VOTE AGAINST OPEN MEETINGS

Mr. McLellan Will Attend No More Private Sessions

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Site Provided For Trout Hatchery—Water and Sewer Extensions in Clarendon Street—School Board Appointments

Commissioner McLellan will attend no more private meetings of the city commissioners. He served notice upon his colleagues to this effect at the close of the weekly meeting of the common council yesterday afternoon...

When the resolution was moved by the commissioner of public works, commissioners Schofield, Agar and Wigmore gave their reasons for opposing it and Mr. McLellan followed with an agreement in favor of the motion...

Mr. McLellan: "Every man is supposed to run his own department, and I will run mine. I do not want to interfere with your system, however, and on the day when public safety matters are to be taken up in committee, I will send you a statement of any business which I may have to bring before the next meeting of the council, and you can discuss it as much as you want to."

FAMOUS FOR BEAUTY OF HER HAIR

Mrs. Esther Emery Has Hair Which Reaches to Her Knees. Was Once Thinned with Baldness. Tells How She Made New Hair Grow.

"People say I have the most beautiful hair in the world," says Mrs. Esther Emery, now residing in the city. "I don't know about that, but certainly I am proud of my hair, for it has grown so in just twelve short months 'till now it reaches my knees. Last year it was anything but beautiful. I thought I was growing bald. A year ago my hair was thin and scraggly and coming out at an alarming rate. Little bald spots appeared all over my scalp, which was covered with dandruff and itched like fury all the time. I cannot tell you how many hair tonics I tried to save my hair and make it grow again. Some of them helped by taking out the dandruff for a while, but it came right back again and my hair grew thinner than ever. My success is no secret and I think that any man or woman can do the same with their hair if they will persevere as I have done. A friend, knowing my condition, sent me a clipping from the New York Herald which advised people who were growing bald to use a prescription consisting of 6 oz. Bay Rum, 2 oz. Lavona (de Composee) and 1-2 dr. of Menthol Crystals. I got these things from my druggist and mixed them myself. I allowed the preparation to stand several hours before using. Then I applied it each night and morning, rubbing right into my scalp with the finger tips till the skin fairly glowed. The results were immediate. When I combed my hair next morning only a few straggling hairs came away instead of the handful I was accustomed to gather. The dandruff left me this time for good, for I have never seen a speck on my head since. In less than a week tiny, little hairs appeared all over my scalp and these grew so rapidly that soon looked like a different woman. They have kept right on growing until they are as you see them now. A physician has told me that Lavona contains the pure juice of a rare South American shrub that possesses marvelous qualities for forcing a growth of hair and certainly after my own experience I can well believe it. Did I use more than the first treatment? Oh, certainly I am using it today. I go to any drug store and have 8 oz. put up at a time. It lasts about a month and costs very little. I'm not going to stop anyway until my hair reaches the floor."

The estimated cost is $2,700, of which about $1,400 will be chargeable to water supply.

The commissioner also recommended that a lease be granted to the department of marine and fisheries of Canada for a term of five years of a piece of land near the waterway of Little River for the purpose of erecting a trout hatchery and keeper's residence, together with the right to lay a four inch water pipe from the said reservoir to the hatchery and residence under a head of about six feet. BANKS O' KILLARNEY IS A NICKEL HIT

The Clever Emmets in Musical Sketch Replete With Taking Features — Miss Harney and Good Pictures

It is difficult to say what pleased the Nickel's patrons most in the "Banks O' Killarney" musical sketch as put on by the very clever Emmets yesterday—the gorgeous special scenery, sweet singing numbers or the truly original comedy of the little red bantam and fox terrier. It was a surprising act throughout, the people were not expected so many fresh features, it seemed, and the most generous of applause was accorded the newcomers. The stage was set deep with Irish scenery, especially painted for the Emmets, and the live stock flying and cavorting about as the prettily costumed performers sang their songs and chatted to keep up the liveliest interest. For children and grown-ups alike the "Banks O' Killarney" novelty is far above the average. It is to be put on at 8:30, 8 and 9:15 every day this week.

In pictures the Nickel will tonight continue in a manner quite new to the motion-picture story. There is a bright Vitaphone comedy as well as Miss Adele Harney, whose return for a brief stay was heartily welcomed. Miss Harney is singing Frederic Weatherly's pretty song "Your Voice."

