Defence Is Begun; Paris on the Stand

Accused of Murder of Sadie McAuley, He Denies Being in St. John on Day of Crime—Put Under a Searching Cross-examination.

John Paris, charged with the murder of Sadie McAuley here on August 2, went on the stand this morning in his own defence and swore that he was in Truro from July 24, until the morning of August 4, when he returned to St. John.

He was subjected by Hon. J. P. Byrne, the attorney general, to a searching cross-examination, which had not been completed when the court adjourned for lunch.

The only evidence today submitted by the prosecution was that of Detective Biddecombe, who was recalled.

Mr. Vernon commenced his defence with an address to the jury in which he said that it was he who was in Truro on the date on which the murder was committed.

Paris, under direct examination by his lawyers clearly and without hesitation, played off between the champions of the three provinces who established the championship of the maritime provinces.

As Hiram Sees It

"I see," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to the Times reporter, "that two candidates up in Ontario got into a clinch an' one of 'em tapped the other on the nose."

"Rough stuff," said the reporter, "strong arm methods—what?" "An' I see in Quebec, somewhere," said Hiram, "a candidate hed to hide in a suit to keep his face on."

"There are seven provinces yet to hear from," said the reporter. "Well," said Hiram, "I hope the women won't get into it. I see two women in a scrap one time an' it was serve. They screeched an' pulled hair an' cried somethin' awful."

"The ladies," said the reporter, rising and making a profound bow, "will attend to the case of any misguided person who acts as if the war was still on. There are seven provinces yet to hear from."

"I guess you're right," said Hiram. "That's my observation—yes, Sir."

Fear Early Collapse Of Irish Negotiations

London Today Not Cheerful Over Prospects—Reported Points Involved—Conference This Morning—The Belfast Situation.

London, Nov. 24.—The negotiations for an Irish settlement are feared by many an unfavorable end, according to a high authority today, and there is apprehension that next week may witness their collapse unless more favorable circumstances, not now foreseen, shall develop.

It is said that Ulster is no longer presenting the sole obstacle, but that the Sinn Fein has refused to accept allegiance to the king, although willing to take the oath of an Irish constitution. Furthermore and equally important, it is added, the Sinn Fein will not agree to a veto of Irish legislation by the British crown.

The Sinn Fein idea is said to be completely independent Irish state, although loosely connected with the other states in the empire. Acts of parliament creating British dominions give the king the power of vetoing all legislation, but by constitutional usage this veto is now never exercised.

The French premier has made known his belief that a similar veto power regarding Ireland would constantly be used, at the will of the British cabinet.

The government regards this difficulty as fundamental, it is asserted, and should the Sinn Fein attitude remain unchanged, the negotiations it is declared in high quarters, must come to an end.

Ulster, apart from its objection to any all-Ireland parliament is keenly insistent upon allegiance to the crown. It is believed that a conference which was held in London in the House of Commons by Lord Birkenhead, the lord high chancellor, Sir Gordon Hewart, the lord chief justice, Arthur Griffith, Michael Collins and George G. Duffy, two Sinn Fein representatives, was concluded on a note of agreement.

FEARFUL FIGHT TO DEATH FOR AIR

How 64 Succumbed in Railway Car.

East India Prisoners Were Five Hours There and Only 86 Out of 100 Survived—Gives Agitators Propaganda Material.

(Canadian Press Cable.) London, Nov. 24.—Official investigation into the suffocation of sixty-four Moplah prisoners recently being transferred in a closed railway wagon in the Madras district of India has not been completed. A Madras despatch to the Times says the affair has created a profound sensation among the natives, and has supplied the Nationalists press with material for effective propaganda.

The Times correspondent says the examination of the railway wagon showed the ventilation panels had been recently painted, this partially closing their mesh. The Moplahs were imprisoned in the car five hours on their journey from Puar to Bellary without examination and the first intimation of disaster was when the conductor went to give them water. He found many of them dead and the remainder unconscious. Only thirty-six of the 100 in the vehicle survived.

There was evidence of a fierce struggle for life, the dying prisoners having severely bitten one another in their desperate fight for air. It is the general opinion in Madras, according to the correspondent, that the wagon was unfit for its purpose and that at any rate it was a mistake to put so many prisoners in it.

The Moplahs are all said to have been weak from malaria after a sojourn of three months in the jungle, and this given as a probable contributing cause of their deaths.

The native newspapers are comparing the incident with that of the Black Hole of Calcutta in 1756, when Suraj-ud-Daulah, the Nawab of Bengal, imprisoned 146 Europeans all night in a guard-room measuring eighteen feet by four feet ten inches, and with but twenty-three died before morning.

The governor of Madras, Sir D. G. Scott, is said to have expressed his sympathy for the Moplahs and to have ordered an inquiry into the incident.

MURDOCK TO PRESS FOR A SHOWDOWN

Longs for Tribunal in Which to Bare All Board of Commerce Matters.

Toronto, Nov. 24.—"I have been longing for two years to appear before a proper tribunal. I should like to have a proper judicial tribunal place me out before the people; place W. F. O'Connor and Judge Holston on oath, place the members of the cabinet on oath, in order to get the facts as to the manner in which the rights of the people of this Dominion have been sacrificed, and intentionally so."

"I do not see how I can do this until after Dec. 6. When I am going to continue in parliament this battle for a showdown. And among those who may be questioned will be the Conservative member in West York, who will then be a private gentleman."

These remarks featured an address last night by James Murdock, former member of the board of commerce, delivered in the riding of West York, for which Sir Henry Drayton is the Conservative candidate.

MAKE USE OF VESSELS NAMED TO BE SCRAPPED

U. S. Officials are Giving Thought to This Matter, rather than Totally Destroy Them.

Washington, Nov. 24.—(Canadian Press)—United States officials are giving some thought to the possibility of salvaging a non-combatant naval or commercial craft, the three battleships now about to be scrapped.

They are hopeful that, in failing the ships, they might be able to salvage the hulls. The hulls of the ships are being scrapped because they are old and worn out.

BRIAND TO LEAVE U. S. TOMORROW

Farewell Calls by French Premier and Beatty.

In Arrangement Matter Belief is That Japan Ultimately Will Accept the Hughes Proposals—The Case of China.

Washington, Nov. 24.—Aristide Briand, premier of France and head of the French delegation at the armament and far Eastern conference left Washington this morning for New York for which port he would seek a slightly higher general tonnage in which battleships are to be scrapped.

Accompanied by Ambassador Jusserand, he made a farewell call on President Harding yesterday as did Earl Beatty, of the British delegation.

Japan may yet accept the Hughes programme. The Hughes programme stands about where it was at the beginning with the exception of the announcement of Admiral Baron Kato for Japan that he would seek a slightly higher general tonnage in capital ships and an equal tonnage in certain purely defensive craft.

The Japanese delegation has indicated that the Japanese desire to retain the battleship Mutsu and to scrap the other battleships, making a "10-10-7-3-3". It is also pretty well established that the Japanese desire to retain the battleship Mutsu and to scrap the other battleships, making a "10-10-7-3-3".

The conference came to the Thanksgiving recess, with every sign that the U. S. group was standing firm in its original position. The Japanese delegation is expected to return to Japan tomorrow.

New Brunswick's Opportunity

Too long have the people of New Brunswick been forced to suffer from the highly protected interests of the Central Provinces. The Meighen policy of high tariff, added to prohibitive freight rates, would shut off the maritime province manufacturers from a market for their products. Under a high protective policy maritime trade is impossible and would not survive.

High Tariffs Mean High Living Costs and Suppression of Trade

A sane reduction would result in increased revenue, reduction in taxation, lower prices for commodities and an all-round increase in industrial activity.

OUR HOME PORTS FIRST

New Brunswick, as one of the outlets for the products of Canada's immense fields, has little to hope for from a government which has spent the people's money on railways and ocean terminals in the United States. One of the most vital needs of this province today is an administration which will carry out the policy of port nationalization, so well begun by the Public Works Department of Canada when Hon. William Pugsley was minister of that department.

