STRONGLY FORTIFIED.

London, July 26.—1:10 p.m.— Erzingan, the strongly fortified Turkish town in Central Armenia, has been evacuated by the Turks, according to a dispatch from Petrograd received here today by wireless telegraphy from Rome.

Recent advices from Petrograd said that the Russians, after beating off energetic Turkish counterattacks, were converging on Erzingen from three sides, and that the Russian advance guards were within ten miles of the fortified city The Turkish were reported by Russian aviators to be destroying the stores and supplies. Belief was expressed by Russian observers that the evacuation of the place already had begun, and that the defence of the fortress was being conducted only with the purpose of giving the Turks time to withdraw to a new base at Sivas, 130 miles to the west.

The Russian official communica tion of Tuesday said the Turkish armies in the Erzingan region were "retreating in disorder before the irresistable pressure of our troops, and were abandoning along the road, cannon, rifles and mu-

BRITISH DOMINATE PLATEAU.

[Canadian Press.] London, July 26.-12:35 p.m.-The capture of Pozieres in the Somme River region, reported today by Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, the British commander-in-chief in France, gives the British troops domination of the highest point overlooking the plateau on which the German lines extend to the eastward. A STRONG POSITION.

Some of the most stubborn fighting in the recent British of which now has lasted nearly a month, has occurred in the state this village, which the Germans have fortified until it became one of the strongest points of their line EVERY STEP A FIGHT. Every house had to be tought for and taken separately, and the British, after obtaining possession of a considerable portion of the vil-

Pedestrians passing gave us glances of sympathetic interest, and we began to feel that it wasn't such a bad old world after all. Just then an English lark rose from the hayfield and sang its way up, up until it seemed only a speck in the heavens Have you ever heard the lark's song?

With a pleasant "How do you do?" an elderly lady and gentleman who were but prior to enlisting had been living patriotic interest in wounded soldiers, and general conversation followed.

As they were leaving, the motherly old soul, with the graceful air of a duchess, opened her purse, and offered us a half-crown (sixty cents). We could feel that it was kindly meant, and learned afterwards that it was customary to offer money to wounded soldiers England. But we respectfully explained that "Out Yonder" we wore the Maple Leaf badge, and that Canadian social customs were different. It was an embarrassing situation for a moment. We compromised by accepting an invitation to take "tea" with them in their nome at some future date. One does not have to travel far to realize that there is a patriotic desire in the hearts of the folks in the homeland to show their appreciation of the boys in "hospital blue." Adjourns for Month Pending Statement From Rural Companies.

No decision was made by the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board at a sitting at the court house this morning on the application for an interchange of service between four Western Ontario telephone companies. The four companies concerned were the St. Marys Kirkton and Exeter Telephone Company the United Telephone Company, the East Middlesex Telephone Company, and D. G. MacNeil, operating under the name of St. John's Telephone Company Several witnesses were called to show that the present system and rates were unsatisfactory. The companies were given 30 days in which to gather infermation relative to the cost of connecting the systems, as in some cases there will be from 3½ to 6 miles of wire and poles to be erected. No trouble is expected in completing an arrangement. The total cost will be taken into consideration and the board will fix a rate of exchange to bring a fair remuneration to the companies. The members of the board were A. B. Ingram, vice-chairman; H. M. Kittson, committeeman, and Francis Dagger, electrical telephone expert.

mand, and victory will be ours."-

THE treatment of British prisoners in Germany, as described by an attache of the American embassy at Berlin, is a sample of Hunnishness which should cause a burst of righteous indignation throughout the whole civilized world. In the first place the British people owe a large measure of to the courageous attache, Dr. Alonzo E. Taylor, and to the American ambassador at Berlin, James The latter on more than trality and sense of justice could not warped by the favors or the snubs of the German overlord. He has forwarded to Viscount Grey the report of his assistant, and it indicates a condition of affairs that would shame an African tribe of cannibals.

The American attache visited the camp at Ruhleben, where only civilians comes, that he will have no power for are interned, and found that the con- harm in a hundred years. Britishers lived were intolerable. Six people are herded together in a single stall, and in one loft about 30 by 40 feet, with sloping roof, 64 men are confined in semi-darkness. Their eyesight is being seriously affected, if some are not blinded. They are men of erudition, whose sole crime is to have resided in Germany at the outbreak of the war. Their presence, if they were not spies, was a compliment to Germany, and their treatment when compared with the treatment accorded Germans interned in Great Britain or Canada-in fact many of them go leg free yet in both the mother country and the dominions-is as day is to night.