BUY BY WEIGHT; NOT BY MEASURE

Reform Which it is Said Would Reduce Cost of Living

Washington, June 24.—Purchase of supplies by weight instead of by the bushel has been recommended to the commissioners of the District of Columbia, by W. C. Haskell, superintendent of weights and measures, as being more just to householders in the purchase of food products. The commissioners have taken the matter under consideration, and it is believed are favorably inclined toward the change.

The proposed reform is of more than local importance, for the reason that it probably would affect many states which ship supplies to Washington. Supt. Haskell declared that, for instance, turnips, when sold by the bushel, show variation of from forty-two to sixty

COME, LET US REASON TOGETHER

Let us suppose a case. Let us suppose that, after another election or two we should be unfortunate enough to elect as members of the city government five men who were influenced unduly by politics, or by other considerations unfavorable to the public welfare from a civic standpoint. Or, let us suppose that, of five new commissioners, some side-wind of popular fancy should have elected three whose judgment or whose tendencies were open to question.

Would the civic electors and the taxpayers generally desire, or intend, that such a commission should transact its business behind closed doors? Is not the question answered as soon as it is asked?

It is by presenting some illustration of this sort that we come at the meaning and intent of the commission system, and understand the causes leading up to the strong emphasis placed upon the essential feature of government by the plan we have chosen.

The election which resulted in the choice of the present commissioners was one which brought increased efficiency and notably better administration than St. John previously enjoyed.

The Times and the Telegraph, which from the first advocated the commission system, have no hesitation today in saying that the system itself is the best yet devised for cities, and that, on the whole, the regime of the present mayor and commissioners, though perhaps far from perfect, has been an excellent start toward the business-like, economic, and yet sharply progressive government which a growing and ambitious city must set before and seek with the utmost determination.

Nevertheless, frankness compels the assertion that the transaction of public business in private committee is a backward step, suggesting the older and darker days; that it is a procedure entirely at variance with not only the spirit, but the letter of the commission plan submitted to and overwhelmingly approved by the electors of this city.

Let us examine a further illustration. Let us say that three bodies of citizens, or three individuals, desire to transact some business this week with the mayor and common council. Let us assume that one of these delegations or individuals represents a wealthy and influential interest, that another represents a small and unimportant minority in the community, and that a third represents some group of foreign capitalists. Now, we are willing to assume that the mayor and the commissioners would deal with all of these men fairly, and from the standpoint of the common interest as they understand it. But it is essential, if these delegates are seeking concessions which affect the general public, that their representations should be made, not in private, but in public, in order that the electors may know where each commissioner stood on the questions involved, and what reasons guided him to the conclusions he reached. The commission idea is that, if the question had any public interest at all, the public should know what the petitioners said in support of their case and what the commissioners said and did with respect to it. This is the very essence of government by commission. Those who say otherwise missed, or have forgotten, the very soul of the movement which gave St. John its present form of administration. If there is any commissioner whose perception is so limited or whose memory is so short, let him study these questions afresh.

See now, on the contrary, what three of our commissioners tell us. They say that it is sufficient, after a private committee meeting, that they shall issue to the press a statement prepared by themselves, summarizing what was done in private. We have only to return to our first illustration to measure the folly of such an argument. In other words, let us suppose that, instead of the five gentlemen now at City Hall, we should be unfortunate enough to have, next year, or the year after, or five years hence, a commission a majority of which should be composed of men whose motives were open to question in the view of any considerable body of the electorate. If such a commission were to transact business in private and issue a cut-and-dried statement afterwards, would that be either satisfactory or in accord with the letter or the spirit of commission government? No, surely.

The commission plan would not be necessary at all if the average body of men selected to govern a city were all ways wise and public-spirited beyond question. They will not always be so, and for that reason the commission plan set up certain well recognized safeguards, among which constant and frank publicity was by no means the least important. Commission government means the open door. When the door is closed we are not enjoying commission government except in name. It is the first backward step that must be checked. Let us look Section 12 of the Act in the face and act accordingly.

SEA POWER SUPERB

When King George visits Liverpool there will be for his inspection, a column of merchant liners composed of thirty vessels of this class and five miles long. The Boston Transcript sees in this proposed exhibition an object lesson, not to the King, who is a sailor himself, but to onlooking neighbors; and that journal believes a similar purpose animates those in charge of the arrangements for this summer's naval manoeuvres, when 344 warships, of all classes, exclusive of aircraft, will be concentrated, and the flags of 23 admirals will be shown.

