Bishops Denounce Terrorism Dublin, Oct. 19 - The Irish Catholic bishops met today at Maynooth, with Cardinal Logue presiding over them and the entire hierarchy signed a strong resolution denouncing "terrorism, partiality and failure as characteristics of the present Irish Government."

The bishops recall in the resolution that "when the country was crisscrossed by the hands of the government against the people's representatives, they declared that it was not a question of party reprisals but of indiscriminate acts of savagery, deliberately worked on the whole countryside, without any proof of conspiracy or crime by those ostensibly employed to protect lives and property."

Recall Mannix Case The resolution says there has been brutal treatment of clergymen and that the preventing of Archbishop Mannix of Australia from visiting Ireland was "one of the most unwise steps purblind and tyrannical oppression could take." The bishops demand a full inquiry into the situation and urge the Irish to choose their own government.

"PEN" CONVICTS STILL SULLEN

Strike of Prisoners at Kingston, Ont., is Off, But Situation is Critical.

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 19 - While the strike of from one hundred to two hundred convicts in subsiding in a measure, the men are sullen and the officials of the penitentiary are keeping a close watch. The strike was a lively one when at its height in a tailor shop where the trouble first started on Saturday, when eighty convicts refused to work. One young Pole said to have been sentenced to a twenty-five year term jumped upon one of the tables and yelled "murder, blood, that is what we want."

Mad in Cells This startling cry started a fresh ferment among the men in that shop who thereupon were promptly marched back to their cells, as were also some forty-five men on the stone pits when they persisted in their refusal to work. Once in their cells the men seemed to go fairly mad, shouting and hooting and pounding their prison bars until they could be heard for blocks around.

FOUR PROVINCES TO VOTE MONDAY ON DRY PROBLEM

Question to be Submitted is "Shall Importation of Liquor into Province be Forbidden."

LAW READY TO APPLY THE RESULT

But Sixty Days After Polling Must Elapse Before Bone Dry Regulations Enforced.

Ottawa, Oct. 19 - Arrangements for the voting in the three prairie provinces and Nova Scotia, on Monday next, on the referendum covering the importation of liquors are well in hand, so far as the federal authorities are concerned.

Returning officers have been named by proclamation in the fifty seven electoral divisions included within the boundaries of the four provinces, in which the voting will be taken in much the same manner as it would be at a general election. Both men and women will have the right to vote, the restrictions in this respect being the same as prevail under the provisions of the Dominion Elections Act.

Making Dry Vote Effective. In the event of a province voting dry, provision is made in the Canada Temperance Act for the issuance of a proclamation making the vote of the people effective, but this cannot take place until at least sixty days after voting day. This means that people who desire to import liquors will have at least until the Christmas holidays to lay in their supplies. The ballot will contain but one question: "Shall the importation of intoxicating liquor into the province be forbidden?" The drys will vote "Yes," and the wets will vote "No."

There will be approximately 6,800 polling subdivisions in the three prairie provinces and one thousand in Nova Scotia to take care of the electorate. At a considerable number of advanced points railway men, commercial travellers and others who are likely to be away from home on October 25, will be given opportunity to vote on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

COCOANUTS DROP 15 CENTS POUND

Shells Not Needed for Gas Masks Now So Prices Show Good Decline.

Montreal, Oct. 19 - The retail price of coconuts has gone down ten or fifteen cents a pound, according to the managers of the grocery departments of two large department stores today. This drop is attributed by one of the managers to the fact that during the war coconuts shells were used for gas masks, and that the war demand had diverted the nuts, which had formerly been shelled and exported for domestic use.

It will probably be settled at this meeting whether a constituency will be opened for J. Fletcher Tweeddale, minister of agriculture, who failed of re-election in Victoria County. It is not believed any effort will be made to secure for another term the services of Hon. Robert Murray, provincial secretary-treasurer, who was rejected by the electorate of Northumberland County. Hon. W. E. Foster, when asked tonight regarding the rumor of his contemplated resignation, replied: "I am not of the resigning kind." The bank runner was friendly with at least three other women, all of whom are under surveillance, according to the authorities.

Ottawa's Oldest Citizen Has Sister 92 and Brother 96 Years Old.

Ottawa, Oct. 19 - Ottawa's most remarkable citizen in point of years, Norbert Barnabe, of 235 Dalhousie street, today celebrated his 105th birthday. In spite of his great age, this sturdy French-Canadian centenarian is still hale and hearty, and seldom, if ever, retires at night without partaking of a "lunch," which would be credit to the appetite of a voyageur. Mr. Barnabe's midnight lunch usually consists of cold pork, raw onions, bread and butter and tea.

Mr. Barnabe left this morning for Mainville, in the Gatineau Valley, about 25 miles from Ottawa. Longevity seems to be the rule rather than the exception in Mr. Barnabe's family. He has a brother who is 96 years of age, and a sister who has reached 92.

ALL CONTROL IS LIKELY TO COME OFF THE SUGARS

Law of Supply and Demand Will Probably be Allowed to Regulate Canadian Prices.

CANDY MANUFACTURERS ARE IN DIFFICULTIES

Falling Sugar Prices Will Mean Cheaper Candies But Xmas Stocks Are High Priced.

Ottawa, Oct. 19 - The sugar situation, which is the chief topic of interest in Canada today, is to be thoroughly thrashed out at tomorrow's hearing of the return and other interest of parties before the cabinet. There will be practically a full attendance of members of the government and several other interests besides the returners are expected to present their case. Candy-makers' Case. One of these, which it is stated, will prove interesting, is that of the candy manufacturers - industries in Canada, who, according to one man, do not touch with the industry, are between two fires. The candy manufacturers, it is stated, would like to see cheaper sugar, in order that they might hold their trade without danger of the American manufacturers underselling them, but at the same time they face a loss if the reduction in sugar prices should be too drastic.

CHRISTMAS CANDY DEAR

Most of the firms in question are stated to be already manufacturing goods to fill their Christmas orders, and the sugar used in these orders has all been purchased at the higher prices. However, if there is a reduction of Canadian sugar prices to anything like the American level, the Canadian merchants and people will demand a pro-rata reduction in the price of candies, and the manufacturers fear they may be compelled to sell the Christmas goods, which they are now making, at a loss because of the demands for rebates from merchants.

The impression here tonight is that the government, unless some new and striking facts are brought out in tomorrow's hearing, will rescind the order of the Board of Commerce altogether and let the law of supply and demand rule in sugar prices.

QUEBEC RESULTS STILL IN DOUBT

WHOLESALE LIFTING OF GOODS IN TRURO

ANOTHER THEFT RECORD ON THE C. N. R. SYSTEM

It appears that for some time past more or less suspicion has been aroused on account of the mysterious disappearance of goods in transit. Included in the list was a goodly quantity of liquor consigned to parties in Nova Scotia. Immediately H. I. Paige, of Toronto, chief of the railway police, got busy and after some investigation found that numerous railway employees were implicated. COAL STRIKE SPREADS; CUT RAIL SERVICE

Thirty Thousand Iron Workers Forced to Stop Work Through Lack of Coal.

ALL HORSE RACING HAS BEEN CANCELLED

London Transport Men May Go Out in Sympathy With the Striking Miners.

London, Oct. 19 - There were no new developments today in the coal strike which began last Saturday. In all the coal regions where the men have laid down their tools order was maintained by the strikers. One factor of the situation tonight which bore possibilities of a widening of the strike was the prospect of the 35,000 London commercial road transport men ceasing work. The men on Saturday night passed a resolution declaring themselves as fully supporting the miners.

A conference was to have been held today to take final action on this resolution, but the meeting was adjourned until tomorrow. Meantime orders have been issued to branches of the union throughout the country to have their strike organizations prepared. Should the transport workers in all parts of the country walk out, it is estimated that 180,000 men would be involved.

ALL HORSE RACING OFF

By an agreement between the Board of Trade and the Jockey Club all horse racing is to be suspended for the duration of the coal miners' strike. Announcement was made this evening of the suspension of the sailings of nearly all the passenger steamers between England and Ireland. Exception is to be made in the cases of vessels carrying the mails. The railroads are also beginning to restrict their passenger service. It is reported tonight that in the Middleborough iron district nearly 30,000 workmen have been rendered idle in the iron and dependent industries as a result of the coal strike.

ONE MAN AT WORK

Aside from the engine-men and pumpmen who are keeping the coal mines in good condition, only one man of the 1,000,000 miners was working today. This man appeared as usual at the pit mouth and entered the mine and worked alone, without any prospects of the fruits of his labor being brought up to the surface.

"Chris, who is that girl?"

What had the old servant told her mistress?

Who was she?

Why did the proud old family eagerly accept the pretty salesgirl?

How a "flapper" looks to a woman of ninety

A woman of ninety, who has seen four generations of flappers, encounters the irrepresible young woman of 1920!

In Mrs. Harland's youth, the properly brought up young woman blushed—today it would take a hardy blush to penetrate the "complexion" that is so universal worn. Then it was genteel to faint—now it is sporting to face anything with a nonchalance of a receiving teller.

Off they rush in their too short skirts and their too low waists dabbing on their complexions as they go. "Self-expression" leads them to strange extremes but this young woman of ninety finds it in her heart to love and understand them.

She tells why in the November Pictorial Review.

A group of unusual short stories

Here are six real stories—six stories! Every one of them vivid, unusual—the type of short story you have come to expect in Pictorial Review.

A story of suppressed desires. Read "Lucy Moon" by Hugh Walpole.

A story of the circus. Read "The Simp" by Courtney Ryley Cooper.

A sparkling tale of adventure. Read "A King of Paris" by H. Collinson Owen.

A story of overwhelming passions. Read "Second Hand" by G. Ranger Wormser.

A rollicking yarn of the sea. Read "A Whale of a Story" by Richard Matthews Hallett.

The story of a striker's wife. Read "Paying the Piper" by Charles Caldwell Dobie.

A mystery story of New York society by Kathleen Norris

SOBBING, broken, the grand old lady begged her children not to question her—just to accept the girl.

Accept this pretty little nobody from a book store counter—they, one of the proudest, one of the wealthiest of all New York's old families!

Take her from the shop, from the obscure apartment where she lived with their old servant—into the envied citadel of their exquisitely formal lives!

What would people say? What would they think?

