KERENSKY DELIVERS A WARNING

Russ Premier, Speaking Before Democratic Congress Defends His Policy.

BOLSHEVIKI NOISY Cheer Insurrection While German Fleet Moves Up the Baltic.

PREMIER SUPPORTED High Praise To Second Women's Regiment at Front.

Petrograd, Thursday, Sept. 27.—Premier Kerensky addressed the Democratic Congress at its first session today in the Municipal Theatre, receiving applause which came principally from the less radical groups of the delegates. He spoke in forceful style with the air of challenging his opponents. The address was largely a defense of the acts of the Government under his premiership. M. Kerensky was interrupted frequently by shouts from one group and another which led at times to altercations lasting several minutes. At one point, when the speaker was at the height of his indignation, the delegates of the Soldiers' and Workmen's Delegates of Helsingfors to oppose the re-opening of the Finnish diet, although the government had forbidden it, the Bolsheviki burst into loud cheers. "Cheer, my friends, if you will," said M. Kerensky, when he was able to make himself heard. "But bear in mind that a German fleet is moving up the Baltic." The delegates of the right jeered the Bolsheviki asking them why they did not cheer the premier's remark, inasmuch as the Germans were their friends.

First Session Petrograd, Sept. 27.—The Democratic Congress held its first session this evening in the Municipal Theatre, 1,200 delegates from all parts of Russia being in attendance. All the members of the provisional government, headed by Premier Kerensky, were present. Several members of the diplomatic corps occupied a special box. N. C. Tschede, president of the Council of Soldiers' and Workmen's Delegates, in opening the conference explained that the extremely grave situation of the country necessitated the constitution of a strong revolutionary power responsible to all elements. M. Avksentiev, president of the Council of Peasants' Delegates, said that the moment had arrived for democracy to gather all its political wisdom to save the conquests of the revolution, which were threatened with irreparable catastrophe, if not safeguarded now. Women Praised. Petrograd, Sept. 28.—An army order issued today gives high praise to the second women's fighting detachment at the front. The order says the women soldiers arrived at a time of great difficulty, owing to the destruction of roads by rains and confusion caused by the retreating demoralized troops. Nevertheless the women were perfectly disciplined and showed "that they were conscious of their duty of defending the fatherland." In tactics the women are described as having been efficient, especially in assisting the men in the most important one being situated in the Gulf of Mead. The women have been more or less general from Saskatchewan to the south of Quebec. Forecasts. Moderate west to south winds fair and slightly cooler. Saturated. A few scattered showers, but for the most part fair.

SALARY OF HELFFERICH IS DISPUTED

Centrists and Socialists Oppose Figure Set for Vice Chancellor.

Amsterdam, Sept. 28.—The main committee of the reichstag, a dispatch from Berlin says, yesterday passed on first reading the bill creating the post of imperial vice-chancellor. Considerable discussion preceded the favorable action.

OPPOSE SALARY Copenhagen, Sept. 28.—Centrist and Socialist representatives at the meeting Wednesday of the Inter-party caucus of the Centrist, National-Liberal, Radical and Socialist parties, manifested a desire to refuse to vote favorably on the salary of Vice-Chancellor Helfferich, who is unpopular in reichstag circles. The establishment of the chancellorship as a separate ministry, including a vice-chancellor, necessitates a new vote of credit. The Radicals and National-Liberals opposed consideration of the matter at the caucus and the question was sent to the main committee of the reichstag.

INSANE, DANGEROUS. "Insane and dangerous," was the verdict of Doctors Pearson and Henwood, who were deputed by the court some time ago to examine George Clemens, the man who attempted to commit suicide a few weeks ago by cutting his throat with a razor. The unfortunate man will be taken to the Provincial asylum at Hamilton. He is the second man that has been taken down this week from Brant County.

KORNILOFF WAS SAVIOR OF RUSSIA

His Revolt Was Necessary to Thwart Plan of Teuton Agents.

FATHERLAND SAVED Korniloff Took Extreme Decision and Frustrated Enemy.

Petrograd, Sept. 28.—The last army order issued by General Korniloff as commander in chief, reprinted in the Novaya Zhiaria from a Mollhe newspaper, tends to show that Korniloff was compelled to launch his revolt largely in an effort to thwart German plans. The order says it has been learned that German agents had brought about the great fire in Kazan, had expended millions of rubles in disorganizing the coast line in the River Don region, and that the Germans were preparing a general offensive along the whole front for the purpose of thwarting a disorganized Russian retreat. The Germans also had planned to blow up the bridges across the River Dnieper and River Volga, and were organizing a movement of Maximalists in Petrograd.

Gen. Korniloff, the article reads, had reason to suspect treason among irresponsible Russian organizations in German pay. The general, not doubting that irresponsible forces had the upper hand in Petrograd, and that Russia was on the brink of an abyss, took an extreme decision for the purpose of saving the fatherland.

At the inquest Thursday into the death of Ashe, Prof. McKeown testified that the post-mortem examination showed that Ashe did not die of hunger, but from syncope arising partly from heart trouble and partly from an intense congestion of the lungs. Ashe's heart, he added, was abnormal and he would be apt to succumb to any sudden shock or prolonged struggle. Dr. McKenna, a hospital surgeon, testified that Ashe told him after he had been fed forcibly on Tuesday, that he had collapsed from a fit of coughing.

London, Sept. 28.—The death in Dublin on Wednesday of Thomas Ashe, a Sinn Fein leader, reported to have been due to voluntary starvation, according to a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Dublin, has accentuated painfully the difficulties underlying the surface of Irish politics, and Sinn Fein opinion is inflamed seriously. Ashe's body, dressed in the uniform of the Irish hospital, lies in state in a Dublin hospital, and there may be a public funeral on Sunday. It is said that other Sinn Fein leaders in the hospital prison, where Ashe died, are in a dangerous condition.

Explorer Back from Six Months in Arctic Has Interesting Story.

Vancouver, Sept. 28.—After six months spent in the Arctic, D. A. Cadzow, of the Museum of American Indians of New York, has arrived in Vancouver with one of the finest ethnological collections ever brought out of the north. While in the Arctic he found traces of Stefansson, the Canadian explorer, and met the blonde Eskimos. The northern Indians of Canada are rapidly dying out from tuberculosis, caused by unsuitable clothing and methods of living. Mr. Cadzow, after returning to New York, intends to join the American army and see service at the front.

Turkish Grand Vizier Justifies His Country's Entry Into War.

Amsterdam, Sept. 28.—Turkey's entry into the war was justified by Talaat Bey, the grand vizier, in a long speech closing the congress of the party of Union and Progress, according to a dispatch from Constantinople. He defended the Turkish treatment of the Armenians, but admitted that the deportations could not be carried out by regular forces because the gendarmes had been drafted into the army and order could not be maintained. Irregularities in connection with the deportation had been investigated, he said, and the guilty parties had been punished severely, some with death.

Winnipeg, Sept. 28.—Despatches from Ottawa that the first draft is not likely to be called for some time yet had the effect of lessening the number of men who presented themselves for examination before medical boards, the total for yesterday being only 160. Of this number, fully 50 per cent were placed in class "A."

MICHAELIS WILL NOT SPEAK OUT

Abandon Intention of Open Discussion of German War Aims.

The Hague, Sept. 28.—Chancellor Michaelis, it is learned here, suddenly abandoned his intention of speaking plainly before the reichstag on peace. This has amazed the members of the majority parties, who apparently fully believed that he intended to discuss frankly the future of Belgium and other German war aims at Wednesday's session.

The sudden changes by the Chancellor are becoming striking. It is recalled here that the text of the note to the Pope was revised and severely cut, according to various well-informed German statements at a cabinet council delivered at the last moment. Michaelis' change of intention regarding the contemplated speech to the reichstag was also the result, it appears, of a council of secretaries of state and some military personages. The National Liberal resolution of Sunday, taking a pan-German stand, may be significant of the same change of government opinion.

Referring to the Pope's peace note, Talaat Bey declared that Turkey adhered to the principle of arbitration. Regarding disarmament, he said: "We shall oppose no solution which is compatible with our vital interests." He concluded by saying that no one could say when peace would come, but it was obvious that the end was approaching.

PETROGRAD ORDERS ARREST OF LENINE

The minister of the interior has ordered the arrest of Nikolai Lenine, the extremist leader, if he is found in Petrograd, but he is not to be taken into custody in the halls of the Democratic Congress.

The Reichstag reports the re-organization of the Revolutionary military, known as the "Red Guard." The re-organizers are negotiating with a factory for 10,000 rifles and several machine guns and ammunition in proportion.

FRENCH WORKERS' TROUBLES OVER AGREEMENT REACHED BETWEEN MUNITION MAKERS AND EMPLOYERS.

Paris, Sept. 28.—Differences between workers in certain classes of munitions and their employers have been settled, both sides agreeing to the formation of a permanent committee of conciliation, according to an official note issued last night. The statement reads: "As a result of explanations between employers and workers in the presence of the minister of munitions and the undersecretary of state for aviation, the workers and employers have accepted a permanent committee of conciliation. The decision to arbitrate arose from patriotic motives and the full understanding of the essential importance of not allowing any interruptions to work. The minister of munitions is left to apply this decision and will adjust the wages of skilled women and men workers, which will be done without delay."

