Hongkong, Aug. 8.-At a public indignation meeting just held here resolutions were passed expressing anger at the sup, connivance of the Chinese government in the Ku Cheng massacres and disgust at the apathy and indifference of the British government failing to recognize the gravity of the situation. Those present further declared that a money compensation for such outrages is wholly inadequate, and that wift and stern action is required.
Washington, Aug. 8—The State department has not called on the Secretary of the Navy for war vessels to assist in protecting the missions, but it is known at both departments that the Petrel, on her recent voyage up the Jong Tse river, assisted in maintaining quiet. There has been received at the State department a report from Consul-General Jernigan, in which he quotes from one of the French fathers at Wa Hua, stating that the arrival of the Petrel off Wa Hua was providential, saving many lives and preventing anticipated trouble. British Consul Ford confirms the report and says that had it not been for the American gunboat the foreigners at Wa Hua would have suffered in the riots. A letter from Minister Denby, dated toward the close of June, shows that Mr. Denby had made a sweeping and peremptory demand upon the Chinese government for the fullest protection for all Americans living in China. Just what answer was returned by the Chinese government is not known, but it is a fact that, so far as the department is informed, in all of the outrages committed upon the missionaries in China not one

There is to be a meeting of this latter company in Spokane on Thursday, when the question will probably be passed upon. The other companies operating in the district have expressed their intention of adopting the same policy as the Le Roi and War Eagle companies. It is difficult to say what the outcome will be, but the miners express their determination to strike if the arbitration proceedings miscarry. Unless the mine owners agree to bind themselves by the decision of the arbitrators, the arbitration can have no practical effect. A strike at the present would be a very bad thing for Rossland, as it would not only interfere with the operation of the mines assayed by J. T. Donald, professor of chemines assayed by J. T. The appearance of Deputy Commissioner Gray was most opportune, and if the conciliation and arbitration act can secure a settlement of this difficulty, a very great service will be rendered the district.

But under a customs union it sympathies his speeches who know what those theories would possess one quality well worth conare or where the accomplished and silvertongued orator stands on the trade question?

The Manitoba school question is the subject of Mr. Laurier's discourse in his present important question. All his statements with regard to it have been either studipression that took from them any force they might otherwise have had. We find from the telegrams that he is pursuing the same the easiest and cheapest kind of criticism. There is not a bar-room or street-corner polline. He does not word his criticisms and his censure so prettily as Mr. Laurier does, but the idea which he expresses is precisely the same. Criticism of this kind requires neither knowledge nor ability. Any man who possesses facility of expression and who is content to say a great deal without meanamount of such condemnation. What is required of a statesman in Mr. Laurier's position is something better and more useful It is not enough for him to say that the Government have not done well in this Manitoba school business-any blatherskite could do that; it is for him to show how they could have done better. Before his condemnation of the Government's course can be accepted by intelligent and fairminded men, he should be able to point out some way by which a settlement could be arrived at and all hurtful and disturbing agitation avoided. But this is exactly what Mr. Laurier does not do, and what it is evident he cannot do. The way in which he evades this reasonable demand is to assert eminent men in the Mother Country have that it is not his place to instruct the fallen away from the free trade faith and Government, but anyone who has the hide his poverty of resource, to conceal from the people that he really has no policy. and that if he were in the Leader of the Government's place, if he did not do what the Government have done he would not England have decided to act with respect to

(From the Canadian Gazette of July 18.) The half-yearly meeting of the Bank of critish Columbia was held at the Cannon street hotel on Wednesday of last week. Sir Robert Gillespie presided, and the other directors present were : Mr. James Anderson, Mr. T. G. Gillespie, Mr. Guy Oswald Smith, and Sir Charles Tupper. There was The Secretary and Manager (Mr. S. Cam

Nor must I omit to refer—for it is a very important fact, bearing more particularly on the future—to the revival in the mining districts of Cari boo and Kootenay in British Columbia, portending, as they do, an additional source of prosperity to the Dominion generally, and particularly to British Columbia. In corroboration it will be pleasing to you to hear the report of Mr. Townsend, dated June 11. 1895, from Portland, Oregon. He says:

THE COURTS.

