LONDON, March 28.—In the House of Commons today Sir John Long asked the Government if they had received the reports of veterinary inspectors who had examined the alleged cases of pleuro-pneumonia in Canadian cattle landed in Belgium. Mr. Gardner, president of the Board of Agriculture, said he reports of inspectors had not yet been received, but the Government had received the report of the Dominion Minister of Agriculture on the health of the cattle in Canada, and would consider whether they would publish it together with the other reports.

BOUND FOR PEKIN. LONDON, March 28.-A Central News dispatch from Shanghai says that on Sunday last the Japanese landed at Hai Chow on the coast of the Province of Kiang Tsu, 170 miles northwest of Nanking. The Chinese opposed the anding and three hundred of them vere killed in the fight. It is believed the Japanese intend to march overand to Nanking, thus avoiding interference with the traffic of the Yang Tze Kiang. This move will enable the Japanese to block the Grand Canal and prevent supplies from going through it o Pekin. As their fleet holds the Gulf of Pe Chi Li, this gives the Japanese two lines upon which to advance to

FORTS VS. WARSHIPS.

TOKTO, March 28.—One of the facts brought into strong prominence in connection with the recent operations at Wei Hai Wei is the helplessness of hips against well constructed forts admirably located and armed with disapearing guns. The Chinese ships, which, after falling into Japanese posession, co-operated with the fleet in ombarding the insular defenses, never acceeded in touching these forts once. they remained to the end absolutely unimpaired by the storm of iron which was directed against them. Similar imunity was enjoyed by even an ordinrily constructed fort on the Liu Kung. the Japanese ships did no harm whatver, while the Chinese gunners in the orts, though not conspicuous for their skill, succeeded in hitting and more or ss seriously damaging seven of the panese ships, killing 29 men and counding 36. Had the attack been ster it is doubtful whether the Japane squadrons would not have been ld completely at bay as far as the forts were concerned, for the Chinese were engaged in constructing on the lighest eminence of Shi Hi Island a fort, which, firing from a height of 400 feet above the sea level, would have been a terrible foe. Although the as-cent to the position chosen for this fort is so steep as to be difficult even for the pedestrian, the Chinese had succeeded in dragging to the top two guns, and two others were waiting on the beach to be placed in the same po-sition. Another week would have seen this fort in fighting order, and had its cannonading been added to the five other forts on the island, any naval force atempting to bombard the place would have suffered terribly. The ex-periences of Japanese ships engaged in the bombardment of Wei Hai Wei show how terrible is the effect of modern artillery fire. One big shell fairly planted almost suffices a medium sized vessel of her fighting capacity. Grewsome stories are told of the havoc wrought by the solitary missile.

BRITAIN'S POLICY IN AFRICA. LONDON, March 28.-Sir E. Ashmeade-Bartlett opened an interesting debate in the Commons this evening on Great Britain's relations to France in Africa. He moved a reduction of the Foreign Office estimates for the purpose. He spoke of the encroachments which the Government permitted France to make on Siam. In Africa France was still more active than in Asia, he said. She had sent out an expedition which was menacing the Upper Nile and was seizing African territory recognized as being within the British sphere of influence.

Sir Edward Grey said Great Britain stood in such a position of trust in Egypt as to make the British and Egyptian spheres of influence cover the whole Nile waterway. The House ought to be careful about giving credence to the rumor that a French expedition had been sent to the Nile country to occupy the valley of the river. The Foreign Office had no reason to suppose that any French expedition either had been instructed to enter the Nile Valley or had the intention to do so. During late years no provocation had been given France from the British side. England had striven to the utmost to reconcile the occasional conflict of interests. The Government would continue to pursue this line of policy, omitting nothing calculated to maintain good relations with France and at the same time to upnold the undoubted claims of Great Britain. To that end, of course, the co-operation of the French Government and the French public was necessary, but this co-operation ought to be easily obtained.

Joseph Chamberlain and Henry Labouchere criticised the policy of the Government. Sir Edward Grey denied that his statement had implied in any sense a menace to France. The question of a general settlement of their respective interests in Africa was under discussion between the two countries. The British claims had been stated clearly. Sir E. Ashmeade Bartlett said that in view of the satisfactory reply made by the Government he withdrew his motion.

PRESBYTERIAN MISSIONS.

he Matter of Grants to Northwest Missions—Salaries of Missionaries -Appointments.

TORONTO, March 28 .- The Presbyterian home missions committee met again yesterday. It was decided that in place of making individual grants to the mission fields of Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and British Columbia to set apart annually a lump sum for the purpose. After a good deal of discussion it was decided that after April 1 the salaries or missionaries employed under the home mission committee should be as follows:

Ordained missionaries-Synod of British Columbia, $900 for married men where there is no manse; $850 where there is a manse; $650 for unmarried

Synod of Manitoba and the Northwest Teritories-$800 for married men where there is no manse; $750 where there is a manse; $600 for unmarried men.

Ontario and Quebec—$750 for married men where there is no manse; $700 where there is a manse; $600 for unmar ried men. Student missionaries-$5 50 per Sabbath and board and expenses to the field for summer half of year; $6 50 when engaged for the whole winter half of Catechists—$5 per Sabbath and board for the summer half year; $550 for Sab-bath and board for winter half of year; $5 per Sabbath for approved catechists engaged for a term of at least one year. It was agreed that in practically applying these regulations, in so far as they affect ordained missionaries, the committee take into consideration the cases of men who are under a present above resolutions to be reported to the General Assembly. The committee met again today, when students were appointed for the sum-engagement for a term of years. The Manitoba Declines to Deal With the Remedial Mandate.

At Least Until After a Recess of Six Weeks.

Sir C. H. Tupper's Tactics, and Why He Opposed a Session.

Four Bye-Elections to Be Held on April 17-Political Notes.

THE GOVERNMENT MUST SHOW ITS HAND.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 28 .- The Manitoba Legislature will not deal at present with the parochial schools mandate from Ottawa, as it has been decided by Premier Greenway to adjourn the House till May 9. A member of the Cabinet was asked what the object of the Government was in moving for adjournment. His reply was that the remedial order on schools was too important a matter, involving, at it does, important issues, to be dealt with precipitately by the House. During the recess the Government will have the required opportunity of studying out the situation, and take advice from leading constitutional authorities respecting the status of the Legislature in the prem-

TUPPER'S TACTICS. OTTAWA, March 28.—There seems to be no longer any doubt as to Sir Chas. H. Tupper's having resigned. There is said to be a good deal more in the reasons which have actuated Sir Charles in withdrawing (at the present at all events, if not permanently) from the work of the Cabinet than the mere fact that he could no have his own way in regard to dissolution. In other words, it is said on his Behalf that he considers the action of the Government in calling Parliament to deal with the Manitoba school case before it has been submitted to the people, wholly unconstitutional. In his opinion, the people ought to have had an opporunity of pronouncing upon the case before Parliament would attempt to legislate upon it. That, of course, makes his stand more tenable than was at first reported, for it was scarcely possible that a man like Sir Charles Tupper would have left the Government on a matter of detail like the ordinary holding of a session of Parliament, a mater which did not come directly within his own province, but was purely a question for the Premier himself to have determined.

The question of dissolution or session was one which Sir Mackenzie Bowell should have 's a Premier, set-tled with direct reference to his colleagues. Having, however, referred the matter to the Cabinet, the view of the majority prevailed, and although the work of the campaigners was well un-

so as to be able to deal with the remedial order against Manitoba. When Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper prepared his report on the school question, it is said that he did so on the distinct understanding that the matter was to be submitted to the people and not to Parliament. Some say that the Premier had assured him that such was to be the case, so that the contention of the Minister of Justice is that Sir Mackenzie Bowell did not carry out his arrangements in respect to dissolution, and in this way Sir Charles Tup-per's report on the schools is going to be dealt with in a very different way from wha he intended. It is even said that from the strong views which the Minister of Justice holds on the question and the manner in which it ought to be dealt with, he should have to oppose Parliament dealing with his own report as it now stands.

EVERYBODY IS TALKING as to how the matter should be settled. as to now the matter should with Few believe that Sir Hibbert will withdraw his resignation. A prominent Conservative, speaking on this point, said: "The man who is not afraid to lecture the imperial authorities and the American authorities as well as to the course they pursued in regard to the Bering Sea case—accusing the former of neglecting the interests of Canada for the purpose of serving those of the Yankee—is not likely to make any apologies for what he has done in this case, so as to stay in a Cabinet in which he considers himself the most prominent member and the coming leader." There are some Conservatives, however, who are talking strongly against Sir Charles and accusing him of disloyalty to the party at a time when the Premier wanted his assistance most. They say that it his ambition that led him to take this step, and he is so anxious of becoming Premier that he cannot wait until Parliament has run its full course. These parties have been assuring Sir Mackenzie Bowell that they can get along all right with-out the Minister of Justice.

FOUR BYE-ELECTIONS ORDERED. At today's meeting of the Cabinet an order in council was passed appointing the returning officers so as to permit the returning officers so as to permit elections to the Dominion Parliament. They take place on the 17th of Aprilthe day before Parliament meets. Nominations come off a week earlier. The elections on that date take place in Haldimand, Vercheres, Quebec West and Antigonish.

MR. ANGERS' MISSION. QUEBEC, March 28 .- Some interesting details regarding the Hon. M. Angers' late mission to the Roman Catholic bishops of this Province on the school question are furnished by an important ecclesiastical dignitary. Here is what Mr. Angers was charged to ask the bishops: 1. Were the episcopacy prepared to accept the solemn pledge on the part of the Government immediately after the elections? To this the answer was "No, we cannot accept the promises of a Government which has so often duped us in the last five years."

