MORE ENQUIRY RE ST. JOHN HARBOR.

Transportation Commission Will Hear Evidence Again.

Members Arrived Today and Will Sit Tomorrow—Ex-Chairman's Death Compels Second Visit.

In January, 1904, the government Railway Co. commission visited St.
John and received considerable information regarding the port and the local people went to much trouble to fully impress upon the commission the claims of St. John. Unfortunately before their report was submitted to the government the chairman of the commission, Mr. Bertram, died. Hence the newly constituted commission is again visiting this city.

When the commission visited here in January, 1904, it was composed of the late Mr. Bertram, Robert R. Ford and B. C. Fry. Upon Mr. Bertram's death, J. S. Ashdown of Winnipeg was appointed to the commission, Mr.
R. Ford being made chairman. Mr.
R. Ford and Mr. Fry did not consider they could ask Mr. Ashdown, who is a Winnipeg man, to sign the report. The government were desirous for a report, particularly in view of the proposed dredging for the new wharves, so the commission decided the quickest and best plan was to go over the ground again. Mr. R. Ford and Mr. Ashdown arrived this morning accompanied by the secretary of the commission, C. N. Bell of Toronto, and E. E. Horton of Toronto, official stenographer.

About two months ago Mr. Fry resigned and his place has not been filled.

The party were met at the depot by H. B. Schofield, president of the Board of Trade; Samuel Schofield, the well known shipping man, and Wm.
Downie, general superintendent of the Atlantic division of the C. P. R. The party drove at once to the Royal Hotel, where they will have lunch and at three o'clock will be taken in Mr.
Downie's private car to Bay Shore and West St. John. At Sand Point they will board the tug Lord Kitchener and be given a sail around the harbor.

Tomorrow morning at ten o'clock they will meet the shipping and business men of the Board of Trade. Members of the council, city officials, and members of the Board of Trade, will accompany the commissioners on their trip of inspection this afternoon.
When approached by representatives of the press this morning upon their arrival, the commissioners referred the newspaper men to the secretary, Mr.
Bell, who said there was nothing to state beyond that after leaving St.
John they would go to Halifax and possibly to Sydney and Charlottetown.

C. M. B. A. PICKICKERS' JOLLY TIME.

Shortly after 8.30 this morning the
Watters' Landing, with from two hundred and fifty to three hundred members and friends of the C. M. B. A., all intent on enjoying themselves at the picnic arranged by the C. M. B. A. executive. The weather, which looked rather threatening last night, had not improved in prospects this morning, but to the delight of all, when the Pikanoket had got properly clear of the city, the fog was left behind, and the morning breeze made the weather ideal for picnicking.

Reaching Watters' Landing shortly before 9.30 parties were formed and soon all were enjoying themselves to their heart's delight. Rambles, games of ball, bathing and dozens of different forms of amusement are being indulged in. The Champloket left Indian town at two o'clock, taking up a number of those who found it difficult to get away this morning. All will return on the Victoria this evening, which leaves Watters' Landing at seven o'clock, reaching Indian town about an hour later.

EXPLODED GUNBOAT FLOATED.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—A telegram received at the navy department tonight from Captain Drake says the Bennington was floated yesterday and is now alongside the wharf. A thorough examination of the vessel will be made today.

STREET CAR MEN ROW.

On Sunday night there was a lively row at the corner of Paradise row and Main street, between two street car crews. It seems that one car of the branch line got off its schedule so far that two of the cars ran to the junction but a few yards apart. The motormen and conductors got into a very lively altercation as to who was in the wrong, and some of the lady passengers got frightened and left the cars.
A crowd collected before the difference of opinion was settled or further argument adjourned to a further date.

GIRL BASEBALLISTS COMING.

This morning George Durham, manager of the St. John Baseball Club, closed a contract with Thomas Mier, representative of the Bloomer Girls' baseball team for the appearance of the girls here on August 7th, when they will play the locals on the Victoria grounds.

The Bloomer Girls travel in their own car and there are eighteen in the party, eleven girls and seven men.
They carry a portable grandstand, on the circus plan, and a fence and light generating plant so that they can give evening performances.

The pitcher of the team is Miss M.
Neilson, who is said to have a barrel full of shots and a lot of speed.

SWEDEN AGREES TO LET NORWAY GO ON CONDITIONS.

Norwegians Through New Parliament or by Plebiscite Must Ask for Freedom—Swedish Government Has Resigned.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, July 25.—A special committee appointed by the Rikstag to deal with the crisis which created the revolution in Norway, today delivered its reply. The committee declares unanimously that the government bill cannot be adopted in the form in which it was presented to the Rikstag and proposes that the Rikstag shall signify its willingness to enter into negotiations with Norway for a dissolution of the union if the newly elected Storting requests a repeal of the act of union. If such request is received from Norway after the Norwegian people, by a plebiscite, have de-

NORTH END MYSTERY CLEARING

E. C. Graham Has Sent for His Wife—Sheriff St. Residents Complain of Vacant Saloon.

The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Edgar C. Graham, who kept a liquor saloon on Sheriff street, and Miss Peacock, whose mother runs a general shop next door to the Graham saloon, is nearer being cleared up now than it has been since the opening of the story. On Saturday morning Mrs.
Graham, who has been living with her husband's parents at 454 Main street, since her husband's disappearance, received a wire from Boston asking her to come to join him at once. Talking to the Star this morning, Mrs. Graham, said her daughter-in-law had picked up a few things and left by the Saturday night train for Boston and promised to communicate with her the moment she found Mr. Graham. She is expecting a letter any post now and will at once make public its contents.
Calling on Mrs. Peacock the latter said as far as she knew her daughter was still in Boston, although she hadn't had any word from her for some time past. She deprecated the stories about Mr. Graham and his daughter being together. She attributes the origin of the rumor to a certain family who she describes as being "dirtier than dirt." When told that Mrs. Graham, Jr., had gone to Boston in answer to a telegram from her husband, she replied that she thought that was proof enough that her daughter wasn't living with Graham.

What pursuing enquiries this morning the Star was besieged with residents who live near the Graham saloon, who complain bitterly of the goings on which have been taking place every evening in the saloon in question, which is supposed to be closed for business.

