The Electric Light Commission

THE ACADIAN MAKES A NOMINATION

As soon as the necessary legislation can be secured it will be the duty of the Council to appoint the Commission which shall have charge of the electric lighting and power service of the town. The bill which has been prepared and will soon become law provides that the Commission shall be composed of the Mayor and two members of the Council and two citizens. The Commission will have charge of one of the most important of our civic departments and the selection of the men who are to constitute it should have most careful consideration. It is probable that those who were recently appointed as the electric light committee of the Council may be members of the Commission, although, as we understand the matter, this is not necessarily so. The two remaining members should, if possible, be possessed of some knowledge of the work they will be called upon to supervise as well as men of good executive and business ability.

THE ACADIAN has in mind one gentleman who is particularly well fitted for this position, and the Council would be fortunate if they are able to secure his services. We refer to Mr. G. W. Munro, one of the founders of the electric lighting system in Wolfville. Mr. Munro is thoroughly acquainted with every detail of the business and the knowledge he has acquired by many years of actual experience would be of great value to the Commission. Mr. Munro is a native of Wolfville and conversant with the needs of the town. For many years the efficient manager of the oldest banking establishment of the town, his business ability is beyond question. His father, the late Mr. D. A. Munro, was one of the commission who installed our water system and did splendid service in that capacity. His son has ever shown a deep interest in town affairs. If Mr. Munro can be induced to act on the Commission his appointment would be of great value and we believe would meet with approval generally.

Fire at Canning

Canning was visited by a disastrous fire on Sunday afternoon last when the A. S. Burgess store was badly burned and the stock severely damaged. Fire broke out in the basement at about 4.30 o'clock and although the firemen were promptly on hand and put up a stiff fight it was not until midnight that the fire was under control, after the building which was of brick, had been badly gutted and the roof destroyed. The large stock was practically saved in a damaged condition. The basement, which was used as a garage, contained a number of cars which were all saved but one. The loss on building and stock is partially covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown. There was $7,500 insurance on the building and $7,500 on the stock.

The Tuxis Boys' Trip

Thanks to the generosity of the following gentlemen—Messrs. Elliot Smith, F. W. Barteaux, W. C. B. Harris, A. V. Rand, J. W. Williams, H. Stairs, E. Graham, G. Waterbury, L. E. Shaw, Dr. Cutten and Dr. McKenna—who each contributed $3.00, the Tuxis Boys Hockey team was able to make the trip to Halifax and Windsor. The boys left Wolfville Friday morning, spent the afternoon sight-seeing in Halifax, and played a team of Tuxis Boys at St. Mary's rink in the evening. The line up of the Wolfville boys was as follows: Cecil Thompson, Centre; Gil Rand, R. Wing; Gordon Kennedy, L. Wing; Waldo Kennedy, Cover Point; Val Rand, Point; Blair Elderkin, Goal and Clarence Coldwell, spare. Our boys were handicapped by the small rink, poor ice and greater weight of their opponents, but all played a clean and fast game, being greatly admired by the spectators. The score was a tie when time was called and there was no chance to play off.

After the game the boys returned to the Y. M. C. A. building and enjoyed a swim in the big tank. They were given rooms in the building for the night.

Early next morning they left for Windsor, playing with the Excelsiors, a group under Rev. Mr. Armitage, at 10 o'clock. During the first part of the game our boys had everything their own way, but the Windsor boys instituted some heavier play, turning things up. The score at the end of the third period was 8 all. The play-off gave one goal to Windsor.

The trip was a success in every way and it is hoped that this may be the first step towards a league between the various Tuxis groups throughout the province.

It is expected that the Halifax boys will visit Wolfville at an early date for a return game.

Chautauqua in Wolfville

That Wolfville is to have the Chautauqua here next summer will be learned with pleasure by citizens generally. A representative of this fine entertainment organization was in town on Monday and easily secured the requisite number of guarantors. The entertainment will be of a high order and occupy three days in September. It will not be a tent performance but the entertainment will be given in-doors under best conditions. Wolfville people will look forward to this treat.

