A FRIGHTENED MOTOR MAN Thought He Killed Trolley Passengers and Is Now in Hiding.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 23.-Somewhere in Ramussen, a motorman, is hiding in fear, believing himself responsible for the death of a score of innocent trolley car passengers. Last night he ran a crowded Western avenue car into a moving C., B and Q. train at the Eighteenth street crossing. The collision occurred while the stret car was making fifteen miles an hour. Rasmussen, who was an ex-perienced motorman, jumped before the crash and ran. Hearing the noise of the collision he put his hands to his ears to shut out the cries of the supposedly wounded and dying and fied at the utmost speed, eluding all pur-suit. Had he remained he would have learned that the twenty passengers escaped injury by tumbling out of the rear door as the car neared the train. They were scattered along the street for 200 feet. Conductor Brown, the last to jump, leaped as the crash came. No one was injured.

Balfour, now First Lord of the Treasury, and will mention a report that Prime Minister intends to relinquish the Foreign portfolio in favor of Lord Dufferin, the British ambassador to France. CREDITS REFUSED.

Paris, Oct. 23.—The French budget committee today rejected all the credits asked by Admiral Besnard, the Minister of Marine, on Oct. 16, to carry out the naval programme for 1894, 1895 and 1896, and which involved an annual expenditure of $15,000,000, exclusive of torpedoes-an increase of $2,000,-000 annually. The entire programme represents a total outlay of $200,000,-000 for the next twelve years.

These bonds will not go into the market, but will mostly be awarded to wounded soldiers and families of the slain. PROPOSED PACIFIC CABLE. London, Oct. 23.—The morning papers print a statement that Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colenies, is about to open negotiations with Australian authorities with a view to effecting the Pacific cable scheme that has so long been mooted. It is said that the agents general of the Australian colonies meditate approaching Mr. Chamberlain on the same subject, and it is probable that they will meet him and discuss the question before the negotiations with the officials in Australia are opened.

London, Oct. 23.—The Pall Mall Gazette says: "We are authorized by Lord Dunraven to state that the United Press interview with him published in the American papers, is entirely bogus." The interview in question included some disagreeable references to C. D. Rose, the latest cup defender, whom Dunraven was made to describe as an American. It also contained the statement that Dunraven expected to race again for the cup next year. CHINA'S HUMILIATION.

London, Oct. 23 .- The edict of the Emperor of China, depriving the ex-viceroy of the Sze Chuen Province of his rank and titles, and excluding him perpetually from the public service, has thrown the highest official circles of that empire into consternation. It is the first instance on record of a permanent degradation of so exalted a personage in obedience to the demand of a foreign power. The court endeavors to maintain its pretensions of superiority to external influences by declaring Liu Ping's Chang's punishment had been decided upon before the British ultimatum was received, but this fiction imposes upon nobody. The Sung Li Yamen had resisted stubbornly until the order for the British naval demonstration on Pang Ste was issued.

IS THIS SALISBURY'S OPINION? London, Oct. 23.-The afternoon newspapers of this city today again comment upon the dispute between Great Britain and Venezuela in the same tone as yesterday. The St. James' Gazette declares itself to be opposed to arbitration in any form, saying: Arbitration not only does not apply to the present dispute, but it is the usual thing when there is recourse of this kind of international tribunal for the arbitrators to find against Great Britain the weight of evidence, and in the few cases where the finding has been in our favor, the other side declines to pay. The St. James' Gazette then instances the Alabama and Delagoa Bay and Bering Sea cases in support of its contention that international tri-bunals usually find against England the weight of evidence. More atten-tion is attracted now than formely to zette against arbitration of the dis-pute, as this newspaper seems to have had somewhat of the inside throughout inspired by a high Government official thoroughly familiar with the subject and the policy to be followed by the Marquis of Salisbury.

ANOTHER LIE. NAILED. London, Oct. 23 .- The United States embassy this afternoon issued a statement regarding dispatches from New York, published by the London Times, saving that the United States ambassador, Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, has had an interview of an unpleasant nature with the Marquis of Salisbury on the Venezuelan question. The United States officials here assert that Mr. Bayard has had no communication, written or verbal, from the British Foreign Office or from the Marquis of Salisbury which could be classed as unpleasant or as in any way justifying the statements contained in the New York dispatches referred to. McCARTHY WILL NOT JOIN. London, Oct 23.-Mr. Justin McCarthy, M.P., the Irish leader, has written a letter to the newspapers declining to join in the conference which the Right Hon. D. R. Plunkett, Conservative member of Parliament for Dublin University, has been trying to bring about between representatives of the various sections of the Irish parties to discuss measures for the general good of Ire-Mr. McCarthy says that he does not believe anything in the way of material improvement of Ireland will be conferred by the Parliament at Westminster or Dublin Castle, which will extinguish the national desire for home rule. He could not take part in any organization having for its object to seek a substitute for that which he believes is Ireland's greatest need. THE VENEZUELA DISPUTE. London, Oct. 23.-The Pall Mall Gazette, in a leading editorial on the Venezuelan situation, says that the case is not one for arbitration, and adds: The good offices of the United States would be tendered with greater authority and better grace if that Government paid the indemnity it is required to pay by the Behring Sea award. We were absurdly overtaxed by the Alabama deci-

SIGNIFICANT RESIGNATION.