According to the tenant who lives over the saloon night after night, a man has been in the habit of opening the saloon and refreshing himself from the stock, some of which still remains and after getting hopelessly intoxicated, makes the whole neighborhood alarmed with his threats to burn the place down. The party in question is well known to the police who have several times found the saloon door wide open and have had to lock it. As recently as last night the individual in question was at the saloon until three o'clock this morning, but as the police have put a new padlock on the door and keep the key themselves, he could do nothing but do so on the outside of the premises, cursing aloud and threats that had effectively kept him out of the saloon.

Sgt. Kilpatrick when told of the complaints this morning said he would have the place watched and on the appearance of the gentleman in question, should he prove at all disorderly, he would be arrested.

Sarah Bernhardt is one of the most extravagant of the stage people. Her bedroom at her Paris house is hung with velvet, on which are embroidered gold fleur-de-lis, and the window curtains are of the choicest lace, with peacock plumes embroidered on them.

clared in favor of a dissolution of the union.

The committee recommends that in the event of a dissolution of the union they should insist on the following terms:

1st. The establishment of a zone on each side of the frontier separating the kingdoms, within which the existing fortifications shall be raised and new fortifications may not be erected.

2nd. The right of pasturing reindeer be granted to Swedish Laplanders in Norway.

3rd. That the transit trade through both countries shall be secured against unjustifiable obstruction.

4th. That the status of Sweden in this report for foreign powers as established by the treaty shall be clearly defined so that Sweden shall be completely freed from responsibility for Norway to other states.

The committee also reports an arbitration convention between Sweden and Norway as desirable, although it does not consider it an essential condition of the recognition of Norway must be completely freed from responsibility for Norway to other states.

Regarding eventual negotiations with Norway, the committee declares that "whatever may be demanded for the welfare and dignity of Sweden as a condition of the repeal of the act of union on the part of Sweden and of the recognition of Norway must be claimed and adhered to with rigor and determination."

FRIGHTFUL EXPLOSION.

Three Blown to Pieces and Dozens Injured
in Alberta.

(Special to the Star.)
WINNIPEG, July 25.—Incomplete reports from Banff tell of a frightful dynamite explosion in Banffhead coal mine yesterday afternoon, in which three miners were killed and dozens of others terribly injured.

Of the three men killed there is hardly a piece of their bodies left by which they can be recognized. How the explosion occurred is not known.
Efforts are being made to rescue any miners who are imprisoned. It is thought the injured will reach a countable number, as a large staff of men were at work at the time.

POLICE ON TRAIL OF MR. HARTLEY'S ASSAILANTS.

(Special to the Star.)
FREDERICTON, N. B., July 25.—
The three persons whom the police suspect of having committed the assault upon the Rev. Mr. Hartley have disappeared and their whereabouts are unknown. Warrants, it is understood, have been issued for their arrest, and if the suspected parties can be located, it is probable they will be brought back, even if extradition is required. It would seem from the evidence gathered by the police that they have established a very strong case against the parties suspected, and added to this the disappearance of these persons, it certainly looks as if they had been working in the right direction. Mr. Hartley is a little better today, though still suffering from much pain and nervousness.

IN THE COURTS.

Before His Honor Chief Justice Tuck claiming against the St. John Sulphite Pulp Co. in liquidation, were passed upon. C. J. Coster for the liquidators, G. C. Conter, Weldon & McLean and E. R. Chapman represented creditors.

In supreme court chambers also the Campbellton case of ex parte Herbert E. Thomas came up. This is an application to set aside the liquor license granted by the commissioners of the town of Campbellton. This matter came up before the full bench of the supreme court and was then referred to the chief justice. W. Albert Mott appeared in support of the writ, and H.
F. McLaughlin for the liquor license commissioners. The matter was argued this morning. Judgment reserved.

PEACE DEPENDS ON JAP DEMANDS.

Count Cassini Is Hopeful Over Negotiations.

Baron Komura, the Chief Plenipotentiary for Japan, Arrived in New York City This Morning.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Baron Komura, senior Japanese peace plenipotentiary, arrived from Chicago this morning. At the Jersey City station to greet him were about forty Japanese merchants. There was no demonstration at Jersey City, but when the ferry boat reached the foot of 23rd street a hundred or more Japanese in the city greeted the baron and his suite with cheers, while a brass band played the Japanese national air. The baron with Consul-General Ueda and two of his suite entered a carriage and were driven to the Waldorf Hotel.

Mr. Sato, who is the chief of staff, said to an Associated Press representative that he would not know what the programme would be until he had met Minister Takahira. He said it would not be necessary for any of the party to go to Washington since the president is at Oyster Bay, and that he would await the president's pleasure as to their plans.

"The baron will rest for a day," said Mr. Sato, "his journey having been quite an extended one. He is in good health, but needs a little rest."

NEW YORK, July 25.—Count Cassini, formerly Russian ambassador at Washington expresses the opinion, according to the Herald's Paris correspondent that all now depends on the Japanese and that if their demands at the coming peace conference are reasonable peace is assured.

Speaking of the Russian representative, M. Witte, Count Cassini said: "I think this infinitely important task could not have been entrusted to a better representative. He is a man of extraordinary capacity and of the finest character. He knows the far eastern question as few men know it."

Regarding internal disputes Russia has now reached a critical moment in her history, but America has had such a moment and so has France. These difficulties will disappear and Russia will be stronger than ever. They are merely passing difficulties, and it would be unwise to attach too much importance to them."

Referring to the Chinese, Count Cassini said: "I like the Chinese. It takes years and years of worry and trouble to bring them around to your way of thinking or to induce them to enter into any undertaking, but, once convinced, they are loyal. A Chinaman's word is as good as his oath."

ST. PETERSBURG, July 24.—The ministry of finance is elaborating a scheme for the imposition of additional taxes to the amount of $50,000,000 annually. This will constitute a new departure in Russian taxation, the new taxes being imposed principally on the well-to-do classes. The imposition of a tax on incomes and also on inheritances will be introduced. One part of the scheme is the imposition of a tax on lodgings renting for over $100 per annum.

