

GERMANS USED CIVILIANS AS COVER
HELLISH TACTICS IN USE AT ROZHANY AGAIN
APPROACHING RUSSIAN POSITIONS

Whole Line Stands Fast; Offensive Actions Fought by Russians.

Petrograd, Sept. 11.—The official communication issued by the war office today says: "On the Sereth (Galicia) our troops having yesterday repulsed a series of enemy attacks, delivered counter attacks in the sector above Trembowla, and in the district of Tchorokoff. The Austrians were forced to beat a precipitous retreat. According to a provisional estimate, we took five thousand prisoners, among them sixteen officers. Here "Generally, the situation of our armies is one of calm confidence in themselves. The initiative in these isolated engagements is gradually passing into our hands. "On the left bank of the Dvina, southeast of Riga we are fighting and we are progressing in the region between the Misa positions and the Grosse Ekau-Nehut railway. West of Jacobstadt, the fighting continues with undiminished intensity. In the direction of Dvinsk there have been advanced guard engagements north of Abel. "On the road from Vilkomir, the enemy with strong forces has taken an energetic offensive since the morning of the 9th in the region of Koukdi on both sides of the road. Our machine gun and automobile detachment contributed actively to a repulse of the enemy. The engagement continues. "Between the Svanta and Vilna the enemy's infantry and cavalry made a local attack on our troops in the region of Shriviaty. On the other roads toward Vilna there has been no change. "East of Grodno, supported by a strong artillery fire, the enemy has undertaken a series of attacks against our positions since the morning of the 10th in the direction of Skidel and also on the lower course of the Melwanka River. These attacks have been repulsed. A German offensive at four o'clock in the morning along the road toward Skidel, accompanied by a strong fire from heavy and light artillery, was arrested by the fire of our batteries. After seven o'clock in the evening the German fire sensibly increased, and they resumed the offensive, making desperate efforts to break through our front. This attempt was repulsed by the concentrated fire of our artillery and machine guns. We also repulsed a German attack near the village of Leady, south of the bridges over the Niemen. W. T. "On the remainder of the front so far as the Pripiet, the enemy made attacks only in the region of Rozhany, and continued his offensive along the left bank of the Pina. The

Vanderbilt, President of the National City Bank; William A. Nash, Chairman of the Board of the Corn Exchange Bank; Forest P. Dryden, President of the Prudential Insurance Co., Charles A. Sabin, President of the Guarantee Trust Co.; Alexander Hamilton, Chairman of the board of the Guarantee

INTERESTING PLACES ABOUT NEW YORK --BRONX PARK--

(Written specially for the boys and girls)

Through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. John Alan, former Brantfordites, I had the good fortune one bright day last month to spend a most delightful afternoon in Bronx Park, where there to be found so many zoological specimens, one of the finest collections in the world. I wish all the boys and girls in Brantford might have the privilege of visiting this park, for while it is intensely interesting to grown-ups, it is doubly interesting to the children. Here you find scores of houses, some little some big, including homes for alligators, bears, antelopes, birds of all kinds, camels, deers; elephants; elks; foxes, lions, ostriches, dogs; walves; zebras; snakes; monkeys and many more that I will not name, but I will tell you about them as we pass on. The park is divided into sections: (1) mammals, (2) birds, (3) reptiles, (4) insects. In the first section are included bison, sheep, antelopes, deer, goats, sea lions, bears; walves; foxes; beavers; elephants. This will give you an idea of what is meant by the mammals. In the second section, you find birds of all kinds brought together from all parts of the known world, and including geese, flying birds; eagles; vultures; wild turkeys; pheasants; ostriches; cranes and many others. In the third section you find turtles, tortoises; crocodiles; alligators; lizards; serpents, etc. In the 4th section are to be found specimens from the old world as well as the new, including many varieties of newly discovered insects known to the modern scientist, such as the locust; silk worm and many others you would not like to have crawl over you, especially at night. In this beautiful park there are two administration buildings where those in charge of the exhibit meet, and where all necessary business is transacted. On the grounds are 14 large animal buildings, out door dens and jorralls in connection with 13 buildings, shelter houses for the animals. The park itself includes 264 acres, and has eight miles of roads and driveways running through it. The main entrance to the park is indeed beautiful, and reminds one of the lake district of England, as the shrubbery, foliage, over-arching trees and expanses of pure water, abundant flowers, make it not unlike that choicest of all of England's many delightful watering places. There is no charge of admission to the public except two days a week when admittance is charged to provide for the upkeep of the park. Here you can spend a most delightful day, and in fact it would take a week to care-fully go through the entire park. "The Rocking Stone" attracts the attention of all. It is a colossal cube of pinkish granite poised on a smooth pedestal of rock. Its extreme height is 7 ft. 7 inches, its breadth 10 feet, and its weight is estimated at thirty tons. A small child can produce pressure enough to cause it to swing back and forth, and from this fact it gets its name. All the boys and girls want to see the rocking stone and make it move. But there are so many interesting other things in Bronx Park that we must hurry on. The deer are very beautiful. They have such glossy skin and look so clean and innocent. There are 116 deer in the park, and these are divided into 24 different sections, meaning that there you find a different specimen, just as you have the Bernard dogs and blood hounds in the dog family—so it is with the deer. There are just 2 giraffes, but they are magnificent, so tall and so handsomely marked. There are 38 buffalo in the group; 5 musk oxen; 41 wild sheep and goats; 41 antelopes; 4 hippopotamuses; 5 wild pigs; 10 camels; a rhinoceros; 3 tapirs; nine wild horses and 5 elephants. These all have hoofs, and for this reason they are put in a class by themselves. These all are well housed in solid buildings, some being allowed to run out and in at will. I will not worry you with the many different names of these animals, as it would take many pages to distinguish them one from the other. The camel, with its awkward gait, was a great favorite with the little folks. Those who had a camel to ride on a camel's back, and this was counted great sport by those who tried it, as you could hear their merry laugh as they went bumping along. The camel's home, you know, is in Asia, and they must feel rather strange away out here in America, but they seem to be happy and are well cared for. They are a sort of four-footed freight car, and can carry 500 pounds nicely on their back and trot right along too all the way, and better still, they can go three or four days between drinks. Among the many strange little animals in the park are the zebras. They come away from Mongolia. They have such strange white stripes on them. There are many varieties of these, and they are very attractive. The Lion House is seldom neglected by the sight-seers. We happened to get there at feeding time and there was a big row as they rushed for the raw meat the keepers threw to them. They have splendid homes in the out of the rock. Africa is the home of the lion although they are found in Persia and India. However the advances of civilization are rapidly driving the lions back, and it is quite probable that in another few years there will be no lions to be found outside of the circus and the zoological Park. But the tiger will long survive the lion as he is a better hider and more skillful hunter, and does not disclose his presence by the roar for which the lion is well known. The lion will walk out in the open in broad day light but the tiger takes no such foolish risks, as this and so his chances of life are much better. India is a very thickly populated country, and yet you will find the tiger there in almost every part. The Indians call them "Game-killers," "Cattle Lifters" and "Man-eaters," for all of which they have won fame. In the Zoo at the Bronx Park are to be found many fine specimens of lions, tigers, leopards, and how closely together, although each class is kept apart, and usually one in each cage. I had often seen lions and so was especially attracted to some animals I had not seen before. I will mention one of these sea lions. They are a queer looking animal and bark something like a dog whining. They are always on the go, and strike many strange attitudes, now climbing, now hopping about on the rocks. Boys and girls say sometimes they are "showing off," and that is about how it strikes an onlooker. Anyway, they keep you busy following them. Their call "Hook! Hook! Hook," can be heard some distance away, and they gather the boys and girls much as a steel magnet will draw steel filings. It was interesting, too, in the seals and in the walrus. Some of the walrus weigh as much as two tons and feed on fish and clams. I saw the keeper feed the sea lions and they could eat fish as fast as he could throw them out of his pail. He had to throw them far away to keep them from fighting for it. Another interesting spot was the monkey house. Every body seemed to want to see their relatives, and when SECRETARY DEPARTS: Mrs. R. Mitchell, the energetic secretary of the Kelvin Gun Committee, it has been learned, is leaving the village next Tuesday. Many regrets will follow this lady from friends and old pupils who are unanimous in wishing her a happy life in Hamilton, where her new home will be. The consensus of opinion is that she will be an asset to whatever neighborhood she resides in, and her faithful work on the gun committee cannot be easily forgotten. The committee will miss her very much in future efforts in Kelvin, and hope to have her visit them in the future when the work in which she took so prominent a part reaches its happy conclusion.

Women employed in Detroit restaurants must now only work 54 hours a week.

TIMES THINKS WILSON HAS TAKEN STAND

This Time in His Dismissal of Dumba From Embassy. By Special Wire to the Courier. London, Sept. 11.—The Times, in an editorial, finds the president's affirmation of the legitimacy of American trade in munitions in his decision regarding Dr. Dumba as important since it foreshadows the full use of the presidential veto should congress be weak enough to pass a bill forbidding the export of war materials. "Dumba's dismissal," it adds, "at any rate will convince Austro-German propagandists that there are limits even to American forbearance, and that when those limits are passed retribution is apt to be swift and peremptory."

Commenting on what it terms the difficulty of understanding American attitude which resulted in the first definite step being taken to punish a breach of diplomatic etiquette instead of exacting reparation for the loss of American lives, the Times says it is willing to believe some governing principles exists although they may not be apparent to British observers and that President Wilson, having taken his stand, is not the man to be put off with any false excuses.

CARELESS WATCH AT THE FESTIVAL SEASON IS KEPT

British Surprised Turks at Suvla Bay at Such a Period. By Special Wire to the Courier. Rotterdam, Sept. 11.—Careless watch kept by the Turks, who were observing a week of fast prescribed by their religion, was responsible for the successful landing of British forces on Suvla Bay, according to the testimony of German officers, says the Constantinople correspondent of the Courant.

The newspapers representative asserts he has been informed no one saw the approach of the British transports with convoys of warships or the landing of troops with artillery. The Germans are said to have declared that if German troops had been on watch not a single British soldier would have been able to land. German officers who have fought in other theatres declare the ferocity of the struggle on the Gallipoli peninsula has not been approached elsewhere.

RECOMMEND PURCHASE OF NEW MOTOR TRUCK

The fire and light committee met yesterday afternoon and considered the question of purchasing a new motor truck for the central fire station. All of the members were in favor of the purchase, and it was decided to ask several firms for their prices. The most suitable offer will be accepted, and will be recommended to the city council.

G. W. BROOMFIELD ENLISTED FOR FRONT

Mr. G. W. Broomfield will join Col. Genet's Battalion at Niagara on Monday. Mr. Broomfield has never done a day's soldiering in his life, but feels that it is his duty to do his bit. Mr. Broomfield is the well-known plumber, and makes a great personal sacrifice in taking this step. All arrangements have been made for carrying on the business. Mr. Broomfield is an Englishman by birth and has a great grandfather sleeping on the field of Waterloo. Four of his uncles were also in the American war.

GLAD RAYMOND RECEIVED FINE MARK OF ESTEEM

Bowlers Surrounded Him and Handed Over Some Useful Gifts. A most pleasing affair occurred last night on the Heather Bowling green when representative bowlers from all the clubs in the city gathered to do honor to Mr. Glad Raymond, one of the Heather members, who left this morning for Niagara camp. After all the members had gathered on the green, Mr. B. J. Wade, president of the club, made a neat speech of presentation, referring appreciatively and feelingly to Mr. Raymond's decision to serve the Empire. Dr. Gamble then seconded Mr. Wade's efforts, and then Mr. T. L. Wood made the presentation, consisting of a safety razor outfit, a set of pipes, tobacco pouch and humidior of tobacco. Mr. Raymond made a suitable reply, thanking the donors most heartily for their kind gift. Mr. J. S. Dowling, president of the Dufferin Bowling Club; F. S. Blain, of the Pastimes and Rev. M. Kelly then spoke briefly, adding their best wishes for a safe and quick return. All of the speakers spoke glowingly of the efforts of Mr. W. G. Raymond in stimulating recruiting, and the satisfaction felt in that his own son had responded to the call. Then the members sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," following which all joined hands and, forming a circle on the green, sang "Auld Lang Syne." Mr. Raymond, at the conclusion of the proceedings, was deeply affected, and seemed to appreciate highly the fact that so many of his fellow citizens would not forget him in his absence.

