brick for inside work unloaded on the site of Brantford's new public building. As a matter of fact, Secord & Son, the contractors, condemned the first instalment, and absolutely refused to make any payment. They also declined to unload two other cars standing on a Grand Trunk siding.

WILL SIT HERE ON APRIL 7

Dominion Railway Board Gets Ready For Session In This City.

The Lake Erie and Northern Railway application will be heard by the Dominion Railway Board in this city on April 7. This morning Sheriff W. Ross is in receipt of the following telegram from Ottawa from the Board, signed by M. D. Cartwright, secretary of the board: "Board of Railway has decided to hold sittings in Brantford April 7th, and would like to have use of Court House for that date. Kindly write Board if it will be available." Sheriff Ross stated that the Board would be able to secure the room.

POLICE

Another of the foreigners appeared this morning charged with breach of the Liquor by-law. Most of these foreigners keep boarders and when they order liquor they make good fellows of themselves and buy enough for the boarders too. This makes them liable as they are only supposed to have enough on their premises for their own use. The case this morning was adjourned until to-morrow.

As the outcome, a representative of the supplying company was in the city to-day, and after an examination remarked: "Your contention is quite right." He then announced that the company would remove all the brick at their own expense, and expressed regret that the concern (a most reliable one by the way) had inadvertently sent forward such shipment. Secord & Son are determined that none but the very best material will go into the structure.

GERMANY SHOWS TEETH AT CHURCHILL'S OFFER

The Olive Branch of Britain is Regarded as a "Fine Plot to Cheat"—Proposal is Ridiculed By German Press. Germans are Chummy About It.

BERLIN, March 28.—The "naval holiday" olive branch offered by Winston Churchill, the First Lord of the Admiralty, in the British House of Commons has met up to the present with a most discouraging reception in Germany. The officials of the German Ministry of Marine will remain discreetly silent until the full text of the speech is received by mail, but it may be inferred from the general tone in official quarters that the English Cabinet Minister's proposal to suspend naval construction for one year is an impossible one. It is regarded as likely that there will be no sign of a readiness to consider his proposal. In other quarters the hostility to the suggestion is not only violent, but is often vulgar.

All Vitiuperation. The section of the Pan-German anti-British feeling here, it would be itself in vitiuperation of Mr. Churchill whose suggestion is frankly declared to be a foul plot to cheat Germany under the guise of a friendly agreement, and to bring her under the British yoke.

The Post says: "Mr. Churchill's speeches have always been distinguished by inconsistency and insincerity, but on this occasion he has made it particularly easy for the critics to dispose of him. We are not going to overthrow our naval law at the behest of a very glib-tongued and blustering English Minister." The paper describes Mr. Churchill's proposals as not merely sheer fantasy of the most proteque and absurd sort, but something much worse.

Count von Reventlow, Germany's foremost naval critic, writing in the Deutsche Tages Zeitung, accuses Mr. Churchill of a felonious attempt to influence a section of German opinion which is opposed to naval expansion. He declares that Mr. Churchill's tactics are disloyal and insincere. Will Bleed Them White. The Tageliche Rundschau, ascribes what it calls Mr. Churchill's "passionate love-making" to Germany to a fear that the cost of the armaments will strangle Britain before Germany. The paper figures out that when Germany has 61 Dreadnoughts Great Britain must have 130, and adds: "This denotes for England a process which will bleed them white. The prospect is calculated to blanch even Winston Churchill's brazen face."

Many of the more reputable papers have not yet commented on the speech. The Liberal papers, the Vossische Zeitung and the Tageblatt, received the speech in a friendly manner. The Lokalzeitung, although it opposes the proposal, is content to say nothing stronger than that it is a Utopian idea.

One point made here is that a "naval holiday" of a year, as proposed by Mr. Churchill, would precipitate a crisis in the shipbuilding industry of both countries, which would amount to a self-inflicted stroke of economic paralysis, and for this reason alone the British Minister's scheme is impracticable.

Plans to Re-organize Assessment Department

Finance Committee Meets To-Night When Important Work Will be Undertaken—Remove Inequalities.

The finance committee meets to-night in connection with the re-organization plans for the assessment department. Just what form the re-organization will take has not been definitely decided upon. It is not regarded as likely that there will be any increase in the staff, although changes may be effected in the personnel. Ald. Spence, chairman of the finance committee, refused to discuss the matter this morning, further than to say that the committee was aiming at securing greater efficiency, whereby inequalities in the assessment of the city would be reduced to the minimum. It was also desired to have the revenue of the city boosted by a general raise of assessment, and in this connection it is likely that the assessors will work along definite lines laid down by the finance committee. Last year excellent results were secured in this way. A reduction of the tax rate, it is expected, can be much more easily effected if the assessment is carried out with efficiency, and it is contended that this department is the most important with which the City Council has to deal.

HEAVY FINES WERE MULCTED

Local Movies Contributed $50 and Costs in Police Court.

Because of an oversight in failing to take out five-dollar licenses, two operators employed at moving picture theatres in this city were yesterday fined $5 and costs by Magistrate Livingston. The cases were heard in camera, and the complaints were filed following a visit of the Government inspector. While the magistrate had no other course under the statute but to impose the fines, it was admitted that it was a matter of hardship on both theatricians, the proprietors of which had not attempted to escape paying the ordinary license fee. It was a case where there was a change of operators, and the transfer of the license was not effected. In the other the proprietor had given the money to the operator wherever to pay his fee. In neither case was there any suggestion of incompetence of operators, a matter in which the statute is very particular.

IT IS TO LAUGH

The amusing Toronto Globe has broken out in a new spot. It twits Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty with having shown that the "German peril has vanished into thin air" and asserts that because no battleships are needed from Canada in the German sea that therefore no emergency exists and that therefore Johnny Canuck should build, man and equip three workshops for Vancouver, at which point the leading Grit organ seems to imagine there is hourly danger of an attack from Japan.

The whole trouble with the Globe on this naval business is that it is viewing the matter from a narrow standpoint and does not seem to be able to exercise an Empire view of the situation.

HEALTH MINISTER

It is rumored that the Borden Government proposes to establish a Minister of Public Health. It is to be hoped that the statement is correct. In some places, France in particular, there are inducements for the acceleration of the family birth rate, but there is also the solemn duty of preserving those we have, and to a very large extent many diseases are in the preventive class such as typhoid, tuberculosis and in fact all cases in which infection is involved. Of course in this connection the matter of an early diagnosis with regard to individual cases and complete isolation are essential.

Sunlight, fresh air, cleanliness and kindred aids have in later years taken their rightful place in lieu of much of a pharmaceutical nature, and the medical men of to-day are avoiding to a very large extent the use of medicines.

There is still very much education however, to be accomplished with reference to the very simple rules of right living, with suitable supervision and education, and if Hon. Dr. Roche, as seems probable, becomes the head of such a department, he will be eminently fitted for the post.

