Turks Will Not Run Short of Arms or Food

Well Organized Supplies Secured Through Tunis in Spite of Italian—War Has Created New Lines of Profitable Trade

Berlin, July 25.—The "Vossische Zeitung" publishes a despatch from a Tunisian resident who states he has been studying the spot the organization for supplying the Turks with food and war material. He says that the organization is working so successfully that the war may continue for years, even if Turkey formally signs a peace.

The French government declared that it could not prevent the supplying of the hinterland of Tripoli with food from the hinterland of Tunis, as the Tripolitan tribes were always fed in that way. The trade since the war has increased largely, and the surplus is going to the Turks and Arab combatants. The trade is not concealed. The trade in arms and ammunition is an open secret. Everyone knows the dealers, their business, and when they start. Sometimes arms are despatched in automobiles from the town of Tunis to the coast. Small Tunisian coast towns, where it was formerly not worth while for steamers to call, have now constant traffic. One line of steamers running from Tunis to El Bah, near the frontier, has begun to make a profit for the first time.

In addition, the Turks are beginning to get supplies direct from the Tripoli coast. Since the operations in the Aegean, the coast has been heavily watched. A fortnight ago several guns were landed, thus meeting one of the greatest needs of the Turks, who are saving their artillery for the decisive battle they expect when the Italians are weakened.

The smuggling from Tunis is due to the multifariousness of the Tunisian population and officials to Italians, who are regarded as cheap competitors. The Italian government is well aware of the smuggling and accepts it as a painful fact, knowing that no institutions from Paris would put an end to it.

FREDERICKTON MAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Little Hope For His Recovery—Judgment in Divorce Court—Supt. Down in Consultation With Sir Thos. Tait

(Special to Times)
Frederickton, N. B., July 25.—Fred Bess, a well known truckman cut his throat with a pocket knife at the home of his sister, Mrs. H. L. Goodland, this morning and is not expected to recover. It is stated that he was kicked on the head by a horse last night and is supposed to have been mentally deranged at the time he committed the rash deed. He completely severed his windpipe but did not touch the jugular vein. Doctor Vanwart was called, found the man in a critical condition and holds out little hope for his recovery.

In the divorce court this morning Judge McKewen delivered judgment in the case of Minnie Bishop vs. Walter S. Bishop, granting a divorce to the plaintiff on statutory grounds. The parties to the suit belong to Albert county and were married by Rev. J. S. Allen and have eight children. The husband deserted his wife and eight children several years ago.

The case of Stratton vs. Stratton has been postponed until August twentieth. A young man named Walter Ryan, while raising a delivery team at Regent street this morning was struck by the incoming St. John train and severely injured about the hips.

Superintendent Downie of the C. P. R. is here today in consultation with Sir Thomas Tait.

The Woodstock baseball team arrived here at noon to play Frederickton. Callahan will play second base for Frederickton and Macgregor will pitch.

TO CONVERT MERCHANTMEN INTO CRUISERS

Subject of Deliberation at Naval Conference in London

Canada's Contribution Will Not Lessen Britain's Present Burden—Sir William Mackenzie Would Give Three Dreadnoughts

(Canadian Press)
London, July 25.—Hon. Mr. Haizen, the Canadian minister of Marine and Fisheries, who accompanied Premier Borden to England, replying yesterday to a deputation from the Imperial Maritime League, declared that he was violating no confidence when he said that the question of converting merchant ships into armed cruisers in time of war was discussed in the last few days between the members of the Canadian government, who are now here, and the admiralty authorities.

"It has been suggested," Mr. Haizen said, "that in the event of Canada contributing to the British navy, that contribution should not consist of a reduction of what Great Britain should do, but should be a contribution to supplement what the British navy is doing. That is the view which we have taken here during the deliberations, and which we have tried to put before the authorities."

Sir William Mackenzie, who called for Canada yesterday, declared strongly in favor of three Dreadnoughts from Canada to be donated immediately for use in the North Sea.

CITY WILL TAKE OVER PLAYGROUND

Arrangements Completed at Meeting This Morning—Title Remains With Horticultural Association—Road For Automobiles

There was a meeting this morning in the Board of Trade rooms when members of the Horticultural Association met. His Honor Mayor, James Fraser, and Commissioner Schofield and arranged for the city to take over the site in Rockwood Park for the proposed public playground. In the absence of Hon. J. D. Hazen, the president of the association, Senator Ellis, one of the vice-presidents, occupied the chair. Among those present, besides the mayor and Commissioner Schofield, were the following: Joseph Allison, A. H. Hanington, K. C. Judge, William Hawker, Judge Armstrong, T. H. Estabrook, C. E. Scamwell, H. N. Stetson, Mr. Scamwell acted as secretary.

It was stated to the meeting that the land belonging to the association on the Marsh to the right or east of Tilly Avenue, which was acquired by the association, comprising about seventeen acres, had been paid for by Joseph Allison with the intention that it should be used as a playground; that the city had expressed a willingness to make a considerable expenditure on the grounds for this purpose; that the minutes of the association contain mention of the fact that the money had been so provided by Mr. Allison, but there is no mention made of the object he had in mind at the time.

Mr. Allison corroborated the above statement and stated that it had always been his wish that these grounds should be so used.

Some discussion took place as to whether the property should be decided to the city, but the mayor thought that the city would not make this a condition and that it would be as well to leave the fee in the association. A resolution was then adopted authorizing the city to enter upon the premises and to make a start on the work of getting the property in condition for a playground. It was mentioned that H. R. McLellan had a lease of the property, but it was felt that he would be glad to cooperate with the view of the association so that the ceremony of opening the playground in connection with the visit of H. R. the Governor General might be proceeded with. It was pointed out that no cars are prohibited in the park at the Mount Pleasant and Seely street entrance and a plan was proposed showing a small piece of road about 150 feet in length which might be utilized for the purpose of going through from the one entrance to the other. It was felt that the jail prisoners might be secured to complete this work on this short piece of road for the use of motor cars. It was also suggested that a small piece of land on the upper side of the public gardens might be used for the purpose of extending the gardens, but it was decided that for the present the funds would not warrant it.

DEATH AND DESOLATION IN WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA

Latest Reports Give Sixty-One Dead and Many Injured

Thrilling Scenes in Threatened Districts When Floods Broke Loose—Telephone Warnings Saved Hundreds of Lives

(Canadian Press)
Pittsburg, Pa., July 25.—Death and desolation spread broadcast over the southwest counties yesterday and last night through cloudburst and overflowing streams. There were no more forest are the toll, while the damage to homes and industries cannot be estimated. Fifteen lives were snuffed out in Superior Mine No. 2, near Uniontown, 75 miners narrowly escaped death, while from many other sections come reports of lives lost by the mountain torrents rushing into homes in a mad rush for safety on the mountain sides, sought shelter beneath improvised sheds and tents to ward the construction of which every available piece of debris was turned to account. At daybreak shivering women and children gazed upon a scene of desolation in the upper Youghiogheny Valley, and as the waters needed, unroofed dwellings, shattered buildings and crumpled piles of mortar were held in a conglomerate mass by a railroad bridge or trestle, of the progress of debris had been impeded by some larger and stancher building. It was long after midnight before the waters began to recede. Rain had ceased to fall some hours earlier, but the heavy precipitation soon made the usually dry beds of mountain streams veritable cataracts. Floods in the region are of an annual occurrence, for which preparation is made and comparatively little damage is done. Freshets caused by heavy summer rains occur several times a season, but the heavy waterfalls are carried away with but little damage, the absorption of the district had recovered from more than a month's drought, and with every stream bank full all were out of their banks.

