WAS IT MURDER?

SKULL-CLEFT BODY FOUND IN CANAL NEAR BUFFALO.

Gruesome Find in Tonawanda Believed to Have Earmarks of Murder—Medical Examiner Says Crime.

Buffalo, Oct. 2.—With his head split open from the base of the brain to the nose, a man, who is as yet unidentified, was found floating in the canal near the Three Mile bridge in Tonawanda yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Medical Examiner Danser believes the man was murdered. An autopsy will be conducted to-day.

The police have so far been unable to obtain any evidence showing that murder has been committed. They are unable to identify the man from the descriptions of missing men.

The wound is clean cut, as if made by a meat cleaver. The medical examiner believes the body was thrown into the canal.

A captain of a canalboat saw the body floating. He reported the matter to the authorities of Tonawanda. The police of that city communicated with the medical examiner in Buffalo and the police of the Thirteenth Precinct Police Station.

Captain Ward and Patrolman Jantz succeeded in getting a rope around the corpse and then they hauled it to the shore, where they tied it to the dock, awaiting the arrival of the deputy coroner.

"I don't believe that gash could have been cut in his head so cleanly by a propeller wheel," said Dr. Danser. "In the first place, a body would naturally be floating down stream lengthwise."

The doctor ordered the body removed to the county morgue.

HAMILTON MAN

Head of a New Manufacturing Concern in London.

Mr. Cameron Brown, formerly of the Time staff, but now of London, Ont., is the President of the National Light & Manufacturing Company, London, under which a dozen Londoners and two Americans have applied for incorporation with a capital of $50,000.

AT THE POST OFFICE

Many Changes Being Made to Facilitate Business There.

When the changes and improvements at the postoffice are completed the office will be the finest and most up to date in the Dominion, said Mr. Adam Brown, postmaster, this morning.

The department now takes in the rooms formerly occupied by the weights and measures and gas inspectors, and it extends right to the alley. The various departments in the postoffice will have more room to handle the rapidly increasing business.

Extensive changes are being made in the sanitary arrangements of the building, something that will be greatly appreciated by the employees. The interior of the building is being painted now. It is thought the changes will be completed in a few weeks, before the Christmas rush starts.

The contractors are: Plumbing and steam-fitting, Stewart & Co.; mason work, Peter McKay; carpenter work, W. J. Reid; painting, J. Mathews. The work is being done under the direction of Mr. Hastings, Government architect.

WORLD'S END NEAR

FREE METHODIST BISHOP GIVES HIS REASONS FOR THINKING SO.

Works of Man to be Swept Away—Four Reasons for Thinking the End of All Things is Coming—Prediction by Free Methodist Bishop.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Oct. 2.—Bishop Walker Sellow, of Jamestown, N. Y., who has been presiding at the Free Methodist Conference for Northern Indiana, which closed with religious services to-day, greatly excited the members of the local Free Methodist Church here by a sermon predicting the end of the world within a few months.

The bishop mined no words in describing the certainty of destruction by flames to those who do not repent. He gave four reasons for his belief that the end of the world is near.

First—The conditions are now similar to those that prevailed when Christ was born, men have set up false gods.

Second—The strain upon matter has reached the breaking point.

Third—The savants of the world who study the Bible have gained an insight into the future, and while they may not publicly acknowledge that the end is near, they are themselves making ready for it.

Fourth—The time is at hand when the word of God will soon have penetrated to the remotest races and the prophecy fulfilled that the Gospel will be preached to every human soul on earth.

The bishop and his wife, the latter being a former missionary, have just returned from a tour of the world, and the bishop said he spoke from actual knowledge.

PURSE SNATCHING AND LAWLESSNESS

Are Rampant On the Mountain Side In the West End.

Asylum "Short Cut" and Beckett Drive Are Dangerous Places.

During the past six weeks lawless incidents on the mountain side have been of such frequent occurrence that mountain people are wondering how it is possible that arrests have not been made. The latest occurred yesterday—in broad daylight—in fact, at high noon.

