WHAT IT COSTS TO RUN SCHOOLS

Report Submitted to Meeting of Commissioners.

Takes a Large Portion of the Taxes—Street Work Field Day—Tenders for Clothing—Building Law Matters are Discussed.

At a meeting of the common council this morning with all the commissioners present excepting Commissioner Bullock, the report of the committee of the whole was received and adopted with the exception of a section dealing with the recommendation that the department of public works be authorized to build by days' work a 555 wooden culvert under the second bridge in the Ashburn road at an estimated cost of $224, to be paid for by bond issue and that the work and estimate of cost be approved. This was laid over until next week.

The report of the finance committee of the board of school trustees was read by the clerk and was as follows: St. John, N. B., September 22, 1922 To His Worship The Mayor and Members of the Common Council of the City of Saint John.

Gentlemen: I have the honor to present my annual report upon the books, accounts and finance of the Board of School Trustees of the City of Saint John for the year ended June 30 last. The statement of assets and liabilities, signed by me, which is now handed to you, was correctly prepared from the books of the trustees and in my opinion represents their position of June 30 last.

Statements of receipts and expenditures (capital and current accounts) signed by me, are also presented and show the sources of the funds and for what the expenditures were made. These were proved respectively. All expenditures were properly vouchered. The bonded debt on June 30 last was $899,860. Debentures to the amount of $16,000 matured during the year, which $21,000 that matured the previous year, in all $899,860, were re-issued as redemptions for twenty-five years at six per cent. interest. Debentures on capital account amounting to $157,000 were issued for Lorne Scholes and other capital work at twenty-five years expiry at six per cent. interest.

The interest on overdraft account paid Bank of Nova Scotia was $1,562.82. The repairs to buildings and furniture were $47,692.71. The cost for heating the schools for the year cost $45,457.29. The amount paid out for teachers' salaries was $220,864.93, and that required for janitors $21,118.90. I inspected the securities held for the sinking fund and are as follows, viz: Invested in bonds (face value $80,000) $82,439.70 Cash in Bank of Nova Scotia "Special Act" $97,264.95

These bonds are in safety deposit box at their bankers. It is a pleasure to see this fund grow, as it was unknown prior to the year 1908. All debentures issued since that date have carried amortization. I also inspected the securities held for Parker Medical Trust and found them correct. The board carries fire insurance on buildings and furniture to the amount of $225,000. A blanket policy on boilers is also carried to the amount of $10,000. Respectfully submitted, ADAM P. MACINTYRE, C. A. City Controller Commissioner Thornton moved that the report be received and filed. He thought that the report should be published and Commissioner Frink agreed with him in this saying that few people realized that, in round figures, $50,000 of the taxes went to the schools. The mayor said that he would like the press to publish the report as he thought that the public should know how the money was expended. Commissioner Frink said that a great deal of credit was due the controller for the efficient way he had handled the sinking fund.

Street Matters. A communication was read from residents of Manners-Sutton street, of the Millidgeville road leading along the shore, asking that repairs be effected to the road and that it be taken over by the city. The letter was signed by F. E. Williams and others. (Continued on page 2, sixth column)

Nearly 100 More Than in Big Leagues Last Year

New York, Sept. 27.—Free from penury workers after one of the most strenuous campaigns in their career, the New York Giants wound up the battle against western opposition by taking the final game of the series from the St. Louis Cardinals 6 to 3, behind Neff's steady pitching.

It was the third defeat in four games for St. Louis and showed them back to fourth place, while Cincinnati, trailing Philadelphia, 15 to 8, climbed to the third position. Indication that Neff has practically recovered from the effects of a foot injury which checked his effectiveness earlier in the season was regarded as an important factor in the Giants' world series chances. The southpaw held the heavy-hitting Cardinals scoreless in all but two innings and exhibited perfect control.

Neff, although beaten twice by Hoyt of the Yankees in last year's series, twirled brilliantly both times, and in his third start turned in the deciding victory by outpitching Hoyt in the eighth game, 1 to 0. Mrs. Schofield, mother of the bride, wore a gown of navy blue and grey to accept an arbitration award. Mrs. S. Enman, mother of the groom, wore a gown of black with hat to match. The church was handsomely decorated with white daisies and hydrangeas. James S. Ford presided very ably at the organ and the choir sang softly "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden."

Among those attending the wedding were Mrs. Enman and Miss Morrison and Miss Skinner were bridesmaids and were beautifully gowned in Princess Mary blue crepe de chine trimmed with white lace and carried bouquets of pink roses. The flower girl, Miss Elizabeth Enman, wore a dress of pale pink and carried a basket of sweetheart candy.

