Short Skirt Is Cause of New Epidemic

Canadian Press. LONDON, Dec. 3 — London is having an epidemic of short-skirt influenza, a chill often followed by rheumatic pains in the knee and hip joints, the sufferers being women who wear the fashionable scanty skirts in spite of the inclemencies of the London winter. Physicians say this year's styles expose women to illness more than ever, since the skirts are short and flowing, not affording the warmth of the short tight skirt of a year ago. Wearing warm knickers with the modish skirts is being advised by doctors.

COMMONS HOLDS AN ALL NIGHT SESSION

Sits Until 7.15 This Morning—Industry Protection Debated in Camera

Canadian Press. LONDON, Dec. 3 — The House of Commons sat until 7.15 o'clock this morning after a session, the last three hours of which were held in secret, a precaution not taken before since the critical days of the great war. The subject under discussion was the government's safeguarding of industries proposals, which the Liberals and Laborites are opposing on the ground that they are equivalent to a protective tariff. The dramatic change to secrecy was brought about by a Laborite motion to exclude all "strangers." The supporters of the ministry made no effort to oppose the motion, and the chairman was obliged to put in operation the rule ordering strangers to leave.

THREE WEEKS LEFT IN WHICH TO MAKE SOME POOR KIDDIE HAPPY

Empty Stocking Fund Mounts Slowly, But Much More is Needed—City Cornet Band Fair Tonight Gives Chance to Contribute.

THE Times-Star Empty Stocking Fund was increased to $161.75 by the contributions that came in since noon on Wednesday. There is a long way to go yet, and but three weeks left before Christmas eve, when it is hoped to be able to send a well filled stocking to every child of the poor in the city. That can be done if the fund grows in proportion to the worthiness of the object and the extent of the field.

MORE APPEALS COME. A little girl writes: Dear Santa Clause: "I wish you would be so kind and not forget us this winter. Would you please send us each a pair of stockings this Christmas, and some mitts and warm under-clothing. My papa has not been working for a long time, as he has been laid up, so mama has to go out to work for us, and it's so hard for her, as she is not very strong. I am 11 years old. My brother is nine. My baby sister is two. Good luck to you. Don't forget the nice warm stockings." Another little one of six writes: Dear Sandy: "My daddy cannot get any work to do to get me a dolly. I would like to have a mamma dolly and a pair of stockings and some under-clothes. I am a little girl six years old. God bless you, dear Sandy."

Canadian Press. WILLIAMS LAKE, B. Cyr will act as guide for the party and after the inquest is held he will be brought back to stand trial here. The journey to Chilko Lake promises to be a long and arduous one, and the party will be forced to carry provisions sufficient for one month, as considerable difficulty may be expected in crossing Chilko Lake in small boats owing to heavy storms which prevail at this time of year.

OTTAWA, Dec. 3 — Substantial increase in the export trade of Canada with Great Britain and with the United States during the last 12 months are shown in trade summaries issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Canadian produce valued at $458,000,000 has gone to Great Britain in the 12 months ended October, while in the previous year the value of Canadian exports to Great Britain was $383,000,000.

IMPORTS INCREASE. Imports from Great Britain also increased in valuation from $149,000,000 in the year ended October, 1924, to $189,000,000 in the year ended last October. Imports from the United States increased from $934,000,000 to $953,000,000. The chief increase in the export trade were animal products, wood and paper and non-ferrous metals.

BRITAIN MAY SET TAX ON BETTING

Would Help to Ease Country's Financial Burden, Officials Say

LONDON, Dec. 3 — A tax on betting, which heretofore has not been received with official favor, may yet be resorted to by the British government to ease the country's financial burden. A resolution in favor of such a tax was discussed in the House of Lords last night, when Lord Salisbury undertook that the government would consider the proposal. This does not necessarily mean adoption of the tax, but it is a step in advance of any yet taken in that direction.

Motion Picture Concerns Battle Over Locarno Films

Canadian Press. LONDON, Dec. 3 — Apparently forgetful of "the spirit of Locarno," rival moving picture concerns are engaged in a controversy over who is to show the film record of the signing of the Locarno treaty to Canada and the United States. The film itself is due to leave Southampton by the steamer Homeric today, but the Pathé Gazette, which is protesting the Gaumont firm's exclusive concession to show the film in America, announces that the treaty signing would not be included in its news reels here unless Pathé were permitted to exhibit it. A letter also has been addressed to Sir Austen Chamberlain, Minister of Foreign Affairs, requesting that the film be held up at Southampton, or that its exclusive presentation in America be cancelled.

Ottawa Likely Headquarters of New Board

Canadian Press. OTTAWA, Dec. 3 — The consensus of opinion of delegates of various Boards of Trade, who yesterday afternoon waited on the Dominion Government, is that Ottawa will be the head office for the Dominion Board of Trade, when it is organized.

It had been hoped that the delegates yesterday afternoon would take the initial step in the organization of the Dominion body. Owing to the time taken up by the conferences with the Government and the fact that the eastern delegates had to leave on an early evening train, organization work was postponed.

MOVE MADE TO STOP FLOW OF GOLD FROM LAND

New York Competition Seen As Underlying Cause

MAY HURT TRADE

Action Hoped to Check Speculation, Particularly in Rubber Shares

LONDON, Dec. 3 — The Bank of England today raised its official minimum rate to 5 per cent, an increase of one per cent. The increase was found necessary in order to check the outflow of gold, which has amounted to £19,000,000 since the bank rate was reduced in October, and over £10,000,000 on balance since the country returned to the gold standard. It is understood that there were prospects of further withdrawals of gold, and as the New York Exchange is hovering near the gold point a protective measure was thought necessary, as the bank's proportion of reserve to liabilities was not to further lower.

LONDON, Dec. 3 — The Bank of England today raised its official minimum rate to 5 per cent, an increase of one per cent. The increase was found necessary in order to check the outflow of gold, which has amounted to £19,000,000 since the bank rate was reduced in October, and over £10,000,000 on balance since the country returned to the gold standard. RESOURCES PLENTIFUL

The money market's resources are plentiful, owing to divided disbursements, but the recent outflow of gold forced discounts to the bank rate level, and banished hope that while the New York discount rate remained unchanged, there would be no alteration here. Speculation on the London stock exchange, recently has been growing especially in rubber shares, and the authorities, by raising the official minimum, hope to administer a check to this, as well as retain foreign monies which might be attracted to New York by higher interest rates.

TRADE HAMPERED

At the same time, trade, which has just begun to brighten, will be hampered, but the market values, and the necessity for retention of the higher rate, will disappear early in the New York. The effect of the increase will be to discontinue yesterday on the stock exchange, where gilt edged securities were still pending today's decision, but a great deal of work will be entailed in the various banks, altering interest and deposit rates, while discounts will undergo a similar readjustment.

WESTON INTO FOURTH DAY ON
WITNESS STAND

Engineer Under Cross-Examination in Arbitration Over Ingewood

QUESTIONS TODAY OF TECHNICAL NATURE

Believed Mitchell Estimate of Whole Development Cost Was $1,340,000

Running into the fourth day on which he has been on the witness stand, S. H. Weston, chief engineer of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, continued his evidence at the morning session of the arbitration hearing before Mr. Justice LeBlanc of the Ingewood claim, cross-examination being conducted by Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C. The entire morning was taken up with highly technical questions respecting the Musquash development. The prospects are that he will remain on the stand this afternoon. Mr. Weston started his evidence on Monday afternoon. Among the interested spectators at the morning session were E. A. Schofield and F. J. Robbison, members of the commission.

Continuing cross-examination of Mr. Weston this morning, Dr. Taylor asked to witness when he took over the duties of chief engineer through illness of the late C. O. Foss, former chief engineer, and Mr. Weston replied it was in the spring of 1922.

Technical details regarding the dam construction for the development then followed. According to figures submitted by Dr. Taylor, the witness arrived at a figure of 9,800,000 K. W. H. for storage at the entire Musquash development. The witness explained that was merely doing the arithmetic for this computation, the figures supplied not being his own.

Replying to Dr. Taylor, he said in part the engineering supervision of the development had been done by Messrs. C. H. and P. H. Mitchell, Toronto. Asked if they had placed the cost of the entire development, delivering 21,000,000 K. W. H., at $1,340,000, he said he thought this was what they had estimated.

YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

That one of the charts in the 1920-1921 report of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission was "obviously erroneous" as it was based on an unusual assumption, was the answer made by Mr. Weston when being questioned yesterday afternoon by Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C., counsel for the Ingewood Paper Company.

TRIBUTE IS PAID BY PROBATE JUDGE

Eulogy of Late Hon. J. R. Armstrong

In the Probate Court and in the lecture room of the Law School, this morning Judge McIntyre referred feelingly to the death of Hon. J. R. Armstrong. He had frequently heard Judge Armstrong speak appreciatively from the probate bench of some member of the bench or bar who had passed away, and now was his sad duty to say a few words of his predecessor in office, who had died last evening.