WHOLE NO. 12331.

R. S. White, M. P. for Cardwell, Gives Up His Seat.

The Retirement Means a Great Deal-Viewed in Conjunction With the Big Liberal Victory in Montreal.

Ottawa, Oct. 23.-Mr. R. S. White, the member for Cardwell, has sent in his resignation to the Speaker of the House of Commons. Mr. White has a promise three years old of the Mon-treal collectorship, and pressed for its fulfillment. At yesterday's Cabinet Council Mr. Ives presented a report recommending Mr. White's immediate appointment. Mr. Haggart declared it would be disastrous to open Cardwell under present circumstances, and strongly opposed the passage of the order. He was backed up by Messrs. Foster and Montague, and the Council broke up without the appointment going through. Then Mr. White wrote out his resignation and sent it in. As soon as it reaches the Speaker he must without delay issue his warrant authorizing the issue of a writ for a new election. Mr. White had made up his mind to vote against remedial legislation if it came up in Parliament, because his constituency he knew was overwhelmingly opposed to interference with Manitoba. His personal inclinations, however, ran the other way, and if he felt free he would vote in favor of some remedy. He now sees that the effect of his resignation is to allow the electors of Cardwell to elect a representative who thinks with them on the school issue.

Toronto, Oct. 23.—The World (Conservative) says that Mr. White was promised the situation three years ago, but that the Dominion Government was afraid to open the strong Conservative constituency then. It adds: "No one expected a fifth session, and every one of Mr. White's friends thought his appointment would come before the beginning of the year. But a fifth session was held, and a sixth is called for, and until it is over the Government evidently do not care to risk a vacancy in Cardwell. Mr. White has determined to create one. We are told that at least another member is siming from the wrath to come.

Demoralization seems to preail in the party everywhere.

TELEPHONING WITHOUT WIRES. The Hopes of Inventor Bell, the Distinguished Canadian.

"Will we ever be able to telephone without wires?" asked a correspondent of the Washington Star of Dr. Bell, the inventor of the telephone.
"Yes," replied Mr. Bell; "I think so, though the distance may be limited I remember some experiments that I wire stretched between two pokers, which we had driven into the ground and had attached a battery to them. I put the receiver to my ear, when I There was neither clock nor watch on the other end of the wire, and by listening to the ticking, I recognized that it was the ticking of the university electric clock at least half a mile off. By this clock a number of the clocks of the city were regulated, and the sound had evidently traveled from these wires to the batteries connected with our pokers, and that for a long distance without actual wire connection.

think that our great steamers, means of the heavy dynamos, which they carry, could telephone each other on the sea when miles apart, and I have no doubt that we will in the future be able to telephone for limited distances without wires."

"How about telephone cables? Will we ever be able to talk across the ocean?" "It may be, but there are difficulties there which have yet to be overcome. These will have to be mastered by some one who has the cables at hand to experiment with. I have never made much investigation along these lines. While in the laboratory I picked up from one of the shelves a piece of pine board about half an inch thick and eight inches square, out of the center of which extended a speaking tube. which apparently rested against a thin disk of bright metal sunk into the op-This metal was like a posite side. silver mirror, and was about as large around as the bottom of a tumbler. I asked Mr. Bell what it was, and he told me it was the instrument with which he discovered that he could talk from one point to another through the medium of a sunbeam, or in other words could send sound along a ray of light without the aid of an electric wire. He took the instrument and put the tube to his mouth, holding the mirror so that it caught the sun,, and cast a little shadow-disk of light on the opposite wall. Then by breathing lighthe made his shadow increase and diminish and go into all forms of shape by the action of his breath against the mirror diaphragm. "That shows you," said he, "how the action of the diaphragm is carried along that way. Now, if you will put a little bottle with some soot in it where that shadow is on the wall, and speak into the tube you will find that the sound will travel along that ray of light, and by having a receiver connected with the bottle, one would be able to hear what you were saying. We have spoken by this means to and from points 200 yards apart, and there seems to be no reason to doubt that speech may be sent along a beam of light for great distances. In our experiment in this we first used selenium, a very rare substance, and very sensitive to light. We have found, however, that we can produce very good results with common soot, and discoveries may yet be made which will make such an invention commercially practicable.'

fir. C. C. Woods, of Woods' Fair. Will Sell Out.

His London Business Will Change Hands -What Londoners May Confidently Look For.

