

RUMORS OF A BIG SHAKE-UP IN LONDON LICENSE BOARD

Messrs. Greer and Yates to Step Out for Messrs. John R. Minihinnick and Geo. F. Morris.

LIQUOR MEN WILL FIGHT THE LICENSE REDUCTION

City Clerk Baker today received the request of the London Temperance League to have the number of hotel and tavern licenses in the city reduced to 25. The council is asked to give the bylaws two readings and then submit it to the people for approval at the January election.

Just at this time rumors of changes on the license commission are afloat. As Mr. William Yates, of the London Machine Tool Company, will be compelled to spend more or less of his time in Hamilton, where his firm is now building a factory with a view to removing at once, it is expected amongst his own friends that he will not be a member of the license commission here for many months longer. To The Advertiser today, Mr. Yates said that for a time at least he will remove his family, and he says he has subjected will result in his resignation at the end of his term, which will be in May next.

To fill these prospective vacancies, the names of Mr. J. R. Minihinnick, a well-known manufacturer of London, and Mr. George F. Morris, the wholesale butcher, are mentioned. The former would meet with the approval of the liquor men, and Mr. Morris, it is said, would not be out of place with the temperance people who have confidence in him.

It is said that some years ago, Mr. Minihinnick was defeated for the mayoralty principally through the temperance vote, that he would now like to get on the commission, and would be strongly backed by the liquor interests.

It is understood that the liquor men of London intend to make an organized fight against the demand of the London Temperance League for the submission of a bylaw to the people to reduce the number of liquor licenses.

Organizer To Be Brought Here.

It is said to be the intention of the liquor men to bring an organizer from Toronto, who will take up his residence in London, until next election, and fight the proposal in a systematic manner.

The hotelmen point out, that according to population, London has fewer licenses than any other place of importance in Canada, and they naturally cannot see any reason for the cutting off of half a dozen more licenses. It is understood, too, that the manager in which certain "hotels" in this city are being run is not pleasing these hotelmen who run their places properly, and who feel that hotelkeeping is capable of being made just as respectable as any other occupation.

It is alleged that in the face of the fact that the trustees made in the spring by the Tory license board, "stall" business is being worked to death.

It will be remembered that in the spring the commissioners announced that the stalls or drinking-rooms in connection with the bars must go, but the declaration proved to be merely a play to the gallery. The commissioners did not mean it, apparently, for the stall business is being worked in London, it is alleged, as if never was worked before. The "pull" appears to have had its effect on the commissioners, whose early convictions appear to have undergone a revision with party exigency.

Hotelmen who are above-board have no time for this kind of business, and they will, it is said, use their influence to put a stop to it.

WEST LONDONERS NEED NOT WORRY

Mayor Says They Will Be Protected Against the Flood, Regardless of Overdraft.

Mayor Campbell, in reply to a question, today stated that anything which the city engineer declares to be necessary to protect West London from floods next spring will be done this year by the city, no matter whether the overdraft caused by the work be large or small.

"The city will see that the people of West London are protected," his worship declared. "Of this, the people may feel assured. And the city will not leave any part of the breakwater in such a position that it will be liable to be washed away by the spring freshet. This would be an idle waste of money. But anything which the engineer says must safely be left over to next year will not be gone on with."

When the contracts which have been let are carried out there will be an overdraft of somewhere in the neighborhood of $2,100.

Pope and Labor Day.

Montreal, Que., Oct. 31.—Archbishop Bruchési, today received a letter from His Holiness the Pope in reference to the Labor Day celebrations held here last Labor Day, and in reply Plus X expresses his commendation of the practices as a means of bringing the laboring men into closer touch with the church.

Will Mean a Reduction In Insurance Key Rate

Proposed Extension of Water-works System Will Lower It 25 Per Cent.

Mayor Campbell said today that after going over the insurance key rate, he is of the opinion that the construction of another main, the securing of new springs and the purchase of another fire engine will result in a reduction of the key rate by at least 11 cents. As it is now 40 cents, this will mean that it will be 29 cents after the improvements have been made.

The key rate is a basis for insurance on an average business property. It is made up by the underwriters by assessing the city according to what it lacks in the way of fire fighting appliances and the like.

At present the business men of London are compelled to pay in the key rate 2 cents for lack of pressure from the hydrants, 3 cents because the city has only one water main to Springfield, 1 cent because the single main crosses the river, and 10 cents for lack of pressure, or because the city has not four fire engines, as demanded by the insurance men.

The mayor figures that if the city had another fire engine, or half of what the underwriters demand, the key rate would be reduced to a reduction of one-half of the 10 cents charged up in the key rate, the entire reduction on all counts resulting from the building of the main and the purchase of another engine, totaling 11 cents.

The mayor intends to bring the matter before the people in connection with the proposal to increase the efficiency of the present waterworks system.

NO TARIFF CHANGES THIS FALL; WILL BE READY NEXT NOVEMBER

If Introduced This Session It Would Prolong Sitting for Many Months.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—It is very possible there will be no tariff changes announced in the next budget speech. While the matter has not been considered by the tariff reform commission or by the Government, it is understood that a number of Liberal members think the tariff could well go over until the November session. This would enable Parliament to pass estimates and dispose of immediate business at a short session opening in January, and would give the Government the entire summer to go into the various complicated questions involved in making up a tariff. The only opposition to this course is likely to come from cotton manufacturers, who feel that their products should be immediately dealt with by the tariff makers. The greater portion of the country would not object to the tariff being delayed until the November session.

If this course is not followed, the winter session is likely to be both late and long. It will take the commission from now until the holidays to complete their inquiry on the tariff in Quebec, the Maritime Provinces, and Manitoba. After that the Government would have to go over the evidence and prepare schedules. That is a two months' task, so the tariff could not be brought down until early in March. The debate which would follow would continue until almost the time planned to have Parliament called for the autumn session.

New Manager Is Named For the Street Railway

C. B. King, of Detroit, to Take the Place of C. E. A. Carr in This City.

The vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. C. E. A. Carr as manager of the London Street Railway Company, has been filled at last.

At a recent meeting of the directors the position was offered to Mr. C. B.

King, of Detroit, and today he notified the company of his acceptance.

Mr. King was expected in the city today, but up till 3 o'clock he had not arrived. It is his intention to take over the management at once.

Mr. King is about 35 years of age, and he has been for some time connected with the Detroit Street Railway Company.

His appointment is considered a very desirable one, and it is expected that the London system in the shape it should be to please the citizens and make money for the company.

BLEW OUT BLOCK

Explosion Causes $200,000 Loss in Pensacola, Florida.

Pensacola, Fla., Nov. 1.—During the progress of a fire which broke out early today in a large business block on Palafox street, an explosion of powder blew out nearly the whole front of the block. Among the property burned were several of the largest stores in the city, together with the Osceola Club, a favorite resort for naval officers, and one of the oldest clubs in the South. Loss is about $200,000.

READ IT INNOCENTLY

Kidd Got Another Kidd's Letter by Mistake—Lawsuit Follows.

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—This afternoon there was mailed to London, Ont., evidence taken in the examination for discovery before Mr. W. Scott, master in chancery, Ottawa, in the case of R. J. Kidd, Peterboro, vs. J. N. Kidd, M. L. A. for Carleton County. The plaintiff sues for damages for $10,000, charging that defendant converted property to his own use, and also for libel. The facts were published some time ago, and that in handing it over to Provincial Secretary Hanna, he did so, not with any idea of getting the plaintiff dismissed from a Government position, but in order to find out who the letter belonged to.

E. R. Stoen, London, is acting for the plaintiff, and he and Mr. Scott, closely questioned the defendant. The latter swears that when he read the letter he did not know it was for another man, and that in handing it over to Provincial Secretary Hanna, he did so, not with any idea of getting the plaintiff dismissed from a Government position, but in order to find out who the letter belonged to.

ALBERTA NOMINATIONS

Rutherford Makes Good Start, Getting Three by Acclamation.

Edmonton, Nov. 1.—In spite of the strenuous efforts of Conservative Organizer Walsh, St. Albert went by acclamation to the Government in Alberta nominations yesterday, thus giving Premier Rutherford three seats. The other two acclamations are Peace River and Athabasca. Mr. Walsh spent Monday in Strathecona and succeeded in prevailing upon Dr. Craig to stand up to be knocked down by Premier Rutherford. In Pincher Creek all four candidates will go to the polls. The nominations otherwise passed off quietly.

DISASTER IN NORTH SEA

Two Ships Collide and Founder and Twenty-Six of Crew Perish.

London, Oct. 31.—The Swedish steamer Johan, of 1,724 tons, and the Russian bark Antares, of 340 tons, both founded recently in the North Sea after a collision. Twenty-six men of the two crews were drowned. The captain and carpenter of the Johan were landed at Helsingborg by a German steamer, while the captain and cook of the Antares were landed at Stockholm by a steam trawler, which picked them up soon after the collision.

IRREGULAR, SAYS JUDGE

Court Decides on Charge Proved in Pense Election Trial.

Kingston, Nov. 1.—In the election trial proceedings here to unsettle E. J. R. Pense, one of the charges was decided by Judge Street as having been proved this morning. It was the Short-Halliday charge, and only involved the hiring of a rig. Halliday engaged the rig from Short, a Portsmouth hotel-keeper, and paid $15 for it. The judge held this to be irregular. Charles J. J. James admitted having been bought by both sides.

POBEDONOSTSEFF OUT

Chief Procurator of Holy Russia Synod Has Resigned.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—Constantine Petrovitch Pobedonostseff, chief procurator of the Holy Synod, has resigned.

BIG GALE HITS BUFFALO

Accompanied by Rain and Snow and Going at Sixty Miles an Hour.

Buffalo, Nov. 1.—A blustering gale from up the lakes, accompanied by rain and snow, struck Buffalo early today. The wind reached a velocity of 60 miles an hour, as measured by the local branch of the weather bureau. The schooner George G. Blaine ran ashore near the end of the government pier, but was pulled off without serious damage.

FIRST CONSULT TEACHERS

No Deputy Minister of Education To Be Appointed Just Yet.

Toronto, Nov. 1.—Premier Whitney intimated today that there would be no appointment made of a deputy minister of education to succeed the late John Miller until there had been a consultation with a body representing the teaching profession. Changes in the law are also contemplated.

RODNEY MURDER TRIAL ON

Jury Being Empaneled for Trial of Alex. Willis.

St. Thomas, Nov. 1.—The trial of Alex Willis for the murder of Miss Eliza Lowery opened this afternoon, and the jury is now being empaneled. J. Lynch Stanton, of Hamilton, is the crown prosecutor, and C. St. Clair Leitch, Dutton, appears for the accused.

CASE HANGS FIRE, REPORTER MISSING

Until Latter Is Found, Slander Case Against Dr. English Cannot Proceed.

The action which was brought against Dr. English, chairman of the London Board of Health, by the Village of Port Stanley, and by Dr. Mothersill, medical health officer of that village, for alleged slander in declaring that the village had done nothing to improve the water supply there, is hanging fire because the iron grip of the law cannot lay its finger on the man who is alleged to have interviewed the doctor when the alleged slanderous statements were made.

It will be remembered that the London Board of Health traced (to its own satisfaction) the typhoid fever epidemic in this city to alleged bad water at the Port Stanley reservoir, and declared that London should look around at home, preferably at Springbank, where the ground adjacent to the reservoir and springs is used as a public park.

Subsequently officials of the Ontario Department of Public Health, though they did not say that London's water supply was contaminated, declared that the supply was not free from suspicion, and of course, Port Stanley at once sought redress. Thus the action against Dr. English was brought, as was also an action against the Board of Health.

And now the whole business is laid up in dry dock because the reporter who interviewed Dr. English cannot be located.

It was away back in June that the alleged libelous article was published, but the man who wrote it cannot be found. Reporters are elusive chaps, anyway, and it is no wonder that a whole army of lawyers employed on the case have been unable to find the pencil pusher.

So many articles appeared in the papers at the time that it is difficult to ascertain anything definite about the particular one which drew down the wrath of Port Stanley.

BY-ELECTION WRITS

Nominations Are Fixed for Nov. 15 and Polling Nov. 22.

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—Writs for new elections in North York, West Lambton and Wentworth, Ontario and Antigonish, N. S., were issued today. Nominations are fixed for November 15, and polling for November 22. The returning officers are: North York, Sylvester H. Lundy; Aurora, Wentworth, W. E. S. Knowles; Dundas, West Lambton, William Douglas; Camlachie, Antigonish, Sheriff D. D. Chisholm. The voters' lists are not ready in Saskatchewan, and the elections cannot therefore take place in these constituencies until later. There will be a vacancy in Quebec as soon as Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux formally elects to go to Nicolet or Gaspé. Up to the present he has given no official intimation which constituency he will represent.

The Cities of Russia Still Afire With Revolt

Students Clamoring for a Republic—Hundreds Killed in Odessa Riots—Mobs Free Political Prisoners.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 1.—A light

fall of snow covered the city with a white mantle during the night, but today a drizzling rain helped to put a damper on the ardours of the crowds already exhausted by the delirium of yesterday. General Trepoff's warning to the manifestants that he will use energetic measures to prevent disorders, coupled with the reappearance of patrols of horse and foot soldiers, also had a restraining influence, and the agitators experienced difficulty in again arousing the proletarian. Many strikers among the workmen are ready to return to work, and those in favor of continuing the struggle have difficulty in holding the majority.

The student and Socialist leaders who continue to declare that nothing but a democratic republic will suffice, are using every means in their power to keep up the enthusiasm and drive the people into armed collisions with the troops. A score of big meetings are announced for today. An official thanksgiving service is announced to take place at the Kazan Cathedral at 2 o'clock.