Woodcock Express: Under the heading "Lying Report Sent Out," Rev. Dr. Macdonald of the Toronto Globe, published a letter under his own initials in which he referred to "lying reports" which he says were sent out by the Conservative press with respect to the near riot in the Commons on Saturday night. Among other things he denies that Dr. Pugsley clutched at the Chairman's shoulder, shook his fist in his face, and adds, "No man was more self-possessed." They very day that his letter was published, Dr. Pugsley admitted in the House that he was "angry through and through." So much, therefore, for one "lying report" sent out.

NIGHT CLASS WORK PROOVES BIG BENEFIT

Closing of the Class Work Last Night Proved Very Interesting Affair.

The night classes which have been held in the Brantford Collegiate for the past four or five months were brought to a very successful close last evening. A very large number were present to view the work of the various classes and listen to the speeches of those in charge.

Mr. J. P. Pitcher, who has spent so much time and energy in bringing these classes to the successful point they have reached, officiated as chairman. In opening the programme Mr. Pitcher spoke of the work of the night classes since their beginning some months ago. He stated there had been some fifteen hundred lessons given without the cost of one cent to any pupil; not in this charge, Mr. Pitcher also stated the charge in view of the decided success of this year's classes, would be continued next fall, when in addition to the regular subjects, china painting and carpentering, insofar as the present equipment would permit, would be taught.

Mr. Sweet followed Mr. Pitcher, complimenting the pupils, teachers and those in charge on the work, which judging from the work in evidence was of a very advanced type and a decided success.

Mr. Simpson, a member of the royal commission on technical work, was the speaker of the evening. Mr. Simpson in opening his address stated he had noticed a decided change in Brantford since his last visit, in many respects. He was also glad to see such rapid strides being made in connection with the night classes and technical education in general. He dealt with conditions he found prevailing in other countries, referring to technical education in Germany. For instance stated the speaker, they have laws compelling factory employees to attend night schools. These employees were paid wages to attend the classes. This to a large extent was considered by the speaker as the reason why Germany was able to compete so favorably along educational lines, with the result that Germany is the home of a class of expert workmen but also educated men. Primary English is also compulsory in Germany. The speaker in bringing his remarks to a close stated he was of the opinion that primary English should be made compulsory in the case of all who have not the time or means to attend schools during the day time.

Mr. Fred Pelling, who has charge of mechanical drawing classes, spoke briefly on the work of his class, dealing with the rapid advancement made by the pupils of his department.

Mrs. Tulloch spoke on the dress-making and other work of her class. She stated the class had not only been a decided success insofar as numbers counted, but also insofar as the work of the class showed itself. Dressmaking was of interest to nearly all the girls with the result that the attendances were good at all times. The results obtained were excellent and far exceeded the expectation of the teachers. Many of the dresses were in evidence around the rooms and needless to say the workmanship was of a high quality. Mrs. Tulloch also go to the country with any hope of success when the Borden policy is supported by such staunch Liberal papers as the Montreal Witness, the St. John's Globe, the Montreal Herald, and the Winnipeg Tribune?

NO DEGRADING OF THE N.T.R.

For some time there has been talk that the Dominion Government had changed the grade in the National Transcontinental to such an extent that it would not be the first-class road which was first intended, and that the Grand Trunk Pacific might thus have a ground for refusing to operate it. An explanation has at last been given, and it seems that some one was making a mountain out of a mole-hill. At two points, near miles 395 and 397, west from Quebec, velocity grades have been adopted. These are 4 to 10 per cent. eastbound and 6 to 10 per cent. westbound. They will not affect the economical operation of the road. Practically all the engineers agree that velocity grades might have been introduced permanently into the road without affecting traffic and greatly reducing the cost. The answer made by Hon. Mr. Cochrane seems to be complete, and probably nothing more will be heard of this "great crime." The G.T.P. cannot have any objections.—Canadian Courier.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

It is rumored that the name of Ottawa is to be changed to Gavillie and that of Pugsley to Mugsley.

What Germany would like to do with Churchill's olive branch would be to apply it to him, face down.

It is generally a safe wager that when disasters do occur in the States the first details will be greatly exaggerated. Uncle Sam has got to have the biggest in everything.

German papers have joined with Canadian Grit papers in hurling epithets at Winston Churchill. As that gentleman enjoys abuse more than anything else he must be having the time of his life.

What the Other Fellow Thinks.

As to Pugsley.
Hamilton Spectator: Ex-Minister Pugsley's insufferable arrogance and mendacity was once more shown in his blatant assurance in the house last night that the people were eager for an election. Where did he gain his alleged knowledge? If there is one thing more than another the people do not want, it is to be thrown within a brief year and a half, into the turmoil and expense of a contest, merely to gratify the spleen of a small clique of disgruntled and discredited politicians.

His Mandate.
Stratford Herald: The Kincardine Review, edited by Hugh Clark, M.P., reminds the public that in connection with the attempt to hold up the Borden naval measure several points of importance and significance should not be lost sight of. The Conservative leader during the election campaign said he would, if made Premier, go to London and consult the Admiralty as to the measure of aid which would be most acceptable. He was returned to power and he carried out his promise. He is therefore entitled to hold that he had a mandate from the people to do what he did, and the members who represent the minority in the House have not justification for holding back the measure. The Premier has every justification for refusing to dissolve the House on a question that the electors have already passed upon.

Nature's Own Warning.
St. Thomas Times: Old Mother Nature has been issuing strenuous warnings to mankind the past few days, by means of hurricane, flood and tornado, that the destruction of forests without any attempt at replacing them is at the peril of lives and property. That deforestation is the cause of rivers overflowing their banks, of mighty winds sweeping across great tracts of country, devastating everything in their path, is beyond a doubt, and scientifically proven. Years ago when the pioneers of stated that not only was the quality the best but the quantity turned out was remarkable.

Miss McWilliams who had charge of the millinery classes also spoke, stating the attendance at the night classes had been very good, also the work. The girls had all made a hat or two apiece. Between thirty-five and fifty hats, all made by the pupils were on display and certainly were a credit to not only the teacher but also the pupils.

Mr. J. P. Pitcher, chairman of the technical committee in the course of a few remarks read the following letter re the special grant asked by the Brantford committee.

Chairman of Technical committee, B.C.I.

Dear Mr. Pitcher—The deputation which waited on the Hon. Minister of Education some time ago asking for a special grant to the B.C.I. for support of the night classes and of which you were the very able chairman, I may say I have seen Dr. Pyne three times and have urged upon him the necessity of making the grant asked for. The supplementary estimates have not been brought down in the House, but I think I can with confidence say to you that an additional sum will be set aside out of which B.C.I. will get as much as the deputation asked for it probably will not take the form of a special grant but will be made subject to regulations and distributed on a certain basis and no doubt you will be satisfied when the amount of the grant is made.