Sent to Court. Paris, Sept. 28.—The minister of justice, it is announced officially, has decided to send Fernand Monier, president of the Paris court of appeals, before the court of Cassation for "professional errors and imprudence." M. Monier first came before the public prominently at the time of the Caillaux case three years ago.

GAINS ON TWO FRONTS CLAIMED BY AUSTRIANS

Vienna, Wednesday, Sept. 6.—(Via London)—British Admiralty (per wireless press)—Austro-Hungarian general headquarters today issued the following statement on operations: "Eastern theatre.—Near the Sereth, German troops brought in 150 prisoners and several machine guns as the result of an enterprise carried out as far as the enemy's first line. "Italian theatre.—On Monte San Gabriele and near Kal, hostile reconnoitering troops were repulsed. In the Tonale sector, (and in the sector west of Tolmino our troops brought back prisoners. "There has been lively aerial activity on the Isonzo and between the Adige and Sugana valleys."

SECOND LIBERTY LOAN COMING IN U. S. BONDS TO VALUE OF $3,000,000,000 WILL BE OFFERED ON SALE OCT. 1.

Washington, Sept. 28.—Secretary McAdoo of the United States treasury department, last night announced the details of the second liberty loan, which will be offered to the public October 1. The chief features are: Amount, $3,000,000,000 or more, the excess not to exceed one half of the amount of over-subscription. Terms of bonds—Maturity 25 years, redeemable at the option of the secretary of the treasury, in ten years. Denominations of bonds—$50 and multiples of $50. Interest rate—Four per cent, payable semi-annually on November 15 and May 15. Terms of payment—Two per cent upon application, 18 per cent November 15, forty per cent December 14 and forty per cent January 15, 1919. The privilege of converting bonds, this issue into bonds of any succeeding issue bearing a higher interest rate than four per cent, during the period of the war, is extended, and through an area that under which bonds will be printed with only four coupons instead of fifty (to be exchanged at the end of two years for the bonds containing the full number of coupons) deliveries will be prompt. In this manner the issue of interim certificates will be avoided.

Desperate Counter Attacks By Enemy Fail in Purpose

British Repulse Teuton Assaults on Newly Gained Positions Near Ypres, While French Beat off Attempts in Argonne Region--Enemy Losses Are Heavy

London, Sept. 28.—Another German counter-attack was made last night against the new British positions near Zonnebeke. The attack was broken up by the British, the war office announces. The statement follows: "Yesterday evening another counter-attack by the Germans against our positions in Zonnebeke was broken up by our rifle and machine-gun fire and artillery. South of Tower Hamlets and south of Polygon wood, isolated strong positions, in which parties of the enemy were holding out close to our new positions have been cleared up. "We killed or captured several Germans without loss to ourselves in carrying out a successful raid last night southwest of Cherisy. "The enemy's artillery showed considerable activity during the night south of Lens. The artillery on both sides has been active on the battle front."

FRENCH REPULSE THREE ATTACKS. Paris, Sept. 28.—The Germans made an attack last night in the Argonne region. To-day's official statement says they were repulsed three times, suffering heavy losses.

Following day and of course there are always counter-attacks to take toll of, but it is surely the highest possible testimony to the efficiency of our military machine that what we have gone for in the morning, we have virtually gained before evening.

A year ago we were fighting day after day for the Somme ridges, and although the battle lulled at times it could seldom be said that a definite operation had really been finished. The contrast must be particularly disconcerting to the German high command. As in the fight last week, officer prisoners show a general depression and confess the conviction that Germany cannot continue the war.

CANADIANS WIN FRESH SUCCESSES

Capture of Hill 70, Near Lens Another Gem in Diadem of Honor.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT Militia Department Gives Detailed Account of Brilliant Achievement. CASUALTIES LIGHT

Every Precaution Taken to Induce Spreading of Enemy Fire.

Ottawa, Sept. 28.—The military department today gave out the following account of the brilliant achievements of the Canadian corps in the fighting around Lens: Since the last report was written, the Canadian corps has added a new and very remarkable success to its long list of brilliant achievements. The formidably defended position known as Hill 70, covering the approaches to Lens from the northwest which in September, 1915, played so large a part in the battle of Loos, has been carried by assault and is now securely incorporated in our lines. The casualties inflicted on the enemy, both in the attack itself, and in the minor operations which followed it, were quite heavy. In addition 1,373 prisoners, with a large number of machine guns and trench mortars, were captured by our troops. Four German divisions have been put out of action, and the divisions which have taken their places in the line have already suffered heavily.

Apart from the military value of the ground gained, such results, on the contrary, the casualties incurred by our troops on the 15th of August were light, largely as a result of measures taken to induce the enemy to distribute the fire of his artillery over areas outside the limits of our attack. Throughout the whole of our fighting, the service rendered by our artillery and courageous resource of our infantry have kept our losses within very moderate bounds. During the early part of the month continued rain and wind made operations on a large scale impossible, but preparations for the attack were carried on steadily so far as conditions permitted, proceeding more rapidly as the weather gradually improved. Meantime all our patrols displayed great activity, in conjunction with small raids frequently penetrated the German positions to a considerable depth. Bold daylight reconnaissances were made on several occasions and much valuable information was obtained, while at a number of points our outpost line west of Lens was appreciably advanced.

On the 4th and 5th August in particular small offensive patrols of two Canadian battalions pushed forward in daylight and succeeded in advancing our line some 200 yards on a frontage of about 1,000 yards north of the Souchez River. Such resistance as was met with, was overcome and considerable casualties were inflicted on the enemy's garrisons as they endeavoured to escape to the defences further in the rear. On the night of the 6th-7th August the enemy made determined attacks on our outpost line, east of Cite du Moulin, southwest of Lens. After a stiff resistance two of our posts were compelled to retire. This they did in good order, taking their casualties with them. On the night of the 8th-9th of August, a small party, consisting of an officer and twenty men, surprised one of the enemy's outposts in Lens and without loss to themselves accounted for the whole garrison. Extensive land mines were blown by the enemy in front of this party, but our men again suffered no loss. Further progress was made in the same fashion on the 15th August east of Cite de Theodor.

The somewhat static state of the front in this area during the period produced a situation of great interest in which the troops holding the lines fully shared. They readily adapted themselves to the somewhat

RETURNED MINERS
QUALIFY AS BOSSES
Miners in the western provinces who threw down their picks and shouldered guns at the call to arms are going back to the mines in the capacity of bosses due to the opportunities offered them by the Military Hospitals Commission during their convalescence.

In the Institute of Technology in Calgary where the vocational training work of the Commission is carried on under the direction of Dr. James Miller, men who worked in the mines as laborers before they enlisted are being so trained in the classroom that returned soldiers as to become bosses and foremen in the mines where they formerly worked.

Dr. Miller, who is director of technical education for the Province of Alberta, as well as the district vocational training director for the M.H.C., has long been interested in the miners, and several years ago established night classes in which the men might prepare to advance themselves.

Experienced miners may qualify themselves for the certificate of an examiner, an overman, or a manager according to their ability, and many men are making good.

The case of one man, the father of nine children, who left Calgary with one of the first battalions is indicative of the spirit with which the men and instructors are working, and the success they are achieving.

The man was badly wounded and returned to Canada for convalescence, in no condition to take up the laborious work he formerly did in the mines. The opportunity to qualify for a boss's job was given him, and in three months, before his convalescence had been completed, he won his first certificate.

In the weeks following, until he was discharged in July, he took further work for a foreman's position. This course he had not finished when a mining company offered him a position at $4.00 a day, and he is now enrolled on the books of correspondence school, provided by the Commission, for the purpose of continuing his course.

Ability played a big part in the success of this man, according to his instructors, but perseverance, too, figured, and such opportunity as he enjoyed is open to every miner who is desirous of bettering himself by study while he recuperates from his wounds.

Daily Market Report
Written Especially for Brantford

Couplet

Railway Traffic Earnings—Montreal—Traffic earnings of the three principal Canadian railways for the third week of September aggregated $8,070,512, an increase of $254,842, or 5.3 per cent. as compared with a decrease of 4 per cent. for the third week in August, and a gain of 11.4 per cent. for the third week in July. While each week in August showed a decrease as against the previous years, each week to date in September has shown an increase. The past week is the first since the third week in July to show an increase for all the three roads.

Oil and Gasoline Prices Soon to be Announced—Washington—With the final report of the Federal Trade Commission before him, the President is expected to issue a statement within a few days fixing the prices of oil and gasoline. The figures to be announced will be grouped according to geographical divisions. The figures recommended by the Commission, based upon production costs, are slightly below the present market prices, according to reports here.

Teck-Hughes Town—Kirkland Lake—The Teck-Hughes mine is to have its own townsite. Already the streets have been surveyed and plans completed. About ten houses are to be erected at once, to be followed later on with another dozen or so. The employees of the mine will be permitted to rent these houses at the nominal sum requisite only to

EAT CABBAGE, FISH SAUSAGE, NEWBREAD

No Indigestion, Gas, Sourness, or Upset Stomach if you'll take "Pape's Diapepsin"—Try This!

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps, and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Diapepsin, get this down. Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour or upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and restores your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapepsin" comes into contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears, and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

about pay for the upkeep. Due to the close proximity of the timber lands, the cost of fuel to the house holders will be very small. Thus, the heavy burden of rents and cost of fuel greatly eliminated, the high cost of living should be less felt.

