INTELLECTUAL RECIPROCITY

Of late various organizations throughout the Dominion have been endeavoring in different ways to stimulate Canadian publications and home interest in Canadian literature.

This is quite as it should be but the success of these efforts will depend almost entirely on the methods which are employed to that end. It can be accomplished through education, the improvement of taste in literature and the cultivation of talent. The attitude of the editors of Canadian periodicals is also a potent factor and their position one which gives them a splendid opportunity to encourage youthful Canadian writers.

One method which will gain nothing is stirring up any sense of literary rivalry between Canada and the United States. Hostility would bring retaliation and tend to cut Canadian authors off from the larger and very lucrative field of American publication.

Genius would be suppressed. Both countries have suffered considerably through lack of commercial reciprocity and neither should allow this loss to be extended to intellectual and social disadvantage by the erection of artificial barriers to exchange of ideas.

Promoting interest in our own literature is a worthy undertaking and those familiar with the best work of our Canadian authors know that we have indeed much to be proud of.

During the last few years the interest of the reading public of Canada in our Canadian publications has grown rapidly. And this is not due to any special movement or campaign but rather to the fact that Canadian literature is improving.

THE TRADE OUTLOOK.

The business outlook is brightening, according to reports from varied sources and from different parts of Canada and the United States as well as from Great Britain. This is based on a decline in failures and a steady increase in commodity orders, inspiring greater manufacturing effort. The Philadelphia Reserve Bank, in a report made public last week, says:

"The demand for some goods has become so strong that for the first time since the beginning of the re-adjustment period in 1920 markets are in the seller's favor. Most of the business is for delivery within the next few months and in many cases it is greater than producers can handle in the given time. A large volume of orders for shipment next fall has also been booked, but because of uncertainty as to future prices, many manufacturers have refused to accept all the business offered."

Labor shortage and transportation difficulties are, however, hindering manufacturing to some extent. The latter problem is especially distressing to lumber concerns here and in other parts of the Dominion as large quantities of lumber ordered some time ago are lying in the yards awaiting cars.

The United States Federal Reserve Board makes an equally optimistic report on the trade outlook. Although advising the caution that every shrewd business man recognizes as wisdom in this time of changing prices, the board expresses confidence of a steady improvement in general trade conditions.

A London special cable to the New York Times stresses the fact that the disastrous financial consequences first predicted as sure to follow the French advance in the Ruhr have not come about, and says "there was evidence last week of a growing belief that France may, after all, come out of Germany with a fairly substantial profit to herself." However, the ultimate effect of this venture on world trade is rather uncertain.

Nevertheless, if there is steady improvement in American and European trade Canada will be of certainty realize a substantial benefit. The confident tone of the predictions by representative American banking organizations and the reports from England are reassuring and inspiring and should be productive of increased optimism throughout the Dominion.

SPELLING AND THE SCHOOLS.

The Halifax Evening Echo has just inaugurated a competition in spelling for the common school pupils in the City of Halifax. In other words this is a revival of the old time "Spelling Bee" which in other days did so much to promote accuracy in spelling on the part not only of the pupils in the schools but also many who had reached mature years. It is just a question of whether the subject of spelling has been given a prominent place on the list of school studies in recent years as it formerly had. In "four days spelling" matches, which are resorted to by scholars to become proficient in this branch of their studies.

MORE BARNJUM FORESTRY PRIZES AWARDED

Prizes have been awarded in the Barnjum $2,000.00 prize contest for the most convincing arguments in favor of prohibiting the export of unmanufactured wood from Canada, as follows: First prize for the best essay in English, $500.00 went to J. E. Black, 33 Broadway Avenue, Ottawa.

Second prize, $250.00 to Jas. R. Dickson, of Dominion Forestry Branch, Ottawa. Third prize $150.00 to H. C. Scott, 5 Golf Avenue, Pointe Claire, P. Q.

Fourth prize $100.00 to Fred Barnes, Beigo Paper Company, Shawinigan Falls, P. Q. For the best essay in French, $500.00 went to Avila Boiard, Quebec, P. Q. Second prize $250.00 to Albert Trempe, Quebec. Third prize $150.00 to Eugene Rivard, Quebec. Fourth prize $100.00 to Henri Fol, Beigo Paper Company, Van Buren, P. Q.

Mr. Barnjum states that the judges had a most difficult task in awarding these prizes owing to the very high order of the papers submitted, and that everyone of the contestants whether successful in winning a prize or not, can be proud of the knowledge that they have done their country a great service in assisting in the assembling of the great mass of arguments in favor of prohibition of the export of unmanufactured wood, that are contained in these 549 essays sent in from every province in the Dominion.

They not only contain page after page of unanswerable arguments in favor of an embargo but also picture the story of forest devastation and forest conditions in each district from British Columbia to Cape Breton.

Ontario contributed 185 essays; Quebec 79; Nova Scotia 130; New Brunswick 79; Manitoba 17; Alberta 20; Saskatchewan 18; British Columbia 17; Prince Edward Island 8.

These essays, both in English and French will be printed in book form in a series of volumes for free distribution and will form the largest and most valuable collection of data ever published on the subject in Canada, a copy of which will be mailed to each contestant as soon as printed. Volume I will be off the press in a few days.