Yours truly,
W. S. BREWSTER.

The distribution of the prizes brought a very successful evening to a close.

Mr. Pitcher when seen this morning by The Courier representative stated that the committee proposed to get the work if possible and in this manner hoped to attain better results.

THE COAL SITUATION.

Next Three Months Coal Will Be Cheap.

Now is the time to order your next year's supply of coal. The price of coal is lowest during April and May than any other time in the year. At present Buffalo harbor is clear of ice and railway companies are busy loading their boats with coal. This is being done to rush the coal to the West as soon as navigation opens on account of the supply getting very low in that section of the country during the past winter. This state of affairs will have a tendency to make coal a scarce article in Ontario. It will pay you to order your coal from F. H. Walsh before May 1st, as after that date all mine-owners advance the prices monthly.

Throughout the past winter several of the local dealers have been buying coal from independent firms in Detroit at an advance in price of $1.00 a ton over what Mr. Walsh has been paying; therefore, he is able to quote you a better price for April, May and June deliveries, especially for lots for employes of factories. This coal is mined under the city of Scranton, Pa., (guaranteed), and no better coal can be purchased in the world. Mr. Walsh can quote a lower price than most dealers as he is under less expense than any coal merchant in the city. You get coal of quality and quantity, which is full of weight, worth and warmth, when you have Mr. Walsh fill your coal bins. He is already booking orders for next year's supply of coal at a price which will astonish you. If you are not already one of his many satisfied customers give him your next order and be convinced that he sells the best coal in the city and at economical prices and full weight. He is also sole agent for Beaver Brand Charcoal, F. H. Walsh, Coal and Wood Dealer, Phone 345.

SWIMMING TRICKS SHOWN

G. H. Corson Givs Exhibition at the Y. M. C. A. Yesterday.

Mr. G. H. Corson gave a very interesting and entertaining swimming demonstration in the Y. M. C. A. pool yesterday afternoon and evening. About one hundred were present in the galleries to watch the many different strokes and ways of swimming used by Mr. Corson. His imitating of a porpoise and dolphin were very unique and amusing features of the entertainment. While the tank swam and entertained the spectators, Mr. Corson brought forth repeated applause. Mr. Corson had one of the officials tie his hands and feet and he was then rolled into the water. Mr. Corson swam to the shore and was then rolled into the water. His imitation of the muskrat and other water animals was very interesting. Mr. Corson gave many interesting imitations including that of a steamboat and propeller and torpedo which were a decided success. Mr. Corson is an aquatic artist of some repute holding county awards from various swimming clubs on the continent. At present he is the swimming instructor at the Toronto university.

CONFIRMATION AT ST. JOHNS

Bishop Williams of Huron Conducted Impressive Service Last Night.

"The disciples were called Christians first in Antioch."

The above was the text of an exceedingly inspiring address delivered by His Worship, Bishop Williams of Huron at St. John's church last evening, when 11 candidates received confirmation rites. The sermon of Bishop Williams was a direct appeal both to the candidate present and the congregation for purity in life and the attainment of the Christian ideal.

His Lordship complimented the people of St. John's church on the gratifying growth of the parish, due in large measure to the effective work of the incumbent, Rev. Mr. Saunders and the hearty co-operation existing between pastor and people.

Rev. Mr. Whittaker who hails from Herschel Island, Mackenzie River, probably the most northerly Christian outpost in the world was present at the service.

The candidates who were received into the full rights and privileges of church membership were presented to the bishop by Rev. Mr. Saunders, and the ceremony of laying on of hands proved most impressive.

SUCCESSFUL ANNIVERSARY

Held by Bible Class. Mr. S. G. Read a Teacher For 42 Years.

The forty-second anniversary of the teacher and the class now known as the Progressive Bible Class of Park Baptist Church was held in the lecture room of the church last evening, and was a most successful and enjoyable affair. There were about sixty of the members of the class and their friends present.

After the singing of a hymn and reading of Scripture, and opening prayer by the pastor, Rev. C. W. Rose, the chairman's address was given by the pastor and, as is usual, an exceedingly good one. Other good speeches were made by Mr. W. Hatcher and Mr. Jos. Cluff, after which Mrs. H. B. Gardner gave an exceedingly good address on the class of the past, the present and the future. Dr. Wm. Nichol, the teacher of the Conversational Bible Class, was present and gave a very fine address, basing his remarks upon the lessons of the last quarter, particularly those in reference to Abraham. He expressed the pleasure that he always enjoyed with the members of Park Church, the teacher of the class, and the members of it.

Mrs. (Dr.) Barber gave an exceedingly fine recitation, "The Cobble's in His Den." Mrs. Barber was a wonder to the pastor and teacher, engaged as she is in so many different ways in teaching and speaking, and yet always fresh and good. After Mrs. Barber's recitation a solo was given in splendid style by Miss Ida Fuller, accompanied on the piano by Prof. Cornelius, the organist of the church, who is always ready and willing to help in all their work.

Dr. Barber gave an excellent address on "The Fruits of Teaching." The Doctor is the teacher of the Young Men's Class in Calvary Baptist Church, while Mrs. Barber is the able teacher of the Young Ladies' Bible Class in Park Church.

Next came a very fine and pleasing clarinet duet by Messrs. Wm. Stevens and Alfred Perrot, members of the Dufferin Rifles band, Prof. Cornelius accompanying on the piano.

The teacher, S. G. Read, then thanked the ladies for their part in preparing the refreshments, and Pastor Rose for his kindness in taking the chair and for his helpful and encouraging remarks, also to all the other speakers, and to those who had so kindly contributed to the pleasure and profit of the evening by instrumental music and song; and after announcing that the review of the lessons for the last quarter would, as is usual by the Progressive Bible Class, be conducted by the members of the class, and urged all present to be out on Sunday, the pastor brought the proceedings to a close by stating in a few words the pleasure it gave him in being present upon such an occasion, and pronouncing the benediction.

PASTIMERS HOLD MEETING

Reading of Minutes By Match Light Did Not Dampen Enthusiasm.

The annual meeting of the Pastime Bowling Club was held in the Council chamber last night and was very largely attended by members of the popular bowling organization. President Frank Hicks occupied the chair.

Financial Secretary F. S. Blain read a very satisfactory financial report, which showed a good substantial balance on the right side of the ledger. The directors of the club were all re-elected. D. Thorburn, president, will act as chairman, and Frank S. Blain will still occupy the important position of secretary-treasurer, which he has so ably filled in the past.

The officers of the green for the ensuing year are: Chas. T. Hay, president; C. M. Sheppard, vice-president; A. B. I. Tracy, manager of green; F. S. Blain, secretary; executive committee, Harry Bond, Dr. W. D. Wiley, J. P. Temple; auditors, D. McPhail, H. Bond; stewards, F. F. Jackson, S. M. Burnley.

