

Fuse Investigation Continues To-day at Ottawa Martial Law is Now Proclaimed in All Ireland Insurrection Spreading to the West of Island

MARTIAL LAW HAS BEEN DECLARED FOR WHOLE OF IRELAND

Fighting Continues in Streets of Dublin—Rebels Still Hold Important Public Buildings—Movement Spreading to the West—Redmond Denounces the Revolt.

BY SPECIAL WIRE TO THE COURIER.

LONDON, April 27, 3.20 p.m.—Martial law has been declared throughout all Ireland. Fighting is still going on in the streets of Dublin.

Proclamation of martial law throughout Ireland may indicate an extension of disturbances, details of which the rigid British censorship is withholding. Cable despatches yesterday and early to-day gave the impression that the British authorities had the situation in Ireland well in hand. Martial law, it was said, had been declared only in the city and county of Dublin. A few minor disturbances outside Dublin were reported, but they were described as of small importance.

ASQUITH'S STATEMENT

LONDON, April 27.—Premier Asquith announced in the House of Commons to-day that the rebels continue to hold important public buildings in Dublin, and that street encounters were still in progress.

The Premier said there would be a searching investigation into the cause of and responsibility for the outbreak.

Premier Asquith told the House the Irish situation still presented serious features to-day, and that there were indications of a spread of the movement to other parts of Ireland, especially in the west.

COLONEL CARNEGIE ON STAND; LETTERS READ OVER SHELL CONTRACTS

Messrs Lloyd Harris and T. A. Russell interviewed Gen. Bertram in Montreal About Fuses and Col. Carnegie Thought They Were Looking For Help From United States.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Ottawa, April 27.—When the Meredith-Duff commission enquiry into the Kite fuse charges reopened their investigation this morning, Colonel David Carnegie, ordinance expert of the Shell Committee, which let the contracts to two alleged "mushroom" American concerns, again took the stand and gave further details of steps he had taken to fill fuse orders given by the Canadian munitions organization by the British government.

L. W. Hellmuth, K. C., Toronto, Government counsel, read an offer to make fuses for the shell committee by John A. Harris, on behalf of the Manufacturing and Contracting Company. Mr. Harris offered to make fuses for $4.90 and $5.50 at the rate of 4,000 a day, providing his company received $5.75 for the first 20,000, to be paid in each 5,000 was finished.

Col. Carnegie then described how Sir Courtney Bennett, British Consul-General at New York, introduced him to a Mr. Dowler, who in turn introduced him to T. F. Regan, who had a connection with the Recording and Computing Manufacturing Company of Dayton. While in the United States at that time, May 24, 1915, he went over the plant of Burns and Bassick, at Bridgewater. Later he met Messrs Bassick, Youkam and Chance in reference to fuses. Col. Allison was not present. He also saw a Mr. Oliver, who was a sub-contractor on a Russian shell order, of the Canadian Car and Foundry Company, who undertook to attempt to get a promise from Curry to work on the British contract.

Mr. Hellmuth asked Col. Carnegie if the British consul-general discussed prices with him and the witness said the price favored was around $4.50. WOULD EXAMINE THEM Mr. Hellmuth mentioned that through negotiations with the Russell Motor Company in reference to fuses and contracts afterwards were not technically a subject germane to that investigation, they would be examined to see if they could throw any light as to prices on the contracts being inquired into.

A letter from T. A. Russell of the Russell Motor Company to General Bertram of the shell committee, was then read. In it Mr. Russell mentioned he had been in touch with American manufacturers about fuses and was anxious to know what volume of business could be expected, and what prices could be paid. This letter was written May 1. The answer to this letter was sent on May 10, the delay being caused, Col. Carnegie said, by his absence in New York. Col. Carnegie had an interview with Mr. Russell and Lloyd Harris in Ottawa and supplied them with all the information he could about fuse manufacturing. Messrs. Harris and Russell knew of the British fuse contract. General Bertram invited Mr. Russell in a letter to forward his fuse proposition and supplied him with blue prints of a time fuse. A conference between Messrs. Harris and Russell and Col. Carnegie and General Bertram, took place later in Montreal. Col. Carnegie's recollection of the conversations was that the Russell company was looking for assistance in the United States. Mr. Russell wrote later, asking the colonel if he could give him an introduction to the Scoville company in the United States or give any information which would lead to the expedition of the making of the much-needed fuses.

WANTED CANADIAN CONTRACT

Col. Carnegie said he thought the Russell Company had heard that the Scoville company was the only concern in the States, outside of the government plants, making an $5 fuse. He discussed a contract with Mr. Russell because the shell committee was anxious to get the fuses made in Canada. The committee had the order from the war office at a difficult time. Mr. Hellmuth asked Col. Carnegie to try and be brief in his explanations and further asked if prices were discussed with Mr. Russell. Col. Carnegie said: "Not at that time, but later."

On May 19, Col. Carnegie notified Mr. Regan that the shell committee could not consider giving him and his colleagues a contract because the price was not right, the figure finally asked for 80 fuses being $4.00 whereas Mr. Regan had originally spoken about the fuses for $3.50 or $3.75. Mr. Hellmuth then put in the time records a letter from General Bertram.

IRISH-AMERICAN EDITOR SAYS WASHINGTON GAVE WARNING OF THE GERMAN EXPEDITION

Thus Did President Wilson Repay the Irish For Putting Him in, He Says.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

New York, April 27.—That President Wilson's administration had knowledge of the plot to land munitions on the Irish coast through the Von Igel papers, and warned the British Government, which warning resulted in the capture of Sir Roger Casement and the German expedition, is the charge made by John Devoy, editor of the Gaelic American, says the Times. In an editorial which will appear Saturday, he will say in part: "The worst blow the insurgents received was the sinking of the German auxiliary cruiser with a load of arms and ammunition on board. The silence with which the first blow was delivered proved that the secret was well kept. There was no informer or British spy who was able to learn the plan of the insurgents, but that deficiency was supplied by the Washington Government, which paid the Irish handsomely for putting Woodrow Wilson in power and thus enabling him to do this timely service to his mother country, which is dearer to him than the one in which he was born."

