BRAND FRIEDMANN CURE AS WORTHLESS

London, Ont., June 25.—"In order to allay public excitement and to afford to the medical profession and the people of Canada an authoritative statement regarding the value of Dr. Friedmann's treatment, the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis nominated a committee of five members to study and report upon cases inoculated by Dr. Friedmann, at Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, and London.

"That committee has added to itself those physicians who have had under their observation the cases treated in those cities. The committee thus constituted reports that it has carefully studied the case histories of the patients inoculated by Dr. Friedmann. These number altogether 116 namely for Montreal 10; for Ottawa 10; for Toronto 81; for London, 15.

"As a result of our observations from March 11, to the present the following conclusions seem justifiable: "1—The inoculations have neither constantly nor frequently been followed by marked change in the clinical course of the disease.

"2—The cure or progress towards the cure claimed by Dr. Friedmann, for the treatment has neither constantly or even frequently taken place in the time during which these cases have been under observation.

"3—Thus upon investigation the committee finds that the results have been disappointing, and that the claim made for his remedy by Dr. Friedmann have not been proven, and that nothing has been found to justify any confidence in the remedy."

(Signed: Prof. J. George Adams; Prof. J. J. Mackenzie; Dr. A. H. Caulfield; Dr. E. S. Harding; Dr. John W. S. McCullough; Dr. William H. Ross; Dr. J. H. Elliott; Dr. Geo. Porter; Dr. Charles H. Hodgette, a member of the committee being averse to making any report, did not sign the above.

PASSED UNANIMOUSLY

With none to praise him, the above resolution, condemnatory of Dr. Friedmann and his "cure" was unanimously passed at a meeting of the Canadian Medical Society held to-night. There was a good deal of applause when the resolution was read, the sympathy of the entire audience apparently being against the German.

There was no discussion whatever.

Shortly after the meeting assembled Professor Adams was introduced and briefly outlined the history of events leading up to the report. Much had been heard of Dr. Friedmann and his remedy. Although guilty of much that was unethical so far as the profession was concerned, the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis had determined to give him a thorough test under the most favorable circumstances in view of the public clamor. He was invited to come to Canada, visit four cities, and was allowed to treat patients of his own selection.

The conditions were most favorable to Dr. Friedmann, no interference or unjust treatment being accorded him. The medical men of Canada approach him and his remedy with an open mind.

Dr. Porter then presented the report to the Association, which was adopted unanimously.

"It is in our wish that this be given to the public, with the endorsement of the Canadian Medical Association," queries Dr. McCullum.

Professor Adams agreed to that and the audience applauded the finding.

HUNDRED MILLIONS TO BE EXPENDED BY C. P. R.

Montreal, June 27.—One hundred million dollars will be spent on improvements to the Canadian Pacific Railway system this year, according to an official statement made by Sir Thomas Shaughnessy today.

This will mark a record in expenditure for the C. P. R. and the figures arouse all the more surprise owing to the general tightness of the money market.

Sir Thomas' statement was as follows: "The activities of this great corporation and their influence on the financial, mercantile, manufacturing and labor interests of Canada will be partially appreciated when it is stated that in the current year, the company's appropriations for the construction of additional railway mileage for cars and locomotives, terminal facilities at St. John, Montreal, Toronto, Fort William, Winnipeg, Calgary, Vancouver and elsewhere for ocean steamships and hotels, extensions of the telegraph system, shops, sidings and improvements generally in Canada, will approximate no less a sum than $100,000,000.

In Hudson Straits

Presence of Ice Makes Special Seamanship Necessary.

Now that the government has committed itself definitely to the establishment of a port or ports in Hudson Bay, has already made considerable progress in the hydrographic and magnetic survey of both Bay and Strait, and has even sent up buoys and other aids to navigation preliminary to the opening up of a trade route, it becomes a matter of some interest to the general public to know something at least of the conditions under which navigation in that region will have to be carried on. That these conditions differ markedly from those attending navigation by the regular trans-Atlantic routes does not appear to be generally recognized.

Probably the most interesting, certainly the most important, of these new conditions is the presence of field ice. By field is meant cakes or pans of ice from four to forty feet in thickness and from a few feet to half a mile or more in diameter. Enormous fields, or areas, of this ice are common enough phenomena, as well along the Labrador coast as in Hudson Strait and Bay, during almost every month of the year. The importance to the navigator of this state of affairs can hardly be over-estimated. Unless he is provided with a vessel especially designed and reinforced for this work, he will require to exercise the utmost caution even in passing through "slack" ice, and if by any one of a number of causes the ice should "tighten" he will be in imminent danger of destruction. It will be necessary, therefore, to consider briefly the origin and movements of the field ice in the region of Hudson Bay and Strait, in order that some estimate may be formed both of the possibilities and of the limitations to the future navigator.

It has already been intimated that ice flows very greatly in thickness. This is due to the fact that the field ice commonly encountered in Hudson Strait is of two distinct varieties. The first, often called "ordinary" field ice, is the product of a single winter and is found along the Strait. Its thickness rarely reaches ten feet. The second, known as "old" ice, may be formed by the piling up, or "rafting," by gales, of ordinary ice, or it may be the product of several winters' freezing and be blown down into the Bay and Strait and Fox Channel. This ice is often discolored, is hummocky, and may attain a thickness of fifty feet.

The movement of field ice, as also its tightness or slackness, may be attributed to the action either of wind, or current, or of both combined. It is in fact extraordinary sensitive to these two agents. A pack of ice, for example, which when viewed from the crow's nest extends on all sides to the horizon, and which is so tightly run together as completely to block any advance, may in the course of a few hours, owing to a turn of tide, run abroad sufficiently to allow of the ship's proceeding with scarcely any delay. Hudson Strait is unfortunately the home of tidal currents and races which while nearly always rapid are so uncertain both as to set and velocity as to render difficult if not impossible any precise determination of general ice movements. This, however, is certain that along the north shore of the Strait there are extremely rapid tidal currents which judging by the observed motion of icebergs, show a resultant set to westward. On the south shore, on the other hand, the resultant set of the tidal currents is to be eastward. As is quite to be expected, when the Strait is completely covered by field ice the latter is found to be slackest in mid-channel, since there the current is least. The disposition of the ice when the Strait is not completely covered, and therefore also the direction of its motion, depends largely upon the prevailing winds—the ice being found on the south or north shore according as the winds have been northerly or southerly. The well-known fact that the field ice as a whole has a resultant eastward drift and ultimately finds its way into the Atlantic, may therefore be readily ascribed to the marked preponderance, in that region, of northerly winds.—Canadian Courier.

Wynyard Judicial District

Appointment of H. A. Whitman, B.A. L.L.B. as Crown Prosecutor and Agent for the Attorney General.

(From the Wynyard Advance)

Born in Nova Scotia, the subject of this sketch, Herman Alton Whitman, came west in 1901, and after taking a normal course at Regina, began teaching school. From 1904 to 1908 he attended Wesley College, and after a brilliant course, graduated B. A. in 1908. Determining to study law, he articulated himself to the late Hon. T. Mayne Daly, K. C. In the fall of 1908, in 1910 he accepted an appointment with the law firm of Parker & Livingstone, Yorkton, where he gained a thorough training in law in all its branches.

