A TRAVESTY OF JUSTICE

Dreyfus To Be Informed That His Retrial Is Going On.

This "Concession" Only Granted on the Persistent Appeals of the Prisoner's Wife-Inhuman Conduct of the Authorities.

Paris, Nov. 15.—The court of cassation yesterday examined General Zurlinden and General Chanoinne, who recently resigned successively the portfolio of minister of war; and it is said that their evidence was highly important in upholding the attitude they have taken throughout that Dreyfus is guilty, and that a communication of the secret dossier would compromise the safety of the state and the good relations of France with foreign nations.

General Zurlinden, now military governor of Paris, has decided, it is reported to send Lieut.-Col. Piquart before a court martial on the charge of having communicated to his counsel, M. Lebelois, a chapter of the Dreyfus dossier containing the letter about "that canaille" — since known to be a forgery, through the confession of the late Lieut.-Col. Henry.

The court of cassation has informed the minister of the colonies, M. Guillaumin, that it has decided that Dreyfus be informed by telegraph that the revision proceedings have commenced, and that he prepare his defense.

This action on the part of the court of cassation is due to the efforts of M. Dreyfus, the faithful wife of the unfortunate prisoner of Devil's Island, who, as recalled from Paris on Friday last, applied to the minister of the colonies that day for permission to send her husband some warm clothing for his return home. The request was refused, and at the same time the authorities read her a letter from her husband, in which the prisoner said that, having for five months addressed appeals for a revision of his sentence to General De Boisdeffre (until recently chief of staff of the French army), without receiving any reply, and being weary and exhausted by his useless appeals, he would write no more to his family or to anybody, and described himself as ill and dying, and bequeathed to the "generosity of any country the care and rehabilitation of my memory."

Mme. Dreyfus then asked permission to cable to her husband the decision of the court of revision to review his trial, and this request also was refused.

Mme. Dreyfus then, through a friend, appealed to President Faure, with no better result, whereupon her counsel brought the whole matter before the court of cassation, with the result indicated in the dispatch just received from Paris.

West Bound Express and a Freight Train Crash Together.

First Reports State That Nine Persons Were Killed and 30 Injured.

The Mail Car Set on Fire by the Smashup.

Three Belleville Trainmen Among the Victims—An Open Switch Said to Have Been the Cause.

[G. N. W. Special to The Advertiser.] Belleville, Ont., Nov. 15.—This morning about 3:40 No. 5 G. T. R. express train going west collided with a freight train from the east at Murray Hill, near Trenton.

The engineer, W. H. Brady, of Belleville, and his fireman, John McDonald, also of Belleville, and John Casey, of Belleville, an engineer who was going to Bowmanville to take charge of an engine, were instantly killed in the express engine.

Percy Walker, of Belleville (Casey's fireman), was badly hurt.

It is reported that there are nine killed and thirty wounded.

Ten of the injured were brought to Belleville and placed in the hospital.

A French or Italian woman died on the way down. Of those in the hospital, only one, Andrew Carey, cattle buyer, of Cobourg, is dangerously injured.

An open switch is the alleged cause of the disaster.

Belleville, Ont., Nov. 15.—Two passengers, names unknown, were killed, and three passengers, names unknown, fatally injured. Twenty passengers, most of them being in the Pullman cars, are more or less seriously hurt. Nine or ten of the wounded are now in the Belleville hospital under treatment.

The accident occurred at a place called Diamond, about two miles from Trenton. The express, which is due here at 3:35 a.m., ran into an open switch and dashed into the freight train.

[G. N. W. Special to The Advertiser.] IN THE HOSPITAL.

Belleville, Ont., Nov. 15.—Following are the names of the passengers in the hospital:

A. Carey, Cobourg, scapulae fractured; severe.

P. Walker, Belleville, scalp wounds and leg injured.

James Newman, Toronto, head injuries and other hurts.

John McNamara, severe injuries to head; recovery doubtful.

Kinnear, car torn off and other injuries.

Chinaman, skull fractured and thigh fractured; recovery doubtful.

Tracy, slight lacerations about two miles from Trenton. The express, which is due here at 3:35 a.m., ran into an open switch and dashed into the freight train.

[G. N. W. Special to The Advertiser.] THE OFFICIAL REPORT.

[C. P. R. Special to The Advertiser.] Montreal, Que., Nov. 15.—The following is the official and corrected report of the railway accident near Murray Hill this morning:

At 4:45 this morning, train No. 5, engine No. 773, Engineer Brady, Conductor Purdon, in passing from the single to the trouble track at Murray Hill, took the east bound-track in the face of switch and signals set against it, and proceeded until it collided with No. 712, Engineer Ireland and Conductor Deavitt, a mile and a half west of Murray Hill, badly wrecking the two engines.

Engineer Brady and his fireman were killed, together with Engineer Casey, who was a passenger on No. 5, and three other passengers on No. 5.

Fourteen passengers were injured. Doctors were immediately procured from Belleville and Trenton, and attended to the injured, who subsequently were taken in charge of Dr. J. A. Hutchinson, chief medical officer, to Belleville, where they were placed in the hospital.

[G. N. W. Telegraph to Advertiser.] DETAILS OF THE DISASTER.

Trenton, Ont., Nov. 15.—The early morning G. T. R. express, No. 5, from Montreal, which leaves Trenton at 3:35 a.m., for the west, had just left Trenton station in charge of Conductor R. A. Purdon. Wm. Brady was at the throttle with Jack McDonald as fireman. About two miles west of Trenton the double track commenced, and at this point is a flag station. About one mile further west, on the main track, a freight from the west was WAITING FOR THE EXPRESS TO PASS.

to the south track. When the flag station was reached the switch was found to be turned for the main track, and a few moments afterwards the express

CRASHED INTO THE WAITING FREIGHT TRAIN.

Driver Brady was killed instantly, and the fireman was also killed. The two locomotives locked into each other, but strange to say did not leave the track.

One of the first-class coaches crashed into the second-class car, in which were a number of emigrants and drovers. Here the greatest number of casualties occurred.

A FRIGHTFUL SCENE.

The scene was a frightful one. The emigrants were crying and moaning, the wounded dragging their maimed bodies as far as possible from the wreck, and those who were pinned down by the debris crying vainly for assistance.

Those who were uninjured immediately started for assistance. Several farmers lived near the track, and with the help of those and some of the other passengers the wreckage was cleared away.

THE DEAD WERE LAID IN HEAPS and the wounded conveyed to places of safety.