Rumors in the Federal building have stated that the Von Igel papers seized in the Wall street office contained much material on the Irish situation. These reports persist, in spite of denials from officials connected with the department of justice. It was recalled yesterday to assistant United States District Attorney Wood that the newspapers had made a statement last week that evidence of German intrigues in Ireland was found among the documents now demanded back by the German embassy.

"I can't discuss the Von Igel papers in any way whatsoever," said Mr. Wood. "I will neither deny nor affirm any report concerning them." Captain O'Leary, head of the bureau of investigation here, denied yesterday that the Von Igel papers gave

Washington the least hint of what was to happen in Ireland this week. He admitted, however, that Ireland was mentioned in some of them. "There were just a few letters from crazy Irishmen," said Captain O'Leary, "such as you would pay no attention to under any circumstances—letters which said what a fine thing it would be for the world if Germany went over and made the Irish free."

HAS ASKED POPE TO INTERVENE

But Casement is a British Subject, and Nothing Can Be Done.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

New York, April 27.—A Rome despatch to the Sun says: An Irish prelate, an intimate friend of Sir Roger Casement, has sounded the Vatican with the object of ascertaining whether in the case, inevitable in the prelate's opinion of Sir Roger's conviction on a charge of treason, the Pope would intervene to avert the imposition of the death penalty. The prelate was informed that the Pope was powerless to intervene, since Sir Roger is a British subject. The Pope strongly deprecates the disorders in Dublin and has solicited full particulars from Cardinal Logue, primate of Ireland, whom he has requested to inform the Irish clergy that the Pope expects them to set an example of loyalty to the constituted authorities.

AIR ATTACKS.

PARIS, April 27.—A Havas despatch from Athens says it is reliably stated there that two Russian hydro-aeroplanes operated over Constantinople on Monday night.

Revolts in Bohemia

New York, April 27.—Fresh revolts have broken out in Prague, Pilsen, Tabor and other Bohemian cities, and many members of prominent Bohemian families, including Miss Alice Mazaryk, well-known in America for her social settlement work, have been executed by the government, according to advices said to have been received here yesterday by the Bohemian national Alliance from secret sources in Austria.

TWO BRANTFORD MEN WOUNDED

Two more Brantford men are in today's casualty list as wounded: Pte. Albert Edward Manning is reported as suffering from shell shock. He lived at 23 Edwards street, and worked as a laborer before enlisting. He is unmarried. Pte. Alfred Bertram Smith, a friend and neighbor of Pte. Manning, is also wounded.

SUBMARINE SINKS NEUTRAL BOAT

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, April 27.—2.05 p.m.—The sinking of a neutral vessel by gunfire from a German submarine was announced officially to-day. The Norwegian bark Carmanian was destroyed and a boat containing part of her crew capsized.

The official announcement is as follows: "The Norwegian bark Carmanian was sunk by gunfire from a German submarine on Tuesday, 5 miles off the west coast of Ireland. The crew took to boats. The submarine immediately left them. One boat capsized. The other, containing the captain and nine of the crew reached the coast. The men were rescued by cliff ladders."

SMALL SKIRMISHING NORTH OF THE AISNE

French Forces Repulsed German Patrols With Hand Grenades in That District—Only Artillery Duels at Verdun.

Paris, April 27.—French positions before Verdun were bombarded heavily last night, but the Germans made no strong infantry attacks. A small assault north of Fort Vaux was stopped immediately by French artillery, the War Office announced this afternoon.

Several German patrols were encountered north of the Aisne, and were repulsed in fighting with hand grenades. A German reconnoitering party east of Le Mesnil was dispersed.

A German aeroplane was brought down in Spincourt Wood by a French pilot. The text of the statement follows:

"North of the Aisne several German patrols were repulsed with hand grenades.

"In the region of Verdun there was an intense bombardment of the north of Vaux fort was immediately stopped by our curtains of fire.

"In Lorraine we dispersed a German reconnoitering party which attempted to reach our position to the east of Le Mesnil.

"On the rest of the front there was no event of importance to report beyond the usual cannonading."

CASEMENT CAST ADRIFT WHEN INTERCEPTED

Germans Put Him in Collapsible Boat and Left Him to His Fate.

BLEW UP THEIR BOAT Nearly Got Through Blockade by Using Dutch Flag.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

London, April 27.—Sir Roger Casement, it is reported, has expressed belief that the uprising in Ireland would be a failure on account of his capture. His leadership, he said, was necessary to the success of the movement.

Several members support the theory advanced by A. Conan Doyle a year ago that Sir Roger is insane. The Westminster Gazette advocates that he be disposed of by placing him in a lunatic asylum.

Sir Roger at present is occupying the cell in which Carl Hans Lody was held as a prisoner before his execution as a spy in the Tower of London in November, 1914. Lody was arrested in Killarney, near where Sir Roger was captured.

It is learned that Casement went on board the German submarine in Kiel harbor about April 14, which is near the date on which a report was circulated that he had been arrested in Germany. The submarine was accompanied by a tramp steamer, manned by twenty picked men from the German navy and carrying a cargo of twenty thousand rifles, machine guns and ammunition bound for Ireland.

The steamer, flying the Dutch flag and with the submarine proceeding ashore in close attendance, crept through the Catergog Bogus Bay, up the coast of Norway and thence north and west, leaving the Orkney, Shetland and Faerie Islands far to the north.

