THIRTY-SECOND ANNIVERSARY

OF THE

FRENCH CANADIAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Annual Meeting of the French Canadian Missionary Society was held on the 26th January, 1871, in the Wesleyan Church, St. James Street, Montreal; Rev. W. Taylor, D. D. President, in the Chair. After devotional exercises, conducted by the Rev. G. H. Wells, an abstract of the Annual Report was read by Lt.-Col. Haultain, Secretary, after which the following resolutions were adopted:—

Moved by the Rev. R. F. BURNS, D.D., seconded by Rev. G. M. DES ISLETS Principal of Pointe aux Trembles Institute, supported by ALEX. RUSSELL, Esq., Nova Scotia.

Resolved,—That this meeting desires reverently to record its thankfulness to Almighty God, for the openings that have been made of late years in Roman Catholic countries for the declaration of the Gospel. Also, for the measure of success that He has vouchsafed to the French Canadian Missionary Society; and resolves that the Report, an abstract of which has now been read, be adopted, printed, and circulated; and that the following gentlemen be the Office-bearers and Committee for the ensuing year, with power to add to their number:—

President.

REV. WM. TAYLOR, D.D.

Vice-Presidents.

REV. H. WILKES, D.D.	JOHN DOUGALL, Esq.
HON. JAMES FERRIER.	WM. LUNN, Esq.
JOSEPH MACKAY, Esq.	HENRY VENNOR, Esq.

Moved by REV. J. POTTS, seconded by Rev. H. WILKES, D. D., supported by REV. T. LAFLEUR.

Resolved,—That inasmuch as the Church of Rome, by the late addition to its creed of the new dogma of Papal Infallibility, gives fresh proof of its ever widening departure from the "faith once delivered to the saints"; this meeting resolves, with God's help, to persevere in its efforts, by every lawful means, to disseminate the Word of God amongst the Roman Catholic inhabitants of this Province, and to make known to them its contents.

The pupils from Pointe-aux Trembles sang several hymns during the evening. After the Doxology, the Rev. D. Marsh, of Quebec, pronounced the Benediction. The proceeds of the meeting amounted to $178 95.

The following are the Sub-committees formed for superintending the various departments of the Society.

THIRTY-SECOND ANNUAL REPORT.

In presenting the annual report of the French Canadian Missionary Society, the Committee have much to record, that should call forth deep thankfulness to the God of providence and grace.*

The laborers in the different departments of the work, have been preserved in health, and have been enabled to prosecute their arduous labors, undeterred by the extremes of heat and cold, that mark the climate of this Province.

No casualty has occurred amongst the pupils of our various schools.

Many souls have been converted to Christ, and a larger number than ever before in the same period of time, have braved the opposition of the church of Rome, by publicly protesting against its errors, and renouncing their connection with it.

Nor should we fail to record the increased liberality of many of the friends of the mission, so that although there has been no curtailing of its work, a considerable reduction has been effected in the large balance that was against the Society at the end of the previous year.

In order fully to appreciate the difficulties that have to be encountered in carrying on the work of the mission, it must be remembered that in French Canada, apart from the large cities, the people are almost wholly Roman Catholic; this isolation adding enormously to the power of the priests, and increasing correspondingly the difficulties of mission work. Hostility to Bible circulation most generally prevails, a hostility that not unfrequently culminates in the profane act of committing the sacred volume to the flames. The excuse offered for this impiety, that the versions circulated are not identical with those of the Romish Church, must be left to the judgment of the God of the Bible.

There are three distinct classes that form the objects of the Society's care, viz, Roman Catholics, converts from Rome, and isolated Protestants; the latter being too much scattered or divided, to obtain the oversight of any one denomination, and in most instances by association and intermarriage, are gradually but certainly falling from the faith of their fathers.

In order to meet the wants of such a work as is carried on by this Society, the three distinct and yet co-operating agencies that have been called into existence, have been prosecuted according to the means placed at the disposal of the Committee. These are COLPORTAGE, EDUCATION and EVANGELIZATION. Whether greater attention be paid to the one or the other of them, will depend on the condition of the people, and the circumstances of the different localities. But there is no difference of opinion as to the general utility and necessity of all.

* Since the writing of the Report, the Committee have been called upon to mourn the loss of one of their number, the late Thos. Fraser, Esq., whose counsels and sympathy were most cordially given in the prosecution of the work of the mission.

COLPORTAGE.

During the past year ten laborers have been regularly employed in this department, besides occasionally Messrs. Mathieu and Gatignol, teachers, also Mr. Bourgoïn, now in charge of the school in Montreal, for four months while at Quebec. Messrs. Rivet, Dionne and Côté, students, were employed during the summer vacation.

The spheres of labor of these brethren commencing from the western extremity of the field are as follows:

J. GATIGNOL, Ste. Cecile, township of Wakefield, on the Gatineau river, has visited Aylmer, Ottawa, Buckingham and other places below, on the river Ottawa.

J. MATHIEU, Grenville, has labored in the rear settlements and in the vicinity of his station.

A. GEOFFROY, Belle Riviere, has visited the county of Vaudreuil and settlements around and to the North of his station.

E. RICHARD, at Terrebonne, has labored in the County of Terrebonne, and besides visited Napanee, Belleville, and settlements on Lake Huron, where several converts of the Mission now reside.

L. MARIE, St. Laurent, has visited St. Jerome and other portions of the field on the North.

L. VAN BUEREN, Montreal city.

A. SOLANDT, Inverness, Megantic County, and the Chaudiere region.

J. VESSOT, Joliette, has also colported the country between Montreal and Three Rivers.

D. AMARON, Berthier, has colported in the same region.

A. BOY, Three Rivers, has visited the St. Maurice region and the townships on the South side of the Saint Lawrence.

J. B. MURRAIRE, Quebec, has visited regularly Point Levi and the parishes around Quebec.

J. BOURGOÏN, Quebec, labored with Mr. Murraire till his removal to Montreal in May.

H. GARAYT, Rivière du Loup en bas, visited between Quebec and Metis, and also Murray Bay and vicinity.

L. DIONNE, Student, labored during the Summer vacation with Mr. Garayt.

T. CORRÉ, Student, resided at Chicoutimi, on the Saguenay, and labored in that region.

F. P. RIVET, Montreal.

The Committee would again record their high estimation of the zealous and faithful labors of these brethren.

In connection with the colportage department, mention is to be made of the Bible Depository at Montreal, now under the efficient charge of Mr. Van Bueren.

The total circulation of the Scriptures and religious books and tracts by the colporteurs, and by sales at the Depository during the year 1870, has been :—

Copies of the Scriptures, either in whole or in part, about	1,900
Books and tracts, about	14,500

An invoice of religious books from Paris was received this fall, of which a considerable portion has been sold. It is most desirable that means be taken to increase the circulation of French Protestant literature, and of Illustrated papers in French, of the same class as the British Workman.

The colportage department has been carried on as usual with varying results. Where priestly influence and teaching prevail, the colporteur is shunned, insulted and occasionally maltreated, but thanks be to God, there are not a few who gladly receive God's word and His messenger.

In the appendix will be found interesting extracts from the journals of the colporteurs, showing these as well as other features of the work.

The Committee are painfully aware that the circulation of the Scriptures is small, in comparison with what is so encouraging in some parts of the European Continent, and which we hope will ere long gladden our hearts. To those not acquainted with the peculiar difficulties of our work, the contrast needs explanation. In this country the Romish hierarchy wield an immense moral, political, and social influence, partly from their wealth and position as an established church, richly endowed, and also from the respect secured by a comparatively high standard of morality among them. Add thereto the absence of those political wrongs, which in Europe excite the bitterest hatred against the priesthood, whose anathema of the Bible would be the greater inducement for its reception by the people. Coupled with this power on the side of the priesthood, is the ignorance of the population, with strong national prejudices; and especially with minds poisoned by their priests as to the word of God, to them a dangerous and unknown book. Sum up these obstacles, with the further consideration that the great mass of the people do not live in villages, but are sparsely settled over a vast extent of country, to reach whom, the cold of winter and the heat of summer, with miserable fare and lodging must be submitted to—and with justice, French Canada may be claimed as one of the most difficult fields in the world for the circulation of the Scriptures and evangelical literature.

