WHOLESALE MERCHANTS

Newcastle, N. B.

The matter of nominations to vacant offices in the gift of the Assembly was taken up. Rev. A. H. Foster of Oakburn, Man., was nominated as business manager of the Presbyterian Publications, Rev. George S. Carson, D. D. editor-in-chief of the proposed weekly official church paper in the event of the union being merged in the larger periodical. It was decided to make a nomination to the professorship in Religious College, Edmonton, and the theological college in Saskatoon.

Rev. A. D. Archibald reported on the work of the committee on public education calling attention to the needs in the public school life of the province which must sooner or later react to the detriment of the community at large.

Rev. W. M. Matthews in discussing the temperance situation in the province called attention to the inadequate organized effort put forth by the Presbytery and he expressed a desire to see a more aggressive educational policy along these lines inaugurated, especially in view of the approaching referendum on the question of the importation of intoxicating liquors. He moved that a committee on prohibition be appointed to take such action within its rightful sphere as would be in the best interests of the work. The motion was carried and the following committee appointed: Revs. L. H. MacLean, convener, Dr. E. B. Wyllie, F. W. Thompson, G. S. Gardner, F. Harrison, G. P. Tatlow, G. A. Grant, Hugh Miller, A. D. Archibald and J. H. McLean, and Messrs. E. A. McCurdy, John A. McNaughton and W. R. McMillan.

He further moved, seconded by Rev. Thos. Harrison that in view of the approaching vacancy in the chief inspectorship under the Provincial Prohibition Act, the Presbytery of Miramichi beg leave to present to the serious consideration of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council the name of Rev. Dr. E. B. Wyllie, minister of St. Andrew's church, Chatham as a person admirably qualified to discharge the duties of the office. The motion was carried unanimously. It was further resolved to forward copies of the resolution in full to the Government and to the New Brunswick Temperance Alliance.

The committee appointed at last meeting presented resolutions for the record of Presbytery touching the death of Rev. D. Henderson and Mr. Sutherland honored members of the court for many years. The resolutions were approved.

Rev. Thos. Harrison reported an encouraging visit to the mission held by a special committee of which he was convener. He stated that the work in Chatham will be done in the fall.

Beaverbrook Sees Trouble Coming Soon

At the St. John civic luncheon tendered Lord Beaverbrook at the Union Club last Tuesday at 1.30, His Lordship in his reply made the following remarks:

His lordship referred jokingly to the time he spent in St. John many years ago, and passed on to discuss other matters. He paid a very high tribute to the character and qualities of Bonar Law. He himself had been referred to by a previous speaker as "New Brunswick's most honored son." That was a mistake, it was Bonar Law, he said, who should be so described. He recently visited Kent county, and when in Richibucto asked one of the residents where he would find the house in which Bonar Law had lived. The man told him it was nearby but he probably would not find Mr. Law at home, as he had recently gone west on a harvest excursion. Lord Beaverbrook then said: "Oh, but I mean the minister." "But," said his informant, "he died long ago—a very long time ago." Lord Beaverbrook explained further that he meant the man who occupied a high position in the British government. "I never heard of him," was the reply. The speaker went on to say that New Brunswick had done little to recognize Bonar Law and his achievements. He suggested that Mr. Law had never been invited to come to New Brunswick, that he should be invited, and that if he came New Brunswickers would greet him with the honor he deserves. Although Lloyd George was indispensable during the war period and after it, Lord Beaverbrook said it would have been impossible for the prime minister to have held his government together but for Bonar Law.

He spoke with diffidence concerning the Irish question, saying that he was a partisan or had been so described. He was convinced that short of separation from the empire, Lloyd George and Bonar Law were ready to go almost any length, to undertake any task, to meet any difficulties, if only they could solve the Irish question. He described conditions in Ireland today as amounting to civil war between the south and west on the one hand and the north on the other. He referred in most interesting fashion to a set of negotiations brought about by himself in 1914, resulting in conferences between English and Irish leaders which at one time appeared to promise success. Then the negotiations were broken off. The cause of the rupture was not given but he felt quite sure the trouble was that the Irish leaders had found that they could not carry their constituencies with them in regard to the terms they themselves were willing to accept.