Harry Sutherland of Toronto supported the groom, Arthur K. Schofield, brother of the bride, Cecil Fitzgerald, Douglas Humphrey and A. Dodge Bantick acted as ushers. Mrs. Schofield, mother of the bride, wore a gown of navy blue and grey to accept an arbitration award. Mrs. S. Enman, mother of the groom, wore a gown of black with hat to match. The church was handsomely decorated with white daisies and hydrangeas. James S. Ford presided very ably at the organ and the choir sang softly "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden."

SERIOUS IN SOUTH WALES GOAL FIELDS

London, Sept. 27.—(Canadian Press.)—The failure of the South Wales coal mine owners and miners' representatives to reach an settlement over a demand for increased wages for the lower paid men among the miners and the fact that between 50,000 and 60,000 men are wholly unemployed there, are accentuating the public interest in the critical situation in the South Wales coal fields.

Sherbrooke, Que., Sept. 27.—A honeymoon motorcycle trip of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pruden of New York, was brought to an abrupt conclusion late yesterday afternoon and today their motorcycle is a tangled mass and the bride and groom are in the Sherbrooke Hospital. A short way from Waterville, where they failed to hear an approaching G. T. R. freight train at a level crossing and were run down. They were thrown clear of the engine, and not very badly injured.

BIG DEAL IN LONDON PAPERS

London, Sept. 27.—(Canadian Press.)—Viscount Rothermere, younger brother of the late Lord Northcliffe, has acquired 400,000 deferred shares in Associated Newspapers, Ltd., which owns the Daily Mail and associated papers, formerly belonging to Lord Northcliffe, who, at the time of his death, held the majority of these shares. The shares in question are being transferred to a company called the Daily Mail Trust, which is about to issue 1,600,000 seven per cent. debentures guaranteed, among other things, by Viscount Rothermere's own companies.

Two Men, Believed To Be Brothers, Found Hanging To a Tree In the Maine Woods

SUICIDE, IS SHERIFF'S THEORY—THINKS THEY RETURNED TO BOYHOOD SCENES NEAR GORHAM, DIVIDED CLOTHES LINE AND ENDED LIVES TOGETHER.

Gorham, Maine, Sept. 27.—A new clothes line, believed by the police to have been purchased here, was regarded today as the most likely factor in determining the identity of two men found hanging side by side from the limbs of a pine tree in woods near here yesterday. The men, both past middle age and apparently brothers, had divided the rope equally between them.

Sheriff Graham was working today on the theory that the men had made a suicide pact, and returned to the scene of their boyhood to put their agreement into effect. The medical examiner expressed the opinion that the men had been dead several days. A time table of the Boston and Maine Railroad in a pocket led the sheriff to believe that the two men had come here from some outside point by train. The place where the bodies were found the territory well, possibly from playing in the woods as boys.

SEPTEMBER WEDDINGS

Enman-Schofield. A fashionable wedding to which much local interest attaches was solemnized at 12.30 o'clock today in Trinity church when Miss Jean Clarke Schofield, daughter of Ex-Mayor E. A. Schofield and Mrs. Schofield, 176 King street east, became the bride of Horace Luttrell Enman, formerly of Fort Elgin but now of Toronto. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends by Bishop Charles Schofield of Victoria, B. C., uncle of the bride, assisted by Rev. Canon R. A. Armstrong, rector of Trinity.

The bride, who entered the church with her father, to the strains of hymnial music, looked very charming in a bridal gown of white satin draped with lace, having a long train lined with pink and wearing a veil arranged behind Neff's steady pitching. It was the third defeat in four games for St. Louis and showed them back to fourth place, while Cincinnati, trailing Philadelphia, 15 to 8, climbed to the third position. Indication that Neff has practically recovered from the effects of a foot injury which checked his effectiveness earlier in the season was regarded as an important factor in the Giants' world series chances. THE RECALL

Question About Some of the Names—Opinions of Dr. Baxter and J. M. Trueman.

The following is an extract from a letter from the city solicitor, Hon. Dr. J. B. M. Baxter, K. C., to H. E. Wardrop, common clerk:—"The English statutes differ so widely from our own that it is very difficult to make an exact application of any of the apparent principles laid down. I may say, however, that in a case where a man entered on the electoral list as Edwin John Hooper, signed Edw. J. Hooper; another entered on the list as William E. Waller, signed as W. E. Waller, and the third entered on the list as Robert Turner, signed R. Turner, it seems to have been held that the ordinary signature was sufficient. It may be said in the case of the present recall that the addition of the street and number fulfills the same office, and I think, therefore, that when you find names signed by initials accompanied by the same street and number as appear on the electoral list that you will be justified in assuming the identity, provided that the affidavit accompanying the recall papers states that such signatures are the genuine signatures of the persons whose names they purport to be. To fulfill this requirement, I think the affidavit would have to state that in the case above given the W. E. Waller on the paper was the William E. Waller on the electoral list and so forth. If the identity is not thus established in cases where voters do not sign their names as they appear on the electoral list, I think it will be open to the applicants to supplement the oaths attached to the petitions."

