GOVERNMENT THANKED FOR N. B. GOOD ROADS

At a session of the New Brunswick Tourist and Resources Association held at Sackville yesterday, speeches were made by members of the association and members of the legislature, all of which emphasized the necessity of advertising the province. The meeting expressed its thanks to the provincial government for the excellent roads throughout the province.

R. E. Armstrong reported for the resolutions committee. The first resolution was one of thanks to the town council, board of trade, Chignecto Club and citizens of Sackville for the welcome extended to the association, also to the Busy East and newspapers of the province for their co-operation.

A resolution of appreciation was passed as to the good work being done by the provincial public works department in improving the highways. The resolution also thanked the head of the department (Hon. P. J. Veniot) for his personal interest in the association.

A resolution was passed thanking W. H. Allen and the New Brunswick Guides' association for their efforts in advertising the province.

A resolution was adopted that more determined efforts be made to secure a larger membership, that the executive communicate with the federal and provincial governments, the publicity departments of the railways, board of trade and other organizations requesting co-operation in increasing membership, and spreading information in regard to the attractions, etc. of the province, also that efforts be made to obtain better hotel accommodation; that the association issue a booklet from time to time setting forth the advantages of the province and also that financial aid be sought from the federal and provincial governments, as well as municipal bodies to assist the association in its publicity campaign.

A Vigorous Campaign.

It was decided to allow a small commission to those bringing in new members. It was also decided that a vigorous campaign would be immediately started for new members.

MONCTON WOMAN IS NOW GRATEFUL

Mrs. Buckle Says She Can Eat Anything, Has Perfect Digestion, Sleeps Well and Wakes up Cheerful and Happy.

"I feel it would be a positive wrong if I did not come forward and tell people what Tanlac has done in my case, as I know there are many who suffer as I did and need this medicine," said Mrs. Margaret Buckle, 37 Fleet St., Moncton, N. B.

"My condition was truly alarming when I began taking Tanlac, as I had fallen off from 168 to 120 pounds. I could scarcely eat anything at all, and what I did eat seemed to do me more harm than good. At times I had an awful agony in my chest and thought I had heart trouble. I got so nervous I couldn't get any restful sleep and many a night I never even closed my eyes. The slightest noise would set my nerves on edge, my energy was all gone and I had an awful feeling of weariness. In spite of all the medicines that I took I kept getting worse and had finally gotten to where I was almost in despair.

"I can truthfully say the best advice I ever got in my life was from my son-in-law when he told me to take Tanlac. I never saw anybody gain in weight as fast as I have. I relish everything I eat and feel stronger than I have in years. My nervousness is gone and I sleep all night long as peacefully as a child. When I wake up in the morning I feel bright and cheerful. Tanlac has just rolled away a great burden from my life and I will always praise it."

machine to take pictures of hunting, lumbering and other activities.

F. W. Robertson said the C. N. R. had a man at present in the province taking motion pictures.

Mr. Allen explained the interest taken in his pictures by people in the United States. The matter was left with the executive to take up with the government.

The meeting thanked the C. N. R. through F. W. Robertson, for placing a private car at the disposal of the delegates for their return home.

The question of the issuing of a booklet by the association was next discussed. A committee consisting of W. H. Allen, R. E. Armstrong, F. W. Robertson, C. C. Avar and E. Richard was appointed to act in conjunction with the president and secretary in regard to the matter.

The business session was then adjourned.

This afternoon the delegates were taken for a motor drive through the famous Tantamar dyklands to Fort Cumberland. The fort was captured by the British in 1755 and is a spot of much historical interest. The drive and beautiful scenery of the surrounding country was much enjoyed by the visitors.

A visit was also made to the Canada and Dominion fox ranches, which together contain more than 200 black foxes. On the return to Sackville the party inspected the buildings of the Mt. Allison Ladies' College and viewed the works of art in the picture gallery.

A public meeting held in the Imperial here, this evening, was a great success and much interest was aroused over the work of the association. Short speeches were made by several prominent men and the motion pictures, presented by W. Harry Allen, of hunting, fishing and lumbering operations in New Brunswick, were received with applause.

A. B. Copp, M. P., acted as chairman. On the platform were Hon. P. J. Veniot, Hon. Fred Mudge, Col. E. B. Malack and R. E. Armstrong. The chairman explained the object of the meeting and introduced Mr. Armstrong as the first speaker. He made a brief speech explaining the objects of the association which is to make known to the world at large the advantages and resources of the province. He told of previous meetings of the organization and the reasons for holding meetings in different sections each year. They wanted to build up the organization and an appeal to the large number present to become members. Since becoming a provincial body the association had taken up the development of the resources of New Brunswick by specializing knowledge of them through tourists.

The next speaker was Hon. Fred Mudge of Port Elgin. He was pleased to have an opportunity of boosting the association. He told of the beautiful scenery and climate of New Brunswick and the game resources of the province. New Brunswick had been well advertised by the association. He commended the association and said it should be backed by all citizens. He also paid a tribute to Harry Allen for the good work he has done in boosting New Brunswick. He mentioned the migratory bird act and of its benefit to the sportsman. He told of the good roads of the province and said it was a great asset in bringing in tourists from the United States.

The chairman next called on Col. F. B. Black, who said the real object of the association was to advertise the province as a whole. He meant broader advertising than newspaper advertising. The railroads did not advertise this part of Canada as it was not their policy to do so. Scenery here was as good as anywhere. He paid a compliment to the late F. W. Sunner for his efforts to advertise the province while in London. He advocated a good man in London to represent the Maritime Provinces. Those present should do all they could to aid the association in its work.

Hon. P. J. Veniot when called on said they were here advertising the interests of the province as a whole. He asked all to join hands to help boost the province. He told of the amalgamation of the different societies as the work could be better carried on under one central association. Speaking of the railroads he said it was not their policy to advertise with the association in advertising the province. There was no more beautiful scenery on the continent than in New Brunswick. He told of the efforts to furnish good roads, not only for the benefit of local people, but to induce tourists to come here. He said that 8,000 automobile parties came here last year and spent considerable money in the province. In conclusion he paid a high tribute to Harry Allen for his good work as he had done even more than the government or the association to advertise the province.

In conclusion he made a strong appeal for those present to join the association. It was one of the most important

The purpose of the conference is to harmonize the radio rules of the world and formulate plans for bringing the wireless into more general use through the encouragement of private enterprise under government control.

The United States government sent a delegation of ten of its best military and civil experts, headed by Major-General Geo. O. Squier, chief of the signal service of the United States army.

It is said that the question of the island of Yap will not come up in a form before the conference, although world wireless communications as the exist will be reviewed and discussed.

Great Britain is sending a large delegation, of which Admiral of the Fleet Sir Henry B. Jackson is the head.

The Ideal Laxative for Children

Mothers, give the little ones Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin for constipation. Acts mildly and gently. Formula on the package.

