CHARLOTTE CO. MAN TOOK HIS OWN LIFE

Benjamin Anderson of Little Ridge Blew His Own Head Off

Had Been Despondent for a Year and Was Probably Insane at the Time of His Deed

ST. STEPHEN, N. B., May 20 (Special)—A citizen of St. David, died yesterday at the home of his son-in-law, Alex. Thompson, Mohannes, at the advanced age of 83. The deceased, some years ago, carried on lumbering and farming as well as a great mill at St. Stephen. He left several sons and daughters in the west and in this vicinity. The farming district of Little Ridge was started on Sunday to learn that one of their neighbors had committed suicide. The victim, Benjamin Anderson, a well-to-do Danish farmer, told his only son, yesterday morning, that he intended to kill himself but, after a conversation with the son who urged the father to go to Milltown and reside with him, the father agreed to do so. The son went to the barn to do some chores but in a few minutes he heard the discharge of a gun. Hastening into the house he found his father dying having blown off part of his head. About one year ago the wife of the deceased died and since then the man has acted queerly and was no doubt insane at the time of the shooting. Fred Crosby returned home on the Boston train today.

PROF. LEACOCK IN GREAT BRITAIN

Gentleman Who Addressed Canadian Club Here Scored by Robert Vernon Harcourt

MONTREAL, May 20 (Special)—A C. A. P. cable says: "Vulgar, offensive twaddle is the way Robert Vernon Harcourt described the humorous article by Prof. Leacock in the morning Post, on the subject of John Bull and his lusty, grown-up sons. The Morning Post, editorially says Prof. Leacock will achieve his purpose better by continuing to address his audience in the fresh, invigorating style of self-confident young Canada, than in the mode of the old world conventionalist. "Sir W. Lyne says that Premier Laurier is willing that Canada should subscribe $20,000 for the London-Halifax-Vancouver-Sydney service. "The News referring to the part taken by Deshaies, Jamieson and Lyne, in 'Our Day's Controversy,' says Laurier has behaved with the tact, propriety and dignity expected of him."

PASTOR RETURNED $1,000 FEE

Preacher Who Married Corey and Gilman Says He is Sorry and Asks Forgiveness.

NEW YORK, May 18—Begging forgiveness of his congregation for wedding William Ellis Corey to Mabelle Gilman and announcing that he had returned the fee given to him by the president of the church, the Rev. John J. Clark, pastor of the Bushwick Avenue Congregational church, Brooklyn, tonight surprised the members of the prudential committee and was assured of its forgiveness and charity. In a most remarkable letter to the committee Mr. Clark confessed that he had misused the office of Christian ministry and declared he had done so merely because he had not reflected as he should have done before deciding to officiate. In an equally remarkable resolution adopted by the members of the committee reference was made to "our abhorrence of the use of the Christian ministry in officiating such a wedding."

MR. JAMES JORDON IS STILL IN THE FLESH

A matter of identification in the estate of the late Francis Jordan came up in the probate court this morning. It appears that some time ago, when the late Mr. Jordan's estate was dealt with in probate, it was ascertained that James Jordan, his only son—mentioned in the will—could not be located as his address was unknown for some years prior to his father's death, and he was thought to be dead. Mr. Jordan appeared in court and satisfied the executors and those interested that he was the person he claimed to be. J. H. Armstrong appeared for Jas. Jordan, S. B. Buston for the executors, and E. T. C. Knowles for the next of kin.

CHAPTER III. In spite of the courage she had promised to show, Vivienne failed before the long and elaborate dinner had reached its conclusion. Patience had feared something of the sort, and had watched her sister with considerable anxiety. The meal had been anything but a pleasant one to her. For one thing, Jack was far away, having taken Lady Erline in to dinner. True, he had been with her for some time, but she herself had been taken down by some low call magnate, who, luckily for her, took more interest in his dinner than he did in his companion. On the other side was the vicar of the parish, he who was to officiate at tomorrow's wedding, and to him she was obliged to devote herself. The vicar was an obnoxious man.

