WILSON SILENT ON NOTE AT LEAST UNTIL TOMORROW

Washington, However, Feels That Berlin Reply Brings Peace No Nearer—It Must Be Evacuation, Cessation of Outrages and Unconditional Surrender

Washington, Oct. 22.—The official text of Germany's latest note to President Wilson was received by cable today at the Swiss legation. Frederick Oederling, the Swiss charge, arranged to deliver it to Secretary of State Lansing as soon as it could be decoded.

Indications were that no announcement of a decision by the president could be expected before tomorrow. Secretary Lansing was with him until noon and night last night discussing the wireless version, but there now must be further conferences and it is assumed there will be exchanges with the Allied capital.

A despatch to J. M. Robinson & Sons, St. John, today from New York says that Washington feels that Germany's note brings peace no nearer. No unconditional surrender, no armistice, until Germans are out of invaded territory and cease inhuman acts is feeling which prevails in the capital. Congressional leaders say reply should be made very quickly, whether the note, with its promises in support of the plea for an armistice and its suggestion that the government at Berlin no longer is responsible to an arbitrary power, creates a new situation requiring action.

Informal opinion as to the probable attitude of the president covered a wide range, though it did not differ on the point that immediate peace is not at hand and that however sincere the German overtures may be, they will be agreed to except on conditions of surrender that will destroy forever the power of the Kaiser's war machine for ever.

Those who are convinced that the enemy is better in substance and more ready at bargaining now are merely a prelude to complete surrender in the near future. If the Allies hold firm to the determination to accept nothing less, are guided by confidential diplomatic advice, purporting to be from the German side, a real political revolution in Germany and that the people in power are ready to throw out the Kaiser and all his law lords to get peace.

It was learned today that a private despatch from Germany has been published in a Copenhagen newspaper, stating that the troops on leave are receiving secret orders not to return to the front and that to this extent demoralization has been begun. Military men, here, however, regard it as inconceivable that such orders would be given while desperate efforts are being made to hold the Americans and Allied troops at bay on certain points on the western front.

MUCH TO BE MADE CLEAR. London, Oct. 21.—It has been learned by authoritative quarters regarding the situation arising out of the German reply to President Wilson's note is as follows: The German note assumes that the president still denies the occupation of occupied territory, and the Germans are still proceeding on that assumption. But that is not so, and this point should be made quite clear.

Freedom of the seas, as understood by the Germans, cannot be accepted by Great Britain at all. There are various other naval questions requiring elucidation. Other points which have not yet been touched upon include questions of indemnities and reparations.

In a Nutshell. London, Oct. 22.—A monument of insincerity is the way the Times characterizes the German reply. It brusquely waives a detailed examination of the note, saying that the only important consideration is whether Germany intends to accept an armistice in accordance with the method dictated by President Wilson.

In the Reichstag. Bern, Oct. 21.—(Havas Agency)—Prince Maximilian, German chancellor, will speak at a plenary meeting of the Reichstag on Tuesday, according to Berlin advices. Debate on general policies will follow. It is expected that it will last for two or three days.

Camouflage. London, Oct. 22.—The German reply to President Wilson is regarded here as "not business, but mere argument and procrastination." In government, diplomatic and political circles, the view is that it is not a reply. One highly confidential source here says: "The government has not considered the reply in detail, although Premier Lloyd George and his colleagues held protracted deliberations today."

THE LANDOVERY CASTLE CASE IS ONE REPLY TO HUN

Also the Sinking of the Steamer Lydianna

Denial by Germans Will Not Stand Investigation—Marin Insurance Circles Evidently Not Impressed By Berlin Promise

London, Oct. 22.—With reference to the paragraph in the German note denying that the German navy in sinking ships ever purposely destroyed lifeboats with their passengers, it is pointed out in government circles that many cases could be quoted in reply to this denial. Two recent cases are the Landoverly Castle, a Canadian hospital ship sunk in the Atlantic, and the French steamer Lydianna, sunk off the north coast of Spain on July 16.

The Landoverly Castle was torpedoed and sank off the Irish coast on the night of June 27 while returning from Halifax with no wounded aboard. The vessel carried 288 persons, including fourteen nurses, and only twenty-four were saved. The German submarine made no effort to aid the survivors and even tried to sink at least one of the lifeboats.

After the Lydianna had been torpedoed, the whole boat and a raft were lowered. The German submarine rammed both boats, cutting them in two. After several fruitless attempts, the submarine succeeded in sinking the raft and then disappeared without helping the survivors. Nine men of the crew of forty-two were picked up after having clung to wreckage for more than a day. The second engineer of the Lydianna, who was the only survivor, had been laughing at him when he accused them of deliberately trying to kill all on board.

NO CHANGE IN MARINE RATES. New York, Oct. 22.—The assertion in the German note that Germany has despatched orders to submarine commanders "preventing the torpedoing of passenger ships," will have no substantial effect on marine war risk rates so insurance authorities declared here this morning.

SAYS DEPORTED BELGIANS WILL BE GIVEN LIBERTY. Alleged Promise to Cardinal Mercier by German Political Chief at Brussels

Rome, Oct. 21.—Baron Von Der Lancken, chief of the German legation at Brussels, has informed Cardinal Mercier, Primate of Belgium, that when the Germans evacuated that country they would be spontaneously released, according to the Osservatore Romano, the semi-official Vatican organ. He told Cardinal Mercier, it is said, that some of the Belgians who were deported would be free to return to their country on Monday.

HUNDRED GERMAN SOLDIERS DROWNED WHEN HABSBOURG IS WRECKED BY MINE. Stockholm, Oct. 21.—The Hamburg American steamer Habsburg struck a mine on last Wednesday, while on a voyage from Riga to Danzig, according to advices from Helmsing. One hundred German soldiers and four officers were drowned, owing to panic-stricken passengers making for the lifeboats, which were capsized.

BRITISH CASUALTIES FOR WEEK 37,150. London, Oct. 22.—British casualties reported for the week ended yesterday numbered 37,150 compared with 26,710 for the previous week. They are divided as follows: Killed or died of wounds—Officers, 517; men, 4,971. Wounded or missing—Officers, 1,464; men, 9,119.