THE DEPARTURE. Mr. Gladstone Raymond and Mr. Percy Farnsworth, two local men who have been assigned to the machine gun section of Col. Genet's 58th Battalion left for Niagara Camp this morning on the 10.29 G. T. R. An immense crowd was present to witness the departure of the two boys, a tribute to their popularity. All the active service detachments turned out as a guard of honor and marched to the station, where they broke ranks and mingled with the crowd in wishing the boys good-bye. Before the departure Mr. W. G. Raymond made a stirring address to the soldiers assembled, which met with their hearty approval. A few minutes later the train ran in, and amid hearty loud cheering from all present the boys left for the front.

TRUCULENT AND DEFIANT. The Sun, New York: Germany's diplomatic writing is not always of the clearest. Indeed, as we have seen, sometimes when these singular gentlemen intend to be very friendly, very conciliatory, their expressions are so unfortunate as to be interpreted as truculent and defiant in the extreme. Demand that the United States formulate our requirements as to international law and neutral rights. Germany must respect them if she desired to preserve friendly relations with this country. The answer of these requirements should be "yes" or "no," and the answer should be required without longer delay than is necessary to transmit to Berlin a cable in code and receive a reply.

ACTIVITIES OF GERMAN AND AUSTRIAN OFFICIALS INTERFERED WITH AMERICAN PRODUCTION OF WAR MUNITIONS. Washington, Sept. 11.—President Wilson's request for the recall of the Austrian Ambassador, Dr. Constantin Theodor Dumba, has broadened into a situation involving Captain Franz von Papen, the military attache of the German Embassy; Alexander Nuber von Perked, the Austrian Consul-General in New York, and possibly might stand with her ally in relations with the United States. SECOND NOTE FROM BERLIN? Unofficial reports that a second note had been started from the Berlin Foreign Office for Washington furnished about the only basis of optimism in official quarters, so far as the submarine controversy was concerned. There was no official intimation that another communication was on the way, but the American reply to the note on the Arabic will probably be delayed until officials can learn whether to expect anything additional from Berlin. It may be stated, however, that if nothing comes in the nature of a modification of Germany's explanation

Dr. and Mrs. Woodson, of Birmingham, Alabama, and the Messrs Woodson, came up from their summer cottage in Pt. Dover and spent a couple of days visiting with friends in Brantford.

The Rev. Canon Hedley and four children, of Port Arthur, arrived in the city on Tuesday and are the guests of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. McKenzie at the Rectory, for the month of September.

Miss Nellie Wood, of Montreal, has been a very popular visitor in town the past week or so, and a number of informal affairs were given in her honor. Miss Wood, accompanied by her hostess, Mrs. Poppewell, left on Thursday for Montreal, where Mrs. Poppewell will be the guest of Miss Wood for a few weeks.

Lieut. Norman Caudwell, formerly of Brantford and brother of Mr. Gordon Caudwell, Lorne Crescent, has enlisted with the 80th battalion overseas contingent. Lieut. Caudwell is the 4th son of Mr. and Mrs. George Caudwell, and a graduate of the College of Science, and Osgoode Hall, Toronto. Latterly he has made his home in Prescott, Ont., where he has been practicing law.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Gordon entertained a very jolly house party over the week-end and Labor Day. On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Gordon gave a delightful little dinner at the Golf and Country Club in honor of their out-of-town guests. Covers were laid for twelve, and a most enjoyable evening was spent in dancing to the strains of the Victrola.

A number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Tanner met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tanner, 47 Emily street, the occasion being in honor of their recent marriage. A very jolly time was spent by all, each one bringing something for the kitchen of the young bride. After the recipients had thanked their friends in a few suitable words, the guests spent the evening in games and music, dainty refreshments being served during the evening.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886. A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public.

F. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists, Etc. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Mrs. Dybert Chrysler and family, have returned from Port Dover.

Miss Gertrude Walsh leaves shortly for Toronto, where she will take a college course at Loretto Abbey.

Miss Elva Lavery has returned to town, spending two weeks with her cousin, Miss Pauline Lavery, of Toronto.

The many friends of Miss Bessie Walker will be sorry to learn that she is confined to her home, for a few days, through illness.

Miss Maude Campion, who has been the guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Heilman, Goderich, for the past five weeks, has returned to Brantford.

Mrs. T. Hendry and family, of 14 Nelson street, have returned from Toronto, where they have been spending a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Mintern returned last evening from the West, bringing their grand-daughter, little Miss Norma Livingston with them.

Mrs. D. H. Andrews and Misses Lillian and Marion Andrews and Jean Milne returned a few days ago from Cleveland, Buffalo, Detroit and other points.

Among the young ladies who were successful in obtaining honors at the Loretto Academy, Hamilton, a number of Brantfordites carried off honors. Miss Gertrude Walsh matriculated and obtained honor standing in middle school entrance to Normal, Miss Agnes O'Donohue obtained a medal for highest standing in lower school entrance to Normal. Miss Estella Walsh obtained the Papal medal for ecclesiastical history, and Miss Katharine Harris obtained honors in the High School entrance examination.

Mr. E. L. Goold and son, Mr. Lyman Goold, left on Thursday for St. Catharines, where Mr. Lyman Goold has enrolled as a student at Ridley College.

The Situation.

The most remarkable thing about the war news to-day is its paucity and the absolute lack of anything to indicate what is transpiring behind the fog of officialdom which masks the Western allied front.

The Dardanelles is the scene of much vigor in fighting, according to various sources, but beyond some prophecies of an early fall for Constantinople, there is nothing to indicate how near the Allies are to success.

A little survey of the operations on the Gallipoli convinces one that at the most but a few more miles must be traversed before the guns of the Allies can shell the heart of the Ottoman Constantinople, and the appearance of projectiles among its sacred mosques will cause public opinion already suffering from months of defensive and retrogressive warfare, to enter a state of panic.

From Petrograd there comes the story of another success and of successful counter-attacks along the whole line, which are maintaining themselves with steady courage. On the South Galician front the Muscovites took upwards of 5,000 men, but it is to be regarded as merely of nominal advantage when the main sphere of operations lies with armies holding the line of minor forts guarding the railways against Von Mackensen.

The Italian armies cannot be even guessed at, but there is an undercurrent of feeling which suggests that despite the veil of mystery, the plan is to so weaken the Austrian line by steady attrition and in conjunction with the successes in Galicia, to make the pressure sufficient to demand reinforcements so that forces which would go to the West for the Crown Prince, will be poured from time to time into the East.

What of the U. S., now fairly to be considered as "into it" What is the next step? If the tone of the press is the criterion of American opinion, then there is a crisis in progress of formation that will force President Wilson's hands and make the Eagle enter into a new phase, more potent of her democracy than mere letters of rhetoric.

Col. R. B. Woodward's will left $200,000 to the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Science.

The Patriotic Fund.

The Ottawa Free Press points out that we have now entered upon the second year of the war, and the end seems as far off as ever. No one imagined, a year ago, that by September of 1915 Canada would have sent across the Atlantic nearly one hundred thousand men, with as many more to follow if necessary.

This greatest of all the national benefactions is now assisting twenty thousand families of men who have enlisted for overseas service. These men have gone forward with the full assurance that the people of Canada will see to it that during their absence their wives, widowed mothers and little children shall be maintained in comparative comfort.

The drain upon the fund is assuming large proportions. To meet the needs of July and August $700,000 was expended. The reserves are being materially decreased and the national executive committee now finds it necessary to make a further appeal to the Canadian public. There are many funds, most of them worthy, but of them all the Patriotic Fund is the one we cannot allow to fail.

The national organization, with headquarters at Ottawa and branches or affiliated associations in every part of the Dominion, is worthy of our most generous support in the tremendous and ever-growing task that it has undertaken.

Notes and Comments.

Col. Repton talks sense when he says no matter what turn things are taking in different fronts, "How can we lose in the long run?" Britain and her possessions are out-Krupping Krupp as munition makers.

A supplemental note on the attempt to torpedo the Orduña has been sent to Gerard for delivery at Berlin. Nothing can exceed such verbosity as is being displayed by Washington, unless a Webster's Dictionary be handed over next.

The Allies in the West are wrapped in their martial cloak of obscurity and only "Little Willy" is passing around the Argonne. He'll be fretting elsewhere next summer.

Dr. Dumba, no doubt, now thinks that it would have been better had he been dumber.

The rush of Italians to war has caused a severe shortage in the eastern labor market.

Minneapolis labor bureau offers checks three a week to get harvest hands and free rail fare.

Passaic autoists complain of eighty tires being punctured by tacks scattered along the avenues.

J. S. Morgan, eldest son of J. P. Morgan, has started work in the office of the firm in New York.

Women of Oregon won a fight for lower steps on railway cars; six inches is the standard measure now.

COOK'S Cotton Root Compound. A safe, reliable regulating medicine. Sold in two strengths—No. 1, $1.00; No. 2, $2.00. Sold by all druggists, or sent prepaid on receipt of 10c from manufacturer, The Cook Medicine Co., 108-110 Ave. C, Toronto, Ont.

bankers of the United States and Canada. The afternoon meeting was held in informal—sort of "glad to meet you, good-day" affair, and was not in the nature of a conference. But after it was over it was stated:

"The bankers are to arrange a plan and suggest a way in which the credit can be established. The banks, trust companies and insurance companies and others who have money to invest are to be notified of the plan and invited to participate in the loan."

READING HEADS COMMISSION.

Heading the Commission is the Right Hon. Baron Reading, Lord Chief Justice of Britain. Associated with him are Edward Atkinson Holden, Managing Director of the London City and Midland Bank; Sir H. Babinington Smith, K.C.B., director of the Bank of Turkey in London; Basil P. Blackett, C.B., representing the British Treasury; Octave Hamberg of the French Foreign Office, and Ernest Halter, Regent of the Bank of France.

Sir Ernest Cassel, close friend of the late King Edward VII, also arrived on the Lapland, and although not a member of the Commission, will take part in the conference. For the first time in the history of Canada the Dominion is to be consulted in the floating of a foreign credit loan, and Hon. William T. White, the Canadian Minister of Finance, joined the Commission in this city yesterday. This step is believed to have been advised by the British Foreign Office to weld by the British Foreign Office to a closer relation between the mother country and the overseas Dominion.

ACTING FOR RUSSIA

Published reports that the Commission would act for Russia as well as Great Britain was refused confirmation by Basil P. Blackett, Secretary of the Commission. But it is understood that negotiations looking toward this end are under way in London, and that the result will be cable to the Commission here.

J. P. Morgan, Henry P. Davison, his partner, Georges Gaunt, Naval Attaché of the French Embassy, boarded the Corsair this morning at 5 o'clock and went down the bay to greet the Commission aboard the Lapland, which has been convoyed 60 miles through and clear of the torpedo zone by two fast British destroyers. The financiers were already up and went over the side to the Morgan yacht.

When the Commission reached the pier, where Dudley Field Malone, Collector of the port, saw they had a quick landing, it was announced that all the talking for the party would be done by Mr. Blackett, the Secretary. Mr. Morgan would not talk of the party's mission, but said:

"It would be unreasonable to assume that these gentlemen would intend to take part in the party at the end of a long voyage. They first have to meet the men with whom they will negotiate. That is what they expect to do this afternoon."

BRITISH ENVOY HERE

Shortly before 1 o'clock Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, British Ambassador, Mr. Morgan and Mr. Davison arrived, and joined the Commissioners at a luncheon that lasted until 2 o'clock. Then Sir Cecil left for Washington and Mr. Morgan and his partner went down to the Morgan library, where fifty financial men from this city, Philadelphia, Chicago, Cleveland, Boston, Baltimore and Canada, invited to meet them at half-past two, were kept waiting a half-hour until the Commissioners had finished a conference of their own. When it ended, Mr. Blackett stated positively that neither he nor his fellow Commissioners had anything to say.