THE alert mother, ever anxious to find something better for her children's health, will interest herself in learning what is best to give them when they are constipated, have a headache, cold or fever, are bilious or dyspeptic. It stands to reason that the remedy that might be suitable for you, at your age, might be too drastic for a child.

By all means do what you can to regulate the diet, giving preference to the light, easily digested foods. But when diet fails you will have to help Nature with medicine. It would then be well for you to avoid the harsher cathartics and physics, castor oil, calomel and such, even if disguised in tablets or pills, for they weaken the child and make it irritable.

A better plan is to give half a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. It acts mildly and gently and does not grip or weaken. It has the unusual merit of being safe for the tiniest baby yet equally effective for grownups. The formula is plainly on the package, and a sixty-cent bottle is sufficient to last an average family many months.

There is nothing better or safer than Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin for stomach, liver and bowel troubles, and as it contains no narcotics or mercurials, mothers can feel safe in giving it to any member of the family needing a constipation medicine. It is syrupy and delightfully pleasant to take. It must meet the taste of the majority, for last year over eight million bottles were bought in drug stores, the largest sale of the kind in the world.

Buy a sixty-cent bottle today with the understanding that if it fails to give relief, it will be sent postpaid. Simply say, "Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 19 Front St., Bridgeport, Ont." Send a free trial bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin to— and give your name and address. I will see that the rest is attended to promptly.

There are heads of families who will want to prove to their own satisfaction that my Laxative Syrup Pepsin is as effective in constipation, as mild and gentle in action, as pleasant-tasting and safe, as I claim. Let such write me for a sample. It will be sent postpaid. Simply say, "Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 19 Front St., Bridgeport, Ont." Send a free trial bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin to— and give your name and address. I will see that the rest is attended to promptly.

FAMOUS AIRMAN, VICTORIA CROSS MAN, IS KILLED

(Canadian Press Dispatch) London, June 23—Flight Lieutenant Proctor, one of the most famous of British air fighters, who won the Victoria Cross in the war, bringing down sixty enemy airplanes and twenty-eight balloons, was killed last evening when his plane crashed while flying through a fog over Salisbury Plains. HOW TO SOFTEN CORNS AND CALLOUSES

Pick corns right out, roots and all. Soften callouses so they are easily scraped off with the dull edge of a knife. The medicated and oxygenated foot-bath produced by a handful of Reudel Bath Salts in a gallon of plain hot water is all you need. This soon dissolves and extracts the oil and sebaceous matter from hardened, calloused, and "corny" skin, leaving it soft as fresh putty. Has no effect on sound, healthy skin. All chemists keep Reudel Bath Salts in stock put up in packets of convenient size and at very low prices. Get a trial supply tonight.

Mrs. WILLIMAN TESTIFIES

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Be the Best Medicine for Girls and Women

Hamilton, Ohio.—"I had such awful pains in my back I could hardly stand on my feet and I was never without a headache. If I worked too long I thought I would drop and many a time I felt so bad I had to go to bed and I was not able to do much of my housework. I would have hemorrhages every two weeks and drag-down pains. I had been feeling badly for three years and had two of the best doctors in the city, but I kept getting worse and only weighed 135 pounds. I saw your advertisement and I took eight boxes of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets, four bottles Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and your Liver Pills and noticed an improvement right away. Now I weigh 185 pounds and feel fine. Everybody tells me how well I look and asks me what I took and I always say 'Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the best medicine in the world for any sickness to which girls and women are subject.' I will always have a good word for your medicine." INFANT MORTALITY.

During the year 1920 the number of children in the city of Montreal who died before they had attained the age of one year was 4,072, a percentage of 192.2 per thousand.

The number of deaths under one year for each 1,000 live births in England and Wales in 1891-1900 was 153, and in France in 1891-1900 was 176.

The action which Congress is urged to take is the adoption of the Sheppard-Towner bill before that body, its purpose being to stimulate the states in the public care of maternity and infancy.

Montreal Gazette: "Archbishop McNeil, in unveiling a memorial statue in St. Paul's R. C. church, Toronto, claimed that in connection with the war it had the largest number of enlistments of any church in the city."

The cotton strike in England has been settled on the employers' terms. If the miners would now go back to work, the industrial situation would at once improve.

The ramored revolt in the Unionist party against Premier Lloyd George has not materialized. If he were overthrown who is there that could ride the present storm in the United Kingdom?

There are more than 111,000 Japanese in the United States, and the rate of growth in numbers in ten years surpasses that of any other race.

Paris, June 24—"I did not want to frighten granny" were the dying words of ten year old Mary Rossi who was burned to death.

London, June 24—The National League for Maternity and Health Welfare has just given a poor mother in London the first holiday week she has had during her married life.

London, June 24—The "combined attack" by the judges on the undefended divorce list has been continued with redoubled vigor and as a result 600 cases were disposed of in a week.

GET EVERYTHING GOING.

The Toronto Star offers a suggestion that is worthy of attention in every city. It says: "There are too many people out of work in this city at present, too many people looking for work and unable to find it."

The national committee of the United States Chamber of Commerce, which seeks to co-operate with the public schools, says in a recent report: "Superintendents of schools and chambers of commerce throughout the country need to bring to the attention of the public the needs of the schools and to help them to understand that money spent on education is in fact an investment in the economic and social well-being of our country."

Modern Portia of the North

BY MARIETA COLE DISS

INTERNATIONAL HYMN.

(Sung at the American University, Washington, June 8th, 1921, when President Harding delivered the commencement address):

Two empires by the sea Two nations great and free. One anthem raise, One tongue, one faith, we claim, One God, whose glorious name We love and praise.

What deeds our fathers wrought, What battles we have fought, Let fame record, Now, unselfish passion cease, Great costs and islands cease, Nor hate nor pride's caprice Unhate the sword.

Though deep the sea and wide 'Tis not the realm and realm, it binds Strands strait to strand. So be the gulf between, Great costs and islands green, With words of peace serene And friendship spanned.

Now may our God above Guard the dear lands we love, Both east and west, Let love more fervent glow As mutual ages go, And strength yet stronger grow, Blessing and blest.

LIGHTER VEIN. Cost of Covering. Mr. Hardfax—Do you ladies save much by skipping the goods in your evening clothes?

Not a Fighter. Bergdoll is said to be real angry at the United States, but from what we know of that bird it isn't likely he'll get mad enough to fight.

Classic Observations. "Some of the greatest works of literature and philosophy lie buried in obscurity."

Doing Their Best. "Couldn't you find any eggs, dear?" a woman asked her little niece who was visiting her on her farm.

Why Subscribers Hate That Wild Look. Operator—That line is busy. Subscriber—What line is busy? Operator—What line are you calling?

Business Associates. "Who's the man you were just talking to?" asked Tony, the bootblack. "Aw, him and me's worked together for years," answered Mickey, the newsboy. "He's the editor of one of me papers."