Situation Today in the Influenza Epidemic

STATEMENT BY DR. ABRAMSON

Provincial Bacteriologist Says Vaccine of Value Only in Prevention—Getting Parks Building Ready—Appeals For Doctors and Nurses

With possibly fifty names ready to be enrolled in the influenza epidemic today, according to the Board of Health figures, numbers 638 cases. Inspector McConnell at the hour of writing (2.30), was still gathering in reports.

Dr. Eickson, of the General Public Hospital, is down with influenza. Mrs. G. A. Kurling, of the York county health board today asking for their women helpers. Volunteers now on duty with Mrs. Kurling at 88 Sewell street, or phone 1088.

VACCINE IS ONLY OF VALUE AS PREVENTIVE, SAYS DR. ABRAMSON. Dr. Abraham, bacteriologist of New Brunswick, spoke today about the vaccine in use in the epidemic. "This material," he said, "is not a serum but a vaccine analogous to the typhoid vaccine used by the army."

Richard Walsh, of the General Public Hospital, said, "A quantity of the vaccine from Boston and New York is being supplied to the city. It cannot afford a physician's attendance, each day from three to five o'clock in the afternoon at the hospital out-door department. But these must not be people who already have influenza, only those who are not touched by the disease. Some changes are being introduced as a preventive. All it should be said that this is all experimental, and there is no guarantee, but at least the inoculation will do no harm."

Getting Emergency Hospital Ready. A result of yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Board of Health and the Minister of Health in the local government work has already been started in the Parks' Convalescent Home ready for emergency purposes in the present influenza epidemic.

Colony DeThomson, in the Post-Journal, says: "The note is proof that the German high command considers the situation of its armies most grave, but not yet desperate." "The German government is again trying to quibble," says L'Honore Libre, still, while humiliating itself, it does not admit its defeat, but one feels it is at the end of its resistance."

ROME JUBILANT OVER THE WILSON REPLY TO AUSTRIA. Rome, Oct. 21.—President Wilson's reply to Austria was received with jubilation here. The Messaggero says that it is Austria's death sentence, which surprised nobody except Austria and Germany.

They were fined $5 or two months in jail.

He calls upon his people to offer public prayers.

HALIFAX MAYOR WANTS SCHOONERS-COMMANDEERED

Halifax, Oct. 22.—Yesterday Mayor Hawkins wired Controller Murphy, now in Ottawa in connection with this city's bid for the winter, asking him to suggest to the government the commandeering of schooners lying idle in Lunenburg and other western ports and conversion of crews to carry coal from Sydney and produce from Prince Edward Island to Halifax and other Nova Scotia ports. The mayor's message said the capacity of the schooners would be 200 tons each, ten or twelve would be sufficient and there was no fear of submarines.

London, Oct. 22.—Further progress was made last night by the French on the Sers front. They reached the railway northeast of Asail-Sur-Sere and also the St. Jacques Farm, northwest of Claulandry. "None of the Oss the night was characterized by great activity on the part of the German artillery."

A MILE FROM TOURNAI. London, Oct. 22.—The British have advanced their line to the left bank of the Beaulon river, and have captured the western part of the village of Thilant, five miles southwest of Valenciennes. This is announced officially.

He says that many regiments of German troops are leaving the city and that there is much excitement among the people there.

BEIGIAN TOWN COMPLETELY WRECKED AND OTHERS ALMOST AS BAD. Dover, Oct. 21.—British officers returning from Belgium say that while Ostend has not been badly damaged other towns have been completely wrecked. Middelkerke is likened to Pompeii. "It has been deliberately smashed to pieces," said one of the officers. "The place has by reason of its military importance suffered more than any other town outside the firing zone. It was hit by an earthquake struck it. Just as Dunkirk and Nieuport are almost as bad. Dunkirk has suffered from more than 400 air raids and has been terribly smashed."

EFFECT OF RETREAT ON GERMAN ARMY. With the French Army in France and Belgium, Oct. 21.—(By the Associated Press)—The retreat of the Germans to the line of the Meuse, if such a retreat can be accomplished successfully, will, without taking account of prisoners they may still lose in the operation, enable them to economize about one-third of their total force in line, according to the best information obtainable. The retreat will shorten the line about twenty miles, whether it be prolonged from the frontier of France to Antwerp by way of Brussels, or to the Holland frontier along the line of the Meuse in Belgium.

Washington, Oct. 22.—In storming the Bois de Rappes and Hill 297 yesterday American troops, according to a communication received by the war department from General Pershing, captured 250 prisoners, 225 men and some machine guns.

A Broken Promise. their ground, but in both sections the Allied troops have smashed into the enemy and made appreciable gains. Scores of additional villages have been reclaimed, and numerous prisoners and large quantities of supplies have been captured.

In the centre of the battle area the British kept thrusting out everywhere, and gradually during the day moved forward toward the west bank of the Scheldt with increasing celerity. The Germans have taken advantage of the natural protection offered by the width of this stream and its canal and marshy borders. They are hiding behind it in shallow trenches and are showing nervousness as the Allies approach nearer. Back of them their artillery, the strength of which has been greatly depleted, is giving some support.

The Germans have their cannon close to the roads and on them, so that when it becomes necessary to withdraw the guns, they can get them away in a hurry. In their retreat, the Germans have resorted to every known means to delay the bringing up of the Allied artillery, but without effect. At the present time, however, the Allies are not hampered in the east, for the Germans were put to such hurried flight that they

Died of Starvation

Many a Belgian mother could have these words engraved on her child's gravestone—"Died of Starvation".

Perhaps the child has wasted away with Consumption, or has been twisted into a mockery of happy childhood by Rickets, but starvation is at the root of the tragedy.

What else can be expected for a growing child whose daily ration is the bowl of soup and two pieces of bread provided by the United States loans to the Belgian Government?

The only hope for the destitute children of Belgium is that we who can afford three meals a day will make a small contribution will help to take some child, sinking under its load of trouble, over to Holland, where with good milk, nutritious food, medical care and loving treatment, he or she may regain health, strength and the wish to live.

had little time to take their artillery and vast quantities of stores of ammunition with them. These fell into the hands of the Allied troops. The guns were promptly turned around, and shells made in Germany were sent eastward as fast as they could be fired against their original owners. Infantrymen thus had a novel experience in serving artillery.