2. Will you accept an order in council signed by the Governor-General, for the re-establishment of Roman Catholic Smoking Mixture. Absolutely pure and cool schools, with the understanding that the necessary legislation to give it effect will be passed after the election? The reply to this was also in the negative. "No," said all the prelates, "we fear too much new subterruges. Pass an order in council at one and call an order in council at once and call Parliament to ratify it." 3. If we pass such an order in council and get it ratified by Parliament, will you issue a joint mandement calling on the Roman Catholic population to support us?"No," again answered the bishops, "because it is Rome's formal desire that we should not interfere in political contests."

tests." AN ORANGE RESOLUTION. TORONTO, March 28.—The News to-night publishes this special: "Winnipeg, March 28.—At the Orange Grand Lodge meeting today this resolution was passed: 'That we, members of the Provincial Grand Lodge, view with the greatest alarm the present state of affairs which exists between the Dominion and Local Governments, and we desire to express our approval of the stand taken by our representatives in the Local Legislature in brooking no interference by the Central Government in our educational affairs, and we call upon all Orangemen and Protestants to support no candidate for the House of Commons or the Local Legislature who will not openly and unqualifiedly pledge himself to determinedly oppose any and all attempts towards breaking up our public school system and reimpos-ing upon us and our children's children the accursed system of separate and sectarian schools.' The resolution goes on to say 'that illegal interference will break the center and divide, if not endanger, Confederation.' "

Col. Prior, M.P., and Mr. Thos. Earle, M.P., have been renominated for the Commons by the Conservatives of Victoria, B. C. It looks as if there is going to be a McCarthyite in the field in Haldimand in opposition to Dr. Montague.

TRACIC SCENE IN COURT. Man Kills a Female Prisoner at

Helena, Montana. HELENA, Mont., March 28.-Eugene Stanley shot Ida Wood during the progres of a trial here yesterday afternoon. Miss Wood was on trial on the charge of having robbed Stanley of $140. After one or two witnesses nad been examined, Stanley, with the exclamation, "She will never rob another man!" rose in his seat not ten feet away from the woman, and in rapid succession fired three shots at her, two of them lodging in her body with fatal results. Sergeant Murphy seized Stanley, and further shooting was prevented. There was a terrible stampede when the first shot was fired.

THE OTTAWA CRISIS.

Speculations on the Effect of Sir Charles H. Tupper's Resignation.

It is Regarded as the Beginning of More Trouble for Premier Bowell-Nova Scotia Conservatives

The report of the rupture in the Dominion Cabinet is confirmed. Sir Chas. Tupper-and, perhaps, others-is at loggerheads with Premier Bewell.

Toronto Mail-Empire: "It is rumored in Ottawa that Sir Charles H. Tupper, Minster of Justice, has placed his resignation in the hands or Sir Mackenzie Bowell, and that he will only withdraw it upon condition that he is given the leadership of the House of Commons." An Ottawa correspondent says: "Sir Hibbert Tupper was sent for by the Governor-General last night, and had an interview with his Excellency at Rideau Hall. The rumor of Mr. Foster's resignation, current in some quarters today, is denied on the best authority. Indeed, the chances are that Mr. Foster has the call as leader of the House, and the jealousy of the Minister of Finance is one of the factors in Sir Hibbert Tupper's present attitude. It is shrewdly surmised that if Premier Bowell offered Sir Hibbert the leadership of the House, the latter's objection to a session would disappear. leader of the House this session would have a strong claim to the reversion of the Premiership should Sir

Paralyzed.

This is how it is mildly put in the Mackenzie Bowell step out, and it is the Premiership Sir Hibbert Tupper is HALIFAX, March 28.-The news of Sir Hibbert Tupper's resignation came like a bolt out of a clear sky. It was the last thing people were thinking about. Conservatives absolutely refused to talk about the matter. They were simply dazed. As the day wore on they recovered sufficient political consciousness to enable them to realize that the crisis was a very serious one, but beyond that prominent party men refused to express any opinions, and the ward heeler type pronounced the report a lie and a "Grit" canard.

A prominent Liberal, who holds pro-nounced views as to the duty and responsibility of Cabinet Ministers towards each other, considers that inasmuch as the Minister was responsible with the whole Cabinet for the issuance of the remedial order and for the summoning of Parliament, his deser-tion of his colleagues in the crisis which he helped to create is an act of cowardice and breach of faith. Those who claim to know something of Sir Hibbert Tupper's ambitions say that he is riding for a fall; that he realizes the Government is doomed to defeat, whether it goes to the country or meets Parliament, and that in Opposition he would have a better chance of turning up as a leader, in which case, if the Conservatives came back to power in the near future, he would become Pre-mier—the present height of his ambi-

Whatever ground there may be for these views of Sir Hibbert's action and motives, there can be no doubt his resignation has paralyzed the party in this Province. They do not see a single ray of light ahead, and feel that some only Conservatives who will talk freely are some opponents of Sir Hibbert Tupper's, whose political sagacity does not count for very much. Some of these say his resignation is or no particular consequence; that the Tuppers have had too much swing in the Province and that it is time somebody else had a chance. Probably there is some truth in this, but Conservatives who understand the game of politics admit that the situation is a very grave one for the Government and the Conservative

SIR CHARLES TUPPER'S FUTURE PLANS. The Ottawa correspondent of the Mail-Empire goes the length of speculating on the future of the kicking Minister. He says: "As to Sir Charles H. Tupper's plans for the future, it is generally conceded that he will remain the representative of Pictou, N. S., on the floor of the House. By virtue of his appointment as Minster of Justice he has become a member of the bar of the various Provinces, and lately was formally received at the bar of Ontario. Some say he proposes to take advantage of that fact and practice law in the city of Toronto." A FRIEND'S EXPLANATION. OTTAWA, March 28.—The Conserva ive party of Canada, Sir Hibbert told a friend today, would not approve of the Dominion Parliament usurping the functions of a Provincial Legislature, and enacting a school law, and he be lieves that in his stand he represents the Conservatives of Canada. But whether the Government was defeated or not, Sir Hibbert took the broad, constitutional ground that when a Government adopts an important policy like the remedial order, it should obtain the verdict of the electors upon it, so that a new Parliament would come to Ottawa with a mandate either to pass a remedial law or leave it SAID TO BE A DODGE. OTTAWA, March 28.—The latest rumor is that Sir Charles Tupper's resignation is part of a prearranged plan to relieve Sir Mackenzie Bowell of the introduction of remedial legislation, which would alienate his Ontario Orange supporters. Sir Charles Tupper will introduce a bill re-establishing Catholic schools in Manitoba, and as a private measure the members of the Cabinet can vote for or against it, according to the political complexion of their constituencies. This, while makng an easy path for the Premier out of a tight place, would inure to Sir Charles Tupper's honor as the fearless champion of the Manitoba minority.

SEVEN CENT BAZAR.

Mr. Wm. Eacrett Has Removed His Store to More Central Quarters.

Among the rising young mercantile men of London is Mr. William Eacrett, who for about six years has been conducting a prosperous fancy goods business at 658 Dundas street. From the very first, trade came Mr. Eacrett's way in paying volumes, and from time to time he had to enlarge the accom-modations for showing his ever-increasing stock, until finally it outgrew its original quarters, and the young-gentleman resolved to seek a larger store in the central portion of the city. He has secured the store formerly oc-cupied by Woods' Fair, at 200 Dundas street, and on Saturday will open out under the business title of "Eacrett, 7 Cent Bazar," with a magnificent stock of fancy goods, stationery, glass ware, crockery, tinware, hardware and general house furnishings. Best coal-oil, 10 cents per gallon, delivered. His old stock has been largely augmented with articles in household use every day, and will be sold at prices which will astonish visitors. Everyone should make an effort to call and inspect Mr. Eacrett's stock on Saturday or at the the earliest possible moment. The new venture is sure to be a success, and the proprietor has the best wishes of everyone who knows him.

JOE MARKS HITS BACK.

A Breezy Reply to Dr. J. B. Campbell

Attitude of Organized Labor in Regard to Civic Affairs.

To the Editor of the "Advertiser":

I was greatly surprised in reading your report of the proceedings of No. 1 committee of the Board of Education to see that Dr. J. B. Campbell has so far forgotten to play the part of a gentleman as to make a venomous and unfair attack upon myself and the organ-ized labor unions of the city. There are some people who always develop a bad case of swelled head when they happen to own a little bit of real estate, and they think its possession entitles them to ride the high horse and dictate to the rest of the people how they shall act in regard to questions that directly affect their interests. As regards his statements re myself, they are ut-terly false and unreliable. The doctor should be careful when he has statements to make that they are true, and when he goes out of the way to bring my private affairs to the notice of the public I tell him to his teeth that he is not unfair, but impertinent, and that it is my concern, not his, as to how much rent I pay. In the first place, Mr. Editor, I am an owner of real estate in this city, on which I pay taxes, and I am also one of the heaviest share-holders in Labor Hall, valued at $1,-100. I have always paid rent, even at Labor Hall, but the money so paid has been handed over for philanthropic work in connection with organized labor. As to my not being of any use to the city, I beg leave to state that I do not consider the doctor is unbiased enough to judge. The class for whom I have worked have honored me in every way that lay in their power, and if it has not made me better off financially, I appreciate their confidence and respect, and thank heaven that I have earned every enemy who yaps at my heels. In regard to his attack upon organized labor, he shows that he lives 300 years behind his time. Nature made a serious mistake in developing him so late. He would be in his ele-ment at the time of the dark ages, when men were burned at the stake for daring to have ideas of their own. I suppose it would be all right if the toilers would consent to work and sleep and do just as the privileged parties dictated, but we are living in the day when the men who have builded our cities have made up their minds to have a say in running them. It is evident that the work of organized labor in London has begun to tell, and some people who own a little real estate are afraid that they will have to pay the taxes they don't pay at present. It is true, organized labor pledged the aldermanic candidates at the recent elec-tion, but they did not buttonhole them in corners, as some other people did. As electors of the city, workingmen have rights, and they don't think that a meeting of the R. E. O. P. A. with three members in attendance should have a monopoly of sending petitions to the City Council. The doctor does not take the trouble to say what bad measures the Trades and Labor Council have advocated, and for a very good reason; he cannot. We have asked for a 60-hour clause in the electric street railway agreement, also that a standard and fair rate of wages be paid on all contracts for municipal works. If Dr. Campbell is in favor of workmen working sixteen hours per day, and that the rate of wages on municipal work he at the lowest point he has a right in his opinion, but he must concede the same right to those who differ from him. It is true, we advocated the publication of the assessment roll, and the people to whom the doctor is opposed, and who are real estate owners, said, "Yes, go ahead." Well, we don't apologize for it. If the doctor thinks that they will hurt him, so much the worse for him. Now, Mr. Editor, as the working classes of the city are in the majority, and as all taxes are drawn directly from their labor, it seems to me that it is only just that they should have equal privileges in being heard at our council chambers with any other section of the community. We live in a day when men are thinking, and we cannot bind down the masses to the condition they occupied in bygone years. Personally, when I have waited on public bodies to draw their attention to important questions I have represented not myself, but the organized labor of the city, and other persons speaking with me have been in the same position. It makes no difference whether these individuals own real estate or not. They are sent to represent a body which com-prises many property holders in their ranks, and 1 may say we have always been received in a courteous and gen-tlemanly manner whenever we have gone. I am pleased to know that the best of feeling prevails at present among the business men, the clergy and organized labor, and that in no previous time in the history of the city have the different elements that comprise its population been brought so close together as during the present