"Such a gathering of war vessels," says the Transcript, "is equivalent in demonstration of power to the mobilization of one of the great continental European armies. It will be Great Britain's explanation of why it gets along with no larger army and an intimation of how it will be a great factor in the politics of Europe. Nor will its entire naval hand be shown in the manoeuvres, for they will not exhaust its list of available ships. There are others which in reserve are as impressive as if they were present at the mobilization. British militiamen, in the sense of the power, has gone to sea. The personnel of the British navy exceeds 186,000, all ranks, and the naval reserves aggregate 48,000. No other nation approaches this total. Our newest battleship just laid down is numbered '93' and of 'battles cruisers' we have none. Our authorized personnel is nearly 64,000, a godly force, but not quite half the number of those over whom floats the 'white ensign'."

Great Britain does not want to fight, but, as the Transcript says, if it has to fight, it wants the world to see it lacks not ships, men nor money.

By just what route the G. T. P. is to reach Courtenay Bay.

What has become of the Andover-Grand Falls section.

What is to be the route of the Valley railway from Gagetown to St. John.

How the Transcontinental is to make connection with the Valley railway, and where.

When the G. T. P. is going to take over and operate the Transcontinental from Winnipeg east.

If the Standard has the situation well in hand it might start on these questions and answer them explicitly, say tomorrow.

The Standard says the government has the situation "well in hand" with respect to the G. T. P., the Transcontinental, and the Valley railway. Yes? "Well in hand" is a vague phrase that will scarcely satisfy the Board of Trade, for example. Will the Standard tell us: Yes, children, the wolves, the foxes, and the bob-cats in the cages in Rockwood Park will all bite if you poke your fingers within reach—and they are all perfectly right in doing so. Give these wild forest folk a fair chance. They deserve kind treatment. Teasing them means cruelty and ignorance.

When the G. T. P. terminals are to be completed, meaning thereby not the P. passenger station, elevators, immigration sheds and the like, which are necessary to handle the traffic as soon as the new railway begins to haul through trains and to start Atlantic tide-water in winter.

Archdeacon Hudson Stuck, the Episcopal missionary who has succeeded in climbing Mount McKinley and reaching the summit of the highest peak in North America, saw nothing of the records. Dr. Cook says he left there. Perhaps they were destroyed by the earthquake which shattered the ridges near the top of the mountain a few months before Archdeacon Stuck made his ascent. Perhaps not.

MISFITS

The stores that sell clothes fill the paper with pictures of handsome young men—Broad shouldered, with waist lines that I long for such clothes there and then.

So for some of their duds I make payment. And hope like those pictures to be; But, however fine is the garment, It looks like the dickens on me!

I go to the tailor and latter And stand for a whacking big bill, But the cost of the things doesn't matter.

I look like a frankfurter still! I am too stout, Sir, you say, and am aging? That's more, sir, than I can quite see!

Though that coat on the hook seems engaging, It looks like the dickens on me!

You think that I ought to get married? Oh, there is abundance of time! And love, for me, somehow, has tarried.

However, I'm just in my prime. That silken noose never so charming. Become you—but let me stay free! Its snaky folds seem most alarming—"I would look like the dickens on me!"

SIR EDMUND WALKER'S SPEECH ON CANADA AT LUNCHEON IN LONDON

A Plain Talk to British Financiers - Dominion Bound to Forge Steadily Ahead

(Times' Special Correspondence) London, June 10.-Sir Edmund Walker's message to the investors of Great Britain, at the Royal Colonial Institute luncheon yesterday, was that Canada must continue to have money or she must contract her immigration.

Earl Grey introduced Sir Edmund as president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce he looked forward to meeting Sir Edmund tomorrow at the luncheon at the Royal Colonial Institute.

What constituted Canada's problem was that with a population of less than two to the square mile, the dominion was receiving five new people for every hundred of population.

What would be the result in England if that condition obtained? It was perhaps impossible for him to fully realize the difficulties of building up the country for these new people.

He touched on the rapid expansion of towns and cities, which had increased from three to four thousand population in fifteen and twenty-five thousand in short time.