Further, it should not be lost sight of, as a serious drawback in French-Canadian Evangelization, that at least three-fourths of those who leave the church of Rome, emigrate to the United States, chiefly discouraged by the persecution, almost always instigated by the priests, which they meet with, and in this way the leaven of their example and influence is lost upon their countrymen.

The extent of our Mission field should not be forgotten;—in length five hundred miles from Ottawa to Metis, and in population at least three quarters of the Million of French Canadian Romanists inhabiting the Province, and constituting perhaps a hundred thousand families. Nor should we fail to realize, that ten colporteurs are all that at present occupy this extent of ground. In view of this vast field and its special difficulties, is there not need of our using with persevering earnestness, the prayer of the Divine Saviour, “Pray ye therefore the Lord of the Harvest, that He will send forth laborers into this harvest.”

In the employment of agencies it is essential to determine their fitness for the work to be accomplished. Now there can be no doubt, that for the evangelization of the dense mass of Romanism existing in the country parts, the colportage agency as carried on by our Society, is under God, the best adapted. Employing zealous and faithful laborers, in whom full confidence can be placed, and with the one object in view of leading souls to Christ, irrespective of denomination, the Missionary is sent forth to his work of faith and labor of love. Believing that the word of God, through the enlightening power of the Holy Spirit, is the special means of converting souls, his great aim is to obtain an entrance for it, safe from the sacrilegious hands of the priest, who would tear it up with contempt and cast it into the fire. But to effect this is no easy task; hours of reading and conversation, often prolonged till midnight, are needed to remove the life-long prejudices instilled by the priest, and to make the timid doubter acquainted with the contents of the Book hitherto unknown, and which he cannot himself yet read, and is perhaps too poor to buy. This process is slow and trying to faith, and gladly would our laborers report hundreds of copies sold where they can only place tens; but it is the only sure way, and we believe it is God's way to build up His Church in this land. The present is a time of digging foundations and sowing seed, and this preparatory labor must be undergone, just as the shaft has to be sunk before the rich ore is reached. The miner does not consider this useless expenditure, nor should we be discouraged, if the fruit of our labors be only as yet "like an handful of eorn upon the top of the mountains."

A perusal of the reports of our Colporteurs shows that for the present the fighting with Antichrist must be hand to hand, and that each living stone has, as it were, to be quarried separately from the mass. The colporteur must come into personal contact with the people in their houses, in the fields, by the wayside and public conveyance, and win them over to the Gospel. It is mainly through him as a pioneer, that at present the work can be carried on successfully, or practically; for until a permanent nucleus of converts has been secured in those parishes where Romanism like a dark cloud is the only faith—the occasional visits of the colporteur is all that can be accomplished. When, through many visits perhaps, and God's blessing on His word, the once prejudiced and enslaved Romanist feels the power of the Truth, he rests not until his children obtain a Bible education, and the regular ordinances of God's worship are enjoyed, and then is the way prepared for the christian teacher and Minister. Such has been the result in many a parish that through God's grace, has cheered and will crown our labors; and thus through the instrumentality of the colporteur, teacher and pastor, different in the order and mode of operation, but equally necessary, may great accessions be expected to the Church of Christ.

Let us than go forward seeking to increase our laborers, at present so inadequate to the extent and requirements of the field, so that instead of ten we may send forth a hundred faithful Colporteurs as pioneers, to offer to each family throughout the length and breadth of the land, the precious boon of God's word—that in every settlement a christian school may be opened, while our beloved institutions at Pointe aux Trembles be increased four fold in number and saving influences, sending forth many faithful youth to be trained as ministers of the Gospel.

EDUCATION.

This important department of the Society's work has continued to engage the earnest attention of the Committee.

Real education cannot but be viewed with suspicion, by a system like that of the Church of Rome, which discourages the free enquiry of the human mind. To the Nuns is wholly committed in Lower Canada the education of the female portion of the community, and by an order of Friars is the common education of the other sex generally carried on.

Amongst a people so situated, it is scarcely possible to over-estimate the importance of establishing efficient schools, where earnest Bible teaching should form a part of the regular daily instruction; and this can only be done in direct opposition to the active hostility of the priests. It is not always possible to obtain teachers with the necessary qualifications, but there is every hope, that with a judicious selection and training of our most promising pupils, this difficulty will be altogether removed.

Besides the larger and more important institutions at Pointe aux-Trembles, where upwards of a hundred male and female pupils are boarded and educated, other important centres of Christian education have also been established by the Society.

Mission day and Sabbath Schools are now in operation, at Ste Cecile on the Gatineau, Grenville on the Ottawa, Belle Rivière, Montreal, St. Hyacinthe, and Quebec, besides Sabbath Schools at Rivière du Loup, Joliette, and Berthier.

About two hundred and fifty pupils are thus obtaining a good common education based upon the word of God.

POINTE AUX TREMBLES.

During the session of 1869-70, there were in attendance 68 boys and 41 girls, an increase of 14 as compared with the previous year.

At the public examination at the end of the session, a report was presented by the Revd. Professor MacVicar, LL.D., chairman of the Education Sub-Committee, from which the following extracts are taken.

"The course of study embraces the ordinary branches of a common education, whilst very special attention is daily given, in the teaching of the Bible lessons. Faith in God, habits of industry, frugality and proper independence of mind are carefully inculcated. The principal part of the manual labor required in connection with the schools is done by the pupils."

PROGRESS OF PUPILS.

"The proficiency of the scholars must be judged in view of the state of ignorance in which they enter; and the work accomplished by the teachers in six or seven months clearly evinces their zeal and faithfulness, and shows how much they are entitled to our commendation, gratitude, and prayers."

ADDITION TO THE CHURCH.

"It is cause for abundant thanksgiving to Almighty God that His Spirit has, from time to time, descended upon the scholars, bringing them to the knowledge and love of the Saviour. During this session thirteen young men and eight young women, were admitted into the fellowship of the church, coming from many different parishes in the Province, where we may hope much influence for God may be exerted by their means."

FINANCE.

"It is proper to assure all who generously support our mission, that the schools are conducted on the most economical principles. The teachers have pursued their work with harmony and zeal, and we recognize with pleasure the firm, wise and kind discipline and administration of the joint Principals, Rev. G. M. Des Islets and Madame Moret."

"Let the friends and supporters of the great national work of giving a high education to the benighted people of this Province, be more earnest in prayer, and God will fulfil His promise, and do exceeding abundantly above all they ask or think."

PROSPECTS.

"It is the earnest desire of the Committee to render these schools still more effective in the work of the mission, and it is proposed to encourage and aid such of the advanced scholars as may be found qualified, to obtain diplomas from the McGill Normal School, that they may thoroughly fit themselves to be employed throughout the Province as teachers."

The following interesting extracts are taken from the report of the Rev. G. M. Des Islets for the same session, 1839-70.

"We endeavour to teach what Christ and His Apostles taught; Salvation by grace with all its consequences; humiliation for man and glory for God. That is the banner round which we rally, the banner which we have raised among the French Canadians."

"Our Bible class every morning from 9 to 10 o'clock, our prayer meeting every Wednesday, our family worship twice a day, our Sabbath Service and Sabbath School, with God's blessing, have almost uniformly convinced, at least intellectually, that the religion of Rome is not the religion of the Bible."

"A young man, 18 years of age, strongly attached to the Romish Church, asked for admission. He had already obtained a diploma as teacher from the Normal School of Quebec, but still needed the instruction we could give. He thought that he believed nothing but what is taught in the Gospel. He was at first astonished at what he heard at our Bible class. Surely he thought that our Bible must be altogether different from that of his Church. He went on earnestly comparing the two versions. Great was his surprise when he found that we were faithfully teaching the doctrines of Christ, and that the Pope and his colleagues were leading humanity astray. Now he is a firm Protestant, and doing well in his studies. He promises to be a useful man among his countrymen."

"Another instance may be given of a young man of 21 years of age, as much attached to the church of Rome as was the one before mentioned. In spite of all his prejudices, he embraced the religion of the Bible. His friends anxious to remove him from such influences, offered to place him free of charge, in one of the best Roman Catholic Seminaries in the Province." "I believe the Bible," he replied in a letter to a Priest, "and I cannot be a Papist."

RETIREMENT OF M. AND MAD. MORET.

During the past year M. and Mad. Moret resigned their connection with the Society, and have returned to their native country. Advancing years and long service, demanded relief from labors perseveringly sustained, in the cause of the Christian elevation of a benighted people.