on your space. I will attend to the doctor at further length in the next number of the Industrial Banner, but would say before concluding that I understand where this attack has come from. Ever since the time the R. E. O. P. A. was formed they have used their best endeavors to try and use the Trades and Labor Council as a lever to further their personal ends. They have gotten out petitions, and not having bone to sign them first themselves they have brought them to us and tried to get us to father them. They tried to use us in connection with their waterworks fight. They insinuated that we should join hands with them and "bust" the City Council. Some or their members said they would back us up in getting the assessment rolls published, but it was only to get on our good side. The Trades Council, however, had a mind of its own, and it refused to pull the R. E. O. P. A. chestnuts out of the fire. It let them run their own petitions, and it let them settle their own fight. and they have made - pretty mess of everything they have undertaken. This has raised their bile so had that even the pills of their fellow-member, Dr. Campbell, have been poweriess to allay the irritation. Now, Mr. Editor, I know whereof I speak, and am prepared to supply names, if necessary, and I think it is time some people were shown up. As a mechanic who earns an honest living, and who enjoys no special privileges such as legislators nave bestowed on the profession followed by Dr. Campbell, and which have been gained after lobbying and buttonholing, I contend it comes with bad grace from such a man to talk about intimidation, especially when the same procession went before the City Council to oppose a reso-lution of the Board of Health to intimidate the council to throw over that re-port (last year). This, of course, was only business. Now, Mr. Editor, in conclusion, let me say, the workingmen of this city have a certain power, and they know it; moreover, they will use it without any impertinent advice from Dr. Campbell. When they have a measure to advocate they will advocate it. and as long as they feel they are right they will go ahead. Of course, I sup-pose Dr. Campbell will not be manly enough to acknowledge his mistake All the same, I want him to understand that I am a real estate owner and pay rent, and if he will call at my residence. 427 Grey street, I will give him the information he so badly needs. Thanking

LIFE VS. BEAUTY.

Gir's Eat Arsenic for Their Complexion and One of Them May Die.

BRADDOCK, Pa., March 28.-Arsenic, which they ate to improve their complexion, has brought Miss Martha Ridgin into a dangerous illness and prostrated Miss Annie Annie did not take very much and is about ever the effect of her dose, but Martha is in a serious condition. The girls are about 18 years of age, and are employed as clerks in the same lrygoods store. Yesterday they were talking about complexions, when a young man in the same store suggested that they eat a small quantity of arsenic, saying that it would improve the beauty of their faces.

He secured the poison for the girls and last night Miss Jones went to Miss Ridgin's house, where they began to try the arsenic. Miss Jones was afraid of it and only took a small amount, but her companion devoured all she had. This morning the doctor pronounced Martha's condition very serious, although there is a slight chance for her recovery. She would not divulge the name of the young man who had got the poison

NEW YORK, March 28.-Adolph Meyer, a young German, committed suicide by shooting in the presence of his sweetheart, Edith Miller, today because she refused to answer his question, "Do you love me?"

HIS HEART'S IN TENNESSEE. OTTAWA, March 28.-The engagement is announced of Hon. A. J. Marjoribanks, A. D. C., brother of Lady Aberdeen, to Miss Mysie Brown, of Nashville, Tenn. Miss Brown is expected here next week on a visit to Government House.

ALL HANDS LOST. NEW YORK, March 28.-The tug Mary A. Packer, of the Lehigh Valley, Railroad Company, was sunk in the bay at 10:30 o'clock this morning, off Red Hook. All hands are supposed to have been lost. The Packer carried a double crew of ten men. The Ida L. Tibo made fast to the Packer, but in consequence of the heavy winds was unable to tow her and she sunk. It is supposed that the crew, in attempting to escape, were drowned, as a boat, floating bottom upwards, and two hats were found near the Packer.

PRISONERS' NEEDS.

More Books and Work Should Be Provided at the Jail.

The Grand Jury's Presentment-Suits for Damages Disposed Of.

THURSDAY MORNING. The grand jury made its presentment this morning as follows:

"We are gratified that there have been no criminal cases before the court at the present time-a fact that is very complimentary to the county of Middlesex and the city of London.

"We visited the jail and found it clean and kept in a very neat confition, reflecting credit upon the officials in charge. There are 16 prisoners at present—12 males and 4 females. We found one demented old lady in the jail, but were informed that she is shortly to be removed to the asylum for the insane, and we are pleased to say that she appears to be very tenderly cared for.

"We regret, however, to find that there is very little work provided for male prisoners sentenced to hard labor, and hope that some means may be devised to keep them at work, and would sugest that stones be provided to be broken by such prisoners. We would also recommend that more books of a suitable character be provided for the use of the prisoners.

"We visited the asylum for the insane and were very courteously re-ceived by those in charge. We were informed that there were 1,002 of those unfortunate persons in that institu-50c PAIR tion at present, and so far as your jurors are able to judge, everything is being done for their comfort and welfare: but we find that the infirmary is located in the top flat of the main building, where, if fire should occur, it would be in our opinion impossible to remove the inmates without loss of life, and considering the crowded state of the institution we would recommend that a separate building be provided for use as an infirmary.

"We also visited the General Hospital and St. Joseph's Hospital, at both of which we were courteously received and conducted through the different apartments, and your jurors were well pleased with the provisions made for the care of the sick and with the neatness and cleanliness of the buildings."
The jury was then discharged.

BUSINESS. The only case heard this morning was taken from the jury at the close of the evidence and judgment reserved. It was the case of A. R. Williams, Toronto, against Leonard & Sons., city. It was a dispute about a bolt-cutting machine made by Win. Yates, city. and sold to Leonard. Williams had a mortgage on Yates' plant and output, and he claims the machine. Reserved. McEvoy for plaintiff, Gibbons, Q.C., for defendant

The end of the assizes is very near. When the court rose after 6 o'clock in the afternoon the docket (which contained sixteen cases on Tuesday at 1 o'clock) had dwindled down to two cases. These will likely be struck out.

Forsythe vs. Croden arose out of a dispute over a load of wood. J. W. Forsythe, of Delaware village, sold one load to John A. Croden, of this city, in January last. When he delivered it Forsythe was ordered to bring two more loads, but he only brought one, being told that there was not room enough in Croden's for the third. Some time afterwards Croden and Forsythe met on the wood market, and, it was claimed, the former accused Forsythe of having collected the price of three loads, while he had only delivered two. Forsythe denied this, and angry words were exchanged, a policeman was called, Forsythe went to the police station, and Chief Williams was interviewed. Croden did not want Forsythe arrested, and the parties were advised to settle it in the division court. Forsythe wanted $1,000 damages for malicious arest and assault. He got a verdict for $40 and cost. McEvoy, Wilson & Pope for the plaintiff; Gibbons, Q.C., and Graydon for the defense. DAMAGES SUIT SETTLED. The case of Lynn vs. the township of East Williams for damages, for injury received on a public high-way, has been settled. Henry W. Lynn, of Lobo, and a member of the township council, was in Ail-sa Craig on Nov. 28 last. In driving home after dark he took a road through East Williams which materially reduced the distance, but owing to a washout in the roadbed Lynn was thrown out and badly nurt, though his injuries were not permanent. The washout, it appears, had occurred some months before the accident. It was directly in front of the pathmaster's place. That gentieman, however, stated after he was subpoenaed as a witness for the plaintiff that he did not like to do road work in Front of his own premises. Lynn asked for ::,000. The case was settled for $600 and costs.

STILL ANOTHER FOR DAMAGES.

Dodd v. Curry was another action for damages, brought by Donald Dodd, city, against R. N. Curry, broker, for disposing of goods after sufficient had been realized under a sale by chattel mortgage. The case was unfinished.

ZIMMERMAN'S RECORD.

He Was Passionate but "a Good Man When Not Drinking."

LYONS, N. Y., March 28.-A. F. Zimmerman, the man quoted in a Toronto dispatch as having brutally assaulted his wife in that city, afterwards attempting suicide with a knife, is well known here. He engaged himself to the Manhattan Silver Plate Company as a solderer and earned good wages, but drank heavily. His wife frequently complained to the police officials about the ill-treatment she and her family received from her nusband, but she did not wish her husband arrested for fear he would kill her. Finally formal complaint was entered. He was arraigned and admonished and afterwards acted better. He nad an ungovernable temper, but when not drinking was a good man. He was discharged in February for dissipation and left Lyons with his family for Toronto.

A London Financial Measure Introduced.

The Attorney-General's Law Reform Bill Discussed,

And Passed to a Second Reading-Another "Go" at the Medical Act in [Prospect.

(Special to the "Advertiser." PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS, TO-RONTO, March 28 .- A city of London bill was introduced this evening by Hon. J. M. Gibson. It is a measure which is designed to relieve the city from the effects of an inadvertence in last year's bill regarding the city. By that slip certain sums which should be spent upon stations on the line of the London and Port Stanley Railway would by the actual wording of the act have to be spent upon the pridges upon that road.