The Gaspereau Harnessed Hon. M. H. Goudge Dead

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN:

Dear Sir:—To those of us who were born in Wolfville or educated here the Gaspereau Valley has its own peculiar charm and beauty and an ever-abiding place in our memories. We can conceive of no more satisfying sight than the view from the Ridge. No matter how far away we wander, in the twinkling of an eye, we can return in imagination and seated on the hill-top once again feast our eyes on the beautiful panorama spread before us. We recall the everchanging green of the landscape dotted with white farm-houses and the Valley outlined by the nearby hills, through which winds like a silver thread the diminutive river of the Gaspereau. Hitherto this river has been content to exist for decorative purposes mainly but now she must keep pace with the modern trend of the day which both dignifies labor and demands service. The Gaspereau has been harnessed and compelled to work whether she will or not. She will light our homes, shops and streets, saw our wood, separate our milk, turn our washing machines, clean our houses, toast our bread and curl our hair. To her crown of beauty has been added the diadem of service.

All this is due to the energy and foresight of our townsmen, C. H. Wright and R. A. Jodrey. They have risked their capital and defied many obstacles to bring this project to a successful issue. They linked their names with Wolfville's pioneers in improvements—with G. V. Rand who gave us our water system, with the Munros who introduced electric lighting, with Marshall Black who built the Opera House and with J. E. Hales who is responsible for our macadamized Main street.

This new hydro-electric current comes to us a distance of four miles on a No. 2 wire, passing through White Rock, Greenwich, Port Williams, thus providing the citizens of these places with power. The dam, which is located at Stivers Pool, famous among local salmon fisheries, is of concrete and the size of the wheel is 375 H. P. with head of 30 ft. The dynamo is a Westinghouse, direct connected, of 312 K. V. A.

This site will no doubt be a pleasant objective for motor parties and will be a popular addition to the shorter drives around Wolfville. FAYE C. STUART.

Former Wolfville Pastor

The death of Rev. L. D. Morse, a former pastor of the Wolfville Baptist church, took place at Binghamton, New York, on Feb. 19th, after a brief illness of influenza. The deceased was a graduate of Acadia of the class of '89. He was a missionary in India from 1890 to 1900, when he was obliged to return to Nova Scotia on account of ill-health. After coming home he was pastor of the Berwick Baptist church for two years, coming from there to Wolfville. Since 1907 he has been in New York state. He leaves to mourn their loss a widow, formerly Miss Lillian Parker, of Berwick, and four children, who have the sympathy of a host of Wolfville friends.

The death of Hon. Monson H. Goudge took place at Windsor on Monday evening at nine o'clock.

For more than a month he had made a gallant fight for life, his marvellous constitution and his indomitable spirit resisting to the end. He was conscious up to five o'clock in the afternoon and conversed with the members of his family who were at his bedside, looking forward to the opening on Thursday of the Provincial Legislature, of which he had been a member for nearly 36 years.

Mr. Goudge was in his ninety-first year. He was married twice. His first wife was Miss Jessie Grant, sister of Hon. MacCallum Grant, Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia. His second wife was Miss Blanche Stimpson, of Halifax, who survives him.

His children who survive him are: Mr. Grant Goudge, Postmaster at Windsor; Maud, Mrs. Charles Hobart; Jessie, Mrs. F. F. Sherman—all living in Windsor.

Monson Goudge was born at Windsor, N. S., on October 22nd, 1828. He was educated at the Collegiate Academy, and was a merchant and largely interested in shipping. His political career was active and not without the clash of battle. He was President of the Legislative Council of Nova Scotia, and for almost forty years a member of that body. His record as a Provincial Parliamentarian was a lengthy and every way an honorable one.

Mr. Goudge was well known in Wolfville, having spent much of his time here with Mrs. Goudge during recent years.

A Real Musical Treat

A large audience greeted Miss Mildred Dilling, the clever young American harpist, at College Hall on Tuesday evening, and all were delighted with the entertainment given. Miss Dilling, who has the charm of youth, has a delightful stage presence. She plays with artistic finish and complete ease, and with great variety of tone color. The opinion was very generally expressed that the notices heralding her coming did not in the smallest degree exaggerate her gifts. She was assisted by Miss Pauline Nelson, violinist, and Miss Martha Keys, reader, of the Seminary faculty. Wolfville people are fortunate in being able to enjoy such treats.

Do We Appreciate?

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN:

Dear Sir:—I noticed a paragraph in THE ACADIAN of last week which stated that the Council of a town in the U. S. A., had exempted from paying taxes for two years, ninety-eight soldiers who had served in France during 1919. The example of this appreciative town might well be compared with that of Wolfville.

What did we do along this line for our eighty odd soldiers who served not only in 1919 but all of them before that and some in 1914 and 1915? Our Council did two things to show its appreciation. First, it issued bills for poll tax to these veterans when they returned, for the years they were fighting for the country. These, I am informed, were afterwards cancelled and taxes that had been paid on same refunded, but the original point, nevertheless, remains. Secondly, it prevented a number of our returned men from voting at the past civic election because their poll taxes for 1914 were not paid. The men referred to state that they did not know they were in arrears as no bills had been received. (Presumably the Town Clerk is not as much in arrears with the remainder of his business.)