The news from the provinces shows that the whole empire must have been plunged in great excitement yesterday. Everywhere the announcement of the issuing of the manifesto granting Russia a constitution aroused the people to a high pitch of enthusiasm, but everywhere the population was divided into camps, as in St. Petersburg, those who accepted the boon of freedom with intense joy, and who are now denominated loyalists, and the extreme radicals under the leadership of the students, Socialist and revolutionary organizations, who used the opportunity to preach the complete overthrow of the Government. Clashes and sanguine conflicts occurred at many places. In some towns the mobs obtained control, and the authorities were forced to obey their demands for the release of the political prisoners. This was the case at Byelostok. Cossacks were turned loose, and beat the crowds at Kasin, Kishineff, Kieff and other places.

Many Clashes at Warsaw.

Warsaw, Nov. 1.—Disorders continue throughout the city. Conflicts between the populace and soldiers are frequent. The authorities are charged with ignoring the imperial manifesto. There is a complete suspension of business. The streets and squares are full of troops. The people are attempting to organize street meetings but they are promptly dispersed by bayonet charges.

Crowds are flocking to the cemeteries on the occasion of All Saints' Day. The workmen have organized an anti-Government demonstration at the Powonzy Cemetery.

Mob Frees Prisoners.

Ekatrinoslav, Nov. 1.—The governor

yesterday was compelled at the dictate of a mob to open the doors of the prison.

Hundreds Killed at Odessa.

London, Nov. 1.—A dispatch from Odessa says mobs of rioters have broken loose in various parts of the city, and have been in conflict with bands of students, resulting in much bloodshed. It is estimated that fully a hundred persons have been killed.

The governor-general of Odessa, General Kaubars, today again called out the patrols which yesterday were taken off the streets. The foreign consulates and government municipal buildings are guarded by troops. There was a lull in the fighting at about three o'clock but the people are panic-stricken, fearing another eruption.

Many Killed at Kieff.

Kieff, Russia, Nov. 1.—The populace seized the town hall yesterday, and delivered to the crowd from the balcony when Cossacks appeared. Some of the people inside were armed, and a regular engagement followed, resulting in many being killed or wounded on both sides. The Cossacks finally routed the crowd and captured the building. After dark the Jewish quarter was sacked.

Elizabeth, Grad, Russia, Nov. 1.—The crowds here yesterday turned on the Jews and plundered their stores.

Byelostok, Russia, Nov. 1.—The political prisoners were given up to the crowds here yesterday, which threatened to storm the local prison.

Kishineff, Nov. 1.—The troops fired on the crowds during the manifestations here yesterday in celebration of the granting of the constitution.

Poltava, Nov. 1.—An army of people surrounded the prison yesterday and howled for the release of the political prisoners. They were driven off by Cossacks and infantry, who fired several volleys. Many persons were killed or wounded.

Vitebsk, Russia, Nov. 1.—Troops were employed to disperse red flag crowds here yesterday. Seven persons were killed, among them being two Jews and many people were wounded. Representatives of the social democrats appeared before a special session of the council and presented a demand for the withdrawal of the military.

Berlin, Nov. 1.—The correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger at St. Petersburg says he has learned from a well-informed source the following details of Count Witte's interview Monday with Emperor Nicholas: during which he prevailed upon his majesty to sign the Rescript.

The court party had been working upon the Emperor to prevent his signing the rescript, when Count Witte appeared. His majesty asked the count if the imperial signature could not be postponed. The count thereupon called attention to the frightful condition of affairs within the empire, especially to the last mutiny in the Black Sea fleet, and also pointed to an important dispatch from Berlin announcing a heavy drop in Russian bonds. Count Witte said that an hour must be lost and that the delay of a day or two would usher in a revolution with all its horrors. Only then would the Emperor consent to sign.

CUSTOMS REVENUE IS STILL GROWING

London Last Month Beat October, 1904, When Collections Were Exceedingly Large.

The returns of the London custom house for October show total collections of $71,199 58.

In October, 1904, the collections amounted to $65,517 85, showing an increase of $1,582 60 for last month.

The increase is not quite as large as was expected, although it is very satisfactory, because the revenue for October, 1904, was exceptionally large.

The collections for the Dominion for October are estimated at $320,000 in advance of a year ago.

FINLAND'S DIET TO LEGISLATE

The Constitutional Regime Once More in Force at Helsingfors.

Helsingfors, Oct. 31.—The proclamation of civic liberty in Russia is followed today by the announcement of the return to a constitutional regime in Finland.

The governor-general announced to a deputation today that he had been instructed from St. Petersburg that the Diet be immediately called in extraordinary session to legislate for Finland.

Lost His Wife and Baby, Then Rosa Took to Crime

Julius E. Rosa, alias Morrell, was sentenced by Judge Elliott this morning to one year in the Central Prison at Toronto on a charge of false pretenses. Rosa is the young Frenchman, who passed the forged check, purported to be signed by Mr. Christie, of Toronto, on Gilleen, the jeweler, not long since.

When asked by the judge whether he had anything to say why the sentence of the court should not be passed, Rosa begged his honor to be lenient. It was the first time he had been arrested, he said. He had not touched liquor until three months ago, when his wife and baby died. He spent all his money, and in a drunken stupor he passed the check. He had not given his right name, because he did not desire to disgrace his parents, who knew nothing of his present predicament.

Judge Elliott said that he did not credit the story that the crime was the outcome of a drunken bout. It was too deliberate and well planned. There was the other fact that he had tried the same thing in other places. Passing forged checks was becoming too prevalent, and must be stopped. Rosa has no criminal history as far as could be learned.

LONDONERS PLAN AN INDOOR TURF OF THE ROMANOFFS

Building Where Sports May Be Played in Winter.

THE CARPET IS LIKE GRASS

Everything From Tennis to Football Will Be Represented—Also Is Showhouse.

London, Oct. 30. — Preparations are well in hand for the opening of what will be the most remarkable club in the kingdom, making use of that great building known as the Olympia, where it is proposed to provide all kinds of sports and games during the winter months. The committee in charge includes in its membership such prominent men in social and sporting life as Viscount Raynham, the Earl of Kilmorock, Viscount Duncannon, Lord Hawley, Lord Rossmore, Col. W. R. Murray, the Earl of Kintoull, Lord Alverstone, and Col. Newman Davis. The scheme is ambitious. It is designed to meet the needs of the thousands of men who have to devote themselves all exercise during the winter months. The Olympia will be turned into a miniature golf, and the ball will be driven on it, and the ball will come up true enough and swift enough for their satisfaction. Footballers have filled on it, and have found it at least as comfortable as the meadow carpet.

It now is being woven at Gornford, and already has been two months in making and for two months more will continue to give employment for the entire village. It is woven upon a firm basis of coconut matting, and the surface is made of rubber grass, which has been imported from South America. It is the largest carpet in the world and has been made by the most expert hands who have tried it, and the peculiar qualities of grass as well. The instructions will be provided for fencing, croquet, hockey, football, and gymnastic exercises, and at stated hours the members may use the arena for learning how to drive automobiles. From gallery to gallery, a distance of 374 feet, the whole will be able to fire at a Morris tube, the rifle range in each part to be controlled by a committee of experts elected by the general committee.

Apart from the use of the club as a place for the exercise ground, the members intend to make it one of the great show places of London. On every evening in the week, and on Thursday and Saturday afternoons games will be played by professional teams for the entertainment of the members and the public.

There will be whist and races, in which some of the best-known does will take part. Jumping, fencing, and croquet contests are to be provided. Spanish experts have been engaged to play that whitish game of handball known as pelota, which is popular in every town in Spain and has carried Paris by storm.

Concerts will be given every afternoon and evening on Sundays as well as week days. Interesting and novel entertainments are promised for the theatre and music hall. There will be billiard, reading-rooms, and the life will furnish all the conveniences of a club. Subscriptions of $15 a year for men and $3 for women are required.

Thomas Tapping, of London, began collecting postage stamps at the age of 10 years old, and now has a collection numbering about 100,000, which is estimated to be worth $500,000.

was exiled and then assassinated. A coup d'état called Elizabeth, daughter of Peter the Great, to the throne in 1741, and he reigned through twenty years of assassination and intrigue. Peter III. mounted the throne in 1762, only to be murdered by his wife's favorite in a few months. Then his wife, Catherine II., ruled as empress, until 1796. Her son Paul succeeded her, and in 1801 he was assassinated. Then came Alexander I., the emperor who burned Moscow to prevent its capture by Napoleon, and who afterwards marched his army to the gates of Paris, compelling Napoleon to abdicate and send him as a prisoner to Russia.

DARK AGES BRING LIGHT TO NEW M.D.'S

Surgeons Now Using an Anaesthetic Employed Long Before Chloroform.

Philadelphia, Oct. 31. — Surgeons have been going back to the Dark Ages, according to reports received by the County Medical Society, for an anaesthetic to take the place of ether and chloroform. This method consists in the use of the narcotic called scopolamine or hyoscyamine, to render patients insensible to the pain of the knife. Dr. Wayne Babcock, in his paper, said the new method was merely the revival of an art. Ancient surgeons produced insensibility to pain in their patients, he said, by the administration of mandragora, which was a narcotic substantially the same as scopolamine. Dr. Babcock said that for a period of more than a month this drug has been used for all surgical work in the Samaritan Hospital. In that time 32 operations were performed. Of these three were absolutely quiet under the operation, nineteen showed a slight muscular reflexion, five showed an active muscular reflexion and five were violently active, so as to interfere with the progress of the operation. One of the patients died, but none of the three deaths was by the scopolamine. Dr. Babcock said, finally, the value of scopolamine has been proved as an adjunct to the use of ether and chloroform, but it cannot entirely supplant anaesthesia. This is because some patients are not influenced sufficiently by the narcotic.

The advantages of scopolamine are that it is more easily administered, it prevents mental and physical shock, it does not cause nausea or other ill effects that frequently accompany the use of anaesthetics. Dr. Alfred C. Wood, who read a paper on "General Anaesthesia, with Special Reference to Scopolamine-Morphine," said that his results were in the main about the same as those of Dr. Babcock. He has had fifteen operations in which scopolamine was used. Of these, eight were wholly successful, four were partially successful, and three were failures. Where scopolamine produced perfect narcosis, as it did in a majority of cases, he said, the patients were much better than when ether or chloroform are used. One of its great advantages, he said, is that patients never remember the operation, nor do they feel the pain, even when partly conscious.

Dr. H. C. Wood, jun., said he believed that the morphine caused the narcosis, instead of the scopolamine, and doubted the value of the drug.

SCIENTISTS ARE COMING

The British Association Will Convene in Winnipeg in 1909.

Winnipeg, Oct. 31. — Professor George Boyce has received a letter from Professor Macallum, of Toronto, who writes from Montreal, Africa, on Sept. 17. He and Professor Coleman of Toronto, were both at the meeting of the British Association this year in London, and they were both present at the meeting of the Association in Winnipeg. They pressed the invitation of Winnipeg for 1909 very strongly on the general committee, but the professor writes that they have been unable to secure the necessary number of early-given promises to British cities.

The final arrangement was therefore made: York 1906, Leicester 1907, Dublin 1908, Winnipeg 1909. Professor Macallum says: "Perhaps it is just as well for all eyes will be turned to Canada in a couple of years, and compared, as it will be, with other British colonial possessions as God's country, the success of the meeting will be enhanced by the postponement."

CHANGE BISLEY TARGETS

Proposal to Alter Size of Target for Short Range—Advantages.

London, Oct. 30. — At the last Bisley meeting, owing to the great number of possibilities scored on short range, a change was proposed in the bullseye at 200 yards to four inches in diameter, the inner to fourteen. The change was adopted, so that if a competitor happens to have a bad shot in his series, he may, by delivering other shots near the middle of the target, pull up sufficiently to be in the front rank at the finish. Canadian Associated Press understands there is every likelihood of the suggestion being adopted at the next Bisley meeting.

There is a good deal of diversity of opinion expressed by local rifle experts on the wisdom of the proposed change. Capt. Elliott, of the York Rangers, an expert rifle shot, says four inches is too small a mark to be seen at 200 yards by 35 per cent of ordinary shots. He favors keeping a three-inch bullseye, but giving higher value to shots direct on the center.

Sergeant W. Mitchell, Twelfth Regiment, says the change is in favor of the change, but the president of the Mitchell Rifle Company thinks the reduction from seven to four inches too great.

He was succeeded in 1894 by the present Czar, Nicholas II.

A SIR BOUNTIFUL TO POOR CHILDREN

Editor Nichols Spends All of His Surplus Income to Render Them Happy.

Jacksonville, Ill., Oct. 31. — Samuel W. Nichols, editor of the Jacksonville Journal, has probably made more persons happy through his benevolence than any other man in America. He might have been a rich man. As it is, he is prosperous, although he gives a large part of his income away. He delights in making others happy. That was why he put 40 Jacksonville school children on a train last Monday and took them to St. Louis. He paid the expenses of the trip, provided the lunches and the car fare for the tour of Shaw's Garden, Forest Park and the retail and wholesale districts of the city. It was a glorious outing for the little ones, 90 per cent of whom had never been out of Jacksonville before.

It is a frequent occurrence for Mr. Nichols to take his little friends on excursions. "None of my little neighbors shall want for all the joys of life as I did," he says. "They shall have the best of it. I can give them. I had no pleasures in childhood. I had to go to school before I was 10 years of age. I was driving a team when I was 12. My mother was poor and could not give me the things she desired. I am not rich, but I have a little to spare now, and I do not know how to squander money. It takes very little for my needs, and that is left over I give to the children. To see them happy does me good."

What a vast sight of downright, Simon-pure, genuine happiness is missed by the world who board the gold, when, with it, they might scatter so many smiles! Mr. Nichols has aided over half a hundred women to get an education. Many years ago he conceived the idea of establishing a playground for the children of the place, and a couple of years ago he provided such a place at a cost of $10,000.