This new "black hole of Calcutta" is another of those dark pages of that dreadful book which reveals the character of the German military leaders. That it is not prejudiced evidence upon which the report is established makes it so much more inexcusable. The Germans appear to be willing and anxious that the world should know how shamefully she treats those who in a sense are her charges of honor.

The hearts of all humane people will go out in sympathy for these sufferers | Berlin. in Germany. And it is to be hoped that the resourceful and fearless Gerard will establish himself more firmly in the admiration of British subjects by carrying his work to a culmination. We are willing to be in the debt of such a man. He is truly an ambassador worthy of his great country, and all Britishers will salute his brave action, and hope for the day when he beast from these unfortunate subjects who are being martyred because of the hatred borne their country. But Belgium will be peace, bless his heart, will begin to hung about the arch-murderer's neck. doubt and to consider that speech of 1900, just twelve years after he came to his throne, and fourteen years before the opening of his war, almost the dead centre or midnight of his nightmare reign. In that speech he said to his troops: "Let all who fall into your hands be at your mercy. Just as Attila gained a reputation in virtue of inal on earth might go unhanged if he the Huns a thousand years ago under which they still live in historical tradition, so may the name of Germany become known." opposes me I shall dash in pieces." The Raemakers' cartoon on this text, showing a Hun in mail armor chopping down a cross bearing the Saviour, shows what a real neutral thinks. Pretty soon the Swedes and Greeks who have shouted for Germany and believed or accepted her lies will be convinced by events that Raemakers has the truth of the matter, and that the kaiser's whole reign has been obsessed by a lunatic dream of war. The crown prince, born in this sin, had the mark of the beast on him from the start In one of his neace time speeches he said: "How often in the midst of a charge I have caught the yearning cry of a comrade, 'Donnerwetter, if only it were the real thing.' Well, to quote Bernhardi: "Might is the supreme right, and the dispute as to what is right is decided by the arbitrament of war." The defeat of Hindenburg and the other monsters will decide it for mean people and cowards that the kaiser and his cub intended war and made war.

PUT THEM DOWN.

THE HUNS are becoming less confident, but they grow proportionately even more sullen and truculent also. German prisoners speak of another war coming with England, German papers revel in plans for great diving cruisers and the meatless cafes in Berlin console the dreary hour with grim chuckling over the new bomb that is to wipe out English women and bables.

It looks as though President Jordan, the American pacifist, was right when fear—that years of training and thought on the part of a great military power might be something that might in central Europe was a nest of vipers to be utterly wiped out. There must be something in the idea that the German people is blood-mad. Louis Raemakers' cartoons, in all their horror, are no theatrical exaggerations, but the sober truth. The lunatic crown prince leads lunatics, or is rushed along with them like the Gadarene swine headed for the precipice.

> It would be a shocking insult to the nemory of our dead if we ever paused in this warfare with the Hun until either we could do no more or the enemy were completely crushed and effectually prevented from renewing warfare within generations to come. Think also of our men captives under hideous treatment, contrary to all Hague rules or even Machiavellian precepts for the treatment of prisoners, starving and oing mad in German jails. Our eroes have died, laid themselves on the altar of sacrifice, that the homes of our nation may be made safe from origands and perverts, that peace may e assured and militarism lispelled that freedom, honor and justice be Terrill spoke first. established and revered. WHY PEPSIN, PANCREATIN, ETC.,

SO FREQUENTLY FAIL. An international specialist whose articles on stomach trouble have been printed in nearly every language, recently stated that to treat the average case of stomach trouble, indigestion, dyspepsia, etc., by doctoring the stomach, killing the pain with opiates, or by the use of artificial aids to digestion such as pensin and pancreatin, was just ach, killing the part and consuch as pepsin and pancreatin, was just as foolish and useless as to attempt to put out a fire by throwing water on the smoke instead of the fire. He claims, and facts seem to justify his claim, that nearly nine-tenths of all stomach trouble is due to acidity and food fermentation; and that the only way in which to secure permanent relief is to get rid of the cause, i. e., to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation. For this purpose he strongly recommends the plan now generally recommends the plan now generally adopted throughout Europe of taking a teaspoonful of ordinary bisurated magnesia in a little water immediately after eating or whenever pain is felt. This immediately neutralizes the acid, ops the fermentation and permits the stops the fermentation and permits the stomach to do its work in a normal manner and thus, by removing the cause, enables nature to quickly restore the inflamed stomach lining to a perfectly healthy natural condition. For the convenience of travellers it may be noted that most druggists are now able to supply bisurated magnesia in 5-grain tablets, 2 or 3 of which will almost instantly relieve the most violent attacks of indigestion.—Advt.