And the Gerate Blushed. A father came in rather late one evening (to little boy)—"Who's got nice, round, chubby legs?" "Little Boy—"Mummy!"

Very Likely. Young Man—"It is quite possible for two to live as peacefully together as two cats." "But love is apt to starve in the attempt."—Answers.

The ventriloquist managed to scramble aboard the train as it was leaving the station in England. He had had no time to get a dog ticket for his terrier.

THE HEALTH NURSES DO A GOOD WORK (Halifax, Chronicle.) The seven county health nurses are supported by the Provincial Red Cross Society.

There appears to be every prospect of good crops in Canada. If the farmers were assured of good markets they would be fortunate indeed.

The Alberta election, called for July 18, will invest politics with some degree of interest. Premier Stewart outlines a progressive policy.

The proposed tariff on Canadian lumber has stout opponents, even among Republicans, in the United States Congress.

Obviously if the city can operate the public utility in a manner satisfactory to the people and get results that are attractive to private interests the citizens would be very unwise to let it pass out of their hands.

It would not be unwise in this pleasant summer weather to consider the possibilities for work and wages and the possible need of measures to provide both in the coming winter.

There are more than 111,000 Japanese in the United States, and the rate of growth in numbers in ten years surpasses that of any other race.

Out in Edmonton, Alberta, a city of 60,000 souls that nestle on the banks of the bewitching Saskatchewan, there is a modern Portia who sits in judgment over sinners of a province larger than France and England and several smaller countries combined.

Like the great Kitchener of India folk lore, she watches the scales of justice quiver, sag and then steady, as the sordid stories of life, intermingling paths, tragedy and blasted hopes are poured forth.

"Janey Canuck," she is endearingly called by all Canada, for she is the idol of the land. In her place are represented the philosophy, courage, initiative and general independence of the Canadian woman.

It was sixteen years ago that Janey Canuck, who was born in Conestoga, Ontario, went into western Canada and took up the cause of women. It was twelve years later that her almost uncanon knowledge of people and her judicious turn of mind were recognized and led to her appointment to the juvenile court in Edmonton and subsequently to the magistracy for the entire province.

She will tell you that goodness is a by-product of efficiency. She has learned from studying that army of unfortunates who have stood before her with bowed heads that the fallen girl usually is the lazy, ignorant lass who has not been taught to use her hands.

"Child, I am going to give you a fresh start. And you're going to make good"—how many times Janey Canuck has said this! How many times Magistrate Murphy has adjourned court to become plain Janey Canuck, and to give motherly advice!

But when Janey Canuck wants to strike at the very bottom of a case, court is adjourned, the child (the law defines a child as a boy or girl under 18) is seated beside her, and Janey Canuck says: "I want to be the friend of every woman and every child in Canada. I want to be your friend. I intend to help you, not punish you. I am going to make you think good thoughts and live a good life. And right now I want the truth."

"This is Janey Canuck. But Magistrate Murphy, when dealing with a professional law violator, man or woman, is an entirely different person. She can be as cold and hard and resolute as a New York police judge. Her freedom of opinion, her disdain of pretensions and insincerities, and her deep understanding, coupled with an Irish wit, qualify her to meet all situations. And wit is an important factor.

Old Janey has been a kind of blank census paper, waiting to be filled in with marriages, births and other domestic affairs. She talks to a woman about a man whose exploits are filling the world, and she will ask you only two questions—is he married, and has he any children?

Western Canada has not stopped with Janey Canuck; it has appointed other juvenile court judges, including Mrs. R. Jamieson and Mrs. Fred Langford of Calgary, has sent Mrs. Louise Crumming, McKinney and Miss Roberta McAdams to the provincial legislature, and has honored Mrs. W. J. Gale of Calgary by electing her to the city council.

CHINA'S CHRISTIAN PRESIDENT. Sun Yat Sen, said to be the ablest statesman in China, is back in power. He was inaugurated as president of the republic amid scenes of great enthusiasm at Canton.

China, the oldest, or if the claims of Japan are conceded, the second oldest monarchy in the world, first became a republic on February 12, 1912, and Sun Yat Sen was its first president, though he was very quickly forced to retire in favor of Yuan-Shi-Kai.

Of many men of action it can often be said that their most conspicuously brilliant qualities are unfortunately marred by defects which seriously operate against a successful career.

Sun Yat Sen is said to be no idle dreamer of visions; no adventurer seeking, under the cloak of philanthropy, to float schemes for his personal profit and aggrandizement; nor are his plans for the regeneration of the Chinese nation the idle vapors of a disappointed politician.

"Our methods of living, our methods of eating and the general hustle and tendency to worry and brood make for throwing the mental machinery out of gear," Dr. Lee said.
The speaker declared that farmers were more susceptible to insanity than any other class, because they work hard, worry much and have little recreation.

PERFECT JOHN DOE BAFFLES POLICE

Total Information as to Name, Business, Color and Condition Equals Absolute Zero—Lays Down "Noes" Barage.

A man who refused to move his automobile, submit to search, tell his name, state whether white or black, married or single, or solve any of the other propositions of the police, was locked up recently in New York. On his examination by the police and later in the magistrate's court he scored XYZ, or a perfect zero.
"Move your automobile," said Policeman Rilly of Traffic B at Sixth avenue and West Forty-third street.
"What's your name?" demanded Rilly.
"I won't tell you."
"Move on, that's a good fellow. You're causing a crowd to collect," said the policeman.
"I won't move. I'm not causing a crowd to collect," replied the master of the automobile.
The lieutenant at the West Forty-seventh street station asked the prisoner to tell his story.
"I won't," said the prisoner. The lieutenant ran through the official list of questions without getting an answer. The lieutenant tried to give him some advice.
"I know my rights," said the prisoner.
"Search him," said the lieutenant.
"I decline to be searched."
"Search him anyway."
His pockets were patied for evidence of revolvers and knives, but was handled rather gently. Refused to tell one's name was the one act for which torture could be legally applied under the old English law, and in recent decades it had provoked third degree methods, but this strictly private and confidential man acted as if he knew the law or some in-

ENDS HIS LIFE SWEARING HE DIDN'T KILL WIFE

Husband of Murdered Woman Had Been Questioned Twice by Police—Couldn't Stand Suspicion.

New York, June 23. — After William Shaw had been finger-printed and again had been interrogated in the investigation of the murder of his wife a week ago, in an office near their home at East Ninety-fourth street and the Long Island Railroad at Canarsie, he returned to the home he had stunned since the death of his wife and wrote a note saying: "I cannot stand the strain and the suspicions. By the help of God I swear I am innocent, and did not kill my wife." He then committed suicide.