Pittsburg, July 25.—Early morning hours brought at least one joy to thousands of flood sufferers in Western Pennsylvania. Yesterday and West Virginia and West Virginia was daylight. Camp fires, candles and oil lamps had shown the signs of dereliction and all were thankful that darkness had passed. Everywhere there was a picture of widespread desolation, a vivid reminder of the swiftness, raging waters had taken many human lives and caused many deaths.

During the night meager reports filtered in that in the vicinity of Uniontown, West Virginia, at least 60 lives had been reported to have been drowned at each of the following places: Smoketown, located in Meadon Valley, fourteen dead; Grindstone, Pa., twelve miners missing and reported drowned; at Lynn, Pa., two miners reported drowned; at Wheeling, Pa., three miners reported drowned; at Ellenwood, Pa., H. I. King, his wife and child drowned; at Fairmont, W. Va., one drowned; at Fairmont, W. Va., one drowned; at Fairmont, W. Va., one drowned.

Of this list of sixty-one fatalities, it has been possible to account definitely for twenty-three. Those who are known to have met death are at Uniontown, Wheeling, Ellenwood, Fairmont and Monongah. Admittedly the death list will not be known for many days to come. A large number of mines were flooded in a short space of time. Working men were compelled to flee for their lives. Whether some of all of the miners reported missing escaped a watery grave can only be ascertained by time. It will take months to clear some of the mines of water.

Many sections have not been heard from for many days, and that has taken place at these places is not known. When the disastrous storms, cloudbursts and floods swept over the large area yesterday scores of the towns afflicted were just recovering from a similar deluge which occurred in the morning. Cars and houses had been freed of flood water, streets cleared of debris and communication by wire and rail had been adjusted. Then came yesterday's storm and the towns were again plunged into chaos. Hundreds of families were driven from their homes and suffered greatly, residences and buildings were damaged or completely demolished. Streets were torn up by the water, while others were piled high with tons of debris carried by the flood waters. Poles were uprooted and wires dropped to the streets, effectively blocking communication from many points and causing confusion at many others. Railroad and street car facilities were practically suspended until after midnight when water was not too high to permit the debris moved along some of the routes.

DuBois, Pa., nine miles west of Uniontown, the center of the region of desolation in Pennsylvania. The flood waters swept away houses and business concerns, and caused serious damage to mines, furnace and coke plants and spread terror into the hearts of thousands.

The flood came about 2:15 p. m. It had a dramatic announcement in the business section, where an arrival with terrifying suddenness. J. W. Frazier was at his desk when the telephone rang. On the other end of the line was Albert Dunn, the book keeper of the Parrott Bluebonnet Quarries, two miles above the town.

From their elevated vantage point, the people, all the dams above have burst. Dunn shouted to Frazier that the dam had broken and the water was rushing to the street. With all the strength of his lungs Frazier shouted to the people to take to the hills and to save their lives. The alarm spread like wildfire and in an instant buildings and shops were evacuated by droves of people who rushed pell mell for safety on the hills.

FOUND AFTER FIVE DAYS IN THE WOODS

Terrible Experience of Wm. May of Chatham—Upset by Discovery of Body—He Followed Phantom Voices

Chatham, N. B., July 25.—Lost in the woods of the Miramichi about thirty-five miles above Redbank and without any sustenance except half a dozen berries, the body of John Cable who was drowned May 16th while on a drive for the D. & J. Ritchie concern of Newcastle. The discovery of the corpse seemed to excite some of the party so that at night Mr. May was unable to sleep and seemed to hear knocking and see a hand beckoning him. About midnight while the other members of the party were asleep, he got up and started following this voice and from then till Monday was lost in the woods. The rest of the party left next morning with Cable's body and brought it to Chatham. A party was sent up Saturday night to look for May. They arrived Monday morning and spent the day searching but without success. That night about dusk they were in their camp when May was seen approaching. They started home with him next morning and finally arrived in Chatham on the six o'clock boat yesterday. Though he suffered a great deal owing to the cold weather and the fact that he was scantily clad, having had neither boots nor coat during water wandering, May appears remarkably well considering his experiences.

BRILLIANT PROFESSOR FOR DALHOUSIE COLLEGE

John Laird of Edinburgh Appointed to Chair of Philosophy in Place of Dr. Magill

Halifax, July 25.—The government of Dalhousie University have just appointed John Laird to be Professor of Philosophy in the place of Dr. Magill, who has lately been appointed chief of the government of Edinburgh University. The latter was a philosopher of the value of £100 a year, in moral philosophy.

In December, 1908, he gained the Shaw Philosophical Fellowship of the value of £150 a year for five years. This requires the holder to deliver a course of five lectures in the University of Edinburgh. It will be noted that Professor Laird won it a few months after graduation.

From Edinburgh he went to Cambridge for three years, and studied under Professor Sorley. He became a scholar in Trinity College, and won prizes for an English degree and an English Declaration. He was awarded first-class in part one of the Moral Sciences Tripos in 1910, and first with special distinction in part two in 1911.

During the summer of 1908 he was a student at the German Universities of Heidelberg and Jena. He has been an assistant in philosophy to Professor Taylor at St. Andrew's University during the past year.

IMPERIAL DEFENCE

Important Statement by Asquith Expected Today

Discussing Lloyd George's Plans—Hint of Resignation Causes Tremendous Sensation—Believes He Could Sweep Country

(Special Cable to The Times)
London, July 25.—An important statement is expected from Mr. Asquith today in the House of Commons on the Dominions and imperial defence. Meanwhile no responsible statesman here has yet ventured to suggest a tangible plan for giving the overseas dominions representation upon a council for empire defence. Most persons, when asked, regretfully admit that they cannot frame any satisfactory representative scheme which does not include a council possessing the powers of taxation.

Today even defence is overshadowed by discussions upon Lloyd-George's future. The announcement in Wednesday's Times that Lloyd-George might resign office to conduct an active land reform campaign throughout the country has caused a tremendous sensation. It is understood he desires legislation of a far more radical nature than an influential section of the Liberal party will tolerate, but he has received abundant support from the constituencies, and is courted by his own party.

PERUVIAN TOWN DESTROYED BY EARTHQUAKE

Shock Lasted Only 40 Seconds, But Ruins in Ruins—Reports of Killed and Injured

The latter was Mr. Blacker, agent of the South American Insurance Company. The dry bed of a river was torn open and jets of water were thrown out.

Piura or San Miguel de Piura lies 120 miles north, northwest of Lambayeque. It has a population of 12,000.

ANOTHER COUPLE OF YOUTHFUL BURGLARS

Thirteen Year Old Boys Arrested Charged With Theft of $200 Talking Machine

Detective Killeen made an important arrest between nine and ten o'clock this morning when he took into custody Harold Garnett and Robert Garnett, aged thirteen years and fourteen years respectively, on a charge of breaking and entering the house of Eustace Barnes between July 5 and 8, and stealing therefrom a music box valued at $200. They are also charged with destroying a valuable plate glass mirror by cutting the same with a pair of scissors. The young lads were taken to central police station and looked up. They will be arraigned in the police court tomorrow morning.

According to the police the lads broke into the house while Mr. Barnes and members of his family were living at their country home, and ransacked the house, destroying furniture and other property. It is believed that the break was made on a Sunday afternoon. The police have been working on the case ever since, but as they had very little to work on, it was not until today that they were successful in making their arrests. The lads are cousins and live in Lombard street.

SCHOONER HAD NARROW ESCAPE FROM THE FALLS

People in Inlandton yesterday afternoon watched, with interest, the movements of a tugboat and a three-masted schooner, the "Sallie E. Landman," which the tugboat was taking up river. It was late in the afternoon and the wind was blowing from the east with the waves beating down as well, so with these elements and the tide setting dead against her, the tugboat with its heavily loaded tow, was proceeding under difficulties up the stream. The hawser snapped and the vessel started to drift, but the tug went near and a connection was made. Those watching from the shore saw the tow begin again and after a few minutes, there was another break in the hawser and the schooner surged along with the tide near the falls and being gradually borne toward them. The eager anxiety was relieved again in a few minutes when the tugboat secured the line and, renewing her efforts, went on up the river. She was backed with coal and was on her way to Fredericton.