Among the announcements made in business circles during the last few days is one to the effect that Mr. C. C. Woods, proprietor of Woods' Fair, Dundas street, had decided to sell out his husiness on January 1 next. As Mr. Woods has been in business here for a number of years, and is known throughout the length and breadth of Western Ontario as an enterprising shrewd business man, who well knows the wants of the public and how to supply them, the announcement came as a great surprise, and caused many expressions of regret. An "Advertiser" representative called on Mr. Woods yesterday and received the positive assurance that on the first day of the new year he would hand over his business to a gentleman with whom he had completed a sale.

Mr. Woods' withdrawal from London will not be heard of with gratification. His business career in the city has been most successful. Nine years ago Woods' Fair started in London, in the store at No. 200 Dundas street. The staff of employes then numbered seven salesladies and a few delivery boys, but business boomed from the opening day, and in a comparatively short time the trade had grown so extensively that another store was leased. Even with the enlarged premises doubled to meet the demands of the public, Mr. Woods plainly saw that it would be a matter of a short time before still more commodious quarters would be necessary. And the occupation of the present mammoth store, at 176 Dundas street (near Richmond) and the employment of over 30 hands is the result. this store, Mr. Woods supplies ten others in the leading cities and towns of Western Ontario. Unlike the Western and many other fairs, Woods' Fair is open ten hours a day, six days in the week (holidays excepted) and fifty-two weeks in the year, and it has always been noted for the many bargains offered. Now that Mr. Woods has decided to sell out at the new year, there is not the slightest doubt but that still greater bargains will be given the many patrons of the We understand that Mr. Woods is retiring to engage in other business. and intends leacving early in the spring for the continent.

REUNION AND RECEPTION.

Pleasant Gathering at the Adelaide Street Baptist Church.

The old-time tea meeting, as a means for raising church funds, was discarded several years ago by the Adelaide Street Baptists. But when they had been for several months a flock without a shepherd, and were so fortunate as to secure the services of Rev. Thos. S. Johnson-a former pastor-they felt the occasion called for a more than ordinary expression of joy and congratulation. So it was decided to tender Mr. and Mrs. Johnson a public and hearty welcome at a social tea meeting, to which all friends and members of the church were invited-without restriction and without charge.

When Rev. Mr. Johnson came to London twelve years ago, he found the Adelaide Street Baptist Church in a very feeble condition, and worshiping in a building little better than a barn: but under his faithful and able minheard the sound of the clock ticking. istrations the cause steadily grew in strength and influence, until the or-ganization soon felt justified in building the neat and comfortable edifice that occupies the corner of Adelaide and King streets. It is a singular coincidence that now, after an absence of six years, Mr. Johnson should have been at liberty to accept a recall to the Adelaide Street Church, whose pulpit had so unexpectedly become vacant. Small wonder, then, that his return to his old home should be hailed with marked satisfaction. The reception to Mr. and Mrs. Johnson took place last evening, starting in the basement of the church, where five tables, extending the entire length of the room, were most tastefully and bountifully spread with choice (homemade) refreshments, provided and served by the ladies. There was a crowd and a bustle, but marvelously little confusion, and the bevy of good-look-ing girls who waited on the guests took pains that none of the 300 who sat at the tables should be neglected. Supper over, the party adjourned to the auditorium of the church, which was comfortably filled, while the space on the platform was shared between the speakers of the evening and a great array of beautiful flowers in full bloom. Deacon Thomas Woodburne acted as chairman. The proceedings began with the singing of "Coronation," Rev. Ira Smith read a portion of Eph-esians, iv., and Rev. W. M. Walker offered prayer. Chairman Woodburne impressed upon the speakers the necessity of brevity, and set a good example himself. Deacon Robertson, in behalf of the Egerton mission, the officebearers and the church as a whole, welcomed Pastor Johnson and his estimable wife. Superintendent R. Bayley spoke for the Sunday school; Miss Ruth Finch for the Young People's Society, and Mrs. George Robertson for the five missionary societies connected with the church—the remarks of the ladies being especially apt and kindly. Rev. Ira Smith, of Talbot Street Baptist Church, made a characteristic address, full of force and feeling. He welcomed Mr. Johnson personally, and on behalf of the Talbot Street people, and spoke of the pleasure it gave him to express the congratulations of his church. He liked to think of the sacred relations of church and pastor-the church as God-bought, the pastor Christ-given-a Holy Ghost appointed man. He also emphasized the momentous work laid out for both pastor and ly as a preacher of the unsearchable riches of Christ. The addresses were brought to a close by Rev. Mr. Johnson, who thanked the church and the previous speakers for their kind words—which he believed came from their hearts. He thanked God, however, that he was not dependent on good wishes. He had the Lord to help him. What God said was not "sentiment," but truth. He was here because he believed God had called him, and he believed the church had invited him because they believed God had a work for him to do here. He would speak the truth, even if it should displease some of them. He was less concerned about the unity of the church than about preaching God's truth. He would preach the truth and leave results to God. He felt humbled at the marked expressions of esteem bestowed on him by his flock. He wished he were better, and prayed to be more deserving of his people's confidence. He trusted in God and he trusted in his people, and felt that thus all would be well. He was a man of peace-but not peace at the cost of principle. He made no promises, but would do his best. He expected a good deal from his people, and elt from his knowledge of them that his expectations were justified. He came in the name of Jesus to work for the glory of God, watching and waiting for the coming of the blessed Christ. A marked feature of the evening was the music. The choir, led by Miss Rendell at the organ, sang a couple of anthems with good effect. The male quartet, consisting of Messrs. Charles Maynard, John Drew, H. W. Freeland and Charles Moorhead, gave "Shout, for the Victory is Ours," and "There's Rest in the Arms of Jesus," with touching sweetness, while last, but far from least, the Misses Lorena and Minnie Hartson sang "Guide Me, Oh, Thou Great Jehovah" with wonderful power and expression, Mr. J. W. Fetherston accompanying the young ladies with the organ.

