"In Union is Strength."

Vol. 2.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS, TRURO, N. S., April 20th, 1894.

No. 3.

Conscience.

Whatever name this moral sense (as it has been called by several) may bear, its dictates are imperative, and its dominion as extensive as human nature. It lives under the various forms of external observances and political enactments, but it lives still, often hated, but never despised; seared but not extinguished; it may be weakened, but it cannot be destroyed: it may be lulled, but it cannot be annihilated; and when it rises from its sleep, the hero turns pale before its accusations: it rushes on with the irresistible fury of the lion coming up from the swellings of Jordan, roused from the thicket where he had crouched, by the sudden overflowings of the river. Even to its silent whisper, which none but the man himself can hear, the thunder of heaven is but the distant waterfall, when its remote echoes are borne at fitful intervals by the light breeze of the summer's evening.

The following pupils of Willow St. school, who have been absent for some time have returned:—Misses Edith Lintou, George Blair, Tena Chisholm and Emily Kempt.

On Tuesday a spelling match was held by the pupils of Grade III, Willow Street School. Those who made no errors were: Misses Winnie Smith, Nellie Hoar, Florence Archibald, Francis Gladwin, Maggie Musgrove, Bertha Barnhill and Douglas G. Smith, Sedley Crowe, John Clark, John Snook and Osborne Paris.

Origin of Names of Countries.

Italy, a country of pitch, from its yielding of great quantities of black pitch.

Gaul, modern France, signifies yellow hair, as yellow hair characterizes its inhabitants.

Britain, the country of tin, great quantities being found in it and the adjacent islands.

Laurel was used for crowning victors and was dedicated to Apollo, god of archery, prophecy, music and medicine; son of Jupiter and Latona. —Wee Willie Winkie.

Grade II of Prince Street School still leads in paper selling, having sold 41 last week. Willow Street School comes next.

A stone coffin in a tomb in Canterbury Cathedral on being opened was found to contain the body of an ancient archbishop fully vested. It is thought to be that of Cardinal Stephen Langton, who united with the barons in extorting Magna Charta from King John. Although buried six centuries ago, the features were still perfect and the vestments quite sound.

The discoveries made by Stanley show that the Nile is the longest river in the world, being at least four thousand one hundred miles in length. Were the Mississippi regarded merely as a tributary to the Missouri, as some geographers contend, the latter stream would surpass the African water-course, having a length of four thousand and five hundred miles.

EDITORIAL.

We are happy to say that our appeal for aid in selling the paper has been promptly responded to. Grade II of Prince Street School especially has done very good work in that direction.

Have not any of our fellow pupils yet got sufficient confidence in their powers of composition to contribute a short article?

By compassion we make others misery our own, and so, by relieving them, we at the same time relieve ourselves also.

Actions, looks, words, steps, form the alphabet by which you may spell character.—Lavatel.

True courage and courtesy always go hand in hand. The bravest men are the most forgiving and the most anxious to avoid quarrels.—Thackeray.

A triumph in engineering is reported from the mountains of Peru, where a twin-screw steamer of 540 tons, 170 feet long and 30 feet wide, has been successfully launched on Lake Titicaca, the highest navigable waters in the world, more than 13,000 feet above the sea.

Compliment the students on their energy and industry in bringing out this little paper, and show their encouragement by occupying this space.

Wishing the students success

The following pupils of Grade II lost no days during March—Emma Jeffrys, Cassie Avery, Mary Avery, Mary Currie, Annie Linton, Bessie Bloise, John Hanway, Bertie Wi'son, Willie MacAulay, Eddie Moran, Norman Green, Fred Geddes, George Grant. Alex. Murray and George Campbell lost but one half day.

Dying Words of Famous Persons.

"It is well." Washington.
"I must sleep now." Byron.
"Let the light enter." Goethe.
"Independence forever." Adams.
"Is this your fidelity." Nero.
"Give Dayrolles a chair." Lord Chesterfield.

In a Welsh tin factory has been produced the thinnest sheet of iron ever rolled. It would require 4800 to make one inch in thickness.

Rothchild's Maxims.

The elder Baron Rothchild had the walls of his bank placarded with the following maxims, and they are worth copying into our young folks' school exercise books:

Shun liquors.

Dare to go forward. Never be discouraged. Be polite to everybody. Never tell business lies.

Employ your time well. Be prompt in everything.

Pay your debts promptly.

Bear all troubles patiently.

Do not reckon upon chance.

Make no use'less acquaintances.

Be brave in the struggle of life.

Maintain your integrity as a sacred thing.

Never appear something more than you are.

Take time to consider, and then decide positively

Carefully examine into every detail of your business.

Then work hard and you will be certain to succeed in life.
