POLITICAL POINTS.

The West Did Well in the General Elections.

Hon. Hugh John Spoken of as Conservative Leader—A Protest—Illness of Joseph Rymal.

Winnipeg, Nov. 18.—Dispatches are appearing in some of the eastern papers that Mr. Rymal will go back to Ottawa without any following. This is on a par with the political stories telegraphed east from Winnipeg during the past two years. As a matter of fact, out of the eleven seats in Manitoba, and the territories, Conservative candidates have been elected in two, with Provencher in doubt. Two seats out of eleven are all that the Conservatives secured in the west, and if Lisgar is conceded to them the number would be three. Mr. Richardson declined to run as a straight Conservative candidate, though he was elected by the Conservatives. The candidate of the Liberals in Winnipeg was Mr. Puttee, and they turned in and elected him as an independent.

A PLACE FOR HUGH JOHN.

Winnipeg, Nov. 18.—It is currently reported at Portage la Prairie that Mr.
N. Boyd, Conservative M.P.-elect for Macdonald, is to resign in favor of Hon.
Hugh John Macdonald. Mr. Macdonald to assume the Conservative leadership for the Dominion if elected.

WITHDRAWAL.

Rossland, Nov. 18.—Mr. A. H. Mac-Neill has withdrawn from the contest for a seat in the Dominion Parliament from the Yale-Cariboo district, and will be succeeded by Mr. John McKane.
Mr. MacNeill says that he is unable to give that time to the conduct of the campaign which its importance demands.

A PROTEST.

Peterboro, Nov. 17.—Today Mr. G.
Sherry, barrister, Northwood, on behalf of Mr. J. A. Sexsmith, Conservative candidate for East Peterboro in the late election, served Mr. B. Morrow, returning officer, with a protest against the return of Mr. John Lang as member for East Peterboro, on the ground that Mr. Lang had made the required deposit by check instead of bank bills or specie, as required by law.

SERIOUS ILLNESS OF JOSEPH RYMAL.

Many people will regret to learn that Mr. Joseph Rymal, ex-M.P., is very low in his home in Merton township.
He has been in poor health for some time, but was able to go out to vote at the recent election. Since that he has been dangerously ill. Saturday was his birthday, he having been born on Nov. 17, 1821. Mr. Rymal belongs to the old school of Liberals, and he was for years a leader in Wentworth county.
He was a member of parliament for many years.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Mr. Kidd, it is stated, will not resign his seat in the Dominion House in order to let the Hon. George E. Foster run in his constituency. Intimate friends of the newly-elected member for Carleton say positively that he will not entertain the idea for a moment, and support him in this stand.
The Liberals of Halifax will tender a banquet to Sir Wilfrid Laurier in that city early in December. Covers will be laid for about 500 guests, and the banquet will be one of the most elaborate ever held in Canada.

THE BOERS REORGANIZING

Botha Said to Have Started a New Government.

Another Report States the Enemy's Guerrilla Operations Are Growing Less Formidable.

Pretoria, Nov. 18.—The Boers are active. It is alleged that Commandant Louis Botha has established a government at Roendal, north of Middelburg, and that with the £150,- 000, which he has available, he is paying the fighting burghers a crown per day.

Commandant Abel Erasmus is said to be at Oliphant's River, with 2,000 men, 1,000 wagons and 12,000 cattle. From Heidelberg it is reported that the Boers are compelling the burghers who had surrendered to take up arms again under pain of death.

A Cape Town dispatch states that on account of the present disturbed condition of affairs in the Orange River Colony and the Transvaal, Sir Gordon Spragg, premier of Cape Colony, will be unable to attend the opening exercises at the inauguration of the Commonwealth of Australia in January.
The premier deputized Hon. J. Frost, member of the cabinet without portfolio, to represent the Cape govern-

TREKKING CHECKED.

Pretoria, Nov. 16.—Two strong Boer commandos, with herds of cattle, have arrived near Balmoral, one on each side of the Witte River. They have been trekking from the bush veldt, where it is impossible for the cattle to live in the summer. The object of the move appears to be to reach good pasturage for the cattle.
Gen. Delarey appears to be trying to move south for the same purpose, but has been checked by Gen. Plumer, in the Magaliesberg passes, which are now firmly held by the British.

LESS FORMAL.

The guerilla warfare in South Africa has become less formal. The centers of hostile operations in Dutch territory may have multiplied, but the Boer commandos are thinning out from death, illness and desertions. The scattered bands of Boers are being driven back to the bush.

WEARING THEM OUT.

The British army is adapting itself to the altered conditions. It is gradually wearing out the energies of the persistent and obstinate foe. Where once there were divisions with a complete staff organization, there are now brigades and lightly equipped mobile columns are sent in pursuit of small bands of guerillas.

Gen. Kelly-Kenny, who commanded the sixth division in the terrible march across the veldt, has been relieved from command at Bloemfontein, and Gen. Hunter has taken his place.
Either Lord Roberts or Lord Kitchener is picking out men who have special capacity for fighting the Boers.
The scattered bands of Boers are constantly harried and

ALLOWED NO REST.

The lines of communication are strongly guarded, and are not seriously menaced. The Boers are alert, but only succeeding to operate on a small scale against outposts and their cattle and horses are constantly taken from them, and here and there small parties are killed, captured or taken prisoner.
They have not had a single success in their last six weeks, and the sum of their losses is considerable.

ADDITIONAL CASUALTIES.

London, Nov. 19.—An additional official list of wounded South African soldiers, issued Saturday evening, includes the names of the following Canadian lieutenants: J. H. Elms-lev, E. W. Turner and H. G. S.
Cockburn.

CANADIANS COMING HOME.

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—The department of militia has been notified by cable that Hiam, Jones, Cunningham, Larue, Jones and Bouchard, invalid soldiers, sailed on the Cornithian on the 14th inst. for Canada.

Kinston, Nov. 19.—Lieut.-Col. Hudon, C Battery, 4th Canadian Infantry regiment, has been sent to South Africa, that his force will sail for home direct on Dec. 1. The battery expected to have returned via London, England.

DEATHS.

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—Sir Alfred Milner cables the governor-general: "Cape Town, Nov. 17, 1900.—62, Hunt, Strathcona House, died of Bright's disease." Pretoria, Nov. 14. Referring to my telegram of yesterday, 105, Bulder, since Lt. Daniels is from Millerville, W. De Vere Hunt is from Millerville, Alberta, and went out with the reforcements for the Strathcona House.
Serk, Bulder belonged to the 35th Battalion, and was reported on Friday seriously wounded. He has since died.
The relatives of W. J. Anderson, formerly hostler at the Napier street patrol station, Hamilton, believe that he is the Anderson who is reported to be killed at Belfast.

CHAPTER OF CASUALTIES

Fatal Railway Wrecks—Two Children burned to Death.

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 19.—Two men were instantly killed and three others received injuries that will probably result fatally, in a rear-end collision on the Alabama and Vicksburg road, one mile west of here on Saturday. The killed: O. Ruffin, horse trainer, Dallas, Texas, and Orna Buffington, horse trainer.

Pittston, Pa., Nov. 19.—A disastrous freight wreck occurred on Saturday on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, near here. One freight train collided with the rear of another, and an engine and several cars were thrown over a deep embankment. Fire consumed the derailed cars. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

Manteno, Mich., Nov. 19.—Rupert Fisher's two children, aged respectively 3 years and 4 months, were burned to death in his residence here, which was destroyed by fire. The children had been left alone in the house for fifteen minutes, while the mother went to the barn.

Buffalo, Nov. 19.—A section of the Minnesota ore dock on Blackwell's Canal, in this city, exploded at 5 p.m., under the weight of 60,000 tons of ore. Two boys were killed and one man seriously injured. The dead are: Max M. Sohrs and Thomas Ford, 15 years old. The injured, William Burke, 22 years old. The property loss is estimated at $150,000.

Williamsport, Pa., Nov. 19.—A dispatch from Coudersport says: The McGonigal House at Oway, fifteen miles north of here, was destroyed by fire this morning, caused by an explosion of gas. Four men were burned to death—William McGonigal, Arthur Fletcher, bookkeeper, Michael Russell, aged 60, and Hugh J. Emerson. The fire spread to the opera house, adjoining, which was destroyed. The occupants of the hotel were in bed at the time of the explosion, and those who escaped did so in their night clothes.

Appointed General Manager of the Grand Trunk System.