Children love Horrockses FLANNELETTE. Let the youngsters pick out the Flannelette for their winter Nighties and Pyjamas. They will take as much delight in fingering and patting the soft material as grown-ups do in handling rich fabrics and laces. HORROCKSES' Flannelette comes in a great variety of colors and patterns. Sister will pounce joyfully on the snowy white or dainty pink, and little Brother will immediately spy a stripe which is "just like Daddy's Pyjamas." Be sure and get HORROCKSES'. This sturdy Flannelette is built to stand the hard use and many washings that it invariably gets, and it retains its softness, colour and warmth as long as it lasts. MUST ANSWER HIMSELF

When Premier Meighen was in St. John he read portions of the Liberal platform of 1919, and got the St. John Standard to feature them on its first page, to prove that the Liberals were heading for free trade. It may not be bad policy to quote Premier Meighen against himself.

"On the contrary, the King platform—adopted in August, 1919—does not declare against protection at all. It never mentions the word. The 1919 platform did—decided protection and all its works. Has the change of front no significance? More than that, the leaders of the official opposition—all except Mr. King, who hopes to establish a reputation for leadership by refusing to say 'Yes' or 'No'—the leaders of the official opposition—Lemieux, Beland, Fielding, David—all have declared for the principle and have done so over and over again."

If the platform of 1919 does not declare against protection and Liberal leaders have declared for the principle, how can they be heading for free trade? Mr. Meighen should answer himself. But, as the Chronicle properly points out, "It is Mr. Meighen's party and its record in office which is now on trial before the people and already stands condemned in advance."

FODDER FOR BABES. Evidently believing that the people of Carleton-Victoria are not well-informed on public issues, and that they only need to be instructed to render a good account of themselves on Dec. 6, the Woodstock Press modestly assumes the task of mentor and tells them what to do. For example:

"It looks as if the worst of the depression is over. Business confidence will be further restored by voting for the government candidate, B. Frank Smith."

Let the impression made by the frank announcement should not be misleading. The political certainty that this election will result in a triumph for the present government has already given an impetus to business. Vote for Smith and be on the safe side."

Of course every reader will look around him and behold the evidences of good times, and gratefully vote for Smith. Why should he not, for the "One who has made a success in life makes the best kind of a representative. Consider Smith's career as a farmer and business man and you have your man."

But there are other important considerations: "Employment for the laborers and markets for the farmers are wanted in this electoral district. We know of no better way to insure these than voting for Smith on December 6th."

It is to be wondered at that everybody is urged to "put their backs to the wall and stand firm for Smith." Certainly not, for Smith has his back to the wall. Besides:

"A vote for Smith means a vote in favor of prosperity; everybody wishes Carleton-Victoria to be prosperous and logically everybody should vote for Smith."

But all this is preliminary to the real milk in the cocoanut. Hearken to this: "War veterans! Help the man who helped you while you were overseas. Smith was at the head of many of the patriotic movements in these counties organized to make your condition more comfortable. Put your shoulder to the wheel and elect him. By so doing you will again prove your metal. Canada needs you in this political battle."

"Patriotic movement"—of course. And non-political, as Mr. Baxter says. Deluge of patriotic fervor. Trainloads of patriotic potatoes. "Breathes there a man with soul so dead," etc. And then some. How could any veteran fail to appreciate the patriotic potatoes? How could any patriot so far forget his duty to his country as to vote for a farmer candidate when "B. Frank Smith has paid out hundreds of thousands of dollars to the farmer?" The more one reflects upon the capacity of Smith to save the country, the less one is inclined to say: "Let Jones do it." It is a job for both of them, and Garland might help. For the country needs to be saved.

The announcement that the shipping interests and Nonshippers have agreed on a wage scale is good news for the port. Both sides appear to have shown conciliatory spirit, which is highly creditable and which should continue to prevail.

The Progressive candidates in this constituency are too late in the field to be able to make an effective canvass.

FEDERATED CHARITIES.

The question of federating charities in Montreal, in order to secure funds in one big drive, is likely to be adopted in that city, as it has been in Toronto and in forty different cities in the United States, and has been in operation in Liverpool, England, for nearly forty years. In Toronto the total budget has been raised from $275,000 to $392,000, and the number of contributors from 3,000 to 80,000 by adopting this plan. The Montreal Gazette says:

"From the subscribers' point of view, immunity is granted from further individual appeals from all charities in the one big budget, and this appeal comes once annually unless under very exceptional circumstances. The right of the individual to allot all or part of his contribution to a favorite charity is preserved. Further, the budget committee which passes upon the one big budget is composed of leading business men and citizens, and as the committee carefully examines all the units which present claims, this is tantamount to a certificate of good standing for the unit and thus reassures the subscriber as to its bona fides."

The Liberal candidates, Dr. Broderick and Mr. McLellan, held two successful meetings in this portion of the constituency last evening. They addressed women electors at the Liberal headquarters, and a general meeting at Glen Falls. At the latter place they were aided by Mr. W. M. Ryan and that lively campaigner in many political contests, Mr. E. H. McAlpine, K. C. The issues of the day were presented with clearness and force. Addressing the ladies, the candidates rightly referred to their splendid services in war-time; the great influence they can exert in the realm of politics, and the notable service they can render in public life. The speakers at the Glen Falls meeting dealt ably with the questions of tariff, transportation, port development, and the unsatisfactory record of the Meighen government. That their audiences were in sympathy with Liberal principles and policy was manifest.

Moncton Transcript: Hon. Robert Rogers appears to be maintaining a discreet silence in this election. At any rate he has not appeared in the press despatches lately, and when the Hon. Robert has anything to say he usually says it in a way to attract attention. Evidently he is not giving the young man from Portage, who forced himself upon the party as leader without consulting the rank and file, any aid or comfort. He is no doubt watching the manoeuvres of that willful young man with wary patience, feeling that the Grand Old Party, when it recovers from the shock it is evidently destined to get in the elections, will be looking around for a new leader, or an old one.

The sad state of helplessness in which, according to Mr. Baxter and the Standard, the government finds itself in regard to grain shipments via Portland, Maine, is most pathetic. Would not the people be wise to vote for a change of government, so that something may be done to divert Canadian trade to Canadian channels?

Mr. James Murdoch, labor leader and Liberal candidate in South Toronto, is a very sharp thorn in the side of the Meighen government. He replies to all attempts to discredit him that after Dec. 6, under a Liberal government, an enquiry will show how the rights of the people have been sacrificed.

Dr. Michael Clark predicts victory for the Liberals on Dec. 6. His estimate that they will get seven seats in New Brunswick is moderate enough. If he gauges the situation as modestly elsewhere his prediction is well grounded.

The Standard says that labor should support protection. A prominent labor leader in Moncton is actively supporting the Liberal candidate. Then there is Mr. Murdoch. The Liberal policy is the policy for labor.

Fredericton Mail: Judging by the names which appear on the nomination papers of Col. Osborne there are some industrial captains in Fredericton and vicinity who have not any serious intention of closing their establishments after December 6th.

St. John is without adequate terminal facilities to handle promptly the traffic that comes over the C. N. R. to this port in winter. What cause can the government offer? That the Grand Trunk is to blame?

The government party protestations about inability to get more business for the ports of Halifax and St. John is mere puff.

The St. John municipal council has declared in favor of mothers' allowances. Every municipal council in New Brunswick should follow its example.

Word from Royal is to the effect that Dr. McAlister is making a lively campaign and is meeting with a gratifying reception everywhere.

Story Hits About Canadian Authors

John McCrae's name was given worldwide fame immediately following the publication of the stirring poem which gives title to his one book, a volume of verse, character study and letters, McCrae was a lover particularly of dogs and children, and the story goes that when he walked down the streets of Guelph, his home city, it was not an unusual thing to see three or four children and four or five dogs following in his wake. The heart of the man is evident in his immortal verse. An interesting point in connection with the great poem is that it was sent anonymously to Flanders in London, was published there and very considerably in America before the author was known. One of the poet's friends, a Montreal gentleman who knew McCrae and his poetic style well, recalled that the rather peculiar metre in the poem was that which had been very frequently used before by John McCrae, and wrote him in receipt of two or three lines daily asking for permission to use the poem in posters for recruiting, drives and other similar purposes. John McCrae lies under the poppies in the Flanders fields memorialized.