Having been appointed to office on the same day, 1908, Judge Armstrong as judge, and he as Registrar of Probates, they had been intimately associated for nearly 18 years, during which time there was much opportunity to observe and admire the late judge's strict attention to duty, rectitude, impartiality and firmness. He appeared stern and unyielding, but as a matter of fact he had a very tender heart and much sentiment, and was always a loyal friend. He liked Probate Court work and did it thoroughly.

A great deal of his time was given to serving the public from a sense of duty, and no highly paid task was more conscientiously performed than the onerous, yet voluntary, public services which he undertook, and always carried through.

The great improvements, which had in recent years been made in Rockwood Park were largely due to him, and yet he had been aware of his activities there. He also gave a lot of time to the work of the law school and was a valuable member of the faculty.

"If I were asked to name the quality which I admired most in him," said the speaker, "I would say his undeviating honesty."

The Duke of Rothsay Chapter I. O. D. E. met yesterday at the home of Miss Fiddington in Rothsay with Mrs. Hugh Cannell, the regent, presiding, and heard very gratifying reports from its various secretaries. The educational secretary reported that the educational pictures of scenes in Egypt had been shown in the Consolidated School and the Collegiate School in Rothsay and at the Golden Grove school.

At the Golden Grove school there had been a specially large audience and the pictures had been greatly appreciated. The meeting voted to give a sum of money to the educational work of the order and a sum of money to the Carleton G. W. V. A. as a contribution towards the expense of installing a radio set in the Lancaster D. S. C. R. Hospital.

It was suggested that the chapter might hold a bridge in the Christmas holidays but the matter was not definitely decided.

CALLERS YESTERDAY AT HEALTH CENTRE

Interested callers at the Health Centre yesterday were Mrs. Lillian M. Savage and Mrs. Vincent Mathews, of Campbell. They said they were members of the recently formed home nursing classes being held on the island with Miss Agnes Joyes as instructor. Miss Joyes has added three new classes to the four which were organized in Campbell recently by Miss S. A. Barrington, provincial organizer of Red Cross, and these latest formed classes will add appreciably to the total enrollment in New Brunswick.

On Nov. 13 the records showed that there had been 1,629 pupils enrolled in Red Cross home nursing classes in the province and of these 976 had already received attendance cards showing they had completed the course and made a high percentage of attendance. There were 326 pupils taking the course on Nov. 13 and 337 pupils had made partial attendance at courses which they had not completed. Of all those who had attended courses which had been completed there were only eight who attended less than half of the lessons of the course.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., DECEMBER 3, 1925.

PUTTING IT UP TO PARLIAMENT.

The legislative programme proposed in a series of resolutions at the Winnipeg conference was submitted yesterday to the Dominion Parliament.

The people of the Maritime Provinces, says the London Free Press, will find in their agitation that they will have behind them the rest of the Dominion in their efforts to develop their own provinces.

our own country, large storage transportation facilities at every stage in the movement of the crop of market from the base of production at the farms to the seaboard; yet the marketing and thus forwarding of nearly three-fifths of the Canadian export grain is controlled by agencies which see to it that tribute and toll are paid to transit systems competing with our own for traffic; to elevator and storage houses; to port authorities and commission men; to brokers and commission men; to insurance companies and underwriters; and finally to ship brokers, none of whom has assumed the risk of a single dollar either in producing the vast quantities of grain or providing facilities in Canada for its movement.

"The people of the Maritime Provinces," says the London Free Press, "will find in their agitation that they will have behind them the rest of the Dominion in their efforts to develop their own provinces. A united and great Canadian nation cannot be built up by starving Canadian Atlantic ports and developing at the same time American harbours."

Odds and Ends

"The Finest Line" (Toronto Globe). Poets and critics in the United States have been exercising their minds in search of "the finest line of poetry."

It is at best futile to expect a decision in a matter of this kind, for the line that suits one will repel another, and the thought that inspires the mind in one mood will be unsuited to another mood or occasion. It is also difficult to agree on the description of what is poetry. Edwin Markham, in summing up the debate for the Post, quoted Richard Le Gallienne as saying that poetry is "an exaltation of life," and others added: "Beauty and exaltation are not the only aspects of poetry; there is also melody. Impassioned expression always rises into rhythm. So the music of poetry, meaning and music made together."

Just Fun

A LAWYER was consulted not long since by a colored man who complained that another negro owed him three dollars, but which he absolutely refused to discharge. The creditor had dunned and dunned him, but all to no purpose. He had finally come to the lawyer in the hope that he could give him some good advice.

"Why, boss," said the ducky, "he said he done owed me dat money for so long dat de interest had et it all up, and he didn't owe me a cent."

THE LADY (kindly): I hope you brush your teeth regularly, Bridget.

Bridget (indignantly): Brush my teeth? Wat would I do that for? There ain't no hair on my teeth.

WHY SOME ARE DOWN AND SOME ARE HIGH One sadly sees the setting sun And views his day's work with a sigh. The other drops his tools to run Nor cares how little he has done. And people still go asking why Some men are down, and some are high.

I ASKED a girl to mail a postal card for me. Sometime later she brought it back, replying: "There was a place to mail packages and a place to mail letters but no place to mail cards, so the office was closed, I had to bring it back."

YOUR SINS may find you out occasionally, but more often they will find you in.

THEN THE PROOFREADER LEFT TOWN. (From the Lancaster (Pa.) Intelligencer.)

MISS LUCILLE RIFE as flower girl carried a basket of roses and sweet peas. Mr. Robert Jones of Altona wore a frock of pink georgette and acted as best man.

PERCY: "Do the girls lipstick?"

LITTLE: My daddy works at the grocery store and he smokes Chesterfields.

HE: Yes, dear, I believe every word you say; even the "ands" and the "ifs."

IT is all right to admire one who can sing at his work, but how about the mosquito?

SHAPELY limbs help many a girl to branch out.

"WE will make you feel quite at home," said the obsequious hotel manager to his distinguished visitor. The visitor pecked, and left in short order.

A RECENT note in a Scotch paper read: "Mrs. and Mrs. Campbell are both doing well after contributing a dollar each to the Near East Relief."

ABOUT the only difference between a man and a woman is that one sails the seas and the other sees the sails.

NO woman is brave enough to adopt a sensible dress style when all other women are following a foolish one.

"WHY don't you bob your hair?" "I can't decide on the style," answered Miss Cayenne. "I don't know whether to have it look like a whisk broom or a feather duster."

burgling he nearly always, unless he be a complete novice at the game, wears rubber gloves. But the burglar has discovered that rubber lends itself easily to faking with finger marks, and that upon them may be impressed either the records of known criminals or marks that are purely fictitious, yet ostensibly genuine even though they have been made by mechanical means.

The implication of the new "art" is disturbing and may imperil the efficacy of the whole Bertillon system, which has been laboriously built up to the discomfiture of hosts of criminals ever since Mark Twain gave his due to the world through the medium of his remarkable novel, "Pudd'nhead Wilson."

A Spice of Danger. An Englishman was recently invited by a New York man to accompany him on a hunting trip on Long Island.

"Large or small game?" inquired the Englishman, who had hunted in every other quarter of the globe.

"You don't expect to find lions and tigers on Long Island, do you?" queried the New Yorker.

"Hardly," responded the Briton, "but I like a spice of danger in my hunting."

"If that's the case," answered the other with a grin, "I'm your man, all right. The last time I went out I shot my brother-in-law in the leg."

Unfair Discrimination. (Boston Transcript.) In an article W. J. L. has been reading occurs the line, "When a goose goes under an arch, she ducks her head," and he wants to know why it wouldn't be proper to say "she goeses her head."

"Why ducks?" he inquires. "Is there any better reason for the verb 'to duck' than for a verb 'to goes'?"

Both having exactly the same meaning and both derived from exactly similar actions on the part of the respective birds? He concludes, "A goose is no more of a duck than a duck is a goose in going under an arch, and a law of language which discriminates against the goose is unjustified, and therefore cannot rightly be enforced."

A WHOLE PHILOSOPHY IN NINE WORDS.

IN NINE words, containing thirty-eight letters, Ralph Waldo Emerson gives the wise man a philosophy and a religion:

"THE WORLD EXISTS FOR THE EDUCATION OF MAN. Man is explicable by nothing less than his whole history. Natural history, civil history, the history of art and the history of literature—all must be explained from individual history, or must remain words. There is no age or state of society or mode of action in history to which there is not one somewhat corresponding in a man's life."

A MAN is the whole encyclopedia of facts, but this was his first experience at giving away the bride. He was in a devout mood; his church was small, his salary meager and his family numerous. This daughter had been especially expensive.