A lady employed at the Asylum was walking along the "short cut" leading to James street from the Asylum, when a man snatched for her purse. He failed to get it on the first attempt, and the lady resisted. The man thereupon, still pulling at the small satchel, struck at her.

The chain of the satchel then broke and the man ran up the mountain side and disappeared in the grounds above. The way he climbed the mountain showed him to be familiar with the section. A young girl was with the woman who was robbed, which fact makes the crook's act all the more daring.

On the Asylum steps, at the head of Queen street, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, a similar incident took place three weeks ago, and another has been reported at the same place since. In both cases the victims were women, who were carrying satchels, and in both cases the snatcher got away with the satchel.

The old Beckett drive, according to mountain residents, is a hang-out for toughs. They are to be seen there at all hours of the day, and their special "stunt" is to sally forth when they see people approaching and beg for money. When they get it they procure liquor, which they frequently take back to the deserted drive to drink.

The fact that within the past few weeks so many purse snatching cases have taken place in broad daylight shows that the snatchers are not afraid of being arrested.

SHOWS SUBSTANTIAL GROWTH IN PEOPLE AND PROSPERITY.

Population Has Increased by 2,313 and Total Assessment of the City by Over $2,500,000

The assessment figures for 1908 made public to-day give Hamilton a population of 63,756 and a total assessment of $7,941,492—an increase of $2,653,214, which is regarded by the department as highly satisfactory, and proof positive of the city's substantial growth and progress.

"I think the increased assessment should prove thoroughly satisfactory," said Commissioner Macleod, "but the population increase was certainly a disappointment to me. However, I think it is largely accounted for by the number of people living in the suburbs, both east and west of the city limits. I am told by the assessors that in many cases before where people doubled up in one house they have gone outside the city borders and live in their own houses. However, other cities have the same thing to contend with."

about the assessment roll for 1908 is the decrease of 465 in population in Ward 2, while the increased value of buildings is $280,920, chiefly in houses. It was something that Assessment Commissioner Macleod was at a loss to understand.

IT WAS A FAKE.

No Hamilton Delegates in Automobile Trouble

Rev. W. Delos Smith, Mrs. Wm. S. Sexton, Mrs. John Dixon, Mrs. Wm. Jarvis, Mrs. Elsie Mansie, Miss N. Abraham, Miss Birdie Toye, Miss M. A. Harte and Miss Deymann, who were delegates from this city to the Unitarian Convention held in Boston last week, have returned home! All are delighted with the convention; with the reception and with the progress of Unitarianism. They also unite in saying that there is no truth in the sensational story telegraphed from Boston, and printed in one of the Hamilton papers, about the Hamilton party being in an automobile trouble. While they were at the convention they heard of an auto incident, but none of the Hamilton delegates were in it.

IN OTHER PLACES.

How Hamilton's Growth Compares With Surrounding Cities.

In connection with the figures of population with which the Assessment Department credit Hamilton, it will be interesting to consider the figures of populations with a few other cities. Brantford returns show a population of 19,806, an increase of 804 over the figures of 1906 or a trifle over 4.2 per cent.

Y. M. C. A. RECEPTION

Large Crowd and Good Programme Last Night.

The Social and Reception Committee of the Y. M. C. A. may well feel proud over the success of their programme last evening. The members of this committee are all alive, and the profits from a moonlight excursion run under their auspices enabled them to play the part of host last evening in royal style.

TO CHECK ROLLS.

Separate School Board Will See It Gets Justice.

There was a special meeting of the Separate School Board last night in regard to the assessment rolls just closed. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for checking the rolls, so that appeals can be made to the Court of Revision if there are any errors in regard to Separate School supporters. The following were appointed on the committee: Trustees Bird, Bateman, Coughlin and Sullivan, and Rev. Father Leys, the Secretary.

MR WIGGIN DEAD.

Superintendent of Harvester Works Passed Away.