Last year, during the World's Fair, Nichols brought 400 children to St. Louis and paid their way until they had seen the whole of the big show. Toward the holidays Mr. Nichols is especially generous. He goes to the schools in the public schools and the overseer of the poor and gets the names of all the poor children in the city. He gives them a dollar, by hundreds, by the box, by the dozen, by the dozen, by the dozen, and everything that delights the children's heart, and then distributes them in a manner to attract as little attention as possible.

Mr. Nichols is very plain and unassuming. He is very much interested in his personal appearance.

AUTO ATTACKS GESE

"Honk," "Honk," Causes Feathery Irides to Swoop Down.

New York, Oct. 31. — Dr. Walter O. Goldmann crossed to the Pennsylvania ferry tonight with two wild geese in an automobile, conscious that he had run the risk of being held by the rapacious birds. He was driving alone, and he was on Sunday, but feeling secure in the knowledge that he could put up a good defense, as it was not himself but the automobile that was the object of attack.

He was speeding at the top of a hill just after dark, tooting his horn, when he saw a flock of Canadian geese swept over the road. One of the headlights was smashed. When Mr. Goldmann went back to look for his hat he found two geese in the road. One was on the headlight, and the other was on the windshield. They were both dead, and weighed about twelve pounds each.

The accident was narrowly avoided Tuesday night by a flock of geese which were attracted by Aaron Whiteley's automobile near Caldwell. In that case the geese were driven off by the colored driver's scare.

WOLVES ALMOST HAD HIM

Frenchman Freed by Fierce Pack in Quebec's Woods.

Ottawa, Oct. 30. — If the story of Edouard Leduc, shantymen, who has just returned from Des Joachims, is correct, he had a narrow escape from falling the victim of a pack of wolves. The shanty to which Leduc was attached is located ten miles north of Des Joachims, and he went out one day recently to shoot partridge. About sundown he started back for camp again, when he heard a patter and saw the forms of four-footed beasts all around him. Leduc's gun was a light weapon, one he had and he took to a tall tree in preference to risking the continuance of his journey. There he remained all night, and for hours, he says, could see the gray shadows stealthily moving about, their green eyes flashing. Once or twice he fired at some of the pack, who ventured near the others. Just before the day broke the animals disappeared, and he, hungry and stiff, climbed down from his perch.

HOW TO CLEANSE THE SYSTEM.

Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are the result of scientific study of the effects of food on the system. They regulate the digestive organs. Their use has been traced in many instances to the kidneys, purify the blood and carry off the waste matter from the system. They are easy to take, and their action is mild and beneficial.

Feather Bandeau Hats Are Decidedly Pretty

These decidedly pretty Hats are very much in vogue at present. Polos, and charming variations of these popular shapes, make perhaps the most picturesque and captivating styles. A turban with beautiful peacock blue and green feather bandeau and ornamented with a bright steel buckle is a bewitchingly jaunty chapeau. But, you are not limited to any one style. Choose the style that is most becoming and our milliners will make it up for you in their usual faultless manner. Bandeaux come in colors of Alice blue, white, peacock blues and greens, iridescent colors, brown and green. Hats priced up from..... $5.00

See our beautiful collection of Children's Angora and Bearskin Bonnets. Prices 50c to $2.25.

Children's Coats: Smart Styles, Reasonable Prices

Just a glimpse at our extensive representation of Children's Coats will show you that we are prepared to do an immense trade in this line of juvenile garments. No reason why we shouldn't and many reasons why we should. An examination of the garments will explain more completely than any number of words, just why we should do—are doing—and will do—such a large business. You'll find a smartness about the styles, a quality in the materials, a beauty of finish, a reasonableness of price, that will appeal to a mother's good judgment. And children need not to the e frosty days. It's too risky to allow them to go without them. Come in today.

MANIC RUNS AMUCK

Cuts His Own Throat and Badly Slashes Several Others.

New York, Oct. 31. — The steamer of the French line steamer La Lorraine was thrown into a state of excitement last Monday morning, when Michele Pognetta, a busy member of Butte, Montana, ran amuck with a knife, after cutting his own throat, nearly severing the carotid artery of the assistant surgeon of the ship, cutting two sailors and involving the passengers, who supposed that the madman was being set upon, in a struggle with the officers of the ship.

Pognetta left Butte, where he is said to have two brothers and a sister, some time ago to visit his aged mother in Turin, Italy. He boarded the steamer La Lorraine at Harve on Oct. 21 apparently sane. On the second day Dr. Potel, the surgeon, discovered that Pognetta was insane. He had him searched and took away the razor and all his belongings save a small pocket knife. It was believed the man was harmless, so he was not deprived of his knife. On Sunday afternoon the man suddenly declared he had been married. He was locked up in the ship's hospital. Two stewards were placed on guard at the door.

On Monday morning they heard a commotion inside and notified Dr. Potel, who sent his orderly, Theophile Baume, to look after the patient. Baume found that Pognetta had with the small knife cut his throat, almost severing the jugular.

The instant the man saw Baume he sprang at him with his knife, slashing the orderly across the throat and nearly severing the carotid artery. He also stabbed Baume in the right shoulder.

Dashing from the hospital, Pognetta, who is about 30 years of age, and powerful, ran to the promenade deck and was climbing upon the rail to jump overboard as two sailors seized him. He fought desperately with the sailors and his fellow passengers, some of whom did not know he was insane and supposed that he was being attacked by the sailors. The steamer passengers rushed to Pognetta's help, striking the sailors and attempting to pull them away. Then Pognetta, still making passes with his knife, cut both sailors.

The officers and stewards, taking in the situation, rescued the two sailors and grabbed the madman, forcing him back to the hospital and placing him in a straightjacket.

Dr. Potel found that Baume's carotid artery had been merely a shred and, after administering first aid, sent for two surgeons in the first cabin, Dr. Brewster and Dr. Regan, to assist him in saving the life of his orderly.

The three surgeons stitched up the artery, and when La Lorraine arrived yesterday morning Baume was doing well. The man had not so severely injured his own throat, the blade penetrating scarcely beneath the skin, but passing over the jugular. Pognetta had also twice cut himself in the leg.

When the hospital was found a letter written by the madman and addressed to his mother. He wrote that he was being hounded by the Black Hand, and that he was the only one who cared for him. He told his mother to meet him in heaven.

Pognetta says he is an American citizen. He was sent to a hospital.

Admiral Togo's name is pronounced as if spelled Tongo, the Japanese word always having the sound of "n" to accompany it. "Banzai" the Japanese shout of triumph, means "May the emperor live forever."

For a Good Complexion

FOR Clear Eyes
—Sweet Breath
—Clean Tongue
—Calm Nerves
—Good Temper and
—Poise

Eat a Cascaret whenever you suspect you need it. Carry a little 10c Emergency box constantly with you, in your Purse or Pocket.

When do you need one?
—When your Tongue is coated
—When you have Heartburn, Belching, Acid Ristings in Throat.
—When Pimples begin to peep out.
—When your stomach Crawls and Burns.
That's the time to check coming Constipation, Indigestion and Dyspepsia. That's the time to take a Cascaret.

One candy tablet night and morning, taken regularly for a short time, is warranted to cure the worst case of Constipation or Indigestion that walks the earth. One tablet taken whenever you suspect you need it will insure you against 90 per cent of all other ills likely to attack you. Because 90 per cent of these ills begin in the Bowels, or exist through poor Nutrition.

Cascarets don't purge, don't weaken, don't irritate, nor upset your stomach. They don't act like "Phytic" that flush out the Bowels with a waste of precious Digestive Juice needed for tomorrow's Bowel-work.

No, they act like Exercise, on the Bowels, instead.

A thousand dollars a year spent in amusements could not buy for you half so much hearty Happiness, solid Comfort, Cheerful Temper and Health Insurance, as that little ten-cent "Vest Pocket" Box of Cascarets will bring you.

All druggists sell them—over ten million boxes a year, for six years past.

Be very careful to get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "C.C.C."

A sample and the famous booklet, "Cure of Constipation," Free for the asking. Address Sterling Remedy Company, Chicago or New York.

Ask Your Own Doctor

If he tells you to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for your severe cough or bronchial trouble, then take it. If he has anything better, then take that. But we know his answer; for doctors have prescribed this medicine for over 60 years. We have no secrets. We publish the formulas of all our medicines.

SWEDEN STRIKES OLD FLAG

A Great Demonstration as Nation's New Ensign is Hoisted.

Stockholm, Nov. 1.—The old union flag was struck throughout Sweden to day, and the new Swedish ensign was hoisted to the accompaniment of the ringing of bells, church bells and parades of troops. In Stockholm the whole garrison paraded, and most of the population thronged the streets. At 9 o'clock the flag down by Sweden on the union with Norway nearly a century ago, was again broken over the palaces, from church steeples, public and private buildings, and steamers and sailing vessels. King Oscar witnessed the spectacle from the roof of the palace, and tens of thousands of citizens gathered in the vicinity and demonstratively greeted him. In every city in the country and every schoolhouse the children gathered outside and saluting the flag.

The Aftermath in Russia.

The transition from autocracy to a constitutional government in Russia has been much swifter than the revolutionists and Socialists dreamed of a quarter of a century ago. There was no European country, excepting Turkey, which was so unpromising as a field for their propaganda. The peasantry in any country is the last class to be ignited by the sparks of revolution. In Russia it constitutes the bulk of the population, and has but recently emerged from serfdom. It is still steeped in immemorial ignorance. Some student of society has well said that to the peasant the revolution presents itself as the custom of the country, and that custom holds the place of sentiment and theory. The idea of constitutional government lies beyond the range of his conceptions. His only notion of representation is apt to be a representation of ranks and classes, and his only notion of a deputy is one who takes care of the interests of his own order. There is reason to doubt whether the Russian peasant will feel the slightest enthusiasm about the principles involved in the reconstruction of the empire, only so far as it takes the form of living law or tradition. The peasantry and aristocracy have been described as the forces of social persistence; the bourgeoisie and working classes as the forces of social movement.

The secret of the success of the Social Democrats in Germany and in Russia particularly, is that they have thrown themselves into the study of one social group, the factory operative. Hundreds of Russian students pursue their studies in Western Europe and carry home seeds of the new ideas which have found their soil in the rapidly-growing working class population. Like the French revolution, the movement for political freedom in Russia has been fed by the intellectual life of the country. What has been called the "literary proletariat" has played an important part. The intellectuals, however, would have labored in vain but for the expansion of Russian industrialism.

The question is whether the Social Democrats will be content for a time with their achievements. It must be remembered that their ultimate object is economic revolution, not political. They fought the autocracy because it stood in the way of the realization of their economic theories. One school of the social democracy is for no compromise with the existing order. Its watchword is revolution until the overthrow of the industrial organization of society is accomplished. Another school is willing to accept reforms. It regards the present order as a necessary and inevitable stage in an evolutionary process. Society, it holds, progresses from slavery to serfdom and then to the wage-earning state, preparatory to collectivism. The revolutionists, it says, is the passage to economic transformation. The revolutionists, as opposed to the reformers, may therefore urge acceptance of the new constitution of Russia as a vantage ground, but there are many to whom agitation is as the breath of their nostrils, and they will continue to incite the people to revolution. There is a vast hatred of the Czar and his reactionary advisers which calls for vengeance and may call for blood. The prisons of Siberia attest to generations of oppression. The spirits of those who have been martyred for freedom cannot be exorcised. It is too soon to predict that the Red Fairy of the Seine will not reappear on the banks of the Neva.

A Significant State Election.

The state elections in Massachusetts are hinging on the question of reciprocity with Canada. Many of the manufacturers of the state are advocates of tariff reform, believing that Massachusetts is bound to go into industrial decline unless the burden of taxation on raw materials is lifted.

The state is the great seat of the American shoe industry, and the manufacturers have recently combined to raise the prices of boots and shoes, claiming that the cost of production has been forced up by the duty on hides, and the operations of the beef trust. They estimate that the tariff is costing them $10,000,000 per year, which is a heavy handicap in the race for foreign markets.

The Democratic candidate for lieutenant-governor is Mr. Henry M. Whitney, who promoted and organized the iron, steel, and coal industries at Sydney, Cape Breton. He stands squarely in favor of better trade relations with Canada, but, unlike most of his countrymen, he would have the United States take the initiative, and reduce the tariff without demanding concurrent action by Canada. He says there is excellent reason to believe that if the United States puts out on the free list Canada will do the same, and he adds: "We in New England want Canadian coal for our manufacturers, we want it whether Canada likes American coal in free or not."

Mr. Whitney, having lived in Canada, in close touch with great industrial interests, knows the temper of the Canadian people, and the value of their commercial goodwill. He knows also that any overtures for closer trade relations must come from his own side of the line. He is probably right in his belief that Canada would reciprocate in the matter of the coal duties. These are a heavy tax on the industries of Ontario which must draw their coal supplies from the United States. The tariff of 50 cents per ton on soft coal is no protection to Nova Scotia miners outside of the Maritime Provinces and Quebec, as the freight rates prevent successful competition with American coal west of Montreal. On the other hand, the New England States are the natural market for Nova Scotia coal, but the duty compels them to pay freight rates on the domestic product which is mined in the Middle West.

Thousands of Republicans in Massachusetts have broken away from their party on the tariff question, and it may be that Mr. Whitney will duplicate the victory of Mr. Douglass, the Democrat who was elected governor of Massachusetts last year. If he succeeds, the tariff reform sentiment in the Republican party will be greatly stimulated. The party leaders cannot in any event delay action much longer.

It is one thing to get political freedom and another thing to know how to use it.

The Liberals got three seats by acclamation at the provincial nominations in Alberta. This is a poor beginning for Bennett's revolution.