The Committee would put on record their sense of the value of Mad. Moret's long and earnest services, as Directress of the girls' school. Specially do they feel that she has been rendered instrumental in God's hand in the enlightenment of many of her pupils. Nor would they omit their appreciation also of the labors of Mr. Moret as teacher and colporteur.

The best wishes of the Committee follow them in their retirement from the more active paths of Christian usefulness.

SESSION 1870-71.

The Rev. G. M. Des Islets continues efficiently to preside over the Institution. Mr. Cornu is assiduous in his labors as assistant teacher, whilst Mad. Des Islets with much success, manages the domestic arrangement of the boy's school. There are at present attending the schools, 64 male and 32 female pupils.

Owing to the retirement of Mad. Moret, the Committee have had the serious task of finding a successor. They think themselves fortunate in having obtained the services of Miss Wythe, a lady whose lengthened educational experience, would have secured for her more remunerative employment, had she not preferred a connection with work of a decidedly missionary character.

Another change was also called for in the girls' school, in consequence of the resignation of the assistant teacher Miss Cadier, whose services the Committee lost with much regret. In her place, one of the late pupils, Miss Léa Rondeau, has been selected to assist Miss Wythe.

The latter reports as follows, of the present session :—

"I am happy to state that my pupils have improved much. There are several quite thoughtful on religious subjects. Three of them have already expressed a wish to profess publicly their faith. The pupils have a prayer meeting by themselves every Sabbath evening, and quite a number of them take an active part in the exercise. On the whole I feel greatly encouraged in my work, and sincerely believe that God will bless the means of grace here furnished, to the salvation of many souls. I am ably supported in my efforts by Miss Merrick. Miss Rondeau also is doing very well, and the work of the mission goes on harmoniously. We hope to be remembered in the prayers of Christian friends."

REV. PROFESSOR COUSSIRAT'S CLASS.

At the beginning of the session of 1869-70, Professor Coussirat—with the three Students, Messrs. Rivet, Dionne and Coté,—removed to Montreal, where his services became available at the Presbyterian college. Messrs. Rivet and Dionne completed their studies on 15th May, at which date the engagement of Professor Coussirat with the Society terminated. His services are now wholly given to the Presbyterian College, Montreal, where the only remaining student of the Society, Mr. Coté is continuing his studies, which will be completed during the present year.

The Committee in parting with Professor Coussirat, desire to express their appreciation of his Christian character, high scholastic attainments, and of the faithful and successful manner, in which he has uniformly discharged his duties; and they pray that God's blessing may continue to rest upon him in his new and important position.

Messrs. Rivet and Dionne after passing an examination, creditable alike to their Professor and themselves, were ordained in November, as mentioned under the head of Evangelization.

Mr. Coté was employed with much success in the Saguenay district, and promises with God's grace to become a useful missionary amongst his countrymen.

OTHER SCHOOLS.

The schools under Mr. Matthieu at Grenville, Mr. Gatignol at Ste. Cecile, Mr. Bourgoïn at Montreal, and Mad. Muraire at Quebec, and others, deserve more than this passing notice, and the Committee hope during the year to publish detailed information with regard to them.

EVANGELIZATION.

In addition to its work amongst the Roman Catholics, the Society ministers to the spiritual wants of not far short of a thousand French Protestants, mostly from the less wealthy classes of the community; and too feeble in number and ability to form a sufficient nucleus in any one locality, for the support of a settled pastor.

This estimate probably does not form a fifth part of the number of those who, but for the existence of this Society, would now be under the influence and teaching of the church of Rome.

Whilst every effort is made by the priests to discourage the emigration of the Romanist, yet no sooner does a man declare himself a Protestant, than he becomes the object of priestly denunciation, and every effort is made to rid the community of his presence. The earliest days of this province witnessed the same policy on the part of the Church of Rome, and the Huguenots of to-day, are driven by Romish intolerance, from their own country, to swell the population and enrich the revenues of another.

An independent synod has been formed, connected with which are all the small French evangelical churches that have been called into existence, as the result of the Society's operations, and the mission has thus been enabled to retain the undenominational character, that has marked it from its commencement. The necessity of doing their utmost towards the support of Gospel ordinances has been earnestly pressed upon our French brethren, and a greater liberality in that respect is being called forth.

The ordained ministers employed as missionaries during the year are, the Rev. Messrs. Chiniquy, Vernon and Duclos; also Messrs. Rivet and Dionne since November last.

REV. O. CHINIQUY.

The above well-known convert from the church of Rome, very cordially and promptly responded to the invitation of the Committee, and labored for several months in connection with the Society.

During the first weeks of his sojourn in Lower Canada, his labors were chiefly confined to the city of Montreal, where hundreds of his countrymen continued to listen to his addresses, in spite of the strenuous exertions of their priests to prevent it. Much excitement prevailed at the time, and angry mobs assembled and threatened, and the great principle of free speech was at stake. But under God, owing to the firm stand taken by the police authorities, and Dr. Bernard the chairman of the Police committee, to whom we would record our indebtedness, Mr. Chiniquy continued his labors with but slight interruption. Day after day, at a place appointed, many sought interviews with him to discuss the Gospel and the errors of Rome, whilst others sought to obtain Christian counsel, or to express their joy in having found a Saviour indeed, and a finished salvation.

Very few left him after such interviews without having expressed their determination to leave the church of Rome: but it is impossible to say in all cases what motives may have prompted them to this decision, and doubtless many of them simply joined the reformed priest, tired of the exactions and tyranny to which, as professed adherents of the Church of Rome, they are at all times exposed.

From many parts of the country, desires have been expressed that Mr. Chiniquy should go amongst them, and give his reasons for leaving the church of his Fathers, and meetings and discussions have been held in various places. In vain however has he challenged the Bishops and Priests of Rome to meet him, but whilst Rome insidiously inculcates her dogmas and her pretensions in the minds of unsuspecting youth, and ignorant manhood, she has not dared to run the risk of an ignominious exposure, in a fair field and fair argument. Through Mr. Chiniquy's instrumentality, there have been, during the past year, many public and formal renunciations of the Church of Rome.

From Montreal, St. André, Grenville, Ste. Cécile, and last, though not the least interesting, from two hundred and fifty-two Indians* of the Algonquin and Iroquois tribes, residing in the county of the Lake of Two Mountains, have issued public protests against Rome's errors, and a public repudiation of her authority. What effect these may have upon the timid and the wavering has yet to be seen.

Illness obliged Mr. Chiniquy to relinquish his labors for some time during the summer, and again in September he was recalled to Kankakee to counsel and assist the French Church there, on the occasion of the destruction of their school and Church by fire.

The almost universal opinion prevails, that no one is better qualified than Mr. Chiniquy, for prosecuting evangelistic work amongst his countrymen, and it is hoped that affairs at Kankakee may soon warrant Mr. Chiniquy's returning to this province and continuing his labors periodically at least, if not permanently, in the wide and accessible field presented by a million of his co-religionists. The increased expenses thereby incurred by the Society, it is believed would be readily met.

Did space permit, it would be of much interest to mention the incidents that occurred in connection with Mr. Chiniquy's labors. His discourses on Christ the gift of God, seemed to make much impression. On one such occasion two young men sought him, the one asking for proof from the Scriptures that the gift is indeed freely offered, and the other to know how that great gift was to become his own; both were much moved, and accepted with faith the gospel thus presented to them for the first time.

After his addresses on the confessional, at which a large number of females attended, women, young and old, came to him to express their joy, that Jesus Christ did not require them to go through that hateful ordeal.

* A movement amongst these tribes took place some eighteen months ago, resulting from dissatisfaction at the administration by the priests of what they considered their property. They sought Protestant teachers, and Wesleyan missionaries have since labored most successfully amongst them, many having left the Church of Rome.

One afternoon eight respectable mechanics waited upon him, and through their chosen spokesman upbraided him for his apostacy, lamenting that one who had been so honored amongst them, should now come to turn them from their faith. After they had finished speaking, Mr. Chiniquy spoke to them long and kindly. At the end of their interview they with much cordiality, thanked him, and declared that he had sufficient grounds for the steps he had taken and as an eye witness expressed it, they exemplified the words of the prophet, that the lion shall become a lamb.

But we pass on to other labors, which though less striking in results are none the less important in building up the work of the mission.