Montreal, Nov. 19.—Announcement was made Saturday afternoon that George B. Reeve, formerly traffic manager, had been appointed general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, to succeed Charles M. Hays, who is going to San Francisco as president of the Southern Pacific.

Mr. Reeve is now on his way to Montreal to confer with the chief executive of the company. It is said President Wilson was governed in his selection by the recommendation made a week ago at New York by Mr. Hays.

From semi-official sources it was learned that F. H. McGuigan, general superintendent of the Grand Trunk, had the refusal of the chief officials, who have been with Mr. Hays since his coming to Canada, will join him in California.

Mr. Reeve retired from the position of traffic manager last year, and went to California to devote the remainder of his life to fruit farming there. He will assume charge as soon as Mr. Hays leaves. Mr. Reeve has been connected with the Grand Trunk since 1890, and has risen from a telegraph operator to be the head of one of the great Canadian railway systems.

Notice is given in the Canadian Gazette that an application will be made to Judge Price, special referee, for an order approving and confirming the sale of the Kingston Locomotive Works to H. W. Hart, Kingston, for the sum of $60,000.

CANCER OF THE BREAST

One of the Commonest and Most Fatal Diseases Among the Women of Canada.

A New and Painless Treatment That Is Saving Many Lives.

Cancer of the breast is one of the diseases that has of late years been on the rapid increase in this country. In many cases it may be of hereditary origin, while in others it may result from a blow, bruise or wound. There is the hard lump, enlargement of the glands in the armpit, retraction of the nipple, puckering of the skin, discharge of a glairy, white fluid, which is often blood-tinged, sometimes pain that shoots into the axilla and down the arm. As soon as the ordinary physician sees the growth, he says, "Operate; remove the breast." Most women shrink from the surgeon's knife, with its pain, danger and mutilation, especially when they know that in by far the greater number of cases operated upon, the growth returns within a year. The new treatment for cancer does away with the necessity of dangerous operations. It is a constitutional remedy that can be taken by the most delicate lady, as its constituents are purely vegetable. It operates by neutralizing and destroying the cancer poison in the system, and building up the health. By its use, the lump gradually disappears, till not a trace remains. Even after operations failed we have cases on record where our constitutional remedy effected permanent cures. Some of these are given in our new book, "Cancer: Its Cause and Cure." Sent to anyone in plain sealed wrapper on receipt of two stamps. Stott & Jury, Bowmanville, Ont. All correspondence regarded as strictly confidential.

GERRYMANDER IN ONTARIO

How the "Loaded Dice" of the Late Government Got in Their Work.

The Last Act of a Disgraceful Drama in Canadian Politics.

Ontario Would Have Gone Largely Liberal But for the Infamous Device.

The Montreal Herald takes up and discusses the question of gerrymandering. The Advertiser's statistics as its groundwork. Since these statistics were compiled, it has been found that two more of the gerrymandered constituencies, North Bruce and Bothwell, were captured by the Conservative candidates. But one fact remains that but for the gerrymander the Liberals would today have won 18 to 22 seats more than they did to their infamous measure. Says the Herald:

The London Advertiser has made an interesting calculation of the effect of the gerrymander of 1882 on the present election. It says: How well the gerrymander has worked for the opposition is shown by these comparative tables. Number of members returned in gerrymandered constituencies:

Conservatives 61
Independent 2
Two seats to be gained 2

Total 92
Number of members that would have been elected in Ontario last Wednesday if the gerrymander had been undone:

To be held 2

If these figures are correct, and there is every reason to believe they are, it is easy to form an accurate idea of the great work done for the Conservative party by its partisans in the senate in twice throwing out a bill meant to restore the old method of arranging constituencies with due regard for county boundaries. Sir Richard Cartwright said on the day after the election that the Conservative party is destroyed by its leaders' defeat, and that Ontario alone is still stranded by the gerrymander of 1882. Harsh though it sounds, it yet seems to be a simple statement of the truth. If the redistribution bill proposed by the Liberals in 1899 and again in 1900 had been allowed by the senate to pass into law, Sir Wilfrid Laurier would have had a majority of 20 in Ontario to add to his majorities from all the other provinces. His present majority of 50 or thereabouts would have been increased by another 40. Perhaps it is just as well that no administrative party should have so enormous a majority, but the calculation has to be taken into account if one would understand the beggary position of the party that was once all powerful in the Dominion.

With the majority so large already, there is very little disposition on the part of the Liberals, who are so strongly on the subject, to weigh the effect of the gerrymander of 1882 upon the result. Indeed, the uprising of popular opinion has nullified its effects in the hands of Hamilton, West Middlesex, West Northumberland, and South Wellington, but in 17 other seats, that is to say, North Bruce, South Lanark, North Middlesex, North Perth, West Northumberland, North Wellington, Bothwell, North Lanark, Muskoka, East Simcoe, South Norfolk, West Peterboro, and South Grey, according to The Advertiser, the gerrymander arrangement has been successful in beating the Liberals. It is impossible, without full returns by townships before us, to verify this statement, but it is as well to have it in mind, as the whole issue will have to be gone into again as soon as the decennial census has been completed.

That there is fair room for assuming the accuracy of The Advertiser's statement may be inferred if we compare the statement now made by that paper with the statement by which Mr. Blake, in 1882, summed up his criticism of the redistribution bill in respect to the deliberate attempt to obtain party advantage by this fraudulent trick. "In Center and Western Ontario," said Mr. Blake, "where the greatest struggle is to take place, not less than 41 changes are made in the electoral divisions. The result, as the honorable gentleman hopes and expects it to be, is that the Reformers are weakened, and the Tories strengthened in a great number of what I may call fighting ridings." North Lanark, South Lanark, Lincoln, Brockville, South Wentworth, North Ontario, Muskoka, East York, South Norfolk, North Perth, South Perth, North Middlesex, West Middlesex, Center Wellington, North Wellington, North Bruce, South Grey, Bothwell, East Elgin are all included in Mr. Blake's list.

It is seen that, with some slight modification, the design of the gerrymander of 1882 has worked out pretty well in practice, even in 1900. It was largely as a result of this carving and slicing, this ignoring of county boundaries, this concentration of Liberal townships in certain ridings which thenceforth gave enormous majorities for candidates of the Liberal party, that Sir John Macdonald was enabled to pull through the election of 1882. Had it not been for the failure of the campaign intended for the Province of Quebec, it might have worked equally well for Sir Charles Tupper in the year 1900. The business of the present Parliament will be to undo this legislation, which Mr. Blake denounced as "dishonest and fraudulent, a disgrace to those who proposed it, and a disgrace to those who supported it." It is sent to the people of Ontario, whether Conservative or Reform, whose cherished associations, in connection with federal representation, are wantonly interfered with and violated.

NO REMAINS.

Limon, Col., Nov. 17.—It is unlikely an inquest will be held over the remains of Preston Porter, Jun., the self-confessed murderer, who was burned at the stake by a mob at Lake Station last night. In fact, the coroner can find no remains upon which to hold an inquest. A few men remained late last night at the scene of the tragedy, and renewed the fire again and again, until every vestige of the victim was consumed.

THE ARMY OF HEALTH.

The Army in the Philippines Insignificant Compared With This One.

If all the people of the United States, Canada and Great Britain who make daily use of Stewart's Dyspepsia Tablets could be assembled together it would make an army that would outnumber every army that has ever been raised by at least five to one.

Men and women, who are broken down in health, are only a part of the thousands who use this popular preparation. The greater number are people who are in fair health but who know the way to keep well is to keep the digestion perfect and use Stewart's Tablets as regularly as meal time comes to insure good digestion and proper assimilation of food.

Prevention is always better than cure and disease can find no foothold if the digestion is kept in good working order by the daily use of Stewart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Mr. Thomas Seale, Mayfield, Cal., says: "I have used and recommended Stewart's Tablets because there is nothing like them to keep the stomach right."

Miss Lelia Dively, 4627 Plummer street, Pittsburg, Pa., writes: "I wish every body to know how grateful I am for Stewart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I suffered for a long time and did not know what ailed me. I lost flesh right along, until one day I noticed an advertisement of these tablets and immediately bought a 50 cent box at the drug store. I am only on the second box and am gaining in flesh and color. I have at last found something that has reached my ailment."