'Never met him before in my life,' he replied. 'I believe his name is Spencer Stern, an old friend of the Colonel's. I cannot say that I am particularly taken by his appearance.' 'I dare say not,' muttered Roger. 'He is a man whom I dislike intensely. He should never have been asked here. He came down by the same train with me this afternoon. I don't want Vivienne to know him.' He threw a glance across the table at the unconscious Mr. Stern, a glance that was anything but friendly. 'I should get the Colonel to turn him out of the house,' he went on, 'if I didn't dislike making a fuss. That's the worst of my future father-in-law. He knows such a lot of shady folk.' 'You needn't know them after you are married,' replied Jack, 'which is some consolation, isn't it? I shouldn't worry Roger.' He gave a nervous laugh.

IMPROVE YOUR COMPLEXION Give Up Cosmetics and Seek the Cause of Your Bad Color. When it's so easy to bring back the bloom of youth, to remove the blemishes and fill the hollows, isn't it foolish to plunk on cosmetics? Sallow skin and fallen cheeks are produced by disorders of the alimentary canal. Remove the cause—correct the condition that keeps you from looking as you ought. Use Dr. Hamilton's Pills and very soon you'll have a complexion to be proud of. Just imagine how much happier you will feel when those pimples and mottled look have gone.

GROWING OLD WHILE YET YOUNG What a number of women there are who feel that these words exactly suit their case. There are thousands of females all over our land, broken down in health and dragging out a miserable existence, apparently growing old while yet young. From early morning till late at night they have been on the go after year, attending to the household duties. Is it any wonder that they feel like this? It is no wonder that they feel like this. It is no wonder that they feel like this. It is no wonder that they feel like this.

COMMISSIONER REPORTS ON THE STANDARD OIL COMPANY

President Roosevelt's Special Man Says Oil Trust is a Grasping Monopoly. Edmonton and Calgary to Have Mail Carriers in a Few Days. It is understood that the revenue rule will not be too rigidly adhered to in granting delivery as the revenue of most of the offices is growing very fast.

J. S. BACHE & CO. PRAISE CANADA'S CURRENCY SYSTEM

NEW YORK, May 18.—The continued bad weather has crowded wheat prices up and produced an enormous speculation in this cereal. There is plenty of time for such a recovery in weather conditions, however, as shall make still a comparatively great crop. The very large surplus of last year is another important factor in the situation. And the European reports indicating shortage everywhere, if proved eventually true, will keep prices high enough to yield larger returns for our own grain, offsetting probably any shortage in volume. These considerations, however, do not affect the speculation, and enough demand has already been experienced to keep the wheat market going for some time to come. When it is remembered that a very large part of last year's crop was not moved at all from farmers' hands, and that nevertheless railroads were overcrowded, it may turn out that the volume of product, though smaller, may still be sufficient to keep the railroads in full employment.

"VIC." ROLLER RINK RE-OPENED.

Victoria Roller Rink was opened on Saturday evening with a crowded house. The floor was in perfect condition, made so by the new electric scraper imported especially by the management at great expense, and to say it was a success would be putting it mildly. "Better than new" was the word on every side. The rink, cleaned and repainted, presented a bright and attractive appearance. The music by the band, under Leader Wade, was the latest and most popular. Tonight will be ladies' night, when all ladies will be admitted free, and without doubt the rink will be crowded.

ANNUAL CARPET SALE.

HARVEY SALE ALL THIS WEEK.

The Harvey Trade-Extension Sale started out again this forenoon with a briskness that augured well for the success of the week. Many who secured bargains in clothing and furnishings on Saturday told their relatives and friends, with the result that a large number of buyers were on hand bright and early this morning. Each day this week Mr. Harvey will have new goods brought forward to take the place of those sold out. Everything is new and seasonable; nothing that has to be sold because of decreased value.

TOOK ADVANTAGE OF IT.

Today a large number of ladies—many of them parents—attended the opening of Manchester's Price-Outing Sale of spring and summer costumes, coats and jackets, as well as neckers and handkerchiefs. It was in a wise line visiting a bargain clearance of odds and ends of a busy season, but more in the nature of an early opening. All the best models were there to be selected, new coats, just like most recent fashion pictures, cute little garments for children, and an air of freshness and stylishness pervaded. The plain-figure price tickets elicited many an expression of unforgotten surprise.

WHAT LIQOZONE IS.