If the Russian reformers want further points on organization, they might consult with the master plumbers' associations in this country.

The Sultan of Turkey is the only autocrat left in Europe, but he can continue to butcher Armenians with impunity, thanks to the jealousies of the free and enlightened powers.

Four Dominion bye-elections will be held on Nov. 22. This is contrary to the old practice of holding them on separate days so that the "inflorence" could travel round.

Pobedonosteff, the procurator of Holy Synod of Russia, has resigned. This man was the evil genius of the Czar, and more than anyone else, was responsible for converting him to reactionary beliefs.

Canadian daily newspapers could do a good stroke of business for themselves by organizing a first-class Canadian press association, which is badly needed. Money could be better spent on such a scheme than on a special cable service which mainly supplies extracts from British newspapers.

The municipalities should keep an eye on Port Arthur. The town owns its electric light, telephone and street railway systems which netted last year a profit of $22,145, and enabled the council to reduce the tax rate to 16 mills. The profits from public utilities are over 40 per cent of the total sum required for municipal purposes.

The Miracle of Change.
[Sennett Stephens.]
Morn after morn the woods unfold
Their caparisons of vivid gold;
How subtle and how strange
This miracle of change!

Day after day across the swamp
Enrichment banners toss their pomp;
How fair beyond belief
This pageant of the leaf!

Year after year on Youth's green page
Are limned the ripening tints of Age;
With what rich marvel rise
This mystery of life!

Doubtful.
[Cleveland Leader.]
Stippler—Did Miss Knuts admire your paintings?
Dobber—I don't know.
Stippler—What did she say about them?
Dobber—That she could feel that I was a great deal of myself into my work.
Stippler—Well, that's praise.
Dobber—Is it? The picture I showed her was "Calves in a Meadow."

Warm.
[Kansas City Drivers' Telegram.]

Apt Answer.
[New York Tribune.]
P. L. Hutchins, the cotton expert, was praising an apt and witty speech. "It reminded me," he said, "of a scene in a magistrate's court that I saw in my boyhood."
"An old man was hauled before a magistrate for stealing chickens, and the latter said sternly to him:—
"You are charged with robbing hen-roosts, my friend. Have you any witnesses?"
"The veteran smiled calmly as he replied:
"No, sir. In my country we don't rob hen-roosts before witnesses."

Her Ultimatum.
[Detroit News.]
Johnny—Pa, what's an ultimatum?
Pa—It's when your ma tells me that if I don't give her the money she'll have things changed.

The Reason Why.
[Baltimore American.]
"The race is not always to the swift," said the Sunday school teacher impressively. "Can anyone tell me why?"
"Because sometimes their gasoline tank explodes," promptly replied the up-to-date little boy.

Unabashed.
[Washington Star.]
"Your enemies are saying that you have made your name a by-word," said the censorious friend.
"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum, serenely. "I fancy I have arrived at a point where my name at the bottom of a check will buy about anything I want."

What Did He Mean?

[Tales.]
He—Do you remember the night I asked you to marry me?
She—Yes, dear.
He—For a whole hour we sat there and not a word did you speak. Ah, that was the happiest hour of my life!

Action of Gravity.

[Chicago Tribune.]
"Senator, how did you get your start in life?" asked the reporter.
"I was born on a hillside farm in Vermont," said the eminent statesman, "and at an early age I rolled down."

The Little Prayer.

[Chicago Tribune.]
"So He giveth His beloved sleep." Psalm cxviii, 2.

Holding close a broken toy,
Weary from his busy day,
Lies the sleepy little boy,
Lipsing in his slumbers way:
"Now I lay me—"
Thinking of his happy while,
And each heavy eyelid droops,
As his lips bend in a smile.

"Now I lay me—" once again,
Slowly, slowly, he begins,
But the blessed sleep is vain,
Need not tell their tale of sins;
They, forsooth, clean of soul,
Sink into the sweet unconscious,
Where the soundless billows roll,
And the silent breezes sweep.

"Now I lay me—" that is all,
Fingers loosely loose their clasp,
And the broken toy may fall,
Unheeded from his grasp.
For the prayer he would say,
Though unheeded, has been heard—
Angels, when it trailed away,
Whispered each unspoken word.

And the old man, ripe in years—
Child again in heart and mind—
When the sleepy son he hears Grope for words he cannot find.
Quivering, he whispers low:
The dim prayers that arise
From the mist of long ago,
And a great mist fills his eyes.

Clinging to a broken toy,
He has cherished all this time—
Some untarnished hour of joy—
Now he breathes his own rhyme:
"Now I lay me—" and he stops,
While the shadows round him creep,
And his voice in silence drops—
"Lay me—down—"

The Pessimist.

[Washington Star.]
He doesn't do a single thing.
To help some luckless friend,
He wears a hopeless air and bids
The greivous tears descend.
He doesn't try to set a light
To guide the groping and blind,
He merely stands around and says
That things are going wrong.

The warrior whose ambitions yearn
To plunge the world in strife,
May do less harm than the man
Who seeks the sorrowful life.
Far better be a fighter grim
And push the world along,
Than one who stands around and says
That things are going wrong.

[Cleveland Leader.]
Lieut. Dashiell—I can't think why all the girls make such a hero of Capt. Jiggers. Why, he's never smelled powder.
Major Jiggins—Oh, I don't know. He's been out in the conservatory with Miss Puffer for an hour this evening.

Just a Hint.

[Chicago News.]
"Darling," whispered the lovesick youth, "I have been sparking with you all the evening."
"And don't you know what goes with sparking?" asked the beautiful maiden, who wanted a ring.
"What, dear?"
"Why, a sparkler."

EARL GREY ON PARTIZANSHIP AND PURITY.

Earl Grey's Winnipeg (Canadian Club) speech on partizanship and political purity has attracted so much attention, and been so largely misrepresented by fragmentary quotations, that we give here the full report of his utterances, omitting only the introductory and concluding comments. Canada kept clear of the political evils so preponderant all around us. When I see, said the Governor-General, such a large assembly of gentlemen of Winnipeg, who have come here as members of a club which has been created to advance and promote the public well-being, not in the interests of any party, but of the state, I do not think by any means an assuming spirit which moved the ancient Romans in the brave days of old. At the same time I do not wish to pretend to take up the attitude that it is wrong to belong to any party. On the contrary, I remember that the laws, I think of Sparta, decreed that the man who refused to take one side or the other when the national well-being was at stake, should receive the death penalty. I, having been a party politician myself, and a voter, keep in mind the great issues were at stake, I confess I have some sort of sympathy with the spirit which has inspired that rather drastic law. But I confess I have greater sympathy with one of the great Canadian statesmen, who has ever produced one of the noblest orators and political teachers the British Empire has ever produced. I refer to the late Lord Selkirk, Joseph Howe, when he said, I hoped I might live to see the day when the conduct of every public official would be not to which party he belonged, but "what great public improvement do you mean to advocate, and to which great public measure, tending to advance the public welfare of the people, are you pledged?"

Mr. Chairman, if this Canadian Club is in favor, of the application of any great moral principle to the conduct of public officials, such as sweeping away corruption and self-interest out of the public service, then I say the Canadian Clubs of Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal and other cities, which has been confirmed by experience, there are few things more important to the man who is really in earnest, than to hear a most encouraging and inspiring sermon from Dr. Herridge, the great Presbyterian preacher, in the town, who said: "In the region of the high endeavor, there is absolutely no limit to the ultimate horizon of a sworn purpose." If you study the lives of such men as Father Damien, Charles Gordon, Cecil Rhodes, General Booth and Dr. Barnardo—all men practically of my own generation—you will find that each of them is a divine force in each of you, which, if you will let it grow, will enable you to remove mountains.

I cannot mention Dr. Barnardo's name without giving expression to the grief which has caused Canada to lose one of its greatest benefactors. Canada or England ever had. A Spaniard by birth, a British citizen by adoption, Dr. Barnardo, who worked within him was able to achieve single-handed and without aid, what to him to achieve a way into the region of practical benevolence and to find a haven in Canada for thousands of homeless children who, but for his help, would have perished. He was a man of great force, of great power, of great strength of the divine power who said: "In every moment of our lives we should be trying to find out what we differ from other people, but in what we agree with them." And so I think it would be conduct in accordance with that suggestion, and wise too, to try and seek out the virtues which distinguish the various races of which the fair Dominion of Canada is composed. We have all a lot to learn from each other, and if we look for it I dare say we will find something to be copied in the Galician, the Frenchman, the German, the Scandinavian, the Englishman, the Irishman and even the Scotsman. Fuse all these virtues together and roll them into one good Canadian.

COOPERS COMBINE

Hunters' Excursions.
All sportsmen will be glad to know that the usual excursion rates will be in effect via Canadian Pacific to all points Mattawa to Port Arthur and Sault Ste. Marie, inclusive, and tickets will be on sale from Oct. 10 to Nov. 7. Also to all points Havlock to Sharnbrook and Bobaygon branches, to Oct. 26 to Nov. 7. All tickets will bear a final return limit to Dec. 9.

Excellent shooting has been reported for large and small game throughout these districts. Handily illustrated booklet "Fishing and Shooting," giving reliable information regarding same resorts, and a map of the sportsmen's map can be had free on application to any Canadian Pacific agent. Call on W. Fulton, C. P. A., 161 Dundas street, London, for tickets and further particulars. 38m-x-1

Excellent Partridge Shooting.
Following is report received from Mountain Guides on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, 183 miles east of Toronto, regarding partridge shooting in that section:
"Prospects for partridge shooting in this section are decidedly favorable, and sportsmen take the trouble to go back from three to five miles of the station of the C. P. R. They will find the birds still more numerous. Comfortable board can be obtained with the settlers at a very reasonable price. In November twelve miles further back, there is good deer shooting, some very fine specimens having been shot last year."

Copy of illustrated booklet "Fishing and Shooting" will be furnished free on application to any agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, W. Fulton, city passenger agent, 161 Dundas street, London, Ont. 38ix

DR. J. D. KELLOGG'S Dysentery Cordial is a speedy cure for dysentery, diarrhoea, cholera, summer complaint, sickness, and all ailments of the bowels. It gives immediate relief to children suffering from the effects of indigestion and cold. It acts with wonderful rapidity. No one can afford to be without it. The steamship Korea, which arrived at San Francisco from the Orient recently, brought the most valuable consignment of raw silk ever known in this country. It was worth $2,450,000. It was dispatched east in haste the same night. 3,000 bales of it.

A MEDICINE CHEST IN ITSELF.—One well-to-do can afford to possess a medicine chest, but few persons who are not being a remedy for rheumatism, lumbago, sore throat, cold, cough, catarrh, asthma and a potent healer for wounds, cuts, bruises, sprains, etc., within the reach of the poorest, owing to its cheapness. It should be in every house.

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF
RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA
Strong Testimony of Emigrant Commissioner the Hon. George Starr, as to the Power of Radway's Ready Relief in a Case of Sciatic Rheumatism.

Mr. Radway—With me your Ready Relief has worked wonders. For the last three years I have had frequent and severe attacks, sometimes extending from hip to hip, and at times to both lower limbs. During the time I have been afflicted I have tried all the various kinds of baths, manipulation, outward application of liniments too numerous to mention, all of which failed to give me relief.

Last September, at the request of a friend (who had been afflicted as myself), I was induced to try your remedy. I was then suffering with one of my old attacks. To my surprise and delight the first application gave me ease, after having used it three or four times, leaving the limbs in a warm glow created by the Ready Relief. In a short time the pain passed entirely away. I have since had several attacks, approaching a change of weather. I know now how to cure myself and feel quite master of the situation. Radway's Ready Relief is my friend. I never travel without a bottle in my valise. Yours truly, GEORGE STARR.

SNAP-SHOTS AT VARIOUS SPORTS.

It was very considerate of Rube Waddell to allow us to forget him for such a length of time. He has not said a word for a week. The eccentric one did not get much joy out of the world's series, and the things the fans have been saying about him have not tickled him to death. Rube will have to be a saint as well as a star twirler to get back in the estimation of the followers of the game.

Gordon Fleck, a former Varsity man is coaching the Rough Riders in the snap-back game. This will not make the Tigers feel any more comfortable. Fleck used to be a star quarter back, and has the snap game down fine. That championship series looks good for the game, as the new rules will be put to the best test they have ever received. The weakness of the game will be then exposed. Still, it looks much better at its worst than the old scrimmage game.

Grindy Forrester, one of the best forwards that ever played in the O. H. A., has turned professional, and will play with Houghton this winter. There will soon be enough of the professionals, who have failed to make good, hanging round to make up quite a circuit. But as to their playing abilities little need be said. The American professional stuff "is not so many."

The senior ranks of the O. H. A. will have a number of teams in it this winter. "Bells" is going in for the big series, and will put in a strong team provided a good circuit can be arranged and London is mentioned in that regard. In looking over the ground, there is nothing of senior caliber in this city. Intermediate hockey will keep us as busy as possible this winter. The senior stuff is too much. Galt and Woodstock ought to be good enough. Stratford might be induced to take the better article. They always have a team there worth while.

Hockey is being talked of somewhat in this city already, and teams are as plentiful as a summer girl's lovers. The great mistake will be made that there will be more teams than players and the game will get a real black eye. There are not many players of real class in the city, and they should be put into one team if London is to get any good from the game. Too many teams in the O. H. A. will spoil the whole business. Developments are being awaited with interest.

Now Bob Fitzsimmons wants to fight O'Brien. They will fight for the "dead-on" championship. Rube Robert now claims the heavyweight championship, and is willing also to whip Marvin Hart to hold it. There will be something doing in the fight line this winter.

The New Zealand Rugby team is showing them how to play the game. They have scored 35 points to their opponents' 7. They can score almost as fast as our own country's citizens, the Tigers, of Hamilton.

