exercise the franchise. It was the duty of parliament to enact legislation so that forty thousand Canadians on active service in Europe today should exercise their franchise as freely as did citizens who remain at home.

Senator Bostock said the bill would require careful consideration before an opinion was expressed on it. Senator Choquette said he was against the principle of the bill and would vote against the bill as well as against any amendments offered to it.

Lively Repartee. "It is absurd and impracticable and I think wasting the time of the senate," he said, "instead of proposing amendments we should oppose the second reading of the bill."

Senator Roche asked if under this bill members of the permanent force at Bermuda would be given the right to vote, and if their ballots would be counted in the constituency of Halifax, which was represented by Premier Gordon.

Mr. Lougheed replied that he would not say how many of the permanent force there were in Bermuda.

Liberals Weak-Kneed. Senator Cloran said he had asked many soldiers on the streets of Ottawa if they wanted this bill. They had told him they wanted no votes and no policies until they returned from the trenches.

Ossington Ratepayers Misinformed re Railway Board's Decision.

NO SPRINGMOUNT LINE

Commissioner Will Recommend Dufferin Street Route.

Under the auspices of the Ossington District Ratepayers' Association, a mass meeting of the residents of the district was held in McMurrich School last evening, Ald. J. W. Meredith presiding.

The secretary read a communication from the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, in reply to a resolution of protest against the delay in the extension of the car line on Dupont street to Ossington avenue. The letter, in part, is as follows:

"Your association evidently are laboring under the impression that there is such an order passed by this board as to a junction with its track on Lansdowne avenue, with the necessary curves and intersections overhead, and so forth.

"We are not aware of any order made by this board extending the Dupont street car line to Ossington avenue." Ald. J. W. Meredith said he was informed by the works commissioner that he would not recommend the Springmount-Dovercourt car line, but that he would later recommend that the line be laid on Dufferin street.

The Bathurst Hill pavement will be put down as soon as material can be laid on this hill by the City of Toronto. Duty of Ratepayers. Ald. J. M. Warren said: "More interest should be taken in civic matters by the ratepayers' associations of Toronto."

UNIONVILLE. The regular monthly meeting of the Unionville branch of the Methodist Ladies Aid was held yesterday at the home of Mrs. H. H. Powers.

CAPT. MULVEA IS BACK FROM FRONT. MONTREAL, April 14.—Suffering from a terribly lacerated side where a German bayonet was thrust into it, Captain Mulvea, of Calgary, arrived in Montreal this morning.

She Soon Gained Forty Pounds. Dame Bouchard Found New Health in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

NEW SHE'S ADVISING ALL HER FRIENDS WHO SUFFER FROM KIDNEY DISEASE TO USE DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

PORTNEUF, Hamilton Cove, Saguenay Co., Que., April 14.—(Special)—Perished by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, Dame Rene Bouchard, well known and highly respected here, is advising all her friends who suffer from kidney disease to use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

When I commenced to take Dodd's Kidney Pills I was so run down I only weighed eighty pounds. Dame Bouchard states, "I only took four boxes in all, but they brought me back to health and now I weigh one hundred and twenty pounds. You may publish what I say if you wish, for Dodd's Kidney Pills have done wonders for me."

Dodd's Kidney Pills do wonders for run-down people because they cure the kidneys. Cured kidneys strain all the impurities, all the poison, out of the blood and the pure blood carries new nourishment, health and life to all parts of the body. That's why so many people say, "Dodd's Kidney Pills gave me a new lease of life."

Blood Thin and Weak Too Nervous to Sleep

Here is Another Case in Which Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Proved Its Great Reconstructive Influence.

Thin blood and exhausted nerves usually go together. A considerable portion of the blood is constantly consumed in keeping up the vitality of the nervous system. Once the blood is deficient, either in quantity or quality, the nerves suffer and bodily pain results. Headache, neuralgia or sciatic pains are the indications in some cases, while in others weakness, nervousness, irritability and sleeplessness are the most marked symptoms.

POWER LINKED WITH WHEAT FIELDS

Canada Tapped by Railways to Supplement Work of British Navy. GROW GRAIN FOR WAR

Fifty-Six Million Bushels to Be Hauled by C. N. R. This Year. The present conflict in Europe has concentrated beyond the possibility of doubt that the maintenance of Britain's superiority at sea, and the expansion of the wheat areas in British dominions have been linked together as basic factors in the consideration of plans for imperial offence and defence.

Facilitating the expansion of the railway companies in the Dominion during the last 30 years, the successive governments, federal and provincial, have enabled Canada to lead in the world in greater production in this year of the empire's peril.

Without these essential traffic arteries the Dominion would have been merely a helpless spectator while the greatest military ramparts were built to a confluence, Canada's most important contribution to the cause of empire is in wheat and flour and bread.

Wheat from Prairies. The bulk of the exports of Canadian wheat for export are drawn each year from the wheat fields of the prairie provinces. The total supply may be computed by a study of the carryings of the railways. During the crop year 1914-15, the Canadian Northern alone handled from the territory served by its western lines $1,295,000 bushels.

New Registry Office Ceremonial Was Performed Yesterday. City Treasurer Patterson addressed a letter to the board of control yesterday in connection with the payment on debentures for $1,460,000, voted by council for the erection of new buildings by the board of education.

Laid Corner Stone. The new registry office on Elizabeth street may now be said to be officially under way, the corner stone being laid by Mayor Church yesterday morning. The usual valuations were placed under the stone being in this case the names of the present city council members of the city newspapers, the mayor's inaugural address, war stamps, coins, names of the contractors, etc.

Mayor Church was equipped with a silver trowel suitably engraved. Addresses were made by John Ross Robertson, R. H. Bowers, registrar of the city, Property Commissioner Chisholm and C. S. Cobb, the architect. The building when completed will cost $896,000, exclusive of the site.

SERBIANS HONOR ENGLISH VISITOR

Sir Thomas Lipton Received Enthusiastic Welcome from Britain's Allies. AIDS RED CROSS WORK

"Erin" Was Loaned for Hospital Work by Famous Yachtsman. The esteem in which the English people are held by their Serbian allies is shown by excerpts from a letter received by A. Blackwood, 89 Bernard avenue, Toronto, from a friend who accompanied Sir Thomas Lipton on his recent voyage to Serbia.