BIRTH RATE.

New Brunswick had a total of 11,465 births and 5,410 deaths in the year 1922, according to the returns made by the medical health officials of the province. These figures show a surplus of births over deaths of 6,055. If that ratio could be maintained the decennial population increase would total more than 60,000, irrespective altogether of any advantage resulting from immigration. But the last census period showed that our growth was only about 35,000 indicating a less substantially greater than the natural increase.

A Quick Return.

A little Brookline girl on returning from school said, "O, mamma, Mrs. Brown's baby is dead."

"Yes, dear, I heard of it."

"And, mamma, it was only three days old."

"I know love."

"But don't you think God will be spruced to see it coming back so soon?"

Here and There

Point Grey, B.C.—The approximate total cost of the new area that is to be developed by the C. P. R., between Thirty-seventh Avenue and Forty-first Avenue, and Granville Street and Maple Street, will be $1,552,999, of which the municipality will be asked to pay $26,446 for the construction of sewers, which will eventually revert to the municipality. This statement was made by Mr. Newton J. Kerr, land agent for the C. P. R., at the Point Grey Council meeting.

Winnipeg—"Never in the history of the west has grain moved more freely and with greater despatch, and also in greater quantities over Canadian Pacific lines than during the past season," said Charles Murphy, general manager in charge of human lines. "Up to the present time," Mr. Murphy continued, "there hasn't been the slightest congestion on western lines." As an illustration of prompt movement the general manager said that fully 85 per cent of the amount loaded was moved east of Winnipeg daily.

Winnipeg—Speaking of the record crop movement in the Canadian west during the past season and the part the railways played in the marketing of it, D. C. Coleman, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, addressing the Kiwanis Club luncheon here, declared Winnipeg was now the greatest wheat market in the world in the point of receipts. He quoted figures showing that inspections for three months ending November at Chicago totaled $3,775,500 bushels, while inspections at Winnipeg for the same period amounted to 108,231,513 bushels.

Referring to the shipment of grain over the Canadian Pacific Railway from September 1, Mr. Coleman said an average of 1,016 cars were loaded each day in Winnipeg for transportation east which meant that a loaded train left here for the lakes every 45 minutes during the 91-day period.

Calgary—Very considerable interest is being taken in Calgary and throughout Southern Alberta and Saskatchewan in the completion of the gap on the Canadian Pacific Weyburn-Lethbridge branch line which has just been opened for traffic. It is stated that great stimulus will be given to the manufacturing of clay products in Saskatchewan, making it commercially feasible to use coal from the Lethbridge fields for the development of the clays in the north-eastern part of the province.

At the present time there is very little being done in the development of technical knowledge have been responsible for this tardiness. The completion of the branch line, however, it is expected, will call attention to the development of what some people are firmly inclined to believe, will be a new and important industry in the West.

Moose Jaw—After being in the employ of the Canadian Pacific Railway for forty years, William Pascoe, locomotive engineer, of this city, has retired, at the age of 66 years. Mr. Pascoe joined the Moose Jaw roundhouse staff in 1882. The following year he was promoted to freeman, and shortly after handled the shovel on the first Trans-Canada train, over the Moose Jaw-Medicine Hat division. In 1889, Mr. Pascoe was placed on the "hog-head" side of the engine, and handled the throttle on the first locomotive that hauled a passenger train from Moose Jaw to North Portal.

Mr. Pascoe was one of the first to homestead in the Moose Jaw district, and after leaving his home in North Portal, Ont., he travelled to the end of the steel, then at Winnipeg, and completed his journey to this district by means of an ox cart. The lure of the railroad was too strong for Mr. Pascoe, and he abandoned his homestead to enter the employ of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company shortly afterwards, when the steel had reached Moose Jaw.

Quebec—A beautiful booklet which describes the past and present of the Chateau Frontenac has just been issued by the C. P. R., and has been sent by the thousands of Europe and the United States.

It is unquestionably a work of art, replete with illustrations, and containing a graphic history of the "grand chateau." Not only this, but the book is a record of French Canada from the first landing of Jacques Cartier, to the battle on the Plains of Abraham, and from that time on.

The cover is very appropriately adorned by a picture of the Chateau Frontenac in the background.

This book gives interior and exterior views of the hotel, and affords a description of Quebec, "the ancient portal of the new world."

Some Excellent Recipes for Supper Delicacies

It is always a good idea to have a list of attractive supper dishes on hand, for so much information is contained in one volume, that the party is done up in a few minutes. The chafing dish is frequently used, although not as much as formerly, because many of the dishes require oven cooking.

A number of the best dishes can be prepared ahead of time, and the final cooking is done while the party is getting settled at table, so that the hostess is not busy in preparing and serving the first serving.

Each recipe gives full instruction. So even the inexperienced may obtain as good results as the experienced cook by following them carefully.

Sweetbreads in Ravigan

Wash and parboil a large pair of sweetbreads in salted water for twenty minutes. Drain, cool, and dip in white, peel and cut up in half-pounds of fresh mushrooms. Then saute them in butter. Add them to the sweetbreads with a cupful of cream sauce, the juice of an onion, a quarter-cupful of crumbs and the seasonings. Full buttered "ravigan" dishes are lightly and sprinkle the top with a little grated cheese. Then bake in the oven from eight to ten minutes, according to the heat of the oven. Serve garnished with sprays of parsley, and serve little hot biscuits with the ravigan.