In the northern part of the battle area Allied cavalry is moving ahead of the infantry, clearing out the Germans, and all the time the Allies are getting nearer and nearer to Germany.

Belgian artillery has been moved up rapidly behind the infantry and is pounding the enemy constantly. Shrapnel is breaking continuously on the German rear, and high explosives are reaching out for transport and men on the roads.

The fighting is going on in rain and mud. To some extent the Allied troops have left behind the ground which turns into marsh, and have not been hampered greatly.

A WASTE OF WORDS
The British and American press comment on the German note makes it clear there is to be no compromise. Nothing could be more satisfying than the unambiguous rejection by American newspapers and any proposition that is not equivalent to unconditional surrender by Germany.

In an appeal to the merchants of the maritime provinces in behalf of the Victory Loan, G. S. Campbell, chairman for Nova Scotia, T. H. Estabrook, chairman for New Brunswick, and C. H. B. Longworth, chairman for Prince Edward Island, present these considerations:

Referring to recent political investigations in New Brunswick the New Freeman asks: "How many of these gentlemen, whose names have been connected with recent public hearings would, for a minute, keep in their employ a man who did even less than what the evidence shows has been done in the business affairs of the province? Would it be considered merely an error in judgment for a manager of a business to stand aside, knowing that his firm was being systematically robbed? Would the making of misleading entries and the juggling of figures keep out of the penitentiary a bookkeeper who sought to cover up a loss of thousands of dollars? Then why should such things be even possible in the carrying on of that great business enterprise, the business of this province of ours?"

GERMAN HONOR.
The war must go on. The impostors and dissemblers are still at the helm in Germany. They have the hardihood to talk to President Wilson about "the honor of the German people."

Belgium knows the honor of the German people. It is the honor of the pledge-breaker, the bandit, the murderer. All the world knows that Germany is a nation dishonored beyond present hope of redemption. We are told also that the German hypocrites disclaim any responsibility for killing the occupants of boats from torpedoed steamers. Perhaps they will presently deny the murder of Edith Cavell, the outrage and murder of Belgian women and the mutilation of Belgian children.

The Maritime Merchant says: "How promptly and effectively the French authorities deal with 'profiteering' storekeepers is suggested in a little incident in which a group of four American soldiers figured. They went into a grocery store and bought a tin of lobsters, a tin of sardines and a dozen eggs, for which the grocer charged thirty francs, or about 86. The Americans asked the grocer for a receipted bill, which was given. They took the bill to the mayor, who promptly closed the store for a month and fined the proprietor 800 francs or about $100."

Of American crops Bradstreet's says: "Late crop advices tend to enlarge estimates of all crops, and the only crops showing heavy losses from a year ago are animal feeds. Frost damage to corn has been negligible, and there is more good corn in the crop than there was in the larger crop of a year ago. Other late crops, and particularly tobacco and potatoes, have been fairly free of frost damage."

"Middelkerke is likened to Pompeii," says one of today's cables. Middelkerke is a Belgian coast town. The Hun left it "as if an earthquake struck it." The German note tries to justify this sort of thing, but the Belgian Pompeii will be restored at Germany's expense.

Belgium is said to be urging up her claims against Germany. She cannot, however, include in any monetary claim the mutilated children, the outraged women, the murdered guns and priests and old men and women, whose very blood cries out for vengeance on the Hun.

Do the German war-lords still think they can fool President Wilson? Will they never learn that they have been found out?

Turkey and Bulgaria have new ministries. These will not play the game of Germany.

From the squalling that comes from Germany it may be inferred that the real swine are not English, but German.

Turkey is now reported to be willing to make sweeping reforms, and the Turkish press is urging a separate peace.

The Kaiser prays many hours daily. What is wrong with "the good German sword?"

The legislature at its next session should restrict the sale of lemon extract. Wholesale grocers report an enormous increase in the demand for this substitute for liquor.

The problem of getting relief to the Belgians is simplified by the release of the Belgian coast, and the coming release of all the territory from which the Hun is now hastening away.

HALIFAX WAS IN GLOOM UNDER BOARD OF HEALTH ORDER

(Halifax Chronicle.)
The promised modifications of the health board in the order closing all shops and restaurants did not materialize last night, with the result that Halifax as a city to live in, resembled a village in the Sahara, with the odds in favor of the latter. For once Barrington street was completely lightless, a valley of utter shadow, peopled by cursing pedestrians who had no where to go and could not even see their way to get there. Here and there a drug store doorway cast a pallid ray through the gloom. These drug stores alone were open, and the mobs which struggled to get into them must have brought joy to the heart of any homeless influenza germ that was wandering around. All the shops with the exception of a few corner groceries in the outlying districts closed promptly and completely at six o'clock. The inconvenience which the public suffered thereby could not easily be measured. Soldiers and sailors on leave were unable to obtain magazines, candy or tobacco, and householders with week-end shopping to do, were obliged to leave their larders empty. Judging from street corner conversation the health board was not popular, one gentleman remarking that he would rather die from influenza than suffer a lingering death from boredom.

HON. B. F. SMITH ON POTATOES

Hon. B. Frank Smith, who is an authority on potatoes, has given an interview to the Fredericton Gleaser, which says:—"Canada's potato yield is most satisfactory, considered from all viewpoints. The average yield per acre was better than eighty barrels. This is considered most encouraging, when it is recalled that inferior fertilizers had to be used on the land."

NOVA SCOTIA IS CALLED TO AN IMPORTANT POST

The National War Council of the Y. M. C. A. at New York has called into its transport service, J. Smith Carter, a prominent man of Boston, and a native of Queens county, Nova Scotia. His father is H. A. Carter, of Medford, Mass., who for a quarter of a century was engaged in steamboating in Nova Scotia. J. S. Carter began his steamship career at Annapolis, where he was the representative of the Bay of Fundy Steamship Company, operating the ill-fated steamship "City of Monticello" between that port and St. John. He has been representing the Eastern Steamship Lines at Boston for many years.

INDIGESTION AND CONSTIPATION

Quickly Relieved by "Fruit-a-lives"
Rochoy, P. Q.
"I suffered for many years with terrible indigestion and constipation. A neighbor advised me to try 'Fruit-a-lives.' I did so and to the surprise of my doctor, I began to improve and he advised me to go on with 'Fruit-a-lives.' 'Fruit-a-lives' and I want to say to those who suffer from indigestion, Constipation or Headaches—try 'Fruit-a-lives' and you will get well."