In the death of Mr. William H. Wiggin, Superintendent of the International Harvester Company of Canada, this city loses one of its most highly esteemed citizens and the company with which he was connected a man of exceptional executive ability—one who seemed destined for still greater things in the manufacturing world.

About seven months ago Mr. Wiggin was taken suddenly ill and compelled to leave his duties for what appeared to be but a short time. However, complications arose with which medical skill was unable to successfully cope. The most able professional men of Canada and the United States were in consultation and attendance, and up to the time of Mr. Wiggin's sudden death it was thought that some progress was being made toward recovery. At the Hospital last night he partook of his evening meal as usual, but in the early hours of this morning the heart action failed, and death ensued, and a most exemplary husband and father peacefully passed away.

Mr. Wiggin, who was but 47 years of age, was born at Dracont, Mass., where he attended school. Subsequently he gained that experience in the machine shops of his native state which in later years won for him the reputation of being one of the ablest mechanical experts in manufacturing circles. He was always proud of the fact that any success achieved by him was due to those early years of severe apprenticeship and experience. His motto, "It can be done," is worthy of being adopted by every young man starting out in the battle of life. No subordinate under Mr. Wiggin's supervision lacked an encouraging word at the right time, and many a man will feel his personal loss in the passing away of this broad-minded captain of industry.

THE HAMILTON TIMES

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1907.

THE UNLUCKY "SANDSUCKER."

It is much to be regretted that the sand dredge, which, after much difficulty and delay, had been got into the filtering basins and had about half finished the actual work of removing the sediment of years therefrom, should be damaged by fire so as to render it doubtful if operations can be continued this season.

A PROBLEM FOR HAMILTON.

The ever-present danger of overhead live wires is brought forcibly home to us by the frequent reports of death and injury caused by them. The Dundas fatality is a case near home, and that such are not more common in urban communities seems to be almost providential.

From time to time we have raised the question of the wisdom of the city's adopting a policy of providing conduits for underground services beneath its streets and leasing privileges therein. We are more and more impressed with the advantages such a plan offers. The usual way is to lay a fine pavement and then next year dig it up to put down a water main, following that up the following year with a sewer or gas main or something of the sort, and then each year afterward dig into it here and there to make connections with properties abutting the street.

If such an arrangement could be made, the result would be good for all. The hideous poles would largely if not altogether disappear from conduit-laid streets; the dangerous overhead wires with their constant menace to life and property and their obstacle to fire fighting, would be taken down and placed below ground; the companies owning them would enjoy immunity from many of the annoyances and expenses incident to the overhead system, and their customers would have greater safety. The city would own its own streets, and lease privileges under conditions which would protect the public interests. It is well worth thinking about.

The G. N. W. telegraphers at Toronto, who have been on strike, held a meeting on Sunday and decided to again seek employment. They have been most unfortunate in being made the victims of fealty to their organization and called out on strike without any grievance of their own. There is a moral hidden away in this matter, which probably some of them will discover, but it is a hard way of gaining knowledge. The one thing to be said for the operators is that they conducted themselves commendably while off work.

SIXTEEN HOURS THE LIMIT.

Grand Trunk Will Compel Trainmen to Take a Rest.

Toronto, Oct. 2.—In a circular issued to all trainmen, the Grand Trunk Railway insists that all train crews shall take their eight hours' rest after each hour on the road. No man can be posted again until he has had a rest, and the penalty for neglecting these instructions is dismissal.

GRAIN WAS IMPURE.

Forty Per Cent. of Wild Oats in Shipment of White Oats.

Toronto, Oct. 2.—That steps should be taken to prevent the importation of grain containing noxious weed seeds into Ontario is the opinion of Mr. J. Lockie Wilson, Superintendent of Agricultural Societies, who has just returned from Port Arthur. Mr. Wilson took samples from bags of oats on one car on its way from Manitoba to Ontario.

HAPPENINGS IN OLD ENGLAND.

Nine Days Entombed.