The Attorney-General's important legal bill took up a large portion of the time of the House today, a rather full discussion being held upon its second reading. Sir Oliver Mowat spoke in exposition of the principles of the bill, stating that he believed there should be one appeal, but no more. His bill was designed to limit the appeals in the Province to one. As to appeals to the Supreme Court, they could not touch them, but he announced that he would bring in a resolution declaring the opinion of the House that appeals should not be allowed, except where the validity of a Provincial or Dominion law was in question, or a conflict between the Dominion and the Province or between the province and another province was in the case. Such an expression of opinion, Sir Oliver thought, would have the effect of inducing the Dominion House to pass a law limiting the Supreme Court appeals in that manner. He concluded with a general exposition of the bill.

Mr. Whitney discussed the bill for the Opposition, saying that he was on the whole satisfied with it, but thought it did not go far enough. The chief fault which he found with it was that it did not provide for the increased jurisdiction of the county courts, so as to employ machinery which is falling into disuse for want of business. Hon. Mr. Hardy spoke in defense of the bill.

Mr. German spoke in rather a criticising vein. Mr. Garrow suggested the abolition of the county court and turning it into a high court. Mr. Howland advocated waiting for a year before pressing the bill, and then it was given its second reading. In addition to the law reform bill, a number of other Government bills were advanced a stage, among them Mr. Hardy's bill to prevent the influencing of jurors; Col. Gibson's bill amending the Children's Act; Mr. Hardy's bill respecting the election laws; the Attorney-General's bill making better provisions for the widows and intestates in certain cases; Mr. Dryden's bill relating to the Department of Agriculture, and Mr. Dryden's bill for the prevention of fraud in the sale of fruit. Hon. Mr. Ross was taken ill with induenza this afternoon and was obliged to leave the Chamber and go to his house. It is feared that he will not be able to return to his duties before Mon-

Mr. Haycock has given notice of an-other bill to amend the Medical Act by reducing by one-half the fees now paid by medical students to the council. The tariff proposed by the bill will be $10 for matriculation, $15 for the intermediate examination and $25 for final examination.

The Attorney-General has given notice of a bill to consolidate the Judicature Act and the acts amending it. The bill to incorporate the Hamilton and Lake Erie Power Company was defeated in the railway committee today by a vote of 16 to 12.

The private bills committee passed the Toronto Aqueduct Company's bill, with certain amendments. The promoters of the bill were given six years instead of five in which to expend $5,-000,000, but were refused ordinary railway expropriation powers.

SEVERAL tracks of an extinct species of gigantic bird have at different times been found in the stone quarry at Holyoke, Mass. The last set discovered shows that the bird had a foot eleven inches long, armed with nails or claws to each foot. The tracks average four feet ten inches apart, and eleven of them have been revealed to view. They are very perfect, even the toenails being plainly visible. It is understood that the trustees of some big eastern college have offered the owner $1,100, or $100 for each track, if he will get them out and pack them ready for shipping.

IN HUNGARY a man may marry at the age of 18, the girl at 16; in Spain, Portugal and Greece the respective ages are only 14 for man (?) and 12 for the prospective bride. In France he must be 18 and she 15. In Russia the laws vary between 18 and 20 for the men and 15 and 16 for the women. In Switzerland the various cantons have different laws, and the minimum ages for marrying are 18 and 20 years for the men and from 13 to 17 for girls. In Austria and Germany men seldom marry if under 21 (although the law allows it at 18); girls may wed at 16 in these countries. In Egypt boys of 13 are often married, and brides of 10 and 12 are not scarce by any means. But India carries off the palm. Here marriages are closed in infancy, and a girl of 2 is sometimes married to a groom of 4 or 5 years.

TRADE IN CANADA.

No Striking Change in the Situation,

But Still There Are Some Indications of Improvement.

TORONTO, March 28.-R. G. Dunn & Co.'s weekly statement of trade in Canada says: While there is not great change in the business situation at Montreal, indications are not lacking in some lines of a probable improvement, though such improvement may not be very marked. Groceries show a slightly increased distribution and further gain in activity will likely follow as the opening of navigation aproaches. Sunny, spring-like weather has helped drygoods retailers, and sorting orders from city and country are coming in better. Heavy hardware and metals show no improvement whatever; the demand does not pick up at all, and there does not seem to be any stop to the down-ward tendency in values. Hides rule very firm under light supplies, and the tendency is still upwards, in sympathy with an advancing American market, In leather higher prices are being asked for specialties. Money does not come in from the country much more freely, but lumbering operations on the Ottawa and Laurentides sections have been carried on during the winter on a more liberal scale, and the increased expenditure in these sections should be beneficial. It is claimed that there are indications of a better demand for money at the banks, and it is said there has been some considering of an advance in the present call loan rate of 4 per cent. There has been no decided change in the commercial situation at Toronto. The improvement lately noted has been maintained, but business cannot be called active. Travelers are out on sorting up trips in drygoods, and in some instances orders for fall goods are and are not stocking up with goods. The number of failures show a decrease and the outlook generally for business is encouraging. Prices for the leading staples are firm. There is some improvement in the leather trade, and the tone of the market is better owing to higher prices for hides. There is a very firm wheat market, the receipts being light and prices higher than for a good many months. Stocks of hard wheat are especially small and a further advance in this grade is probable. The security market is less active, with a decline in the prices of a number of issues. The advance has been too rapid and holders took their profits in many cases. The failures for the week are 42, as against 30 for the corresponding week of last year.

-It may be that Chattelle, the man yesterday found guilty of murdering Jessie Keith near Listowel, has a streak of insanity in his makeup and that he might have escaped the gallows if he had permitted a lawyer to defend him. He chose to defend himself, however, and he was convicted and sentenced to be hanged. The sentence is a just one, for if ever there was a cruel butchery it was that of little Jessie Keith. Nor does it appear that the family insanity pleaded on Chattelle's behalf should count. The evidence clearly proved that the prisoner knew what he was about both before and after the perpetration of the crime, and that fact established, as well as his guilt, who can deny his responsibility? Society must be protected; and it could not fairly be asked to run the risk of having a man with the fiendish nature of Chattelle given his liberty at some

THE OTTAWA MEN MUST TALK

On the motion of Premier Greenway, the Legislature of Manitoba has agreed to adjourn till May 9 without taking action on the school remedial order addressed to it by the Dominion Govern-

The remedial order, raising as it does mportant issues, is regarded as too mportant to be dealt with summarily by the House, and the intervening six weeks will be profitably spent in getting the views of the best constitutional authorities regarding the best means to meet the condition of affairs now pre-

Three weeks before that time, too, the Dominion Parliament will assemble, and there should be obtained something like an official statement of the intentions of the men in power in making the demand on Manitoba, and an explanation as to what they will do in the event of Manitobans refusing to alter their school law, which has been declared by the British Privy Council to be constitutional. This is a necessity in the premises, inasmuch as two diametrically opposite views of the effect of the remedial order, and of the intentions of the Dominion authorities, are promulgated by the supporters of the Cabinet at Ot-

In Quebec Province, Conservative papers and politicians assert that the remedial order is a demand, and must be obeyed. If it is not, then it is asserted that the Dominion Government has pledged itself to establish separate schools in Manitoba.

But in Ontario the story told by leading Conservative newspapers is that that it does not bind any member of the Government or any of its supporters to vote for applying compulsion to Manitoba in the event of Manitoba refusing to act.

To say the least, the divergence of views among the followers of the Ottawa Administration is most marked, and it is possible that the Manitoba Legislature will be better able to vote intelligently on the whole matter after some attempt at reconciling them has been made on the floor of Parliament.

WHAT CAUSES GOOD TIMES.

Matthew Marshall, the well-known financial authority of the United States, writes that whatever distress there has been in that country recently does not come from want of food, clothing and shelter. "If it were," he says, "it would make itself known by pulsory abstinence from enjoyments which habit has made indispensable, and the desire for which is the incentive to the effort and enterprise from which the development of the country has proceeded. This desire has not been ment of its gratification. It exists in full force, and will sooner or later produce its legitimate effects." In other words, the freer the people are to buy and to sell, and to get gain, the sooner do they get over times of retrenchment extravagance.

NEW C. P. R. STEAMSHIP LINE. In Western Ontario there is general satisfaction with the announcement that the Canadian Pacific Railway fast steamships between Windsor and Port Arthur. With three of our great lines of railway concentrating on the Detroit River, there should be plenty of freight and passenger traffic for one good boat between Windsor, Sault Ste. Marie and Port Arthur. In point of convenience, Windsor and Sarnia, at which the steamer will no doubt also call, are much more convenient points from which to start than is Owen Sound, the present lower port of the C. P. R.

In an interview reported in the Globe, of Toronto, Principal Grant, of Kingston, severely condemns the Dominion Government for holding a summer session of Parliament;

"A session of Parliament should be held annually as a matter of course, and equally as a matter of course it should be held in the winter and not in the summer. We ought to be governed by Parliament and not by a committee of Parliament, and Parliament should meet in the season most convenient for farmers and men of business and captains of industry. The practice of hold-ing summer Parliaments will gradually country if they have to sacrifice their own business. We shall have to fall back more and more on lawyers and on adventurers who are looking out for offices for themselves. Already we have too many of both classes, and too few who represent the producers of the

A FRIEND'S ARRAIGNMENT. At last Dominion election the Toronto News supported the then Conservative leaders. Here is what it now says of the men now in power: "It is daily becoming more apparent that the present Ottawa Government is utterly incapable of giving strength and consistency to the administration of public affairs. "Weakness and incapacity are shown

"After the business interests of the country had been unsettled by the promise of a sweeping measure of tariff reform, all that this promise resulted in was a host of changes that caused dis turbance, but left the burden of taxation as great as before.

"A pledge that corruptionists would be punished wherever found has been violated by the retention of Caron in the Cabinet, the release of McGreevy and Connolly from jail, and a halting prosecution of Curran bridge robbers "And, to cap all, the Ministry has for months wavered between session and dissolution, interference and non-interference, until the whole country is in a turmoil—a turmoil that will be enormously increased by the resignation of two Ministers and the threatened retirement of the Controller of Customs. "It is time to end this uncertainty, time the country was given a stable Government and one possessing the confidence of the people."