From Mrs. Del Echead, San Prairie, Wis.: "I was taken dizzy very suddenly during the hot weather of the past summer. After ten days of constant dizziness I went to our local physician, who said my liver was torpid, and I had over-heated my blood; he doctoring me for two weeks without much improvement. I finally bought Stewart's Dyspepsia Tablets (which I had used long before for various bad feelings) and the first three tablets helped me."

"They are easily the best all round family medicine I ever used."

The army of people who take Stewart's Tablets are mostly people in fair health, and they keep well by taking them regularly after meals. They contain no opiates, cocaine or any cathartic or injurious drugs, simply the natural peptones and acids which every weak stomach lacks.

Stewart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by druggists everywhere in United States, Canada and Great Britain.

COUNTRY GIRL BLEW OUT GAS

Miss Addie Williamson Had a Close Call—Hours of Work Necessary to Save Her.

[Detroit Free Press, Nov. 19.] Over in the pleasant, country home near London, Ont., Miss Addie Williamson has blown out the light of the old kerosene lamp so many times that she could not count the occasions. Saturday night, however, she came to Detroit. She had the benefit of 21 years of experience, and felt perfectly able to care for herself. She had been employed by Wayland D. Stearns, superintendent of the plant of P. K. Stearns & Co., pharmacists, at the family residence, 158 McDonald avenue.

She retired to her room about 8:30 o'clock. Exactly twelve hours later, when she failed to appear, the family became frightened. Mr. Stearns knocked on her bedroom door, but there was no response. With other assistance the door was forced open. Lying in bed as if in deep sleep they found Miss Williamson yesterday morning. The odor of escaping gas was stifling, and an open jet on the side wall explained the tragedy. The fact that the window was partially open had, without any doubt, saved the young lady from fatal asphyxiation.

Dr. F. Lyndon Newman, of 1081 Jefferson avenue, was promptly summoned, and he worked over the unconscious patient for five hours, using the oxygen treatment. Then Boyd's ambulance was called to take her to St. Mary's Hospital. There the continuous application of oxygen was given, and it is thought that Miss Williamson will recover from the effects of the gas, which she simply blew out the gas, I think," said Mr. Stearns. "She is a country girl, you know, and was not used to the use of gas jets and the like."

Drama in Real Life Enacted in a Detroit Theatre—Romantic Story With a Happy Ending.

[Detroit News.] It is seldom that a scene from the real drama of human life is enacted within the doors of a Detroit playhouse, but last Thursday afternoon at Wonderland a daughter first learned the whereabouts of her father, whom she had not seen for many years. William G. Hall, Des. monologist, appeared on the stage, and, noticing a young woman sitting with a black-eyed child on her knee in the first row in the balcony, he gazed up at the woman and composed an impromptu ditty, of which she and her child were the subject. The audience turned to look up at the woman above, and among those who looked was Mrs. Emma Nelson, of Goderich, Ont., who is visiting in Mount Clemens. She thought she recognized the woman in the balcony, and when the performance was over she waited at the door. The young woman with the child appeared, and Mrs. Nelson immediately recognized her as her niece, who had been missing from home over fifteen years.

The niece's name was Mrs. Hattie Mackenzie. Many years ago her father disappeared, and after her mother's death she went to Toronto, where she married at the age of 19 a young barister named Charles Mackenzie. She had one child, Clarence, but her husband died soon after its birth. She then took the little one and came to Detroit, determined to never part from her infant son.

Mrs. C. J. Holton, wife of C. J. Holton, who keeps the well-known cigar store on Woodward avenue, advertised for a girl for her new work, and the young woman with her baby came in. Mrs. Holton received them, and the little one played about the floor while the mother washed and scrubbed, and was as happy as long as her offspring was with her.

The joyful greeting with her aunt on Thursday was heightened by her knowledge that her father was alive. He had married again, and wanted his child to come home and live with him in London, Ont. Mrs. Mackenzie will probably go back there next week. She is now 22 years of age, and her baby is 1 year old.

Bradstreet's Review—Business in Canada Active and the Outlook Bright.

Toronto, Nov. 17.—Bradstreet's trade review weekly summary: Business at Montreal continues active. The volume of trade is large, the weather having lately stimulated the demand. Values of staple goods continue firm and jobbers are making good profits. There is a good demand in retail trade circles, and the prospects are generally promising.

There has been a good deal of improvement in the wholesale trade as a result of the colder weather. The general conditions of trade continue to be sound and healthy, and the prospects for business for the balance of the year are promising. Collections are very fair.

At London there is a better demand for staple goods for immediate requirements, the colder weather having stimulated the country for winter goods. The outlook for the country retail trade at present is quite bright, and travelers are reporting a larger volume of business. Values continue firm.

The markets at the large Pacific coast centers have been more or less featureless the last week. Business at Hamilton has improved with the more seasonable weather. There has been more inquiry from retailers for sorting parcels of heavy winter goods. Travelers report the outlook for the spring trade in jobbing lines good, and the indications are that there will be a large business done in placing orders early in the season. Remittances are fair.

At Winnipeg there has been a fair movement in wholesale trade. The colder weather has increased the demand for seasonable lines, and large sales have been made by retailers throughout the province. The grain deliveries are showing considerable increases at various country points and payments are improved somewhat. There is a good demand for lumber and good wages are being paid.

TO AVOID LIBEL.

In my article about Mr. Longbow I said he was "lying at death's door." You changed it to "laying." That isn't right. Copy Editor—I know it isn't. But it's better to make a grammatical error than hurt the feelings of his family. Mr. Longbow's reputation for veracity is not good.—Philadelphia Press.

FISHING IN CHINA

How the Piscatorial Art is Practiced by Cunning Celestials.

[Washington Post.]

In this country the fisherman is a man who uses hook and line or the net in following his profession, and folks would stare with wonder to see him start off with a flock of birds to help in catching fish. Yet this is done in China. There the Chinaman may be seen in his sampan surrounded by cormorants which have been trained to dash into the water at his order, seize the fish and bring them to the boat. He should a cormorant capture a fish too large for it to carry alone, one of its companions will go to its assistance, and together they will bring it in.

If the Chinaman wishes to catch turtles he will do so with the aid of a sucking fish or remora. This fish has on top of its head a long disk or sucker by which it attaches itself beneath moving objects such as sharks, whales and the bottoms of ships, rather than make the effort necessary to independent movement.

The fisherman fastens the remora to a long cord tied to a brass ring about the tail, and when he reaches the turtle ground puts it overboard, taking care to keep it from the bottom of the boat. When a turtle passes near, the remora darts beneath him and fastens to his shell. Struggle as he will, the turtle cannot loosen the grip of the sucker, and the Chinaman has only to haul in on the line, bring the turtle up to the boat, and take him aboard.

Our Municipal Policy.

The time for the municipal elections is approaching. The Advertiser submits the following municipal policy:1. That the city should possess a perfect sewerage system; and whatever is necessary to obtain that should be done.2. That the city should possess perfect waterworks, for domestic purposes and for fire protection; and whatever is necessary to obtain that should be done.3. The city possesses a first-class hospital. Its management under the Hospital Trust should be continued.4. The railway facilities of the city should be preserved, and, if possible, improved. The port of Port Stanley should be kept as a port for London.
The London and Port Stanley Railway should be used for the best interests of the city. The belt line connecting it with the G. T. R. and C. P. R. through the East End should be obtained.5. The railway and other facilities should be used to build up and increase the population of the city, and efforts made with that end in view by a joint committee of the City Council and Board of Trade.6. That the city should possess a public hall, capable of holding, say two thousand. That in order to encourage the erection of such a hall freedom from taxation or license be offered to any one erecting such a hall or opera house, the city to have the use free for a specified number of nights.7. The health and cleanliness of the city to be maintained and improved. A systematic scavenger system to take regularly all refuse from central portions of the city.8. Parks and playgrounds should be established in every part of the city.9. Swimming baths should be established.10. All cedar block pavements should be taken up.11. All closets in connection with schools should be connected with sewers.12. No industries injurious or dangerous to health should be allowed within the city limits. The collection of old bones should be prohibited.13. All shade trees should be uniformly trimmed, and, wherever desirable, new ones planted. A small board of expert tree lovers might be appointed to act with the city engineer.14. The river banks should be secured for parks and walks, wherever practicable, and beautified.15. Steps should be taken to establish an art gallery and museum.The above are suggested for the consideration of those aspiring for municipal honors. The Advertiser will discuss them later on.