Continuing his law course at Manitoba University, he graduated L.L.B. in 1911. Three busy months were then spent at the law courts in Toronto followed by a well-earned holiday at home, after a ten years' absence.

In looking for a location in Western Canada in the spring of 1912, Mr. Whitman was very much impressed with the possibilities of Wynyard, and he decided to locate here. Since his advent to town business has prospered greatly with him, but Mr. Whitman has always found time to take an interest in public affairs. He is one of the town school trustees and is an active member of the Board of Trade.

At the present time Mr. Whitman is in Nova Scotia, from where he will return with his bride about the middle of June. His duties as Crown Prosecutor will begin on July 1.

Little Miss Mildred Morgan and Masters Hugh and Ray Marshall preceded the bride, carrying a beautiful garland of flowers. The rooms were tastefully decorated with roses, bridal wreath and ferns, and the gift tables laden with beautiful and costly presents, which showed the esteem with which the young couple are held. After the ceremony and congratulations a reception was held and Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson left for their new home at Bridgetown, followed by the best wishes of their friends.—Digby Courier, June 27.

OUR APPLE CROP PROMISES TO BE DISAPPOINTING.

(Halifax Herald, July 1)

In line with dispatches in the Halifax Herald yesterday, an expert in the apple business, writing from Wolfville, says:—"Regarding condition of apple crop and outlook it is too early to give reliable information, but as far as we can at present tell the crop promises to be very disappointing, both as to the quantity and quality. The season has been cold, and at the blooming time weather was wet. The setting of fruit has been small, and the quality promises to be similar to last year, which was very spotted. With, of course, favorable weather, conditions may improve, but it is our opinion that the crop will be smaller than that of last year."

ANOTHER TALK FOR YOUNG MEN

The importance of saving, as the first start on the road to fortune, is obvious. It is not what you earn, but what you save, that makes you rich.

If the average young man will simply apply the same intelligent effort to the care of his money that he does to the earning of it he will soon acquire the savings habit.

Presuming that YOU have already formed this excellent habit, and that you are now ready for an investment, we recommend for your consideration the 7 p. c. Cumulative Preferred Stock of the Maritime Nail Company. This is the amply-protected security of a prosperous Maritime industry, rendered even more attractive by a 50 p. c. Common Stock Bonus.

HYMENEAL.

HARRIS—POTTER.

A very pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Eber Potter at ten o'clock, Wednesday morning, June 25, when their only daughter, Miss Iva Potter was united in marriage to Murray Harris of Bear River.

The bride looked her loveliest in a gown of white silk with bridal veil and carried a bouquet of white carnations and was attended by little Muriel Archibald of Bear River, niece of the groom, as flower girl.

The happy couple stood under a green and white arch while the Rev. O. P. Brown spoke the words making them man and wife.

After a sumptuous wedding breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Harris were driven to Bear River station in F. Beeler's automobile, en route to St. John. On their return they will reside in Bear River.

HUTCHINSON—CLARKE

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. S. D. Marshall yesterday, Thursday, June 26th, at twelve o'clock, when her niece, Frances Prescott Clarke, was united in marriage to Bradford Alister Hutchinson, of Bridgetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. Daniel, in the presence of a number of invited guests. The bride, who looked charming in a gown of all-over embroidery and carried a shower bouquet of orange blossoms and bridal wreath, entered the room on the arm of her uncle, George L. Marshall, accompanied by the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march.

While it is true as you are aware, this institution is situated just outside the corporation limits of Truro proper, and the jurisdiction of Town officials does not extend this far, yet the interests of this Provincial Institution and other Provincial Institutions within the Town, and our own Town Institutions, and our social relations as well, are so linked together and intimately connected that we feel that this Institution is part and parcel of Truro, and feeling as we do in this respect, we wish to say that in the future, in all the years since its inception, since the first modest school of agriculture was opened, and since the first nail was driven, the first soil turned and the first pure bred animal purchased for the more extended and practical experimental work and teaching of agriculture, has there been a time when there was a stronger and deeper feeling of confidence, friendship, respect and regard for this Institution and its highly respected staff.

During the life period of all corporations and institutions, and men, too, at some time in their history there comes through some cause what may be called a critical period. Such crisis, when they come, only serve to spur on those interests to greater ambition in the accomplishment of the honorable work in which they are interested. Good healthy criticism is permissible, yes, stimulating, but those who indulge in it should not forget in order to be fair critics, they must keep abreast of the times with every new development. There is the critic of fair reason and the critic of judgment.

It is now more than a quarter of a century since the Federal Government of the day began in a small way, at first, the experimental farm project that has developed so largely and has done so much for Canada. There was great need of, and a great field for, the work of such institutions, and the results have fully justified the effort and the expense.

Perhaps no greater proof of the power and great work of this institution can be given than that which has been given to you, that unsolicited, the Federal Government last year, recognizing its work, came forward and contributed handsomely towards its support and extension, and will, we believe, continue to do so this year and in the future.

On every hand, and in all branches of agriculture we see here in the province the practical results of the work of this institution; therefore it has our fullest confidence and support.

You are here today, ladies and gentlemen, representing the class of our people that make and unmake Governments at will, you can make and unmake customs too; your power and influence is greater than any other body or class of people.

May I make two suggestions to you that I think you should keep constantly in mind? You as producers should get as close as you can to the middle man whenever you can. One of the chief causes of the high cost of living today is because there are too many profits between the producer and the customer.

The other suggestion I would venture to make is that you ask for, work for, and demand better highways. Our public roads are such as should bring the blush of shame to every spirited man in this Province.

I again heartily welcome you to Truro and beg to assure you that all of our citizens welcome you, and trust that your visit will be both pleasant and profitable.

GEORGE W. STUART, Mayor.

DUKE COMING BACK TO CANADA

Ottawa, June 29.—The Duke of Connaught likes Canada and is coming back, too. Today Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, administrator of Canada, received a cable from the Secretary that "His Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught, has accepted an extension of his term of office as Governor General for one year." The cable also states that His Royal Highness is likely to return to Canada during the autumn, when it is hoped that Her Royal Highness, the Duchess of Connaught, will be well enough to accompany him on the journey.

The death of Rev. G. MacMillan, one of the leading ministers of the Presbyterian denomination in this Province, occurred at his home in Scotch Hill, Pictou County, on Monday evening, the 23rd. Mr. MacMillan, but a few weeks ago, resigned the pastorate of the Kentville Presbyterian church on account of his poor health.

A BIG EXCURSION DELEGATION TO TRURO

In spite of the dark and lowering skies in the early morning those intending to visit Truro today boarded the special train from Annapolis Royal all along the line, and when this train arrived in Truro about one o'clock over five hundred excursionists disembarked amid torrents of rain.

Some one hundred had arrived in town by earlier trains and many had driven in from near-by districts.

It was very disappointing but the crowd good-naturedly made the best of the exceedingly unpropitious weather, realizing that, if their expected merry holiday in Truro was spoiled the otherwise most refreshing rain was indeed welcome as the parched land on every side required just such gracious rain.

A move was soon made for the College Farm and a hearty welcome was extended to all by Principal Cumming and the other members of the faculty.