INTERNATIONAL CRICKET.

PHILADELPHIA, July 25.—The cricket match between the Gentlemen of Philadelphia and the Marylebone cricket club of London was resumed today with the local eleven at the bat.
Yesterday the home players in their second inning had scored 33 runs for the loss of three wickets. In their first inning the locals were all out for 108 runs, and the Englishmen were retired for a total of 151.

FUNERALS TODAY.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Bessie Burns took place this afternoon from 43 Metcalf street to St. Luke's church and thence to Cedar Hill cemetery, where interment was made. The services were conducted by Rev. Craig Nichols.

The remains of the late John Mullin were interred in the new Catholic cemetery. The funeral took place from his late residence, Waterloo street, to the Cathedral, where the service was conducted by Rev. Fr. O'Keefe.

YOUTH DIED TO SAVE OTHERS.

Rescued Mother and Sister But Perished Himself.

Plunged Into Burning Building and Helped
All Inmates to Escape—His Retreat Cut Off.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Nathan Newman, 20 years old, lost his life today in a heroic effort to save his mother and sister, who with a score of others were in eminent peril from fire in a Brooklyn tenement house. Half a dozen families, all Hebrews, were sleeping in the double deck three story building when the fire started. When the alarm was given the fire had reached practically every floor, and the occupants were forced to flee for their lives.
Many were known to be down stairways before their escape was cut off by the flames. These sought escape by the narrow ladder which leads to the roof. Newman got through in safety, but was unable to find his mother and sister. He went back into the burning building, found the women and assisted them through the opening. When he tried to follow them, however, the ladder was surrounded by flames. He made a rush through the fire, but was unable to find his mother and sister.
He fell back into the flames to his death. All the other occupants of the house escaped. The loss on the building was $10,000.

PATRICK CONFIDENT OF SAVING HIS LIFE.

(See also page 6.)
NEW YORK, July 25.—The notice of stay of execution of the death penalty on the order granted by Judge O'Brien yesterday to Albert Patrick, under sentence for murder of the aged millionaire Wm. March Rice, was not served until today on the lawyer who was waiting in prison ready to die in a few weeks. Patrick laughed when the news was given him and said: "I knew it would come. It is only what I expected."

He expressed confidence that in a short time that he would secure a network and ultimately his freedom.
Patrick himself drew up the papers which were so timely in saving his life. The stay granted by Judge O'Brien last night, and which was made public on October 2, to allow time for a motion for a re-argument of the case.

FOUR BURNED TO DEATH BY GASOLINE STOVE EXPLOSION.

PITTSBURGH, July 25.—As the result of an explosion of a gasoline stove at the home of Levi Titus in Haddock early today, Harry and Meyer Titus, twins, aged seven years, were burned to death, and five other members of the family were seriously burned, two fatally.

Why Tea Quality Varies

YOU know how the quality of strawberries from the same patch will sometimes vary from one day to another.

One day sweet, compact, well ripened, well colored, richly flavored—next day it rains, is cloudy,—following picking is soggy, sour, green, coarsely-flavored, poor.

Tea, also, on account of its volatility of flavor, after picking and during the curing process is very susceptible to weather changes. A few hours of sunshine or bad weather after picking may make the difference between good and poor tea.

So that while one picking may be first class, the next from the same garden may be very poor.

I select only the pickings which come up to the Red Rose standards of richness and strength in Indian, and delicacy and fragrance in Ceylon teas, and thus that "rich, fruity flavor" of Red Rose Tea is produced and maintained.

HIGH SCHOOL CHANGES.

Miss Bessie Wilson Succeeds Mr. Brodie in Grade Eleven—School Board is Saving Money.

A meeting of the school board was held last evening in the office of the board for the purpose of receiving the report of the teachers' committee and appointing teachers for the vacant positions on the staff. Those present, besides the chairman, were Messrs. Coll, Nae, Russell, Lockhart, Keith, Maxwell.

The board at the recommendation of the superintendent appointed Miss Bessie Wilson to the position of teacher of the twelfth grade in the high school. The salary was set at $750, besides the grammar school license grant.

The following promotions and changes of salary recommended by the superintendent were also carried into effect: M. E. McNaughton, advanced to Grade X at $500 and the grammar school license grant.

Thomas Powers' salary raised to $650. W. J. Miles' salary advanced from $500 to $550. Miss F. J. Thorne advanced to Grade IX.

Miss E. Gilmour advanced to Grade IX at $500. Miss J. Lawson's salary advanced from $325 to $350.

Miss M. McMurray put in Miss K. Buckley's room.

The following were advanced from the reserve to the regular staff: Miss E. Giggery, P. Fox, E. Hannah and G. Campbell.

The following teachers were placed on the reserve: Misses Myrtle Hayward, Ada Allen, Beatrice Richards, L. Dougherty.

The tenders for the school desks were opened, and H. B. Lord's accepted, being the lowest.

Miss Bessie H. Wilson, who has for some years been in charge of the 9th grade in the high school, was appointed at last evening's meeting of the school board to the position of teacher of the 11th grade, girls. This is the class formerly taught by Wm. Brodie, who recently resigned his position. It is one of the highest positions on the city staff, although Miss Wilson does not assume all the responsibilities attached to Mr. Brodie's position. Mr. Miles, who has for several years been in charge of the 11th grade boys, will now become the second in authority in the high school. It will be noticed that by the appointment of a lady teacher to the 11th grade the board have economized to the extent of $475 a year. Miss Wilson is to receive $375 a year exclusive of her government grant, which will be $500.

FIRE AT HOPEWELL HILL.

St. John's Anglican Church Burned to the Ground—Fire Threatened Large Section of Village.

HOPEWELL HILL, Albert Co., July 24.—St. John's Anglican church and the large public hall at this place were totally destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning, and it was only by the most energetic efforts on the part of the citizens, and the fact that there was absolutely no wind at the time, that a large part of the village was saved from destruction. Just how the fire, which started in the church, originated is not known. The regular evening service was held last night, Rev. G. H. Dickson of St. John assisting Rev. Mr. Smithers in the service, and the church was closed as usual about half-past nine o'clock. When the flames were first noticed by a resident on the opposite side of the street, and the bells of the other churches were immediately rung, bringing hastily to the scene nearly all the residents of the village, who worked assiduously to stay the progress of the flames, which, however, they were powerless to do before the pretty little church and the hall adjacent were reduced to ashes.