The Wind and the Whirlwind.

Very much has recently been said about "the race cry" and the attempt of the Conservatives to make political capital out of it. That attempt has, we know, been a dead failure as far as the whole country is concerned. If every Frenchman was left out of account the Government would still have a majority. In looking at this matter the country as a whole must be considered. Each Province has a large amount of home rule, but in Dominion affairs the appeal is to the whole land, without respect to race or Province.
The Conservatives are prone to exaggerate their success in Ontario, keeping out of sight as much as possible the means by which it has been gained. We are not going now to discuss the gerry-mander in Ontario or the defective Liberal organization in the same Province.
For the moment we will for the mere sake of argument suppose that the Conservative representation is correct and that they dominate Ontario, and that Ontario is opposed to Quebec.If it is true that to some extent race has been set against race, who is to blame for this? That is a question easy to answer. We can speak for the French Liberal press—at least, its leading representatives—and declare that while it has its own standpoint in discussing national affairs, it has made no attempt to arouse feeling against English people because they are English. On the other hand, these same journals are able to give their constituents today—and are doing so—literal extracts from the Conservative papers of Ontario, showing that ever since the last election these journals have persistently denounced French-Canadians because they are French, and, being French, must be bad. We are not going to retail all this old nonsense, but it is there for anyone who cares to consult the records. This has been the capital of their political argument for four years. They have in this matter sown the wind and reaped the whirlwind. It is not possible for a set of journals to keep on dinning into the ears of people the danger of French domination without having some effect.But the net results can scarcely be pleasing to the Tories. They find theirleaders defeated in constituencies where it is absurd to talk of French domination, and the Liberal leaders are returned with larger majorities.
If they could succeed in setting Ontario and Quebec against each other, what then? The matter would have to right itself by constitutional means, and it must be recognized that neither Ontario nor Quebec taken alone rule Canada. The fact is, that the Conservatives after eighteen years of power took their whipping very badly in 1896, and began at once to howl that because the Prime Minister was of French origin the country was sold to the French. It will be good for their own party, and for the whole country, when they recognize the folly of such taunts and fall back upon the sensible plan of discussing men and politics on their merits. If they attack people of French origin in that bitter, bigotedspirit, that will solidify them and disgust the more intelligent and liberal-minded English people. We have not reached perfection, but we have, at any rate, too much light for that benighted policy to succeed.
As a matter of fact, the leading French-Canadians have shown more of the real British spirit than those English Conservatives who started the race cry. The ideal of the British Empire is for men of different races and religions to enjoy the same political privileges and to co-operate or contend together on purely political lines. This attempt to revive sectionalism and inflame the baser passions has received a severe check, and if fairly considered the people of Ontario would condemn it as severely as any other Province. It is, in fact, a discredited policy, and the sooner it is dead and buried the better for all concerned.

Cabled Comment

On Old World Topics—Krugers Expected Visit to Marseilles—Effects of the Czar's Illness—Interest in Lord Rosebery's Utterances—The Attack on the Kaiser—Boer Emigration.London, Nov. 18.—In this special cable letter this morning Isaac N.
Ford says, regarding the arrival of Mr. Kruger at Marseilles: "There is a broad slack water in foreign and political affairs. There would be almost a dead calm on the continent if the expected arrival of Mr. Kruger at Marseilles were not causing a ripple of excitement. The English press is wisely adopting a course which tends to minimize this source of disturbance.
One journal has foolishly published a cartoon of Mr. Kruger as a crazed man, this being designed as a hint to the French Government. That government, however, does not need to be muzzled. Mr. Kruger, out to repress the ardor of the exuberant French sympatizers standing around the dog pit.
Otherwise the English press regards the reception of Mr. Kruger with good-natured indifference. French nagging and pin-pricking will cease to be good sport if the English keep their temper, and this political refugee in Marseilles and Paris is a less picturesque
smoking his pipe and reading his Bible at St. Helena, and since, also, the policy of this self-appointed mission to France will be a fresh signal for class hostilities in South Africa."

THE CZAR'S ILLNESS.

Referring to the illness of the Czar, Mr. Ford says: "The illness of the Czar increases the inertia in continental affairs. While reports on his health are reassuring, there must be some alarm, for the Romanoffs in conscience have fewer resources for regeneration. The presumptive heir, the Grand Duke Michael, is an unknown
Nicholas is one of the strongest bulwarks of European peace." The illness of the Czar paralyzes the energies of the Russian-French alliance, and also includes inaction on the part of the powers in China. Since his ministers cannot venture to act without consulting him, there is considerable uncertainty regarding the outcome of negotiations at Peking.

THE CRUCIAL QUESTION.

is the punishment of the guilty mandarins, and it is most improbable that the empress will concede demands which menace the future power of the ruling caste in China. She may herself excite the resistance of the powerful grandees if she purchases her own safety by ordering the execution of the mandarins. There will be much delay in answering the demands of the powers, and great power will be brought to bear upon them to substitute money and indemnities for blood reprisals."

BULLER'S RECEPTION.

The reception of Sir Redvers Buller at Windsor is thus referred to by the same writer: "The royal borough received Sir Redvers Buller this afternoon with every mark of honor. The police flattered with bunting, and the mayor formally welcomed him and Lady Audrey. The royal carriage awaited them, and they dined with the Queen and remained at the castle over night. They will receive the congratulations of their Devonshire neighbors early in the week. Gen.
Buller has conducted himself modestly since his return, and the military perils have avoided contentious questions."

THE ROYAL TOURISTS.

The Duke and Duchess of York's forthcoming visit to Australia is, quite likely to be finished up with a trip through Canada. Additional excusions, were proper representations made, may be made into the United States. Another royal rumor is the engagement of Prince George of Greece, who is now here, to one of the princesses, to which the Queen is said to have given her approval.

LORD ROSEBERY'S PROMINENCE.

Another correspondent says: The increasing frequency of Lord Rosebery's public utterances in no way decreases the thrill of admiration and fascination which follows on each occasion. The strange mingling of common sense, sentiment, surpassing rhetoric and homey phrases puzzles the people of Great Britain to such an extent that the former premier may well be said to have gained more power since he has been out of power than he ever did before. His speech at Glasgow on the occasion of his installation as Lord rector of the Glasgow University causes the other events of the week to sink into insignificance. Yet the underlying note of that wonderful monograph of the British Empire, was one of warning, as the Daily Telegraph appropriately describes it, as follows:
"Now that two nations, at least, the United States and Germany, are so close at our back that their shadow falls in front of us, and that they are in a more athletic condition than ourselves, we have no doubt England has a reserve power which our competitors scarcely suspect. But we are very near the time when we will have to put forth the best of our speed and stretch every fiber."It is Lord Rosebery's constant reiteration of those features which makes his words so deeply weighed by politicians and business men in England.
With consummate skill he presentsboth the weakness and strength of imperialism.

EARLY SESSION OF PARLIAMENT.

Yet, with all this adulation of his countrymen, bestowed regardless of party lines, it seems unlikely that the former Liberal premier will emerge from his political retirement, at any rate for the present. His great anti-onist, the philosophic Lord Salisbury, has decided quite unexpectedly to call an early session of parliament, and has consented to accept a salary of £2,000 for fulfilling his duties as premier, though, nominally, he receives a recompense for so doing, for the lord privy seal emoluments, which were abolished in 1854, are his. Lord Salisbury, personally, was not anxious to receive any pay, but it was thought to be a bad precedent for a cabinet minister to work for nothing, so the salary of lord privy seal was revived, and is now his. The first meet of parliament promises to be short, and is likely to be adjourned over the New Year as soon as the necessary supplies are secured.

CHURCH MATTERS.

One of the most serious questions of the week has been church matters.
The archbishops and bishops met in solemn convocation to consider privately Roman Catholic matters, the chief of which was whether the ritualist clergymen refusing to obey the archbishops' commands should be prosecuted.
As a result of the deliberations it is probable that the obstinate ritualists will be allowed to pursue the even tenor of their way, for the Kents party opposed prosecutions, on the ground that they were likely to return expected legislation, which the high churchmen were naturally opposed to any civil interference. The decision averts, at least temporarily, what threatened to be a crisis in the history of the Church of England.

GERMANY STIRRED.

A Berlin correspondent cables: The attempt upon the life of Emperor William, the opening of the reichstag and the new situation in China by the reported willingness of the United States to co-operate in matters, the chief

CHINESE SITUATION.