With the arrival of the delegation in East Thirty-sixth street, a crowd gathered, and the photographers and moving-picture men got busy. A detachment of police in front of the house and detectives from private agencies scattered for a block on each side of the street, soon moved the throng on its way, and a squad of detectives went into the library after the guests had arrived.

MANY INSURANCE MEN

From that hour until five o'clock there was a constant stream of automobiles bringing men notable in the financial world. The large representation of insurance men was unexpected. All who talked when they came from the library were unanimous in asserting that there had not been a whisper of business. The next move, it is said, is the making of a program for meeting the financial men next week, a great deal of preliminary work having to be discussed before actual terms are discussed.

GERMANS USED

attacks near Rozhany were followed by our fire at close range, followed by a bayonet charge. The Germans chased from Rozhany a great crowd of inhabitants whom they used as a cover in approaching our positions. In the direction of Kremenetz, the enemy bombarded our troops with asphyxiating gas projectiles and engaged in a comba in the region of the Upper Goryni River.

INTERESTING

you saw the faces of the more intelligent looking apes you felt they were some relation to you—distantly related—as they had such a human look. The monkey house cost $65,000, and is 162 feet long and 74 feet wide; so you see they live in pretty fine style. In all there are about fifty cages. Every care has been taken to provide the monkeys with sufficient light and fresh air, to keep out all moisture and disease germs. They have sleeping quarters both outside and inside their cages, and they feed on the fat of the land. So the monkeys in Bronx Park are better cared for and more money is expended on them than is expended on some boys and girls in Brantford. There are four classes of monkeys: (1) apes, (2) old world monkeys and baboons, (3) lemurs. They come from Africa, Borneo, Japan, India, Arabia, Abyssinia, South America and Madagascar.

The gorilla is the largest and ugliest of all the monkey family. His home is in West Africa. He walks erect and in form of body and limbs it most resembles a man. The Orang outang has brown skin, red hair and small ears. In disposition he is docile and affectionate, fond of the company of human beings, takes to training with wonderful readiness and success, can be taught to wear clothes, sit at the table, and eat with spoon and fork. Nine apes give a daily exhibition at 4 p.m. and these are attended by throngs of visitors.

These exhibitions prove that these animals have minds and bring out their likeness to man more than anything else. Other specimens in the monkey family are the Chimpanzee, the Gibbon, the Baboons, the Black Ape, the Japanese red-faced monkey, the Pig-tailed monkey, the Green monkey, the Black-spider monkey, the Squirrel, etc., etc.

The monkey house furnishes no end of amusement to the children, and those behind the bars seem glad to see the boys and girls and are anxious to see them perform. They are all of you will want to see the wonderful creatures of which we have all heard so much.

In my next letter I will have something to say that will interest you about the elephants, the toxes, the beavers, and the bears.

With best wishes to all the boys and girls who read the Courier.

Sincerely yours, Llewellyn Brown.

Edge, Gold Leaf Silver Leaf and Maple Leaf—enjoy an enviable reputation wherever they are introduced. The demand for Canada's famous four Maple Leaf Brands of binder twine has been phenomenal. Notwithstanding the extensive addition that was made to the present plant two years ago, which increased the output at that time over 75 per cent, it has again increased at such an enormous rate that during the past season the Company was unable to accept bonafide orders submitted for as much again as their total output, and therefore increased accommodation has become an absolute necessity.

The new addition will be equipped with the latest modern machinery and have a capacity of 4,000 tons of binder twine per annum, duplicating the output of the present mill, also equipped for the manufacture of a full line of rope and cordage.

The new mill and warehouses, some 400 feet, will be constructed on the company's property fronting on Brant street, just across the Grand Trunk from the present mill and between the T. H. and B. and G. T. R. and splendidly located for necessary railway facilities.

The outlay in additional buildings and machinery will be very large and it is expected that the number of hands—now 135—will be more than doubled.

Brantfordites have reason to be proud of the fact that such an important institution, so essential to the great calling of agriculture, should be such a flourishing concern in this community and the management and shareholders alike deserve to be heartily congratulated.

GERMAN AMBASSADOR

an American note will reach Berlin early next week, which will set forth the views of the United States in a brief and unmistakable manner.

DUMBA CASE OVERSHADOWED. Germany's declaration that while she regrets the loss of Americans she recognizes no liability for indemnity even if the submarine commander was mistaken in believing the Arabic was about to attack him, and practically offers to arbitrate the question, is regarded in official circles as leaving the whole submarine question practically where it was left by the Berlin Government's unresponsive attitude toward the Lusitania negotiations, and in remarkable contravention of the favorable view which State department officials took in consequence of the German ambassador's recent assurances. The latest turn in the submarine controversy almost overshadowed the Dumba case.

GERMAN ATTACHE INVOLVED. Captain von Papen is involved in the Dumba case because he forwarded by James F. J. Archibald, the American correspondent travelling under an American passport, a personal letter, in which he made offensive statements about American officials. Moreover, Ambassador Dumba's letter to the Vienna Foreign office, found on Archibald, mentioned von Papen as having approved what the State Department in its note to the Austro-Hungarian Government characterized as a conspiracy to cripple the legitimate industry of the United States.

Consul-General Nuber is drawn into the case because the Dumba letter disclosed that he was connected with the strike plan.

High officials indicated yesterday that the government would take steps of some kind against the editor of the Hungarian newspaper in this country from which a memorandum was enclosed in the Dumba letter, outlining carefully-prepared plans for putting into effect the scheme for handicapping munitions plants.

Count von Bernstorff is involved, though technically, because Archibald's letter for him, but as it was a copy of a statement previously made to the Ambassador by Secretary Lansing, wholly of an innocuous character, officials do not regard the German Ambassador's status in the affair as approaching that of his Military Attaché or the Austrian Consul-General.

JUST A FRAME OF BONES. Dr. Cassell's Tablets Cure When Cure Thought Hopeless. A wasted wreck for eight years and weak as a baby. Thought he was going into a rapid decline. No treatment tried did any good. New Health and Strength from DR. CASSELL'S TABLETS.

"Had it not been for Dr. Cassell's Tablets I believe I should never have worked again; I hardly think I could have lived." These are the words of Mr. Ernest W. Barrett, of 22, Cecil-road, Gloucester, England, a young man, now in the perfection of health and vigor. And he goes on: "The Tablets cured me of a long and serious illness when all methods I tried had failed, and now I am as well and fit as anyone could wish to be. It is eight years since the trouble came on. I caught a cold, which turned to pleurisy and rheumatic fever, and for nine weeks I lay between life and death. When at length I could be taken downstairs I was a wreck of my former self, wasted to a frame and weak as a baby. One side was all drawn up, and if I tried to straighten myself the pain was intense. I used to hobble about on one leg or get hold of a chair to take me out just a little way, leaning on him all the time. But instead of getting better I got worse. I had the best advice; but all the medicine I took proved quite useless. It was thought I was going in a rapid decline, and that nothing could save me. I was just a frame of bones by this time, and I can't tell you how weak and miserable I felt.

"However, my father chanced to read about Dr. Cassell's Tablets, and got me some. I shall never cease to be grateful for the result. I began to mend almost at once. Slowly my strength returned, I brightened up, got an appetite, and it was just wonderful how I built up flesh. At the present time I am a little over the weight for my height, and in the very pink of condition. I have never had a day's illness since Dr. Cassell's Tablets cured me.

"How are good results like this brought out? The explanation is this: Dr. Cassell's Tablets are composed of elements each one of which has definite curative action on the nerve centres which control the various processes of life. Cures like these only tend to emphasize the power of Dr. Cassell's Tablets to cure Nerve and Bodily Weakness in young and old, and prove that no case should be considered hopeless until this remedy has been tried. Begin taking Dr. Cassell's Tablets at once if you are suffering from Nerve Break-down, Nerve Failure, Infantile Weakness, Neurasthenia, Sleeplessness, Anemia, Kidney Trouble, Dyspepsia, Stomach Disorder, Wasting, Palpitation, and they are specially valuable for nursing mothers and girls approaching womanhood. All druggists and storekeepers throughout the Dominion sell Dr. Cassell's Tablets at 50 cents. People in outlying districts should keep Dr. Cassell's Tablets by them in case of emergency. A free sample will be sent on receipt of 5 cents for mailing and packing, by the sole agents for Canada, H. P. Ritchie and Co., Ltd., 10, McCaul-street, Toronto, Ont.

SLIGHT CASUALTIES.

There were one or two minor casualties in the Second Dragons the other day, when two men had to be excused parade. Both after resting were back on the job. Bad feet is the most frequent source of trouble though the mosquitoes accounted for a poisoned hand. The men speak highly of Sergeant Mayott's consideration for them.

DUFFERIN RIFLES CHAPTER.

The fall meeting of the Dufferin Rifles Chapter, I.O.D.E. was held on Sept 7th in the Armories. It was decided to take up the making of night shirts on Thursday afternoons, as the winter's Red Cross work, in addition to the knitting of woollen comforts for the soldiers. The chapter has so far given a pair of socks to each man of the Dufferin Rifles contingents. As there are so many men going shortly, and over 200 pairs of socks are needed, it was decided to hold a Sock Shower and talent race at the home of Mrs. Moxton, Cutcliffe, Dufferin Avenue, on Friday, Sept. 24th, to raise the necessary funds to provide these socks.

BILLIONS OF DOLLARS

IN GOLD LIE BURIED IN THE DEEP.

Billions of dollars in gold, silver, ivory, copper and all sorts of precious stones and jewels have been lost in ships wrecked at sea. Only in a very few cases have these wrecks been raised or deep-sea divers been able to recover the lost treasure. This great amount of precious metal in coins and in bars had been given up as lost forever to the world, but now there is a hint that much of it may be restored through the invention of the submarine tube which has just been completed by Ernest and George Williamson, sons of an old Scotch sea captain, of Norfolk, Va.

At the present time the Williamsons are taking an inventory of the ships which have been wrecked during the last few years with fabulous sums in their holds, and they estimate that $28,750,000 lies in the hulks of half a dozen ships scattered throughout the waters of the earth. There is an imposing list of treasure wrecks, including the "Wilhelm der Zweiter" which went down with three thousand, seven hundred bars of silver; the "Honeycot" with two hundred tons of copper; the "Wilhelmina" with thirty boxes of gold and silver; the "Harlem II" with a cargo of silver bars, and the "Scholendrayner" with a cargo of ivory. The most important of the ships which now lie with their treasures on the bottom of the sea are the "General Grant," foundered on Auckland Island in only fourteen fathoms with a cargo of gold valued at $1,250,000; the "Florence," wrecked in the Bay of Tobermory with a cargo of gold and silver coins worth $1,000,000; the "Malabar," foundered near Shanghai, cargo of gold worth $1,500,000; the "Lizard," near Cornwall, cargo of gold, $700,000; the "San Pedro," in Margarita Channel off Central American coast, cargo of golden images and precious stones, $67,000,000; the "Thunderbolt," off Thunderbolt Reef, $2,250,000; and finally the famous

MOVIES, MUSIC AND DRAMA

"PEG O' MY HEART."
There is a vast difference between the comedy that appeals to the sympathies of the audience, and the comedy that merely makes them laugh. The latter is forgotten almost as soon as seen, but the former leaves pleasant memories behind. In Oliver Morosco's production of "Peg O' My Heart," which will have its second presentation at the Grand Opera House next Tuesday, September 14th,

J. Hartley Manners has written what he describes as "a comedy of youth"; and the title is an apt one, for the central figure is one of irresistible youth, and the central idea is concerned with the influence of youth. A comedy with universal appeal must have good qualities, and Peg has many. In Peg, Mr. Manners has created a character of delightful originality, and the brief story his comedy tells is full of quiet wisdom and charity, underlying its superstructure of delicious fun and frolic. The play opens with the Chichester family of Scarborough, England, in trouble. It is a typical English family with aristocratic traditions, and it has just lost all its money through a bank failure. Mrs. Chichester, her son Alaric, and her daughter Ethel, face poverty. Salvation arrives in the shape of Peg, the daughter of Mrs. Chichester's sister, who made what her family considered, a misalliance in marrying a penniless Irishman for love. A hard-hearted uncle, accomplishing a death-bed repentance, decrees in his will that Peg is to be sent to relatives—preferably the Chichesters—to be educated and brought up "in her proper station in life," for which the relatives are to receive a thousand pounds a year. If Peg turns out well, she is to get five thousand pounds a year for life when she is of age. Peg arrives, and the traditions, standards, creed and prejudices of the Chichesters get a terrible shock. For Peg is untrammelled by any social conventions; she is a warm-blooded, frankly spoken little Irish girl, with a wire-haired Irish terrier known as Michael. The play revolves around Peg's escapades, the revelation of the Chichesters' contempt for the girl and the greed for her money. She brings all save the Mother to a gradual realization of their own selfishness, and wins the love of a handsome young baronet who sees the true gold beneath the unpolished exterior. Contrasted with Peg's own awakening to love is the illicit passion between Ethel and Christian Brent, an unscrupulous society man with a wife and a child of whom he is tired, and whom he plans to abandon. Peg returns from a dance with the baronet, to which she was forbidden to go, arriving in time to save her cousin from going to shame. The play is refreshingly wholesome, in which there is nothing dependent upon double entendre, nothing in which innuendo plays a part. It is a clean, natural story, without a line that one could wish omitted or a thought one would prefer unexpressed.