It was announced in Tuesday's "Gazette" that the King has conferred the Albert medal upon Frank Hughes, a diver, for gallantry in saving life at a flooded mine at Bonnievale, Western Australia.

When the mine was inundated on March 10 last all the miners escaped except an Italian named Varischetti. The Italian was working in a rise 28 feet above the 1,000 ft. level, and was cut off by the flood and imprisoned as in a diving bell, the air in the rise, unable to escape, keeping the water on a lower level than in the main shaft, where the water was 50 feet above the point where the Italian was entombed.

Hughes went to the rescue at great risk to his own life and, after diving five times, he reached Varischetti, but found it impossible to release him. He shook hands with him and supplied him with an electric light and food. It was not until the ninth day that he was able to effect the rescue, and the Italian was then so exhausted that he had to carry him.

150,000 Mormon Converts.

Without attracting much general attention, the Church of the Mormons is making considerable headway in Britain. The Latter-Day Saints, as they prefer to be called, claim a membership in London alone of between 600 and 700.

Elder Shorten, a youth from Salt Lake City, who has been trying to convert Stoke Newington to Mormonism for the past eighteen months, described on Tuesday the method adopted by the church in its propaganda, which extends to every civilized country. "There are thirty-three of us in London alone," he said. "During the seventy-six years that we have been established in this country it is estimated that 150,000 of our converts have gone to Utah."

100 Miles an Hour.

The British Admiralty has now under consideration a new form of marine engine and propeller which, the inventor claims, will revolutionize not only naval warfare, but the navigation of the whole world.

The invention is the work of Mr. F. Maltman, of Redburn street, Chelsea. At first sight the engine resembles a turbine, but closer inspection reveals important differences, which are the inventor's secret.

Screens of special design are used, and they are placed immediately beneath the vessel's keel.

Up to now, the new system has been tried only on models upon the Serpentine and the Thames, but the speeds attained in the largest of these lead Mr. Maltman to believe that on a vessel with the size and steam power of a present-day torpedo-boat it would yield a velocity of 100 miles an hour.

"Dead" Woman's Request.

"Please get me a glass of stout. I am so thirsty," said a woman who was thought to be dead, to a policeman who had been called to see her at Sunninghill, near Ascot.

The woman's lodger, a laborer, discovered her on Tuesday night stretched out in her room apparently lifeless. His attempts to rouse her failed and as she was very cold and stiff he supposed she was dead, and informed a doctor, and the police. The constable was surprised to find her sitting up.

She said she had felt faint after tea and had lain down, but remembered nothing more until the policeman went into her room. Her appearance in the village street the next morning created consternation among the inhabitants, who had not heard the sequel to the story of her supposed death.

Somnambulist's Swim.

A seaman named Edward Kermode embarked from Antwerp in the steamer Colchester for Parkston, the other night. When the vessel was off Bierland Point, in the Scheldt, Kermode left his bunk and, running aft, jumped overboard.

The captain did not hear of the incident until a quarter of an hour later, when he decided that it was of no use to turn back. On reaching Parkston he reported Kermode as drowned.

Three days later Kermode landed from the steamer Cambridge at Parkston. His story was that he remembered nothing after falling asleep in his bunk on the Colchester until he found himself in the water. He swam for an hour and a half until he was picked up by the barge Briton and landed at Flushing.

Family Poisoned.

A father's endeavor to provide food for his poverty-stricken family has had a terrible sequel at Ipswich. A man named Farrow, who had been out of work for some time and was unable to provide his wife and children with even the bare necessities of life, brought home the other night a ham of mushrooms which he had gathered in a field.

The supposed mushrooms were cooked and eaten with relish by the starving family. Two days later—on Sunday—Mrs. Farrow, a daughter aged thirteen, and two boys aged five and seven died. On Tuesday Farrow himself passed away in great agony, as well as his remaining daughter, a girl of sixteen.

Crab 4,000 Years Old.