It was only by the greatest efforts of the people that the residence of W. S. Starratt, J. P., was saved, and had there been a southerly wind blowing it is probable that the residence of A. W. Bray and the Methodist church as well as other buildings would have been destroyed.

Nothing was saved from the church of any description, the furniture, much of it being quite new, organ, books, etc., being consumed as well as the handsome reredos, recently placed in the church as a memorial to the late Rev. Henry Brougham Nichols, one time rector of the parish.

The loss of the church will be keenly felt by the relatives of the late Mr. Nichols, whose life was so closely associated with the early history of the church. It is said the building and furniture were insured for $500. The hall was a large two story building, the lower story being occupied by Mount Pleasant Lodge, I. O. G. T., the upper part being unfinished. It was built in 1897, and was uninsured. The loss would be about $750. The furniture in the lodge room was saved.

QUINCY ADAMS SAWYER.

Quincy Adams Sawyer is not intended as a great dramatic effort. It was the intention of the author, when the story was written, to give as truly as possible a faint conception of human life as it exists in the rural sections in New England. He has been most successful in his ambition.

A 17 YEAR OLD BOY SUICIDES.

Louis Kinsella of Lombard St. Took Poison.

Took the Poison in His Own Home and Died Before the Eyes of His Family.

Another tragedy was enacted last night and another victim added to the swelling list of suicides in this city, and that by carbolic acid, when seventeen-year-old Louis Kinsella, son of Patrick Kinsella, 13 Lombard street, poured a dose of carbolic acid into a cup and drank it down. Within an hour he was dead.

Young Kinsella came home a little after seven last evening by way of the Union Depot, and was seen by several when passing through the station. He seemed to be in his usual frame of mind and was talking to his mother in the dining room, so that lady says, and in going through to the kitchen said: "Mother, I am going to take a dose of poison."

His mother thinking him only in fun, laughed at him and he went into the kitchen. The next thing Mrs. Kinsella heard was her younger son Joe come running into the dining room saying that there was something wrong with Louis. Rushing out they found him lying on the floor and divining that he had taken carbolic acid the usual remedy was given to counteract the effects of the acid, and medical help was summoned. Dr. E. J. Broderick, Dr. Jas. Christie and Dr. Gilchrist arrived and did all that was possible, but about half-past eight the young man passed away.

His father, Patrick Kinsella, is a stone cutter by trade. He said that he came home about 7.30 and went into the kitchen. "I saw Louis and noticed at once something was wrong. There was a froth on his lips and his head hung forward. I smelt the fumes of the acid, and rushed to him. After doing what I could at that time I ran to Hawker's drug store and telephoned to the doctors. Dr. Broderick told me to administer a diluted quantity of alcohol. I procured this at the store and when I reached home, endeavored to pour this down his throat, but it would not go."

"I know of no reason why he should do so rash a thing. The boy has had a good home. It was only an hour or two before that I met him on the street and he spoke as pleasantly as usual." The grief of the mother and the sister was very affecting; the suddenness and unexpectedness of the blow fairly overwhelmed them, and they could not control themselves. To add to their misery, it was feared for a time that Mr. Kinsella had disappeared, but he showed up in a few minutes, only having been locked out of his back door, corner. The family consisted of five girls and four boys.

MORE SCANDAL.

Revelations of Investigation Into Graft in American Agriculture Department Will Be Sensational.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The Post today says there is no doubt that the district attorney hopes to secure the indictment, through the grand jury investigation into the cotton report scandal, of two or three more persons, at least one of whom is now or was formerly an official of the department of agriculture, and that it is a certainty that the investigation conducted by the department of justice has brought to light a great mass of information, some of which is far more sensational than anything that has so far been made public. It is proposed to summon before the grand jury every official and employee who could possibly know anything about the cotton reports.

PORTLAND'S MAYOR ASSAILS TIPPING SYSTEM.

PORTLAND, Me., July 24.—After having assailed in the most severe terms the practice of tipping college students employed as waiters in summer hotels, before the American Institute here, Mayor James P. Baxter went off on a yachting trip, and on his return Saturday found his mail heavy with letters and clippings from all over the country, most of them of a commendatory character. Mayor Baxter's address created a sensation among the teachers attending the convention, but for some reason they dropped the matter after he left the hall. In the summer hotels of New England among the students employed at the summer resorts, and the college men generally, the subject has aroused the greatest interest, and the only defense of the custom appears to be made by the hotel proprietors, who assert that the season at the beaches and mountain resorts is so short that they are unable to pay wages large enough to make a rule against tipping prohibitive.

The mayor in his address claimed that tipping was a form of bribery, that the college student who holds out his hand to accept the coin offered by a hotel guest whom he is paid to serve is getting a lesson that will blunt his sense of honor and his love of independence, that it will smooth the way for grafting and bribery later on in his career.

NOVA SCOTIA WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH.

YARMOUTH, N. S., July 24.—Mrs. Peter Myles, of Belleville, was left alone in her house yesterday morning, the family going to church. Upon their return they found the house in flames and Mrs. Myles' clothing on fire. They succeeded in getting her out of the house but she was so badly burned that she died at six o'clock. She was forty-two. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Life's Funny Side.

AND TAKES HIS NAME.
Howell—That girl has made a big name for herself.
Powell—How is that?
Howell—She has married the Russian she has been after so long.

EVIDENCE.
Percy—Does he come of good family?
Harold—Yes, they have parted their names in the middle for years.

HIS PLACE.
Mabel—Why did you ever marry that English nobleman?
Daisy—Well, you see, when papa comes home at night from the office, tired and cross, he likes to have something around he can kick.

ISN'T IT TERRIBLE?
"Are Russians civilized, pa?"
"I judge not, by their spelling."