The News says that there is but one way out of the present troubles, and that is by forcing a general election so soon as the House of Commons meets, and immediately after the views of the party leaders on the Manitoba school question are made known.

But what provision for the deficit of several millions of dollars? What of the voting of necessary supplies to conduct the public service until such time as the new Parliament can be These and other matters must necessarily be attended to now that Parliament has been called to meet in summer session. But, as our contemporary foreshadows, there must be a change, and that soon. The country demands it. It must be a change of men and

THE WHISKY RING.

A good deal of interest has been taken throughout the country in the recent statement of the "Advertiser" regarding the manner in which the men now in power at Ottawa have placed dealers in liquor at the mercy of five Canadian distillers, who practically are enabled to make every dealer a vassal. The following, from a Chatham correspondent of the Windsor Record, is another view of the subject:

"In your issue of the 20th you reproduce an article which first appeared in the London "Advertiser," clearly showing the existence of the whisky ring, and so far as it goes, throws much light upon the subject. But the author of the article, no doubt, intended it for a feeler, and seeing the wide interest taken in this matter by the general public, will soon discuss the matter at length, I hope: meanwhile, permit me to say that the source of all this public abuse arises in the fact that whiskies have to be stored for two years before the Government will allow their removal, thereby shutting out all Canadian competition, while it permits the importation of foreign liquors, such as rum, gins, brandy, bitters, etc., at any age, and without certificates whatever. True, these goods are just as pure and good when new, so is whisky when compounded (old fashion whisky did improve with age), but whiskies made of alcohol reduced with water, colored and flavored to suit, are just as good when new as when old, hence one is at a loss to know why distillers should hold their stuff in copper tanks for two years before selling, unless it is good to add verdigris to other poisonous matters contained in the ingredients used to flavor whiskies. The Government, in shutting off competition, enables distillers to buy corn of our farmers at 45 cents per bushel, while according to market value it should sell at 53 1-2 cents, so the distiller can well afford to subscribe liberally towards election funds. "Again, corn at 50 cents makes whiskies cost 12 1-2 cents per gallon, and $1 50 for excise, makes the total cost $1 62 1-2 per proof gallon, 100 per cent, while hotl-keepers have to pay up to $3 for goods, 75 per cent, again giving the distillers over 200 per cent, so as to enable them to subscribe more

"I therefore trust that the able writer of your first article will give and economy necessitated by periods of us more facts and give the public the necessary light to arouse its ire and demand an immediate repeal of this two years' monstrosity, and by that means save the hotel-keeper an average of $62 50 on every barrel of whisky he sells, and let the farmers have 7 1-2 cents on every bushel of corn which actually belongs to them. There was an end to the Tweed ring, so let Canadian whisky ring."

> STRIKES HALDIMAND HARD. The Conservatives of Haldimand reindorsed the N. P., for the reason that it had promoted "the remarkable growth | of our towns and cities." The Chatham Banner prints from the census the following particulars of the remarkable growth of the towns and cities in Haldimand and the neighborhood:

1871. 1881. 1891. Port Colborne.. ... 988 1,716 1,154

Total.......4,489 5,606 4,720 Increase in low tariff era, 1,117; decrease under the N. P., 886. The population of the present constituency of Haldimand was 32,462 in 1871, 22,654 in 1881, and 20,688 in 1891.

THE FARMER VIEW OF IT. We do not believe that there has ever been a Dominion Government men, from an actual business and professional standpoint, as is the present Government. Nearly every man of them is now drawing a larger salary than he ever commanded before. If even these men would do the best within their ability to attend to the duties for which they are so roundly paid, much could be overlooked, but this they are not doing. They have been months in their present positions under the new Premier, and what they have done in that time, outside of regularly drawing their salaries, and ating a summer session of Parliament | ation for a single month without better personal attention to business.-Canada Farmer's Sun.

WILDLY FOOLISH.

The Provincial Opposition is doing itself no credit with its attacks on the Patron members and its clap-trap attempts to force them into an embarrassing position. The Patrons are not in the Legislature to make or un-make Governments. They are there to help legislate for the best interests of the people, and the sooner the Con-servative members realize that they themselves were elected to serve the people, the better. As it is now, they seem to imagine they have no other duty than to turn the Government out of office.—Toronto Star.

ASPHALT OR BRICK?

Needed Improvement of the City Highways

Discussed by the Board of Works-Also the Matter of Estimates and Sewers and Other Topics.

A few days ago tenders were called for an asphalt or vitrified brick pavement on Duncas and Richmond streets. A letter was received from the city solicitor at last night's meeting of the Board of Works stating that the kind of pavement must be specified in calling for tenders, as residents who do not desire the one may petition against it. It was thus left in the hands of the committee as to what pavement they would advertise for. The engineer made a miniature brickyard of the table with a number of samples, and a long discussion ensued as to which brick was the most satisfactory and whether the pavement should be brick or asphalt. A sub-committee was finally appointed-to consist of Mayor Little, Engineer Graydon and Ald. Tarnell and Nutkins-to obtain all necessary informaton from various cities, etc., and report again to the committee. It is understood that the merchants on Dundas street between Richmond and Talbot favor the asphalt pavement.

The matter of estimates was brought up by Ald. Parnell, who asked the engineers what his lowest estimate would be on street improvements and cleaning. Engineer Graydon stated that $30,000 for street improvements and $5,-000 for cleaning would be as low as possible for this year. This estimate was carried, and the others will be ready on Monday night.

Ald. Nutkins brought up a motion that bylaw No. 759, relating to sewers and drainage, be changed so as to make the connections from the mains to the street line under the concrol of the city engineer. It appears that in some case the sewer has been broken into and not properly repaired. By making this change it is thought that the sewer mains will not be so carelessly handled and spoiled as they have been in the past. The motion was recommended to the council. Two petitions were received from re idents on Nelson street and Charlotte street for repairs and alterations. They will have to wait till the estimates are

A communication was received from the engineer in regard to a resting place for the street sweeper. It is now stored in one of the Fair Ground sheds which is too distant from the business portion of the city. The chairman and engineer have power to secure a suitable place. Chairman Heaman and Ald. Parnell will investigate the necessity of a typewriter machine in the engineer's office, he having asked for one. Prices are on hand for the vault doors which are wanted in the improvements in the City Hall. The chairman and engineer will attend to the doors. The caretaker of Queen's Park wants a watering cart and harness. He has a horse. The engineer will draw plans for a cart and obtain prices. The caretaker also wants other articles of minor value, and mentioned the sum of $20 for ornamental shrubs. Ald. O'Meara then brought in his plan that a plot of ground should be set apart in the parks for the use of the different florists and nurserymen. They would put their best attention on them, and could place their signs in them, which would make a good advertisement and a spot of beauty to the citizens. This matter was laid over till the board visits the city parks

The usual accounts were passed, including the pay sheet. Payment was refused on two carloads of stone which an individual alderman had ordered The members present were: Chairman Wm. Heaman, Ald. John Heaman, McCallum, Nutkins and Parnell, Mayor Little, Secretary Bell, Engineer Graydon and Street Inspector Owens.

HEART-BEATS.

The Reason Why the Heart Flutters, Palpitates and is Oppressed, and How to Relieve It. The heart has a hard old time of it, and within itself does not excite much disease, but is very often called upon to display the troubling symptoms of palpitation, fluttering, labored breathing, oppression, etc., on account of diseased Kidneys offering increased resistance to the passage of the blood through their defective secretive struc-tures, causing a morbid change in the blood unsuited to nourish the tissues and noxious to them. The minute artermade up, on the whole, of as weak ies resist the passage of this foul blood resulting in the muscular walls of the arteries and the ventricles of the heart becoming partially paralyzed, and from this cause results much of the so-called heart disease, which is owing to wasting Kidneys not being able to perform their functions. In order to relieve heart trouble remove the cause in the Kidneys with Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. JOHNSON ENJOINED. SYRACUSE, N. Y., March 28.—John B. Johnson, the famous cyclist, was arrested in this city at noon today on injunction proceedings brought by E. C. Stearns & Co., to prevent him from leaving this country to ride in France, as he meditated doing, and also to prevent him riding any other than the Stearns wheel. The injunction papers stated that Johnson had signed a contract with the Stearns people a short time ago to ride the Stearns wheel, and it only between May 1 and Oct 1, 1895. It further stated that he had been secretly negotiating wih other firms since he signed the contract to ride their wheels in Europe. Johnson denies that he has ever negotiated with other firms, and states that the reason he wants to ride in France is because he is now a professional, and there is no professional riding in this country. Miss Stevenson, formerly a well known soprano singer of this city, and a member of Dundas Street Center Methodist Church choir, was also well received; in fact, the whole entertainment was very praiseworthy in every particular. Fire Wipes Out a Considerable Part of the Village.

Desperate Fight With the Flames at Early Morn.

Two Hotels, a Store and Several Dwellings Destroyed.

Narrow Escape of the Methodist and Anglican Churches-No Facilities for Fighting Fire-Most of the Contents of the Buildings Destroyed.

Shortly before 4 o'clock yesterday morning, Mr. H. Woods, who lives in the village of Arva (St. Johns), was awakened by a bright flash of light in his bedroom. In a comparatively short time all that remained of his house, together with several others, two hotels, a blacksmith shop, a general store and the postoffice, was a smouldering mass of ruins. St. Johns, also known as Arva, is, as nearly everyone knows, a small village on the Proof Line road in London township, about six miles north of the city, and comprises, or rather comprised, two score of houses, two churches, two hotels, and the usual number of stores and blacksmith shops that are generally found in a country place.