The Toronto papers are beginning to doubt the ability of the Tigers to hold their own with the Rough Riders or Varsity. That is worse than the "Higher Criticism." The city with the bluff will rise right up in its wrath and yell "knockers" until it is blue in the face if they do not stop it. The Tigers have yet to show form, however. They have not stacked up against any team this season that has been able to make them play. When they do, that machine of theirs may not stand the strain. The Rough Riders are a great aggregation, at that.

The Hamilton sporting writers have been sitting up at nights trying to explain why the Tigers made such a poor showing against the Vics last Saturday at Toronto. They declare that some of the players are living the fast life, and do not keep in condition. All of which sounds funny to anyone who knows what a terribly swift town Hamilton is. It is rumored that one player actually stayed out until 3 o'clock. That is a shocking state of affairs.

Tongorider was also ran at Jamaica the other day, and the Toronto crowd who were keeping an eye on him in that event had it closed again. This has been an off-year for Canada's famous plunger.

Don't forget that the London Juniors are going up to Petrolia on Saturday, and if you can get away, take the trip to the Old Town with them. The game will be worth while. Our boys are going to win the championship sure.

Marvin Hart, the only world's champion that ever started at the top, is taking his time about sliding down.

Jimmy Britt says he would fight Battling Nelson for 36 cents. In Jimmy's case there's something suggestive in the amount.

Umpire Jack Sheridan, looking about for a business where his decisions would not be disputed, has finally landed as an undertaker in Los Angeles.

It is a cause for wonder why Fred Tenney, of the Boston Nationals, was so often spoken of slightly this season—as one who had done his best work and wasn't much of a purchase for any club—by the National League press. Fielding averages do not show much, but fielding figures do. With two men playing more games than he did, and with two playing but few less, Tenney had over 200 chances more than three of these men, and 160 more than his nearest rival, Barry, of the Cincinnati Reds, who played three games more than did the Bostonian. Tenney has always been famous for his work on bunts and short hits. Possibly he is going back on that sort of play, but he showed 152 assists last season, which is 60 more than Bransfield, of the Phillies, who played more games than Tenney, and who is next to Tenney in this line of work. If the Boston Club doesn't care for Tenney any longer, and no one in the National cares to pay a price for him, it would not be amiss to graduate him to the American. For instance, he would look a lot better than any one of the bunch of counterfeits that tried to play first for Collins last summer.

Hackenschmidt, the Russian lion, is throwing all the wrestlers over in the Hackenschmidt. The open season will soon be on in the States, and Hackenschmidt will come over and take a ton of gold back to his starving family. Was it not a Turk who had so much that it sank him to the brim deep after a trip among our American cousins?

Anxious Inquirer—No, you are mistaken. The Tigers are not going to wear armor when they play the Rough Riders. They are learning jiu-jitsu instead. Some of them, however, may have sling-shots up their sleeves for Ovide Lefebvre. They will likely need rapid-fire guns to bring back that championship.

The city with the bluff still sticks to the "rasling" game, and one of its "rasplers" is going to tackle a Japanese jiu-jitsu artist this week. Well, they had better not bet on that bout, but save their coin for that trip to Ottawa. They will have a run for their money if they bet it on a football match.

At Latona race track several bookmakers had to go out of business. It was not because the public took all the money, but it is said the early frost has killed off the fall crop of pocketbooks. The latter will also go mighty scarce in Toronto this winter if Dymond keeps Tongorider running much more.

Since the President of the United States has come out so strongly against lynch law, we rise to ask what are the best families to do? According to the accounts published after every one of these affairs, all the leading citizens were present. Guess they will have to remove the ban off football and pulse fighting.

We have not heard very much of late about the champion Mariboros of Toronto challenging for the Stanley cup. Maybe they have given up the notion. Ottawa's hockey team promises to be as fast as ever.

In spite of all that was said in the summer about enlarging the professional hockey league in the States, very little has come of it. If it had, more work would have been given an industrious lot of Canadian hockey players, who will have very little to do this winter. It is wonderful how the first round kills off very little hockey leagues. Mr. Burnley, of Brantford, has come to the conclusion that his little scheme will have to be laid away in moth balls until next summer.

President Roosevelt has come out with a rebuke to the Governor of Arkansas, because the latter advocates lynching. The President must have forgotten for the moment that they have a winter race meet at Hot Springs, Ark. Had he known that, he would not oppose that gentle pastime.

So the Hamilton Tigers will not play the Rough Riders at Ottawa for the Dominion championship. Guess that ladylike complaint, cold feet, is developing in the city with the bluff. They should make the trip anyway. Maybe they are beginning to think that their back division would get stage fright when they sit into a real big game.

COVERPOINT.

JIU-JITSU INTRODUCED INTO YALE PRACTICE

Old Eli's Men Adopt New Means of Getting Themselves in Trim for Coming Games.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 31.—Jiu-jitsu has been introduced into the practice of the Yale football team, coach Frank Hinkley has inaugurated it, and while the system is to be used only at certain stages of the game, it is believed that several movements of the Japanese wrestling art will be found most useful in tackling and in defensive work.

One stunt, in particular, which is to be put in use is a peculiar movement of the shoulder in tackling a man from behind, and which scarcely ever fails to send him over on his back. Another innovation in the practice this week was made. Instead of tackling the usual "dummy," live players were used for this purpose. One man, generally one of the heaviest, was selected, and the entire team, one at a time, would rush upon him and tackle him. It was not the greatest sport in the world for the tacklers.

SHIBE BELIEVES THIRD MAJOR LEAGUE POSSIBLE

The President of Champion Athletics Thinks Out a Suggestion That May Bear Fruit.

Philadelphia, Oct. 31.—Benjamin Shibe, president of the Athletic baseball club, believes that there may be a third major league next season.

"This has been one of the most prosperous years in the history of baseball," said Mr. Shibe, "and the rivalry that has been going on between the two big leagues has done it all. I think that almost every club in each of the big leagues has made money this year. The minor leagues have also shared in the prosperity, and I do not know of any league that was forced to quit immediately after July 4, as has been such a common occurrence in former years."

"Take Providence and Baltimore in the east. Both clubs are hungry for a higher class of ball than they have been having. Then there is Wilmington, Del. It is considered one of the best baseball towns in the country. Richmond, Va., or perhaps Worcester, Mass., would do for a fourth city in the west."

"In the west, Louisville, Indianapolis and Buffalo are anxious to have major league ball. With Columbus or Toledo as a fourth city a very compact circuit could be rounded out."

Mr. Shibe's suggestion may be realized. There is at present a movement under way, headed by George Tebeau, of Louisville, to organize a league of national proportions, including the leagues in the Eastern and Western Leagues.

NEXT RACE FOR CUP UNDER NEW CONDITIONS

Challengers for Famous Trophy to Have an Equal Chance With Defenders.

New York, Oct. 31.—It developed last night that Sir Thomas Lipton's wish to race for the America's cup under the present rule of racing measurement will be made possible this year, says the World. The next contest for the famous trophy will be under conditions that will give challengers an equal chance of winning, and a race in which the challenger will be under no disadvantage.

At the meeting of the Yacht Racing Association of Long Island Sound last night the association was invited to confer with the New York Yacht Club and share delegates to the international yachting convention to be held this winter in England.

At the meeting abroad a universal measurement rule was adopted. Both the New York club and the Long Island association favor the present American rule, and as all the English clubs, it will in all probability be adopted.

Oliver E. Cromwell, chairman of the regatta committee, for the New York club, and a member of the Long Island association, said that in his opinion a new defender would be as soon as a challenge is received, and that the boat would be twenty minutes faster than the Reliance over a 20-mile course.

CUP-HOLDERS DO NOT WANT TO RACE NEXT YEAR

But the Royal Canadians Say They Will Call the Bluff and Force a Contest.

Toronto, Oct. 31.—The Royal Canadian Yacht Club has received an answer to their challenge for the Canada's cup from the Rochester club.

The reply to the ultimatum urged the inadvisability of racing next summer on one of inconvenience in that the lease on their present premises has run out, and they are practically homeless. The Royal Canadians do not for a moment doubt that Rochester will default, and they next summer.

A prominent R. C. Y. C. man stated that the club would have a race for the cup next summer.

CORBETT TOOK COUNT TWICE IN 15 ROUNDS

Yet His Fight With "Kid" Goodman, of Boston, Was Declared a Draw.

Chelsea, Mass., Oct. 31.—"Kid" Goodman of Boston, and Young Corbett, of Denver, went fifteen rounds to a draw here tonight. The decision was not well received by the crowd, as Corbett, who was in poor condition took the count twice, in the tenth and twelfth rounds.

Goodman did all the leading after the third round.

At the start the contest gave every appearance of being a hard-fought one, and for three rounds Goodman could make little impression on his opponent, while Corbett drove in several hard blows. Corbett seemed to tire after the third round, his extra weight telling on him.

CARPETBALL.

FRATERNAL LEAGUE OPENED.

The Canadian Fraternal Carpetball League held its opening game of the season last night, in the Foresters' Hall, South London. A very interesting game was played between teams representing the Foresters, the O. H. A., and Westminster Lodge. A. O. U. W., in which the latter was defeated by 31 to 17. This is the first of a series of games to be played for the handsome cup donated by J. W. Wallace, jeweler, of East London.

TIGERS WILL NOT SOCKER GAME IS LIKED AT PENN

Ready to Meet Rough Riders at Montreal, But Not at the Capital.

Hamilton Times: In the event of the Tigers winning the championship of the O. R. F. U. again this season, they will challenge for the Canadian championship, and will be prepared to meet the Rough Riders on Nov. 18, but not in Ottawa. Such was the decision arrived at at a meeting of the executive of the local club last evening. Secretary Jamieson talked with Secretary P. D. Woodworth, of the O. R. F. U. over the phone, and authorized him to inform the Tigers to notify R. T. Shillingham, secretary of the Canadian Rugby Football Union, of the local club's intentions. The champion Tigers are prepared to meet the Rough Riders on neutral grounds, and while Toronto is preferred, they would be satisfied to play in Montreal.

Electric lights having been installed at the grounds, afternoon practices, except on rainy days, are now being held, and the boys will work out every evening at 8 o'clock. Captain Ballard will commence immediately to get his team in shape for the game down east, and in two weeks will be ready to meet the Argonauts in the final O. R. F. U. game at Toronto. The club is trying to secure some form of arrangement for an exhibition game with Dundas. The intermediates will be away to Guelph, but the club will be ready to meet the Dundas team in the event of Dundas refusing the challenge. The club, the collegians will be offered inducements to transfer the game to this city.

THE RING.

FOUGHT IN HEART OF CITY. Louisville, Ky., Oct. 31.—Louisville has lost none of its zest for the fight, and the city was clearly demonstrated at noon Sunday, when in the very heart of the city two extemporaneous prize fights were pulled off in the presence of fully 500 people. The first bout was to settle the championship of East Jefferson street and was between Dave Smith and Willie Black about 18 years old. The two fights lasted nearly two hours, and no policeman was to be seen in that time.

BULL-FIGHTING SUNDAY SCHOOL GAME COMPARED WITH FOOTBALL

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 31.—Representative Charles B. Land is not an admirer of football. His position is summed up in the following statement: "I saw a game of football last Saturday. Several hundred people who witnessed it said it was sport. I guess I'm old-fashioned, but I don't see that this sport is not appeal to me. Sport that necessitates the presence of physicians—well, that is simply an insult to the human body. In a man and woman will crop out early in the contest one of the captains was carried off the field insensible, and the game went on. This is sport."

"There was a boy in the game who did not run the risk of receiving an injury that would send him through life a hopeless cripple. Now, this may be sport, but does it pay to take the chances?"

"Should an alleged sport that necessitates taking such chances receive sanction and encouragement of sane and sensible people? Possibly so. I desire to register my opinion, however, that the game of bull-fighting and bull-fighting are Sabbath school games in comparison with modern football."

SUPERSTITION AMONG GOLFERS

Players Have Odd Notions as to What Will Bring Good or Bad Luck.

Golf has its superstitious side the same as other sports. While it cannot be said that golfers are superstitious as a class, yet many prominent players have odd notions as to what may bring them good or bad luck in a tournament match. From time to time every golfer as he steps up to the tee is driving a nail into the ground, mowed little sand tee left by some player who has driven so cleanly as not to disturb the hummock of sand.

Of course, it is less trouble to stick the ball on the ready-made tee, but very few will yield to the temptation. There's a belief that to do so means bad luck.

It occasionally happens that after a player has teed his ball and has taken his stand about to drive, the ball will move forward a couple of inches. This is considered bad luck by some, while others maintain it to be a good omen. In the recent play-off between Alex. Smith and Will Anderson, for the Metropolitan Golf Association open championship at Fox Hills, Smith's ball started to roll while he was in the act of driving. He stopped it with his club, and the ball was then driven. The result was a sliced drive, but the ball brought up to a good lie and no harm was done. A few moments later Smith topped his second shot going to the seventh, and half topped his drive from the ninth tee, neither mistake doing any damage.

There is an old Scottish superstition that the person standing 2 up with 5 to play will never win out in a match, and it is also said to be bad luck to win the first hole—"Winners, first losers, last." is the version. For all that there are very few golfers who will not try as hard as they can to take the first hole.

Another hoodoo is for a player to hit the turf behind the ball for the putting green. It is hard luck in itself, but the true explanation is usually in bad play, the same as when a player names off the greens where he took three puts as proof of bad luck.

When players raised even cash last night to play a prominent part, and while nearly all are superstitious, thus for they have found no antidote for their habit of creding that leads the best of shots astray.

Not a few golfers have odd notions about bunkers. They invariably take out a new ball at the next tee after having bunkered while playing the preceding hole.