Kerr Lake's Income Increased $22,256—At the annual meeting of the Kerr Lake Mining Company, Limited, a report was submitted showing net profits of $1,343,474 as against $813,702 in the previous year. In dividend there were paid, $668,000, compared with $672,000 in 1916. The company's cash on hand amounted to $658,231, and its total assets and liabilities to $1,475,248. During the fiscal year ending September 21st, there were $51,345 ounces of silver at a cost of 11.65 cents per ounce. Positive ore reserves are estimated to contain 3,120,400 ounces.

Southern Railway Earnings—The Southern Railway earnings lines east and west for week ending September 21st, were $2,340,118, an increase of $387,404.90.

FIX PRICE OF MILK

A copy of the request that has been issued from the office of the Food Controller to the milk dealers in Ontario, that no advance in price be made until the report of the committee appointed to investigate the situation, has been made, was received by Mayor Bibbly this morning. Copies have been mailed to the local dealers:

All milk producers and all wholesale and retail dealers in Canada engaged in the supply of fresh milk for daily consumption are earnestly requested to make no advance in price for milk obtained in their district on September first, until the committee appointed to deal with the milk prices and prices have reported on what action, if any, should be taken.

It is expected the committee will begin its sittings during the week of September 24th, and should be in a position to report by November 4th. Before a just basis for cost of milk production can be arrived at, the effect on prices of this year's crop of coarse grain in Canada and the United States must be ascertained. Reports indicate that the total production of coarse grain will be above the average. The effect of this on the prices of cattle feeds, however, cannot be properly estimated at this time, because the effect of the new crop feeds must be ascertained before any action may be determined, therefore it is deemed advisable that any change in prices by producers and dealers be held in abeyance until after October 31st. It is confidently expected that this very reasonable request will be complied with as it will entail little hardship and will make unnecessary the adoption of drastic measures.

Rippling Rhymes
The prairie states, where corn is grown, were parched and wilted by the heat; across the fields hot winds had blown, west after week, and then repeat. The sky was like a shield of brass, the sun was blazing night and day; I heard the farmers cry, "Alas! This year we'll have no corn or hay." The crop was given up for keeps, there was no hope for any yield; the farmer shed his bitter weeps, while gazing on his shriveled field. And then, when things were at their worst, some dark blue clouds lined up on high; they fooled around a while, then burst, and soaked the cornfields baked and dry. "It is too late," the farmers said, while rain was pelting at the door; "though water falls till we are dead, the corn is gone for evermore." Rain followed rain, day after day, it seemed that it would never stop; and now we hear the farmers say, "We'll have at least a half a crop." It is a miracle as great as nature's laws have e'er allowed; it is though some planted skate got up and gambled in his shroud. We needed all that we could grow to keep the struggling world supplied; and so the marvel seems to show the God of battle's on our side.

Following a recent visit of License Inspector Kellys to the Junction Hotel, at Lobo village, Mrs. M. Brock, the manageress, appeared in London police court on a charge of keeping intoxicating liquor for sale. She was fined $200 and costs.

Gee! Those Clevelands Are Dandy Racers!

That boy of yours wants and needs a bicycle and a Cleveland is the bicycle he wants. With a Cleveland you get a guarantee of quality. Read these reasons why you should buy a Cleveland.

FOR MANY YEARS these Bicycles have given perfect satisfaction, even under the most unfavorable and difficult conditions.
THIS NAMEPLATE, THEREFORE, is the best possible protection to the purchaser, since it is evident that we could not afford to endanger our reputation by affixing that nameplate to any bicycle which would not give the utmost satisfaction.
THE PROTECTION AFFORDED by the nameplate is all the more necessary because two bicycles of very different quality, standing side by side, may to the inexperienced eye look very much the same.
ONE CANNOT SEE the hidden points which make all the difference between a bicycle which will run easily and retain its beautiful appearance during many years of hard service, and the other one which may begin to give trouble within a very short time.
IN ONE CASE the ideal of the manufacturer is to make each part in such a way that it will more than withstand any possible strain to which it may be subjected.
WITH THE OTHER BICYCLE, the sole object is to build a machine to sell at a certain price, regardless of riding or wearing qualities.

THE SITUATION.
The Germans, as the outcome of their recent reverses at the hands of the British, have been making desperate attempts to recover lost ground. No fewer than seven fierce counter-attacks have already been made, but in each instance these have been repulsed and Halg's men have successfully consolidated the territory recently taken by them. The losses of the foe are described as tremendous. Major-General Maurice, Chief director of military operations, says that officers who have been in the fighting from the beginning, all agree that since the first battle of Ypres, there has never been a slaughter of Germans comparable with that which has recently taken place.

On the Aisne front the Huns have also attempted to seize lost positions but here also they have been repulsed with heavy casualties.

There is reported to have been some successful fighting by Russo-Romanian forces, but the opinion is commencing to more and more prevail that the condition of anarchy in Russia is becoming steadily worse. Austrian counter-attacks have also failed and it is reported that the Italians now possess the complete mastery of the Bainsizza plateau. Indications are many that the Austrians are becoming discouraged.

THE FOOD PLEDGES

In some instances, there seems to be misapprehension, and even distrust, with regard to the food pledges.

Such feelings must be based on misunderstanding of the aim in view. The pledge is very sensible and direct, as follows:—

"Realizing the gravity of the food situation, and knowing that Great Britain and our Allies look to Canada to help to shatter Germany's threat of starvation, I pledge myself and my household to carry out conscientiously the advice and directions of the Food Controller that requisite food stuffs may be released for export to the Canadian divisions, the British forces and people, and the Allied armies and nations."

The above means just what it says and nothing more. It does not involve the taking of a list of foods on hand, or their confiscation or anything else. Those signing, simply by so doing pledge their word, without any interference whatsoever, that they will do their best on behalf of helping the food needs of our own boys at the front and the Allies. Whether having signed, they keep the stipulation or not, is a matter solely and wholly for their own consciences.

Surely this is a very little thing to undertake, and one which should appeal to everyone who has the great cause at heart.

COUNTRY PUPILS PASS ENTRANCE

Fifty-eight Certificates Granted to Those Who Worked on Farms

Junior High School entrance certificates have been forwarded by Inspector T. W. Standing of the county schools to fifty-eight entrance candidates who did not try their examinations last June, but left school to work on the farms. These pupils tried their Easter examinations, and proving successful, were recommended by their teachers. The department of education, Toronto, has authorized that certificates be forwarded to them on condition that signed statements from the farmers be presented, showing that three months' work was done.

Three pupils also are entitled to Junior Public School Graduation Diplomas. All pupils who left school to work on the farms have not forwarded the same statements of the farmers for whom they worked, and certificates cannot be granted by Inspector Standing until this is done.

JACK COBDEN HOME AGAIN

Former Constable Reservist of Coldstream Guards, Saw Three Years Service.

After three years' absence from the city, which time was spent in the zone, John Cobden, a former member of the local police force who left Brantford immediately after war was declared in 1914, returned home last night on the 7.32 Grand Trunk. He was met at the station by his wife and three small children, Magistrate Livingston, Chief Slemm, representatives of the Soldiers' Aid Commission, and of the G.W.A. Accompanying him was his companion of the past three years, Herbert White, of Windsor, who was also a member of the Coldstream Guards.

Constable Cobden, for he has been given back his position on the police force, was wounded in the battle of Ypres on November 2nd, 1914, and has since then been in England. He left the city with his fellow-constable, Jack Blanchard and Constable Arthur Barnes, of the Hamilton police, whose home was in this city, and who was killed in the first year of conflict.

For the past year Corporal Cobden has been doing military police duty with the London, England, police, but has spent considerable time in convalescent homes and hospitals. About ten weeks before leaving for home he spent three months at Seaford, Essex, near Brighton, and day and night could hear distinctly the incessant booming of the guns on the battlefield, seventy miles away, directly across the channel. He has an interesting story to relate and talk in part what he said this morning about his trip across the Atlantic.

"We arrived at Liverpool on Thursday the 13th of September, but the ship laid in the Mersey until Sunday, the 16th, when at seven o'clock in the morning we moved out to sea. There were three vessels carrying invalided soldiers and emigrants. I was on board the "Justitia," a German-American liner that has been taken over by the British, and is now being utilized as a transport for troops. We were conveyed by six destroyers, a cruiser and an auxiliary. Three days out from Liverpool we were chased by submarines, but the ships speeded up. We heard firing for about twenty minutes, but that was the last we saw or heard of our pursuers.

"On the way over, about midway across we passed 12 vessels bound for Europe and carrying United States troops to the firing line. They, too, were being conveyed." Corporal Cobden and his friend, Herbert White, who has been invalided home, suffering from chronic lumbago have been taken on the local police force, and will report for duty on Monday.

BIRTHDAY PARTY
A number of friends of Skiggs gathered last evening at home, 6 Drummond street to celebrate her birthday, passing evening in games and music by the serving of refreshments.

AT CAMP BORDEN.
Captain T. P. Best, who is identified with the Y in this city, and who has spent a considerable time engaged in "Y" work in France arrived at Camp Borden today, where he will remain until the end of the month.

SAW LEAF'S LOSS.
T. J. Nelson, the local magnate was a visitor yesterday, where he witnessed the third game of the series between diannapolis and Toronto.

ST. JAMES' CHURCH.
The Ladies' Guild of St. James' Church, have resumed their work for the winter. There will be a social at the home of Wadman on Wednesday. Although the rectar has been some time, through the illness of the city clergy and laymen, services have been kept up and attended. Every one is invited to attend with interest to the services on Sunday next.