Mayor Stuart was early on hand and extended a generous welcome to all, (though regretting the disagreeable state of the weather that compelled the exercises to come off in-doors) in a most appropriate and well-worded address.

MAYOR STUART'S ADDRESS.

Ladies and Gentlemen: Representing, as you do, the interests of the Agriculturalists of this Province, notwithstanding you are gathered here on this occasion for a little recreation, but chiefly in the pursuit of investigations in the many problems relating to the intelligent prosecution of your honorable calling, yet, on behalf of the citizens of Truro, I crave a small portion of your valuable time to assure you of your very hearty welcome.

While it is true as you are aware, this institution is situated just outside the corporation limits of Truro proper, and the jurisdiction of Town officials does not extend this far, yet the interests of this Provincial Institution and other Provincial Institutions within the Town, and our own Town Institutions, and our social relations as well, are so linked together and intimately connected that we feel that this Institution is part and parcel of Truro, and feeling as we do in this respect, we wish to say that in the future, in all the years since its inception, since the first modest school of agriculture was opened, and since the first nail was driven, the first soil turned and the first pure bred animal purchased for the more extended and practical experimental work and teaching of agriculture, has there been a time when there was a stronger and deeper feeling of confidence, friendship, respect and regard for this Institution and its highly respected staff.

Forest fires THE CAUSE OF TREMENDOUS WASTE.

Montreal, June 26.—Canada is losing three times as much timber every year by forest fires as she is cutting for commercial uses. This statement was made today by one of the foremost authorities in this country on forestry matters, B. M. Winegar, and this tremendous waste, continued Mr.
Winegar is evidently not letting up this year as the reports from the Laurentian Mountains show.

The timber resources of the Dominion have been over valued and when it is realized that it takes on an average of a hundred years for a tree to grow up that is capable of producing two railway ties, it will be seen how disastrous these fires are, and how difficult it is for nature to catch up on these devastations caused by man's carelessness.

So far as the railway companies are concerned every possible care is being taken this year to remove any possibility of fires beginning from locomotive sparks and similar causes.
The Railway Commission, through its fire inspector, Clyde N. Leavitt, is taking up this matter in a stringent way.

Two forestry experts from the Maritime Provinces who are in the city today, Professor Miller, of the University of New Brunswick, and Mr. J.
Metcalfe, of Nova Scotia, both agree from tours that they have made that this is likely to be a bad year for forest fires. The wet season last year caused the brushwood, grass, etc., to grow fast and when that dries it will form a danger point that will have to be carefully watched. Following the lead of the United States fire preventive methods, are, they say, being slowly but surely developed in Canada.

Supervision can do much in this matter but it is necessary to educate the public to use every care when lighting and extinguishing fires in bush country.

A few years ago fishermen's fires in Nova Scotia led to the destruction of the best portion of a lumber company's holding of 150,000 acres, but this fire has served to bring into existence fire fighting appliances that were not thought of up to that time.

Improvements in Street Traffic

Canadian cities have not been behindhand in inaugurating and extending street railway systems, and some of them have now an excellent service. There is still room for improvement, however, and, in this connection, it is interesting to cast a glance at the developments in other countries.

A GLANCE AT SYSTEMS OVERSEAS.

England, which learned from America to apply electricity to her tramway problems, has now in some respects bettered the instruction. Municipal ownership is, in the Old Land, not the exception, but the rule. The fares are, on the whole, cheaper. On this side of the Atlantic, we pay five cents to go one block and five cents to go perhaps twenty miles. In England they pay according to distance, but some fairly long rides can be had for a penny. As the ordinary passenger on a street car seldom rides more than one mile, it is generally the case that the Englishman pays two cents where the Canadian would pay five.

In Britain they have doubled the capacity of the cars by adding an upper deck. Nowadays this is covered. Smoking is permitted upstairs, with the result that the majority of the men go aloft, and the lower compartment is left largely for the ladies.

The underground trolley system has been adopted in London, and in some United States cities. It is more expensive to install than the overhead trolley, but the advantage of doing away with the unsightly and dangerous poles and wires cannot be over-estimated.

ADVANTAGE OF THE AUTOBUS.

Gladstone told an American tourist that the way to see the largest city in the world was "from the top of a bus, sir, from the top of a bus." If Gladstone could stand in the Strand today, he would see a great transformation. The visitor can still see London from the top of a bus, but it will be from the top of a motorbus. There is a probability of this vehicle being introduced into Canada. It is reported that a company has recently obtained a charter from Montreal to install a service there, and steps are being taken to establish one in Winnipeg.

Experts are not wanting who prophesy that the autobus is destined to become a formidable competitor of the street railway, for the former undoubtedly possesses some important advantages. It is more accommodating than the trolley car. It impedes other traffic for less. It picks passengers and takes them along with a minimum of delay. Wires and poles are not needed and their absence would not be regretted. In short, the autobus is especially suited for work in busy streets and for special temporary services, though the electric car will probably hold its own for suburban traffic.—P. M. B., in Conservation for June.

UNITED STATES TO PUT A TAX ON JAMAICA BANANAS.

Kingston, Jamaica, June 29.—Consternation has been caused among banana planters here by the receipt from Washington of a cablegram announcing that the United States will impose a tax on Jamaica bananas. The government was appealed for help and a cablegram asking for details was sent to the British Ambassador at Washington. The banana industry is the principal one of Jamaica, and as most of the fruit goes to the United States the tax will be a serious blow to the British colony.

Fruit Crop Report

Ottawa, June 14, 1913.—The weather conditions of late can hardly be said to have been favourable to fruit growers. The excessively warm weather the latter part of April and the first of May was succeeded by cold weather that has continued until the present time, giving a marked setback to vegetation of all kinds. In addition, there have been several rather heavy frosts, notably on the nights of June 7 and 8, affecting Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces. The exact effect of this frost is hard to estimate. Though several correspondents reported the frost to be the heaviest they had ever experienced in June, yet the general reports from these regions for apples at least would indicate that little harm had been done. It appears certain, however, that the frost will undoubtedly lessen the prospects for all kinds of fruits. In Ontario, the South western Peninsula appears to have suffered somewhat more than the Niagara District.

The weather, though bright, was much too cool for ideal pollenization. At some points in Quebec and the Maritime Provinces blossoming was delayed on the early flowering varieties, such as cherries, plums and pears, and the bloom for all kinds of fruit trees came on almost together. All correspondents complain that the weather has been too dry for first-class growing conditions. The general effect in Eastern Ontario will be to put the fruit crop from one to two weeks later than normal. In British Columbia also the weather has been backward, though May would pass as rather a wet month there. Correspondents report that in the last few days the weather has turned very warm, and a temperature as high as eighty-five degrees is reported in one case. Frost has also been reported from several districts, though no great injury is yet perceptible.

APPLES.

So far as can be judged from the reports of correspondents up to the present time, the apple crop in Canada bids fair to be almost as large, if not quite as large as last year. There are, however, several features, not always reported upon by correspondents, that must be taken into account. The full effects of the frosts of May and June cannot yet be properly estimated. Experienced correspondents report that they expect a very heavy "drop" as the result of the frosts. The British Columbia correspondents are estimating a crop as large as last year except on the lower mainland; some sections more and some less. Here again allowance must be made for the large number of new orchards that are coming into bearing for the first time; these will add largely to the aggregate of the crop, even though the crop upon the individual trees may not be heavy.