Chicago, July 25.—Vice-president Arthur of the Penna. Railroad, resumed his testimony today before the arbitration commission which is in session at Manhattan Beach to determine the merits of the claims of increased wages for the locomotive engineers of 32 railroads east of Chicago. He produced tables of statistical information, showing the average hours worked, the average pay, the average length of life of engineers compared with other railroad men. According to his figures engineers have shorter hours, better wages and live longer than trainmen, conductors, firemen and others in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad. On cross-examination by Warren S. Stone, Chief of the Locomotive Engineers' Men, Attorney adhered to his statements.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

Prince Paul, the Hope of Serbia, in England to Enter Oxford—Unpleasant Family History—Death of Prince Recalls Old Romance

Prince Paul Karageorgevitch, nineteen years old, who has just arrived in England to prepare himself to enter Oxford University at the beginning of the fall term, is regarded in Serbia as the hope of his House, despite his parentage. The King Peter, to make an English gentleman of him by sending him to the best of English culture and learning, where the Prince of Wales is shortly to take a place among the students this fall, will be appreciated by all those who have the interest of that unhappy and much troubled Balkan state at heart.

The British heir apparent is to reside in Magdalen College, where his rooms are now being prepared for his occupancy, while the young Serbian prince will make his home at Christ Church, which is undoubtedly the college that enjoys the greatest amount of prestige. As fellow undergraduates, the English and the Serbian prince cannot fail to be thrown into one another's society, not only in studies, but also in sports, and other university interests, and young Paul Karageorgevitch cannot fail to derive from this association, and from the companionship of his English fellow students, those notions of honor, and those ethical standards, which one is accustomed to associate with an Oxford training—ethics that are so entirely different from those prevailing in Serbia.

Prince Paul can well be described as the "hope of Serbia," because his two cousins, George and Alexander, both of them studying at Paris, one at the military school of St. Cyr, and the other at the Sorbonne, are so unpopular that their names from the country just at present is a matter of congratulation. The conduct of Prince George, the elder of the two, has been so extremely regrettable that three years ago, as may be remembered, he was compelled by the government to renounce his rights of succession, and his status as Crown Prince, to his younger brother Alexander. Had he refused to do so, he would have been placed on trial at Belgrade for the death of his valiant father, who had succumbed to brutal treatment. Prince Alexander, though better behaved, is a mental weakling and in frail bodily health, and besides has made himself so detested in the army, that he has been forced by the latter, as also by the government, to resign his office of inspector general.

Prince Paul, on the other hand, is a stalwart, handsome, sunny-tempered lad, who has been carefully brought up, first

By RUTH CAMERON

The Unreasonable Maid

A MAID was once sent out from an employment bureau to a position, and on finding that the room in which she was expected to live was a wretched little hole, miserably furnished, with no paper on the wall, no arrangements for heating and one tiny window, told the lady of the house that she did not wish to stay, because she felt she could never make that room look homelike.

Whereupon she departed. And now the lady of the house goes about telling this experience as an illustration of how homelike a room is, and how much household work is becoming. And almost everywhere she tells it she receives sympathy. "The idea," exclaim her friends, "The idea. You simply can't do anything with them nowadays, they are so independent. Wouldn't stay because she couldn't make the room look homelike. What do they expect—guest chambers?"

My friends, it seems to me that in that little incident is illustrated one of the chief causes of the maid problem.

That a housewife should want to have her room look homelike and should wish to stay in a place where she couldn't make it so, seemed the sense of absurdity to these good women. They regarded it as an unwarrantable independence on her part.

And yet a maid's chamber means much more to her than her mistress's bedroom does to the mistress, for the maid's bedroom must also be her living room.

If these women, who were most of them kind-hearted in other relations of life, had thought of the maid who wanted a home like room as a human being, themselves, they wouldn't have seen anything extraordinary in her demands. But they were so in the habit of looking upon her as a distinct species of animal life—the genus maid, that they thought of applying to her the test of similar desires and needs.

There was a little story in the joke columns of one of the magazines the other day, which, to my mind, came almost as near pathos as humor. It ran something like this. A maid had asked leave to go home to her mother who was very ill. The mistress said she was glad, only she mustn't stay long as she much needed. At the end of a week the maid writes something to her as a day's work. "Dear Mrs. I will be back real soon, and please keep my place for me. Mother is dying as fast as she can."

Probably that never happened, but if it did would assume the attitude many mistresses try to thrust upon it certainly could have come to pass.

Undoubtedly there is fault on both sides in the servant problem. Undoubtedly maids are often trying, incompetent, untrustworthy, and a thousand other things. But I don't believe that anything can excuse mistresses from the unfeeling and unkind attitude towards the maid as a human being.

When mistresses cease to assume this attitude, and get the thought that their maids really are women with natural desires for happiness and homelike rooms and appreciation and pretty clothes, perhaps household work will be done more willingly and will not prefer to it the most exhausting and ill-paid work in shop or factory.

At St. Petersburg, and afterwards by English tutors at Belgrade, where he has managed to keep his name singularly clear from any such scandals as have disgraced every other member of his house. In fact he is looked upon both at home and abroad as destined one day to occupy the throne of his uncle, King Peter.

Paul's father is the king's only brother, Arseno, who is so utterly disreputable that even the Serbians will not consider him even honorary, in the army. He makes his home in Paris, and is a familiar "specimen" to those American tourists who think it interesting to study the habits of this class of emigrants in the French capital.

He was given the advantages of an education at the Imperial School of Pages at St. Petersburg, where Alexander III., and also the late Czar, wished to hold him in reserve as a candidate for the Serbian throne, then occupied by the Obrenovitch dynasty, Czar Alexander III., besides giving him a commission in a regiment of Trainee Cavalry, Cosacks, arranged marriage for him with the enormously wealthy Aurora Demidoff, Princess of San Donato; but so utterly impossible was his conduct, so degrading his whole behavior, that after she had borne him a son, Prince Paul, he was compelled by the permission of the emperor to divorce him, and he was requested to leave the country.

Prince Paul remained with his mother until her death at Turin in 1904, when he, an eleven year old boy, was taken in charge by King Peter at Belgrade, his father not being allowed to have anything to do with him. He has inherited all the vast property of his mother, whose family is the richest in Russia, and is thus the only member of the Serbian reigning family who possesses an independent fortune. King Peter and his two sons having nothing but the allowances which they receive from the Serbian treasury.

Fortunately for him Paul escaped having a stepmother, one of the most notorious women in Paris at that time, for during the two years that preceded the shocking tragedy at Belgrade that brought King Peter to the throne his good brother Arseno was one of the part proprietors of perhaps the best known of the all-night clubs at Paris which are nicknamed "American Bars." This particular one was managed by a very handsome woman, whose name was Jeanette Voino, but who had been known in the "demi-monde" for several years, as "Zizi." She was the ideal manager for such a place, for what she did not know of the "gay" and "easy" of Parisian life, was not worth knowing; besides which she was singularly good-natured, level-headed, and not hard-hearted; in one word, as the French say a "matresse commune."

Prince Arseno was so impressed by her many qualities, that in the spring of 1903 he repeatedly pressed her to marry him, and made no secret of the fact that he had offered her his hand and name, and as she refused, he, however, absolutely declined to entertain his offer, preferring, as she explained, to work for a salary and a share of the profits, rather than have to fulfil the same duties without remuneration, as his wife.