The driver and fireman on the freight jumped and landed safely, with but a few bruises. Conductor Purdon had left the second-class coach, but a moment when the crash came. He escaped without a scratch.

The express messenger, C. A. Winters, of Montreal, was in the mail car when the accident occurred. Questioned by a reporter, he stated that he was engaged in writing when there was a crash, and he found himself in the other end of the car.

CAR ON FIRE.

The stove was upset and the flames were springing up all over. He extinguished them, and then went outside to see what had happened. The scene was frightful in the extreme.

The second-class car was A COMPLETE WRECK, and the end of the first-class coach protruded fully five feet from the rear end. The wounded were crying for help, and in the darkness it was impossible to see the extent of the cause of the accident. Fortunately the wreck did not take fire, or there would have been a frightful disaster, as there was a large quantity of whisky and coal oil in the freight cars.

ENGINEER CASEY'S DEATH.

Jack Casey, of Belleville, an engine driver, was on the train as a passenger. He was on his way to Toronto to report for duty, together with his fireman. Casey was instantly killed, but the fireman escaped with some injuries.

The brakeman on the express jumped, and was only slightly injured, while the baggage man was equally fortunate.

NO LIST OF VICTIMS.

At the time of writing the list of killed and wounded cannot be procured. It is stated that ten are killed, and some twenty-five wounded.

STAR GAZERS DISAPPOINTED

Meteorites From Constellation of Leo Failed to Materialize.

But Two Children Are Reported to Have Met Instant Death in Perry,
Okla., by the Fall of an Aerolite.

San Francisco, Nov. 15.—The hopes of the star-gazers at the Lick Observatory on Mount Hamilton, concerning the results to be obtained by observation of the meteoric showers, have not been realized. The shower on Saturday morning was disappointing, but the scientists were not daunted, basing their expectations on the display that was to come after midnight of Saturday and Sunday. The big shower they longed for, however, has not yet put in an appearance. The shooting stars that were observed were small, and their passage was not marked by extraordinary brilliancy.

DETROITERS DID NOT SEE THEM.
Detroit, Nov. 15.—The shooting stars failed to shoot Sunday night, although local astronomers had almost a clear sky to look through. Leo rose calmly from his lair in the eastern horizon, but no shower of meteorites attended his stalk through the jungles of the sky. A week from next Sunday night another shower is expected, apparently in the constellation Andromeda. These are the displays expected to be preliminary to the great meteoric shower due next year at this time.

AN OKLAHOMA STORY.
Perry, Okla., Nov. 15.—During the heavy meteoric showers Sunday night two Henderson children became frightened, jumped out of bed and ran into the doorway where they were almost instantly killed by a meteor which smashed their little bodies into an unrecognizable mass.

The shower made many think the end of the world was at hand, and hundreds spent the night in prayer. Indians also thought that the shooting stars indicated the coming of the Great Father.

DEARER SUGAR

American Companies Increase the Price of All Refined Grades.

New York, Nov. 15.—The Tribune says: The American Sugar Refining Company yesterday advanced the price of all grades of domestic refined sugars an eighth of a cent a pound, this move being promptly followed by the independent refiners. This increase makes the price of granulated 4½ cents a pound, or 4½ cents net, exclusive of trade discounts, and is the first general advance since the beginning of the cutting of prices between the American Sugar Refining Company and the outside refiners. On Oct. 27, B. H. Howell, Son & Co., representing the National and Mollenhauser's companies, advanced their rates on hard grades an eighth of a cent a pound, making their price for granulated 5½ cents; but they subsequently put the price back to the old figure.

A Clear, Smooth Skin.

Eruptions, rashes of all descriptions, and the varied forms of skin diseases are essentially the result of impure blood.

The many wonderful and permanent cures wrought by Burdock Blood Bitters in such diseases as Eczema, Salt Rheum, Tetters, Shingles, Erysipelas, etc., are on account of its marvellous blood purifying and blood enriching qualities.

B.B.B. makes the skin clear by making the blood pure.

Mrs. R. E. Lees, Fenelon Falls, Ont., says: "I was troubled with eczema, which broke out all over my body in a scalding rash and then turned to large sores, some as large as a 25 cent piece. I tried two doctors and they did me little good. At last I got Burdock Blood Bitters and took four bottles which entirely cured me and I cannot say too much in its praise. It has made my skin clear and smooth."

THE LIBERALS OF WINNIPEG

Voice Their Approval of the Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Course.

[C. P. R. Special to The Advertiser.]
Winnipeg, Nov. 15.—At a largely attended meeting of Winnipeg Liberals last night, Mr. Isaac Campbell said that in view of some statements in the president's inaugural address two weeks ago, and the interpretation placed on them by the Tory press, it was his duty to move the following, which was adopted:

"That the Winnipeg Liberal Association affirms its confidence in the Government of the Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and also its approval of the able and energetic administration of the department of the interior by the Hon. Clifford Sifton."

DEATH OF MR. D. SCHOFF

License Inspector of North Middlesex —A Sturdy Pioneer.

Word has been received of the death of Mr. D. Schoff, of Clandeboy, the veteran license inspector of North Middlesex.

Mr. Schoff was taken ill at church on Sunday, and gradually became worse, passing away at 6 o'clock Monday evening. The immediate cause was rupture of the bowels. One of his sons, Mr. Elgin Schoff, the Toronto barrister, arrived a few minutes before the end, but his father was unconscious. Two other sons were also present.

Mr. Schoff was one of the sturdy pioneers of this county, and was known throughout its length and breadth. He possessed the esteem of all. Although over 80 years of age, he enjoyed marvellous physical and mental activity, and continued to perform the duties of his office, traveling over the riding incessantly. His spare time was devoted to his farm at Clandeboy. He was a busy, a useful and honorable life. The family have the utmost sympathy. One son is a leading chemist in Dawson City, and it will be months before the news can be conveyed to him.

WANT IT POSTPONED

Trial of Marion Brown May Stand
Over Till Spring.

Mr. P. McPhillips, counsel for Marion Brown, the peg-leg, awaiting trial for murder, has notified County Crown Attorney Magee and Sheriff Cameron that for various reasons he will not be able to proceed with the trial at the January assizes, and asking for a postponement until the spring assizes.

One of the reasons for delay is that there is a large number of witnesses, widely scattered, some of them living in Texas, Missouri and other distant places in the United States.

Deputy Attorney-General Cartwright, Mr. McPhillips says, has assured him that the crown will subpoena such witnesses as the prisoner may satisfy the crown are material.

CALLED HOME.