The Spy and Baldwin are the characteristic apples in Western Ontario, and this year these two varieties appear to be somewhat short. Nevertheless, a good crop is reported generally. Eastern Ontario and Quebec is a region of small orchards, not too well cared for, and for two years has suffered severely from the ravages of the Tent Caterpillar. Even the crop that has set in many cases will scarcely mature on account of the weakened condition of the trees; in fact, in many of the smaller orchards, perhaps more than fifty per cent of them, the trees have been completely defoliated. Those orchards that have been well sprayed and well cultivated have a good crop. It will be a difficult matter to make any helpful estimate of the number of these orchards, but speaking generally this district will have a light apple crop. The Annapolis Valley, on the contrary, is likely to have a better crop than last year. The only adverse condition there was the rather cold and somewhat dull weather during the blossoming period, which may interfere with pollenization. Spraying and cultivation are quite general in this district.

District No. 6, Hants, Kings, Annapolis and Digby Counties. Following the usual course, the bumper crop of 1911 would indicate a large crop for 1913. Good cultivation however, is changing this somewhat and it is quite possible that in future in districts with well cultivated orchards, we may expect a more even annual output. Under these circumstances, it is possible that Nova Scotia, having had a medium crop last year in quantity, will have only a medium crop this year, though there is a possibility, if weather conditions are favourable, of there being a fairly large crop in this province. The Stark, Ben Davis, Ribston and Fallwater are fair, but the Baldwin is reported short. On account, no doubt, of the prevalence of scab last year, spraying has been more general in the valley this spring than ever before, which may affect the final aggregate of the crop very materially.

—The eastern part of Nova Scotia, frequently spoken of as "the Sydneys" is the most densely populated portion of the province. It embraces Sydney, North Sydney, Sydney Mines,
Glace Bay and other mining centers,
and contains a population of one hundred and ten to one hundred and twenty thousand persons.

The next most densely populated part of the Province is Halifax, which with Dartmouth and adjacent villages contains approximately fifty two thousand persons.

Next comes the district which has New Glasgow as a center. Here connected with New Glasgow by a tram line about five miles in length, are Trenton, Stellarton and Westville, containing in all about twelve thousand persons. And, like "The Sydneys," the coal business is predominant, and has given rise to other industries which require large quantities of "black diamonds."

The steel works at Trenton are well worthy of a visit. Various products of iron are manufactured in about fourteen acres, and in the vicinity are the car works whose buildings cover about ten acres.

Entering the steel works you will probably first see a huge billet of iron, two feet square and ten or twelve feet long, being drawn out of a furnace where it has been brought to a white heat, and placed upon an anvil to be solidified. A huge hammer, with an hydraulic pressure of forty thousand tons comes down upon it again and again and compresses it, closing up all the air spaces and welding it into a solid mass. So perfect is the machinery that only two men are required to move this immense billet from the furnace, put it under the hammer and turn it over so that every part may have the same consistency. You may then follow the condensed billet to other furnaces where it is again heated and drawn out into bars of various sizes to be manufactured into car-axes, shafts for steamboat propellers, pumping shafts, plates, bolts nuts, spikes, rods and many other articles needed in various kinds of business. This establishment manufactures about seventy-five per cent of all the car-axes made in the Dominion. The iron ore employed comes from the Wabana Mines, on Bell Island, Newfoundland. These mines belong to the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company, and provide all the ore required for the works of the Company in Sydney and Trenton, and in addition, several thousand tons are annually sent to Great Britain, Germany and the United States.
After being worked for nearly twenty years, it appears that only the fringes of this great deposit have been touched.

The East River upon which these steel and car works are situated is very shallow and very crooked. At present it is being straitened and deepened and shortly a dam will be built which will provide a depth of about eighteen feet of water and a length of about four miles. The navigation of the river will be greatly improved by this labor.

About twelve hundred men are now on the pay roll of the steel works.
In the spike department are two automatic machines which are able to turn out twenty-five tons of finished railway spikes per day. Additional machinery of the latest type is continually being added, and is continually calling for more operators.
New Glasgow itself has added about two thousand to its population the last year and will soon have the rank and standing of a city.

—Some years ago, under the direction of a guide, we made a visit to the cage pit in Stellarton. We descended in the cage about one thousand feet, and were taken first into the office cut out of the solid coal and whitewashed to make it more pleasant; then into a larger room used as a stable, in the corner of which a stream of clear water was flowing into a large tub for the convenience of the horses. Getting into a little coal car we were drawn a considerable distance. With all our care we could not keep our lamps burning while our guide with apparently no care had not any difficulty with his.
When we left the car the guide pointed to some lights in the distance and said we would go where the men were working there. Ascending a steep slope we reached the place and were introduced to the men. "Well," said one of them, "as the gentleman has come to see us, we will sit down and have a smoke."

After considerable conversation we remarked that we would much rather work where we could have the light of the sun. "But," was the reply,
"this is the most independentest work there is in the world. Our work is marked off for us. We can work at it fast or slow, and when we get it done the boss comes and takes account of it and we get our pay. If we were working on the ground, very likely we would be told we were not doing as we were ordered and there would be trouble."

We listened but were not convinced.
The work in the pit may be "the most independentest work in the world" but we prefer the surface and the light of day. Perhaps the case of this man was the case of the back being fitted for the burden.

CHIEF JUSTICE TOWNSHEND
WILL RETIRE SHORTLY

Amherst, N. S., June 20.—Chief Justice Townshend closed court this afternoon and returned to his home in Wolfville for the week end. The session of the Supreme Court will be resumed next week with Judge Meagher presiding. It may be noted that this afternoon, in presenting the case of Thompson vs. Purdy to the jury, Chief Justice Sir Charles Townshend foreshadowed the fact that it was his intention to retire at an early date from the Nova Scotia bench, of which he has been so distinguished a member for over a quarter of a century. He intimated to the jury that heard the case that it would be the last address that he would give to a Cumberland jury and incidentally, he remarked that the families at variance in this suit were known to him for many years and he felt that both sides were endeavoring to put the facts truthfully before the jury.

HOMESTEADERS INCREASE.

During the first five months of this year ending May 31, no less than 11,806 homesteads have been taken up in the west, which shows a large increase over any corresponding time in recent years.

The largest entries were made in May, when 3,319 applicants registered their names for free lands.

Contrary to general impression, seventy-five per cent of these homesteads have been taken up in the prairie provinces by English-speaking people. Canadians led the way by a small majority, but they were closely followed by Britishers and Americans. While the number of foreigners coming into the Dominion has been much greater than usual, this has been to the fact that thousands of Russians and Galicians have been brought in for railway construction work.

SNOW STORM IN JUNE.

On Friday morning last, the citizens of New Canada, Inverness County experienced a rare freak in weather conditions, when about three inches of snow and hail fell and covered the ground. The trees in the path of the storm were stripped of their foliage.
Never in the memory of the oldest inhabitant has a similar storm swept that section of the country during the month of June.—Port Hood Greetings

DEATH OF MRS. (CAPT.)
J. B. TINGLEY.