Mr. Morosco has provided the same cast as last season, which comprises Miss Kitty O'Connor as Peg, and Stanley Hamilton as Jerry.
"THE ROSARY."
When Rowland and Clifford's next play "The Rosary," comes to the Grand next Wednesday, Sept. 15th, the discriminating public will be given an opportunity to see pictured before them a decided answer to the growing unrest and irreligion of our times. Not that "The Rosary" is a decision merely; it is more. It is a faithful picture of the misery and unhappiness that surely comes upon man who lacks faith in the supreme good and its inevitable triumphs in our world.

A typical American family is taken as a fair example of every day conditions that exist throughout the United States. The husband, a man immersed in business, the exacting business of Wall street and the Stock Exchange.
Little by little he has fallen away from the faith of his Fathers; that from the faith of his Fathers. He has replaced it by an agnostic attitude all too prevalent in our day and time. The wife believes her confidence in an all-wise all-prevailing good has not been shaken; so when storm and stress comes the man with the anchor is swept away by the storm of agony; the woman remains steadfast, moored by her faith to outride the tempest.
Through all the heartbreak and anguish, clear and serene, moves the wonderful figure of a modern Catholic Priest whose life has been dedicated to God and the service of his fellowmen. It is his clear spiritual vision that sees through the web that has been woven about the two people whom he loves and it is his faith and God-given power that sets them free.

It is a wonderful preachment of faith's mighty power of the saving grace of the good that lies all about us.
The tremendous story, powerful in its simplicity, is interwoven with the higher threads of sane humor of the sort that one loves to take away from the theatre and muse over in idle moments.

Submarine Pictures
It may be mentioned that the Williamson brothers had no thought of submarine motion pictures when they made their invention. Their purpose was to provide a means of descending into the sea to obtain sponges, pearls, lost treasure, or to examine and repair hulls of vessels, but the same idea or mechanical device, which made possible such an extension of sea exploration also allows the most perfect photographic work at depths hitherto unknown to the science of photography.

The photographer is located inside a small chamber with powerful lenses, exposed to the walls of water and by the assistance of a powerful light that illuminates the sea about him, takes his picture through a window like a port-hole of a ship, made of thick glass, and moving pictures made beneath the sea at a depth of a hundred feet or more are now a reality.
Not only are actual photographs of all the fish and natural inhabitants of the deep made at any angle, but lost treasure can be found and recovered. Does your interest in life lag? Are the days stale, flat and unprofitable, and your friends and your business a bore? If so, there is only one guaranteed cure for such an ailment and that is to see the wonderful pictures which these southern boys have taken far down in the depths of the ocean where the inhabitants are not worried over the struggle of nations and where there is continuous peace and quietude where men do not strive madly to overthrow their brothers, and where life is just one long grand swim.

Blues, boredom, dissatisfaction quickly flee before the charming and beautiful scenes and the absorbing, thrilling adventures which befell the Williamsons in their submarine trip in the waters of the Bahama Islands. These scenes and these adventures were faithfully and brilliantly caught by the motion picture camera, which they carried in the submerged chamber at the bottom of the submarine tube, which made their undersea trip a possibility.

Among the wonderful and thrilling things recorded on the film are the antics of native boys diving for coins, the coral beds, botanical gardens, sunken wrecks of ships, a deep-sea diver hunting for lost treasure. No state of boredom or lassitude is imperious to the attack on the nerves of such a sensational combat. The spectator is mentally awakened, his imagination becomes active, refreshed, instructed—his interest in life revived.

In producing any of the big spectacular motion pictures it is not the time required to take the picture that is considered, but the trouble and expense of preparing for the brief period during which the operator turns the crank to produce the views that can furnish the entertainment in any number of places at the same time.

In preparing the marvelous drama of the deep, with its fairy grottos, its strange and beautiful gently waving submarine palms, its thousands of brilliant tropical fish, the Williamson Expedition spent months of patient toil and vast sums of money before the picture was made.

But their labors have been rewarded and the Universal Film Manufacturing Company paid them a huge sum of money for the exclusive rights of this picture, and it is proving one of the greatest successes of the screen season. It is alluring and filled with good live punches from the moment the first reel is released until the last picture is shown on the screen.

It leaves one in a state of quandary. It's a picture which is being discussed from one end of the country to the other because it is amusing and yet instructive and uplifting. It is the sort of picture the people want to see. It's the kind they talk about.

WARNING!

Owing to the great popularity of the Charles Chaplin photoplays, many unauthorized prints of our productions, portraying him in his different pictures, are being handled in the United States. Some of these are fake prints and some are duplicates.

This company has adopted a policy of vigorous prosecution of every violation that comes to its notice, whether it be by the person who makes the unauthorized films or the person who rents or distributes them.

In the past three weeks the company has seized two unauthorized two-act Chaplin photoplays and has instituted two suits for injunction, accounting, and confiscation of the films, charging violation of our copyright.

It is our intention to protect our property rights and also to assure the public that it will see a genuine Chaplin picture when it is advertised as an Essanay-Chaplin Comedy.

We intend to pursue this policy until there is not a fake or duplicate Chaplin picture in the country.

This announcement is made so that dealers, exhibitors and the public may be put on their guard.

We earnestly request that you assist us in this campaign for picture honesty by sending us notice of any fake Essanay-Chaplin picture that you may know of.

For such information we thank you.

Mr. William H. Crane makes his first motion picture appearance in his famous characterization of David Harum. It is doubtful if any American work of drama or fiction has ever achieved such a wide-spread and instantaneous success as did this book and play. Mr. Crane's wonderful portrayal of the genial and quaint old hero of this masterpiece is one of the best examples of character work ever given on the stage, so that the unusual combination of star and play insure a photo drama of unusual merit.

David Harum, country banker, horse trader, and philosopher, lives comfortably, if not extravagantly, with his sister, Polly, familiarly known as "Aunt Polly" to her host of admirers, in a little rural village of central New York. David has a somewhat brusque and crusty exterior, but his heart is big and sound and sweet. On account of his oddities and gruffness he enjoys the reputation of a roughly miser, but is in reality a philanthropist who will not have his charities known. He is being systematically robbed, cheated and insulted by his bookkeeper, Chet Timson, so David writes his friend General Wolsey, in the city to send him an honest young man, who can stand his odd ways, to clerk for him and keep books in Chet Timson's place. The general replies that he is sending him a young man who has recently lost his father and fortune. John Leno, who would come up to David's demands, and David gives Chet notice to leave. Chet is furious, and when John arrives, Chet posts him before hand, as to David's rough and unbearable nature, his "sharp" practices in horse trading, and his stinginess in money matters. But John takes the railings of the surly clerk with a grain of salt, and he and the eccentric David become great friends, John eventually being persuaded to come from the dilapidated hotel to David's home, where Aunt Polly hovers over him and mothers him to her heart's content. Some weeks before coming to the little village, John had met and fallen in love with a pretty young heiress, Mary Blake, but feeling that he is not her equal in wealth, John does not dare follow up his little romance. Mary determines to win independence and make her own living, and asks the General to help her get a position. The General speaks to David Harum with the result that Mary becomes the new "school-marm" in his home town, and John and Mary meet again, to David's delight when he finds they are old friends. Their romance ripens into an engagement, when the envious Chet Timson, who has been meddling with counterfeit bills, plots to ruin John and nearly does so. The crime of counterfeiting is thrown upon John, to whom all circumstantial evidence points as the criminal, when David happens to overhear the real crooks plotting, and steps in, to take a hand in the affair. Just as a venal crowd of citizens are surrounding the jail in which John is imprisoned, David comes up with Chet, from whom he compels a confession, and John is freed, regaining at once his liberty and love. David celebrates his success as detective and match-maker, by giving a poor widow back her mortgage on the home she supposes forfeited, and treating his favorite horse, to an extra currying and a fine dinner of oats.

THE RHYTHM OF FLAVORS

(By Peter McArthur)

A couple of years ago a Japanese scientist-artist-musician-perfumer gave a super-aesthetic group of New Yorkers an entertainment that was perhaps unique in the world's history, and yet he might have made it more wonderful than it was. Owing to the versatility of his genius he knew that there are rhythms of form and color as well as of sound, and he perfected a mechanism by which he was able to throw colors and lights in certain forms on a screen to the accompaniment of music. At the same time he released jets of odor in the same rhythmic way. His purpose was to cater delicately to as many senses as possible. But why did he stop with the senses of form, color, sound and perfume? Why didn't he spread a banquet and enter rhythmically to the senses of taste? Our fruits, for instance, from the earliest strawberry to the latest peach give a range of flavors that a master artist might arrange into a symphony. The sense of taste can be catered to just as delicately and effectively as any other, and the housewife with a full fruit cupboard can at any time evolve a sonata of flavor, or tasty lyrics that will appeal to any palate.

Probably no country in the world is more favored with fruit than Canada. As some poet has observed it has a profusion of berries, "huckle, rasp, and straw," besides currants, cherries, peaches, plums, pears, apples, grapes, quinces, and other fruits too numerous to mention. And each of these fruits has a flavor indescribably individual.

By the way, is it possible to describe a flavor in a way that will convey to the person who has not tasted it what it is like? Of course we can give an idea of things as being sweet, sour, salt, or luscious but the penetrating, aromatic flavors—now are they to be described? I know of only two attempts at describing flavors that were at all successful. One was the attempt by David Harum's sister to describe champagne. She said it was like drinking cider and sniffing horseradish at the same time. The other was the answer made by a small boy when asked what vichy tasted like. He said, "It tastes like your foot's asleep." It could have a heart-to-heart talk with that Japanese scientist-artist-musician-perfumer I would try to get him to prepare something for the annual banquet of the Canadian Fruit Growers and have him add flavors to his entertainment. But perhaps the Fruit Growers would object. They probably agree with the average housewife that the flavors of our Canadian fruits are sufficient in themselves without being added to. They have color, and aroma also, and it is quite sufficient to set them to the music of tinkling glasses and silver spoons. This season when the fruits are so plentiful and so good every fruit cellar in the Dominion should be a symphony of the divine flavors perfected by the sun in the great alembic of a Canadian summer.