Was that hushed family scandal lifting its head again? Unbelievable, intolerable—its price had been paid years ago!

Kathleen Norris takes you into the life of New York's Four Hundred. Brilliant, intimate, powerfully written, it is a revealing portrait of the young society girl of today—the sober world of work—and through it all that baffling entangling question—to whom did the girl belong?

Two women knew—and would not speak. Two men rushed blindly on, loving her—the cultured sensitive gentleman and the earnest young mechanic. Where could she find happiness, this girl with the conflicting blood of two worlds in her veins?

"THE BELOVED WOMAN"

by Kathleen Norris

Begins in this issue

Was John Cummings justified in leaving his wife?

She was a good woman. She was kind to her children. And she was a perfect housekeeper. Even had handstitched hems on all her curtains. Kept her home spick and span. And yet John went. Why did he go away with that other woman? Just what made him desert his wife? John said she was such a good housekeeper she didn't know how to make a home. He wanted companionship.

But he had to go out to get it. Now before you get mad with John read what Montanye Perry says about him. Mrs. Perry has been keeping tabs on the neighbors in her own town, and she isn't quite sure that John wasn't halfway right.

There's an awful jolt for a lot of "good" wives in her article in Pictorial Review for November entitled "When is a wife not a wife?"

Do you know where the waist-line will be this winter?

Do you know the proper width for skirts?

The November Pictorial Review contains the forecast of winter fashions. The newest and most charming styles are shown, with descriptions of the favored fabrics and valuable little hints concerning trimming and accessories.

This is to be a season of straight lines and gay embroideries. The moyen-age dress, with its simple lines and long waist-line promises to hold the first place in the popular favor.

One of the most noticeable features of the new styles is the lavish use of vivid, "peasant" embroideries, charming designs that enliven the simplest frock.

There is a Pictorial Review pattern to reproduce exactly all the styles you like best.

Tonight the Robins and the Fall of Man.

Canon E. W. Barnes, of Vester Abbey, has unleashed the theological controversy by that Christian thinkers have accepted the story of the Garden and the fall of man as history but are turning quietly to a evolution. His theory is that the test out the Old Testament of science and reason they claimed to look on its teaching as dogmatic—as suggestive merely fundamental drama of mankind; he who finds his trust in it will not be able to read it rationally, and he who reads it rationally will be unable to grasp its truth. Grant the scientist the right to criticize even the figuring of improbabilities and calmly proceed to make many an article of faith. If of man is unlikely, what is to with Jonah. If the history is honest, it is a possible sign to the meeting of Moses Jehovah on Mount Sinai? An meet did not actually take place the Ten Commandments were considered as revelations on this downward course, and is nowhere to stop. For the present and the New Testament dependent upon the Old their invulnerability. ## The Fall of Man.

Canon E. W. Barnes, of Westminster Abbey, has unleashed the dogs of theological controversy by stating that Christian thinkers no longer accept the story of the Garden of Eden and the fall of man as historical fact, but are turning quietly to a belief in evolution. His theory is that as men test out the Old Testament by means of science, and reason they are inclined to look on its teachings as allegorical—as suggestive merely of the fundamental drama of mankind. Obviously he who finds his truth in Darwin will not be able to read Genesis literally, and he who reads Genesis literally will not be able to grasp Darwin as a truth. Grant the scientificist the right to criticize even the most glaring of improbabilities and it will come to pass that the most sacred of many an article of faith. If the fall of man is unlikely, what is to be done with Jonah. If the history of Jonah is conceded to be a parable, what happens to the meeting of Moses with Jehovah on Mount Sinai? And if that meet did not actually take place, are the Ten Commandments no longer to be considered as revelations? Begin on this downward course, and there is nowhere to stop. For the Old Testament and the New Testament are dependent upon each other for their inviolability. Any religion that takes cognizance of doubt for any other purpose than to condemn it has opened the floodgates of tolerance and independence.—New York Globe.

ITALIAN GENERAL UNDER ARREST

Charged With Complicity in Fraudulent Sales of War Material.

Milan, Oct. 19.—General Maglietta, who distinguished himself on the Italian front, both for military valor and inventive genius, was arrested today at Vicenza at the instance of the State Inquiry Commission on the charge of being concerned in the colossal frauds in the private sale of war material.

In company with a colonel and other superior officers already in custody the General is accused of having realized millions as the result of speculations with a cologne of Government contractors in war stores which were afterwards set down as destroyed during bombardments. San Drigo sawmills, with 20,000 pounds worth of timber belonging to the Sixth Army Corps, were passed nominally to a Milan contractor, formerly an Italian lieutenant for 1,000 pounds.

The mountain population in re-declared provinces is alleged to have been deprived of the aerial railways that linked up the villages in the plain, while large funds, assigned for replacing their rotten wooden cabins with stone dwellings, went into the pockets of the government agents.

LONDON FASHIONS.

London has decreed that it is smart to wear a job with the autumn suit: Black silk watered ribbon to which a luff of onyx, jade, agate, or amber is attached, is generally worn.

Swagger sticks with odd woolly dolls tied to them by gaily colored cords are another of the latest freaks of London fashion.

TO BRIGHTEN RUGS.

To brighten rugs, add a teaspoonful of turpentine to a pail of warm water. Dip the rug into this solution, squeeze it dry, and rub the rug vigorously.

The fool steeled his neighbor's home from his backboard, but the wise man fixed up a snug place for them to lay in.

Three Races For Fishing Schooners

First Race Off Halifax Saturday, October 30—Second November 1.

Gloucester, Mass., Oct. 19.—Two schooners, one representing the United States and the other the Canadian fishing carries will meet annually in a series of races to determine the sailing supremacy of the North Atlantic. This decision was announced tonight after representatives of the Canadian Royal Yacht Squadron and a local fishermen's committee had completed arrangements to make the forthcoming contest between the Gloucester schooner DeWanna and the Halifax challenger Delawanna the first of the series.

McTigue to Fight Bloomfield Tonight

Montreal, Oct. 19.—McTigue, who is to meet Jack Bloomfield in a ten-round bout as the feature of the National Sporting Club's programme at Mount Royal Arena tomorrow night, worked out this afternoon with Eddie O'Hara and showed himself in good form. Both of these fighters have won from Broseau, and this fact has created great interest in the bout.

Bloomfield finished up his training tonight for the bout and will go into the ring in even better condition than when he won a bout from Johnny Howard so decisively.

Salting Rules

"There'll be salting rules," said the committee tonight, "but not the new-fangled regulations of the international cup races. We'll use the rules of the road that seamen know, and let the boat win."

Forming His Crew

Lack of knowledge of the Canadian waters in which the race is to be held, and lack of time for tuning up, the United States boat which was entered as a candidate after she had been virtually laid up for the season, were given as reasons for preferring three races instead of one.

Captain Marty Welch, selected as skipper of the DeWanna, today began to bring together the men who will form his crew. Every vessel coming to port with a catch included volunteers for a place among the twenty-five men who will handle the DeWanna's sails, and Captain Welch found no lack of material for selection. The committee decided to ask the United States navy department to assign a destroyer or some other vessel to act as headquarters for the expedition to Halifax.

Curlers Here December 30

The Canadians Enroute to Old Country Will Curl at Glasgow, Edinburgh and London.

The Ontario curlers invited to visit the old country with the Canadian team this winter has been selected. The Canadians will sail for their port on December 30 and will play across the sea in January and February. Games will be played in Glasgow, Edinburgh and London on artificial ice. The invitation for the visit was accepted by the Royal Caledonian Curling Club of Scotland.

Local curlers when informed last night of the date the curlers would be in St. John stated that undoubtedly the three St. John clubs would arrange some programme for the visitors while in St. John.

RUSSIAN BIRTH RATE ALMOST VANISHING

Constantinople, Oct. 19.—T. A. Kuhn, a Lucerne business man who has just arrived here after a five months' trip to Moscow told the correspondent of The Associated Press that the birthrate in the Russian cities had decreased almost to a point where no more children were born, while the death rate were constantly increasing. The metal industries are the only ones operating, he said. Speaking of the high price for food and clothing, he added:

"Women in the cities are wearing condensed dresses made of patched cloth and scraps of lace, scarfs, etc. I cannot see how anyone can live through another winter except the peasants."

Great Revival In Boxing Game

English Sportsmen Are Taking New and Great Interest in Boxing Lately.

(By Maurice Lewis, Leading British Authority on Boxing.)

(Special Correspondent Cross-Atlantic Newspaper Service.)

London, Oct. 19.—The marked revival of interest in boxing which has been apparent here recently has been due in large measure to the fine boxing and fighting qualities revealed by Americans who have crossed the Atlantic to compete with our men.

By setting up a high standard of fighting they drew the best out of their British opponents, and the result was those rousing contests which took place in London and Liverpool. The spectators, too, felt that they were witnessing something new in boxing, although what this new element was they failed to realize.

The Wilde-Moore contest will go down in the history of pugilism as a thrilling and underlined as one of the great fights; and Angelo Hahn, Johnny Griffiths, Jeff Smith and Fred Fulton gave us a thrill. A striking feature about the American visitors was their splendid condition and fitness when entering the ring. But what impressed me above all else were the dominant qualities of intensity in execution and earnestness of purpose shown by the visitors. This was the new element which the onlookers uncomprehendingly felt to be present in the Americans' work. But after all, they were only watching the latest development of the American school of boxing in action against what was called the English school of boxing. All schools must develop, whether good or ill. America, starting with the English school, with its upright stance and its true left arm hitting, developed along the lines of aggressive, two-handed hitting, and skilful evasiveness. The shortened bouts in America, too, encouraged this spirit of ceaseless aggression while in the ring, and developed the cult of intensity.

The great competition, too, amongst American boxers, has caused them to realize the importance of the motto: "Get on or get out." Many of them were forced to "get out" by the rule "get on," both physically and scientifically. Our Bombarier Wells, for instance, would never have been tolerated as a possible champion in America after his first three defeats. He would have been regarded merely as a trial horse for other budding champions. But over here Wells is still as popular as ever and there is a great host of boxing enthusiasts who could be traced to a pitch of high excitement by the news that he was staging another "come-back."