As usual, a committee was formed for the purpose of arranging for an opening night, which will take the form of a progressive euchre and luncheon to be held on Wednesday evening, April 30th.

The club has a very bright outlook for a successful season. After the business had been disposed of, the "smokes" were passed around and a heart-to-heart talk among the boys took place.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years, as supposed to be incurable. For a long time many years doctors pronounced it a fatal disease and prescribed local remedies, and treatment, pronounced it incurable. It has been proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Absolutely Nothing In It. The rumor yesterday that a certain East Ward grocer was in financial straits was a canard pure and simple, circulated, it is believed to do the grocer in question an injustice. Enquiry made by The Courier reveals the fact that the business in question is in great shape and growing all the time.

Information Requested. Sheriff Ross received a communication yesterday from L. S. Hoare of Grand Pass, Ore., requesting information in regard to one W. R. Oxley. He handed the letter to High County Constable Fred Kerr, who found out that the party named passed away two years ago on a farm near Boston, and sent the desired information.

A Contemptible Trick. High County Constable Kerr is leaving no stone unturned to bring to justice the party or parties who deliberately broke the incandescent lamps on the River road leading to the property of Mr. Chas. H. Waterous. These lamps were installed by Mr. Waterous and rendered great service in that vicinity, and the culprit who was mean enough to destroy the same will be brought to justice if there is any possible way of doing so.

Delayed on Account of Floods. The vaudeville artists who were supposed to have appeared at the Gem Theatre the latter part of the week, did not put in an appearance yesterday owing to the fact that they were to have come from Springfield, Ohio, and were unable to secure railway transportation to this city on account of the recent floods in that district.

Was Well Known. Word was received this morning of the death of Chas. C. Batson of St. Joseph, Me., a former Brantfordite. He was the youngest son of the late Amos G. Batson, and well known in this city. His health had been poor for about a year, but the end came suddenly. He leaves a wife and two sisters to mourn his loss. The sisters are Mrs. Kester, 32 Park Ave. and Mrs. Mellich, 24 Egerton St., this city.

Vegetable Growers Meet. The Vegetable Growers Association held a meeting in the City Treasurer's office last night at which there was a good attendance. Discussion took place in regard to purchasing baskets by the car load lots and a committee was appointed to look into the matter. The question of buying seed direct from the grower was also considered. After the meeting those present adjourned to the Tea Pot Inn and partook of refreshments.

Strongly Opposed. A Galt despatch says: The proposition to supply St. Thomas with natural gas from the eastern district, which supplies this locality, arouses much talk here. Municipalities in this section need more gas than they are receiving, and are compelled frequently to complain of shortage in supply. The consumers of Brantford, Paris and Galt will most certainly offer a strong protest against any diversion to another field of the product now relied upon for both household and manufacturer. St. Thomas and district will not be allowed to draw from the Haldimand wells unless these are largely increased, and more than sufficient to meet calls made upon the Dominion Natural Gas Company.

Porfirio Diaz

By WALT MASON

He rests beyond the raging seas, and reads about his native land, where soldiers wave their snickersees and shoot their guns to beat the band; he seems to hear his country's sighs, he broods upon his people's woe, and who can blame him if he cries: "I told you so! I told you so!"

Among the exes he must roam, the Abduls, Manuels and such, while the government at home is hobbling round upon a crutch; he thinks upon a bygone day, when there was peace in Mexico; what wonder, then, if he should say: "I told you so! I told you so!" They told him he was out of date, an ancient, hoary circumstance, invited him to pull his freight, and let reformers have a chance; they rushed the old man to the coast, and stood around to see him go; amid the wreck they hear his boast: "I told you so! I told you so!"

Mexicans, with groan and curse, now try to straighten out the mess, and only make the whole thing worse, more hopeless still, as they confess; and ever as they toil and try to find the limit to their woe, they doubtless hear the old man sigh: "I told you so! I told you so!"

$22,500 Pitcher Has Made Good in Spite of His Big Handicap

Marty O'Toole is Expected to Prove a Sensation This Year around the National League Circuit.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 28.—"Barney Dreyfuss Stung!"

"Marty O'Toole—Loses—Another Game!"

How often in 1912 did these words decorate the sporting pages in big, black head letter type?

How often did the fans say: "Just as I thought!"

"These million dollar stars never make good!"

"O'Toole's a bloomer and Barney's stung, stinged, stang."

The average fan doesn't analyze. Superficial examination is enough for him. Probably if a vote were taken in random, the majority would decide that O'Toole failed to "make good" in 1912, and this would prove the genius fan a poor observer.

Your fan seldom goes beyond the fact. If the home team loses, no matter how well played the game, it is "rotten." If the team wins, it is a "great game."

Cold analysis proves O'Toole "made good." Manager Clarke and Owner Dreyfuss of Pittsburgh are content. They would have liked to see him do better, but his 1912 work speaks large for a great 1913 season.

Sy Cology played a winning hand against O'Toole last year. Had he joined the Pirates minus the blatant publicity, the chances are his record would have formed the ground work for even the fans to build great hopes upon for 1913.

Too much boasting proved a knock to O'Toole. The efforts of scribes to out-do each other in landing the youngster, who cost so much money, did him more harm than if they had clipped their pens in vitriol. That killed O'Toole. Marty was pressed to death. Only a pitching average of 1.00 would have satisfied the fans—and probably they would have growled if every game was not a shut out.

Secretary John Heydler in 1912 made two tables of National League pitchers. One showed games won and lost. The other the runs per game for which each pitcher was responsible. In the first list O'Toole stood 27th, having won 15 and lost 17. In the second he ranked 11th, ahead of Camnitz, Alexander, Cheney, Adams, Suggs, Richie, Lavender, Moore, Ruelback, Brennan, Perdue and Harmon.

O'Toole's opponents made 110 runs, but in Heydler list he is responsible for but 83, an average of 2.72 per game; was hit 107 times, walked 150 batters and fanned 150, made two wild pitches and hit two batters.

Over-anxiety to make good because of the press-agenting and the high price he brought; bone-headed base running by Pittsburgh; lack of timely hitting and the fact that every club saved its stars to pitch against him—these things militated against O'Toole.

To illustrate: On July 1 he opposed Lavender and for 11 innings not a run was scored. Pittsburgh made six hits, the Cubs five. In the 12th (Continued on Page 8.)

Football

The different football clubs in the city league are busy signing players for their respective teams and as there is an abundance of material in the city they should not have much difficulty in securing the players. Most of the clubs are pretty well off in regard to players and the next thing is to have a look at them in a game. Once the spring weather sets in practice will be held and those aspiring to places on the teams will have to get out and show their ability or in other words if they can't kick will have to make room for some one that can.

Fortunately all the teams are pretty well fixed for playing grounds and all that is needed now is the fine weather and the kickers will be out in full force.