Liqozone is a tonic-germicide, the virtues of which are derived solely from oxide gases. No alcohol, no narcotic, nothing but germicides enter into it. The process of making requires large apparatus, and consumes 14 days' time. The object is to combine the gases with a liquid so as to carry their virtues into the system. The result is a germicide so certain that we publish with every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that Liqozone cannot kill. It destroys them because germs are of vital organs, as in Consumption. Some—like the germs of Catarrh—create inflammation; some cause indigestion. In one of these ways, nearly every serious ailment is a germ result. Such conditions call for a germicide, not for common drugs. Liqozone does what other means cannot accomplish. And it

NEW PICTURES AT THE NICKEL

Habit is said to be second nature. Some habits are good, some are bad, but it's never too late to mend. For instance, the "Nickel Habit" should be acquired, and certainly will be after the first visit to the popular moving picture theatre, formerly Keith's Theatre. Beginning at noon today there will be the usual complete change of programme and the five new pictures are entitled Bobby and His Family, The Little Globe Trotter's Christmas, Jam Stealers, Dr. Dippy's Sanatorium, and A Joke on a Gardner. With one exception they each include the comic and the ludicrous and make up a delightfully entertaining programme. Frank Austin will sing the beautiful illustrated song, I'm Tying So Hard to Forget You.

Germ Diseases.

Most of our sickness has, in late years, been traced to germ attacks. Some germs—as in skin troubles—directly attack the tissues. Some create toxins, causing such troubles as Rheumatism, Blood Poison, Kidney Disease and nerve weakness. Some destroy vital organs, as in Consumption. Some—like the germs of Catarrh—create inflammation; some cause indigestion. In one of these ways, nearly every serious ailment is a germ result. Such conditions call for a germicide, not for common drugs. Liqozone does what other means cannot accomplish. And it

ATHLETIC SPORTS

The decline of interest in athletic sports which has been so apparent in St. John for quite a number of years past is not an evidence of healthful conditions among the youth of the city. Happily, however, there are indications of better things. The development of cheap sources of entertainment has perhaps had something to do with the lessening interest in physical exertion and feats of strength and endurance.

tion of the Stars and Stripes, but she must look out for herself. As it is now Canada is buying $3 worth of produce for every $1 worth of the United States buys from her, but that cannot and will not last."

A cable from Japan says:—"The Southern Manchurian Railway having been surrendered by the military authorities to the railway company, Baron Hoto announces that the company will float a loan of 80,000,000 yen ($40,000,000), on conditions to be determined later by the president of the corporation. M. Takahashi, Japanese financial agent in Europe, expects that the loan will take the form of a 4-1/2 per cent. obligation. The deposit of the loan is to be handed over to the corporation by the navy department. At present it can only accommodate vessels of 2,500 tons burden, but it is proposed to rebuild it so that it will be able to take vessels of 20,000 tons."

It is interesting to note in connection with the local discussion on the subject of the preservation of the old Chipman House, that in Ottawa last week the Canadian Landmarks Historic Association was formed under the auspices of the Royal Society of Canada. The purpose of the association, a despatch states, is to preserve from destruction old historical buildings and landmarks. Dr. Bruwaah, speaking in favor of the plan, said that the old fort at Toronto was now used as a pork-packing establishment, and this and other similar acts of desecration emphasized the need of the new association."

Lamentable ignorance was revealed in the enquiry at the police court on Saturday, in which certain truant school boys figured. It was a surprise to the magistrate and to all who listened. The need of a trust officer has been amply proven, and it may be confidently assumed that his vigorous efforts to overcome the evils of truancy will be heartily seconded by the court. It is to the lasting shame and injury of the community if children are robbed or are permitted to deprive themselves of the advantages of at least a common school education.

The Public Ownership League is making some headway in Ontario. The Toronto Mail and Empire of Friday says:—"The Public Ownership League met last night. Fifty delegates, representing the five local leagues, met at dinner and proceeded with considerable enthusiasm to adopt a constitution. One of the objects of the league, as stated, is to bring the principles of public ownership within the sphere of practical politics, and to take an active part in the municipal and provincial elections as circumstances may suggest."

CANADA AND THE ORIENT

The tragedy of the east is appalling in duration and extent. Year after year comes the oft-told tale. But the other day a cable stated that in India nearly half a million people died of the plague within a period of some six weeks. Now comes from the famine stricken area of China the news that a million people must die and four millions more are threatened with starvation. We can form no adequate conception of the horror of it all. Words fail to portray the awful scenes of misery, and the utter despair of the people who throw their children into the river or sell them for a mere pittance into slavery. Addressing a meeting of Presbyterians in Toronto last week, and discussing the question of missions in China, Rev. Alfred Gandier said he believed "the outstanding features of world events in the twentieth century would be the awakening of China and the development of Canada."