Just as the German Captain was congratulating himself upon eluding the British patrol boat surprised as seeing a Dutch trader so far from the North Sea, intercepted the tramp but found her papers regular. Even her crew spoke English, expected sympathy for the allies and the hope that the patrol boat would not encounter a submarine. All this time the German submarine accompanying the tramp vessel hoisted the German flag and the boat was sighted.

After re-shaping the course of the expedition and while creeping along the north coast of Ireland, another British patrol boat was sighted. The British fired a shot across the bow of the tramp and signalled to the effect that they were about to then order the accompany the patrol boat, BUT NOT TWICE.

After steaming for some distance the tramp vessel hoisted the German flag and was sunk by her own crew in accordance with instructions given before leaving Germany. The patrol boat sent an armed crew to rescue the Germans who then confessed their mission.

The patrol also found a collapsible boat in which were Sir Roger Casement and another man. Sir Roger said that the submarine commander before leaving Kiel received orders that, whatever befell the expedition, the presence of Casement was no longer desired in Germany and that when the plans miscarried Casement was placed in the boat and left to his fate.

THE CAMPAIGN.

To inaugurate the opening of the recruiting campaign of the battalion, an excellent programme of music, boxing and wrestling has been arranged for Saturday evening's sporting rally.

WESTINGHOUSE STRIKE GROWING

Fifteen Hundred Workers Added To-day to Number Already Out.

Pittsburgh, April 27.—Fifteen hundred workers were added to the unemployed of the Westinghouse Companies to-day when notices were posted at the Shady-side plant of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company saying the shop had been closed to prevent "any chance to employees." This practically completes the tie-up of the various factories, in proportion to the number of workmen in each struck for an eight hour day.

Three foreign strikers were arrested at Wilmerding and fined $50 for disorderly conduct, but in East Pittsburgh very few strikers were on the streets with the exception of the ticket lines. The number of guards at the electric plant was increased and it was said that one hundred additional railroad officials were on the way from the east.

Amsterdam, Holland, April 27.—In addition to the new passport restrictions which have just come into force in Germany, it is reported that the government intends to introduce the Bertillon system of recording finger prints, which presumably will apply to all frontiers.

The Situation.

Big German guns have been busily engaged bombarding Avocourt wood and the French trenches northwest of Verdun, and the expectation is that another big infantry attack is to be launched in this region.

It appears that twenty German warships were engaged in the shelling of Lowestoft, and that Yarmouth was also attacked. The official reports give a surprisingly small account of damage and loss of life.

That there should have been so little in each case seems almost incredible. It was most decidedly a hurry call, and the visitors knew enough to make them get away before British vessels of their own calibre could reach the scene.

The cutting of the wires may account for the meagre nature of the details with reference to the uprising in Dublin, and added to this the Government reports are of a most terse nature.

It is announced that thus far some seven thousand printers have enlisted for the front in Great Britain. They should know how to handle the Hun type.

Villa most distinctly refuses to stay dead. Uncle Sam's grave concern with regard to the troops who are after him, is the only thing of that nature at present on the horizon.

An Oregon woman, in a suit for divorce, testified that a 75 cent hat was all that her husband had allowed her in five years. Then he made her split wood, and she decided to split on him.

Sir Roger Casement and the other poor, deluded fools, are said to have decided on their uprising—in order to "free Ireland." Freedom under Hun rule! Might as well expect love taps from a ferocious tiger.

The Toronto Globe is quite sure that the first day's testimony in the fuse enquiry has served to give the lie direct to a statement made in the House of Commons by Premier Borden. Thus the life-long record of Sir Robert, for honor and probity, is brought to the ground with one fell swoop.

In the matter of political opponents, the leading Grit organ has a manner which needs fumigating.

Ed Lewis, an Elmira, N.Y., inventor, says he can make a motor perform the same function as gasoline with one ounce of sulphuric acid to each gallon of water.

The Next Presidential Election.

Every four years our neighbors have an election for President, and they are now going through the preliminaries for another such event. There can be no question that Wilson will again be the choice of the Democrats.

ics, while at the same time still standing in with the element who previously admired him for keeping the country out of hostilities.

At the same time, there still exists a lot of feeling over the fact that he should have started an expedition so promptly after Villa, while temporizing with the bigger sinner, for the sinking of the Lusitania was one of the most deliberate pieces of murderous devilry on record.

It begins to look more and more as if Roosevelt would be his opponent. Ex-Presidents usually sink into innocuous desuetude, or something like that, but not so Teddy. He is an individual force to be reckoned with all the time, whether in or out of office, and his strictures upon the failure of the Washington executive to at once take a firm and active stand against Germany, have been couched in vitriolic terms right from the commencement.

A lot of his own side dislike him because of the "Bull Moose" or "Progressive" movement which he inaugurated in 1912 to the undoing of his own party, but he is today the one man calculated to unite the Bull Moose and the stand pat Republican elements.

Root has been spoken of, but he wouldn't have the ghost of a show, and also Justice Hughes, of the Supreme Court, who is said to have a very keen idea that without Roosevelt's backing he would have a very hard row to hoe.

As that worthy is clearly more determined to back himself than anyone else, he will probably get there for the nomination and also for another term, as the chances are that Wilson will not be sustained.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

As a delicate compliment to the heroic French, all nature will soon be putting on a Verdun hue.

April 23rd was the date fixed on by the Kaiser for the capture of Verdun. That is another of the things which will not fall for him.

It is announced that thus far some seven thousand printers have enlisted for the front in Great Britain. They should know how to handle the Hun type.

BOMBARDMENT OF YARMOUTH AND LOWESTOFT WAS VERY VIOLENT, ALTHOUGH BRIEF

Considered Remarkable That Casualties Were Not Larger--Firing Started a Little After Four in the Morning.