He then passed on to a penetrating description of the situation in Europe, telling how differences had arisen between France and Britain not only with regard to Russia and Poland but with respect to other matters. France said that Soviet Russia government consented to pay in time the loans made by France to the old Russian regime. The Soviet government, on the other hand, asked if the Allies were today willing to give Russia control of Constantinople as they had offered to do before the Czar's fall. The question, as Lord Beaverbrook said, was exceedingly awkward one.

Baking Quality of the Lower Grades of Flour

With the ever increasing cost of living, it has become necessary to find corresponding means of saving. The housewife is the person on whom most of the responsibility of economizing rests. The use of some of the cheaper grades of flour instead of the highly expensive first patent is another means of saving that may be added to the already long list. During the war, all members of the community were forced to use government standard flour which was of a lower grade than most people had been accustomed to. Nevertheless, most of the bakers succeeded in furnishing bread so good that few people would have considered it distinctly inferior had it not been for the difference in colour. Too much attention has however, always been paid to colour in flour and bread. Bread that is really very pale is not so healthful as bread made of somewhat lower grade of flour and the war-time bread was really superior as a good bread to the extremely white product in use previously. Lower grades of flour somewhat similar to the government standard flour can always be purchased but are not usually in much demand on account of their inferior colour. These second and third grade flours however, contain a higher percentage of protein and assimilable phosphates. These features are distinctly advantageous.

While the lower grades of flour may require some slight modifications in the baking method in order to produce the best possible bread, these changes are not serious and, as a rule, no difficulty whatever will be experienced in handling such flours. When we consider the lower price of the cheaper grades of flour and their high nutritive value, we see two distinct advantages in using them. The claims made for the whitest flours are nearly always much exaggerated and are sometimes quite absurd, and the public would do well to insist on obtaining the really superior materials which are sold as inferior.

Relieve Your Rheumatism For 25c.

NR does it by improving digestion, assimilation and elimination—the logical way.

NR Today—Relief or No Pay

There are three vital processes of human existence—the digestion of food, the circulation of the blood, and the elimination of the waste.

Let anything interfere with these processes and then be interrupted or improperly carried on, and sickness of some kind follows.

Poor digestion and assimilation means failure to derive full nourishment from food and that in turn often means indigestion, flatulence, bloating, weakness, nervousness, etc.

Poor elimination means an accumulation of waste matter which poisons the body, lowers vitality, decreases the power of resistance to disease and leads to the development of many serious ailments.

Rheumatism—due to waste interference with the process of elimination, failure to get rid of certain body poisons and by extension to yield to any medicine that fails to correct the condition responsible for it. Could any concerned person expect to rid himself of rheumatic pain as long as rheumatic poison is allowed to remain in the body?

Think of this: It explains the success of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) in so many cases where other medicines have failed. Thousands are using NR Tablets every day and getting relief. Why not live as long as you can? A box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) contains enough to last twenty-five days—must help you, must give you prompt relief and satisfactory results or your money back.

And Nature's Remedy is not only for the relief of rheumatism. It improves digestion, keeps the liver regular, cleanses and tones the blood, improves the whole system. You'll feel like a new person when you've taken NR Tablets a week. You've tried the expensive medicines and doctors, but made the real test. You'll get results this time. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold everywhere and recommended by your druggist.

Sales Made Through Newspaper Ads.

"Ninety-five per cent of all sales in the United States retail or wholesale, result from newspaper advertising," said a speaker recently before the St. Louis Advertising Club and members' conference of the Chamber of Commerce, St. Louis.

"The average person does not realize that advertising has largely displaced the salesman. The business man, however, knows it well. He did not realize it, however, until a few years ago."

"Big business firms, which formerly sent out salesmen, now buy whole pages in newspapers. They are paying closer attention to advertising and are checking up in the same manner they used to check up the salesman. They want to know whether the advertising that is going out is honest."

"Generally it costs a merchant only one-fourth of 1 cent per home to carry a full page advertisement. It has been said advertising increases the cost of goods. There is no other way the merchant could sell them at so low a rate. Through advertising merchants are increasing their business and are able to liquidate their stocks more quickly."

Beaverbrook's View on the Situation

He expressed the view that the miners' strike would come, and soon, perhaps by September 27, that the electrical workers would go out also, that the newspapers would be shut off by lack of electrical power, that England might see some of its people facing death by cold or starvation. Yet he expressed confidently the view that the British people would not submit to dictation at the hands of the unions, that they would resist, and would beat the strike as they had beaten other strikes.