Death of the Rev. William Chapman—
Distinguished Life of This Well-Known and Beloved Divine.

The death took place at an early hour this morning of the Rev. Wm. Chapman, at his late residence, 527 Dundas street, after an illness of some four months duration, aged 83 years. Though not unexpected, the news of Mr. Chapman's demise will be heard with much regret in all sections of Western Ontario. His long connection with the Methodist Church brought him into prominence throughout the Dominion. He was respected wherever he was known, as a true and whole-souled man, and his death is a loss to the community.

The deceased was born in Yorkshire, England, and came to Canada some 50 years ago. He was ordained into the Methodist ministry in the year 1850, his first charge being at Shannonville (near Belleville). Mr. Chapman was also located at the following places: Cardston Place, Grenouille, Port Dover, Gosfield, Warwick, Centralia, Aylmer, Ilderton, Blenheim, Ridgeway, Mount Brydges, Amherstburg, and other places. His last charge was at Port Huron (now West London). He was also pastor of the Pall Mall (now Colborne Street) Church, city. On the death of Rev. Dr. Tresham, of South London, Mr. Chapman came to this city in course of erection, and was completely under his able direction.

For 28 years, deceased labored in the active ministry, and had been superannuated, and living in this city for 23 years. He leaves one son and three daughters to mourn his death. They are: Mr. J. H. Chapman, the well-known drygoods merchant, city; Mrs. Jas. Burgess, city; Mrs. Charles Austin, Chatham, and Mrs. A. C. Crews, of Toronto.

The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 from his late residence, Dundas street.

THE HOLY LAND

What It Was, What It Is, and What It
Will Be—Illustrated Lecture by a Converted Jew.

An illustrated lecture of the most interesting character was delivered in the Auditorium last night by Mr. E. Rautenberg, a converted Jew, on "The Hebrews' Fatherland." The lecture was but poorly attended through some unexplained reason; but those who missed it missed a treat. The information and explanations together with the views make the lecture invaluable to Sunday school teachers and Bible students. The lecture was preceded by singing by Master Bernie Rautenberg, a child about 9 years of age. Bernie has a voice of rare richness and range, and, considering his tender years, he is probably the most wonderful juvenile singer who has ever confronted a London audience.

Mr. Rautenberg's first view was Palestine. Here are situated a majority of the places mentioned in Bible history. The first picture was the Land of Hebron, showing the cave of Machpelah, the tomb of Abraham's wife, Sarah, which Abraham purchased from Ephron the Hittite, which was also the resting-place of Jacob, and many other Israelitish notables. King Solomon's pools, which he built to provide Jerusalem with pure water, were also explained. Bethlehem, the speaker said, contained the beautiful women of Palestine. It had about 5,000 inhabitants, but the women were of a very quarrelsome nature, very long-tongued, and forever at strife with one another. If a disturbance anywhere in Palestine occurred it could safely be reckoned upon that the women of Bethlehem were there. They even fought at their church services.

Rachel's Tomb, the House of Evil, upon which Judas Iscariot counseled with the priests for the betrayal of Christ, and Jerusalem and its surroundings were shown to great advantage. Jerusalem was a little place, covering only 200 acres. The city was dirty, the people were dirty, and in fact nothing fit to eat could be purchased there. It was divided into four quarters—Mohammedan, Armenian, Christian and Jew. There were two railways, one from Joppa and the other from Damascus. The city had been destroyed and rebuilt seventeen times.

There were few historic places in Palestine which were not shown, together with their people, past and present. Some of the more notable buildings, such as the tomb of David, within the upper chambers of which Christ spread the first communion supper; the Mosque of Omar, one of the most elaborate in the world which stands upon the spot where Abraham was about to sacrifice his son Isaac; and the Temple, which stood. The Church of the Holy Sepulchre and the blasphemous ceremonies were fully explained; the gates to the city; the Valley of Jehoshaphat, and the Valley of Gethsemane were also pictured and described.

Doan's Kidney Pills

THE REMEDY SHE USED.

[From the Peterboro Examiner.]

Our representative called at the residence of Mrs. E. Toole, Kent street, Lindsay, Ont., and was favored with an interview. Mrs. Toole states:

"For three years I have suffered terribly with pains in my back and limbs, and also with excruciating pains in my head and neck. I felt very dizzy, and when I awoke in the morning seemed to be in a stupid or dazed condition, so much so that it would be a couple of hours before I was able to do anything. Many a time I had to walk the floor for hours at night, on account of the pain from which I suffered. I had no appetite, and was very nervous and easily startled; sometimes feeling that I was about to faint from the fluttering and palpitation of my heart."

"All last summer I was attended by a physician who said I had Diabetes, and I can say that I have taken a great deal of medicine, but received no benefit from the same. In fact, I was in an awful state of mind, but myself knows how much I suffered."

"I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, and have taken two boxes of them. From the first I commenced to improve. They have worked a wonderful change in me, the better in my head. They have cured all the pain, restored restful sleep, strengthened my nerves, and given me a good appetite. In fact, I am sure the pills were exactly the medicine I needed; and I can express the joy I feel in the change in my health, which is all caused by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Doan's Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or three for $1.25. The Doan Kidney Pill Company, Toronto, Ont.

Remember the name, DOAN'S, and refuse all others.

TAYLOR AT IT AGAIN. Philadelphia, Nov. 15.—"Major" Taylor, the crack colored cyclist, yesterday broke another world's record at Woodside Park. He rode for the third of a mile record of 30½ seconds, made by Willie Windle, at Chillicothe, Ohio, in the fall of 1895, and was successful in his first attempt. Taylor had quite a tangle in his first attempt. A strong breeze was blowing down the back stretch. The blowing down the back stretch was a wonder, who urged the riders to go faster. The pace set carried him the third of a mile in 29½ seconds. Later Taylor tried for the three-fourths of a mile figure of 1:10, held by J. S. Johnson, but the best he could do was 1:11.

At Pittsburgh, Pa., Eddie Gardner and Mark Kerwin fought a 20-round draw at Millvale. Gardner had possibly the better of the fight in aggressiveness. At Rochester, N. Y., the decision at the end of the 25th round of the bout between Kid Goulette, of Rochester, N. Y., and Joe Hopkins, of New York, was a draw. Goulette made a chopping-block of Hopkins for the first fifteen rounds. After that the fight was more even.

NOTES OF SPORTS.

Entries for the New York horse show are more numerous than last year. E. O. Kragness, a California wheelman, lowered the American 50-mile road record from 2:22:59 to 2:13:29 on Sunday. He made the last ten miles in 2:15, lowering the American record of 2:14. Buffalo racing men want a track on the American side. An interstate whist contest between Michigan and Ohio is on the tapis.