London, April 27.—Reports from Lowestoft and Yarmouth state that the bombardment of those resorts by a German squadron on Tuesday morning, although brief, was of the most violent character, and that the casualties were not larger is regarded as remarkable.

At Lowestoft, shortly after four a.m., the boom of a big gun was heard from seaward. It was followed by a succession of crashes as shells burst in all directions over the town. This in turn was followed by a broadside from four guns. It was this that did the most mischief. One house was split in half and collapsed, causing the death of a man. A shell exploded on the roof of a cottage and demolished it, killing a man, his wife and their little child.

Most of the inhabitants were asleep when the cannonade opened. Suddenly awakened they rushed for their downstairs rooms or sought other shelter. The bombardment lasted fifteen minutes.

MILITARY WEDDING

Paris, April 27.—A pretty military wedding was solemnized in St. James Church at one o'clock yesterday afternoon when Rev. J. C. Seron-Adams officiated in holy wedlock Elizabeth Wildora (Bessie), third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jenner, Banfield street to Pte. William G. Uren, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Uren, Miss Clara Stewart, organist of the church played the wedding march.

The bride who was given away by her father looked sweet and girlish in her wedding gown of white satin, nixon and lace trimming, with a veil and wreath of lilies of the valley and carrying a regulation bouquet of roses and valley lilies. The bridegroom was in a dainty dress of pale blue silk with picture hat, and carried white carnations, while the bride's little sister Dimples, made a dainty flower girl dressed in pink silk and carrying a basket of pink carnations. Pte. Chas. Walton of Avr, was groomsmen. After the wedding ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Jenner held a reception at their residence, Banfield street, where a sumptuous dinner was served. Later the happy couple left for a wedding trip to St. Catharines, and points east. The bride wore a suit of navy blue serge and white hat. Many beautiful presents were received showing the high esteem in which the bride was held. The groom's present to the bride was a handsome pearl necklace to the bridesmaid a brooch, and to the little flower girl, a gold bracelet. Miss Stewart the organist, was also given a very pretty brooch, and the groomsmen a regimental money belt. Upon their return Pte. and Mrs. Uren will reside on Banfield street for a short time.

Arrangements have been made by the members of Grand River Lodge of Oddfellows to attend church anniversary services at Brantford next Sunday. Paris members of the Encampment will also be there.

The wedding will take place in St. James church on May 6th of the 12th Battalion here, to Miss Lillian Weston, one of our Paris belles. The affair will take the form of a military function.

The many friends of Mrs. Ed. Likens, will regret to hear that she had the misfortune to fall and sprain her ankle severely.

Much sympathy is extended to Mrs. Ed. Muma, Walnut street, in the death of her brother, Mr. W. W. Wiber of Detroit. Mrs. Muma was in Detroit attending the funeral which was held on Monday.

A quiet but pretty wedding took place yesterday afternoon at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. C. C. Hutton, Washington street, when her eldest daughter, Dora Constantine, was united in marriage to Mr. Geoffrey Turner of Brantford, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Turner, of Paris. The bride looked sweet in her wedding gown of cream silk and lace trimmings, with tulle veil and carrying a bouquet of cream roses. Miss Bella Hutton, sister of the bride, played Mendelssohn's wedding march. Rev. Mr. Brandon of the Methodist church, officiated. After the wedding ceremony, the guests adjourned to the dining room, where a dainty repast was served. The table decorations being pink carnations. Later Mr. and Mrs. Turner left on a short wedding trip, the bride wearing a navy blue serge suit with smart hat to match. On their return they will reside on St. Paul's Avenue, Brantford, where the bride will be at home to her many friends.

At Yarmouth, according to a local newspaper, no one was injured, despite the terrific shelling which the town received. The most damage was done in the south-end of the place, where a large block of fishing buildings was smashed by shells or shrapnel and burned out. Various other buildings, including the corporation electricity stations, were peppered by shell fragments.

After the bombardment subsided, hundreds of children began hunting for these fragments to sell as souvenirs. At neither town was there any panic.

San Francisco Exposition's receipts totaled $12,524,000, of which $4,715,233.05 came from gate receipts.

To prove his assertion that he would die for her, Joseph Benton, of Kingston, N.C., placed a revolver to his head, fired and dropped dead while Miss Lorena Elmore, who had rejected him, looked on.

BEHIND IN OTHER ORDERS. Col. Carnegie explained that the companies Mr. Regan represented were much behind in the Russian orders they had taken.

On May 25 the War Office cabled a report that the shell committee had let an order for 3,000,000 to an agent in the United States who was trying to sub-let to munitions concerns. The War Office complained that this might interfere with the carrying out of existing contracts and contended that any orders let to the United States companies must be placed through Morgan and Company.

The same day General Bertram telegraphed Mr. Bassick reducing his fuse contract to 2,500,000 and urging speed in making the fuses.

Colonel Carnegie explained the reduction by stating that Dr. Harris' contract was increased from 2,000,000 to 2,500,000. This concern's price was also $4.25 per fuse. This was done because the Harris firm was anxious to close options on a large amount of machinery.

A HAMILTON WOMAN TALKS ABOUT HUSBAND

Still another and another of Hamilton's people in all walks of life are publicly praising Plantan, and the well known character of those recommending Plantan precludes a doubt; but that in so doing they are actuated only by the desire to help others.

To say that I am grateful does not convey my true feeling towards Plantan. Nothing gave my husband relief from catarrh of the stomach until he began to take this medicine. It has simply worked like a charm."

So states Mrs. N. B. Doudridge, of Emerald street.