A remarkable discovery reported from Nottingham raises the question, which has often been hotly debated by naturalists, whether animal life can be sustained without access to air and food. Ten feet below the surface, embedded in rock sand, a live crab is stated to have been discovered under the following circumstances:

A workman employed by Mr. W. Everard, a builder, was excavating the foundations of a building in Haydn street, when, on breaking off a huge lump of rock with a crowbar, he saw something move. A closer examination showed that the moving thing was a live crab. Its shell measured three inches by two inches. In thickness the crab measured one and a quarter inches. It has eight legs and two feelers, and is exactly like an ordinary sea crab, except that its shell has sharp, ragged edges.

The suggestion is made that the crab must be three or four thousand years old.

Sister's Bravery.

A peculiarly sad bathing fatality has occurred at Joss Bay, Kingsmead, near Broadstairs, a mother having the happy experience of watching her daughter's drowning struggles, and the heroic but ineffectual attempts at rescue by another daughter, who herself narrowly escaped death.

Miss Ella Martin, aged 20, and her sister, Nora Martin, a bright girl of seventeen, were spending their holidays at Broadstairs, and when bathing together in the vicinity of Joss Bay the younger got out of her depth and was carried seawards by the tide.

The elder girl immediately swam to her sister's assistance, and catching hold of her attempted to bring her ashore. Her efforts were, however, of no avail. Two men dashed to the rescue, and the elder sister was saved. The other, however, was drowned.

Honor For White Mice.

Of curious and novel design is the new pennant recently adopted for the exclusive use of the submarine branch of the Royal Navy.

The pennant is of three colors—red, blue and yellow—representing the three submarine depots of Portsmouth, Devonport and Chatham, and is divided into four quarters. In one division appears a submarine boat, and in another three torpedoes, while the other two are adorned with white mice.

A submarine seldom goes to sea without some of these creatures on board. Hence their right to appear on the flag. They are extremely sensitive to the presence of noxious gases—twenty times more so than a man—and a careful watch is kept on them while the submarine is under way.

Lord Brampton's 90th Birthday.

Lord Brampton, once so well known as Mr. Justice Hawkins, the great lawyer and judge, spent his ninetieth birthday on Saturday very quietly at No. 5, Tilly street, a pleasant house, through the windows of which the trees of Hyde Park can be seen.

Though much better than he was a few weeks ago, Lord Brampton is too infirm to see visitors or even to take a drive in this delightful autumn weather. Numerous good stories are told about Lord Brampton and the criminals to whom he was a terror. One of the best relates to an incident which happened in a crowded race train. Three or four of the "boys" got into the carriage in which the judge was sitting and attempted to hustle him. Confident that he would be known and feared by them, the judge removed his hat, and looked his sternest, and said: "Don't you know who I am?" The worst of the offenders looked at his square jaw and close-cropped head and shrank into a corner with an exclamation: "Selp me Bob—a blooming prize-fighter!"

While on the bench his constant companion was a terrier, "Jack," whose tether was a long blue ribbon attached to the judge's wrist, and many a junior leguiled a weary moment watching the unrolling of the ribbon as the dog pursued his investigations, followed by the spectacle of the judge "hauling in the slack." One "Jack" expressed his opinion of a case by a loud bark. "Turn that dog out of the gallery," said the judge, with great promptitude, at the same time administering an admonitory pat to the animal under his desk. To a sheriff's chaplain who held that dogs could not go to heaven, he remarked: "They are more faithful, more affectionate, and more intelligent than any Christian I have ever met."

"But, my lord," said the chaplain, "the drawback is they cannot understand when one speaks to them." "Indeed, Mr. Chaplain," the judge replied. "Don't you think they may think it a great drawback if you will not understand them when they speak?"

When a bomb was exploded on the doorstep of the house of Mr. Reginald Brett in Tilly street in 1894 it was always imagined that it was intended for the judge. But his imperturbable humor did not desert him.

British Officer Reincarnated.

Reincarnation is a fundamental doctrine of Buddhism, and a reincarnation of a human identity, in human form, though changed in outward aspect, is called a "mizma."