Speaking of Canada and the Empire Lord Beaverbrook said the time had come for the reorganization of the British Foreign Office and the creation of a body in which the overseas dominions would be represented so that they might exercise a proper share of influence upon the foreign policy of the Empire. He was sure that Canada did not intend to stand aside, but that the bonds of Empire had been drawn closer. Therefore there was need of a reorganization of the Imperial machinery, giving the Dominions a voice in the affairs of the Empire.

Lord Beaverbrook spoke with deep feeling of his own life and work, saying his path had been hard at times. He did not intend to remain public life unless grave difficulties arose in which case he would again offer his services, perhaps as an intermediary between the Mother Country and the Dominion. He was loudly cheered at the end of his remarks.

WEDDINGS The New Way of Buying Paper

MUZZERALL—BREAU At St. Patrick's Church, Nelson, Tuesday, Sept. 14th, Miss Christie Breau was united in marriage to Gerald Muszerall, both of Chatham Head. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. Power. They were attended by Miss Isabel Driscoll and Mr. Frederick Doucet.

RUSSELL—MacDONALD St. Thomas Presbyterian church Doaktown was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday the 11th inst. at 2 o'clock, when Miss Rena only daughter of Mrs. N. S. Russell was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Willard Winslow Macdonald of Blenheim brother of Dr. Freeman Macdonald and son of John A. Macdonald.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion by the bride's friends with potted plants, cut flowers etc. At the appointed hour the bride leaning on the arm of her uncle Mr. Geo. H. Hinton entered the church to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus," beautifully rendered by Miss Frances Whyte of Bathurst who played San de Avour very softly during the ceremony.

The bride looked very sweet and winsome in a gown of white Duchesse satin, with an overdress of white silk georgette with pearl trimmings and wore a silk net embroidered veil arranged in cap style with orange blossoms and pearls and carried an exquisite bouquet of white sweet peas and maiden hair fern made in a muff shape.

The bridesmaid, Miss Edith Baldwin of Newcastle wore blue silk crepe de chene embroidered with pink with large black picture hat and pink roses and carried a bouquet of pink and white sweet peas.

Little Miss Jessie Murray cousin of the bride was flower girl and carried a basket of sweet peas, while the groom was supported by the brides brother Robert S. Russell.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. J. MacNeil pastor of St. Thomas church. The bride is a graduate of the provincial Normal School and is also an excellent musician, having taken a course in piano and singing at Toronto conservatory and later taking pipe organ music from Mr. Wm. J. Smith organist of Christ Church Cathedral, Fredericton.

Miss Russell has been the efficient organist of St. Thomas Church for the past three years, and it is chiefly through her efforts that the St. Thomas congregation is in possession of the sweet toned Korn-Morris organ.

The groom's present to the bride was a Cecilian piano in a walnut case with satin finish, to the bridesmaid a sapphire brooch, to the groomsmen a pearl tie pin, and to the organist a fleur-de-lis bar pin set with pearls.

The ushers were Messrs Hubert Doak and William Russell and were presented with gold cuff links.

After the ceremony about sixty invited guests repaired to the home of the bride, where a delightful luncheon was served.

The numerous and costly presents of cut glass, silver, etc also a substantial cheque from the St. Thomas congregation testify to the brides popularity.

Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald left by automobile for Boston where they will be guests of the groom's sister, Mrs. E. Gaiser.

Among the out of town guests were Mrs. Dan McLoughlin and Miss Minnie Edgar, Chatham; Mrs. Margaret Campbell, Robstown; Mrs. W. J. Baldwin, and Rev. Baldwin, Douglassfield; Major and Mrs. Cutbert Donald Blackville and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Underwood, Blackville; Dr. and Mrs. A. Sterling Fredericton

There is a growing tendency among paper men to sell on the "price prevailing" basis and this, we are told by the writer of the leading article in the current number of the Purchasing Agent, benefits only the seller. The practice and its results are described as follows in the magazine mentioned, which is the official organ of the National Association of Purchasing Agents:

The advertising department sends you a requisition for fifty reams of coated paper, for the new catalog which is being issued. You send out the usual inquiry and wait for returns. On the following day two or three of the concerns call you up and tell you that they are unable to bid. You telephone around and finally locate a concern that agrees to send a salesman to talk the matter over.