A WINTER EVENING. Soft hands of white across a sunny sky— And there the low-toned twilight creeping on, A neighboring roof deep etched with hill, field, and tree beyond, Blending in one wide, gentle blur of Brown shrubs and withered grasses wave aloft Their invitation to a passing feathered guest.

She Could Use Him. "Ratus," said the judge sternly, "you're plain no-account and shiftless, and for this fight I'm going to send you away for a year, although in both years there have been many more seeking free lodging than there were two or three years ago." At present the judge's situation has not reached its maximum but prospects are that this year and last will be about the same.

School For Manners. The wife of the vicar of a fashionable London suburb was a great success. One day, however, she went out wearing clothes which were not the latest and got into a motor car which was waiting near the vicarage gate.

"Please, Judge," interrupted Mrs. Ratus from the rear of the court room, "will you 'Hamlet' your kinder split that sentence? Don't send him away from home, but let that hard labor stand."—The American Legion Weekly.

C. N. R. EMPLOYEES WOULD MAKE A GREAT CITY. If the 50,000 employees of the C. N. R. were domiciled in one spot, instead of being spread from one end of the country to the other, they would constitute a city larger than Hamilton, Calgary or Halifax. For it must be remembered that it is not only the people who actually work for the C. N. R. that are sustained by it, but their wives and families. This tremendous body of workers are sustained but by one means, to make the C. N. R. the most successful publicly owned enterprise in the world, to run it as purely business enterprise, directed entirely from politics.

ELECTION EXPENSES. Montreal Gazette:—The taking up of a collection to pay the rent of the hall was a feature of a meeting in the interest of R. P. The United Farmers' contributions direct to their party campaign funds. There may come a time when the people will recognize that the choice of representatives in their business even more than it is that of the candidates.

GATHERED SHEAVES

Book by St. John Authoress, Mrs. W. Edmond Raymond.

In this Authoress' new book by a St. John authoress should appeal to the general public as it undoubtedly will appeal to every woman, and especially to the members of the Council of Women everywhere. Readers of the Times-Star will remember the delightful letters written to this paper by Mrs. W. Edmond Raymond, descriptive of her journey to St. John from the National Council at Calgary last summer, with her impressions of the Council itself. Mrs. Raymond has now expanded this correspondence, joined with it brief contributions from several of the foremost women of the National Council of Women, and the second is to benefit the fund inaugurated by the St. John Local Council of Women of which she is vice-president, to provide pure milk for infants in the homes of the very poor, as these are referred to by the Council by nurses of the Victorian Order. The proceeds from the sale of the book, after meeting expenses of publication, will go to this fund. The book has been printed on fine paper and in beautiful binding by the firm of J. & A. McMillan, under the title of Gathered Sheaves from the National Council of Women, Calgary, 1921, and bears the name of the authoress. It is full cloth, 6 1/2 x 9 inches, 174 pages, with 24 illustrations. A highly complimentary review of the book by Rev. H. A. Cody says in part:

"Gathered Sheaves is more than a mere summary of the sessions of the Council. It is a sprightly story of the author's journey from St. John to Calgary and back again. She touches upon various incidents, places, and the people she meets along the way. It is like a visit through fairyland on every page the reader is charmed as he is conducted by his guide from scene to scene in the ever-shifting panorama. Gathered Sheaves, however, attains its highest level when the writer reaches Calgary. This is not natural, for here she lived for a number of years, and the glamour of 'Our Lady of the Range' and sunny Alberta more thrilled her soul. Some of her choicest descriptions were inspired by familiar lowlands, foothills, and towering mountains, together with scenes of other days. Then there was the inspiration of three hundred and sixty enthusiastic delegates. * * * What an august assembly that must have been which met at Calgary to discuss vital Canadian problems. The speaker in her Gathered Sheaves admits us to its sessions. These can only be fully appreciated by going to the book itself. Then it will be found that the words of Judge Murphy in her address are no mere idle words, that the National Council of Women is the strongest, and most impressive of modern forces in the world, and is fraught with the greatest potentialities to the race. Mrs. Raymond is to be congratulated upon the work to which she has set her heart, and may 'Gathered Sheaves' meet with a hearty reception from coast to coast. May it reach the eyes of all to the noble work of the National Council of Women, and having eyes opened, may they go and do likewise."

Gathered Sheaves is today on sale at the bookstores, price $2.50, by mail, twelve cents extra for postage.

NO WORSE THAN THIS TIME IN 1920. Unemployment in St. John as Viewed from the Standpoint of the Salvation Army.

Reports from the Salvation Army's shelter for those out of work seem to indicate that the unemployment situation is no worse at present than it was this time last year, although in both years there have been many more seeking free lodging than there were two or three years ago. At present the situation has not reached its maximum but prospects are that this year and last will be about the same.

In the winter it is expected that there will be more than 200 men in the People's Palace on the night. As there is bedding capacity for only 176 of these the remainder will be forced to sleep on the floor of the downstairs rooms, many as thirty or forty have been known to sleep thus.

Several outside organizations in the city send men for lodging, paying their way, of course, and a certain amount of room must be reserved for the cases of the Salvation Army itself; so there is very seldom any room to spare. Men are rescued from the jail where they are held, and taken in; and in all the work is carried on regardless of class, creed or color.

The Metropole on Britain street has been taken over from the Women's Hostel and will accommodate about fifty when repairs have been made. This is expected to relieve some of the crowding in the People's Palace in St. James street. It has been decided to keep the reading room free for recreation purposes and not to have men sleeping on the floor there as was done last year.

The reason for this is that the air has been so bad that there is no place for those staying there to use in the daytime. Soup is served to the men in the winter and this will be cooked in the kitchen in the Metropole, relieving still further the overfilling of the St. James street shelter.

A good proportion of the men in the Palace belong in the city although there is always a large "floating class" as it is called. Commandant Sheard, who is in charge of the shelter says that there are many on their way here from Montreal, where the port is about closed. Most

LOTS OF BEARSKINS FOR BABY BUNTINGS

Daddies at "See" Kill About 400 Beavers During Fall Season.

Sault Ste. Marie, Nov. 24.—By-bye, Bunting. Daddy's gone a-hunting. To get a big, black bear skin. To wrap his baby bunting in.

Thus sang Sault Ste. Marie's mother this fall, paraphrasing the old nursery rhyme while rocking her babies to sleep and waiting for father to return from shooting a bear or two on the vacant lots out around the city limits.

Yes, sir, bear-hunting this year in and around the city was about as exciting as waiting flies in a butcher's shop.

If a fellow wanted a bear, he didn't have to take to the woods, like as not, he'd be just as out on the front stoop for half an hour or so, he'd be able to bag two or three while waiting for the postman. They became pretty much of a pest, one way or another, and most every little homestead has one or more bearskin rugs all its own.

As for bear steaks, well, they no longer are a treat around here. Altogether, it is figured, more than 400 bears fell to the trusty muskets of the hunters this fall.

PRINCE WAS FINED $2

Drove Auto in Central Park With Auto Tall Lights Out.

New York, Nov. 23.—Activities in the traffic court were suspended for ten minutes when a man said to be a gentleman of royal blood entered in response to a summons handed him for violating the traffic laws by driving an automobile in Central Park with tall lights out.

The wealthy sumptuous robes of the prince, who said his name is Joviedah de Rajah, and his wife, Princess Olga, and his wife's friend, Miss Zazari, brought the first husband of the prince. Then the crowd had a second thrill when a court attendant told the prince to remove his head covering. The prince explained that he could not, as that was something never done in India, and to do so would bring upon him the wrath of his fathers for countless ages back.

