the farmers of England are experiencing, the farmers of England are experiencing, owing to free agricultural imports, there be added the additional one of the importation of bounty-produced and bounty-carried im-porta, thuscausing the competition to be much keener, there would seem to be every reason to expect some action on the part of the Im-perial parliament to save the farmers of Eng-land from ruin. There seems little doubt, therefore, that if this policy of the American grangers were carried out, Great Britain would be compelled to meet these bounty-produced articles with a duty, at least equal to the bounty paid by the United States. And the adoption of such a policy on the part of the mother country would be a long step in the direction of what many colonial statesmen are hoping for—preferential trade within the Empire. In other words they are hoping that before many years Great Britain can be induced to tax foreign imports and admit those from the colonies free. If this new policy of the American grangers has a tendency to bring about such preferential trade, we on this side of the line can watch owing to free agricultural imports, there be trade, we on this side of the line can watch the movement with a great deal of composure.

the movement with a great deal of composure. Our neighbors might therefore be doing us a valuable service in beginning this agitation. —The ladies of the Council of Women and of the King's Daughters of St. John are agi-tating in favor of re-establishing the ancient custom of ringing a Curfew Bell at nine o'clock every evening, as a signal for all chil-dren to be off the streets. This ancient practice, which came to England with the Conquerer, and was regarded by the Saxons as an act of tyranny, was abolished there about a century after its introduction. Re-cently, however, the custom has been re-vived in some towns of the United States and Ontario under the condition that it ap-ply only to children, and it has been found to lead to beneficial results. The weather proving fine a large number were present from this place. The evening passed in social conversation and Port Lorne as well as from this place. The evening passed in social conversation and music, a most enjoyable time being spent. Mr. John E. Farnsworth, of Hampton, and Mr. George Hill, of this place, were the lucky ones in taking the quilts. We extend to our friends of Hamp-ton and Port Lorne a hearty vote of thanks for their kind attendance. The proceeds arising from both social and sale amounted to $40.50.

History of Melvern Square,-Continued, There is a tradition that Melvern Square

There is a tradition that Melvern Square was an Indian reserve. Indeed, it seems quite probable that it may have been. The French came quite near this tract of country, both on the east and on the west, but we have no definite accounts of them ever being in this particular spot. Melvern Square was then as now consid-ered one of the most fertile parts of the An-napolis Valley, and it seems quite likely that it was an Indian reserve. Every tree of temperate regions was found here, such as maple (hard and soft), yellow and white pine, cedar, haemataçk, ash, elm, oak, bemlock, black and white birch, fir and sprace. Some of these trees grew to an immense size. There was one yellow pine on the banks of the McNeil brock that girted 21ft. There dpine was noce quite plentiful but is now almost extinct. Besides the black and white birch there was a variety called the cance birch, which was valuable for its bark, which could be stripped off in large pieces. This bark was used by the white people for making baskets. Beautiful cedar groves existed where now only an occasional lone is seen. Imagine what this district must have been like in autumn: the trees of crimson and gold with their dark green background of evergreen, must have been truly beautiful. Nor have all these trees been removed; enough still remain to make the place look very pretty. It was in this region that the Miemao In-dians hunted the mose and caribou and captured the salmon and front that sported in the brooks. Remains of Indian cances are still found along the banks of the McNeil brook. The trees of the forest in most cases have

The trees of the forest in most cases have The trees of the forest in most cases have been supplanted by apple trees, and, all along on either side of the roads can be seen fine orchards. It is computed that 10,000 barrels of apples are annually raised in this village. Besides apples there is quite an amount of small fruit raised. One small fruit farm is that which is now owned by Mr. Fred McNeil. Hisfather, the late Wm. McNeil, was the first to introduce the small fruit business in this county. Now every farmer has his patch of strawberries and raspberries, and plum, pear, peach and apri-oot trees are seen in many orchards. s.M.C.

-It is reported for moltawa that negotia-tions with a view to bringing Newfoundland into the Dominion are to be re-opened. When Newfoundland rejected Canada's pro-posal of confederation last year there was a difference of $5,000,000 between the negotiat-ing parties, the colony demanding that amount more than the Canadian cabinet were prepared to allow. At the time it was hoped that in order to settle the Nowfoundland and the French shore question, a standing manace to the continuance of friendly relations be-tween Great Britain and France, the British government would give financial aid to the project, but Lord Roseberry refused to do so. The change of government in England has placed Mr. Chamberlain at the head of the Colonial Office, and it is understood he is prepared to recommend that the British parliament appropriate the amount that now stands in the way of union.

The Meanest Man on Earth.

Digby Courier: The meanest man on earth has been heard from. He lives in Granville. His neighbors say that when he leaves his His neighbors say that when he leaves his house in the morning for a day's work he imprisons a fly in the sugar bowl. If it is there on his return all is right; but if it is gone he knows that his wife has been hand-ling the dish and probably appropriating some of the contents and a domestic storm ensues. We haven't heard of his equal yet.

Beneath the Waves. The number of Gloucester fishing schoon-ers lost during the year was 11, of a total tonnage of 91.200 tons, representing a value of some $70,000, and an insurance of $53,000. The whole number of lives lost in the fisher-ies, including deaths at sea, drownings in port, etc., has been 94, against 137 for the previous year, when 30 vessels, of a tonnage of 242,342 tons, valued at $175,000, and in-sured for $157,636, were lost.

Embargo on Sheep.

London, Nov. 28.—The Board of Agricul-ture has issued an order forbidding the in-portation of sheep from the United States and Canada unless the animals are slaught-ered at their port of landing. The order goes into effect on Jan. 1, and is due to ar-rival during recent months of many cargoes of sheep which have been infested with scab.

fact, in twelve months I was a new creature, and to day I can stand and speak over two gives the plan of an experiment for the im-provement of light lands by the use of crimhours without a rest. I can perform all my hours without a rest. I can perform all my public duties which devolve upon me, with-out fatigue, and do all the walking which I have to do, and am thankful for it. I can anafely say I was never in a better state of health than I am to-day, and that I attribute is to the patient, persevering use of Dr. Wil-liams' Pink Pills. "I fally, cordially and strongly commend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all or any who suffer in a similar way, and feel sure that any one who adopts Pink Pills with persever-ance and patience canoot find their expecta-tions unrealized or their reasonable hopes blasted. But he will find that blessing which is the roward of a full crust in a true and reson clover and cowpeas and a statement regarding the method of cultivating cowpeas on a large scale in New Jersey. Cowpeas, following crimson clover, yielded at the rate of 14,400 pounds of green material per acre.

The vines contained 2,278, 1 pound of organic dry matter, 70.6 pounds of nitrogen, 17.3 pounds of phosphoric acid and 50.4 pounds of potash. The roots on one acre weighed only 1,080 pounds and contained 294.2 pounds of organic dry matter, 4.2 pounds of nitrogen, 1.5 pounds of phosphoric acid and 4.4 pounds of potash per acre. The blasted. But he will find that blessing which is the reward of a full trust in a true and re-liable remedy. I shall always wish and de-sire the greatest success for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and always cheriah a deep feeling of gratitude to the friend who first said to me buy Pink Pills. I have tried them and know their true value, and am truly glad I did, for I have found them from a good ex-perience, to do more than is actually claimed for them." roots and vines grown on an acre contained total of 34.8 pounds of nitrogen, 18.8 pounds of phosphoric acid and 54.8 pounds of potash. The nitrogen in the vines is equivalent to that contained in $437\frac{1}{2}$ pounds of nitrate of sola and is valued at about \$11.