BISMARCK'S SILVER WEDDING.

During Motley's visit, the 25th anniversary of the marriage of the Prince and Princess was celebrated. At dinner, on the day of the silver wedding, Bismarck suddenly silenced conversation by tapping on her glass with her knife and whispers to Motley, "You must propose papa's health." Then Motley in a speech he describes as a masterly effort in the German language, lasting 25 seconds, does so; and there is much clinking of glasses and hip-hip-hurrahing. Bismarck making a short speech in reply, and others to his villagers and musicians who have come to entertain him. "The telegrams of congratulation," says Motley, with some surprise, "numbered 200." On Bismarck's later anniversary, they ran up into the thousands. The Kaiser's Feudal Ground in North American Review for November.

Politics in Municipal Affairs.

The municipal reform question has been thought important enough to justify a special meeting of the City Council tonight.

The Mayor is reported as saying that he favors the ward system because its abolition would cause a greater introduction of politics into municipal affairs. Considering the Mayor's record his objection is amusing, but characteristic. His worship has openly boasted that his own election was a political victory, and has seldom missed the chance of proclaiming it all year at party gatherings, male and female. This is hardly the way to dissociate politics and municipal affairs.

We do not think a reason can be given for the statement that politics would be a larger factor if aldermen were elected by the general vote. Nobody is blind to the fact that under the present system each party puts up a regular aldermanic ticket, and anyone who runs independent of the machine is distanced. It could be no worse in this respect under the proposed new system. Even if politics were not eliminated, both parties would be obliged to put up superior men, because each candidate would be appealing to the electors at large and would have to rely upon some better qualification than a "pull" in his own ward. This would frighten away inferior men, who are often able, under present conditions, to force their party to sanction them.

The people of London, irrespective of party, would greatly prefer to exclude politics from municipal elections and municipal business, but the trouble is that neither side will trust the other side, and so the grind of the political machine goes on without ceasing. Control of the City Hall is supposed to be a party advantage, but recent events have shown that it cuts little or no figure in parliamentary contests. The last four of these have been lost by the side which happened to be in power at the City Hall for the time being. This year the streets department has been "worked" for all it is worth in the interests of party, but wherein did that party profit last March? A bylaw like that proposed in Hamilton, taking the patronage out of the hands of aldermen and leaving the City Engineer to control his own department, would remove one political temptation in the Council. The City Hall would then be of very small value to either side.

However, there is no suspicion of political intrigue in the movement to abolish the ward system and reduce the number of aldermen. The motion was moved by a Conservative, seconded by a Liberal, and supported and opposed indiscriminately by both sides. No doubt some of those who favor the retention of the present system do so conscientiously and unselfishly, but they should not allow their own opinions to obstruct an expression of opinion by the people. There can be no reasonable objection to the amendment providing for this expression in January.

Diplomatic Defeats.

Diplomatic defeats are not pleasant, or they would not be named defeats. They do not involve bloodshed, though they are supposed to mean loss of prestige, and may come to loss of territory. Britain is supposed to have had a large share of diplomatic defeats in recent years. According to continental journals she was always badly beaten. This kind of criticism helped to stiffen her back—when real business came, it was felt that these omniscient authorities would make a great mistake if they concluded that the nation which had made sacrifices for the peace of the world would yield everything to threats, and that the "splendid isolation" meant utter weakness. This "splendid isolation" was the subject of much sarcastic comment, but it has shown its splendid reality. Britain has at last gained a diplomatic triumph as a result of fearless firmness, and now she is told that this triumph will cost her more than a defeat—she has estranged "a friendly nation." It is a peculiar thing that when Britain gets a diplomatic defeat she shows her weakness, but when she gains a victory of the same kind she is in a still worse position. There is too much cant about that kind of criticism. The nation that has used the Russian alliance simply to bother Britain, and has tried to get in an underhand way what she threw away openly is "a friendly nation," and "the two liberal nations of Europe ought not to quarrel." All that is mere nonsense. No one desired to see a great nation humiliated, but M. Delcasse is not the French nation any more than Lord Salisbury is the British nation, and if one in the course of this diplomatic business has occasionally to suffer defeat, why not the other? We are told that Lord Salisbury has several times put his foot down, and has had to take it up again. There is evidently no special providence to save French diplomats from that kind of vexation. The principle seems to hold good here that obtains in other spheres of life: If the thing is not worth fighting for, or if you are not determined to hold out to the bitter end, it is well to yield gracefully early in the day, and so take the sting out of the diplomatic defeat. There was a time when the French could have retired from Fashoda courteously, and at that time they were all saying that they did not care a cent for Fashoda, but now they retire "with bleeding hearts," and propose to have a future revenge, and to show their friendliness to the British lion by continually treading on his toes. The lion does not appreciate that kind of friendship, and it is no wonder if he emits an impatient growl. The lesson it seems to bear for all of us is that when "the diplomatic defeat" comes our way, we have a chance of showing that we can take our share of that bitter medicine in a manly fashion.

Ethics and Imperialism.

A NEW NATION AND A NEW DUTY. By W. M. Salter. Ethical Address, 8 Burns Weston, 1305 Arch street, Philadelphia.

Recently Mr. Felix Adler, who belonged to the same ethical circle as the author of this pamphlet, treated the same question, but came to an opposite conclusion. These "ethical societies," we are told, came into existence because the Christian Church makes too much of dogma and no longer gives the people ethical culture. This is a big subject that we cannot now discuss. We think, however, that the leading Christian ministers in the Republic are just as anxious to elevate politics and treat foreign affairs in a humane spirit as the lecturers on ethical culture. The respective positions of Mr. Adler and Mr. Salter show that the leaders of ethical societies are like other men—divided when they are asked to apply their precepts to practical life. One thinks that the "duty" of the Republic lies within itself in building up the national moral community; the other that it has new colonial duties, and if it can do these well the reflex influence will uplift its inner life. We welcome this discussion even with the divergence, as it is healthy. The citizens of the United States must face these questions. Thus Mr. Salter: "When I recall the mood in which the President has spoken, I see a new nation stepping forward to accept that duty. A flush is on its face—not the flush born of a consciousness of triumph, but the flush of ardent resolve, the flush of forward looking expectation, the flush of a youth who takes up a task that he knows will try his powers. Go on, brave heart, and never strike sail to a fear. Go on, and let thy fortune be Forgotten in thy destiny."