Everybody thought there would be a lot of trouble until Magistrate Frederick D. House said an exception would be made in this case, but right away the court got another jolt. The magistrate asked the prince to identify himself and those with him. "Everybody knows my wife," he said, "but she is only one of three I have with me during my travels." "Is that possible?" asked the magistrate. It was explained then that the prince had violated the law and wanted to make amends. "That being the case," said the magistrate, "and since you are the first royal prince we've ever had here, your fine will be $2." The prince gave his address as Simla, India.

THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1921

ANOTHER NEW WITNESS IN THE PARIS CASE

The introduction of the evidence of two new witnesses marked the second day of the second trial of John Paris, charged with the murder of nine-year-old Sadie McAuley near Riverview Park in August last. The hearing was held in the court rooms yesterday with Justice W. B. Chandler presiding. Hon. J. F. Byrne, attorney-general, and Dr. W. B. Wallace, K.C., appeared for the crown and G. H. Vernon, of Truro, for the defence. Alexander Day said that on August 2 between 11 and 12 o'clock in the morning he saw a man who looked like Paris and whom he believed to be Paris standing near Murray and Gregory's road. He said he also saw two little girls, one a little lame, followed by the man. When the court resumed in the afternoon, John McDonald, 119 Tower street, west end, took the stand. He said he had known the accused since last April. He remembered meeting Paris on August 1, he said, in Lancaster street near the corner of Charlotte street, West St. John, about 5:30 o'clock in the evening. Paris and Humphrey were together and they wanted $2 from him. He did not have it at the time but said that if they met him in the same place at the same time the following evening he would give them the money. Paris had told him that he had been to see a friend but could not get the money. He said that Paris told him he had returned from Truro and that he wanted the money to hire a horse. In July it was on a Friday he thought Paris and Humphrey had driven in the back seat of his automobile from the Strait Shore to the city. Paris told him he was going to Truro. This was about a week or ten days before. While at work at the Nashua Pulp and Paper Company on August 2, McDonald said he saw a man going along the rocks towards the "Suspension bridge" on the other side of the river. There was a man working with him at the time but before McDonald could get the attention of his companion he saw the man on the rocks on the other side of the river an accident happened which demanded their attention. It was a straight wall of rocks, he said, across the river and a little above the pulp mill, just below the island at the falls. The fine was shortly after 1 o'clock, about 20 or 130 in the afternoon. He thought he was about 600 or 700 yards away when he saw the man going up the rocks. The man was wearing light clothes; he could not say whether or not they were black. When he had seen Paris and Humphrey in July one or the other of them wanted to know if he wished to buy two blankets or a set of harness. This was about ten or eleven days before Aug. 1. Cross-examined by Mr. Vernon, McDonald said he was not sure that he had never worked on anybody's automobile except his own and he knew nothing of tires stolen from the Gregory car. He was not friendly to Humphrey, he said, but admitted that Humphrey must have thought he was friendly to him when he told him something. He told Detective Power about what Humphrey had said about three days after Humphrey told him. He never negated in any thefts with Humphrey. He said he knew of them afterwards. Asked why he had not given evidence at the previous trial, he said he thought it was because he could not be found. He was working at building two surge tanks at Musquoddy at that time. He was home on the Sunday previous to August 1, he said. He was working on Monday. To the judge he said that he had never been over on the shore where he saw the man climbing up the hill. Sergeant Detective John Power told of the search for the little girl and the finding of her body. He said he and Detective Biddiscombe arrested Paris on Aug. 19 on a warrant from Truro. Paris was brought back to St. John about September 17 or 18. Cross-examined by Mr. Vernon, he said that the only crime for which Humphrey was wanted was stealing some butter and the owners had not seemed to want to prosecute. The wounds on Humphrey's face were probably made by some sharp instrument, not a razor. He had never said he would not believe Humphrey. Detective Biddiscombe corroborated Detective Power's evidence concerning the search and the arrest of Paris. He told of finding a pair of sand pants, a hat and a gray coat from the woman with whom Paris had lived. Mrs. Laing told of seeing Paris on the night of the Woodman mill fire. Hattie Lavigne repeated the evidence she gave at the last trial. She said she told of picking berries with Sadie McAuley and of her going off with this man. Dr. H. L. Abramson told of the finding of the post mortem examination. Robert Douglas, fireman, said he was in the Cushing or Woodman fire on August 2 about 3 or 4 o'clock in the afternoon. James Kimball, the boy who found the body, told the story of his discovery as before. Ronald McAuley said he had identified the body in Chamberlain's undertaking rooms as that of his daughter, Sadie. William J. Lavigne, father of Hattie Lavigne, said after the girls had left his dinner they went picking berries. He looked down the bank after eating his dinner but did not see them. Mr. Vernon said he saw no one with the girls. The Lavigne arrested in connection with the case was a cousin but he had never seen him and did not know where he lived. Findings of Grand Jury. A true bill was returned by the grand jury in the indictment charging F. Zebberman and Clifford Ritchie with attempting to break and enter the store of Abraham Dreskin. Dr. W. B. Wallace, K. C., is appearing in the interests of the crown and J. A. Barry for the defence which demanded their attention. It was in this case. The next case for the consideration of the grand jury was not so serious as first supposed. Judge Chandler remarked in commenting upon the indictment charging Harry Ketchum, Theodore Saunders and William Reynolds with acting together in assaulting and doing bodily harm to Margaret Josephson. The extent of the girl's injuries, according to medical testimony, were a black eye and a bruised face. The judge reviewed both sides of the case and the grand jury returned a true bill. In commenting upon application for bail for the prisoners the judge said the men were a miserable set of scoundrels. He granted bail to Saunders and Reynolds provided recognizances of $800 from each prisoner and $1,000 each from two others were secured in each case. W. M. Ryan is appearing for Saunders, J. A. Barry, for Ketchum, and Daniel Mullin, K. C., for Reynolds. Curfew Law Recommended. In returning the bill against these three men the grand jury made a recommendation that the curfew law and the law relative to street walking be rigidly enforced. The judge expressed his hearty accord with the recommendation and said that he would see that it was forwarded to the commissioner of public safety. When the circuit court resumed at 10 o'clock yesterday, H. A. Powell, K. C., asked that the labor leaders, charged with being managers of an unlawful assembly, and in whose case the grand jury disagreed Tuesday, be discharged. Justice Chandler said that the initiative in the case would have to be taken by the prosecution as the jury had not made a decision one way or another. Dr. Wallace said the case would be put before another grand jury. The duties of the grand jury being completed the judge thanked them for their attendance and discharged them. The court was adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning.

BIG WINE CARGO CAUSES BATTLE

Six hundred and fifty gallons of choice French wines, valued at $16,000, was the prize for which smugglers and revenue officers engaged in a pitched battle on the beach at Maindieu, fifty miles from Sydney, at an early hour yesterday morning. After the coastguard had been alerted, the schooner Isma, her crew and several alleged smugglers were placed under arrest. Captain Bragg of the revenue cutter Restless, had been shadowing the schooner and came in and seized her. A guard was placed over the thirty cases of liquor which were ashore. During the night the shore owners of the liquor, who had arrived in motor trucks, surprised the marine guard. Men from the Restless engaged them and brained heads and bloody noses were numerous. The raiders at last fled, taking with them several cases. The collector of customs at Glace Bay with four armed deputies, met the fleeing trucks and recovered the stolen cases.

