T IS QUITE A DAHLY occurrence to hear persons say: Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache, I feel too tired to do anything. I have no heart to exert myself, and at times I care for nothing. I often have a pain in the pit of the stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veri able burden.

Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a bottle of Dr. Stafford's Prescription A. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach trouble. It can be obtained at

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstimate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "lust as good," It is probably better FOR HIM--- It pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "lust as good" for you. Say so.

The M.C.L.I. Debate.

Editor Evening Telegram Dear Sir,-It was my privilege have been present during the debate in the M. C. L. I. Rooms last night, and never was more forcibly struck with the conviction that such an institution can do an amount of good Besides training our young men to speak extempore and logically such an institution serves as a refreshing antidote to the sport craze. I am not being, but when indulged in to excess is apt to prove a menace to the more largest stock of serious pursuit of intellectual develprement. It is very encouraging to the thoughtful person to note the existence of clubs or societies such as the one referred to. From their ranks are recruited the statesmen of the future. When the hour arrives when keen debaters are needed, and men are wanted, to fill the gaps in the front rs, from the floors of such institutions steps forth the men ready trained for action, their grenades ready primed and fuse alight. I was surorised and delighted to witness such a struggle of wits, where argument was

They proved one thing more than another and it is this, that they as well as the gentlemen who held the positive side are qualified debaters or contro vertists and are the walls of adamant that have reared themselves against the onward sweeping sea of frivolity in the way of sport that threatens to engulf us. Let me reiterate my expressions of pleasure in having been present at the debate, and allow me; also, Mr. Editor, to express regret that the leading speeches, at least, are not reproduced in print. It may not meet the wishes of the debaters, but it is a pity anyway.

After Escaping From Burning Home. Doctor Advised Amputation

Mrs. Jno. Marks, of Cameron, Ont., narrowly escaped losing her foot. She tells the story this way.

"I had my foot so badly frozen after escaping from a fire which destroyed our home that the doctor in attendance advised immediate amputation. Before consenting to the operation I was induced to try Donglas' Egyptian Liniment, and it produced a most remarkable result.

"After four or five applications the frozen flesh dropped off, and the foot began to show signs of improvement. It advanced wonderfully under the treatment, and was soon completely healed.

"Egyptian Liniment certainly saved me from being horribly crippled."

Probably none of your family will ever get frozen so badly, but a nipped ear or nose or toe is a common and painful enough experience. Egyptian Liniment takes out every bit of the pain, soreness and swelling, and quickly restores the injured part.

Indignant.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—After reading the Solicitor's advice to the Council re taxing the receipts of the Hockey Matches I cannot hold my peace any longer about the outrageous proceeding. Last year a prominent musician gave a concert, which, regarded from educa-tional benefits, ranked high. He lost money, but still was forced to pay four rional benefits, ranked high. He lost money, but still was forced to pay four per cent on his gross receipts which I think were about forty-two dollars. Last year those who brought the hockey team here refused to pay the tax because they said that the matches were played and got up for the pleasure of the people. As a result of the action they, I believe, paid over the profits to some charitable institution. Now, in view of the state of things which has come to light in the recent contests can it be said that those who invited the 'visiting' team (I won't say Windsor, for I believe that that town is indignant over the fact that the mixture called themselves Windsorites) had no interest in the receipts?

In all fairness and justice, Sir, they should pay the tax. Failing this—the only clean way out of it is to make a declaration under oath of all the receipts and expenditure and pay the balance over to charity.

I demand, Sir, that the Hockey League, the Council and the Court, see to it that justice be done in this case.

Yours truly,

At 12.15 p.m. to-day James Eales a workman in the machine shops of the Reid Nfld. Co., met with a hor-rible death near the round house. The victim is 42 years of age, married an has a wife and six children residing on Alexander Street in the West End. For several years he has worked in the employ. The story as told by an eye-witness was most harrowing. Eales was engaged working on top of the greety lower speed the last of the rotary plow on some of the last nuts before she went over the road. The man's position in working was in close proximity to the revolving fans abreast of the plow, but everything was stationary until some one gave the order to back up the engine for water. At the same time the rotary was started as well, and the rapidly revolving fans, which are as sharp a knives, struck the man, whirled hin around, and cut his body into pieces Death was instantaneous and tor ragments of the flesh were throw out through the aperatures on the top of the rotary and strewn around the yard. When the mechanism was stopped pieces of the man's flesh were picked up several yards away, and parts of the organs of the body were scattered about. It was a most gruesome sight to the hundreds of people who were on the scene. The remains were gathered together as best possible and brought to the morgue in