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THE THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

SIR G. PARKER STORY, IMPERIAL

A perfect pair of players providing a perfect dramatic thrill! And that, in a modest way, is but an introduction to the Paramount picture "Over the Border," now on at the Imperial, which features Betty Compton and Tom Moore. But this is not the only highly desirable attraction which the picture possesses. There is Sir Gilbert Parker, the eminent Canadian novelist, from whose story "She of the Triple Cleveon," the picture has been adapted. It has its two central roles played by two stars, who have immense individual followings; it has been masterfully directed and the cast of supporting players is one of uniform excellence. "Over the Border" is about a young man in the north and the Mounted Police, with a powerful romantic love interest throughout.

WHAT IT COSTS TO RUN SCHOOLS

(Continued from page 1.) Commissioner Frink moved that the matter be referred to the commissioner of public works for a report. A portion of the street was incorporated from the neutral zone and never brought to the street. It would take at least $2,000 to put it in shape. In this connection he said that it was a waste of money to build ordinary macadam streets with motor traffic as it is. It destroyed the surface and some other form of concrete surfacing would have to be used. Residents of Dorchester street, Wright street, Britain street, Cranston avenue, Somerset street and several others were calling for repairs and he thought there should be a field day when complaints and requests would be heard. He had had a request from the school board regarding the condition of Newman street.

TURKS WILL DEMAND USE OF THE STRAITS (Continued from page 1.) The British and French commanders have sent him, and recall his troops from the neutral zone. The Times, however, admits that the situation is "critical owing to military optimism." In some quarters here Mustafa Kemal is credited with favoring moderation, and anxiety is not expressed as to his personal attitude but to that of the extremists in the Nationalist cabinet. Commissioner Thornton reported on the tenders for cloth for policemen's great coats and recommended that the tender of Manchester, Robertson, Allison, Ltd., for seventy-five yards of cloth at $5.33 a yard be accepted. This was thirty-two ounce cloth. This firm had been the only one to guarantee the indigo dye, which was what was wanted. His motion for the acceptance of the tender was carried. Building Matter. Regarding an application of W. E. A. Lawton in which a building at the corner of Union and Dorchester streets was concerned the commissioner moved that he be allowed to alter one of his buildings as outlined provided he tore down the building in the rear of the house which he intended to remodel. The building inspector had no authority to permit a man to erect a wooden building on that site but the building law was inadequate. The communication from Mr. Lawton contained notification from the fire underwriters that insurance rates in that district would not be affected by his building. Commissioner Frink advocated the repeal of the old building law which had been in effect since 1877, saying that it was obsolete and very unsatisfactory. He thought there should be a new law. The mayor asked what would happen between the time the old law was repealed and the new law enacted and Commissioner Frink suggested letting things take their course in as radical a way as they might in order that people might be awakened to the necessity for an adequate law. Commissioner Wigmore said that a new law was necessary but would take some time. The mayor remarked that he had been in talk of new building law for the last ten years.

THE HYDRO CONTRACT

The public will be impressed by the split of fairness in which the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission is meeting the city council in the conference regarding the contract for the Musquash current. It will also be quick to see what is behind some of the petty objections. The citizens are not to be easily confused by any effort to create doubt regarding the hydro development and the benefits it offers.

Byrne's judgment is given in the following words: "The Turk is hopelessly unfit to govern subject races. He cannot administer. He cannot secure justice. As governing power he has always shown himself incapable, corrupt and cruel. He has always destroyed; he has never created. The fruits of Turkish government are incalculable. The Turk as a governing power is irreclaimable."

An American historical writer, John Fiske, is no less severe in his indictment, in which it is said that: "The history of Turkish domination has been a record of the most brutal and unrelenting of tyrannies. It is the history of a race poorly equipped with the intellect and the conscience of a more worthy community."

CANADIAN RAILWAYS.

In the reports containing statistics concerning the Canadian railways which was issued in Toronto Monday, the showing made by the Canadian National Railways compares very favorably with that of its chief competitor. A particularly gratifying feature of the report for the last six-month period is the evidence it presents of greater economy and greater efficiency in the operation of the National system.

Although reduced rates and lighter passenger traffic caused a decrease in revenue of 1.1 per cent, the total expenses were reduced by 18.5 per cent, causing a substantial lessening of operating deficit. While the reduction in the payroll was largely responsible for the lower operating expenses, economies of a more enduring nature are shown in the record of increases in the size of the average train load, the number of cars per train and the average load per car.

That the tendency is in the right direction is shown also by a comparison of some of the figures giving the gross earnings of the system. Owing to conditions already mentioned, the earnings since the first of this year, which totalled $72,809,687, show a decrease of 0.01 per cent, but the latest for the week ending on which totalled $2,918,687, an increase of $230,258 over the corresponding week of last year. With reduced expenses, more economical operation and revenues which show a tendency towards larger figures, the outlook for the Canadian National Railways is far from discouraging.