(Wolfville Acadian, June 27)

Wolfville people were shocked and saddened on Friday morning last to learn of the sudden death of Mrs.
Tingley, beloved wife of Capt. J. B.
Tingley, which occurred at her home
Maine street, on Thursday evening.
Mrs. Tingley was, before her marriage, Miss Evangeline Reed, of Port George, Annapolis County, where she was born forty-seven years ago. She was a most estimable lady and made many friends during her residence in Wolfville. For some years she has been in failing health, but ever retained her bright and cheerful manner and disposition. Mrs. Tingley was a clever and attractive lady and had considerable literary ability. She will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends. She leaves besides a sorrowing husband, three sons, Harold, Paul and Arthur, who have the profound sympathy of all.

The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon and was conducted by Rev.
Mr. Webber. There was a large attendance and the floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The interment was in Willow Bank Cemetery.

LOCAL AND SPECIAL.

A police census taken gives Sydney a population of 21,000.

North Sydney's tax rate has been raised from $1.85 to $2.50 on $100.

Seventeen tickets were sold at the Bridgetown station last Friday for the excursion to Truro.

Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden has left the capital for an extended visit, probably until the end of August.

Native strawberries are coming in to the market quite freely this week. They are selling today at sixteen cents a box.

Sale of tickets for the excursion to Digby and Port Wade on Monday, July 14, will be limited. They may be secured of Mr. LeMoine Ruggles.

The engagement is announced of Miss Bertha Lillian Allen, of Middleton, to J. Jove Cox, of Cambridge, N. S. The marriage will take place early in July.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradford A. Hutchinson will be "at home" to their friends on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons and evenings, July 9th and 10th, at the home of Mr. Ashby Hutchinson.

The engagement is announced of Miss Bessie Keanette West, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. K. West, and Mr. John Kertland Robblee, of Lower Granville, Annapolis County, the wedding to take place in September.

Rev. I. Dwight Little, late of Colgate University, will occupy the pulpit of the Baptist Church, Sunday, June 6. Subject for morning "The Secret of Spiritual Power;" for the evening "The Apologies of Paul."

Remember the sale of small and fancy articles by the young ladies of the Baptist church next Wednesday, (July 9) afternoon and evening, in store recently vacated by J. Harry Hicks. Strawberries and ice cream will be served.

About one hundred from Lawrence-town patronized the excursion to Digby yesterday by the S.S. Valinda. The Lawrence-town Brass Band, under whose auspices the excursion was held, added pleasure to the trip by their presence and rendering of music.

Rev. Dr. Joseph McLeod, editor of the Maritime Baptist, died at St. John on June 24th, after a lingering illness, aged sixty-four years. It is but a few years since Dr. McLeod assumed the editorial control of his department, and on the occasion of the death of the previous editor.

"The Girl of Eagle Ranch" was played to a large house in the Primrose Theatre on Monday evening. The play is a stirring one, having its setting in a western ranch. The acting was well sustained by the company under the management of Messrs. Husband & Keene, with Doris Young as "The Girl." The Company carries its own scenery which is well adapted to the play.

The weather yesterday would hardly be considered ideal holiday weather. The cloudy sky and occasional showers kept many at home who otherwise would have been taking in the attractions away from town. Some few took in the teaming at Hampton, a half dozen or so went on the excursion to Digby conducted by the Lawrence-town Band, and some of the younger set went to Middleton to engage in the sports there.

The Graves Brothers were given an additional sentence of two years and three months at Kentville last Tuesday, before Judge Chipman, for assault on Mrs. Lee. This with the fifteen years sentence imposed by Judge Ritchie in the Supreme Court here at its recent sittings, makes a total sentence of seventeen years and three months. They were taken to the "Dorchester Penitentiary" last Thursday by Sheriff Rockwell.

In response to an inquiry regarding the future of the Grand Central Hotel Mr. J. Willard Smith, of St. John, the owner of the property, says: "I beg to say that I have completed arrangements with Mr. R. L. Joyce of Elgin, N. B. by which the Grand Central Hotel will be opened during the coming week to the public and it is intended by Mr. Joyce to keep a first-class hotel, free from the sale of liquor and its accompanying characteristics. It is hoped that the people of Bridgetown as well as the traveling public will show their appreciation by according to the proprietor such patronage as will enable him to attend to their needs in a manner that will be acceptable to all."

The Camp Meeting at Berwick, N. S., will open this year on August 6th at 7.30 p.m. and continue for a week, closing on the evening of the 15th. The Evangelist will be Mr. Hyndman, a Welshman. He has the fire, humor, pathos and vision that belongs to his people. His preaching is eloquent, powerful and persuasive. He came to the N. S. Conference as an Evangelist very highly recommended, and though he has only been in this country a few weeks, he has been engaged in special meetings, where his preaching has drawn crowds and many persons have been converted. The Association have issued a booklet giving full information about the meetings and accommodations, and reduced travelling fares. Any person can have this booklet free by dropping a card to Jas. E. Hennigar, Secretary of the Association, Canning, N. S.

HE NOW BELIEVES IN "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Because He No Longer Suffers With Headaches

TAYLORVILLE, ONT. "I was a sufferer from Fearful Headaches for over two years. Sometimes they were so bad that I was unable to work for days at a time. I took all kinds of medicine, was treated by physicians, but yet the Headaches persisted."

A short time ago, I was advised to try "Fruit-a-tives" and I did so, with I must confess, very little faith. But after I had taken them for three days, my Headaches were easier and in a week they left me.

After I had taken a box of these tablets, my headaches were quite cured. My appetite was always poor and my stomach bad—and now my appetite is splendid and my digestion excellent. I had become thin and weak from the constant Headaches but now not only have I been cured of all these awful Headaches, but my strength is growing up once more and I feel like a new man!"

BERT CORNELL. Take "Fruit-a-tives". See a box, 6 for $2.50—trial size, 25c. At dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

PLAN FOR A LARGER MILK

What virtue is there in heredity when it comes to abundant milk production per cow? Many a dairyman notices a cow is good, her heifers may turn out to be good milkers, sometimes they do not. What is the trouble? Apart from such considerations as feed, care and health, look for one moment at the possible value of the sire.

It has been noted many a time that the cows bred to a particular bull have dropped good milking progeny; that bull came from good milking ancestry. There is the virtue of heredity worth thousands of dollars to our dairymen. The melancholy reflection is that scores of these good milkers can be traced to sires that have been sold for beef long before their real value had become known.

Every dairyman who is doing anything at testing his individual cows, and all progressive dairymen appreciate the far-reaching benefits of such study, knows that it would be worth at least 1,200 pounds of milk extra per cow to secure the right bull. All members of cow testing associations should co-operate in the purchase of good pure bred sires, changing them round after two years in one section, and prove thereby the immense value of heredity in their owners.

WHEN THE MIND FAILS.

"In every line of mental research it is admitted that prevention is more important than cure—with the exception of mental diseases," says Clifford Whittingham Beers, who created a sensation a few years ago when, under the title "A Mind that Found Itself," he published a record of his years of insanity and of his awakening from mental death. "Our scientific attitude toward diseases of the mind is truly amazing. We consider them as something unavoidable. We watch stupidly the disease running its course from a slight disturbance of mental processes until the first violent manifestations of insanity."