The most ancient and the most youthful of civilizations; the new west and the hoary east; the one thrilling with the consciousness of conquering life, the other slowly rousing itself from the dull sleep of ages—how remarkable the contrast, and how significant. In the one land plenty, in the other want and measureless woe.

What will be the relations and influence upon each other of these civilizations in the years to come? Canada's trade on the Pacific is growing rapidly, and the vast areas of China are gradually being opened up to western influences and new world commerce. Canada should reap great material advantages from her connection with the marls of China, and will doubtless in return contribute in no small degree to the mental and spiritual awakening of the teeming millions of the flowery kingdom. But for the moment China's needs are material, and the whole world cannot too quickly or too generously respond to the cry of starving millions.

At the Canadian Club banquet in New York last week Hon. R. F. Sutherland, speaker of the commons, replying to a remark by Ex-Secy. Shaw, told the American people this plain truth:—"Canada has been trying without success to arrange a reciprocal tariff with the United States since 1896. But I will say that, so far as Canada is now concerned—and in saying this I believe I am correctly presenting the views of the great majority of Canadians—she has come to the conclusion that reciprocity with the United States is impossible, and she has determined to seek other markets than those of the United States. Canada has great sympathy with the United States. Her views are to a great extent the same upon many questions. She speaks the same language, and millions of her people live under the pro-

HAD GOT A JEWEL. A Scotch farmer bought a horse. Going home he thought a drink would refresh it, so he got a pail of water; but the animal would not take it. On reaching home he gave it a feed of corn; but it would not touch that either. "Ye're the worse horse for me if ye only work!" the farmer was heard to say.

FORGOT HIS UMBRELLA. At a meeting of the Kirk Session the minister went away and forgot his umbrella. On his way home to the manse he remembered, and went back. Dod, sir, it's a guld thing that I saw it afore any of the elders got their een on't."

LOST HIS WAY. Here is a story from the Green Isle. A little urchin just escaped from the sea, where he had been bathing, was trying to don a pair of ragged trousers. His foot however, first slipped through one hole and through another. The little young man standing by burst out laughing. "Beady," said the urchin, "there's so many little lanes that I can't find the main street."

PROTECTION OF THE FORESTS

In 1903, 269,451 Acres of Land Were Burned Over in Maine With a Loss of Nearly a Million Dollars—Loss Last Year $20,919. (Portland, Me., Advertiser.) Now that the snow is melting in the woods and the vegetation that has lain on the ground for months is brought to the surface and the drying influence of the air and the sun the season of forest fires approaches. The spring is in many ways the worst time of the year for forest fires. The spring of 1903, was the most disastrous season for forest fires the state has ever known. 269,451 acres of forest land being destroyed, entailing a loss of $603,243. If it should be a dry spring the month of June may be very disastrous to the forests. The soil and vegetation has hardly gained a foothold then and there is so much dead vegetation on the ground that a fire once started spreads rapidly. The fire warden service is being reorganized and increased plans are being made to have a service that may be able to cope with any dry season which may come this year. Four new look-out systems are being established and every effort will be made to stamp out forest fires, the last legislature having made a larger appropriation for this purpose than at the previous session. The total damage caused by forest fires last year was $20,919 while the loss was $63,653 in 1904. Hon. Edgar E. Ring, state forestry commissioner, is sending out instructions to fire wardens in which he says: "The most important part of practical forestry is the prevention of fire. This cannot be accomplished successfully without a well organized system in which the duties of each individual are well defined and clearly understood. To this end the following instructions should receive careful attention. "It is the duty of the chief fire warden to see that the district fire wardens are fully supplied with printed notices containing the rules and regulations relating to the prevention of forest fires. Early in the season fire notices are sent to all wardens but more can be obtained at any time by writing to the forest commissioner. The district fire wardens should see that their respective districts are properly posted with these notices, putting them up on trees along each forest trail and locations frequented by fishing and hunting parties.

