NOTICE! PUBLIC WAR MEMORIAL!

It has been pointed out to me that the Great War Veterans' Association and very many of the public are extremely desirous that some immediate action should be taken in connection with a public War Memorial. I am further informed that the G. W. V. A. are of the opinion that it is the duty of some private citizen to start things moving without further delay. It is fully appreciated that the time may be inopportune to raise funds to put up as elaborate a Memorial as all would desire, but it is believed by many that IT IS POSSIBLE TO ERRECT A SIMPLE BUT DIGNIFIED MEMORIAL IMMEDIATELY, the design and location of such Memorial to be decided upon. Provided enough of the public are anxious to see something done right away, I am prepared to take it upon myself to ask His Excellency the Governor and the Memorial Committee for permission to convene a Public Meeting within ten days, the object of such meeting to be to organize immediate action in connection with the erection of a War Memorial. I am authorized to say that such meeting, if called, will have the unqualified approval of the Executive of the G. W. V. A.

IF YOU ARE INTERESTED, SIGN AND MAIL THE FORM BELOW. (It entails no financial obligation.)

CHAPTER XIII.
LONAWAY.

Mr. Hodges' procrastination in paying his rent was evidently not due to extreme poverty, for Margery proceeded to spread out a tea fit for a prince. In addition to the beverage which sometimes cheers and sometimes produces dyspepsia, there were a huge ham, a large pasty, boiled eggs, a plate of cakes, an enormous loaf, a pat of golden butter, and best of all, a bowl of clotted cream; of all of which Nora was pressed to partake. Mr. Hodges, notwithstanding the notice to quit, talked freely and light heartedly throughout the meal.

He was eager for news of the mainland.

"He had heard of the war in South Africa, but knew nothing of the result, long since occasioned. A newspaper only very occasionally reached Lonaway, and Nora was fully occupied in recounting the various occurrences which had recently started the world, of which no tidings had reached the little island.

While she was talking and Mr. Hodges listening placidly, occasionally remarking a "Lor! me! you don't say!" Margery sat beside the fire, her china-blue eyes fixed on the speaker's as if they were lost-stars.

"Dessy you've got another of them papers to serve on Shuffley down at the quarry. If so be as you'd like to step down there, it'll be a little walk afore supper."

"Supper!" exclaimed Nora, with a laugh. "I am afraid I can't eat anything else after this tea."

Hodges laughed as if this were an excellent joke.

"It's plain you're strange to Lonaway, eh?" he said. "There ain't no time of the day you can't eat here, be there, Margery? Do 'e go down with the young gentleman, and show him the way to Shuffley's."

But Nora had no desire for Miss Margery's company, and declared that she could find her way alone. It was not difficult to do so. Shuffley, it appeared, was the man who rented the granite quarry, and his cottage, or hut, could be seen from a little rise near Hodges's farm.

Nora ran down the path, and found the man of the quarry sitting outside his hut. He was a thin, melancholy man, but he accepted the notice phlegmatically, remarked that dessey he could scrape the rent together, and after declining his offer of hospitality, Nora took a stroll.

There seemed to be no other habitations on the island save those she had seen. Though Jacob regarded it with prejudiced eyes, the place was fascinating to Nora. The solitude, the solitude, the atmosphere of freedom, the lack of restraint, held a charm for her young spirit, and she devoutly hoped that the two tenants would put off the payment of their rent until the last possible moment.

The seagulls, in myriads, whirled and shrieked like lost souls seeking rest; the stars came out and were reflected in the pool of the cove in which she had landed. She felt as if she were alone in a new, and yet old, strange world; she had left her past life behind her; the girl, Nora Ryall had disappeared or died, and the lad, Cyril Merton, had taken her place. The impression remained with her when she woke in her tiny bedroom under the eaves; for no one seemed to suspect her sex, and every one accepted her in her assumed one.

The weather was delightful, the air so mild and yet so bracing as it came straight from Labrador, that Nora's spirits rose, and she enjoyed herself thoroughly. The only thing that marred her perfect enjoyment was the conduct of Margery, who still stared at Nora, and watched and listened to her with an interest which increased daily.

She blushed when Nora spoke to her, and she waited upon the visitor with a shy devotion which might have been gratifying to the recipient, if Margery had belonged to the other sex; but these attentions, coming from a girl, Nora regarded as more or less of a nuisance. Accordingly, she got out of Margery's way as much as possible. Sometimes she assisted with the farm work, but most of the time she roamed about the island. She found the quarry especially fascinating, and cultivated the friendship of the taciturn Shuffley, who, morose and bearish though in his intercourse with other persons, soon melted under the sunshine of Nora's manner.

She frequently sat on the edge of the quarry and watched Shuffley and his couple of men blast out and manipulate the huge blocks, and it seemed to her there were immense possibilities in the apparently inexhaustible and valuable material. One day as she was sitting there she saw to her annoyance Margery coming towards her. She hoped that the girl was merely passing, and she kept her head turned away from her and gazed down into the quarry; but Margery held out towards her, and blushingly asked for a can.

"I have brought 'ee some milk," she said shyly; "it's very hot, and I thought 'ee might be thirsty."

Nora scarcely glanced at her. "It's not particularly hot," she said, ungratefully, "and I'm not at all thirsty; but I daresay the men there will be glad of a drink. I'll take it down to them. Thanks."

She took the can and went down with it at once; and there was nothing left for poor Margery to do but to turn and go homewards, which she did with an air of dejection, and a heavy sigh. Nora had hoped that this rebuff would put a stop to the unwelcome attentions, but when she returned that evening to supper Margery appeared to have forgotten the ingratitude with which her kindness had been received, and hovered about Nora, piling up her plate with superfluous food, and watching her attempt to get through it, which operation embarrassed Nora's every mouthful.

The days passed absolutely uneventfully. Neither Shuffley nor Hodges revealed the slightest intention of paying their rent, and instead of regarding Nora as a necessary evil, grew more and more friendly. To help pass the time Nora set about making a collection of eggs. At first she found the pursuit rather trying; the nests were in more-or-less inaccessible places; she had to climb the cliffs; but she had a steady brain and perfect nerves, and she was soon able to find and keep her nest on the narrow ledges.

One day she was thus engaged, and standing on a narrow projection of her precipitous hunting-ground, when she saw the Happy Lucy scudding before the wind to the cove. Her slight, slim figure pressing closely to the cliff could not have been seen from the deck of the little vessel, and, with a smile, she was about to give Captain Marks a call to so astonish him, and had actually opened her lips to do so, when she saw that he had a passenger. They were too far off for her to see the figures plainly, and presently the boat lurched and she lost her sight. She climbed to the top of the cliff, and went across the downs to meet the Captain at the landing place. She had got halfway as the Happy Lucy ran alongside the quay; and she was quickening her pace to a run, when suddenly she stopped; the blood rushed to her face, then left it almost as quickly.

The second figure in the boat had risen and was standing upright. His face turned toward the island.

With a shocking sensation in her throat, Nora sank to the ground and sat there a moment, breathing painfully. Then she rose and fled, not in the direction of the farm, but away to the remotest part of the island.

CHAPTER XIV.
A MEETING WITH MR. STRIPLEY.