There is no country in the world where Englishmen are held in higher esteem than in Serbia. The visit of Sir Thomas Lipton to this country is now coming to an end, but he has given the Serbian people an opportunity of expressing their friendship for England and their joy that they are becoming better known and understood by the British people, and they have given him such a welcome as few men have ever had in a foreign land.

Study Yourself and Ask "Am I a Button-Wife?"

By WINIFRED BLACK
Copyright, 1918, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

THE Tired Business Man's wife wants to go on a trip, but the Tired Business Man does not see how in the world she can ever do it.

"How shall I get along without you?" said the Tired Business Man. "We have not been separated for twenty years—not while I was at home; of course, when I have to make trips, it cannot be helped. But this idea of your going away and leaving me for six weeks, why, it is preposterous! What in the world shall I do about things?"

"What things?" said the wife of the Tired Business Man.

"Why," said the Tired Business Man, "all kinds of things—breakfast on time and the right kind of things for dinner and—his face brightened with a look of inspiration—"my buttons; how am I going to keep them sewed on?"

"I will sew them all on before I go," said the wife of the Tired Business Man.

"But if they come off while you are gone?"

"I will double-sew them."

Who'll Sew the Button?

"Well, if you must I suppose you must." So the wife of the Tired Business Man is going on her trip after all, but before she went the Tired Business Man made her go over every single article in his wardrobe twice and sew all the buttons on over and over twice.

I think the wife of the Tired Business Man really did not intend to go for very long, but the "button, button, who will sew the button," outlook irritated her to such an extent that she is going, and she would have gone if the house had burned down the very day that she packed her trunk.

"Now," said the wife of the Tired Business Man, "if he had only said to me, 'I cannot be happy without you. We have lived together for twenty years and the world is not right to me unless you are here with me. I want you to look at. I want you to talk to. I want you to be with me. I want you there to be sorry when something goes wrong and to be indignant when somebody thinks I am not as clever as the new man at Smith's or the old man at Robinson's—I want you to laugh at my funny stories and to smile away my troubles—nobody else will do. I married you because I wanted you, and I want you now worse than ever.' If he had only said that I would have stayed and I would have been very happy to stay."

"But this 'button, button, who's got the button' conversation brought it home to me all at once that my husband has grown to regard me simply as a convenience—like an easy chair or the morning paper or the cup that holds his coffee—not even the coffee in the cup or the news in the paper, nor the view from the window where the chair sits, and I could not stand it, and I am going now and I shall stay away, not six weeks but eight weeks."

Surprised by Her Popularity.

"And when I get back I am not going to be a 'button-sewer' and nothing else all the rest of my life. I am going to be a person with likes and dislikes and friends and acquaintances and an outlook on life."

"My outlook—not his."

"My friends—not his."

"My acquaintances—not his."

"My point of view—not always his. And do you know?"—the wife of the Tired Business Man looked hopefully at those who listened to her—"do you know," she said, "I believe he will be glad if it when he gets used to it. I do not believe any real man really likes a wife who allows herself to become merely a piece of furniture or a 'button-sewer' in his house."

We all called each other up on the 'phone, the friends of the wife of the Tired Business Man and I, and we went to the train, some of us in limousines, some of us in taxis, some of us in street cars, and some of us walked, but every one of us carried something to the wife of the Tired Business Man, a friendly letter, something to make our friend understand that we remembered her and loved her.

The Tired Business Man was so surprised to see us that it was all he could do to keep from gasping.

I wonder if the Tired Business Man realized how very sorry we all were for his wife, and how we all hoped he would really miss her even if the buttons did not come off?

Diary of a Well-Dressed Girl

By SYLVIA GERARD

Prodding the Tailor to Make a Perfect Suit.

As good as out of the world as out of fashion. This comes very nearly being true. Every one seems even more interested in fashions this year than last. Wherever I go they are talking about American-designed frocks and hats.

My coat suits was the most becoming. None can compare with my navy blue. I told the tailor when he was making it that I wanted a youthful suit with a semi-fitted, short coat and a pleated skirt. When I went for the first fitting I was sorry that he had made any suggestion anything different from the models he gave me to choose.

The jacket was an awkward length, the pleatum too full, and the skirt fitted that I felt like telling him not to bother about finishing it, and to select material for another suit.

He, poor man, was excited and apologetic, assuring me that the suit was satisfactory when finished. He said that the cutter had made a mistake in the proportions.

At the second fitting the suit showed great possibilities, and at the third fitting the lines were perfect.

The jacket is a work of art. It fits loosely, yet follows the lines of the figure, and the pleatum flares just enough to be graceful and smart. The front are turned back with a row of buttons, which is trimmed with black grosgrain silk.

A waistcoat of white pique of the finest quality, fastened with yellow enamel buttons, add a "springy" touch to the suit, and the high collar is lined with the pique.

To make the jacket appear a trifle short-waisted a narrow belt of the same material is drawn across the back and through slashes at each side. It is clasped to rest with a square buckle of black and yellow enamel.

I always like a little bow of silk or a brooch at the base of the throat to eliminate the harsh blue, so the tailor attached pieces of black grosgrain silk to each side of the collar so they can be tied to form a bow.

I never had a more perfect hanging skirt, each pleat falls in exactly the right place, and it fits perfectly over the hips.

The blouse which I had made to wear with this suit, harmonizes perfectly. It is of chiffon, of the same tone of blue, with tiny yellow chiffon, and has trimming touches of black grosgrain silk and yellow enamel buttons.

I'll complete the costume with a hat of dark blue with a band of blue grosgrain ribbon drawn about the crown. There are detached bouquets of pale yellow stars.

I'll also wear yellow gloves and yellow topped shoes.

The fashion fete begins tomorrow. I'll compete the "array" myself in the "splendor" of my afternoon and evening frocks and make a choice.

Smart Dark Blue Street Suit.

We are to pose as mannikins, wearing our very newest frocks for morning, afternoon and evening.

The fete is to be given in the theatre, and I understand the stage will be decorated to represent the gardens of the palace. This will be the proper setting for the silk and lace-draped skirts and Watteau hats.

We tried on my costume at least five times trying to decide which to choose for afternoon and evening. In the end I suppose I'll have to "count out."

It was an easy matter to find which of ALWAYS before this he has had a certain amount of attention all to himself. He has been a real person, separate and distinct, to be sized up on his own account, but TODAY he is all but obliterated. The brilliant orb of HER all completely shuts him out. The gleam of his carefully brushed hair, a rather nervous face, a dash of black and white, and he disappears behind the refulgence of the splendid, glowing apparition of the BRIDE. This is HER day. The shimmer and sweep of her tulle, and lace, and satin, and orange blossoms, and orchids command all eyes and all hearts.