Bad temper is not apt to cure the trouble, although when a player comes it is not unusual for the golfer to fling his mauls with a malediction after the erring ball. Some golfers have the habit of creding their fingers while an opponent is putting.

John L. Low, who contained the Oxford-Cambridge team when the latter elected this country, had a favorite wooden caddy, of one time the property of the late young Tom Morris. Low said he never let the caddy out of his sight, and in those days the last obstacle was a hurdle. After jumping it Royal

SOCKER GAME IS LIKED AT PENN

Association football is on the boom at the University of Pennsylvania. The game had its first demonstration at Franklin Field last week, when a team composed of Pennsylvania graduates and undergraduates played a game with the Pilgrims of England. It was the first game ever played by the Red and Blue, and made a great hit with the Pennsylvania undergraduates. In fact, the fact that the team was badly beaten by the score of 10 to 0, as a result of this game the sport has been organized at Pennsylvania, and placed under the direction of the regular football committee. An undergraduate team has been organized at the university, and games will be arranged with Harvard, Haverford and Columbia, the other schools where this game is played. There are a great many students at Penn from England, Australia, New Zealand and other English dependencies who are expert in the game, and they have taken the new sport up with great enthusiasm.

One of the first things Pennsylvania will do is to try to bring about an intercollegiate association for this sport. This is a desirable feature, and Pennsylvania will take the initiative if no other college does. Because of the severe criticisms which Rugby football has received by horsemen who say the game is a dangerous one, and they propose to push it for all it is worth. There has been a desire for some form of outside sport to be played in the winter months, and this will fill the bill to the letter.

Another novelty which Pennsylvania will introduce this fall is the Canadian Rugby game. Through the instrumentality of Dr. R. T. McKenzie, who is Pennsylvania's physical director, two Canadian teams are going to play the game on Franklin Field some time next month. Dr. McKenzie was formerly the director of physical education at McGill University, Montreal, and he is a great advocate of the Canadian sport. One of the principal differences in the Canadian and the American game is the fact that the Canadian rules demand that the game be advanced ten yards in three downs or be forfeited. This is in line with the suggestion made to the rules committee last fall, but discarded by the body.

RECORD STOOD FORTY YEARS. Philadelphia, Oct. 31.—Ed Bryan, the bay gelding trotter, owned by Wm. Robinson today broke the world's two-mile record, which has stood for forty years. The time was 4:45. The best previous record was 4:55, made by Dexter, br. g., by Ridskye-Hamilton, on Long Island, Oct. 27, 1865.

Today's performance was considered remarkable by horsemen who saw the event, as Dexter's time was made to a skeleton wagon, while Ed Bryan's record was made a bicycle-wheeled road wagon. The average time of the quarters was 35.28 seconds. Time, by quarters: 35.28, 1:12, 1:48, 2:24, 3:00, 3:34, 4:10, 4:45.

ATHLETICS.

INVESTIGATION ORDERED AT YALE.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 31.—President Hadley, of Yale, has followed the example of President Eliot, of Harvard, and demanded an investigation into athletics at his university. The Yale overhauling will begin this week, and will include all the complaints against football that anybody cares to bring, the mystery attaching to the disposal of gate receipts and the reasons for having a per capita tax of $7 on every Yale undergraduate for athletic support.

The investigation will occupy months. No fear is felt that football will be abolished at Yale, but some of its expenses will be looked aside. The investigating committee includes Prof. Theodore Wadley, of the athletic committee; Louis Pierson and Charles Lusk.

FOOTBALL.

SOCKER GAME FOR CHICAGO. Chicago, Oct. 31.—It was announced today that Association football will be introduced as a college sport at the University of Chicago, and when other institutions have been induced to take up this style of football, to have inter-collegiate games.

A champion in these days must be something more than a mere champion of a title, no matter how much dope and form-card record he has behind his assertions. He must be a young and popular boy, who has never been defeated, even in his preliminary days. Boxers who fill these requirements are few indeed, and there is as much as a few lads claiming any championship who really have public recognition.

The heavyweights still remains unsettled for the simple reason that the man who claims it, Marvin Hart, has been defeated too often in the past. More than that, he is a man who is too old, and too big to fight anybody, there will always be that frightened feeling of a crowd of thousands that may happen if Jeff chooses to come out of the shadow and while the ambitious youngsters.

There is nothing specially good in sight among the welters. It seems pretty well understood that Joe Gans is no longer a real lightweight king, but who is to succeed him? Battling Nelson seems the right party at 132 pounds, but the Dane will never get such popularity as fell to Jack McAuliffe and Kid Lavigne.

In the 128 pound class McGovern seems to have come back to life, and if he only attacks, will lead excitement to a class which is fast passing from view. Abe Attell continues to claim everything in the National League, and he can claim all day and the next morning. He is not popular with the crowds, and never can be. Frankie Neil is still nominal head of the American bantams.

THE RING.

TO MEET A FOURTH TIME. Baltimore, Md., Oct. 31.—For the fourth time in their careers as boxers "Tommy" Daly, of Brooklyn, and "Kid" Sullivan, of Washington, have been matched, and there is as much if not more, interest in the coming match than when they were first pitted against each other. Sullivan gained two of the decisions, while Daly gathered in the other.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 31.—Governor Warner today ordered Sheriff James Burns to prevent the fight scheduled for tonight in the suburb of Fairview between Willie Lewis, of New York, and Joe Walcott, of the welterweight championship. Sheriff Burns says he will carry out the governor's orders.

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP

Is rich in the lung-healing virtues of the Norway pine tree, skillfully combined with Wild Cherry Bark and the finest coughing and expectorant properties of other potent herbs and barks. ## INDOOR BASEBALL LEAGUE STARTED

Seventh Regiment Teams Play First Games on Their Schedule.

The indoor baseball league of the Seventh Regiment Athletic Association opened the season last night with two good games. A splendid crowd was present. The game is being received more enthusiastically than ever.

The first game, between A and F Companies, was a thriller. F Company had it all their own way until the sixth, when A Company batted the game out. Several good plays were made by both teams.

The score: R. H. E. A Company... 2 2 0 0 7 6 2 3 4 Company... 1 5 3 1 0 1 17 20 5 Walker and Jacobs; Bryan and Jackson. Umpires, Q. M. S. Dunlevy and Color-Sergt. Insley.

The second game, between B and D Companies was the latter's all the way, being very one-sided. B Company has some good men, but they are badly in need of coaching.

The score: R. H. E. B Company... 1 0 1 3 3 12 6 D Company... 10 11 6 11 9 40 4 Yarker and Insley; Hart and Martin. Umpires, Q. M. S. Dunlevy and Color-Sergt. Insley.

Two games are scheduled for Thursday evening. These games will be very interesting.

BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT FOR SEVENTH TEAMS.

A basketball tournament is being arranged by the Seventh Regiment Athletic Association. Six teams have entered, and two games a week will be played, one on Tuesday evening and one on Thursday evening, beginning at 8:30 p.m. The first game will be played on Tuesday evening.

The first practice was held last night, and a large number of applicants for positions on the teams. Arrangements are being made for several out-of-town games this winter.

Further particulars regarding the game can be had of the chairman of the basketball committee, Color-Sergt. W. R. Marshall, of G Company.

BASEBALL.

MIWAUKEE. Little Romance.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 31.—William J. Barbeau, the little third baseman of last year's Columbus team who made himself popular in Milwaukee by his brilliant playing, is to become a husband and the girl of his choice is Nona C. Fitzgerald, of 288 Greenfield avenue.

The engagement was announced yesterday. Young Barbeau has been here for two weeks visiting his fiancée, but he will return to his home in New York City tomorrow. It is altogether likely that he will make Milwaukee his home at a later date. The wedding is the cultured affair of an unusual romance.

The baseball player was temporarily at third one day when the Columbus team was visiting here. It was ladies' day, but the bride-to-be was unable to get a seat in the grand stand and was sitting on the bleachers. Barbeau went into the bleachers after a foul ball and found it in the girl's lap. This led to an acquaintance, and the wedding followed.

LIKE CHANCE FOR MANGER. Chicago, Oct. 31.—Baseball fans in Chicago were pleased to read yesterday that Frank Chance had consented to assume the management of the Cubs for the next three seasons in case the illness of former Manager Selee does not permit him to resume his duties as the manager of the local National League team. Chance comes over to fill the place in the hearts of the local fans left vacant by "Cap" Anson, and any other baseball manager to represent Chicago. He is almost as great a batsman as the "Old Man" was and perhaps makes up the difference in their batting strength by his speed as a first baseman and a base runner. Chance is well liked by all his men, and his presence in the clubhouse has earned him the respect of players and public.

The British army council has decided to discontinue the experiment of providing recruits with artificial teeth. The soldiers could not pay for their teeth as agreed out of their pay of 25 cents a day, and when the military authorities tried to make them they deserted, teeth and all.

NO ONE WHO HAS EVER SEEN OR HEARD THE HELPLESS CHOKING OF A CONSUMPTIVE CAN THINK LIGHTLY OF A COUGH

A single dose of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will convince you that it will stop the cough, soothe the throat and start you on the road to recovery.

TRUANCY ABOUNDS IN THIS CITY

Officer Weir Admits It—Throws the Blame on the Public Holiday.

Truant Officer Weir is just now issuing his "call to the wild." A few weeks ago he was able to say that there was but very little truancy in London. Now he is compelled to admit that the city abounds with it. He blames Thanksgiving day for it. "Keep the children at school," he says "and everything will be all right. Give them a holiday and they run around like young squirrels—anywhere but to school. A holiday sets the children wild. It breaks up the school week, and in fact, it not infrequently happens that it takes two or three weeks to restore the school to its normal state."

The officer also told The Advertiser that he finds truancy very prevalent among girls. "The girls seek a chum whose mother is away from home, or who perhaps is out earning bread for the family in some shop, and then they loaf the day away in the house. If a note is sent they interpret it, but in the end they get after them and break up their little game."

"I also find that quite a number of boys hang around the theatre, and I intend to make an example of some of them."

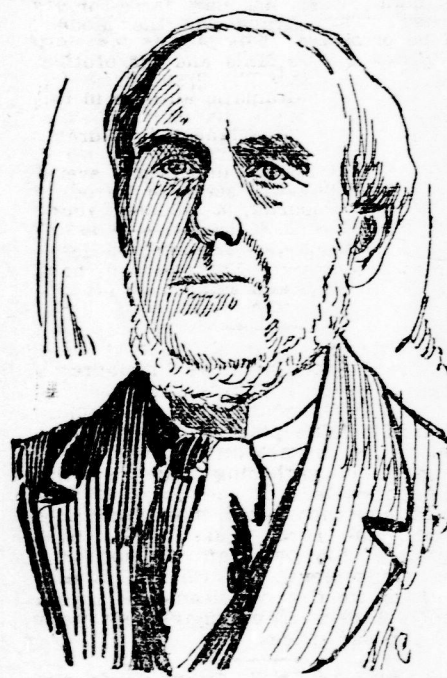

Mr. Weir then told of a lad named Robbins, who lives on York street, and who had a rather peculiar experience the other day. The boy, with a companion, was riding away his time in a box car on the Pere Marquette Railway when the car was unexpectedly picked up and carried away to Glanworth. The lad was afraid to jump, and so he found himself ten miles from home, and penniless. The railway men then took him to St. Thomas, where he spent the night, and he returned the next day a much wiser boy. It is the intention of the truant officer to give special attention to the railway sidings henceforth, when he is in search of truants.

DEATH OF ROBT. DREANEY

One of the District's Early Settlers Passes Away in This City.

The death of Mr. Robert Dreaney, which occurred this morning at the family residence, 43, English street, removes one of the earliest settlers of this district.

Mr. Dreaney was in his 84th year, and had spent the greater part of his life in London and vicinity. He was native of the old land, but came to Canada when very young, and shortly

THE LATE ROBERT DREANEY.

Canada when very young, and after spending five years in Toronto, he came to London, where he remained a year. He conducted a blacksmith business at Dreaney's Corners for seventeen years, and later took up a farm in the north of London, where he remained until five years ago, when he retired. Later he took up a farm to the north of London, where he remained until five years ago, when he retired, and took up his home in the city.

Mr. Dreaney took an active interest in municipal matters, and was also on the township council as reeve, deputy reeve, and councillor, and also on the county council. He was also a member of Dorchester Township Council for seventeen years. He was a member of the Church of England. He is survived by a wife and several children. Ex-Adm. Dreaney is a son.

British at Annapolis.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 1.—Admiral Brownson's ships have arrived, having accompanied Prince Louis of Battenberg's squadron from the cape.

The British squadron has anchored outside the harbor, several hundred yards inside the line of battle ships of the fleet and second division of the North Atlantic fleet. The weather is perfect and the programme for today promises to move smoothly.

The Money Loss of the Drink Habit

Is one of its most serious features. The man who drinks not only ruins himself but deprives those dependent upon him of the support to which they are entitled.

The Samaria Tasteless Prescription has saved many men from Drunkard's Graves and restored wife and family to plenty and happiness. Given without patients knowledge in tea, coffee or food. The money a moderate drinker will waste in one week will cover the cost of a month's treatment. Samaria Prescription is a cure for drunkenness, no publicity, all private.

Free Package and particulars, testimonials and price sent in plain sealed envelope. Correspondence strictly confidential. Address: THE SAMARIA REMEDY CO., 35 Jordan Chambers, Jordan St., Toronto, Canada. Also for sale by W. T. Strong & Co.

WAS NOT HEAD OF HIS HOUSE

Therefore Truancy Case Against Richard Blackwell Presented Different Aspect to Court.

Mr. Richard Blackwell told Magistrate Love in the police court this morning that he didn't know his little girl was working in a factory until four or five days after she had started. Truant Officer Weir charged Mr. Blackwell with neglecting to send the young girl to school.