THE TURK.

Little patience with the apologists for the Turk is shown by The Philadelphia North American in replying to a eulogy of Turkey and its people by Rear Admiral C. M. Chester, formerly of the United States navy, which appeared in a recent number of Current History. While giving Admiral Chester credit for sincerity and admitting that, individually, the Turk is a person of many admirable qualities, the Philadelphia newspaper says:

"But it is as a governing race, as an individual, that the Turk is to be judged. Before the bar of civilization, long ago condemned as unimprovable. In the former capacity he made an unbroken record of barbarism. During all the centuries that have passed since he emerged a barbarian from central Asia, a barbarian has remained. Everywhere that he has penetrated his presence has been a blight upon progress and a curse to subjugated peoples. Since efforts to misrepresent the facts of his history are well known, it is unnecessary to consider the monumental evidence of history."

Tracing the history of the Ottoman Turks from the time in the thirteenth century, when, driven westward by long pressure, they invaded Asia Minor, through the extension of their control throughout the world, and the decline of the empire, the North American declares: "The outstanding fact is that in all this long record there is not one item of good. Not only did the Turk contribute nothing to human progress or to the betterment of the world, but he corrupted and blasted institutions wherever he came. He was a scourge upon the Arab civilization, one of the most destructive forces of our knowledge. He was a scourge upon the Greek civilization, one of the most destructive forces of our knowledge. He was a scourge upon the Roman civilization, one of the most destructive forces of our knowledge. He was a scourge upon the European civilization, one of the most destructive forces of our knowledge. He was a scourge upon the American civilization, one of the most destructive forces of our knowledge. He was a scourge upon the world, one of the most destructive forces of our knowledge."

But, by the decision of the Allies, the Turks are to be permitted to retain the territory they have reconquered and to return to Europe. In view of the foregoing record of past history and of the deeds with which they have been charged more recently, there is little likelihood that the world may expect much better things of them in the future. As the Allies have accepted the responsibility for their return, the duty of enforcing at least fair treatment for the non-Christian peoples again under Turkish rule would seem to devolve upon these nations.

HARVEST HOME.

From Wheat Crop to Bread in One Day. A letter to the editor of the London Daily Mail says: "Sir,—It is stated that at Kenardington during the present harvest wheat has been cut, threshed, sold, and delivered on the same day to the mill, where it was promptly milled. In 1869 my father (the late Mr. Thomas Henry Grey) was a miller (wind) and farmer at Scottow, Norfolk, and during the harvest of that year he had a field of wheat cut, threshed, and carted to mill. As a steady breeze was blowing the wheat was ground, the meal dressed into flour, and for his tea on that same evening my father had hot bread rolls baked from the flour of the wheat harvested that day. Can present-day 'husks' beat that?"—Francis D. Grey.

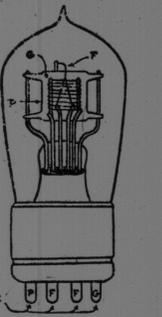

FIFTEEN MINUTES OF RADIO EACH DAY

By Edward N. Davis Formerly Technical Electrical Expert For U. S. Government

Lesson No. 115. THE CONSTRUCTION OF VACUUM TUBES.

One of the most important parts of the modern radio set is the vacuum tube, which is employed both in transmitting and receiving. It consists essentially of a highly evacuated glass tube in which are inserted three elements known as the plate, grid and filament.

The diagram shows the general construction of a typical vacuum tube used for reception purposes, the upper half of the sketch being in cross-section to show the arrangement of the three elements. In the center is the filament consisting of an inverted 'V' of wire, usually tungsten, sometimes coated with an oxide. Next to the filament and separating it from the plate is the grid. The grid is a cylindrical spiral form, known as the grid, and finally surrounding these two is the cylindrical metal plate.

Vacuum Tube For Detection

There are four wires brought through the glass at the base of the tube, two for the filament and one each for the plate and grid. The tube itself is sealed into a cylindrical metal base of standard size on the lower end of which are mounted four prongs or contacts electrically connected to the four wires mentioned above. A pin projecting from the side of the tube at a certain place assures the insertion of the tube into the tube socket in such a way as to have the prongs make contact with the proper contact fingers of the socket.

Transmitting tubes are often made with different size bases or the pin in such a position that transmitting tube sockets cannot be used for receiving tubes thereby preventing accidental damage to the tubes.

The diagram above is that of a receiving tube for detection purposes. The degree of vacuum in receiving tubes affects the plate voltage required for satisfactory operation of the tube, the tubes with higher vacuums requiring the greater voltages.

The early vacuum tubes for detection purposes contained only two elements, namely, the plate and the filament, and operated on the valve principle in a manner somewhat similar to the crystal detector.