Our English second-line boxers, facing defeat after defeat, have decided that their methods are wrong so they try to copy the methods of their conquerors. But like the man who tries to imitate Napoleon, they get no further than the cocked hat, grim jaw, and the hand under the waistcoat pose while the essential inner qualities are neglected. They have copied the most part, the inestimable value of the true straight left, because the left hand as they have used it, has failed them. They have copied the fact that the best American boxers have built up their style around the straight left, and also that the ineffectiveness of their own left hand is due to its misuse. They use it as if taping for points, with no driving power and no spirit behind it.

American boxing has developed along good and vigorous lines, though to my mind it has lost something in fitness. But English boxing has lost its originality in the knowledge of possible champions, in their training, and in scientific development. In this great sport we are not intense enough, and we have a tendency to await with folded arms the genesis of another Jim Driscoll, the finest exponent of the genuine British school of boxing who has ever stepped into the roped square.

The splendid results of American training is reflected in the expansion of the virtues of stamina, and power of the English boxers who have returned to us after an active tour in the States. Kid Lewis, developed his wonderful punch and his aggressiveness in America, although perhaps he lost something of his classic style and straight left hitting in the process. Freddie Welsh and Matt Wells, too, gained much in boxing and fighting knowledge to help them in their profession. Sometimes it is solely a matter of just timing and instinct for guessing an opponent up when instinct is more rapidly quickened by his more frequent contests over there than would be possible here in England.

A sore point with us, too, is that we cannot produce a heavy-weight boxer of high order. When Fred Fulton met Arthur Townley, the most powerful and the most scientific of our lightweights, there was a spar, a clinch, and when Fulton was sent half a dozen of his swift jabs up against Townley backed away, and then Fulton, extending his massive left arm like a limb of oak, felled him once, twice and Townley seemed to shiver and sank to the boards to be counted out. All our best men steered clear of Fred Fulton when he was over here, even Frank Moran, who is merely a month of staminal resistance defying the ravages of time, had the greatest difficulty in firing up a match with our Joe Beckett. But for all the death of heavy fighters in this country we have still some good men at the lighter weights.

How Do You Walk?

This is not the simple question it appears. Many people now believe that a person's character may be foretold from his method of walking.

Firm, regular steps are said to denote a steady, reliable nature, while jerky, uneven movements indicate the reverse. The energetic person walks quickly and steps suddenly; the dreamer saunters along with slow, abstracted mien.

The obstinate man goes straight ahead, refusing to turn aside for anybody. On the other hand, the person who is ready to "get out" of everybody's way is not necessarily weak-willed. He may be afflicted with too much courtesy.

The long, swinging step usually marks the reticent, broad-minded person, while the small, petty tread shows the walker to be a mean and narrow character. The first rule applies, of course, far more to men than to women.

Jack Dempsey to Visit Montreal

Montreal, Oct. 19.—The National Sporting Club, which controls the Mount Royal Arena here so far as boxing goes, announces that barring accidents, Jack Dempsey, the world's heavyweight champion, will again be seen in Montreal, this time at the arena, on November 3. He will appear against his sparring partner in connection with some other real bouts.

Race For Newsboys

Mayor Schofield, who is always ready to assist in promoting good, clean sport is now taking an interest in the St. John Newsboys, and will give a prize for a road race in which the newsies are to be at their very best. At His Worship's request, A. W. Covey has consented to take hold of the matter and will meet representatives of the local papers at the Standard Office this afternoon at four o'clock, when plans for the race will be discussed and completed.

ON THE DOWN GRADE.

Reports from parts of the United States that prices have started on the down grade will be received by many people with unbounded satisfaction. It was inevitable that the buying people would yield of constantly yielding to cash demands on its pocket and force a break. But a careful examination of the situation may cause some feeling of apprehension even among those who have been most loudly clamoring for a crash of prices.

The most notable announcement was that of the Ford Motor Company, which has cut its prices to those of pre-war days. Then followed the Franklin Automobile Company, which has stated that it has been compelled to lay off 2,000 hands on account of the falling off in the demand for cars. Getting houses and many other big dealers in necessary commodities have announced cuts and the public has been led to believe that similar price reductions are coming in other lines.

Doubtless these reductions have been forced because buyers have refused to follow dealers in the upward race. They stopped cold. But the effect may not be altogether agreeable. The retailer finds his shelves filled with goods which the public will not buy at the prices demanded. The retailer reluctantly passes the word on to the wholesaler who has his warehouses filled with clothing which he must dispose of before he orders more from the factory. The factory has been running full blast, turning out wares at a good profit and passing a share of the proceeds along to the workers who have not been slow to demand more wages on penalty of trying up the plant.

If the price-lowering era has really come what may result? Will the head of a household who has abstained from new garments rush in to replenish his depleted wardrobe? If he does, the storeman will have smiles in place of frowns for the suave travelling man. He will take advantage of the new quotations and rush to his shelves, content that business will go on as usual. The wholesaler will order from the factory and the wheels of industry will keep turning. On the other hand, the ultimate consumer may wait. The new prices may not be attractive. Business cannot be done except on a profit basis, and if the consumer declines to be reasonable the world will get back to the manufacturer, who will reduce his staff or close down entirely until there is a demand for his goods. The clothing operator out of work is in no position to buy goods, and there is a general slackening of all in lines.

Price slashing to honor the buying public cannot go on indefinitely. Some storekeepers and middlemen and fabricators of clothing, boots, and other necessary commodities will have been reaping a golden harvest, but they must have a comfortable margin over cost on what they sell. Eliminate the excess profit and business can go on without loss. But go below the reasonable margin, which is ordinary profit, and the worker must consent to reduced pay if his employer is to keep the concern going. When the "price circles" again appear, with low prices charging low wages, like a pair of quivers in a revolving cage?

After all, there may have been much unnecessary howling about the high cost of living. Are the workers worse off than they were when wages and food and clothing were touching bottom—when a street laborer at $1.26 a day bought his eggs at twelve cents a dozen and his steak for ten and he never cent a pound, with a soup that was thicker than pea soup? We think not. Perhaps the street laborer has other ways. Certainly his present modest remuneration of $4 or $5 a day won't allow many theatre parties, but he probably derives some satisfaction from the spending of his weekly stipend and would hesitate before desiring that he should go back to the 60-cent street epoch.

The great difficulty has been that in these prosperous days there has been a fair distribution of prosperity. The great army of white collar men have seen the cost of living increase 100 to 200 per cent, while most of them have had to content with very modest accretions to their salary cheque. They have been in no position to force increases to compensate for the bounding prices of everything they consume. They have had no apparent prospect and yield to every hand-out of the purveyors of such commodities as they use.

In this connection it is interesting to note the statement made in the September bulletin of the National City Bank of New York that the drop in prices cannot be otherwise than gradual because:

"Every agency that contributes to production is in demand. Labor is in some demand, and wages have risen in consequence. Capital also is in demand, and its wages (interest rates) have risen. Every kind of machinery that will assist in production is in demand; and it is only as these agencies of production are multiplied or made more productive that the supply of necessary commodities for the population can be increased."

SHOOTING "ACCIDENTS."

Without wishing to be in any way vindictive or harsh, we cannot forbear expressing the opinion that a man who through avoidable carelessness causes the death of any person should be made to pay the penalty for his criminal action. It is only by practical lessons of this kind that the need for care can be taught. We are prompted to make these remarks on reading the report of the shooting of a young man in York County by a hunter in mistake for a bear. These shooting accidents happen every year, and will go on happening until some one is made an example of. The man who shot the supposed bear doubtless fired his rifle in the full belief that the object at which he was aiming was in reality a bear, but he did not stay keen enough to make sure. He took a chance, as the saying is, and made a grievous mistake. No doubt he is now filled with remorse, but that does not help matters. His offense is known to British law as culpable homicide, and he should be indicted for manslaughter. Possibly, however, the authorities in this province, knowing the difficulty there always is in getting the average jury to convict, owing to the manifold sympathy which is more often than not felt for the man in the dock, no matter what his crime, feel that to prosecute is but waste of time. The jury takes the view that the offender did not intend any harm, that the effect of his act was accidental and so on. That sort of excuse doesn't go in Britain, and should not go here. There the trialman who carelessly forgets to close the switch and causes an accident which results in loss of life goes to the penitentiary. In this province he is merely dismissed from the service, and forthwith an agitation is commenced to get him reinstated. In legal theory a man is presumed to be responsible for the consequences of his act, but in practice he is not so regarded here. Until he is, and is made to understand this fact, we will never be free from these shooting "accidents." A salutary lesson taught to some of these careless hunters would bring about a change, and a man would soon learn to look twice before he shoots once.

THE TRUTH FOR ONCE.

Moved no doubt by qualms of conscience, The Telegraph on Saturday morning forsook its age-long policy and published an article almost a column in length on the political situation in New Brunswick, under the heading, "Colonel Baxter, new Conservative head, faces difficult task—Premier not strong—Premier is entirely overshadowed by his chief lieutenant, Peter Veniot." The Telegraph said, among other things: "Colonel J. B. M. Baxter, who on the eve of a provincial election, succeeded Mr. J. A. Murray as New Brunswick's Conservative leader, is a prominent St. John lawyer and by no means an amateur in politics. Ten or twelve years ago he was a power in St. John municipal affairs and later made his influence felt in Federal politics; and for the past three or four years he has been the brains of his party both federally and provincially in New Brunswick."

Mr. Baxter's connection with the potato transaction was a very remote one. Certainly it was never shown that he profited financially by it, and perhaps the worst indictment that can be drawn against him is that he was too loyal to his friends.

Personally Premier Foster is a very remote one. Certainly it was never shown that he profited financially by it, and perhaps the worst indictment that can be drawn against him is that he was too loyal to his friends.

SETTLERS FOR NEW BRUNSWICK.

Old Country reports indicate that Dr. Crowman, the new Agent-General for Ontario in London, is doing good work for his province in the way of stimulating interest in it among those who are planning to come to Canada and engage in agriculture. Since his arrival in England in July he has been devoting his energies to the securing of as many of the best settlers as possible for the spring of next year. A report of his activities in the Province, London, states that he has been writing the advertisement of farmers in Ontario with an such income that they have so many inquiries been received at the Agent-General's office as during the present period.

Is the Foster Government taking any steps to bring the advantages of New Brunswick before the people of Great Britain, or do they feel that this province has nothing to offer settlers? We hear nothing of any activities on their part along the line of inducing immigration here.

