Queenstown, Aug. 9.—The steamer Baltic, with Archbishop Mannix of Australia on board, arrived off Queenstown at midnight last night. The liner, which was brilliantly illuminated, was accompanied by several destroyers. The liner stopped outside Queenstown for an ideal national hero in the eyes of Catholic Irishmen. The Daily Graphic remarks that Australia is happy to lose him, and thinks that he is making an egregious fool of himself. "If that is a faithful portrait," it adds, "one mountebank more cannot harm us."

The solitary exception to the eyes of can unknown port one of the destroyers. The liner stopped outside Queenstown for an hour while one of the destroyers entered the harbor for an unknown purpose.

Immediately after the destroyers put to sea again the Baltic resumed her voyage, accompanied by destroyers, for an unknown port. Seafaring men here surmise that the Baltic's delay was due to a firemen's strike, but no confirmation of this was obtainable.

WAR CLOUDS TO MANAGE WESTERN LINE CAUSE DROP IN EXCHANGE

New Low Figures Reached in a Number of Stocks.

New York, Aug. 3.—New low figures for the year were made in a number of stocks during the first hour's trading on the stock exchange today.

The more serious aspects of the Polish situation, together with a drop of seven cents in sterling exchange, was responsible for the renewed liquidation and short selling which affected all quarters of the list.

Not only did sterling exchange drop 7 cents since Saturday's close, but rates on other countries dropped 10 to 35 points. After sterling exchange had made a notable rally from last week's low figure of 356½, the price of demand bills today fell to 360½.

It is stated that the Allies, although loath to admit it now, feel there is little hope of saving Warsaw, and that the question of Poland is no longer the sole issue. The main problem confronting the premiers is the defence of Western Europe

In British and French circles, it is declared that the intentions of the Bolsheviki regarding Poland are becoming clearer with every hour. The prevailing impression among the British and French officials is that the Soviet Government hopes, through the Polish offensive, firmly to establish Bolshevism at the doors of the western powers.

"Let your imagination work and picture for yourself, a green hill far away in the distance, a cross on the top, and the Lord our Saviour on that cross. The last words of that man on the cross were 'Satan tried his best, but I have conquered.' This is practically the same reason why we are here today. We have conquered everything that has tried to overthrow us and our religion still rules. We can readily say, 'Thanks be to God who giveth us the victory.' "Despite all that has happened we still have enemies to fight. They are the world, the flesh, the devil, and the Church of Rome. We have been threatened by the Church of Rome several times. CHURCH DESPITE HEAT

The attendance Sunday night at the First Methodist Church was large, notwithstanding the hot weather. Rev. J. F. Reycraft, B.A., preached on the topic, "Tiresome Religion," in a most practical way. His reference to absence from the church was not illustrated by the audience, which stayed in church for two hours.

I. The musical part of the program was provided by a string quintet which was heard by itself, with the organ and in accompaniment. Miss Luta Laymon sang "The Day Is Ended" and "The Lost Chord" with especially fine feeling. The series will be continued next Sunday, when Miss Hilda McMillan of Ingersoll will be the soloist.

Cheers and a "tiger" were given by the members of the association. Throughout the afternoon refrest ments were served to the members of the committee who were in charge of the outing. All others wishing refreshments paid for them. Some comments were made about this, but when it was found that the proceeds were in aid of the war memorial fund no one is travel to pay the necessary sum.

PLAN COMPLETE SEWAGE SYSTEM

Matter Tuesday Night.

Commencing Tuesday night No. 2 committee of the city council will plan a complete sewage system for the city. a piece of iron bar fell on his head a complete sewage system for the city, with a large disposal plant, in place of the present sewage beds. Ald. Seabrook. a member of the committee, said today that the present council had no funds to carry out such a project, but would make the plans in the hope that they would make the present council and could be started early in the year.

Conditions in several parts of the city are forcing the situation of the council. Particularly in South London the lack of adequate outlets has been felt, and prospects of more rain will bring the matter to the fore again in that district. Trouble over there has been remedied partially. The Bruce street sewer, which was the cause of much complaint, nas been cleaned out. About $1,000 is being sunk at intervals in order that it may be cleaned more frequently hereafter. The sewer was laid by the county before that section was annexed to the convertion of the country because of much complaint, nas been cleaned out. It has not been possible to make much improvement with the Edward street sewer. The new plans which No. 2 committee will prepare may pro vide a new outlet for this. At present ti joins the sewer on Elmwood avenue.

London West, however, is the section which will be affected most vitally. There are no sanitary sewers there at present, because of the lack of an outvincial authorities a proposal to erect daily on the C. P. R. A large quantity of coal is also being shipped east.

EXTRA GOVT. TAX

Half Time — Seeking Other Employment.

The Government tax increases of ten cents per pound on all imported to-bacco has injured the cigar industry, according to local cigarmakers. At the present time in London some slight improvement is apparent over conditions which have prevailed for the past months, but there are still large numbers of cigarmakers who prefer to rebers of cigarmakers who prefer bers of cigarmakers who prefer to re-main in other employment, although keeping their dues pald up in the Cigar-makers' Union, because they cannot un-der existing conditions make as much at their trade as they can in other em-mately 400 are union members. Three hundred of the union men are working, and about 135 out of a total number of 150 non-union workers are still making cigars.