This, Mr. Editor, is a question that has long been in my mind. It would appear to me that we, as a town, are not showing sufficient appreciation to those protectors of our town, for such they were. Expecting them to do a great deal for the town to lose. It can hardly be compared to the loss of a limb or four years in the race of life. And, again, it would not be a great deal for the veterans to receive but the spirit that would go with such an exemption would be forever remembered by those endowed. CITIZEN.

Information On Fertilizers

Any farmer who feels that he is not a competent judge of fertilizers would do well to drop a note to the Agricultural College at Truro. He will get disinterested information on the whole question in compact form. This is a vital question and one in which Nova Scotia farmers generally should apply the same keen intelligence.

Speaking at a farmers' meeting, recently, the Secretary for Agriculture was discussing the fact that N. S. farmers, or a large percentage of them, are in the habit of buying low grade materials at the lowest possible price. Many do not seem to realize that so-called cheap fertilizers cannot be made without the addition of sand or some other useless filler.

The Secretary used a rather amusing, but striking, illustration. He said that the farmer who buys low grade stuff filled with sand is like a man who, wishing to buy a barrel of apples for $3.00, when the market price is $4.00, asks the dealer to put in as many apples as he can for $3.00 and then fill up the barrel with stones, so that he will have a full barrel for $3.00.

This is exactly what the man does who buys low grade fertilizer. Incidentally, too, he increases the profits of transportation companies and of fertilizer manufacturers.

A Suggestion Worth Considering

The suggestion that Canadians should not only buy at home but stay at home is certainly worth considering. Too much Canadian money is spent annually in the United States by Canadians who spend their holidays across the border, or who take frequent motor car trips to American cities, and the manufacturers association has started a campaign to persuade trippers to do their running about within the borders of their own country, or at least until such times as exchange rates are equalized. It would be a good thing in more ways than one. Not only would it mean the saving of vast sums of money annually but it would enable Canadians to become acquainted with their own country. It is to be hoped that the manufacturers will succeed with their campaign.

Whither Wending?

There are many symptoms today indicating the truth of what a writer has termed the Joyful Death March of a Race. Everyone nearly appears to be out for a good time regardless of what the cost is to himself or to others, and the universal God is money. Enjoyment and entertainment have apparently the place of serious thought and the reading of books calculated to enrich the mind and prepare one for eternity.

The cost of living is also having its effect in producing an almost childless race. If this goes on there will soon be few children to be seen on the streets. For the same reason the young people are no longer marrying as early as they used to; they cannot stand the expense, and, besides this the girls don't want to start house-keeping where their mothers did, but where they left off.

The result is that we too often hear of a young couple who are going to marry "as soon as he can afford it." The young man wears himself out in the struggle of trying to provide a good time for himself and the girl as well as save up for the new home, and the result is that he is apt to be a nervous wreck before there is enough in the bank to justify house-keeping.

It has really come to this, that young people prefer an auto to a home, a good time rather than children to tie them down.

So we say there are many things noticeable to justify the statement that the world to-day resembles very closely the Joyful Death March of a Race.

Winter Weather Hard on Little Ones.

Our Canadian winters are exceedingly hard on the health of little ones. The weather is often so severe that the mother cannot take the little one out for an airing. The consequence is that baby is confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms; takes cold and becomes cross and peevish. Baby's Own Tablets should be given to keep the little one healthy. They are a mild laxative which regulate the stomach and bowels and thus prevent cold. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Breweries Under Prohibition

When Prohibition is enacted the breweries do not go "out of business" they "go into business." The Coors brewery in Colorado is doing twice the business making malted milk and pottery it did when it was a liquor-manufacturing establishment. The sales force has increased from one man to twenty-eight. The pay roll has increased from 80 persons to 200, receiving 25 per cent. better pay.
 The Star brewery, Washington, Pa., is now the Capital Paint, Oil and Varnish Company.
 The Raymann brewery of Wheeling, W. Va., is now a meat packing establishment.
 The Cedar Rapids (Iowa) brewery is a creamery and produce company.
 The Fairmount (W. Va.) brewery is now an ice and milk products plant.
 Most of these brewery transformations have resulted in the employment of a largely increased force of workmen.
 The Deppen Company, one of the five big brewery firms of Reading, Pa., in installing a soft drink department in its plant, added fifty men to take care of the soft drink trade.
 The Bellingham brewery is being operated by the farmers as a co-operative creamery.
 A Seattle brewery, the largest in the state, is turning out a high-grade table syrup from cracked rice.
 A Chicago brewery, owned by the National Brewing Company, has been purchased by the National Beverage Company, which will henceforth use the plant only for the manufacture of soft drinks.
 The old Bellingham Bay Brewery Company of Bellingham, Wash., is henceforth to be known as the Royal Dairy Products Company. The new firm, which is incorporated for $120,000, will help make business for the dairy farmers in the surrounding country.