Cockshuts United team held a meeting in the Borden club rooms last night and talked over prospects for the season and from what can be learned the plow factory lads are going to make the rest of the team step some to beat them and their officers are confident that they will be one, two or three. The team will be backed up by a loyal lot of supporters and are considering organizing a rosters' club.

Dufferin Rifles Team.

A number of the Dufferin players congregated in the Men's Mess last night and talked over football matters in general and they are anxiously awaiting for the time when they can get out on the turf. In the middle of the meeting something went wrong with the electric lights and it was then a case of "Where was Moses when the lights went out?"

The Last Word in Melody.

This world is full
Of songs that pull
And wrench the human heart;
Of songs as sweet
As rippling wheat
Where pulsing drift-winds start;
Of melodies
That grip and seize
The well known savage breast!
That furnish dreams
Of moonlit streams
And—well you get the rest.

This world is filled
With notes that thrill
Since old Doc Adam's day;
Of liquid notes
From high-priced throats
That hold a siren's sway;
But at the end
Of music's blend
This gets the final call—
When a bloke in blue
Looks up at you

K. L. H. arises to a point of opinion. He writes in to know just what ball club is strongest in each department of the game—catching, pitching, infelding and outfielding.

The query, being a simple one, assumes no complexity in the way of a reply—as, for example—to wit and viz:

Catchers—Chicago—Archer and Bresnahan.
Pitchers—Pittsburg—Hendrix, Adams, Camnitz, O'Toole, Robinson.
Infield—Philadelphia—McInnes, Collins, Barry, Baker.
Outfield—Boston—Speaker, Lewis, Hooper.

If there was any argument here it would be in regard to the pitching selection. There might be a question as to whether the Pirate corps is any better than Tesreau, Mathewson, Marquard, Demaree, etc., or any better than the Phillie, with Alexander, Rixey, Seaton, etc. But for even balance across the complete staff Clarke seems to carry the fringe of a shade—enough to obtain the faint edge of argument.

As to the rest of it, there isn't any debate to be staged. There isn't even a whisper that one might raise.

The game of Life would also be jammed with pitching stars if control and headwork were not greater assets than speed.

If speed and curves alone framed the essence of great pitching there's many a Jane in the hurly-burly who could make Walter Johnson or Joe Wood look like a Fort Wayne cast-off with a kink in his pulse.

They say Walter Johnson hasn't much of a curve ball, and is outclassed by several others in the art and science of pitching. What difference does it make what the bally pill does so long as the batsman can't see it drift by? A bling swing is as likely to smash an upshoot as a drop or a would be a cinch to play if traps and hazards were not arranged to make direction count more than distance; or if both were not arranged upon the theory that a straight shot is the shortest carry between two points.

Isn't it about time that our old Heidelberg and Oxford chum, the Hon. Willie Ritchie was responding to the faint whisper for another fight? Willie is one of our nicest young prize fighters—an unassuming young gentleman of suave manners and subtle politeness; but Willie, for all that, has done less to become a champion and defend his championship than any other member of the fistie trail.

Willie reached the top through the other fellow's punch; and now he is maintaining the top by keeping well out of reach of the other fellow's punch.

Pop Naughton has sounded the warning from the other coast where he announces that Ritchie's friends are currying up and dropping away like rose leaves under the frost.

Ritchie must either meet a good man at an early date or stand branded for all his gentlemanly and suave bearing; as the prize cheese of the ring.

There is grave doubt among many as to whether or not Ritchie could travel the full distance at a faster clip than Joe Rivers; or just how well he would fare in another battle with Ad Wolgast. It's about time that Willie was arising from his velvet couch of ease and furnishing proof as to his right of ownership.

As these burning despatches are being pushed to press, Ty Cobb has not signed up.

Cobb, as the athlete who excels in more departments than any other player, is certainly entitled to his $12,000 demand.

As he is worth in cold, pallid figures over $20,000 a year to the Tiger club, there is no reason why he shouldn't get three-fifths of his worth or three-fourths of his worth in salary.

There must be a limit in salaries, but the star performers of one of the greatest amusement enterprises ever framed are entitled to quite a bit of change. It's easy enough to plug up the gap made vacant by the average player. An average salary is all he can look for. But the citizen who can produce well above the average field is entitled to his share of the production.

If Jim Thorpe's speed, athlete knack and intuition plus McGraw's coaching doesn't make a regular ball player within a year we miss the safest and easiest guess of the era.

61 FEET OF PITCHERS

If they want to swat the Brownie pitchers this season the opposition better get a stepladder. Just 60 feet 10 1/2 inches of humanity will assail the foes.

The Browns have the biggest collection of fingers in the major leagues. Only three men are less than 6 feet tall and they fall short by only one inch. Bud Napier, Hamilton and Roy Mitchell are the dinky members, and they are 5 feet 11 inches each. All the others go over 72 inches.

Carl Wellman and Jim Adams form the highest pair in the big leagues. Carl is foot 5 1/2 inches in length, while Jim is 6 feet 4. No other club can approach this record for altitude.

The size of the Browns' staff follows:

Mack Allison—6 ft. 1 in.
Harold Schwenk—6 ft.
Bud Napier—5 ft. 11 in.
Jim Adams—6 ft. 4 in.
Charles Snyder—5 ft. 11 in.
Earl Hamilton—5 ft. 11 in.
John Stone—6 ft. 1 1/2 in.
Carl Wellman—6 ft. 5 1/2 in.
George Baumgarner—6 ft. 1 1/2 in.
Roy Mitchell—5 ft. 11 in.

Cobb, as the athlete who excels in more departments than any other player, is certainly entitled to his $12,000 demand.

As he is worth in cold, pallid figures over $20,000 a year to the Tiger club, there is no reason why he shouldn't get three-fifths of his worth or three-fourths of his worth in salary.

There must be a limit in salaries, but the star performers of one of the greatest amusement enterprises ever framed are entitled to quite a bit of change. It's easy enough to plug up the gap made vacant by the average player. An average salary is all he can look for. But the citizen who can produce well above the average field is entitled to his share of the production.

If Jim Thorpe's speed, athlete knack and intuition plus McGraw's coaching doesn't make a regular ball player within a year we miss the safest and easiest guess of the era.

The game of golf, as well as the other little game we call life, would straight one through the heart of the pan.

would be a cinch to play if traps and hazards were not arranged to make direction count more than distance; or if both were not arranged upon the theory that a straight shot is the shortest carry between two points.

Isn't it about time that our old Heidelberg and Oxford chum, the Hon. Willie Ritchie was responding to the faint whisper for another fight? Willie is one of our nicest young prize fighters—an unassuming young gentleman of suave manners and subtle politeness; but Willie, for all that, has done less to become a champion and defend his championship than any other member of the fistie trail.

Willie reached the top through the other fellow's punch; and now he is maintaining the top by keeping well out of reach of the other fellow's punch.