Elliot walked away from the picnic, scarcely knowing whither his feet were taking him. The sky seemed to have become suddenly black, the warm air chill and threatening. If Youth's capacity for joy is keen, much keener is his capacity for suffering. At that moment life seemed ended for Elliot; his love for Nora was a very deep and a very passionate one, and the blow had fallen so suddenly that he felt half-stunned and crushed by it. Mrs. Ryall's words rang in his ears, and in his heart, like the knell of all his hopes, of his life's sole desire.

It never occurred to him to doubt her statement, and he instantly found some corroboration of it in Nora's manner and speech when she had told her of his love in the plantation. She had said, "You must not!" she had put him away from her, had broken away from him as if she regretted having listened to him, having let him kiss her. Yes! it was plain enough; she had been carried away for the moment by the force of his passionate avowal, and had lacked the courage to tell him that she was engaged, or as good as engaged to marry another man.

Perhaps it was not only lack of courage, but pity for him that had kept her silent. She was so young, so innocent; he had taken her by surprise, startled her. Oh, yes, it was plain enough, easily comprehensible. He stopped and looked round; him hopelessly, helplessly. The place had suddenly grown distasteful to him; with the presence of Nora it had been an earthly Paradise; without her it was just a wild, dreary place from which he wanted to fly. Not even his beloved horses could raise his spirits, or divert his thoughts. A heart-stricken woman can remain quiescent with her wound; but a man grows restless and impatient, and wants to dash away from the spot where he has suffered.

Three of his horses were going to London for sale, and Elliot all in a moment decided that instead of sending his head man with them, he would go himself. It was not necessary to ask Sir Joseph's permission, for Sir Joseph left him a free hand.

After a sleepless night he started with the horses. He travelled with the most restive of them, and devoted himself to soothing the fretful animal; saw them into the London stables, and was wandering down one of the streets in South Lambeth in search of an hotel, his mind fixed on Nora, when he felt his sleeve twitch and, waiting suddenly from his reverie, looked round and saw Mr. Stripley. That gentleman's face was twisted into a huge smile, compounded of surprise and pleasure. Of course, he had plucked off his hat, and he waved it in one hand while he extended the other.

"Gracious me!" exclaimed Stripley, "who would have thought it? It's Mr. Elliot Graham from Devonshire! I could not believe my eyes at first; but I thought I knew the face. I am delighted to see you!" he resumed his hat with elaborate care. "And who may have brought you up from Devonshire, Mr. Graham?"

"I have come up to sell some horses," said Elliot; "I have just seen them safely housed, and I was looking for a hotel or lodging-house."

Charm of Motherhood

THERE are many homes once childless—that now are blessed with healthy, happy children, because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored the mother to a healthy, normal physical condition.

The following letters give the experience of two young women and prove the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in such cases.

Berwick, Ont.—"I had organic trouble, and after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Medicine all my troubles passed away. I was made strong and well and have been ever since. Now we have a fine baby boy six months old, and I know that I would not have this baby and would still be suffering if it had not been for your remedies. My husband and myself say that your remedies are worth their weight in gold, and I recommend them to my friends. One of my sisters is taking them now."—Mrs. NAPOLEON LAYTON, Berwick, Ontario, Canada.

Toronto, Ontario—"I suffered for a long time from a female weakness, inflammation, and a terrible backache caused by that condition. One day one of your booklets was left at my door, and I read how other women with troubles like mine had been made well, so I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and a package of Sanitary Wash, and it helped me wonderfully, and I now have the finest little baby boy that any mother could want. I want to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any woman who has female troubles."—Mrs. JOSEPH LA BULLA, 773 Shaw Street, Toronto, Ontario, Canada.

Great Britain Urges Early Meeting of Supreme Council.

Hungary Desires to Join League — German Mob Clamors For "Undivided Silesia"—Winner of Schooner Race Founders off Sable Island.

WILL C. MEET!
PARIS, May 30. A note from Great Britain, received to-day, in reply to Premier Briand's recent communication with regard to the meeting of the Allied Supreme Council, insists upon the desirability of the meeting of that body this week.

Great Britain accepts the principle of examination of the Silesian question by a speedy mission, but holds that the Council should meet first, and not delay its session until after experts have reported.

OLD RUSSIAN FLAG FLIES.
TOKIO, May 30. Anti-Bolsheviks are still in control of Vladivostok, which is quiet, although the general political situation is somewhat obscure. It is said in press and official advices that the city is mainly bedagged with old Russian colors.

HUNGARY TO JOIN LEAGUE.
GENEVA, May 30. Hungary has officially notified the League of Nations of her intention to apply for admission to the League when the Assembly meets in September.

GERMAN CLAMOR.
BERLIN, May 30. Twenty thousand men, women and children clamored for "an undivided German Upper Silesia" at a monster open air non-Partisan demonstration yesterday afternoon in Lustgarten. Communists marched alongside Nationalists, and all political parties were represented by delegates, bearing placards, inscribed "Korfanly belongs in jail," "down with Lerond," "where is the League of Nations?" and "shall we be less German than Lloyd George?"

BANKRUPTCY OF COMMUNISM.
RIGA, May 29. According to a direct Moscow despatch received to-day from independent sources, Nikolai Lenin, the Soviet Russian Premier, declared yesterday that Communism was in complete bankruptcy, and asked the presiding officers of all Russian executive committees to approve the unlimited return of the capitalist and the recall to Russia of Constitutional Democrats and other parties, to aid in the rebuilding of the State. Statements, continued the despatch, have not been confirmed from other sources.

REINFORCEMENTS FOR IRELAND.
LONDON, May 30. Premier Lloyd George announced

British Income Tax.

Editor Evening Telegram
Dear Sir.—You were recently good enough to insert a letter from me on the above subject and as a fresh point has now arisen, I am taking the liberty of writing you again. I am now pleased to inform your readers that as a result of prolonged negotiations with the Island Revenue, all persons receiving income through a British Trust are entitled to recovery of tax in exactly the same way as if no trust existed.

The position of residents abroad in relation to British Income Tax is, therefore, as follows:—

- (1) All British subjects can recover the whole or part of any income tax deducted from their dividends, annuities, rents, etc., for 1920-21 and in future, the exact amount depending upon their total income.
- (2) All Crown Servants, serving or retired or their widows, missionaries and persons resident abroad for the sake of health can claim as above for three years back.
- (3) Every person abroad, British subject or not, can recover the WHOLE of the tax deducted from British War Loans or Exchequer Bonds, and Foreign and Colonial Securities for three years back, whether held in trust or not.

I shall be pleased to advise, without charge, any of your readers who care to write me exactly how any of the above claims should be prepared.

Yours faithfully,
WILFRED T. FRY,
421, Strand, London, W.C. 2, May 13, 1921.

SHOT FROM A HEDGE.
BELFAST, May 30. A party of Ulster special policemen were fired on yesterday morning from a hedge, five miles outside the town of Tyrone. Constable Robert Coakler was killed and an old man with whom he was speaking, died later. Another man was wounded.

ANOTHER INADEQUATE SENTENCE.
LEIPZIG, May 30. Capt. Mueller, the second German officer to be placed on trial charged with criminal acts during the suppression of Colonial Antagonism who was to-day sentenced to six months imprisonment. He was tried on the charge of having practised cruelties on prisoners at Flury le Martel prison camp in Alsace province of France.

IRELAND AND DOMINION HOME RULE.
LONDON, May 30.