When Mr. Woods was awakened by the flash he sprang from his bed, and peering through the window into the darkness he saw that the house of Patrick Drum immediately to the north was in flames. Dressing more hastily than he had ever done before, Woods awakened his wife and five children, and then proceeded to give a general alarm. Drum and his wife and family were aroused from their slumbers. They found the down-stairs of the place wrapped in flames. There was a hustle and a bustle, and the inmates barely had time to get out with their lives and what clothing and household furniture they could pick up in their hurried escape. A strong northwest wind-almost a hurricane—was blowing at the time, and a few minutes had barely elapsed before Woods' house (to the south) was one sheet of flame. In those few minutes Woods and the few men who had arrived in the meantime, devoted their attention to the furniture and bedding, and of this a great quantity was saved. The flames were rapidly carried south to the large stables and hotel of Wm. Fralick. Both buildings were frame. the latter being a two-story structure. The roof was the first to take, but the fire rapidly crept down the sides and soon secured a good hold on the interior. From room to room and up the staircase leaped the destroying element, and it was no time, hardly, before the roof fell in with a crash. This caused a general pyrotechnic display such as the residents of the little village only witness during the Western Fair. The sparks and burning shingles were CARRIED IN EVERY DIRECTION by the strong wind, and for a while i looked as though the English Church, situated a little to the south, was doomed. The villagers and the entire community for miles around were by this time on the scene, and with buckets of water and other crude means which were at their disposal, fought the flames as best they could. Their efforts were directed in an endeavor to check the fire from spreading across the road but lack of fire-fighting appliances and the gale which was blowing sadly handicapped them, and the postoffice and the general store on the east side of the road, owned by Alfred Cummings, began to burn. But this advance of the fire did not dishearten the workers. While some guarded the roof of the English Church, others deserted the Fralick place and paid their attention to Cummings'. On the north of Cummings' was Wm. H. Wyatt's blacksmith shop and stables; on the south the only remaining hotel, which belonged to Edward Brooks. In the rear

Brooks' hotel was a stable of large di-mensions. These four buildings were SOON BURNING FIERCELY, and the villagers became almost disheartened. It then looked as though nothing could prevent a general wipe out of several houses, the Methodist Church and parsonage, and a grocery store owned by Charles Smith, just a little to the south and east. The wind by this time had veered around to the north, and seemed to increase in force. It carried burning timbers from the Brooks hotel to James Wyatt's house on the south side of the seventh concession. This, too, was totally demolished, to-gether with most of the contents. A house to the east a few feet and Smith's grocery store on the west were only saved from destruction by the hard work of the bucket brigade. A barn belonging to the division court clerk Mr. Walter Westlake, and situated a quarter of a mile south of Brooks', was badly scorched.

The fire began to die out about 5:30 o'clock, and there were a tired lot of people counting up the loss. It will be very heavy. Wm. Wyatt owned the house in which the fire originated, and a $300 insurance policy will cover the oss. The Woods' home was owned by Mrs. Ralph, and it is not known whether it was insured or not. Fralick's hotel was valued at $3,000, and the insurance was the same. Brooks' loss is $2,000; no insurance. Besides the greater part of his household furniture he lost the barn and its contents, including three pigs and a large number of hens. Wm. H. Wyatt's blacksmith shop and stable were almost totally destroyed. The insurance of $1,000 will fully cover the loss. James Wyatt's furniture was damaged to the extent of $100. The house was owned by James Grant, of the London Mutual, and is probably

An approximate estimate of the losses cannot be given, but it is supposed to be about $12,000. A large portion of the household furnishings in most of the ruined places was destroyed, and sev-eral families are homeless. They are being cared for by kind friends in the vicinity. The villagers are more than surprised at the escape of the Methodist and Anglican churches, which were in the greatest danger. Mr. James Wyatt had his hair badly singed in battling the flames. Luckily no person was in-

THE UNITED PRESS DISPATCH.

ARVA, Ont., March 28.—About 4 o'clock this morning fire broke out in the south end of a two-story building owned by Wm. Wyatt, and occupied by Patrick Drum, in the north end. The wind was high, and the flames leaped from building to building with terrible rapidity. The fire spread to the adjoining two-story frame building occupied by Harry Wood. The inmates had only time to escape with their lives. This building was owned by James Ralph. No insurance; loss about $300. South of this the barns of Wm. Fraleigh took fire, spreading to the hotel, a large frame structure. Total insurance on this, $3,000. The Economical, of Berlin, had $1,300 on the building, and contents; the Perth Mutual, $700; the other companies not ascertained. On the opposite side of the street Edwin Brooks' hotel, barns and sheds suc-cumbed. Total loss, about $2,000; no insurance. The store and postoffice ad-joining Brooks' hotel, owned and occupied by Alfred Cummings, was swept out of existence; nothing saved: Insurance, $300 on contents of store in the Surance, $300 on contents of store in the Royal, of Liverpool; loss on building, about $350. Wm. Wyatt's shop and stable in the rear were destroyed; covered by insurance in the Alliance. Opposite Brooks' barn was the dwelling house owned by James Grant, and occupied by James Wyatt. Nothing much saved: loss on building house owned.

saved; loss on building about $300; insurance not known. The buildings were all old frame structures, and burned like matchwood. The wires of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company are all down south of this office. The intense heat caused the large frame windselves. heat caused the large front window of the English Church to crumble in. Several other places caught fire several times. The Methodist parsonage, occupied by Rev. Mr. Penhale, got a soorching. The cause of the fire is unknown.

JUST TEN HUNDRED.

The Number of Servants in Queen Victoria's Household. Queen Victoria's household is a large one, consisting of just a thousand persons, for the maintenance of whom the nation sets apart the sum of $2,500,000 every year. Most of the posts are sincures or fixtures for line. In the early part of Queen Victoria's reign a mis-tress of the robes may possibly have done a few hours' work in the year, giving orders that the apparel of the sovereign should be carefully preserved from moth and dust, renewing the regal ermine, velvet and lace at stated times, and seeing that the crown jewels were always locked up safely after a public airing. She could also affix her name to warrants empowering one worthy tradesman to sell sewing cotton to the royal household, and allowing others to put up the Royal arms over their doors because their various wares were bought by personages of illustrious degree. Harriet Sutherland's signature was always almost as good an addition to business advertisements as "To the Queen," emblazoned in big gilt letters over the shops. Some of the posts are entirely ornamental, and others have very little duty attached to them. Probably the only additions to the household since the time of Henry VIII. are two steam apparatus men. Although there is no longer a royal barge, nor any pageantry on the Thames, there are pageantry on the Thames, there are still a bargemaster and a waterman, with a salary each of $2,000 a year. For the past 200 years there has been no hawking in the forest of Windsor, but the office of grand falconer, held by the Duke of St. Albans, has only been suppressed within the last two years. There are four table deckers. years. There are four table deckers, whose sole duty is to lay the dinner-cloth and see that the plates, dishes, and cutlery are fairly set forth. There is also a wax fitter, who sees the candles properly disposed, and a first and second lamplighter, who receives the same salary as that of the poet laure-ate, which is $500 a year. This may seem shabby payment, but it must be confessed that most of the poets laureate have been overpaid for the stuff supplied. Then there is the keeper of the vans, who annually pockets $150 for Joking after the sacred birds on the reyal waters. Lastly there is the Queen's rat catcher, who is especially attached to Buckingham Palace. His salary, $75, is provided out of the civil list. Every session the House of Commons, in committee of supply, considers this vote and gravely agrees to it. -Boston Globe.

Ladies, are you using the New Interlining Fiber Chamois

Puff Sleeves and Skirts, when supported by this Ideal Interlining, will retain their stylish appearance "through thick and thin," whether badly crushed by careless packing—or by weight of outer garments—a slight shake and there is no trace of crease or wrinkle.

Dampness does not affect it, as it is not stiffened by Gum, Starch or Glue.

It is strong and durable and will last as long as the garment itself, in 3 weights, 64 inches wide, 35c per yard. In all the leading stores. Every yard of Genuine Fiber Chamois is Labeled. Beware of inferior imitations.

CHICAGO, March 28.

Weather conditions controlled the wheat market today, and on predictions of rain in the wheat belt the price fell off \(\frac{1}{2} \)c for May and \(\frac{1}{2} \)c for cash. Corn followed wheat with a loss of \(\frac{1}{2} \)c, but oats advanced \(\frac{1}{2} \)c to \(\frac{1}{2} \)c on discouraging crop reports. Provisions were higher.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 300 cars; corn, 100 cars; oats, 107 cars; hogs, 15,000

Chief of Police Williams knows of no such time and Patrick Wallace, the veteran of the force, does not remember any Stevenson either. A Brock Stevens was chief of the force for a time about 35 years ago. It is presumed that the Stevenson mentioned has been left a legacy.

The Japs Break Up China's Armies in Southern Shin-King.

Two Thousand Chinese Killed and Only 96 Japanese.

The Japs Greatly Outnumbered-They Capture Important Cities.

TOKIO, Japan, March 12, via Victoria, B. C., March 28.-The Japanese in Southwestern Manchuria have completely broken and dispersed the powerful armies that were opposed to them. The two Japanese armies were a division and brigade aggregating about 30,000 men, under Lieut.-Gen. Katsuro, in Hai Cheng, and the brigade of about 8,000 men, under Lieut. Kawalyi, in Tai Ping. Thus, on the Japanese side, there were 38,000 men; on the Chinese, 70,000. With 38,000 troops divided into two batches of 30,000 and 8,000, separated by a distance of 40 miles, they had to attack three Chinese armies aggregating 70,000, and extending over a front of some 60 miles, the method adopted was no less bold than successful.

Gen. Sung, who was commanding at Ying Kow, attempted to thrust back the Japanese, employing a force of about 15,000 or 20,000 for the purpose, but they were out-generaled and cut off from the second division. Four days later Lieut.-Gen. Katsuro moved out of Hai Cheng and threw 15,000 men at the Lao Hang army on his north, CRUSHING IT COMPLETELY and rolling it back twenty miles toward Koa Yang in such a disintegrated condition that all hopes of rallying and taking its place in the general line was temporarily destroyed. Three days after this Katsuro turned into a road leading directly to New Chwang, and on March 5 they delivered a fierce attack against that place from two directions. The rout of the Chinese was complete. The lost about 1,000 killed and 3,000 prisoners. On the following day Katsuro pushed toward Ying Kow, capturing it without difficulty, but losing two men by the explosion of a mine placed by the Chinese in one of the forts to the southwest of the town, on the banks of the Lao River. The remnants of the Chinese armies having fled toward Tien Chwang Tal, the Japanese armies combined to march against that place. Tien Chwang Tai lies on a coast road leading from Ying Kow to China proper, and, being situated on the opposite side of the Lao River, which is very wide at that point, offers great facilities as a defense, but, special difficulty.