From every part of the city of Brantford, and in fact from all over the country, people are coming in o'Boles' drug store to get this famous preparation and are reporting most remarkable results from its use.

Plantan, the new tonic, invigorant, and vitalizer, has proven to be nature's greatest assistant in restoring to normal health those who are sickly and rundown. And in the short time that this celebrated remedy has been on the market it has brightened the lives of hundreds.

In instances of catarrh of the mucous membranes, and stomach, liver and kidney troubles, Plantan is most effective in its great curative powers. Each day at Boles' drug store there is a representative, who is direct from the laboratory where Plantan is made, explaining it.

Immigration Figures

Montreal, April 27.-An interesting phase of recent immigration into western Canada from the United States during the past five months has been the very material increase in settlers' effects for a period of three months. The cash value of these shows an increase of $480,000 during the week ending April 18th. The C.P.R. report immigration of 473 persons into Western Canada from the United States as compared with 304 last year. Of these 137 were farmers, and 137 laborers. FIELD KITCHEN OF THE 125TH

Is of Splendid Service, and Prepares Food Very Quickly.

ANOTHER ONE IS REQUIRED

One of the many beneficial features of the McClary Field Kitchen recently obtained by the 125th Battalion, was noted this morning. Water which was boiled yesterday afternoon was placed in Thermos tanks attached to the kitchen, and at 9:30 this morning after standing in the open air for over 18 hours, was found still hot. The kitchen is able to carry and cook enough provisions to feed 250 men for one day, or to supply a meal to 1,000 men. In the ovens, 250 pounds of meat can be cooked at one time. Ample space is provided for the carrying of such articles as tea, coffee, sugar, etc., as well as knives and hatchets for carving. One of these kitchens is of invaluable advantage to the battalion but it is desired to obtain a second before leaving for the camp. The kitchen is now on view at the battalion headquarters.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT!

Next week we will be forced to announce a new price for Tip Top made-to-measure clothes.

We still have plenty of woolens, notwithstanding the present scarcity due to war conditions, but the greatly increased cost of the production of our made-to-measure clothes compels us to ask a slight advance on and after Monday, May 1st.

We are making the announcement that our present price of $14 will only prevail for two days (Friday and Saturday) because we believe it is only fair to give our large following of customers who intended to order new clothes this Spring the chance to do so at the old price if they wish to.

We wish to state frankly, however, that there is no longer any profit for us at the $14 price.

Ever since the war commenced, we have been telling our customers that we had arranged for our supply of woolens, and therefore would not advance our price during the war unless we absolutely had to. This promise we have carried out--carried it out in face of the fact that other tailors all over Canada and the United States have advanced prices, and many of our own directors were urging us to do the same months ago.

The scarcity of labor, the higher wages, and general increased cost of production are, however, conditions we did not anticipate, and over which we have no control. They have been forced upon us, and as a consequence we have no choice but to ask our customers a slightly higher price, so that we may maintain our same standard quality.

Please note that this announcement will not appear again, and we are giving a fair opportunity to those who wish to take advantage of the old price of $14 to do so on Friday and Saturday of this week.

The same quality of tailoring, the same high-class woolens, the same service, the same guarantee of perfect satisfaction or money back.

Yours faithfully,

HORSE FALLS 40 FEET.
One of the most sensational scenes in "The Campbells Are Coming," the four-act Universal photoplay, is the flight of the lone scout from Cawnpore to Lucknow. In a dozen sabre battles on horseback he brings his native opponents crashing to the ground. As he and his horse are picking their way across a narrow rope and board bridge a native cuts the ropes and the rider's horse plunges forty feet to the bottom of the gully. The scout makes his way across the rope hand over hand and finally reaches Lucknow, where he engages in the stirring battle between the 7,000 natives and Scotch Highlanders.

"The Campbells Are Coming" will be shown at the Colonial Theatre tonight, Friday and Saturday.

"A PAIR OF SIXES."

It is only a few days ago when it was the custom of theatrical managers to keep their big dramatic successes in New York, Chicago and before sending them "on the road" to the smaller towns, when they were presented by companies of inferior merit. Very often they had become by this delay stale to the theatregoers of the smaller towns before the plays reached them. To-day all this is changed. In order to reap the reward of success, the successful plays must be presented while the interest is still strong and keen in the larger cities. The outside public is better informed of theatrical happenings in New York and other centres, and wants the play while it is still in the height of its success. While it is naturally impossible to send out the original company, the other companies must be of a high standard of excellence to compel the interest of the smaller towns. No manager in the business to-day has been keener to respond to the demands of this public than H. H. Frazee, the fortunate producer of "A Pair of Sixes," the biggest farce hit of the century, which will be seen at the Grand Opera House, Saturday, April 29th, matinee and night.

AT THE COLONIAL
In addition to the big photo play feature "The Campbells are Coming" at the Colonial the last half of this week, the management have secured a clever vaudeville turn in the "Novelty Trio." This is a novelty and comedy musical act, and rounds out a perfect two hours of entertainment. The "Campbells are Coming" is undoubtedly one of the finest military reels ever shown here, and is the only picture in which Canadian soldiers are portrayed.

NEUTRAL NATIONS CAN IMPORT ONLY NORMAL AMOUNT OF SUPPLIES

If Imports Beyond That, Presumption is That Excess is Going to the Enemy, and Hence It is Contraband—Such is British Contention Laid Down in Note to United States.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

London, April 27.—The contents of the British note replying to the protest of the American Government against interferences with the neutral trade, which asserts the right of Great Britain to regulate the admission to a neutral country of goods evidently destined for the enemy, caused little surprise in diplomatic and legal circles here as its conclusions had been discounted by recent decisions of the prize tribunals. A summary of the views of the members of these circles may be expressed as follows:

They do not believe the controversy will be carried much further during the progress of the war as no vital concessions have been made by either side since the first note was written. Therefore the shippers of detained cargoes who can afford the delay will await the conclusion of the war to have their cases settled by an international tribunal in the belief that such a court will grant them full damages. It is expected that the United States Government soon will send two notes to Great Britain, one on the detention of the mails and the other on the removal of Austrians and Germans from the Steamship China.