The China situation is viewed in Berlin without hope. The latest diplomatic news from Peking emphasizes the fact that there is no reliable information there regarding the momentary intentions of the emperor and empress dowager, but the prevailing opinion among the envoys there is that they do not intend to return to Peking. Regarding the powers of Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching for negotiating terms of settlement there exists the strongest doubt among the envoys. The statements emanating from Washington that the United States will act jointly with the powers and interpose obstacles to punitive expeditions are received with unanimous satisfaction. However, the attitude assumed by the Russian press, which isMillions of Women use Cuticura Soap

IN GAY PARIS

SENSATIONAL MURDER IN PARIS

Paris, Nov. 18.—Count de Cornulier on Saturday surprised his wife, the Countess de Cornulier, visiting the apartments of a gentleman on the Rue de Provence. The count met the countess on the stairway and fired three shots at her. She died on her way to a hospital. The family is a prominent one. The count's brother is an army colonel, and the count is well known in the highest Parisian society.
He is 43 years of age. His wife was 31 years old. She was formerly Mile.
Genevieve Binau de Vennay. A suit for separation was pending between the count and the countess.The shooting of the Countess de Cornulier created a sensation in social circles. She was a woman of unusual beauty and was often seen at theaters, race courses and other resorts frequented by the elite of Paris. She was a daughter of Count de Vennay, whose family is highly respected. She was married to Count Charles de Cornulier fourteen years ago, and three children are the result of the union, the eldest of whom is 13 years of age.The marriage proved an unhappy one. The countess separated from her husband four years ago and had since lived in a private home at Au-teuil. Recently a decree was rendered giving her possession of the children. The count then began his escape and discovered that the countess frequently visited M. Leroux, one of her former admirers. Count de Cornulier claimed that a liaison was maintained by the couple, but the best information is that M. Leroux acted as the legal adviser of the countess. It is stated that her father chose him to manage her affairs.On Saturday, finding her landlady before M. Leroux's door, the count secreted himself on the stairway when the countess descended, and, without a word, fired three times, each shot taking effect. His wife never regained consciousness after the shooting, dying in the ambulance which was summoned to take her to the hospital.The count was exceedingly calm upon surrendering himself, saying: "I did it. I am her husband." He was the first to give aid to his wife after she fell and asked that a priest be sent for. He asserted that he did not intend to kill her but wanted to create a scandal.

MOODY'S SUCCESSOR.

London, Nov. 18.—Rev. G. Campbell Morgan, minister of Newcourt Congregational Chapel, Tellington Park, London, announced from his pulpit yesterday that he had accepted the pastorate at Northfield in succession to the late Dwight L. Moody. In a letter announcing his resignation, which will occur not later than February next, he says: "I have come to the conclusion that the invitation from Northfield is the call of God."

BRITISH CABINET MEETING.

The reconstructed British cabinet held its initial meeting at the foreign office Saturday under the presidency of Lord Salisbury. The secretary of state for the colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, was the only absentee. The object of the meeting was to arrange the business of the coming brief winter session of parliament.

A CANADIAN ARRESTED.

London, Nov. 18.—James Farlinger Thomson, of Ontario, was arrested on board the steamship Campania at Queensdown, yesterday morning, just before she started on her westward voyage. He came to London last April on an extensive tour of England, Scotland and France, patronizing the best hotels. While in Glasgow he enlisted in the Royal Irish Regiment, and he had been stationed at Clonmel, but he served and took passage for the United States. Thomson who is said to be very wealthy, is the son of a Canadian merchant. The police handed him over to the military authorities.

THE ROYAL LOVERS.

The announcement of the engagement of Prince George of Greece and Princess Victoria of Wales was a great surprise in England. There is a strong ascetic in the way, for it is a hard and fast law of the Greek Church that first cousins shall not marry. In the Catholic Church a dispensation has sometimes done away with such an obstacle, in the Greek Church, never.
Prince George's father is a Lutheran, but his family are all members of the orthodox church of their country. And the prince is not likely to give up his religion. How the difficulty is to be overcome remains to be seen. It will probably result in the patriarch of Constantinople granting a dispensation, but this will be the first ever granted.It will be a popular match in England, for George is the best of men the Briton loves, big, handsome, athletic and good-natured. He is poor, it is true, but not with the poverty of the German princelings on whom British princesses have so often been thrown away.
It is said that Queen Victoria is de-formation is that M. Leroux acted as

"The Least Hair Casts a Shadow."

A single drop of poison blood will, unless checked in time, make the whole impure. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the great leader in blood purifiers.

It casts no shadow, but brings sunshine and health into every household. Running Sore.—My mother was troubled with rheumatism in her knee for a number of years, and it broke out into a running sore. She took three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is now well. Hood's Olive Ointment helped to heal the eruption." Mrs. JOHN FARR, Cloverlawn, Rochester, Ont.

Rheumatism.—I was badly afflicted with sciatic rheumatism. Consulted doctors without relief. Was persuaded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and five bottles gave me relief and enabled me to go to work." WILLIAM B. ROACH, Margaretville, N. S.

Fall Assizes Opened Before Mr. Justice Meredith—Nine Cases on the List.

SILVER WEDDING
The Premier of Ontario and Mrs. George W. Ross

Celebrate the 25th Anniversary of Their Marriage—Interesting Ceremony and Presentation.

Toronto, Nov. 19.—Saturday was the 25th anniversary of the wedding of Hon. Geo. W. Ross, premier of Ontario, and Mrs. Ross, and advantage was taken of the occasion by the premier's colleagues in the cabinet, and his supporters in the legislature, to present the happy pair with a congratulatory address and a cabinet of silverware.

The presentation took place in the drawing-room at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Ross, 1, to the effect, indeed, so cordial and self-denying has this confidence apparently become that my followers in the legislature appear to regard themselves as the special guardians of my good name, and my colleagues in the government as the custodians of my personal and political honor. Under such circumstances it is easy to fill the place which has been assigned to me in the Liberal party, and which you are good enough to say is strengthened by personal as well as political ties. Let it be understood, however, that the happy event which a kind Providence has enabled Mrs. Ross and myself this day to commemorate has been by no means the last important circumstance in attaining that measure of success to which you have so kindly referred.

You will pardon me if I do not attempt to reply to the many pleasant recollections you have made to my political history. One remark, however, I cannot overlook. You say: "You have unfailingly and uncomplainingly resisted all attempts to divide our people on lines of race and creed, and that your ideal has ever been a united Canada." Allow me to say that you have aptly expressed one of the cardinal articles of my political creed. As there is no room on this continent for two Canadas, so there is no room in Canada for two races, and as every body has perfect liberty of conscience, there is no room for any creed to claim pre-eminence in the councils of the nation.

CANADIANS ALL.
Confederation made us one country, as the revolutionary war made the United States one republic. If, with all their diversity of race and creed, the people of the United States call themselves Americans, without any qualification as to origin, why should not we call ourselves Canadian, without any qualification as to origin? Do we so despise our heritage as to be ashamed of its claim to a distinctive national title? Are we to rest our claims forever for distinction upon ancestral blood and lineage, or shall we add to the heraldry of a new century a name which, for honor, enterprise and virtue shall be as distinguished as any name with which its pages are now adorned? Although we have not yet attained an ideal unity, may I hope, as Mr. John Bright used to say of Mr. Gladstone, "that we are struggling towards the light," and that before the new century has cast off its swaddling clothes we shall have swept into the wider day of national unity.

In conclusion, let me say that neither Mrs. Ross nor myself shall ever forget your kindness towards us as we tarried for an hour at the twenty-fifth milestone of our married life.

The cabinet presented to Mr. and

Council for both bodies expressed themselves as willing to confer with their clients and try to arrange a settlement. The case was accordingly adjourned till 8 o'clock.

At 8 o'clock Mr. McKenna vs. Day, a suit to prove a codicil to a will, was next taken up.

The non-jury sittings of the fall assizes opened at the court house this morning before Mr. Justice R. M. Meredith. The list of cases set down for hearing now embrace nine cases; the most important of the ten originally entered, that of Fitzgerald vs. Morden, to decide the authenticity of the now famous "butter-paper will," having been postponed till the winter assizes by order of the court in Toronto.

The two cases of most interest to the citizens of London are the first case taken up, that of the board of education against the city council to compel the latter to pay over the whole of certain sums asked for in the yearly estimates of the former, and the last case on the list, that of Saunby vs. the water commissioners, asking for an injunction against the operation of the Springbank water-works dam.