"Who gives this woman to be married to this man?" droned the preacher. Gently the father placed the slender hand of the bride in that of the embarrassed groom.

"Take her, my boy," he exclaimed, his face aglow. "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

AN OLD artisan who prided himself on his ability to drive a close bargain contracted to paint a huge barn in the neighborhood for the small sum of twelve dollars.

"Why on earth did you agree to do it for so little?" his brother inquired. "Well," said the old painter, "you see, the owner is a mighty unreliable man. If I'd said I'd charge him twenty-five dollars, likely he'd have only paid me nineteen. And if I charge him twelve dollars, he may not pay me but nine. So I thought it over, and decided to paint it for twelve dollars, so I wouldn't lose so much."

THE BRITISH FASCISTS CASE. Daily Express, London. The four Fascists who held up a Daily Herald newspaper van as it was proceeding about its business got off rather easily when Sir Vansittart Bowater, M. P., the city magistrate, bound them over to keep the peace on the lesser offence of committing a breach of the peace after they had been charged with stealing the van. No one, of course, believes that they intended to steal the van in the accepted criminal sense, but we wonder what would have been said if the four Fascists had been four Communists, and they had committed the same act in connection with, say, the Morning Post, and Mr. Lansbury, on the Bench had bound them over. Furthermore, Sir Vansittart Bowater, after reading the four a proper lesson on the duty of citizens, took the extraordinary course of suggesting to them that they should join the police reserve. There has risen, in consequence, a natural protest which will find an echo in the House of Commons.

DOUBLE ENTENDRE. Detroit News. An official of the National Temperance League of England, after several weeks in America, says he is amazed at the way the dry law is obeyed, thus winning the week's award for double entendre.

INEFFECTIVE PROHIBITION. Philadelphia Ledger. The real difficulty lies in the absence in many localities of a willingness on the part of the people to see the law really enforced. Nothing but an aroused public conscience and an awakening of the people to the demoralizing results of a tolerated wholesale trade in liquor is going to make matters any better.

SMASH IN POLAND. Los Angeles Times. The Polish Cabinet has resigned on account of its inability to stabilize the value of the zlot. Hitherto no American could have said off hand whether the zlot was a musical instrument, a temperance drink or a new kind of Tibetan goat. Now that it has shown its ability to wreck a Cabinet it may soon be as well known as the mark of the franc.

Poems That Live

POETICAL JUSTICE.

Our busiest thinkers are idle dreamers, In the eyes of the workaday world, And the songs that echo the angels' tones Are but leaves of the frost from up in the sky. By the breath of the frost from up in the sky To the dullard who dwells in the vale, And spurns them, as o'er his path they lie In the toll between gale and gale. —D. B. W. S.

NOTICE

TO CAR OWNERS

Attention of car owners is called to the fact that this company has been appointed official "DUCO" finishers for this city and district.

We have moved the plant from 453 Main street, at which place there was not sufficient space for the rapid development with which we were called upon to cope, to No. 6 Clarence street, just off Prince Edward street, where a complete installation has been made, modern in all respects and the work is in charge of Mr. Percival Allaby who is the holder of a diploma from the inventors of the "DUCO" finish, Dupont de Nemours Co.

Our friends may give us their orders with full assurance that they will be properly executed and the quality of the work guaranteed by a company who are responsible.

PREMIER BACKS MIGRATION POLICY

McDonald Queries About Omission of I. C. R. Demand; Gundy Hopes Baldwin, Amery, and Cunliffe-Owen Will Visit Canada in January

OTTAWA, Dec. 2.—Resolutions embodying the legislative program of the Boards of Trade of Canada were presented to representatives of the Government and Opposition parties in the House here today. The delegation representing the various boards of trade which participated in the recent Winnipeg Economic Conference waited on Premier Mackenzie King and his cabinet in the afternoon and later discussed their proposals for a national economic policy with three of the Conservative leaders, Sir Henry Drayton, Senator C. D. Robertson and Hon. S. F. Tomlin.

In the Premier's office discussion of the program was prolonged. The meeting with the Conservative group was brief.

Sir Henry Drayton, referring to the sheaf of resolutions, said "I don't think there is anything here we can quarrel about." Premier Mackenzie King expressed keen satisfaction with the character of the resolutions and found them for the most part very acceptable to the Government, but pointed out that where the expenditure of any considerable sums of money was involved the Government finds itself unable to go the whole way in meeting the wishes of the delegation.

Mr. Gundy, in presenting the written text of the resolutions, spoke briefly of the non-political character of the Winnipeg conference and suggested that its findings might be safely accepted as representative of the desires of all the business interests of Canada.

Speaking on behalf of the Maritime Provinces, Mr. W. J. Brown, of London, urged that anything the Government could do to better economic conditions in the Atlantic Provinces would be to the advantage of all the Dominion. The Maritimes had not received the access of wealth which had come to the rest of the Dominion as the country developed and were, perhaps, entitled to some special consideration at that account.

Asked by Premier King to specify some of the things which might be done in that part of Canada, Colonel Brown said that increased facilities in Atlantic harbours, the utilization of water powers of the Maritimes and encouragement of immigration into those provinces suggested themselves as of first consideration.

Hon. E. M. MacDonald asked if the Maritimes should be placed under the control of commissions as has been done elsewhere in Canada. "That idea suggests itself to us," replied Col. Brown.

ANSWERING another question, Col. Brown said the Winnipeg conference had not felt the question of freight rates should be dealt with in any sectional way and that therefore no resolution had been brought to the government dealing with any special claims the Maritimes might feel they had in regard to freight rates.

Mr. Gundy added that the conference had no concessions to one part of Canada should be recommended if they could not be made applicable to the whole country.

DISCUSSION was prolonged on the immigration resolution. It was spoken to by John M. Irmie, of Edmonton. He thought the Government should present an immigration policy which would be strong enough and bold enough to make it clear to the people that this was the time to grapple with the colonization problem.

Premier King asked if the Government's adoption of the recommendations of the conference would be considered a "bold policy."

Mr. Irmie said that the Government's present scheme on immigration pretty well carried out the recommendations in the resolution.

HOW MUCH money would the business men consider well spent on immigration? Mr. Irmie replied that his own suggestion to the conference had been to set aside a fund of, say, $200,000,000 to be devoted to a five-year intensive program.

Premier King—"I don't know where we would have had it if we had suggested an expenditure like that in the last four years."

The resolution recommends the appointment of a small commission to advise the Government on colonization, composed of Canada's leading experts on the subject.

The Prime Minister asked if the delegation had any men to suggest.

Mr. Gundy replied that the Dominion Board of Trade, which is about to be formed, would be willing to send a committee to discuss that matter with the cabinet. So far no individuals had been considered as likely appointees to the board.

Mr. King asked if the Government could get the best material for such a commission on the terms suggested by the resolution, that is, without compensation.

Mr. Irmie thought the enthusiasm shown at the Winnipeg conference by all classes of business men was sufficient guarantee of that.

ASKED where he would go for immigrants, Mr. Irmie suggested Britain and Northern Europe, Central Europe and the middle Western United States. The reputation of Canada, both English-speaking and French-speaking, now in the United States, should also be sought.

Hon. A. Robb, Minister of Finance, who until recently was Minister of Immigration, discussed the government's immigration program. The assisted passages to families settling on the land would be continued next year, in co-operation with the British Government. The families brought this year had done some excellent propaganda work for the scheme through their optimistic letters to their relatives and friends, and the success of the scheme could be denied. If the scheme was to be continued, and enlarged, however, it would cost money—and since I am no longer Minister of Immigration," he added, good-humoredly, "I must approve more of your next resolution, which demands strict economy in administration."

LAND CHEAPER IN BRITAIN Mr. Robb mentioned the difficulty of getting immigrants from countries where the currency was deflated, and also commented on the fact that land was cheaper and easier to get in Britain since the big estates were broken up. One man had reported that he sold land he had 13 miles from Winnipeg and bought for the same money better land 20 miles from London.

Mr. Irmie said that the Winnipeg conference had been cognizant of the difficulties to be surmounted in the solution of immigration problems. There were certain factors, however, such as the increased value of farm products on the world market, and the favorable outlook for agriculture generally, which might be turned to advantage. He thought there were more chances now than there were a few years ago of the success of a vigorous immigration policy.

WIFE WOULD RULE

"Man of Peace," Contesting Suit, Calls Her "Law Unto Herself"

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Mrs. Wilhelmina G. Harnden of Brooklyn, who is suing for a separation on the ground that her husband, Henry L. Harnden, a coal dealer, had called their marriage "a mistake," applied to the Brooklyn Supreme Court for counsel fees of $1,000 and alimony of $75 a week. Five days after their marriage on April 17, 1925, said Mrs. Harnden, her husband told her their wedding had been a mistake, and offered her a ticket to either Paris or Reno, with the suggestion that she might get a divorce. Harnden made a general denial of his wife's charges, described himself as a "man of peace and quiet," and appealed.