Pop Naughton has sounded the warning from the other coast where he announces that Ritchie's friends are currying up and dropping away like rose leaves under the frost.

Ritchie must either meet a good man at an early date or stand branded for all his gentlemanly and suave bearing; as the prize cheese of the ring.

There is grave doubt among many as to whether or not Ritchie could travel the full distance at a faster clip than Joe Rivers; or just how well he would fare in another battle with Ad Wolgast. It's about time that Willie was arising from his velvet couch of ease and furnishing proof as to his right of ownership.

As these burning despatches are being pushed to press, Ty Cobb has not signed up.

Cobb, as the athlete who excels in more departments than any other player, is certainly entitled to his $12,000 demand.

As he is worth in cold, pallid figures over $20,000 a year to the Tiger club, there is no reason why he shouldn't get three-fifths of his worth or three-fourths of his worth in salary.

Great Cup Game is on in England on Saturday of this Week

Everywhere else in the football world will take second place to the semi-final ties of the English cup which are to be played on Saturday next. Aston Villa have Oldham as opponents, while Sunderland will meet Burnley to test their right to appear in the final tie. There is no doubt that mammoth crowds will assemble at both matches and we can only hope that there will be no repetition of the recent fiasco on the ground of the Manchester City Club. The problem of housing a crowd at a great cup tie grows more serious year by year with so many well equipped grounds readily accessible to the people. However, club officials have learned their lesson, and no doubt every possible precaution will be taken to accommodate the spectators. Below will be found a brief history of the Aston Villa Club.

Before proceeding further, however, it may be as well to state that the Sunderland v. Burnley game will be played at Brumhall Lane, Sheffield. The referee will be A. Adams (Worcs), and the linesmen A. E. Ansell (Bedfordshire) and P. Santarsley. If this game results in a draw, the game will be replayed on the Birmingham club's grounds. The Aston Villa-Oldham game takes place at Blackburn, and the referee will be S. Bamlet (Gateshead), the linesmen being J. Gettins (Liverpool), and H. Cripps (Leeds). In case of a draw the game will be replayed at Stoke.

The Brilliance of Aston Villa.

If there is a club in England to-day which deserves to be called the greatest—and the matter is a delicate one—it will be readily acknowledged that Aston Villa share the highest niche of fame with even the most illustrious of other aspirants. For brilliant play, and at the same time for consistency of achievement, for philanthropy, and for astuteness of management, the Villa have no superiors to-day. Since the inception of the English league Aston Villa have always been members of the first division, and the club claims to have raised over $150,000 for the sacred cause of charity—a magnificent testimony to any organization. Moreover it is not generally known on this side of the Atlantic ocean that in the Birmingham general hospital is to be seen the Aston Villa F.C. bed, endowed at a cost of $6250.

Like many football clubs which have obtained national importance, the Aston Villa club owes its birth in 1874 to a handful of young men connected with a place of worship. For a number of years the club had to be content with a strictly local program. The first regular ground, however, used was the few acres destined to become famous as Berry Bar. Spectators were few and far between in those days, but big fights often have small beginnings, and, little by little, players of national reputation were imported, gates began to swell, and under the guidance of an astute management, Aston Villa proceeded to build up, year by year, the world-

SURELY TAKE "SYRUP OF FIGS" IF HEADACHY, BILIOUS, CONSTIPATED

Sweetens your stomach, clears your head and thoroughly cleanses your liver and 30 feet of bowels of sour bile, foul gases and clogged-up waste.

All those days when you feel miserable, headachy, bilious and dull are due to torpid liver and sluggish bowels. The days when your stomach is sour and full of gas, when you have indigestion; the nights when your nerves twitch and you are restless and can't sleep could be avoided with a teaspoonful of delicious Syrup of Figs to-night, sure, and just see how when there is such a pleasant way to overcome it?

Give your inactive liver and tenacious waste-clogged bowels a thorough cleansing this time. Put an end to constipation.

Take a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs to-night, sure, and just see for yourself by morning, how gently but thoroughly all the sour bile, undigested fermenting food and clogged up waste matter is moved on and out of your system—no nausea—no griping—no weakness.

You simply can't have your liver inactive and your thirty feet of bowels constipated with sour, decaying waste matter and feel well.

The need of a laxative is a natural need, and with delicious Syrup of Figs you composed entirely of luscious Figs, Senna and aromatics it can not injure. Ask your druggist for the full name "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna." Refuse, with scorn, any of the so-called Fig Syrup imitations. They are meant to deceive you. Look on the label. The genuine, old reliable, bears the name, California Fig Syrup Company.

McGraw Has Some If's on the Giants

By Billy Evans, Umpire of the American League.

Manager McGraw of the Giants is confronted with a fist full of 1913 baseball "ifs."

The little manager has faced similar situations in the past and has always proved himself master of the occasion. So, no matter what happens to the Giants, one can look for McGraw to be fighting for the pennant.

If Marquard gets off to a flying start, if he displays ability to beat the other National League teams about as he pleases, the summer is sure to be a pleasant one not only to Marquard but to McGraw as well.

With the great port-side going great guns, the Giants are a formidable aggregation. When the Rubie is getting his bumps regularly things never look so promising.

If Marquard's winning ability is with him it is his salvation, and, to a certain extent, McGraw's, who banks heavily upon his start.

If Marquard delivers he can make the fans forget a lot of things.

If he fails it will only freshen their memory.

The Ring

(Boston Globe)

Luther McCarty, the big, young Western heavyweight, who looks to be the one boxer who has a chance to bring the world's title back to the white race, was given a careful looking over by the Boston sports yesterday afternoon at the Old Harbor, where he is filling a week's engagement. It was the first time that McCarty has been here, and he made a good impression before a packed house.

He has the ideal build for a successful boxer in that class. He is only a few weeks older than 21 years, stands higher than six feet, weighs in shape 205 pounds, is clever, fast and knows how to make good use of his speed and reach. He boxed Jeff Madden of South Boston yesterday, and Jeff worked so well that the sports had a chance to get some idea of how clever and fast McCarty is.

The Westerner gets about on his feet like a boxer of more experience than he has had. He uses his hands well, both when hitting and in blocking blows. He is also a good fighter and quick to take advantage of every opening that his feinting makes for him. Under the guidance of such a clever manager as is Billy McCarney, the big "hoper" is bound to develop into a boxer who will give Jack Johnson a hard tussle for the title, if he does not defeat him.

McCarty is himself a very clever boxer, beside knowing how to guide such a boxer along the path that will eventually land him the highest honors in the boxing game. McCarty is confident that McCarty is able to defeat Jack Johnson right now, and says that if an offer is made for such a bout he would accept it.

At present McCarty has only one bout booked, but he has several on hand that his manager expects to complete arrangements for before leaving Boston. April 16 McCarty will meet Jim Flynn of Pueblo in Philadelphia. Flynn is known as the "hope despo," having defeated several of the so-called "hopes," Carl Morris, Tommy Burns and several others, who are anxious to meet McCarty, probably will be accepted as opponents by Manager McCarty.