COMING HOME.
Word was received in Brantford from the front, that Stanley Shoebottom, who was with the 125th Battalion, his way home to Canada. Particulars were vouchsafed by the Canadian Corps.

"ONLY ONE POLICY"
A young artilleryman, graduate of the University of Toronto, now serving at the front, in the recent letter says: "The only policy for people who are overseas, and that is the Canadian corps is fighting."

MESSAGE FROM GERMANY
That a secret message reached Kitchener direct from the front, is not credible, but such is the citizen the other day received friends in Germany a post card, which, to all outward appearance, just like the ordinary card, on closer examination contain a secret change. This message inscribed to us well, we have still plenty.

When you profit from methods that have been tried and found successful you are learning the experience of others. Your eyes are alert, too delicate to trust inexperienced hands.

VETERANS LAND

Ten Brantford men are among the sixteen hundred invalided soldiers who have arrived at Quebec during the course of the past few days. The local veterans who have reported at the discharge depot in Quebec are: R. Doyle, H. L. Francis, T. Holl-veil, J. Muir, P. S. Knubb, C. F. Reed, J. Midgeley, J. R. Wood, S. Simpson and W. W. Wakeling.

A WAR ROMANCE

Secretary Allan W. Geddes of the Boys' Department of the Y.M.C.A., has returned to Toronto, to meet his fiance, Miss Theresa Blackie, V.A.D. of the Third Northern General Hospital, Sheffield, England, whom he is to marry next week in the Queen City. Mr. Geddes, a private with the Princess Patricia's, was wounded on the Ypres salient, and taken to Sheffield Hospital, where he met Miss Blackie. The bride-elect is a member of a prominent Scotch family and arrived yesterday in Toronto, accompanied by her brother, Mr. Robert Blackie. The marriage will take place early next week from the residence of the Rev. Dr. O'Meara, principal of Wyvelle College, and uncle of Mr. Geddes.

GOES TO PHILLIES

Roy Wilkinson, former St. Thomas Canadian league pitcher, who has been drafted by the Phillies, has been in the big leagues before. Three years ago he was picked up in mid-season by the Cleveland club, but he was too wild for the Forest City team at the time, and after pitching parts of one or two games, he was sent to the Canadian league. The following season Cleveland tried to recall Roy in the middle of the race, but the Alberta club refused to let its star pitcher go.

WENTWORTH DAY

A deputation of representative Wentworth county farmers visited the Oak Park Stock farm yesterday with a view of making one of the days of the provincial Flowering match a Wentworth County Day, and coming over in large numbers. They are planning to hold a banquet on the grounds during their day and will be addressed there by Prof. G. C. Creelman and Premier Hearst. They were met in the city by Warden Rose and plans were discussed for their visit. Warden Sten-abugh headed the deputation which included Messrs. Erland Lee, S. Midgeley, Jas. Ready and C. Drummond.

BUILDING PERMIT. A one story brick addition to the bakeshop of Hugh Adams, 215 West Mill street is to be erected by the owner. A building permit authorizing the erection of the building has been issued at the office of the city engineer. Application was made at the City Hall this morning for a building permit for the addition of a frame kitchen to cost $40 to a brick dwelling at 261 Brock street, by Mrs. Duncan Campbell.

CHARGE LAID OVER. The charge of receiving stolen goods, against Mrs. Molly Stewart, was heard again at police court this morning. Magistrate Livingston laid the case over until December 20th, until the theft case in which Miss Milne is the defendant, has been settled. The two cases are interwoven and the receiving charge depends greatly on the outcome of the theft case, which will be heard at a higher court, during the December sessions. Should the theft case be disposed of before the date set, the minor charge will then be disposed of in the police court. No evidence was given this morning.

QUITTE SOME RAID. Eleven quart jugs of Hiram Walker Imperial Whisky, four dozen beer bottles, two large and two small beer kegs, were taken in a raid made by License Inspector R. J. Eacrett and members of the police force this morning shortly before the noon hour. The suspected house was visited and the bottles, jugs and kegs, all empty, were located and brought to the police station. There was no one at home when the raid was engineered and another visit was made later in the day in the hope of arresting the tenant. As no arrests were made, the name and address of the suspected would not be divulged by the License Inspector.

B. C. I. RUGBY. The B. C. I. Rugby team is rapidly rounding into shape and are faithfully practicing for their first game of the season in Galt on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 13th. The first game on the schedule of the Inter-scholastic League is a week on Saturday when Galt plays at Guelph. Jack McElvey, who has played centerfield for the Dominion Steel Products team of the city league during the summer months, has been re-signed to the team. McElvey has had considerable experience on championship teams, and his acquisition to the coaching staff is a valuable move on the part of the club officials. Coach A. W. Geddes will be absent from the city for about a week, and during his absence the advice of Coach McElvey will be invaluable. A practice is being held at the O. I. B. grounds this afternoon, when Coach McElvey will take charge for the first time.

TREE RUST. North American timber wealth, which is constituted largely of white pine, the most valuable of our timber trees, is dangerously threatened through an epidemic of white pine blister rust, according to a circular issued by the Department of Lands, Forests and Mines, Forestry branch, Toronto. The Canadian and United States Governments are exerting every effort to control this tree disease which, if not exterminated, will prevent for all time the growth of the white pine. In the spring, the rust passes from the white pine to currant and gooseberry bushes, appearing on them during the summer as an orange colored rust under the leaves. The Department of Education has consented to co-operate with the Forestry department, and inspectors, teachers and scholars of all the schools throughout the province have been requested to remain on the alert for evidences of the existence of this rust, and to report the results of their finds to Toronto County Inspector T. W. Standing has been requested by the Department of Education to distribute circulars in connection with this movement.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL. The Courier is always pleased to see items of personal interest. Phone 276.

Licence Inspector R. J. Eacrett was a visitor in Toronto yesterday. Cyril Henderson was a visitor in the Queen City yesterday. Mr. W. Linscott has returned from a business visit to Toronto. Mr. E. Lunenfeld, returned last night from a visit to Toronto. Dr. Sills spent yesterday in Toronto.

Mrs. Buelling has rented her home on Wells street and is leaving shortly for Halifax to join her husband, who is on H. M. C. S. Niobe. Dr. Hartley, who for some years has been a resident of Germany, has returned to Brantford. He expects to start practicing in the States in the near future. He was able to leave through the efforts of the Department at Washington and the Spanish Ambassador.

At the request of the defendants, Philip Sidney and William Cudmore Junior, they will appear again on Monday in the police court to answer for taking of an automobile from their father, William Cudmore, that the claim of Mr. A. H. Boddy, acting solicitor for Mr. Jos. Nettleton, whose automobile top was damaged some time ago by overhanging trees on Eagle Ave., is justified and should be paid. An investigation into the circumstances surrounding the accident has been made, and it has been ascertained that the branches of some of the trees on this street are hanging sufficiently low to catch the top of a passing automobile. The amount of the claim for damages is $15, which the city solicitors advise should be paid.

CLAIM DAMAGES. Wilkes and Henderson, city solicitors, have notified J. S. Dowling, chairman of the finance committee, that the claim of Mr. A. H. Boddy, acting solicitor for Mr. Jos. Nettleton, whose automobile top was damaged some time ago by overhanging trees on Eagle Ave., is justified and should be paid. An investigation into the circumstances surrounding the accident has been made, and it has been ascertained that the branches of some of the trees on this street are hanging sufficiently low to catch the top of a passing automobile. Comparison Shows Giants Are Very American League

Figures may not afford a true picture of what may happen in the world's series between the Giants and the White Sox, but according to the latest batch of unofficial figures rival pennant winners seem pretty evenly matched. In batting percentages the Giants last Friday, showed .261, while for Comiskey's stars. The White Sox, in 147 games, had a record of more than 100 hits, 1290 hits, 195 steals and 23 fives. Summing up, the champions had scored 29 more runs than the White Sox in two more games and had stolen bases by fifty-three more than the White Sox. The fact that the Sox, in spite of a pronounced offensive power of these stolen bases, and sacrifice hits, is taken to mean that the Sox, who had played two less, is taken to mean that the Sox has been able to obtain almost equal results in scoring with the run system.

It must be remembered, that the quality of the pitching in the American league this year has exceeded the strategy of the league's best pitchers. The Sox, in attack, have made a better record than the Giants. McGraw's pitchers, who had the best combined record, Tencer's circuit, should be successful against the American champions as the hurler's other teams on that well-organized organization.

Taking the pitching average basis for calculation, it is kept in mind that Sallee, Benson and Perrott, who occupy the box for the Giant world's series, held their own to a total of 729 hits up to while Comiskey's Big Four—Russell, Williams, Schupp and safe champs, held the enemy safe blows. But again it is considered that the strength of the American teams is supposed to be greater than in the other circuit.