The Anthracite Brewing Company of Mt. Carmel, Pa., is equipping a portion of its plant for use as a creamery. The brewery owners will bring in from their own farm milk to be made into butter, cheese and other dairy products.

The Lansing (Mich.) brewery is now used in the manufacture of auto parts.

The Benwood (W. Va.) brewery is now an ice and milk products plant.

The Iowa City brewery is now a creamery and produce company.

The Unecda (W. Va.) brewery is now a milk products company.

The Huntington (W. Va.) brewery is a successful meat packing plant.

In Flint, Mich., a former brewery is now a church.

Chicago Lutherans converted a brewery, for which they paid $100,000, into a hospital.

A Rhode Island moving picture concern is occupying a former beer-manufacturing plant.

The mill of the Corning Distillery Company, at Peoria, Ill., is grinding corn meal for the Washburn-Crosby Company of Minneapolis.

The fact that John McCormack sang at the Hippodrome, at New York last week, as a testial to the New York County organization of the American Legion, adds to the last page of a remarkable war record in concert work. The great Irish tenor has already raised for Uncle Sam's war chest the modest sum of $540,000. His largest crowd was in San Francisco on Mar. 21, 1918, when he sang to 12,000 people for the Red Cross. His last appearance in New York on Dec. 28 netted the Catholic Big Brothers $25,000. The Legion is counting on McCormack and Mary Garden to pay off the organization's indebtedness for the membership drive last Fall, and to lay aside a nucleus for a fund to give the Legion a New York home.

Sir George Paish, the well known English financial expert, addressing the Canadian Club at Montreal propounded the theory that the civilized nations of the world have been spending far more than they could afford during the war, and that unless the League of Nations be organized and then proceeds to issue securities backed by all nations in the League, including the United States, the resultant disturbance of exchange and loss of life through sheer starvation, threatens a general uprising and state of chaos amongst the civilized nations which will imperil the future of civilization.

A P. E. Island paper says: Geo. Ballum, of Victoria West, lost his barn with all its contents on Feb. 5th. An attempt was made to save the cattle, but before they could be gotten out they fell down and were smothered. Some idea of Mr. Ballum's loss can be judged by the fact that his fine barn 80 feet long, with the feed, stock and equipment was reduced to a pile of ashes in a couple of hours. The feed consisted of all the straw from his crop, together with 40 bushels of barley, all his hay seed and over 10 tons of hay, also 8 fine cows and all his farm machinery.

Hon. C. C. Drury, Premier of Ontario, is being quoted as saying that Ontario's prosperity is indicated by the fact that in the recent Victory Loan which realized $135,000,000, Ontario subscribed as much as all the rest of Canada put together.

Influenza Has Later Dan- gers

PARTICULAR CARE NEEDED WHEN PATIENT IS CONVALESCENT, SAYS EXPERT

The influenza convalescent who has apparently recovered from the disease and is yet in a strangely weak and depressed condition should be the object of particular care, according to Dr. Louis I. Harris, director of the Bureau of Preventable Diseases of the New York Health Department. In the opinion of Dr. Harris the after care of the influenza patient is most important. The co-operation of the patient, coupled with the willingness to see that the weakness and depression are a part of the illness, though coming after the disease itself has spent its force, is a big factor in effecting a complete return to full health. On the other hand, the determination to ignore this debilitated condition and to fight against it, will, Dr. Harris says, frequently bring serious consequences upon the patient.

AFTER EFFECTS BAD

"The subject of the after effects of influenza," said Dr. Harris, "is one of particular interest to the scientist at the present time.

"First, and perhaps the most momentous condition to be considered is the striking depression, mental, nervous and physical, complained of by most patients. Those attacked by the disease with moderate severity are almost always afflicted with this depression, which should be recognized and dealt with. Those who have had mild cases of the epidemic are little affected by depression, and their quick return to health and strength gives rise to the belief that influenza is trivial. On the contrary, influenza in its after effects is anything but trivial, and calls for the application of rules of common sense and sanitation which are the fruit of years of experience.