RESPONSIBILITY OF THE CHURCH FOR SOCIAL SERVICE

Canon Vernon Makes Urgent Appeal For Betterment of Local Conditions—Rev. J. V. Young Announces Plans Already Are Being Made. Emphasizing strongly the responsibility laid upon the Christian church and individual church members to carry on social service work, Canon C. W. Vernon, general secretary of the Social Service Council of the Church of England in Canada, speaking in Trinity school room last night, made an earnest appeal to the people of New Brunswick to strive for the passing of a mothers' allowance act in the province and to the Anglican people of St. John to take steps towards the appointment of a local social service chaplain and a social service deaconess. Rev. J. V. Young, chairman of the Fredericton Diocesan Social Service Council, presided at the meeting, which was largely attended, and a hearty vote of thanks was extended to Canon Vernon on the motion of W. S. Fisher, seconded by G. M. Teed. Father Young, in commenting on the remarks of Canon Vernon, said that the church should take action but has so far done nothing. Among these problems were the need for mothers' allowances, the lax enforcement of the prohibitory law and the lack of a church home in the province for reclaiming fallen women, who through this lack after one jail sentence became hopeless offenders. He said such a home was to be built in Moncton by the denominations in cooperation but there was tremendous need for one in St. John. In child welfare something was being done, but housing conditions in St. John were absolutely appalling from over-crowding and vermin. The General Public and East St. John hospitals and the Municipal Home had a visiting chaplain but the jail had none and there much good could be done. A social service chaplain in St. John could be the busiest man in the city and he hoped that some steps were already being taken to have a city missionary. He hoped soon to call a meeting of the diocesan social service council at which some action would be taken along the lines Canon Vernon had recommended.

STRANGED HIS SISTER-IN-LAW

Chicago, Nov. 23.—A story of heartlessness, poverty and robbery was mixed with this of concern for his wife in the confession today of Thomas Catherwood, twenty-six, that he had strangled his sister-in-law, Mrs. Betty Sharples, to death while she rocked the cradle of her thirteen-month-old child and worked on tiny garments for another expected within a month. Catherwood stole $65 in her bank-book. Impressive missionary addresses were given at a special meeting in the Fairville Baptist church last night when the Rev. C. T. Clark, the pastor, presided, and Miss Martha Clark and Dr. Zella Clark, returned missionaries from India, were the speakers. There was an appropriate musical programme, solos be-

Warden Bullock occupied the chair and others present were Councilors Schofield, O'Brien, Golding and Bentley. Felix S. McMullin and F. A. Campbell were present as representatives of the local Trades and Labor Council. All present spoke in favor of government allowances for mothers and the following resolution was unanimously passed: "That this committee recommend the adoption of the principles of mothers' allowances and recommend the enactment of a bill to this end."

MONCTON LABOR LEADER JOINS THE LIBERAL

Moncton, Nov. 23.—That the Liberal cause is strong in Moncton was shown this evening in the City by being, where an audience that filled a auditorium heard stirring addresses. Much interest was shown by the large gathering of electors, and the numerous points scored against the present administration at Ottawa were loudly applauded. Mr. Goodwin, who is president of the Moncton Building Trades Council, and who recently announced that he intended to support the Liberal party, spoke briefly. He appealed to Labor's friend to support Mr. Copp. He said that a laboring man felt that he was doing what was right in supporting the Liberal candidate in this campaign. He could not support the Farmer-Labor candidate after listening to his recent speech here. Mr. Copp, who received an oration gave a vigorous clear-cut speech arousing much enthusiasm. He took up report of the speech of Sir George Bowyer and replied to some of his argument.

THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1921

ROUSING MEETING AT GLEN FALLS

Liberal Candidates, H. R. McLellan and Dr. W. P. Broderick Are Given Rousing Reception—Present Strong Case for a Change of Government—E. H. McAlpine and W. M. Ryan Heard.

A rousing rally in the interests of the Liberal candidates for St. John-Albert was held last evening in the Manor House at Glen Falls and besides two splendid addresses by the Liberal nominees, Dr. W. P. Broderick and H. R. McLellan, the audience listened to two effective speeches by W. M. Ryan and E. H. McAlpine, K. C., the latter an experienced campaigner who aroused great enthusiasm among his hearers by his stirring denunciation of the present government's extravagance with the people's money. Sustained applause greeted the speakers at the conclusion of their remarks and their arguments were resented in such an effective manner that on several occasions they were obliged to discontinue speaking until the applause had subsided.

Ex-Councillor J. M. Donovan acted as chairman and introduced the first speaker, W. M. Ryan, who said that in the most important question was: Are we to have a united Canada? There could be no gainsaying the fact that unrest was rampant among the people and to remedy this Canadians put up a united front, Mr. Ryan said. Mr. Ryan's other remarks were brief and to the point and he was loudly applauded when he sat down.

H. McAlpine, K. C.

In introducing Mr. McAlpine, the chairman said it was a great pleasure to him to do so as he had known Mr. McAlpine for upwards of thirty years and he was no better campaigner in the province. Mr. McAlpine soon established himself on most friendly relations with his auditors by relating several humorous anecdotes of past campaigns. "Most of us enjoy elections, we must have our fun out of it, but in all seriousness, I want to say I am particularly pleased with the two candidates, Dr. Broderick and H. R. McLellan. I have known Dr. Broderick for many years and I am glad to see him moving up. As for Mr. McLellan, there is no man more energetic, more active or more determined than he. He is a human dynamo and in this campaign was the tariff. "In his recent western tour, I notice the premier forgot all about the tariff," said Dr. Broderick. The premier was trying to show that in the east the Liberals were disloyal to the manufacturing elements, but the speaker reminded his hearers that way back in 1896, the Conservatives preached blue ruin if the Liberals were elected to power. They were elected, and what happened? There was no blue ruin; on the contrary, there never was a more prosperous period in Canadian history than that inaugurated when Rt. Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier took over the reins of government. The railway policy of the late Liberal chief minister contained the noble patriotic idea that transportation should flow east and west over a Canadian route, in Canadian cars, and to and from Canadian ports. That policy had been discarded by the Conservatives.

Hon. Mr. Meighen had no mandate from the people, declared the speaker. When Union government was formed it was for the purpose of prosecuting the war and when the war finished, a fresh mandate to proceed with the problems of reconstruction was needed. "When the war finished, it was up to the government, as a matter of conscience, as a matter of duty and the preservation of the principles of responsible government, to go to the people. Instead they clung to power for two years or more," Dr. Broderick said.

Turning to the railway question, the Liberal candidate said that a great injustice was being done the port of St. John. The terminals of the acquired government roads were in the United States and all Canadian grain is being routed to Portland (Me.), one of the three terminals. The Canadian Government Merchant Marine came in for severe criticism from the speaker. In 1918, the merchant marine policy was adopted and today it had cost the country, in the neighborhood of $100,000,000. Today these ships were racing to all ports of the world looking for cargoes, while right here in New Brunswick, they could have got all the freight they wanted, Dr. Broderick declared. If these ships had been available at the time, the present stagnation in the lumber industry in New Brunswick might have been averted.

As a conspicuous example of the lack of foresight of the Meighen administration and how it favored the big interests, Dr. Broderick related the Roumanian deal. During the war, he said, had been available at the time, the present stagnation in the lumber industry in New Brunswick might have been averted.

Dr. Broderick was given an ovation when he rose and thanked Mr. McAlpine for his kind reference to himself. He was glad to be present and without wanting any time on generalities he would present to them the reasons why the Meighen government should be defeated. Hon. Mr. Meighen, Dr. Broderick asserted, had gone around the eastern parts of Canada declaring that the chief issue applied by Hon. A. Meighen in foisting the Grand Trunk deal on Canada. Hon. R. B. Bennett, who was now the minister of justice in the Meighen cabinet, had referred to Mr. Meighen as "a champion of the McKenzie & Mann interests," and Mr. McLellan proceeded to show just how far he deserved the title. In 1914 the government under an agreement drawn up by Mr. Meighen, loaned the McKenzie & Mann people the sum of $40,000,000, with the stipulation that if they defaulted in payment of interest or principal, the government could step in, seize the assets and satisfy its claim without legal procedure. Two years later they did default, the government stepped in, seized the railway and left it to an arbitration board, but that the finding of the board must not be over $10,000,000.