In the case of the board of education vs. the council, Mr. Hellmuth, solicitor for the board, after briefly reviewing the case from the board's standpoint, put in as evidence a quantity of correspondence between the two bodies. No witnesses were called for the board, and the case rested on the exhibits produced. Early in the year the council requested the board to submit its estimates for the year, and the board refused to do so, claiming that he considered the item of $17,400 for repairs was exorbitant, and that he never knew the board in previous years to require over $3,500 for this purpose. He considered the request for $17,400 for repairs was exorbitant, and that he never knew the board in previous years to require over $3,500 for this purpose.

Mr. Hellmuth subjected Mr. Blackwell to a long cross-examination. Witness said he was appointed on the board, both in his request for the increased estimates and in his entering suit. To Mr. Meredith the witness said that he considered the item of $17,400 for repairs was exorbitant, and that he never knew the board in previous years to require over $3,500 for this purpose.

diffused with me politically, whilst in respect of those allied with me it has been an unbroken career of warm attachments and generous confidence and helpfulness far beyond what I believe my abilities or my services entitled me to expect. Indeed, so cordial and self-denying has this confidence apparently become that my followers in the legislature appear to regard themselves as the special guardians of my good name, and my colleagues in the government as the custodians of my personal and political honor. Under such circumstances it is easy to fill the place which has been assigned to me in the Liberal party, and which you are good enough to say is strengthened by personal as well as political ties. Let it be understood, however, that the happy event which a kind Providence has enabled Mrs. Ross and myself this day to commemorate has been by no means the last important circumstance in attaining that measure of success to which you have so kindly referred.

You will pardon me if I do not attempt to reply to the many pleasant recollections you have made to my political history. One remark, however, I cannot overlook. You say: "You have unfailingly and uncomplainingly resisted all attempts to divide our people on lines of race and creed, and that your ideal has ever been a united Canada." Allow me to say that you have aptly expressed one of the cardinal articles of my political creed. As there is no room on this continent for two Canadas, so there is no room in Canada for two races, and as every body has perfect liberty of conscience, there is no room for any creed to claim pre-eminence in the councils of the nation.

CANADIANS ALL.
Confederation made us one country, as the revolutionary war made the United States one republic. If, with all their diversity of race and creed, the people of the United States call themselves Americans, without any qualification as to origin, why should not we call ourselves Canadian, without any qualification as to origin? Do we so despise our heritage as to be ashamed of its claim to a distinctive national title? Are we to rest our claims forever for distinction upon ancestral blood and lineage, or shall we add to the heraldry of a new century a name which, for honor, enterprise and virtue shall be as distinguished as any name with which its pages are now adorned? Although we have not yet attained an ideal unity, may I hope, as Mr. John Bright used to say of Mr. Gladstone, "that we are struggling towards the light," and that before the new century has cast off its swaddling clothes we shall have swept into the wider day of national unity.

In conclusion, let me say that neither Mrs. Ross nor myself shall ever forget your kindness towards us as we tarried for an hour at the twenty-fifth milestone of our married life.

The non-jury sittings of the fall assizes opened at the court house this morning before Mr. Justice R. M. Meredith. The list of cases set down for hearing now embrace nine cases; the most important of the ten originally entered, that of Fitzgerald vs. Morden, to decide the authenticity of the now famous "butter-paper will," having been postponed till the winter assizes by order of the court in Toronto.

The two cases of most interest to the citizens of London are the first case taken up, that of the board of education against the city council to compel the latter to pay over the whole of certain sums asked for in the yearly estimates of the former, and the last case on the list, that of Saunby vs. the water commissioners, asking for an injunction against the operation of the Springbank water-works dam.

In the case of the board of education vs. the council, Mr. Hellmuth, solicitor for the board, after briefly reviewing the case from the board's standpoint, put in as evidence a quantity of correspondence between the two bodies. No witnesses were called for the board, and the case rested on the exhibits produced. Early in the year the council requested the board to submit its estimates for the year, and the board refused to do so, claiming that he considered the item of $17,400 for repairs was exorbitant, and that he never knew the board in previous years to require over $3,500 for this purpose. Lola's Secret,

A Romance.

The river rippled on, the light of the moon grew brighter, the odors from flowers and fruit sweeter in the evening air. Dolores had still much to tell.
She kept no detail from her children, but told them all that had happened from the first moment that the letter had come until the moment when, after reading that letter, her father died suddenly, as she believed, from the shock of finding Sir Karl guilty.

"When my father died," she continued, "I could bear the disgrace no longer. I gave up Seaside, my home, my friends, even my name, and came hither, where I hoped to be able to forget the shame that I had brought down ever present with me. You will find the shame and sorrow follow you as it did me, and that people will regard you with kindly pity. Ah, give me anything rather than that!"

"But, mamma," said Kathleen, "we have no cause for shame; we had nothing to do with what happened."
"It falls and rests on us, just the same," she replied. "A deserted wife!
Ah, children, when you understand all that means! A deserted wife is branded even by the pity and compassion she excites."

Then Sir Karl's daughter rose from her mother's side and stood erect in the white moonlight. She raised her clear delicate face to the sky. She had been a child when she knelt in the long grass two hours before. She was a woman now, with the light of a high resolve on her face.

"Mamma," she said, "have you the two letters written by this woman? Will you show them to me?"

"I will, I have your father's portrait, too. I have not looked at it for sixteen years, but I will show it to you."
"Thank you, and during these sixteen years you have not heard one word of the man who loved you and your children so dearly?"

"No—not Gertrude."
Gertrude lowered her childlike face to her mother.

"And you believe, mamma, that for sixteen years he has been with—with this rival of his?"

"I must believe it, Gertrude. Surely, if he had been anywhere in the wide world but with her, he would have written to me. Why should he not?"

"But, mamma, that argument cuts both ways. If you argued on such loving terms, so much the less reason is there for deserting you in such a fashion!"

Dolores looked in bewilderment at the child; she had never viewed the matter in that light before.

"Mamma," said the girl, with a grave solemnity that startled Dolores.
"I do not believe it—I will not believe it. If my father was the good and honorable man you describe him, would one of his interview with a person for whom you say he had little affection or respect make him false to his whole life—false to you and to us! A thousand times no! If the whole world swore to me that my father was guilty, I would maintain his innocence as if I would maintain the truth of heaven.
He is innocent, mamma," continued Gertrude, "as surely as the stars shine in the sky above us. Oh, how could you, who love him, have believed him otherwise?" She turned and pointed to the river. "You might as well say that suddenly and without cause that water could become black as ink! Oh, mamma, how could you believe that my father was false?"

"What else could I do, Gertrude, my child?"

"Do! Trust him! I am his only child, and I do not remember one line of his dear face, but I would scorn to believe him guilty on the word of such a woman as that!"

"Oh, child," said Dolores faintly, "you have a golden heart."

The depths of her soul were stirred; it was as though an angel stood before her and spoke for the long lost man. From that hour in which she had received Lola's letter she had accepted her husband's guilt as a matter of course.

"But, Gertrude," she said piteously, "do you not see that is the only possible explanation of his absence? If he is elsewhere, why has he not written to me. He must have known that, loving him as I did, every hour of his absence would be torture to me; and, if he is not under a baneful influence, I repeat, why has he not written to me?"

"I do not know. You will say, mamma, that reason or judgment does not enter into my counsel. I go by instinct, by my feeling, by the voice of my heart, and I know he is innocent, as you are!"

"I am sure of this," said Gertrude,
"that the truth will be discovered one day. If murder will out, innocence will be vindicated. My father's name will yet be as unsullied as the stars in the heavens. Rely upon it, mamma, there has been somewhere or other a terrible mistake!"

Could it be possible? A terrible mistake! In what way? Dolores knew Lola's writing only too well. Her husband had vanished, there was no doubt about that.

What mistake could there be? Was it possible that she had allowed her jealousy to be too easily roused, that she had been quick to judge and condemn? But everyone else had judged Sir Karl in the same manner, almost before she had time to form a thought herself, she had read the story in a dozen different journals, in a hundred different faces, had heard it in a hundred different voices. How could she be mistaken?