In June of that year his elder brother Peter, became King of Serbia, and he believed himself transferred from the court of a disreputable café into a "Prince of the Blood." "Zizi" always characteristically having refused the hand of Arseno, and that she considered herself infinitely more respectable as a former member of the "demi-monde," and as the manageress of one of the best known American Bars in Paris, than as the wife of a prince, she was indebted for his rank and his royalty to so shocking a tragedy as that which brought the house of Karageorgevitch to the throne.

The Court of Berlin has just been deprived of one of its most decorative and impressive figures by the death of Prince Carol of Battenberg, the high official of the Imperial Household during the reign of Emperor William I. The time, however, when his name came most prominently before the public was when his lovely wife Countess Elizabeth Hatfield, eloped in 1880 with the late Prince Herbert Bismarck, then unmarried. The treatment which she received from Herbert was one of the blackest spots in his career. For, instead of endeavoring to repair the wrong done her by marrying her as soon as she had been divorced by her husband, he yielded to the importunities and bitter reproaches of his father the old Chancellor, deserted her at Venice, without making any provision for her, and left her indeed absolutely penniless—without even enough money to pay the bill at the hotel where they had both been staying.

Had it not been for her brother Herman, Prince Hatfield, Duke of Trachenberg, and her sister, the wife of Field Marshal Baron Lee, the unhappy woman, who had sacrificed husband, children, fortune and social position for Herbert Bismarck's sake, would have starved. As it was, she almost succumbed to the grave malady brought on by the shock and humiliation of her desertion.

It may be remembered that some time later Herbert contracted a wealthy marriage with Countess Marguerite Hoyos, one of the granddaughters of the inventor of the Englishman Whitehead, the inventor of the famous Whitehead torpedo.

Daily Hints For the Cook

CHERRY NECTAR.

Stone the cherries and boil them with a little water; strain and boil the juice with 1 lb. sugar to each pint of juice for 15 minutes, then put in the cherries and boil a very little longer. Serve cold.

"PERFECT" BOILED RICE.

Blanch a cup of rice by throwing it in a saucepan with plenty of cold water over a quick fire. Let boil two minutes, then drain, rinse in cold water and drain again. Now add the rice little by little to one quart of madly boiling water to which a teaspoon salt has been added. Keep the water boiling as rapidly as possible, and do not stir. As soon as the grains are soft pour off the water, then set the rice in the oven, uncovered, to dry about ten minutes will be long enough. Rice prepared this way is delicious, and may be served about a meat dish of chicken, veal, etc., or with cream and sugar, as a pudding.

JAM RULES.

Do not allow tin, iron, or pewter to touch the jam, as any of these are liable to spoil the color.

Everything employed in the jam making must be scrupulously clean.

The sugar must be of the best.

The fruit must be gathered on a dry day, any that is imperfect or damaged being discarded. It should be well dried. The jam should be boiled until, on dropping a little on a plate it yellows. Jam should be boiled fast to preserve the color of the fruit and kept well stirred.

All cum must be carefully removed as it rises.

Jam must be stored in a cool, dry place, free from drafts, and in an even temperature.—Eldora Lockwood in Women's World for August.

MIRAMICHI PERSONALS. (Chatham Commercial)

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Rawlings, of Montreal, and their two children, arrived here Saturday to visit Mrs. Rawlings' mother, Mrs. J. B. Snowball.

Mrs. Letson of Vancouver, accompanied by her three children, is spending the summer with her mother, Mrs. Andrew McIntosh, at Chatham Head.

Miss Annie Aitken, superintendent of the Rutland Hospital, Yvonnet, and Miss Laura Aitken of Havergill School, Toronto, are visiting their parents, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Aitken, at Newcastle.

Congressman John J. Adams, of New York is visiting the Miramichi after an absence of twenty years, and is at present the guest of his sister, Mrs. J. D. Craghead, of Newcastle. Mr. Adams sees many changes in Douglastown, his native place, and in the Miramichi towns and is much impressed with the pretty scenery along the river.

Mrs. Coyie, of Melrose, Mass., and Miss Mary Coyie, professional nurse, are spending a few weeks on the Miramichi visiting relatives. It is forty years since Mrs. Coyie left her home in Chatham, and this is her first visit. Over fifty years ago she graduated from the Sacred Heart convent, Halifax, and her first school was at Esquimaux. She talks very interestingly of the time she spent in picking clams on the beach at Esquimaux.

Finally they got the license and were married by Rev. John LeCorun, chaplain of the prison.

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., JULY 25, 1912.

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury Street every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

OR-HARD OPPORTUNITIES Orchard Opportunities in New Brunswick is the title of a book of thirty-two pages issued by the department of agriculture at Fredericton.

more pulp wood in 1911 than in the previous year, but considerably less was exported from Quebec. The report says: "If the pulp wood exported from all Canada in 1911 has been reduced to pulp in Canada, it would have supplied 68 mills of the average size of those in Canada."

THEY COLOR THE NEWS

The Montreal Shareholder wants to know who it is that colors the news we get from England. Formerly there was great complaint that the news came through American channels and had an anti-British tinge. There is now a Canadian press service, but it is also unreliable. It is filtered through Tory channels, and is altogether one-sided. The reader gets from it an entirely wrong impression. The Shareholder says: "Looking back over the past few years, it would seem that in Canada we have been 'doped' upon every possible occasion."

CONSERVATIVE CONDEMS IT

When the Times directed attention to the fact that an official volume on Canada, issued by Hon. Mr. Hazen's department, had not only shown gross ignorance but had done a great injustice to the Bay of Fundy and the port of St. John, the local Conservative organ grew very angry. The Victoria Colonist, however, is a Conservative paper, and it has something to say about the same volume. After quoting what the book says about Victoria harbor the Colonist says: "It is certainly very discouraging after all that has been said about the exceptional advantages of Victoria harbor, and all the effort that has been made to make those known, to have such a statement put forward in an official government publication."

PULP AND PULP WOOD

The Dominion Department of the Interior has issued an interesting little book on the forest products of Canada dealing specially with pulp wood. During last year 54 firms reported that they manufactured during the year 672,238 cords of pulp wood, and exported in the raw state 847,830 cords, making a total of 1,520,227 cords valued at $6,978,010. The cut was 11,401 cords less than in 1910, but the quantity manufactured in Canada was larger.

There are 28 firms in Quebec, 14 in Ontario, seven in Nova Scotia, four in New Brunswick and one in British Columbia. The value of the pulp wood used by Quebec firms during the year was $2,516,683, Ontario $1,457,224, New Brunswick $251,538, Nova Scotia $111,119, British Columbia $1,140. The average price per cord for pulp wood last year was $6.45 compared with $6 in 1910, $5.57 in 1909 and $4.07 in 1908. New Brunswick manufactured more pulp last year than in 1910. The quantity of pulp wood produced in New Brunswick in 1911 was 45,924 cords compared with 22,534 cords in 1910. The report notes that this province is recovering from the depression of 1910, but is still away behind the year 1909, when it cut 88,450 cords, or nearly twice as much as last year. While nearly all of the pulp wood is spruce, some balsam fir is used, with a little hemlock and poplar. In New Brunswick only spruce and fir are used, and last year 96.4 per cent. was spruce.

The quantity of wood pulp exported in 1911 was 229,514 tons, valued at $4,922,382, an average value of $18.89 per ton. In 1910 the quantity exported was 228,977 tons, valued at $5,694,896, or an average of $17.31 per ton. There was thus an increase in price of $1.58 per ton in 1911. The decline in shipments last year was to trans-Atlantic ports, as the American market took a little more than in the previous year. In fact the American market in 1911 took 90.1 per cent. of the mechanical pulp and 90.8 per cent. of the chemical pulp exported from Canada. It is worthy of note that some pulp was imported into Canada last year, in the face of a 25 per cent. duty.