A MESALLIANCE.
The man who gets on at Forty-second street is going to marry the girl who takes the train at Twenty-third street.
"He won't be happy."
"Why not?"
"A man is never happy who marries below his station."

GAME LAWS WORK BADLY.

It is quite probable that the new game laws of the province will prevent American sportsmen from coming into this province as they formerly did. Already a number of former hunters have decided not to come this way this year. Last year there was no license required for shooting deer, moose license was $30. This year the license is $50 for either moose or deer and the hunter is allowed to shoot one of each of these animals. There are also many harassing restrictions under the new law.

ANARCHISTS PLAN MORE MURDERS.

New Campaign Against European Rulers Begun.

Large Meeting of Anarchists From All Countries Held in Paris—King Alfonso Is in Special Danger.

NEW YORK, July 24.—A meeting of 100 anarchists was held Sunday night, says a Herald despatch from Paris. French, Italian and Spanish agitators were present. Violent speeches were made, a militant programme being advocated, and it is said to have been decided energetically against European rulers.

The Spaniards were the most vehement, and said they were in daily communication with towns in the neighborhood of San Sebastian and that their comrades at Hendaya, Irun and Fontarabie were awaiting the occasion of the daily promenade of King Alfonso to make an attempt against him.

A FATAL ARGUMENT.

Two Dying and One Dead as a Result of Discussion Over Separation of Norway and Sweden.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Two men dying and a third seriously wounded, was the outcome of an argument in Brooklyn early today between four Swedes about the separation of Norway and Sweden. The men who are dying in a hospital are: Karl Anderson and John Tromler. Ludwig Thesell was seriously hurt. Victor Linquist was captured afterwards by policemen who pursued him in a trolley. He is charged with having done the shooting.

As learned by the police, the men, all intimate friends, met for dinner in a hotel. After a quiet evening an argument about the proper course to be taken by their country in the present crisis found Linquist taking one side and the three against him. The talk became bitter and was continuing as they left the house to go to a ferry nearby. Suddenly, it is alleged, Linquist turned on his countrymen and the shooting began. The prisoner strenuously denied the charge when he was locked up pending a hearing.

FINED FOR SELLING LIQUOR AT SPRUCE LAKE.

Another act in the crusade against liquor selling in the vicinity of Spruce Lake took place in the Fairville court house yesterday afternoon before Justice Mason.

Three charges were to be heard, one against Wallace Galbraith for selling liquor at his place at Spruce Lake on Saturday last, and against James McCarthy and a Mrs. O'Connell for keeping liquor for sale.

Galbraith's place was visited on Saturday by Policemen Lawson and Amos and a quantity of liquor seized. In court yesterday he was found guilty of the charge and was fined fifty dollars.

James McCarthy was also adjudged guilty of keeping liquor for sale, and a fine of twenty dollars was imposed. Both of these were paid.

In the O'Connell case, Scott B. Morrill appeared for Mrs. O'Connell. The husband of the defendant was also present, and stated that his wife was sick. Mr. Morrill asked an adjournment for a few days, and this was granted.

Chief Inspector Vincent was the prosecutor in all these cases.

GUNBOAT'S CREW HAVE BEEN ACCOUNTED FOR.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 24.—All men connected with the United States gunboat Bennington at the time of the fatal boiler explosion in San Diego harbor were accounted for today. Exploration of the vessel's hold continues as it is rapidly emptied of water.

The summary of the situation today is: Dead, 58; wounded, 46; uninjured, 92; deserter, 1. Total number of crew before the accident, 197.

C. A. Munger was found alive and uninjured today, blotting out any missing list. The identity of the four men classified as unidentified dead was established today as follows: C. Nelson, S. Carter, P. Strang and R. J. Ogles. The following injured men are still in a critical condition: W. V. Kennedy, Geo. Hallett, C. Schantz, H. E. Mettles, S. Pakate and Walter Martin.

REVOLUTION THREATENS ARGENTINE.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Rumors are being circulated about a threatened revolutionary outbreak at Buenos Ayres and Rosario, says a Herald despatch from the former city. Upon warning received from Rosario by the minister of war troops were held in readiness throughout Saturday night, and other precautionary measures adopted, but no untoward incident occurred, and it is believed that the promoters of the movement have weakened.

MORE RIOTS IN RUSSIA.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 24.—Telegram from Nishni Novgorod says that the town was for five hours yesterday in the hands of bands of rioters who murdered, adopted, and respectable person they met in the streets. Numbers of persons were killed or injured, the rioters breaking into houses in pursuit of their victims.

ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., JULY 25, 1905.

ST. JOHN IS READY.

During the first visit of the transportation commission the advice was let fall that, in view of the possibility of the establishment of a national port system, St. John should be careful about surrendering control of any more of its harbor property. The commissioners will note that since that visit the city has not only given away nothing, but has taken steps to regain complete control of the Sand Point wharves. So in the event of the great Canadian ports, less difficulty will be presented to the execution of the plan in St. John, where the bulk of the wharfage facilities is owned and managed by the city, than anywhere else. Halifax, for instance, would present many obstacles, for there nearly all the wharves are owned by private persons, the claims of each of whom would have to be considered separately in the event of expropriation proceedings.

The Acadia Recorder points out that Halifax is different from any other port in its harbor management. The harbor master, who controls the harbor there and who attends to the enforcement of the regulations regarding it, is an official of the Department of Marine—a government official. The City of Halifax has absolutely nothing to do with his appointment, and in no way controls his actions. The Governor-in-Council makes the regulations governing commerce in Halifax harbor, and the master enforces them. In Halifax the wharves are, in general, owned by private persons, so that the city council has no local control over them, excepting in so far as they come within its general jurisdiction as any private property would. Whatever dues are collected over and above paying for the allowance to the harbor master go into the Dominion treasury.

RELIGION AND MILES.

The operators of some of the Welsh collieries complain bitterly of some of the results of the recent great revival. Over three months of the labor under ground is done by miles, and to make them work the miners have used the same methods for generations. They swore at them all the time and kicked them in the stomach and beat them over the ears when special effort was required.