Our long tried missionary, the Rev. J. A. Vernon, has pursued his labors with unabated perseverance, visiting as superintendent of colportage, a great part of the field occupied by our laborers. Eleven principal stations, and 28 outstations have participated in his services as a Christian Minister. Preaching the Gospel, pastoral visitation, administering the ordinances of baptism and the Lord's supper to the scattered flocks, performing the ceremonies of marriage and burial, and encouraging and counselling the missionaries in their important and difficult work. During twenty-one Sabbaths of the year he has assisted at the services in Montreal, and has given the remaining sabbaths to Joliette, Trois-Rivieres, Quebec, Inverness, Rivière du Loup en haut, New Glasgow, Belle Rivière, St. André, Argenteuil, Grenville, Avellin, Grand-Lac, East Templeton, Ottawa, and Ste. Cécile. Mr. Vernon reports that Mr. Chiniquy's bold and faithful services have encouraged and resuscitated the French Protestant churches throughout Lower Canada.

Rev. R. P. Duclos, residing at the important town of St. Hyacinthe, makes it his centre of evangelistic labor. A small but increasing church of forty-eight members and adherents [including fifteen British] meet regularly at the above place. At their last communion, four converts from Rome sat down for the first time. The Sabbath school is the special care of Mad. Duclos, and it deserves notice, that a regular collection is made by the scholars for the work of the mission. The dissentient day school is in part supported by the Society.

During the fall, Mr. Duclos extended his visits to Rivière du Loup en bas, one hundred miles below Quebec. This town is a striking example of the spiritual and educational destitution of a few Protestant families in a community wholly French Canadian. For nine months in the year there are no religious services for old or young, and the only education for the latter is at an Institution, where every influence is adverse to their reformed creed. Mr. Duclos' visit was much appreciated, and our Protestant brethren contributed liberally towards his expenses. There is every hope that both day and Sabbath schools will be maintained, and ministerial supply oc-asionally provided. Their great need at present is the want of a place suited for school and chapel.

On the 1st of November last, a very interesting service was held in the Mission Church, Montreal, in connection with the ordination of Messrs. Rivet and Dionne. They were set apart for the ministry of the word by the authority of the French Protestant Synod, and were admitted as members of the same. Their services will be available for any part of the field, as occasion requires. At present Mr. Dionne is in charge of the church and district of Belle Rivière, whilst Mr. Rivet is similarly employed in Montreal. Five families have joined the church in that city, and the Sabbath School has had life and numbers added to it, under the zealous and earnest superintendence of Mr. William Court. The Rev. Professor Cousirat has a large and interesting Bible Class in connection with the church.

FINANCE.

The large balance against the Society as mentioned in the last report, has been cause for much anxiety, and it is in no formal spirit that the Committee would express their thankfulness to Him "whose is the silver and the gold," that they are able to report a diminution of the Society's indebtedness of nearly $3,000.

GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND.

The Society is indebted to the Rev. A. Young of Montreal, for five months active, zealous labor in Britain during the year, and there is every reason to believe, that not only was he enabled by unflagging effort, and in spite of many disadvantages, to add considerably to its funds, but that his visit will also tend to promote a more favorable state of feeling towards the mission. The thanks of the Committee are specially due to Mr. Young, and his congregation, for the sacrifices they consented to make. The continuous support of friends in the Mother Country, is not an unimportant link between the old world and the new. The Committees of Glasgow and Edinburgh may be assured that their persistent labors, and regular remittances, tend not a little to encourage the Committee in the prosecution of their work. Their services for many successive years have been given on behalf of a work but little known, though not without its claims upon the sympathy and aid of British Protestants, as being carried on amongst subjects of the same empire, amongst a people who, from their submission to priestly domination, are materially influencing for evil the future destiny of British America.

From an anonymous contributor in England, a donation was received of £250 sterling. It is hoped he may learn how timely was his gift, and how much encouragement he has been the means of conveying to the Committee.

To Messrs. Allan we are indebted for reduction of passage fare for our agent visiting Great Britain; also for the free conveyance of books.

Grants have been kindly continued from the Finance Committee of the Congregational Union of England and Wales, the Presbyterian Church of Ireland, the United Presbyterian and Free Churches of Scotland, and from the National Bible Society of Scotland. To all of the above the Committee tender their grateful acknowledgments.

ONTARIO.

The Society's most indefatigable agent, the Revd. J. T. Byrne, has successfully prosecuted his work in the Western Province, which he reports is willing and able to do more if properly canvassed. Amongst their numerous friends in Ontario, to one and all of whom the Committee send their cordial thanks and annual greeting, the Mission is indebted to G. D. Fergusson, Esq., of Fergus, for the annual contribution of $400 for the support of a colporteur, and to I. Cockshutt, Esq., of Brantford, not only for the support of six pupils and liberal aid in money, but also that through his influence others have been led to take a cordial interest in the work.

It is from the important and Protestant Province of Ontario, that the Committee must naturally look for the most cordial sympathy and aid—sympathy, because of the difficulties to be encountered; and aid, because of the importance of the work, for only as the principles of the Reformation prevail, can we hope for the real prosperity and progress of the Dominion.

UNITED STATES.

The American and Foreign Christian Union having been compelled to withdraw their grant to the Society, the Committee were recommended to make a written appeal to the churches, which they did, without, however, eliciting any response, when it was decided to send someone to represent their interests. Accordingly the Revd. G. M. DesIslets for a limited time in the Spring, and the Revd. J. T. Byrne in the Fall, visited New York and some of the New England States, and considering the peculiar circumstances of the country, were as successful as could have been anticipated. The Committee record their thanks to those friends who responded to the call made upon them, and to those brethren who kindly rendered their assistance to the agents of the Society. To James Lenox, Esq., New-York, special thanks are due for his liberal donation of $500, which reached the Treasurer on the morning of the anniversary, and by so much reduced the balance still against the Society.

NOVA SCOTIA AND NEW BRUNSWICK.

Late in the Fall, the Revd. Mr. McEwen of Pembroke, Ont., and the Secretary, made a brief visit to the Maritime Provinces to make known more fully the operations of the Society. They met with a most hearty welcome, and a liberal response, and the hope was frequently expressed that a closer connection might be formed with the Society, which would lead to the employment of one of the Society's missionaries amongst the French Acadians of those Provinces.

The mission is much indebted to the Revd. Mr. McEwen for the kind and hearty manner in which he left his charge for several weeks, and placed his services at the disposal of the Committee. The delegation have every reason to remember their visit with pleasure and gratitude.

BIBLES AND BOOKS.

The Mission is much indebted to the British and Foreign Bible Society, the Religious Tract Society of London, and the American Bible Society; also to H. Bewly, Esq., Dublin, and to the Montreal Auxiliary Bible Society, for liberal grants towards the prosecution of the work. The Committee hope that the difficulties experienced in the sale and circulation of religious literature in French Canada, already alluded to, may be rightly estimated in judging of the work done. They believe that as education progresses, a greater opening is at hand, which ought by all means to be taken advantage of.

AUXILIARY SOCIETIES.

One object kept in view is, as far as possible, to form branch associations, especially in localities where the visit of the Agent must necessarily be but seldom; and cordial thanks are tendered to those auxiliaries, which by taking up the contributions in their own locality, greatly aid the Agent in extending his work over the whole field. (A list of auxiliaries is given on another page.)

MONTREAL.

As this city is the centre of the Society's operations, it is justly expected that energy and liberality should there be manifested in the work of the mission; and such has been the case during the past year.

The Ladies' Association have shown a greatly revived interest in a work, for which they have for so many years perseveringly labored. Besides an increase in their ordinary collections, they have inaugurated a series of lectures for the benefit of the Society, and have been fortunate enough to enlist the services of Principal Dawson, Rev. Dr. Burns, Rev. J. M. Gibson, and Professor Forbes, who, whilst giving the community the benefit of their thoughts and travels, have aided a work of the first importance to the country.

Principally by the active and persevering efforts of members of the General Committee and others, a special collection of more than $2,000 was obtained, whilst the annual contributions have been largely in excess over those of the previous year; and the fact should be recorded, that the Society's warm and constant friend Mrs. Aitken, has added seventy-eight dollars to the funds, by weekly subscriptions of one penny, taken up in one of the suburbs of the city, through the Association of which she is President.