The vacuum tubes for detection purposes contained only two elements, namely, the plate and the filament, and operated on the valve principle in a manner somewhat similar to the crystal detector. The two element tubes were employed chiefly for rectifying A. C. for the plate circuit of tube transmitters and for charging storage batteries from an A. C. source.

GENEROUS TO A FAULT.

A congressman was in the office of a friend, a justice of the peace, in an Ohio town, who couple came in to be married. After the ceremony the justice accepted a modest fee and handed the bride an umbrella as she went out. "Do you always do that, Frank?" "Do what? Marry them? Oh, yes." "Do what? Bestow a present upon the bride?" "A present? Why, wasn't that her umbrella?" "No, it was mine," replied the congressman, sadly.

DOUBLE HAPPINESS.

When the news of Brown's engagement became public property his many friends promptly expressed their hearty congratulations. "But," said one, "I understand that the girl to whom you are engaged is a twin. How do you tell the difference between her and her sister?" "Well," Brown, happily, "it's jolly nice family and I don't bother very much."

MISSING HEIR TO $500,000.

An Anglo-U. S. Romance—British Picture Houses Are Asked to Aid in Search.

Trowbridge, Eng., Sept. 27.—Where are the heirs of Ephraim Gregory, who died in 1881 at Trowbridge, Wiltshire? Mr. Gregory died in New Jersey, U. S. A., leaving a fortune of $500,000, and prominent lawyers in America are endeavoring to find his heirs. As Mr. Gregory was a Wiltshire man, the New Jersey Guarantee and Trust Corporation has asked the British Picture Houses to aid in the search.

THE CIRCUS, THE BOY AND THE "CARNIVAL."

(From the Dearborn Independent.) The circus as we know it is peculiarly an American institution. The boy follows every step with the keenest interest and after the performance rings up a triumph in his back yard. Bruised shoulders and a bumped head cause him to have renewed respect for the men and women of the circus ring. This influence is wholly good. The carnival has a similar appeal. But that which is under canvas is vastly different. At most of the carnivals he sees the cheap fraud gawling going on under the auspices of his father's lodge or his brother's war veterans' organization. Just as thousands of boys would never have seen an elephant had it not been for the circus, so thousands would never have known the roulette table gambling had it not been for the circus.

SPRINGING A SURPRISE ON THE BLIND PIG MEN.

Ottawa, Sept. 26.—Lulled into a sense of false security during the last month of the year ago, when the Ontario Revenue Collector T. W. Purcell and Quebec Liquor Commission Inspector A. Mousset, blind-piggers in the city of Hull and the district have been conducting a land and business—but there will be an awakening. During this month the local officers have "held off" the blind-piggers by skilfully introducing a land and business—but there will be an awakening. During this month the local officers have "held off" the blind-piggers by skilfully introducing a land and business—but there will be an awakening.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT STRIKE.

New York, Sept. 26.—As the result of a disagreement between Norman Smith, President of the senior class in the Mineola, L. I. High School, and the Principal, J. I. Allart, and Mrs. Warren Clendenny, one of the teachers, all the members of the senior class were absent from classes yesterday afternoon. The trouble started on Wednesday when Mrs. Clendenny, meeting Smith in one of the corridors of the school building, reproved him for his absence from study hall. Later, when the Principal talked with Smith, he undertook him to say "I don't care for you or Mrs. Clendenny." Classmates, who overheard the conversation, were so angry that they decided to support their President. Principal Allart gave them their choice of attending classes or going home. They went home. Ten juniors followed them, and Mrs. Clendenny was absent from classes yesterday afternoon.

LONGEVITY REMAINS UNEXPLAINED.

(New York Times.) It is among the penalties of great age that those who attain it fall into delusions, sometimes amusing and sometimes merely pathetic, in their efforts to account for their not very important success in adding years to their lives. The reasons they give are never the right ones. The biographies of centenarians prove that there is no regimen of life by which length of days can be attained. Most of them have done about what other people do in the way of eating and sleeping, nothing particularly unusual, and many of them have been poor as rich. About the most irritating thing the centenarians say is to vaunt their abstention from worrying and to advise the rest of us to imitate them in this respect. Ex-Senator Cornelius Cole, celebrating his hundredth birthday at his home in California, repeats the ancient platitude. He is never worried about himself or his country or the rest of the world. As for himself, perhaps he never has had anything in particular to fret him, perhaps he was by temperament endowed with a belief or hope that all will well soon would be, and let it go at that. Others are not so fortunate as they have a better appreciation of perils present and in prospect.

HOW LONG AGO?