He is just her background, just part of the frame of her picture, just a dim obligate to her melody—just the MAN.

Peter's Adventures in Matrimony

By LEONA DALRYMPLE
Author of the new novel, "Diane of the Green Van," awarded a prize of $10,000 by Ida M. Tarbell and S. S. McClure as judges.

"Well, for one thing," said I, "a crowd of men wouldn't sit around in absolute indifference for two or three weeks or a whole summer. If they did—there'd be trouble. Somebody would shoot somebody else and live things up a bit. For another thing, a transient collection of men seems to bring out a general good feeling. A collection of women are manipulated from the very minute of their coming by a strong sense of competition—competition. In dress-complexion, husbands—kids and every other possession."

Working for enjoyment.

"Exactly," said Mary. "It's the business competition among men."

"Yes, but it doesn't engender personal defiance. It's a wholly impersonal, and, therefore, wholesome defiance."

"I wonder why women do it around like that," Mary marvelled.

"Because," I said honestly, "it doesn't work. Women are bodily more lazy than men. They don't want to work for their enjoyment."

Are Women "Body-Lazy"?

THE lane did lead somewhere. We finally passed a boarding house upon a knoll. There were tables out beneath the trees, and women playing cards. Hammocks, plainly burdened with feminine readers of books, swung in pleasant shadow.

LEONA DALRYMPLE Children galloped about with gleeful shrieks, and there was the usual contingent of old ladies upon the veranda, endlessly rocking and endlessly sewing—endlessly talking personalities.

Mary shivered.

"And not a man in sight!" she said fervently. "Ugh. Peter. I had one summer of that, and I hated it, simply hated it. You remember, don't you? It got so on my nerves that I used to cry myself to sleep."

"Simply because there wasn't a man in sight?" I asked her. "Dear me, Mary. How very, very frivolous!"

The Manless Crowd.

"Not that I wanted the man," explained Mary, eagerly. "I merely wanted him as a part of the landscape. Truly, Peter, I wouldn't have cared if he had a wooden leg and a glass eye and a head of hair that looked like a virgile to the atmosphere. You can't imagine what it's like. Only an older woman can enjoy it. Peter. If you're young, the women all act a little resentful to you, and they never lose an opportunity to correct any little error of judgment or lack of experience."

"Like a flock of sparrows picking feathers from an escaped canary?" I suggested in some amusement.

"Exactly," said Mary. "It's like that, of course, some individual women are sweet and kind, but a crowd of women like that are never very nice to a girl who's young and good-looking. I don't know why. It's just true. And they're so fearfully ready to talk and criticize. Why is it, Peter, that a crowd of men doesn't seem so deadly?"

The Good-Night Story

THE ANT HILL :: :: By Vernon Merry

LONG, long time ago there lived three brothers who were forced to go out into the world to seek their fortunes. One afternoon, when they had traveled a great distance, they sat down under a tree to rest. Soon they noticed an ant hill in front of them and were amused at the little ants running about.

"Let us destroy the hill and see how confused the ants become. They will be wildly excited," said the oldest brother.

"No," said the youngest. "Leave the little creatures alone. They have done you no harm."

Then they continued their journey until they came to a great castle. They entered, and found the king, queen, and every one asleep. In one of the rooms they discovered a tablet on which was written: "This castle is under a spell of a wicked magician. He who recovers the princess's pearls, which are hidden in the wood under the moss, will free it from the enchantment. There are a thousand pearls, and they must be collected in a day, from sunrise to sunset."

The next day the first brother tried to find the pearls, but he returned with but one.

Then the second brother took his turn, and was only successful in finding six. Finally the youngest brother went to the wood, and there he found several thousands of ants from the ant hill waiting to help him find the pearls. Long before sundown the thousand pearls were collected in a heap, and he took them to the palace.

Immediately every one awoke, and the king insisted that the youngest brother marry his daughter. He did so, and they lived happily ever after.

THE fox who hated the sour grapes, which went untasted because they were beyond his reach, exemplified to that marvellous Greek slave, Aescop, the class of persons who pollute the good name and characters of those beyond their destructive paw. A competitor envious of another, in fear to put down in black and white the lies in his heart, says: "Who, Grape? Ha, I not think so well of him!"

Thus by venomous innuendo and the damnation of a shake of the head the envious slanderer seeks to accomplish by the poison of the assassin what he cannot do in a fair fight.

Plutarch tells how a certain philosopher heard once that such a fellow spoke well of him. "I'll lay my life," said he, "that he was told of my death, for he can speak well of no man alive."

Jealousy's Bodily Effects.

Envy has recently been reinvestigated physiologically and psychologically—two almost similar points of view from the experimental viewpoint. The effort has been to make out the precise distinctions between envy and jealousy.

When certain glands of animals are removed by the scalpel of a skillful surgeon, baked, dried and measured, they may be injected into the lymph and blood of ill persons with Aladdin-like results.

Each one, from the pineal gland beneath the brain to the tiny carotid gland near the shoulder, plays a large part in the joy and laughter, ease and exultation, sorrow and anxiety of life.

Jealousy has been fairly well identified with the thyroid gland of emotion, the thyroid gland. It is also intermeshed with the sexual glands, particularly of the gentler sex. Even in fish, female birds and female animals, the gland from which the sexes emerge, exhibits an overactivity during periods of passionate jealousy.

Dr. G. H. Savage, fellow of the Royal College of Physicians of Great Britain, has devoted a large amount of time to researches upon jealousy among men, in animals and man. He finds that the glands concerned with the emotion of jealousy, even when men or women are jealous of one another, or of the sexes, include an over-activity of the egg-making and sperm-generating fabric.

Sex and Jealousy.

On the other hand, envy predominates in those who are unsexed or de-sexed. The femininity and woman who by virtue of their station in life, their domestic relations or the severity and asceticism of their training and education can exhibit the exaggerated symptoms of envy.

Men, notwithstanding, are inclined rather to be jealous of each other's success. Envy when found among men, is associated with smooth-faced, somewhat foolish individuals with training, dining and associations which have sapped or suppressed the usual masculine vigor and manly nature.