This morning calls for twenty more union cigarmakers were received at the union headquarters from Vallens & Co., local manufacturers, and a firm in Oneida. New York, wrote for ten men. Difficulty is being experienced in getting the men required because they are temporarily employed in other lines of work at which they can make more money than working half-time in a cigar factory. It is said that the Government gets $17 or more on every thousand clgars manufactured. Greatest complaint is made about the increase of the import duty from 18 to 28 cents per pound. An extra tax of $1 per 1,000 was levied on cigars early in the war, and now on top of the increase on imported tobacco. a one per cent tax is collected on all sales.

If the Government had put another dollar per thousand on the manufacture of cigars, it would have been less irksome to the trade, it is said, and they might have collected the increase. As it is, the Government is not collecting any additional revenue from the cigar industry, the heavy increase on the importation of tobacco having discouraged importations so that the actual collections at 28 cents per pound is less than they were at 18 cents.

With the exception of these two changes the markets are for the most part unchanged. WHAT THE PUBLIC WANTS.

In one of his plays Arnold Bennett makes a successful newspaper publisher say that the method of his success as a news purveyor had been to remember what sort of stories he liked at the age of twelve. That was what the general public liked and he made millions by giving the public "what it wanted."

There may be a lot in this idea. The Children's Newspaper, edited by Arthur Mee, is a raging hit with grown-ups as well as with the minors. Such was the case also with books like "Treasure Island" and Kipling's "Just So Stories." When a preacher manages with rare luck to hold the eye of the boys for a while, you may be sure he is interesting the whole congregation.

And yet, look over the crowded theatres these days. Is there any entertainment there for the "boy of twelve"? Parts of the show may be down, or up, to his level, the pistolades. melees, wild beasts, strong-arm business, but the bulk of the performance seems to be hopeless, dreary, morbid, vulgar material intended to please the sleepy eyes of low-brow, fat women chewing gum or sucking gum-drops. It is as unenlivening as the fashion-plate pages in a like Mr. Britling, see it through, with the cheery equanimity of a squirrel exercising on a little treadmill. The boy of twelve? Not his this fat, easy and mechanical happiness. His imagination and energy demand something brighter and healthier. Mr. Arnold Bennett's newspaper man did not say the last word on the nature of "what the public wants."

The only danger is that the Bolsheviki, mad with success, may imagine that the time for general insurrection of workers against frantic profiteering and "White Terror," in central or even western Europe, has arrived. They may be foolish enough to fancy that Entente armies will not be sent to Poland's aid, or if they are that the soldiers will not fight against the Rus sian revolution Even in England the Laborites may demand at least nationalization of coal mines as a condition of supporting the League of Nations in Poland. Probably an element in Poland itself is ready to join the Bolsheviki, and in any case a re-conquest of the country when completely overrun, including Posen and Polish West Prussia, would be a big and costly proposition for the League of Nations. Of course if Moscow has gone clean mad over Poland, it may be necessary yet to take Winston Churchill's way. But Mr. Lloyd George seems to be resolved to do first all that diplomacy and reason can.

THE VALUE OF CIVIC PATRIOTISM. Patriotism as exemplified in devotion to lags, crowns, sceptres, constitutions and other symbols, is being preached with a vengeance from the housetops, from the marketplace, the pulpit and the press these days. In some parts of the United States manufacturers, for reasons which they probably understand best, are going out of their way to preach patriotism to their employees, and one concern on the Pacific coast has recently posted notices to the effect that any disgruntled employees who object to accepting country better methods of farming. The idea along with their pay envelopes, will be reported of a school for farmers is not new, but the idea to the secret service officials. In Canada some manufacturers found patriotism a profitable a motor caravan is certainly novel. The school business advertisement during the war, and are building consists of three units, one powered ardently enthusiastic about it, so long as their

> Love of state, the form of patriotism, which at present is very much the fashion, is well and good. Love of country, that is, love of one's homeland or native land in a broader sense than that of mere geographical divisions and national symbols, is still better. Love of state is especially strong in the Americans just now. Love of country as differentiated from love of state, may be illustrated in the devotion of the Irish race to the Emerald Isle. Patriotism in ageenduring form in the case of the Jewish race has persisted in a love of religious and racial traditions, during centuries of homeless exile.

Every single individual is instinctively patriotic in some phase or meaning of the word. The difference between the anarchist or individualist at one extreme, and the imperialist, or internationalist at the other extreme, is but a difference in grading the different kinds of patriotism which almost every individual must experience in some degree.