He wanders in late in the afternoon. He shows you a few sample sheets of grades which he has "in stock and which could not possibly be used for the half-tone illustrations the advertising department prepared. Finally he gets your order with the mill for delivery in five months. That is the best he can do.

You get the advertising manager on the wire, hold an animated conversation with him in which he utters some low thoughts concerning the general inefficiency of purchasing departments, and finally you wring out of him the statement that the catalog is not going into the mails until the first of the year anyway, and the delay can therefore be tolerated.

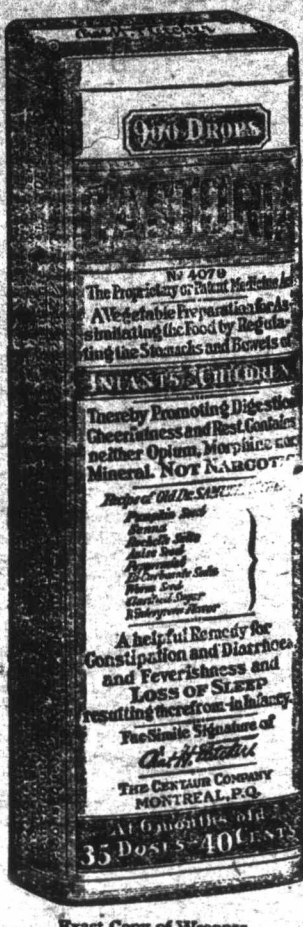

Then you sharpen your pencil to talk terms with the salesman. You ask him what he is going to charge for the paper, meanwhile trying to figure out how you can get him to come down a fraction of a cent, but he has got the drop on you.

"Price prevailing at time of shipment," he says. That is all there is to it. He does not know what the price will be. It might be 1 cent or 10 cents above the present market. The one thing that is sure is that it will be higher than the present price. The mill is not going to take any chances on the price question. It will book your order and charge you what is considered to be the right price when the goods are shipped. If you don't care to place your order on this basis the mill should worry. Some other customer can be found who will agree to the terms.

Paper is not the only commodity that is being sold on the "price prevailing" basis. It is about time that a concerted attempt was made to abolish such terms of sale. The general run of manufacturers have to establish prices on their goods. They could not sell them otherwise. They should have the reasonable protection of knowing what their raw materials are going to cost.

If the manufacturers who are quoting these terms were obliged to buy all of their own materials on the same basis there would be less objection to the practice. It can be taken for granted, however, that the purchasing departments of these manufacturers are just as keen as other buyers to have definite prices established on their purchase. It is certainly unfair for a few limited industries to put into effect terms of sale which they would unquestionably refuse to allow all of their own sources of supply to name.

No manufacturer who sells his goods at "price prevailing" is running his plant on a day-to-day scale. If his purchasing department is any good at all he has a reasonably stock of materials which cost an amount which is definitely known. There is no reason, therefore, why a definite sales price should not be given. No reason, that is, except a desire to "soak" the customer as that he can be made to pay. Protests in individual cases have no effect. The only recourse seems to be to wait until the market takes a turn and then refuse to allow the manufacturer to name a definite price. There will be no attraction in "price prevailing" to the manufacturer when prices start to fall. The buyer of goods, though, will then have an advantage in terms. It would be fair play to keep track of the markets and to load up on the "price prevailing" basis when prices do go down, so they will go up day.

Most people want to grow. They would like to advance in their work, earn more, have greater influence, do bigger things. God, however, to say the least, is full of people who do not "grow up". They have lost the secret of their youthful days. These come to a halt in self-development and take any thing they are getting old. But a person is never old until he quits growing, and he need not quit growing until the end of his years. If a man sets his heart upon growing, he has but these things to do. First, he must be a learner all his life. I do not mean from books only. Many have attained the knack of learning from things by observation. Almost everyone you meet has something important to teach you, tell you or show you, if you know how to ask intelligent questions, and if you are genuinely interested in learning.

SHARP PRACTICE
The Provincial Legislature has been dissolved and the writs are issued for the elections to take place on Saturday, October 9th, nominations to close on October 22nd. Only fourteen days before nominations and twenty one days before polling, have been allowed, which is the shortest possible legal notice. The decision of the Government to bring on the election was arrived at on Monday evening, Sept. 13th, but the public were not acquainted of the fact before Thursday, Sept. 16th. For some time past, members of the Government have been making statements, leading the public to believe that an election at such an early date was not anticipated. However they have sprung one on at the shortest possible notice and hope thereby to secure a majority of seats. The least that can be said about actions of this kind on the part of the Government is that it is the sharpest practice ever resorted to by any Government is the political history of New Brunswick.