Weddings

Messereau-Prince A very pretty wedding took place in the Church of Ascension, Lower Norton, on Wednesday, Nov. 28, at 8:30 o'clock, when Miss Mabel Gertrude Prince, youngest daughter of a national economic policy with three of the Conservative leaders, Sir Henry Drayton, Senator C. D. Robertson and Hon. S. F. Tomlin.

Buckley-Fulton A quiet wedding took place at the manse, Chipman, N. B., on Nov. 28, at 8 o'clock, when Hazel A. Fulton, of Fulton Brook, became the bride of Percy V. Buckley, of Saint John. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. Sutherland. The bride was becomingly attired in a suit of navy pointed tulle, with gray crepe de chine blouse. She wore a navy hat with felt ostrich spray in gray. Her bridesmaid, the young couple have many friends who will wish them joy in their future life. They will reside in Saint John.

Leslie-Richardson A very happy event took place at the Methodist parsonage, St. Stephen, on Wednesday, Nov. 18, at 4 o'clock, when Mr. Heaney united in marriage Miss Helen Richardson, of Saint John, and Lionel Ernest Leslie, both of Richardson, Deer Island, in the presence of a few of immediate relatives. The single ceremony was used. Mr. and Mrs. Leslie will reside at Richardson, Deer Island.

Deaths Mrs. O. J. McCulley After only two days of illness from pneumonia, Mrs. O. J. McCulley passed away at her home in 71 Park street, Moncton, on Dec. 2 and the news of her sudden death was a great shock to her many friends. She was a daughter of the late A. C. A. Wells, at one time resident of Saint John, and had a very high place in her profession, died some 12 years ago.

These passed away at her residence, 67 College street, Halifax, on Tuesday morning, Mrs. Agnes M. Taylor, widow of George Hamilton Taylor, in her 67th year. She was a daughter of the late George Smithers, Crewekerne, Somerset, England, and was one of four sisters and six brothers, who died before her. A devout churchwoman, she was an early member of old St. Luke's and later of All Saints, and during a regular attendance until physical disabilities practically confined her to her home. She leaves two sons, Arthur B. of Kingsport, and Fred G., manager of the Maritime Life Assurance Co., of Saint John, and one daughter, Mabel C., at home. The funeral was arranged to take place from her late residence this afternoon.

Dorothy Dix

Weighing a Boy Friend in the Balance for Possible Husband Material—The Young Husband Whose Wife Has Settled Into a Bore—Should a Girl Expect Her Fiance to Give Her the Luxuries Her Dad Provides?

DEAR MISS DIX—A young man who wants to marry me has the following qualities: Bad—Never saved much money. Smokes and eats excessively. Drinks moderately. Swears rather fluently. Too blunt in telling the truth.

DOROTHY DIX

Good—Very pleasant and lovable. Even tempered. Helpful, charitable and faithful. Well educated. Hard worker.

What do you make of such a man? Would he be desirable as a husband? HOPE.

ANSWER: Sounds to me as if he were a paragon, that you had better grab quickly before some other woman who is looking for a good thing gets him. Certainly his qualities far outweigh his faults.

Of course, there is no such thing as a perfect man; and if there were, no woman would ever fall in love with him or marry him. Imagine being married to a man who never made a mistake, who never blundered, but who was always and invariably right!

What a poor, miserable worm of the dust he would make you seem! What a reproach he would be to you! What a contrast! And how superior he would always feel to you! How horrible it would be to always be trying to live up to him, and how bitter it would be to have to endure his criticisms on your shortcomings!

No, my dear, if you want to be happy though married, pick out a man who, while he has the standardized sterling virtues, has also plenty of lovable weaknesses that will keep him human and in a proper state of humility. The happiest wives are those who can mother their husbands and smile indulgently on their faults and humor their weaknesses as if they were little boys.

Your friend's virtues speak for themselves, and even his faults lean to virtue's side. The man who has never saved much money is evidently not tightwad and that scores one for the wife, as she will not have to corkcreek every penny out of him. And after she has got what she needs she can help sew up the holes in his pockets.

Being fond of good eating I rank also as meat in a husband, since it puts some pep into housekeeping and makes it worth while to prepare a good dinner for a man who appreciates it. Also it gives a wife an invaluable weapon with which to work him when the necessity arises.

Likewise, the man who smokes is more apt to settle down into a placid fireside companion of an evening than the one who, having nothing to occupy or soothe him, goes forth to hunt up amusement. Even the sweeter is handy to have around the house at times to say the things that you would like to say and that no perfect lady can say.

Of course, the blunt man will hurt your feelings when he tells you the home truths that none of us like to hear, but at any rate you will have the comfort of knowing that he means what he says when he pays you a compliment.

DOROTHY DIX. DEAR MISS DIX—I have a wife who no doubt loves me. She gets my breakfast at 8 in the morning and I am at work until 5 in the evening. We have only a four-room house and she only gets two meals a day, yet she complains of being bored to death. All the conversation I get in the evening is the across-the-fence gossip of the neighborhood and she goes to bed by 7 o'clock. I like to read and would like to discuss things with my wife, but she isn't interested in anything I am interested in. Will I ever be happy with her?

ANSWER: I fear that you are doomed to a life of loneliness unless you can give your wife some sort of a job that will wake her up and make her realize that she is enjoying both of your lives, and that she is inevitably bound to lose your love if she goes on in the way in which she has started.

Evidently she is lazy and slothful in both mind and body and is not willing to exert herself to make the necessary effort to keep a nice house or to make herself attractive. It is ridiculous for any able-bodied woman to complain about having to do the work of a four-room house or to want to go to sleep with the chickens.

A woman once told me that after she married she began to slump and take things easy. She said she didn't bother to doll herself up for her husband and she quit reading; that it was too much trouble to dress to go out of an evening, and she got in the way of snoring on the couch and not trying to entertain her husband. Finally, he read the riot act to her and said:

"Now, listen, I am warning you. I am on my way up in the world. I am studying and working and improving myself all the time, and you are going down hill. Unless you get busy and keep up with me I am going to leave you in the lurch. And I will fall out of love with you, for I am not one of those faithful-dog kind of men that can stay in love with a dull, stupid, frowsy woman. Do you get me?"

And the woman says she "got" him and she got busy, and they have been a happy and successful couple ever since.

When we hear about a man who forsakes his wife or sympathizes all ways goes to the woman, but I often think that the man is probably just as often the victim as the wife. There must be many lonely men, such as you are, longing for the companionship that their wives refuse to give them, bored to death by women who are too lazy to try to improve themselves or to study and keep up with the men to whom they are married.

But why, oh, why don't men take the trouble to find out before they marry what sort of brains girls have under their bobs? DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am engaged to a very fine young man, but my parents don't want me to marry him because he cannot give me all the luxuries I have been accustomed to at home. This young man has a very nice position and is industrious and sober, and he will get on in time. We love each other very much. Don't you think that is all that we will need to make us happy? WORRIED SALLY.

ANSWER: I certainly do, my dear. Bread and cheese and kisses, as long as you are sure of the bread and cheese, is a good enough menu for any young couple to start out on, if they are both willing to work.

It is foolish for parents to expect that a young man should give their daughter all that they are able to give her, because it is demanding that she start off at the place at which they have only arrived at middle age, and no youth can do that unless he has inherited money. He hasn't had time to accumulate a fortune or to rise to the place where he can command a big salary.

And the very man who expects a young fellow to give his daughter a fine house and a car and Paris finery very likely couldn't give his wife anything but a two-room cottage and care-free when he got married.

The happiest marriages in the world are those in which a poor young man and a poor girl get married and work up together. Don't be afraid to try.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

THE PAGE AND THE FLOWER GIRL

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

The Twins followed Mister Blue Cap down the steps that led from the picture of the garden, to the floor of the picture gallery.

The little fairy then closed the glass and locked it with a small key which he put into a lock in the gold frame.

Morgiana waved good-bye to the Twins for All Baba said his wife had gone back into the house.

When the children looked again, it was just as the catalogue said: "The picture of a Girl in a Garden."

Morgiana was sitting on the stone bench gazing silently at the flowers. Behind her were the tall blue bars where the forty thieves had hidden.

"There is much more in pictures than people know about," said Nancy.

"That's right," nodded Mister Blue Cap. "What you don't see counts more than what you do see. But my, oh my! Look at that wedding picture! They all seem to be waiting for us. Those two children haven't arrived yet, as sure as you're here. I believe that you Twins will have to be page and flower girl after all."

So saying the little fairyman ran up the steps of the wedding picture and unlocked the glass—or I should say—the glass door.

It swung outward and the Twins found themselves inside a beautiful church. The organ was playing softly and everywhere there were flowers that smelled quite as delightful as the flowers in Morgiana's garden.