"During the dry season when fires are most likely to occur, especially in spring, before the trees are in leaf, the chief fire wardens and their deputies should keep a sharp lookout for any sign of fire, and have everything in readiness so that when the smoke is seen there will be no unnecessary delay in reaching the spot. Fishermen, hunters and campers should always be cautioned whenever the opportunity offers to be careful in the use of fire; to refrain from throwing lighted matches on the ground; and, especially to extinguish their camp fires completely before leaving them. "No instructions seem necessary here as to how the work of a forest fire should be conducted, for it is assumed that each fire warden has had ample experience in this respect. At the same time it may be well to remind each one that back firing should not be resorted to until its necessity is plainly evident; and, even then, the entire situation should first be carefully examined and well understood. "It should be remembered also that in controlling a woodland fire, one hour's work in the early morning or late evening is worth six in the middle of the day. For this reason, if a fire is not extinguished at evening, the men should remain on the ground all night, and the fire warden should make arrangements to send in food and blankets to the party. If the men are allowed to leave a fire at evening and go back to their homes much valuable work is lost. "Special pains should be taken to ascertain the cause of the fire, and the person or persons who started it. Too many reports are received in which the printed questions as to the origin of the fire is answered with the words 'cause unknown.' If attended to promptly, there should be little trouble in ascertaining the point at which the fire started, and, in most cases, who started it. "The facts should then be written out fully in the report, no matter whom it may concern. Each fire warden should discharge his duty fearlessly in this respect without fear or favor. If the fire warden is unable to report definitely as to who the guilty parties were and their connection with it, he is at liberty to give his opinion as to the cause and who were to blame in the matter. "After a fire occurs the chief fire warden should, as soon as possible, mail the report of the same to the forest commissioner. Before sending the report he should make an examination of the burned area, so that he may be able to state approximately the number of acres burnt over, the extent of the damages, the amount and kinds of timber destroyed."

CORONER'S JURY BLAMES CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS

A New York Case Which Has Aroused Considerable Comment.

(N. Y. American, May 18.) The coroner's jury called by Coroner Artvelt to inquire into the death of Mrs. Corinne McBride, from pneumonia, at the Varona No. 25 West Eightieth street, while under Christian Science treatment, yesterday censured the husband of the dead woman for refusing to summon medical aid when his wife was dying.

PATIENT AN ARDENT BELIEVER

Mrs. Corinne McBride, whose death on April 27 was due to acute lobar pneumonia, was an ardent believer in Christian Science, and her husband, who is a sincere follower of the faith, he admitted on the witness stand that he had refused to summon a physician when such a demand was made upon him by his wife's sister, Mrs. Alice C. Chisam, although it developed that an hour before Mrs. McBride finally passed away, there was a doctor called to get Dr. Sarah Batey to the house.

Mrs. Batey is a graduated physician and Christian Scientist, and she testified during her examination that Mrs. McBride had "departed from material medica thought, had taken up the science," and practiced that alone. She made this statement in explanation of the fact that at the final moment the doctors decided to summon Dr. Batey to the house.

Intense feeling was shown throughout the hearing between the Christian Science advocates and the husband of the deceased, on one side, and Mrs. Chisam on the other. According to testimony, Mrs. Chisam demanded a few hours prior to the death of her sister that a physician be summoned. Her demand, she declared, met with a flat refusal. She let the house in anger. The morning following the death she called and her arrest followed. She was taken away in a patrol wagon.

DEMANDED A PHYSICIAN.

"On the day of my sister's death," continued Mrs. Chisam, "I said to Miss Dunlop, 'I won't stand this. My sister is not getting well. I demand that you summon Dr. Batey.'"

"I also made the same demand upon her husband. He asked Corinne if she wanted a doctor. She refused. I was angry and I kissed my sister and left the house." At this instant Mrs. Chisam, whose voice had risen almost to a shriek, dropped her head and broke into violent sobs.

"I was told later of my sister's death," she continued. "I was informed by a friend that she had died. I went to her house and night for a week, and was weak and nervous. I took a drink and started for the house. I only drank five minutes alone with my dear sister. I went to the door and was dragged out and arrested, thrown into a patrol wagon and taken to the police station, where I was locked up like a common thief."

Following the testimony of Mrs. Chisam, Coroner's Physician Albert Weston, who performed an autopsy of the body, was sworn. The physician gave a long, technical description of the condition of the body.

