IS.

Ozena is the professional or technical name given to an advanced form of catarrh in which ulceration has eaten through the membrane lining of the nose to the cartilage of the bone. Any case of catarrh may end in ozene, but it most frequently occurs in those who are naturally scrotulous. The discharge takes place through the nostrils or arrough the throat, and is generally of a yellowish or greenish yellow color, frenquently tinged with blood, and hlmost always attended by an offensive smell. In the language of Dr. Wood, of Philadelphia, 'the disease is one of the most obdurate and disagreeable which the physicians has to encounter. In bad cases the breath of the patient becomes so revolting as to issolate him from society, and to render him an object of disgust even to himself."

In some instances pieces of bone become separated and though off, leaving deep, unhealthy ulcers, which secrete a blood matter, and are extremely difficult to heal.

After Ozena has continued some time the sense of smell unitally becomes impaired and often lost.

Deafness is one of its most common consequences, and results from its extension through the custach ain tubes to the internal ear.

Pains in the head and over the frontal sinuess, impring memory, and even insanity, frequently spring from its extension to the brain.

impring memory, and even insanity, frequently spring from its extension to the brain.

The greatest danger, however, because the most common, is that it will extend downward and affect the lungs. In mo-t cases of pulmonary disease catarrh is present in some degree, and in many instances it causes a large share of the patient's disconfort.

the lungs. In most cases of pulmonary disease catarrh is present in some degree, and in many instances it causes a large share of the patient's discomfort.

Besides these grave consequences, all of which are liable to spring from scrofulous catarrh or Ozona, shere are others which, if less dangerous, are sufficiently unpleasant. It occasions great unhapiness to thousands of both sexes, by isolating them and preventing their settlement in life. An offensive running from the nose, with foul breath, is about as greata calamity as can befall young people.

The treatment of this disease requires much care and perseverance to conduct it to a successful issue. The remedies must be carefully adapted to the stage of the disease in each case, and applied directly to the parts affected, which may be done by the patients themselves, whereever they may be, and without hindrance to their daily occupation.

I have seen so many of those cases saved by inhalation that I cannot doubt its curative powers or regard any case necessarily hopeless unless both lungs are extensively involved. The great vriue of inhalation in the treatment of all head, threat and lung complaints has been indorsed by all the leading medical journals of England, Frame and Germany. If possible call personally for consultation and examination, but if impossible to do so, write for a "List of Questions" and "Medical Treatise." Address

WOOD-WORKING MACHINISTS.

A meeting of wood-working machinists were held in Dufferin hall on Saturday night, for the purpose of forming a union. The hall was filled to overflowing. Mr. James Rose was in the chair. The meeting was addressed by meinbers of the organization committee of the trade and haber council and by Mr. Alfred Jury, after which a resolution was passed and a committee appointed to draft a constitution and call another meeting, at which their report will be submitted. About fifty of those present put down their names, pledging themselves to become members.

Beldeville March 6.—At 3 a.m. to-day Mrs. Mallory, who carried on a grocery store, was awekened by a strong smell of smoke, and found that the interior of the building was a mass of flame. She was barely able to escape through a window in her right dress, and her ron-in-law and daughter, who were also awakened, escaped in a similar manner. All the contents of the building were destroyed, including $100 in cash and $700 in notes, also a gold watch and chain, and knitting machines, belonging to Mrs. Mallory, as well as all her clothing and some of the furniture. Mr. Canniff loss included the stock in the store, a piano, furniture and clothing. Mrs. Mallory was insured for $500 in the Scottish Imperial on her effects, and Mr. Canniff had an insurance of $1500 on stock, furniture and piano. There can be little doubt that the fire was the work of an incendiary.

Ottawa, March 6.—Messrs. Ogara & Remon, on behalf of Mr. W. P. Lett, have entered suit against the St. Lawrence & Ottawa railway for $25,000 damages for the death of Mrs. W. P. Lett, caused by a train on the street crossing. The same firm have also dittered suit on behalf of Mrs. Robert Hinlon, for $5,000 damages sustained at the same time as the fittal accident to Mrs. Lett. The ground of the suit is, said to be carelessness on the part of the officials, and the neglect of the precautions said to be imperative by law.