"If a man presents the slightest symptoms of pneumonia or even measles he receives immediate treatment of some kind. On the other hand, a patient who is suffering from disease of the mind, the most threatening calamity of life, must be so far advanced in the disease and so disordered in action or in speech as to satisfy a lay tribunal of the necessity of justification of the forcible deprivation of his liberty, must be 'adjudged insane' and 'committed' by a court to an institution for the insane before he can receive the treatment best adapted to the restoration of his health."

"The public should be convinced that insanity is a disease like any other disease; people must be taught to seek intelligent advice promptly whenever something 'seems to be the matter with their nerves,' instead of concealing their fears for mere shame."

"Had I, for instance, at the age of eighteen, when I began to worry myself into a state of depression, had access to advice and information, and had I, as a result of an established and widespread interest in mental hygiene, sought such advice as a matter of course, as persons threatened with tuberculosis now seek the help and advice they need, I am confident that I should not have suffered the affliction of mental disorder. Though I took medicine for 'nerves,' I did not find the remedy I needed, which was a verbal corrective for thought and fears which were to prove my temporary undoing."

"It may take some time before a sick man is no more ashamed of calling on a physician for incipient insanity than for a cold in his head, but let us hope that time will arrive eventually. A campaign of education is sorely needed to dispel the superstitions still prevalent in the public mind as to the cause of insanity."

ATE 61 EGGS AND WON $25.

Cairo, Ill., June 22.—Frank Blake, clerk in a railway office here, won a bet of $25 yesterday by eating sixty-one eggs. The world's record is supposed to have been sixty. The eggs were cooked as follows: scrambled, 15; soft boiled, 16; hard boiled, 15; fried, 15.

MILITANTS OF 18TH CENTURY.

A letter written in 1740 by Lady Mary Wortley Montagu goes to prove that there is nothing new under the sun, not even England's militant suffragettes.

Lady Mary in her letter describes an incident in the House of Lords which made a prodigious sensation in 1739.

While a warm debate was in progress it was voted that there should be no crowd of unnecessary auditors; consequently women were excluded and the gallery was reserved for members of the House of Commons. "Notwithstanding which determination," wrote Lady Mary Wortley Montagu, "a tribe of dames resolved to show on this occasion that neither men nor laws could resist them."

Yet though it would appear tame now the demonstration of this fashionable band of militants was bold enough in 1739. They presented themselves at the stairs at nine o'clock in the morning and demanded admission and were respectfully informed of the order issued by the Chancellor. But his name commanded no more attention than that of Chancellor Lloyd-George today.

The Duchess of Queensbury, as head of the squadron, pished at the ill-breeding of a mere lawyer, and desired them to let them upstairs privately. After some modest refusals he swore he would not let them in. Her grace, with a noble warmth, answered they would come in in spite of the Chancellor and the whole House.

The peers resolved to starve them out, and an order was made that the doors should not be opened until they had raised their siege. But they were already practising for the hunger strike.

These amazons now showed themselves qualified for the duty even of foot soldiers; they stood there till five in the afternoon, every now and then playing volleys of thumps, kicks and raps against the door, with so much violence that the speakers in the House were scarce heard. When the Lords were not to be conquered by this, the two Duchesses (very well apprised to the use of stratagems in war) commanded a dead silence for half an hour; and the Chancellor, who thought this a certain proof of their absence—the Commons also being very impatient to enter—gave order for the opening of the door, upon which they all rushed in, pushed aside their competitors, and placed themselves in the front rows of the gallery. After which demonstration they proceeded to show their animosity, "not only by smiles and winks (which have always been allowed in these cases), but by noisy laughter and apparent contempt."

If you are a housewife you cannot reasonably hope to be healthy or beautiful by washing dishes, sweeping and doing housework all day, and crawling into bed dead tired at night. You must get out into the open air and sunlight. If you do this every day and keep your stomach and bowels in good order by taking Chamberlain's Tablets when needed, you should become both healthy and beautiful. For sale by all dealers.

The Home

KEEPING OUR SOULS ALIVE.

"Keep your souls alive, your lives interested, and think of some things, sometimes, besides cooking," said a silver-haired farm mother to an audience of one hundred and twenty-five persons as the first note of its kind in an hour's discussion of farm women's problems. One of these things to think a great deal, one side of the mother's soul to keep very much alive, is her attitude to the unfolding lives of her children, writes Alta Hooper, in The Breeder's Gazette.

It is the interested understanding mother who leaves her dishes with a smile to obey that excited little voice, "O, mamma, come and see the crocuses—six of them right under the window," and she will revel in their beauty as much as her child.

Other things of more consequence than making the beds every morning at a certain hour (instead of letting the sun and air frolic over them all day) are training in little gentlemanly habits and table manners, the sense of a polite duty to mother, and an easy, happy air in the presence of visitors. Not many boys know or care whether mother sweeps under their beds twice a week, but they do feel it when she is too tired and cross to talk of their little affairs. Boys and girls dearly love good things to eat, but how proud and glad they are to have a bit of mother herself, all interested and bright, for their very own, now and then. It is a crime to repress or neglect the finer side of a child's nature, and the far-seeing mother does not always have a task to perform when there is an interesting story to read with the children. She thinks more of the all-round development of the boy and girl than of the immaculate condition of her house or the reputation of gleaning the most fruit in the neighborhood.

All honor to the thorough housekeeper and artistic cook, but if she cannot remember her own youth or see the importance of giving herself to her children, then she has fallen short of her mission. Who has a better opportunity than the farm mother to talk to her children of the deep, true things of life, encouraging them to express these childish thoughts and imaginings and helping the disentangle the puzzles, and leading them on to get an education for greater efficiency and happiness as they grow into life?

It is one of the saddest things in the world if the mother herself has never delved into the deep joy and beauty of living, and never sings at her work. There are many such mothers, for they have permitted the hard, dull cares of life to quench all beauty. Their children are stunted, and in the coming years when they should be enjoying broad, lovely lives they will only be learning the lessons of life so late that they will seem bitter and out of place. Too often children are taught to work and to think nothing but work, at the expense of a yearning for music, books and beauty. Teach them to see the beauty of the outdoors, and to find satisfaction in the real things of life that are all around them. A June sunset, just after a brisk shower, with gleaming green fields and heavily foliaged trees illumined by the gorgeous tints above, is a piece of the highest art that no farm mother need send her boy or girl to Europe to see. If this is done today the farm woman of tomorrow will be better and happier.

Apple rose is a delicious dessert, made with steamed apples filled with jelly, covered with a meringue and browned.

In roasting meat turn it over with a spoon instead of a fork, as the latter pierces the meat and lets the juice out.

In making cream sauce to use with a vegetable, add just a few drops of vinegar after it is made. It improves the flavor greatly.

Handkerchiefs and white clothes that have become yellow from use of too much soap, or any other cause, may be whitened in the following manner: After washing let them soak overnight in a tub of clear water, to which is added a teaspoonful of cream of tartar. When ironed they will be white as snow.

SERVED HIM RIGHT.

Two Irishmen, meeting one day, were discussing local news. "Do you know Jim Skelly," asked Pat.

"Faith," said Mike, "an' I do."

"Well," said Pat, "he has had his appendix taken away from him."