Replying to a question in the House of Commons to-day as to whether the Government would adopt the suggestion of Colonial Antagonism for North and South Ireland and have the apportionment of the National debt submitted to judicial arbitration, Premier Lloyd George said that even if Parliament approved such a proceeding "I have reason to believe it would not be accepted by the men responsible for violence in Ireland, but on the contrary would be regarded by them as weakness on the part of the British Government and encourage to further violence." The Minister said there could be no question of making good out of the British exchequer of damage to the Dublin Custom House caused by the recent incendiary descent upon that building.

ESPERANTO FOUNDED.
HALIFAX, May 30. The Gloucester fish schooner Esperanto, winner of the International fishing schooner races off Halifax last fall, foundered to-day off Sable Island, according to a radio received by the Dept. Marine and Fisheries here from Sable Island to-night. It is presumed that Capt. Tom Benham and crew of Esperanto, were taken off by schr. Elsie Second, which stood by sinking vessel.

SHOOTING VETERANS.
CORK, May 30. Two brothers named Fitzgerald, one a railwayman and the other a former soldier, were taken from their home yesterday and shot.

Even Trade.

(From the Boston Transcript)
A country storekeeper was standing in front of his place when a man came along leading a couple of old and weary-looking nags.
"Want a horse?" he inquired.
"Guess not."
"I'll trade you one for goods," said the stranger. "I'll take it out in tobacco, in fact."
"Might make a dicker along those lines," said the storekeeper, "provided we kin agree on a basis."
"What's your basis?"
"Well, I'll trade you plug for plug."

Mr. Ayre Answers the "Star."

Editor Evening Telegram
Dear Sir.—The editorial of the Star Saturday states that the News and Telegram were wrong when they stated that the Governor, Judges of the Supreme and Central District Courts and all clergymen were relieved of the Income tax. It admits, however, that the Prime Minister in the Budget Speech definitely stated that only clergymen were exempt. He refers to me as "Writer" in the Telegram quoting the News.
If the clergy are exempt then the principle is the same. It is class legislation of the worst type. Why should a clergyman any more than his flock be exempt from taxes, if clergymen are exempt then leading Atheists and Agnostics have the right of exemption, even though they were charitably referred to as fools by the Rev. Doctor Jones in his lecture to the Llewellyn Club before he took that "Adventure for God." "Oh, where oh, where has the doctor gone?" and why.
Yours sincerely,
GEO. W. B. AYRE,

The Masonic service will be performed at the grave in Oak Grove Cemetery. Mrs. Graham is a sister of Mr. William Jocelyn, so well and favorably known in city circles.

You're a Funny Mixture.

What are you worth? Even if you have not a penny in your pockets you are always worth a certain amount of cash.
Just you, yourself. The human body is a bundle of chemicals, and chemicals have their cash value.
Three-quarters of your physical make-up is water, which does not fetch much. You have, however, enough albuminoids to make a couple of dozen of eggs. You contain enough salt to fill an ordinary salt-cellar, enough grease to make seven bars of soap, and enough iron to make a respectable paper-weight.
You are quite correct in referring to your own sweet self, for the human body contains quite an egg-cupful of sugar.

British Shipping Discriminated Against.

Our correspondent "Enquirer" in yesterday's Telegram touches a distinctive feature of the Budget Speech of the Prime Minister, in the imposition of a special tax on fish exports of forty cents per cwt. when shipped out of the country in vessels not registered in Newfoundland. The application of such an export duty is mischievous and discriminatory. It aims at the destruction of steamer connection and service from both Britain and America, including the Dominion of Canada, and it particularly affects vessels owned in Newfoundland, but not registered in the country. There are many of such, employed as fish carriers, and as no provision is made to place these outside the operation of this resolution, the invidiousness of such a duty is clearly obvious. On the West Coast, nearly all the schooners engaged in the carriage of fish to Canada are registered in that country. The steamers from Halifax that ply on coastal service taking in the Districts of Burgeo and La-Poile, St. George's, and St. Barbe, all fly the red ensign and are under British Register. These boats take out considerable quantities of fish, and according to the Budget resolutions, an extra duty amounting to forty cents per quintal is to be levied on exports made via these Canadian ships, a duty which inevitably must come out of the pockets of the original producers, for the fishermen will have to pay the tax in the final settlement.

Calling at St. John's, there are the Rosalind, Sachem, Digby, Lady of Gaspe, and the Canadian Government boats, keeping in touch with Europe and all the Americas. Every one of these ships is entered upon the British Register. Every one of them trip after trip take out small parcels of fish, which could not otherwise be exported in such lots, for an exporter does not arrange a charter party for the export of every package of fish that he sends out. One hundred or two hundred quintal lots are shipped by the steamers named, every trip, to suit the convenience of sellers here and buyers abroad, yet the Prime Minister proposes to double the export duty on cod and other fishes when not shipped in bottoms registered in Newfoundland, thus establishing a very un-British precedent, and in addition causing every fisherman in the island, whose produce goes out that way the loss of the sum of the tax. It might be possible that the Prime Minister had in mind a spirit of discrimination against foreign shipping, by which we mean all vessels trading with this country not of British Registry. Had the resolution been made applicable to them, strong criticism could not have been directed against the tax, as it would then be solely in behalf of British shipping, and an encouragement to the whole mercantile marine which flies the Red Ensign. But to include in the proposed extra export duty all British ships is unfair and unwarranted, as so many of locally owned craft are registered in British ports other than St. John's, and the Prime Minister will be well advised if he withdraws this discriminative resolution, and substitutes for the words "when exported in ships or vessels not registered in Newfoundland" the following "when exported in ships or vessels not of British Registry?"

The Question of Supplies.

Parties returning from the North-west report conditions in many places as precarious. At Bonavista some relief work is being given on the Canal between O'Leas Pond and the Harbor, on this work, if it is to be completed, there will be a large amount of money spent. The men are anxious to get to the fishery, but the problem of supplies seems to be difficult to solve. Large numbers of fishermen have been to Port Union endeavouring to get out-fitted, but so far no supplies have been given out there, and the fishermen are unable to find Mr. Coaker who is supposed to be at the place since last week. Quite a number of men from the Southern Shore were at the Assessor's Office this morning regarding the all-absorbing question of the moment. The men were principally from Trepassay and had come on here expecting to get supplies, that is if they could get a merchant. They say they have secured the merchant to supply them but unfortunately the Government guarantee for the District has been all absorbed. Hundreds of men from these districts are still without supplies and their prospects of getting to the fishery this season are very slim.

A Painful Accident.

A labourer named Morrissey whilst working on the pipe line at Allandale Farm, met with an accident yesterday which may cost him the loss of an eye. He was skylarking with a fellow worker when the latter threw a stone hitting Morrissey in the eye and for the moment, rendering him unconscious. The eye was badly cut and bled profusely. The unfortunate man was carried to the home of Mr. Patrick Corbett who hitched up his trap and drove him to Dr. Macpherson where the injury was attended to. Both Morrissey and the man who threw the stone at him, have been dismissed from their jobs.

The World's Championship.

It is said that several of our city sports contemplate a visit to Jersey City, N.J., to take in the Dempsey-Carpenter fight for the world's championship which takes place on July 1st. A party of 25 from Sydney have already arranged for a sleeper, and those of this city who intend taking in the event would get all information necessary from Mr. J. W. N. Johnstone, local agent for the Canadian National Railways.

CASE OF ASSAULT.