The latter still feels that McCarty did right in not agreeing to let McCarty box Bombardier Wells in New York. McCarty did not fear that Wells would defeat McCarty, but he did not intend to let the New York promoters sell him what McCarty should box Wells for.

McCarty wanted 40 per cent. for McCarty's end, and on account of the reputation of McCarty the manager figured that he was worth it. The promoter said 30 per cent. or a roasting in the papers, and McCarty held his original demand, and McCarty has been getting roasted, he says.

As for Jess Willard, McCarty says that McCarty will box him again, but will wait and see if boxing is legalized in Chicago. If the game should become legal there, the bout will be boxed there, for it would draw the most June 17, O'Toole opposed Marquard and lost 5-4 in 11 innings. Pittsburgh out-hit New York two to one, O'Toole contributing two doubles and a single. The papers declared "battered" base running defeated O'Toole.

On July 19, Marquard again beat him 5-4. New York made 4 hits. Pittsburgh ten. The winning run was questionable and the game was protested without avail.

Records show O'Toole pitched splendidly. He should have won 80 per cent. of his games. His support was often lurid, there was little hitting behind him and he constantly

The Turf

Highbridge, winner of the Hendrie Memorial and the Woodbine Autumn Steeplechase, gave a display in the £1000 National Hunt Steeplechase at Cheltenham that caused the observers to revise their opinions of his chances for the Liverpool a week from to-day. Six of the thirteen starters are in the big Aintree race next week, and it is now conceded that he holds that contingent safe. Highbridge carried 177 pounds, and was beaten only by Strangways, with 155 pounds on his back.

The London Sportsman says of the fact: "Highbridge accounted for everything but Strangways and completed a performance that must give him a place amongst the most prominent of the Liverpool candidates. He was putting in a tremendous amount of work at the finish, and that for a horse of the fences he might, actually, have been returned to the winner. That was the only blemish on an otherwise irreproachable display."

Sporting Life goes to this extent:

"Win or lose at Aintree next month, Mr. Fall's gelding is obviously not far from the top of the tree, according to our standard. That he will find the Liverpool fences too formidable I think unlikely, but there is just a doubt as to whether he stays such beyond yesterday's distance, but that he will have in the Grand National the lowest weight, 160 pounds, he has yet had to shoulder in this country, while instead of having to make enormous concessions in many instances, he will not be required to give more than fourteen pounds to any animal opposing him."

The Cheltenham race was three miles and a quarter, and Highbridge ridden by W. Payne, was at 100 to 8 in the betting.

Lady Marjorie's Love

CHAPTER XVII.

"Certainly, Mr. Barrington, with the greatest of pleasure!" exclaimed Lady Marlingford. "But I hope you did not think that it was really necessary to speak to me about it? What an unreasonable woman you must think me! I shall be delighted to see any friend of yours—I must ask you to present him to me. Do you expect that he will make a long stay here?"

"A thousand thanks, Lady Marlingford," said Mr. Barrington. "No, I don't suppose that my friend will remain here long. He is a busy man—a couple of days are likely to be the most that he can spare me."

"So short a visit as that? Perhaps you may be able to induce him to prolong it—I hope so I am sure. I will see him on Saturday evening and as to having a room prepared for him. By the way, I don't think you mentioned any name."

"I beg your pardon—I fear I did omit it. But not intentionally. My friend's name is George."

"I will see that a room is prepared for Mr. George at once," concluded the Countess, turning away.

Nothing could have been more pleasant, cordial, and kindly than the reception of Mr. Barrington's intimation that he expected a friend to arrive from London that evening, together with his modest hope that it would not be inconvenient to her ladyship if he remained at Castle Marling during the short stay which he proposed to make. If her ladyship's feelings could be judged by her manner, it appeared that if Mr. Barrington had possessed a score of friends and had invited them all she would have been the more delighted. She had been most charming therefore, and had sailed off to give her directions to Mrs. Irving with a face dressed in its best and most fascinating smile.

Barrington, left to himself, as she made her stately and rustling exit, smiled too, possibly because he had tolerably gauged the value of her ladyship's smiles and found therein some ground of amusement. Then he glanced impatiently at his watch, and no less impatiently up the stairs, for it was in the hall, upon his return from Upton Wafers, that he had encountered Lady Marlingford and made his request. But no one was visible to him in the gallery above, and he became visible during the ensuing ten minutes. He was growing impatient when a figure did appear towards which, although it was not the figure he was watching for, he advanced quickly. Falling Lady Marjorie, he would have preferred to see her smartly rebuffed before any one else had seen her.

"Just the very girl I wanted to see, Alice!" he said, speaking with the bright and frank good humor which made that dame admire him a good deal more than young Traynard, of the Marlingford Arms, might possibly have approved. "Can you tell me where your lady is?"

"My lady, sir? Oh, she's lying down in her sitting-room! Her head aches."

"Indeed? I am sorry for that," he said gravely.

"Yes, sir," Alice sighed sympathetically. "And, if you please, I was to say, sir—my lady sent me down—that she will not go out this afternoon—she is sure she couldn't bear the sun."

"Certainly not—she is wiser to keep quiet! Will you tell her, with my compliments, that I executed her commission in Upton Wafers this morning, and that as I am going over there later to meet a friend I shall be entirely at her service if she requires anything more?"

"Alice, assenting to the request as she had done before to a round score or so of similar ones, gave Mr. Barrington her brightest and coziest smile and tripped off upstairs again and into her mistress's sitting-room.

Marjorie half sitting and half lying on her sofa with a novel in her hand, and Jack at her feet, glanced up languidly.

"Well, Alice? Did you see Mr. Barrington?"

"Oh, yes, my lady! He's very sorry about your head, and says that of course you must venture out in the sun. And I was to say, with his compliments, my lady, that he's done your commission in Upton Wafers and is there anything else you want there later, please?"

"I think not—no," Marjorie wrinkled her forehead, curiously got the feeling of her. "Later," she said, "is he going to Upton Wafers again to-day, then?"

"Oh, yes, my lady! Delighted to be in the possession of a fact which her mistress knew not. Alice promptly enlarged a little. "Mr. Barrington is going to the station to meet a friend—an old friend from London, I think it is. And—and it seems that he's to stay here, my lady. Here she faltered, for this was entirely a bow drawn at a venture.

"To stay? Oh, is he?" Marjorie indolently laid her head down and opened her novel, disdaining to show any further interest either in the friend or in Mr. Barrington. "That will do, Alice," she said.