Altogether, the reception was one of the most pleasing events in the history of the church. It should be mentioned in passing that the excellent arrangements were carried out by a large committee of ladies, led by Mrs. A. J. Watson, ably seconded by the board of management and others, with Mr. Woodburne at the head.

There was really no necessity for the use of the card, either, for the two

"I came to see you on a small matter of business," replied the visitor. "Pray proceed."

"I have learned, from good authority, that your managers are bent upon a campaign of personalities, and that they intend to give to the press certain slanderous gossip about me, intended to injure my candidacy."

The speaker paused, and Mrs. Ricketts said, interrogatively: "Well?"

"Well," echoed Mrs. Jenkinson, "we must keep personalities out of the campaign."

"We have, must we?"

"We must."

Mrs. Ricketts sneered.

Mrs. Jenkinson waxed wroth. "Look here, Mary Ellen Ricketts," he exclaimed, "don't you dare to turn

"We'll see about that. Mary Ellen Ricketts, you were engaged to my husband in your young days, a good many years ago."

"I'm not nearly as old as you, I'd have you know." "You are!"

"I'm not, you insulting thing!"

"You are!"

The City Gas Company Think They

Over One Mundred Appeals Before the Court of Revision-Most of Them of Minor Accounts-Applications for an Increase-Decis-

A man or woman with a good supply of ready cash could have made many paying investments in the City Hall last night between the hours of 8 and 10:30 o'clock. The court of revision on the assessment for 1896 was in progress and the decrease in the prices of properties, according to those who appealed, was surprising. In numerous cases the properties could have been secured, Commissioner Grant, and Assessors Toll and Westcott. Decisions in all cases were reserved. The income this year would not exceed $12,-000 or $13,000, owing to a reduction in the prices of gas. The income might possibly reach $17,000. To show how the income was decreased, Mr. Duffield said the company last year sold 25,-000,000 feet of illuminating gas and 10,-000,000 feet of fuel gas. LESSONS IN WATERWORKS AND IN SEWAGE DISPOSAL FROM GREAT BRITAIN. They are alive to the value of a sufficient supply of good water now in London, England, as a necessity for the health and well-being of the people; but there are many yet living who can recall the time when water was neither good nor plentiful in the great metropolis, and indeed when no attention whatever was paid to the sanitary state of the city.

Less than 60 years ago, when the late Edwin Chadwick began his labors in Great Britain as a sanitary reformer, there was not a town or city in the whole country where pure water might be procured or where any proper system existed for the disposal of sewage. In London the usual practice was to construct deep pits into which sewage could be emptied, and often the putrid mass overflowed into the cellars of shops and private dwellings, breeding filth diseases which ran the death rate up to a percentage that would now be regarded as frightful in any part of Europe or America. Many instances might be given of the wretched state in which the inhabitants of towns in Great Britain lived before the era of reform; but one or two will serve.

The town of Inverness, situated in a beautiful country, with every facility for cleanliness and comfort, was dedangerous forms. With the exception of the principal streets, in which the best houses and shops were situated, an official report of 1842 stated, there were but few covered common sewers; and in the suburbs generally, and from all the side alleys and closes, rain water and other accumulations passed away only by means of surface or open drains. Consequently the drainage in those places, naturally bad enough, was often purposely obstructed by the people for the purpose of adding to their dunghill heaps or middens, which as manure for their potato grounds formed the chief treasures of the poorer cottagers and laborers. "There are very few houses in town," the provost wrote, "which can boast of either water closet or privy, and only two or three public privies in the better part of the place exist for the great bulk of the inhabitants. Hence there is not a street, lane or approach to it that is change. not disgustingly defiled at all times, so much so as to render the whole place an absolute nuisance. The midden is the chief object of the humble, and though enough water for purposes of cleanliness may be had by little trouble, still as the ablutions are seldom much filth indoors and outdoors must be their portion.. When cholera prevailed in Inverness, it was more fatal than in almost any other town of its population in Britain."