It appeared that Shaw, who was about the same age as his wife, sixty-seven years, had spent several hours in the efforts to destroy himself either on Saturday night or the early hours of yesterday. His bed had been occupied, but whether he had slept in it could not be determined. He had first stabbed himself in the breast, making only superficial wounds, and these had left crimson stains on the bed, as did other wounds made with a razor on his throat.

Finally Shaw strangled himself by making a noose and attaching it to the bedpost, while his body lay stretched on the floor.

Shaw and his wife were employed as caretakers of the lumber and stone yard of George Krier, and their home was a two-story house within this yard, to which entrance from the street was gained through the office. The woman's body was found in the office at ten o'clock on Saturday night, June 11. There were four slight scalp wounds on her head, and a fifth blow, supposed to have been struck with an iron bar found near the body, had fractured her skull.

The handle of the office safe had been broken off. Mrs. Shaw, about four o'clock in the afternoon, had gone to a market. She was seen on her way back within a block of her home by a neighbor's daughter at 8:30 o'clock. It was thought Mrs. Shaw on returning had intercepted robbers at work on the safe in the office and had been attacked by them.

There had never been any charge made against Shaw, though he had been questioned frequently by the police, and on Saturday some suspicious circumstances had caused his re-examination, but he was not told of the nature of them. It was said there were discrepancies in some of his statements. It was also found that the safe had contained only a few dollars and that the windows of the office had apparently been opened or broken from the inside. But there was no known motive to direct suspicion at Shaw, and he steadily denied any knowledge of how his wife lost her life.

He admitted he was in the yard, watching for the return of his wife, at about the time she was attacked, but had heard no disturbance in the office. Since the murder Shaw had gone to live with a neighbor, and had not been to his old rooms until he went there to take his life.

The Shaws had been married forty-three years. A marriage certificate, dated Jan. 14, 1878, was found in his room. It had been signed by the Rev. Dr. Thomas H. Sill, at that time rector of St. Chrysostom's Chapel of Trinity parish, Seventh avenue and Thirty-ninth street. The name of Mrs. Shaw was given as Jane Anne Hill of 348 West Thirty-ninth street. Shaw's address was given as "Greenpoint."

The couple had lived at the Canarsie address for eleven years. The police said that one of the peculiarities of Shaw was in his reply to their question as to his former places of residence and occupations, which always brought the answer "Greenpoint."

The police were unable to find a relative of the aged couple. Shaw's body was taken to the morgue.

RUN OVER BY SHIP.

Man Survived Experience to Tell About His Sensations.

Many men have been run over by a wagon or a carriage and survived; some men have been run over by a motor-car and lived to tell the tale, and one man, at least, has been run over by a man-of-war. That is what happened to Mr. Harry C. Johnson when he fell from the jib-boom of the U.S.S. Annapolis.

"The next thing I remember after falling," he says in the Wide World Magazine, "is striking the water on my back with my hands and feet in the air. The great surging cutwater, striking me on the top of the head, rolled over me and passed on. Up to that time I had had literally no time to think. Opening my eyes under the water, I found myself directly beneath the ship, half on my back and half on my side, with that black hulk above me moving at express speed.

"My first thought was to swim clear. In spite of my efforts, however, the suction drew me back against the ship, from the bottom of which I quickly bounced off like a cork.

For what seemed hours I lay beneath the ship, striving to escape the powerful suction. All the time the swish of the propeller, drawing nearer and nearer, and the thumping of the propeller shaft, turning over and over in the shaft alley, drummed in my ears and considerably increased my apprehensions. At last I reached the stern and was sucked helplessly toward that whirling propeller. My body was wrenched from head to toe. Everything grew black before my eyes, and I felt myself going down—down!

"Hitherto I had not thought of breathing. Now the effort to hold my breath and the desire to exhale maddened me, and I tore at the water frantically in a desperate effort to reach the surface. My bursting lungs seemed to lose all their power, and I exhaled. A million bubbles rolled over my face and eyes on their way down to the surface. I did not dare to inhale. I held my breath through sheer will power, but it was torture. But there is a limit even to will power, and at length almost involuntarily I inhaled deeply. Instead of the choking salt water, a rush of sweet, fresh air filled my lungs. I opened my eyes, afraid that I was suffering from a delusion. My head was above the water!

"After the first shock of the blow from the propeller, my wounds did not bother me; in fact, but for a dull ache I should have not known that I was injured. Having breathed my fill of air, I glanced about me. Straight ahead, about a hundred yards away, floated a copper life-buoy—one of those big affairs, lighted up with phosphorus, that are carried by all men-of-war. Being a good swimmer, I immediately set out for it. When I got to it I was quite exhausted, owing to the shock and to the amount of blood that I had lost. But I clung desperately to the life buoy, until I was picked up by one of the lifeboats that had set out from the ship after I had fallen overboard."

A BRITISH CONSTANTINOPLE.

(Toronto Globe.)

Constantinople is fast becoming a British city, writes an "American Government Official" in The New York Times. Nominally control is interlarded, but everyone acquainted with the situation knows that the British really ran the whole show.

The British, he says, have taken hold of the job with their usual thoroughness and have settled down to be comfortable, just as they did when the war stalized on the western front. The best houses in Constantinople have been commandeered for officers' quarters. "Five o'clock" tea is all the rage on the Grand Rue, and tea and whiskey and sora are replacing Turkish coffee and douzico. British military police, with shining brass buttons and conspicuous arm-bands, direct traffic at the busy corners, and if a Russian "jazz" place remains open after midnight it is a British policeman who closes it up and levies the penalty.

The zeal with which British investors are seeking concessions shows, he says, that they expect continued protection for their interests. Even the small store-keepers realize how the wind is blowing, and are learning the English language.

MEN WORKING; THERE WILL BE ARBITRATION.

Longshoremen who stopped work on the steamer Chaudiere as a protest against the employment of only twelve men to a gang in the process of unloading sugar, contending there should be fifteen, returned to work this morning pending the report of a board of arbitration which will inquire into the case. The gangs working today are composed of twelve men.

AT A LARGELY ATTENDED MEETING of the longshoremen yesterday afternoon it was decided that the men should return to work this morning and that the dispute should be taken up by a board of conciliation composed of three members, one appointed by the union, one by the company and a third selected by the two nominees. John McKinnon was elected to represent the union and D. W. Ledingham, vice-president of the William Thompson Co. will, in all probability, represent the company. The third member has not been appointed as yet. The board will go into the matter early next week.

BOARD OF HEALTH AND MILK SUPPLY

Every Precaution Taken from Farm to Home—Charges Unfounded.

In view of the agitation for purer milk which has been carried on through correspondence in the local press, a Times reporter called at the office of the board of health this morning, and found that, from the source of supply to the hands of the consumer, every drop of milk which comes to the city is under the eyes of the board of health. The Public Health Act, 1918, provides for the inspection of every cow and premises from which public milk supply comes, as well as the utensils used in connection with the supply. A producer is not allowed to supply milk to the public or to retailers until he has obtained a permit from the board of health, and dealers in the city are also required to take out a permit before they can sell milk to the public. In both cases the permit is refused if conditions are not up to the standard set by the board.