The Society is specially indebted to one of its vice-presidents, not only for a very liberal donation, but for the generous and enlightened hospitality with which he opened his ample apartments, and thus afforded an opportunity for giving information, and deepening an interest in connection with the evangelistic work carried on amongst the French Canadian people.

To the Canada Presbyterian Church thanks are specially due for contributions to the amount of $1324 43, from various sources as will be seen by the lists.

The services of the following long-trying friends in Great Britain are again gratefully acknowledged : Glasgow, J. D. Bryce, Esq., Samuel Gunn, Esq., and Miss Pinkerton; Edinburgh, Robert Haldane, Esq., Rev. W. Arnot, Mrs. MacNider; Liverpool, Bryce Allan, Esq.; and London, Edward Jenkins, Esq.

SCHOLARSHIPS.

The Committee would draw special attention to the excellent opportunity that is afforded, under this head, of enlisting the sympathies of the young in direct Christian work amongst those destitute of the spiritual advantages they themselves possess.

The cost for education and board of a Pupil is about $40 per Session, and the attention of Sabbath Schools and private friends is earnestly invited to this mode of promoting the work of the Society.

A list of contributions towards the special support of pupils is given in the Appendix, and the success that attended the labors of the past session at Pointe aux Trembles, may be looked upon, in a great measure, as an answer to the many prayers that have been offered, that God's blessing might rest upon the instruction given.

FINANCES.

The sources of income this year, are Quebec and Ontario $13,637; Lower Provinces, $780; United States $2216; and Great Britain $6361; Total $22,996. The expenditure is for Education $6814; Colportage, $4696; Evangelization, $3203; Secretary and Agents, $3898; Miscellaneous $1548; Total, $20164. At the close of last year, the debt due the Society was $4427; but this year's accounts show a deficiency of only $1585, which however the Committee trust will soon be removed.

The great reduction of the debt during the past year is matter for mutual congratulation amongst the friends and supporters of the mission, and especially for devout thankfulness to Almighty God. May He make it to all, not an excuse for relaxing effort, but rather an encouragement for more faithful service.

CONCLUSION.

It must ever be borne in mind that we wage a spiritual not a physical warfare; that our weapons partake of the nature of our work, and that our most important successes are those affecting the kingdom, of which Jesus Christ said, "it cometh not with observation."

Movements most stupendous, because determining men's eternal destinies may be going on as the result of our labors, of times unknown to any human mind. In the conflicts of nations, and on the battle-fields of earth, the numbers of the slain may be counted, and lists of the wounded furnished with detailed accuracy, whilst towns and provinces wrested from the enemy are substantial tokens of success.

But in the conflict between truth and error, Christ and Satan, of which the human soul is the battle-field, forces more subtle and impalpable are at work, and it is simply impossible for man justly or accurately, during any limited period of time, to measure the progress made in the cause of truth, or to know how far the power of the enemy has been weakened or undermined.

Ours is pre-eminently a work of faith. We may not be permitted to see the result of our labours, but we have this unspeakable consolation, that in making use of the right means in the right spirit, there is an assured victory in God's appointed time. From the faint-hearted and unbelieving we cannot expect much of sympathy or cordial support. To them the time may appear long, the effort unavailing, the expenditure fruitless. But amongst those who experimentally know the power of God's weapons and the certainty of God's promises, it will be felt that,

"To doubt would be disloyalty,

"To falter would be sin."

In concluding their report, the Committee earnestly ask for the prayers of the friends of the mission, and considering the past history and present prospects of the work, they cannot more appropriately close, than in the words of inspiration: "Let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap if we faint not."

APPENDIX.

JOURNALS OF THE MISSIONARIES.

We arrange, as usual, the extracts under special heads, to show more distinctly the results and features of the Colportage work.

POWER AND OPPOSITION OF THE PRIESTS.

"A good old man wished to buy a Bible. Before deciding, he called his son and consulted him, who said, 'I do not advise you to buy this book, because it is bad.' 'Why is it bad?' we said to him. 'The priest has told us so—we bought one like it and he made us burn it.' We asked him if he had read this book before burning it; and we begged him to point out to us that which he found evil. He refused."

"On the road from ——— to ———, we were on the point of placing a New Testament in a family, when one of the children noticed that the cover was the same as that of a volume that the priest had made them burn on another occasion. This discovery discouraged the purchase, especially when the child, in order to support its statement, showed a box, two sides of which were made of the binding of a New Testament similar to ours. Poor Canadians!"

"This month has been most encouraging. I labored in the town of S., where I was most cordially received, although the priests and Jesuits, who were holding meetings, slandered me as much as they could. I held two meetings in the open air, at which thirty or forty persons were present. When I showed them that the Word of God was the only means to lead them from the darkness of error. After these meetings I was enabled to place several testaments and a quantity of tracts."

"I found a young man who had possessed the Bible, but as soon as the priest knew it he tormented him to obtain it. He would not, however, abandon it, and the priest then induced the young man's mother to take it away from him. During many months she watched to get access to his trunk, which he kept carefully locked; but at last he left his key in the trunk, and the same day the Bible disappeared."

"Revisited several parishes where I had placed a considerable number of testaments, but alas few have survived the efforts to destroy them. At F. especially, none remains, all have been burnt by order of the priest, who preached as if the colporteurs ought to meet the same fate. My visit has not been lost however, as I had ample opportunities for reading and explaining the Scriptures."

"At S. R. I found several families well disposed. In one of them was a Testament which had come down from the grandmother, and had been in the family for forty years. The priests had done all in their power to get it away, but in vain. It was completely worn by usage, especially at Roman: viii."

At St. S. there is another family well disposed, who have had a Testament since eight years, we passed an interesting evening together. They questioned me about our belief, and why the priest taught what was contrary to the gospel. I lent them a Bible, but they are afraid to make any open profession.

At St. L. there was a meeting of school commissioners. The priest presided, and I was witness of how these men treat their people. At a former meeting when the priest was absent a resolution had been passed that the catechism should be taught only twice a week in the school instead of every day. This displeased him and he required the resolution to be rescinded, and on refusing he grossly insulted the other commissioners. A carter would not have used coarser words, and he told them if they fell sick he would refuse the communion, and would not confess them, nor give them extreme unction so that they could not be buried in consecrated ground. At the meeting next day they submitted, protesting they acted against their consciences, but the priest said that was their business and he had nothing to do with their consciences, their submission was what he wanted. After the meeting the conversation turned on the Pope's infallibility, and when I replied to some of the priest's statements, he went off without replying. The people of whom there were about forty, clapped their hands and said "he can speak enough when he has only to do with us who are ignorant, but when one who is instructed puts a reasonable question, he runs away."

"About a year since we had placed a good number of Testaments and tracts, with the workmen at M. Mills. When I returned some of these men came in a threatening manner to ask me to return their money. I learnt by them that the priest had seized their books, assuring them they could read nothing so pernicious, and that I would be glad to return their money. But if I refused, they were to let him know, and putting everything aside, he would come and see justice done to them. I told them at once to seek the priest, and waited two hours but he did not come. I continued to speak of the Gospel, and they were somewhat confused at having spoken so rudely, and at the little earnestness shown by the priest who had pushed them to it. The bell sounded and interrupted the meeting in the open air, which was a truly remarkable one."

"When visiting the hospital, I found among the sick a young man with whose parents I had spent several days last year, when colporting. They had been very kind, and heard with attention the reading and exposition of the Scriptures. On leaving I gave them a Testament which they gratefully took. Shortly after the priest came, intending to drive me out of the house, and they to prove I was a good man, showed the testament, which he took and in great anger threw into the stove. This stirred up the curiosity of their son, this young man, and lately being in the United States, he procured a Testament to find out what was in it to put the priest into such a terrible passion. He could find in it nothing to explain the priest's behaviour, but took notice of several passages that seemed to contradict the doctrines of his church. In this state of mind I found the young man, and I pray God (who seems to have convinced him that he is in the wrong road), to convert him to his Son Jesus Christ."

"Recently we met a woman who has had a Bible for many years, and which the priest had done his utmost to get away from her, but in vain. 'It is the Word of God,' she said, 'and no price will tempt me to give it up.'"

IGNORANCE OF THE PEOPLE.

A lady said, upon whom I had pressed the supreme duty of praying to God through Jesus, "The dear name of Mary was the first that my mother taught me to stammer upon my knees, and I never enter the door without first making the sign of the cross with holy water."