FORD WANTS TO AID PRESIDENT'S POLICIES

Tells in Letter of His Desire to Help in Solving Questions Resulting From the War.
Detroit, Mich., Oct. 21—Henry Ford has taken a more definite position with regard to his willingness to serve as United States senator, if elected, than he has previously given, the medium of his announcement being a letter to George M. Holley of this city. Mr. Holley in a letter to Mr. Ford said that he found a public impression that Mr. Ford was being forced to run and is not really anxious to be elected. Mr. Ford replied: "You are certainly at liberty to say to your friends and others that I will be very glad to serve as senator of Michigan, if elected, and I will make a real job of it. Furthermore, there are a number of great problems which will arise at the close of the war in which the world is deeply interested, and which I would much like to help the president and congress solve."

How Is Your "Culebra Cut"?

The Panama Canal is a clear passageway as far as the Culebra Cut. But Gold Hill has a way of slipping into the cut. And until dredges can clear the channel, the industrial schedule of the world is out of gear.

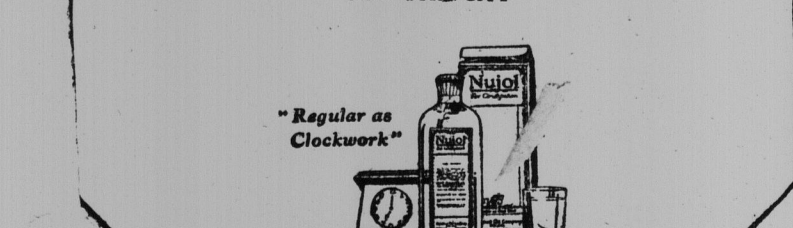

How about your own canal? The intestinal canal is a clear passageway as far as the large intestine. There, if you become constipated, waste matter is allowed to stagnate. It becomes unhealthily dry and undergoes abnormal fermentation and putrefaction. Germ activity is increased. Your whole system is out of gear. Result, the production of irritating and poisonous substances, which are absorbed into your blood and carried all over your body, liable to produce disease anywhere. The longer such stagnation is allowed to exist, the harder it is to clean out the canal. 90% of human disease originates in the "Culebra Cut."

If engineers tried to blast out the slide from Culebra Cut they would have more allies to cope with. If you try to blast out accumulated waste from your Culebra Cut with pills, salts or purges, you will increase your constipation—and next time you will have to take stronger medicine in a larger dose.

You can't dredge your canal. You can clean it out with Nujol. Nujol softens the mass, and supplies the intestinal canal with sufficient moisture to replace deficient mucus. It causes the obstructive waste matter to pass gently out of your system at a regular hour, absorbing and removing the poisons as it goes. Nujol regularly keeps the traffic of your mind and body operating on schedule.

You admire the Panama Canal system. Why not safeguard your own? Your druggist has Nujol.

Warning: Nujol is sold only in sealed bottles bearing the Nujol Trade Mark. Imitations Nujol. You may suffer from substitutes. Send for Samples of Literature CHARLES GYDE & SON P.O. Box 875, Montreal CANADIAN SELLING AGENTS FOR Nujol Laboratories STANDARD OIL CO. (NEW JERSEY) NEW YORK CITY

LOCAL NEWS

Freight Handlers Want More Money. A meeting of the Railway Freight Handlers' Union was held in Temperance Hall, in West St. John, yesterday and a discussion was held regarding the wage schedule set by the C. P. R., which offers the men forty-three cents an hour for an eight hour day. The men contended that this was not enough to meet present day expenses and a committee was appointed to await on the officials of the company and endeavor to reach a schedule of fifty-five cents an hour or a compromise whereby the men would be granted more than forty-three cents an hour. The same committee was empowered to meet officials of the Workmen's Compensation Board and discuss a rate which might govern the members of the union.

SOME SURPRISES COMING. (New York Tribune) If there is a league of nations after the war Germany will not sit at the head of the council board or figure arrogantly as of yore in its proceedings. She will enter it abased and chastened, if she enters it at all. Germany's sins are as scarlet. The leper she has become must be quarantined until both soul and body are cleansed. There are, therefore, some marvelous surprises in store for German leaders who think that after the war all that Germany has to do is to appear again in the company of other nations, crying light-heartedly: "I have forgiven myself. Look to it, therefore, that all the rest of you grant me forgiveness."

EXPENSIVE, BUT IMPROVING. (Cleveland Plain Dealer) The war is costing Great Britain $25,000 a minute, and is beginning to be worth the money.

Two children of Mrs. Louis McDonald of 60 Erin street were taken to the Children's Aid Society home last evening to be cared for until their mother, who is suffering from influenza and who was removed to the epidemic hospital, has recovered.

Major-General Willoughby Gwatkin, formerly chief of staff at Ottawa, and Major-General James Lyons Biggar, lately O. C. Canadian Army Service Corps, have been awarded the Order of St. Sava, third class.

OUTBREAK IN ROUMANIA.

Paris, Oct. 22.—(Havas Agency)—Viol- ent demonstrations have occurred in Jassy, the temporary capital of Rouma- nia, according to advices received here. A mob broke into the offices of the Iasler Gazette, the government or- gan, and the printing plant was demol- ished.

INDUSTRIAL COUNCIL IN CANADA

Industrial council in Canada report- ed the same condition of affairs. There has been considerable activity in the buying of machinery last week. In the east some large orders were placed in the Philadelphia market, but New York and New England trade was relatively quiet. The United States govern- ment dominated the trade in all sec- tions, the ordinance bureau of war de- partment placing orders for tools for arsenals and also buying for manufac- ture, with whom it has placed contracts for guns, shells, and aircraft. Large contracts are still pending for equip- ment for gun shops at home and abroad. Recent activity through the industry is reflected in an advance of prices for some lines of tools. The war department approved ap- propriations calling for the expenditure of several million dollars for additions to arsenals and for several other plants that are executing gun and ammunition contracts.