"Tonic treatment, well chosen diet, and great care in not becoming overtired or allowing the body to be chilled are necessary. Eggs may be eaten, but not more than two a day, for the average adult. Of course, it must be remembered that in many cases this disease tends to direct its force against the kidneys, and therefore we instruct patients to avoid eating a great amount of meat, eggs, or beef extracts. Eggs, soft boiled, poached, or beaten, raw, are, advisable in limited number. The raw eggs should always be well agitated before taking.

WHEN GOOD FOOD IS BAD

"With milk and eggs as a foundation the patient should eat good nourishing food, including meat, fish and vegetables, simply prepared. Frying, for instance, is out of the question. Good food prepared in an unassimilable manner becomes bad food; especially is this to be noted in cases of convalescence from influenza, for the disease often manifests itself in vomiting, and in intestinal and gastric disturbances, and it is important not to weaken the digestive function by the eating of poorly prepared food, or even the best of food in ill-advised quantities. The quantitative distribution of foodstuffs should be so adjusted as not to overtax the stomach, but the patient should eat generously and frequently."

As to a tonic to build up the blood and stimulate the shattered nerves, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are unsurpassed. These pills actually make new, rich red blood, which reaches every organ and every nerve in the body, improves the appetite, strengthens digestion and drives away the feeling of weariness and depression always following an attack of la grippe or influenza. Those who give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial will be amply repaid by the new health and strength this tonic medicine always gives.

A Series of Talks on Music

C. C. LAUGHER, MUS. BAC., BOWMANVILLE, Ont. No. IX.

BACH AND HANDEL

Bach and Handel were the greatest musicians of the day. In some respects they were similar to each other and in others very much different. They were born in the same year and in the same country. Bach married twice having 20 children born to him. Handel never married. Bach was born in a family that was said to be the most musical known in history. Handel was born to a family that was not musical at all. Bach remained in Germany and was devoted to home life. Handel travelled much and finally made England his home. Both Bach and Handel in later life became blind.

BACH

J. S. Bach was a great representative of a wonderful family of musicians. He not only had a long line of musical ancestors himself, but he is also said to have been the direct ancestor of about 60 well-known organists and composers of Germany. In the town where the Bach's lived they were known as the town musicians. They held their family meetings exchanging musical knowledge and gave musical performances.

John Sebastian Bach was born at Eisenach, March 21, 1685. He became a pupil of his brother, but he soon absorbed all of the teacher's knowledge and still longed for more. Christoph, the older brother, has been accused of jealousy and kept from J. S. the fine collection of manuscript organ music which he owned and which Sebastian longed most ardently to study. So great was the boy's eagerness to possess the music, that he got hold of it by stealth at night and copied it all by moonlight, only to have it destroyed by his stern elder brother when discovered. This copying took six months and the strain on his eyes caused, it is said, to have resulted in the blindness which came upon him later in life. In 1703 Bach was appointed Violinist in the court Orchestra of Prince John Ernst of Weimar. He was appointed organist of the new church at Arnstadt. In 1706 he applied for and obtained the position of organist at the Church of Blasias at the salary of $35 a year together with certain qualities of coin, wood and fish, to be delivered without charge at his door. Upon this salary he was able to marry.

While at Weimar as Court Organist to the Grand Duke, Bach became not only the finest Organist of his time, but the greatest composer for the Organ the world has ever known. In 1717 Bach accepted the position offered by her buried. Bach was left with a family of 4 children but about 18 months after married Anna Wulkin, a young woman of 21, a soprano singer. In 1728 Bach was appointed Cantor, a position he held until his death. In 1747, after repeated invitations, Bach visited King Frederick the Great, at Potsdam. He was received by the King with the greatest courtesy, was taken through the palace, where he played on Frederick's collection of pianos, about 15 in number. Bach was also invited to play on all the principal organs of the city and shown all the sights. About one year before his death Bach's eyesight began to fail, and after two operations became totally blind. He died on July 25, 1750, at the age of 65. Bach was an able performer on stringed instruments and wrote much orchestral music, and as one writer says of him, "That without Sebastian Bach and his matchless studies for the Piano, Organ and Orchestra, we could not have had the varied musical development in sonata and symphony from the great masters that followed." No one man has left so deep a mark on the history of music nor has exerted so strong and far-reaching an influence upon the subsequent development of the art as he. Sebastian Bach is the great source and fountain head from whom well nigh all that is best and most enduring in modern music has been derived. Bach's works include Oratorios and Instrumental work for all solo instruments also many Cantatas and Chorales, etc.