As a result of the revival the most of the men have stopped swearing and refuse to maltreat the animals. As a result of this the mines refuse to work. They don't know what the miners mean when they say "Proceed please." They know that when they were wanted to work they were cursed and kicked; now they are not cursed and kicked; therefore, reason the mines, they are not wanted to work.

So the mine operators are losing money, and oftentimes the men are tempted to backslide; but the mines are happy.

NOT A PLEASANT PROSPECT.

The St. John Globe, commenting on the prospective retirement of Hon. R. W. Scott and Sir Richard Cartwright from the cabinet remarks that while the new pension system for ex-ministers makes it easier for a premier to get rid of old ministers it makes it difficult to get rid of an unsatisfactory member of the cabinet who has not served the requisite five years. "A prime minister," it says, "may find at the end of three years that a colleague of his duty, but it is easy to find the minister whose resignation is demanded by the public and to get along as best he can in order that he may serve the full term and be entitled to his pension."

Which, being interpreted, probably means that Senator Ellis thinks that Mr. Emmerson will be retained in office until his five years is up, and is not cheerful at the prospect.

STOP THE SALE.

To the popular mind carbolic acid suggests not a disinfectant but a means for ending human life. The sight of the label calls up the memory of many suicides and to any with a suicidal tendency the presence of the bottle in the house is a perpetual incentive. Other fluids as deadly may stare one in the face without any such suggestion, but everyone has seen the words "Carbolic Acid" in so many newspaper reports of cases of self-murder that the thought of death follows their impact upon the visual centres as inevitably as a wink follows an irritation of the eye.

Under the circumstances it is not sufficient for the druggist to register the sale of this popular death potion; though the registration record may be useful at the coroner's inquest. The sale should be altogether prohibited, without a physician's prescription. There are many other disinfectants and antiseptics as effective as this and not nearly so poisonous. Even if they were the danger of their sale, for a while at least, would not be so great as they would lack the suggestive quality that has grown up around carbolic acid.

Stop the sale of this inspiration to suicide; put that leering red label away from the sight of weak-minded hypochondriacs and, at least until some other easily procured poison gets similar advertising, these suicide stories will be much scarcer.

The youth who took his own life last night was an excessive cigarette smoker. In the absence of other motives for suicide, it is probable that this habit had weakened his nervous system and distracted his mind. Though he has been for some time over the legal age limit he must have acquired the habit in earlier years in order to have become such a victim of it. Undoubtedly his death would not be now recorded had the law which forbids the sale of cigarettes to minors been enforced. There are many other younger boys who are on the same road.

During the years American yachtsmen have successfully defended the American cup Canadians have held the Hawaiian trophy against all comers. Now that the luck has turned for the defenders on the other side of the line, let us hope for a similar reversal on the other side. If the trophy Lipton has so far failed to get can be brought under the British flag we will not quarrel with Fate for taking away the fresh water cup.

THE PAGAN.

O Summer, with your wooing breeze
That stirs my blood like wine,
O Summer, with your purple seas,
You call the Pagan in my breast,
The Pagan centuries at rest,
Who worshipped at your shrine.

The Pagan loved your fields and hills
And woods, as I do now;
The Pagan knew the joy that thrills
My being when I hear the song
Of birds at twilight, and the long,
Long thoughts that calm my brow.

O Summer, let me be again,
As centuries ago,
A Pagan—worshipping, as then,
Your glorious Sun, without a thought Of greed or gain that men have bought
To fill our world with woe.

A Pagan, quaffing life with love,
And laughing when the whole
Is done—the morning stars above,
Sing in his ears their song sublime
Of joy beyond the touch of time,
The passion of the soul.

O Summer, let your splendor steal
Me from my trodden ways;
And let me live and love and feel Without regret—without the prod
Of right and wrong or venal goal—
Bring back those fair, glad days.

Sweet Summer, with your wooing breeze
That stirs my blood like wine;
O Summer, with your purple seas,
The Pagan centuries at rest
Is here forever in my breast
To worship at your shrine——Clara Sherwood Stevens, in Lippincott's Magazine.

STREET CAR CONDUCTOR

MARRIED A MILLION.

CHICAGO, July 25.—A despatch to the Tribune from San Francisco says that Judge Sayre, at Lakeside, yesterday handed down a decision giving the entire Floyd estate, worth $1,000,000, to Miss Floyd, widow of the late Miss Floyd. Gorenco was a conductor on a street car and his handsome face and polished manner won the admiration of Miss Floyd. She was 15 years older than Gorenco, but despite family opposition she married him and a year later she died, leaving him all her estate. The will was contested by near relatives on the ground of the testator's incompetency.

A WISE DISPENSATION.

(From the Washington Star.)
Isaac Newton had just been struck on the head by the falling apple. Having formulated the theory of gravitation, he proceeded to philosophize further.

"What a fortunate thing," he said, "that my forehead was not such as to tempt me to seek shade under a coconut palm. And what a wise provision of nature it is that prevents watermelons from growing on trees."

UNION LABOR STARTS NATIONAL

SANITARIUM.

NEW YORK, July 24.—National labor leaders are planning an immense national sanitarium for the trades unionists of the United States. Leading labor organizations also propose to maintain institutions for the care of those who will not be able to find accommodations in the great national asylum.

President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, has addressed letters to the leaders of prominent organizations on the subject, asking for suggestions.

The first suggestion came from George W. Perkins, president of the International Cigar-makers' Union. Mr. Perkins favors the project, saying:

"I would suggest that the Institution be named the American Federation Trade Union Sanitarium, and that it be under the direction and control of the American Federation of Labor and a board of directors composed of the chief executive officers of the trade unions which will agree to become a party to this noble enterprise."

LOCAL NEWS.

The Painters' Union held a meeting last night. The committee appointed to look into the matter of the Labor Day parade has not as yet come to any decision, but will give its report at the meeting next Monday.

On Wednesday evening George West Jones, R. C. Eikin, Charles T. Bailey and Fred A. Jones will go to New York to attend the regular quarterly meetings of the Gold King and Gold Prince mining companies.