The energy market during the last week has been devoid of any changes of in- terest. Only a fair amount of business is coming in. The orders are smaller than usual and apparently users in many cases are not inclined to stock up. Amer- ican points have been reporting a very serious shortage in all grades of scrap, but within the last few days it has come to notice that some of the dealers there are actually in the market with very at- tractive tonnages of sorted material for sale. Canadian dealers have been con- tending all along that access to the U. S. market would be a good thing for them, but the embargo has prevented this. It would seem now that selling in the home market, although more limited, is about their only chance.

CASUALTY LIST

Lieutenant J. B. Wilkinson, son of Rev. W. J. Wilkinson, Fredericton, has been wounded according to recent advices from Ottawa. Lieutenant Wilkinson went overseas in charge of an artillery battery from Kingston (Ont.), and later transferred to the Royal Canadian Engineers. Previously to enlisting he was a civil engineer and had been in the dominion government geological survey in British Columbia. Before joining up he took a qualifying course for his commission at Kingston and afterwards received his appointment. His brother, Signaller Lawrence Wilkinson, was reported as having died of wounds a year ago.

Wounded Again.

Wounded a second time, Private Edwin Howard, formerly of the police force, was admitted to hospital in France, on October 10, according to official advices received by his wife, Mrs. Mary Howard, 126 Watson street, yesterday. Ottawa advised that Private Howard was suffering from gunshot wounds in the right thigh and in the forehead. He went overseas with the A. S. C. in the spring of 1918, enlisting while a member of the police force, and after having won his sergeant's stripes, and having been wounded in action, was reported as having died in September, 1917, and later re-

A CHALLENGE TO FOOD CONTROLLER

Recently the Food Controller intimated that the action of the milk combine in raising the price of milk in Montreal was against the law, and would not be allowed. Acting on his suggestion the administrative commission in Montreal published advertisements calling upon the milk interests to restore the price of milk to its former level, else steps would be taken to prevent the sale of milk in the city at the boosted price. The milk interests have done nothing in the matter, and semi-official reports are to the effect that they have decided to defy the people of Montreal, to defy the administrative commission, to defy the food controller, and to defy the government, by continuing to exact an exorbitant price illegally agreed upon by a combination. Either this defiance will be an advertisement proclaiming to the food profiteers in Canada that the food controller is only bluffing when he calls upon to give authority to its officials under orders-in-council to deal with price-boosters and illegal combines, or else the food controller must follow words with actions. Which is it to be?

A law on the subject is set forth in an order-in-council dated October 8, 1918, which purported to remedy defects in previous measures. This latest order-in-council lays down that no person shall "conspire, combine, agree, or arrange with any other person" to prevent, or to cause to be prevented, the production, manufacture, purchase, barter, sale, transportation, or supply of any necessary of life. Defiance of this law, in the manner in which the milk interests have defied it, is made an indictable offence under the criminal code, and the penalty is a fine not exceeding $5,000, or imprisonment for any term not exceeding two years, or to both fine and imprisonment, as specified. The following clause should also be of particular interest to the milk trust:—"For the purpose of the trial of and indictment for any offence against these regulations, Section 581 of the Criminal Code, shall apply." Now what happens? Will the administrative commission of Montreal and the food controller admit that they were bluffing, and that the order-in-council so solemnly passed in Ottawa was also a deliberate bluff, or will they proceed to enforce the law?

"We Want Candy Cascarets"

Resolved: That when our tongues turn white, breath feverish, stomach sour and bowels constipated, that our mothers give us Cascarets, the nice candy cathartic, and not nasty castor oil, mineral oil, calomel or pills. Cascarets "work" without griping and never hurt us kids. Cost only 10 cents.

TO MOTHERS! Learn to give harmless Cascarets to your cross, sick, bilious, constipated pets and solve coaxing, worry and money. Children love this candy cathartic. Nothing else cleanses the little liver and bowels so effectively. Each 10 cent box of Cascarets contains directions for dosage for children aged one year old and upwards.

REVOLUTION IN SOFIA

London, Oct. 21.—A state of revolution has broken out in Sofia and street fights are occurring between Bolshevik laborers and the troops and police. It is reported that more than 8,000 persons have been authorized speedy trials without juries, shall apply. Now what happens? Will the administrative commission of Montreal and the food controller admit that they were bluffing, and that the order-in-council so solemnly passed in Ottawa was also a deliberate bluff, or will they proceed to enforce the law?

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things:

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bismarck Magnesia at their meals. There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bismarck Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of peptic pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate and the Bismarck form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."

POLICE COURT

A further hearing in the case of Edward Burke, charged with supplying liquor to John Fitzmaurice, was held in the police court yesterday afternoon. A lengthy discussion followed between the counsel for the defence, asked that Corner, the night deskman at headquarters, be called to the witness stand to the changing of the word "handing" in the charge to "supplying." Mr. Ryan argued that he intended to show that the liquor inspector, McAlush, perjured himself and he wanted placed in evidence the conversation between McAlush and Corner. The day deskman, Hopkins, was called. He said that he read the charge to McAlush in the morning and McAlush asked him to change the word "handing" to "supplying." The case will be concluded on Wednesday.

John McKinney, a member of the west side gang, was fined $200 or six months in jail for having liquor in his possession other than in his private residence. The evidence in the case was to the effect that he had invited a sixteen-year-old girl back of Fort Howe yesterday afternoon and gave her several drinks of brandy. The girl became intoxicated and was arrested.

Further evidence was taken in the case of Minnie Burns, charged with the theft of $10 from James Boyd, a returned soldier. Boyd gave evidence and the defendant was further remanded.

"Whatever is the Matter, Jack, You Don't Look Well!"

"Oh, I'm all right."

"But you're not. You look so worried and tired."

"Well, I haven't been sleeping very lately."

"No, and you don't seem to have any appetite. I think you ought to take something to tone up your system."

"Oh, no, I don't need any medicine. I guess I will soon be all right."

"But you should not neglect yourself, for that is just the way I was before I had nervous prostration, and you know what a long time I was laid up."

"Well, I haven't any time to be laid up, that's a sure thing."

"I know what I am going to do. I am going to buy half a dozen boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and see that you take it regularly."

"You know, Jack, that nothing seemed to help me like Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I am sure it will be just as good for you."

"You will take it, won't you?"