"Innocence will be vindicated," repeated Gertrude. "I know there are people so weak of faith that they think of this lower world. If the falling of a sparrow be a matter of moment, of how much greater importance is the character of a man, mamma, I believe most solemnly that what we thought chance—the dropping of that lady's purse—was the very finger of Providence. For sixteen years men and women have believed my father guilty; but something tells me that the terrible mystery will be cleared up, I will devote my life to the task of clearing my father's name."

And again Dolores murmured:
"You have a golden heart, Gertrude!
You are so like him!"

She was startled and unprepared by this sudden change. It seemed like a new atmosphere, a new world to her.
She could hardly believe that she was the same woman who had come to see the sun set over the river while she was whelmed by the sense of her husband's guilt. It was as though a young and vigorous defender had risen for him; as though fresh light were thrown upon that dark mystery.

"I pray heaven," cried Gertrude, with sudden passion, "that I may never be down to die until I have accomplished my end. Mamma," she continued solemnly, "show me my father's portrait, and I shall know him better when I have seen his face. And you say he loved me, mamma—loved me very dearly?"

"He did, indeed, Gertrude."
"Then even the most fitting person to work for him. Do you mean to say that of all those who loved him, there was not one to defend him or believe in him?"

"Not one," replied Dolores.
"Poor papa! Well, I believe in him; and I vow that I will establish his innocence, be he living or dead! Oh, how have you lived, mamma, with this terrible cloud hanging over you? Come indoor quickly; I long to see papa's face."

CHAPTER XXVIII.
In silence Lady Almonde unlocked the drawer that had not been opened for sixteen years, and took from it a little parcel tied with faded ribbon.
Opening it, she gave Lola de Ferras's two letters to Gertrude. In silence the girl read them.

"People say it is possible to tell character from handwriting," she said then.
"If I were to judge from this, I should say that the woman who wrote these letters was a combination of good and evil. There is about this writing nothing open, frank, or free. I should never have trusted her. In these letters, in which you find a certain proof of my father's guilt, I read his perfect innocence. She does not say, 'Sir Karl is with me.' He does not. She writes, 'You will never see him again.' She triumphs over you. She tells you that she has her revenge; but she does not tell you in so many words that my father has deserted you. After reading her letters, I am the more certain that he is quite innocent."

Dolores could not take her eyes from the fair flushed face, so bright, so eager so full of proud defiance.

"If the whole world," she cried, "had told me that my father was guilty, I would have disputed the statement.
Put the letters back again, mamma.
They are like venomous snakes. I could fancy that even the paper was full of poison. Put them away; perhaps some day I may ask you to again, mamma. Now, mamma, dearest, show me my father's portrait."

With reverent fingers Dolores placed it in the girl's hands.

"Do not let me see it," she said. "I think it would kill me to look at his face again."

But Gertrude studied it eagerly, and Kathleen, coming to her side, looked over her shoulder.

The old proverb: "To be at peace prepare for war," is the secret of the larger part of life's successes, whether of nations or individuals.

The difference between the healthy, happy mother who has healthy children nurse and nourish, and the weak, nervous mother, with a weakling child, is mostly a difference of preparation.

The great preparative for motherhood is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces refreshing sleep.
It gives the mother strength to give her child. It imparts elasticity and strength to the organs of maternity so that the baby's advent is practically painless.

"I take pleasure in writing you to let you know about your 'Favorite Prescription,'" says Mr. E. E. Fricke, of Petersburg, Menard Co., Ill. "My wife had been sick nearly all her life, and after trying everything I could think of I made up my mind to try 'Favorite Prescription.' I sent Chicago and six bottles, which my wife took, a tablespoonful three times a day, until the baby came. She felt better after taking the first bottle, and the baby was born healthy and a half pound. To-day he is six months old and weighs twenty-two pounds. He is as good a child as any one could wish. The doctor says he is as healthy as any baby could be, and also that the 'Favorite Prescription' was the cause of such a healthy baby. I felt I owed you this much for the good you did my wife and myself. I hope you will show this to others who may be in need of such help, and you may refer them to me, as I would be glad to tell of the good of such a valuable medicine."

Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on expense of customs and mailing only.

VARSITY DEFEATS MCGILL.
Toronto, Nov. 17.—The Inter-Collegiate Rugby Union's season was finished up this afternoon, when the final game between Varsity and McGill was played and won by the local student team. The result of this match is to give Queen's the championship, as they have beaten McGill twice.

The teams were: Varsity—Back, Beale;

The first round closed with matters about even, but after that Weinig showed his strength to great advan-
in with a straight left, followed with it with a left to the body. In the third
blocking. A series of left hooks followed, and a deadly smash to the body put the Canadian on the ropes, and another left wing sent him to the floor.
He made an effort to get up, but was in a very weak condition, and a couple
out, his seconds throwing up the sponge. In the preliminaries Joe Cull and Jack Smith, two local men, boxed ten rounds to a draw, and Jim Lawless, of this city, defeated Jack Mat-

IS DERANGED
There is fallow complexion, Fullness About the Stomach and Pains in the Shoulders and Back
—Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills Act Promptly and Directly on the

By a careful consideration of the following symptoms you can decide for
active. The liver is the largest organ connected with the digestive sys-
blood is to a very large extent respon-
about the stomach, a pale, fallow complexion and pain in the shoulders and

Then there comes indigestion, wind
depression of spirits and despondency.
The bowels become irregular, and constipation and looseness alternate.
The bile left in the blood by an in-
liver spots, blotches and pimples.
over the health of other organs that
governor or controller of the body.

The prescription from which Dr.
Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are pre-
immense practice, and has proven the greatest liver regulator ever discovered.
time it regulates and tones up the
healthy working order.

Notwithstanding the fame of Dr.
Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills throughout this continent, you will never fully
then can you fully understand why

all sorts of new, untried remedies, apparatus and treatments, it is a comfort and pleasure to know that you turn to this prescription of Dr.
A. W. Chase and find in it a safe and certain cure for the many dangerous
kidneys and bowels. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are sold in 25 cents boxes at all dealers or Edmanon, Bates & Co., Toronto.

LACROSSE.
The date for the lacrosse club's big tramp smoker has been fixed for Tuesday, Nov. 27, at the city hall. Tickets are now out, and a big crowd is looking for as many as the lobby of the city hall has promised to take part.

YACHTING.
THE AMERICAN CUP DEFENDER.
New York, Nov. 17.—The order for the new yacht to defend the America's cup in the match of August next against Shamrock II, was placed with the Harlow Brothers, Wednesday, Nov.
14, the contract required in the case being signed in this city on that day.
Now the work of building will be carried on as fast as it is practicable. An early launching of the new boat is required, because of the early date of the races, so it is probable that the new craft will be afloat the latter part of April or the first of May.

FISTIC.
McGEE KNOCKED OUT.
Toronto, Nov. 17.—Eph McGee, of this city, the champion heavy-weight boxer of Canada, was knocked out in the third round of what was to have been a 20-round fight by Al Weinig, of Buffalo, here tonight, before 1,500 people, at the Casino Athletic Club show at the Bijou Theatre. McGee was four pounds heavier than his opponent, the men weighing in at 185 and 161 pounds respectively. The Canadian was much cleverer than Weinig on his feet, but lacked punching power.
showed his strength to great advan-
thews, of Hamilton, in five rounds.

At the annual meeting of the Petrolia curling club, the following officers were elected: Patron, Mr. J. L. Engle-hart; patroness, Mrs. J. L. Englehart; chaplains, Rev. A. G. Graham, Rev. W.
L. C. Macdonald, James C. Waddell; vice-president, Albert Duncan; secretary, Hugh Simpson; treasurer, John Walker; committee of management, Jas. C. Waddell, Albert Duncan, John Simpson; honorary members, W. G.
Fraser, W. K. Gibson, George Sanson, Capt. Woodward and presidents of Sarnia, Forest, Glencoe, Detroit and St. Thomas clubs.

VARDON AGAIN THE WINNER.
New York, Nov. 17.—In an exhibition golfing match at Van Cortlandt Park today, Harry Vardon, open champion of the United States, beat the best ball of two local players, equalling the record for the course, 81, held by himself. In the morning round Vardon opposed Wm. Freeland, of Laurence Harbor, and Val Wood, of the York Club, and in the afternoon, W. C. Morrill, of the local club, took

There is fallow complexion, Fullness About the Stomach and
Pains in the Shoulders and Back

By a careful consideration of the fol-

liver spots, blotches and pimples.
governor or controller of the body.