The success which has attended the work of oiling certain unpaved thoroughfares in the city has induced the city engineer to continue the work upon a number of other streets and for this purpose a further order for oil will be immediately placed. To date about eighty drums or about 720 gallons of California crude oil have been used, the streets first being cleaned of dust and loose materials before the oil treatment is applied. The result has been the prevention of the dust nuisance and the better preservation of the surface. After the first twenty-four hours any unpleasant features have disappeared and the odor of the oil is practically nil. Another order for 200 drums of oil will be placed immediately and the treatment of other streets proceeded with. When the experiment was first made, two grades of oil were used, a thick oil and one of lighter variety. The latter has proved to be the best for the purpose.

WILL SUPPLY NATURAL GAS TO ST. JOHN Immediate Plans Call For Extension to Amherst and Sussex—Here Later

Encouraged by the recent discovery of two more wells in the district of the Albert-Westmorland oil shale, those interested in the development are making rapid progress in the work and the latest report is that St. John people will soon be reaping the benefit of the discovery of the natural gas now being successfully supplied in Moncton, a cost which is about half the price previously paid for coal gas in that city.

Mr. Lodge said that the recent discovery of two new wells was regarded as an important feature in connection with the projected development, and that the supply at present seems unlimited.

Beneficiaries under the will are the two sisters of the deceased, the Misses Josephine and Eva McGaffrey, who reside in Montreal, and who are also appointed executors.

The sons were Joseph Edward, Donald John, Thomas Francis and Alphonse, and the daughter Josephine.

A PERPLEXING QUESTION.

Being a funny man, he was at it again. Elected on the grass in the midst of the picnic party, he was spinning the latest yarn. "I say," he remarked to those assembled, "I bet you can't answer this riddle. 'Well, what is it?' asked a chorus of voices. 'Can you name an animal that has eyes that cannot see, legs, and cannot walk, but can jump as high as the new C. P. R. building?' Everybody racked their brains, and there was deep silence for a moment. "I don't know," remarked someone, "I give it up."

The rest of the party also signified their inability to solve the riddle. "The answer," said the funny man, "is a wooden horse. It has eyes and cannot see, and legs and cannot walk. 'Yes, but how does it jump as high as the new C. P. R. building?' came the triumphant shout. "The C. P. R. building," said the funny man, "is made of iron and steel, and is a hundred feet high. It is a building that cannot jump."

LYDD GEORGE EXPLAINS THE INSURANCE ACT

Will Distribute Enormous Sum of £27,000,000 In First Year

WHERE IT COMES FROM £15,000,000 From State and Employers, £12,000,000 From Those to be Benefited — For Efficiency of Empire

Following is Chancellor Lloyd-George's own explanation of the insurance bill. In the first full year the sum of money to be distributed in benefits amongst the industrial population of this country for sickness, consumption, and maternity benefits will amount to £27,000,000. Out of that sum £15,000,000 come from the state and the employers. There is a good deal of talk about domestic servants. DOMESTIC SERVANTS Domestic servants will get from the sums which their mistresses contribute and the state £3,000,000 a year. (Cheers.) That does not include their own contributions, and I ask you this. Has the state ever since it started given a boon of that character to the domestic servants of this country? (Cries of "No.") And yet they say we are robbing them. But they say you are going to squander this in paying expensive officials. Take this fact to those cities for me: Not a penny of that sum goes to state officials at all. (Cheers.) They will have to pay for maintaining their own societies as they do now, but the money that goes to state officials will be voted by parliament annually. I know they say, "but the 3d. and 4d. per week is paid in order that you may give £400 a year to members of parliament." (Laughter.) There are many who believe it unless somebody had told them this is a simple addition to many of the many misrepresentations. I got a letter this morning evidently sent by a domestic servant, and she said: "I am not going to give 3d. a week so that you should pay £400 a year to lay members of parliament."

Gradually they will begin to discover that is not true. They will begin to find out for themselves that all this money is to be dispersed in benefits for them, and when they do that it will be a day of retribution for those who misled them. (Cheers.) And the accounts for the blind fury of these people when they see we are bringing the act into operation. They asked us to put it off. And when we refused they did not want to see their own falsehoods exposed. Mr. Lloyd-George resumed said: At first people are suspicious. I am not surprised at the people being suspicious, as they have been taken in many a time. (Cheers)—and they have a right to have a suspicion until they see what it is. Once they do, they will be glad. They remember pensions—(cheers)—and how they were promised, how the promise was broken lips after time, and even when the measure was carried, they were not sure even then. I was told of a gathering around a village post office, afraid of going in. They felt it was too good to be true, and when some more courageous than the others went in and came out with two bright half-crowns, they also rushed in.

SUSPICIONS UNFOUNDED But when they realize what it is, the suspicions will vanish, and you will begin to see the measure emerge out of the mist into the clear light of day. Its benefits are not merely direct ones. It will be a great storehouse of information upon which we can base greater things in the future. We shall know, and know with precision, and with scientific accuracy, what is going on in the depths. We shall then know the facts as to what is really going on, and when the country knows its own conscience will be stricken.

We shall know the facts about sickness and physical breakdown; how much is due to drink and how much to lack of nourishment, and how much is due to bad housing. We shall know the truth about the condition amongst the myriads who toil, and every fact will have the stamp of its own evidence.

We have got a very great empire, but it is an empire which depends on the strength, its glory, nay, for its existence, upon the efficiency of its people—(cheers)—for peace, as well as for war. How can you maintain it long against the perils which are surrounding it, menacing it, hanging over it, when the children of the land are brought up in conditions which are inimical, disastrous, destructive, to soundness of mind and body in the generations that are to come?

We boast of the largest navy in the world, of the greatest international commerce on land and sea, of the greatest mercantile marine that crosses the flood of the greatest empire the world has ever seen. Ah! when shall we think it worth while boasting of an empire with the happiest, brightest, most cheerful people, freed from poverty, from distress, from misery—an empire where men, women, boys and girls by the million live under conditions that are worthy of the dignity of manhood?

PARTINGTON CO. PLANS

A survey of the Nashwak river is being made to determine the exact water supply and secure other data for the Partington Pulp & Paper Company, who propose to erect a pulp mill at Marysville if conditions are found to be suitable. Hon. N. M. Jones says the report when received from the surveyors will be forwarded to the old country and conferences would be held there before any definite action would be announced. At Marysville on Monday the organization meeting of the Marysville Stores, Ltd., a subsidiary company formed by the Partington interests to handle the Gibson company's stores at Marysville, was held and the following officers were elected: President, Thomas McAvity, St. John; vice-president, N. M. Jones, Bangor (Mo.); treasurer, H. W. Schofield, St. John; secretary, E. B. Staples, Marysville; directors, Messrs. Schofield, McAvity and Jones, and A. H. Hamington, K. C., of St. John.

RAILWAYS CANNOT PAY MORE

Vice-President of Pennsylvania Road Before Arbitration Committee

New York, July 24—W. W. Atterbury, vice-president of the Pennsylvania railway, was the principal witness today before the arbitration committee sitting at Manhattan Beach to pass upon the demands of the locomotive engineers of all eastern railways for increased pay.

Mr. Atterbury said that the Pennsylvania's method of arriving at a basis of pay for its employes has been "a constant endeavor to pay a fair rate for a fair day's work."

To grant the demands now made by the engineers would, the witness said, add to the operating expenses of the railroad the sum of $911,280 a year, and if proportionate increases were made in the pay of all other employes, the cost would be $1,578,000, which he declared would wipe out the surplus of the Pennsylvania in one year.

Mr. Atterbury said that the engineers had been given an advance of ten per cent. in wages in 1902, a ten per cent. increase in 1906, certain adjustments in 1907, a flat six per cent. increase in 1910, and later in the same year an adjustment of wages followed the New York Central arbitration case.