Kimpton v. McKay was an appeal heard before Justices Crease, Walkem and Drake, in the Divisional court, yesterday. In January last the defendant was arrested on a ca. re; judgment was given and a ca. sa. issued in July. Application was made to the Chief Justice to set aside both the ca. re. and the ca. sa. The Chief Justice set aside the ca. sa. as no praecipe was filed for issuing but refused to set aside the ca. re. as the practice under I and II Victoria, chap. 110, btained in this province. The plaintiff yesterday appealed from the order setting aside the ca.sa. and this was allowed. There was also an appeal by defendant from the order refusing to set aside the ca re., and the Court held that as the ca. re expired at the date of the judgment and defendant had not been held in special bail, the ca sa. must be set aside. Mr. W. J. Dwyer considered that 50 per cent. would be saved by the Jubilee hospital having the isolation hospital under its management.

Ald. Macmillan was afraid that the old electric light boiler would be an expensive mode of making steam for disinfecting as it took a good deal of fuel to get up steam by it.

Ald. Cameron was in favor of the principle embraced in the suggestions, but was of opinion that the full cost should be estimated before the city committed itself.

The Mayor took the view that the full estimate should be prepared; this council might then say how far it was prepared to go, and leave it to the next council to carry on the plaintiff staking and recording was void, but that on the evidence a partnership existed between the narties.

On Saturday deceased came over to pay him a visit, and was very much depressed and down hearted owing to business troubles. On Thursday Mullen left the house where he was staying with witness on King's avenue and did not return again. A search was made for him the same night, but he could not be found, and nothing was known of his whereabouts till the dead body was found floating in the harbor. A telegram was produced by witness who received it from deceased last Friday. It was dated Portland and read: Will be on Seattle boat to morrow morning, else good bye. J. H. MULLEN. The Old Woman.

We are surprised that a reverend bishop of the Episcopal church, the Rev. Dr. Cleveland Coxe, should speak of "the new woman" as if she were an actual creature of this day, deserving of speial discussion, and, according to the bishop, of particular condemnation. Neither in the diocese of this distinguished clergyman, in the western part of New York, nor anywhere else is there such a woman.

Women are now about the same as they have always been. They still continue to be the mothers of the race, and in spite of reports to the contrary the early impressions of goodness derived from them are yet prevalent. The "new woman" of whom this venerable ecclesiastic speaks is a mere creature of his imagination. Undoubtedly at this time of modern progress women ride on bicycles, and perhaps not always gracefully, of the Atlantic. Miss Faithfull was a but the exercise is useful to them. Very likely, they would present a better appearance to the onlooker if they were less regardful of mere deportment, but as to that matter we shall not venture to offer suggestions. We do not mean to imply even any criticism, though possibly we might hint that young women astride of a vehicle like the bicycle, traveling along open country roads, should be appareled in the costume of horsewomen, or in some array constructed according to its general principles, especially the trousers. Even as it is, we are not disposed to be captious. These young women are better informed than we as to the proper requirements of a feminine garb. Yet it occurs to us that the usual flowing fore this reform would have been accom-

A Riddle of Twin Sisters.

Lily and Rose Hohfeld are twins. They were side by side at the head of the graduating class of the girls' high so like in face, feature and person that it keeps their father and their teachers forever guessing which is which. Their teachers long ago gave up the riddle and now address them as "Lily or Rose, whichever you are." Their father even is often puzzled to distinguish the girls one from the other. If he addresses one of them by name, and she declines to answer, he knows he has made a mistake, and the girls sometimes amuse themselves with the puzzle.

Miss Emily Faithfull

The death of Miss Emily Faithfull is a serious loss to the world at large, as well as to the world of women workers, of which she was so earnest and successful a member. Not the least striking of her characteristics was her versatility. She was philanthropist, journalist, author, lecturer and thinker, and all with equal success. Her especial philanthropc interest was the extension of the field of labor for women. In 1860 she set up a printing establishment, in which all the compositors were women. Three years later she began the publication of a monthly organ called The Victoria Magazine, in which she set forth the claims of women to remunerative employment. This journal enjoyed an 18 years' existence, during which time its columns were chiefly filled with productions from the pen of its founder and editor. Miss Faithfull's first essay in fiction was a novel entitled "Change Upon Change," which met with immediate favor. She next returned to the lecture field, appearing in the leading literary and philanthropic institutions in England, and later, in 1872, in America After her third tour in the United States, 1882-3, she published a book entitled "Three Visits to America," which dealt particularly with the condition of constant contributor to various periodicals. Her likeness shows her to have been not beautiful, but her features possessed the same strong and noble characteristics that marked her soul. -Ex-

Women Came Out Ahead.