Schupp Heads Strikeout. Only three major league excel Ferdinand Schupp in last Friday was twenty-five with 173 and Walter Johnson Washington with 170. Schupp, thirty-three games, fanned posing batsmen. Cioette, the White Sox, on the other had 132 strikeouts to his forty-eight games. He has twenty-six men and yielded, whereas Schupp issued bases on balls and was safe walks. Cioette's record last Friday was twenty-five and thirteen defeats, a win percentage of .567. Schupp, in had won twenty and lost twenty-five games. He has led the Chicago boxmen with victories, four defeats and Perrott's percentage was winning won fourteen and lost while Benton followed him with thirteen victories, seven and .550. Williams of the Sox completed a record of winners, eight losers and age of .680. Faber was a tom of the Chicago team, fifteen and lost eleven, while Russell showed the best only thirty-one bases on charged against him, but Benton were at his heels, in charged thirty-three etc. Of the Giants' ninety games, Schupp, Sallee, Perrott had contributed a Cioette, Russell, Faber

The league. YES, BROTH IN THE LEFT APPROVED

Comparison of Averages Shows Giants and White Sox Are Very Evenly Matched

American League Champions Lead in Stolen Bases—Giants Make Most Hits, But A. L. Pitching is Strongest. 'Tis Said.

Figures may not afford a true line on what may happen in the coming world's series between the Giants and the White Sox, but according to the latest batch of unofficial figures the rival pennant winners seem to be pretty evenly matched. In the team batting percentages the Giants, up to last Friday, showed .261, with .257 for Comiskey's stars. The Giants have played 145 games, scored 591 runs, making 1,290 hits, stealing 142 bases and receiving credit for 134 sacrifices. The White Sox, in 147 games, had a record of more times at bat, 620 runs, 1220 hits, 195 steals and 224 sacrifices. Summing up, the Chicago champions had scored 29 more runs in two more games, also excelling in stolen bases by fifty-three and having made a hundred more sacrifices, while the Giants had lined out twenty-two more bingles.

From these comparisons the conclusion must be drawn that the White Sox are somewhat faster than the Giants in base running and that they rely with much greater confidence on the value of the sacrifice hit. But in run making and hitting there isn't much difference, taking into consideration the collective offensive power of these formidable contenders for the world's championship. The fact that the White Sox, in spite of a pronounced lead in stolen bases, and sacrifices, scored only twenty-nine more runs than the Giants, who had played two games less, is taken to mean that McGraw has been able to obtain almost equal results in scoring with the hit and run system.

It must be remembered, however, that the quality of the pitching in the American league this year has excelled the strategy of the National league boxmen, so that the White Sox, in attack, have made a slightly better record than the Giants. But McGraw's pitchers, who have made the best combined record in Gov. Tener's circuit, should be just as successful against the American league champions as the hurlers of the other teams on that well equipped organization.

Taking the pitching averages as a basis for calculation, it is well to keep in mind that Sallee, Schupp, Benson and Perritt, who will occupy the box for the Giants in the world's series, held their opponents to a total of 729 hits up to Friday, while Comiskey's Big Four—Cicotte, Russell, Williams and Pabst—who probably will face the National league champs, held the enemy to 827 safe blows. But again it must be considered that the real batting strength of the American league teams is supposed to be greater than that in the older circuit.

Schupp Heads Strikeouts.

Only three major league pitchers excel Ferdinand Schupp in strikeouts. They are Vaughn of the Cubs with 190, Alexander of the Phillies with 173 and Walter Johnson, of the Washingtons with 170. Schupp, in thirty-three games, fanned 143 opposing boxmen. Cicotte, the star of the White Sox, on the other hand, had 132 strikeouts to his credit in forty-eight games. He passed seventy-six men and yielded 241 hits, whereas Schupp issued sixty-nine bases on balls and was solved for 134 safe wallops. Cicotte's record up to last Friday was twenty-six victories and thirteen defeats, a winning percentage of .567. Schupp, meanwhile, had won twenty and lost seven, his average being .741. Sallee topped McGraw's pitchers with eighteen victories, six defeats and .750. Russell led the Chicago boxmen with fifteen victories, four defeats and .789. Perritt's percentage was .667, having won fourteen and lost seven, while Benton followed him closely, with thirteen victories, seven defeats and .650. Williams of the White Sox completed a record of seventeen winners, eight losers and a percentage of .680. Faber was at the bottom of the Chicago staff, having won fifteen and lost eleven, with .577. Russell showed the best control, only thirty-one bases on balls being charged against him, but Sallee and Benton were at his heels, each having distributed thirty-three free tickets. Of the Giants' ninety-three victories, not including yesterday's game, Schupp, Sallee, Benton and Perritt had contributed sixty-seven. Cicotte, Russell, Faber and Williams, for the White Sox, had won seventy-four out of ninety-six.

A fielding average of .968 is the record of each major league pennant winner. The Giants lead the National league in this respect, but the White Sox stand second to the Red Sox, whose latest team average is .971. In two games less the Giants had 222 more chances. Their total was 6045, including 3916 putouts, 1207 assists and 188 errors. These figures prove that in defensive strength the rival teams should be practically equal, although individual performances may turn the trick in the big event next month. National league partisans insist that Herzog in the lineup the Giants will show a faster infield combination but that remains to be seen. The shift of Weaver to shortstop so that young McMullin can play third base is a problem yet to be solved. It is admitted that the Chicago infield seemed stronger with Risberg, at short and Weaver at third, but the former's poor stick work made the insertion of McMullin absolutely necessary.

Heavy Hitting Backstops.

McCarthy and Rariden, the Giants' catchers, have distanced Ray Schalk with the stick. McCarthy had played forty-nine games up to Friday and his average was .277. Rariden, in ninety-six contests, had rolled up .263. Schalk, who had caught in 133 contests, had made ninety-two hits in 409 times at bat, which yielded a percentage of .225. An accident to Schalk would leave the White Sox with one catcher, Byrd Lynn, who has had limited experience. Should McCarthy and Rariden sustain injuries, McGraw still would be well fixed with George Gibson to put on the mask. Taking the eight best hitters of each team in the various positions, excepting the box, the Giants lead in team averages, with a combined percentage of .267. In base running the White Sox have much the better of it, the records of the heaviest batsmen being as follows: Kauff, 28 steals; Burns, 28; Felsch, 24; Jackson, 14; Zimmerman 13; E. Collins, 40; Weaver, 20; McCarthy, 0; Gandil, 13; Holke, 15; Rariden, 3; Robertson, 15; Fletcher, 9; McMullin, 10; Liebold, 24; J. Collins, 12; Thorpe, 13; J. Smith, 3; Schalk, 18; Herzog, 10, and Risberg 17.

The Regulars At Bat.

In five of the eight regular positions outside of the pitching department the latest averages show an advantage for the Giants. Kauff, in center field, led both teams in hitting, after Thursday's games, with .274. The White Sox showing a combined percentage of .267. In base running the White Sox have much the better of it, the records of the heaviest batsmen being as follows: Kauff, 28 steals; Burns, 28; Felsch, 24; Jackson, 14; Zimmerman 13; E. Collins, 40; Weaver, 20; McCarthy, 0; Gandil, 13; Holke, 15; Rariden, 3; Robertson, 15; Fletcher, 9; McMullin, 10; Liebold, 24; J. Collins, 12; Thorpe, 13; J. Smith, 3; Schalk, 18; Herzog, 10, and Risberg 17.

Sporting Comment

There is a story going the rounds that a new plan for keeping four umpires busy in the World's Series and making them earn their $1,000 each will be tried this fall, and it does strike us as having its advantages and we are willing to give Mr. Thomas Mercer of Buffalo credit for originating it. Instead of using two umpires in the outfield reaches and only one on bases, there would be umpires stationed at each base, the fourth umpire, of course, being behind the plate. It is argued that the men at first and third could judge outfield plays just as well as if stationed away out and still be on top of base plays.

But unless everybody attending the World's Series games keeps sober we fear such confusion as afflicted a certain well known magnate not so long ago might prevail.

This magnate had been seeing certain friends off on a journey and had been so busy on the job that he reached his ball park, slightly muddled. It happened to be the first day the plan of using three umpires was in operation in his ball park.

Mr. Magnate took his seat in his box, fixed his glasses and looked over the field. There was an umpire behind the plate, one around first and another somewhere around third. He looked again and again, reset his glasses, rubbed his chin, and then turning to the man in the next box, in a rather puzzled and doubtful way:

"Pardon me, sir, but will you tell me how many umpires are out there?"

"Three. It's a new idea," was the answer.

"Oh, thank you. There's nothing wrong with me then after all. There really are three."

Think of three umpires in the field. Even a sober ball player might think he was seeing double. But still if we must have them all sharing in the World's Series gig let them in. We might even have a parade of all umpires, with a prize for the best appearing, if the ump's must get on the big show.

Connie Walsh, who used to be a pitcher in the Three League and always could be depended on, dropped out of the game this year, but a certain club in the league finding itself in need of a twirler wired him; "Are you in condition?"

"Never better in my life," was Walsh's answer.

A message followed asking him to report at once. Walsh did not obey. A few days wait and Walsh got this message:

"You said you are in condition. Why don't you report?"

This was Walsh's answer: "I am in condition, but the league is not."

Three days later the Three-I disbanded. Connie must have had inside information.

We all have heard of police using finger prints to detect criminals, but here is the first time it may be called in to decide a point in baseball. Cleveland and Chicago had a row in a recent game that finally ended in Umpire Owens forfeiting the game to Chicago. The trouble began over a decision at third base, when Owens ruled that Graney held McMullin and prevented him making a play.

Cleveland claimed that Graney did not interfere with McMullin, that he should have been allowed to score and that it had won the game on merits. Spectators, even those partisan to the White Sox, were not prepared to see if Graney had grabbed McMullin and held him, thus causing interference.