Taking up the question of granting the request of the steam engineers that they be given the right to operate all electric trains, Mr. Atterbury said: "Gentlemen, that has something in it that does not appear on the surface. There is a serious side to that proposition. The Pennsylvania railroad's practice has in the past been, when we have electrified, to assign to that electric service at a reasonable and fair rate, our steam engineers."

The question of obligating ourselves to continue that for the future is a more serious matter. We have not thought of making any change, but the decision by this committee that each shall be the case in the future would so tie up the railroads and the property as to prohibit the lease or sale of the property. It also carries with it, hidden, but still there, the right of the employe to demand continuous employment. I do not know whether you gentlemen appreciate that particular phase of this proposition."

A FINE OPTICAL LESSON A recent press dispatch from Ottawa stating that the American fishing schooner, the "Plover," owned at Barrington, had violated the fishery laws, will be fined and released on a bond, adds the information that the vessel is American but all the crew are Canadians. This vessel is one of many sailing from American ports which are manned by Nova Scotians. The value of the American market induced these fishermen to leave the homeland and go to the United States. Under reciprocity they would have had free access to the American markets, and could have fished in Canadian waters, thus building up a home fishing fleet and a native shipbuilding industry. The lesson is plain.

The strikers, parading through the streets to the number of thousands, broke ranks as they passed the Clyde docks and rushing the gate tried to break it down or scale the walls. Police coming to the defense rescued the strikers off.

This will bring the active battle fleet up to 23 battleships in full commission.

NO-BODY LOVES A BALD MAN

Every day we see YOUNG men and women, who have grown prematurely grey, they immediately fall into the "ON AGE" class, because grey hairs are so closely associated WITH OLD AGE.

It is extremely disconcerting and humiliating to be bald--to be grey when the years do not justify it. The girls laugh the young men so married--the young men soon learn to discriminate between natural hair in its full bloom of health and NATURAL COLOR, and shabby looking grey and faded hair.

SPORT NEWS OF A DAY, HOME AND ABROAD

Baseball

The games in the New Brunswick and Maine Baseball League had to be cancelled yesterday on account of rain. The Orioles are scheduled to play in Houlton today.

The Boston Reds, an aggregation of ball players from the Hub, have written to this city in an effort to arrange for several games here during August. They are leaving Boston on August 1 and expect to tour the provinces.

The Standards defeated the Socials at Halifax yesterday by the score of 9 to 4. The Pictou game was postponed on account of rain.

F. J. Duggan, manager of the Fredericton baseball team, has received a communication from the management of the Lynn team, stating that the team were coming down this way at the end of the season and would like to arrange several games in this district. Terry McCrewe, who played here last season, and Bill Harrington, brother of Frank, are both playing with the Lynn team. It is likely that they will play here.

The Cubs defeated the Alerts 11 to 10 in their game yesterday afternoon at Courtenay Bay. Lake, Knodell and Davis were the battery for the winners and Davis and Drake for the losers.

The Rock Street Stars defeated the Pinkyards 5 to 2 in an exciting game of ball last night. The battery for the winners was Andrews and Wetmore and for the losers Leaman and Boyd.

National League. New York 3, Cincinnati 7. Brooklyn 1, Chicago 5. Philadelphia 4, St. Louis 5.

American League. Chicago 3, New York 4. Cleveland 11, Boston 1. All other games postponed on account of rain.

International League. Newark 0, Rochester 7. Providence 6, Toronto 10. Baltimore 4, Montreal 7.

Matty's Record. Twelve years ago Wednesday Christopher Mathewson made his first appearance in the National League. In the spring of 1900 Matty was the property of the Cincinnati Club, but he never pitched for the Reds. He was traded to New York by John T. Brush for Amos Rusie. Big Six made his initial appearance against Brooklyn at Washington Park. He went to the relief of Ed. Doherty in the fifth inning with the score a tie, none out and two on base. The Superbas won the game by a score of 10 to 7. After all these long years of service Matty is still one of the Giants' mainstays.

No man who was ever in the game can point to a cleaner or finer record. The announcement of his name still calls forth applause from the stands. The big blonde athlete won one world's series for New York and tried hard to win another. He may yet be responsible for the Giants' again being hailed as champions of the world. That McGraw is making efforts to strengthen his pitching staff was made certain when Johnny Kling displayed a telegram in Chicago which contained an offer to trade Devore and Groh for Tyler, the speedy left-hander of the Boston club. Kling apparently talked matters over with his old friends on the Chicago team and finally decided to reject the offer. Kling takes about four hits to get a man around. About the only thing his present agitation can do is to wallop the ball. The Ward men own some of the worst fielders in captivity. That ability to hit will not win games is shown by Boston's present position in the race. If Kling remains at the Hub there is no doubt that he must reorganize his team. With as speedy a man as Josh Devore leading the batting list there is small doubt that his team would score more runs. Groh, too, promises to become a good batter. Both players are youngsters with many years of active service before them. Both Devore and Groh would be of inestimable advantage to Kling in the field.

Door Season for Southpaws. Although Rube Marquard leads the National pitchers, Eddie Plank heads the American League, and Harry Krause is the best American Association flinger, the majority of the left-handers are not having what could be called a very successful season. The three mentioned stand out as exceptions, and possibly there are a few others, say Rubeus and Van Gregh, for instance, who are going well.

But winning southpaws are few and far between this year. Even Van Gregh has been going none too well, having lost nearly as many games already as he did during the entire season of 1911. But two other American League left-handers, in addition to Plank and Greg, have succeeded in winning half their games. They are Ray Collins, of Boston, and Pennock, of the Athletics. The Philadelphia youngster has won one and lost Mathewson, who has broken even on six games.

Mogridge, of the White Sox, and Hamilton, of the Browns, have lost more than they have won. Jim Vaughn has won but three out of twelve, while Willie Mitchell, of the Naps, has won but two out of eight. Lefty George has been charged with five defeats and credited with no victories.

The season has proved such a tough one on the left-handers that more than a few were sent to the minors. Connie Mack turned aside Krause, Lefty Russell, Danforth, Salmon and Pike. St. Louis and Detroit each released a left-hander, while the Tigers also sent Becker to Montreal and St. Louis out of payroll.

Baseball Notes. The Fredericton club threatens to chase the next player who assaults an umpire. That $3 that Keeney got from Mike Moore, the local roofer for that home run, will just offset that $5 fine imposed by President Hooper.

When Bob Ganley broke into the big league with Pittsburgh he went several games without a hit. Then he beat out a home run in a game against Mathewson, and that day he got a total of five hits in a double-header.

There is a big lot of talk of transferring the Woodstock franchise to St. Stephen and Calais.

Lieut. George W. Beavers, Jr., U. S. A. is anxious to become a professional ball player, and is willing to take a chance with the rest of Manager Wolverton's recruits in an effort to win a place on the New York American League club. Lieutenant Beavers is on a five months' furlough from the Philippines and Tuesday went to American League park and asked Wolverton to give him a place with the team. Beavers will try to make good as a major league ball player and it is expected will probably resign from the service.

Another Marquard.

Charlie Tesreau went to Detroit one day from the western wilds. He went to Bennett Park and reported to Hugh Jennings. Detroit had signed Tesreau to pitch. He wore a Tiger uniform one day. Five hours after Tesreau climbed into the Detroit spangles Frank Navin got a telegram from Tesreau saying he was coming to Detroit. Navin did not care to get in bad with the National Commission so he sent Tesreau back.

Tesreau can claim to be the largest man who ever stepped into a Detroit uniform. He gave him the largest they had and he split that. Tesreau finally landed with the Giants. He went south with them this year, and showed enough of a splitter to warrant retaining him.

At present Tesreau occupies a position similar to the one held for several years by Rube Marquard, when McGraw and Robinson were laboring with the southpaw. The manager and the coach have been able in the young heaving help to convince them that he will make a valuable pitcher for the Giants, just as they were convinced about Marquard, but Tesreau is about as uncertain as was Rube in his most erratic days.