He had no doubt but that McKenzie & Mann were behind this agitation to rescue the Grand Trunk. What was the rescue offered to buy? In 1918 and 1919 there was a deficit of $18,000,000 in the operation of the road, which could not be met. The company was on the verge of bankruptcy when it was bought for the sum of $39,000,000, the price set by an arbitration board. But the first, second and third preferred stock was declared useless and of no value. That decision should have been final, but someone suggested that it was hard on the English shareholders of preferred stock. In the meantime Sir William had not been idle and had covered the stock (declared worthless). The Rt. Hon. A. Meighen then introduces an act paying $61,000,000 for this stock.

There were many phases of this railway deal that he would like to discuss with the honorable minister of customs on the public platform but Mr. Baxter had shown a disinclination to meet him. In conclusion, the speaker said that the inspiration that had driven him into the political arena was the implementing of the pledges made under the confederation pact. It had been promised that the ports of St. John and Halifax would be developed to equal the chief ports of the American union in return for giving up our trade with the New England states and trading with upper Canada. St. John would be developed under a Liberal regime and those long forgotten promises fulfilled. (Prolonged applause.)

After some brief remarks from the chairman the meeting concluded with the singing of the national anthem and the giving of the rousing cheers for Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and the candidates.

CASE ABOUT WAGES OF COOK ON STEAMSHIP

In Admiralty, before Chief Justice Sir Douglas Hailey this morning, the case of Albert Kouane vs the steamer Maple-court was heard, a claim for wages amounting to about $275 brought by the plaintiff, a native of the West Indies, who claims as cook for work done Kouane is French and the services of an interpreter were required. A. Richard acted in this capacity.

The plaintiff says that after shipping at Newport News, he went to England on the vessel and that there the captain, after releasing him, undertook to bring him again, but before he could sign articles as being re-engaged as cook the British Board of Trade officials at Liverpool stepped in to prevent it, saying that Kouane had not the necessary license for the purpose. Mr. Richard sought the French consul and was told that the captain of the steamer would have to take him back as passenger. He said he went on in this capacity but soon after leaving port was again engaged as cook. His claim for wages is based upon the original scale while the defence is willing to pay under the scale which would have prevailed from Liverpool.

F. R. Taylor, K. C., appears for the steamer and J. F. Peck for the plaintiff. The case was adjourned until this afternoon.

MAKE EFFORT TO AVERT HANGING OF CHINESE LAYERS

Quebec, Nov. 24.—(Canadian Press)—It is understood that a strong effort is being made to have commuted the sentence of Choo Tong, a Chinese, for killing several of his countrymen on the S. S. Maskinonge in the River St. Lawrence on Aug. 7. He was sentenced to be hanged on Dec. 16.

DEFENCE IS BEGUN; PARIS ON STAND

Paris said he was brought before Hattie Levine three or four times. The first time was when he was arrested on the Westfield road. He heard her say, "No." When brought back from Truro he was again brought before her, but did not hear her say anything.

The witness said he never had a khaki shirt since he had been in St. John, nor had he ever owned a pair of khaki riding breeches. He identified a pair of khaki trousers produced in court as his. He said he did not wear them in Truro, but wore a blue suit.

Cross-Examination.

Cross-examined by Attorney-General Dwyer, Paris said he was called "Jack the Witch" as a nickname. He said he got this name from the fact that when a stranger he used to follow a chap around who was called "Jack the Witch."

He said he told the same story at this trial, but he told more on the first trial. He said he didn't have a chance to tell it all on the first trial.

"You will have an opportunity to tell it," said the attorney-general.

Paris said he remembered telling Mr. Vernon at the last trial that he had not asked Humphrey to help him bury a girl. He said he did not buy a ticket for Truro on July 23, but he paid his way to the conductor. He paid it to the conductor who was named Glassy or Gillespie. He gave a $10 bill and got back $4.80 or $4.90. He said he had had ideas when the conductor lived in Truro. He did not know that he lived in Truro.

To Mr. Byrne, Paris said he was in Truro on August 5. He corrected himself by saying he was in West St. John on August 5 and August 6, at his home, and hauling ashes for people on De Monts street, the minister at Queen Square, and a man on the Sand Cove road—about eleven people altogether.

He said he could not give the names of the people he hauled ashes for on August 6. He said he had eleven customers, but could not give all their names. He remembered hauling from a Mr. Mitchell's house, from a bakery, from a house in Ludlow street, and he hauled the ashes to the mill pond. He said he wore khaki pants and a military tunic, and light soles that were similar to that produced in court.

On August 7, he said, he was in West St. John, and was in the city or Carleton on August 8. He thought he went fire-fighting on August 8.

He said he remembered the day Sadie McAuley's body was found. He said that at the last trial he swore that Williamson roved him across the river. He said he did not dispute that Mr. Williamson roved him across on the night of August 9 or 10. He said that he had sworn that Williamson took him over on the fourth. Asked to explain, Paris said he must have got things mixed up. He said it was after the finding of Sadie McAuley's body that he went to the Westfield fire. He said he was not sure that it was on the 19th he returned with the detectives. He said he checked his head when the police approached, as there was something wrong with the truck on which he was riding.

Paris said it was on the day he was brought back that Hattie Levine saw him and said "No." When he was brought back to St. John in September he saw Hattie Levine again, but did not hear her say anything. Paris said he then had a mustache.

Paris said he was at the Truro railway station on Wednesday, July 27, but said he did not see Archie Paris there on that date. He said it was not true that he had said McDonald for $2 on August 1, telling him that he had just come back from Truro. He said he was in Truro on August 2, but he said it was on Sunday, July 31. He said he left "the town" for his home on "the island" on August 15 on the evening train.

He said he remembered August 2 very well. He said he knew it was on that day that Sadie McAuley was murdered, and he had no doubts according to the evidence, that she was outraged before she was killed.

He said he had no doubt that Hattie Levine was the girl who was with Sadie McAuley when she was murdered in the park. He did not know Hattie Levine until after she had seen Paris; a policeman told him in the jail who she was.

Paris said he was not picking berries in July, he said he was picking them on August 2. He was picking berries in July, he said he was picking them on August 2. He was picking berries in July, he said he was picking them on August 2.

He said that Mrs. Craft, Mr. and Mrs. Byers and Mrs. Gerow said that they saw him in West St. John on the evening of August 2, but he said it was the afternoon of that day he sold groceries in Truro. He said that he was to Spencer's garage on Avenue 4, but was not in the garage. He was arrested in the theft of this case later, and had a preliminary hearing in Truro. Louis Bayard was the man who went to the garage with him.

Asked if Bagnall gave evidence that he (Bagnall) was at Spencer's garage on July 31, and saw Paris and Bayard there, Paris said he did not remember. The court adjourned until 2:30.

CHARGE AGAINST AN INSPECTOR

Montreal, Nov. 24.—A serious charge was laid yesterday against Inspector Ed Girard, employed by the Quebec Liquor Commission at Lunenburg Point, by Henry Cherevert, K. C. Just after his client, Abraham Winters, had been sentenced by Chief Justice Deane to pay a $1,000 fine for illegally transporting liquor. The arrest of Winters had been made by Inspector Girard at Lunenburg Point, on October 4. Mr. Cherevert contended that the inspector, while apprehending Winters on charge of transporting liquor, had allowed another alcoholic consignment valued at $2,000 to pass unnotified. The lawyer said he is intended to lay the matter before the commission.

A LITTLE CARE WILL PREVENT MUCH TROUBLE

The secretary of the Board of Trade has received from the traffic manager of the Dominion Express Company a letter stating that an analysis of undelivered shipments showed that in thirteen Canadian cities during August, 1920 shipments were undelivered when received by the express agents because of the lack of street addresses of consignees or because of improper addresses. He adds that most of the packages were eventually delivered but with great delay. He stresses the point that business houses and others shipping to the larger cities should take care to have the correct addresses of consignees plainly marked on the packages.