It is the idea of the servant, as yet unsupported by experiment, that envy is associated with some checkrein or "inhibitory" action upon the sex-glands, whereas, in the case of the over-production of the fluids or "hormones" of such glands.

Dr. Savage shows conclusively that the universal misconception that envy,

Answers to Health Questions.

A. F. W.—I have a sore about the size of a half-dollar, which resulted from the removal of a large wart. It seemed to be healing all right at first, but afterward began to discharge matter. What can I do?

A.—Apply each night to the sore all of each, 3 drams glycerine, 3 drams salicylic acid, 20 parts of salicylic acid, 5 drops; vaseline and lanolin, equal parts.

D. M. H.—I am troubled with a pain in my left shoulder extending to my elbow. What do you suggest? It seems to me that I have rheumatism.

A.—There is no such thing as "rheumatism." Hot baths and rubbing with the electric battery applied three times a day to the painful parts, massage, manipulation and Swedish movements are excellent aids. Take 15 drops of a saturated solution of iodide of potassium in water after meals, increasing one drop at a time until you are taking 15 drops. Then go down again to 15 and up several times. Drink three quarts of distilled water daily, and eat no solid foods, but fruits, vegetables, cereals, milk and eggs.

How to Make Delicious "Cornish Pasties."

EARLY last summer before the war began I was staying with a friend in Cornwall, and one day she taught me how to make the pasties for which the county is famous. The idea of these pasties is that they give a complete meal in one "dish."

The pastry takes the place of a pudding course, while in the crisp brown case are concealed the meat and two, or sometimes three, vegetables.

They can be made either in one large party sufficient for each member of the family to have a portion, or in individual pasties for each person.

In some parts of the county, meat pasties are only used, but in others turnips are also added, the reason being that as they contain much water, this makes the mixture nice and moist, and far more delicious than if water is used to give the necessary moisture.

To Make the Pasties.

Required for the pastry:

One and a half pounds of flour.

Three-quarters of a pound of lard or dripping.

Cold water.

One and a half teaspoonfuls of baking powder.

Half a teaspoonful of salt.

For the mixture:

Twelve ounces of potatoes.

Eight ounces of meat.

Two ounces of onion.

Two ounces of turnip.

Salt and pepper.

Cut the meat into neat, small pieces, then fold the potatoes, and turnips, and cut them into dice.

Chop the onion finely, mix all together on a plate with pepper and salt and two tablespoonfuls of water.

Sift the flour, baking powder and salt into a basin; shred and rub the lard finely into it, then gradually add enough water to mix the whole into a stiff paste. Flour a board, put on the pastry, and roll it out about a quarter of an inch thick.

Cut it into neat rounds, put a good heap of meat and vegetables on the pastry, brush the edges with water, then fold the pastry over it, pressing the edges together. This is an important point; they must be so joined that the juices can escape.

Crimp the joined edges neatly with the fingers. Lay the pasties on a greased baking tin, and, if possible, brush the top, but not the edges, with beaten egg. This is not necessary, but it improves their appearance. Bake them from half to three-quarters of an hour. They can easily be reheated on a baking tin in the oven or are excellent cold.

ADVICE TO GIRLS

By ANNIE LAURIE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

There is a young man I met last summer whom I grew to like very much, and he said he liked me, too. For about six or seven months he has been coming to see me, but he has not just simply stopped all at once. He said he never went with any other girl, and never cared for any one but me. I don't know why he stopped coming to see me unless it was because some one had told him I was an awful flirt. I have been told the same thing about him, but I don't know whether it is true or not.

One day when he was at my house and was saying good-night he kissed me. I was taken so much by surprise I could not say anything at first, and when he was gone, afterward he said he was sorry if he had made me angry, and he never did it again. Everybody is asking why we don't get each other any more, and although I know they are simply curious, it is very embarrassing sometimes. What shall I do?

PERPLEXED.

WELL, my dear "Perplexed," probably your young friend doesn't care for you to be his friend any more, so why should you care whether you see him again or not? If you make any effort to see him, an afraid you will regret it. If I were you, I would forget all about this young man and so

THURSDAY MORNING, APRIL 15.

In the Refiner's Fire

Toronto has had the good fortune of having the opportunity to become familiar with Professor Charles Sarcles, so well known as editor of "Everyman" and more recently as having engaged in the fight in the trenches of Belgium, himself a representative Belgian, the living in Great Britain for many years.

Professor Sarcles does not speak with emotion nor with the blind hysterics of the Kelt, nor does he pile on the agony in his narration of the horrors that have befallen the little kingdom. His plain unvarnished tale, uncolored by passion, even dulled by official reticence, carries a message of piercing sorrow to any heart that beats with human sympathy.

Former warriors respected the property and the memorials of the country in which they fought. The Prussian Huns, possessed with the demon of destruction, have spared nothing. Monuments the most sacred, buildings the most ancient and beautiful, shrines of historic and universal human interest, were all alike to the savages let loose by the Kaiser.

Caesar in his "Wars of Gaul" says that among all the tribes which he enumerates the Belgians were the bravest. That takes us back nearly two thousand years. The Belgians have need of all their ancestral valor. Bravery is of various degrees. A man may be brave like Arnold Winkelried, who drew the spears to his comrades.

Great weapons are welded in great heat and out of the fiery furnace of the tribulations of Belgium the Flemish and French of Flanders may be welded into the instrument of some more wonderful achievement in national life than Europe has yet conceived.

The Only Basis of Peace

Some — fortunately not many — estimable, but rather misguided, people in Britain are pleading for peace on the basis of restoring the situation as it existed prior to the outbreak of war. They apparently would be quite willing to allow the Germans to retire to their home land without paying one cent of compensation to Belgium, or to any other enemy nation.

Proposals of this nature cannot be expected to receive serious consideration. Much less welcome, as a possible end of this gigantic conflict, no possible benefit can come from postponing the struggle now begun between two directly contrary theories of international life.

INFLUENCE OF WAR HURT LAND SALES

The last report of Hon. W. H. Hearst before he became premier appears in the report of the lands, forests and mines department, which was issued yesterday. Sales for agricultural and town site areas, bringing $98,020.68, and 17,888 for $48,763 to be used for mining purposes.

Now Comes the Fall

This European war is developing after a far different manner from that which was anticipated. In its early stages it accorded to some extent with the common belief in German superiority on land. The Kaiser was first afield, as he was expected to be, but at the crucial point his war machine began to creak, stopped and finally beat a retreat to the chagrin and disappointment of its operators.