The church was filled with people who seemed to be patiently waiting. Suddenly a lady came out of a little side door that you couldn't see in the picture at all. Indeed, you had to get right inside the picture before you could notice the door.

"Oh, my dears, what would we have done if you hadn't come!" she whispered in an excited voice. "The other children must have missed their train or something, for they are not here. But fortunately their clothes are here, and I am sure they will fit you exactly. Will you do it?"

"What, please?" asked Nick.

"Be the page and the flower-girl at the wedding!" said the lady.

"Sure," said Nick obligingly. Soon Nick was arrayed like a prince in a white satin suit. He carried a pillow on which lay a wedding ring.

Nancy was dressed like a pink rose and carried a little basket of rose petals which she scattered as she walked down the aisle before the bride.

It was a grand wedding and the bride and groom seemed very happy.

"Can't you stay and go to the reception and have some wedding cake?" said the bride before she drove away.

"I'm afraid not," said Mister Blue Cap. "We must all be going. We have some journey to take and it is getting late."

"Journeys!" laughed the bride. "I am going on one journey. How can you go on more than one at a time?"

It was hard for the fairyman to explain. To Be Continued.

She Talks Back to Griffith And Gets Away With It

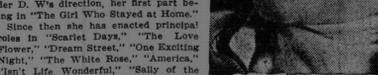

By JACK JUNGMEYER

CAROL DEMPSTER is probably the most positive and self-assertive of all the talented girls D. W. Griffith has placed or guided on the road to film celebrity. And for that reason he is said to have higher hopes for her, and to have more satisfaction in her development, than in the case of any of his other proteges—although D. W. himself might not wish to make any comparisons.

Miss Dempster is tractable without being too pliant. Having great admiration for her distinguished sponsor, she is yet not entirely subservient to him when it comes to difference of opinion on some production problem. There are times when it seems that the mettlesome Carol actually bosses Griffith.

Carol Dempster from the beginning of her career to the present time has appeared in Griffith pictures exclusively. Her introduction to the screen came about when Griffith "discovered" her in a dance parlour in Los Angeles. She agreed to forego her contemplated career as a dancer for an opportunity to work under D. W.'s direction, her first part being in "The Girl Who Stayed at Home."

Since then she has enacted principal roles in "Scarlet Days," "The Love Flower," "Dream Street," "One Exciting Night," "The White Rose," "America," "Her Life Wonderful," "Rally of the Sawdust," and Paramount's forthcoming "That Royle Girl."

CAROL DEMPSTER.

A Thought

Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom; and with all thy getting get understanding.—Proverbs 4:7.

GREAT is wisdom; infinite is the value of wisdom. It cannot be exaggerated; it is the highest achievement of man.—Carlyle.

"HERE'S where I brush up on my stuff," sighed the hero as he reached for the shaving cream.

PRESENTS FRUIT

The annual presentation of fruit to the Lord Mayor took place this fall at the Mansion House, London. The custom started at the time the Lord Mayor claimed the right to receive a portion of every load of fruit which entered the city, and the annual presentation is an acknowledgment of this ancient claim.

MANY a talkative barber has been shamed into silence since the woman took to frequenting the barber shops.

Your Birthday

December 3—You are impatient and too hasty in your judgment, and plan many things which you tire of before they are completed. You have a strong will, a bright mind, and hold your friends in a strong grasp. Beware of jealousy and spiteful gossip. Your birth-stone is the turquoise, which means prosperity. Your flower is holly. Your lucky color is pink.

"STEAK" FROM COTTON Beefsteaks made from cottonseed are forecast by Dr. Davis Nesson, of London. "It is only a question of time," says Dr. Nesson, "before chemists discover how to produce a meat substitute from the seed."

Family Menus

Breakfast: Tangerines, Oatmeal with Top Milk, Sausage Cakes, Warm-up Potatoes, Coffee. Luncheon: Scalloped Potatoes, Gran Biscuits with Raisins, Apple and Nut Delight. Dinner: Tomato Soup, Cold Sliced Meat, Warm-up Potatoes, Beet Salad. Hot Apple Pie. Cheese. Tea.

Buckwheat

Buckwheat does not agree with everyone, but unless there is some individual reason against it, it is a valuable addition to the winter menu. Buckwheat flour contains 8.7 per cent. body-building material, 1.9 per cent of fat, 70.2 per cent of starch and one per cent of mineral substances.

SEE-SAWING ON BROADWAY

WHILE the "melting pot" boils away many of the European customs of immigrants, there are some, beloved of the children, that no more can be removed from the calendar of childhood than can Santa Claus.

One such is the "ragamuffin parade," to be seen only in New York. The "ragamuffin" game is an importation from Southern Italy and the Balkan countries, but in New York it has spread among the children of all nations.

The youngsters ransack the cellars and garrets for the discarded clothes of their elders and appear in the streets by the tens of thousands, some with faces chalked like clowns, some in their mother's petticoats, some in dad's old overalls, some in derbies and some in silk hats.

In Europe it was the fashion to let the children take on the complete role of beggar and seek alms in the street and at the doors as well.

When the amusing pageant was introduced to America the begging idea came right along and, quite naturally, found popularity among American youngsters who saw in it a means of getting extra dimes for the movies and ice cream sodas.

This year the "melting pot" took steps to boll out this mendicant habit. As usual the ragamuffins thronged the streets in their comical clothes, but everywhere they were greeted by signs turned out by boys' organizations reading: "American boys do not beg."

"ONCE a showman, always an actor," goes a Broadway axiom. Actors may leave the stage and enter other professions, but the old hankering to "do a number" is never lost. Take Harry Cooper, for instance.

Soma years ago Cooper left the foot-lights to become a successful insurance agent. Yet on Thanksgiving or Christmas he gets back into the game for a brief hour, appearing at charitable theatrical performances.

For 29 years Cooper has appeared on Thanksgiving day before the prisoners on Welfare Island, New York's work-shop.

THE office of one of the hundreds of New York bookmakers who handle the fortunes in racing bets which each day change hands, happens to be located in a suite formerly occupied by a business college.

Just over the door where the "suckers" wait for returns I noticed this appropriate sign: "Students' room."

ARE DISTRIBUTING CHRISTMAS SEALS

Anti-Tuberculosis Society Meeting With Good Success in Sale

The local Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis is at work on its distribution of the Christmas seals, the proceeds of the sales of which must finance the work of society and maintain its nursing staff.

The seals are being sent out to 2,000 people through the post this year. It is expected that the work will be completed by the end of this week.

The committee in charge is composed of Miss K. M. Bell, convener, Mrs. H. B. Buchanan, Mrs. Campbell Mackay, Mrs. Bruce Bunch, Mrs. Fred R. Taylor and Miss Hilda Shaw.

The seals are on sale at the tuberculosis dispensary, 1140 Main street, and will be made for some central selling place. As the seals this year have the two barrel cross of the Tuberculosis Society, as well as the Christmas greetings, they are being sold to city firms to place on Christmas letters during the month of December and a few firms had already taken $5 worth of the seals yesterday.

The workers feel that the response at present is very gratifying. While the first letters went out on Tuesday, last night replies had been received from an appreciable number. The mailing list is arranged in alphabetical order.

DARES DEATH TO SAVE SON; IS KILLED

Woman Hurls Boy to Safety From Roadway But is Beheaded

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Mrs. Angelina Santos was decapitated in saving her nine-year-old son, Tony, from the wheels of a seven-ton fruit truck. Wilford Rose, driver of the truck, was locked up on a charge of homicide.

Mrs. Santos lived with her husband, a barber, and seven young children, in Brooklyn. She was crossing Third avenue at Eighteenth street with Tony's hand gripped tight in hers when a street car approached. She stopped by the tracks a moment until it passed and then started ahead, not observing the truck directly behind her.

Just before the truck struck her she saw it. Tony was in her arms. She jerked him from his feet and threw him forward so that he fell to the street from the truck's wheels as she was thrown. The wheels of the truck passed over her neck and cut off her head. She died before an ambulance came.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Brannen, of Fredericton, Are Congratulated on Event

FREDERICTON, Dec. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. C. Sterling Brannen, who yesterday celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding, are receiving many congratulations. Mr. Brannen is a superintendent member of the Provincial Civil Service. His wife was a sister of Canon Roberts.

Mrs. Brannen was before her marriage Agnes Kelland, third daughter of the late George Roberts, Ph. D., headmaster of the Fredericton Grammar School. Canon Roberts, her brother, performed the marriage ceremony at Christchurch parish church on Dec. 2, 1875.

Dr. Charles G. D. Roberts, the well known Canadian writer, is a nephew. Bliss Carman, another distinguished New Brunswick writer, is also a relative.