Two men were charged with assault on another at Kelligrews. Both pleaded not guilty. Hon. M. P. Gibbs appeared for the complainant. The three were proceeding home by train recently and when the train stopped at Kelligrews one of the two defendants began to abuse the complainant. At this time the defendants were on the platform and the defendant was on the train. The accused afterwards jumped on board the train, assaulted the complainant and repeated this action at the Upper Gallies station. Evidence was given by some train hands who witnessed the assault. Several other witnesses were also examined. One defendant was fined $10 and the other was discharged.

Another Coal Seam Uncovered.

A THICKNESS OF 12 FEET.
The St. George's Coal Fields, Limited, prospectors on Middle Barachois River just report having uncovered the Furlong Seam for a distance of 375 feet along its line of strike at which distance it shows 5 feet of clean coal. This gives to the Company in this section alone a valuable seam with only 12 feet of strata intervening and containing together over 12 feet of coal, which could be operated from one shaft. It is also understood that there are three other seams in close proximity, and running parallel to the one mentioned above, which it is believed will when opened up provide other workable coal seams. With what is now definitely known there can be absolutely no question about the prospect being a valuable one, and with a close examination by an eminent Coal Mining Man the near future may prove that people who invested with the Premier Coal Company have made considerable profit from the venture.
The Company is to be congratulated on its dogged perseverance, in the face of difficulties and obstructions placed in its way.

An important meeting of the Truckmen's Protective Union was held last night in the L.S.P.U. Hall and the new tariff was discussed. The situation was fully dealt with, and in view of the fact that the "wheelwrights" and "blacksmiths" prices show no sign of any decline, an all round reduction of 10 cents per load was agreed upon. Municipal work and work by the day was reduced from $8 to $7 per day, whilst the charge of $1.50 per hour for delays was reduced to $1.80. A deputation of the Union will wait upon the employers to-day and inform them of last night's decision.

G. W. V. A. Meeting.

IMPORTANT MATTERS DISCUSSED.
The meeting held last night by the G.W.V.A. was largely attended. Capt. H. A. Anderson appealed to the G.W.V.A. to act in conjunction with the Parliamentary Committee in the matter of pensions. The matter of the disposal of Canteen Profits was left in the hands of the Executive Committee who will report at their next meeting.
The question of the War Memorial caused a considerable amount of discussion.
After some deliberation the following resolution was put to the meeting and adopted unanimously:
(1) That it is the opinion of the G.W.V.A. that some scheme for the erection of a memorial to those who died should be got underway immediately.
(2) That this meeting adjourn to meet in two weeks time.
(3) If no effort is made by the citizens of St. John's in that period for the erection of a Memorial that this meeting will decide on the erection of one, and to be subscribed to only by the Veterans of the Great War and immediate relatives of the deceased.

It was announced by Comrade H. R. Peckham that the Sergeant's Memorial could soon be erected. The thanks of the Association were tendered to the Newfoundland Co., Ltd., for having a boulder brought to town to be used as a base and to Mr. Gus Lester for offering to transport it to the site, and to other gentlemen who rendered valuable assistance.

The "Cat" Came Back.

An amusing story of the outwitting of a Customs official was told a Telegram reporter this morning. It appears that a certain schooner owner wanted to land a seven gallon keg of rum in this port, but unfortunately a Customs official was on board. After some discussion, a plan was formed which does great credit to the ingenuity of those who thought of it. An empty seven gallon keg was found and the captain's cat was put in it. The mate then undertook to bring it ashore. He was stopped, however, by the Customs official who in spite of the mate's protestations, would not believe that the keg contained a feline. His discomfitment when, after the keg had been opened, the animal jumped out and made for the schooner, can easily be imagined. Charging on the Customs man, the mate rushed back after the cat and shortly afterward again walked ashore with the "animal" in the keg which he carried in his arms. To this day that Customs officer does not know that seven gallons of good rum went ashore the second time.

Nova Scotia Legislator Objects.

Mr. John L. Connolly, member for Halifax, speaking to a question of privilege in the House of Assembly yesterday afternoon, denounced the press of Halifax with all the vehemence that such terms as "dirty," "rotten," and "infernal" may convey. According to Mr. Connolly, the press, and the press alone, was to blame for the stirring up of the public against the increased seasonal indemnity. He made the protest because he had been the member to propose the resolution for increased indemnity. He was now being blamed for the whole thing, which was unfortunate for himself, but he declared he would stand by the other members of the House; he would not retract a word of the position he had first taken. (Applause.) All the idiosyncrasies of the press as known to Halifax came in for Mr. Connolly's denunciation, the display of sensationalism, red headlines, Liberal and Conservative papers alike, were all to blame.

Moderate Prohibitionists Meet.

1,000 People Attended Casino Theatre -- Report of the Royal Commission Read.

An audience of over 1,000 people attended the public meeting held in the Casino Theatre last night, when the moderate prohibition committee presented the report of their work since the meeting of the committee, opened the meeting and outlined the purpose of the gathering which was to try and do something to put a stop to the evil habit of drinking and indiscriminate drinking brought about by the operation of the present prohibition act. He indicated the failure of the present act and the necessity of a more moderate law to bring about the results which the advocates anticipated. The following facts were reported:

The quantity with the proper proportion of water added would make 36,000 bottles. If the wine and beer were also added we have a total of over 100,000 bottles of intoxicating liquors which may be secured on a quantity of 2,079 gals. of alcohol. The quantity of alcohol is 2,079 gals. of alcohol. The quantity of alcohol is 2,079 gals. of alcohol. The quantity of alcohol is 2,079 gals. of alcohol.

Manufacturers and tradesmen are allowed liquor for manufacturing and trade purposes, but are punishable if they use it for any other purpose. Masters of vessels may take 8 oz. per man per week for medicinal purposes. 13. Special Licenses with photos attached to bona-fide travellers and tourists. Special quantities may be allowed the doctors in case of epidemic disease, such as typhoid. The duty should be collected in the price, and credited to the Controller's Department. 14. Schedule "A" lays down rules relating to licenses, coupons, etc. Schedule "B" classifies liquors as (1) Spirits, (2) Strong Ales and Wines, (3) Light Ales and Wines. 15. Spirits are Whiskey, Brandy, Rum, Gin and all other liquors with 20% or more of alcohol. 16. Strong Ales and Wines include all between 12% and 30%. 17. Light Ales and Wines comprise those having less than 12% of alcohol. 18. The Spirit allowance is 24 oz. or 2 reputed pints per week; Strong Ales and Wines 72 oz. or 6 reputed pints; Light Ales and Wines, 144 oz. or 12 reputed pints. Schedule "C"—Forms of Application, License, Coupon and Stub. At the conclusion of his address, Mr. Smith called on the Secretary, Mr. J. St. John, to read the report of the Royal Commission appointed last year by the Government to enquire into the working of the Prohibition Laws. The copy of the Report as submitted to His Excellency, Sir Charles Alexander Harris, is somewhat lengthy and our space only permits of a digest as follows:

The Commission held very many sessions at St. John's and also at Port Union, the evidence was in the form of sworn testimony. Enquiry into two petitions sent to the House of Assembly in 1920 satisfied the Commissioners of the existence of evils which call for adequate remedies. The evils are: (1) Sale of "Dope," (2) Abuse of prescriptions (3) Manufacture of Moonshine, (4) Increase in smuggling liquors. The police records of arrests of drunks in 1919 showed the number to be 228 or 29% more than there were in 1917 and 1918 together, due mainly to drinking of dope. The first four months of this year show a marked decline in drunkenness from this cause. The decline in the use of dope has brought another evil viz. Moonshine; during the last two months of March and April there were nine arrests for moonshine. In 1916 less than 1-3 of the arrested were disorderly. In 1920 about half were so. The report adds that it is clear that the use of dope and moonshine creates far more disorder than the use of ordinary liquor. Out of 32 places where evidence was gathered, 29 reported the manufacture of moonshine; out of the 17 places on the Southwest Coast, only one reported moonshine. The evidence was close proximity of St. Peter's to the sea. A campaign against this use of dope and moonshine through the medium of churches, Sunday schools, public schools, the press and by leaflets and pamphlets is suggested. The matter of prescriptions also received attention and the Commission point out that a large percentage of liquor obtained by this means is used purely as a beverage, and not as the Act provides. The following recommendations were also embodied in this Report:

1. The retention of the Department for the purpose, dispensing and distribution of liquor to the public. 2. The abolition of the office of the Controller. 3. The placing of the sole control of the Department under a board of three members: a medical practitioner, a clergyman, and a business man, who shall retire in rotation. The medical practitioner to be the member to be eligible for re-appointment. Appointments of original members and the filling of vacancies to be made by the Governor-in-Council. 4. Grants to be made to the Board and the accounts to be audited by the Auditor General; net profits to be paid to the Treasury. 5. The power of the Board to include terms of engagements of officials and servants, and all financial arrangements. 6. A general manager to be appointed to take charge of the Department. The power of appointment, suspension, dismissal and direction of the general manager and other officials and servants to be in the Board. 7. Rules and Regulations (including penalties) after approval by the Governor-in-Council and publication in the Royal Gazette, to have the force of law. 8. The Board to be given discretion to refuse to fill any prescriptions of any medical practitioner whom they find to be acting in accordance with the Act, with right of appeal to the Supreme Court for any person aggrieved by the action of the Board. 9. To make it an offence for any person to obtain a prescription under false pretences. 10. Prescriptions to be filled in the City of St. John's only by the Department, and the Department to be kept open at such hours on working days, Sundays and holidays as the Board may from time to time appoint. 11. The possession of a still for distillation of spirits to be an offence, and possession itself to be presumptive evidence of possession for distillation. 12. The manufacture, possession, sale, gift of, or the treating of any person to "moonshine" to be an offence with penalties double those provided for the illicit sale of liquors.

13. The duty of search and the indemnity in regard to search for illicit manufacture, importation and sale of "liquors" or of the possession, manufacture, sale or gift of or treating persons to "moonshine" and of the possession of stills for distillation to be similar to the provisions of the Licensing Act, 1905. 14. The Board to be given authority to sell to the heads of households and tradesmen, subject to regulations with penalties, certain quantities of liquors, not to exceed the rate of: A. 24 oz. of Spirits. 24 oz. of Wine. 2 doz. 12 oz. bottles of Beer. Stout or B. 24 oz. of Spirits. 48 oz. of Wine. or C. 24 oz. of Spirits. 4 doz. 12 oz. bottles of Beer or Stout. every three months, or the same proportion monthly or half yearly as the Board may deem circumstances warrant. 15. The Board to be given authority to supply under rules and regulations with penalties, manufacturers with liquors for manufacturing purposes, provided that that where the manufacture is not of medicines, essences, food-stuffs or aerated waters, it shall be made non-potable before it leave the Department. 16. The Board to be given authority to supply under rules and regulations with penalties, vessels, and steamers, going coast-wise or foreign, with liquor for medicinal purposes. 17. The duty of proof for offences under the Act to be on the accused. 18. Imprisonment without the option of a fine to be imposed for the fourth and subsequent convictions from the date of the new Act. 19. Special rewards to be offered to police officers and Customs officers who show marked vigilance in enforcing the Act. 20. Detective force to be increased for the enforcement of the Act. 21. No liquor seized by the police to be sent out until its purity is ascertained by analysis. 22. Manufacturers to be authorized to sell to the Board of Control such beers and stouts as the Board may order. 23. Provision to be made for carrying on an educational campaign on the detrimental effects of drinking "dopes" and "moonshine". 24. The whole Statute Law as amended to be consolidated. All through the reading of the Report the audience took it as a joke, and repeatedly interrupted the Secretary with laughter. Some one in the audience asked who was on the Commission, and was answered that there were five doctors on it, whereupon there was a further interruption. At the conclusion of the reading of the Report, the following Resolution was adopted unanimously, Messrs. W. French, Jas. O'N. Conroy, Earle and others speaking in support of it.

RESOLUTION. WHEREAS, A Petition was presented last year to the Legislature signed by some fifteen thousand electors praying for a modification of the Prohibition Act which would allow reputable citizens to obtain limited quantities of alcoholic beverages for their personal use; AND WHEREAS, a Royal Commission on Prohibition in its report recommends the stricter enforcement of the Prohibition Act with an allowance of a bottle of spirits and the equivalent in beer or wine every three months to each household in the country; AND WHEREAS, the Moderate Prohibition Committee has drafted an Act in which the allowance of intoxicating liquor shall not exceed twenty-four fluid ounces of spirits or its equivalent in wine or beer each week; AND WHEREAS, this meeting is of the opinion that experience has shown the Prohibition Act to be unworkable; AND WHEREAS, the allowance proposed by the Royal Commission is insufficient to discourage illegal import and manufacture of alcoholic beverages, but large enough to make such illegal import and manufacture less easily detected; AND WHEREAS, the quantity proposed by the Moderate Prohibition Committee would tend to discourage both smuggling and illicit distillation and at the same time satisfy the desires of those who use alcohol without abusing it; BE IT RESOLVED, that this meeting is of the opinion that legislation should be immediately introduced embodying the principles of the proposed Act drafted by the Moderate Prohibition Committee; BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that in the opinion of this meeting, the recommendations of the Royal Commission on Prohibition will only tend to bring the law into disrepute, will be no effective remedy against the evils of intemperance, will destroy the remaining safeguards of the home, encourage the spy and the informer, and introduce into our Courts inquisitorial methods subversive of all the principles of British jurisprudence. A deputation was appointed to present the Resolution at the Bar of the House this afternoon. The National Anthem then brought a most enthusiastic meeting to a close at 1:30 p.m.

At the Yarmouth Y.M.C.A. Boys' Camp, held at Tuxford Falls in August, 1920, the following is the most beneficial for sunburn, an immediate relief for colic and toothache. ALFRED STOKES, General Secy.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

GOVERNMENT ISSUES ULTIMATUM

LONDON, May 30. (Canadian Associated Press)—The coal strike has taken a dramatic turn over the week end. Miners and owners have been given to understand that the Government has said its last say, namely they must either agree or submit their dispute to compulsory arbitration. Proposals of the Government, according to a report of the last Conference, include both a temporary and permanent settlement of the dispute. The Government's proposal is that during the temporary period, wages will be scaled down gradually to an economic level by aid of Government grants of ten million pounds, and owner's profits will be used to assist in breaking the fall. A permanent settlement is to be one of three forms, Arbitration, National Wage Board or a Tribunal of Three for single arbitrator. Terms of reference are virtually all ready, and exclude the raising of the question of a pool of wages. The Government's proposal will now go before district meetings of the Miners' Union for discussion, and the men's votes will be considered Friday. Owners meet on Wednesday.

AN EPOCHAL MEETING.