"While offering my tracts and testaments in one of the inns on the Bonsecours Market, I was grossly insulted by a butcher from the St. Lawrence Market, who then struck me several blows on the back of my head and temple. My face swelled up immediately, and I bled in two places. Those present pushed me out of the door."

An old woman blind, 80 years old, interested me by repeating that we could do nothing without grace, but I was sadly disappointed when I found her saying it was not Jesus but Peter who had the keys of Heaven.

Another woman told me she had more confidence in the blessed Virgin than in God. I believe her sincerely ignorant.

The more we labor among this poor blinded people the more we are impressed with the need of prayer, for the enlightenment of the Holy Spirit.

"In one house an old woman prevented her daughter from buying my books, saying they would destroy her soul."

"In ——— I found a young married woman very sick. My enquiries about her seemed to please, and she made signs to me to approach the bed-side. I asked what were her hopes for the next life; if she loved Jesus and placed all her confidence in Him. These questions surprised her and she thought I must be a priest. She had till then put all her confidence in the Virgin Mary, and acknowledged she never thought about God and the Saviour. She owned she was not certain of her salvation, and I then showed her how the Gospel taught us, that all who believed in Jesus would assuredly be saved. The husband here interfered, on the pretext that I was fatiguing her, and made me leave against her wish."

"In L. settlement, I suffered so much from rude and brutal treatment that I was sick for several days afterwards."

"At St. Anne I met an old man who was full of the praises of Saint Anne, telling of the many miraculous cures she has performed. 'You don't, then, need medicine in this parish,' I said, 'and you should consult her about your own eyes, which seem to me in a sad state.' These words for an instant paralyzed the old man, and when he recovered his speech, he loaded me with abuse to such an extent, that several persons waiting for the sailing of the boat were attracted to us. I profited by the occasion to speak to and give them tracts."

PROGRESS IN SPITE OF DIFFICULTIES.

This month I have been generally well received. A lawyer, who is a sceptic, took from me a little book on the authority of the Scriptures, and several who had bought tracts from me came for more. An old woman allowed me to read to her the fifteenth chapter of St. John, with which she was greatly delighted. Some carpenters at work also gladly heard me read. Five men, four of them strangers from the country hired to cut hay near the town, came one night asking me to read the gospel to them. They listened as if they were hungry after the truth. They had walked after their day's labor about two miles, and promised to return again. May the Lord use me as an instrument, to open the eyes of those poor blind ones.

"We have found in one of our converts from Popery a good and strong auxiliary to our work. Mr. A. offers the Bible and religious books to all customers. Through his instrumentality many have been led to enquire after the Word of God."

I think we should persevere in speaking as much as possible without controversy, and especially of the love of Jesus for sinners, and in reading passages from the gospel, and religious works. Books are sometimes burnt before they are read, but what we say or read may remain as a testimony, and cannot be burnt. When the people see we are not afraid to show and read our books, they have more confidence in them, whatever the priests may say. Owing to the priests there are persons who dare not look at our books, although they desire it, but many others examine and read them, and ask us to read to them, when they are astonished to find them so excellent.

"We find some persons very fanatical and very brutal, and if they had the power, would make us endure the hardest treatment. But we find others very encouraging, which gives us perseverance, and zeal, and the confidence that our labour will not be in vain. We ought then always to sow and plant, and in the proper season, God will give the increase. He will make the holy seed grow to maturity for His glory and the salvation of souls."

"In a house where we slept I read the 14th chap. of John and made a few remarks which they liked very much and listened to with great attention. Next day they bought several books. A man wished to buy one also when some one said: "The priest is against our buying books from travellers for they are always bad." The man answered: It is none of his business: I am master of my own house, and will buy what I please. Are these books of prayers and the gospel bad?"

"Another to whom we read the passion of our Lord, said. "This alone is worth a shilling," and bought a testament. The preceding month, I met at T. P. a young girl who examined a long time a Testament which she wished very much to get, but dared not buy it, I said to her: "I will pass again in a few weeks, and if you wish I will lend you the Testament so that you may read and examine it, and on my return, you can return or pay for it." She gladly accepted it on this condition and on my return the book was handed to me by her mother, who would not allow me to speak to the daughter. I learned, however, that on the second day the mother had hidden the book until my coming. On Sabbath, however, this young girl and three of her family came to the house of Mr. S. the only protestant family in the place, where some Scotch workmen employed on the railway were also assembled. We first spoke in English, and then in French, and all especially the young girl, were very attentive. After the meeting I spoke a long time with them, and after removing some fears as to the books being bad, I succeeded in persuading her to take back the Testament. She engaged to read it with much attention and prayer."

"I learnt the following encouraging incident. A man obtained a Bible twenty years ago, and in obedience to the priest locked it up in his box without reading it; but, having no employment this winter, he took himself to study the long hidden book. The more he read he was pleased, so that at last he assembled his family to read to them the good things he had found in it, such as the Prodigal Son, the Passion of our Lord, explaining the passages as he went on. This makes us hope there are others like him whom the Holy Spirit will yet enlighten."

"At W. I found the friends had made progress, especially Widow L. Last winter she had been very sick, even thought dying, and the R. Catholic neighbours had thronged her house, tormenting her to confess, which she refused to do. The priest, however, called, and she received him, but would not allow him to shut the door, so that all might hear the conversation, which took the following shape:—

"Widow.—'Sir, I have some questions to ask, and if you answer them we will be of one mind.'

"Priest.—'What are they?'

"Widow.—'Can you pardon all my sins, even those I have entirely forgotten?'

"Priest.—'I can only pardon those I know.'

"Widow.—'Then I cannot confess to you, for I have found a confessor who can pardon all my sins, even those I have forgotten and was ignorant of.'

"Priest.—'Yes; and who is he? I suppose it is that vagabond colporteur who comes about here.'

"Widow.—'No, Sir, better than he. One you do not know. It is Jesus Christ, who received Mary Magdalen, and did not reject the thief on the cross.'

"The priest then got angry and left, saying, 'you are accursed, and will go down to the depths of hell.' To which the widow replied, 'Jesus Christ did not say anything so hard even to Judas Iscariot who betrayed him. I will rather go to Him, for He has more compassion than the priests and greater power.' "

"I am generally well received, and where I lodge in the evening the house is filled with people to hear the gospel read, and to speak about it. It is very sad they have such fear of the priests, otherwise we could do much good among them. If they do not receive the gospel in ten years they will become completely infidel, as their clergy treat them with such arrogance, that they may be driven to despair; and then the priest may look out.

At G. St. E. I found a family of about twenty persons, who heard me with pleasure. I left them a testament.

"I visited a family, the grandfather of which was over a hundred years old, and his wife 93 years. The old man said God kept him in good health, but what he feared was to die suddenly. I spoke of the necessity of being prepared for death, and of God's great love in giving his own son to save us. With their ready permission I prayed with them, the old woman repeating expressions, in my prayer as I went on. I found some who had been much opposed quite changed after hearing the Scriptures read.

We spent about two hours together speaking on religion, and next day I was able to collect with much encouragement in the place. The following evening my lodging was crowded to hear the good news of salvation.

"At B. I stayed all night with a man whom I had first seen about two years since, and who is tolerably well educated. We compared for hours the Testaments I had, with his which were approved, for he had several in Latin and French, and he acknowledged that Martin's was more faithfully translated than the Archbishop of Quebec's Testament. He was much struck with Rev. xviii 13, which the Archbishop had translated "des esclaves et des hommes libres," (slaves and freedmen.); This in Martin's was "des esclaves et des âmes d'hommes," (slaves and souls of men.); which is the literal translation of the Vulgate. We had been led to this by a note of the Archbishop on the word "Babylon, at the end of 1 Peter, that it means, Rome," which is also thus named in Revelation. I took occasion to show Mr. T. how Rome trafficked in the souls of men, and that terrible judgments were to befall her. I noticed that for some moments he trembled and became pale. May the Lord open his eyes and give him strength to come out of Babylon.

"At P. L. the inhabitants seem well-disposed to the truth, and certainly in this parish there is a strong desire to hear the good news of salvation. The Bible is read and studied in families which before were very hostile to the meeting we commenced. One of the strongest opponents asked one of our friends to lend him a Testament, but exacted at the same time the most inviolable secrecy. In another house a Testament was refused, but, through the perseverance of their son, the opposition of the parents was overcome, and the Word of God admitted into the house."