"You're the head of the house, aren't you?" asked the court.

"I ought to be, your honor, but I'm sorry to say I'm not."

The magistrate began to see that the matter might have a different aspect, so he adjourned the case until Saturday and asked to have Mrs. Blackwell and the little girl produced.

Joseph McGinnis' case was once more adjourned. The defendant is at present dividing his time in some of the Western Ontario towns, and must have the charge of assault preferred against him settled at once or he will have to go for a term.

Edward O'Flynn's appearance was pitiable. O'Flynn's mental powers have weakened, and it was thought advisable to have him taken care of. He had been employed at the Fraser House stables and had in some way suffered severe facial injuries. He was remanded for a week.

James Johnson and Wm. Bentley implied too freely, with the result that they were taken into custody. The former was bailed in the sum of $50 for a week, and in the meantime must take the pledge. Bentley was remanded a week.

CONDENSED LOCAL NEWS

—Mr. Duncan McIntyre, formerly of West Williams Township, passed away in this city last night. Deceased was 20 years of age. His death was due to heart failure.

At Osgoode Hall, Toronto, yesterday, in the case of the Monarch Cash Mutual Fire Insurance Company vs. the York Mutual Fire Insurance Company, a motion was made on behalf of the defendants for an order changing the venue from London to Toronto. The motion was dismissed.

Staff—Capt. Desbrosses and Capt. Jones will arrive from Brantford tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock, and in the evening the local corps of the Salvation Army will tender them a welcome at the Citadel on Clarence street. Adjutant Kendall and Mrs. Kendall leave for Brantford at 11:20 tomorrow morning. Tonight they will be tendered a farewell by the officers and soldiers of the local corps.

THE MONTH'S CLEARINGS.
The report of the London Clearing House for October shows clearings of $4,422,311, a weekly average of over $100,000.

FORSYTH VS. FORTHBY AGAIN.

The reversible case of Forsyth vs. Forsyth reached another stop this morning, when David Forsyth was charged by George Forsyth with abusive language before Judge Lacey. The case will be carried to a higher court. The parties are relatives, uncle and nephew. Their favorite pastime seems to be quarrelling at each other, and then getting a magistrate to settle the case.

ALL SAINTS' DAY.

Today being All Saints' Day, holy communion was celebrated in St. Paul's Cathedral this morning. Mass was celebrated in all the Catholic churches this morning, and large crowds were present at the services.

GOES TO BERLIN.

Mr. Gordon McConchy, late of the Ontario Loan and Debenture Company, of this city, leaves today for Berlin, where he has secured a position as teller in the Bank of Commerce. Mr. McConchy is an enthusiastic hockey player and has figured prominently in several other sports. He is a member of the London Rowing Club and has been victorious in a number of rowing movements. He is well-known in this city, and that he will have every success in his new position is the wish of his many friends.

HUTCHINSON VS. LONDON.

At Osgoode Hall, Toronto, yesterday, in the suit for damages brought by Dr. John Hutchinson against the city of London, W. E. Mitchell, for the defendants, moved for order for directions as to trial of third party issue, and to set aside notice of trial. E. W. M. Fick (London), for plaintiff, Dr. J. L. McCarthy for third parties, order made setting aside notice of trial. Costs in cause. Order made for physical examination of plaintiff. Motion as to third parties stands over week.

TRADING STAMPS ILLEGAL.

The Dominion trading stamp act, whereby the giving or receiving of trading stamps or coupons by merchants or business concerns is a criminal offense, came into effect today. The Dominion executive officers of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada have sent out instructions to their branches asking them to see that the law is strictly enforced. They say that every effort will be made to prosecute every offender or persons who receive, give out, or deal in trading stamps or coupons.

SIX WENT TO CENTRAL

Bailiff Ryan Took a Nice Gang From London—Two Escaped.

Bailiff Ryan, of the Central Prison, arrived here this morning, and he took back with him to the Central six prisoners who will do time there. The list comprises Walter Ferrie, six months for robbing a man; Arthur Smith, six months for robbing a man; a lively stable; George J. Mnelly, six months for vagrancy; Arthur Smith, one year for stealing jewelry from a hotel; Jules E. Ross, one year for passing a forged check; William Parker, nineteen months for attempted criminal assault.

Two other prisoners for the Central were not taken, as their sentences are nearly completed. They are Ed Bradley, four months for selling liquor to Indians, and Arthur Lewis, four months for shop breaking.

NOT ALL IN LINE

Some Retailers Will Not Advance the Price of Milk.

The retail milk dealers of this city who belong to the Dairyman's Association raised the price of milk today to a quarter. The majority of the dealers in the city belong to the association, which will mean that most of London's householders will be affected by the advance.

The wholesale dealers have raised their prices from 3 to 3½ cents, chiefly because of the very high wages that farm labourers demand, hence the advance by the retailers.

Contracts for six months are made on the first of May and November, and today a general increase of 2½ cents goes into effect on the wholesale price. To stay in business the united dealers feel that they must increase the retail prices, although several not in the association do not contemplate doing so.

One extensive dealer said this morning that the wholesale price for him was increased from 2½ to 3 cents a quart today, but he didn't intend changing the retail price. He thought that the 3½-cent price would apply more generally to small dealers.

The increase will not find favor among consumers.

WERE AFTER MCCLELLAN

Enraged Mob Attempts to Invade New York's City Hall.

New York, Nov. 1.—An invasion of the city hall was made yesterday by a great crowd of men, bearing white flags knelt on the cobblestones, and sang, "God Save the Emperor," and prayed for His Majesty.

"Hearst" and an American flag above the name "McClellan." The crowd, shouting "Let's tell McClellan what we think of him," overran the city hall steps and a well-known of an hour until dispersed by the police. The immense banner was raised near the statue of Benjamin Franklin in Park Row, which bore the inscription, "Under which flag?" The mob did not see the mayor.

The Fulford Estate.

Toronto, Oct. 31.—It is expected that the will of the late Senator Fulford, so far as Ontario estate is concerned, will be probated at this time today. It is believed that $300,000 in addition there is a very large estate in foreign countries and other Canadian provinces.

The Grain Blockade.

Toronto, Oct. 31.—A meeting of the grain section of the Dominion Marine Association was held here today, when representatives of the principal shipping firms were present. Mr. J. A. Cuttle, general manager of the Montreal Transportation Company, was in the chair. The object of the meeting was to discuss the grain blockade of the Georgian Bay ports, and to arrange a meeting with the Grand Trunk officials. Eventually a deputation composed of Messrs. J. A. Cuttle, A. A. Wright and Captain S. Cramble, were appointed to go to Montreal and meet the railroad officials next Thursday.

STILL AFIRE WITH REVOLT

Uproar at Linsk.

Minsk, Russia, Nov. 1.—Crowds in an attempt to storm the prison here yesterday were beaten off by Cossacks, who fired several volleys at the mob. Many persons were killed or wounded and many more were beaten with whips.

Mob Fought Off Troops.

Tver Russia, Nov. 1.—During the rioting here yesterday, the governor and mayor, with the aid of the city employees, barricaded themselves inside the city hall for protection. A mob of the mob, which had gathered outside the building, Dragons were summoned to the rescue, but they were fought off by the mob, which set fire to the building. The troops eventually obtained the upper hand. The hospitals are filled with wounded.

Capital Went Mad.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—Before noon the celebrations began and the city soon appeared to have gone mad. Such scenes had never before been witnessed in Russia. Unrestrained by word or deed the crowds did and said what they liked. Despotism seemed suddenly to have been replaced by license. Red flags are everywhere in evidence. In the churches devout men and women on bent knees before the image of St. Nicholas, the miracle worker, rendered thanks for the blessings of liberty, while at the corners of the thronged streets orators harangued the people.

"I Am a Good Stenographer" populace. The people assembled principally on the Nevsky Prospect. From the Kazan Cathedral to the town hall opposite the Hotel D'Europe, traffic was blocked. Fully 30,000 workmen were massed there listening to student orators who delivered impassioned speeches about the steps of the town hall and cathedral.

A Monster Demonstration.

Red flags showed above the dense black mass of cheering humanity. The police kept in the background not even trying to keep the street open. Passing patrols on their way to their barracks would have been mobbed had it not been for the appeals of the cool-headed, who declared to the accompaniment of cheers, that the troops were henceforth with the people.

The biggest demonstration was organized by students and workmen. A great procession was formed, starting from the university square. It increased in numbers as the demonstrators marched along the river and up the Nevsky Prospect so far as the Kazan cathedral, singing the Marseillaise. A dozen red banners inscribed with the word "Svoboda" (Liberty) were carried on the parade, though spurring up occasionally, made no gains of importance up to noon, rather better tone prevailed towards noon, but there was no change in professional character of the market, and commission business, especially that portion which originates on private wires, was extremely small.

Want Treppoff Removed.

Here the paraders with bare heads, chief leaders of the crowd, in the streets uncovered their heads as the procession passed. At the Kazan Cathedral singing the Marseillaise. A dozen red banners inscribed with the word "Svoboda" (Liberty) were carried on the parade, though spurring up occasionally, made no gains of importance up to noon, rather better tone prevailed towards noon, but there was no change in professional character of the market, and commission business, especially that portion which originates on private wires, was extremely small.

Counters demonstrations took place on the Palace Square, where several hundred men, bearing white flags knelt on the cobblestones, and sang, "God Save the Emperor," and prayed for His Majesty.

"Hearst" and an American flag above the name "McClellan." The crowd, shouting "Let's tell McClellan what we think of him," overran the city hall steps and a well-known of an hour until dispersed by the police. The immense banner was raised near the statue of Benjamin Franklin in Park Row, which bore the inscription, "Under which flag?" The mob did not see the mayor.

The Fulford Estate.

Toronto, Oct. 31.—It is expected that the will of the late Senator Fulford, so far as Ontario estate is concerned, will be probated at this time today. It is believed that $300,000 in addition there is a very large estate in foreign countries and other Canadian provinces.

The Grain Blockade.

Toronto, Oct. 31.—A meeting of the grain section of the Dominion Marine Association was held here today, when representatives of the principal shipping firms were present. Mr. J. A. Cuttle, general manager of the Montreal Transportation Company, was in the chair. The object of the meeting was to discuss the grain blockade of the Georgian Bay ports, and to arrange a meeting with the Grand Trunk officials. Eventually a deputation composed of Messrs. J. A. Cuttle, A. A. Wright and Captain S. Cramble, were appointed to go to Montreal and meet the railroad officials next Thursday.

MARKET PRICES

LOCAL MARKET.

Wednesday, Nov. 1.
There was a lively demand for the 24 loads of hay that were offered. Prices ruled at $3 to $4 per ton.

At about a half-dozen loads of oats sold at $1.00 per cwt. A load of medium quality of apples sold at 50c per bush.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

The market the past six days were fairly well attended. The supply in the heavier lines, such as hay and oats, were not up to expectations, and as a consequence prices for these products have advanced considerably. Trade as a rule was lively and prices in most lines a little firmer.

Grain—The small delivery of oats the past week is attributed to the fact that the farmers are busy with their fall plowing. There is a good demand for oats, which sell at 50c to $1 per cwt.

Hay and Straw—The supply of hay is light and prices higher at $3.50 and $4 per ton. There is a large quantity of hay in the country, and it is not expected that the above prices will be paid for any length of time. Straw is scarce at $1.25 and $1.50 per load or $3 to $3.50 per ton.

Butter and Eggs—Butter is in good demand and prices are firm at 20c to 22c for cream and 20c to 22c for pound. Eggs are firm at 20c per dozen for most of those offered. Quite a few lots have been sold at 21c per dozen, wholesale.

Potatoes—The demand is fairly brisk at 60c per bush wholesale and 70c retail.

Fruits—Apples are in fair demand; sales are made at 60c to 65c per bag. Live Hogs—It is expected that prices for next Monday's shipment will be $5.50 per cwt. Small pigs are dull of sale at $3 to $3.50 per pair.

Country Produce—There is a good demand in this line. Chickens, dressed, sell at 60c to 80c per pair; alive, 50c to 60c. Old hens sell at 50c to 55c per pound, alive, or 80c per pound, dressed. Ducks sell at 50c to 1.10 per pair, alive, or 1.50 to 1.60, dressed.

Butchers Meat—Beef is slow of sale at $4 to $5 per cwt. for cow beef, and $3.50 to $4.50 for steer and feeder beef. Veal is in good demand at $7 to $8 per cwt. Mutton sells well at $6 to $8 per cwt, the latter price being for light stuff.

Hides and Skins—The market is very firm. No change in prices in this market so far.

Honey—Nearly all of the present season's output has been sold to the dealers, who control the market. Prices were 50c to 55c for strain and 45c to 50c for pound, alive, or 1.50 to 1.60, dressed.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

TORONTO.

Toronto, Oct. 31.—The cattle trade has not been so good for some time as it was today at the city cattle market, and a variety of causes contributed to this condition of affairs. Perhaps first and foremost is the fact that the old country market at the present moment is completely demoralized. Nobody seems to want export cattle at any price, unless they happen to be in the position of having contract sales to fill. A load of good fat steers, weighing 1,200 lbs, were sold today at $2.85. A few extra choice picked cattle would sell higher, but there were very few, if any, of that kind offering. Perhaps the just at this season are doing their annual cleaning up, and the result is that there are a good many in-factors cattle sent out for which there is not stable room. The run today was, therefore, very heavy, following a succession of similar markets, the result being that everyone is about filled up with that kind of stock.

The demand for heavy feeders is not quite so brisk as it was a week or so ago, several of the largest buyers having just about fulfilled their needs for the present season. The general result was a quiet market all round, with prices down from 5c to 6c.