Menace of German Colonization

Little more than a month ago Gen. Smuts, minister of finance and defence in the government of the Union of South Africa, when moving the second reading of the indemnity bill dealing with the recent rebellion, referred to German influence. He said that, although their information was defective, no doubt existed that communications had passed on a large scale between the German authorities and some people in South Africa.

REMOVE THE POLITICAL CLOUDS

Editor World: The World is right. Better get past the political faction holding a general election and there will be great relief to all our people and to business. Disperse these endorsed by the electives, if they are not only to go on with their war ahead with progressive policy for the general welfare. And that is what we want.

BEAUTIFY TORONTO

Editor World: I have taken quite an interest in reading how to beautify Toronto. Why could not fruit trees be planted instead of shade trees? What a picture it would be to have all our streets and back yards lined with fruit trees. How proud we would feel if Toronto was turned into an orchard!

I am where there are a few fruit trees, and we never get a bit of the fruit; children come and steal it, sometimes before it is ripe. It would not have to do this if all had trees. Each householder, I am sure, would take a great interest in looking after his own fruit trees. I am sure, as each one would have his own fruit, also see that each householder had a will allow space for this. A. M.

CONSULT DOMINIONS IN MAKING PEACE

Colonial Secretary Harcourt Gives Important Assurance in Commons.

TRIBUTE TO AUSTRALIA

Fine Spirit Shown in Accepting Postponement of Imperial Conference.

Canadian Associated Press Cable. LONDON, April 14.—Hon. Lewis Harcourt, colonial secretary, when asked in the commons today whether he could give any information on the postponement of the imperial conference, replied: "I will state exactly what has happened. After the war broke out, the government assumed it should not be for the convenience of any of the parties that the formal conference should meet on its due date in May this year, but no communication on the matter passed between us and the Dominions governments. Early in December last I was made aware privately that Premier Fisher of Australia was in favor of the meeting of the imperial conference during and in spite of the war."

Other Dominions Opposed. It communicated this fact, also privately by telegraph, to the prime ministers of all the other dominions. They unanimously agreed with us that the holding of the normal conference this year, if not possible, would be difficult, if not impossible, in two cases at least it was said the attendance of ministers was impracticable. I then turned to the prime minister of the Commonwealth that in view of the practical unanimity of opinion we hoped he would recognize its force. He expressed his wish to press the matter further.

Acquiesced Cheerfully. A few days ago Mr. Fisher was reported in the press as saying, with reference to the imperial conference, "What the British Government considers the correct thing is good enough for my government. That is all I have to say." "And in a private letter to me on Feb. 15, he wrote, 'I cheerfully fall in with the decision not to hold the imperial conference this year, though I have not been able to convince myself that the reasons given for postponement are sufficient. This is a sort of policy for this trouble that gets over all difficulties. When the King's business will not fit in with our ideas, we do not argue them.'"

Will Consult Dominions. "This is an admirable example of the spirit in which the dominions deal with imperial affairs during the war. In all these communications I have referred only to what I have carefully called the normal conference, by which I mean the full conference, with all the paraphernalia of miscellaneous resolutions, protracted sittings, shorthand reports and resultant blue books. This is a sort of conference which we thought unsuited to the present conditions, but in January, when intimating its postponement to the various dominions, I telegraphed to each of the governments, 'Will you inform your prime minister that it is the intention of the government to consult him more fully, if possible personally, when the time arrives at discuss possible terms of peace. I need hardly add that the government intend to observe the spirit as well as the letter of this declaration, which I believe has given complete satisfaction to the governments of the dominions. I have exceeded the ordinary limits of an answer to a question in order that the position as regards the imperial conference may be plain to the public as it is to those governments.'"

SMALLPOX OUTBREAKS CAUSE FOOLISH PANIC

St. Thomas is just recovering from a severe smallpox panic, and schools which were closed in a hurry and without sufficient reason are now being opened on the advice of the provincial board of health. The outbreak of the disease a week ago caused some alarm, and the revivification of the old scourge was feared. The schools were at once closed as well as the colleges and institutes, which had no direct or indirect connection with the patients.

THE READINESS IS ALL

In some important lines of trade and industry competition has been practically eliminated. Hence the protest on the part of the public against mergers and all the other methods by which monopolies and consequent high prices are created and sustained. Fortunately, however, for the public and especially in a period of storm and stress such as the world now suffers from, there are large and important departments of trade which preserve genuine competition.

DR. FALCONER SEES GERMANY FREED

Special to The Toronto World. ORANGEVILLE, Ont., April 14.—Dr. Falconer, president of the University of Toronto, was the guest of honor at the first luncheon of the newly-formed Canadian Club at the Grand Central Hotel here today. President A. A. Hughson introduced the speaker. Dr. Falconer spoke on "Bismarck and His Policies," tracing the history of the German Empire under that chancellor. Bismarck's blood and iron policy with the German people had been absorbed by the German people; their spirit of democracy had been crushed, and the nation had grown to believe might was right and had tried to dominate the world. President Falconer predicted that Germany would be beaten and disarmed, would turn towards true democracy, and it was that Germany, not this one, that would have to be feared.

EMPIRE WILL BE DEFEATED AND DISARMED, AND TRUE DEMOCRACY WILL RISE.

President Falconer went to the high school and addressed the pupils, spoke to the United Orangeville Missionary Societies at the Presbyterian Church and addressed a large audience in the opera house on "Canada's Part in the Present War."

For the Very Smartest Fashions in Clothing for Young Men

Timely Spring Coat Suggestions

SMART styles in spring coats have in general followed two widely divergent lines, the loose slip-on Balmacaan and snug-fitting and slender-waisted effects. The young man who wishes to be correctly dressed will choose between these styles, according to his personal tastes.

As in suits, tweeds, particularly in the shades of grey, are at the height of popularity and are unusually well represented in our stocks.