Dr. T. Fred Johnston, an experienced veterinarian, is dairy inspector for the sub-district board, and he is sent to the source of supply, no matter in what part of the province it is located. He completes a chart of the premises, which shows the condition of the cattle, the quality of the food and water used, the cleanliness of the cows, the condition and cleanliness of the stable, condition of barnyard and disposition of manure, milk room construction, condition and cleanliness, utensil cleanliness and adequacy, supply of feed, possibilities for cooling and storing in low temperature.

The total possible score of each premises is 100. If the actual score is eighty or more, the dairy is reported excellent; seventy to eighty, good; sixty to seventy, fair; fifty to sixty, probationary, in which case improvement must be shown in subsequent inspections or the premises are condemned; below fifty the dairy is reported against and license is not renewed.

Samples of the milk from each source of supply are taken frequently and tested by Dr. H. L. Abramson, provincial pathologist, for butter fat and bacteria. If these tests show the milk below the standard set, the supply from the producer is cut off.

The board also keeps an appliance for sediment test, which has recently been added and through which a supply suspected to be dirty can be tested in a minute or two.

Not only on the good report of the dairy inspector does the granting of a license to a producer depend, but also on his previous record, and in cases where the previous record is not good, a certain period of improvement in conditions is demanded before a license to ship milk to the city is given.

AN AUTO CASE IN RENFORTH COURT

Follows Collision Near Gonda Point—Bridge Speeding Case in Police Court.

As the result of a collision near Gonda Point, on Sunday night, when a Ford Sedan driven by Frank S. Fales and a Reo touring car, owned and driven by F. J. Garson, collided, information was laid against Mr. Fales by Constable Robert Crawford, on the charge of exceeding the speed limit. The by-law covering the speed of travel over the bridge allows for a fine of from $50 to $100 for the first offence and up to $250 for a subsequent offence. According to Mr. Shanks' evidence, the accused passed over the bridge at twenty-five miles an hour. A fine of $80 was struck.

REAL SENSATION AT AMOUR SALE

Men's Suits Just in at $12.95—Big Bargains, Too, in Other Lines for Men, Women and Children.

Amour's, who recently put the hosiery market in keeping with the times, by selling high grade goods at prices lower than the quotations of pre-war days, will today provide a further sensation in the clothing line and there is every indication that they will repeat their hosiery triumph in the volume of trade done during the sale.

Men's suits, which arrived on Thursday afternoon, will be offered for $12.95. While it is sufficient to state the price of these garments to sell them, it might not be amiss to add that they are not contemplating purchase of men's suits.

People who have been accustomed to think in terms of $50 and upwards when contemplating purchase of men's suits, will be rather startled at the tremendous drop in price, but they should keep in mind that the markets are falling and that Amour's buy in large lots and with cash.

Amour's will also sell today ladies' jersey-knit, pink bloomers for 35 cents. They guarantee the quality and consider that the value is the best in years for this type of garment.

Children's ribbed, black cotton stockings, which arrived late for the hosiery millenium, will also be included in the sale starting today. DOG BESTS BULL

Philadelphia, June 24.—Grant Hawley, a farmer of Lookout, owns his life to his dog, which saved him from an attack by a yearling bull. The bull, which had been considered harmless, suddenly attacked the farmer, who fought him off with his bare hands, but finally was knocked down. At that moment, the big farm dog appeared and seized the bull by the nose, annihilating his master to escape.

The man who can't borrow fifty cents in his home town, can always get enthusiastic recommendations for a government job.

HON. W. N. MARTIN, M.P.P.

By EMIL LONGUE BEAU

Clifford Sifton's six inches of cold steel. I believed I could do things worth while when I went to Ottawa.

"I notice you don't say 'my' government," he laughed freely at this, before answering: "Unexpectedly I feel that it is my job."

"That's quite an unfamiliar sight," he said, "in his quiet manner."

"Maybe," he said, "in his quiet manner."

QUIT YER KIDDIN'

THE scepticism of the telephone operator is illustrated by a story told by Mr. F. G. Kellaway, the newly appointed British postmaster-general.

"Oh, well, passable enough, maybe, though nothing to write home about. But I don't shine at the sort of thing that is natural to Laurier as his looks. The best you could say of my oratorical quality perhaps is that I'm an honest 'going some'."

"That's quite an unfamiliar sight," he said, "in his quiet manner."

HELD ON A CHARGE OF ABDUCTING GIRL

Sydney, N. S. June 23.—Robert Young, a chauffeur employed by a private family, is under arrest on a charge of abduction.

The car, stalled and the girl becoming alarmed ran home. Young was arrested before Magistrate Hill and remanded until Friday.

DECLARES HEARST A TRAITOR TO THE CAUSE OF AMERICA

(Canadian Press Dispatch) Denver, June 23.—William Randolph Hearst was denounced on the floor of the convention of the American Federation of Labor today by President Samuel Gompers as a "traitor to the cause of America, to the cause of freedom, an enemy of labor and of Ireland."

SIR EDWARD CARSON CEASES TO EXIST

Ulster Leader Becomes a Lord and Drops His Famous Name.

By a coincidence, Sir Edward Carson, who led Ulster's fight against Home Rule for so many years, both inside and outside the House of Commons, not only ceases to be a member of parliament, but ceases to exist altogether just as Ulster elects its first Home Rule parliament.

Mark the perfect government and behold, the upright. I broke in. We haven't been perfect. Mr. Martin responded, but he has been more than others I could name.

HE radiates energy, optimism, and pluck.

LOW BUYING POWER. A good deal of the character of future business will depend on the buying power of consumers. This will have a great influence in determining prices and the extent of industrial operations and export trade. Wollman & Co., New York, in discussing this question, frankly admit that buying power has decreased seriously and that this cannot be wholly overcome, though it can be helped, should there be a more hopeful turn in the general condition of the public mind. "While the world is trying to get on its feet in the next decade," they say, "the trend of prices will be dictated by two influences—the low buying power of im-poverished Europe and the relatively un-depaid producers in this country on the one hand and the lowering of production costs by Germany. "Our buying power has been thrown out of balance. One of two things must happen. Either certain countries and cer-tain groups of producers must be in a position to pay more, or prices must come down. Over a large portion of Europe the people are buying merely to obtain the bare necessities of life. They are buying food. They buy only enough clothes to keep themselves clad like human beings. They are foregoing luxury and style. This policy governs all their pur-chases. In this country we have a great-ly reduced buying power in agriculture. Our farm products cannot be sold for high prices, and this means relatively low prices for grain, meat products, cotton and many other raw materials. This results in relatively low buying power for the farming class."