"I'll do most anything to get feeling better, for I know I have been losing my grip on business lately."

"I get up feeling tired in the mornings, and have to drive myself to do the work that used to be a pleasure for me. I have got in the way of putting off matters that need attention, and hate to meet people when I know that some energy will be required to discuss business deals with them."

"You'll take the Nerve Food, won't you?"

"Oh, I'll let you be the doctor, and if the Nerve Food builds me up like it did you I'll soon get back my old-time vigor and be able to make things hum. I have been rather discouraged lately, but I can see now that the trouble is in the condition of my nervous system. So you get the Nerve Food and we'll see what it will do."

Germany Repeats Promises But Denies Atrocity Charges

The text of the German note, as received by wireless, is as follows: "In accepting the proposal for an evacuation of occupied territories the German government has started from the assumption that the procedure of this evacuation and of the conditions of an armistice should be left to the military advisers and that the actual standard of power on both sides in the field has to form the basis for arrangements safeguarding and guaranteeing this standard. "The German government suggests to the president that an opportunity should be brought about for fixing the details. It trusts that the president of the United States will approve of no demand which would be irreconcilable with the honor of the German people and with opening a way to a peace of justice. "The German government protests against the reproach of illegal and inhuman actions against the German land and sea forces and thereby against the German people. For the covering of a retreat destructions will always be necessary and they are carried out in so far as is permitted by international law. The German troops are under the most strict instruction to spare private property and to exercise care for the population to the best of their ability. Where irretrievable occur in spite of these instructions the guilty are being punished. "The German government further denies that the German navy, in sinking ships, has ever purposely destroyed lifeboats with their passengers. The German government proposed with regard to all these charges that the facts be cleared up by neutral commissions. "In order to avoid anything that might hamper the work of peace, the German government has caused orders to be despatched to all submarine commanders precluding the torpedoing of passenger ships, without however, for technical reasons, being able to guarantee that these orders will reach every single submarine at sea before its return. "In its fundamental conditions for peace the president proclaims the structure of every arbitrary power that can separately, secretly, and of its own single accord disturb the peace of the world. To this the German government replies: "Hitherto the representations of the people in the German empire have not been engaged with an influence on the formation of the government. "The constitution did not provide for a concurrence of representation of the people in decisions of peace and war. These conditions have just now undergone a fundamental change. A new government has been formed in complete accordance with the wishes (principles) of the representation of the people, based on equal, universal secret, direct franchise. "The leaders of the great parties of the Reichstag are members of this government. In the future no government can take or continue in office without possessing the confidence of a majority of the Reichstag. "The responsibility of the chancellor of the empire to the representation of the people is being legally developed and safeguarded. The first act of the new government has been to lay before the Reichstag a bill to alter the constitution of the empire so that the consent of the representation of the people is required for decisions on war and peace. "The permanence of the new system is, however, guaranteed not only by constitutional safeguards, but also by the unshakable determination of the German people whose vast majority stand behind these reforms and demand their energetic continuation. "The question of the president—with whom he and the governments associated against Germany are dealing—is therefore answered in a clear, unequivocal manner by the statement that the offer of peace and an armistice has come from a government which is free from any arbitrary and irresponsible influence, is supported by the approval of an overwhelming majority of the German people. (Signed) "SOLE."

Morning War Summary

In the war theatre the Allied forces have taken no heed of the efforts made by the Germans for the establishment of peace, but are continuing to force back the Germans at vital points along the lines in Belgium and France. In these endeavors the British and Americans are for the moment taking the principal parts. The British have approached within two miles of Valenciennes, and the Americans, to the northwest of Verdun, have succeeded in occupying two highly important positions in their operations aimed at an advance northward. American and British troops have crossed the Oise Canal on a wide front in the face of desperate resistance, and further successes in this sector will menace the Germans both to the north and the south. The Valenciennes-Hirson railway, formerly one of the Germans main lateral arteries of communication, has been cut. The west bank of the Scheldt Canal has been occupied by the British along an extent of ten miles, to the north of Tournai, which city is being defended by masses of Germans armed with machine guns. Belgium is gradually being redeemed, although now that the Germans have drawn in their lines, the British, Belgians and French are encountering much stiffer opposition than during the early days of the great drive for the recapture of the Allies of the Belgian coast. The city of Ghent, an objective which the Allies have always had in mind, is yet seven miles away. Probably it will be outflanked from the north before it is taken. Allied troops already have made considerable progress with this end in view. Having cleared the Germans out of western Belgium, the Allied forces are standing on a line from the Dutch frontier to the Oise Canal that is virtually straight. A new movement has begun to the east of Courtrai, the object of which is to free the northern section of Belgium from the enemy. French troops have reached the Danube River in the region of Vidin after offensive operations in the eastern theatre of the war lasting for more than a month. The economic independence of Hungary is proclaimed at an early date in a manifesto which it is reported will be issued by Emperor Charles. Hungary will be permitted to maintain her own army and her own diplomatic corps.

Baseball War Is Ended. The long-standing break between the National and American League over the case of Pitcher Scott Perry has been mended, and peace once more reigns in the major league baseball. In the Commercial Appeal Court in Cleveland Judge Stevens dismissed the injunction by which Manager Connie Mack, of the Philadelphia Athletics, barred the Boston National League Club from getting the services of Perry after he had been awarded to that club by the National Commission. This was the first case of its kind since the National Commission became the ruling body of the game, and when the American League jumped over the traces and refused to abide by the decision, the controversy resulted in the resignation of former Governor John K. Tener, of Pennsylvania, as president of the National League. At the hearing of the case in Cleveland attorneys said that the controversy had been settled out of court. August Herrmann, of Cincinnati, was the chairman of the board of arbitration appointed to settle the matter, and the details of the settlement have not yet been announced. The outcome, however, will probably be that Perry will either go back to the Boston Braves or the Athletics will have to pay the Boston Club a price for his services. Perry, formerly with the Southern Association, was taken by Boston on a thirty-day option, but, it is said, was released before the option expired, Philadelphia signing him. Later Boston tried to get him back through the National Commission, on the ground that the option agreement had not been fulfilled. Manager Connie Mack refused to give him up, and got out the injunction restraining Boston from obtaining the player.