The sheep and lamb market is also dull. The hog market is weak and 12½c lower than last week. Selects, $5.00; lights and middles, $4.75.

Today's total run was 136 cars, with about 2,500 head of cattle, 3,750 sheep and 1,000 hogs.

J. & W. Dunn bought about 100 head of feeders; steers, 1,500 to 1,800 lbs, at $3.40; hogs, 1,500 to 1,800 lbs, at $2.75 to $2.90.

W. L. Jifkins bought 20 butcher cattle, 1,200 to 1,500 lbs, at $2.25 to $2.50.

George Rowntree bought for the Harris Abattoir Company about 40 loads of butcher cattle, good butchers and exporters from $4 to $4.50, the latter for odd picked cattle; good loads of medium to heavy singles, $3.50 to $4.00; cows, $2.75 to $3.00; common canners from $1.75.

Crawford & Co. sold a load of good feeding steers at $2.50; light, good stockers at $2.25 to $2.50; good fat cows at $2.25 to $2.50.

Frank Hannisett bought 75 butchers' cattle, 1,200 to 1,500 lbs, at $2.25 to $2.50.

Pringle Bros. bought 25 butchers' cattle, 1,200 to 1,500 lbs, at $2.25 to $2.50.

MELODRAMA AT GRAND

"Her First False Step" Was Given Before a Fair House.

"Her First False Step" drew a fair house at the Grand last night, and proved to be the best melodrama offered this season.

The story is very little different from the average melodrama. The passions of jealousy, love and hate are mixed up in the usual manner. The most thrilling scene is that in which a child is thrown into the den of lions, to be rescued by the hero. The lions are a magnificent pair, and did not appear in the very best of humor last evening.
The tamer had to keep his wits about him. It was a thrilling climax.

The company is first-class, quite the best on the road. The leading role is taken by Charles McGrath. He acts with splendid judgment, and displays much ability. His lion-taming scene is worthy of particular mention.

The most interesting member of the cast, however, is Baby Barker, who is a niece, by the way, of Mugsy McGee.
She is decidedly clever and seems utterly fearless.

The "William" is well taken by A. J.
Edwards. He was roundly hissed by the gods.

Miss Pauline Paul and Miss Mary Foster in the leading female roles are capable actresses.

The specialties introduced by WHITE
Borrow, the Dale Bros. and the Rube Quartet were good. The latter sing splendidly.

The play is at the Grand tonight again.

Artistic Bronzes.

We are showing a new line of artistic French Bronzes. Among them are some handsome Under-stander pieces. The prices range from $2.50 to $50. To describe these pieces is impossible, so we invite you to call and see them. Nothing could be nicer for a wedding gift.

If it comes from Diamond Hall you are sure of the quality.

LONDON AND DISTRICT

—Misses A. Durkin and Mae Boyle have returned home after spending a pleasant visit in Stratford.

—The Parnell-Dean Company have opened agencies at Windsor, Amherst-burg, Cambridge and Georgetown for the sale of their celebrated bread.

—J. Y. Egan, the well-known trust specialist of Toronto, will make his regular visit to London on Saturday, Nov. 4, and be at the Griggs House all day.

—One of the biggest catches ever made at Port Stanley was secured the other day, when over five tons of fish were secured. The bulk of the fish was shipped to Booth & Co., of New York.

—The advertisement of the City of London calling attention to the bylaw of changing names of certain streets has been announced as Friday, Nov. 7, when the application was to go before the county judge. The date should be Friday, Nov. 17.

—Dr. William Thomas Campbell, of Brown City, Mich., and Miss Julie Genevieve Barry, of Ithaca, New York, were married yesterday afternoon by the Rev. Dr. S. Hamilton, B.A., pastor of the First Congregational Church.
The marriage took place at the residence of Mr. Robert Fisher, 423 Russell avenue.

NEW TELEPHONE LINE.

A telephone line has lately been built by the Bell Telephone Company, which, beginning at St. Thomas, takes in the villages of Sheldon, Fingal, Southview, Iona and Lawrence. It is worth noting that most of the residents in these localities can now be reached by telephone.

NEW RESIDENT ENGINEER.

Mr. F. W. Cooper, son of Mr. Frank
Cooper, photographer, will succeed Mr.
A. C. Arlidge, who recently resigned the position of resident engineer of the City of London. Though a very young man,
Mr. Cooper has shown marked ability since graduating from McGill College a few years ago, and his success in his new position is assured.

PINE FURS.

up last night at a meeting of the two committees in the lecture room of the First Presbyterian Church, Mr. Harry Baptist presided.

Minutes were read and a number of accounts were passed and votes of thanks tendered the local press and those who attended in equal numbers. The visitors were reported well taken care of in every way, and many of them were loud in their praises of the way that they were looked after while here.

BLACK-LEFLER.

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Saturday evening, at the Wesley Methodist Church, personage, Brantford, by the Rev. F. W. Thompson, B.A.

The contracting parties were Miss Ida Lefler, of this city, and Mr.
James Black, of Hamilton. After the ceremony a supper was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bailey, 18 Huron street, Brantford, where a number of the bride's friends had congregated. Mrs. W. Cook, the bride's mother, of this city, attended the wedding.

Letters to the Editor.

THE WATER SUPPLY AT SPRING-BANK.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Referring to the springs which have been discovered a short distance north of the waterworks, and to which the attention of the public and of the water commissioners has been drawn by Mr. Parnell-Dean, I feel that your columns comb through your recent issue of Nov. 1, and also in his letter in your columns last summer, I feel Mr. Parnell-Dean deserves the thanks of the city for having brought the trouble he has done to bring this matter to public attention, and I regret very much that the water commissioners have not been able to undertake the small expenditure which he suggested in order to ascertain positively what flow could be counted upon from the pond.

This suggestion was, I believe, that if the commissioners would pay the difference between the cost of the ordinary and of a cemented sewer pipe, the water could be put in, and thus at an expense of $200 or $300 the waterworks would gain accurate knowledge as to what percentage of water could be counted upon from the pond. It is not to be understood that the waterworks would be supplied with water from the pond, but that the pond would be used as a place to store water in case of a fire, and that the water could be counted upon from the pond.

Parties were in full swing, and many
the swain got his collar wet diving for
the apples in a tub of water just to make good with his girl.

CARS ARE SCARCE

And Shippers Throughout Country
Are Much Concerned.

Shippers throughout the country are much concerned over the shortage of cars on all railways. Farmers and consumers are likewise much interested in having the problem solved as soon as possible. On the other hand, the different companies are doing their best to meet the steady demand made upon them for cars.

The New York system recently placed an order for some 25,000 cars to be distributed over its various feeders.
The Michigan Central, one of the chief feeders of the New York Central, will receive its share of the new cars
when they are put into service.

The fact that there is a shortage of cars at this time of the year is not a difficult matter for explanation.
In the fall of the year the rates on freight shipped by boat are always much higher because of the attendant storm season. Consequently, there is a large increase in the amount of freight to be handled by the railroads. The result is that the cars are much more heavily loaded than in the summer months, and the shortage is made that in some cases cars were not loaded as promptly as they should be for this reason the companies are unable to keep shippers supplied.
How well the railroad officials will be able to cope with the shortage they have on their hands this year remains to be seen.

FUNNY

People Will Drink Coffee When It
"Does Such Things."

"I began to use Postum because the old kind of coffee had so poisoned my whole system that I was on the point of breaking down, and the doctor warned me that I must quit it."
"My chief ailment was nervousness and heart trouble."

"Any unexpected noise would cause me to start, and I was so nervous that I felt faint and weak."

"I had heard of Postum and began to drink it when I left off the old coffee."
"It began to help me just as soon as as the old effects of the other kind of coffee passed away. It did not stimulate me for a while, and then leave me weak and nervous as coffee used to do. Instead of that it built up my strength and supplied a constant vigor to my system. I can always rely on it. It enables me to do the best kind of a day's work without getting tired. All the heart trouble, etc., has passed away."

"I give it freely to all my children, from the youngest to the oldest, and I before we go to Kilworth or any other more distant locality, and a few hundred dollars expended in practical investigation might save thousands later on."

There are one or two other matters connected with waterworks affairs to which I wish to call the attention of the public shortly, and will ask the favor of space in your columns to do so in a few days.

W. E. SAUNDERS.

A WILD CAT LOOSE IN A CAR

Escaped From Its Cage on a G. T. R. Train en Route from Owen Sound to Stratford.

A wildcat loose in a baggage car created consternation yesterday morning on the G. T. R. line from Owen Sound to London. The big cat was finally turned loose by the occupants of the car and allowed to make its escape into the dense woods near Chesley.

The wildcat was captured at Lion's Head, near Winton, about a year ago, and since it has been in captivity it has been used by a collar manufacturer of Owen Sound for advertising purposes.

Yesterday the animal, in a cage, was placed in a baggage car at Owen Sound, and it was in charge of one of the travelers of the collar firm, the intention being to take it to Stratford.

On the way it worked itself into a frenzy and tore savagely at the bars of the cage. The attention of Conductor Alkie was drawn to the cat by Messenger Mathewson, and they, with the assistance of the traveler and a big stick, induced the animal to bridle its wrath. Suddenly, as the conductor was about to leave the car, the messenger shouted that the cat was loose.

It had crushed its way out between the bars of the cage, and with a roar it croaked the floor of the car and three men had mounted the trunks in the car, crowding together for safety, while the huge brute gave vent to the most blood-curdling cries. Each moment its fury increased, as it crouched along the floor of the car and sought in vain a means of escape.

After a time the messenger secured his revolver, and he felt on something like equal terms with the cat, but the traveler begged him not to kill the animal, owing to its great value to the firm.

Then Conductor Algie ordered that the door of the car be opened, and some difficulty this was done.
The train was traveling at a speed of nearly 50 miles an hour at the time, but the wildcat took a chance for its liberty and leaped from the car.

The last seen of it was leaping through the fields into the woods around Chesley.

LESS BOISTEROUS

THAN YEARS AGO

Celebration of Hallowe'en Was Quiet—Boys, Nevertheless,
Were Busy Everywhere.

Hallowe'en passed off much after the manner of the celebration of the past few years. As compared with similar occasions of ten years ago, it was exceedingly tame.

In the center of the city but little notice of the event was taken by the children, but on the outskirts a sensation was caused by the old-time hallowe'ens was to be observed.

No damage of a serious nature was reported to the police, but in many quarters of the city sidewalks were torn up and outbuildings suffered severely.

Cabbage stump throwing at doors has almost disappeared, for the very good reason that but few people in the city grow cabbages now, and stumps are therefore at a premium.

The ringing of bells, which was guided funmakers gave many people cause to complain.

It was a fact of the girls' last night to array themselves in their brother's bedroom and then make calls upon neighbors. And great was the fun created when their identity was discovered.

Parties were in full swing, and many
the swain got his collar wet diving for
the apples in a tub of water just to make good with his girl.

SLACK BARREL MEN

ARE COMING DOWN

Trying to Recover Trade Lost Two Years Ago Owing to High Prices.

A dispatch from Toronto says:
"With a view of getting back trade which has been lost through exorbitant prices charged for barrels two years ago, when there was a shortage, representatives of a number of cooperage manufacturers met here today for the purpose of making preliminary arrangements for the formation of a joint stock company."

About 20 manufacturers, it is said, have joined the company, and when 80 per cent of the output is under control the company will be formed.

When the coopers took advantage of the scarcity, barrels came into use for cement, sugar and salt, and the apple packers took to boxes.

"It is thought that by economy of manufacture and consequent reduction in prices, the cooperage trade may be again placed in a paying business."

In the office of the London and Petrolia Barrel Company elicited the information that London is not naturally interested in this matter, as it is only the slack barrel men who are affected. These barrels are not manufactured to any great extent in London.
It appears that a couple of years ago, when the price of barrels was raised and as a consequence the men who bought the staves and headings and made them into barrels were forced to raise barrel prices from 25 cents to 60 cents each. Then the apple packers used boxes and bags were used for sugar, salt and the like. The result was that the slack barrel business went to pieces, as the packers refused to deal with the men who had raised them two years ago.

DEATH SUMMONS

EMINENT LAWYER

Mr. Christopher Robinson Succumbs to an Attack of Pneumonia.

Toronto, Oct. 31.—Mr. Christopher Robinson, K.C., died at 10 o'clock tonight.

The eminent Canadian was out driving on Saturday and caught cold, which developed into pneumonia.

He experienced a relapse at noon today and no hope was entertained for his recovery.

The late Christopher Robinson, K.C., was a son of the late Hon. Sir J. B.
Robinson, and was born at Toronto,
Jan. 21, 1828. He was educated at Queen's College and King's College, and afterwards studied law, being called to the bar in 1850. He was appointed reporter of the court of Queen's bench in 1856, and continued in such until 1872, when the system being changed and assimilated to that of England, he became editor of the Law Report.

He retired from the editorship in 1885, on being elected a bencher of the Law Society of Upper Canada.

Devoting himself exclusively to his profession, he has been engaged in many cases of great public importance, notably in the case of Whelan, convicted for the murder of the Hon. T. D'Arcy McGee, M. P. He appeared for the defense in the famous political libel suit of the Hon. George Brown convicted for contempt for his attack on the late Sir Adam Wilson.

He argued the case for the Dominion Government before the judicial committee of the Privy Council in Manitoba, respecting the boundaries of that province in 1884. In 1885 he was the leading counsel in the prosecution of Louis Riel, and in the case of the former Attorney-General of England, represented the Dominion Government in 1889 in the arbitration with the C.
P. R. arising out of the construction of the Canadian Pacific.

In 1903 he was retained by Sir Charles Russell, then Attorney-General of England, and Sir Richard Webster, formerly Attorney-General of England, upon behalf of Great Britain in the

New California Prunes.

The idea that prunes are very com-