Women came out ahead in an examination recently held for library cataloguer and library clerk for the agricultural department at Washington. Of the 30 applicants for the former position, all of the men failed to pass, while only five out of the 16 women did so. Of the ten applicants for the latter, eight men failed and two women passed. Although Secretary Morton wanted men for the places, he was moved by these results to change his mind, and appointed Miss E. B. Wales of Chicago clerk, and Miss G. . . sataloguer.

A Badly Needed Example.

The action of the Pennsylvania College For Women in promptly suspending those 16 girls who walked home from church with their "fellows" in defiance of an ironclad rule of the infollowed at home by a generous application of punishment of the old fashioned sort it would probably bring these prematurely grown up young misses to a clearer notion than they ever had before of their position in relation to society in general. One of the things in this country that strikes a foreigner most offensively is the spectacle of girls of 13 and upward "flirting" with boys of the same age, going to the theater with them and accepting all manner of attentions from them. It is bad for the girls and worse for the boys. Incidentally it adds to the number of old maids, for few girls who grow up in this manner are likely at 20 to prove attractive to men. Those good people who are alarmed at the increasing number of young men who prefer to lead the selfish life of a bachelor had better turn their attention to this evil.—Philadelphia

Mrs. Phyllis Leveridge.

Press.

Mrs. Phyllis Leveridge, who has been appointed school inspector of school district No. 2 in New York city, is well fitted for the position by her knowledge of languages. This school district is the most cosmopolitan in the city, and the foreign element so largely predominates that Mrs. Leveridge's familiarity with German, French and Italian will materially aid in her work with mothers and teachers. So little attention is given to cleanliness among the people of the east side that the first reform measure to be adopted by the new inspector will be to insist upon tidiness among the school children. Mrs. Leveridge was Miss Phyllis Mayer before her marriage and is of German and French extraction. She is a young woman, and her own children are an inspiration to her to better the condition of the schools. Mayor Strong is said to be so well pleased with Commissioner Maclay's excellent nominations that he declares the work shall go on until there are ten more women school inspectors, which will increase the number on the list to 18.-New York Correspondent.

On their way across the parade ground they were followed by a jeering body of big boys—the native hobo element and as they neared their own gate several stones were thrown. Then two or three large cobbles came over the wall, attached one being an inflammatory placard copies of which had just been distributed at the games, charging the foreigners with the killing of native children for their religious rites, and calling upon the Chinese popu-lance to rid the city of them, By this document the missionaries were able to understand the nature and the extent of their danger, and preparations for defence were immediately made. First came volleys of stones; then a rush was made upon the gates and they assuredly would have been forced had not a few revolver shots sent whistling in the direction of the mob

The next twenty-four hours saw the missionaries and their families flying in stealth from one place to another of fancied security, the soldiers giving no aid to them and death being momentarily looked for. The mission buildings were soon looted, and it was not until all were gathered together in the pestilential yamen that the persecuted whites were able to breathe freely. They were detained at the native prison two days-chiefly for their protection, though nominally on a charge of exciting riot-and then, through the efforts of the British consul, their release and protection from further molestation were secured. All save Mrs. Hartwell determined to remain and continue the work so roughly interrupted; failing health and the interests of her children induced Mrs. Hartwell to return to Canada.

Reparation has, of course, been demanded and Rev. Dr. Hart is now at Peking pressing the claim. THE CITY MARKETS.

This season's hay, grain and other saleable arm products did not come in as plentifully as expected during the past week, owing perhaps to the present rush of farm work, and were it not for the amount of shipping done, the week would have been somewhat quieter than usual. The feature of the week was the heavy receipts of Oriental freight. A considerable quantity of bananas arrived on the Warrimoo on Saturday last, and their sale is reported to be good. The fish market, for the first time in many other varieties are as yet very limited. Local fruits are in good demand, especially outselling those from California. Staple provisions, such as flour, meats and vegetables, are reported steady this week. Following are the current retail quotations :