But when Alice had left the room and she was alone again her thoughts were not busy with the novel, but were busy with Barrington very much indeed. They had been busy with him more or less, ever since he glanced impatiently at his watch, and no less impatiently up the stairs, for it was in the hall, upon his return from Upton Wafers, that he had encountered Lady Marlingford and made his request. But no one was visible to him in the gallery above, and he became visible during the ensuing ten minutes. He was growing impatient when a figure did appear towards which, although it was not the figure he was watching for, he advanced quickly. Falling Lady Marjorie, he would have preferred to see her smartly rebuffed before any one else had seen her.

Old Maids and Superciliousness

By RUTH CAMERON

SEVERAL times in these columns I have taken the liberty to defend that class of the feminine population familiarly known as old maids. I have pointed out that the circumstance that she has not met her mate is nothing for a woman to be ashamed of, and that the fact that a woman lavishes her affection on dumb animals does not prove that she wouldn't have preferred children if she might have had them.

Many of the brightest, finest and most intelligent women I know belong to the ranks of the unmarried. Unmarried women seem to have almost a corner on the feminine sense of humor. Unmarried women, as a rule, are far more companionable than their sisters. In short, I approve of the genus bachelor-girl with all my heart, except—and thereby hangs my whole tale—except when they take on that peculiarly snifty and superior air that some old maids acquire.

The expression appears first around the mouth. What was originally an expression of sweetness and purity hardens into primness, and that in turn into an air of superciliousness.

I should advise every unmarried woman over 25 to carefully study her face in the mirror in order to make sure that no such unpleasant thing is happening to her mouth.

This type develops mostly in the intellectual class, because it is a life which exalts the intellectual and depreciates the physical, which fosters it. Its members seem to look down upon their married friends as upon people who have made an unfortunate mistake, or yielded to an unfortunate weakness.

If marriage happens to bring to her friends a temporary sacrifice of some of the luxuries which the bachelor-girl can still enjoy, she is blatantly pitying.

And when the promise of motherhood comes to her married friend, this unpleasant type of bachelor-girl usually acts as if a tragedy had happened. Now there is nothing to be ashamed of in being unmarried. But neither is there anything to be supercilious about.

And when a bachelor-girl gets into the frame of mind in which she looks down upon all her married friends, she can know she's got astigmatism of the heart.

That splendid class of cheerful, alert, intelligent, unmarried women, who are good companions for themselves and every one else, and who are making "old maids" a term of honor, don't have this supercilious viewpoint at all. They know that there are advantages in being unmarried and advantages in being married, and they don't feel obliged to disfigure their faces with a supercilious expression to prove that the advantages on their side are the greater.

My advice to any girl who has decided to be a bachelor-girl is to take one of this latter class for a model, and one of the former for a terrible warning, and try to mould herself accordingly.

A First Class Attraction

In presenting "The Girl from Tokio," the management has made a splendid selection. It is a laughable farce, that contains some complications and numerous funny situations, that evoke uproarious and continuous laughter. It is said that it will stand comparison with the best, the settings used are correct in both color and detail, the principals are well selected and make the best of every opportunity offered for producing laughter along purely legitimate lines and the skillfulness of the leading roles is a valuable asset in itself. "The Girl from Tokio" will be presented at the Grand Saturday March 29th.

Ernie Marks

Mr. Ernie Marks, of Histrionic fame and his own Stock Company will again hold forth at the Grand Opera House for a 5 nights engagement commencing Monday March 31 (excepting Thursday). More than ever in the past Mr. Marks has secured what he considers one of the best companies that has ever appeared at popular prices, and there is no doubt that capacity audiences will greet this clever laugh producer. Miss Kitty Marks, the well known little magnet will be seen in the support of Mr. Marks as well as a competent company. The plays presented are all new and include some distinct novelties.

NEW STRENGTH IN THE SPRING

Nature Needs Aid in Making New Health-giving Blood.

In the spring the system needs a tonic. To be healthy you must have new blood; just as the trees must have new sap to renew their vitality. Nature demands it, and without this new blood you will feel weak and languid. You may have twinges of rheumatism or the sharp, stabbing pains of neuralgia. Often there are distressing pimples or eruptions on the skin. In other cases there is merely a feeling of tiredness and a variable appetite. Any of these are signs that the blood is out of order—that the indoor life of winter has lessened your vitality. What you need in spring is a tonic medicine to give you right, and in all the world of medicine there is no tonic so equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills actually make new, rich, red blood—your greatest need in spring. This new blood drives out the seeds of disease and makes easily tired men, women and children bright, active and strong.

Mr. John Walfield, La Have Islands, N.S., writes: "I take great pleasure in telling what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me. I am a fisherman and fifteen years ago, through hard work, my system became run down and I could scarcely work at all. I lost in weight; my blood became poor, and I was very weak. I consulted several doctors but their treatment did not help me so I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and in a short time I was entirely well again. My wife and daughter also used them with benefit. We think so much of the Pills as a family medicine that we always keep them in the house."

These Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or can be had by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Freshet

By HOWARD L. RANN

THE freshet is an annual increase in the supply of water and wet feet which comes in the spring of the year, just in time to overflow several thousand pairs of tan oxfords. It is caused by a number of clouds getting together in one spot and leaking profusely in the general direction of the earth.

The favorite occupation of the freshet is to climb under a wooden railroad bridge and carry it into the next township before setting it down. This compels the railroad company to put in another wooden bridge which lasts until the following spring. It also causes the passengers to adorn the right of way with assorted expletives, as they walk four miles to the last station and root in the Grand Central hotel. When they start a freshet it strikes them on the return trip, they will probably run into another freshet, which made away with all of the rolling stock except a one-armed flagman and a hand car.

Sometimes the freshet steals up at night and forces people to climb out of a third story window in evening dress and wander around in a row-boat. The Ohio river produces several of these freshets a year and detritus white-robed tourists, chicken coops and feather beds as far south as the Gulf stream. People who live along the Ohio river never know a freshet will seize them around the waist and plunge them into the icy deeps alongside of a yearling calf or a ball-bearing sewing machine.

To The Editor

AS TO WORDS

Editor Courier:

Dear Sir—Pardon me for calling your attention to two slight errors in your article in Tuesday's issue, entitled "The Subject of Words." You say, "It is not so very long ago that the letter 's' was signified by an 'f,' such as 'foul' for 'soul' in old-time hymn-books." A careful inspection of old typography will show that the common idea that printers used an "f" in place of "s" is incorrect. While somewhat similar, there was a difference, which the reader easily noticed. The "f" then, as now, had a short horizontal stroke completely crossing it, while the old form of "s" (used in the beginning and middle of words only) had the horizontal stroke only on the left of the letter.

The other mistake is in regard to the word "queer." That is a good old English word of honorable derivation. The word which is said to have originated in a bet is "quizz." The author was Daly, manager of the Dublin theatre. He had made a wager that he could introduce a new and meaningless word into the language in 24 hours, and chalked the word on every accessible wall in Dublin. The perplexity of people when they saw it is reflected in its significance at the present time.

Yours truly,
EDWIN HOBBS.