The British Government has consented to the purchase of the Wagner steamships on the condition that the buyers lease the vessels on a time charter to an English company.

A final effort will be made to settle the Wilhelmina case without submitting the question to Baron Mersey. The foreign office is expected to submit to Ambassador Page to-day its terms in this case.

The British reply to the American note, protesting against the British blockade on shipments of goods to neutral countries, contended that it is within the spirit of international law to limit imports into a neutral country of goods that might be of use to Germany and Austria, to the amount normally consumed by the neutrals. It argued that the right to search vessels approaching the neutral country is an incident to this regulation.

The Wagner steamships alluded to are evidently those of the American Transatlantic Company of which Richard G. Wagner is president. These vessels were admitted to American registry in July, 1915, but were placed on the British black list on suspicion that they were controlled by German capital. Several of the vessels were seized by the British Government and this action was the cause of a protest by Ambassador Page on behalf of the United States. The cargo of the American steamship Wilhelmina which sailed from New York for Hamburg with food in January, 1915, was seized by the British authorities. Baron Mersey was appointed arbitrator to fix the amount to be paid to the owners.

The Earl of Limerick arrived on his first trip to America on the American liner St. Louis to visit his daughter, who is the wife of James Cox Brady, of 54 Wall street, New York.

ECONOMY IS WELL MANIFESTED IN SAVING OF SCRAPS AT THE FRONT

Everything Discarded as Useless is Gathered Up and Returned to the Bases, Where They Are Either Repaired or Sold For Junk.

ON THE BRITISH FRONT, FRANCE, APRIL 27.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—The question of what becomes of the vast number of broken implements of warfare, and the discarded clothing and shoes that are commonly supposed to strew the battlefields where great armies are operating, may be answered, so far as the British Expeditionary Force is concerned, by a visit to one of the bases of the British army. All these things, from the big gun which has been shattered by a shell, to the smallest part of Tom's Atkins' personal equipment which has been broken or lost, are gathered up and returned to one of the bases where they are repaired if possible. If they cannot be mended such parts as are intact are used in renewing other implements or articles of the same kind, and in event that they are hopelessly broken or torn they are sold as scrap metal.

THIRD RAID IN THREE DAYS

London, Thursday, April 27.—Zeppelins made their third raid last (Wednesday) night on the English coast within three days. German airships are reported to have appeared over Kent about 10.30 last night, but on account of a mist blanketing the east coast it is believed that they withdrew without dropping many bombs. The War Office issued the following official statement concerning the raid: 'Zeppelins were reported to have appeared over the east coast of Kent at 10.30 on Wednesday night. No reports of their penetration far inland have been received up to 2 a.m. Because of a mist in East Kent it is probable that they retreated before midnight. It is reported that one bomb dropped by the Zeppelins fell into the sea.'

END OF FIRST DAY OF SHELL INVESTIGATION; LETTER FROM BRITISH AGENT TO CARNEGIE

Lt.-Col. David Carnegie on the Stand the Most of the Day—Mr. Carvell Sharply Rebuked by Sir William Meredith For Interruptions.

Ottawa, April 27.—Reference to a request by Sir Courtney Bennett, British Consul-General in New York that no shell fuse contracts be signed without a conference being first held with him by the Canadian Shell Committee representative, was the chief development of interest in the first day's work of the Meredith-Duff Commission investigating the Kyte charges.

It was stated by Lieut.-Col. David Carnegie, ordinance advisor to the Shell Commission, that on May 13 of last year while at New York, he had received a letter from the British Consul, Sir Courtney Bennett, asking that no contracts for time fuses be signed until the representative of the Shell Committee had consulted him, adding, "This is very important in the interests of Canada." Just what this letter meant has not yet been shown. An explanation regarding it will be forthcoming to-day.

Another rather striking feature of a day devoted to detail work was furnished by Mr. Carvell, M.P., who took leading part in making the charges against Sir Sam Hughes, and is acting as assistant counsel in support of them. Lieut.-Col. Carnegie was describing his visit to New York and showing that he had had a very anxious time there with regard to these contracts. Mr. Carvell apparently did not like the manner in which the witness was giving his evidence, and volunteered directions. He was at once sharply checked by Sir William Meredith, who said:

"Do not interrupt the witness. If you have any objection to make to the evidence you must address the commission."

This ended the interruption, and

A SCHOOL FOR SNIPERS

British Train Sharpshooters How to Pick Off the Enemy.

TAUGHT TO CONCEAL LOOPHOLES

The Science of Trench Building Also Demonstrated Behind the Lines.

On the British Front, Flanders, April 27 (correspondence of The Associated Press)—The spectacle of officers and soldiers playing at war within gunshot of operations which form a part of the greatest conflict in history might seem to be an unusual sight, yet this is actually taking place daily back of the British lines.

A correspondent of The Associated Press visited two schools of instruction where, already trained in the art of warfare, were seriously conducting mimic battles for the experimental purposes within gunshot of the front lines, which were causing death and destruction towards the front.

One of these schools was for the training of snipers. The men in this school are not brought together to learn sharpshooting for they are all experts. Their business is to become familiar with methods of concealing trench loopholes so that the German cannot see them, and to learn to distinguish loopholes along the German lines.