Real Estate He made reference to the real estate question in an expression of satisfaction that there had been a decline in speculation and an opinion that some people would lose money.

Up to so recent a time as when Earl Grey left Ottawa, he said, the navy question was of academic interest only in Canada.

PRESIDENT STANDS BY CURRENCY BILL

Washington, June 24 - President Wilson freely discussed the Glass currency bill, with the Washington correspondents yesterday and made it plain that he intends to stand as firmly behind it as he does behind the tariff bill. The general principles of the bill, Mr. Wilson considers clearly defensible but he expected to add amendments for detail.

Washington, June 24 - The minority attitude toward the president's currency plan was reflected in a statement made by Representative Mann, of Illinois, as republican leader of the house.

"The president's message is a fine example of classic English," said the statement, "but there is nothing more to it unless it be considered as a threat that of congress had consulted with him and co-operated with this in favor of passing a reasonable banking and currency bill, but the president evidently intends to treat the subject as one purely partisan, and he did not take the trouble even to discuss or analyze the principles involved in banking and currency legislation. He erred in saying that the committee of congress had consulted with him and prepared a bill."

Middle Weight Title Squabble Narrowing Down to a Few Men

By TOM ANDREWS

The middle weight controversy is narrowing down to a point where it soon be possible to determine a real champion in the 148-pound division. The defeat of Eddie McGoorty, the Oshkosh middle weight by Jimmy Clabby of Milwaukee-Hammond, in a 12-round contest at Butte, Mont., eliminates the Oshkosh boy from the competition for the present, and puts Clabby on a par with Jack Dillon and Frank Klaus, two of the legitimate contenders for the crown. Clabby is much the lighter of the three stars, being able to do 150 pounds without trouble, while both Dillon and Klaus are not over-anxious at any time to do 135 pounds ring-side. Mike Gibbons is also clamoring now to get into the middle weight division and Mike will have to give away weight the same as Clabby. However, the defeat of Gibbons by McGoorty last fall does not give the St. Paul boy as much right at this time to enter a claim as Jimmy Clabby. Mike should now try to wipe out his defeat at the hands of McGoorty. Clabby, who has always been considered clever, also demonstrated at Butte that he can stand the gaff and take it without flinching. In the first round McGoorty put him down for counts of seven and nine, but he weathered the storm and then came back and handed Eddie a training, earning a clean-cut victory. Clabby's greatest work was done at close quarters, although at times he used his straight left jab with great effect. It seems strange that McGoorty, after having his most down and almost out twice when he had Hugo Kelly almost out in the opening round, and again when he met Knockout Brown of Chicago. It will mean much hard work for Eddie to get back to his former level. He seems to lose heart when he is met by a puncher. He has the cleverness, the stamina and the punching ability, but there is something lacking. It might do him good to take to the mountains for a stay of six months. Eddie is a world of good to have in the club select, and it is presumed just to rough it and get back into proper form. Clabby is matched at Indianapolis for July 4, with any middleweight the club selects, and it is presumed that the promoters are trying hard to land Dillon for a real championship match. This is about the nearest the United States has to a recognized middle weight champion since the death of Stanley Ketchel.

CHEAPER LOANS FOR FARMERS IN WEST

Co-operative Credit System Suggested in Alberta-Saskatchewan Also Probing Matter

Calgary, Alberta, June 24.—The question of arranging cheaper loans for the farming community is becoming a very live one in the province of Alberta just now. Leaders in the organization of the United Farmers have been giving their attention to this matter for some time and several proposals have been made. One of these suggests the establishment of a co-operative credit system for agriculturists. This organization would take the form of a credit society and would not do a regular banking business but would be a feeder for the standard banks of the country. All farmers who wished to borrow from the society would, of course, have to be shareholders and the repayments would be made in small amounts and at a low rate of interest. The government of the neighboring province of Saskatchewan has sent a commission to Europe to inquire into this question now, and it is expected something will be done in Alberta as soon as the Saskatchewan report is rendered.