THE LORD MAYOR.

The unfortunate Lord Mayor of Cork was at first rather a tragic or pathetic figure. Before suspicion was aroused that he was being fed there was much sympathy expressed for him, even by people who abhorred the rebellious and disruptive principles for which he was supposed to be suffering. He has now become comic. He promises to do Sinn Fein grievous harm by turning it into a laughing matter. Suppose this farce is continued indefinitely, what will newspaper readers think when some morning they read an official bulletin to the effect that the Lord Mayor has passed away? The night has entered upon the 100th day of his fast, and remains cheerful? Will not Sinn Feiners fiercely protest against the press giving prominence to such news? The Mail and Empire observes that the Hearst papers which hailed MacSwiney as a greater patriot than Nathan Hale, who regretted that he had but one life to give for his country, now cease to mention the prisoner. When the man is named it is with a smile instead of a sigh. Yet it is the same he is deserving of sympathy. He is like a wretch who has been holding down a balloon rope who has been entangled and carried off the ground. He doesn't let go. The Lord Mayor has soared into the supernatural.

Britain appears to be calmly preparing to face the worst in regard to the strike of coal miners. The outcome most to be feared is the extent to which the strike may spread. If the railway men and other transport workers should quit work, too, the result must necessarily be the dislocation of practically every industry in the country. Already several services have been curtailed to save fuel, and further reductions will probably be made, with a view to easing the situation as much as possible.

The Board of Commerce says that the Canadian refineries have on hand, or coming under contract, $60,000,000 worth of sugar. That is 300,000,000 pounds, or half a year's full consumption. How did the refiners get loaded up with so much, at the top prices? That is a question everyone asks.

A BIT OF VERSE.

HARVEST TIME.
 Pilled and hushed on the silent plain,
 Wrapped in her mantle of golden grain.

Wearied of plouring weeks away,
 Summer is lying asleep today.

Where winds come sweet from the wild rose briars
 And the snuke of the far-off prairie fires.

Yellow her hair as the golden rye,
 And brown her cheeks as the grasses drye.

Purple her eyes as the mists that dream
 At the edge of some laggard sea-drowned stream;

But over their depths the lasses sweep,
 For summer is lying today asleep.

The north wind kisses her rosy mouth,
 His rival trowels in the far-off south.

And comes caressing her sunburnt cheek,
 And summer awakes for one short week.

Awakes and gathers her wealth of grain,
 Then sleeps and dreams for a year again.

Reason for Gratitude.
 Little Edna was visiting the museum with her aunt. In the Egyptian room the child saw the desecrated remains of an ancient Queen and asked what it was.

"That is some one's mummy, dear," replied auntie.

"Goodness!" said Edna. "I'm glad my mummy doesn't look like that."

Avoiding Backlessness.
 "Did you ever try to run for office without a campaign fund?"

"No," answered Senator Sorghum. "I think I could have managed it once or twice. But the effect would have been to give my constituents the idea that I was too impractical to be entrusted with the responsibilities of a great public office."

The Judge Was Stumped.
 Police Judge Cohen, quizzing Sam Jones, accused of assault and battery, asked, "Why did you hit this man?"

"Wha' Judge," the negro began, "what would you all do if some one called you a 'sinky-headed leader'?"

"But I haven't got kinky hair," said the Judge.

"Well," drawled Sam, "what would you all do if he called you the kind of headed leader that you is?"

A ice cream wagon went past last Thursday with the back board of it hanging down loose, and several of the fellows ran after it about 5 blocks in hopes a ice cream freezer, full of ice cream milk fall out without the driver noticing it, say home didnot. Among those running was Benny Potts, Artie Alexander, Leroy Shooter, Fred Stuhlin and Sam Cross.

VILNA OCCUPATION BROKE ARMISTICE ALLIES DECLARE

Note is Sent to the Polish Government Deploring Action of Armies.

London, Oct. 19.—A note with regard to the Vilna situation was handed to the Polish Government Sunday by the French and British representatives in Warsaw, acting simultaneously.

The note declared the Allied governments considered the occupation of Vilna contrary to the armistice with Lithuania concluded through the mediation of the League of Nations, and contrary to the assurances given by Poland to the Allies and the League of Nations. The note is friendly but firm in tone.

Both the governments expressed the opinion that Poland should completely disavow General Zeligowski's action and thus give satisfaction to the League of Nations, whose authority it was pointed out had been shaken. The note said if the situation were not quickly cleared up the British and French Governments would have to consider what further line of action might be necessary.

Natural History Society Annual

Reports Received and Officers Elected—R. B. Emerson the President.

The fifty-eighth annual meeting of the Natural History Society was held last night in the society's building on Ulnia street. The secretary's report was very optimistic, the treasurer's rather gloom. The curator reported on the activities of the society and detailed the large amount of useful work that had been accomplished.

Officers Elected
The following were elected to office for the ensuing year:
R. B. Emerson—President.
Dr. David Hutchinson—First vice.
W. P. Hatheway—Second Vice.
A. Gordon Leavitt—Treasurer.
Wm. McIntosh—Curator and Corresponding Secretary.
W. L. McDermid—Recording Secretary.
Frank B. Ellis—Librarian.

Additional members of council: J. Roy Campbell, T. H. Bessbrook, two additional members to be named at the next meeting of the society.

The following twelve new members were admitted: The society's W. Russell Evans, Raymond Haley, G. G. Hare, Mrs. W. D. Forster, Mrs. C. H. Fiewelling, Mrs. Raymond Haley, Mrs. G. G. Hare, Mrs. Thos. McCaulley, Mrs. G. Wetmore Merritt, Miss Alice Basing, Mrs. Ruse, Mrs. R. L. Smith.

Secretary's Report
The secretary reported that the interest in the society continued very high since the meeting. The members who had fallen away, others had taken their place. It was the aim of the society to make the coming year as active as any of the years which preceded the war. Everything indicated a bright future.

The enrollment of classes was given as follows:
Honorary members ..... 4
Life members ..... 18
Corresponding members ..... 10
Regular members ..... 106
Sustaining members ..... 2
Associate members ..... 172
Junior members ..... 82

Total membership ..... 378

Treasurer's Report
The treasurer, A. Gordon Leavitt, in his report said it would seem quite useless to go into detail regarding the society's insignificant income. It had been done on many previous occasions, but had never yet been productive of anything.

He asked what other organization would attempt to do one-half of what was being done on an income of less than $1,500? The "Special Account" which boasted a credit balance of $2,787.24 at the end of the year 1925-26, has ceased to exist, the $185 now under that head being a "Trust" or "Memorial-Cash Fund," and not available for the general purpose of the society.

The balance of $225.08, in the Bank would be used up when the unpaid bills were attended to. Thanks were due the Provincial Government and the City of St. John for the grants of $500 and $300 respectively (the latter for the stationery for the year less than in previous years), to W. Frank Hatheway, Esq., R. Cochrane, Jr., and Dr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Matthews for kind donations.

Having had the extreme pleasure of worrying over the society's financial affairs for 32 years, he suggested that some other member be selected as treasurer for the incoming year.

After accounts were closed, a kind and most acceptable donation of $50 from the "Ladies' Association" was received.

Curator's Report
A summary of the year's work was submitted by Curator McIntosh as follows:
Number of visitors to the Museum ..... 12,424
Persons visiting office or writing for information ..... 1,007
Farms, gardens or orchards visited ..... 41

Captain Theodore G. Roberts Addressed Canadian Club Members on His Experience.

The members of the Canadian Club were addressed last evening at a luncheon held at Borden, by a son of the province who has attained to considerable prominence amongst the writers of the day, Captain Theodore G. Roberts. The speaker of the evening, the subject of "War Writing," and spoke of his experiences while acting as an official eye witness with the Canadian War Record Office in London.

H. A. Porter, the vice-president of the club, who presided in the absence of the president, A. M. Belding, voiced the latter's regret at his inability to be present. Grace was offered by the Rev. Father Young.

Captain Roberts in beginning his address said that the occasion was the first on which he had accepted the invitation of any body for an address. He had accepted the present invitation as it was one from his own province to which he had returned, and where he hoped to live for many years to come.

In speaking of military writing he intended to deal with the subject from the view point of one who had participated therein during the last war.

Official Eye Witness
Captain Roberts said that it was not until 1915 that he got away from a reserve battalion in England and proceeded as an official eye witness to the front. He went in the capacity of an observer, although not officially styled such. There were very few official observers at the front at the time. He considered his being one to be a stroke of the very best of luck. Although only holding the rank of a subaltern he enjoyed all the privileges of a senior staff officer, and was to a large extent, a free lance.

He continued to hold the position until April '16 when professional journalists were sent out to all the corps.

The captain said he had not been long in France before he realized that his subject could not be treated as it had been in former wars. The engagements covered a wide area that a great part of the information could only be obtained from operation reports. The publishing of the name of the general commanding the division or brigade, or even the name of a colonel of a battalion, were banned as to do so would be conveying information to the enemy.

Handicapped as he was he could write but little, but the position taught him to at least determine the value of what was written by others.

While in France
While in France, the speaker was stationed at the same post as Canon Scott, whom he described as a great writer and a great poet. It was the habit of the latter to feel particularly poetical at breakfast time. He always had a poem or a hymn ready for the moment. If he did not consider it sufficiently poetical he would have it published in order. The speaker did not have sufficient pull to do that, but during this period he wrote "French Warfare" and "Minor Operations."

Captain Roberts said he had seen considerable of General Currie's general orders. They were divided into two classes, one written before a general engagement of which the order before the battle of Cambrai was an example and was a most inspiring message. The other class was that written after an engagement. Currie had the gift in describing an engagement to convey much general information without ever becoming confusing. He considered Currie's fine writings yet which could not be put into history.

Returns to England
One of the duties assigned to the speaker in London was the gathering of information from "war diaries" of which each unit had its own.

It was a common thing to find entries in a unit's diary of "nothing doing" or "all quiet" for a particular date, while all the time it was known at headquarters that considerable action had taken place in the sector in which the unit had been stationed.

In reading the account of an engagement in which two different battalions took part it is a common thing to find the reports very conflicting.

When Captain Roberts was sent to the Canadian War Record Office in London, very few of the officers stationed there had ever seen action in France. Their accounts were much similar to the Daily Mirror variety and did not meet with the approval of the corps in France.