THE COLONIAL'S MESSAGE TO THE PUBLIC

In order to set at rest rumors that the COLONIAL THEATRE had cancelled its contract for PARAMOUNT SERVICE, and had made arrangements to play other features in the COLONIAL THEATRE, we wish to announce that we have not cancelled our contract for PARAMOUNT PICTURES, nor have we any intention so to do.
The PARAMOUNT PICTURES have been in our house for nearly one year and have proved entirely satisfactory, and we feel that PARAMOUNT FEATURES have met with the approval of our patrons.
The following PARAMOUNT FEATURES will be shown at the COLONIAL TO-DAY:
Lasky, Belasco, "The Fighting Hope," with Laura Hope Crews.
Famous Players, "Seven Sisters," with Marguerite Clark.
Famous Players, "Bliss," with Mary Pickford.
Lasky, "Secret Orchard," with Blanche Sweet.
Lasky, "Marriage of Kitty," with Fanny Ford.
Mosses-Knoxworth, "Heart of Jennifer," with Hazel Dawn.
The COLONIAL Theatre with PARAMOUNT FEATURES has been an artistic and financial success. We will therefore continue to give the Colonial patrons these features.
Yours very truly,
COLONIAL THEATRE.

To The Editor

FINE LINES
To the Editor: I just came across these lines written by the Reverend W. Allen Challinor, vicar of New Maiden, Surrey, England. It seems to me that in all of our churches this hymn ought to be sung at least once a week, thus giving all the congregations an opportunity of joining in a petition to the Almighty for our soldiers and sailors.

I would like to suggest that one of our stationery stores have a quantity of these printed, so that each congregation could purchase a supply, and also commend it to the favorable reception of the Ministerial Alliance in the hope that they may recommend all the churches to use it.

Yours truly, C. Cook.

Eternal Father, God Supreme, Who didst in love the world redeem, Who looked to Thee in days of old: Thy mercies have been manifold. Oh, hear us, as we cry to Thee, And bless our flag on land and sea.

Protect our King, his Empire guard; O'er all our shores keep watch and ward; We have not served Thee as we might; We plead unworthy in Thy sight. Yet, hear us, as we cry to Thee, And hold our Homeland safe and free.

Lord of the waves, our Sailor's keep, Who meet their foes on treacherous deep, Protect and bless them in the strife; All souls are Thine, in death and life. Oh, hear us, as we cry to Thee, For our brave Sailors on the sea.

Almighty Father, guide and shield Our Soldiers on each battle-field, In camp and fort reveal Thy Power, And mercy give in conflict's hour. Oh, hear us, as we cry to Thee, For all who may in peril be.

Dear Father, bless the shadowed homes, Where haunting fear now daily comes; Defend the right, make war to cease; Forgive all wrong, and give us peace. Then, once again, shall rise to Thee Glad hymns of praise from land to land.

(The hymn goes well to the tune, "Eternal Father, strong to save.")

At Ridgfield, Wash., a river bed yielded up the petrified heart of an Indian child.

CRAVATH'S HOMER WITH BASES FULL

Philadelphia, Sept. 11.—One of the longest hits ever made in the history of Philadelphia Park—a drive over the deep centre field wall—by Cravath, with the bases filled in the 8th inning, gave Philadelphia a 7 to 3 victory over New York yesterday and a clean sweep of the series of four games. Tseareu not only outpitched McQuillen for six innings, but also sent in all of New York's runs with a single. The score: R.H.E. New York 002010000—7 7 1 Philadelphia 10000204X—7 7 1

At Pittsburgh—Boston lost the first game of yesterday's double header to Pittsburgh by a score of 8 to 1, but evened up by taking the second, 3 to 2, in ten innings. Adams was effective in the first game, while Nehf and Barnes were both hit hard in the second contest. Rudolph was steady at critical times, but his opponent, Kautler, was wild, which practically lost the game for the home team. The score: R.H.E. Boston 000010000—1 9 1 Pittsburgh 30210200X—8 14 0

At St. Louis—Cincinnati finished the season with St. Louis here by taking yesterday's game 7 to 1, making a clean sweep of the series. Lear was in great form and allowed but three hits, while the visitors took advantage of Meadows' wildness, which, combined with a series of singles, gave them a lead of seven runs. The score: R.H.E. Cincinnati 001120000—7 8 0 St. Louis 000000010—3 2 2

Buffalo, Sept. 11.—Buffalo took a double header from Richmond yesterday, winning the first game 8 to 1 and the second, a seven inning contest, 5 to 2. Cottrell filled in, his 12th hit in the first game, their twelve hits hardly telling the story of their hitting. Buffalo continued their heavy hitting in the second game, scoring in four of the six innings in which they batted. The score: R.H.E. Richmond 000100000—1 8 0 Buffalo 000200512—8 12 0

Buffalo, Sept. 11.—Buffalo took a double header from Richmond yesterday, winning the first game 8 to 1 and the second, a seven inning contest, 5 to 2. Cottrell filled in, his 12th hit in the first game, their twelve hits hardly telling the story of their hitting. Buffalo continued their heavy hitting in the second game, scoring in four of the six innings in which they batted. The score: R.H.E. Richmond 000100000—1 8 0 Buffalo 000200512—8 12 0

It will be seen that the American League will be decided likely by September 20, after Detroit's series at Boston. The National League should be a race to the wire, as the leaders all play each other in the last week. Brooklyn has only one home game, while their rivals finish with the last week on their own grounds. Philadelphia winds up its tour at Boston; Brooklyn ends the season at Philadelphia. So nobody can tell what will happen.

A RECORD IS MADE IN GOLF TOURNAMENT Chicago, Sept. 11.—Setting a record for long distance golf Miss Alexa Stirling of Atlanta, Southern champion, to-day took Mrs. C. H. Vandenberg, the Philadelphia expert in the 22nd hole before succumbing in the semi-finals of the women's national golf tournament at Onwentsia Club. The match ended in a very heavy rain.

Mrs. Vandenberg's hard-earned victory over the 17-year-old girl allows her to contest the final round to-day with Mrs. W. A. Gavin of England, who eliminated Miss Ernestine Pearce, the last Chicago contender, 5 and 3.

The steadiness and excellent style of the Southern girl won the support of the large gallery of gaily frocked women who followed the match to the far side of the links, only to see her lose on the fourth extra hole, apparently because of the rain which drenched the fashionable throng at the same time it drowned Miss Stirling's championship hopes for this year.

Overcome Miss Stirling, Mrs. Vandenberg had to play 15 of the 22 holes in women's par, the Southern champion herself making 12 holes in par. The younger player had the better of the long stroke, but the Philadelphian was usually better at the short strokes when it came to holing out at close holes.

The other semi-final match did not attract attention, Mrs. Gavin leading all the way, because Miss Pearce, who yesterday eliminated Mrs. R. H. Barlow, of Philadelphia, overswung on her approach. The Chicagoan outdove the Briton and was better with long approaches, but took too long a swing with chip shots.

Mrs. Vandenberg is favorite for the final round to-day, having averaged under 90 for the five rounds played, while Mrs. Gavin has ranged around 95.

REPORTS HEARD AT THE BOY KNIGHTS ANNUAL MEETING

The Boy Knights Army was well filled Thursday evening when reports in connection with the work for the past season was made by the Officer Commanding, Mr. A. E. Brown acted as chairman in an efficient manner. A letter was received from His Worship the Mayor, regretting his inability to be present, enclosing a subscription and saying good words for the work. Messages of regret at their inability to be present were received from Rev. Mr. Bowyer, Rev. Mr. Kelly, Rev. Mr. McClintock, Aid. Freeman and others. Aid. Hargrove was the speaker of the evening and made a stirring address to the young men present. "Be strong, be reliable," this was what was wanted in our young men of to-day. The young men who had gone forth from the ranks of the Boy Knights to occupy positions of trust in the world, those who had gone forth to fight in the cause of right, from these young men came back cheering messages, which bore evidence of good work done in the past. Let this be an inspiration to stir on the others to do their best. He spoke a good word for the noble band of mothers, who were helping in the work, and wished them success in the future.

Mr. A. E. Brown also made a splendid address touching on different points that were of a critical nature in all our lives. The mothers who were present in goodly numbers served refreshments. The meeting was very enthusiastic. At the conclusion the boys joined in singing three songs. Mr. Hunt, Aid. Hargrove, Mr. Brown and the ladies.

Sept. 7 1915. Subscribers, Hon. Members, Boy Knights, and Girl Companions, Parents and Friends Who Are Interested in Our Work: In presenting the following report of the work that has been carried on during the past six months, ending Sept. 1st, it is with feelings of thankfulness at the great amount of good that has been done. We know that there has been much left undone that would have made the work here more effective; this has largely been on account of lack of help and means to work with. We as an organization have felt the effects of the present war most severely. All of our officers, with the exception of one, and to a great extent, a large number of our older boys having enlisted to fight for king and country, there being 25 of these young men, old members of the corps, who have enlisted for active service. The withdrawal of these older boys and young men has had its effect on the work. So that this fall we shall in a certain sense have to commence our work on new foundations, train new leaders who will be able to help in the different activities that are being carried on.

We have during the past six months had efficient help from a committee of ladies, who have been most helpful and have been ever ready to lend a helping hand where needed. The realization of what work of this kind means in the creating of good citizenship for our city and country; what such work has done in the past and the outlook for the future.

The active members of this committee under the able chairmanship of A. J. Ludlow were: Major G. Smith, James Deming, A. J. Reid, Alderman Freeman, Alderman Mellon, G. Sterne, George Ransier, James G. Wagoner, and others. On account of the stringency of the times we were unable to secure an additional teacher for the summer school; nevertheless, the work has been carried on with undiminished vigor.

OUR MOTHERS' GUILD. A Mothers' Guild was organized in August to meet together and help in the work. Already the ladies are doing pioneer work in various directions, and have acquired a large and steadily increasing membership.

THE GIRL COMPANIONS. Meet weekly. This fall a new line of work will be taken up, and various classes organized; the mothers intend to assist as far as possible in this branch of the work.

THE PLAYGROUND. This has been greatly made use of during the summer season, the attendance for this time running close to the ten thousand mark. We have needed more help along these lines, but at all times we have endeavored to do the best with those facilities we had placed at our disposal for working with. We know as a result many children have been made happy and taught to do useful things.

Clean, pure and wholesome, a tea you will like. Red Rose Tea "is good tea"

OUR BOYS. In the Boys Knights Department, the attendance and work has been the most satisfactory since its organization, the usefulness only being retarded by the absence of Lt. Col. Genet, the Canadian League match series of last season was not completed.

THE ANNUAL CAMP. This was held at Grimsby Beach, the total number of boys at camp being 150. The camp was inspected by Lieut. Moreland and found to be satisfactory in every respect.

CHURCH PARADES. During the past six months, seven church parades have been held to different churches throughout the city, the boys being addressed at various times by Rev. Dr. Linscott, Rev. Mr. Bowyer, Rev. Mr. McClintock, Rev. L. Brown, Rev. Jas. Chapman, Rev. Mr. Fray, Rev. Mr. Buckingham, Rev. Mr. Peters and others.

A memorial service was held in Marlborough St. in memory of one of our officers, H. C. L. John Hawke, a boy who always made the best of his opportunities. Rev. Mr. Buckingham paid a visit in the spring time in the interests of the D. V. B. S. Thanks in this connection are tendered to the Y. M. C. A. and Calvary Baptist Church for the use of their building for meetings; to the public library for a room for committee meetings.

SPORTS Our boys and girls have been quite interested along this line during the summer months, the J. B. T., under the management of A. Reynolds having done exceedingly well.

LECTURES. Several outings have been held in the way of picnics. A sham battle, mother's picnic and sports day, all of which were very successful.

CONCERTS. A number of concerts socials and informal boys' suppers were held from time to time, the attendance being large and results satisfactory. Cadet parades were discontinued.

A Budget of News For Those Interested in Labor

WILL MARK A NEW EPOCH

Toronto, Sept. 11.—The opening of the magnificent new Technical School building on Harbord Street last Tuesday evening, marked a new epoch in the educational advancement of the Queen City, and the interest manifested by the immense crowd in attendance was ample evidence that the institution meets with the hearty approval of the public at large.