WORKERS' CAMP FOR THE MEN AFFLICTED

Another Progressive Step in Fight Against White Plague

Toronto, June 24.—Provision is now being made for the establishment of a workers' camp or pavilion on the grounds of the Toronto Free Hospital for Consumptives. The government authorities, city authorities and hospital authorities are all combining in the latest move. The arrangement is that the workmen, instead of returning to bed home surroundings will, upon finishing his work, go to the workers' camp, which is a fresh-air pavilion. Here he will be served with a substantial and wholesome evening meal, will occupy a fresh, clean bed, under open-air conditions, will be served with a good meal in the morning before leaving for his work, the mid-day meal being secured in whatever way may be customary to him. In this way he will be enabled not only to continue his work as a useful citizen and a breadwinner (for his full wages will be available for the support of his family), but at the same time to build up into restored health, thus becoming an asset instead of a liability to the community. The possible infection of other members of his family will also be removed, and with this immunity the possibility of the entire family being thrown upon public charity at a later date will be removed.

Was Troubled With His Heart.

HAD TO GIVE UP WORK.

When the heart begins to beat irregularly, palpitates and throbs, skips beats, and sometimes seems to almost stop, it causes great anxiety and alarm. Many people are kept in a state of morbid fear of death, become weak, worn and miserable, and are unable to attend to either social or business duties, through this unusual action of the heart.

To all such sufferers Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will give prompt and permanent relief.

Mr. Alfred Male, Etobicoke, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with my heart for two or three years. I thought sometimes that I would die. I went to the doctor, and he said he could not do anything for me. I had to give up work. My wife persuaded me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. The first box relieved me, so I kept on until I had taken seven boxes, and they cured me. I would not be without them on any account, as they are worth their weight in gold, as they have won the hearts of my friends and neighbors who are troubled with heart or nerve trouble to try them. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents a box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of the money to The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont."

TO GIVE ST. JOHN ONLY SECOND RATE DRY DOCK

Ottawa, June 23.—Plans are being prepared for dry docks, which the Canadian government will build at Quebec and on the Pacific coast. They will have a length of 1,160 feet each.

The St. John dry dock will have a length of only 800 feet, owing to the fact that legislation was not brought forward by the government last session to enable it to be built on a larger scale. It is understood that provision will be made next session for the enlargement of the Halifax dry dock.

Health and Beauty Answers

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN

Ada: The unlovely condition of your skin is due to the powder and greasy cream you use. Make up and use this daily lotion and your complexion will be the envy of your friends. Dissolve 4 ounces sprumax in either 1/2 pint hot water or which based, and add 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine. This delightful lotion dries quickly after being applied and gives to the skin an exquisite tint and velvety smoothness. The sprumax lotion cannot be detected when on and will make rough, oily, "muddy" skin smooth and clear. Use it for freckles, tan and sunburn.

Myrtle: That unwelcome fuiz on your cheek will vanish after one application of a delatone paste, made by mixing enough delatone and water to cover the hairs not wanted. After it is on 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be smooth and hairless. This method is unfailing, but be sure to get delatone.

Mrs. Geo.: You can have pretty eyebrows and lashes by rubbing a little pyroxin on eyebrows nightly, and for short, straight lashes, apply pyroxin at last roots with thumb and forefinger. This treatment will give you thick, glossy eyebrows and long, curly lashes. Be careful and don't get any pyroxin where no hair is wanted.

Margie: From what you say, I believe your weakness and languor are traceable to your anemic condition. Make up and use this old-fashioned cleanser and tonic and your health and strength will soon return. Dissolve 1 ounce kerdene in 1/2 pint alcohol (never use whisky), then add 1/2 cupful sugar and hot water to make a quart and take of this 1 tablespoonful three times a day. This rid the blood of poisonous accumulations, builds up worn tissues and fortifies the body against disease. The kerdene tonic is especially good for banishing pimples, blotches, "muddiness" and other complexion blemishes, and after a regular course of this treatment your skin will be clear and soft.

Rose: You can quickly remove wrinkles and keep the face velvety and smooth at very little cost by making at home and using regularly this greaseless vegetable jelly-cream, which does not grow hair. Get from your druggist 1 ounce almondin and dissolve it in 1/2 pint of cold water or witch hazel, adding 2 teaspoonfuls of glycerine. Stir and let stand one day. Apply to wrinkled surface and leave through night, then wash off and use more of the cream as a massage. This treatment will remove and prevent the most obstinate wrinkles or finest crow's feet, while softening the skin to a velvety texture.