Curried Lobsters

Cut up in small pieces the meat of three pound, freshly boiled lobsters, are with a large cup of tomatoes, a few shrimps, a little celery, and a little onion, salt and pepper, a teaspoonful of curry-powder, a tablespoonful of sugar, and a dessertspoonful of Worcestershire sauce. Stew gently for a half-hour. Then strain, thicken with butter and flour worked to a fine paste. Add a little of the hot liquid first, until smooth, then gradually work in the rest of the sauce. When smooth add the lobster and let come to boiling point—but do not boil. Should the sauce lump at all it may be strained through a fine sieve. Serve the curry hot from the chafing dish on toast slices. Garnish with parsley and serve with little hot rolls. "The curry is better if made the day before and allowed to stand all day to season."

EDITOR'S MAIL

Editor of Graphic, Campbellton, N. B.

Dear Sir:

I asked if you or someone through your paper would give, if only approximately figures of the lumber industry in the construction of aeroplanes in Britain during the war. I find that the British government has a present only a little over 500 aeroplanes. Has no one anything to say, either for or against the expenditure of this $33,000 mentioned in my letter to the Graphic recently? Is there no other way of ascertaining the resources of our forests. Have we not had a very large number of men in the woods for the last eight or nine years measuring up our forests? Could information required, be obtained by inquiring at the office of the minister of Lands and Mines? If this information could not be found there what is the use of this expenditure? It looks as if the several governments only want to give those gentlemen an airing through this country at the expense of our people. We have been promised economy by both sides of politics. Economy is not a word to be used in election campaigns. If I am right in my contention in this matter, is there not a man in the country who has the use of his tongue? If I am wrong let him tell me so above his own signature and I will be willing to talk it over in the most friendly way.

Yours truly,

Rev. J. W. Williams of Keswick, N. B., Suffered Greatly from Stomach Trouble and Constipation Found Lasting Relief in Dreo—Recommends it very Highly.

An outstanding testimonial to the merits of Dreo is the case of Rev. J. W. Williams, clergyman of the United Baptist Church of Keswick, N. B. Mr. Williams, who had long and patiently suffered the pangs of indigestion and constipation, says: "I was troubled for a long time with my stomach and various treatments gave me no result whatever. My appetite was very poor and I was forced to be content with very little food. Even then, it would cause severe pains and gas would form after each meal. My bowels were also very irregular. Then I decided to give Dreo a trial and since taking it, I feel 100% better in every way. I can eat things now that I couldn't eat before and my bowels are very regular. I am also sleeping better. Dreo is the best stomach and general builder that I ever tried and I can honestly recommend it very highly."

Dreo is being specially introduced in Campbellton by Wren's Drug Store, and is sold by a good druggist everywhere.

ISSUES MESSAGE TO EMPLOYEES

Urges Enthusiastic and Constant Team Work; be Courteous and Smile.

ISSUES MESSAGE

Sir Henry Thornton has issued the following message to all employees of the Canadian National Railway:

The organization for administering the Canadian National Railway system as one complete unit has been decided; operating regions, district and divisions have been determined. The necessary officers have been selected and their duties prescribed. We embarked upon a mutual enterprise of great difficulty and of vast importance to ourselves both as employees of the company and as citizens of the Dominion. If we make a success of our undertaking we shall not only have added materially to our individual welfare and reputation as railroad men, but we shall have performed a fine and patriotic service which will reflect itself in the advancement and prosperity of our country in which we will all share. But our success will depend upon the skill, energy and high principles with which the property is administered and upon the fidelity, loyalty and vigilance which actuate every employee in the performance of his daily duties. Technical ability alone will not win the battle. Only by enthusiastic and constant team work on the part of everyone, especially the public, we can hope to win. I am sure that every man in the service ardently wishes our experiment to succeed. It will if each one tries to live up to the simple rules.

1. Be courteous and helpful to everyone, especially the public. We need their business.
2. Try to make a friend a day for the Company.
3. Try to influence all the freight and passenger cars on our way. You may think that is the job of the Traffic Department, but it is, but you and I and all of us first, last and always, belong to that department.
4. Do all you can to stop waste. Try to save something each day for the Company.
5. Remember you are working for a company you may be proud of and make it so. Hold up your head and smile, smile, smile.

To The Editor,
The Graphic,
Campbellton, N. B.

Dear Sir:

I notice in your issue of March 29th, last, an item which is interesting but slightly incorrect. The item is headed "Dalhousie's Only Newspaper" "The Keble" edited by John Bateman, whose name I recognize as that of a schoolmate of my own. Even Mr. Bateman would not, I am sure, wish to risk 12¢ a newspaper published in Dalhousie in April, 1906. A copy, only one issue appeared, before he, printed, one sheet in Dalhousie, another English, and, modestly, no editorial name is stamped thereon.