PATIENT REFUSED MEDICAL AID

"By no means," she said; "by no means. Nothing between God and His idea." Asked for an explanation of that remark, McBride, after hesitating, said that she was using the expression "in the book." It was a text from Mrs. Eddy's writings.

Dr. Weston swore that "while there were facts which tended to show that death might have ensued, even had medical aid been rendered, there were other facts which showed even more conclusively that such aid would have been efficacious."

The husband of the deceased, Robert C. McBride, followed Dr. Weston on the stand. Mr. McBride said that he was a believer in Christian Science. He said that on the day prior to the death of his wife, her sister, Mrs. Chisam, had summoned him and told him plainly that she was not satisfied that all was being done for Corinne that should be done. She said she wanted a physician called.

"I told her that Corinne was the one to decide that," said he. "I went to the bedroom and told my wife that Alice had called a doctor should be summoned. Shall we call one? I asked."

READS LIKE A CHAPTER OF "SOLDIERS OF FORTUNE."

Cartegena, in Colombia, is the most interesting town Mr. Warren had ever seen. The old Spanish houses, built two hundred to five hundred years ago, still stand. At Sabanalillo he saw five hundred soldiers board a small steamer to go up the coast to fight Indians or rebels. They were no uniform but were a nondescript crowd, everyone with a gun and a sword.

At a Colombian port some young American adventurers, among them one who had been a war correspondent in the Russo-Japanese war, sought to land, but were prevented, although their papers were all right. They got ashore later on. They were in search of adventure, and would doubtless find it—a la Richard Harding Davis.

Mr. Warren says that gold and diamond seekers are plentiful in British Guiana. He covered with a South African miner a road between British Guiana and several others, who were going into the interior to seek treasure or take up concessions. This remark recalled to Mr. Stewart's memory a meeting in Halifax before the board of trade delegates went to the West Indies and Demerara. He said that Dr. Falconer was there and that the businessmen had stated their views this mere scholar and theologian got up and for half an hour electrified the group as he laid out the resources of the interior of British Guiana, the great development that must take place, and the importance of Canada getting into the game.

Speaking of the West Indies, Mr. Warren said that many negroes go to the canal zone and so procure a security of labor among the plantations. As many of them come back with money the effect is really beneficial to the islands. Among other experiences in Central America, Mr. Warren found places where an American five dollar gold piece was worth ten local dollars, and another where the difference was many times greater. Speaking of the West Indies, he says life there is a lot-seating life, but there is something about it that calls one back to the tropics, a kind of intoxication that leaves a haunting memory. One can never forget the aromatic odors wafted on the land breeze before sunrise to the decks of the steamer nearing port, and the almost oppressive perfume of the flowers and trees.

Mr. Warren is looking extremely well, despite his fever experience in Demerara. He went through to Halifax today.

WEDDINGS: Fielden-Redden

This morning at 9 o'clock a quiet and pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. H. H. Roach, 69 Main street, when Miss Sarah E. Redden, sister of Mrs. Roach, was united in marriage to Captain Maxwell H. Fielden, of Hantsport, N. B. Rev. D. Hutchinson, of Main street Baptist church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a few intimate friends of the bride and groom. The newly wedded couple left on the 7 o'clock train for a trip which will take in Boston, New York and places of interest on the Hudson. After the honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Fielden will settle at Irvington on the Hudson for the summer.

Mrs. Fielden has many friends in St. John who will long remember her as the very efficient matron of the Guild of King's Daughters.

DELAYED FREIGHT

Sir,—Messrs. A. L. Goodwin, Estabrook & Son and ourselves, had a lot of perishable goods shipped from Liverpool to St. John, S. B. Dominion, of the Dominion line, on a through bill of lading to St. John, via Quebec, which left Liverpool April 24th. She arrived in Quebec on May 9th. Since that nothing has been heard of the goods—all efforts to locate them have failed. In the interests of the people who own the I. O. R., I want to ask if it has gone out of business or whether it is managed by a system of blundering incompetency. If the I. O. R. is the people's road, the owners should waste no time in ascertaining what this scandalous mismanagement means.

Faithfully yours, THOS. POTTS.

THE TIMES WAS RIGHT

A morning paper prints a partial contradiction of the story in Saturday's Times relative to employees of Emmonson & Fisher who were charged with selling the firm's goods and making no return. The Times stated that five persons were implicated. The Sun says there was only one. The Times information was correct. Five persons were implicated.