"We gave a Testament to a poor family. We believed that the sacred volume was lost, but were deceived, as on returning to the house we found the people met together with some strangers, reading and talking about the truths of the Word."

"We give the first place to the circulation of the Holy Scriptures, to overcome the effect of so many unwholesome and dangerous publications which the Romish clergy circulate in all classes of society. We have also circulated a large number of religious tracts, which are more and more appreciated by the French Canadians. We mention with much joy that several persons have come to borrow these tracts, and others to talk with us of the Scriptures. We have several times visited the Marine Hospital, where the want of books and good evangelical discourses are more felt than anywhere else."

"We gave a Testament to a sick person in the Hospital. It became his favorite reading, and, strange to say, it was approved by the priest who visits this poor old man. 'It is a good book,' said he; 'it is not enough to read it, my friend; you must put it into practice.' In the same building we found a poor man dying of consumption, who was eager to hear of the promises of Christ."

"Near St. C. we visited a poor sick man. All the family joined in prayer, and on the day of the funeral we offered prayer in the presence of a number of French Canadians."

"Amongst numerous signs which make us firmly hope for better times for true Christianity, perhaps the chief one is the facility with which in — we can approach the people, and speak to them of the gospel, and of the treasures of wisdom and knowledge contained in the Word of God."

"In — — — we found an old man 107 years old, still enjoying all his faculties. We declared to him salvation by faith and by grace. He was surprised to learn that he ought not to rest upon good works for salvation. He acknowledged himself a sinner, and without, however, entirely renouncing the belief that his works will be of value at the day of judgment, he looked to the cross of Christ. May the Lord bless the seed sown."

"At the Hospital, where we go as often as our occupations will permit, we found an elderly man, both of whose legs had been amputated. He has lived until now in religious formalism, more dangerous, perhaps, than indifference; but, God be praised, his conscience seems awakened by our words, and he is seeking refuge in Christ."

"At L., the word of God has been received in a manner remarkably encouraging. There is not a house where we have not preached Christ, notwithstanding that the whole population is Roman Catholic. We have sold or placed many religious tracts, and some portions of the Scriptures in this parish, and, but for the poverty of the people, we might have placed a greater number. In one house we found a Testament, which was given to the head of the family during a voyage he made to England. The priest has made every effort to have it destroyed; but in spite of his efforts, the holy volume has been preserved and read many times, for it is well used."

"The meetings are better attended; the people more serious and attentive. Let us unite in prayer to praise the Lord and intreat him to break the fetters, which keep this interesting people under the yoke of Romish error."

"In the next house the people were better disposed, and I read the Testament to two women who listened with such interest as not to remark the entry of the old woman; I noticed her however pass behind my chair, and I turned round, and saw her arms raised to hit me on the head. "What are you going to do," I cried, when she dropped the stick and fled. "The old mother has become crazy," said the women. We continued our reading and I sold them a Testament."

"A woman of Port Neuf carried a Testament with her to church, as the reading of it, she says, is more profitable than of the latin prayers."

"There have been fewer copies of the Scriptures placed, but those are in houses where the priests cannot easily take them away. This is owing, I believe, to the frequent visits made by the missionaries in these parishes. The people are more serious, and those who buy a Testament intend to read it."

"In Quebec I was called to visit a dying man, from Jersey, and a Protestant by birth. There were round his bed several Roman Catholics trying to turn him to their faith, but although he seemed very feeble, he resisted their efforts. Informed of this by a friend, I visited him several times, and had the happiness to be the means of leading him to put all his hope in Jesus. The Canadians in the room and passages heard me pray and read, and as a last effort sent for the Priest; but providentially, I was there when he came. I proposed to the Priest, in the presence of the people, to examine the New Testament, but he refused, and left much displeased, when the dying man pointedly refused to listen to him. He offered, but was told not to come back. I took advantage of these circumstances to speak of the Gospel to those round the sick man, and to all appearance with good results."

"At L. G., where I was with Mr. Bourgoin two years since, we had visited a farmer who ordered us out of his house, because our books were not approved. At a short distance we found a poor dwelling, where we were hospitably received by the inmates, who after some hesitation on account of their poverty, bought the Gospel of St. Luke, not being able to purchase a Testament. This little book proved to be the good seed of the Word. It passed into the hands of the man who had received us so rudely, and when I returned this month, instead of letting loose his dog as he had threatened if we came back, he insisted on my staying all night with him. He excused his former conduct and bought a testament, (not caring now about its being approved by the priest) and some books of the Toulouse Society."

"In ———, I sold a Testament to a waggon maker who at our first visit rudely treated us. We then induced him to accept some tracts and their reading had a happy influence in softening the man who was rather a sceptic than a bigot."

"I have good hopes for the spiritual future of the French Canadian population, from the favorable reception I generally meet with. Formerly the colporteurs were driven away and often brutally treated."

"I called at a house where there was an old man alone. His spiritual state affected me, and he accepted my offer to read the Scriptures. I read John III. 16.36 and explained the doctrine of a free salvation. He shed tears, and just then a nephew coming in, called out 'why are you making my uncle cry, you are a bad man.' The old man said 'It is not he who makes me weep but my sins,' and told him what had passed. He was completely changed, and insisted upon my going with him and staying all night. On leaving he bought a book which he said showed so much the love of God and his hatred of sin."

"At St. C. I met a Papal Zouave, who, to my surprise, had a Testament (Ostervald's), which an Englishman had given him at Rome several years since. The book had always been in his possession, but, unhappily for him, he had found in it only condemnation of the errors of the Romish Church, and not as yet salvation by faith."

"On my road to St. C. I had sold a Testament to a farmer, who, on showing the book to the priest, had been told that its reading would conduct him to hell. He was about to give it up to him, when a young man came in with a tract, in like manner to take the opinion of the priest about it. His direction to both was to seek and force me to take back the books. After considerable trouble they found me at night where I was lodging, and on the farmer loudly complaining that the book sold him was bad, I asked him to prove what he said. Profiting by their embarrassment, I took the Testament and read several passages, taking the bystanders to witness. This reading was blessed of God, for, although I took back the Testament, I sold three others to those who were present."

"In winter, where we lodge, the houses are often filled with the neighbours, who are attracted by the arrival of strangers. They ask us many questions, and we profit by it to speak of the gospel; but among them there are sometimes those who, when they learn we are Protestants, want to put us out of the house, and do us violence. When there are two of us we can better bear these outrages and at the same time they seldom occur."

INCREASING WANT OF CONFIDENCE IN THE PRIESTS AND THE SYSTEM THEY UPHOLD.

"At S., I was told the priest had refused to bury a poor woman because her husband could not pay his fees, and that the neighbours, having collected the money, had taken the body to another parish for burial. The man had been blind for three years, and the family was living on public charity."

One woman seeing my Looks, bought two, saying "I know well what they are, they tell us our priests sell Heaven in making us pay for masses, and it is true."

CASES OF LEAVING THE CHURCH OF ROME.

CONVERSION OF A FAMILY.—I am happy to tell you that my stall on the market has not been without fruit, as the father and mother of a family, eleven in number, have received the Word through this means. Four years since, I sent the man some tracts, and every time he came to the market he told me how much they liked them, and I exhorted him to seek after the truth in order to be saved. He is very intelligent, and his wife well educated, having been eight years at a convent. One day he said, "Do you know that since we read your book and the Testament, we are becoming bad Catholics. We don't any longer believe many things in our religion, because we see the Word of God condemns them." A year ago he got the loan of a Bible for his wife, as she wanted to know more about the truth, and since then he often came to have different passages explained. The whole family then gave up confession to the priest, although he preached against them. Once he said to me, "I would like much to have you call on me, but I am afraid the people would set fire to my buildings. O, it is difficult to live in our country when one knows the truth. I think I will sell everything, and go with my whole family, when it is in my power, to a free country like the United States." Lately he told me he had sold out and was about to leave, and said he would like much if I could come and once more talk about religion. I went, and I cannot express the joy I felt at the sight of this large family so well disposed to the gospel. In the evening several of their neighbors came in, and I could speak freely of the difference between the religion of Jesus and the Pope. After they left we continued our reading and conversation till it was almost daylight. I sold them six shillings worth of books and gave them some old ones, and when we parted they said they would never forget the happy time we had spent together. I have good hope that ere long others will manifest themselves on the side of the truth.