"Ye don't say so," said Mike. Well it serves him right. He should have had it in his wife's name."

FOR LEGITIMATE REASONS.

Solicitor—"Have you ever been to this court before, sir?"

Witness—"Yes, sir; I have been here often."

Solicitor—"Ha, ha. Been here often have you? Now tell the court what for."

Witness (slowly)—"Well, I have been here at least half a dozen times to try and collect that tailor's bill you owe me."

The Sunday School lesson was about the Prodigal Son, and the teacher was dwelling on the character of the elder brother.

"But amid all the rejoicing," she said, "there was one to whom the feast brought no joy; to whom the prodigal's return brought only bitterness; one who did not approve of the feast and who had no wish to attend. Now who was this?"

Silence for a moment, then a small voice said: "Please, ma'am, it was the fatted calf."

TWO CANNY SCOTS.

Jock and Sandy were playing an eighteen hole match. Jock drove over a high embankment. The two hunted for the ball, but could not find it. Sandy wanted his opponent to give it up, but Jock wouldn't, for a lost ball meant a lost hole. Finally the latter took a new ball from his pocket rolled it in the dust and pretended to find it. "Here 'tis, Sandy," he called out. "Ye're a leear, Jock," responded Sandy. "I'm no leear! Here 'tis," "Ye're a leear," repeated Sandy, "for I've had it in ma pocket for fifteen meenits."

Two colored men were on an expedition to the Colonel's hen roost one dark night. Mose had planted the ladder, climbing up to where the chickens were roosting and was passing them down to Ephraim, who put them in a bag. Suddenly Mose stopped.

"What's de mattah, Brudder Mose, inquired Ephraim anxiously.

"Is just been thinkin', Brudder Ephraim, how me and you is membabs up de church, an' wedder it's right to lake de cunnel's chickings?"

"Brudder Mose," said Ephraim, "dat am a great moral question which you an' me ain't fit ter wrastle wid. Pass down anudder chicking."

There are some things in this world for which not even the most profound rural philosopher can account to her own satisfaction. "I never saw an animal move so slowly before in all my life!" cried an exasperated traveller in an Essex carrier's cart, behind which the clouds of a rapidly rising storm were growing blacker every moment. "Can't the horse go any faster? You had an excellent one fifteen years ago, when I used to spend the summers here."

"That's the curious thing about it," said the driver, gazing first at his steed and then at the uneasy passenger, in a mildly speculative way. "This horse is the very same, identical horse that I drove that summer. I don't know what on earth's the matter with him! He seems to have lost his animation."

"MY STOMACH IS FINE

Since Taking Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets"

Mrs. J. Merkhuger, Waterloo, Ont., enthusiastically recommends Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets. Her experience with them, as she outlines it, explains why.

"I was greatly troubled with my stomach," she writes. "I had taken so much medicine that I might say to take any more would only be making it worse. My stomach just felt raw. I read of Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, and a lady friend told me they were very easy to take, so I thought I would give them a trial and really they worked wonders. Anyone having anything wrong with his stomach should give Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets a trial, they will do the rest. My stomach is fine now and I can eat any food."

One of the many good features of Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets is that they are so pleasant and easy to take. The relief they give from heartburn, flatulence, biliousness and dyspepsia is prompt and permanent. Try one after each meal—they'll make you feel like a new person.

ESCAPED JAILERS IN MAN'S CLOTHES.

London, June 20.—Miss Lillian Lenton, a militant suffragette, convicted of having started the fire in the Kew Tea Garden pavilion and who has given the police much trouble, has escaped in man's clothes from the house where she was living in Leeds pending the expiration of her license. Miss Lenton was released from jail in March, because of illness caused by a hunger strike. She broke her license and was not heard of again until June 10, when she was arrested at Doncaster under dramatic circumstances. A woman named Winsipp was charged with breaking into Westfield House at Doncaster with the intent to burn it. A witness for the defence, who called herself May Dennis, confessed that she and not the Winsipp woman was guilty. She proved to be Miss Lenton, for whom the police had been searching. The Winsipp woman was released and Miss Lenton was sent back to jail.

Miss Lenton immediately started another hunger strike and got out on license a few days ago. She was placed in a house at Leeds until she had sufficiently recovered to be returned to jail and police guarded the house. She again eluded them and got away yesterday.

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., June 20.—A large unoccupied mansion at Solihull near here, was set fire to and gutted by an "arson squad" of militant suffragettes today.

A number of suffragette placards were found in the vicinity. One of them demanded the release of the women suffering imprisonment for the cause. A second bore the words: "Votes for Women." Another was addressed to Sir Walter Phillimore, the judge who three days ago sentenced six of the suffragette leaders to imprisonment in London for conspiracy. It read: "Judge not that ye be not judged." The perpetrators of the outrage were not discovered.

FOUND CHEQUE FOR $10,000.

New York, June 21.—Mr. Frank Hennessy, a broker, yesterday picked up a negotiable cheque for $10,000 in the lobby of the Waldorf Astoria.

He had stopped at the marble water cooler, and taken from the rack a paper drinking cup when he saw something white on the floor just below the spigot. It was a cheque for $10,000 on the Bank of Montreal, signed by a man named Harvard.

The draft was made payable to a person identified by three initials or "to the bearer."

The finder immediately sought the assistant manager, Mr. Stewart, who recognized the initials on the cheque as those of a Canadian stopping in the house. The latter was found sitting on a sofa reading his mail. He had not missed the cheque, though it had been at least ten minutes since he had taken a drink at the water cooler.

EIGHT IMMIGRANTS KILLED AND FIFTY INJURED WHEN TRAIN JUMPED TRACK NEAR OTTAWA.

Ottawa, June 25.—Eight dead and fifty injured, two probably fatally, is the toll of a railway accident three miles from Ottawa this afternoon, when the C. P. R. Winnipeg train left the track. The cause of the wreck is thought to have been either a loose rail or a "sun kink."

THE DEAD:

Patrick Nulvena, of County Antrim, Ireland, aged 25.

John Moodie, of Sanday, Orkney, Scotland, aged 17.

John Hog, of County Derry, Ireland, aged 30.

Mrs. Jane McNealy, of Glasgow, aged 40.

John Peace, of Glasgow, aged 21.

Unidentified boy, aged about eight.

Unidentified female child, about six months old.

COLONIST CARS TURNED OVER.

The train left here at 1.30 yesterday and consisted of baggage and mail cars, three Colonist, one first-class, two tourist, a diner and a Pullman car. Two of the Colonist cars turned completely over and lay on their sides in the Ottawa river, which is skirted by the C. P. R. track for some distance. It was from these two cars that the dead were taken.

Dan Cameron, the conductor, was in one of the Colonist cars which toppled into the river, and was in the act of punching a ticket. He escaped with a dislocated shoulder, and was the only member of the train crew injured.

The train was travelling at the rate of about twenty-five miles an hour. Children and women in the cars were waving to people along the track when suddenly the people nearby saw the cars begin to rock and the train to twist. The next instant there was a crash as the centre of the train left the rails, and then the cries of the injured and dying.