Mr. Brannen was in business in Fredericton for a long time before entering the provincial civil service. After 35 years' service he was superannuated several years ago when he was presented the imperial service medal. He was an official of Christchurch parish church until a few years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Brannen had six children. Three daughters and one son are dead. Surviving are one daughter, Miss Adelaide C., and one son, Sterling, both of Fredericton. Mr. and Mrs. Brannen make their home with their son.

Mr. Brannen recalls vividly many of the people prominent in Fredericton for many years and is an interesting conversationalist.

"FOLLIES" SCORE HIT

The Montrose Follies opened the concert season at the Seaman's Institute last night with an excellent entertainment program and had a capacity audience. R. E. Armstrong, president of the New Brunswick division of the Navy League of Canada, was chairman. New scenery and stage settings, which have been provided by the institute management, were used for the first time last night. The program included merry numbers by the comedians, B. Daniels and A. Daniels; an Irish ballad sung by S. Cole; a character piece, "Broken down actor," by D. Moss; a clever female impersonation, by George Mill, and some excellent specialties by W. Scamper. Mr. Good-enough was the accompanist.

BOYS GIVEN TREAT

Forty-six boys of the Kirk Pack and the St. George's Pack of Wolf Cubs heard a very interesting lecture on birds delivered last night by Dr. William Macintosh at the Natural History Museum. They were given a tour of the museum by Dr. Macintosh, who explained the different exhibits as he went along. He also told them a number of Indian legends. A very hearty sing-song was another part of the evening's program. L. L. Johnston was in charge of the pack.

CONFERS RANK

The rank of esquire was conferred upon several candidates at the meeting of New Brunswick Lodge, No. 1, Knights of Pythias, held last evening in Pythian Castle with Chancellor Commander C. W. Polkins presiding and a large representation of city Knights and visiting Knights in attendance. District Deputy Grand Chancellor C. T. Green paid his official visit to the lodge last night. After lodge business refreshments were served.

Kansas City College Lays Down Test For Girls' Fitness

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 2.—Early to bed and early to rise may make you healthy, wealthy and wise; setting-up exercises may do away with little rolls of fat, but more than this is needed to keep Miss 1926 in fit condition.

Personal fitness, according to Miss Emma Serl, head of the English department of the Kansas City Teachers' college, involves everything from the control of a slangy and noisy tongue to knowing just how much power and rouge is needed to maintain "that school-girl complexion."

With these requirements in mind, heads of the college are subjecting the girls to a severe test, by the results of which they hope to learn the degree of personal fitness each one possesses and to suggest remedies for those who turn in the poorest cards.

"A girl often does not realize some little thing which is objectionable to others and keeps her from being the success she should be," Miss Serl declared. "A girl often depreciates her own charm and good characteristics. The tests help to give her self-confidence and do away with the 'inferiority complex.'"

The test includes 14 points of fitness, some of which are:

Posture; neatness, which includes the use of cosmetics; broad-mindedness in regard to the other person's views on religion, politics and other subjects; loyalty to group and school; honesty, in which is mentioned copying from a fellow student during exams; self-control of temper and tongue.

One of the most important of the 14 points, according to Miss Serl, is that of dependability.

"A girl who will work conscientiously while teachers are absent, and there are many of them, displays an admirable trait of character," she said. "Usually you will find her punctual, willing to assist and possessing a sense of responsibility and reliability."

Each of the girls who take the test will be graded by her classmates. Miss Serl believes honesty will prevail in the grading of the papers.

DEATH RATE LOW IN SAINT JOHN

Secretary T. M. Burns Reviews Last Twelve Months

Speaks of Health Laws and Work For Community Being Done For Good

The lowest infant mortality rate recorded in Saint John up to the present time was the rate of 102 for every 1,000 live births in 1924, and there is every indication that in the present year that rate will be equalled if not improved, it was said yesterday by T. M. Burns, secretary of the Board of Health, who spoke appreciatively of the child welfare work of the Victorian Order of Nurses in reducing the infant mortality.

MILK SUPPLY

The Board keeps record of the city milk supply and these give ample proof that the city is getting a safe supply of very high nutritional value. The Board also has careful supervision given the city's water and sewerage systems in the interests of health and Mr. Burns said that the extension of these services in East Saint John recently had been an additional safeguard to the community served and to the city. The Board has warned, however, of the increasing danger which is found in the fact that the area around Loch Lomond and other supply sources is becoming more thickly inhabited and has declared the need for further protection of the area of catchment and of chlorination of the water.

HEALTH LAWS GENERALLY

In the enforcement of health laws the Board has had five cases in court in the last 12 months, and a fine was imposed in each case, although one case was appealed and the decision of the city magistrate reversed. It had two lower flats in houses closed as unfit for habitation and its inspectors carried out rigorous supervision of premises. Not only do the Board's inspectors supervise city premises, shops, hotels, restaurants, market, slaughter houses and milk plants, but they inspect premises where poultry is kept and the premises of milk producers in Saint John, Kings and Westmorland counties, who ship milk to Saint John.

GREATEST PRIDE

What the Board is proudest of this year is the great reduction in the number of cases of notifiable diseases and of deaths from these diseases. The total number of 968 cases of these diseases in the county and 304 in the city shows a reduction of 58 per cent. in the whole district, and 53 per cent. in the city, while deaths numbering 62 in the whole district and 67 in the city show reductions of 62 per cent. and 70 per cent. respectively, and for the first time in 12 years there was no diphtheria death. Scarlet fever showed a 30 per cent. reduction of cases in the whole district, while typhoid cases were reduced 30 per cent in the city and county.

Delve Into Radio Trouble In Moncton

Losses Cause by Fire in Main Street

Losses cause by the fire in Main street here Sunday night have been adjusted by J. M. Lowe, as follows: Harris estate, Robichaud estate and Elevelling Wilbur for loss on buildings, $7,700, $351.50 and $474.50, respectively; damage to stock, Robichaud estate, $1,697.98; Louis Gerber, $1,700; damage to furniture, Poirier estate, $395; Francois Melanson, $200. The stock of T. Marrache, clothier, has not yet been appraised. The insurance was $9,000.

How Outdoor Men Treat Muscle-Strain

Sprains, bruises, rheumatism, also yield to this treatment. Outdoor men who do hard muscular work, who undergo exposure and risk of accident every day, know how necessary it is to give prompt attention to muscle-strain, bruises, sprains and other injuries.

A member of a survey party sent out by the government of British Columbia to do sub-division work three hundred miles from civilization writes: "The chief of our party, with rifle foresight brought along as a part of our first aid supply a bottle of Sloan's Liniment. And through weeks of exposure and hardship we found it our best help for sprains, bruises, stiff muscles and rheumatism. Sloan's gives real relief because it doesn't just deaden the pain. It helps your body to throw off the cause. Just a little Sloan's patted on lightly—and a healing tide of fresh new blood is sent right to the place that hurts. The aching and stiffness are helped right away. Get a bottle from your druggist today—35 cents."

BRITAIN WILL SCRAP 37 NAVAL VESSELS

List Includes Nine Cruisers, 18 Destroyers, Seven Submarines

LONDON, Dec. 2.—Thirty-seven British naval ships will be scrapped in the immediate future, J. C. C. Davidson, Under Secretary for the Admiralty, announced today in the House of Commons. This list will be made up of three cruisers, five depot ships, 18 destroyers, seven submarines, three trawlers and one drifter.

NO DEATHS FROM MEASLES

Mr. Burns also spoke of there having been no deaths from measles during the year just closed, while in the previous year there were 14 deaths from this disease. The cases of whooping cough had not been fully reported, but during the last 12 months there had been no deaths from this disease, and in the year previous there had been three.

CUT IN T. B. DEATHS

Mr. Burns gave much praise to the work of the anti-tuberculosis nurses when he spoke of the cut in the death rate from that disease. The drop was 37 per cent. in the city, and the 51 deaths were the smallest number of tuberculous deaths in Saint John in the last six years, with the exception of 1922. The follow-up work of the drop, and added that results of that work must be more evident in the years to come.

POTATO DEALER DISSATISFIED

Hatfield Complains Relative to Stock Stored in Shed Here

Stock Placed at Own Risk and Not Removed at Date Set, Says Bullock

H. H. Hatfield, of Hatfield, potato dealer, while in the city last night, said that the dealers of the Saint John River Valley had stored 6,000 sacks of potatoes, valued at $36,000, in what was known as the old apple shed on the east side of the harbor, intending to get them out before the cold weather. They had had the Ada Gortham in here two weeks ago but had been refused a chance to take them out because of a dredge that blocked the wharf, he said, and, now that the cold weather had come, they were refused permission to heat the warehouse. As a result, it was likely that they would freeze, he said.

He considered that this was bad treatment of the shippers in view of the fact that they had brought the business from Boston to Saint John in 1920 and increased it greatly since.