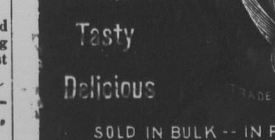

I obtained my copy from its founder, Reverend Father, I think, Bourne is the name, parish priest of Dalhousie; a second copy given me is now in the Archives of Canada, in Ottawa. I considered the newspaper worthy of a place in our Bureau of National endeavor, and my greatest regret is that the Town of Dalhousie has for almost a century suffered eclipse by reason of the stupidity, or was it neglect? of the men who might have made it one of the great watering places on the continent.

I have visited all the much advertised summer and winter resorts in California, New Jersey and inland lakes of our own western land, as well as many of the English and French and Italian resorts, and nowhere have I found anything to equal the bathing delights as they are found along the Dalhousie and Bay Chaleur beaches during the summer time.

Yours faithfully,
KATE SIMPSON-HAYES,

BOYS CONFERENCE REDISTRIBUTION AT CHATHAM MATTER IN HOUSE

Six Sessions Held and Fifty-Six Delegates From Different Points Enrolled.

(Crowded out last week)
The Older Boys' Conference opened on Friday evening in the Presbyterian Church Hall, Chatham, with a splendid gathering of the boys from the town and a goodly representation from such outside points as Loggieville, Dalhousie and Campbellton.

Rev. F. M. Milligan, Presbyterian secretary of Religious Education and acting Boys' Work Secretary of the M. R. E. C., took charge of the organization of the Conference when the officers were elected according to the Tuxis Boys' plan as follows:

Grand Preter, Tom Foulkes, Campbellton.
Deputy Grand Preter, Manier Kitchen, Chatham.
Grand Scribe, Charles Jones, Dalhousie.

Grand Comptroller, Llewellyn Groat, Chatham.
Mr. Milligan gave a talk to the boys on "The Call of the Four Square Life." Four groups were then formed each with their separate organization, and under the leadership respectively of Revs. Messrs. Milligan, Littlejohns and Anderson and Mr. H. S. Murray, acting in place of Rev. W. C. Machum, who was not able to reach Chatham until Sunday morning.

On Saturday sessions were held both forenoon and afternoon, first in the general group with all present and then in the four groups. A service of worship opened all sessions, which were presided over by the officers-elect. Addresses were given which were calculated to interpret both the spirit and method of the Tuxis programme for boys. The last hour or two of the afternoon was given up to recreation and games, relay matches of various kinds being carried out in competition between the several squares.

A particularly good feature of the Conference was the banquet provided by the ladies of the churches in St. Luke's Hall on Saturday evening. The committee in charge, with the cooperation of many willing helpers, certainly spared no pains to make the affair one that heart could wish both in eatables and in tasty decorations, as well as in perfectness of service. Several representative men of the community were invited and in all over seventy partook of the "feast of fat things" provided. A sing song with the humorous and the serious nicely intermingled, was led by Mr. Milligan. Mr. Littlejohns, who presided at the banquet, called upon Mayor Messereau to act as Toast Master. The toast to the King was responded to in the singing of the National Anthem. Dudley Mander, of Loggieville, proposed the toast to "The Church and the Sunday School" which was responded to by successful conference.

Railway News

Hardisty, Alta.—Work has just been completed on the C.P.R. bridge at Hardisty, after a great deal of labor has been spent on it. The trestle was begun in 1906, when the railway came to Hardisty, and trains ran over it in 1908. The trestle is 2,714 ft. long, 70 ft. high, and has in it 1,800,000 ft. board measure of lumber, as well as 27,000 ft. of piling. It is estimated that it has taken 800,000 tons of material to make the full.

The present bridge presents a safe and perfect means of transit. St. John, N.B.—Five members of the Baseball Writers' Association of the United States arrived in St. John from Montreal. They were Fred Lieb of the New York Evening Telegram, who is president of the Writers' Association; Sid Mercer of the New York Evening Journal; Irvin Vaughan of the Chicago Tribune; Denham Thompson of the Washington Post, and Ed. Ballinger of the Pittsburgh Post. They left on the S.S. Arammore for Digby, en route to the Kennebec district where they will hunt big game. The party are the guests of the C.P.R. The trip was arranged by Joe Page, baseball writer and sports enthusiast, who is special representative of the C.P.R. He met the majority of the writers in New York and accompanied them to Montreal, Quebec and as far as this city.

The visitors were met at the station by G. Bruce Burns, district passenger agent of the C.P.R., and C. E. Allen, secretary of the New Brunswick Tourist and Resources Association, and driven to the Royal Hotel.

Montreal.—A press dispatch from Calgary crediting to the secretary of the Federated Shop Trades there a statement to the effect that the C.P.R. and certain other railways had agreed on the reduction of freight rates on certain commodities. The statement was that the C.P.R. had agreed to reduce its rates on certain commodities, and that the other railways had agreed to do the same.

Yorlton.—Another milestone in the history of railway development in Yorlton and district was marked when the members of the clerical staff of the C. P. R. freight department took up their quarters in the new building at Yorlton. This building is 240 feet long and 40 feet wide, and provides accommodation for sixteen cars of freight. The building and track alterations involved an expenditure of nearly $70,000.