But now comes McMullin with the tell-tale evidence. He offers his uniform, showing the imprints of a dirty hand on his uniform and claims the imprint is that of the hand of Graney, where the Cleveland outfielder grabbed him.

It is said that the Chicago Club as part of its evidence against Cleveland's protest, has taken a photograph of the finger prints and will ask that they be compared with an impression of Graney's hand.

On such fine points are ball games likely to be decided.

THE BIG 22 SHOWING

"EVERYBODY KNOWS WHERE"

SAM SPEAKS UP. Sam Lee, former ball player, and recently umpire in the Brantford City league, is up in arms. He doesn't take kindly to the action of the Hamilton Amateur Baseball association in its attitude toward the former 20th Century Club players, who played against the Dominion Steel Products team, of Dykeville, and he has written a letter to Secretary Smith, of the A. A. U. of C., on the question.

Lee points out that the Hamilton players did nothing wrong in playing against the D.S.P. forces. He claims that none of the Brantford teams carried professional players, and that not one ball tosser received pay for his services. All had positions in Brantford, and their baseball was in the nature of a pastime, he says.

"I do not think that Muir, Lamond or any of the Hamilton players would have lined up against Toronto in those exhibition games had they thought for a minute that they would be suspended for playing in Brantford," said Sam to-day. "As organizer of the Brantford city league, I want to see that we are fairly treated, and I also want to see the Hamilton boys get a square deal," he added.—Hamilton Herald.

ALL STARS. By Courier Leased Wire Boston, Sept. 28.—Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker and other baseball stars came to this city to participate in a game between an all star team and the Boston Americans in honor of the memory of Timothy Murnane. Murnane in his younger days, a player for many years, was sporting editor of the Boston Globe, and one of the leading baseball writers in the country. The gate receipts are to be used in any way that his family may elect.

SPIRIT OF RIOT RULES IN RUSSIA

Government Powerless to Control Drift Towards Anarchical Conditions. NO REAL FIGHTERS Situation Portrayed by an Observer Who Has Just Left Petrograd.

Stockholm, Sept. 27.—An American who has spent 10 years in European capitals, whose position compels him to take the viewpoint of an impartial observer, reached here today after six weeks in Petrograd, and gives a pessimistic report of the fighting spirit in Russia and of political and industrial conditions there. He says: "There is no fighting spirit except among the Cossacks and Caucasians, and that seems to be waning. A Caucasian colonel said to me: 'There are no real fighters left in Russia except us, and we are not Russians, thank God, but Caucasians and Mohammedans.'"

"The interior cities and villages are filled with Russian troops who refuse to go to the front. Young Russians of the better class are hunting the streets of Petrograd for men who are willing to become officers. Since the murder of officers by mobs has become a daily occurrence only the most fervent patriots will assume the risk of taking command. Officers' Lives Unsafe

"The reports of open disobedience of troops at the front and of deeds of violence committed by them are countless. Railway travel in many places, and particularly in southwestern Russia, is unsafe because soldiers' foot trains, steal luggage and maltreat and even murder those who resist."

"I sat in the War Office at Petrograd when the report was received of the murder of nearly 100 officers at Viborg and of the preparation of prescription lists against officers in Tammerfors."

"Newspapers in Helsinki carry daily accounts of military deeds of violence and of the murder of officers and civilians by soldiers, often accompanied by robbery. The Government has not dared to do more than announce that in matters will be investigated carefully."

"The Bolsheviks are gaining the upper hand in Petrograd and are increasing their strength in Moscow. I venture to predict their eventual supremacy. I know this means almost the elimination of Russia as a factor in the war and places new burdens upon America."

"The Government's utter powerlessness was recently shown in connection with its exile of a number of dark forces. The Bolsheviks, who

CHILD'S TONGUE BECOMES COATED IF CONSTIPATED

When Cross, feverish and sick give "California Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then you little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach ache, or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. took them from a train at Viborg, are now sending them back to Petrograd, and the Government does not dare insist that its order be carried out.

"The Bolsheviks' demonstration of joy over the fall of Riga, held in front of the War Office, was suffered by the Government in silence."

JEWISH FUND

DARING BURGLAR AT STONEY CREEK

DOG WENT TO RESCUE
When Animal Attacked Man Mrs. Butman Made Her Escape.

Hamilton, Sept. 28.—Covered with a revolver while a masked thief ransacked her home and threatened with death if she moved, Mrs. Butman, of Fruitland, lay in her bed while a thief took from her purse $12 and other articles. The faithful collie dog of Mrs. Butman saved the situation by rushing into the house and attacking the burglar. While engaged in combat with the dog Mrs. Butman made her escape. According to the story told by Mrs. Butman, the thief had watched her house. Her husband is engaged by the government in demonstrating plows, and left that morning. The suspicious character had been seen in the vicinity for some days and a good description of him has been obtained.

"It was 11 o'clock when I went to bed," said Mrs. Butman. "Between 12 and 1 o'clock I was aroused by a light flashing in my face, and when I went to get up I was covered with a revolver. I attempted to move, but, rushing towards me, the thief put the gun to my head and said he would murder me if I moved an inch. He asked for my purse, but I stated I had no money. He then demanded it of me and I told him it was in my coat, which hung by the door. As he went to get it I jumped, but he caught me, and I was thrown on the sofa. It was then that my dog came rushing to the stairs and, upon seeing the man, the dog immediately attacked him, and in the skirmish rushed from freedom. I went downstairs and ran into the corn field, but before I was hidden I heard him rushing through the corn. Unable to find me, he went back into the house, and I went to the road and travelled to my neighbor's home."

Constable A. C. Springstead of Winona was called and reported to Chief Clark of Dundas. Both officials are working on the case and state they are on his tracks.

The story told by the woman is corroborated by Constable Springstead, who made a thorough examination of the premises.

The stranger who is believed to have committed the daring deed is described as being short, stout, and wore a dirty blue shirt, creased, with oil stains on it. This description given the police by Mrs. Butman tallies in every respect with that of the stranger.

The police of nearly every large Canadian city are now on the look-out for the culprit, and with such a detailed description the authorities expect little difficulty in apprehending him.

"HENPECKED HENRY"
Halton Powell's "Henpecked Henry" a musical comedy of the merriest sort, with a sprightly chorus of femininity will be seen at the Grand Opera House, Matinee and night, Saturday, September 29th. The comedy is broad but the lines are so cleverly written that the humor never borders on mere burlesque. The story deals with a much married man whose wife is inclined to rule the home with an iron hand. Her tyranny leads to many funny experiences. Domestic life is always a splendid subject for stage treatment and there is no play that handles it in such an amusing way as does "Henpecked Henry."

THE BRANT.
Marguerite Clark has long been known as "the little girl of the screen" but not contented with reason of such a nature she must essay the role of a boy, or rather that of a girl who masquerades as a boy. With what success, and what adventures attend her in her disguise, can be seen at the Brant Theatre the last of this week, where "The Amazons" is a powerful program. "The Amazons" is a light and pleasing comedy devoid of slapstick and other such evils of the screen, and illuminated by the brilliant personality of little Miss Clark and other star performers. A classy singing and dancing melange is presented by the Four Seasons. The eleventh episode of "The Neglected Wife" and a showing of the Pathé gazette are other numbers upon the motion picture program.

"THE SKY PILOT"
An announcement of interest to the play-going public and to readers of popular books, relates to the appearance of "The Sky Pilot," which will be seen in this city at the Grand Opera House, on Monday, October 1st. The play is founded on material taken from Ralph Connor's (Major Gordon's) two best novels, "The Sky Pilot" and "The Rocky Mountain." The work of dramatization has been done by Frank Mandel and George H. Brennan. Although Connor's stories have been in constant vogue for seventeen years—their joint circulation being estimated at two million copies—they have never appeared in dramatic form. It is said that the most stirring episode in both books have been welded into one consistent story and that the characters have retained the favorite characters in the stories, including Gwen, Mrs. Mavor, Bill, TI, the Old Timer, the Duke, Ponka, and the Sky Pilot, who has been described as "tender as a woman and with the heart of a hero."

Symbolically, the drama follows the theme of the books' stated to be a war between good and evil.

Previous to the advent of the young clergyman is the little Rocky Mountain settlement where the scene is laid, the inhabitant are racked by their besetting sins, their wrangles and their jealousies. With his coming life begins to assume a brighter hue. There are many gripping sensational incidents as he demonstrates courage of the real sort. One by one the characters come under his influence until the one remaining in rebellion is Gwen. Her final surrender is said to furnish one of the most thrilling and spectacular situations in the play.

The cast of players who will appear includes Brandon Tynn, Regina Wallace, Ernest Anderson, Harry D. Southard, Eddie Heron, Louis Leon Hall, Elza Frederic, Isabelle Winnocke, Edwin Caldwell, Joseph Lawrence, Thomas Wall and Edward Broadley.

Additional interest is lent to the play at this time by Ralph Connor himself. In private life he is the Rev. Charles W. Gordon, of Winnipeg, Manitoba. When the war broke out he promptly volunteered and was accepted as Chaplain of the Canadian Highlanders. He has seen such service in France and is now Major Gordon.

FILM LETS
Vivian Martin and Director Robert Thornby have effected a more or less permanent screen alliance as it is announced that Thornby will direct several of Miss Martin's forthcoming Paramount pictures.