An amusing anecdote was recounted by the speaker concerning Hall Calne. The English writer contributed an article to the third volume of "Canada in Khaki" and took as his subject the March of the First Canadians through London. It was pointed out to the author that the First Contingent had never marched through London, but he insisted that the theme was an inspiring one, and moreover he was more familiar with the topography of London than of Salisbury Plain, and refused to alter the account.

The volume contained other similar writings by noted English writers, amongst whom was Marie Corelli, so that the book could not be printed as an official work.

Although the speaker was responsible for holding up Hall Calne's work, one thought it was Charles G. D. Roberts, his older brother who had done so, and wrote a warm letter to him. Altho' the manner in which his style had been condemned.

Canada in Flanders.

In speaking of the first volume of Canada in Flanders, Captain Roberts said there was considerable question as to whether Beaverbrook had written it or not. He asserted his hearsays that the latter was capable of doing

Francis J. Rafferty.
Francis J. Rafferty died Monday night of heart trouble at his residence on Rothesay avenue. Mr. Rafferty was 51 years of age and leaves a wife, two brothers, James Rafferty, of Milltown, and William Rafferty, of St. John, and one sister, Mrs. Wm. Patterson, of New York, to mourn. Mr. Rafferty was widely known and respected and held the position of county councillor and was a member of the board of school trustees for Colbrook. The funeral will be held from his residence at nine o'clock tomorrow morning.

IN CHANCERY COURT.

An interesting judgment was given yesterday morning in Chancery by Sir Douglas Hazen, Chief Justice, in the matter of Frank I. Shortall vs. Helen Gramman, concerning a question as to the rights of each of a sum of money amounting to about $1,100 on deposit in a Fredericton bank. The case had been argued at Fredericton, Mr. Winslow appearing for the plaintiff, Mr. Feeney for the defendant. Judgment was given yesterday morning for the plaintiff.

The action was brought by the plaintiff as executor of the late Owen Shortall, contending that the money which was in an account under the joint names of the deceased and his wife, was his, and that the latter, under gift by will. The court found that there was no gift inter vivos, no transfer or property by way of trust, and that the gift was not to take effect until the donor's death and was therefore testamentary in its character. The court held that the plaintiff must succeed.

The Hand and the Brain.

The hand never will run the brain for any time. In moments of madness when it does it destroys itself. Labor of the hand which topsy-turvy theorists would set up to rule must always be directed by the conceiving and planning mind. By this alone can the hand exist. The hand can conceive only the simplest necessities. Labor without capital and direction must dwell in the cave of the primitive man. When it seeks to rule it wipes out what makes labor endurable, and in the process of the human has brought labor out of darkness to a great and growing share in the rewards of civilization.—Chicago Tribune.

so. He himself had written a considerable portion of it. Beaverbrook wrote the rest.

Captain Roberts said that while in France he had written a war story for the Youth's Companion describing the experiences of the 26th Battalion. Because of the magazine's wide circulation amongst the youth of the United States he considered it one of the best pieces of propaganda he had written. The magazine was almost the only American publication which would handle the story which dealt with the war prior to '18 and the entry of the Americans into the war.

In closing the Captain dwelt on the poetry of the war. Very few poems, he said, were written by poets while actively engaged. Those who did attempt to write made some miserable failures, but there were exceptions, as in the case of Colonel MacRae and Canon Scott.

In concluding Captain Roberts read one of his own poems on the arrival of the First Contingent in England. The work appealed to the hearers and he was warmly applauded.

Politics in the Home.

A smart paragrapher remarks that it is now in order to amend the marriage ceremony by inserting after the word "obey" a clause reading: "Reserving the right to vote in accordance with my political convictions." Has the enfranchisement of women introduced a new element of discord into family life? Let us hope not. There are enough now—in some families—without adding political disputes. It has long been regarded as wise for people of strong religious convictions to marry in their own faith. Will the same idea prevail as to political views? Contentions over party matters will not add to the peace of any family with the newspapers constantly bringing inflammatory matter to the home—Omana Bee.

Women's League Of Nations Meet

International Council of Women of Christiania—United for Universal Peace.

LYDIA STURTELL, COMMANDER. (Green-Atlantic newspaper Service.) London, Oct. 19.—The women's League of Nations is another new one started. It was formed in Washington in 1888 and after 32 years it has been holding before humanity the ideal of international peace. The official name of this organization is The International Council of Women, and its leader for over twenty years has been its present President, the Marchioness of Aberdeen and Temair, formerly Vice-Roy of Canada.

During the war, the international work of the Council was stopped. It was impossible for the women of countries in conflict to get together. But the National Councils of the various countries, of which twenty-two are in the Federation, were active in their various homelands.

Now that peace even a troubled peace, has again been established, the international activities are to be resumed. At present the women of the twenty-four federated countries are meeting at Christiania, the Capital of Norway, to review their activities and to plan their work for the future. Their deliberations are being directed by Lady Aberdeen, a really great woman, and who from long experience, and noble with the mobility that comes only from many years of selfless service.

Plenary of League.

"We of the International Council fully realize the value of the League of Nations because we were the pioneers of that idea," she explained. "The real value of the League of Nations is that it gives time for consideration before war can be entered upon. Just as we are told that an angry person should count a hundred before speaking, so the League of Nations would give pause to countries inflamed with rage."

"Once war is declared, the women of all countries must support it until it is before the declaration of war that there is an opportunity for maintaining peace. If, in 1914, all countries had been compelled to wait three weeks before beginning to fight, there would have been no war."

"The reason we women the world over are so much devoted to that which we regard as our sacred duty, is that we have carried out the inspiration that carried us, and that we hope to our hearts that helped us through all the trying time was that this was a war to end war. War is peculiarly hateful upon women and destructive of all they hold dear—home, family, security. While women are active in doing war work, their purpose is principally to uphold their men."

"It is significant that the first thing that the women of all countries agreed upon was the work for international peace. This was decided when the International Council was first organized in 1888."

United Upon Reforms.

"The International Council includes women of all nations and all countries who are organized to work in any line. Upon these points are all united: To work for universal peace, against the White Slave Traffic, for Equal Suffrage for men and women."

"The International Council was a splendid suggestion—so broad, so high. The group who first planned it were earnest and far seeing women, among them Miss Susan B. Anthony, Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Miss Francis Willard, Mrs. May Wright Sewall and Mrs. Foster Avery."

Asked to state the exact purposes of the Council Lady Aberdeen gave these two:

1. To provide means of communication and common action between women of all countries.
2. To bring together women from all parts of the world to confer upon questions relating to the welfare of

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. ### SOME BREAD AND BUTTER.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 19.—Although better to serve 255,000 loaves of bread was produced in Manitoba this year, according to J. A. Gibson, provincial dairy commissioner. Of 8,250,000 pounds produced, 4,100,000 has been exported, he stated.

The commonwealth, the family and the individual. "We women of all nations sincerely believing that the best good of humanity will be advanced by greater sympathy of thought, sympathy and purpose, and that an organized movement of women will best conserve this high good of the family and the State do hereby band ourselves together in a confederation of workers to further the application of the Golden Rule to society, custom and law."

The Council founded in 1883 received its first great impetus at its second meeting at the World's Fair in Chicago in 1893. There enthusiasm was kindled, and from there the women of all nations went home to start Councils in their own countries.

No German Delegates.

"Will the German women be present at Christiania?" I asked. "They have a strong National Council and the International met in Berlin in 1904."

"We consider the German women have taken a very reasonable and dignified position in regard to the Council," was the reply. "The German National Council have decided upon the following points:

1. To retain their membership in the International Council.
2. To send all reports of their standing Committees to the International Council.
3. Not to send official delegates to Christiania unless Germany has before September been invited to join the League of Nations.

"Thus they are loyal to their own country, yet are ready to co-operate with others as soon as the opportunity offers."

"We hope for much from the coming meeting. The wonderful change achieved in the position of women in most countries will bring fresh strength and opportunity to the International Council of Women when it meets at Christiania to take up the threads of its work. The Norwegian National Council, a very strong and representative body of women under the leadership of Fru Njko Hambro, made preparations for the reception of their guests with an activity and foresight which commands success."

"I sincerely hope that all the women who can will attend. It is my strong desire to impress upon the women of all countries and those holding the most diverse views, that it needs only the general support of women all over the world to make this International Women's Parliament this Women's League of Nations, an agency through which women can keep in touch with their sisters of all nations for the benefit of all concerned."

RAN A MINT IN THE JAIL

Prisoner Who Talked Too Much Gets New Term in the Prison.

Topaka, Kan., Oct. 19.—The old ad saying that "where there is a will there is always a way" was illustrated in the federal court at Leavenworth, Kan., yesterday, when Frank E. Creller was convicted of making counterfeit money in the prison, and his sentence was extended.

One would suppose that it would be impossible to make counterfeit dollars in the United States penitentiary, but Creller found a way. And his "mint" was his work shop, testified, that the coin could only be detected by the "ring" test. Not only did he make "silver dollars" but quarters and halves.

Creller was an expert electrician. He asked the warden for a workshop in the rear of the boilers in the basement. By crawling over the boilers, he was able to locate his "mint" in a narrow space where detection was not probable.

How he made the moulds remains a mystery, but they appeared to have been cast in his workshop. The moulds obtained, the problem of material for the "mint" presented itself.

About the prison are many large cables heavily coated with lead. A little scraped from the cables would not be missed and could be carried to the "mint" in the pockets of a prisoner's clothes. But now the silver coating. There are many silver knives and forks at the prison in need of repolishing. He asked to fix them and so obtained chemicals necessary. Permission was granted, thereby solving the final problem. Chemicals for the repolishing were obtained from the prison laboratory.

This little by little the "mint" was equipped. But all the money Uncle Sam makes would be of no value if it did not circulate, and Creller found he must first circulate his "bogus" coin. He could not leave the prison but he found a negro trusty who could and confided his secret to him.

"Sell these coins for 60 cents on the dollar in Kansas City the next time you are sent there," Creller is alleged to have advised the negro. The negro instead, told the warden. The mint was discovered and the further length of time Creller must spend in the prison now rests with Judge Pollock, who will pass sentence next week.

WEST TO DEHORN CATTLE.