The prescription from which Dr.
Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are pre-
greatest liver regulator ever discovered.
healthy working order.

Notwithstanding the fame of Dr.

turn to this prescription of Dr.
A. W. Chase and find in it a safe and
kidneys and bowels. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are sold in 25 cents
boxes at all dealers or Edmanon, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Stone in the Bladder.

THE REMARKABLE CASE OF A
WAS CURED BY DOAN'S

Stone in the bladder is one of the most excruciating and agonizing of kidney diseases.

Some of its symptoms are sudden stoppage of the flow of urine, straining, deposits in the urine, pain in the region of the bladder and in the back, constant uneasiness and general failing of the health.

This is a disease that medical men tell us can only be cured by operation; yet we have many instances on record where Doan's Kidney Pills have effected a complete cure and saved the patient from the dangers and sufferings of the surgeon's knife.

The following well-authenticated case of Mr. G. A. LeBlanc, the widely-known and popular manager of R. J.
Tooke's store, 1533 St. Catharine street east, Montreal, P. Q., is one of the most remarkable in the history of kidney medicines in Canada. We venture to say that no other remedy but Doan's Kidney Pills can produce such a cure as this.

Here is Mr. LeBlanc's own statement:
"The Doan Kidney Pills Company: Gentlemen,—After four years of good health and after having recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to friends and acquaintances during these four years of happy life, and also having had proofs of the good results obtained in other cases, I thought it my duty to acquaint you with my case, which is undoubtedly one of the most severe you will encounter.

"During the three long years that I was afflicted with kidney disease I suffered agony. Many a time I had to leave off business suddenly and be carried in a cab to my home, where I would remain for several weeks suffering the most intense pain.

"At last a saviour came to me in your Doan's Kidney Pills, which were recommended to me by one of your patients.

"I used only two boxes, and, thank God, they entirely cured me.

"They caused me to pass a stone, the size of the stone found in ordinary cases, and of the same shape. I have it here to show anyone wanting proofs of the efficacy of your pills.

"The three doctors treating me left in surprise, and I was glad to leave off the use of morphine, which had been administered to me most freely to allay the pain.

"I am now an altogether new man, and can say I owe it all to Doan's Kidney Pills.

"I am forty-five years of age, and manager of a large concern, and will be only too happy to recommend your pills for kidney troubles to anyone suffering."

A ROOSTER'S WINDOM.

A duck which faithfully stuck to business during the summer and laid several dozens of large brown colored eggs, complained that she wasn't appreciated. "See that hen over there," said the duck, "she hasn't laid as many eggs as I have, nor as big, but she has a book written about her and verses are composed in her honor, while I am saying a word about me." "The trouble with you is," said a wise rooster that was standing near, "that you don't tell the public what you have done. You lay an egg and waddle off without saying a word, but that sister of mine never lays one without setting everybody in the neighborhood know it. If you want to cut any ice in this community, you must learn to advertise."

DEATH OF MRS. SPETTIGUE.

On Friday morning, at the homestead, con. 1, Westminster, the death occurred of Mrs. Louisa Spettigue, widow of the late Joseph J. Spettigue. Mrs. Spettigue was born in Somersetshire, England, 71 years ago, and was one of the oldest settlers of Westminster township, having come there with her father, the late W. H. Locke, of Yorkmouth, in 1846. She was married in St. Thomas a little over half a century ago, her husband dying in 1897. The late Mr. Spettigue kept a general store in this city from 1856 to 1869, and retired to the farm only 17 years ago. Three sons, C. L., F. J., and W. L., all of Westminster, survive. Mrs. Spettigue was a woman of sterling character and highly esteemed.

The master in ordinary at Toronto on Saturday confirmed the sale of the Chatham Banner to J. R. Barber, M. P. P. Georgetown. Mr. Barber has disposed of the plant to A. C. Woodward, late of the Chicago Journal, who is conducting it under the name of the Chatham Banner-News.

MISS MORGAN'S WEDDING.

New York, Nov. 17.—Miss Louise Pierpont Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan, was married yesterday in St. George's Church, Stuyvesant Square, to Herbert Livingston Satterlee, a lawyer, of this city. The invitations for the ceremony numbered 2,500. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Richard D. Webb, rector of St. George's. The service was fully choral. The floral decorations in the church and the house were of an unusually elaborate character.

DANGER IN THE COBB.

Portland, Me., Nov. 19.—A peculiar accident occurred in this village the other day, and resulted in a lesson not to be learned. Miss Ethel How was sitting near the stove leaning her head in her hand. In her hair were some celluloid side combs. They became heated by the heat, which was not noticed, and her luxuriant head of hair was destroyed. She received a number of serious burns and her mother was quite seriously burned about the burning hair.

MIND AND FOOD.

Kind of Food That Affects the Mind.

One of the most remarkable effects of the food Grape-Nuts is the effect on the mind; it makes one feel buoyant, hopeful and cheerful," says Alice L. Ghant, of 2422 Broad street, Alameda, Cal. She continues: "As a result of my constant use of Grape-Nuts, I was struck down with paralysis of the right side about two years and a half ago. For about two years I was treated constantly with powerful drugs to stimulate the nerve centers, with only partial success."

"About six months ago I was threatened with nervous prostration again, when a friend advised me to eat Grape-Nuts food. I was entirely skeptical concerning any beneficial results, but finding the food very palatable I bought package after package, and since beginning the use of Grape-Nuts I have taken no medicine or nerve tonics of any kind, and the effect of this perfect food on my health is something very remarkable. All headaches, insomnia, and a disagreeable cough, and my symptoms of paralysis have disappeared."

I have suffered from all the ills that I lived just as thousands of others who think they are well fed, but are in a state of semi-starvation, owing to imperfect assimilation of food. The nerve centers cannot be properly nourished and rebuilt except by good food and food that can be digested and assimilated. Grape-Nuts food is the most perfect food I have ever seen, and I know of its value from practical results."

This is another evidence of the fact that Grape-Nuts food contains the phosphate of potash which unites with albumen to make an gray matter in the nerve center and brain. Any brain worker who values health, strength, and vigor should pay heed to the character of food he uses.

Durable Fit.

When a garment, say a light overcoat, doesn't fit, most of the weight hangs upon one particular part, puts that part out of shape anyway, maybe wears it out—That is not a durable fit.

So be sure of the fit.

Our Short Top Coats, made of covert cloths, whipcords, and tweeds, newest shades and weaves, are made to rest gently and snugly upon chest, shoulders and back; thoroughly well tailored and finished.

HEINTZMAN & CO.
PIANOS.

A piano Canadians are proud of—that appeals to the refined and cultured—unsurpassed in its purity of tone—charmingly constructed in every detail.

—"The tone was rich and full—all that a singer could desire. It has been my privilege to sing before the pianos of the leading makers in all parts of the world, but my experience with the Heintzman & Co. Piano justifies me in saying—that it will take a place among the best of them."—SCHALCH, World's Famed Contralto.

STAND GUARD
IN CEMETERIES

Armed Watchmen Patrol Graveyards Watching for Ghouls in Chicago.

Every cemetery in Chicago and in its suburbs has a watchman, whose work it is through the dark hours of the night to make the round of the vaults and to see that the ghouls do not get the most of a hard task to find men willing to stand guard by misty moon and new-mooned graves when the moon is in the dark, the officials of several Chicago cemetery companies were asked if they did not ever find difficulty in getting men to make the nightly rounds.

"Difficult? Bless you, no," was the answer. "The place of night watchman in a cemetery is one that is sought after. It may strike some people as being an uncanny sort of a job, but its 'uncanniness' makes it attractive. There is no more trouble about getting a man to make the round of the tombstones than there is to get one to sit on a stool and to figure up how much the lot-owners owe."

An easy way to commit suicide and to give friends the trouble of carrying the body far for a resting place after death is to scale the wall of Gracefield or the fence of Calvary some time between midnight and dawn and to go meddling around some new-made grave, or go fooling with the lock on some granite vault. So ghouls confine their operations to unguarded country cemeteries. Every graveyard guardian in Chicago and vicinity is armed and is said to be a crack shot. The Calvary watchman cannot well miss his game, for he carries over his shoulder a heavily-charged double-barrel shot gun, and shot scatter pretty well at a distance of 25 or 30 yards. This guardian of Chicago's Roman Catholic dead can follow up his shotgun fusillade with revolver bullets, if necessary.