Winnipeg.—Great interest in the "eating of facilities for the storing and handling of grain at the head of the lakes" was reported by Charles Murphy, general manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who returned from Winnipeg, where he had been on a tour of inspection. Mr. Murphy stated that there would be an enlargement of at least 4,000,000 bushels in the storage capacity during the coming summer, and it was hoped the new equipment would be in working order in time to take care of the next crop. Two privately owned elevators were to be erected and the buildings of the Saskatchewan co-operative company to be enlarged he stated. One construction outfit was already on the ground and construction would be pushed as soon as weather conditions permitted.

WALL PAPERS.—Spring brings housecleaning and housecleaning and papering go hand in hand. We have just received an attractive line of wall-papers. Call and look over our samples. We will also soon be prepared to handle picture framing. Your inquiries are solicited. McKENZIE'S BOOK STORE, Opposite the Subway, Water St.

Always the Same.—For an hour the teacher had dwelt with painful repetition on the parts played by carbohydrates, proteins and fats in the building up and maintaining of the human body. At the end of the lesson the usual test question were put, among them: "Can any girl tell me the three foods required to keep the body in health?"

Mr. Murphy stated that there was a large quantity of grain being shipped out from the head of the lakes by all rail routes. He declared that he could see no grain blockade in sight. Mr. Murphy pointed out that the Canadian Pacific had moved 14,000 cars off the Saskatchewan division of the railway. This was more than more cars of Saskatchewan wheat than had been moved in the same period in any year.

He also pointed out that even with the unprecedented grain movement the Canadian Pacific was moving from 250 to 275 carloads per day from the head of the lakes. "There was thirteen thousand tons moved yesterday," he declared. I was here three weeks and months ago moving 200 to 250 cars of coal a day, and the boats were kept at that ever since. We realize, he declared, that the wheat can be moved during the cold weather, people can live, but if the cold weather comes and there is no coal there will be great suffering in the country, and possibly worse.

Here and There

St. John, N.B.—J. M. Woodman, general superintendent of the C. P. R., New Brunswick district, announced that the only large expenditure in his district during the year will be for ballasting and bridges. Mr. Woodman returned from Montreal, where he was on a business trip.

Edmonton.—The northern railway extensions, which under the recently announced agreement with the Union Bank will be proceeded with next spring, are to be built by the Canadian Pacific Railway Construction Department. One of the conditions of the agreement between the provincial government and the bank interests is that the C. P. R. do the construction work. It is stated by Premier Greenfield, and the conditions will be complied with by the government, which had originally intended building the roads under its own railway department.

Port Arthur.—Additional trackage accommodations for the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway in its Port Arthur yards this coming summer, especially at Current River, to take care of the increasing grain trade to be created by the elevators there. Other work will also be done locally and at Port William considerable will be undertaken, including the replacement of the two large freight sheds destroyed recently by fire, with buildings of an improved and fireproof type.

Carlton Place, Ont.—On the occasion of the retirement of roadmaster J. L. J. section foreman J. Milligan from the C. P. R. company's service, the fellow employees and their wives gathered at the town hall Saturday, and a social evening was spent. The tables were laden with the very best that a caterer from Ottawa could provide, and about 150 people were present from all classes of the company's service.

St. John, N.B.—C. E. McPherson, Assistant Passenger Traffic Manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, with headquarters at Winnipeg, was in St. John recently, the guest of his brother-in-law, Dr. W. W. White. Mr. McPherson is always a welcome visitor to St. John. He was for many years as the representative of the C. P. R. Eastern lines, when he went to Toronto, and later in 1909 to Winnipeg, his headquarters since. He has watched this Western metropolis grow from a town of 40,000 to a city of 200,000.

Yorlton.—Another milestone in the history of railway development in Yorlton and district was marked when the members of the clerical staff of the C. P. R. freight department took up their quarters in the new building at Yorlton. This building is 240 feet long and 40 feet wide, and provides accommodation for sixteen cars of freight. He said that he was not sure if he would be re-elected or not, but he was sure that he would be re-elected if he was given the opportunity.

SEED POTATO SHIPMENTS

Summerside Journal: During the past month fifty-five cars of certified seed potatoes, or 45,000 bushels, were shipped from P. E. Island to the southern markets. The Potato Growers' Association, Secretary Brother informs The Agriculturist, had sufficient orders to clean up all the seed stock in the province, but owing to the continual blockade it was impossible to ship and great quantities from sections over the narrow gauge, and as a result, through no fault of either the Association or the growers, it was impossible to fill many orders. There will still be a few shipments to go forward for the northern market, but it is now too late to ship south.

KEPT LIQUOR IN SAFE

Adding on information received from Kedgwick Prohibition Inspectors W. Smith and H. P. Dyle succeeding in getting the goods on Philip Oullette of that place on Thursday of last week. The evidence which consisted of 1 1/2 gallons of pure alcohol was stored in a safe.

The woman in charge of the treasure attempted to bluff the officers stating that she did not know the combination of the safe, but having become convinced that the evidence they sought was behind the steel door the inspectors promptly set to work to take safe and all with them. This tentative move greatly improved the lady's memory and after securing the combination number on a bit of paper she had opened the safe without once looking at the numbers. The case will be prosecuted at Kedgwick.

CONSISTENCY THOU

ART A JEWEL.
The business man who sends abroad for any product which can be obtained from or through his fellow business man is doing his own business and the whole town an injury—Exchange.