INEFFICIENT EFFICIENCY. (The Wall Street Journal.) In showing that inefficiency is often mistaken for efficiency, the vice-president of one of the largest express companies pointed out that claim departments of express companies and railroads are supposed to be operated with maximum efficiency. The smallest claim, he contended, received the same efficient investigation as the largest. Whether this pays may be gathered from his narration: "I met an old friend who jokingly told me his wife had been trying to collect a claim against my company for several months. My interrogation revealed a prima facie justification for the claim, which amounted to 75 cents, but apparently it was the principle involved that led her to push it. I reached into my pocket and paid him the money, feeling it was worth 75 cents to square the company. Upon returning to the office I got the files and found six letters had been sent the claimant, who had sent five to the company. The stationery and stamps had cost the company approximately 25 cents, while time consumed by investigators, stenographers, etc., probably amounted to several dollars. There were, no doubt, numerous instances of this kind which never came to my attention. There has, however, been none since. That 75 cents is the best investment I ever made for the company."

MOTION PICTURE MASTER WAS $1.25 A DAY LABORER

When D. W. GRIFITH took to the trenches on the French battlefield to "shoot" scenes for his latest creation "Hearts of the World" in all likelihood there came to him the recollection of another period in his career when a ditch was the scene of his endeavors, a time when instead of being a guest of the war offices of two great nations anxious to give him every possible help, he worked under the unparaphrased eye of a gang boss, and his tool was not a motion picture camera, but a pick. D. W. helped to build the New York subway system, and his knowledge to the production of a screen masterpiece—but because a pick wielder commanded a wage of $1.25 a day and Griffith needed money.

It was in the lean days that as one of the inside looking out he learned the things about people—just plain people—that are expressed in his productions and which set them apart from the average screen show, as the work of a director who really knows which he is attempting to impart. Griffith had been an actor and had written a scenario so the then brand new motion pictures, but neither profession was producing sufficient returns to physically satisfy a healthy man, and Griffith, running untrue to theatrical form, took the first job that offered: that of a subway laborer. He did not remain in the subway ditch very long, but it was from there that he made his first big step in the career as a director which is now at its height.

AN AVIATOR'S REASON FOR FEARLESSNESS

(Milwaukee, Wis. Press.) We at home are learning in our fashion the same lessons our men are learning in the trenches, lessons of reverence, of humility, of childlike dependence on the unseen. It is a philosophy forced on us whether we will or no, and fortunate are the nature sensitive and responsive to its teachings. For it is a philosophy from without by a power greater than we are; and as we frail mortals of mortality find ourselves cast on the sea of crash of elemental forces, it offers us at once a shelter and a rock to set our feet on. "I can't not be fearless in the air as I must be," wrote a young aviator, "were it not for the consciousness of God's protection." The feeling so simply expressed rises from the profound depths of the human spirit, and is common to those called to perilous service, and to those who wait for them at home, racked with suspense, their hearts steel-ed for the worst.

FINE FEATURE OF LONDON

Police-men of the British Metropolis Win Universal Appreciation "London," said a well-known English bishop on a memorable occasion, "is big enough to be generous, and somehow or other in no one feature in the vastness of London life is this more true than in the case of the London policeman. For he is generally big, and he is always generous. The letter one knows him the more certain it becomes that he is a product sui generis; that he is, indeed, quite unlike the policeman in any other town in the country. It is not that his duties are different from the duties of thousands of policemen in the large towns of the three kingdoms. In London, as elsewhere, he regulates traffic, lovers round every form of public amusement from a football match to a Royal Academy exhibition, and with firm and cheerful courtesy, he enforces the borough mayor's inauguration to a royal progress. He answers questions, "does" his best to keep the doors of closed shops and performs innumerable other tasks which fall to the lot of policemen almost everywhere.

It is not, however, what he does, but his way of doing it, that marks the London policeman as different from all others. He is on duty on the occasion of some great holiday pageant, a lord of honor, or an instance of the kind, to serve his department. He is a citizen, of course, like all the other citizens, in the full enjoyment of all their rights, and capable, in private life, of all their enthusiasms and all their hobbies; but as a member of the "force," he is the indulgent supervision which characterizes his every day. He is glad to see the "public"—he is indignantly attached to the word—enjoying itself. With firm and cheerful courtesy, he enforces the borough mayor's inauguration to a royal progress. He answers questions, "does" his best to keep the doors of closed shops and performs innumerable other tasks which fall to the lot of policemen almost everywhere.

It is, however, as a guide, to those in need of direction that the London policeman is a different from all others. He is on duty on the occasion of some great holiday pageant, a lord of honor, or an instance of the kind, to serve his department. He is a citizen, of course, like all the other citizens, in the full enjoyment of all their rights, and capable, in private life, of all their enthusiasms and all their hobbies; but as a member of the "force," he is the indulgent supervision which characterizes his every day. BASEBALL!

(Ottawa Citizen.) Americans took a village eight times from the Germans and then captured and held on to it, thus winning in the ninth, as it were.

Experience of a Tank Crew. The touch of sentiment in the foe recalled some of the stories I heard of his early treatment of Canadian prisoners during the last month's fighting. And the record is not unimpressive.

One day they had been British soldiers. Their story I could not hear until the retreat of the spring, they had stood against the German advance just a mile or so before the command had finally blocked the way to the enemy. Shrapnel or shell had struck them at their posts. And the enemy, bowing to the obvious possession. Some day, but for the holes in the helmets, we would have found the record of their names, "the name" would have been altered to "killed."

Captors and captured were entering the chateau of the town when our guns turned loose. One of the first shells struck the chateau as they were entering, immediately the Germans forgot their prisoners and scurried away. "Loaded as they were with full equipment," laughed one of the captives, in telling me the story, "they beat us running." Four of the captives managed to scale the barbed wire fence surrounding the chateau and dropped into a trench. One

Incidents On The Canadian Front TWO LONELY GRAVES

One Time That Huns Showed a Touch of Sentiment—The Experience of a Tank Crew and the Comment of a Brigade Officer (By Lacey Amy, Special Correspondence of The Times.) With the Canadian Forces, France, Sept. 18—Yesterday, wandering far from the main lines, I came to two lone graves. In the depths of a large shell-hole the two mounds lay side by side, lonely records of the struggle that passed across this district a few months ago.