A few years back Mr. A. W. Tucker, District Superintendent of Police in Pegu, was killed by a gang of dacoits, whom he had rashly attacked at close quarters, after discharging his revolver and without waiting to reload it. His call to his orderly to fetch ammunition gave the clue to the dacoits, and they killed him. Just about the time this tragedy was being enacted in one part of the district, a humble Burmese woman gave birth to a baby boy who in time, before the days of his babyhood were well over, claimed to be no less a personage than the murdered police officer.

So circumstantial were his accounts of the encounter with the dacoits as to appear the narrative of an eye-witness, and when questioned on various other points in connection with the life of the deceased officer, he is asserted to have answered with such exactitude that the Burmese people who flocked to hear his discourse were convinced of the truth of his assertions. Peculiarities of action and speech were faithfully reproduced.

Within the past few weeks a still more interesting case of "mizma" has made its appearance, and I cannot do better than quote the account of a Rangoon Times correspondent from Meiktila:

"There is a little blue-eyed, light-haired boy here, between three and four years old, the son of hard-working and matter-of-fact Burmese parents belonging to the laboring classes, who until quite recently prattled like any other child of that age. The other day, however, he astonished his mother by gravely declaring that he was the late Major D. J. Welsh, Border Regiment, come to life again, and went on to describe the house where he had previously lived, the number of ponies he had, and other personal matters.

storm at night in March, 1904, when the three and only occupants of the boat perished.

"That is the year in which Mrs. Readie, Lieutenant A. W. Quinlan, and Major Welsh, both of the Border Regiment, did lose their lives in this manner (as a consequence of omitting to put down the centre-board of their sailing boat).

I present the story without further comment, as furnishing at least a curious and interesting glimpse of a phase of Burmese belief.

Student of Stamina.

This week Mr. John Burns has been paying a visit to Berlin and other German towns.

Herr Caspar, who directs the Department for the Social Betterment of the Working Classes, told our correspondent that Mr. Burns showed insatiable interest not only in German working conditions and institutions, but particularly in the types of the workmen themselves.

"Everywhere I took him," said Herr Caspar, "it was always the people he studied."

Mr. Burns even attended the manoeuvres of the German Garde du Corps at Wreschen in order to gain an accurate idea of the physical endurance of the average German. Here Mr. Burns participated in long and fatiguing marches with the men, visited them daily in camp, and mixed with them freely. The manoeuvres interested him, he said, not from the military standpoint, but simply from the light they threw on the physique of the nation.

Railway Men's Demand.

Eight-hour standard day for all concerned in the movement of vehicles. Ten-hour day for all others, except platelayers.

No man be called out for duty with less than nine hours' rest. Minimum of rate and a quarter for all time worked over standard hours.

Sunday duty (i. e., midnight Saturday to midnight Sunday), minimum payment of rate and a half.

Immediate advance of 2s. to all grades who do not receive the eight-hour day. All grades in London district a minimum of 3s. per week above country districts wages.

Recognition of the men's union. With the exception of the North-Eastern, all the leading railway directorates have refused to recognize the Amalgamated Society in negotiations over hours or wages.

The railway companies give the following reasons for resisting the men's demands:

Their men are not dissatisfied. Grievances are always listened to. Working expenses do not permit wholesale increases of wages.

New Gold Mine

OF LARDELL LAKE NORTHERN ONTARIO.

We earnestly recommend that you purchase the Highland Mary Gold Mines stock at 10 cents per share. This advice means riches to you. The time is not far distant when Highland Mary will be paying large and continuous dividends. By buying now at a price you can afford to pay you will be a participant in these assured profits.