And yet we have known of Campbellton business men to complain bitterly of the competition of mail order houses and then give orders to Toronto travellers for printing which could be done as well and as reasonably in price in their own province of their own town. They could see how trading with Ontario mail order houses built up Ontario at the expense of New Brunswick, Toronto at the expense of Campbellton. They failed to see how buying from Toronto printers accomplished the same result. They did not see that they were cutting their own throat by putting local tradesmen out of employment. The Toronto printer who did their work would never buy anything from them. The Campbellton printer who might have done their work was bound to have bought from them.

The telegram appears below:—

Douglstown, Que.

After an illness of only four days Mr. Francis Kennedy a pioneer resident of Douglstown, Que., passed to his reward at the age of seventy seven years. His death came as a shock to his many friends for although he had been in failing health for sometime the end was unexpected. During his short illness his patience and resignation was splendid. Mr. Kennedy was born in this parish and was a highly respected and very successful farmer of this place. The deceased was a staunch Catholic and a generous supporter of every Catholic interest in this district and was widely known and highly respected. A very large congregation assembled in St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church on Thursday afternoon, March 29th at three o'clock to pay the last tokens of respect to the deceased and to unite in silent prayer for the repose of his soul. The solemn funeral high mass of requiem was sung by the Rev. Father Myles, P.P., while a full choir chanted devotionally the mass for the dead and Miss Agnes Morris presided most acceptably at the organ. The deceased is survived by his wife two sons, two daughters, two brothers, a large number of nephews and nieces and a host of friends and neighbors. The sons are: Michael Kennedy, Sr., and John Kennedy of the parish; the daughters are Miss Kate Kennedy and Mrs. Edward J. Trachy of Douglstown, while the brothers are: Frederick Kennedy of Montreal and Isaac Kennedy, Sr., postmaster of Douglstown. In the death of Mr. Kennedy another of Douglstown's pioneers has been removed, and the sympathy of the entire community is extended to the family and relatives in their recent sad bereavement. The bearers were Messrs. Smith, Baird, Gaul, Elias Briand, William Grant, Richard Briand and Ambrose Gaul. He was predeceased by his mother, Father, one daughter, one sister and five brothers. He was laid to rest beside him in the Roman Catholic cemetery here.

Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Rooney spent Sunday afternoon and evening in Seal Cove, the guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mahar. Messrs. Earl and Roy Maher of Seal Cove, spent a few days here last week, the guests of "Uncle" Maher. Miss Carberry of Grand River is spending a few weeks here as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Xavier Kennedy.

Rain is badly needed in this district as the water in the wells and streams around here keeps very low and has risen only a few inches since the beginning of December. The sun is shining strongly today and there is just enough "pep" in the atmosphere to keep one moving.

Work has commenced on a small scale at the government wharf here and a few men have found employment there. The work is under the direction of two of our most capable men Messrs. Austin Kennedy and Arthur Grant and we are sure of it being well done.

Mr. Manzer McAuley left on Thursday morning for Cape Magellan, Que. where he has obtained a position with the Great Eastern Pulp Company. He was accompanied by Mr. Albert Gaul, who returned to Douglstown on Monday evening.

There is good news for our citizens in general in the announcement that the three mills of the Shepard & Morse Lumber Company, the Howard & Smith Paper Company and the St. Maurice Pulp Company are expected to resume operations for the summer as soon as the drive is over. One of these mills did not run last summer, while the Howard Smith's mill has been closed for a number of years.

Mr. Elias Briand who has been employed for the past few months by the Maritimer Lumber Company in Rocky Gully, N. B., arrived home on Friday evening. Rev. Father Grenier, formerly attached to this parish, but now of Gaspé Basin, passed through on Monday's train enroute to his home in Percé, Que., to spend a few days with his father, Dr. Grenier.

Rumors has it that there will be built at different points along the Gaspé Coast several large cold storage fish plants for the handling of fresh fish. The idea is that immediately the fish are brought in they will be frozen just as they are and it is claimed that by this process, they retain their entire flavor and taste and are kept as fresh as when they left the water. A plant of this kind would cost somewhere around $3,000 and it is quite probable that the Government will commence with several of them so as to try them out. We hope that they will locate at Douglstown, which would render valuable service to our local fishermen.

The Misses Doris and Audrey Cosgrave of Gaspé Basin, spent Monday and Tuesday here the guests of their aunt, Mrs. Isidore Leral and other relatives.

Services of the Holy Week were held in the Roman Catholic Church here on Thursday, Friday and Saturday and were attended by a large number of worshippers. Mrs. Albert Kennedy of Haldimand came here on Sunday morning to attend high mass and in the evening was the guest of her brother, Mr. Horace Grant at her old home here.

Mr. Michael Kennedy, Sr., who has been employed during the past winter with the Maritimer Lumber Company in Rocky Gully, N. B., was called here quite unexpectedly on Saturday night owing to the serious illness and death of his father, the late Mr. Francis Kennedy, who died on Sunday.