At one point a line of trenches was laid out just as though ready for battle. Through the top of the trenches facing imaginary German lines were scores of loopholes of every size and description, each one concealed in a different way. Unique methods had been adopted in many cases to render these holes invisible to the German eye and so well had they succeeded that an expert concealed in front of the trench, explaining the system, often had to search for some time before he could find the openings.

At this school any new ideas pertaining to this method of warfare are experimented with and each man learns numerous ways of protecting himself from the German fire. This is considered a most important matter, for the discovery by an opponent sharpshooter of a loophole through which a man is firing means almost sure death.

At another point a group of men were firing from behind sand bags at imaginary German loopholes. A considerable distance away, through various kinds were displayed across the field and at these apertures an occasional dummy head would appear, to be shot away instantly by alert snipers.

When a man has perfected himself in the art of sniping he is sent along to the front line trenches or wherever needed. Next to sniping is the instruction of snipers, but all receive the benefit of the instruction given in them.

The second school was one for experimenting in the building of trenches. Here all sorts of ideas relating to the construction of trenches are put into effect, as any man who has a scheme for the improvement of trench can have his plan executed. Trenches of all descriptions are carefully laid out, dugouts are built and machine gun positions are constructed.

The farmers are also experimented with to discover which is the most effective.

The farmers are late starting seeding owing to the dampness of the ground.
The Rev. Mr. Volick held Easter services in the Etonia Church on Sunday. His subject was the resurrection of Christ. The church was well attended, many old members and friends present. The choir rendered some high class music; the quartette composed of Mrs. Henderson, Mr. George Kneil, Mr. John Elms and his daughter, Miss Alice, rendered two selections, one entitled "Then when He burst the Bonds of Death," being very beautifully given. Foliage adorned the pulpit, and the services was most delightful all through.

Mentioned in Despatches

Dr. Alfred Thompson, M.P., for the Yukon, has just been gazetted a lieutenant-colonel and has been assigned for duty to the Military Hospital Committee which has charge of all the soldiers' convalescent homes and hospitals in Canada. Dr. Thompson was born in Hants County, N. S., in 1869, and educated at Dalhousie. He went to the Klondike in the gold rush of 1899 and was elected to the House of Commons for Yukon in 1904 and again in 1905. He is regarded as an authority on the far North.

"Big Jim" McDermott, as he was known to the New York financial world, has just died. McDermott was the doorman for the Morgans, and his name is familiar to the New York Croesus. He was actually taking place daily back of the British lines.

Mr. Henry Birks, who gave $10,000 to the Overseas Army Work of the Young Men's Christian Association, is one of the outstanding philanthropists of the country as well as being one of the nation's great merchant princes. Mr. Birks was born in the city of Montreal over seventy-five years ago, and in the half century in which he has been in business for himself he has built up the biggest jewelry business in Canada. Mr. Birks has never sought civic or political honors, but is ready with purse and pen to support any and every worthy cause, national, civic, religious, educational or philanthropic. In Y. M. C. A. and church work he is probably the largest individual giver in the Dominion.

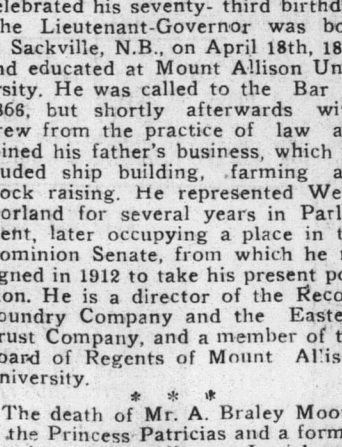

Marquis Garroni—Many diplomatic heads are being lopped off as a result of the present war. The latest ambassador to be dismissed is Senator Marquis Garroni, Italian Ambassador to Turkey. The cause of his dismissal is attributed to the fact that he knew all the intrigues of Germany and Austria and that he failed to notify his sovereign or his government of what was taking place. It now transpires that he was told by the German and Austrian ambassadors at Constantinople of the proposed note to Serbia some eight days before it was actually forwarded to the Turkish government. The dismissed ambassador can give it that he was on terms of intimacy with the German and Austrian ambassadors and that his country was at that time a member of the Triple Alliance he had no other thought than that his own country knew all about the proceedings and would act with Germany and Austria in the coercion of Serbia. His dismissal was caused by Baron Sonnino, Italian Minister of Foreign Affairs.

John Hays Hammond, Jr., promises to be as famous in his way as his father, who is one of the world's best known mining men. Young Hammond himself has actually invented the United States Government an invention for the wireless control of torpedoes. This invention, it is said, will revolutionize submarine warfare and make it impossible for a submarine to hide from attack. Hammond, junior, was born in California in 1888 and educated at Yale. The United States Government paid him $750,000 for his radio torpedo.

Robert Gray—A case of true heroism comes from the United States. A young American named Robert Gray has just made the supreme sacrifice, giving his life in a truly unselfish manner. The young soldier was on duty in the trenches when wounded men from the firing line were being carried through them to the field hospital in the rear. The trenches were so narrow that there was not room enough for the stretcher bearers to pass and the officer in command called for volunteers to stand out and make room. Young Gray was the first man to volunteer, stepping out on a parapet only to be shot down dead. Previous to this he had made an enviable reputation for himself as a fearless, conscientious soldier.

The Hon. Josiah Wood, Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick, recently celebrated his seventy-third birthday. The Lieutenant-Governor was born at Sackville, N.B., on April 18th, 1843, and educated at Mount Allison University. He was called to the Bar in 1866, but shortly afterwards withdrew from the practice of law and joined his father's business, which included ship building, farming and stock raising. He represented Westmorland for several years in Parliament, later occupying a place in the Dominion Senate, from which he resigned in 1912 to take his present position. He is a director of the Record Foundry Company and the Eastern Trust Company, and a member of the Board of Regents of Mount Allison University.