(Woodstock Sentinel.) Agnes MacPhail, M. P., is reported to have said in a recent address that when she was going to the high school in Owen Sound she was slighted by her fellow pupils who lived in town, and that every boy and girl who came from the farm was similarly slighted. Would it be fair to ask Miss Agnes how long ago that was? It must have been a long time. Is there any complaint now that pupils from the country are slighted by fellow students? It may be that at times there is evidence of friendly rivalry or even jealousy, when, as not infrequently happens, the country pupil makes a better showing in his work than his fellow pupil from the town; but that is a very different thing from being slighted. Perhaps Miss MacPhail, even as a young girl, had in her make-up a liberal measure of that class-consciousness which has become such an important factor in the political life of the country of late.

TO UPBUILD DAIRY TRADE.

Poland No Longer Has Any Cattle to Export.

At the expense of beef production, Poland will develop an extensive dairy export trade, according to reports received by the Polish Bureau of Information in the United States. The present indications are that Poland will have no cattle to export, but the production of milk and butter, as well as other dairy products, will establish a large export trade in dairy products. Before the war, Poland exported annually approximately 300,000 head of cattle for slaughter, and imported some cattle from Russia, also for slaughter.

An important factor in this new development will be the condition of Poland's pasture and hay lands. While the pastures are at present in a relatively poor condition, the production of hay promises to be fairly good. According to estimates, nearly 100,000 carloads of hay were produced this year. In addition, there are available as substitute foods, large quantities of wheat straw, sugar beets, etc.

The number of cattle, according to the census of last year, was approximately 7,000,000, compared with 100,000 before the war. The difference in number, however, does not give a complete picture of the true condition, says the bureau, for the quality has not remained up to standard, because breeding stock has not been imported to the same extent as formerly.

The live stock census taken in Poland last year also revealed the fact that the number of horses, sheep and swine is now somewhat under the 1919 total. The number of horses in October of last year was approximately 3,200,000, or about 250,000 under the 1919 figure. The number of sheep at that time was 5,170,000, or about 500,000 less than in 1919. The number of sheep, according to the census, was 2,850,000, as compared with 3,850,000 before the war.

Formerly Poland exported approximately 80,000 horses yearly to Western Europe and it is hoped that within a relatively short period this important trade may be resumed. Swine also were exported, Germany and Bohemia taking the bulk of Poland's surplus swine, which in some years reached a total of nearly 2,000,000. An important trade in bacon, ham, pork and sausages was also being developed between Poland and England, Germany and Russia. It is believed that the number of swine will soon equal the pre-war total, if not exceed it.

"COMEDY COP" UNDER BAN.

Kansas Censors Also Bar Jokes on Dry Law.

The comedy policeman has been barred in Kansas and no longer will audiences in that state be entertained with travesties on solemn and earnest officers of the law. Even to throw a mild and mellow custard pie at one of the dramatic personae who happens to wear a big tin star will be a misdemeanor. Kicking cops around the stage will no longer relieve the anxieties of the villan. All will be decorous and calm. In time the law may be amplified so that in the plays the whole cast must fall down when the censor of the State Board of Motion Picture Review, which does not go quite so far as...

(New York Times.) It is among the penalties of great age that those who attain it fall into delusions, sometimes amusing and sometimes merely pathetic, in their efforts to account for their not very important success in adding years to their lives. The reasons they give are never the right ones. The biographies of centenarians prove that there is no regimen of life by which length of days can be attained. Most of them have done about what other people do in the way of eating and sleeping, nothing particularly unusual, and many of them have been poor as rich. About the most irritating thing the centenarians say is to vaunt their abstention from worrying and to advise the rest of us to imitate them in this respect. Ex-Senator Cornelius Cole, celebrating his hundredth birthday at his home in California, repeats the ancient platitude. He is never worried about himself or his country or the rest of the world. As for himself, perhaps he never has had anything in particular to fret him, perhaps he was by temperament endowed with a belief or hope that all will well soon would be, and let it go at that. Others are not so fortunate as they have a better appreciation of perils present and in prospect.

HOW LONG AGO?

(Woodstock Sentinel.) Agnes MacPhail, M. P., is reported to have said in a recent address that when she was going to the high school in Owen Sound she was slighted by her fellow pupils who lived in town, and that every boy and girl who came from the farm was similarly slighted. Would it be fair to ask Miss Agnes how long ago that was? It must have been a long time. Is there any complaint now that pupils from the country are slighted by fellow students? It may be that at times there is evidence of friendly rivalry or even jealousy, when, as not infrequently happens, the country pupil makes a better showing in his work than his fellow pupil from the town; but that is a very different thing from being slighted. Perhaps Miss MacPhail, even as a young girl, had in her make-up a liberal measure of that class-consciousness which has become such an important factor in the political life of the country of late.