Prince Leopold of Anhalt, as conductor and director of his chamber music. While at Carlstad, on one of his trips with Prince Leopold, Bach's wife died very suddenly, no news could be gotten to him and on his return he found

HANDEL

One of the world's most gifted musicians, born at Halle, lower Saxony, of a family that possessed no musical talent. His father was a Surgeon-barber and was 63 years of age when his son was born. George was to be trained in law, consequently the father discouraged the early signs of an aptitude for music, even keeping him from school for fear of learning the musical scale, and forbidding the visits to the homes where music might be, yet during this time he was practicing upon the harpsichord in secret. A little later the father had an occasion to visit the Duke of Saxe-Weisenfels; little George begged of his father to take him along. The Duke was a great patron of music and young George having been playfully placed at the piano astonished the Duke at his wonderful talent. The Duke expostulated with the elder Handel and urged to encourage such extraordinary genius. George was therefore

The epidemic of influenza in 1918-1919 cost the Province of Nova Scotia 1769 lives. The disease is apparently of a milder type this year, but all precautions should be taken against it.

A bit of philosophy in the Port Hope Times runs somewhat like this: "Don't get angry and burn your newspaper because it gives you a hard knock occasionally. If you read your Bible you know you get a good deal harder knocks there, and you don't burn it."

Winnipeg newspapers publish announcement that owing to the continued shortage of newsprint they are obliged "until further notice" to discontinue the publication of advertising, this step being taken to ensure as far as possible an uninterrupted news service. The Montreal Weekly Witness was compelled to skip an issue, the first in about half a century, due to lack of white paper.

Although Canada's January imports from Great Britain exceeded those of any other month in our history, the imports from the United States showed no decline. It cannot, therefore, be proven that the record British trade expresses a Canadian turning away from the United States on the exchange issue, although there are not wanting indications that many Canadian traders are placing orders elsewhere to avoid the heavy additional burden which the unfavorable trade balance imposes on Canadian purchasing in the United States.

Profiting by war-time experience the French Ministry of Transport is replacing the familiar small metal direction signs by the large guide posts and notices which were found so useful in the battle zone. Some of the old battlefield signposts deserve preservation. There was the pathetic board on the Somme that announced "Guillemont once stood here," the notice at Zillebeke Lake, "Don't waste bombs on fish—throw them at Fritz," and the board at Albert surmounting a heap of rubbish and stating simply, "Cathedral."

The Secretary for Agriculture has arranged the following itinerary for Dr. J. W. Robertson: Truro, March 2nd, Halifax and Dartmouth, March 3rd and 4th, Antigonish, March 5th, Windsor, March 8th, Kentville 9th, Lawrencetown, March 10th Little Brook, Digby Co., March 11th and Yarmouth, March 12th. Dr. Robertson represented Canada in an official capacity at the Peace Conference and is thoroughly familiar with conditions in Europe. He should be heard by everyone interested in Canada's present economic position and in her prospects for future trade development. He has a message which will be of interest to all and few men in Canada can present a message in as interesting and instructive a way as he can.

WANTED TO RENT:—May 1st, a seven or eight roomed house. Apply to Box 208, Wolfville.

The Work for Boys

Dr. Jas. W. Robertson, Chief Commissioner of the Boy Scouts' Association in Canada, will be in Kentville on Tuesday, March 9th, to address a meeting in the afternoon under the auspices of the Secretary of Agriculture.

The County Committee of the Y. M. C. A. for Boy's Work in Kings county has taken advantage of Dr. Robertson's presence and has arranged a meeting for all throughout the County who are interested in boy's work. This meeting will be held at 8 p. m. on Tuesday, March 9th, in the Nicklet Theatre. Lantern slides illustrating the work done in Kings county will be shown and it is expected that Rev. L. A. Buckley, Boys Work Secretary for the Maritime Provinces, and Mr. E. Percy Brown, County Secretary, will also give short addresses.

It is hoped that all who can possibly attend will do so. Dr. Robertson is one of our leading Canadians and those who have read the address delivered by him at the recent education conference in Winnipeg will realize his power.

A Pie Social

A special meeting of the Boy Scout Council was held on Wednesday evening, Feb. 25th, to consider means of raising money to pay off the amount due for the new floor in the Scout Gymnasium.

It was decided to hold a Pie Social in the Division Hall at an early date and to ask the Give Service Girls, who have always shown such readiness to serve, to provide the pies.