The reviewers pronounce Barry O'Brien's "Life of Parnell" to be more or less disappointing. So was Parnell's life.

A dispatch from Peking says Li Hung Chang has been shelved again. The old man has been shelved many times, but he usually manages to get a shelf near the pie-counter.

Hon. N. Clarke Wallace has transferred his august presence to Washington, and will doubtless work against any Canadian-American understanding to the full extent of his voice.

The bull fighters of Havana have appealed to the American Government to protect their ancient and honorable calling. The problems of imperialism are already pressing on Uncle Sam for solution.

The Free Press, in the matter of municipal reform, is like a house divided against itself. Editorially it approves of the movement, but its local columns combat the editorial page with vigor. You pay your money and takes your choice.

The Canadian commissioners and their families are being regally entertained by the President and his colleagues at Washington in return for the hospitality shown the American commissioners at Quebec. This is one article of reciprocity thoroughly agreed upon.

The local Court of Revision (which comprises three commissioners) has already wound up business, and we are told that its work was "an easy row to hoe." It was not so when eight or ten aldermen ran it. The court has proved a pretty good argument for fewer municipal bosses.

The death of Dreyfus at this juncture would be a terrible climax to the tragedy. It is to be hoped the rumors to this effect are untrue. With Dreyfus living France has still a chance to rehabilitate her good name, but it would be eternally blackened if Dreyfus should meet death before justice.

When an ambassador like Count Cassini, belonging to the most secret school of diplomacy in Europe, breaks through official reticence in order to declare that Russia's love for America is greater than Britain's, it is evidence that the Anglo-American idea is making too much headway to suit Russian designs.

There is a suggestion of humor in the fact that Mr. George W. Gooderham, of distillery fame, has secured most of the stock of the Temperance and General Life Assurance Company—mixing whisky and water, so to speak. This well-known company, it is said, will be amalgamated with the Manufacturers' Life. It will make a strong combination.

West Huron Liberals have picked a winning team in Messrs. Holmes and Garrow, the candidates for the Commons and the Legislature respectively. It rarely happens that one riding has two bye-elections concurrently, but West Huron Liberals are ready to meet half a dozen. Mr. Garrow has proved one of the ablest members of the Legislature, and it is gratifying to know that body is soon to have his services again. Mr. Holmes, who is the mayor of Clinton and the editor and proprietor of one of the leading weekly newspapers in the province, enjoys the respect and confidence of both parties in the riding, and has the best elements of strength as a candidate and a future member.

The earnings of the Bank of Montreal fairly indicate the condition of business throughout the country. For the last six months these were nearly $20,000 in advance of the corresponding period last year. The following comparison of half-yearly earnings is interesting:

|      |       |           |
|------|-------|-----------|
| 1898 | ..... | $629,118 |
| 1897 | ..... | 609,940   |
| 1896 | ..... | 603,350   |

Murat Halsted, the noted American journalist is suffering from an acute attack of Dewey on the brain. The admiral, modest, simple man, will be stunned when he reads this gorgeous paragraph:

"The finger of manifest destiny points its course. From out the plans of the infinite it shall be the mission of Dewey, as the concrete force of the principle of equality, to roll the wave onward to the redemption of the Orient. Our brothers beyond the seas, the slaves of darkness, shall be reclaimed from superstition and misery, from ignorance and despotism through the heroic achievement of the matchless Dewey. The blessings of liberty shall go on and on, to China and to India, to Siberia and to Arabia, to Turkey and to Russia, until the civilization of the Occident, the outgrowth of the teachings of the lowly Nazarene, shall encompass the world. And in that day, when the representatives of the federation of man shall meet in the parliament of the world, there will be emblazoned upon the walls, in colors of living light, the immortal names of Constantine and Luther, Gustavus Adolphus and John Wesley, Patrick Henry and George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and Thomas Jefferson. Over their far advanced above them all glowing like a crest in all the colors of the prism, like a beacon of light, like a rainbow of promise, will stand the immortal name of Dewey."

Cuba will be much in evidence in the next session of the United States Congress that meets in December. The political status of the inhabitants of the island will then be settled. It is not at all probable that the people will be given carte blanche to run the island as they please, for many a long day to come, at any rate. The military regime will be maintained for years yet, and we do not believe that domestic peace and prosperity could be established without a rigid rule of this description. Great Britain has never managed to set countries similarly situated to Cuba on their feet without prolonged military rule. But there is a rule of this kind that is made easy and agreeable to the inhabitants, and there is a rule that is obnoxious, and such as to cause constant friction between rulers and ruled. Continental military nations have ruled their colonies generally with a rod of iron; Great Britain with a gloved hand. Britain has been by far the most successful. Which of the two systems will our neighbors pursue with their newly-acquired "crown colonies"? On their answer to this question depends whether they will succeed or fail in the mission, which they have undertaken to establish government, just and humane, in the territories which the fortunes of war have placed under their control.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Quite So.
[Oshawa Reformer.]
The people of London, Ont., are a great people. They resemble others in that they don't believe in doing things by halves.

Too Much to Expect.
[St. Thomas Journal.]
London aldermen have decided they do not want the ward system abolished. It is a trifle inconsiderate to ask a man to vote himself out of a job.

Indian Summer or Malaria.
[Chicago Times-Herald.]
The Boston Transcript editorially says:

"June and November have kissed each other, and there is a composite richness that offers itself to our delighted senses. Existence is ecstasy. The air charges the blood. A purple haze gives an effect of dreamy magic. It harmonizes all physical incongruities."

That evidently is either Indian summer or malaria.

This Great Railroad Center.
[Guelph Mercury.]

By the extension of the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway from Ridgeway to St. Thomas, not only the Baby City but London as well will be placed in a better position as regards railway facilities. It will make the fourth trunk line directly in touch with the latter city. St. Thomas the other day voted $20,000 toward the extension in question.

Mr. Pettypiece's Victory.
[Sarnia Observer.]

The Observer congratulates H. J. Pettypiece, M.P.P., on the result of the efforts of his opponents to deprive him of the honors he so honestly won at the provincial elections, when he restored East Lambton to its rightful place as a Liberal constituency. Our special dispatches today contain the announcement that the trial judges at Toronto have dismissed the case, the petitioner's counsel having no further evidence to offer.

Apples for Russia.
[Stratford Beacon.]

Canada's commercial independence is indicated by a direct apple trade springing up between Canada and Russia. In the past, Russian firms have bought their Canadian apples at Liverpool and Hull. Last week, however, an order was received in Toronto by cable from a wholesale firm at Helsinki, ordering a shipment of 1,800 barrels of Baldwin's and Russets, which have been shipped to them by the Imperial Produce Company. The London Strike.