THIS WOMAN'S RECOVERY

Shows Remarkable Curative Power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Chesley, Ont.—"Before using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was a total wreck. I had terrible pains in my sides and was not regular. Finally I got so weak I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest half way up the steps. I tried two doctors but they did me no good. I saw your medicine advertised in the newspapers and thought I would give it a trial. I took four bottles of the Vegetable Compound and was restored to health. I am married, am the mother of two children, and do all my household work and enjoy the best of health. I also found Vegetable Compound a great help for my weak back before my babies were born. I recommend it to all my friends who are in need of medicine, and you may print this letter if you wish."
—Mrs. HENRY JAMES, R. R. No. 4, Chesley, Ontario.

It hardly seems possible that there is a woman in this country who will continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial after all the evidence that is continually being published, proving beyond contradiction that this grand old medicine has relieved more suffering among women than any other medicine in the world.

Newcastle and find that they cannot do business on Wednesday afternoon and often leave the town without showing their wares to the merchants, who would possibly purchase goods, which they sometimes find rather difficult to obtain. The closing of the stores also gives our town a most quiet appearance, which is one of the last things which we want to convey to the minds of visitors who may happen to be in our midst. It is an inconvenience also to our merchants, who lose a half day each week, which they could utilize to much better advantage. It also in an inconvenience to the clerks, who are fully aware of the fact, that always after a holiday, their duties are two-fold, and they often times find it impossible to perform their duties, satisfactorily either to themselves or their employers. During July and August, business is not so brisk as in September which is a fall month, and usually a very busy one, especially with the hunting season on, and so many American sportsmen arriving to go into the woods. In view of these facts, we think the closing of the stores during Wednesday afternoons, is a serious business mistake and we are also of the opinion that the merchants, who were the first to propose the idea of closing the stores, are at last beginning to realize their mistake. We should all endeavor to make Newcastle, one of the busiest and most prosperous towns in New Brunswick, and by keeping the wheels of business continually in motion, we will be helping, along business principles, to make it such. From statements recently heard from many merchants we are rather inclined to think that this year will finish the Wednesday afternoon holiday.

QUARANTINE?
Our attention has been drawn to the manner in which the laws governing quarantined houses for infectious diseases, are adhered to by the inmates of the houses, and the enforcement of such laws by those in charge.
Certain rules or laws are laid down by our Board of Health officers and penalties for the non-compliance of such are established, but apparently the laws are not enforced, nor are the penalties exacted. There is not the least particle of use in enacting these laws and penalties if they are not enforced and exacted. It is reported that inmates of houses containing Scarlet Fever have recently been seen on the streets, mingling with other citizens, while the quarantine notice was still on the building and the quarantine unlifted. A considerable amount of criticism against the Board of Health authorities, by the general public.

Pallid Cheeks Mean Anaemia
New Health Can be Obtained by Enriching the Blood Supply
When a girl in her teens becomes peevish, listless and dull, when nothing seems to interest her and daintiness do not tempt her appetite you may be certain that she needs more good blood than her system is provided with. Before long her pallid cheeks, frequent headaches and breathlessness and heart palpitation will confirm that she is anaemic. Many mothers as the result of their own girlhood experience can promptly detect the early signs of anaemia, and the wise mother does not wait for the trouble to develop further, but at once gives her daughter a course with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which renew the blood supply and banish anaemia before it has obtained a hold on the system. Out of their experience thousands of mothers know that anaemia is the sure road to worse illa. They know the difference that good red blood makes in the development of womanly health. Every headache, every gasp for breath that follows the slightest exertion by the anaemic girl, every pain she suffers in her back and limbs, are reproaches if you have not taken the best steps to give your girl more blood, and the only way to do so is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. New blood is infused into the system, and the rich blood springs and health, increased appetite, increased strength and perfect womanly development. Give your daughter Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and take them yourself and note how promptly their influence is felt in better health. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail postpaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Canada's Wheat Crop 100,000,000 Bushels Increased

Ottawa, Sept. 15—That the Canadian wheat crop this year will be 289,000,000 bushels, as against 195,000,000 last year, is the latest official estimate of the Bureau of Census and Statistics.