In other words Jeff lacks confidence. He has the "stare" which is usually associated with a pitcher who is sure of himself. Tesreau warms up with feverish fury before a game, but when he gets in there he seems to lose his confidence, and becomes unsteady. Tesreau has pitched some good ball for McGraw already, and has done much better than Rube did on his first year out but with his natural gift there is no reason why he should not be doing as well or even better than Marty O'Leary, Jimmy Lavender, Harry Denney or some other pitcher at the present time.

Meantime Robbie is working with indefinite patience on the big fellow. He has attended Lafayette High school together with Tesreau, and Jeff is his main game at present. Tesreau is young and willing, and Robbie is just as certain his future as he ever was about his left handed pupil.

The Turf. Moelen's First Races. An enormous and motley crowd gathered on the shores of the Marmora, to witness the first horse race of the Ottoman metropolis. The day was magnificent, the weather first-class and the people at the height of their festive mood. The Moelen have never seen horse races before. To them it is in every way a new spectacle, and to all it was a real sign of advancing times.

Among the many thousands of spectators women predominated. Hours before the show they came from every quarter with baskets of provisions, intending to spend the whole day in gazing at and talking over the events of the day. The groups of Turkish "hansoms" in their bright, multi-colored tarbooshes, ferreted and yashmaks, were picturesque in the highest degree.

The ladies of the imperial harem watched the races from behind a screen. The sultan was fatigued and did not attend himself to performers and spectators alike. Many of the diplomatic body were on specially constructed platforms overlooking the race track.

Numbers of the most elegant of the European quarter also attended. There were six races and the highest prize, 100 Turkish liras, was won by Lieut. Djelal Effendi, a smart officer who rode a beautiful Arab horse, Zio-Zio. Two other officers participated, and Ruzhdli Bey proved the winner.

Several delinquents, such as not keeping exact time and the interference of the judges, will undoubtedly be punished on the next occasion.—London Chronicle.

Noted Horseman Dead. Los Angeles, Cal., July 23.—Levy Dillon, father of Frank Dillon, manager of the Los Angeles Coast League baseball team, uncle of Clark Griffith of the Washington American League team, and widely known as one of the first importers of Norman draft horses into this country, is dead at his home in Huntington Park. Mr. Dillon came to California from Normal (Ill.), last fall.

Male in 2:03 1/4. Detroit, July 24.—Joe Patchen II, did just what had been expected of him at the Blue Ribbon meeting yesterday, winning the 17th Chamber of Commerce stake in straight heats. In so doing he equalled the fastest time in a race this year, 2:03 1/4, which is a quarter of a second slower than the record for the event, 2:03 made by another Canadian stallion, The Ed, in a memorable race with Minor Heat.

Automobile For Drivers. The Chicago A. A. competitors in a recent interclub run out in the Windy city all received cards issued by the team captain, Mr. Kasey giving what he called the "10 commandments." The advice given to the average man's needs in a motoring way, and as they are repeated as follows: 1. Be sure that you have your tire chains on board and that they are in good condition. 2. Examine spark plugs and see that they are clean. 3. See that your magnet is working perfectly and that your storage battery is in good condition to run the car if necessary to start on a cold day. 4. Carefully examine your electric wiring and its attachment at the terminals. 5. Better renew all oil and grease in engine, transmission and differential. 6. See that all spring devices are tight and that spring shackles and pins are in good condition and well lubricated. 7. Flush out radiator, preferably preliminarily clean it with caustic soda, and have sufficient supply of water in radiator when starting in contest. 8. Drain water traps below carburetor and gasoline tank to remove water. Clean out strainers in gasoline line. 9. Put your best tire equipment on the wheels and see that all the spare equipment is in good condition. 10. Last, but not least, see that your brakes, both service and emergency, are in proper condition.

Motor Cyclists Made New Records. New York, July 24.—Arthur Chapple, of New York, established a new three-mile world's record for motor cycles at the Brighton Beach Motorrome tonight, negotiating the distance in 7:30.25. The first mile of the trial was in 39 seconds, lowering the world's record of 39.15 established by Chapple last night.

Athlete Olympic Champion to Wed. Buffalo, N. Y., July 23.—The engagement of Charles D. Reidpath, winner of the 400-meter event at the Olympic games, Stockport, and Miss Sarva Pratt of this city, has just been announced here. They will be married early this fall, the date to be set soon after the arrival of Mr. Reidpath, who is expected to reach Buffalo on August 2. The Olympic winner and his bride-to-be attended Lafayette High school together. Miss Pratt is a kindergarten teacher.

Cricket St. John Easy for Verdun. Montreal, July 24.—The visiting cricketers from St. John (N. B.) fell easy victims to the Verdun eleven in a single innings match today. The score was 132 to 10. Five of the wickets were clean bowled for ducks' eggs. A remarkable feature was that every one of the visitors went out by the same route, not a single one being run out, caught out or out 1 b w, but all being clean bowled. The score follows: Verdun. Will Not Permit Prize Fight. Sakaotom, Sak., July 24.—Inspector Alford, of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, today made the announcement that he would be present at the Burns-Richard fight vs. Buster Brown, at New Bedford; Jeff Madden vs. Tim Tenbrook, at North Adams.

"Further," he continued, "if it resembles one I will put principals and promoters under arrest." He gave it as his opinion that they would do so so foolish as to defy the law.

TO SEND PICTURES ACROSS ATLANTIC BY WIRELESS

London, July 24.—Wireless messages will be sent across the Atlantic and to other parts of the world by a new system, according to experts, within four months, not only much faster than by the present system but also with such precision that it will be possible to send pictures by this means.

The new system has been taken up by one of the big European telegraph companies and will be given a thorough test by a syndicate organized under the auspices of the telegraph company so far as the transmission of wireless messages is concerned.

Stations are to be erected at Lyons in France and at Washington, and the first test will be made on the 30th of the month. The improvement consists in being able to control a continuous wave, as com-

HOME ON VISIT.
Dr. L. J. Flemming, of Fairville, has returned home there after spending some time in Boston. He intends taking a special course at Tufts University and will begin his practical work after he has finished. He has not definitely decided as yet whether to practise in the states or in this city.

BY CANOE TO ST. JOHN.
A number of boys arrived from St. John yesterday afternoon and will leave tomorrow morning by canoe for that place, expecting to reach home on Saturday evening. The members of the party are Donald Machum, William Donley, Gilbert Climo and Lee Waring. They are now camping near Old Government House—Frederick Gleason.

SURPRISE PARTY.
A pleasant time was spent last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Connelly in Chesley street, when a number of their friends gathered and enjoyed themselves with music, singing and dancing. During the evening they were made the recipients of a happy remembrance of the event. The committee in charge was composed of Misses Agnes Collins and Jennie Doyle, and Messrs. E. J. Hamilton and C. E. Shanks.

MRS. WALTER CAMPBELL.
Mrs. K. M. Murray, who resides at 583 Main street, received the sad news last evening of the death of her brother-in-law, Mrs. Walter Campbell, which took place at her home at Dedham, Mass., on Monday evening, last, his death being the cause. Mrs. Campbell was formerly Miss Jennie V. Irving, of this city. She is survived by her husband, two sons and two daughters.

While some of the advertised features of the Old Home Week had not been carried out they had found the city attractive and were well pleased with their trip. When the "Old Home Week" boomers are being "knocked" so thoroughly, a little evidence in their behalf might not be out of place.

HIT HIM ON THE NECK WITH AN AXE

Vigorous Argument of Enraged Woman in Dispute Over Water Supply—Some Lively Moments

Things were exciting for a time in Mill street this morning, near Paradise Row, when an angry woman of the suffragette type, swung a hatchet on the neck of a junk dealer, and caused the blood to flow, but little more, as, fortunately for both, her aim was not so true as that of another exponent of the axe, Carrie Nation, has often been. Mrs. Watt was said to be the lady's name. In her place of residence it seems that she has control of the water supply, but the monopoly possessed by her is not appreciated by another woman, a junk dealer, named Orson, or at least that is what his name was said to be this morning.