This picture is dark enough, but Leeds, Liverpool, London and many other places could show its equal. In one of Mr. Chadwick's earlier reports the state of London is described as unbearable. A member of the Society of Civil Engineers is quoted for particulars. In one case he was called to survey two houses about to undergo expensive repairs, and it was necessary that he should examine them carefully. He found that the whole area of the cellars of both houses was full of night soil to the depth of three feet, which had been permitted for years to accumulate from the overflow of the cess-pools, and these houses were let at f30 to f40 a year. In St. Giles' parish he found many houses in a like or, if that were possible, a worse condition; and in the carrying out of such sanitary regulations as existed, if a man was found pumping the stagnant pollution out of his cellar into the street he was subjected to a fine of £5.

But all that is changed now. Every town has its drainage system, and the most rigid rules exist and are enforced to provide for the disposal of sewage and for the observance of the laws of public health.

It is for such purposes that the cities and towns of modern days have, to a very large extent, incurred the debts which so generally burden them; and in Great Britain, with the density of population which obtains there, it often costs more to provide adequate water supply than to construct a system of sewage. In the London of the present day, with a population nearing 5,000,000, the question is a troublesome one. The eight companies whose works provide 192,000,000 gallons per day are hard pressed to furnish the quantity required from the sources at their command. and there is now a scheme under consideration by the county council to construct waterworks which would draw supplies from the mountains of Wales, a distance of 150 to 170 miles.

is computed that from an area of 488 CHIEF JUSTICE MEREDITH AND square miles 400,000,000 gallons per day can be obtained after making full allowance for dry years and evaporation and giving due compensation in water to the streams and rivers from which the supply is derived. The estimated cost of the headworks, aqueducts, terminal works, etc., is £38,800,000. The capacity of such work is thought to be ample for the requirements of London for the next 60 years, and since, as a matter of policy, two aqueducts should be constructed instead of one, at present. This would reduce the immediate cost to about £18,000,000; but the old companies are sure to demand compensation, and to satisfy their claims will require as much more at the very least.

Such figures give us an idea of what greatness costs in the case of large cities in the old world; but no one who compares the death rate of our day with the death rate of 50 or 100 years ago will doubt that the expenditure pays. We may learn much from the history of municipal government, in matters of policy as well as of sanitation, and one of the most obvious is that cities and towns cannot too carefully preserve their franchises. Had old London constructed her own waterworks she would not now be hampered with an exorbitant demand for compensation by her private companies. In this particular, if in no other, our own London has been wiser.

BY THE WAY.

The wonderful northern river, which Dr. Bell, of the geological survey, Ottawa, claimed to have discovered, is not a hitherto unknown stream. It has been known to the Crown Lands Department at Quebec for years, and it is known to Indians and others as the Nottaway, its own principal branches being the Waswanapi and the McKiskan. The troubles of church ushers, and their right to try to forcibly avoid them, is up for discussion in Hamilton. In a leading church there, last Sunday evening, a number of young men disturbed the worshippers by getting up and attempting to leave the building in the middle of the service. Three of the ushers endeavored to prevent them, whereupon a disturber attempted to use his fists, and the police were sent for, but ere they arrived the unruly youths had flown. Though a man may possess the abstract right to leave a place of public resort at will, there can be no difference of opinion as to the indecency of unnecessarily disturbing others in the manner here detailed. The London chief of police has resolved to save some city wheelmen from their own foolhardiness. He will enforce the bylaw compelling them to wheel with moderation on the city streets. All wheelmen are not aggressors in this respect, but a few have recently been taking great risks. They have been dashing along the devil's strip of the new electric railway and over crossings and around corners at an alarming rate, running great risk of accident to themselves as well as to pedestrians. So far no accidents have taken place in London, but in other cities similar risky wheeling has resulted in death to wheelmen. In wet weather, especially, the bicyclist should exercise caution, as the asphalt pavement is slippery. We all recognize that the wheel has come to stay, and that it is a most useful aid to humanity, but these precautions must be This source has an elevation of 600 to observed in the interest of the bicy-