The grass was long and dark and the cold, bending over to hide the unmarked cemetery. Unbroken stretches of rusty barbed wire had crossed the barbed attending our recovery of the slopes blocked approach. There was no sign of a human hand or foot. A wrecked airplane lay rotting not far away. In the passage of our victorious troops this little corner of the battlefield had been for the moment neglected.

On either mound lay a British helmet, each with a jagged hole in it to show the cause of the misadventure. And carefully arranged beneath were little pieces of papers that had once belonged to the dead men—their pay books, a few letters, a worthless tin of soap. But the rains had blotted out every trace of writing from the pay books save one payment of twenty pounds. And what remained of the letters gave no clue.

"Dear Peter," said one, "I am so glad to hear the hole in the helmet that is yours. And the signature was simply 'Rose.' But the letter had long outlasted Peter's helmet and her letter and that shapless mound were all that remained. Two unknowns—two weeping families still uncertain of the fate of their loved ones—and "Rose." I filled the holes in the helmets that they might not leak oblivion to the last faint marks that revealed the humanity of the two men. And I replaced the letters and pay books. One day they had been British soldiers. Their story I could not hear until the retreat of the spring, they had stood against the German advance just a mile or so before the command had finally blocked the way to the enemy. Shrapnel or shell had struck them at their posts. And the enemy, bowing to the obvious possession. Some day, but for the holes in the helmets, we would have found the record of their names, "the name" would have been altered to "killed."

of the party was wounded, but they crept along until they reached a sort of funk-hole with a narrow entrance, and through a severe bombardment from our guns they lay low all night. In the morning the battle was still raging, but during the early hours a Canadian stretcher-bearer, searching for a safe spot to lay a wounded sergeant, came on them. Two of them were since been through the two attacks before Arras and are ready for more. Still another Canadian captured during the Amiens battle is free to tell of it. A sergeant and a corporal crept forward to reconnoitre a wood. A shell wounded the corporal, and the sergeant, refusing to leave him, was captured with him. The unwounded one was hustled to the rear, but the corporal was taken back only a thousand yards, where he was well and his wounds dressed. During the night he faltered, and awoke in a dugout to find his captors with their hands up crying "kamerad." The experiences of another pair of temporary prisoners I have only indirectly. Captured before Monchy, they were well treated and fed in a wood that blocked a determined rush carried it. One had 2,000 francs on him, but it was not used.

Ottawa as follows: "Sincerely regret to inform you that Private John Desmond Kelly was officially reported killed in action on October 12."

Private Kelly was a native of California, but resided in Canada for some years. He enlisted in Joliet, Quebec, with the First Canadian contingent and crossed overseas attached to the 12th Battalion. He was wounded a short while ago and had been back in the firing line only a few days when he was killed.

His wife, who is a native of England came to St. John only about a month ago and is residing with her daughter in St. James street, and two sons, one a lad of thirteen years and the other a member of the Highland Light Infantry now fighting in France.

sees as a member of the first contingent. He had been wounded three times, the last time on August 31, 1917. He returned to the front only about two weeks ago. Besides his parents he leaves three sisters, Mrs. W. H. Kyle, of Norton; Mrs. S. Clitick, of St. John, and Miss Bertha, at home; four brothers, Charles and George W., returned soldiers; Fred, on active service, and Walter at home. His death will be learned with regret by his many friends.

Pte. W. H. Blair, 242 City road, received a telegram on Sunday from Ottawa announcing that his son, Private W. H. Blair, infantry, had been admitted to No. 14 General Hospital at Wimereux on October 11, suffering from a gunshot wound in the right leg. Private Blair went overseas as a member of the 28th Kiltie Battalion pipe band. In England he was drafted into a Montreal infantry unit. He is eighteen years old and celebrated his last birthday in the trenches. His many friends will wish him a speedy recovery.

Pte. Henry McBurney, of 174 Waterloo street has received a telegram from Ottawa notifying her that her husband, Private Henry McBurney, has been admitted to 20 General Hospital, Dauncourt, on Oct. 9, suffering from gunshot wound, contusion hip, scrotum, fractured femur. Private McBurney enlisted in the 28th Kiltie Battalion in 1917 and soon after going overseas was transferred to the 13th Canadian Battalion.

AMERICAN WHO JOINED SIEGE BATTERY HERE

Gunner Charles H. Taylor is Wounded in Right Leg

Mrs. Edgar J. Taylor of 16 Gordon avenue, Hyde Park, Mass., in a letter to Miss Edna Crowley, 184 Union street, writes that she has recently received three letters from her son, Gunner Charles H. Taylor, a Canadian Siege Battery in France. She says that recently she received a telegram from Ottawa to the effect that Gunner Charles had been wounded by gunshot in the right leg and had been admitted to a hospital in France. Mrs. Taylor writes that in all Charlie's letters he keeps asking for candy. She had a box all ready to send to him when she received word that he had been wounded.

Mrs. Taylor's son, though an American, came to St. John and enlisted in the 9th Siege Battery and in England was transferred to another battery at the front. He has been in France for some months and has been doing a soldier's part where the fighting has been hot.

Miss Crowley has a brother, Byron H. Crowley, who went overseas as a gunner in a siege battery and has since been promoted to bombardier.

THE WAR IS STILL ON

Canada Must "Carry On" Till Victory is Achieved

The people of St. John have had much lately to distract their attention from national needs and national appeals. Next week they drive for the Victory Loan will begin and St. John must be ready to answer the nation's call.

The most critical point of the war has now been reached. Germany is undecided whether to get down on her knees and implore for peace or whether to continue to fight. If Canada rescues her objective in the Victory Loan, as she undoubtedly will, it will have the effect of hastening Germany's decision. Germany has a wholesome dread of Canadian troops, and she doesn't want them on German soil if she can help it. She knows what would happen.

But whatever Germany's decision, Canada has much to do before her military obligations are completed. Should the war end tomorrow, it would be at least a year and a half before the Canadian soldiers could be brought back and demobilized. It may be that even that period would be too short, so that every cent of the Victory Loan will be required.

St. John wants to see her soldier boys back as quickly as possible and the larger the amount subscribed to the Victory Loan the sooner this desire will be realized.