The residents of Stanley street are making serious complaints about the condition of the sidewalks in that vicinity. Several serious accidents have occurred and the authorities have been appealed to. Last evening a lady tripped in a hole in the sidewalk and sprained her ankle severely. She was suffering great pain and it was thought some bones were broken. She was carried to a store near by.

Hon. P. P. Farrar, commissioner of agriculture, arrived in the city yesterday and is at the Royal. Hon. Mr. Farrar will go to Elgin today, where the rival creameries have been established, both of which are clamoring for the government bonus. One of the factories was started by a private company and the other on the co-operative principle by the farmers of the district.

On Friday morning the body of Mrs. J. P. Nelson was found in a well on her premises at Hantsport. She was a faithful member of the Presbyterian church, and no cause can be discovered.

her old home in Lunenburg, where her brother, Mr. Bailey, resides. Mrs. Chisholm of Bear River is a sister.

A. B. Copp, M. P., was at the Royal yesterday and this morning left for his home in Digby. Hon. Mr. Rupert, Mr. Copp favors the increased indemnity, and says it will tend towards purer legislation.

J. D. O'Connell, who belongs to Sussex, but who has been spending the winter in Cuba, was in St. John on Saturday last. He is expected to visit Cuba with the idea of opening up a lumber business, but saw there was more money in cattle ranching, and now has a prosperous and growing ranch. It is also Mr. O'Connell's idea to start a sugar cane plantation as well at an early date.

A POINTER WORTH HAVING.

The merits of Ozone are well known, but in buying it one must be sure to get the purest form. Also Ozone should always be taken along with "Celery King," the famous tonic laxative. The purest form in which Ozone is put up is "Solution of Ozone, (the coupon kind)," and each bottle of this brand contains a coupon entitling you to a package of "Celery King" free.

No other firm in the world can give you "Celery King" with Ozone. We give it because our Ozone thus gives the highest results. In addition, you get just about twice as much "Solution of Ozone" for your money as of other kinds, and you get it in the purest and most concentrated form. You also get "Celery King" free, instead of having to buy it, which you would need to do in order to have full benefit from the use of Ozone.

The alterations and improvements being made on the Mispec pulp mill are progressing favorably under the supervision of Messrs. Rowe and Grosset. The changes when completed will mean an expenditure of about $25,000 and it is expected that the mill will be in operation some time in September. Its capacity will be increased from twenty-three to forty tons of pulp a day, and as it requires about 1,000 feet of water to produce a ton of pulp, the mill will grind from 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 feet of lumber annually.

My Love Letters, By Cleo de Merode

LOVE letters that bear the mark of sincerity seem to me the most beautiful act of homage ever made. I have received many hundreds, from all classes of persons—from kings, sculptors, painters and other artists; from university men, students of philosophy and theology; from doctors, lawyers, soldiers, poets and musicians; from the educated and from the illiterate. They are of all nations, written in all the languages which I have visited.

Many of these letters not only tempt me to give to the world, and name with one or two exceptions, with their writers identified. The idea which I have made for publication, with the full names of the writers removed, I think forms quite a complete survey of the whole field of love letter writing. I do not see what better examples any one could have than these outpourings from devoted souls. Of course, the voluntary occupation of the writer largely governs his style of expression. One would not expect the soldier or the student of philosophy to express himself like the poet; nor the politician like the artist. Perhaps it is because my art is the object of all his arts and appeals equally to every grade of intelligence, that the love letters I have received represent so many different kinds of minds and souls. I find them all beautiful in their sentiment and their sincerity. My heart bleeds for the poor theological student who humbly begs to be my ruler that he may be daily in the presence of what I wear and use. When a writer refers to cut off the finger that has touched my glove without my permission—leaving me the alternative of ending him that glove—I know that he is a poet, accustomed to clothe his sentiments in original metaphor. The titled nobleman, who offers me marriage, and then explains why he realizes that I cannot accept any such relationship, I know makes his offer in good faith. As for the young violinist, who passionately declares me a vampire—he, too, is sincere. Musicians are creatures of wild fancies and impulses, and are always saved by their intense egotism. I am happy to say that my violinist has had feelings all about me in a week. I think I treasure the letters written to me by Swedes and Norwegians above all others. The love of these people is pure and originates in platonic admiration. The Germans are more sentimental. They want to tell you continually of their love for you, and they expect you to reciprocate immediately. The love letter writing business is now the market that some people imagine him to be. He forms a marked contrast with the sentimental German. He loves patently, no matter whether his love is returned or not. He will wait patiently for years in the hope of a little daily in the presence of what I wear and use. What shall I say of the English? They love honestly, but in a matter-of-fact sort of way, as the old love-making were governed by the rules of business. They must be a great deal of pleasure—though, of course, the titled nobleman is spared to them. The titled nobleman, who offers me marriage, and then explains why he realizes that I cannot accept any such relationship, I know makes his offer in good faith. As for the young violinist, who passionately declares me a vampire—he, too, is sincere. Musicians are creatures of wild fancies and impulses, and are always saved by their intense egotism. ## From My Archives of Love.

From the King of the Belgians.

Mademoiselle:—Since I have seen your face barely an hour ago, while a great audience was at your feet—a throne seemed but a poor thing. Does such a mark of human vanity (not such fetters riveted upon unwilling ankles by hereditary dynasty) you who are so naive in your human perfection? Can you think of me as simply a man? Will you receive me as the least arrogant of the sex whom the sight of you enslave? Verily I am that, for I tremble before the white vision of you that is still in my eyes.

From a Poet of L. at Parnasse.

To the White Goddess:—It was I, in the borrowed rags of a street sweeper, who opened your carriage door and touched the glove upon the hand that sways the world. White Goddess, the act was sacrilege. Command me to cut off the impious finger, or as token of your divine forgiveness, send to me the glove which my mortal grasp defiled.

From a Swedish Student of Philosophy.

Mademoiselle:—I saw you this evening at Upsala looking from the window of your car. The sight was gone in an instant, but it is a souvenir which will last all my life. The fleeting vision, the faraway gesture so gracious and noble will remain with me always. I was not fortunate enough to see you at the theatre, as my studies do not allow me to go to Stockholm. But I know that you are the most beautiful woman in the world. Surely you will not be angry with an audacious son of the North who will carry your image in his heart always.