BULLOCK TALKS

Commissioner Bullock, when interviewed regarding the matter, said that the facts were substantially true, but that Mr. Hatfield had not mentioned that the shippers had put the potatoes in there at their own risk on the understanding they were to remove them by Nov. 18 and had been charged nothing for the storage.

They had been told they might not be able to get a steamer up to the doors of the shed. The city would not allow them to heat the shed because it would constitute a fire menace, he declared. He understood that a boat was going in today to take the potatoes away.

The shed in question is on the southern end of the Pettigill wharf and is unheated. It is an extension of what has been made the C. N. R. potato shed there.

Mr. Hatfield had been for three weeks in Boston, New York and Philadelphia and has been watching the potato markets there. The United States papers were putting up a great howl because of prices, he said, and he had written to the Providence Journal.

He had told them of the farmers of Aroostook county who were near bankruptcy because of the poor prices of the year before and declared it was a shame for American papers to advocate the eating of rice and other foreign products, thus sending the money out of the country, rather than give it to the farmers of their own country.

UP TO $7 A BARREL

In regard to prices to the New Brunswick farmers, he thought that the first of the year would see potatoes bringing the growers $7 a barrel.

Throughout his experience of 20 years in the business there had always been a dullness in the market during November and most of December but this year prices had held their own in this period of weakness.

As soon as the seed trade from New Brunswick and Maine started in the spring he expected to see the price to the farmer rise to $7 a barrel. Every dealer in Canada and Maine had Maine had enough seed bookings to WISCONSIN RAPIDS, Wis., Dec. 2.—Two mysterious masked gunmen stalked into a roadhouse half a mile from this city and shot two men as they sat listening to a radio concert.

R. A. Davis, a farmer, was killed instantly. A bullet plowed through his brain. William Bauer, also a farmer, was shot in the abdomen and is not expected to live. The killers warned their intended victims before firing.

"Davis, we want you," calmly announced the taller of the two. Then he fired from the hip.

"Bauer, you're next," said the other, as he fired.

The gunmen then backed out and escaped in an automobile.

Postal Department Points Out Matter in Connection With Christmas Cards

A statement from the Post Office department at Ottawa says:—

"During the holiday season many people transmit their Christmas and New Year's greetings by means of small cards enclosed in visiting card envelopes or diminutive envelopes of a similar nature. The use of small envelopes is discouraged by the Post Office Department for many reasons.

"Small envelopes cannot be satisfactorily passed through the electric post-marking machine. The cancellation mark covers too great portion of the surface, obliterating in many instances a part of the address. This necessitates picking out the small envelopes from the other letters and detaching employees, who might be more profitably engaged, to stamp them by hand.

"The small size of the envelopes renders the sorting and the making up of bundles more difficult and hampers the work of the office at a time when it is most desirable to handle the mails as expeditiously as possible.

"The public can assist the Post Office by refraining from using envelopes smaller than three inches by four inches."

1923 FLOOD. In regard to the flood of 1923, he said that the Log Falls storage had been full and the headpond had been full. COMMISSIONER'S REPORT. The commissioner's 1923-1924 report was referred to and Dr. Taylor read an excerpt to the effect that more than 21,000,000 k. w. h. per year could be developed. He asked the opinion of the witness as to this statement and Mr. Weston replied that he had not given it any thought.

M'LURG WOULD OUST UNION AND SET UP JOINT COMMITTEES

Says Bodies Representative of Both Employers and Employees Would Be Better for the Industry

CROSS-QUESTIONED BY MEN'S CHIEF

Asserts He Has Not Made a Practice of "Passing the Buck" in Declaring He Has Power to Make Decision on All Matters That Might Arise

SYDNEY, Dec. 2.—The Royal Commission investigating the coal industry of Nova Scotia tonight held a special session, when the cross-examination of J. E. McLurg, vice-president of the British Empire Steel Corporation, was continued by J. W. McLeod, district president of the United Mine Workers of America.

Every detail of the witness' direct examination was explored by the U. M. W. president. Much of the evidence previously given was reviewed.

FAVOR COMMITTEE

Mr. McLurg gave it as his opinion that the coal industry should return to the 1917 wage scale, representing a decrease of 40 per cent in the present rates. He contended that some such scheme of joint committees, representative of the men and management as that now in operation at the steel plant, throughout the colliery districts, would be preferable to the continuance of the U. M. W.

M'LEOD ASKS QUESTION

Questioned by Mr. McLeod as to whether he knew of conditions in the mining communities, he testified he had not had time to visit them. Mr. McLeod's last question was:

"Would it not be a good plan for your board of directors to give you a year's leave of absence in order to enable you to spend the time shooting and leading in one of the mines and attending meetings of the locals?"

And Mr. McLurg's reply: "I'm afraid I couldn't qualify. I've not a craft."

Vice-President J. E. McLurg, in his direct evidence, reviewed much of his testimony previously given. Summing up the case for the operating end of the industry he was required to do a considerable amount of "mopping up," as it termed it.

MUCH MISCONCEPTION

The witness stated there was much misconception regarding "absentee management." It was within his power to make a decision on all matters that might arise. He lived in Sydney and "liked the town." He felt he had the confidence of the President and the Board of Directors. There was no reason for his "passing the buck," he said, and he did not make a practice of so doing. He did not accept responsibility, however, for the wage negotiations of 1924, as he had only arrived in Sydney in January of that year.

EXPLAINS DECISION

Proceeding, Mr. McLurg explained the circumstances surrounding the expression "lock them out," credited to him during the wage discussion of 1924. The U. M. W. provisional officers had suggested calling out the maintenance men and he had decided "not to blow the whistle."

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Now remember—I want this nickel back by tomorrow—see?

Why, sure—I know my business!

Well, you haven't got a nickel, you could loan me, have you? I'll pay you back Saturday.

I did, but I just now loaned it to Oscar.

Oscar? Not little Oscar Pletzenbaum??

Yeah, he's honest. Ain't he? Don't you think he'll pay me back?

Why, of course he's honest—he'll pay you back even if he has to steal it!

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

See, there's an awful bunch of freshies that hang around that new frat house.

You can't walk by there but what a bunch of what a whistle at you.

Do you know the new one right down the street?

Yeah! Somethin' ought to be done about it.

Well, anyway, thank goodness—you don't have to go past there. What way to school, it's several blocks out of your way, isn't it?

Yeah! But every day when I walk by there they try to flirt with me.

SALESMAN $AM

For the love of Mike, Sam, there's a job working on that new building they're putting up.

Who garage—so you got a job at that place, what do you do there?

Carry lumber for the men?

Foreman!—ha ha!! You're foreman or all these men ha ha—thass a good one.

AM TOO AND I'LL PROVE IT TO YOU NOW!

HEY KELLY!

YOU'RE FIRED!

this paper was forever drilling into the minds of the men the idea that we are everything that is bad, that there was no consideration whatever for our position."

In December, 1924, he had reached the conclusion that a strike was inevitable and that it would be a 100 per cent strike, entailing the withdrawal of the maintenance men. He was strengthened in this belief as the days wore on and early in January he had begun preparations to meet the emergency. Officials of the company who had expressed their willingness to assist in maintenance work in the event of trouble were assigned to their jobs and preparations were made for the withdrawal of pit ponies from the mines. The article in the Glace Bay Gazette of January 6, telling of the preparations for the impending strike had not been inspired by the company.

QUESTION OF NO DENIAL

Questioned by the Commission as to why a denial had not been published, the witness explained that he had had three audiences, the public of Cape Breton, the public of Nova Scotia and the entire Canadian public. Announcements intended for local consumption were misinterpreted and such announcements had no meaning for the general purpose of the Dominion.

CONCILIATION BODY ASKED

The witness then began the reading of the correspondence going to show that a Conciliation Board had been applied for by the corporation after the men had failed to join them in the petition.

VISIT BY QUIRK

The witness next dealt with a visit made the district, by G. Quirk, of the Federal Department of Labor. Mr. Quirk had told the witness that in the opinion of the then Minister of Labor, Hon. James Murdock, the demands of the corporation for a 10 per cent reduction were not justified. The witness stated that after having been informed by Mr. Quirk that he had communicated the views of the Minister to the U. M. W. executive, he protested against the action of Mr. Murdock on the ground that a Board of Conciliation was then in process of formation.

NOT PURSUED FURTHER

The Chairman—"Did you pursue the matter further with the Minister?"

Witness—"No."

Chairman—"Why?"

Witness—"I felt it was hopeless to pursue the matter further with the Minister of Labor."

Mr. McLurg then proceeded to read from the Maritime Labor Herald, dealing with a demand for the cost sheets of the company.

OVERDRAFT IS BUSINESS OF SCHOOL BOARD

Acting Mayor Declines to Recommend How to Handle It

SUBMITS REPORT ON $94,000 MATTER

Frink Quotes Letter From Chairman Curran and Makes Comment

Commissioner Frink, acting Mayor, this morning presented his report on the communication of the chairman of the Board of School Trustees, Dr. L. M. Curran, on the matter of the school overdraft of $94,000. He did not submit any recommendations, having come to the conclusion that the School Board, having incurred the overdraft, should be the ones to say how it should be taken care of.