RECENT DEATHS

Samuel Creighton.
The death of Samuel Creighton occurred yesterday at his home, Silver Falls. Mr. Creighton, who was in his eighty-fifth year, was born in Sussex (N. B.), coming to Silver Falls in 1873, where he since resided. He took a keen interest in anything that stood for the betterment of the community. He took an active part in school affairs and temperance work. He was active in the work connected with the erection of the Methodist church and parsonage. His wife, who was Miss Mary A. Parlee, died twelve years ago. Mr. Creighton is survived by three sons: Frederick, of Woodstock (N. B.); Howard and Clifford, of St. John; and one daughter, Mrs. Samuel Armstrong, of Silver Falls. There are twelve grandchildren and one great-grandchild.
The funeral is to be held on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Winston G. Smith.
The death occurred yesterday at the General Public Hospital of Winston G. Smith, eldest son of Edgar and Jessie G. Smith, in the twenty-third year of his age. He is survived by his father, mother and two brothers, Carleton F. and Harold L. Smith, both at home. The funeral will take place at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from his parents' residence, Black River, St. John county.

Mrs. Charles Flemington.
The many friends of Mrs. Charles Flemington, wife of the Rev. Charles Flemington, of Andover (N. B.), will regret to learn of her death, which occurred at her home last night. Although she had been sick for three years and her death was not unexpected, she will be greatly missed by a large number of friends to whom she had endeared herself by her kind and loving nature.
She leaves to mourn, besides her husband, five sons—Ross, of the teaching staff of Mount Allison Academy; Carl, of the Bank of Montreal, Sault Ste. Marie; Humphrey, of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Perth; Allen and Frank,

REV. HUGH MILLER
INDUCTED INTO HIS NEW POSITION

At once an occasion of solemnity and of rejoicing, the service in St. David's Presbyterian church last night, when Rev. Hugh Miller was inducted into his new charge, was attended by a large congregation. The members of the church were eager to welcome the new minister, and at the close of the service, when a reception was held in order that Mr. Miller might become better acquainted with his parishioners, felicitous addresses were given and Mrs. P. W. M. S., on behalf of the ladies, presented Mr. Miller a handsome Geneva gown, in which he promptly arrayed himself.

The moderator of the St. John Presbyterian, Rev. J. V. Morash, conducted the service, which was deeply impressive. Rev. W. Townsend, interim-moderator of St. David's, rehearsed the steps taken to fill the vacancy when Rev. J. A. MacKeigan was called from his labors as minister of that church to enter another field. The decision to call Mr. Miller, Mr. Townsend said, had been practically unanimous, and the call was heartily extended.

Rev. R. Moorhead Legate gave the charge to the congregation, emphasizing the fact that obligations in the tie just formed were mutual. During the service the full choir of St. David's church led in the singing and rendered the anthem, "Send out thy light" with fine effect.

The reception was held in the school room following the induction service. Speeches were made by S. R. Jack, representing the session of the church; Atkinson Morrison, of the trustee board; Rev. W. W. Malcolm, of St. Stephen, a former member of St. David's congregation; Rev. F. S. Dowling, and Rev. W. Townsend who, as interim-moderator of the church, was the chairman for the reception. The women of the congregation served refreshments. The presentation of the Geneva gown was a happy incident.

Detroit, Sept. 26—No longer do Detroit mothers rock their babies to sleep. "They just tuck them in bed, alone, open a window, and leave them. The babies fall asleep because there's nothing else to do. "Rock-a-bye, Baby" is not for them. These conclusions result from observations of about 800 babies entered in recent baby contests here. Dr. George T. Palmer of the Department of Health is encouraged not only by the absence of rocking and singing, which, he says, makes it easier for both mother and baby, but also by a tendency toward open windows and isolation.

MICHAEL COLLINS ALWAYS FOUND TIME FOR HIS DOGS

Belfast, Sept. 7—(Associated Press by Mail)—It is recorded that in the midst of all his pre-occupations and activities of the last six years, the late Michael Collins found time to keep up his one great interest outside the establishment of the Irish nation. This was the breeding of his beloved "Kerry Blues," a type of dog that has become very popular in the last year or two. Even when on the run and later during his bitter fight with De Valera, Collins is said to have found time occasionally to attend to his hobby.

FEED 10,000 SHEEP THERE THIS YEAR

Winnipeg, Sept. 27—Ten thousand sheep will be fed on screenings this year at Fort Williams and Westport by R. C. Harvey of Lethbridge, a sheep rancher, who was in Winnipeg yesterday after completing arrangements for the care of his large flock. He fed 7,000 at this point last year and found what had been regarded as a drug in the market could be profitably turned into prime mutton. Of this lot, 4,000 were sold for shipment to New York and the remainder found a ready sale on the Toronto market.

A VERY OLD WHEP'LE
(The Outlook)
"A man went into a store and bought a pair of shoes for $10, and gave the storekeeper a $50 bill in payment. The shoe man went to the butcher to change the bill, returned and gave his customer $40 in change. Later the butcher found that the $50 bill was a counterfeit and the shoe dealer refunded him $50 in good money. What was the shoe man's loss?"