For instance, a new model just in, of grey-green and grey-brown tweed mixtures, is of exceptional merit. It is cut in 3-button modified Chesterfield design, that is, the conventional Chesterfield style has been rendered more attractive and up-to-the-minute by close fitting, narrow shoulders, broad, short lapel, deep notch collar, rather full back, and just the slightest flare to the skirt. Patch pockets and cuffed sleeves complete the decidedly smart appearance. The whole coat, which is lined in shoulders and sleeves, presents an unusually trim cut without the slightest taint of frakiness. Price $15.00

The illustration pictures the snug-fitting, slender-waisted style. In this design, which is a great favorite among the smart dressers in the American younger set, we are showing models in Oxford grey, worsted and serge finishes, and also in light grey tweeds. Some have black velvet collars. The design, as indicated in the sketch, is 3-button, soft rolling, fairly broad lapel, form-fitting, with vent in black and just knee length. Prices $12.50, $13.50, and $15.00

Men's Well-Tailored Suits, Special, $7.75

Men's Suits, in tweeds, of soft finish and quality, that will give good service. They are in many shades of brown, also in gray of medium shade—fancy mixtures, narrow stripes, and small checks. Single-breasted three-button sack styles; well trimmed; sizes 35 to 44. Specially priced for Thursday. $7.75

The Special Selling of Men's Hats Continues Thursday with Extra Good Values at 50c, 75c and $1.00

WE'VE got more hats than usual this year owing to the measure we took to guard against non-shipment of our English hats, but while these latter were a little tardy in coming, they arrived all right, with the result that we're swamped with hats. The orders are to clear the stockroom, and to do this great numbers of hats have been divided in three lots at 50c, 75c and $1.00.

It's an opportunity to buy a hat or hats—soft hats or stiff hats. "Come Thursday." The hats at 50c are on sale in the Basement bargain section—the lines at 75c and $1.00 are on sale in the Hat Dept., Main Floor, James Street.

At 50c—Collection of soft hats of British manufacture and in fedora shape, with choice of welted or raw edge brim, and in colors of green, brown and grey mixed. Some of these can be worn telescope if desired. At this price also is a range of stiff hats, up to size 7, in medium low crown, with flat brim. Less than half price Thursday. 50c

At 75c—Soft hats in either high crown, telescope shape, with flat brim and pencil edge, in colors of green, navy blue and grey, or a fedora shape, with semi-rolled brim and welted edge, very desirable shapes. Specially priced Thursday, each. 75c

At $1.00—Stiff hats—three good lines—one shape has high crown with close-set roll brim; the other two have medium low crowns with flat or close-set roll brims. The quality of felt and trimmings in all three styles is all that can be desired, and it is a remarkable value giving. Half price Thursday, each. 1.00

WORLD CHAMPIONS LOSE THE OPENER

Phillies Beat Rudolph—Larry Doyle's Big Bat Busy Early

—National Games.

At Boston—The Braves received a setback from Philadelphia yesterday at the start of their quest for a second pennant. With Alexander pitching remarkably well for the opening game of the season, the world's champions were shut out 3 to 0. Spectacular fielding by Whitted and Egan, recent additions to the visitors' ranks, aided materially in their success. Score: R.H.E. Philadelphia . . . 10 0 0 0 1 0 1 3 5 0 Boston . . . 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 5 0 Batteries—Alexander and Kilmer; Rudolph and Gowdy.

At New York—The New York Nationals opened their championship season here yesterday with an easy victory over Brooklyn, the Giants winning by a score of 16 to 3. McGraw's team got off to an early lead by hammering Pfeffer for seven runs in the first and second innings. Schmitt stopped New York for a few innings, but in the sixth home team piled up five more runs on four doubles, a single, a steal and an error. Brown, who finished, was even less effective. Score: R.H.E. Philadelphia . . . 10 0 0 0 0 0 0 3 5 0 Boston . . . 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 5 0 Batteries—Pfeffer, Schmitt, Brown and McCarty; Terrau and Meyers, Smith.

At Cincinnati—Pittsburg made a runaway event of the opening game here yesterday, winning 9 to 3. Finding Ames' curves to their liking, the Pirates started their run getting in the second, sent Ames to the bench by scoring three runs more in the fourth, and pounded Schneider in the final two innings. Hinchman, Pittsburg's rightfielder, made three hits, one a triple, scored two runs and his hitting was responsible for several other Pittsburgh rallies. Score: R.H.E. Cincinnati . . . 0 10 0 0 0 1 4 9 1 1 Cincinnati . . . 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 2 8 1 Batteries—McQuillen and Gibson; Ames, Schneider and Dooin.

FIRST DEFEAT FOR NEWARK FEDERALS

At Brooklyn—Brooklyn staged a ninth inning finish yesterday and administered the first defeat of the season to the Newark. The score was 8 to 7. The final inning opened with the score 7 to 6 in Newark's favor. In the eighth, Myers and Westfall, two steals and a pass to Evans sent over three runs and the victory. Lee Magee, back in the game after a three days' suspension, made four hits, one of them a triple in the eighth, one on which he made a clean steal of home while Moran was winding up. Score: R.H.E. Newark . . . 0 0 0 1 0 3 1 2 0 7 10 4 Brooklyn . . . 1 0 1 0 0 0 2 1 3 8 11 1 Batteries—Moran and Hahn; Wilson, Uplham, Finnan and Land.

At Baltimore—Baltimore broke into the win column yesterday afternoon, sending Buffalo down to a 5 to 1 defeat. Quinn pitched good ball throughout, while Krapp was wild. Doolan's fielding helped. Score: R.H.E. Baltimore . . . 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 2 0 5 8 2 Buffalo . . . 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 1 0 0 0 Batteries—Krapp and Blair; Quinn and Owens.

At Kansas City—Easterly's scoring on Matt's hurt and Harley's error in the 12th enabled the Kansas City Federals to defeat St. Louis by 3 to 2. In the ninth Elmore brought the spectators to their feet when, with the bases full and the score tied and two out, he made a running catch of Toole's fly. Score: R.H.E. Kansas City . . . 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 3 4 Kansas City . . . 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 3 4 Batteries—Crandall and Hartley; Packard, Main and Easterly.

At Detroit—Detroit fielded miserably, was unable to hit Mitchell's opening game, and Cleveland won the opening game of the season, 5 to 1. Ty Cobb indignantly muffed Chapman's high fly in the first inning, thus making an error on his first fielding chance of the year. Chapman took second on the misplay and scored on Jackson's single. Viti's wide throw paved the way for Cleveland's run in the sixth, while Covaleski's miff of a thrown ball and some consecutive mistakes gave the visitors three runs in the seventh. Score: R.H.E. Cleveland . . . 1 0 0 0 0 1 3 0 0 5 7 0 Detroit . . . 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 7 6 Batteries—Mitchell and O'Neill; Covaleski, Boland and Stange; Baker.