They attacked, as is their wont, from three directions. The fight began at 7 a.m., with

A HOT CANNONADE, and at 10:30 the place was in the possession of the Japanese. The Chinese armies appear to have aggregated more than 10,000 men. Of the 5,000 troops forming the New Chwang and Ying Kow armies only a fifth part retain a semblance of cohesion after the opera-tions which began on Feb. 4 and ended on March 9. The Chinese fled along the coast road, leaving 2,000 of their num-ber dead upon the field. The Japanese casualties were 96 killed and wounded. With the taking of Tien Chwang Tal, the Chinese armies in Southern Shin

King ARE COMPLETELY BROKEN and scattered. Ying Kow, or modern New Chwang, lies on the bank of the Lao River, about 30 miles by road from Old Town. New Chwang, where Katsuro won his Secisive victory on March 5, is thirteen miles from the mouth of the river. The river is the chief waterway in Western Shin King.

Kingsmill's spring millinery opening, an event annually looked forward to by thousands of London ladies began on Wednesday, and all day the millinery department of the mammoth store was completely filled by members of the fair sex. This firm have justly earned the reputation of being close observers of fashion, and Mr. Kingsmill's intimate acquaintance with the foreign markets enables him to anticipate the styles and to provide his numerous patrons with the models of the most famous French artists. Chief among the models shown this season are those of Madames Linne, Faulkner, Maugin, Maurice, Poyzaum, Fluery, Heitz, Boyer, Paul Virot and Berthe Eastertide is now fast approaching, with its attendant flood of new bonnets, hats, ribbons and dainty trimmings. The wise woman takes advantage of the openings to become acquainted with the prevailing modes. A few of the prominent features of the spring fash-ons are as follows: Wide ribbons will be worn. The conspicuous colorings are: Apricot, Gobelin, Gismonda, Floxine, Azur-ine Biue, Pygmalion Brown and Mignon.

The fashionable trimmings are: Jet gimp, jet crowns, black and colored sequins, flowers, straw braids and ornaments. Hats will be worn large. Small bonnets are in vogue, and few ties will be used.

A FIRE-SWEPT VILLAGE. Only Three Business Places Are Left Standing-Other Blazes

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 28 .-Nearly the entire village of Canesaraga was wiped out by fire this morning. Half the population is homeless. Thirty houses are in ruins. Loss about $100,000. A fuller account says: About 1 o'clock this morning fire broke out in the gro-cery store of Henry Hulbert and, aided by a high wind, leveled the entire business part of the village in three hours. Fifty-six buildings were consumed and 34 families rendered homeless. Hardly Chief of Police Williams knows of no such anything could be saved. The total loss person having been on the force since his will reach $135,000, with insurance between $70,000 and $80,000. All the school buildings and churches were saved. A meatmarket, jewelry store and black-smith shop are the only business places left standing. Several of the merchants had just received a large quantity of spring goods. This is the third time this village has suffered by a big fire.

The Stratford Jury Found Chattelle Guilty of Murder.

He Declined Legal Help and Conducted His Own Case,

But Virtually Presented No Defenso-Jessie Keith's Slayer to be Hanged On May 31.

STRATFORD, Ont., March 28 .- At the assizes before Chief Justice Armour this morning the Queen vs. Chattelle was the first case called, the prisoner being charged with the murder of Jessie Keith, near Listowel on Oct. 19 last.

The court room was packed to its utmost capacity.

Chattelle's confinement has removed the tan from his face and he now wears spectacles on account of weak eyes.

After the indictment had been read he pleaded not guilty. H. M. East, of Toron-to, had been retained for the defense by the relatives of Chattelle, and it was intended to plead insanity, but on arrival here he learned from the prisoner that he wished to conduct his own defense, so Mr. East with-

Mr. Idington, county crown attorney, is acting for the crown, and after the jury had been selected related the circumstances attending the disappearance of Jessie Keith and the finding of the body in the bush and its condition. He also traced the prisoner's movements from Ailsa Craig to the scene of the murder and from there to Cataract, where the arrest was made. The connection between clothes stolen from Mrs. McLeod at Ailsa Craig with those found on the body in the bush and on Chattelle's person when arrested was shown.

These facts were all clearly brought out in the evidence given this morning, and although Chattelle occasionally questioned the veracity of witnesses, he was not able to make points of any great account in his

GUILTY! STRATFORD, March 28.-The trial of Almede Chattelle for the murder of Jessie Keith near Listowel on Oct. 19 last was begun and concluded today before Chief Justice Armour. Shortly before 4 o'clock the evidence was all in, and Chattelle, being asked it he had anything to say, made some incoherent remarks, but offered no defense. The judge's charge occupied half an hour and was entirely impartial.

At 4:30 the jury retired, and about ten minutes later returned with a verdict of "Guilty!" On being asked if he had anything to say, the prisoner said, "Nothing," and then the judge briefly pronounced sentence to the effect that Chattelle be hanged on May 31.

THE CRIME. The crime for which Chattelle is to suffer the death penalty was one of the most brutal that was ever committed in this part of the country. Jessie Keith, who lived two miles out from Listowel, had been sent to Listowel on the morning of the tragedy for some groceries and mail matter. While returning home and when almost in sight of the house she was met on the railway track by her slayer, who, after stunning her with a severe blow on the head, dragger her across a plowed field to a wood and there cut her throat and mutilated the body in a horrible manner. Chattelle pleaded guilty to the crime at the preliminary examination before a magistrate, and also confessed the crime on his way from Listowel to Stratford after the preliminary examination.

AN IRREPARABLE LOSS

To the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Mrs. Ella F. M. Williams, Dominion President, Passes Away, After a Long Illness.

It will be with the deepest feelings of regret that temperance workers from one end of this broad Dominion to the other will hear of the death of Mrs. Ella F. M. Williams, which took place in Montreal early yesterday morning. Mrs. Williams, as is generally known, had been president of the Dominion W. C. T. U. for over two years, having been elected at the annual convention on June 20, 1892. She was noted for her lifelong activity in the temperance cause. It was when but 12 years of age that Mrs. Killiams first connected herself with the work. At that early stage of life she became associated with a band of hope, and was chosen president. From then on she was an ardent promoter of all temperance principles, and never let an opportunity pass to forward the cause. When the W. C. T. U. was formed she fell into the ranks, and to the members has been like a colonel to his regiment. Mrs. Williams was possessed of remarkable business ability, and as Dominion president performed the duties of her office with em-inent satisfaction. Londoners will re-member her first appearance in this city in June last, when she attended the annual convention of the Dominion Union. She was greatly admired for her keen perception and power to manage her audience.

To show the esteem in which she was held, the following extract from the Ladies' Journal of March last is given: "Among leading Canadian temperance workers we have found it very diffi-cult to make a choice, as there are such a large number of really active and aggressive workers in the W. C. T. Unions in Canada. But first on account of ability and power we must place the beloved president of the Do-minion W. C. T. U.—Mrs. Williams, of Montreal. The writer's recollections of her as president of the Canada Congregational Woman's Board are very pleasant. She presided with much grace and withal such a quick-witted indiwiduality exceedingly becoming. Later we found her in W. C. T. U. conventions and were again charmed by her natural vivacity."

Mrs. Williams was taken iil last summer, but always endeavored to keep her condition unknown to the workers. She was to have attended the provincial convention in Cornwall in November, but wrote Mrs. Thornley, of this city, in August, stating that her physician would not allow her to be present. She transacted all the work of the Dominion Union during her illness, answered all her correspondence either personally or through an assistant, and kept up her editorial columns in the Woman's Journal every month. Finally her condition became such as to cause alarm, and inquiries were made to learn the true state of affairs. But Mrs. Williams always replied that man's Journal wrote, thinking that Mrs. Williams was unfit to conduct her arduous labors, but a reply in verse was sent, in which the president pictured in beautiful language the flowers which in beautiful language the "Ys" were daily brought to her by the "Ys," the birds and other things in her apartments. She never, however, mentioned her condition. Three months ago she was taken to her Ded, and the attendant physician stated that there was no hope of recovery. He was surprised at the vitality of the patient, and was frank enough later to admit that there was a slight chance. Mrs. Williams however, steadily sank, until death relieved her. The cause of death was peritonitis. Deceased was a graduate of Wheaton Seminary, Norton, Mass.

CANADIAN ORDER OF FORESTERS

Meeting of the Executive Committee-Interesting Reports.

BRANTFORD, Ont., March 28 .- The executive committee of the Canadian Order of Foresters are at present in session here. The reports from all parts of the Dominion are highly satisfactory, showing gratifying results both as to the number of new courts organized and the increase of membership. The payment of $50,000 insurance claims was passed and investment of the accumulated surplus since last meeting was disposed of. The total surplus now. is about $380.300.

The bill for Dominion incorporation. as prepared by High Court Solicitor Wikes, was considered and approved of.

The late Mr. W. A. Smith, of St. Thomas. who died recently, was a member of the Canadian Order of the Woodmen of the World. On the 25th inst. the proofs of claim were received by the executive, and vesterday the claim was passed and a check issued for $2,000 in favor of his widow, which shows the prompt manner in which the Woodmen of the World pay their policies after the death of their members. b

The Boston Museum of Art has received a legacy of $50,000 for the purchase of modern American paintings.