The case of the Bank of B. N. A. v. Robert Ward & Co., Ltd., came before Justices Crease and Drake in the Divisional court yesterday. This was an appeal to set aside the order of Mr. Justice Walkem, of August 5, for a commission to issue for examination of witnesses on behalf of defendants at Sydney, N.S.W., and Adelaide, S.A. The chief grounds argued for the appellant were that the order . for a commission should not be issued till after the trial of the issue as to whether there was delivery and acceptance of certain lumber at the mill mill of Hughitt & McIntyre, Genoa, and also until after the trial of the issue as to whether defendants were entitled to this action to make a claim for reclamation respecting the cargo of ships other than the Lyman D. Foster—which is the cargo in question in this action—on the ground that if such issues are determined in favor of plaintiffs the evidence sought to be obtained by a commission will be inadmissible, and that the issue in respect of which evidence is required is not one which the court ought to try until after the trial of the issue above mentioned. The appeal was dismissed—costs to be defendants' costs in the cause Mr. W. J. Taylor for appellants (plaintiffs); Hon. C. E. Pooley, Q.C., for respondents

In spite of this public In spite of this public announcement of the land policy of the gov-ernment we have seen above that, in 1861, five years later, the Cowichans, in common with others, had not yet been paid for their confiscated territories. I commit (this question) to you in the full persuasion that you will pay every regard to the interests of the natives which an enlightened humanity can suggest.

In spite of these declarations and injunctions we find the Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works writing from New Westminster some years later, August 28, 1867, in the most callous manner, that the Indians have really no right to the lands which they claim, nor are they of any ancient heritage. To but one of the many charges of his enemies does he enter a vigorous denial-he was not planning, nor had he ever contemplated, the centralization of the government of the Hermit Kingdom in himself, and so was not guilty of treason to his country and his Queen. It was during a ten years' enforced residence in Japan that Prince Pak of Korea became a lover of the Japanese, their progressive government and their modern institutions; and it was this fondness for all things Japanese that got him into trouble on his coming out of exile to assume the duties of Home Minister at his native capiall bargains or treaties with the natives for tal. Everything ran smoothly for a time, and reforms having their origin in Japan were introduced in quick succession. Then it was whispered into the ear of the Queen that Pak was not disinterested—that, with Japan's aid, he might even raise his eyes to the throne - and the prince's fate was sealed.

Then the report was freely circulated that Pak yong ho had been laying a trap for Russia in the interest of Japan, the Queen having only admiration for the land of the Czars and hatred and contempt for the new Japan. So Pak stock declined several points, and the Queen again securing the reins of government immediately decided upon a policy essentially pro-Russian and anti-Japanese, in which the Home Minister could have no part. For diplomacy's sake he made pretence of roundly abusing the Japanese, and made certain overtures of riendship to M. Waeber, the Russian Charge d'Affaires. The latter was well prepared, however, and avoided what he and all others in Seoul took to be a Japanese trap.

Concerning the subsequent crisis at Seoul, in which, though absent in person, Prince Pak played so prominent a part, the Kobe Chronicle of the 12th July has the follow-

AT THE PIANO.

The High Piano Stool—Playing Too Near the Edge of the Keyboard. Whenever one sees a piano in this country, he also sees a high, uncomfortable piano stool in front of it. Most of the piano stools are mounted upon a screw, causing the seat to turn around if the player reaches for high notes, and the screw is generally loose or shaky in the bargain. In the face of this fact is the one that nearly all the great concert pianists have used chairs of ordinary height only, including such names as Liszt, Rubinstein, Von Bulow, Theodore Kullak, Anna Mehlig, Paderewski, D'Albert, etc. A writer in The Musical World, who calls attention to the foregoing facts, says: If a pianist would gain a light, easy or two below the level of the keyboard, necessitating an effort to hold the forearm and wrist up. Such effort, doubtless is such that the greatest flexibility and wrist, through which so many students unconsciously interfere with complete independence of fingers. Let a person try to play a complicated finger passage standing up, and it is at once apparent how much the wrist and arm interfere with both the flexibility and force of touch.

Another serious objection to the high seat at the piano is the tendency to stoop and become round shouldered, to say sition. In connection with this subject the same writer remarks upon the fact that nearly all piano pupils are inclined to play too near the edge of the playing between black keys. Many players have this habit to such an extent that they have to stick out fingers straight in order to reach black keys in running passages. Particularly do they the hand being so faultily placed as to tip over toward the outside, such an effort, in combination with various movements to loosen the wrist, including a moderate roll in the opposite direction, would do much toward building up the weaker side of the hand.

Prospect of the Immediate Establishment of Another Important Ocean Line to Victoria.

Mr. F. C. Davidge Will Manage This City's Business For the Isthmus Republics.