The oat crop placed at 558,000,000 bushels, compared with 394,000,000 while barley will be 64,000,000 compared with 55,000,000 last year, and flax, 11,000,000.

In the prairie provinces alone the wheat estimate is 280,000,000 oats 350,000,000; barley 48,763,000, and flax 10,817,000.

Large and Small Hives

To contain the combs in bee-hives, the Langstroth frame measuring 17 1/2 inches wide by 9 1/4 inches deep has for many years been the size employed by most beekeepers. Some years ago it was the fashion to use a small hive holding only eight of these frames. The 8 frame hive, however does not provide room enough for the eggs that can be laid by a prolific queen, and the 10-frame hive has been found more satisfactory, especially where Italian bees instead of black are kept, and extracted honey instead of comb honey is produced.

A movement to use a still larger hive is now making progress. These larger hives usually contain either the frames of Jumbo size, which is two inches deeper than the Langstroth or twelve Langstroth frames, the latter making a square hive. Colonies in such large hives retain more stores for winter, and this is an advantage where the natural stores are wholesome for wintering, but a disadvantage where they are unwholesome. These large hives help to prevent swarming to some extent, but they are apt to be unhandy and cumbersome, and heavy to lift or move about. Comparison between the 10-frame Jumbo and the 12-frame Langstroth hives at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, for one year has shown the former to be more satisfactory on the whole; the bees winter better in the Jumbo hive and it takes the regular supers, covers and floors, of the 10-frame Langstroth hive, while the 12-frame hive requires a specially large size of these. A super containing twelve Langstroth frames when full of honey is heavier than

TORTURED BY TERRIBLE ECZEMA

Suffered Three Years Until She Tried "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

DAME PETER LAMARRE

Pointe St. Pierre, P. Q.

"I think it my duty to tell you how much your medicine has done for me. I suffered for three years with terrible Eczema. I consulted several doctors and they did not do me any good. Then, I used one box of 'Sootha-Salva' and two boxes of 'Fruit-a-tives' and my hands are now clear. The pain is gone and there has been no return. I think it is a marvellous cure because no other medicine did me any good and I tried all the remedies I ever heard of, without benefit until I used 'Sootha-Salva' and 'Fruit-a-tives'.

'Fruit-a-tives' cooled the blood and removed the cause of the disease, and 'Sootha-Salva' completed the cure."

Dame PETER LAMARRE (file). 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

many people care to lift. Combs heavier than the Langstroth frequently give better results in wintering. The question of large hives, is however, chiefly one for the beginner and those who intend to enlarge their apiaries. Tapes who already have 8-frame hives can make them satisfactory by using two chambers instead of one, that is to say, a second hive body placed as a super over the regular brood chamber, for brood rearing and even for wintering. Those who have the regular 10 frame size and consider it not large enough can use a shallow super 5 1/2 inches deep, over it. There are, in fact, some important advantages in having two shallow chambers for brood rearing and wintering. One can usually tell when a colony is preparing to swarm by simply prying up the upper chamber and looking for queen cells containing larvae along the bottom bars of it's frames. If such cells are present, the colony will probably swarm within a week, and it will be advisable to treat it without delay.

The capacity of combs for brood bearing is often reduced by the stretching of the upper parts of the combs. This stretching may be prevented by using diagonal as well as the horizontal wires for gassing by having the top bars of the frames 1/2 inch instead of 3/4 inch thick. While experiments with the larger hives will be continued, and we are favourably impressed with the 10-frame Jumbo for certain conditions, we have not yet sufficient data to modify general advice that has been given to beginners to adopt the 10-frame Langstroth hive.

A Long Distance Layer
As a rule, hens lay two, or three eggs and then miss a day, some good hens will lay more before they take a day off and we have known individual hens to lay five and six dozen eggs and not miss a day, but a record in long distance laying without a miss has, as far as we know, been established by the Experimental Farm, Poultry Division at their Kentville, N. S., Station, where a Barred Plymouth Rock pullet laid 104 eggs in 104 days.