At St. L. I found a family which for some years has known the errors of the Romish Church. The father, who is a day laborer, said to me, "Mr. V., we are leaving in the Spring for the United States. I cannot stand it longer. I must speak of the truth to others, and tell them of the falsehoods the priests make them believe." I lent them a Bible, as they had only read the Testament.

"I visited G. C. where five families, used to meet to hear the word of God read, but I found four of them had gone to the United States. I had much joy with the remaining one, the woman especially interested me with the trials she had gone through. She said several times, "O how thankful I am to God who put it into your heart to visit us. I have been wishing to see you all summer, I have been so sick. I often said in the morning, O Lord this may be my last day here. Thy will be done. O kind Saviour give me always that peace which none but thyself can bestow. May Thy blood which was shed on the cross wash and cleanse me from all sin." When I left they thanked me much for my visit.

"At C. R. the most interesting circumstance which occurred this month, was Mr. G's official notice to the priest of his leaving the Church of Rome, I remained with him three days, and had very many opportunities of reading, speaking, and praying during that period. I spent each evening at a different house, with always a large number of people to hear the word of God. We were occasionally disturbed by cries and stones thrown, but nobody was hurt. However the number of Testaments placed was less than could have been wished. The fear of being found owning something which would convert them and lead to their protesting against Rome, is I think the chief reason, why the people hesitate to possess the word of God."

"Whilst the farmers are reaping their harvest of grain which they had thrown into the soil in spring, we have been scattering the Divine seed. Alas! some of it will probably fall by the wayside, some on stony places, or among thorns; still we fondly hope at least some grains will fall into ground prepared for it, and when the season arrives, it will bring forth fruit to the glory of the Most High. We found the M. family very happy, not because of gold, or silver, or any earthly good, but because they possessed the pure gospel of Jesus Christ, and had been delivered from the slavery of the Church of Rome, and brought into the glorious liberty of the children of God. During the Sabbath we spent there, we had an interesting meeting. Besides the M. family, there were other persons who had been notified of it, and who listened to the service with remarkable attention. After the meeting they expressed their desire for a visit from Father Chiniquy, to hear his reasons for leaving the Church of Rome, and embracing Protestantism. We believe such a visit in this place would produce great results. Indeed in every parish in this Province, we doubt not, his efforts would be successful, so much are the people dissatisfied with the priests."

"Sales are never large during harvest, as the men and women are almost all in the fields. I, however, placed three Testaments, two of them with persons very anxious to follow their teachings, believing them to be the Word of God. They seemed decided to bear the contempt of their neighbours, and follow the gospel. One of them came to me one Sabbath morning, when at Mr. S.'s, and we spoke of the teachings of God's Word. In the afternoon he came back with his wife and several other French Canadians, who appeared well satisfied, especially the woman, with what they heard. She said she had been opposed to her husband, but now she would like to spend all her Sabbaths like this. Others showed the same desire that I should return."

HAPPY DEATH OF A CONVERT.

"HISTORY OF A. L.—This young man, whose conversion has so much rejoiced us, was born of French Canadian parents. The mother only was converted, and ceased not to pray and labor to bring her children to Jesus, placing her hopes especially on this son. Unhappily he was led away by bad companions and became a thief. He was tried and sentenced to two years imprisonment, and during this both parents died. After this he conducted himself better for a time but was again led by his old associates into vicious courses, which ended in sickness and misery. Having no other resource, he obtained admission into the General Hospital, where he was visited and faithfully dealt with by our missionary, but he refused to listen to the Scriptures or be prayed with. He seemed to have sunk into despair, saying he was lost, that he had sold himself to the devil and after death would go to him. He left the hospital and for a time was at the House of Industry where through the influence of some ladies and students his mind became softened and he sent for Mr. V. B. He then asked pardon for his former conduct and begged our missionary not to leave him. Becoming worse, he was again sent to the General Hospital where he rapidly declined, but as his body became weaker his soul grew in faith and peace. One day he said, "O, if God had afflicted me three years ago how much suffering would have been spared my dear mother, but I will soon see her. God only knows how much I have tried not to be a christian, but He has been stronger than me, and has now made my sins a burden and in Christ's blood I have sought refuge. I don't fear death, but wish for it, for I am afraid of going back into the world. How good God has been to me to save me at the eleventh hour. The missionary attended him every day and when he was dying he sent his brother for him. But when he arrived, the soul had gone into the hands of Him who had given it."

Of the five separate renunciations of Rome that were made at Mr. Chiniquy's instigation, we insert two. It is a new and encouraging feature in French Canadian evangelization.

Letter of the Iroquois and Algonquins of the Lake of the Two Mountains to the priests of Rome:—

"Reverend Mr. Tollef,—A great light has shone upon our eyes. And the darkness with which you had surrounded us has been dissipated by the Great Master of life.

"For one hundred and fifty years you have kept our ancestors, like ourselves, in ignorance of the gospel.

"You have taken from us this testament of our Heavenly Father, and by so doing, you would deprive us of our inheritance in heaven, as you have that of this world. But the Father of Life has had pity upon the poor Indians of the Lake. He has given to us the testament of His Son Jesus, and in this testament we have learnt our duties, as we have also been made acquainted with our rights. It is in this gospel that we have found that your religion of Rome was not the religion which had been brought from heaven by Jesus.

"Jesus loved the poor and helped them; the priests of Rome despise the poor, and take from them the last mouthful of bread, under pretext of their long prayers.

"Jesus was humble, and He had not where to lay His head.

"The priests of Rome are proud and haughty; they have robbed to enrich themselves of the patrimony that our ancestors earned a thousand times at the price of their own blood.

"Jesus has given His blood to extinguish the fires of hell.

"But the priests of Rome will not extinguish the fires of their purgatory without money. The poor widow must take the last morsel of bread from her children, and give it to the priests, that they may draw a soul from the fires of purgatory.

"An Indian who should see any one fall into the fire would hasten to save him without being paid for doing so. It is only the priests of Rome who must be paid for that, because the Great Spirit of life and love is not in the hearts of the priests of Rome.

"Good bye, then, false Church of Rome. We leave you in order to follow the Spirit of light, of love and of life.

PROTEST.

Montreal, May 16, 1870.

Rev. Messire ROUSSELOT, Curé de Montreal.

Monsieur le Curé—We, the undersigned, herewith inform you that the God of the Gospel, in His infinite mercy, has opened our eyes to the errors of the Church of Rome, and has given us grace to enable us to abandon them.

It is not the name of saints, or angels, or of the Virgin—it is the name of Jesus only that we will in the future call upon, in order to be saved; for it is written in the Word of God, that "there is no other name given amongst men by which we can be saved," and Jesus himself has said, "Believe in Me, call upon Me, and you shall be saved."

We cannot but regard the mass as a sacrilege, and you deceive people when you say that you renew the sacrifice of Calvary in your mass. An imperfect thing alone can be renewed—that which has deteriorated, which is worn out or destroyed by time. But the sacrifice of Calvary is perfect; it cannot be deteriorated, nor lose its virtue and its efficacy. And this sacrifice being always present to the mind and eye of God the Father, can never be effaced from His memory. The great God having once for all accepted this sacrifice as the payment of the debt of every sinner who will accept Jesus Christ, and follow Him and love Him, does not require the mass purchased by money in order to bestow grace upon the guilty. It is written that this sacrifice ought not and cannot be offered more than once. (Heb. ix. 25-28). An imaginary purgatory may add to your wealth on earth, but it cannot purify our souls. It is written that "the blood of Jesus Christ alone can take away sins."

It is not the apostle Peter, but it is Jesus Christ, the Son of the living God, who is the foundation stone of the Church.

It is not to the apostles only, but to all the disciples, that Jesus Christ has given the power and also the command to forgive trespasses committed one against another, which is clearly proved in the 18th chapter of St. Matthew, from the 18th verse to the end.

Be good enough, therefore, to consider us as no longer belonging to the Church of Rome, for we have decided to leave the religion of the Pope, in order to follow Jesus Christ, and to serve Him alone.

The above had 117 names attached.

"The above document has been presented by us, on the 16th May, 1860, to Messire Rousselet, who has acknowledged it in our presence, and in the presence of Messrs. Léon Dionne and Francis Rivet.