Besides the opinion of sporting men, there is good medical authority on these two points—that he over-exerted himself in the early part of the contest, crowding far too many miles into the first two or three days; and that he did not take nourishing food enough to keep him up. He says himself that when the collapse came his legs were as good as ever, but his stomach had failed; he felt sick inside, and could not eat. In other words, had collapsed, and could no longer supply the vital force necessary to keep the about ? By overtraining beforehand, if the opinion of Dr. Taylor, who was called in to see him when the trouble came on, be worth anything. He had been "trained down too fine;" this appears to have been the case, though his trainer and others who have had him in charge will deny it vigorously. After two or three days of hard work he was "not in himself;" there was a collapse. The collapse was not in the limbs, but in the "department of the interior." The case is a remarkable one. and, from the prominence which it has re-ceived, will doubtless be very fully ex-amined and reported upon by competent judges. This much, however, may be said rather than capitulate, and to go down to their political graves rather than change ceived no communication from Conkling point pretty conclusively to a verdict of collapse from overtraining—training down

COPYING ENGLISH LEGISLATION.

Sir Hector Langevin the other day had a bill, that proposed to deal with contracts for public works, thrown out on the ground that he wished to see a bill that he understood had been introduced in the English parliament dealing with the same question. This piece of stultification was a direct slap at the ability of our law makers to frame laws for Canadians. And the strange thing is they administered it themselves. Mr. Meredith is not in the same boat with the Trojan knight. He told Mr. Mowat yesterday that he hoped when he would re-introduce his measure affecting property and conveyancing it would be nething more than a copy of an English

FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS is annually sent to England by the university of Toronto for a few trumpery gold and silver medals that even the winners think little of. And yet University college is in want of more teachers and professors. Isn't it about time this folly was stopped. The British universities are abandoning the system of ranking their men; and even where ranking is kept up a man's position is simply indicated by numbers, not by medals in the descending scale of the noble metals. It may be a judicious thing to hang a Dufferin or Lorne medal around the neck of an Indian chief in the Northwest, but on the breast of a student it is out of place. And even the Indian would sooner have a blanket or a plug hat.

CANADIAN COLLEGES consider the study of Canadian history of little account. American colleges on the contrary insist on the study of the history of the United States. Let the senate of the university of Toronto-an alleged natioal seat of learning-throw out some of the text books on the mediæval ages, and put on Canadian history in its place. Our young men should know the history of their own land, just as much as they should know their mother tongue seek republican institutions. before they know dead languages.

That the suppression of vice society's plan of raiding the houses and imprisoning the inmates tells only on women, and is a gross violation of justice, has already been ably shown by others. If women are fined and imprisoned, so ought men to be, for such houses could not exist, did men not support them and use them. But no legal penalty ought to be administered for this sin. It is not like that of theft, or injury of another against him or what radical good is done? A succour from vice society might do great good. A society, open day and night, to take in, without question, any woman who came asking for help to lead a better life, and willing from her own heart, to strive to free herself from the evil. None but such as are willing will ever be rescued, either of men or woman, by force or any other means. This, society can greatly help now, by not shutting its hearts and its doors against women who sin, any more than it does against men who "sow their wild oats," and that is, practically, never.

100 GOOD TOWN LOTS IN MORRIS. To those who contemplate investing their money in some of these lots, a brief description of the town of Morris may be interesting. The original town site was surveyed out in Morris 1877. At that time the only buildings here were a few small houses. Since then it has steadily grown, till now it claims to be the fourth largest town in the Province. Morris is strated on the west bank of Bed River, midway between the international boundary line and the city of Winniper. Its location's high, and is surrounded by picturesque stenery. The town is thoroughly drained by the Red and Morris (or Scratching) Rivers, both of which run through and alongside the fown site. In the immediate vicinity of the scenery. COMMUNICATIONS.

At the present time this town is without railway communication, but we have every confidence that within the next year a line running through this town—a Manitoba Central—will be under contract, and the work of construction commenced, which line will give us communication with the north, west and south, and in all probability to the east, connecting with the South-western, Northern Pacific and Canada Pacific Railway. The Pembina Mountain branch of the C. P. R. passes to the west of Morris about five miles.

During the navigation season, boats stop here on their way from Winnipeg to West Lynne, also on the return time. The present winter a boat is to be built by a Morris firm, and he put on Red River next season.

PRICE OF LOCES.

Notwithstanding that we have, as yet, no railway facilities, influential capitalists feel so confident of the future of Morris hat they have invested considerable of their money in real estate in the town. The price of town lots has rapidly advanced. For instance The World had an item yesterday morning that appeared in none of the other papers; the item occurred at a prominent hotel at 2 in the morning and a World reporter was on the spot to record it. The parties interested however ran to the Globe and Mail and got them to suppress it—and well they might for the first intimation they had of it was the excited parties running in and asking that nothing be said. It, however, was copied in the earlier edition of the Telegram but was taken out of the 5 o'clock edition, the inference being that a "brother" went up and saw his "brother" and it was fixed. Mr. Dwight, who controls the associated press reports, was also seen and thereupon gave orders that nothing was to be sent in the associated press despatch touching the item in question.