She says that when the water is running from her tap it is impossible to shut it off, even though it does hinder others from getting their share. Complaint had been made by the junk dealer, but she had no say. She could not help it if he were not getting water in his home, and she endeavored to impose upon him that a change might be made, and, as she says, went a little further than that. Mrs. Watt rebelled. In her excitement she lifted a hatchet and struck at the man, but the blow was a glancing one, and did little more than to offend him painfully on the back of his neck and frighten him with the flow of blood.

He went to the street then and a crowd quickly collected. Policemen Rankins and Hann quickly appeared and Sergeant Kilpatrick came upon the scene a few moments later. It was thought unnecessary to arrest the woman in the case, and she was promised most emphatically that "she would be perfectly willing to face the law in court any time," her master will probably be aired in the police court in a day or two.

U. S. CONSUL GENERAL ARRIVED HERE TODAY

George H. Murphy on Bi-Ennial Inspection Tour—Finds Gratifying Signs of Prosperity

The United States Consul General for Canada and Mexico, George H. Murphy, arrived in the city this morning on an inspection tour, which is being conducted, coming from Fredericton where he was yesterday and Tuesday engaged in an examination into conditions regarding the consulate in that city. Mr. Murphy is at the Royal Hotel.

To a reporter, this morning, he said that his visit was of a routine nature and had more to do with office and general inspection work than with matters of public interest. He had not yet had time, he said, to look closely into local statistics and conditions, but he believed that they would show the same results as throughout the rest of Canada, where a prosperous state of affairs is presented.

It is two years since he was in this city and this is his first inspection which he is conducting. Every three months he travels take him over about 7,000 miles of territory, either in the Dominion or in Mexico, visiting consular agencies. A SUGGESTION FOR ST. JOHN'S RICH MEN

Washington, July 25—Gifford Pinchot has added about $500 to his taxes in the District of Columbia by calling attention to the fact that his Washington home is under-assessed by $45,000, or 49 per cent. When an investigating committee discovered that many small real estate owners in the district were being taxed on assessed valuations far greater than the two-thirds value, as provided by law, while many large owners were taxed on much less than two-thirds, Mr. Pinchot employed experts to appraise his property and notified the committee of the result.

SERG. MAJOR DUNSTON

Pembroke, Ont., July 25—The body of Sergeant Major Arthur Dunston of Woodstock, N. B., was found by river men on the shore of the Ottawa River three miles above this town late yesterday. Identification was made by Captain Melville of Woodstock, N. B., who arrived here to take charge of the body. Sergeant Major Dunston was with the New Brunswick troops at the Petawawa military camp in June last and on July 1st was missed from the camp. It is thought that sunstroke caused him to wander from the headquarters of his regiment as there were no marks of violence on the body. The remains are being taken to Woodstock for interment.

While moving with a machine in his field at Victoria Corner Friday, Harry Cox fell dead. He leaves a wife and five children, two sons and three daughters. He was 68 years of age.

SECOND BOY ARRESTED FOR CARLETON BURGLARY

Another Little Chap Pleads Guilty to West End Break — Stole Some Bologna — First Prisoner Failed to Return

Another arrest was made this morning in connection with the petty robberies which have been going on in several stores on the West Side within the past few weeks. Yesterday Sergeant Finley arrested Albert Carleton, aged 19, on suspicion of breaking and entering the store of Harry Smith in Winslow street and stealing therefrom a quantity of cents. He was also charged with breaking and entering the store of William Goodwin in Winslow street, at different times and stealing in all about $8. The little fellow was taken before Magistrate Ritchie in the police court yesterday afternoon and pleaded guilty to the charge.

This morning between 4 and 5 o'clock Sergeant Finley arrested Alexander Thompson, aged 13, on the same charges. He was brought to central station and taken before the court. He pleaded guilty to entering the Goodwin store, but said that he only stole some bologna. He was remanded until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The lad was not taken to the court, but was allowed to go home with his mother, on condition that he appear tomorrow morning. The little Carleton lad was allowed to go home yesterday afternoon on condition that he appear today, but he did not put in an appearance. His mother instructed the police to have him in court tomorrow morning.

HIT HIM ON THE NECK WITH AN AXE

Vigorous Argument of Enraged Woman in Dispute Over Water Supply—Some Lively Moments

Things were exciting for a time in Mill street this morning, near Paradise Row, when an angry woman of the suffragette type, swung a hatchet on the neck of a junk dealer, and caused the blood to flow, but little more, as, fortunately for both, her aim was not so true as that of another exponent of the axe, Carrie Nation, has often been. Mrs. Watt was said to be the lady's name. In her place of residence it seems that she has control of the water supply, but the monopoly possessed by her is not appreciated by another woman, a junk dealer, named Orson, or at least that is what his name was said to be this morning.

She says that when the water is running from her tap it is impossible to shut it off, even though it does hinder others from getting their share. Complaint had been made by the junk dealer, but she had no say. She could not help it if he were not getting water in his home, and she endeavored to impose upon him that a change might be made, and, as she says, went a little further than that. Mrs. Watt rebelled. In her excitement she lifted a hatchet and struck at the man, but the blow was a glancing one, and did little more than to offend him painfully on the back of his neck and frighten him with the flow of blood.

He went to the street then and a crowd quickly collected. Policemen Rankins and Hann quickly appeared and Sergeant Kilpatrick came upon the scene a few moments later. It was thought unnecessary to arrest the woman in the case, and she was promised most emphatically that "she would be perfectly willing to face the law in court any time," her master will probably be aired in the police court in a day or two.

Third Game Postponed This Week — New Pitcher Arrives For Marathons

Old Jupiter Pluvius is certainly playing havoc with the New Brunswick and Maine Baseball League games this week. The Marathons were to have played three games so far this week, one at home, one at Woodstock and one at Houlton, but on account of the weather all three had to be called off. However, it is hoped that Old Sol will take Old Jup. in hand and turn the fans with some nice fine weather for the two week-end games that are scheduled to be played here. The Woodstock team will stack up against the Greeks tomorrow afternoon and also on Saturday afternoon on the Marathons grounds.

Joe Foley, the new Holy Cross University pitcher, who has been signed up by the Greeks, arrived in the city today and will be out in a Marathon uniform tomorrow. He will probably pitch Saturday's game. As yet the management have had no word of Ayres, the Providence pitcher, who is expected to report to the Marathons at an early date.

ANOTHER OPINION ON THE FLAG QUESTION

The Editor of the Times—
Sir—Referring to item in yours of yesterday from the Sydney Record quoting telegram from the Private Secretary of the Lieutenant-Governor, Halifax, that the Canadian Ensign is the correct flag to fly during the visit of H. R. H. the Governor-General, I cannot see the object or necessity of the Mayor's enquiry, or why the public should fly any different flag than the Union Jack during such visit. As the right of every citizen to fly the Union Jack has been settled by recent despatch from the Colonial Secretary, London, the Private Secretary is wrong when he states that the Canadian Ensign is correct, as it has been fully established that that flag is for use as sea only. He is also wrong in intimating that the Duke of Connaught's standard may be flown; His Royal Highness has a special Royal Standard of his own, different from that used by His Majesty the King, but that standard can only be used by H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught, being a personal flag, so it is to be hoped that no citizen or public body will be so foolish as to fly such a flag (even if they possess one); the Union Jack therefore is the correct flag to fly during the visit of H. R. H., and I hope there will be hundreds of them displayed while he is in St. John next month.

Yours truly,
FLAGSTAFF.