LONDON, May 30. Premier Hughes of Australia arrived in Toulon to-day, en route to London where he is to attend the Conference of British Premiers. Hughes said representatives of the Dominions would meet for the first time at a Conference to mould and formulate a Foreign policy for the Empire, which had hitherto been decided by Britain alone.

Jutland Relic Stolen.

DESECRATION OF WAR MEMORIAL AT A CHURCH. An almost incredible theft has been committed at All Saints', South Acton. A part of the war memorial dedicated in the porch of the church last April was the Union Jack which Seaman Skilling, who lives in the parish, drilled into the sea to save when it was shot away at the Battle of Jutland. Torn by shot, and stained by salt water, the flag was regarded with special pride. It has been stolen, having been detached from the staff to which it was knotted. The sacrilege has caused great indignation in the large working class district, and a reward has been offered for the recovery of the flag or for information which will lead to the conviction of the thief.

Pastor Stops Mob With Gun.

HATTIESBURG, MISS., May 27.—Pistol in hand, the Rev. G. S. Harmon, a Methodist preacher, stood off last night a masked mob intent upon removing Casey E. Jones from the Methodist hospital here. Jones was wounded yesterday by J. S. Mosely, after he had shot and dangerously wounded Mrs. Mosely. Dr. Harmon, commissioner of the hospital after learning that feeling was aroused against Jones took his stand at the stairhead after asking for police protection. Before the officers arrived, however, a number of masked men slipped into the building to find themselves confronted by the preacher. "Doctor, we aren't going to make any racket," said one "we just want our man." "I am a Methodist preacher," replied the doctor, "in charge of this hospital and, responsible for all in it. You will not come up those steps unless you cross my dead body. Now shoot if you dare. You may kill me, but you shall not come up those steps."

NOTE OF THANKS.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Melvin, Grand Falls, wishes to thank Dr. Parsons, Matron and Nurses of the Insane Asylum, for their kind attention tendered their daughter Annie during her stay at the institution; also Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Vasey and family, Mrs. Harry Vasey, Mrs. John Ryan and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Martin and family, and Miss L. Parrell, for visiting her at the institution and rendering other valuable assistance.—adv.

NOTE OF THANKS.

Mr. Wm. Armstrong desires to thank all kind friends who assisted him in his recent bereavement; also those who sent letters and telegrams of sympathy, especially Dr. Keegan and staff, Rev. Fr. Casey North River, Mrs. John Casey, Harbor Grace, also Misses Casey for kind acts shown; Mrs. A. F. Fleming, St. Vincent's, Prof. King, Mrs. Heriberto, Sisters Larnier, Fleming and Jones, Nurses Hogan and Foley, Mr. Gibbons, Middle Gut, Peter's River, and all other kind friends who visited my wife at the Hospital; also Mrs. C. H. O'Keefe and Miss Casey for wreaths.—adv.

NOTE OF THANKS.

In my note of thanks that appeared on Saturday in your paper, I am sorry that I omitted the following names—Mrs. John Oke and family, Mrs. Collier, (Collier's Lane), Mrs. (Rev.) W. B. Bugden, "Flowers," Rev. and Mrs. A. H. Canning, N.S., for kind letters of sympathy; also Mr. and Mrs. B. Bower for valuable help. Many have helped me to bear the burden and strewed the pathway with kindness that money could not buy. The great Helper and Healer will not forget the cup of cold water when the rewards are given. T. THOSE TERRIBLE DECISIONS.

There is no more dangerous habit in the world than the habit of backtracking over one's decisions.

A week ago I went shopping with a friend of mine. We saw a very attractive taffeta dress which was just the price she was willing to pay and a most becoming style. But alas, it was hopelessly too short and we could think of no good way of letting it down sufficiently. My friend is one of the many women between 30 and 40 who, being of slight and youthful build, have been in the habit of getting misses' dresses but find this year (that the extreme shortness of misses' frocks makes this almost impossible. She finally gave up the taffeta frock and bought one which cost $5.00 more and did not suit her quite so well.

To Red and Thought.

Yesterday I met her again and she said, "Do you know last night after I got to bed I thought of the nicest way I could have lengthened that dress we liked so much. We could have bought some georgette and—"

"How did you happen to be thinking of that dress?" I asked.

"Oh, I was wondering if I had been foolish not to get it, short as it was, and then I thought of that way to lengthen it. I'm so mad with myself that I didn't think of it before."

Isn't that a typical state of mind? And isn't it foolish?

A Wasteful Emotion.

If she were going to be mad with herself (a wasteful emotion) the thing to have been mad at was that she should have thought of the dress at all at that stage of affairs.

Every new day brings to us all some decisions of one kind or another to make. Of course when I say decision, I do not mean anything of large moment necessarily. Whether it be better to have the Wyman's to dinner Friday or wait until next week; whether to buy a new suit and make one's two year old coat do another summer, or to get a smart new wrap and manage without a suit; whether to have the living room prepared the lighter or the darker brown; whether to put an extra blanket over Johnny; whether to take one's vacation all in a lump or in week-ends; whether to invest one's savings in one bank or another—this is the tissue of small, and not so small, decisions out of which the pattern of an average life is made.

Don't Backtrack.

Now if we do not let yesterday's decisions alone, but keep digging them up and fumbling over them, we shall not be able to make to-day's decisions properly.

Train yourself to make decisions thoughtfully and carefully after a reasonable consideration of pros and cons, to act promptly, and then to put the whole matter behind you. In no other way can you attain true peace of mind.

Man's Form Excels Woman's in Beauty.

"Man, as distinguished from woman," says Professor Ramsay Traquair, Professor of Architecture at McGill University, "has, as will be acknowledged by all artists, a form more abstractly beautiful than woman. The Greek sculptor, who was distinguished by an exalted love of beauty, showed his appreciation of this by making all his figures of women very masculine in their proportion, and by emphasizing in his female figures the resemblance to the more beautiful male." It seems a pity Professor Traquair commented that with these natural advantages man should condemn himself to wear his present inane, expensive and grotesque garments when there are so many ways in which he could make himself more interesting at much less expenditure.

Professor Traquair thinks there is something to be said in favor of open necks and short trousers. "Our gallant troops in Mesopotamia found the advantages of this dress," he pointed out, stating also his opinion that the only decently clad male creatures of the present day are possibly the Boy Scouts. Asking if he had any suggestion to offer as to an artistic dress for men, the Professor said that any scheme would have to be founded on traditional lines, as anything absolutely new would never be considered. As it was, he saw not the slightest chance of any change in male attire being adopted. The kilts, regarded not as a uniform, but as a normal dress for ordinary life, as it should be regarded, was, he thought, certainly more beautiful and probably more economical and comfortable than present day man's dress. Any scheme in this country would have to provide for a summer and winter form of attire, and those which suggested themselves to him were the kilts, made in all materials, or shorts worn with coats for summer and knickerbocker, for winter with the kilts or knee breeches for ceremonial occasions.

Orange Wreaths for Brides.

Various theories have been given regarding the use of orange blossoms as bridal ornaments. The custom is supposed to have been brought to Europe by the crusaders from the East, the Saracen brides being accustomed to wear orange wreaths at their marriage. To this objection was raised that although the orange tree was brought to England as early as 1290, it was long before there was any real cultivation of it even in green-houses. A second theory is that orange blossoms came to be worn by brides on their marriage because they were not only scented, but also were rare and costly and so within the reach of only the noble and rich, that indicating the bride to be of high rank. A third is that orange wreaths had their origin in Spain, where oranges have been cultivated for centuries. These the fashion passed to France, and by means of French millinery was spread to other lands.