By Rev. T. S. Linscott, D. D. (All Rights Reserved.) The six daily studies for this week constitute the International S. S. Lesson for next Sunday. Read the Bible ory on which this study is based, as ou ponder the following questions:

The word of the cross .- 1 Cor, 1:1, Golden text .- Far be it from me to lory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ. Gal. 6:14. 8. Verses 9-11. Show how it is possible to hold the same opinions and still be divided in heart, and to hold different opinions and be one in heart. 9. If two men are contentious, that is, bitter toward each other, can you say or not, and why, that neither of them is a Christian?

10. Verses 12-16. When a church is contentious, as here described by Paul, by what kind of argument can you show that it is a Christian church?

11. If two men actually quarrel over the proper subjects, or the mode of Christian baptism, why are they not followers of Satan?

Yesterday's rainstorm played havoc Petrolea.
with the program of the Western On- N. McDougall, tario Bowling Association, and only the morning game was played. The L. H. Dampier, games which were to have been played yesterday afternoon will be played this morning, the 1:30 game being started at 9:30 and the one billed for 4:30 will start immediately after the first one is finished. This will mean that only Dr. W. Logie. five games will be played in the qualifying rounds as the game scheduled to take place this morning has been Fifteen-end games will be played this morning, and the rinks will play at the same clubs as they were drawn for yesterday afternoon. The eight highest rinks will commence play for the trophy games at 1:30 in the afternoon. These games will all be played at the London Rowing and Bowling Club. Eighteen ends will be played in the preliminary trophy games and 11 ends in the final game. It is probable that the semi-finals will be reached tonight, and the final game played Thursday morning.

The date of closing for the Scotch doubles has been extended until 1 o'clock this afternoon, and play will begin immediately. These games will also be played at the London Rowing and Bowling Club.

Up to the present time only eight have been successful in winning the whole three games. The skips which have won the three straight games are: F. N. Allen, Thistle Club; C. K. Bluett, Thistle Club; R. E. Haire, Rowing James MacDougall, Club; W. S. McDonald, Tillsonburg; R. B. Rice, Queen City Club, Toronto; W. J. Snelgrove, London Rowing Club, and Dr. Wiley of Brantford. This morning's games are liable to change the outlook entirely, as some of the rinks which are now leading have to meet some stiff competition. Yesterday's games proved to be ratiner one-sided in the majority of cases, the winning rinks running up a large score in a number of the games. The closest game of the day was provided by Thos. Loveless of the Rowing Club and Jas. Smiley of raris, in which the former won by one point, administering the first defeat of the tourney to the Paris rink. At the end of the eighth end Loveless was leading 15-0, but Smiley's quartet kept gaining until the score was tied at the sixteenth end, when Loveless took the lead and won a recent speech that something is lacking in baseball as it is played today. Murphy says it's the umpire. he means is that the umpire should be lacking, but isn't. Murphy contends that the American and National Leagues have made no efforts in recent years to improve the umpiring. "The umpires in the American League have been backed up for years whether they are right or wrong," says Murphy. "Now the National League is doing the same thing. It is easier for John K. Tener and Ban Johnson to sit back in their offices and back up their umpires than to ascertain if they are fitted by temperament to be judges of play." Mur-phy says that when Tener makes his tour of the league cities he makes his presence known instead of watching the umpires unknown to them.

MYSTERIOUS OCCURRENCE. WINGHAM, July 25.—Some citizens were aroused at an early hour this morning when they heard the crashing of glass in the new residence that Mr. Currie is putting up. They saw a stranger jump out from one of the roken windows. The police are investigating the case, as the house is yet not occupied. No other damage was done.

NEW HOTELKEEPER. WINGHAM, July 25 .- Owing to the lness of Mrs. H. Foiler, she and her husband have decided to live in their home in the town, and the King Edward Hotel will now be taken over by Mr. and Mrs. Barrett on Tuesday.

BUGS ARE BUSY. WINGHAM, July 25.—Potato bugs and other insects are creating havoc with the garden stuff in spite of the best attention. Some valuable dogs have been killed by automobiles recently. Mr. Murch lost a valuable Scotch collie.

Mr. Digman of the Baptist Church has recently purchased the residence of Mr. Sparling. Oats are beginning to head out. In spite of the straw being short they promise a good crop.