Edmonton, Alta., Oct. 19.—That all the cattle in Alberta may soon belong to the hornless variety is a possibility disclosed during a recent quarterly meeting of the Edmonton Livestock Exchange. A campaign is shortly to be put in throughout the province to get all the farmers to dehorn their cattle.

It is claimed that the animals feed, sell and ship better when dehorned. The practice has been extensively followed in the United States.

This Leaves the Arms Free From Hairy Growths

(Toilet Talks)

A simple method for completely removing every trace of hair or fuzz is here given. This is painless and usually a simple treatment will banish even stubborn growths. To remove hairs, make a thick paste with some powdered salicylic acid and water, spread on hairy surface and after about two minutes rub off. Wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This method will not mar the skin, but to avoid disappointment, be certain you get delicate.

GOOD ADVICE TO A DYSPYPTIC

Give the Stomach Help to Digest Food and to Obtain the Best Tendency to Acidity. Use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

The wholesome advice to start your way to stomach health is mighty poor judgment. Only the most robust constitution can stand such a strain. If you cannot eat, if what you eat causes your indigestion follows certain foods that cause heartburn, sour stomach, or gasiness, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a prescription blank when patients are distressed with frequent attacks of indigestion.

They furnish the alkaline effect to offset acidity of the stomach and also pancreatic to aid intestinal digestion of starchy foods.

Get a 60 cent box at any drug store, eat what you enjoy, take a tablet or two after meals and thus avoid the distress due to indigestion or dyspepsia.

COUGAR HUNTING WESTERN SPORT

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 19.—Cougar stalking in a large city is the latest sport. Many reputable residents of the East End reported seeing a large cougar prowling about at night, destroying cats. The police department, at first skeptical, have formally taken cognizance of the animal. Several hunting parties were organized but without result. So many small boys accompany these parties that police officials declare it will be impossible to do any shooting if the cougar is encountered; and that the only safe way will be to fall on him and choke him to death.

PROFEERING BARBER FORCED TO DISGORGE

New York, Oct. 19.—A proferring, disreputable barber was compelled to disgorge by an enlightened magistrate today. David Schaeffer of Bridgeport, dropped in a large shop and had several things done to his beard and face. When he handed the barber $5.00 the cash register clicked $5.00 and Schaeffer, standing there empty handed, became angry. On the advice of the police the barber was summoned to court. In self defence he displayed the items for which he was charged. Schaeffer could not remember all these things, but upon Magistrate Sweetser advised the barber to return the Bridgeport man $3. The barber took his advice.

THERE IS SUCH BEAUTY.

There is such beauty in so many things, Earth, sea and sky such radiance wear— Such music 'n' the songs the lutes sing, Such harmony of color everywhere— I wonder men, so busy with their care, The loud complaint, the moment's bickerings, Lift not their eyes and find the beauty there, But cease the antics that God has given wings.

There is such beauty in the trail we follow, Although I follow valleys, follow hills— The velvet petal of the rose of red, The tender cadence of the woodland rill— I wonder men think only of their ill, With hopeless hearts come creeping to their bed, Because today they might not have their will, The while tomorrow crimson o'er, heart

There is such beauty in the thing we do, Our task how humble or our task how great— To dream, to dare, to plan, to see it through, To serve ourselves, and yet to serve the State— I wonder men can covet, men can hate, Nor catch the larger vision, larger view: Our common labor linked, our common fate, A brotherhood of me, and you, and you.

There is such beauty near to you, to me, We need not look afar afield to find— The throbbing pulse of mighty industry, The common purpose of the common mind— I wonder men can look and be so blind, Behold the man and not humanity, Can be but selves, who might be one, If men would only lift their eyes, and see.

Deplore Excess In Dress and Dance

Some of the Resolutions Discussed at International Council Meeting in Norway.

Matters of great importance were discussed at the bi-annual meeting of the International Council of Women, held at Christiania and to which Miss Gurneal of New Glasgow is a delegate.

Each evening was largely attended and great interest shown. A number of interesting resolutions were brought before the meeting for adoption.

Citizenship of Women. A resolution from Australia urged that an effort be made to include one woman among the three delegates allowed each country in the general Assembly of the League of Nations.

A resolution submitted from the United States asked that any woman married to an alien be allowed to retain her native citizenship, or become naturalized, she so wishes, irrespective of the nationality of her husband. It also asked that all women who have lost their native citizenship by marriage be allowed to resume this by formal application before a court competent to naturalize.

One of the principal matters up for discussion was the League of Nations. There were seven resolutions bearing on this and all favor the league. The women of Norway are urging the formation of an international bureau of education in connection with the League of Nations. They are doing this under the conviction that the basis of a truer and fuller education of the people of the world is the only basis for a permanent peace.

"As all questions relating to children are educational questions, and all children to juvenile courts are school children, we recommended," read one of the resolutions from the United States. "That supervision of all children outside the home be placed under the jurisdiction of the educational system, and that the juvenile probation and all reformatory institutions for children be under the charge of the educational system."

From the women of Norway was a resolution touching on the endowment of mothers: "That the International Council of Women support the principle of endowment of mothers. Mothers who have their children with them ought to be secured a fixed minimum income in proportion to the number of their children. The difference between this minimum income and that of their household should be paid out of government or municipal funds, or out of both conjointly. Effective control should secure that this endowment should be expended exclusively for the benefit of mothers and children."

New South Wales also had a resolution supporting the principle of the endowment of motherhood and asking for financial aid to mothers of families where the wage is inadequate, the feeding poor and ill-health of children.

The National Council of Great Britain and Ireland had the following resolution: "That in view of the great benefits that have accrued to America from the experience of local notes another resolution which is option in that country, the Interna-

REDUCE PRICES OR BE INDICTED IS ULTIMATUM

Boston Attorney Launches His Campaign to Force Hotel Managers to Cut Bills.

Boston, Oct. 19.—Hotel men who appeared before United States Attorney Gallagher today to discuss the high prices being charged for food in their dining rooms offer no remedy for conditions, and the federal attorney served notice on them that unless prices were scaled down shortly he would seek to have them indicted.

"They were losing money, the hotel men said. Overhead costs were eating up all the differences between the cost of commodities and the menu prices, and more. 'Overhead,' exclaimed United States Attorney Gallagher, 'that's all I hear.'

"I want to tell you frankly gentlemen that if you don't reduce prices, I shall ask the grand jury to indict you. Overhead, yes, the prices are over the heads of your customers."

John P. Feeney, appearing for the Boston hotelmen's association said he wished to have one of the local managers tell about overhead expenses and other reasons why prices could not be reduced.

Mr. Gallagher said there was "not much nourishment in hearing why prices can't be brought down," adding that "when you pay $1 for three ounces of roast beef and 25 cents for a boiled potato the public is certainly entitled to have prices lowered."

Attorney Feeney asserted all hotel restaurants in this city were being run at a loss, and mentioned again the burden of overhead charges.

Attorney Gallagher said that in every country where the sale of liquor is carried on a similar power should be granted to its citizens.

The International Standing Committee on equal moral standard brought in a lengthy resolution bearing on the subject of public health, the study of the best means to combat the spread of venereal diseases, under the same section being introduced the proposal by the National Council of Women of the United States: "That the International Council of Women deprecates the recent shameful excess in dress and dancing which are widely tolerated in so-called polite society in many lands, and which are distinctly increasing immorality."

Consider Motion Pictures. "Believing that the motion pictures is one of the greatest factors in the education of the masses today, and realizing that this potent influence may be directed into channels of greatest usefulness to the peoples of the world, it is hereby resolved that the International Council of Women do establish a standing Cinematograph committee to encourage better film and educational film movements in all countries; to receive and disseminate information and otherwise function as may be deemed wise; notes another resolution which is down for consideration.

AMERICANS FIGHT DEEP SEA ROUTE VIA ST. LAWRENCE

New York, Oct. 19.—Opponents of the proposed deep sea route through the St. Lawrence River appeared here today before International Joint Commission. Appearing in behalf of the New York Chamber of Commerce, Wm. McCarroll opposed the project on the ground that "past statistical records relating to freight shipments fail to justify the tremendous expenditure involved, which he estimated to be between $500,000.00 and $500,000.000.

McCarroll declared that such a route would be competing with other "much quicker freight and water routes." As the traffic would be "largely one way and seasonal," consisting of grain, he argued that there was no assurance that it would be a profitable investment.

The mold of a man's fortune is in his own hands.

"You know my father had a nervous breakdown when he was my age."

has it done me? Perhaps I have had a night's rest occasionally as a result, but certainly no permanent benefit."

"That is just the point. You have sought relief by deadening the nerves instead of restoring them. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food works on an entirely different principle. It forms new, rich blood, and nourishes the depleted nerve cells back to health and vigor."

"That sounds good to me."

"Because the Nerve Food works in this natural way you cannot expect much change after the first box or two. It takes a little time to build up an exhausted nervous system, but if you have a little patience the results will make it worth your while."

"I will follow your advice, for I have been terribly oppressed of late by the hopeless outlook. I know you would not recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food unless you felt sure it would restore my health, so I shall do my part and give it a thorough trial."

CONDEMNED MAN SECURED ACQUITTAL Verdict of Murder Cancelled on Second Trial in New York Court.

New York, Oct. 19.—Because of a technical doubt as to the identification of the prisoner, Judge Rosinsky today in general sessions ordered a jury to acquit Frank Flanagan, 24 years old, at his second trial on an indictment charging Flanagan with shooting and killing Patrick McKeown, a bartender, in the hold-up of a moon at Park avenue and 118th street, 18 months ago. Flanagan was found guilty of murder in the first degree by a jury a year ago, and spent eight months in the death house at Sing Sing.

HEIRLOOMS PROVE TO BE RUBENS Pictures in Family for Many Years Discovered to be Very Valuable.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 19.—A Rubens painting, declared by connoisseurs to be a perfect and marvellous example of the great masters, has been discovered in Vancouver in a humble residence on the outskirts of the city. Several other paintings of extraordinary interest, including a supposed Claude and a supposed Gainsborough, keep it company. Photographs of the Rubens painting are now on their way to Ottawa and New York to bring the existence of the painting to the attention of the Ottawa Government and of art lovers in the American city.