A BILL FOR COMPLETE DISARMAMENT

Wants to Throw Overboard Army and Navy.

Christiania, Norway, April 27.—Complete disarmament for Norway is called for in a bill which has been introduced in parliament by the Socialist faction of that body. This measure asks the government to frame and pass as soon as possible a resolution or bill providing for the abandonment of the whole army and navy. It also asks that all treaties between Norway and other countries, which might possibly be a hindrance to complete disarmament, be either altered or replaced by new treaties, and that treaties providing for arbitration in all controversial questions be secured with all foreign nations.

This bill is in accordance with the program of the Norwegian Socialist party, which during the last election advocated disarmament irrespective of whether other nations would disarm or not. Since the Socialists control only one third of the Assembly the bill now pending will not be passed this session, but if they should get control of parliament at the next election, a bill of this nature undoubtedly would be passed and become a law.

Canning Industry is Overstocked

Burford Factory May Not Run at All This Season.

The Canning industry is rather up against it these days on account of over-production. The war has stopped railroad construction, interfered with lumbering, camps, etc. which were big buyers. It is not likely the Burford factory will operate this year. Another reason for the overstocking is that canning factories buy from farmers on a blanket contract, taking all the production of a certain acreage. Exceptional crops have resulted in immense quantities being bought.

The threatened suspension of work refers of course, only to canning of such articles as peas, corn, tomatoes, etc. Meats and kindred foods which are available for army use, are of course in big demand.

IMITATING PAST GREAT ONES

German Expeditions Follow Pattern of Former Great Captains.

Paris, April 27 (cable to The New York Sun)—The Paris press describes the Irish affair as a new proof of what is termed "Germany's poor psychological powers." The Rappell says:

"The strain of romanticism that enters into most of the German plans is often suggested by history. Thus they tried to imitate Napoleon by initiating an Egyptian campaign. Now they are imitating Lazzare, Carnot, Hoche and Wolfstone."

"I cannot allow the anniversary of the second Battle of Ypres to pass without admiring the gallantry of the Canadian troops and my high appreciation of the invaluable assistance they rendered.

"Field Marshal Viscount French."

To this Sir Robert Borden sent the following reply: "The people of Canada appreciate most deeply your message of yesterday. On their behalf I send warmest thanks. We are assured that the Canadian expeditionary forces will always maintain the splendid traditions so firmly established a year ago."

IRISH REVOLT FAULT OF THE GOVERNMENT

Knew of Rebel Force Being Armed, Yet It Did Nothing.

PRESS KNEW BUT COULD NOT SPEAK
Mr. Birrell Appears to Come Out of Affair With Lowered Prestige.

By Special Wire to the Times.
London, April 27.—"The revolt in Ireland is the natural result of the government's policy in Ireland," says the Daily Mail. "Augustine Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, and Premier Asquith still and allow the rebel force to be enrolled and armed. They did not move hand or foot against it. On March 17, 1,600 Irish volunteers paraded in Dublin with rifles, and nobody stopped or challenged them."

"Mr. Birrell never asked why the volunteers existed. He knew it but rather to obstruct the Imperial forces. On December 10, he declared, 'evidence of their disloyalty is voluminous,' yet he did nothing. 'If he had any policy other than merely drifting, it was to turn a blind eye to the disloyal movement. The government persuaded itself that the treason could be overcome by resolutely looking the other way. The government's wait and see policy was complicated by a hide-the-truth policy."

PRESS WAS MUZZLED.
"If the newspapers had been permitted to publish information which things could not have happened. The Irish authorities would have been aroused from their sleeping sickness by the publication of news that something very exceptional was occurring. They might have taken ordinary precautions, but the press was muzzled. It is proof of the gross negligence and obtuseness when four or five parts of a great city can be seized by comparatively a small number of armed men."

"This colossal blunder follows upon and surpasses all other blunders of the war. How much longer is the nation prepared to drift under the domination of leaders who refuse to lead?"
WORSE THAN REPORTED.
The Daily Express says that Augustine Birrell's strange hesitation in informing the House of Commons of the Irish revolt, makes it natural to imagine the situation is worse than officially reported. It is the duty of the government, says the Express, frankly to admit the truth that stern measures must be adopted against the "crass folly of the rebels," and their possibly good intentions cannot be permitted to save them from the consequences of their crime.

The Daily Chronicle says: "What is more dreaded now is that even the order speedily restored may be at the cost of bloodshed which rankle for generations. One cannot help hearing reaction against the prospects of constitutional home rule."
The Times says: "The whole remarkable business is a sorry comment upon the complete failure of Mr. Birrell to maintain respect for law and order during the nine years of his weak, callous administration. Such are the fruits of truckling to sedition and making light of contempt for law. This is not the moment for calling to account what is the most responsible for Irish affairs. At present it is the duty of all to insist upon firm measures to over-awe sedition and suppress the organization of the Sinn Feinists."
Sir Roger Casement's invasion appears to have been the merest opera bouffe, the Times adds, the character of which will be thoroughly appreciated in Ireland. The paper suggests that the Germans had grown tired of him and his boasts and insisted that he redeem his promises.

AN EYE ON AMERICA
"The Germans may have calculated," continued the Times, "that the rising in Ireland would influence certain kinds of American opinion in their favor at a time when relations with the United States are critical. German societies and Irish societies in America have been working hand-in-glove to prejudice opinion against Great Britain. They doubtless will exert themselves now about Ireland's struggle for freedom. If the cabinet tries to hush up any part of the truth or confine the intelligence reaching America to official communications, doled out by themselves, the German and Irish agencies in the United States, will have a free field for their malign activities; but if the government allows responsible, competent American correspondents to investigate matters freely and unlettered, we are confident the Germans will find they have misunderstood real American opinion."