At St. Louis—Chicago and St. Louis opened the American League season here yesterday by a thirteen-inning game, which the visitors won by 7 to 6. In the Brief and Schalk's triple brought in the following out Fournier came in with the winning run of the game. St. Louis, but fell a run short of tying the score again. Major Kiel pitched the first ball, other notables were present. Score: R.H.E. Chicago . . . 1 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 1 2 7 18 4 St. Louis . . . 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 2 6 8 7 Batteries—Scott, Jasper, Faber, Cicotte and Schalk; Wellman, Perryman and Severid, Knew.

At Chicago—Speedy base running and St. Louis' numerous errors gave Chicago so many runs that yesterday was the easiest game of the season to date. Long's three-base hit was the main factor in scoring the St. Louis runs. Score: R.H.E. Chicago . . . 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 6 11 8 Chicago . . . 0 3 0 2 1 1 0 0 2 7 11 8 Batteries—Sallee, Butler, Niehaus and Snyder; Vaughn and Archer.

At Washington—President Wilson, several members of his cabinet and a huge crowd yesterday saw Washington defeat New York by a score of 10 to 2 in the opening game of the baseball season.

The president began the game by throwing out the first ball to Umpire Brewster. Egan, Lane, Daniels and Garrison he remained throughout the game and warmly applauded the best plays. A baseball bat and ball, inscribed with the name of Francis Byrne, the baby grand of President Wilson, were presented to the president during the game by Manager Griffith of the Washington team.

The game was played in ideal weather. Walter Johnson, who allowed New York only two hits, and by Williams' catch of Coo's line drive in the fifth with two on base. Three of Warhop's four passes, which were followed by hits and sacrifices, suited in runs. With the bases full in the fifth Cook misjudged Morgan's fly, which went for three bases, and Washington scored three runs. Johnson scored again in the eighth on Alsmith's hit, which was followed by High and Mabel, and sacrifices by Moeller and Foster. Score: R.H.E. New York . . . 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 11 1 Washington . . . 1 0 0 1 3 0 1 1 2 11 1 Batteries—Warhop and Sweeney; Johnson and Alsmith.

At Philadelphia—Herb Penneck was in such wonderful form in the opening championship game between Philadelphia and Boston here yesterday afternoon that the Red Sox were not only shut out 2 to 0, but it was not until two men were out in the ninth inning that the visitors made their lone hit of the contest. Then Hopper hit a single over Penneck's head but he could not hold it with one hand and Penneck lost his chance for a no-run-inning. When Philadelphia scored its runs on a pass, two safe bunts, a fielder's choice and a scratch single. Major Blankenship tossed out the first ball. Frank Baker, who announced his return to the major league, witnessed the game. His place at third base was filled by Eddie Murphy, who did excellent work. The weather was cool and the stands were little more than half filled. Score: R.H.E. Philadelphia . . . 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 1 0 Philadelphia . . . 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 7 0 Batteries—Store and Cady; Penneck and Schang.

At Detroit—Detroit fielded miserably, was unable to hit Mitchell's opening game, and Cleveland won the opening game of the season, 5 to 1. Ty Cobb indignantly muffed Chapman's high fly in the first inning, thus making an error on his first fielding chance of the year. Chapman took second on the misplay and scored on Jackson's single. Viti's wide throw paved the way for Cleveland's run in the sixth, while Covaleski's miff of a thrown ball and some consecutive mistakes gave the visitors three runs in the seventh. Score: R.H.E. Cleveland . . . 1 0 0 0 0 1 3 0 0 5 7 0 Detroit . . . 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 7 6 Batteries—Mitchell and O'Neill; Covaleski, Boland and Stange; Baker.

CLYMER'S SQUAD WINS FIRST GAME

Herbert Invincible and Greensboro Team is Easy for the Leafs.

GREENSBORO, N.C., April 14.—Toronto broke into the exhibition game thing this afternoon, smothering the local league team. Herbert was uncatchable, allowing only one hit in his five innings, and passing one. Two double-plays and a splendid catch of a line drive by Brackett helped him. He was pitching high-grade ball for the Leafs. Manning was showing up slow ones for his four innings, and in his second round the locals got to him for two triples; following a pass, for two runs to first, according to orders. He landed two good hits, but they were not hit. He had no speed, complaining of a sore arm.

The feature was the hitting of Holland. He landed two doubles to right center field, out a triple over third, and was passed, and the only out against him was on a bunt to first, according to orders. The infield worked beautifully together. Brown looked extra good in left, and as a whole the team showed nice speed on the bases. They hit hard and all down the line. Jordan slashed out his double with two out, sending in the first runs of the game. A couple of good pitchers are all that are needed. The score: Toronto . . . 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 Greensboro, N.C. . . 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

GERMANS BUSILY DAMMING RHINE

Preparations for Flooding Country When Allies Invade Fatherland.

BASEL, SWITZERLAND, April 14.—The German military authorities, according to advices reaching this city, are reconstructing the formidable fortifications at Jelen, five miles from here on the Rhine.

The barracks inside the fortifications have been completely pulled down and extensive underground barracks to harbor and that preparations have been made to take their places have been dug and quarried out of the earth. Furthermore, the River Rhine is being dammed so that when certain sluice-gates are closed, wide stretches of the surrounding country can be flooded.

Observers in Basel are expressing the opinion that these preparations are in anticipation of a French offensive being successful.

BRITISH MAIL CLOSES. A British and foreign mail (via England) will be closed at the General Post Office at 6:00 p.m., Thursday, with a supplementary mail at 6:00 a.m. on Friday.

JAPANESE FLEET MINED HARBOR?

LOS ANGELES, April 14.—That a fleet of three Japanese warships, under command of Admiral Nakamura, had recently mined the harbor at Turle Bay, Lower California, was the assertion of a reporter of a Los Angeles paper who returned today from the southern coast.

He said the fleet had arrived to stand by the Japanese cruiser Asama, which went ashore some weeks ago at the entrance to the harbor, and that preparations had been made to land and ammunitions and men.

The laying of mines was to prevent the arrival of the Asama by German raid on the Asama by German to lift the battleship out of the mud.

PATENT RAN OUT. Mr. Justice Lenoxx reserved judgment yesterday in the case in which J. P. Street and his wife sought to recover $1,000 from Major J. A. Murray. The money was alleged to have been paid by Mrs. Street to Major Murray for the purpose of placing a patent dump wagon on the market.