So writes a subscriber, little knowing, apparently, that he has stated a problem that has taxed the powers of the best minds for generations. From a chapbook of the Middle Ages we extract this answer:

"Thys wretched awideler made his escape with the shoes and £8 (40) in goods manna. The merchant kepte £2 by, a well known since man, counte Terrace Hotel here ... shooting himself.

There IS a Difference in Gasoline
Are you using gasoline containing coal oil? Are you constantly having carbon taken out of your motor? Are your spark plugs coated with carbon? Do you have carbon knocks in your motor?
If your motor has any of these symptoms then you will be interested in overcoming them by using the best gasoline—

White Rose Gasoline
Refining gasoline from crude oil is a separation process and can be likened to that of skimming cream from milk. Skim the top layer from milk and you have pure cream. Dip a little farther and you get cream and milk. Below this, milk only. If the bottle of milk stands long enough you will have some water in the bottom of the bottle.
If in our process of separation, we dipped a little farther, as one would dip farther into a milk bottle for cream, getting both cream and milk, in gasoline refining we would get coal oil and gasoline.
"White Rose" can be likened to the "cream" of crude oil. It starts easily at all times.

It is high-grade "Scientifically Refined" gasoline that contains no impurities to retard the action of the carburetor in vaporizing—that responds immediately to the spark. The fire is instantaneous; the discharge is elastic; the force is compelling—and this means a smooth-running motor; it means full, even power and economy.
White Rose Gasoline insures a smoother running motor. You will have no unnecessary motor repair bills. You will operate your car more economically.
White Rose Gasoline is always of uniform, high quality, quick starting, smooth acceleration, full power and long mileage.

IRELAND PLANS TRADE REVIVAL

Trade Commissioner Says Conditions Improve Overseas—Scotland is Active.

Toronto, Sept. 27.—The message that the tide of trade has definitely turned in Scotland and Ireland, as well as in the rest of Great Britain, is brought by Major G. B. Johnson, Canadian government trade commissioner at Glasgow, who is now in the city, and who points out that there are opportunities in Ireland for Canadian exports.

His message to Canadians planning business with Great Britain is that they should realize that in the case of Ireland it is a matter of getting machinery set up and ready for importation, and he declares that the moment fighting ceases there will be large orders to be placed in Canada.

As to Scotland, there are also many signs of improvement. Although progress is slower, the revival has, beyond doubt, started, as most of the engineering and other work orders and inquiries are increasing.

POLICE COURT;
A BUSY MORN

The police court was a busy place today, with a variety of more or less serious cases. During the progress of this morning's business, Magistrate Ritchie referred to the somewhat youthful ages of several of those to occupy seats in the dock and who faced indictable offences.

Henry Dougherty and Guy Melville were charged with wilfully breaking furniture in a boarding house at 25 Coburg street. The magistrate commented on the seriousness of the charge and remanded the defendants until the police are ready to go ahead with the case.

William Simon answered a charge of theft of $17.85 from John T. Durbin, proprietor of a lunch cart in North Market street.

Mr. Durbin said that he had hired the accused on July 20. He was to work the following day and was hired to run errands. One Saturday night, he said, he gave Simon $17.85 to pay Mrs. Coyle, Paradise Row, for pies she had cooked. He had not seen Simon since until today. Accused was remanded for three days.

One man, for drunkenness, was handed over to the liquor inspectors to find out where he secured the spirits. As a result of information obtained Patrick Keefe was held before the court in answer to a charge of supplying liquor. He pleaded not guilty. The case will come up this afternoon.

John A. Barry, who appeared for Keefe, asked that a deposit be accepted for his appearance. This the magistrate refused to do.

—Prosecution Case Not Yet Closed.

The trial of John Paris, charged with the murder of Sadie McAuley on August 4, 1921, was resumed this morning, and evidence for the prosecution was still being taken when the court adjourned at 12 o'clock. The evidence given did not differ materially from that given at the previous four trials. The crown was represented by Hon. J. P. Byrne, attorney-general, and G. H. Vernon, K. C., of Truro, conducted the defence.

The cross-examination of Mrs. Ella Calvin, of Millidge avenue, was called for a new witness. She gave evidence similar to that of former trials, telling of seeing a man who resembled the defendant in the park on August 1 and August 6. The court adjourned at 6 o'clock after the attorney-general had finished his direct examination of this witness. All the crown witnesses except Sergeant-Detective Power were excluded from the court room during the course of her evidence.

The jury, which is mainly composed of business men, is as follows: H. Walter Emerson, J. Gordon Likely, L. T. Gard, A. L. Crosby, William H. Winchester, Charles S. Holder, M. F. Leighton, Fred A. Watson, John D. Coles, Thomas H. Danaher, William D. Earle, G. B. Pardy.