[Hamilton Herald.]

So, upon the whole, the London street railway men, who a short time ago were in a position much inferior to their Hamilton comrades, engaged in the same class of work, have raised themselves to a position which is up on the record and look!

That's the style of man We need at the van; One who is there, Not otherwise; It is men who go in That win!

And there was ever a sign That received any slight At the hands of Roosevelt? Was there ever a cause That he made his own And left it alone To the guidance of others? Say, Does Roosevelt do things that way? We'll open the book Of his record and look! Do you find a line That doesn't shine With the kind of vim That every American wants lots of in him? Of course! You don't. And that is the force

Afterward.

Well, It 'twas hell At San Juan; it was A great deal less hot In the fight Which closed Tuesday night, And in this as that The Colonel's gray hat Shone like a guiding light All through the fight. And the Colonel was there You may swear, Right under that Great gray hat, That the style of man We need at the van; One who is there, Not otherwise; It is men who go in That win!

Latest Weather Forecast

Toronto, Nov. 15-11 a.m.—Probabilities for the lower lakes region for the next 24 hours: Fresh to strong southerly to westerly winds; fair, stationary or a little higher temperatures today. Still milder tomorrow.

LATE LOCAL ITEMS

—Mr. Archie Black, jun., is seriously ill with typhoid fever.
—Mr. Scott Murray, of Woodstock, has returned home after a visit to friends in this city.
—It is anticipated that one of the features of the city council meeting tonight will be the "passing" of the hospital agreement. This topic for discussion has attained a "ripe old age," and the aldermen will no doubt grieve at the departure of their friend.
—Mr. W. D. Mahone, of Detroit, president of the Association of Street Railway Employees of America, has written Mayor Wilson, thanking him, the city council, the ministers, the press and public generally for the interest taken in the London street railway employees during the recent strike.

POLICE COURT BUDGET.

Magistrate Parke has little police court business these days to worry him. At this morning's session Joseph Watson was charged by Abraham Pinkham with the use of abusive and threatening language. A short time ago Mr. Watson went to board at Pinkham's, and a familiarity grew, which bred contempt, then the trouble came. Pinkham did not appear and the case was dismissed. Ben Garside was charged, on complaint of Wm. O'Neill, with disorderly conduct. He was let go with a warning. John O'Neill, drunk and disorderly, was assessed $2 a week, and two tramps, Thomas Ryan and Thomas Perry, went down for 20 days in default of a $5 fine.

VAUDEVILLE SHOW FOR THE

Opening on Monday evening next, a complete vaudeville performance will occupy the Grand the entire week. The specialty acts will be the best to be secured, and the prices will be of the popular kind. Manager Rote himself is engaging the people, and if the introduction of this style of performance is successful, it is his intention to continue vaudeville of the best class during the season, when the dates are open. Everyone who is familiar with the prominent actors and actresses of recent years knows how the best dramatic people of all descriptions have drifted into vaudeville performance. New York, Boston, Philadelphia and all the large cities have specially built theaters for the production of vaudeville. The list of performers will be announced in a couple of days.

THE NEW ELECTRIC LAMPS.

The city's electric light system is being rapidly furnished with the Adams-Bagel lamps. Several have been put up in front of Dundas and Richmond street stores, and give every satisfaction. The light is powerful and steady, and no shadow is cast underneath the globe. It will be remembered that these are the lamps which the city engineer mentioned in his specifications, drawn up when the city considered purchasing its own plant. The specifications were objected to on this and other grounds, and in consequence a controversy developed in the Canadian Electrical News. A number of letters from electrical men and firms appeared in the issue of last month, and their general tone is highly commendatory of the specifications, aside from their objection that they mentioned one particular style of lamp.

THE RAILWAYS

Close Call for the L. E. and D. R. R.

Bonus at St. Thomas.

The Lake Erie and Detroit River Railways had a close call on losing the $20,000 bonus in St. Thomas the other day than appears on the surface. While they got a majority of the votes cast, it was also necessary that one-third of the qualified voters should favor it. On this test they had but three majority.

An English parliamentary paper just issued throws some startling light on the dangers of a brazenman's life. In 1888 one brazenman or guard in every 185 was killed, and 1 in every 20 was injured. In succeeding years the proportion has been much the same, though a slight reduction in the number killed, but in 1897 the proportion of brazenman killed was 1 in 15, and of shunters 1 in 12.

Take Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. 25 cents.

Among the 28,782 students in French colleges, according to the latest figures, only 871 were women.

FAGGED OUT.—None but those who have become fagged out know what a depressed, miserable feeling it is. All strength has gone, and despondency has taken hold of the sufferers. They feel as though there was nothing and life for the medicine. There is a cure—one box of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will do wonders in restoring health and strength. Mandrake and Dandelion are two of the articles entering into the composition of Parmelee's Pills.
Hamburg's improved apparatus for burning garbage does the work for about 9 cents per thousand pounds.
A DINNER PILL.—Many persons taken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment, it becomes a poison to the system. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convey the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They rid the medicine to take if troubled with indigestion.

MINISTER VS. BURGLAR

Desperate Hand-To-Hand Encounter—The Son Belto Worst.

New York, Nov. 15.—Rev. Maurice Rosenthal, a Jewish clergyman, was aroused from his sleep early today, by hearing a stranger in his house in East One Hundred and Sixteenth street. Arming himself with a pistol, he went into the parlor, where he was attacked by the intruder. The two men fought desperately for a few moments, the burglar proving to be the stronger. At last the clergyman fired his pistol full into the face of the burglar, who fell unconscious, a bullet having torn out his left eye, and entered the brain. The wounded man was taken to a hospital, where he recovered sufficiently to give his name and address, as William Farrell, of North Third street, Philadelphia. He is about 21 years of age, and of powerful build. The surgeons say he cannot recover.

HAPPY CRETANS

Rejoicing at Deliverance From the Power of the Turk—Naval Presence Was Found Necessary.

Canea, Island of Crete, Nov. 15.—The population of this town is holiday-making, there is a great rejoicing everywhere. The town has been charmed by the bishop, and amid cheers, he invoked divine blessings upon the protecting powers who have freed Crete from Turkish rule. The Christians are behaving well, and there is no sign of ill-feeling among the Mussulmans. It appears that Chakir Pasha, the last Turkish commander to leave Crete, refused at the last moment to allow the transport to sail, claiming that he was entitled to receive decisive orders from the Turkish Government.