HON. MR. KING SPEAKS AGAINST E. W. NESBITT

Woodstock, Ont., Nov. 23.—(Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)—Three thousand electors packed their way into the armories tonight to hear Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King speaking in the interests of D. J. Sinclair, the Liberal candidate in North Oxford. There is a three-cornered fight here and interest in the election is at its height. An over-see meeting was held in the city hall. Mr. King referred to the fact that he had spoken in Woodstock in behalf of Mr. Nesbitt, "when that gentleman was a Liberal" but that Mr. Nesbitt appeared to have undergone a change of heart since then.

Got No Sleep But now the neuritis has gone, the pains have ceased, the nervous system is restored and the writer of this letter pays a grateful tribute to the medicine which made him well. Mr. John Woodward, P.T.O., Lucan, Ont., writes: "It gives me much pleasure to recommend Dr. Chase's medicine, especially the Nerve Food. I was a sufferer from neuritis for several years, and tried all kinds of remedies, yet never seemed to get any better. At last my nerves and whole system seemed to give way through not being able to get any rest or sleep at night for pain, which mostly used to take me in all parts of the limbs and feet. My nerves would twitch all my whole body would seem to jerk right up as I lay in bed. Almost at the point of despair, I decided I would get Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which I did, and after taking twenty boxes I believe myself almost normal again. I also keep a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills on hand, and for the past year I seem to enjoy my usual health."

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

Look younger! Use the old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and nobody will know. You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old-fashioned Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied. Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful. This is the age of youth. Gray-haired unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight, and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

RETURN OF UNREST IN EGYPT LIKELY British Offer Considered Less Than Independence on a Self-government Basis. London, Nov. 24.—Although British official circles decline to comment upon the termination of negotiations with the Egyptian delegation until yesterday the British press generally attributes the breakdown in the negotiations to the question of British military representation, but the Egyptian view-point is stated as being favorable to British supervision of the Suez canal zone and that an agreement would be possible regarding British authority in other parts of the country. The question which produced the deadlock in the negotiations is understood to have been that of diplomatic representation abroad and of Egypt's desire to have similar representatives appointed to that country from foreign countries. The head of the Egyptian delegation held out for the appointment of a British ambassador to Egypt and for the appointment of ministers from other countries, but he was unable to win this point. The British negotiators insisted that Egypt's foreign relations should be conducted through the British commissioner. The Egyptian delegation considered that the British offer meant less than Egyptian independence on a basis of self-government.

HEALTH IS A WOMAN'S GREATEST ASSET Contrast the cheerful, happy woman with head erect, the glow of health on her cheeks, the elastic step and bubbling enthusiasm as she goes about her daily tasks, with the woman who suffers from backache, headaches, dragging-down pains, nervousness and despondency. Such conditions are undoubtedly caused by woman's ailments which will yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for many years has been restoring weak, ailing women to health and strength. Every woman who suffers in this way owes it to herself to at least give it a trial.

U. S. POLITICIANS ARE PERPLEXED Growing Evidence of Independent Thought and Action Throughout Land. Washington, Nov. 24.—Political leaders, Republican and Democrat, are at sea because of the growing evidence of independent political thought and action throughout the country. On the one hand, the recent elections have revealed that the grip of the Republican party is by no means as strong as it was a year ago and on the other hand the Democrats are uncertain whether they can capitalize whatever dissatisfaction there is with the Republicans. The widespread distress in the agricultural sections of the United States, from the Dakotas to the Gulf of Mexico, is having its political effects. At least, it has almost unlimited political possibilities. Some derision has been indulged at the expense of the agricultural "bloc" in Congress. As a matter of fact, this agricultural group, composed of both Republicans and Democrats from the agri-

"This time last year I saw where a man was being relieved of stomach trouble by Burdock Blood Bitters, so my husband got me two bottles, but I had no faith in it after all the different medicines I had taken. However, he insisted, and after the first two days I must say I began to feel better, and after the first bottle I felt so much better I went out a little every day, but could not go alone I was so weak, but I soon got so I could walk and eat, and have got quite stout. FOSSIL SKULL IN BRITISH MUSEUM "Homo Rhodesiensis" Walked Erect, Had Simian Features and Suffered Tooth-ache. London, Nov. 24.—Prehistoric man suffered from toothache if the evidence of a skull recently unearthed in Rhodesia is to be believed. It has now been placed in the British Museum and christened "Homo Rhodesiensis," and it is undergoing expert scrutiny. "It has the largest human molar ever seen," said Dr. Arthur Smith Woodward, F.R.S., keeper of the museum. "The skull is of a type which is not working together in a non-partisan way, but it has become a distant force in legislation. Many believe that it forecasts the formation of a third party, the basis of which will be agricultural and labor voters. If any leadership arises which is capable of uniting the agricultural voters of North and South, under a third party banner, there is no telling what might happen to the 1922 and 1923 elections. The matter of a third party movement which will spell trouble for both old parties and which will be able to break up the Democratic grip on the South, are plainly to be heard. "Much will depend on how the county takes the new tax measure. If it provokes the discontent which it seems likely to provoke, then one may expect a shake-up in the elections a year hence, with a third party much more than a possibility."

Women Voters Organize for Liberal Cause

Interest and Enthusiasm Displayed by Large Number at Meeting in Headquarters Hall—Candidates Speak.

That the women of St. John are deeply interested in the issue of the campaign was clearly demonstrated last evening when a large number of them attended a meeting in the Purving building held in the interests of the Liberal party. Short addresses were made by the party candidates, Dr. W. P. Broderick, and H. R. McLellan, following which an organization meeting of the ladies was held.

Miss Anna Gienell presided, and first called on Dr. Broderick, who said that he was very much pleased to see so many ladies present and willing to help in the restoration of good government. He mentioned the four lady candidates who were in the field, and said that in the next election there might be lady candidates in this constituency, and the men would have to assist them. The speaker promised that if returned to parliament he would advocate the appointment of lady senators, thus broadening women's activities. The speaker showed the need for getting the vote out at the coming election and said that they should organize properly to see that all women voters went to the polls. Getting out the vote on election day would be one of the great tasks of the campaign.

He took it for granted that they all were there as Liberals, and then went on to show what the Liberal party stood for. It stood for good government and defended the interest of the masses, he declared. When Laurier was premier the country never was in better shape and only through the Liberal party would the country be brought back to this condition again.

Universal suffrage had been a principle of the Liberal party. The present government gave women the franchise because the sentiment of the country had been so pronounced that it could not keep it from the women. In conclusion, he said that it was a great encouragement to the candidates to see so many present at workers. There was lots to do, the speaker said, and he urged them to put forth their best efforts.

Mr. McLellan also expressed his pleasure at addressing the ladies. They had assumed the right to vote and therefore they assumed the responsibilities of electors. He was satisfied that they would never fall below the standard of any man in public duty and obligation.

Men were requiring today the assistance of women in public affairs. He spoke of the work women had done during the war and paid a high tribute to Canadian womanhood for the efforts put forth during that period. It did not appear that in the last thirty years men could do much better than they had been doing and the time was ripe for the advent of women into public affairs.

The government party had attempted to take the credit for giving the women the right to vote. If it had not been for the work and efforts of Hon. William Pugsley no woman would have the vote today. The government had taken the credit for many things to which it was not entitled.

If the women expressed their full measure of thought and intelligence, those in power today would take their place with those who "thought the gun was not loaded."

The speaker then took up the right of Confederation and showed how the promises made to the people of the maritime provinces had not been fulfilled. He promised, for himself and colleague, that if returned to parliament it would be their chief endeavor to see that the rights of the maritime provinces were recognized. They would attempt the fulfillment of the promises made under Confederation and would not be set aside by statements similar to one made about a year ago in the Union Club to the effect that "the West owes the East nothing." The speaker declared that the

MR. KING WILL BE SUCCESSFUL SAYS DR. MICHAEL CLARK

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
Invermay, Sask., Nov. 23—Ninety-six seats for the Liberals in the eastern provinces, with enough west of Ontario to put Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King into power on Dec. 6, was Dr. Michael Clark's prediction here today. A strong majority would be assured, he said, as a number of other members who were Liberals in principle, would inevitably join the party when matters simmered down. Dr. Clark thought it conservative to expect twelve seats in Nova Scotia, seven in New Brunswick, two in Prince Edward Island, fifteen at least in Ontario and sixty in Quebec. He was not prepared to gauge as definitely the chances of the Liberals throughout the west.