WAS AN IMMENSE CROWD
The huge assembly hall that it is claimed will accommodate over 1,300 people was filled to its utmost capacity, and standing room was at a premium, while in addition many hundreds of citizens were exploring the maze of halls, class rooms and corridors with which the gigantic building is provided.

On the platform were men representative of all walks of life. Lieut. Gov. Hendrie opened the proceedings, and the Bishop of Toronto offered up a brief dedicatory prayer.

PROMINENT CITIZENS
There were also present all the members of the Board of Education, Chairman Hodgson presiding. The speeches were listened to with rapt attention, and none made a better impression than the President of the District Labor Council.

He did not neglect to call attention to the fact that it was organized labor that had initiated the movement in the city of Toronto, and it had had hard uphill work to arouse public sentiment to take action that would place Toronto to the fore in educational matters.

PERSISTENT OPPOSITION.
In the work they had started out to do they had met with the most persistent opposition, but their efforts had finally succeeded beyond their brightest anticipations, and had resulted in the erection of this splendid building that would prove to be one of the best assets the city had ever had.

Most of the speakers paid high tribute to the work of Principal McKay, and as readers will agree it was well deserved, no better incumbent for the position could have been found anywhere, and under his fostering care the new institution will assuredly make progress.

President Richards was heartily congratulated upon the manner in which he handled his subject, it was with a grudgingly conceded that he had made a splendid effort and one of the most practical addresses of the evening.

The new school is certainly a credit to the city and may be easily accredited as one of the finest equipped institutions of its kind to be found anywhere in America.

DEALING WITH THE MASSES.
"With the working people, again, it is not so well. Unlucky. For there are from twenty to twenty-five millions of them. Whom, however, we lump together into a kind of dim, compendious unity, as the masses. Masses indeed; and yet singular to say, the masses consist all of units, every unit of whom has his own heart and sorrows, stands covered there with his own skin, and if you prick him he will bleed. Every unit of these masses is a miraculous man, even as thou thyself art; struggling with vision or with blindness for his infinite kingdom (this life which he has got, once only, in the middle of eternities); with a spark of the divinity, what thou callest an immortal soul in him!

"Clearly a difficult 'point' for government, that of dealing with these masses; if indeed it be not rather the sole point, and problem of government, and all other points mere accidental crochets, superficialities, and beatings of the wind! For let charters, chests, use and wont, law common and special say what they will, the mass count as so many millions of units; made, to all appearance, by God, whose earth this is declared to be."—Carlyle.

PLIGHT OF THE UNDERPAID

"Six dollars a week—what does it mean to many? Three theatre tickets for the week, or the price of a dinner for two; a pair of shoes, three pairs of gloves, or the cost of an evening at bridge. To the girl it means that every penny must be counted, every normal desire stifled, and each basic necessity of life satisfied by the sacrifice of some other necessity. If more must be had than is given with 15 cent dinners, it must be bought with what would go for clothes; if there is need for a new waist to replace the old one at which the forewoman has glanced reproachfully, or at which the girls have giggled, and dinners must cost 5 cents less each day. Always too the room must be paid for, and back of it lies the certainty that with slack seasons will come lay-offs and discharges. If the breaking point has come, and she must have some amusement, where can it come from? Surely not out of six dollars a week.

Last of all are the children, for whose petty addition to the stream of production the nation is paying a heavy toll in ignorance, deformity of body or mind, and premature old age. After all, does it matter much what they are paid, for all experience has shown that in the end the father's wages are reduced by about the amount that the children earn. This is the so-called family wage, and the examination of the wages in the different industries corroborates the theory that in those industries such as textiles, where women and children can be largely utilized, the wages of men are extremely low.

"The competitive effect of the employment of women and children upon the wages of men, can scarcely be overestimated. Surely it is hard enough to be forced to put children to work, without having to see the wages of men held down by their employment.

"This is the condition at one end of the social scale; what is at the other? "Massed in millions at the other end of the social scale are fortunes of a size never before dreamt of, whose very owners do not know the extent, nor without the aid of an intelligent clerk, even the sources of their incomes. Incapable of being spent in any legitimate manner, these fortunes are hoarded, can only be squandered, and handed, put into so-called benefactions, which for the most part constitute a menace to the state, or put back into the industrial machine to pile up ever-increasing mountains of gold."

"From report of United States Commission on Industrial Relations.

The war purchasing commission at Ottawa announced to a meeting of business men held in that city on August 24th, that it was about to place contracts of the value of a million dollars for further supplies of clothing, boots and shoes for the Canadian forces.

World of Labor

Gleaned from Exchanges and Other Sources.

The United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners chartered local unions during the month of July. American shipyards are having the most prosperous times they have experienced since the Civil War.

Three hundred machinists in Wilmington, Del. are out on strike for higher wages and an eight-hour day. The Bethlehem, Pa. steel plant has advanced wages ten per cent, like increases occurring in the plants in Philadelphia and Buffalo.

The teamsters strike in St. Louis, Mo., in which much bitterness was developed, has been adjusted on terms satisfactory to the union.

Pottery workers of East Liverpool, O., who are all members of the National Brotherhood of Operative Pottery, have submitted a new agreement and wage schedule to their employers, who are known as the United States Pottery Association. It is expected it will be accepted by the latter. It is proposed to run for two years, and will affect 800 hands.

Two strike breakers employed by the Rice, Barton and Fales Machine and Iron Company of Worcester, Mass., were each fined $50 for carrying concealed weapons without permits.

Typographical Union No. 15, of Chicago, Ill., has by a vote of 1,131 to 921, decided to assess all members who are employed one per cent. of their earnings for the out of work relief fund for a period of eight weeks.

The Gem Stove Company of Dayton, Ohio, has entered into an agreement with the Metal Polishers Union No. 5 of Dayton, Ohio, for a nine-hour day, the closed shop, recognition of the union and increase in wages.

A local organization of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners was organized in Prince George, B. C., last month.

Halifax, N.S., boiler-makers are out on strike to enforce a 32 cents per hour wage rate, helpers are also out for 25 cents per hour.

At Chamcock, N.B., a large sardine factory has started, which will give employment to some 300 hands, during the season it is in operation.

There are now twenty-four local organizations of the Journeymen Barbers International union chartered in the Province of Ontario.

The tongsorial artists can now class themselves as being one of the best organized crafts in the province.

The Montreal Building Trades have just occupied their new headquarters on Ontario street. They will fill a long felt want and are not only a distinct credit to the labor movement of Canada's largest city, but are modern and up-to-date in every sense of the word.

That the war has seriously affected the barber trade in Western Canada is shown by the fact that in the larger centres many shops that were charging 35 and 50 cents for haircuts have now reduced the prices to 25 and 20 cents respectively. Many of the larger establishments have also reduced the number of their working staffs.

While there was a considerable falling off in the revenue of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the half year ending June 30th it is interesting to note that the surplus earnings after allowing for all operating and other expenses, amounted after all to the snug sum of $3,259,247.

Experts at Calgary, Alta., estimate that there will be a yield of at least three hundred million bushels of wheat in Western Canada from the present harvest. This it must be remembered makes no allowance either for the immense crops of other grains that will also greatly surpass all previous records.

Forty members of the Winnipeg Machinists' Union have left for England to work in the armament factories and another twenty have enlisted for overseas service in the Canadian expeditionary forces. The members have been largely unemployed for months past but now things in the trade are on the boom and every man has a job. It is certainly some change.

Women are taking an ever greater interest in the Canadian labor movement, Miss H. Gutteridge, of Vancouver, B. C., is one of the delegates from the local Trades Council to the convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada which convenes in that city in September, while Miss M. Murphy, who represents Federal Union No. 20 of Ottawa on the Allied Trades and Labor Association of that city has been elected as a member of the executive board of the Central Labor body. This is the first time a woman has been elected to this position in a central organization in Ontario. It is coming.

Under the provisions of the new barbers closing-by-law in Saskatoon, Sask., all barber shops must remain closed between the hours of 5.30 in the afternoon and 8.00 in the morning except on Saturdays and nights before holidays, when they are allowed open until 11.00 p.m. All shops must close during the whole of Labor Day, New Year's Day, Good Friday, Victoria Day, Dominion Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas Day, except when any of them falls on Monday, when they may open between the hours of 8 and 11 a.m. only. Labor Day is, however, excepted, as the one day in the year when all shops must remain absolutely closed. All blinds in the windows of barber shops must be raised sufficiently to allow passersby to see into the premises at all times during which the law requires them to be closed.

From Svenska Dagbladet of August 12, 1915. Latest issue available. Copies of went down with the Arabic.

When Russia and Germany agreed about a mutual exchange of prisoners of war, it was decided to let the Red Cross nations attend to all the necessary arrangements for the transportation of them to their home countries, by way of the steam ferry between Sweden and the Baltic Sea.

Trelleborg, on August 12, 1915, received on the southern coast of Sweden a steamer from the German city of Danzig, which had been captured by the Russian navy. The steamer was full of wounded German soldiers, who were being transported to their home countries. The steamer was named 'Arabic' and was bound for Sweden.

The steamer was captured by the Russian navy on August 12, 1915, and was taken to Trelleborg. The wounded German soldiers were taken to the hospital in Trelleborg, and were being cared for by the Swedish Red Cross.

HESTER, AND A LEGACY

"Doing nothing, Mr. Vereker? Exactly the person I want! Please go and help the Miss Coxes to take round the tea. We are rather short-handed to-day. You will—Oh, excuse me!"—and off she hurried on some more important mission.

"Yes, do come over here, Harry, there's a good boy—we are ready to drop!" cried Lily Cox, who had overheard Mrs. Parsons' remark.

But Harry had no intention of doing any such thing. He had not come here to have Lily Cox digging him in the ribs with her elbows; calling him "Harry," or telling him he would be "such a wretch" if he put her down her back. He knew just what she would do and say, and he was not going to have it. He turned a blank ear on her petition, and, pretending he had not heard, quietly walked off in the opposite direction.

Trix seized the cups of tea with angry energy and took them round herself in a flame than ever. Later on Lily, who was just as anxious to claim intimacy with him as he was to avoid it, made another attempt. He had inadvertently ventured a little too near, drawn by the magnet of Muriel, and had forgotten his surroundings in looking at her, when Lily caught him by the arm.

"I say, do come here a minute—I've something to tell you," she cried in a stage whisper.

He shook his head, and still more awkwardly having to talk to her, as his good manners would probably have forced him to do. How touching that he should place himself in such a disagreeable situation for the mere pleasure of speaking to her for a short five minutes! It was no wonder that she felt more deeply in love than ever.

As for Hester, she was nowhere to be found, simply because she was walking rapidly towards the Chase along bypaths through the woods which it would be impossible for Lord Lynmouth with his dog-cart to follow. She had seen him driving up the lane and stopping at the field gate before any one else had done so, and half suspecting and half fearing his motive, had hastily seized her hat from the dog-cart where it was lying and made off without farewells, leaving an excuse and a message with one of the Vicarage servants. No one had seen her go, and she was through the Vicarage garden as usual, her way before the search for her began.

It was shyness that caused her flight, and that foolish instinct that women have of avoiding the very thing they long for. Had she been through the quiet, sweet-smelling country roads the lines of her life would have been different, for he fully intended in the course of it to make her an offer of marriage, and that is little doubt that she, whatever objections and demurs her reason had put forward at first, would have ultimately obeyed the promptings of her heart and accepted him. But as it was, she was hurrying home through the woods, while he, disappointed and vexed, was driving rapidly along the road to the Chase, keeping a keen eye on the look-out for a little figure, he never overtook.

CHAPTER XX.

The next morning Harry Vereker was taking a walk along the road that led past the Towers, when he overtook Beatrice Cox, who was making her way home after a walk to the village.

"I was coming up to the Towers in the hope of seeing you," said Harry as though he had forgotten.

"You would never enter the Towers again without my permission," she said hotly—"not if I were mistress of it!"

"I know I don't deserve to," he returned meekly, "but I hoped you would forgive me. I was coming up the ring with an apology, but you were perfectly right yesterday. I was a beastly cad—a mean cur! No one can think worse of me than I do of myself!"