As we have heretofore stated in our circular letters and advertisements, we are willing to stake our standing and reputation on the present conditions and the future outcome of the Larde Lake district and as to its possibilities. We believe it will be the most wonderful gold field that the world has produced. When we make these assertions it is after we have made most searching and thorough investigations. We do not believe that a financial house who has every facility at its command, having a number of experienced mining men in the field, and reliable and trustworthy mining engineers could go to more pains regarding the actual worth of a gold camp than we have done. We have been most cautious and we are very particular as to what we recommend for investment. We have built up a big business and the investors who place confidence in us and follow our advice number many thousands. We guard the interests of our investors just as closely and with as much care as we do our individual investments. This is the reputation we have attained among the investing public. We have gone to great expense in ascertaining the true merits and real conditions of the Highland Mary properties. In order to satisfy ourselves beyond question we despatched various crews of men to make examinations. They were supplied with all the necessities, such as hand drills, dynamite and camp outfits.

They have visited all of the properties, have blown out the ore, and we have had same assayed, not only by our own assays but by others. The proofs that we have obtained demonstrate beyond question the great value of the HIGHLAND MARY.

The properties consist of 30 claims of 40 acres each, making a total acreage of 1,200 acres. The claims are in the locality of the famous Reddick claims, the Proprietary Gold Fields and the wonderful Blue Bell and Lucky Boys properties.

Law and Co., have expert engineers who are rated among the best, engaged in examining and reporting on properties. Only those properties which have every indication of richness are handled by us; all the others are turned down as too risky. Our engineers and experts are in the field at a great expense, and it would not pay us to make a report on and sell the stock in any worthless company.

We are looking far into the future, and we thoroughly realize that the only way to hold our customers and keep them interested is for them to invest their money in stocks that have merit and that are sure winners.

THE MAN OR WOMAN WHO INVESTS THEIR MONEY THROUGH US CAN SIT DOWN AT THEIR HOMES AND FULLY REALIZE THAT WHATEVER FUNDS THEY HAVE INVESTED HAVE BEEN WELL PLACED.

You can absolutely depend that the officers and directors of the Highland Mary will expend the money received from the sale of Treasury stock in the development of the property. We wish to call your attention to the fact that 1,000,000 shares of the stock of this company are for the absolute use and benefit of the Treasury.

10c PER SHARE

(Par Value $1.00, Fully Paid and Non-Assessable.)

If you will compare the price, 10c per share, and the organization and incorporation of the Highland Mary against any of the other companies now upon the market, you cannot but realize the great percentage there is in favor of your investing your money in this stock in preference to any other.

Coming to the most vital point of all, when you interest yourself in Highland Mary you are becoming a partner of people who are practical mining men, who have made fortunes out of mining, and who are willing to wait the development of this property to make their fortunes.

Capitalization of Highland Mary, $3,000,000. Par value of shares, $1.00. 1,000,000 shares in the treasury for development purposes.

Wire or telephone orders at our expense. Prospectus, with full information, containing application blanks, mailed to any address.

Look to Your Ears.

They Are Neglected Far More Than the Eyes or Teeth.

(New York Tribune.)

Many people give considerable attention to the eyes and teeth, but neglect the ears. Not a few sensible people, who are regular visitors to the dentist to have the teeth in perfect condition. Others, but not so many, go once a year, perhaps, to the eye specialist, whether their eyes are painful or not. But not one in a thousand thinks it necessary to have the ear attended to, aside from the common case of ear-ache.

The growth of deafness in the last twenty-five years is appalling. It is estimated that fifty per cent of it could be prevented if the ear got the same care that the teeth do.

Swollen tonsils are often the cause of a loss of hearing. If they are troublesome at all, they should be removed, says the expert. It will spare you a great deal of pain and save your hearing. The best time to have an examination is after a severe cold. If you have a pain in the ear do not resort to morphia or the hot water bag, but get up in the middle of the night if necessary, and see a doctor. If the same case were given the care that the teeth get, much more than half of the deafness in this country would be avoided. This is the verdict of those who make a study of the subject.

Manual training and domestic science have received the disapproval of the Board of Education of Ingersoll, who in a resolution have asked that the council take a plebiscite on these branches at the a-liminary elections.