MR. W. T. R. PRESTON. It is reported in the Toronto papers that W. T. R. Preston, of the Parliamentary library in that city, has been charged with suplying money to be used in corrupting electors of Kingston at the bye-election there in January last, and that the matter is to be tried at the Kingston assizes next week. We do not know what Mr. Preston may have it is probable that, if the scheme is done to give color to these proceedings, adopted, only one aqueduct will be built but with his experience as a political organizer it is hardly credible that he would allow himself to commit an indiscretion, much less an offense, which the law might visit with keen severity. Chief Justice Meredith is to preside at the trial, we are told. Mr. Meredith is an able man, and we in London have reason to be proud of the honor done in elevating him to one of the chief seats in the judiciary of his Province. But he was for years the leader of his party in Ontario, he is a short time out of active politics, and it is common report that his relations with Mr. Preston have not been agreeable. Here in London it is well known that the sentiments with which Mr. Meredith has regarded Mr. Preston, especially since a notable meeting in Northumberland county nine or ten years ago, have been as averse as politics allows. Only a few months ago, certainly since the general election, he has spoken to his friends with bitterness of Mr. Preston, whose appointment as librarian he has condemned in strong terms. This is no secret in London, whatever it may be elsewhere, and we venture to say that it would hardly be decorous now for Chief Justice Meredith to hear the case. The chance of it coming before him is unfortunate, to say the least. Mr. Preston may or may not be guilty of the offense with which he is charged; on that we have nothing to say; but the trial judge ought not to be a man with an animus against him.

NO HELP IN TECHNICALITIES. Enemies who have insisted that Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper is no lawyer will have to alter their opinion in view of the amazing reverence for technicalities which he exhibits in his rebuke to Mr. Laurier. indignation of the Minister of Justice is entirely based on technicalities. Mr. Laurier's opinion that Messrs. McGreevy and Connolly were released because they were rich and influential, not because they were unhealthy, entirely coincides with the public belief. That public belief can never be removed by the telegraphed heroics of Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper. He de-livered himself into the hands of the Opposition leader by his ill-judged dispatch. His message gave importance to Mr. Laurier's utterance and emphasized the fault which the Government committed in releasing ronto Telegram.

Automatic Fire Protection

Saved the London Furniture Company's Buildings From Destruction.

greet Car Runs Over and Destroys Hose-Loss Less Than $1,000, Principally by Water-Cause

The London Furniture Company escaped serious damage by fire last night principally through an admirable arrangement of automatic fire extinguishers. The fire was first noticed about 8 o'clock by a young man in charge of Young's livery stable. He hurried across the road and gave the alarm to the men at No. 1 station. As the fire was in a very dangerous locality and the building very inflammable, a general alarm was turned in and the companies summoned from the two outlying stations. The fire, owing to the automatic sprinking arrangement, had not obtained very great headway when detected. At no time was it out of control, but it required about an hour's work to completely subdue it. As near as can be ascertained, the fire originated underneath a work bench on the third floor. It burnt through the floor to the second story, and by means of a hole for conveying piping it communicated to the fourth flat, but did very little damage there. The ceilings of every room in the building are traversed by water pipes. As soon as the heat reaches a certain temperature the openings melt and the sprinklers automatically play on the fire below. Water at considerable pressure is supplied from a mam-moth tank, which is higher than the roof itself. These sprinklers, it seems, were in active operation when the firemen broke open a window to turn firemen broke open a window on a stream, and they probably had on a stream, for some time. Withbeen working for some time. With-out their aid in checking the progress of the flames it is hard to say where the blaze would have ended. The automatic system was put in eight years ago.

During the course of the fire a trolley car ran over a hose which was connected with a hydrant at the Masonic Temple corner. The line was almost completely cut in two, and had the fire been burning fiercely the effect of the loss of the stream might have been costly. Although the corner is electric lighted the motorman says he did not see the hose, which is almost the same color as the pavement. The origin of the fire is unknown. Manager Greaves says the loss will be less than $1,000. What damage there is was caused principally by water; the fire loss being practically nil. The building is fully insured.

Thoughtless Pulpit Criticism. Not long since a prominent Toronto clergyman, whose utterances each week are as gospel to thousands, publicly denounced the gold cure as a remedy for inebriety. Inquiry revealed the fact that the reverend gentleman's opinion was based upon the case of a certain young man who had taken the treatment and had subsequently resumed drinking habits. He failed to recognize that the young man was the failure, and not the cure, and that what the young man wanted was brains, a commodity not supplied by the gold cure. He did not, apparently, investigate further else this thoughtless denunciation would never have been uttered, but he would have been convinced instead by overwhelming evidence of the efficacy of this wonderful treatment, and some sorrowing wife or mother of his congregation might have been happier today. We know a young man who professed conversion under the ministrations of this same clergyman, but subsequently disgraced himself. yet we do not lenounce or belittle the efforts of Christian ministers on that account. The Church and the Gold Cure are both doing grand work, each in its own sphere, and should work in harmony, side by side. We invite clergymen to investigate the record of Lakehurst Institute, Oakville, and its treatment. All who have done so are its friends. Toronto office, 28 Bank of Commerce Building. xt

Two Immense Meetings Held, at Both of Which the Liberal Leader Delivered Speeches. Galt, Ont., Oct. 23.-Hon. Wilfrid Laurier arrived here yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock and was met at the station by a large number of citizens and visitors. A reception was held in the town hall, and later on two meetings were held. Even with two halls many were unable to obtain admission, and hundreds were disappointed in not securing an opportunity to hear the Liberal leader. Mr. Laurier had a great ovation when he appeared at both meetings, and spoke. Besides Mr. Laurier's, addresses were delivered by Mr. J. I. Tarte, M.P., Montreal; Wm. Patterson, M.P., Thomas Bain, M.P.; Hon. James Young, the chairman; James Sutherland, M.P.;

John I. Flatt, M.L.A.; John D. Moore, M.P., and Wm. Gibson, M.P.
The greeting to Mr. Laurier was most cordial and enthusiastic, as were also the marks of appreciation of himself and his policy evinced by the different places through which he passed on his way from Toronto to this town during the afternoon. At Brampton and Guelph the demonstrations were very flattering. At both these points addresses were delivered by the Liberal chief and Mr. Tarte.