Some fields of buckwheat are now in full bloom, providing food for bees.

DUKE OF BRUNSWICK DRIVEN INSANE BY LOSS OF HIS MEN

London, July 26.—2:37 a.m.—The Copenhagen correspondent of the Express sends a story regarding the illness of the Duke of Brunswick, the German emperor's son-in-law, story, however, not being confirmed from any other source. "The Duke of Brunswick," says the prrespondent, "who has been the victim of profound melancholia since the early days of the war, is now declared to be hopelessly insane. His mental collapse was the result of a trying experience while commanding a detachment of German troops on the Russian frontier, when he witnessed the tragic fate of his men, all of whom were swallowed up in a treacherous marsh.'

The Duke of Brunswick, as Prince Ernest August of Cumberland, married Princess Victoria Luise, daughter of the German emperor, at Berlin in May, 1913. In March, 1915, a Copenhagen dispatch reported the duke to be suffering from a nervous breakdown, which was considered probably incurable.

HUNS GIVEN ETHER BEFORE THE ATTACK UPON AUSTRALIANS

Knife, Bayonet, Revolver and Grenade Used in the Fighting.

Paris, July 26.-4:40 p.m.-The fighting in the fortified viltage of Pozieres between the British and the Germans is described as follows by an officer who was wounded in the struggle. "Early Sunday morning, at the moment the signal for the attack was given, after a frightfully intense bombardment, the English infantry rushed forward to the entrance of the village, carried it brilliantly and occupied the first houses. At 11:30 o'clock the Germans counter-attacked. Their onset was extraordinary, doubtless because their courage had been stimulated by ether, as one could tell from the odor.

German Officer's Weapon. "Here the rifle played no part-the knife, bayonet, revolver and grenade sponsible for the death in Montreal of Germans employed a sort of longwere the only weapons used. over 250 children. At 3 o'clock today handled mace studded with nails, such the temperature registered 93, the as an apache might use, not a soldier. I saw a German officer using one of them on a wounded comrade, but as he was in the act of striking, a revolver shot laid him down beside his Intended victim

"In a ruined house, a German squad with a machine gun, was exterminated to the last man, with the bayonet, by an Australian party which had followed them into the house.

Both Officers Die. "I was present at an exciting duel between two officers—an English lieutenant, who was charging at the head of his men, and a Bavarian captain. The lieutenant struck the Bavarian a blow on the chest with his sword and was leaking caught fire. Two men named at the same instant he received a ball Thompson and Barrie were repairing from his adversary's revolver in the stomach. Disregarding his sufferings, the lieutenant had just strength enough left to deliver another blow. This proved mortal to the Bavarian. Unfortunately the lieutenant died shortly afterwards.

"Pressed by strong enemy forces the English had to retreat during the afternoon, but they strongly counterattacked, and at 7 o'clock were masters of three-quarters of the village. By last accounts, fighting was still going on in the northwest part of the village, to the advantage of the Allies."

DEATH OF DR. WALKER

Ingersoll Loses Physician of 50 Years' Residence.

INGERSOLL, July 25 .- The death o . I. R. Walker, for 50 years a medical practitioner here, occurred this after-noon in London. Dr. Walker was one of the early physicians here, and established a connection in the early days almost throughout the county. For the last five years he had been compelled, because of his advanced years, to gradually relinquish his practice, and ill-health, over a year ago, necessitated his retirement. He is survived by his wife, and one son, Dr. Harry Walker of

THE LOCAL MARKET

There was a small local market this orning; little was offered except hay and a load of oats. Hay remained steady at $9 to $10.50. Oats, which are very scarce, sold for $1.77 and $1.83 a cwt. Only one small load has been Sept. brought in in ten days. A few live hogs were sold, but the large supply of these has not started to come in yet. Today they sold at $11 a cwt. for selects, and $8.50 a cwt. for fat sows. Sept. 13 55 13 60 13 40 13 42 Wheat prices remained the same.

Raspberries were fairly plentiful, and showed a slight decrease in price, selling at 131/2c wholesale, and 15c retail. It is not expected that the market will be large now, as even last night's rain was not felt at any distance from the city, and the chief need of the raspberry crop is at present rain. Red cherries were a little more plentiful, out their were none of the black variety. The red sold for $1 a basket wholesale, and $1.10 retail.

Dairy prices remained fairly firm, out there was no market for new potatoes. At present the imported ones are cheaper than the home-grown ones, even when sold at store prices. Honey prices remained firm at 14c and 15c a 44s 9d. pound. Little of the product has been