TENDERS SEALED TENDERS will be received by the undersigned up to 12 o'clock noon, July 11, 1921, for all trades required in the erection and completion of a Brick and Concrete School Building to be situated in New Brunswick, City. Each tender to be accompanied by a certified cheque for five per cent of the amount. The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted. Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of the Architect, P. Neil Brodie, 42 Princess street, St. John, N. B. A. GORDON LEAVITT, Secretary of School Trustees. 6-27

BABY BORN IN JINNEY. Atlantic City, June 24.—A wandering stork picked out a Pacific avenue jitney for a short time. At South Carolina avenue the driver whistled to Dr. Edwin N. Coward. The doctor tied his car to the bus and climbed aboard. A woman on the sidewalk hurriedly summoned. A policeman drew down the curtains. In a few moments the doctor stepped out and announced "It's a boy." Mrs. Margaret Welch and her son are doing

Germany is to pay the indemnity as now fixed, she must export over £1,500, 000 of goods—more than the total export of the world before 1914, and twice the pre-war export of Great Britain and Germany combined.

"Payment of indemnity in the form now arranged—in cash, which equals manufactured goods—in causing consternation in the city and manufacturing centres. If Germany as our commercial rival is able to pay, she can do so only at price of ruining the export trade of Great Britain.

"The Germans are working furiously at low rates of wages and with the whole balance of the rate of exchange in their favor to capture the markets of the world. If they succeed in paying the indemnity in this form, receipt of the payment will be a curse, not a blessing. No cash can compensate Great Britain for loss of its export trade. The only way to collect the indemnity was to gather it in raw material—iron ore, coal, wood, wool pulp, potatoes and all other products of the earth."

Canadian Finance Gives the Politicians Some Food for Reflection.

(Canadian Finance.)
To the ordinary Canadian who refuses to ally himself with any political party, preferring to treat public affairs strictly on their merits, it is a most disagreeable duty to hear and read the excuses that old-time politicians put forward in answer to criticisms of their actions. If a Liberal in opposition finds fault with the acts of a Conservative who is in power, the political research department gets to work to find out whether some Liberal in days gone by did or said something similar to the thing complained of. If the search is successful, Mr. Conservative will consider this sufficient justification

(providing there are no arrears at any time during the duration and receive the cash back if they are the original purchasers.

for political purposes and promptly tells
Mr. Liberal—or gets some fellow Conservative to tell him—that he has no reason to complain because some other Liberal did the very thing he complains of five or ten years ago.

though the present problem may appear to be the same as the one tackled previously, present conditions may be entirely different. He is justified in benefiting by past experiences, but cannot excuse an act of today by saying that somebody else did the same thing years ago. A good business executive is one who is not afraid to reverse a previous opinion if circumstances require a change. There are limits to the jewel-like qualities of consistency.

"Policyholders Month"

The Canada Life Man

1. He points the way to success for the young man.

2. He stops the busy city man and persuades him to think of the real objects in life.

3. He urges the farmer to protect his home.

4. He pays a Widow's claim and finds the money is sorely needed.

Each year the Canada Life sets aside a Special Month for calling upon Policyholders where that is possible.

The present month may bring the Canada Life Man to you, but the large number to be seen may make this impossible in your case.

Our Mission
To keep the home together; to afford means to bring up the children and give them a chance in life; to clear off a mortgage or other obligation; to protect personal and business interests generally—that is the great need which it is our mission to fill.

For Instance
You may not be fully informed as to what your life insurance will do for your home, or your personal and business interests.

Your Canada Life policies may require to be altered to suit new conditions.

You may wish to arrange to have your life insurance paid as a monthly income, or you may require new policies adjusted to your partnership or business interests.

Group insurance on your employees should perhaps be engaging your attention.

All these subjects are part of the special training with which the Canada Life man is furnished for your benefit.

A Suggestion
Why not, without the slightest obligation, consult our nearest representative, or write to the Home Office of this old, tried Company, which has abundant evidence of success, is experienced in life insurance, pays large dividends to policyholders, and safely and sanely manages the business entrusted to it by the public?

BIG BOAT RACE THIS AFTERNOON

Harvard and Yale Crews will Meet at New London for Fifty-third Annual Contest.

New London, Conn., June 24.—Oarsmen of Harvard and Yale await the fifty-third annual race between the varsity crews. It will be held on the Thames River four-mile course this afternoon.

Harvard and Yale crews will meet at New London for the fifty-third annual contest. The race is held on the Thames River four-mile course this afternoon.

Added to the usual throng that will witness the regatta is a portion of the crowd that attended the intercollegiate championship event at Poughkeepsie and made a "trip" of it by coming here today.

Both universities will send to the starting line crews generally thought to be inferior to those of last season, when Harvard defeated Yale by several lengths.

angular contest. Yale has been defeated by Pennsylvania and Columbia in dual races, and by Princeton and Cornell in a triangular regatta, while a Yale eight also defeated the Mass. Tech. oarsmen.

However, both Eli Yale and John Harvard will show improved crews tomorrow. To both, the contest is the single aim throughout the training grind of several months.

The university winning tomorrow takes the lead in the series of contests which has lasted more than half a century. Each has won the "varsity" race twenty-six times, and that fact will stir the rivals to greater efforts than ever.

Also, the coaching systems in the two camps, especially at Yale, will be under close observation. Yale's victory in 1919 has been the only Eli triumph over Harvard on the water since 1915.

The surprising and overwhelming defeat on the Thames last year has been followed by several defeats and unsettled conditions in Yale rowing.

These conditions reached a climax three weeks ago, when Guy Nickalls, in charge at Yale since 1914, with the exception of the war years, resigned and James Cordery, who had been Nickalls' assistant this year, took charge of the Eli's when they went into camp at Gales Ferry.

Harvard will be a pronounced favorite in the freshman race tomorrow. The Crimson yearlings, coached this season by Dr. R. Heber Howe, have shown unusual power that augurs well for the "varsity" next year.

Harvard men pin their hopes mainly on the fact that Coach Haines is a careful conditioner of oarsmen and a "slow starter," his crews invariably showing marked results of the last few weeks of training, aimed to bring them to a "peak" a day or two before this race.

On May 7, Harvard was six lengths behind the second place Navy crew that was defeated by Princeton, and on May 28 trailed Cornell by four lengths over a mile and seven-eighths' course on the Charles River. In 1920, the early-season showing of the Crimson was just as dismal, but it was a powerful crew that eliminated the stroke, Jenney, led to a victory on the Thames.

Illness has kept Jenney from rowing this spring, and development of a stroke-ear has been one of the main worries at Cambridge. Yale men have not forgotten the defeats earlier in the season, but nevertheless, in numerous pre-race discussions tonight, recalled previous seasons when the Elis entered the Thames classic with the "dope" strongly against them and emerged victorious.