A Lost Gem

Before the afternoon ended, however Miss Jacky came to the conclusion that Stella had not been mistaken. People seemed to see things in the same light as she did, and called to ask after her. Mrs. Lyndsay, who lived in another great house in the Perth Road, came with her two daughters; and old Mrs. Balsilly, who had been the bosom friend of Stella's grandmother, dropped in and stayed for an hour. Aunt Jacky had never yet been loath to drink a surreptitious cup of tea at any hour of the day or night; and she was only to glad to bustle about and order the servants, with great accession of dignity, to bring in afternoon tea soon after three o'clock. So that, when Mr. Hannington did make his appearance, in his leisurely London way, a little before the stroke of five, the teapot was cold, the cups and saucers stood here and there, and the room had the distracted appearance of one in which some half-dozen people had been moving and talking and drinking tea nearly all the afternoon.

Miss Jacky was inclined to apologize for the disorder, but Stella was not sorry for it. Looking at the room through Hannington's eyes, she again became conscious of its gorgeous ugliness. There was too much of everything, too much gilding, too much marble, too much satin brocade, too many exotic bowers. The whole thing was overdone. To Stella the only really pleasing parts of the room were the grand piano recently ordered for her from Germany, and the broad plate-glass windows. with their magnificent view of the Tay. She was glad tnat Hannington commented at once on the grand sweep of the river between its picturesque hills and wooded banks, and turned his back on the flaunting splendor of the Thornbank drawing room.

The call was short and rather formal; but it ended in an invitation to dinner, which Miss Jacky was as proud to be able to give as Mr. Hannington was pleased to accept. In two days time he was to come, and then, as he gracefully expressed it, he would have the pleasure of making further acquaintance with Mr. Raeburn. Not with Siella; oh

Miss Jacky must be held responsible for a good deal. She had been exceedingly pleased when Mrs. Lyndsay had called, for the Lyndsays were great people in the commercial world; and she could not help letting out her pleasure with a certain arrangement in which Stella had been concerned

"So kind of them, you know, Mr. Hannington," she said, simply, while Stella blushed hotly and wished that she could lay her finger over her aunt's mouth. "For I'm sure I said to myself, what's yon"—you meant Stella in this case—"but a poor, wee lassie that's just come home from school, and must wait awhile before she makes friends with her neebors! Wait awhile? Not she! She hadn't been home a day before Mrs. Lyndsay and her two girlies came to call for

"To go out with them?" said Hannington, who did not quite understand.

Miss Jacky did not see where he had misunderstood her. She did not remember at the moment that the Southerner says 'call on' where the Northerner says 'call for,' and she wondered a little at the drift of his

"Not to-day," she said; "they just called for her to-day out of pure friendliness, so to speak; but to-morrow she is to go out with them for the afternoon if it is a fine day, because Stella says that she has never seen Balmerino, Mr. Hannington; and they are to make a party and drive her over, because you know Balmerino is a place that ought to be seen."

'Is it really?" said the young man, with great apparent earnestness. "I ought to go myself, ought I not? I must get Donald Vereker to take me. I have often heard of the place, and meant to see it."

"Ay, and so you should," Miss Jacky assented, "and, if Mr. Vereker of the Castle goes with you, you'll want no introduction; but, as a rule, the keys are kept at the farm house, and the good man does not trust them into everybody's hands. I hope you'll have a fine afternoon to-morrow, Stella my

"I hope so too," said Hannington, looking at her. Her eyes were downcast; there was there was the loveliest flush on her delicate cheeks. Hannington smiled. "Did she tell her aunt to let me know?" he said to imself. "Woo men do these things sometimes. She is not very skillful at setting traps as yet, poor little thing. I won't fail her, however: I will be at Balmerino to-morrow, too!"

The resolution showed how little he understood the motives that actuated Stella Raeburn.

CHAPTER IV.

Mr. Raeburn came home to his six o'clock dinner with the most lovely little watch in his pocket that Stella had ever beheld. He did not produce it until dessert was on the table, and then he brought it out in its dainty morrocco case with great form and ceremony, and handed it to Stella on a dish as if it were something good to eat.

"There, young lady!" he said. "There's a watch that is worth looking at. Don't let me see that trumpery silver affair again. It annoys me that you should wear a shoddy thing like that when I can afford you as good a one as any lady in the land.

'Dear papa, you are so kind," cried Stella. She could not resist the impulse to fly to his side and kiss him, although she noticed that he seemed a little taken aback by hereffusive display of affection. "I shall always wear this one, but I shall keep the other too, and I shall be just as fond of it in my own heart, because you gave it to me yourself."

"There, there!" said Mr. Raeburn. "You haven't looked at it yet. Sit down, my dear. I chose that because of the device on the back. It's just a wee bit fanciful, I'll grant; but girls don't dislike a thing on that account

The device was that of a star in brilliants, with a rather large diamond in the center. Stella and her aunt admired it extremely. but another surprise was still in store for them. Mr. Raeburn watched them silently the worn, haggard look coming back to his face as he sat back in his chair and listened to their comments. Presently he smiled, and drew out two more cases, at which Stella gazed in surprise and Miss Jacky in consternation.

"Can't give one thing to you and nothing to your aunt, can I?' he said, appealing to Stella. "Hand that over to her, my dear. Something for you to wear at the next big dinner party we go to, Jacky. And that's for you, my dear, and the more of that sort you get the better."

Aunt Jacky's present was a diamond brooch; Stella's a gold bracelet studded with diamond stars. The girl's thanks were warm and hearty; but she felt a little oppressed by the very magnificence of the gift. She had sense enough to know that so young a girl as herself ought not to wear diamonds, but she feared to wound her father's feelings by saying so. She slipped the bracelet on her fair, round arm, therefore, and gave herself up to a girlish pleasure in the flashing of the jewels in the lamplight Miss Jacky looked less pleased than she

"They must have cost a great deal, Matthew," she said, after a rather awkward

"And what if they did? Don't you suppose 1 can afford it?" said Mr. Raeburn, frowning at her angrily. "I can buy up any Dun-dee merchant twice over, I tell you; I'm a millionaire—a billionaire, if you like—and trade's going up; I mean to be as rich as Rothschild one of these days. There is no limit—no limit—to which I cannot aspire and-attain. We'll make our Stella a princess yet. There is an old story about a Princess Fair-star in some silly book; we'll make our Princess Fair-star a millionaire. That'll be a new ending for a fairy tale."

He laughed harshly and rose from the table, regardless of the fact that the ladies had not made a move. Miss Jacky watched him darkly as he left the room. She could not understand the changes of his moods. He behaved as if he had been drinking. And yet-she had not noticed that he took a larger quantity of wine than usual at din-There was something about him that made her very anxious now and then.

She turned to Stella; but Stella, though rather puzzled, had not sufficient experience either of her father or of the world at large to be alarmed. She was anything but critical by nature; and her father had shown himself loving and kind to her. That was sufficient to blind her eyes to his defects.

Besides, Stella had her own affairs to think about. Some instinct told her that Mr. Hannington intended to be at Balmerino on the following afternoon; he had not said so, but he looked his intention, and Stella had understood. She was half charmed, half frightened at the prospect. He had no business to go to the fine old ruin just for the sake of meeting her, and yet—if he chose to go, who could prevent him? She certainly could not. And then her thoughts resolved themselves into an intense anxiety about the weather. She sat at the delightful Blutner Grand for a good part of the evening, singing and playing Scottish airs for her father and her aunt; but her heart was not altogether in her music. It had flown far away from the present into a golden dream of future love and happiness.

The next day was cloudlessly fine. Mrs Lyndsay and her girls-two rosy, merry lasses, who had a boundless admiration for their old friend Stella, with whom they used to go to school before she left Dundee for Brussels-called at Thornbank at half-past one, and drove with her to the steamer in which the whole party-horses and carriages included-would be transported from Dundee to the Kingdom of Fife. At Newport they would get into the carriage again and be driven westward to the fine old Abbey

Mr. Wickliffe went to the grocery, and found that the negro, in cleaning the fish, cut it open, and discovered in its stomach a large-sized, old-fashioned Colt's revolver. The wooden handle was entirely rotted away, leaving the steel framework. The hammer was practically gone, as was the trigger and trigger guard. The ramrod has disappeared, leaving nothing but the barrel, which is seven inches long, the cylinder and the frame work. The fish was shipped here frozen from Lake Michigan.

AN OIL FAMINE.

Pennsylvania Wells Will Be Pumped Dry in a Few Months.

New Fields Must Be Developed-Prices Will Go Up.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 28.-The price of oil is daily becoming more interesting to the producer and consumer. Pennsylvania oil at the agencies of the Standard Oil Company is now $1 10 a barrel. At the present rate of Pennsylvania oil will be exnausted in five or six months. Unless new producing oil territory is developed, it looks as though oil will in the future sell at a high figure over the present price. While the Lima field is producing as much oil as usual, the quality cannot be compared with the Pennsylvania article, and it cannot be used for illuminating purposes unless it is mixed with the Pennsylvania product. This great shortage in the Pennsylvania production has caused quite a boom in the fields that are practically abandoned. Oil wells are being cleaned out and redrilled in the hopes of getting what-ever oil is left to sell at the present or higher figures. It is said several large refineries have already shut down on account of the shortage of the crude

AN IMPORTANT BILL. An important bill, which practically wipes out mechanics' institutes by consolidating them into public libraries, was given a separate reading in the Ontario Legislature on Wednesday. It is a lengthy act. It provides that the board of management shall consist of the mayor, three persons appointed by the council, three by the public school board and two by the separate school board, no member of any appointing body being eligible. The board must meet at least once a month, and as often as they like. The board may establish branch libraries, and may open 'evening classes for artisans, mechanics and workingmen, in such subjects to the public free of charge. A provision that will be of interest to London West provides that contiguous municipalities may "enter into an agreement with the board of management for the use of such library, and for such representa-tion on the board as may be deemed expedient." Teachers' institutes may become entitled to one representative on the board by transferring their books to the library, and the members of the institute shall in that case have equal rights with the residents of the muni-Government grant will be one dollar for each dollar spent by the board of management in the purchase of books and papers, the limit being $200 for books in cities and $50 for papers and magazines. The janitoir is to be a special constable, on the order of the county