The death of a religious is the opening of the portals which hides the beauty of the heavenly realm from mortal vision it is the passing "out of the shadows of sadness" into the sunshine of gladness. A recent death of the Holy Father in Campbellton, N. B., brought home to all who witnessed it, the exceeding beauty of the life which makes the moment of death a happy longed for moment. Such indeed it was with the Rev. Father Cormier, pastor of St. Gabriel's Roman Catholic Church in Jacques River, N. B., who though ill scarcely two months awaited with eager loving desire his entrance into eternity.

Father Cormier was a native of Gaspé although the exact location of his birthplace is not known to our correspondent. By the death of this good priest at such an early age the parishioners of Jacques River as well as the diocese of Chatham, N.B., mourn the loss of a beloved pastor, a faithful friend and a devoted clergyman. To the surviving relatives is extended much sympathy and also to the zealous pastor of the Church of Our Lady of the Snows, Rev. Father Melanson and his assistant, Rev. Father L. J. Stives in the loss of their faithful friend whose presence was to be seen on many special occasions in their beautiful church.

On the following morning after breakfast, Maurice brought the lorry round to the hotel and we started off for a good day's journey with Camille as our further objective. Maurice assured us that the lorry was in excellent condition and we need not fear that it would come to grief. I had been asked to look up the grave of a young Quebecer who was buried in Achoult Cemetery, so making the station we made our way thither. Achoult had been our last billet before the attack on the Canal du Nord. We went down the old road which once had seen the battalions moving up to the forward area. The whole district, being re-built, but it is still considerably damaged, and on all sides in the ruined buildings and broken trees we read the tale of the war.

The Cemetery, which was situated on a side-road, we found at last, and saw the man working at it. After taking photographs of the grave I was looking for, we started off to the front. Skirting Arras, we passed through Bligny, and crossing the River Scarpe by a new and rather flimsy wooden bridge, we came to St. Laurent and turned to the right along the well-known road. This had always been a scene of activity, for it was the main highway for troops when our front line was at Pampoux in the early part of 1918. On the right of the road were the trees and green bushes of the Pampoux which always looked inviting as we passed them. On the other side of the road the banks were green, and here and there were the ruins of some buildings. We came to the railway crossing and saw the large embankment which had once been honey-combed by dug-outs for the battalions in reserve. It used to be a little city of covered ways and many a time I have gone down there to visit my friends in their dug-outs. I saw the wire, the post-hole, the barbed wire, the sentry post, the machine-gun position, and the communication trenches leading to our front line. For beyond this point the road to Pampoux was under observation by the enemy. Camille Valley

PUTS HEALTH AND VITAMINS INTO WOMEN

So Says Mrs. MacPherson of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brentford, Ontario.—"I was always tired and the least exertion would put me out for a day or two. I had a pressing pain on the top of my head, skin in the nape of my neck, and when I stopped over I could not get up without help, because of pain in my back. I did not sleep well, and was nervous at the least noise. I keep house, but I cannot wash dishes and sweep without having to be helped. I became regular again in my monthly terms. I have taken ten bottles all told and am now all better. I can truly say that your wonderful medicine cannot be beaten for putting health and vitamins into a woman."—Mrs. JAMES H. MACPHERSON, 309 Greenfield St., Brentford, Ont.

We continued our way to the front, then turning to the left, made our way slowly for the road was in bad condition, till we came to the village which we had captured on September 2nd. There was no doubt that poor old Camille had been in the war-zone. It is struggling bravely to come to life again, but the ruins of the village are on every side. We recalled to mind the dressing station by the road where the wounded were gathered on stretchers until sent back to Arras in time for the ambulance course through the crowds of limbers and marching men, passing by the way many dead bodies awaiting burial. The peasants who are now building their houses and hurrying to get their crops ready, little know of the great and fierce human emotions which swept over Camille in that grim fight.

We longed to get out and to see the old places, but it was already long past our lunch time and we had to think of poor Maurice, who was waiting and uncomplainingly, was navigating the lorry over the damaged roads. We passed the ruined Chateau de la Motte, where I had spent the night with the 5th Siege Battery. The Gunner was most interested when he found the home of his old unit, and we were forced by old associations to make a short pause and enter the building. No grammophone now played the "Meditation" from the opera, but the empty windows the sunlight streamed on the ruined tiled floor. Underneath the cellar were silent and damp. A few shells had been thrown into the garden put out branches on which green leaves were still growing, among which spring birds no longer sang. I thought of the men who were building a house nearby. They were pleased to think that Canadians had not forgotten them. We then crossed the broken stone bridge over the Canal. The latter, however, was a disappointment. It is now completely dry and almost filled up with earth and rank weeds. We found it hard to imagine the difficulties which surrounded our crossing it on that early September morning when it was the Germans' front line. I suppose that some day it will be dug out once more and barges will carry their freight on its pleasant waters through the green country-side.

We skirted the town of Saint-Leu-Marquain, from which no longer machine-guns poured down deadly fire, and, having regained the Arras-Cambrai road, turned down it, past the place where the 2nd Division had made its advance, till we came to a mud road leading up to Haynecourt. The 5th Battalion had taken this place at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of 27th. The old houses were still standing and the inhabitants are hard at work getting the place into shape again. I saw the country where I had made a German prisoner drink the water of eastwards where we had pushed forward and held on grimly in the outposts and shallow trenches. All the trees along the road are broken and half dead. In the ditch on the left, night and day, our men had held their ground, while the German artillery from Cambrai and machine-gun fire from concealed batteries made the neighborhood a veritable death trap. Under those fields of rich grain lies many a gallant lad whose remains have never been found, and from those fields many a brave soul has gone to the presence of its Maker. We sped down the way in silence thinking of those thoughts and filled with that strange sense of loneliness which haunted us all through our visit to the front.