The training of Captain Hord's eight this spring has indicated that care was being taken to guard against too rapid development. Wearers of the Blue are confident that tomorrow's eight will be a much different combination from that outrowed by Princeton and Cornell at Ithaca a few weeks ago.

Tickets for the observation trains, always at a premium, have been more scarce this year than ever because of the curtailed length of the trains. Graduates, on ordering tickets, were requested to secure pasteborders for personal use only, and as a result the crowds on the trains will be almost purely academic.

The Harvard-Yale regatta dates back to 1882, when the Crimson was victorious over a two-mile course on Lake Winnepesaukee, N. H. That contest was in reality an inter-class affair, Harvard's class of 1883 defeating the Yale eight in a two-mile row in barges.

Three years later, on the Connecticut River near Springfield, Mass., Harvard's eight-oared and four-oared barges defeated two Yale six-oared boats. In 1888, two shells and two barges represented the universities, informally, in a three-mile race on Lake Quinsigamond, and Harvard won, but the next day Yale reversed the decision in the feature event of the "Citizens' Regatta."

The next summer the crews raced over the same course, Harvard winning. The war then suspended college sport until 1884, when they met again, continuing the races at Worcester until 1870.

Then the colleges entered the "Rowing Association of American Colleges" and the dual regattas were suspended until 1876, when resumed at the four-mile distance at Springfield. Two years later, the course was shifted to New London, and the regattas have been held here annually, with one or two exceptions, since that time.

Since the distance of the intercollegiate championship race at Poughkeepsie was shortened to three miles, the Harvard-Yale contest has been the only four-mile rowing event held annually in America.

MONCTON PERSONALS. Miss Greta Eagles, St. John, is visiting in Moncton, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Y. Fred Keith.

Miss Marion Murray, who has been attending the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Murray.

Miss Mary Dykeman, of Moncton, left Tuesday for Hampton to attend the wedding of her cousin, Miss Jenkins, of Hampton, to E. H. Ganong, on the 29th. Mrs. A. W. Burns, Miss Louise Burns and Miss Olo Burns arrived in Moncton on Tuesday afternoon from Providence, R. I. Mrs. Burns has been in Providence since May to be with her daughters who have been in training in Providence Hospital. The Misses Burns are now on vacation and accompanied by their mother will spend the summer at Hopewell Cape.

Paris, June 24.—Since the Paris anti-rat campaign was started last winter 400,000 of the rodents have been exterminated. The cost was $20,000.

TRADES AND LABOR CONGRESS AUG. 22. Ottawa, June 23.—The call has been issued today for the thirty-seventh annual session of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada. It will be held in Winnipeg, commencing on Monday, Aug. 22. At least 2,000 affiliated bodies throughout the Dominion are entitled to representation, but the probable attendance will be from 500 to 600 delegates, including a sprinkling of women.

COCKROACH HOLDS UP TRAIN. Winnipeg, June 24.—A Cockroach which climbed into a telegraph instrument in a signal box on the Canadian National Railway, between Toronto and Winnipeg, "grounded" the wires and held up the train for twenty minutes because the operator could not get a message through to release it.

In one of the best games seen in the Inter-society League this season the Y. M. C. I. defeated the Y. M. H. A., 2 to 1, on the East End diamond last evening.

Stirling signalled his first appearance on the mound for the Cliff street aggregation by striking out fourteen men and allowing only three hits in eight innings.

Wright, who pitched for the Y. M. H. A., had six strikeouts and allowed eight hits. He was backed up by a team that played errorless ball throughout.

The brand of ball served up in the Inter-society League is improving and is attracting a large crowd.

CRICKET. Local Team Won. The St. John Cricket Club defeated the Chaudiere eleven 83 to 70 on the Barrack Green yesterday.

C. L. Mofford was the high scorer of the day. He rolled up 26, not out for the St. John club. Dubois for the Chaudiere, ran up a total of 23.

The game was the best yet played on the Barrack Green this season and was particularly close and exciting towards the last. Refreshments were served by the local team.

TO TRACE WILD DUCKS. U. S. Government Plans to Find Where They Spend Their Winters.

When a wild duck decides to move from his summer home to Canadian waters he neglects to leave a forwarding address to indicate where his winter quarters are to be established.

The Bureau of Biological Survey, United States Department of Agriculture, is working on a method to offset the duck's carelessness.

This consists of a system of trapping the bird and marking with aluminum leg bands that carry a number and the legend "Biol. Sur., Wash., D. C."

When a banded duck is killed, the hunter removes the band and returns it to the Biological Survey with information showing when and where the bird was recovered.

Last Autumn a Canadian collaborator of the Survey, H. S. Oiler, operated a duck trap at Lake Scougou, Ont., where he captured the banded over 200 black necked ducks and blue-winged teal.

Some of these were killed near the place where they were banded, but others were taken such localities as to indicate approximately the route taken by those birds in their journey to the southland.

All about twenty-five of Mr. Oiler's ducks have been killed and the bands returned from points in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas.

One of the blue-winged teal was killed near Port of Spain, Trinidad, British West Indies, more than 2,500 miles from Lake Scougou, where the band was attached.

THE FIGHTERS COMPARED

Dempsey Bigger Than Carpenter in All Measurements Except Neck and Calf—How They Line Up With Ex-Champions.

New York, June 24—Georges Carpentier, challenger of Jack Dempsey, will be smaller, in several respects than his opponent who has fought for the title in recent years.

Tommy Burns, from whom Jack Johnson wrested the crown, was shorter but heavier and more compactly built. Bob Fitzsimmons, on the day he lost the championship to Jim Jeffries at Coney Island weighed 172 pounds, almost exactly what Carpentier weighs today.

Dempsey will be larger than Carpenter in all save two important measurements. Carpenter's advantages will be his wonderfully developed lower limbs and his neck.

The Frenchman's calf measurement is 18 1/2 inches compared with Dempsey's 18 1/4. Carpenter's neck measures 18 1/2 inches, with Dempsey's one-quarter inch smaller.

Dempsey will outweigh Carpentier by about twenty pounds. He will stand one and one-half inches taller. He will outreach his rival by one inch, 7 1/2 inches to 7 3/4. In wrist and ankle development they are nearly equal, only a fraction of an inch giving Dempsey the advantage.

In several respects Jess Willard, the Kansas giant, whom Dempsey knocked out in three rounds, was the largest champion. In several other respects the more compact Jim Jeffries outstripped Willard easily.

Willard, at fighting weight, scaled 240 pounds and towered six feet six inches in the air. His reach of 88 1/2 inches was far greater than that of other title holders.

Following are the physical measurements of the champion and challenger as well as those of the former holders of the heavy-weight title since Corbett won it in 1892.

Table with columns: Name, Age, Height, Reach, Chest, Chest (Exp.), Wrist, Neck, Biceps, Calf, Ankle. Rows include Dempsey, Carpentier, Willard, Jeffries, Johnson, Corbett, Fitzsimmons, Burns.