Before she began work in the William Fox photoplay, "The Soul of Satan," Gladys Brockwell's wardrobe contained every kind of gown except slum calicoes and gingham. Now it has even those.

Crane Wilbur is working on the fifth of a series of Western comedy dramas at the David Horsley studio, for immediate release through Art Dramas. Lorimer Johnston will direct Mr. Wilbur, with Barney Gill behind the camera.

"Hazel Daly, who is Bryant Washburn's leading woman in his current Essanay picture, "Skinner's Baby," is not yet out of her teens. This little star was graduated from the Wendell Phillips high school in Chicago, and immediately entered motion picture work at Essanay.

Not to let Molly Malone get ahead of her, little Peggy Guster, grand-niece of the old Indian fighter, ran away to San Diego and married Jack Mackenzie, one of the cinematographers at Universal City. Mrs. Mackenzie's marriage will not interest with Peggy's screen work, and it will not stop Jack from squinting through his legs, either.

Gall Kane, the American film star, will appear shortly in a role new to American actresses, a role created by the war, that of committeewoman of national food conservation. As a member of the recently appointed women's committee of the National Association of the Motion Picture Industry, she, in company with Mary Pickford, Marguerite Clark, Ethel Barrymore, and other famous stars, will co-operate with the federal government in saving the American people and the Entente allies from possible food shortage.

GRADUATION EXERCISES AT GENERAL HOSPITAL YESTERDAY

Class of Six Nurses Honored at Completion of Their Student Year—Valedictory Address Delivered and Presentations Made

The annual graduation exercises when the nurses in training who have completed their three year's course are presented with their diplomas, were observed at the Brantford General Hospital yesterday afternoon when six young ladies graduated from the institution. The graduates were the Misses Marion Elsie McKay, Edna Pearl Buck, Mary Trill, Florence Fair, Florence McDerott and Grace Fowler. The ceremony was one of the most successful that has been held in connection with the institution and the attendance of friends and relatives of the girl graduates and the general public was excellent and corresponded to the success of the event.

Chairman's Address
Warden A. B. Rose, who presided over the gathering, paid a glowing tribute to the excellent and efficient condition of the hospital, and to the great amount of work that was being accomplished in alleviating the suffering of the community. Among the names of the graduates he was especially pleased to see the name of Miss Fair, from Onondaga township in which district of the county the Warden resides.

To care for the sick and relieve the suffering was one of the greatest works under heaven, and he hoped that the hospital would be enabled to maintain its present efficient standard.

The speaker sincerely regretted the absence during the past year of Mr. Sanderson, one of the governors of the hospital, who had always exhibited an intimate interest in the welfare of the institution.

Miss Forde's Address
Board of Governors, Nurses and Friends of the School:
Once more it is my privilege to present to you a Graduating Class and a report for another year—a year of steady increase in the number of patients treated. In 1915 the hospital cared for nine hundred and eighty (980); in 1916 we jumped to seventeen hundred and twenty (1720), and this hospital year to nineteen hundred. These latter figures show we have about reached the limit of our accommodation. So far our public wards have met the demand, though at times they have been taxed, but we are far from meeting the demand for our private and semi-private rooms. Hospitals from being a place for the indigent only, are now found to be the place for the wealthy. Our private and semi-private rooms bring in practically the maximum income. It is indeed a rare instance when a patient has a choice of rooms. More than once patients have had to be placed in the public ward for two or three days before a room could be secured for them. Our great need is for an increased number of moderate priced rooms, and above all, more accommodation for Obstetrical work. Patients are making use of our Obstetrical service in rapidly increasing numbers, and a ward of six beds to try and meet the demand is little short of absurd.

Our Nurses' residence is in the same congested condition we reported last year. We live in hope that in some way the situation will be met.

Probably hospitals have been harder hit by the war than any other class of institutions; the price of everything that a hospital uses has soared out of all reason—some commodities to prohibitive points. Now that our neighbors have entered the war, the creation and maintenance of a vast army is drawing on their sources of supply to a point where the very existence of a civilian hospital is at stake, and we derive small comfort when we are constantly told we have not reached the worst yet. The problem of meeting these conditions, in addition to the question of food prices, is trying to a degree. As a nation we do not take kindly to a shortage of either supplies or food.

We wonder if many of our citizens are aware of the extensive improvements the Board of Governors have been making in the grounds this past Summer, and the opening up of a fine entrance from Elizabeth St., making a delightful approach. Much time and thought have been spent upon it. Our hospital has a situation, which in point of beauty, is excelled by few. It would seem as though Mr. and Mrs. John H. Stratford, in choosing the site, "built better than they knew." The lovely grounds cannot help but be a factor in the well-being of patients and nurses, and if we can create in our out-going patients an interest in the welfare of the hospital, and a desire to work for its interest, we have in them our best advertisement.

We wish to thank the Board of Governors for their consideration and patience with our many wants, and for their kindness during my illness and long convalescence, necessitating an absence of some months. Also my appreciative thanks are due my staff, who gave to the hospital during those months, their whole-hearted service—a service which cannot be over-estimated.

We thank our busy doctors for their co-operation and the valuable help so cheerfully given.
Dr. Bier is presenting a scholarship of fifteen dollars ($15.00) to the nurse making the highest class standing—a very tangible way of showing his deep interest in the Training School.

The Women's Hospital Aid, both in the city and county, and the Junior Aid, always show themselves friendly and we are greatly indebted to them for material help and many varied kindnesses.

To the Graduating Class
Your time in the hospital is about over, and you have given your services with a degree of faithfulness you can square with your own conscience. In no other profession is there a wider field for service, more particularly in these stirring times when we hope some members of this class will feel the call to offer their services for overseas. We know all are not endowed with equal ability, but you have it within you in duty and sympathy. The self-reliance and self-denial you have daily been called upon to exercise will, we cannot help but feel, tend to make you true, dependable, womanly nurses, each striving to do her part in upholding a high standard for her chosen calling.

The valedictory address on behalf of the medical staff was ably delivered by Dr. Willey, who outlined the duties of the nursing profession.

Dr. Willey's Address.
When the request came to me to give the valedictory address this afternoon on behalf of the medical staff, I felt rather reluctant in accepting the invitation, feeling that among the profession there were members capable of doing this very important occasion more justice than I. But I felt that although addresses were not a strong suit with

TORONTO MAN HAS GAINED 2 POUNDS

Doesn't Believe There is a Medicine on Earth That Equals Tanlac.

"I have just finished my second bottle of Tanlac and have actually gained twelve pounds," was the remarkable statement made a few days ago by Peter Bostwick, of 156 Lapan Avenue, Toronto. Mr. Bostwick has been a resident of Toronto for thirty years and has been employed for the past ten years by the Gunn Packing Co.

"I never had the idea of having my name in the papers, he continued, but Tanlac has helped me so much that I felt it my duty to make this statement up to the time I began taking Tanlac. I had been suffering for about two years with an aggravated case of stomach trouble, and one time it was so bad that I had to live one month longer without an operation. My appetite was entirely gone and everything I ate, no matter what, disagreed with me. Before I would get up from the table I would turn sick and could seldom retain anything I had eaten. My food would sour, sharp pains fill my chest and all day long at my work I had a gnawing sensation in my stomach, and the pain at times would almost draw me double. I had spent days of misery at the plant when I would almost collapse, my suffering was so great, and I could hardly do my work. I had fifty pounds from one hundred and fifty pounds to one hundred and twenty-eight, and was so weak I really don't see how I managed to keep going."

"About a year ago I spent some time in the hospital, and during the past two years it seems to me I tried everything and spent I don't know how much money, but everything failed me until I began taking Tanlac. I had been reading Tanlac testimonials and finally I told my wife I believed it would do me. It certainly has. The results of the two bottles I have already taken have been nothing less than remarkable. My appetite has improved and my stomach is strengthened until I can eat and retain anything I want. Potatoes, pork chops and many other things that I couldn't eat before are now with me now, and that gnawing sensation and the pain has about all left my stomach and chest. I now weigh one hundred and twenty pounds picked up twelve pounds already—and am still gaining in weight and getting stronger every day. I don't believe there's another medicine equal to Tanlac, and I appreciate what it has done for me too much to not want to tell others about it."

Tanlac is sold in Brantford by Milton H. Robertson and Co., Ltd., in Orillia by M. H. Cooke and Co., in Elmville by W. J. McGuire, in LeFroy by G. B. Smith, in St. Catharines by W. me, and although the task was arduous, nevertheless it was a pleasant duty and a great honor as well. A great honor undoubtedly it is to say a few words to you for, although your profession is one of the youngest, yet it is one of the noblest and most honorable. And it is not a fact that from those among your profession, during this gigantic struggle in Europe, which almost all the nations of the world are engaged, the name of one stands out prominently, one whose memory is revered throughout the world and will be cherished from generation to generation. Was not Edith Cavell one of the great martyrs of the century? Long may we remember her last words, "I wish my friends by for my country. I have no fear or shrinking. I have seen death so often, it is not strange or fearful to me."

The medical staff, in bidding you, as a class, farewell, do so with feelings of both pleasure and regret; we are pleased to know that you have been one of the very successful classes graduating from the Brantford General Hospital. You have attained a high standard in your work which speaks volumes for your ability and the careful tuition and excellent guidance of the head of the institution, and although you may not have been conscious of the fact, day after day you have been under the scrutinizing eyes of the medical staff. Your work being so nearly akin, or made, to being interviewed with that of the medical profession, brought you into close touch with them. You stood the test well and we were gratified with your efficiency, your devotion to duty and your conscientious endeavor. We regret, therefore, that as a class, we must lose your valued services and your whole-hearted co-operation.