It is probable that before many months Victoria's shipping interests, which are rapidly becoming the most important on the Pacific coast, will be extended to Central America. The earnest efforts of W. M. Calhoun, J. E. Chilberg and others, of Seattle, during the past year have resulted in practically assuring the operation of a steamship line from Puget Sound, which will make Victoria the first port of call and the last of departure on each and every voyage. Mr. F. C. Davidge, who manages the U. R. & N. Oriental steamship business on the Pacific coast, has been appointed local agent of the new line, and in his hands Victoria's interests will undoubtedly be well cared for. The officers of the new company are: Ben. Hazeltine, president; J. T. Stelb, vicepresident; Edwin Hughes, secretary; John Barneson, general manager; and Richard Chilcott, marine superintendent. The Oriental steamship Transit—a vessel of 1,800 tons capacity—will, it is believed, make the inaugural trip on the new line; she is expected to arrive from China on September The Colonist correspondent visits of the colonist correspondent visits of the colonist correspondent visits. inaugural trip on the new line; she is exrected to arrive from China on September

A Two-Thirds Pack For the Skeena-Other Late News of the North.

The C.P.N. steamer Danube arrived from the North yesterday morning, completing a voyage that had been rendered extremely disagreeable by rain, sleet and wind. Her principal items of Northern news are regard. ing the work at the canneries, many of which have now closed down for the season. The catches obtained have been generally satisfactory, elsewhere than on the Skeena, although at Rivers lulet the pack is con siderably short of anticipations owing to unfavorable fishing weather. The Naas river catches, however, in a great measure fulfil the hopes of the canners, while on the Skeena a two-thirds pack was obtained, as looked for early in the season. The total pack to date is said to be that he found the stock remarkably free 174 000 cases for the sixteen canneries, or from contagious disease. MEN OF WAR FOR JAPAN.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13 .- Irving M Scott, of the Union Iron Works, which turned out the Olympia and several other crack American vessels, will seen go to of war for the Japanese navy. The recent achievements of American warships is said to have impressed the Japanese strongly, and, now that British firms are able to underbid American companies only 10 per cent., as formerly, Mr. Scott believes he will be able to secure a number of contracts. The feeling of the Japanese government i shown in the following statement recently made to an American by the secretary general of the imperial cabinet: "You are building the swiftest and most formidable cruisers known. Besides that. you have invented armor plate for your battleships which Russia has chosen for hers in competition of all the makes of armor plate in Europe. Our government, seeing these achievements and recalling the fact that America has twice revolutionized the navies of the world by her infinite ca-pacity for invention, first by creating the ironclad and then the turret, is strongly disposed to draw upon American shipyard for a part of its new navy. Why should not we depend upon you for the best. Be-side doing the things I have spoken of, the United States has built the finest clipper ships and the fastest yachts. Your country leads, whenever she wants to, in naval construction, both of peace and war. Be-side, America buys much more of us and is our historic friend and well-wisher. For one, I sincerely hope that American ship-builders will bid for our contracts." Mr. Scott will carry letters, it is said, not only from the Secretary of the Navy, but from the Japanese minister at Washington City. BULGARIAN OUTRAGES.

VICTORIA VS NEW WESTMINSTER. The Boscowitz, which has not been seen in the Boscowitz, which in the Boscowitz, which has not been seen in the Boscowitz, which has not been seen in the Boscowitz, which has not been seen in the Boscowitz, which is the Boscowith in the Boscowith but uncertain a quantity. On that day, by the narrow margin of 10 runs only, Captain team. Since the Vancouver match the ten-J. A. Rithet (rec. \(\frac{1}{2}\) 30) beat H. F. Mytton (rec. nis tournament has interfered somewhat with practice, but during the present week no member of the team will miss an evening at the nets, and the play all round on Saturday next will probably be the best ever seen in Victoria. Taking the teams as a whole New Westminster is undoubtedly better than Vancouver; for though slightly inferior in batting, in bowling and fielding the Royal City men are much stronger than their bothers of Brockton Point. In Le Maitre and the famous Malins brothers, two of whom, had they remained in the old country, would probably have been playing for Derbyshire, they have players qualified for a place in any team in Canada, and as Westminster is as anxious to repeat its victory as Victoria is to reverse it, the Royal City club will probably be represented by its strong-est eleven. The record of the Victoria eleven this season is one of which to be proud, seven victories with only one defeat o mar the list having raised the enthusiasm of its supporters to the highest pitch, and a victory over New Westminster, followed by another over the combined fleet, will leave the 1895 season of the V. C. C. one to be long remembered.