Druggists also sell larger packages. Made in Canada. Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada), of Bayer Manufacture of Monacoeleicacidester of Salicylicacid.

Battleship Tragedy.

Man Killed While Attacking a Pantry Steward.

Details of an extraordinary tragedy on a warship were given at an inquest at Liverpool on Private Albert Andrews, R.M.L.I. The tragedy occurred on board H.M.S. Valiant while the battleship was in the Mersey. It stated that Andrews, who was under the influence of drink at the time, went into the wardroom pantry, and a steward named Cecil Mitchell reprimanded him for stealing cheese. Andrews struck the steward, who was cutting sandwiches, and was preparing to hit him again, when Mitchell put out his hand to ward off the blow. He was holding a knife, and Andrews accidentally knocked it into his own throat.—Medical evidence supported Mitchell's version of the affair.—A verdict of "Death by misadventure" was returned.

"God Bless Mr. Murray."

Child Recites Nightly Prayer for Premier of Nova Scotia.

"God bless Mr. Murray and make him well." This was the prayer of a little child recited every night by her bedside for the Premier of Nova Scotia. And as it seemed last night it was the prayer of every man and woman in Nova Scotia, expressed through their representatives in Parliament, when the members of the House of Assembly were speaking on the resolution congratulating Hon. George H. Murray on approaching the twenty-fifth anniversary of his premiership, the longest tenure of office of any man as Premier in the history of the British Empire.

The resolution was moved by Mr. R. H. Graham, member for Pictou County. It was seconded on behalf of the Opposition by Mr. D. C. MacKenzie, member for Cumberland. Those speaking to the motion on both sides of the House were Mr. J. B. Douglas, member for Halifax; Hon. R. M. MacGregor, member for Pictou; Mr. C. W. Anderson, member for Guysboro; Hon. E. H. Armstrong, Minister of Works and Mines; Mr. Howard Corning, Conservative member for Yarmouth; Mr. Macgillivray, member for Antigonish; and Hon. R. E. Finn, member for Halifax.—Morning Chronicle.

"Dew of Death."

The use of poisonous gas at the end of the world war "was a child's game compared to what it will be in the future." Brigadier-General Amos A. Fries, chief of the chemical warfare service, declared at the annual dinner of that service held in Washington. General Fries described in detail two of the American Army's most powerful gas weapons and the method of using them. There are the "toxic smoke candle" and a liquid gas called the "dew of death." Speaking of the toxic smoke candle, he said the old type gas that involved the burying of cylinders in deep trenches, requiring the work of many men for many days to prepare an attack, was obsolete. The modern method, whereby the poison gas is generated by heating a solid, was a totally different matter. The solid was foolproof. It might be crushed, mashed, or punctured with bullets or shells without harm. It was only when the fuse was lighted and the heating mixture was working that the gases were driven off. If three drops of this liquid gas were absorbed into the skin it would cause death in most cases, while lesser quantities, down to probably one-tenth, would put every man in hospital. This gas, and the common mustard gas which likewise burns the skin, could be sprinkled from aeroplanes in practically unlimited quantities. Thus entire fields, forests, camps, and railroad centres may be covered with the "dew of death."

YAP.

I never heard the name of Yap in all my days, till lately; I knew not it was on the map, or it mattered greatly. I'd heard of Swat, so I'd see Akhond, I'd see long since to heights of glory; but Yap has never, I suppose, been seen in song of story. I do not know what waters lave its shores of mud or coral, but now it's making nations rave, inspires another quarrel. I have encountered many yaps, who all around have flourished, and never wondered if these chaps in Yap were born and nourished. And now this island, cape or rock, peninsula or hollow, is stirring up much warlike talk, and there'll be more to follow. I'm always prompt to join a scrap when foemen need a whipping, but I would hate to fight for Yap, with yaps around me yapping. I'll not be with the craven crew if call to arms is spoken; I'd bravely fight for Timbuctoo, and slug for old Hoboken; the country's foe I'll roundly slap, my wrath on him I'll visit, but I would hate to scrap for Yap or any great what-is-it! Is it a thing like Puget Sound, a lake like good old Erie, is it a hollow in the ground, a desert bleak and dreary? Is it a crater or a rap, a haven for the farmer? I'll have to know much more of Yap before I don my armor.

America's Re-Entry.

President Harding's first message to Congress is a challenge of essential things accomplished by the Allies since the Peace Conference assembled in Paris nearly two years ago. It opposes a direct negative to the solemn compact entered into by Mr. Woodrow Wilson. Mr. Harding does not repudiate the Treaty of Versailles, but as the Treaty is dependent on the Covenant of the League of Nations, to which he will not subscribe, it is obvious that either Europe must abandon the League or America must enter into a separate peace with Germany. As Mr. Harding has made it clear that in his opinion Germany was morally guilty of causing the war and must face the consequences of defeat, Germany will gain nothing from a separate peace. But the world is faced with the embarrassment of a League which America will not recognize, and some others wish had never been called into existence. America has formulated the most strenuous objections to mandates to which she was not a party, more particularly that granted to Japan in the island of Yap. The argument is that Germany renounced her right in favour of the Allied and Associated powers, and American views cannot be ignored. The fact that America held aloof whilst the other powers were called upon to take momentous decisions, and that the whole world could not walk for the Presidential election, does not qualify the line adopted by Republican diplomacy. What is to be the

FIFTY YEARS ROMANCE OF AN ADOPTED CHILD.

Romance, it seems, is far from dead these days. An elderly Harrogate couple are now spending their honeymoon in London after a love story of which the first chapter was written 50 years ago. For it was then that Mr. and Mrs. Toulson, of the famous Yorkshire spa, adopted a twelve-year-old girl named Beeson. Twelve years ago Mrs. Toulson died, and now Mr. Beeson, aged 38, has married Miss Beeson, aged 30, their trip to London being the latest chapter in the romance.

DEBATE ON SUPPLY. MR. HIGGINS SCORES PROHIBITION ACT.

MONDAY, May 30. The House met at 3.15 p.m. The Prime Minister informed Sir John Crosbie that the Government intended to let the various districts have advances for loans on a per capita basis the total amount of the allocation to be $500,000. It was to come from the new loan.

Mr. Michael Cashin commented strongly on the small amount which his district would receive through this arrangement. The Prime Minister tabled the report of the Commission which enquired into the matter of intoxicating liquors. Notices of question were given by Mr. Moore, Sir Michael Cashin, Mr. Walsh, Mr. Sinnott.

RYTHM
Pylorrea is the most destructive, the most difficult to treat, yet one of the commonest of all the diseases of the stomach. It is present in the mouths of countless thousands of adults who fondly think their teeth are in perfect condition. It progresses slowly, and in its early stages, painlessly. The gums become soft and bleed easily; then they grow sore and become inflamed. Pus forms at the roots of the teeth and they loosen in their sockets. When the disease reaches this stage it affects the general health and usually extraction is the only remedy.

A Midshipman Sees Napoleon.