At a meeting of this organization on Monday evening last they agreed to assist the Boy Scouts in this way and to do everything in their power to make it a success. The date was fixed up for St. Patrick's eve, March 16th, and the public is asked to bear this date in mind and "Be Prepared" for a big time.

For A Scald

One of the commonest injuries in the home is the scald. Upon the promptness with which you treat it, depends whether or not you will have blisters and sore places to show for it. Why not use a bit of preparedness? Keep some carbonate of soda somewhere in your kitchen. When the scald occurs, plunge the part immediately into one part of lukewarm water to which has been added one teaspoonful of salt and one teaspoonful of carbonate of soda. Leave it there until the pain ceases.

Should some other part of the body than the hand get scalded, wrap the part with cloth saturated with the solution. Renew frequently until all the stinging sensation is gone. Then apply a little carbolated vaseline. Keep the air away for a few hours by means of a bandage over the vaseline.

Scalds treated in this way leave no disfiguring blisters; but the treatment must be applied at once.

Canada's World Trade Power

(New York Sun and Herald)

A noteworthy fact about the industrial expansion, commercial power and financial problem of Canada is that while Canadian exchange in New York has been at a discount of 10 per cent. to 12 per cent. British exchange has been at a discount of 25 per cent. to 27 per cent. While the British pound has been worth $3.49 in New York it has been worth $3.90 in Canada. And, let it be remembered, nearly half of all Canadian exports go to Great Britain. On the other hand, the United States is Canada's pre-eminent buying market.

For more than five years Canada has been a heroic financier of the Allies in general and in particular of Great Britain. Our intrepid neighbor's contribution to the winning of the war was not merely in troops which, measured by her population, were sent across prodigally, and in food supplies shipped stupendously for her own and to other fighting forces in Europe. Canada bought raw material in the United States and elsewhere by the hundreds of millions of dollars and manufactured it into munitions and war weapons and equipment of all kinds, speeding it across to the Allies on credit. Canada thus became and Canada continues to be one of the great creditor nations of the world.

For the nine months ending with last December Canada's foreign trade—$1,707,597,390—was a gain of about thirty millions over the corresponding period in 1918. For the nine months Canada's exports, at $976,651,791 showed a gain of more than twenty-six millions. Her imports, at $730,942,599, a gain of twenty-four millions. For the nine months in spite of our heavy balance against Canada her net balance on all her foreign trade was about one hundred and fifty millions.

There are, however, credit bounds beyond which Canada, rich as she has become in international trade and finance, cannot go. She can sell and sell hugely out of her own surplus products. She can carry hundreds of millions more of such credit burdens. But Canada cannot buy without limit from us, for example, to resell to Great Britain and the Continent on credit.

She can postpone her collections on her deliveries of her own goods. She cannot pay slathers of cash to us for goods that are going to her non-paying customers abroad. No foreign trade of this country has for us a higher potential value, industrially, commercially and financially, than our trade with Canada. No other foreign trade makes so powerful an appeal to our hearts. We must give prompt and full attention to the need for Canadian financing on this side of the border. For both the United States and Canada it will be a 100 per cent. safe investment. For both it should be a 100 per cent. sound link in the chain binding together neighbors, friends and kindred.

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. THE DAILY MISERY OF ILL-HEALTH

Three Years of Suffering Quickly Relieved by "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. GASPARD DUBORD

159 Avenue Pius IX, Montreal.

"For three years, I was a terrible sufferer from Dyspepsia and my general health was very bad. I consulted a physician and took his medicine and faithfully carried out his instructions; but I did not improve and finally the doctor told me I could not be cured.

At this time, a friend advised me to try 'Fruit-a-tives' and I did so. After taking two boxes of 'Fruit-a-tives', I was greatly relieved; and gradually this marvelous fruit medicine made me completely well.

My digestion and general health are splendid—all of which I owe to 'Fruit-a-tives'.

A movement to have the sessional indemnity increased to $3,500 or $4,000 is indicated as a probability of the present session of Parliament. As the session is being held in the rebuilt parliament buildings, and surroundings the most elaborate, it will not be surprising to have this demand backed by statements of the increased cost of Ottawa life! There is naturally more than usual interest in a session almost certain to be the last of the present Parliament. The session is expected to develop discussions on the tariff and other issues which may prove important factors in clearing the political air by opening the way for a realignment of parties in their old relationships.