PIRATES LOSE THEIR PROTEST. The board of arbitration in connection with disputes arising in the City League, met last evening and investigated the protest of the Pirates on the game won by the St. Peter's on Tuesday evening.

LEADING FIGURES IN BIG CONTEST

Georges Carpentier. New York, June 23—Georges Carpentier, to the French people, is the "Man of Destiny." No more do they doubt the ability of this young man to defeat Jack Dempsey during the world war, to defeat Jack Dempsey on July 2, than they doubted the ability of the allied armies finally to overcome Germany.

They have followed the steady rise of the young pugilist from the days when, as a bantamweight, he first gained national note. They have studied accounts of his history before that time. In their minds, Dempsey will be unable to fill this national hero, just as German machine guns which are said to have riddled his plane repeatedly, were unable to bring him down.

Carpentier's official war record, investigated recently, revealed that the boxer spent eighteen months at the front, flying a two-seater observation plane. He received the Croix de Guerre and the Medalle Militaire.

The record shows that Carpentier, enlisting as a chauffeur in August, 1913, received a license to pilot a Farman airplane in May, 1915. He was sent with a squadron to the front, remaining three months and then was assigned to general reserve aviation as a spare pilot.

On August 28, 1915, Carpentier suffered a leg injury but recovered rapidly and was sent to the front with the Farman squadron for reconnaissance work in man eodrome for the Champagne offensive, which began Sept. 25, 1915.

Carpentier's citation, which resulted in the award of the Croix de Guerre, reads: "Sept. 25, he did not hesitate to fly during misty weather and rain less than 200 yards above enemy lines. He has given proof in many other circumstances of courage, never returning until his mission was accomplished, often with his machine riddled with bullets and shell splinters."

On Nov. 5, 1916, Carpentier received the Medalle Militaire for heroic action. In December, 1916, he was forced to quit the front because of illness and never returned to the front. In May, 1917, being declared physically unfit to continue as a pilot.

He was detached from aviation and detailed as army physical instructor near Paris. Six months after the armistice, he was transferred back to the aviation and demobilized.

Carpentier's courteous demeanor and evident culture, unusual in a boxer, have created the impression in America that he is the son of wealthy parents. This is not so.

The son of a miner, Carpentier was born in Lens, the coal-mining center of France on Jan. 12, 1894. He started work as an office boy in a brewery. The ring called at an early age, however, and when only 14, he took up boxing, then being popularized in France by the visits of "Kid" McCooney and other American fighters. At the same time, he was dancing and singing in the cafes and restaurants of Paris.

HOW PLAN OF CITY MANAGER WORKS

A Look at the Latest Wrinkle in Municipal Government.

(By H. W. Dodds, Secretary National Municipal League, editor National Municipal Review.)

On May 29, 1921, there were 233 towns and cities in the United States under city manager government. Of these, 169 adopted the plan in charter form, i. e., by charter amendment or adoption, and sixty-four by simple ordinance of the city council. About four out of five new charters adopted by vote of the people under home rule powers are city manager charters. The population of manager plan cities ranges from 388 (Osborne, Pa.) to 208,000 (Akron, Ohio). These figures are changing constantly because of the accelerated momentum the plan is attaining. Nashville, Sacramento, Long Beach, Pontiac, Bay City and Dubuque are recent additions. Omaha, Des Moines, St. Paul, Spokane, and other cities under commission government are seriously considering a change to manager government. New Haven and New London, Conn., vote on it in June. Within the next three weeks fourteen Indiana cities will vote on the question, under authorization of an optional charter law passed by the last Legislature. In Cleveland a committee of 100 is working for a city manager and the question will probably come to vote this fall. In more than 200 other cities city manager government is a public issue. Six Canadian cities have adopted it, and English papers are beginning to speculate on its applicability there. Lord Bryce has said that it is the last word in municipal reform.

The first city to adopt the manager principle in its charter was Sumter, S. C., in 1912. It was quickly followed in 1913 by Dayton, O., which had been through a long siege of inefficient administration under spoils politicians. The large majority in favor of the new charter was due in a measure to the Dayton flood and the demonstrated incapacity of the old government to rehabilitate the city.

City Manager vs. Commission.

City manager government is quite distinct from commission government, which began in New Orleans in 1901. The former is designed to cure certain defects which time and experience have demonstrated in the latter. It involves a small elected Council composed of members who serve for nominal salaries and who constitute the city's lawmaking authority. They hire and have power at any time to "fire" the city manager, who is the non-political manager of the city's administration. The manager appoints and dismisses his subordinate department heads at will. The minor officials and employees are usually chosen under civil service regulations.

The essence of the plan is the non-political manager, who when appointed need not be, and often is not, a resident of the city. Note that the members of the council do not themselves become the heads of departments and active administrators as under commission government. In commission government the elected commission acts as both the legislative and administrative departments. Each commissioner becomes an active head of a department under the supervision of all the others as a body. The weakness of commission government is largely due to the fact that the commissioners are almost invariably amateurs in the work. The people elect them as representatives, which is proper, and not on a basis of administrative skill or technical ability to manage a department. The people at large are unable to know the candidates so intimately as to appraise their executive capacity or special fitness to manage a technical city department. Furthermore, commission government means administration by a group rather than by a single executive head. All our experience in business organization shows the futility of entrusting to a committee responsibility for administrative leadership and effectiveness. Dr. Johnson so advised Boswell a good many years ago regarding the appointment of guardians for his children, "Sirs, do not appoint a number of guardians. When there are many they trust one another, and the business is neglected. I would advise you to choose only one; let him be a man of respectable character, who for his own credit will do what is right."

Not Like a Mayor.

This is the basis of the city manager plan. Emphasis is placed on the non-political character of the manager. He is paid a respectable salary. His chances for distinction and promotion depend on his ability to operate the city well at low cost. He cannot succeed and play politics.

Right here is the point at which he diverges from the modern mayor. The mayor, having been elected after a political fight, is bound to reward his friends and punish his enemies. He cannot divorce politics from administration. Yet nothing is clearer than that politics should not figure in street paving or the purchase of fire hose. Irrespective of the political pressure, most mayors are not fitted by training or temperament to administer the highly technical business of a modern city. Our best mayors are elected because they are generally liked and trusted, because the people approve of the politics they advocate. The proper place for such a person is in the policy-making body which will reflect the people's wishes.

Unlike the mayoralty, the city manager is a profession. The city council, under which the manager works, selects him on the basis of peculiar fitness. Successful managers are promoted to larger cities and bigger salaries. The manager idea is in a way a break with the past in political theory. It rejects the spoils system and rotation in administrative office, and it accepts public administration as a profession for which a man must be specially fitted and in which he can look forward to a life of distinguished public service. If we have a chimney to build we don't call a plumber; but heretofore any amiable citizen was considered worthy to manage the enormous work of municipal administration.