As you are now at the parting of the ways, as it were, or rather, have reached that period in your profession where you pass from institutional work to that of your own initiative, although I feel constrained to say that you should draw your attention to a few of the duties you owe to your patient, to the attending physician, and to yourself.

Let me, in the first place, say that a nurse's duties are not purely mechanical. They do not end with giving intelligent assistance to the physician or supplementing his directions as to diet and the proper administration of his suitable nourishment, but they often include the proper ministrations to a mind diseased, or sick, for the mind has an enormous influence over the body. Have you not noticed that assurance given to a sick patient, hastens his recovery gives him courage and helps to pull him through his serious illness. So, in this and many other ways you will be called on to minister to your patient, so I would say to you, cultivate faith, show tenderness and gentleness—yet for all, courage and wisdom.

You owe to your patient most careful attention, particularly when the illness is most severe. How easy it would be to miss a fainting pulse and how fatal it would be to overlook a severe hemorrhage. Cultivate then, watchfulness and thoroughness. You owe to your patient also a pleasant, cheerful manner, for a sunny smile is like sunshine itself and you know how often sunshine is essential to a sick room.

To your patient you owe secrecy, for very often during illness in the home, secrets are laid bare before the nurse which at other times are closely kept, and although indiscriminate talking is not peculiar to nurses, I only mention it here because of the special opportunity to make it a rule to always believe the best.

You owe to the attending physician strict attention to orders and a correct application of your acquired knowledge. Remember, you may not always be nursing in institutions where modern appliances are to hand, or treatment up to date, and you may think the family physician not just up to the mark in his methods, but your loyal co-operation with him is essential to the best conduct of the case. His orders loyally means more. It is your duty, then, to carry out the spirit as well as the letter of the treatment, and knowing that the responsibility rests on the physician, give him all the help you can and render such service as shall be for the good of the sick, to the utmost of your power.

Among the many duties the nurse owes to everyone, do not forget there is one you are apt to overlook—your duty to yourself. You should do all in your power to preserve your own health and strength. It is not necessary for me to tell you how to do that. Without health and strength you are useless in your profession, your training is thrown away, you become a care rather than helping to lift the burden from others. We are in the world not for what we can get out of it but for what we can give to it. There are, however, occasions of emergency when a patient's life hangs in the balance, and you are then justified in putting aside all thought of self. These do not come very often, and if in your usual work you have been careful of yourself and your health, you will then be ready to meet any

A Positive Fact!

IT is now possible to buy Ladies' Tailor-made Suits just as economically as Ready-to-Wear. Don't you think the tailor-made proposition is the better, any small details as to style you can have. You know that the linings etc., are good. In a tailor-made Suit you have something that is sure to fit and please you.

WE CAN TAILOR ANY STYLE FOR YOU

You may have your choice of any of the New Cloths, Velours, Tweeds, and then there are the Broadcloths and Black and Blue Serge.

Ladies' Own Materials Made Up

AMONG the new features of the Suits this Fall are the high waist lines with the straight coat bodice, the narrow shoulders, and the long tight sleeves with the band of coney about the cuff. The long coat is finished with a wide band of fur, and has a simple embroidery design in taupe silk thread above this band.

strain without much harm. So, in conclusion, whether you decide to follow your noble profession in the vicinity of your home, or in this city, where you have received your training, or for the time being offer your services to your King and country and go overseas, the medical staff joins in wishing you God speed, health, happiness and prosperity."

Presentation of Diplomas—Mayor Bowley.
In making the presentation of the diplomas to the graduates, His Worship Mayor Bowley expressed the belief that the young ladies, after their three years' of careful and earnest training would have the highest conception of the duties of their profession. He was personally sure that they would fulfill their duties properly and conscientiously before God and man. He then presented the diplomas.

Presentation of Scholarship
The annual scholarship that is given to the graduate having the highest standing, was won this year by Miss Mary Trill. Dr. Beer, the donor of the scholarship, made the presentation with a few brief and appropriate remarks.

Presentation of Class Pins—A. K. Bunnell.
The presentation of the class pins to the graduates was made by Mr. A. K. Bunnell of the Board of Governors. Mr. Bunnell referred briefly to the good work that had been accomplished by the institution in the community. The great success that had been achieved by the hospital was largely due to the efforts of the nursing staff.

The need for further and better accommodation, especially in the nurses' home was forcibly emphasized by Mr. Bunnell. Immediate action in this respect was imperative. When the present building had been constructed, it had then been anticipated that it would prove sufficient for at least twenty years, but the rapid progress that had been made, had now made the present accommodation inadequate. Arrangements were now being made to have some of the nurses quartered outside the building. In spite of the many demands of the war, Mr. Bunnell thought that the citizens of Brantford and Brant county would be willing to assist in providing the necessary funds within the near future to maintain the high standard of efficiency.

Presentation of Thermometers—Mrs. R. S. Schell.
Silver thermometers, the gift of the Women's Hospital Aid were presented by Mrs. R. S. Schell, to each of the graduates. Mrs. Schell on behalf of the W.H.A., extended to the recipients, the best wishes for successful careers.

The event took place in the recreation quarters of the nurses home, and she place was very prettily decorated for the occasion. After the conclusion of the program, very dainty refreshments were served and an enjoyable time spent. Those in attendance included many from the county.

PARIS FALL FAIR OPENED SUCCESSFULLY LAST EVENING

Annual Exhibit of North Brant Bids Fair to Set High Record—List of Prizes Awarded Yesterday Afternoon

(By a Staff Reporter)

Paris, Sept. 27.—The tang of Autumn in the breeze, the scents of Autumn in the air, and the spirit of Autumn is everywhere. By these tokens, we know that Fall is here. Opening successfully to-night, the face of inclement weather, escorted by crowds of no small order, with indications of a record attendance afternoon and evening to-morrow.

In the diadem of Brant county, ever an agricultural district, there is no fairer gem than Paris, and the goodly array of foodstuffs and other staples of life on exhibition within the fair building bears ample testimony to the success of the present year's crops; indeed, Dame Fortune seems to have poured forth her horn of plenty as never before.

The work of judging the exhibits was in full swing this afternoon, and by evening the greater part of the indoor prizes had been awarded by the arbiters. To-morrow the judging will be completed, while in the evening the Great War Veterans' tattoo will be the feature.

THIRD GAME TAKEN BY INDIANAPOLIS

American Association Champs Walloped Leafs 9-3 Yesterday.

Toronto, Sept. 28.—"To-day we're champions and to-morrow bushers" seems about the way one might size up the three games played here in the inter-league series between Indianapolis, of the American Association, and Toronto, of the International League. Yesterday it was Toronto's turn to be bushers, or Indianapolis to be champions, depending, of course, on the point of view from which one sees the situation. A 9 to 3 walloping was handed out to the Leafs yesterday by the Hoosiers, and it resembled much the same fiasco that was staged at the Indianapolis end of the sporting day, the visitors look about the most inconsistent form players that have visited the island this year, while the Leafs seemingly also have to have their off days when the Indians are at their best, and vice versa.

The situation is rather complex now for Larry and his men for at 11 o'clock last night they entertained for Indianapolis, where they will take on their rivals in another three-game series. They will make their debut before the Hoosiersville fans with two games to play, and the Indianapolis situation is a very handiicap to carry when they are playing away from home and for a title, although nominally not recognizing as being at a disadvantage. A very handiicap to carry when they are playing away from home and for a title, although nominally not recognizing as being at a disadvantage. The members of German's Sunday school held their annual rally on Sunday afternoon at the school room, which was decorated with a variety of flowers. A very interesting program was enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. E. Stuart rendered a duet, for which they were given a prize by the school. The collection amounted to two dollars and ninety-six cents.

An east-bound freight from the north collided into the rear end of a passenger train from Toronto, standing at Harrisburg on Thursday evening. One car and caboose were completely demolished and one engine badly damaged. The 11:40 passenger train from Brantford could not get to this village, and 106 cans of milk had to be unloaded at Harrisburg and teamed to Malcolm's condensing factory.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN HOME-OWNERS

WESTERN LAND REGULATIONS

The sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, who was at the commencement of the present war, and has since continued to be a British subject or a subject of an allied or neutral country, may homestead a quarter-section of available Dominion Land in Manitoba, appear in person at Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for District Entry Office, or by residence guide under certain conditions. Duties—six months residence upon cultivation of land in each of three years.

In certain districts a homesteader may secure an adjoining quarter-section as pre-emption. Price $10 per acre. Duties—six months in each of three years after earning homestead patent and cultivation of the C. E. P. Pre-emption patent as soon as homestead patent on certain conditions.

A settler after obtaining homestead patent, if he cannot secure a pre-emption, may take a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $300 per acre. Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate 50 acres and erect a house worth $2000.

Holders of entries may count time of employment as farm labourers in Canada during 1917 as residence guide under certain conditions.

When Dominion Lands are advertised or posted for entry, returned soldiers who have served overseas may have priority in applying for entry at local Agents' office (but not Sub-Agency). Discharge papers must be presented to Agent.

Deputy Minister of the Interior, Ottawa.

N.B.—Undertaken presented at this advertisement will be sold free.