MILLIONS SWUNG BY THE DECISION OF THESE TWO RACING STEWARDS

Lord Wolverton and Major Loder, Who Disqualified Craganour at the Derby

London, June 11.—Never, perhaps, have a judge and jury, sitting in the calm of a law court, with unlimited time at their disposal, been called upon for a decision of greater financial importance than that to which Lord Wolverton and Major Eastace Loder, as two of the three Derby stewards, gave thirty minutes after the running of last Wednesday's sensational race. The facts are now historic.

Both of the men whose finding so many millions of dollars hung, are interesting personalities. Lord Wolverton, who is forty-nine and succeeded his brother in the title in 1888, is an ex-lord-in-waiting and vice-chamberlain of the royal household, and was an intimate friend of the late King Edward. An enormously rich man and partner in the banking firm of Glyn, Mills & Co., he went to South Africa with the Imperial Yeomanry and served, for a time, as press censor. His wife is a sister of Lord Dudley, thus making him related by marriage to the daughter of the late Whiteley Reid, who married an ex-Viceroy of Ireland's younger brother, the Hon. John Ward. The turf, big-game hunting and yachting are Lord Wolverton's hobbies.

Of Major Eastace Loder, most people have heard as the winner of all of the classic English races, as well as of the French Grand Prix. Taking up racing only in 1900, he is said, before 1906 to have won more than $275,000. With Pretty Polly, in 1904, he won the Oaks, the St. Leger and the One Thousand Guinea, and, two years later, the famous Spearmint captured both the English Derby and the French Grand Prix for him. He is three years younger than Lord Wolverton, having been born in 1867, and, as his title indicates, is an ex-soldier, having served twelve years in the 12th Lancers.

A surgeon in Wolverhampton who drew Craganour in the Calcutta Sweep-stake believed himself, for some twenty minutes, the owner of $250,000, and many a humble waitress, as winner of a tea-shop "sweep" treated her companions lavishly, only to find herself suddenly bereft of her winnings. Hardest hit of all of course were the bookmakers, many of who "paid out" on the spot to the backers of Craganour—whom they never

Regularly of the bowels is an absolute necessity for good health. Unless the waste matter from the food which collects there is got rid of at least once a day, it decays and poisons the whole body, causing biliousness, indigestion and sick headaches. Sals and other harsh mineral purgatives irritate the delicate lining of the bowels. McGraw's Review

Of the Big Leagues

By JOHN J. MCGRAW, Manager of the Champion Giants

That was the only strong thing about the aggregation which I could discover earlier in the season. Seaton and Alexander pitched wonderful ball in the spring, but were overworked. As far as the rest of the club went, I cannot figure it as a championship winner.

The Boston Americans, champions of the world, are still going very badly, and so far do not appear to have a chance to repeat. The wonderful pitching staff has failed to live up anywhere to its showing of last year, and the great luck that trailed the team all last season deserted it early this spring.

The Red Sox. The Boston Americans, champions of the world, are still going very badly, and so far do not appear to have a chance to repeat.

The Athletics appear to be irreplaceable. Their one weakness at the beginning of the season was the pitching staff. Mack has largely overcome this by the development of several prominent youngsters who have been winning games for them.

SUFFERED SO MUCH SHE WANTED TO DIE

"Fruit-a-lives" Cured Her and Brought Her the Joy of Living

Enterprise, Ont., October 1st. "For seven years, I suffered with what physicians called a 'Water Tumor'. Hypodermics of Morphine had to be given me to ease the pain.

During one of these bad spells, a family friend brought a box of 'Fruit-a-lives' to the house. I was so bad that it was only when I had taken nearly two boxes that I began to experience relief.

I kept up the treatment, however, and after taking five boxes, I was cured, and when I appeared on the streets, my friends said:—"The dead has come to life," and this seemed literally true because I certainly was at death's door."

PEOPLE WILL BACK UP BOARD IN THIS

Strictly Enforce Regulation Requiring Meat to Be Covered While Being Carried Through Streets

The Board of Health regulation requiring all meats to be covered while being carried through the streets is to be strictly enforced and future violations will be followed by prosecutions. In the past there has been neglect of the rule and complaints which have been made recently have resulted in the adoption of a stricter policy by the Board of Health.

The matter is one which is regarded as affecting the health of the community to a serious extent and a close watch will be kept in future to see that there is no further neglect of the proper precautions. Violations of the act are punishable by fines up to $200 and the board will see that violators are not let off easily.