The engine, baggage and mail cars, with one of the colonist cars, remained on the rails. The next two cars were colonists, and both toppled into the river, one turning over twice, while the second shot off its trucks and fell on its side. The two cars broke from the others, the first class, which followed, remaining partly on the railroad bed with its nose pointed towards the river. The tourist cars, which were next, went to the side furthest from the river and remained tilted at an angle of about forty-five degrees. The dining car left the rails, but remained practically in a straight line, while the Pullman car, which was last, had only its front trucks off the rails.

There was remarkably little panic among the passengers. There were many pathetic scenes as the passengers included wives and children going to join their husbands and fathers or whole families going to the west. Some members of families were killed while others who were injured, were hurried to the hospitals so quickly that their relatives did not know where they had gone. Most of the deaths were caused by the people being hurled against the sides of the cars when they toppled over, but a couple met their deaths by drowning. One little baby was drowned, having been hurled through a window into the river. One woman and a boy, who were apparently leaning out of the window, were caught underneath and their bodies were the last to be recovered.

Most of the passengers were for Winnipeg, Edmonton and Calgary. There were a number of Russians aboard, but the injured were from Ireland and Scotland.

FLUNG LENGTH OF SMOKER.

Frank Stafford, storekeeper of Burry's Bay, who was bound to Renfrew said:

"I boarded the Winnipeg train at Ottawa at 1.30 at the Central Station. I was in the smoker and when about four miles out of Ottawa the train gave a series of jolts, and started to cant in an alarming manner. I was hung nearly the length of the car, and the pipe which I was smoking was thrown from my mouth. The car was canted to such an extent that I was unable to make my way out of the door, so I jumped out of the window. In the car with me was a lady and four children, and four gentlemen, whom I knew. I shouted to them to get out of the car, because I was afraid it would topple over. The gentlemen managed to get out all right, but the lady and her children were so frightened that they were unable to help themselves, and I had to assist them in getting from the car."

"Two of the bodies of those who were killed were taken from underneath the car in which I was travelling. When I got out of the car the scenes which met my eyes were heart-rending in the extreme. There was a foreign woman with her two children who were frantically searching the wrecked train to find their father, who I learned afterwards was among those who lost their lives. Then, again, two little children and their mother, all dead, were taken from the cars which toppled into the river and a doctor who was ministering to the wounded, broke down and cried like a child."

KINNEY AFTER SECRETARY OF STATE.

(Boston Globe.)

Representative William S. Kinney of Ward 10, a young lawyer, serving his second term in the House, will announce at a dinner to be given in his honor tonight at the American House, that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for secretary of State. Many fellow Republicans in the Legislature have promised to attend, and they will send forth a boom that will be heard in every corner of the State. . . . He is Boston born and bred, a graduate of English High and of the Boston University Law School. In 1909 he made his first splash in politics when he was elected to the Common Council. He went to the House in 1912 and speedily associated himself with the younger group of up-and-doing Republicans. He is now chairman of member also of the committee on the committee on taxation and a constitutional amendments. Kinney is the man who won the hearts of the suffragists in the notable debate last March over the proposed constitutional amendment granting the women the vote. At that time he delivered what the suffragist leaders called the best speech on the cause which had ever been delivered in the Legislature.

(Mr. Kinney's parents are Nova Scotia born people, his father being Mr. Alfred F. Kinney, formerly of Weymouth, and his mother before her marriage was Miss Mary FitzRandolph, sister of Mr. Jas. R. FitzRandolph and Mrs. E. C. Young, of this town.—Ed. Monitor!)

MUST WEAR SIDE SADDLES.

London, June 26.—Queen Mary's adhesion to the Victorian proprieties is doubtless responsible for the edict issued by the management of the International Horse Show at Olympia to the effect that all women competing before the King and Queen and President Poincare must use side saddles. Miss Ruth Boyd has been the most conspicuous among the women who ride astride. She has bowed to the decree and for the last four days has practiced with a side saddle. She will also abandon her usual easy costume and wear a tall hat and the customary riding habit.

Miss Boyd maintains, however, the superiority of riding astride, not because she thinks it is easier, but because she holds that the only perfect horsemanship is sympathetic horsemanship and that cannot be attained with the side saddle. Moreover, she added, "side riding is cruel to the horse, especially in jumping or riding long distances." The announcement of the decree has awakened much criticism of those who favor side riding.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CO., Ltd.

Dear Sirs,—This fall I got thrown on a fence and hurt my chest very much to breathe. I tried all kinds of bad, so I could not work and it hurt my liniments and they did me no good.

One bottle of MINARD'S LINIMENT, warmed on flannels and applied on my breast, cured me completely.

There are 1269 automobiles and motor cycles registered in Nova Scotia. The people of Nova Scotia may safely be assumed to have invested $130,000 in motor vehicles in about five months. In September last there were but 971 registered.

BIG THINGS IN HYDRO ELECTRIC PLANTS.

The world's highest-head water-power plant is now nearing completion at Martigny, canton Wallis, Switzerland. The fall utilized is 5,400 feet, and the pipes conveying the water from the head of the fall to the power-house, a distance of three miles, are especially remarkable with the fall till the lowest part is reached, where the pipe, having to withstand 2,500 pounds per square inch had to be made of special ingot pressed steel. The turbines, which are of the Pelton type, have a total rating of 15,000 h.p. and it is of interest to note that, with the 5400-foot head, only about 30 cubic feet of water per second will be necessary to develop the full 15,100 h.p. output of the station.

LARGEST TURBINE UNITS.

The two largest impulse turbines built to date, each capable of producing 20,000 h.p., have recently been installed in the Pirapay plant of the Rio de Janeiro Light and Power Co. in Brazil. The wheels operate at a speed of three hundred revolutions per minute under a head of nine hundred feet. These two units are an addition to the Pirapay plant, where six 9000 h.p. units have already been in operation, and will bring up its total capacity to 94,000 h.p.

A close second to this record is found in the White River plant of the Pacific Coast Power Co. of Seattle. In this case, each turbine was designed to develop 18,000 h.p. at 360 revolutions per minute under a 440 foot head. However, in consideration of the lower head and the fact that these turbines can totally carry 29,500 h.p. they must undoubtedly be of greater bulk than the new units of the Rio de Janeiro Company's plant.

HIGHEST TRANSMISSION VOLTAGE.

With the development of long-distance electric-power transmission, the line voltage has increased steadily in spite of difficulties which increase at the same time. When the first 110,000-volt transmission line was put in operation, a few years ago, many considered that the maximum commercial voltage had been reached. But last year, the first 140,000-volt line was put in operation in the state of Michigan, covering a distance of one hundred and twenty-five miles, which was soon increased to two hundred and thirty-five. The line is in regular service and is reported to be giving entire success. The energy is generated at the Cooke hydro-electric plant on the Au Sable river, which empties into Saginaw bay, and is to be transmitted as far south as Battle Creek.—L. G. D., in Conservation for June.

CHINAMAN AGED 150.

A Canadian Press dispatch says:—Dr. Cho Choy, late of China and Cuba, died at Ellis Island, New York yesterday, in his one hundred and fiftieth year. With a party of Chinese he was en route to Canada in bond, having arrived in New York the day before from Havana. His health was excellent, he said, and he resented suggestions that stories of his age were exaggerated. He became suddenly ill and death came shortly before noon yesterday.