Thereupon Admiral Pottier, the French naval commander, dispatched the torpedo boat Vaytour to exercise the necessary pressure upon the Turkish commander, threatening to adopt forcible measures unless the transport put to sea. Chakir Pasha then yielded and the transport departed.

A QUEBEC GIRL

Compelled by Female Weakness to Give Up School

Till She Began to Use Dodd's Kidney Pills—Now She is Healthy and Strong—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cure Women's Ills.

St. Cunegonde, P. Q., Nov. 1.—The case of Miss Ellen Dowson, of Gerard street, Toronto, has a parallel in this place. Dodd's Kidney Pills have brought happiness into a stricken home, by restoring a beloved daughter to health and strength.

Mr. P. Dubois, who resides at No. 100 Napoleon road, in this place, tells the story in these words: "For many months my daughter endured the agonies of 'Female Weakness' and I was unable to help her. I was grieved to see her suffer, and she came to me, finally, that she was obliged to remain at home from school for fully three-quarters of the time."

"By a friend's advice, I bought a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and she was delighted to see that she began to get better almost immediately after beginning to use them."

"She has taken in all four boxes, and is today in better health than she ever enjoyed. She is strong and healthy, and goes to school every day."

"I cheerfully certify to the wonderfully beneficial effect of Dodd's Kidney Pills in this case. I am a father, and beside my daughter's cure, I know of a number of instances in which they have completely cured the sufferers."

Women who suffer from any of the diseases peculiar to their sex, can find no other remedy than to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. The testimony of thousands of women who have been cured proves the efficacy of the pills. Dodd's Kidney Pills go to the root of the matter. They heal and strengthen the kidneys, and so remove the cause of disease.

French Conversational Lessons.

A treat in store for those who wish French conversational lessons in pure French. So many of our students are yet unable to converse. Conversation only comes through practice, and for this reason private classes are being formed at the Conservatory of Music for conversational, at very moderate fees. Mlle. Vander Broeck, the celebrated artist (late of Paris and Brussels) has charge of the classes. Mlle. Vander Broeck is a lady of superior culture, an artist of fame, wears the Legion of Honor, and is an excellent French scholar. It certainly is a privilege to converse with her in her native tongue. Her lessons will prove extremely interesting. Private individual lessons in speech, or speech in song will be given or in classes.

HON. MR. BLAKE IN WALES

Addresses a Large Meeting at Cardiff

On the Irish Question—The Rebellion of 1798 and Its Lessons—Irish Unity Urged.

The South Wales News of Nov. 8 contains the following report of a meeting at Cardiff, Wales, addressed by Hon. Edward Blake, ex-Liberal leader of Canada, and now the Nationalist member for Longford, addressed a crowded meeting of his fellow-countrymen at the Philharmonic Hall, Cardiff, on Wednesday evening, his visit being the occasion of the local celebration of one of the most memorable incidents in the annals of Ireland—the rebellion of 1798.

Mr. Blake, who is the guest of Ald. P. W. Carey, J.P., ex-mayor, was supported by every Irishman of note in the district. Mr. Blake, who received a warm welcome, prefaced his address by contrasting the absolute and relative position of Ireland of today with that in 1798, and said that from possessing one-third of the population of the British Isles Ireland now had but one-ninth, and her taxation was about the only thing that had increased. It was the memory of the movement of 1798 that he wished to bring before the people to redress the grievances of Ireland in 1798 that they were honoring that night, and he proposed to do so not for declamation, but by submitting to them that the highest complaint they could pay to their heroes and martyrs was to follow the lessons of their lives, Ireland's powers of resistance to oppression used to effect a hundred years ago were primitive against the arms of the modern world. The best weapons today would be the effective use of the vote. These celebrations had been made all over the country, and though it was doubtless galling to those in authority, they were on the whole treated with indifference. The attitude was because the celebrations were considered to be ineffective. What he wanted to do was to make them real to practical advantage, and one way of showing spirit and unquenchable determination was to be shown by the men of '98, and by finding out and applying the fundamental principles which animated them. They owed a duty to the men whose first principle was union, as a principle that was the end as well as a means, for now as then the foes of Ireland trusted in the disunion of the Irish people. Having shown that the great claims of the "United Ireland" party in 1798 were the same as today, he pointed out how regrettable it was that the voice of Ireland was not united in the British Legislature, and demonstrated how more effective the Irish parliamentary party could be if there was absolute loyalty to even the weakest possible chairman than when there were several members actively working for a position for their own aggrandizement. There was no essential difference between the Irish and the rest of the world, and there was practically agreement as to the methods for securing them. Turning to the central and overwhelming question of Home Rule, what should be the policy of the Irish party? To him there was but one answer. It was to let petty ambitions, jealousies and rancorous drop, and to follow the example of the heroes of '98, and by influencing others in their favor by the unity of their representatives, the solidity of their constituents, such as was done when they were brought near their hope by the late government. (Applause.) There were differences in details, but that measure of Home Rule, but the compromise was accepted by Irish people the world over as a reconciliation. Millions adopted that high policy as based on justice and the best interests of all. However, the forties were adverse, the present outlook was uncertain, but he for one would not forget fidelity. (Hear, hear.) Details of the policy could be left to experience and he thought they would be fools to come from this position with a reference to Home Rule unless they were forced; they should continue prepared to fulfill settlement with any British party. (Hear, hear.) Personally he did not pretend to satisfaction with the attitude of many Home Rule orators, but he accepted suggestions made in several high quarters that the local government act had materially changed the situation in Ireland. He was a Home Rule supporter ever thought it would meet the demand of Ireland; no Unionist pretended it would; and no Nationalist agreed to it. (Hear, hear.) Neither did he agree with another suggestion that it was now for Irish Nationalists to formulate a proposal of Home Rule. No, they abided by the settlement as he had indicated. He put this not as a bargain or alliance. Both sides were independent, but let the policy for Home Rule be adhered to by those who had formulated the proposal. If they thought change needed they should say so like men, and any fresh proposals could be discussed if they were justified by reasons. It was for the Irish party to consider what was advanced in this matter, and he for one would not treat them as the government treated France over Fashoda by refusing to listen, knowing as he did the essentials of the Irish view. Meanwhile the way to success was in closing up their ranks. They should be ready with their ballots, prepared to act as one

REVISION OF THE ASSESSMENT

The Court's Work Is Practically Completed.

Street Railway's Appeal Alone Remains Unsettled—Several Factors Have Made the Work This Year Lighter Than Usual.