"Rummaging among old papers, discovery has been made of a remarkable letter, dated July 30, 1815, addressed to his mother-in-law by a midshipman in the Navy, stationed on the English ship Bellerophon, which conveyed Napoleon Bonaparte from France to St. Helena. "A part of it gives a vivid portrait of the fallen Emperor," says the Scotsman. "Bonaparte is a fine-looking man, inclined to corpulency; is five feet six inches in height, has hair turning grey, and is a little bald on the top of his head, no whiskers, complexion French yellow, eyes grey, Roman nose, good mouth and chin, neck short, big belly, arms stout, small white hands, and shows a good leg. He wears a cocked hat, somewhat like our old-fashioned three-cornered ones, with a tri-coloured cockade in it, plain green coat, cap red and cuffs the same, plain gold epaulettes and a large star on the left breast, white waistcoat and breeches and white silk stockings, thin shoes and buckles. "He eats but two meals in the day, breakfast and dinner, and these are sumptuous—fish, fowl, and fowl, wines, fruit, various French dishes, etc. He breakfasts about 11, and dines at 6, is about half-an-hour at each meal, when he generally comes on deck or goes into the after-cabin to study."

He Wants all the World to Know

THAT IT WAS DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS THAT HELPED HIM.

Mr. Alfred Labbie, who Suffered From Rheumatism and Backache, Tells Why He Recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills.

St. Honore, via Armand, Que., May 30th.—(Special)—Mr. Alfred Labbie, a well-known and highly respected resident here, is recommending Dodd's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from rheumatism or backache. He has a reason. "I suffered from backache and rheumatism," Mr. Labbie states. "I spent much money on other remedies. But it was Dodd's Kidney Pills that helped me. I work now and I am well. That is why I would like all the world to know about Dodd's Kidney Pills." Dodd's Kidney Pills are purely and simply a kidney remedy. They strengthen the kidneys, and enable them to do their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood. Healthy kidneys make a healthy body. Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make healthy kidneys.

The Significance of the Wedding Ring.

For over a thousand years the wedding ring has been the necessary feature of the Religious Wedding Ceremony, and for thousands of years to come it will probably hold its place as the symbol of marriage. In the old days of Pagan Rome, betrothals and weddings were symbolized by the gift of a ring to the bride-elect, but the ring was made of iron.

In the second century A.D. gold was introduced, and it was then that the custom of indicating the marriage state by the use of a wedding ring became more general until to-day the whole civilized world recognizes the wedding ring as the accepted sign of marriage.

For many years the wedding ring has been of plain gold, but there is now a tendency to adopt a wedding ring with various designs carved in the gold, which makes it possible for the giver to add to the significance of the wedding ring itself something particularly appropriate to the circumstances under which it was given such as the month of the year, or a special design which might have a meaning only known to the bride and her husband.

As the wedding ring indicates one of the most sacred and vital of human associations, it is quite natural that anything which would add to the worth and beauty of the symbol will be appreciated by the brides of this year and the years to follow. From the charming designs that have been chosen to represent the months, the bride may choose. Should she be married in January, she will find the snowdrop symbol; in February the almond blossom; March, the violet; April, the tulip; May, the pansy; June, the bridal rose; July, the lily; August, the pond lily; September, the daisy; October, the maple leaf; November, the oak leaf, and December, the holly.

Why Do You Sleep?

IS IT BECAUSE YOU'RE TIRED, OR—
Have you ever wondered why you sleep? Nine out of ten people asked the question would probably answer: "Because I'm tired when I go to sleep." Scientists and doctors have for years been trying to find out what exactly causes sleep, and what takes place during sleep to make one awake refreshed. Many different theories have been advanced, but Edwin F. Bowers, M.D., in an interesting little book, "Sleeping for Health," says that the only point upon which everyone is agreed is that the nine people out of every ten are right—we sleep because we are tired. One theory is that the physical basis of sleep is a temporary anoxia in the brain, but against this idea we have the fact that some people can't get to sleep without a stimulant as a "night-cap"—which has the effect of sending more blood to the brain. Other people say that sleep is the period when the "clinkers" are removed from our bodies. In other words, we derive energy while we are awake by eating, breathing and drinking, and throw off the refuse while we sleep. The explanation of sleep which Dr. Bowers seems to favour is that the human dynamo, which is constantly giving us energy while we are awake, is busy recharging itself—accumulating another supply of vitality—during the hours we sleep. For many years past we have laboured under the delusion that the average person only requires a few hours' sleep, and that anyone who stays in bed for nine or ten hours is a sluggard. The vast majority of people need at least nine hours' sleep; and the few who can get along with only four hours are exceptions. While you are asleep, the "wear and tear" upon your body during your waking hours is being made good, and unless when you wake, you feel refreshed and reinvigorated, this hasn't been done.

Carried His Bride Home.
EARL OF MINTO ADHERES TO ANCESTRAL CUSTOM.

Lord Minto, who has just arrived at his ancestral home in Scotland, carried his bride into his ancestral home. This is in accordance with an ancient custom of the house. For generations it has been the custom for the new bride to be carried over the threshold for the first time by her husband. Those who watched the ceremony gave the bride and bridegroom a hearty welcome.

Minto House is a fine four-storied mansion standing above the vale of the Tiviot near Hawick. Lady Minto was Miss Marion Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Cook, of Montreal. Her engagement to Lord Minto, announced in November, 1920, from Montreal, created great interest in English society at the time. They were married in January of this year at Montreal, and spent part of their honeymoon in South Carolina. The Earl of Minto is thirty years of age. At one time he held a commission in the Scots Guards. He is a brother of the Countess of Cromer and Lady Violet Astor—English noper.

A 3,000-Year-Old Woman.

Compared with the skeleton found at Tibury some years ago—to say nothing of Eoanthropus, whose skull was found in the Piltdown, (Sussex), and whose antiquity is almost incalculable—the woman whose body has been discovered buried in a hollowed-out tree trunk at Etival, in Jutland, is almost modern, says the Mail. "She is perhaps 3,000 years junior to that primitive lady revealed by the breaking away of the cliff at Walton-on-the-Naze, who made a meal of haws and blackberries just before she died and whose skull measurements correspond, according to Professor Keith, almost exactly with those of the average woman student of to-day.

Nevertheless, she is very interesting to people in this country, in whom there is so much Jute or Anglian blood. The ornaments buried with her, the skirts, and the mere fact that she was interred in a coffin all point to the existence among these remote and inaccessible ancestors of ours, of a higher degree of civilization than that with which we are accustomed to credit them."

One Interview in 110 Years.

"The Dalai Lama of Lhasa, in Tibet, has just given an interview to an electrical engineer. This is the first time that a Lama has talked with a European in 110 years," says the Scientific American.

Household Notes.

Wipe your pantry shelves with denatured alcohol every few weeks if you are troubled with red ants. Marshmallow coffee sauce is delicious with caramel ice cream. Tartar should not be removed from the baking sheet until cold. A fresh egg, if placed in a bowl of water, sinks nearly to the bottom. Bread sandwiches are good with moulded vegetable salad. Mint and currant loaves are nice served with puff paste cut in fancy shapes. A meringue baked slowly in a warm oven with the door open will not fall.

War Memorial to Convicts.

Major-General Seely, as Lord Lieutenant of Hampshire, recently visited Parkhurst Prison, Isle of Wight, and unveiled in the presence of about 700 convicts a brass tablet erected in the prison chapel, and subscribed for by convicts only, in memory of their fellow-prisoners who were liberated to fight during the war and who fell in action. The inscription on this pathetic memorial ran thus:—"To the Glory of God and in memory of those men who went out from imprisonment in this place and gave their lives on the Field of Honour in the Great War, 1914-1918. "These are they which came out of great tribulation." Rev. 7, 14. "Erected by their fellow prisoners."