And a Medical Student.

Mademoiselle:—I am a medical student of Upsala. I have seen you at Copenhagen and twice at Stockholm. I cannot speak your language! Oh, it is terrible! Now I am at Upsala and I shall never see you again, but I thank you for the delicious souvenir you have given me—that one mild glance from your beautiful eyes.

Notes from Four Anonymous Students.

Light of the Universe:—I have seen you once, as you were leaving Goleborg. I was near your carriage, and shall never forget that night. What does it avail to tell you that you are divine? All the world knows it. I am like a drop of water in this great sea. I admire you and adore you as does no one else in all the universe, and I shall ever press me as my greatest pride and the most perfect happiness of my life the remembrance of having seen you!

Will you come again to Goleborg? Be thrice welcome!

Can you move, for my heart is filled with love. You are the sun which sheds eternal glory. You are the moon which sheds eternal light. You are the gleaming star brighter than daylight in our dull world!

Beautiful goddess, Cleo de Merode, pardon me if I write to you.

Your glowing eyes, your beautiful eyes, are like those of an angel. If my dreams, they are upon you, and I am happy.

From an Officer in the French Army.

Mademoiselle: I have but one excuse, but one explanation, for this letter. Yes, I adore you, I love you as one can adore and love only a beautiful woman created from marble by the hands of the Creator. Do you know, mademoiselle, that the first duty of a soldier, I might say the first right, is to adore beauty and youth, and if need be give his life to save them? Therefore, the soldier, mademoiselle, I have told you, mademoiselle, that you are the most beautiful woman in the world, that you are an adorable angel, and that I am happy only to love you.

I am not an ignorant lad. I have seen a good deal of Europe.

but never before have I seen such a pretty head, such eyes, and such a divine being; neither have I ever done such a purposeless thing as to write a letter of admiration. Do not laugh, mademoiselle, but receive these words as the expression of a respectful love, and believe that once seen, your beautiful being is never to be forgotten. Your devoted

And an Officer of the French Navy.

Mademoiselle: Seven years ago, intoxicated by the beauty of a summer evening, the joy of life and youth, and above all charmed by a portrait of yourself, a young officer dared to write you a letter. Seven years have passed, and during that time I have travelled over the world, from the cold shores of Iceland to the distant seas of China and Japan, and wherever I have gone your portrait has accompanied me. I sought you in Paris, but you were gone to America. I entered my country's service, but wherever I have gone your picture has followed me, most beautiful of women, most adorable creature of dreams. Now, all of a sudden, I see in a newspaper that you are near, in Sweden, and that you are coming here, and I am seized with a fever. Dare I put myself in the way of seeing you? To gaze upon you, and then see you vanish—how could I bear it? If once I might touch with my finger your slender white hand—to cool the fever that parches me—if once I could feel the thrill of a glance from your eyes for me alone—ah, no! Better that I should not tempt destiny further; better that I should go on through life worshipping your portrait, which is always serene and kindly, and which I can have day and night next my heart!

A Plea for Her Photograph.

Chere Mademoiselle: I throw myself on your mercy, most divine of mortal creatures. I beg that you send me your photograph. I am the young man who travelled in the compartment with you from Christiana to Svoda. Ah, mademoiselle, I implore you, do not refuse. When our ways parted I was desolate. I have not been able to sleep. For me it would have been better if the sun had been blotted out of the heavens. My brain is harassing with effort to recall each perfect detail of your glorious form. Send me the photograph, or I shall do mad with longing—

He Asks to Be Her Valet.

Mademoiselle: Have pity upon me. I feel, since seeing you once, that I cannot live except in your presence. I am a student at the University. My parents desire me for the Church. It is useless. If I cannot daily lift my eyes to your sweet face, I cannot place my hands upon something of yours—your beautiful belongings—if I cannot have the joy of seeing you, even in the most meagre capacity, I do not know what will become of me. Have pity upon me.

The Wall of a Young Poetist.

Mademoiselle: I love you and yet I hate you, for you have robbed me. Until I met you I had my art; now I have none—nothing but my unrequited passion for you, my destroyer. Do you remember how I begged you to allow me to play my violin to you, in your presence only, believing that the inspiration of such a moment would mark and make my whole career? And how you consented, and how I played as I had never played before, and how you gave me your hand to kiss and declared me a genius? Alas! while I dreamed that I was giving my inspired soul to my beloved instrument I was giving it to you. Then I was happy—I was in Paradise. In the light of your smile I could

Impulse better than ever the masters composed. But since!

Ah, you vampire! From the moment that I left you I have been a cloud, and my violin is dead. What amends will you make me, my beautiful sire? Will you give yourself to me that my violin may live again? Will you accept from me the passion that my beautiful instrument no longer inspires, and endeavor to repair the terrible injury you have wrought with your cold and perfect beauty that bids others burn while your bosom remains cool? No, I know that you will not. The fault is mine—it was the evil one prompted me and I yielded. Now, too late, I know that you are only to be gazed upon from afar. If ever again you receive such a request as mine, spare the blind supplicant—only him your smilest favor.

A Noble Sculptor's Offer.

Mademoiselle: I do myself the great honor to offer you my fortune, my title, my name. While you were sitting for me, and the clay image of you grew that is now marble—though less white than dazzling Cleo—I knew that I should offer you these small gifts; also I knew that you would decline them. As the truest of artists—the amateur—your acceptance of my great love would be a shock. An artist, particularly a sculptor, should be more than human. That is what saves me from despair. The most exquisite thing in nature, you must be adored as precious objects of art are adored. No hand may touch you, no human emotion may your loveliness. Radiantly beautiful Cleo, for you the individual does not exist. You are for no one because you are for all. How few there are who realize this, who know that you have resolutely denied yourself all that the hearts of all perfect women yearn for! Your reward is that now, at last, the animated marble which you are has all the serenity of marble. Mademoiselle, I offer you my fortune, my title, my name as freely as though I did not know I were doing no more than swinging the censor that hangs before your Carrara counterfeits.