"I think I do," she answered angrily. "If you believed yourself to be what I consider you, you'd go and drown yourself!"

He looked very handsome in his golfing suit, and there was a deference in his manner that pleased his cause. Trix tried hard to keep her just anger against him, but there was a weak spot in her heart for him that had nothing to do with his future title.

"I know I'm absolutely good-for-nothing—quite right," he returned in answer to her fierce little speech. "I've sometimes thought of putting an end to it all. I suppose I shall sooner or later."

"What?" Trix turned to him with a face that was colorless. "How horribly you talk!"

"It isn't only talk. But before I go I want to ask you to forgive me. I don't expect you to do it—I don't deserve it, but I'll do anything to make you think better of me—abuse myself in the dust, call myself a blackguard, anything if only—"

"It is all very well going on like this now," she broke in, "but wouldn't it be the same over again if your fine friends were present? You are ashamed of us—there is no getting over that fact—and the only thing to do is to keep away from us, not only when in the presence of others, but altogether."

"But I don't want to. I don't know what possessed me yesterday. I am more ashamed of myself than I can say."

She waited a minute and then said bitterly: "What is it that makes you so anxious to keep friends with us all at once? Is it the champagne?"

"You have a very bad opinion of of Violet Langworthy was thrilled by seeing Lord Lynmouth suddenly coming across the field from the little white gate that led into the lane. She had never dreamed of his coming and the fact was all the more delightful from being so unexpected. She tried not to look self-conscious as he gave his reasons for appearing.

They were very thin, very palpable, she thought. He was driving past the meadow, he told Mrs. Parsons, and had stopped to pick up Miss Phillips, as his mother was unable to send the carriage and thought it too far for her to walk back to the Chase after such airing afternoon.

Miss Phillips was not to be found, but still he lingered, talking to Violet more than to any one else, while the search for the missing Hester was going on, and she suspected that it was with evident reluctance that he returned to the waiting dog-cart in the lane and drove off. She did not believe that Lady Lynmouth had sent that message to Miss Phillips at all, but she was sure that he had made for getting five minutes' conversation with herself; it was for her sake that he had driven in that direction and for her sake that he had made the search for her begin. No doubt he was only too glad that Miss Phillips was nowhere to be found—it would have been awkward driving his mother's companion for two and a half miles, and still more awkward having to talk to her, as his good manners would probably have forced him to do. How touching that he should place himself in such a disagreeable situation for the mere pleasure of speaking to her for a short five minutes! It was no wonder that she felt more deeply in love than ever.

HER DREAMS CAME TRUE

Life Unobtainable from Indigestion
Health Restored by "Fruit-a-tives"

MELLE, C. GAUDREAU
Rochon P.Q., Jan. 14th, 1915.

"I suffered for many years with terrible indigestion and constipation. I became thin and miserable. I had frequent dizzy spells and became so run down that I never thought I would get well again."

A neighbor advised me to try "Fruit-a-tives". I did so and to the surprise of my doctor, I began to improve and headache melted away with Fruit-a-tives. I continued this medicine and all my Indigestion and Constipation was relieved. I consider that I owe my life to "Fruit-a-tives" and I want to say to those who suffer from Indigestion, Constipation or Headaches, try "Fruit-a-tives". Give this lovely fruit medicine a fair chance and you will get well the same as I did."

They were every bit of it."

"I deserve every bit of it," she said presently. "You have always been very kind to me and made me welcome whenever I liked to come. I am not entirely without feelings—without affection."

"Affection!" she exclaimed scornfully. "There is no question of affection in the case."

"How do you know?" she asked bitterly. "By a hundred thousand ways! Anyhow, yesterday proved it pretty effectually."

"It is not the same thing. Besides, I have changed since yesterday. I see myself in my true colours now, and I see other things too."

He added these latter words significantly, and Trix, hearing them, held her head up higher and walked on faster than before. If he was going to say dangerous things she would not listen, she would not believe him; she had made up her mind long ago that if ever he proposed—and she knew that it would be to his worldly advantage to do so—she would refuse him on the spot, dearly she loved him. She was too proud to accept a man who loved her not, but her money, and her great fear was that Lily might abase herself to do it if it were she on whom his choice fell.

"I have had many disadvantages," he went on, "you may or may not have heard about. I never spoke to you of my mother, but her history is well known. She was very handsome and gay, and she ended by deserting my father when I was only three years old. I have never had a mother practically. I sometimes think that if some one—a good woman, for instance—took me in hand she might make something of me, but I dare say I am mistaken. I feel at other times that I am beyond reclaiming."

She was silent, but a new feeling rose in her heart—a tenderness and longing over the repentant black sheep that made it difficult not to comfort him and tell him that here was the "some one" he wanted so badly to help him. But she refused to allow this new feeling to sway her, and was silent.

"If I had anything to offer a woman except my worthless self and my debts, there is some one I would ask," he went on.

"Do you mean me?"—"Yes."

"Do you want to marry me?"—"Yes."

"Why? Because you love me?"

"Not altogether. But because I respect you and like you and want you for my friend and wife. With you at the helm I think I might steer straight. It is pure selfishness on my part, you see, but I'm perfectly honest with you, and I think I always should be."

"I am glad of that," he said with a sigh of intense relief. "I am glad you didn't say you loved me. Perhaps it is my money that you think would be useful to you?" she added rapidly.

"It has nothing on earth to do with your money!" he returned vehemently. "I wish it were all thrown down a well so as to prove it! It is you I want. Make what settlements you like—give it all to Lily, or an idiot asylum, or whatever else you choose, but give me yourself, Trix—help me to be a better man!"

"How long have you thought of asking me this?"

"Only since yesterday. I found out then how much I cared for you. Your words stung me to the quick and your contempt made me utterly ashamed of myself."

"You never thought before of asking me to marry you?"

"No, never."

"Why not?"

"Because I was so run down and so miserable that I never thought I would get well again."

"But now you are well?"

"Yes, now I am well."

"Then you will marry me?"

"Yes, I will."

"When?"

"As soon as you like."

"Where?"

CANADA CALLS

The Empire Needs YOU!

"If we do not do more in the future than we have in the past, we are going to be beaten." These are the words of Sir John Simon, British Home Secretary. We are going to do more and WE WILL NOT BE BEATEN, but Canada must send more men and Brantford and Brant County will continue to do their share. What would happen to the women of Brantford if Britain were beaten? Ask the women of Belgium! They know!

MEN OF BRANTFORD

Will you let the Hun trample British liberty in the dirt, or will you do your bit? Never mind the shirkers and the won't-works. The women of Canada want you to protect them and fight for them. WILL YOU DO IT?

ENLIST NOW!

Here are the questions you would ask and their answers

- Q. I am a married man. Must I have the consent of my wife to enlist?
- A. Yes, the following must get proper consent in order to be able to enlist for active service: (a) Husbands, (b) men over 18 and under 21 years of age must get the consent of both parents, (c) sons who are the only support of a widowed mother or whose parents are dependent upon them for their support.
- Q. What are the rates of pay?
- A. The rate of pay is One Dollar per day before moving to camp. A further allowance of 75c a day is made to cover meals and lodging, making $1.75 per day while in Brantford. When in camp and on active service a field allowance of 10c is made, making the total pay $1.10 per day.
- Q. What examinations must a man pass in order to be accepted?
- A. The recruit must be over 18 and under 45 years of age. The minimum height is 5 ft. 3 in. and the minimum chest measurement 33½ inches, with the chest normally expanded. The eyesight must be good, teeth in good condition. He must have free use of his limbs and not be flat footed. It is also necessary for the heart to be strong.
- Q. What is the reason in making a man assign at least one-half his pay?
- A. The Government believes that if they are willing to allow a separation the soldier should be equally willing to assign at least one-half the pay received. It is hoped the families of soldiers will have the foresight and common-sense to put in the bank all the assigned pay received, so that when the soldier returns there may be a nest egg to help the family along until he receives employment.
- Q. I am a married man. What provision will be made for my wife and family?
- A. It has been found that a woman requires an income of $30.00 per month on her own account, $7.50 for a child between the ages of 10 and 15, $4.50 for a child between the ages of 5 and 10, and $3.00 for a child under 5 years.
- Q. When does the separation allowance start?
- A. Immediately upon being sworn in and enlisted in Brantford, but the first installment will not be paid until after the final acceptance for overseas service.
- Q. To whom are Government Separation Allowances granted?
- A. Separation allowances are granted (a) wives, (b) children of a widower if they are in the care of a guardian. Girls over 16 and boys over 14 years of age are not eligible. (c) Widowed mothers, if the son is unmarried and her sole support.
- Q. What pensions are paid in case of the death of a soldier?
- A. The widow receives $22.00 a month and $5.00 a month for each child. In the case of a soldier leaving a wife and three children the pension would be $37.00 a month or $484 a year. It would require $10,800 worth of Government Bonds, paying 4½ per cent. interest, to give a pension of $484 a year.

Here are the questions you would ask and their answers

- Q. How much pay must a soldier assign to his wife?
- A. Every man who receives a separation allowance for his wife must assign one-half his pay ($16.50 per month) and may assign as much as $25.00 per month, but not more.
- Q. Is the assigned pay figured as part of the income necessary to support a family?
- A. No. The assigned pay of the soldier is not taken into account by the Patriotic Fund in determining the amount to be paid to a depending family for support. In the case of the family described above, if the soldier assigned $20.00 per month, the total income of the family would be $69.50 per month.
- Q. Are the requirements with regard to teeth as strict as before?
- A. No. Arrangements have now been made at Niagara Camp to do the necessary work on teeth that are not in quite good enough state of preservation. Men are now being accepted with partial sets of false teeth, this being left to the discretion of the examining doctor. A great many men who were turned down for the first and second contingents may now join under the present regulations.
- Q. How is Government allowance paid?
- A. It is paid by check on the Bank of Montreal forwarded from Ottawa.
- Q. How is the assigned pay of a soldier forwarded?
- A. It is also paid by check from Ottawa.
- Q. How is the Patriotic Fund allowance paid?
- A. It is paid by the local branch of the Patriotic Fund.
- Q. My wife is in England. Will she receive a Government separation allowance?
- A. Yes, this will be forwarded from Ottawa regularly just as if the wife were living in Canada.
- Q. Will the Patriotic Fund help dependents of soldiers living in England or out of Canada?
- A. No. The separation will be forwarded, but any other assistance needed would be of a local nature. All children under group ages 10 to 15 are carried at minimum of $3 per month, one child alone in each family between these ages being carried at $7.50; ditto between the ages of 5-10, $4.50 per month being paid one child and the minimum of $3 being allowed the others. Thus, if a man leaves a wife and four children, aged 13, 11 and 7 and 3, the income would be $30 for the wife, $7.50 for one child between 10 and 15, $4.50 for one between 5 and 10, and $3 for each of the other children, being a total of $48 per month.
- Q. How much of the family income does the Patriotic Fund pay?
- A. The Government allowance is $20.00 per month to the wife of a soldier, the balance is made up by the Patriotic Fund. Thus in the above case $20.00 would be paid as a Government separation allowance and $28.00 per month would be paid by the Patriotic Fund. In no case, however, will the Patriotic Fund pay more than $40.00 per month, and in the case of large families a certain amount of discretion is allowed to the officers of the fund.

CANADA CALLS

The Empire Needs YOU!

"If we do not do more in the future than we have in the past, we are going to be beaten." These are the words of Sir John Simon, British Home Secretary. We are going to do more and WE WILL NOT BE BEATEN, but Canada must send more men and Brantford and Brant County will continue to do their share. What would happen to the women of Brantford if Britain were beaten? Ask the women of Belgium! They know!

MEN OF BRANTFORD

Will you let the Hun trample British liberty in the dirt, or will you do your bit? Never mind the shirkers and the won't-works. The women of Canada want you to protect them and fight for them. WILL YOU DO IT?

ENLIST NOW!