This Barred Rock whose leg band No. is 63, did not start to lay very early. In fact her first egg was laid on the 25th of January. She laid two eggs and missed a day, laid five eggs and missed a day, four eggs and missed a day, one egg and a miss, then two eggs, but on the 18th of February she got down to business and laid every day for the rest of the month, every day in March, every day in April, and every day in May up to the 27th when she took two days off. After this time she took an occasional day off until the 29th of June when she became broody. When she was broody her total record was 104 eggs in 104 days.

Alliance Would Seek Pledge In All N.B. Contests

Fredericton, N. B., Sept. 14—While the Provincial Government were meeting at St. John yesterday the executive of the New Brunswick Temperance Alliance were meeting here with President Donald Fraser in the chair, making preparations for the part they propose to play in the coming general provincial election.

The Alliance executive decided to again urge the Government to convene the legislature at the earliest possible date and "pass the resolution prohibiting the importation of liquor into the province for personal use at once the first item of legislation."

Another resolution set forth that "in view of an election an effort be made to secure pledges from every candidate nominated," the executive having approved of "the recommendations of the committee in having candidates of tried and true temperance principles nominated for the legislature at the next provincial election, and that we take such steps as are required to bring about this result." The Alliance also wants to nominate the commission to administer the prohibition act after October 31st next when all present licenses expire.

The Value of the Small Town Newspaper

The value of a live newspaper to a town cannot be overestimated, says a small town editor.

It is the ambassador of the town and wherever it circulates the town and its people are judged by it. If it covers its field in a creditable manner it also reflects credit on the town wherein it is published. If it is a weak-kneed sheet, lacking in character, the town where it came from is very liable to be marked down as a back number.

Advertising is the cheapest salesman one can employ. With the increase of advertising has come a change for the better in country papers. It costs money—real money and lots of it to run even a small country newspaper.

Moncton Man Had To Quit His Work

Never Thought He Would Regain his Health but Tanlac put him Back on the Job

B. knows Evariste J. D. LeBlanc, of 207 Robinson St., who is book keeper at his brother's fashionable establishment on Main street. He is one of the oldest and most highly respected residents of Moncton.

"I was ill for about two years, so ill indeed that I had to give up work for a whole year, and never thought I should ever start again," said Mr. LeBlanc to the Tanlac representative who had heard of his remarkable recovery and called to see him at his place of business. "I suffered from shocking stomach trouble I can never tell you all that I went through and suffered. If ever I ate anything like a decent meal, I was seized with pains in the abdomen. For hours afterwards I would be greatly distressed, and also have peculiar dizzy feelings. I had but a very feeble appetite and came at last to hate the sight or smell of food. I got very weak and thin, and must have lost a great deal in weight. I also suffered a lot from rheumatic pains in my legs and knee joints. As all my friends know I was in a deplorable condition, and really despaired of ever getting my health back again.

"I had read in the papers of so many people who had gotten relief from stomach trouble similar to my own case by taking Tanlac, that I went along to my friend and bought a bottle. It certainly did wonders for me. My rheumatism disappeared entirely and I haven't had pains in my legs or knee joints since. But what surprised me even more was the way it settled my stomach trouble. I began to assimilate my food properly, and could eat quite a hearty meal without any distressing after effects. My appetite rapidly increased and I quickly got stronger until now I have actually gained fifteen pounds in weight and am back at my business again. My friends all say to me 'Why Evariste, how well you look; you are getting quite fat and I must say that I am feeling better today than I have for years past. Tanlac has been a real boon to me and I take great pleasure in giving you this endorsement.'

Tanlac is sold in Newcastle by E. J. Morris, in Redbank by Wm. M. Sullivan and in Doaktown by O. Hildebrand.

Hon. Dr. Smith's Resignation Is Accepted

St. John, Sept. 14.—The resignation of Hon. E. A. Smith as Minister of Lands and Mines in the Provincial Government has been received by the Lieutenant Governor and has been accepted, and Premier Foster in a statement given out to the press this morning. He went on to say that a successor would be appointed in the course of a few days. The Premier said that Hon. Mr. Smith's resignation was not the result of any disagreement with his colleagues as to the general policy of the Government, nor was it the result of a disagreement among the cabinet over the rates of stumpage but it had to do with the working out of the details in connection with the establishment of a game sanctuary.