He stated that if the Board could not practice "the strictest economy" with the funds they now have they would not be likely to do so if they had more money to spend.

The report was received and adopted and a copy ordered furnished to each commissioner.

HERE IS REPORT

The report was as follows: "The chairman's letter addressed to the Common Council on November 13 has been referred to me for a report concerning the School Board overdraft of $94,000.

"In the second paragraph the chairman states that the cost of maintaining our public schools has increased during recent years because of increased enrollment and increased salaries. The total enrollment in 1915 was 7797 and in 1925 it was 8922, an increase of 1125 pupils in the 10 years.

"In the year 1915 the assessment for the schools was $1100 or $23.82 a year for each child enrolled. The amount levied and assessed for in 1925 was $860,822.52 or $63 a year for each child enrolled and attending the public schools. For a community of about 30,000 the load is heavy and every hand must be put to the task.

"For school purposes, not to mention the apparent undetermined assessment for the Vocational School, conservative estimates of the cost of which move around $50,000 per annum in the initial movement.

MANY ARE INDIFFERENT

"Owners of real property beside this office daily complaining that the burdens placed upon them are simply intolerable, and it is quite apparent to your commissioner that another taxation tempest is ripe even unto the bursting, largely due to the fact that the majority of people are apparently indifferent, awaiting results. The results are arriving hourly. Systems of taxation may shift the load, that is all, nothing more.

"As to the remark of the chairman of the Board of School Trustees that it might be possible for the board to operate more efficiently and economically if it should assess or order to the full limit permitted by the legislature of this province and then practice strict economy, or whether the Common Council should clean up the overdraft of $94,000 in such a way as the Common Council might determine, I may reply that my intellect is insufficient to grasp the meaning or purpose of the first proposal.

"If the School Board cannot cut down expenses and economize on what they have, it would seem to your commissioner that the process of economy would be hindered rather than helped by the opportunity to expend some thousands of dollars more, for it is a matter of public knowledge, wherein civic public expenditures are concerned, the desire and demand is that the full warrant of assessment must be used no matter whether the assessment is collected or not, and the chairman of the Board of School Trustees knows from his experience in municipal affairs, not to speak of provincial matters, that this statement made by your commissioner is correct, and that if the proposal to increase the limit and the money not collected, then additions are made in part to the following year's levy upon the ratepayers.

NO RECOMMENDATION.

"As to the proposal that the Common Council should devise ways and means to take care of this overdraft of $94,000, it is a known fact that members of the school board are persons of intellectual worth and of high standing in the community and possessed in no small degree with business acumen and have a considerable stake in the community, and while the Common Council has no option in the determination of the amount which the Board of School Trustees may demand for its purposes it surely has the right to expect that the Board of School Trustees will exercise their ability to conserve and steer their own financial ship within the limits of their appropriation, and your commissioner is of the opinion that if the proposal to economize is real, accomplishment is not beyond reach. Failure to do this is an open acknowledgment that the board cannot fulfill the expectations of the people. Recommendations are not submitted for reasons outlined above.

J. H. FRINK,
Acting Mayor,
Saint John, N. B., 3rd Dec, 1925.

WATER MAIN TROUBLE.

A leak in the 16 inch water main in East Saint John kept a repair crew of the water and sewerage department out all last night and the best part of today. This leak occurred a short distance from Kane's corner and when the men got down to the pipe they found that the side was blown out of one joint. Commissioner Wigmore said there had been a lot of trouble with this main. In some places when the men had dug down to repair a leak, he said, they had found the pipe resting on jagged edges of rock and these had naturally broken the pipe. The pipe itself, he said, was good but could not stand up under such conditions.

BUS SERVICE STARTED

They have secured an enclosed bus, capable of carrying sixteen passengers, and this meets all the East Saint John street needs. Yesterday and today, Mr. Poirer said this morning, there had not been any difficulty in accommodating the passengers the bus had to carry.

TONIGHT BAND FAIR FOR STOCKING FUND

All is in Readiness For Good Time in St. Malachi's Hall

Will St. Malachi's Hall be thronged with people tonight?

It should be, for tonight the City Cornet Band will carry on there its Around-the-World fair for the benefit of the Times-Star Empty Stocking Fund.

Every dollar that is taken in will go to swell this fund. The greater the receipts the more children will be treated to Christmas cheer and the better filled the stockings will be.

That ought to be a reason why all who possibly can do so should spend a little time at least in St. Malachi's Hall tonight and assist in swelling the receipts.

WELL WORTH WHILE.

All will be well repaid, for it will be an enjoyable time, with all the band fair attractions—games and booths and wheels—and handmen and a corps of assistants helping to look after the patrons. Around-the-World tickets for prizes aggregating $1,200, of which a few are still available, can be procured by those who may wish them.

Committees are busy today restocking the booths and making all the arrangements for the big time tonight. The band will play from the head of King street to the hall, at the corner of Sydney street, for the big time tonight.

A good programme in the hall during the evening.

All's ready. Now for the response by the people to the call of the little ones of the poor to make the Empty Stocking Fund a record one this year so that not a child in Saint John will see Christmas come and go without having had a share in the good things of Santa Claus time.

As Hiram Sees It

CLEVELAND — Well, sir—this town looks after its poor folks in good shape. It raises every year what it calls the Community Chest—an' divides it up amongst nearly a hundred an' fifty societies an' orphanages an' institutions of all sorts that takes care o' folks that can't take care o' themselves. How much o' you s'pose they riz this year? They jist got through last week an' they had four an' a half millions o' dollars. Three an' a half millions was got from the rich folks. One feller he give a hundred an' twenty thousand dollars every year. It hees lots o' poor people here—they don't hang onto every last cent. No, sor—whether they got it in a good Christian way or not—they shell out to help other folks an' build institutions an' make the town better. Cleveland don't need to be no tags days. It hees lots o' poor people as well as rich—but them that deserves it is looked after mighty well—so they tell me. They're too easy on fellers that commits crimes—but they're findin' that out by degrees—an' I wouldn't be surprisid if they changed that afore long—no, sir.

DR. G. O. BAXTER, M. D., AGED 62

Physician Practised Widely in Saint John, Kings and Albert

Member of Loyalist Family—Several Follow Practise of Medicine

George Olive Baxter, M. D., aged 62 years, great-grandson of a Loyalist who settled in the Norton district, Kings County, and a familiar figure in hundreds of homes in the city of Saint John and throughout a wide circle of adjoining counties, died early this morning at his home, corner Peel and Union streets after several weeks' illness of septic arthritis. The doctor battled valiantly for the last week but even the physical fact of his not yet being an old man did not save him.

THE RELATIVES.

Dr. J. Murray Baxter of Brunswick, Maryland; Dr. George R. Baxter of Newton Centre, Mass.; Miss Gladys Baxter on the staff of the Manhattan Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital, New York, were with their parents when the doctor passed away. Mrs. Baxter was formerly Miss Margaret T. Baxter of Burnsville, Kings County. Other surviving relatives are Dr. A. Ernest Baxter of Lowell, Mass., formerly of this city; Henry Baxter of Lynn, Mass., and Herbert of Sharon, Mass., brothers. There is one living sister, Mrs. George Johnson of Lynn, Mass.

SPENT A BUSY LIFE.

Dr. Baxter received his medical education in U. S. universities and had been practising in this territory for upwards of 30 years, ten of which were spent in Sussex, Barnstable and in Albert County. For more than a generation he enjoyed a lucrative practice in all sections of the Municipality of Saint John. In addition to remunerative professional work he devoted a great deal of energy and time to gratis ministrations amongst poor people. His charity in many cases extended beyond medical and surgical service and took the form of food and raiment for destitute patients.

ARDENT HORSEMAN.

Of a particularly active nature and busy as doctors are at any hour of the clock, Dr. Baxter was not able to affiliate with any of the fraternities. Much of his routine work found him in the county almshouse or in only a few sections of the rural districts winter and summer. He was an ardent horseman and a lover of animals, losing no opportunity to give succor to dumb beasts as well as his human patients. He usually possessed fine breeds of horses including some fast strollers.

LOYALIST FAMILY.

The Baxter family to which the late doctor belonged is of the basic settlement of New Brunswick at the time of the Loyalist influx. His grandfather and that of Premier J. B. M. Baxter were brothers who came from the Eastern States. The grant of land allocated at that time included what is now known as Norton and Lower Norton. Dr. Baxter's father was Alfred Baxter, still remembered by many old residents as one of the leaders in the community life of that Kings County section.

Funeral arrangements are being made for Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when burial will take place in Fernhill.