Here are the questions you would ask and their answers

- Q. I am a married man. Must I have the consent of my wife to enlist?
- A. Yes, the following must get proper consent in order to be able to enlist for active service: (a) Husbands, (b) men over 18 and under 21 years of age must get the consent of both parents, (c) sons who are the only support of a widowed mother or whose parents are dependent upon them for their support.
- Q. What are the rates of pay?
- A. The rate of pay is One Dollar per day before moving to camp. A further allowance of 75c a day is made to cover meals and lodging, making $1.75 per day while in Brantford. When in camp and on active service a field allowance of 10c is made, making the total pay $1.10 per day.
- Q. What examinations must a man pass in order to be accepted?
- A. The recruit must be over 18 and under 45 years of age. The minimum height is 5 ft. 3 in. and the minimum chest measurement 33½ inches, with the chest normally expanded. The eyesight must be good, teeth in good condition. He must have free use of his limbs and not be flat footed. It is also necessary for the heart to be strong.
- Q. What is the reason in making a man assign at least one-half his pay?
- A. The Government believes that if they are willing to allow a separation the soldier should be equally willing to assign at least one-half the pay received. It is hoped the families of soldiers will have the foresight and common-sense to put in the bank all the assigned pay received, so that when the soldier returns there may be a nest egg to help the family along until he receives employment.
- Q. I am a married man. What provision will be made for my wife and family?
- A. It has been found that a woman requires an income of $30.00 per month on her own account, $7.50 for a child between the ages of 10 and 15, $4.50 for a child between the ages of 5 and 10, and $3.00 for a child under 5 years.
- Q. When does the separation allowance start?
- A. Immediately upon being sworn in and enlisted in Brantford, but the first installment will not be paid until after the final acceptance for overseas service.
- Q. To whom are Government Separation Allowances granted?
- A. Separation allowances are granted (a) wives, (b) children of a widower if they are in the care of a guardian. Girls over 16 and boys over 14 years of age are not eligible. (c) Widowed mothers, if the son is unmarried and her sole support.
- Q. What pensions are paid in case of the death of a soldier?
- A. The widow receives $22.00 a month and $5.00 a month for each child. In the case of a soldier leaving a wife and three children the pension would be $37.00 a month or $484 a year. The Splendid New Crompton Block Being Erected on the Old Stand

General Contractors are the Old Established Contracting Firm of Schultz Bros. With Sub. Contractors Mentioned Below

THE CONTRACTORS

The Schultz Bros. and Co., Limited were the successful tenderers in obtaining the contract for this new Crompton building. Very little need be said in mentioning this firm to Brantfordites. The concern has been established in this city as Builders and Contractors for the last 50 years (it was founded in 1863). Schultz Bros. have erected the large majority of all the city's leading public buildings, a great number of the large factories and a high percentage of the best residences. They have always received and earned credit for performing the very highest class of work.

Not only this, but the firm is also well known as manufacturers of the highest grade of building material, their business in this respect being one of the oldest and one of the leading ones in this line in Canada. It also has always on hand large stocks of the best quality of lumber and thus equipped can handle or supply material for any sized contract in the shortest possible time.

It has been practically demonstrated that the erection thus far of the Crompton building has received every attention. On Civic Holiday, August 9th, there was no part of the building standing higher than the sidewalk. The great bulk of material had to be fed into the workmen through the very narrow space afforded by the Queen Street thoroughfare, and therefore great credit is due all the trades and workmen for their persistency in working steadily under such a handicap. Continual wet weather and other drawbacks incidental to the building trade also have proved serious disadvantages. Nevertheless the contractors aim to have this building finished by November 15th, which is one month better than contract time, as it is set for December 15th.

But even this does not exhaust the resources of the firm. It has an up-to-date silica pressed brick plant, where the daily output is equal to the number of bricks required to build one house every working day. At this yard also is carried a full line of all the leading makes of pressed clay and other stock bricks for face purposes as well as cement, lime, crushed stone, quarry stone, mortar colors, chimney tiles, wall copings, plaster's supplies, patent mortars, hydrated lime, plaster paris, etc., so it will be seen readily that Schultz Bros. are always in an A 1 position to serve the building trade to the very best advantage in every way. The motto of the firm has always been, "quality, good service and fair dealing" and always has the firm striven to live up to this motto.

Picture Showing the Progress of the Fine New Premises of E. B. Crompton & Company, From Photograph Taken Thursday, September 9th.

THE FIRM

Citizens generally have been keenly interested in the construction of the fine new premises in course of erection on the corner of Queen and Colborne streets, and which will constitute the splendid new home of Messrs. E. B. Crompton and Company.

The firm manifested such pluck and enterprise in at once securing temporary quarters and so much alertness in the matter of letting the contract for another building that the progress of the structure has aroused general attention.

The universal verdict is that it constitutes not only a monument to the concern but also to the city.

There was a notable record of over 25 years successful occupation of the old stand and the good name which the firm earned for quality, good work and value in their goods, naturally led to their slogan, "The House of Quality and Good Value." Brantford's citizens and the residents of the county are all free to admit that the title is immensely appropriate. The first public utterance of the firm immediately after the disastrous conflagration was "staggered but not defeated." It was considered by thousands of their customers in this district as the true ring of the firm's courage, a courage which was not daunted by sudden disaster and difficulty, and which is still further exemplified to-day by the near approach to completion of their imposing new business residence.

It is the unwavering faith in Brantford's future that has caused the firm to take this important step believing as they do that they can pin their faith to the ever widening patronage that will be extended to them on the basis of the highest class of service by trained, courteous and competent people and the good reliable goods that they stand behind. No juggling with prices—the same for the child and the inexperienced as for the professional shopper. It is always one price for all and a "square deal" for every customer. These are the business tenets to which E. B. Crompton and Co., Limited, have ever pinned their faith and which have pre-eminently characterized their dealings now and always.

They are of the opinion that the big store whilst no doubt primarily likely to benefit themselves, will bring a lot of business to other dealers here from outside points—business which has had a tendency to slip by to other centres.

No feature in connection with the new departure will give the firm greater pleasure than the realization of the fact which they feel sure will result—that they have been the means of helping to build up this fair city, and to bring to it some greater degree of that commercial prosperity to which, with the loyal support of its own citizens, it is entitled.

THE ARCHITECTS

Messrs. Angus and Angus, with head offices at North Bay and a branch at Sudbury, are the architects. Mr. Hugh Livingston, son of P. M. Livingston, is a member of the firm and designed and has taken charge of the new structure. It is of a modern store design with first floor of stone, both front and sides, and the remaining three stories of pressed brick. The show window space is a special feature, giving 350 feet for display purposes. The entire floor space is 1 1/2 acres, and the lighting and ventilation are admirable. The elevator will be run to the top, where there is to be an up to date roof garden. A large court space will be in the centre with an awning over it, and there will be a pergola at both ends. The building is practically fire proof, as a sprinkler system is being established throughout so that at any point in the structure where the heat becomes marked that fact serves to automatically release the sprinklers. The lay out of the basement is especially convenient with regard to shipping arrangements. There is a parcel room there to which goods can be easily delivered and run on trucks to the shipping room, from which a freight elevator runs to all floors.

Angus and Angus, registered architects, have their head office in their own building at North Bay, and it is one of the finest structures throughout the country. Their designs include the largest and handsomest hotel between Toronto and Winnipeg, located at Sudbury, many schools, practically all throughout the north country; palatial residences including that of Senator George Gordon, and so on. The official residences of the Canadian Copper Company at Copper Cliff are theirs; in fact they are the undisputed leaders in architectural work in the district between Port William to Montreal and Cochrane to Toronto. Mr. Livingston took a special architectural course in Paris, France, and he is rightly regarded as one of the leading young architects of the Dominion.

ELECTRIC INSTALLATION

The entire electric installation has been done by the Lyons Electric Company which in itself is an absolute guarantee of good workmanship. This firm was established in business in 1879 on George Street, and is the oldest electrical establishment in the city. They have naturally been entrusted with most of the important electrical work hereabouts, the fine new Y. M. C. A. the splendid new Post Office building, the new Collegiate, Bank of Commerce, Nurses' Home, the new dormitory buildings at the School for the Blind and countless other contracts.

Mr. A. C. Lyons, who is at the head of the concern is one of Brantford's progressive citizens and he has shown his faith in the place by large property investments ranking as the second heaviest payer of taxes in the city among individual property holders. To his wide skill as an electrician, there is therefore also the added fact of solid backing on behalf of the successful and complete fulfilment of any job undertaken by the firm.

Last week's death rate in New York was 11.56; there were 1,287 deaths.

BRANTFORD CORDAGE COMPANY IS AGAIN FORCED TO ENLARGE

DESERVINGLY INCREASING POPULARITY OF THEIR GOODS IN ALL QUARTERS OF WORLD LEADS TO THIS STEP.

The "Brantford Cordage Company" in West Brantford is one of those institutions which continues to develop and go ahead, no matter how hard the way may have seemed for others in the same line of business. There can, of course, be only the one explanation—good goods and good management—and the institution, without any doubt, has both in abundant measure. It does not seem so very long ago that the enterprise was started with a handful of workers, yet its progress has been steady and especially marked during the last eleven years, the period for which Mr. C. L. Messecar has been the general manager.

Here is a comparative statement of the output covering the last six years:

1909-10	1,369 tons
1910-11	1,682 tons
1911-12	1,840 tons
1912-13	2,041 tons
1913-14	2,854 tons
1914-15 (approximately)	4,000 tons

In connection with the above table it is interesting to recall the fact that during the first year, 1902, the product was 60 tons.

The removal of protection was of course a hard blow to the trade and in this regard it is worthy of note that during the remarkable progress of the Brantford Cordage Co. binder twine companies operating factories at Peterboro, Chatham, Walkerton, Ayton, Brandon and the Farmers' Binder Twine Co. at Brantford, have been liquidated, also plants operated by the Ontario Government at the General Prison, Toronto, and by the Dominion Government at Kingston Penitentiary have been entirely closed down and dismantled, and the Brantford Cordage Co. is the only sole survivor of the strictly Canadian Binder Twine Companies. This concern has gone on breaking records in quantity and quality each year and orders have correspondingly increased not only in the Canadian market but also in Great Britain, Russia, South Africa, Argentine Republic, Denmark, France, Italy and so on. In brief the four brands—Gilt

THE HEATING AND PLUMBING

The heating and plumbing arrangements are being installed in this building by R. H. Ballantyne, heating and sanitary engineer. This is by no means the first big contract Mr. Ballantyne has put through, as he has installed the equipment for numerous public buildings. The Central School has just been completed, Dufferin school, King George School, Bell View School, St. Luke's Church, Conservatory of Music, Prince Edward Hotel, Belmont Hotel and Bell Telephone Building, are among the many which show his work.

The repair end of Mr. Ballantyne's business is very important. Special men are engaged in this department who give their entire attention to that end of the business alone. All work is personally supervised by Mr. Ballantyne himself. Mr. Ballantyne's motto is always to have a satisfied customer. Quality remains long after the price is forgotten.

Mr. Ballantyne expects to have his end of the work completed on schedule time. The boiler being installed is one of a kind very rare in Brantford, only two others like it being in the city. The Spencer Boiler, as it is called, requires attention only once every twelve hours. It is the intention of the Crompton Co. to have things so arranged that it will be attended to only at night, not being touched all day. The ventilation system allows for a complete change of air five times per hour, foul air being carried away by a motor driven fan which will be placed in a pent house on the roof. Bubbling drinking fountains are placed on each floor for the accommodation of the store patrons.

Some Special Features of New Building

- Briefly outlined some of the innovations are:
- Dining room and Grill room.
- Rest room and retiring room.
- Roof garden to be open from May 1st to October 1st, each season.
- Manicuring and hair dressing parlors.
- Private hospital for emergency cases.
- Parcel checking office, where parcels and bags may be left.
- Information bureau and postal station.
- Sub-express offices where parcels will be received for shipment to all points; and money orders may be secured.
- Ventilating system giving a change of pure air every ten minutes.