A Modern Example of Suffering

People suffer—suffer torments—with help at hand. Gin Pills can overcome pain in the most marvelous way—all the suffering which follows in the wake of weak or diseased kidneys, such as rheumatism, sciatic neuralgia, stone in the bladder, excruciating backache, stiff and swollen joints and ankles, yields quickly to the soothing, healing, strengthening power of Gin Pills, which contain Juniper and seven other valuable diuretics and antiseptics.

Mr. Arnold McAnell, of Hants, N.B., writes as follows:

"For a long time I suffered from a pain in my back and could not move without agony. I grew worse until confined to bed. A friend advised me to use Gin Pills. Before I had used one box I began to feel better. By the time I had finished two, I was completely cured. I cannot say too much in favor of these pills and I recommend them strongly to anyone suffering from kidney trouble."

At the first suggestion of pain in the back get Gin Pills from your druggist or dealer. Each box is guaranteed to relieve—or money back. 50c a box. Free sample, sufficient to show its value, sent on request.

Bach and Handel

placed under the organist Zachare for instruction. George made progress studying Singing, Organ, Clavier, Violin and all the other instruments used in Orchestral playing. When eleven years of age he composed several numbers that showed great skill and feeling. He continued his studies, using the Organ as his favorite instrument, for he was also great on improvising. In 1696 he went to Berlin. He entered the University to study law, thus carrying out his father's wish, but his natural inclination conquered, for music was his passion. He visited Italy and travelled much. He returned to Germany in 1710, was appointed chapel master and accepted it on condition that he be granted leave of absence for one year to visit England. In London he produced his opera "Rinaldo" and he appeared at the theatre night after night for weeks. When he returned to Hanover he continually longed to get back to England where the opportunities and the musical people were plentiful. In 1712 he again obtained leave of absence on condition that he return in a reasonable time, but only as a visitor did he ever return to his native land again. Handel was appointed Musical Director of the Royal Academy of Music, London. During this period Bononcini was brought over from Germany to oppose Handel. These circumstances ultimately led to the dissolution of society.

In 1738, broken financially and ailing health, a stroke of paralysis lamed one of his hands, but in a few months was restored to partial good health. He now set to writing Oratorio of which "The Messiah" is credited as his masterpiece. In 1753 Handel was attacked with blindness and an operation was unsuccessful. His last effort was to assist at a performance of the Messiah on April 6th, 1759. He was then seized with a deadly faintness and never again left his bed. he died April 14. Handel was buried in Westminster Abby before a vast concourse of people of all ranks. Handel was tall and robust but his movements were somewhat clumsy, his features were animated and dignified. He was very outspoken and occasionally his temper got the best of him. He was naturally a wit yet he was sincerely devout, and had a high sense of honor, and his fidelity to his mother was beautiful. He was generous to all institutions, always ready to offer help. His life may be divided into three parts, from 1685 to 1720 was preparatory, from that year until 1737 he was devoted to opera, and from then until his death he was occupied with his real life work, his Oratorio. Handel composed the great "Messiah" in 21 days and it is recognized as the greatest work in Oratorio. Handel said of the Hallelujah Chorus, "I did think I did see all heaven before me and the great God himself," for the tears fell upon the paper as he wrote. The Messiah was given in Dublin in the year 1742, for he dedicated this great work to the Irish people. The Messiah was next given in London in 1743 and the audience was quite carried away with its beauty and when the Hallelujah chorus began with its "For the Lord God Omnipotent Reigneth" they all, the king included, sprang to their feet and remained standing until the chorus ended. This incident originated the custom of standing during the chorus.

The work would not be completed for some time yet, Mr. Chisholm, of Halifax, had been engaged to take charge of the system.

A petition from a number of residents of the section adjoining the town on the east, asking to be included in the town bonds, was read and action deferred.

A letter was read from the G. W. V. A. regarding the adoption of the housing act by the town, and asking that part two of the act be put in operation and a commission appointed. Coun. $1,000,000 for increased Telephone Service

A public Utility cannot stand still; as the country grows it must grow. From time to time additional capital is necessary to provide new wire, poles, cables, switch boards, etc.

The question is sometimes asked: "Why can't telephone extensions be paid for out of profits?" The answer is simple. The Telephone Company's profits are limited to 8% on the capital invested as found by the Public Utilities Board, and these go to the shareholders in dividends on their investments; in fact if all the profits were used for extensions they would only provide a small fraction of the additional capital required each year (so great is the demand for telephone service.)

The Maritime Telegraph & Telephone Co. Limited needs One Million dollars this year to keep pace with the demand for telephone service in this province.

Information regarding its new issue of 7% stock, with earnings stabilized by legislation, will be furnished on application.