There was a time when the world's rubber crop was the gift of the Amazon territory. Today rubber is cultivated on vast plantations in the Indian Ocean territory at a cost lower than the wild rubber of the Amazon can be produced. The production of the present year has been as follows:

Upon Judge Rosinsky's instructions the jury gave a verdict of acquittal without leaving the box. Through he had heard the words that set him free, Flanagan apparently was not satisfied. He asked permission to address the court, and when he received it, he launched out into an attack on Assistant District Attorney Brothers, that made Judge, jury, and spectators sit up in surprise. Declaring that the prosecuting officer had slandered him, he asserted he never would have been brought to trial had not Brothers brought in unsworn testimony. The court, indignant at the attorney's boldness and demanded an immediate apology.

Normally speaking, the British and Dutch control the world's production of rubber. Only one American concern, the United States Rubber Co., has any considerable plantations in the Far East. America consumes 7 per cent of the rubber of the world. The foregoing figures show there is this year an overproduction of approximately 20 per cent. If the present depression in the automobile industry in this country continues long this overproduction would be greater, but the best business men in the rubber business declare that within a few years the capacity of the plantations will be taxed to the limit to meet the world's demands.

Mr. Robert Warwick will make his appearance in 'The Damned Three,' a new vehicle at the Adelphi theatre in Philadelphia. It has been announced in that city. No date is listed for the opening of the production.

SUGAR FELL TO 84, BUT CLIMBS TO 96 POINTS

Brompton and Spanish Move up to Higher Levels on Moderate Trading.

Montreal, Oct. 13.—Whilst an inclination to recede was very evident in the early trading today on the local stock exchange, this was offset by a strong upward movement in the afternoon which left prices in some cases with very substantial gains. One of the most prominent stocks in which this action was observable was Albin Sugar which dipped to a new low for the movement of 84. Here the effect of short covering became evident and the price sharply recovered the morning's loss and continued up a further five points to 96 with the close at the best. 95 7/8 was bid for more stock but with none on offer under 95.

Brompton and Spanish

Brompton and Spanish moved slightly although to a much less noticeable degree. The former moved off to 78, then rallied to 77 1/2, closing at the best, a net gain of 3 1/2 points. Spanish Common advanced to 105 3/4, rallied to 107 and also closed at the best, up 4 points. Spanish preferred, however, opened a point down at 111 and lost a further point at 110. Laurentide eased a fraction early and finished two points up at 108. ABBTBI was strong from the start, opening 73 1/2, advancing to 76 and closing 75 1/2 up 1 1/2 points.

Merger Stocks Weak

Merger stocks were weak. Steamship dropping 3/4 point at 62 and Iron Bridge 3/4 points to a new low for the movement at 50 1/2 on fears of a strike of Nova Scotia miners. Dominion Steel preferred lost 1 3/4 at 63 3/4. Other weak issues took in Ames preferred which a small lot sold down 3 points to 82 and B. C. Flaming, recently inactive which lost 3 1/2 points at 45 3/8. Total sales, listed 9,030, bonds $28,500.

WALL STREET IS ON FIRMER BASE IN MOST STOCKS

Payrolls in Cotens Show Market Falling off During September.

New York, Oct. 13.—The stock market was on a more stable basis today, although the aimless drift of prices during the early and intermediate periods continued to reflect economic readjustments at home and abroad. Labor unrest in England, arising from the coal strike and demonstrations of the unemployed, caused further weakness in foreign exchange, with the rate for British demand bills falling almost to 33.40 to the pound sterling. A significant sidelight on domestic industrial conditions was seen in the averaging wage construction for September, pay rolls in several lines of cotton and kindred manufacturers showing declines of 2 to almost 40 per cent.

Investments Better

Encouragement was found in the bestment situation, however, several new domestic and foreign flotations being over-subscribed. It was also announced that a $20,000,000 loan to Denmark is soon to be consummated. Withdrawal through the local Federal Reserve Bank of some $30,000,000 of treasury funds had no visible effect on the money market. Call money was plentiful at 7 per cent, and even 6 per cent, below the close, but commercial paper was in light demand.

Where Strength Lay

Oils, shippings, tractions and sugars furnished much of the day's limited movement. Utilities were bought on a favorable legal decision in Philadelphia relating to higher rates, while sugars were responsive to measure now under way to relieve acute conditions in Cuba. Few of the noteworthy gains at the firm close included United Fruit, Mexican Petroleum, Nickel Plate, Sears-Roebuck, Reading and Retail Stores. Sales amounted to 285,000 shares. Bonds were active, particularly during the early trading. Liberty issues yielding with the prominent rate and industrials, but some of the lost ground was recovered in the final dealing. Total sales, par value, aggregated $13,200,000.

Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

CANADA'S TRADE SHOWS BIG GAIN LAST SIX MONTHS

Customs Increase $261,251,781 During Six Months of Fiscal Year.

Ottawa, Oct. 13.—Figures issued today from the Department of Customs show an increase in the grand total of Canadian trade for the first half of the fiscal year amounting to $220,330,000, as compared with the same period of a year ago. During the six-month period of the present year, which ended on the 30th of September last, the grand total of Canadian trade was $1,274,576,592. During the first half of 1931 fiscal year the grand total was $1,054,246,462. Goods were imported into Canada during the six months ended on September 30 to the total value of $713,912,410.

When this total is compared with the figures for the same period last year an increase of $261,251,781 for the present year is shown. The imports for the first six months of the last fiscal year amounted to only $451,760,410.

Although Canada increased her imports and the value of commodities brought into this country is much greater than it was during the six months of the last fiscal year, this cannot be said for the exports. The statement shows that the value of domestic merchandise exported from this country during the six-month period in 1932 was $366,623,283 less than during the same period in 1931. The total value of domestic exports outside of this country during the six-month period, while in 1931 it was $579,443,075.

COUNTERFEIT BANK OF ENGLAND NOTES BEING CIRCULATED

Scotland Yard Looking for Forgers—Notes Defy Detection Except by Experts.

By SYDNEY B. CAVE. (Copyright, 1932, by Cross-Atlantic.) London, Oct. 13.—Scotland Yard is endeavoring to track a mysterious gang of forgers who recently put into circulation large quantities of spurious notes, mostly five pound notes of the Bank of England. Large numbers were caught in Dublin and Belfast, and at recent race meetings in England and in the larger provincial cities. The notes are exceedingly well made and defy detection by any one except experts. Raids on criminal dens in London's east end have given no clues. The police have the conviction that the work was done on the continent and smuggled into England.

HARSH EXPERIENCE IN COUNTRY PARISH

English Rector Hounded Members of Flock Frivolous Charges

London, Oct. 13.—The peaceful domestic life of the village parsonage of Goldsmith in "The Village Parson" has long been a thing of the past in England. Now all is the "soft" and "easy" and the parsonage is the most suspected place in the kingdom. To prove this contention, the Edward R. Symonds, rector of a parish in a "Country Parson" account was told by the Consistory Court "frivolous charges." He went to a parson with $30,000 in the bank and a reputation of being a quiet man, he says, he is not worth a cent, the former having been up in Mayor's Court.

Mr. Symonds declares his intention to have been: "I am not a parson, I am a man. I am not a parson, I am a man. I am not a

HARSH EXPERIENCE IN COUNTRY PARISH

English Rector. Hounded by Members of Flock With Frivolous Charges.

London, Oct. 15.—The peaceful, placid life of the village parson depicted by Goldsmith in "The Vicar of Wakefield," has long been a thing of the past in England. Now all is scandal and confusion, and the parson is longed to the most suspected class of men in the kingdom.

To prove this contention, the Rev. Edward E. Synnot, rector of Ruspur, has written a book, "Five Years Hell in a Country Parish." Recently he was tried by the Consistory Court on "frivolous charges." He went to Ruspur with $30,000 in the bank and every expectation of leading a quiet life.

Mr. Synnot declares his imaginary charges to have been: "I sang too loudly. Did not sing in style. Raced through the service like a man about to catch a train."

There are no fidgets of Troy in Ruspur. Some there are who, denied beauty of face and form, made themselves still more repellent by their tights, words and deeds. Long hours spent in idle and venal gossip seem to leave a mark on their skin and nasal passages.

"Some countries are Ruspur, some are a home of gossip," says the rector in his chapter on the title-catch about a jeweled cross alleged to have been worn by him, redeemed and pawned again.

But, he adds, there is a cross in the rector's life: "In my own private cross made by the gossipers 'to have been which I propose to bear until I have exposed and stamped out some of the gossiping and its attendant evils from the parishes of England."

CUBAN SUGAR MARKET IS GAINING STRENGTH

One Cent Per Pound Gain in Prices is the New Figure.

New York, Oct. 19.—Ever since the ratification was declared in Cuba about a week ago confidence has been gradually reviving in the sugar market and a slightly better demand has developed.

An announcement that New York banking interests would help in financing Cuba caused a further improvement in the tone of the market today, and recent gains in raw sugar were followed by the first advance in refined sugar in many months.

So far one cent has gained a new price. This was an advance of a cent a pound to the basis of 13 cents.

MANY GUNMEN BID TOPEKA FAREWELL

Famous "Home of Crooks" to be Closed to Them and Their Kind Now.

Toledo, Ohio, Oct. 19.—Topeka Joe, St. Louis Jim, the Buffalo Wop, and scores of other well known gunmen shook hands tonight with their guns and other companions preparatory to their flight to destinations that will be decided by fortune or some other agent, for Toledo no longer will admit a shadow to Topeka and his kind, as the order went out today that "crooks must go."

Two hundred police officers were called before Geo. P. Greenbush, newly appointed safety director, this evening, and ordered to clean the safe drawers, post office and bank robbers out of the city, Greenbush, a colonel in the world war, said to his lieutenants: "Don't care whether the lawbreakers be your friend or my friend, whether they be worth a million or a penny, get 'em."

Toledo has been justly known as "The Home of the Crooks," for the last twenty years. In fact ever since the days when Brand Whitlock was mayor. The statement has been denied, but during the last week or so there has been a thorough investigation by the police safety director which not only showed that crooks had a haven here, but also were promised protection by heads of the police department. Every one of the five patrolmen took a new oath to go out and do his duty.