No Influenza Yet in New Brunswick

The province has entered the dangerous month of September with a clean bill of health so far as epidemic influenza is concerned. In Chicago between 2,000 and 4,000 cases have made their appearance but they are not reported to be of a very virulent character. Two years ago the disease made its first appearance in New Brunswick and, finding its first foothold in the northern counties it spread through all counties in more or less serious outbreaks here their beginning and the prophesies are that each year will see some recurrence of the disease. The last return of the Department of Health for the province which have been reported. They show that there has been no influenza reported in any of the counties of the province.

Big Republican Sweep in The State of Maine

Portland, Maine, Sept. 14.—Maine gave an overwhelming plurality to the Republican ticket in the state election yesterday, with a total vote larger by 65,000 than the highest ever previously in the state.

Frederick Parkhurst, of Bangor, was elected governor by a majority of 65,000 over his Democratic opponent, Bertrand G. McIntyre, of Norway. The plurality was 17,000 more than the largest obtained by any other gubernatorial candidate in the history of the state.

Four Republican congressmen were elected by larger pluralities. Every member of the State Senate will be a Republican while of a membership of 151 in the State House of Representatives, the Democrats succeeded in electing only 15. In the last legislature there were 2 Democratic senators and 41 Democratic representatives. Roy L. Hardwell, of Augusta, Republican, was easily re-elected state auditor. All the new county sheriffs are Republicans. The vote of the state for governor, with returns from forty small towns and plantations in remote districts missing, was:

Parkhurst, Republican, 132,517.
McIntyre, Democratic, 62,240.

The increase in the total vote was very largely accounted for by the presence of women at the polls for the first time. All over the state women showed themselves eager to grasp the opportunity of exercising their franchise, and they were undaunted by a heavy downpour of rain in the afternoon. The result showed that most of them voted the Republican ticket.

As the returns came in showing from the first evidences of a tremendous Republican sweep, Democratic state leaders were silent as to the possible significance of the vote with relations to the presidential election in November. Coll Parkhurst, after being assured of his election, gave the viewpoint of the Republicans in a statement in which he pointed out that the campaign had been "vigorously contested by the Democrats on national issues," and said that the outcome gave "most conclusive evidence that the voters of Maine resent the autocratic and un-American administration that the Democrats have given us." He declared that it was equally an endorsement of Harding and Coolidge.

Matters of merely state importance were hardly touched upon in the campaign. The leading speakers were men of national prominence, both parties striving to effect a good showing in "the barometer state," the only state in the Union to hold its state election in advance of the voting for president.

The only woman who was a candidate for public office at the election was defeated, Mrs. Margaret Dyre, of Bar Harbor, who was the Democratic candidate for registrar of probate in Hancock county. She received only a small vote.

A proposal for a state income tax was defeated by a wide majority.

GOT A SURPRISE
One of Newcastle's young men received quite a surprise a week ago last Saturday evening, when he ascertained Inspector H. Saunders by jumping on his back, attempting to put him to the ground. Instead he was the under man, and soon had the handcuffs placed on his wrists, and escorted to the Police Station.

He was allowed his freedom on a $150.00 bail and appeared before the Police Magistrate on Monday morning, but was remanded until 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when he was fined $25.00 and costs. The following Sunday night, one of Nelson's young men attempted a similar feat, but received the same treatment as his Newcastle friend.

PRICE OF MILK INCREASED
Local consumers of milk have been notified that on and after October 1st, the price of milk will be 18 cents per quart. This means a great hardship to many who have large families of small children, and who are unable to do without this commodity. The H. C. L. apparently seems to be on the upward trend instead of on the downward, especially in lines handled by our agriculturists. In view of fact, such as this, it would never do for the farmer's Party to gain control of the political situation, because if they did, they would make it impossible for Labor or Urbanites to exist at all.

THE BYE-ELECTION
As was generally expected to be the result in the Federal Bye-Elections held yesterday in Colchester County, N. B. and St. John, Albert N. B. the Hon. P. B. McCurdy, Minister of Public Works, and Hon. E. W. Wignmore, Minister of Customs, were both elected over their Farmer and Liberal opponents by large majorities. This is conclusive evidence that the people of the Maritime Provinces, are satisfied with the administration of Hon. Arthur Meighen, and when the general elections are held he will be returned to office with a decisive mandate from the people of the Dominion, which will secure our country of some progressive government. Colchester and St. John were won by Mr. McCurdy and Mr. Wignmore respectively.