The imperialist experiences the most ardent patriotism in his love of his empire. His love of his own nation or province within that empire is experienced in a somewhat less degree. But he also loves to varying degrees his county, his city, his own street, and his own home. nationalist loves his nation above all other na tions and above all empires which it may aim to establish, or of which it may be a part. The internationalist loves all nations above any one nation, or professes to do so. His position is a ladies' journal. But the crowds keep going and, difficult one and frequently breaks down. Even theories of socialism. The anarchist loves with temperamental im netwosity and hurning zeal an imaginary realm of freedom where there will be neither taxcollectors, policemen nor meddlesome moral reformers. Everybody will do what he pleases and nobody will interfere with him. The Spencerian individualist also loves his own little invisible territory of personal liberty and inde-

The question naturally arises at what extreme of application one's patriotism should be strongest. Should he love most his own family. and after that his own village or city block? Or, should be start at the other extreme and love first and most fervidly his empire, or the whole League of Nations? Patriotism may be either a dividing or a uniting force.

A little, shallow, superficial patriotism may be a dangerous thing. It often inspires mobs to violence, as within recent years in the neighboring republic. But deep, broad, well-founded, reasonable and tolerant patriotism develops great statesmen, world leaders and world benefactors. The patriotism of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier was of the true and earnest type.

One form of patriotism in which all races, all classes and all creeds can unite is civic patriotneglected today. Civic patriotism made Greece the glory of ancient history. State patriotism arms too far and eventually fall because she relied on mere external conquest rather than spiritual expansion. Thebes, Athens, Sparta are names that conjure up even today visions of

THE CAT'S PUP.

Part Four.

Tabby's four little kittens were so much alike Chu could not tell them apart for days and days. While old Tabby was away hunting mice and other good things, the little pup stood guard over the small family. Luckliy for Tabby, Chu's master thought a great deal of the old cat for keeping little San's puppy alive, and as Tabby had made her home with him instead of with the next door neighbor, her kittens were concerned, but there kittens were concerned, but there was a graver danger overshadowing them.

The bad little dogs of the neighbor hood were still jealous and resentful of Chu. They tried to make out it was because he had been brought up by a cat, but it must be confessed right here that it was because he was because he had been brought up by a cat, but it must be confessed right here that it was because he was a micer dog than any of them. Indeed, Chu's master said the little fellow was worth a great deal of money—many hundreds of dollars.

Skinny, the whippet; Biff, the poodle and Imp, the fox terrier, were the three who got together and formed a plot. They would carry Tabby's kitttens away to die, they decided. They waited until old Tabby was away on a mouse hunt, and then crept around to the back fence.

Little Chu heard them coming, He ran off to stand guard over the pupples, and barked his loudest to scare the bad dogs away, but they just laughed at him and started to dig a hole under the fence. What would Chu do? He had not decided when the first paw came under the fence, then he took a jump forward and bit at it. How like needles his teeth were, and how Imp.

Montreal, Aug. 9,—Another fall in prices occurred this morning in the early trading on the stock exchange. There was no session of the exchange on Saturday, but Spanish River preferred, which closed at 13½ on Friday, fell to 101, and Spanish common from 108 to 102. Laurentide fell to 101 from the closing price on Friday of 106%. Abitibi fell from 70½ to 67, and Breweries from 61% to 59½.

the eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wiggins of that village was the abutment under the bridge, when the accident occurred, jumped into the water and drew the girl out. Aside from being stunned she was not injured, and she was able to walk to her kind that young Boettinger has performed at the risk of his own life during the last few weeks. Recently his sister fell into the water, and he rescued her under similar circumstances.

Cilents Claim Losses When Real Estate Thousands of Dollars Worth Agent Disappears.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

KITCHENER, Aug. 8.—No trace of Charles G. Pritzchau, the missing Kitchener real estate man, has been found. Many hold to the opinion that he has sailed for Germany. The latest development in the case is the issuing of a warrant against him by Roy Kleinschmidt, the owner of a local garage, who charges him with obtaining goods under false pretences. It is claimed by clients that they will be out considerably unless Pritzchau returns. Among them are farmers and workingmen. Estimates on the indebtedness of Pritzchau vary. The general claim is that it will be anywhere from $20,000 to $40,000.

Mr. Melghen, in reply, explained that when the matter had been finally considered by the Government none of the organizations asking for postponement of the vote, the Liberty League included, had suggested postponement beyond the latter part of January. The Government had decided that if there was to be a postponement the date selected should be one which would mean the saving of the half million dollars involved. "We resisted the suggestion that the vote should be taken in January," he said, "on the ground of saving unnecessary expenditure."

Daughters, Maids of England, Philip Goldberg of Toronto Say Ninth "Better Than Ever."

Fiend. TORONTO. Aug. 8.—Philip Goldberg, a lad of eight years or age, was found dying from knife wounds late Saturday afternoon in a field near High Park, at the west end of the city, and was dead before medical assistance could be secured. His throat was cut almost from ear to ear, and there were two cuts on his head. Dr. J. E. Rowe, who sarrived on the scene soon after the boy died, pronounced it a case of murder, probably following maltreatment by a degenerate.

Young Goldberg had left his home, 112 McCaul street, to attend a moving picture show, and it was more than four hours later that Robert McMurty, hurrying across a vacant lot, found him in a dying condition. He presumed the child had fallen from a lofty billboard, and as he ran off for a doctor requested a stranger whom he met to stay by the body. This person consented to do so, but when McMurty and Dr. Rowe returned the body was unguarded.

The police have made no arrests as yet, but the man accosted by McMurty is being looked for.