GENEROUS LIFE

By Edgar A. Guest

I have known the green trees and the blue overcast, and the blossoms of spring and the creaminess they shed; I have known the blue sea, and the mountains afar; and the song of the pines and the light of a star;

And should I pass now, I could say with a smile, That my pilgrimage here has been much worth my while. I have known the warm handclasp of friends who were true, I have shared in their pleasures and wept with them, too; I have heard the gay laughter which sweeps away care, and none of the troubles I've made could I spare;

And should this be all, I could say, ere I go, That life is worth while just such friendships to know. I have built a home where we've loved and been glad, I have known the rich joy of a girl and a lad; I have had their caresses through storm and through strife, and washed them grow lovely and claimed them as mine; and I think as I hold them at night on my knee, That life has been gloriously generous to me.

Recent Charted. Torn schooner Minnie King sailed from Parrsboro last week for New York, and will afterwards go into the Gulf, where she is chartered to load three cargoes of hard pine for the north side of Cuba. Schooner Ononette, Capt. Longmire, has been chartered to carry coal from New York to Halifax. J. Willard Smith is local agent.

Ready For Sea. The Canadian Runner, of the C. G. M. M., has completed loading lumber at Campbellton and was expected to sail yesterday for a port in the United Kingdom.

The Canadian Slinger, with a cargo of lumber, was ready to sail yesterday for the United Kingdom from Newcastle, and the Canadian Hunter was expected to arrive in Newcastle yesterday to load lumber. The C. G. M. M. expects that this will close the season's sailings from these ports so far as their vessels are concerned.

Was in Collision. Four-masted schooner Cumberland Queen, of Parrsboro, was run into in St. George's Channel by a steamer and had her bowsprit, jibboom and all gear carried away and badly damaged about the bow. She was towed into Liverpool on October 11th. She left Preston, England, on the 21st inst., and was bound in ballast for Jacksonville, Florida, to load hard pine for Port of Spain, Trinidad.

Launched into Sand. Capt. A. J. Mulcahy has returned from Port Daniel, Que., where he had been on important business. On the 1st of October a three-masted schooner, the Mina Nadeau, 327 tons, left Port Daniel for Mr. Nadeau's place, and Mr. Tyer, Halifax. Unfortunately the tide did not rise to the anticipation of the builders, and the schooner went into the sand instead of into the water. In this predicament the underwriters of Halifax engaged Capt. Mulcahy to visit Port Daniel and the schooner. For two weeks the captain has been at the Quebec port, but with the position she was in, there was no tide that could float her. A supreme effort will be made during the high tides of October 23-25, and by means of pontoons Capt. Mulcahy hopes to float the vessel without injury. The schooner is chartered to sail at Port Daniel for Cuba. She is fully insured.

Theft Case In Police Court

John Lane, Charged With Robbing Indian — Eight Drunks Fined $8 Each. The matinee witness followed the highway was a busy one in the police court yesterday. Eight men charged with drunkenness pleaded guilty and were fined $8 each or two months in jail, while two who were arrested for drunkenness and put up deposits, did not appear, forfeited their deposits.

Run With Money

The complainant testified that he had gone to a house owned by one Dobson on City Road, Saturday afternoon. While there he took $30 out of his pocket, which the accused had stolen and run out of the house with. Another Indian was in the house with the witness at the time, named Dominick Bradford, and also May Dobson. The witness, on being cross-examined by the defendant, denied having asked him for a corkscrew. He had no money when he came to the city, but had been paid $41 for any handles by Emerson & Fisher, $11 of which he put in his hip pocket.

Mrs. John Lane, wife of the accused, said she came home from work at four o'clock Saturday afternoon. On entering the house she met her husband and the Indian, the latter had a bottle of gin and a corkscrew in his hand, which he wanted to open. Her husband would not let him do so, but ordered him out of the house, and when he refused to go, put him out. Later her husband went out to do some shopping. The Indian looked as though he had been drinking. He had brought the gin to the house and took it away with him when he left.

In answer to Detective Biddiscombe's witness said that when the detective came to her house Saturday night there were four Indians there. They had a bottle of liquor, which the witness emptied into the sink as soon as she heard a knock. She did so as she did not want to get into any trouble while her husband was in jail.

The men had been to the house before, but it was the first time they had ever brought liquor. She had never seen the Indian prior to Saturday.

Will Leave City. May Dobson, the next witness for the defense, stated that she had heard a racket upstairs and went up to see what the trouble was. She saw the Indian with a sealed long-neck in his hand. He wanted to open it, but the boss of the house would not let him and put him out.

The judge interrupted the witness to ask if the had not been let out of jail but two weeks ago after getting into a scrape in which her mother and the defendant, Lane, were also involved. The witness admitted that she had, and had consented to leave the city and have no more to do with Lane if allowed her freedom.

The judge—"I thought so; take that down in writing." The case was postponed for three days to admit the calling of further witnesses.

WILL PURCHASE FLYING MACHINE. Young Business Man Claims Not Enough Room on Road for Automobile. A prominent business man of the city, who for the present wishes his identity kept under cover, is getting into the various makes of airplanes, their speed capabilities and general characteristics when traveling the air routes with a view to purchasing one.

He is not a high flier by any means, but he would like to have some method of locomotion so as not to be bothered by the rule of the road, and be able to traverse where there is plenty of space and no danger of collision. The gentleman is a keen automobile enthusiast, who enjoys the exhilarating sport of a trip over the country roads when he is behind the wheel, and there is no pesky cow or some other road hog blocking the way.

He regards the rule of the road as more or less of a nuisance to a man making time and thinks he should be permitted to pass another vehicle on the side that best suits him. One of these things will bother him floating along in his airplane. Going up!

THE WOMEN'S HOSPITAL AID. Regular meeting Thursday, 3 o'clock, Board of Trade.

Weather Conditions Most Remarkable

Rainfall This Month Only 0.44 Inches—Temperature Comparatively High. If the town Indian planner is not more practical than real, it might well apply to the weather conditions prevailing this remarkable October. While the term "Indian Summer" from a meteorological standpoint is somewhat indefinite, it cannot be denied that in some years there occurs in autumn a spell of peculiar weather. It is claimed by some that such a spell appears in September, that it comes in October; that it occurs in November, or not at all. However, it is defined by unusual warmth, brightness and smokeless, and lasting for several weeks at some specified time, then Indian Summer actually occurs, but if it is defined by a few days of slightly greater warmth than emphasizes the general perfection of our autumn, then Indian Summer nearly always occurs.

Remarkable Weather

Up to this date most remarkable and pleasant weather conditions have been prevailing, the rainfall of only 0.44 inch to date is abnormally small, particularly as practically the whole amount fell in the first day of the month. There has also been an unusual amount of bright sunshine and temperature conditions comparatively high. The maximum for the month registered at the Observatory was 69 on the first and the minimum 36 degrees on the 15th, as will thus be seen no freezing temperatures have yet obtained, which is unusual for this late date in the season. Last year the maximum temperature for October was 64 on the 25th and the minimum 24 on the 30th. The rainfall measured 3.91 inches, and the first snow of the season three-tenths of an inch on the 1st. In October, 1918, freezing temperatures occurred on the 2nd, 8th, 13th, 20th, 24th, 29th, 30th and 31st.

Rainfall and Temperature. The smallest amount of rainfall on record here for October since 1881 was 0.51 inch in 1897, and the greatest, 10.17 in 1900. The highest October temperature 74 on 1914, and the lowest 21 in 1885.

While the weather bulletins inform us of rain, snowstorms and cold weather or in the west, bright and comparatively warm conditions continue in this section.

Common Council Regular Meeting

Water Extension, Spruce Lake Bonds, Housing Board and Other Matters Deal With. The regular meeting of the Common Council was held yesterday afternoon when considerable business was transacted. Spruce Lake water system construction work, extension of water service on Bellevue Avenue, sewer bridge at the falls, and the Housing Board matter were the principal business taken up.

Report On Water Extension

In response to a request by the council Commissioner Jones reported on a commission from the Board of Health. He showed that there was great need for an extension of the city water service out Bellevue Avenue. There is existing in that neighborhood forty-three families, representing 127 persons who are depending for water supply from a shallow surface well located in an open field and the well and surrounding area likely to cause pollution of the water at any time with serious results. The commissioner said that he learned that this matter had been brought to the attention of the council on several occasions. In May, 1912, he found that the late Mr. Murdoch reported on it. He stated that the area to be drained would be 115 acres and there would probably be expended on the job $17,000, of which amount $4,500 would be required for sewerage alone. Striking labor and other matters have advanced greatly and the cost will be much greater now than at that time.

The Bridge Matter. Commissioner Thornton stated that he saw in the papers that the proposition for a bridge over the falls would be too low for large vessels to pass under. The mayor said there was as much space as the highway bridge.

Switching of Bond Contract. There was a considerable discussion regarding the switching of a bond contract issued on account of the Spruce Lake water system construction work from the London and Lacash's Guarantee and Accident Company to the Guaranty Company of New York America. H. H. McLellan is manager of the former company. Commissioner Thornton said Commissioner Jones had told the council that the bonds were to be furnished by the first named company, and he was surprised that the contract had gone to a concern which did not pay taxes in St. John and had no agency here.

Commissioner Jones explained that it was proposed to have the bonds issued through H. H. McLellan but later a bond was obtained from another company at a lower rate.

Commissioner Thornton said that the mayor had not yet signed the contract and it was up to the council to decide whether or not to consider it. Commissioner Ballock thought that Commissioner Jones had been deceived. He was under the impression that Mr. McLellan did the underwriting.

Mayor Schofield said that he would look into the legality of the matter. After further discussion the Mayor said he would not sign the contract until it was satisfactory.

Housing Question. Commissioner Ballock informed the council that the actual cost of construction of four single and four double houses by the Housing Board was $49,447.36 and the value of the land was not included. The figures include water and sewerage connection. Loans amounting to $7,700 were made.

The board received from the Provincial Government $45,000 for construction of houses under the Housing Act and after the completion and sale of the eight houses the board would go out of business.

Commissioner Frink said he regarded Commissioner Ballock's report as very complete and on motion it was agreed that copies of the report giving questions and answers should lie on the table.

Other Business. Albert Rogers offered $126 for the purchase of a city building at the Mispic pulp mill site. The matter was referred to the Commissioner of Public Works.

John T. Brown was awarded the contract to paint No. 7 fire station for $278.