Rumered Disageement of Cleveland and Olney Over Foreign Affairs.

Chicago, Oct. 23.-A special dispatch frem Washington says: A rumor is affoat that Secretary of State Olney is contemplating retirement from the cabinet. alleged reason for this is a supposed disagreement between himself and the President in regard to the foreign policy, and especially with reference to the Venezuela latter, in which rumor says that Mr. Olney favors a more vigorous course than does the President. The rumor, however, is entirely unconfirmed.

superannuation of Mr. John Lowe, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, and the appointment of W. B. Scarth, ex-M. P. for Winnipeg, in his place, have been officially announced.

The Witnesses!

Rev. P. C. Hedley, 697 Huntington avenue, Boston, Mass.: "Although I have not given testimonials of so-called 'Proprietary Medicines,' I can fully indorse the one written by my friend, the Rev. Gorge M. Adams, D.D., of Auburndale, Mass., which gave me confidence in the remedy before using it. Of all the preparations for dyspepsia troubles I have known K. D. C. is the best, and seems to be entirely safe for trial by any one."

Dr. Adams' statement is: "I recommend K. D. C. very strongly. In my case it has proved singularly efficient. When I could find nothing else to give relief it was a prompt remedy. I should be unwilling to be without it."

CHARLES E. A. CARR.

The Youngest Electric Railway Manager in Canada.

Born Near Barrie in 1870-Sketch of His Career in Toronto-The Electric Railway Review's Reference to an Energetic Londoner.

The Electric Railway Review of New York has the following in its last

"Mr. Charles E. A. Carr, of London, Ont., is said to be the youngest manager of an electric railway in Amerthis morning, and asked to be sent to the ica. Besides his work at the manager's desk, Mr. Carr's duties include those of treasurer of the company as well as electrical engineer. He was born in 1870 near Barrie, in Simcoe county, Ont., and he attended the schools of that town. He completed his education in Toronto, and engaged short time, and after roaming around for a but his inclinations led him to accept while, entered the city hospital for a position in the office of the city entreatment. There she met Wm. Lane, gineer of Toronto, and he gained, a chap of 20, and on recovering while employed in this department, a practical knowledge of civil engineer-ing. While he was in this office he in fact he had hardly a cent to his was brought into familiar association railway to the municipality. When the railway system was turned over by the city to the present street railway company Mr. Carr was assigned to the task of checking up the property included in the transfer. In January, 1893, he accepted the position of roamed to and fro until last night, when Private secretary to Mr. Henry A. Everett, then manager of the Toronto Street Railway Company, which had decided to equip its system for electric traction. During his connection with the company Mr. Carr gained a practical knowledge of electric railway installation which has since stood him in good stead. He was appointed manager of the London Street Railway Company early in the present year, and he has since that time been engaged in substituting electricity for animal power on the lines. Under his supervision an excellent system has been introduced which will afford as satisfactory a transportation service as can be found in any of the Cana-dian cities."

LOCAL BREVITIES.

-Mayor Little will be out of town for the next few days on private business. Ald. Jones will act as mayor. -The asphalt paving work will be concluded on Saturday. The lack of curbing stone is causing a slight de-

-Mr. E. B. Leach, of Princess avenue, was quite seriously hurt yester-day by being thrown out of his wagon, his horse, a spirited young animal, running away.

-W. Eacrett, merchant, of this city, has purchased a very fine lot on Dundas street east, three doors west of the Centennial Methodist Church, north side, where he is going to build a residence for himself.

-The Baconian Club will open its season on Saturday evening next, when officers will be nominated. Mr. W. A. Wilson will give a reading, and the question of Chinese immigration will be debated. Mr. C. B. Edwards will argue in favor of Government interference, and Mr. S. J. Radcliffe in the negative.

-The asphalt pavement will receive much-needed sweeping tonight, and to-morrow two or three men will be given steady jobs and will be expected to keep the pavement clean as a billiard table in future. It costs $31 86 a week under the present system of three sweepings during that time. Three men at $1 25 a day can be had for $22 50 a week, a saving of $9 36 a week compared with the old system.