While the number of appeals against the city's assessment this year have been no fewer than usual, the court of revision has had a much easier task. Its work is now over, with the exception of the street railway company's case, which requires a special session. The absence of insurance companies' appeals, the arrangements with the loan companies and the failure on the part of an unusually large number of appellants to put in an appearance, saved the court a lot of trouble this year.

Chairman J. W. Jones and Mr. A. T. McMahon formed the court yesterday, Sheriff Cameron being unavoidably absent. Decisions were reserved in a few cases, and will be given when the court meets to consider the street railway company's appeal. The cases decided were of ordinary interest.

Reductions were made on West London property as follows: Andrew Ferguson, $100; Mrs. Hoolihan, $100; James Hoolihan, $100; Alex. Currie, $50; Mrs. Derr, $50; Robert Annett, $100; John S. Annett, $200.

Other reductions: The two Misses Bowman, $400 each; C. Carter, $200; James Kerrigan, $400; James Burton, $400; John R. Gurd, $300; Amelia Griffin, $200; A. Assessments of the following were confirmed: E. A. Miller, Mary J. Harris, John Flynn, John Burns, Grafton & Co., George H. Bonser, William Young, Samuel Houston, Jerry McDonald, William Gibson, James Campbell, Wm. Guest, Mary A. Tillman, Mrs. Hartman, Henry Burton, R. C. Macle, Moses Masurek, James R. Shuttleworth.

The following were ordered to be entered on the rolls as tenants or owners: J. Fitzgerald, E. O. Baker, Alfred Robinson, Harry Dyson, F. L. Ross, Dan Decatur, John Cambridge and Albert Hunter.

—Miss Ada Phillips, of this city, has returned from Woodstock, saying farewell to relatives and friends, preparatory to leaving for Butte, Montana, next week.

—A car on the Wellington street line jumped the switch in front of the Teumseh House about 9 o'clock last night, and caused eleven cars to be blocked at the point before it was again placed on the rails.

The piece abounds with startling incidents connected with the Sepoy rebellion in British India. A matinee will be given this afternoon, and the company will close their engagement with a performance this evening.

The selections by Mr. Williams were the features of the evening.

Suffered Untold Agonies. Limbs Swollen So Could Not Get About.

Ablest Physicians Signally Failed. Was Absolutely Disheartened. Had Lost All Hope.

Gave CUTICURA A Trial, Which Resulted in Absolute and Perfect Cure.

For ten years I suffered untold agonies from that dread disease Eczema, my lower limbs most of the time being so swollen and broken out that I could hardly go about. I had to wear slippers so that I could move about at all. My brother, a physician of thirty years' practice and extensive experience, had tried in vain to effect a cure and signally failed. I tried other physicians of splendid ability with like results, and had reached that point where I became absolutely disheartened, and in fact had lost all hope, when a friend introduced me to CUTICURA. I bought a trial box. I used two cakes of CUTICURA Soap and two boxes of CUTICURA (ointment), and it resulted in an absolute and permanent cure. I am now perfectly cured, sound as a dollar, and to CUTICURA Remedies I attribute my almost miraculous cure. I refer all interested to the Postmaster of this place, any of the ministers, the prominent business men, and all of the citizens of our vicinity indiscriminately, and especially to my friend, John A. B. Shippey, attorney at law, who persuaded me to give CUTICURA REMEDIES A TRIAL.

THE LATE MISS M. M. ROUTLEDGE.

The funeral service of Miss Mattie M. Routledge, at the family residence, King street, city, on Friday afternoon last, was attended by a large number of sympathetic relatives and friends. It was conducted by Rev. Dr. Saunders, pastor of the Dundas Street Central Methodist Church, the interment taking place at the Pond Mills cemetery. The pall-bearers were six young men, all cousins of the deceased. Her death occurred on Thursday morning, Nov. 10, after a few weeks' severe illness, though she had been in failing health for some months. She was the youngest daughter of the late George Routledge, treasurer for years of Westminster township, and had reached the age of 17 years and 3 months. She was a young woman of many endearing qualities of mind and heart, and a member of the Methodist Church, from the Sunday school of which her presence will be greatly missed.

POPULAR WITH HIS FLOCK

St. George's Church Congregation Want Rev. G. B. Sage to Remain—Two Resolutions Adopted.

A congregational meeting was held in St. George's Episcopal Church, West London, last evening. The meeting was called to take action in regard to the resignation of the rector, Rev. G. B. Sage, which will be handed in today and considered at a meeting of the vestry tonight. Rev. Provost Watkins presided.

Mr. Sage was recently offered the rectorship of the St. Johns congregation, in succession to Ven. Archdeacon Marsh, at a salary of $1,200. For the past eleven years he has labored in West London, and his work has been so satisfactory that his leaving would be a source of general regret. The congregation is unanimous in wishing him to stay.

Provost Watkins, in opening the meeting, said he had had the pleasure of Mr. Sage's acquaintance for three years, and he would be sorry to see him remove from the city.

Ald. Jolly, church warden, said he would be most happy to see Mr. Sage remain. He was sure that the increase in salary was not prompting Mr. Sage's resignation.

Mr. R. A. Jones, the other church warden, was also favorable to Mr. Sage remaining in West London. Mr. Jones felt that 99 out of every 100 persons in the village would favor Mr. Sage's remaining.

Mr. Robert Kingsmill said he was sure that he voiced the feelings of the people when he said he would very much like to see Mr. Sage refuse the call to St. Johns. Mr. Kingsmill moved that a committee be appointed to thoroughly canvass the parish for subscriptions to the rector's stipend. Mr. Kingsmill believed that the congregation could partly meet the salary offered by St. Johns.

Mr. Gibson expressed the opinion that Mr. Sage would not be bettering himself by removing to St. Johns, and offered another resolution. "This is a city now, you know," said Mr. Gibson, "and people are trying to get to the cities now, and it would kill Mr. Sage to go to St. Johns and start with a congregation of half a dozen. I think it sharp practice of the township to think of getting Mr. Sage from us. They have always been a little envious of this church because we have got along so well." Mr. Gibson's resolution was to the effect that the church-wardens should prepare an address to the Bishop of Huron, setting forth the great hardships under which the congregations would labor by the removal of Mr. Sage, under whose ministry the church had steadily progressed.

Both resolutions were unanimously adopted.

A large committee volunteered to make the canvass of the parish. Mr. Sage receives $800 from the congregation and $125 from the rectory fund, and out of this he pays the taxes and also the interest on the mortgage on the rectory, amounting to about $125.