It was indeed a curious sensation to enter the city of Cambrai. I had been knocked out before the Canadians took it in the war, so it was my first introduction to the city, the town of which I had been looking at when I was hit. We found Cambrai full of activity. The centre of the town has been badly damaged by shells but a good part of it has escaped with only some of the scars of war. We had great difficulty in finding a hotel, for in the central district the houses were so close together that traffic. We had, therefore, to follow some byways under the directions we had received from one of the inhabitants as we entered the town. At last we were shown to a new hotel of pretentious appearance and, on entering, found the hotel as the Germans had left it, it would be some time before we could have a special meal cooked for us. The waiter seemed rather sorry and inclined to minister to our wants. By dint of a good "tip," however, we set things moving and finally had a sumptuous meal in a large dining-room which was quite new and furnished with an attempt at splendour.

We had travelled a long way and the luxury of a smoke and comfortable chairs made us reluctant to resume the journey, but we had to get back to Arras in time for the train that evening, so we went out and examined our poor old friend, the light lorry, very carefully. It had had one puncture. The blocks of cement, from numerous joltings, were loose on the edges, but the vehicle itself had the same patient, dogged, determined spirit it had when we had embarked in it at Arras. It had been a good friend to us, and after leaving us at Arras that evening, had to carry Maurice on to its old home.

After paying a rather large bill for our lunch, we started off. Time was pressing so in spite of the fact that we should have liked to have visited Chery and other villages on our return, we determined to keep on the Arras-Cambrai road and make our way back without turning to the right hand or to the left. It was intensely interesting to travel with my faces towards our old line, and to see the country as the Germans must have seen it. At certain parts of the road, where there were villages or roads, the shells had been very heavy and the road was still in bad repair. We passed hardly anybody on the journey, and all the while the green farmlands dotted here and there with the red brick houses of reviving villages, looked to us very strange. Something had gone from them never to come back. Activity, courage, danger and the shadow of death have vanished like the thin air which passed into the summer air of home in memory of the feel the surge of those great thoughts which come, now and then, out of the past, at the call of music.

One place, however, we could not pass. It was the little village of Tilloy. When we reached the cross-roads, we turned up it and made our way to the Chateau. The cellars of the old Chateau were ones in "No man's land" and here Colonel Peck of the 16th Battalion had his home in front of our front line. A very good home it was, with its deep recesses and comfortable passages. To our amazement now we found a large, new stone house standing on the site of the old one. The new house was built on the foundations of the old one, and the building was almost finished and will one day be a comfortable home. The lady who owns it lived in a wooden house in the grounds and superintended the building operations. She received us most kindly and showed us about of the place. She had preserved the large German dug-out, built of concrete, which adjoins the Chateau. It will be a good souvenir in times to come, and, no doubt, will remain intact for many years. Scrambling through branches and fields of thistles we reached the road which took us to the British Cemetery where we found the grave of a gallant young Quebecer, a college friend of the Gunner's. It had been decorated by our kind friend, who during his residence at Douai in the war, had always done his best to minister to the comforts of the British prisoners there. Friends in Quebec have sent money to the people of Tilloy, so Madame told the little boys in the streets to give us a parting salute as we mounded the lorry on our return. It was delightful to meet someone who had been in the same place as we, and amid the ruins of her old home, to cheer by the thought of those kind friends overseas whose boy's grave the town in France.

Every inch of the road on our return brought back old memories. Many is the time I have walked along it, or gone over it in my side-car. We saw here and there, among the fields, white clouds which marked the location of our gun positions. Before us against the western sky lay the city of Arras. At the door of the big modern station, we bid farewell to Maurice and sent him home contented. Then, entering the building now filled with people of all descriptions, we bought our tickets to Amiens and took our seats in a comfortable railway carriage, leaving behind us for a time the great memories of the Arras we had known.

Croupy Cold Goes Overnight

Ontario Lady Says Vicks "Has No Equal."

Every mother wants her children to be active and to grow strong through outdoor play. But frequent colds sap their vitality, cause loss of school standing, and keep youngsters sallow and delicate.

Children who use Vicks VapoRub for children's colds find that the kids can play outdoors and that their cold troubles can usually be checked overnight.

Applied externally, Vicks acts like a stimulant or poultice. In addition, the inhalants in the vapors of Vicks help to loosen up the passages of the inflamed air passages. This double action quickly loosens up a cold.

Mrs. A. Lott, of 72 Empress St., London, Ont., writes: "I wish to say for children with croup, Vicks is grand, and for colds it has no equal. Baby has just come in and wants Vicks put on his hand which he hurt while playing. It is a fine thing and I would not like to be without it in the house."

For a free test of Vicks, write Vicks Chemical Co., 344 St. Paul St., W., Montreal, P. Q.

The Vicks is now in Canada it enjoys a remarkable sale. Over seven million jars used yearly.