WHERE TO LUNCH. Krausmann's Grill, King and Church streets, Muncie, 8 to 8 and 10 to 11:30 p.m. Sundays served, music, 8 to 8 p.m. Private banquets catered for.

SPICY BITS OF SOCCER GOSSIP

Lancshires Have a Young Star—Preparing for Saturday's Games.

That old war-horse, Jack Richardson of Manchester Unity, is doing the comeback stunt and playing as well as ever he did in this city. He was unbeatable on Saturday against Baracas.

In young Art Jones Lancshires have a very fine outside right. He scored three goals on Saturday against Fraserburgh. This lad (he is only 17) has a bright future before him. The English selection committee will do well to keep him in mind.

St. Anne's football team is open for games away. Any team wishing a game for Saturday kindly communicate with S. Hamilton, 207 Gladstone avenue.

Jimmy Allen worked hard against the Lancs for Fraserburgh, but one man does not make a team. It was not Jimmy's fault that so many goals were scored, and he deserves better support from his team mates.

St. David's elected their officers for the coming season at the meeting on Tuesday evening. President, H. Maywood; secretary, J. Scott; treasurer, G. Moore; vice-president, J. White. All players and members are asked to meet at St. Clair avenue and Dufferin street on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock for training.

Phil McKay of Baracas was not a success on the forward line. It looks as if he is of the club at last, but he always plays a good game.

There is a rumor going that the Lancs are losing their good right back, George Holt. It is said that he is about to leave for the old country.

In an exhibition game, Dominion Transport F.C. played Iron Works, played on Wednesday evening on Harbor Square. The match opened in a spirited fashion, and each side in turn gave the spectators a hot time, and after 15 minutes of play Rose ran thru and scored a beautiful goal for the Transport, who led 1 to 0. The second period was rather of an in-and-out character, and nothing more was scored. Final result: Dominion Transport 1, Poison Iron Works 0.

Dominion Transport team: Edmunds, Little, Topham, Cummings, Chadburn, Bittle, Biggs, Ramsay, Rose, Donnelly, Bryant.

Joe Riddell, in goal for Manchester Unity, has lost none of his old form. He saved finely on two or three occasions on Saturday, and if he keeps it up the Unity will have no need to fear about this important position.

Abrams of the Lancs is a good winger, but would be of more value to his side if he would keep outside a little more.

Dunlop seniors play the juniors a practice game at the new field, Queen street and Caroline avenue, tonight, at 8:30. The grounds, at 2:15 p.m. The Rev. Park, the match opened in a spirited fashion, and each side in turn gave the spectators a hot time, and after 15 minutes of play Rose ran thru and scored a beautiful goal for the Transport, who led 1 to 0.

The Parkview Presbyterian Junior Football Club opened the season by a league game with the West Toronto United F.C. on Saturday on the Lappin arena, at 2:15 p.m. The Rev. Park, the match opened in a spirited fashion, and each side in turn gave the spectators a hot time, and after 15 minutes of play Rose ran thru and scored a beautiful goal for the Transport, who led 1 to 0.

THE TORONTO HUNT'S FIRST RUN OF SEASON

The hounds met at Tomdorden yesterday at 2 p.m. for the first run of the season. The fields were heavy but the outing was enjoyed by all.

Tommy Ryan gave evidence in the Watson arbitration, a report of which was published in the Standard last week.

Asked whether the witness considered the "Federal League" an "assured success," he replied "I don't know."

"What happened in Toronto last year? Did the International make any money?" "No, I don't think they did."

"Did Mr. McCaffery tell you how much he lost?" "No, but I would not be surprised to hear that he lost from $15,000 to $20,000."

"I know that you couldn't buy the franchise a year ago for $100,000," declared Mr. Ryan.

"Is Toronto big enough to support a Federal and an International League?" "I don't think so," replied Mr. Ryan.

"No, I would prefer to get in with the Federal League," he said.

"The witness would not admit that a Federal League team here fell thru last year because of lack of capital."

FAST WIFIELD FOR CLYMER'S CONVERTS

Team is Fast Rounding Into Shape—Sheehan Comes Well Recommended.

DURHAM, N.C., April 14.—The Toronto ball team enters upon its second week of playing in a splendidly advanced condition.

The men are ready for the inside work that develops team play and welds a squad of men into one combination.

They are not down to the edge of form by long odds, but are far advanced, and this year will share in a tremendous stride in the direction sought.

The fact is that the men have done wonders in a week towards getting into condition.

The remaining period of the stay south will be taken up in perfecting team play and incidentally those practice games among themselves and neighboring teams to get the eye sharpened for batting and fielding.

Fielding will demand some attention, but once the men are in the shape of the team it is much easier.

The arrival of Sheehan, who practically solves the whole problem for Manager Clymer, has been well recommended by the loss of Pick, Fetter, K. Patrick and Hodge didn't leave him much to work on.

Sheehan was decidedly not the brightest, and the young candidates gave him more than usual promise.

At that rate with Tim Jordan converted around like a young colt, and with every prospect of being hard and often with Sheehan at second, with Hodge at short, it looks like a pretty strong infield.

It looks like a pretty strong infield, as it is, and if he is chosen for second he looks like a winning combination.

Manager Clymer, however, took no chances. In going after Sheehan for second he had seen a heavy handed hitter for another brilliant big league in.

He may yet secure him, and if he does he purposes playing him at third. If he does not get him Toronto will have the best infield they ever had.

It is not thought the infield will compare favorably with any other in the league.

HEAVY TRADING IN WALL STREET---COBALTS ACTIVE

SELLING OF STEEL DAMPER FOR BULLS

New York Stocks Closed Irregularly After Fresh Bullish Demonstration.

BETHLEHEM FEATURE

Bulk of Twenty Point Gain Was Lost in Late Trading.

NEW YORK, April 14—Trading in the stock market today again exceeded the 100,000 shares, with a continuance of the strength and breadth which have been its most prominent recent features. Bethlehem steel, which caused much apprehension on the preceding day because of its wild movement, was far less conspicuous today, also it made a 20 point gain to 140 in the first ten minutes, only to lose much of its advantage later. It closed at 122, a net gain of 3 points.

Motor stocks moved irregularly, some of them falling under yesterday's final quotations.

The wild movement in steel led individual transactions, but was made the objective of a fresh selling drive by the New Haven one, extending to Reading and a few other railers and imparting an irregular tone to the close.