A meeting of the advisory committee of the local Liberal party was held yesterday afternoon, at which P. D. McAvity was elected president, and F. F. Burpee, secretary.

RICKARD PUZZLED BY BOXERS' CLAIM

Professes Not to Understand Attitude—No Discrimination, He Contends.

New York, Nov. 24.—Tex Rickard declares the combination of boxers, including the champions of several classes and their managers, aligned against him will not put him out of business. He professed to be puzzled by their attitude, but took no cognizance of the reported intention of a Coffroth-Duckley-Johnston organization to run a huge boxing drome in opposition to his Madison Square Garden show home.

"It is all a puzzle to me," said Rickard. "I have made some alluring overtures and offers to those managers and their boxers to come into the Garden and box for me, but they have ignored the offers and gone off to other cities and accepted engagements for much less money. They have started this fight against me, for some fancied grievance, but I propose to sit tight."

"If any of those men can point out to me what reforms are necessary, and what they expect from me, I will be glad to listen to them. I have made efforts to obtain the services of several champion boxers, but they refuse to listen to any offers, yet they hop off in other directions and do business."

"As I understand it, some of these men object to the system of matchmaking in the Garden. Now, if they can suggest better matches, I will very gladly listen. If in my judgment their suggestions will improve the calibre of bouts in the Garden, I will be glad to accede accordingly. I have not discriminated against their charges."

LEAPING TRACK EXCAVATION NEW SPORT IN TORONTO

(Toronto Globe)
A new form of locomotion will shortly be all the vogue in Toronto, among the younger element, at least. That freak of European fancy, known as "Pogo," and which has recently spread like wildfire throughout France and Great Britain has invaded the Queen City, under the prosaic name of jumping sticks.

This new form of "making walking a pleasure" consists of a straight round stick, about four feet long. Near the bottom end is a cross piece to rest the feet on. The top is grasped firmly in two hands, level with the chest. Perched thus on the stick the "pogoist" endeavors to progress in a series of hops, literally lifting himself by his boot straps, without losing his balance.

"Pogging" to work will prove for more interesting than mere walking to save six cents. The "hazards" of torn-up tracks will add zest to the "pogoist's" progress by testing his skill in hurdling excavations and heaps of loose rails.

The first three games of the City League Basketball series at the Y. M. C. A. last night were watched by a big and enthusiastic crowd and each game was well played. In the senior game the Y. M. C. A. team defeated the Y. M. C. I. by a score of 34 to 17; in the intermediate, the Y. M. C. I. won from St. David's by 28 to 9, and in the ladies' game, the Nymphs scored 17 to the Mermaids' 2.

The senior game was fast and the Y. M. C. A. team let loose some of its combination work while the Y. M. C. I.

"A's" steering gear broke, and "B," increasing the speed of his car to avoid crashing the speed of his car to avoid being hit, collided with "A." If "B," had stopped his car the collision would not have occurred. The defect in "A's" car was unknown to him, although apparent for two months. The plaintiff, "A," brought action for damages, and

GRASPING DISEASE OF MONEY MAKING

Pleonexia Undermining the Health of Thousands, Said New York Speaker.

"It is time for ethics to confirm the statement that when a man confines himself to money-making, he commits moral suicide," declared Alfred W. Martin, associate leader of the Society of Ethical Culture of New York, in speaking at the Unitarian Laymen's League meeting in the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, Montreal. "No thoughtful observer," he added, "can fail to see that thousands of people in this country are following a false ideal of wealth and are suffering from the moral disease of 'pleonexia.' It is the grasping disease, a disease that is undermining the moral health of thousands of our citizens, and is polluting the springs of our political and industrial life. It is creating a moneyed aristocracy, which is the meanest and most contemptible of all aristocracies." This sentiment of the speaker was warmly applauded by the large audience which for the fifth meeting of this series, indicated the public appreciation of the experiment made by the Laymen's League of the Church of the Messiah in this direction.

In speaking on "What Human Life Is For," Mr. Martin examined the vast mass of answers that might be forthcoming to such a question. The most popular of all answers would undoubtedly be "happiness," he said; for the vast majority of human beings were bent on achieving that, however different the meanings they gave to it. "Happiness is not something that may be kept under lock and key, or domed and doctored like a cloak. It is one of those exquisite surprises that comes to us when we have abandoned all thought of it. To get happiness you must forget it," was the speaker's aphorism.

Goethe's Great Moral.

The way in which Goethe in his two famous works, Wilhelm Meister and Faust, had exemplified the truth that happiness is not to be gained by actual quest, but incidental to some noble quest or work, was emphasized by Mr. Martin, who analyzed the main themes of the story and of the drama of the great German writer.

"There are three things that we want, even at the price of pain," asserted the speaker; "hunger for truth, longing for love and passion for personal progress. This is no new gospel, but it might be more accurate to say it is the gospel anew." That, he added, was taught in the Veda, also by Zoroaster, by Confucius, Mohammed, Jesus, Paul, Dante, Savonarola and Tolstoy.

The next most popular answer to the question was "wealth," on which point the speaker made the statement concerning money-making and moral suicide. But if one said that human life was for wealth, one might score a miserable failure; whereas, if in addition to making money, one took an interest in literature, social developments and social service, then whether income increased or decreased, there would be the satisfaction of having lived for eternal treasures of the soul. "I do not want to be misunderstood in regard to wealth," added Mr. Martin. "It has its legitimate place in the conduct of life, because wealth means whatever serves the ends for which human life is given. Do not make the mistake of confusing wealth with money."

Other answers, as to "health" and "culture" were also examined and rejected, and the speaker then showed how although according to zoologists, man was classed in the animal class, yet while he shared with animals such needs as food and shelter, after that man and the animal parted company. Man had the power to change his nature and attributes. "Don't live a merely selfish, sensual life, because you are not a beast," he advised. "Don't live an aimless life, because you are not an insect. Don't live a supernatural life; you are not an angel. Don't live a wicked life; you are not a demon. Don't live a visionary life; you are not a mere dreamer. Live a divinely human life, because you are a god, though in the germ."

On the question of immortality the speaker held that we were between two ignorances, and the only thing remaining was the kind of behavior. "We have to choose between living like immortals and living like the day-fly that dies at sundown," he concluded.

St. Frederick Williams-Taylor presided over the gathering, saying he accepted that duty because of his respect for religion and also out of respect for the distinguished member of a distinguished family.

CLOTHES FOR CHILDREN.

Simplicity is The Keynote in Making Them, Says College Woman.

Simplicity is the keynote in making children's clothing, according to Miss Gertrude Arbogast of the home economics department of the University of Wisconsin. Hooks and eyes bought by the yard or slip-over garments which eliminate buttonholes are short cuts which should appeal to the busy mother on the farm. Kimono sleeves save time in sewing and are comfortable for the child.

The simple dress need not be homely. Easy stitches, such as the feather stitch or lazy-daisy worked around the edges of hems, make the dress attractive. A sash and pockets often transfigure a plain dress. An animal or a bird outlined with colored thread on the front of the dress is often sufficient decoration. A dress of pink and white checked gingham, with some of the edges bound with blue and white checked goods, is both dainty and simple. Nothing is more practical than bloomers to match the wash dress.

A jumper dress for winter can be made from an old serge dress. Wash waists to be worn with it might be of white goods made into a plain pullover or trimmed with colored material. This dress is not only economical but is more hygienic for the child than an all-serge dress.

A serge middie and plaited skirt is always popular with the older girl and is appropriate for school and Sunday wear. The girl herself can help with the making of the dress. White middies can be substituted for the one of serge. The Tam-O-Shanter must not be forgotten in planning the little girl's outfit. This can be either ready-made or made at home out of velvet. Bright colors please the children and also live up their winter coats.