-Mr. Anthony Rolfe, of London, was married at Ingersoll Saturday to Miss Maggie Ewart, daughter of Mr. Wm. Ewart, of Ingersoll. Miss Nellie Dundass assisted the bride, while Mr. Rolfe, brother of the groom, was best man. Miss Mary McDonald, of London, acted as maid of nonor. Mr. and Rolfe left on the 9:15 train for London, where they will take up their abode. Miss Ewart was one of Inger-solls charming and most popular young ladies. The costumes of the ladies were very handsome. -James Leader, charged with the theft or an organ from the Hammond Temperance Lodge, London West, was sent for trial yesterday by Squire R. F. Lacey. The theft was committed one night in June, 1893, and the organ was subsequently found in Max Goldberg's second-hand stock. Goldberg had purchased it on the market from Mr. Neil Cooper, who says that the organ was sold by him under orders from Leader. James McPherson, of London West, was tried for the theft shortly after it was committed, but was discharged. Leader then left the country and did not return until a few weeks ago. -It is altogether probable that next year will see a complete revolution in the matter of street watering if the suggestion contained in the recent message from the mayor is carried out. Water from the river can probably be obtained through the Grand Trunk Company's stand pipes for the pumping. There are stand pipes at Ridout, Talbot, Wellington and Waterloo streets which could be utilized to fill the water carts for the southern portion of the city at least. An arrange-ment is on tapis with the street railway company whereby the streets traversed by the company may be watered by electrically-propelled tanks, as in Toronto. -Tomorrow night the Chicago Marine Band will make its first appearance in Lon-don at the Grand Opera House. The membership of the band is made up of the very best musicians in the profession. All through the brass section rare artists are found, while the reed family is headed by the wonderful soloist, Otto. Mr. Brooke is a model conductor, having magnetism and fire, which make all of his concerts fascinating, and his great originality and dramatic effects make his success wonderful. Full of life and inspiration, such as made a lasting sensation in Chicago last winter and established Mr. Brooke's claim to being the greatest conductor of popular music in America. -A new lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen of the Grand Lodge of Ontario was instituted last evening in the Foresters' Hall, East London, by Grand Organizer John Milne, P. G. M. W., assisted Bros. Percival, Hook, Adams, Brady, Marshall, McLeod and others of Fidelity Lodge, No. 5. There were 25 members on the charter list, and the new lodge was named "Electric," The officers are: P. M. W., Bro. De Hart; M. W., Bro. Alfred Mc-Coubrey; Foreman, Bro. Dawson; Overseer, Bro. Howay; Recorder, Bro. C. Currie; Financier, Bro. Boyle; Receiver, Bro. Watson; Guide, Bro. Harrison; I. W., Bro. Shaw; O. W., Bro. Christian; Trustees, Bros. Wilson, Arnett and Gould. The D. D. G. M., Bro. J. W. McLaren, was present. Bro. Milne will organize a new lodge in South London.

RAILWAY RUMBLINGS.

A Rush of Railway Business Reported at Detroit-The Proposed Electric Road Between Montreal and Windsor.

The Hamilton, Grimsby and Beams-vile carried 220,894 people during its first twelve months of existence.

The death occurred at Grand Rapids, Mich., on Oct. 18, of Chas. D. Moulthrop, formerly conductor on the M. C. R., of St. Thomas. Deceased left St. Thomas about five years ago and took a position on the Chicago and West Michigan Railway, which he held until two years ago, when he had a paralytic stroke.

Dunean Spark, baggageman at the Buffalo and Goderich Railway station, Tavistock, has gone to a Chicago hospital to undergo special treatment for sciatica rheumatism. His place at the station is being filled by Harry Pook, of this city. Detroit News: The Grand Trunk lines are handling between 2,500 and 3,000 loaded cars weekly. One thousand latest pattern box cars of 60,000 tons capacity each, air brakes, have been ordered, 500 off the Michigan Peninsular Works and 500 of the Pullman shops. A hundred new cars have already been delivered and put into service. They are nearly as large as fur-

The Michigan Central is ferrying 1, 200 or 1,300 cars, loads and empties, daily. The ferry record is considered the pulse of the freight traffic, but it does not include all the local business. The road has decided to order 500 nev cars—250 box and 250 furniture—and it is quite probable the number will be increased to 1,000, as the demand is great. The contract for the cars has not yet

J. A. Smith, one of the contractors building the new Detroit and River St. Clair Railway, says the roadbe pleted a distance of twelve miles from Chesterfield, the starting point. Smith said the new road would be completed to Chesterfield and Marine City this fall. It is hoped to have the line in operation between Chesterfield and Algonac in 60 days.

Edmund Bristol, one of the syndicate asking for the charter for an electric railway between Windsor and Montreal, says there is lots of money be-hind the scheme, and that they propose using the Tesla process, by which electricity can be transmitted 200 miles. He says there is no intention of competing with the Canadian Pacific or the Grand Trunk for through passengers or freight, their idea being to look out for local patronage, running as far as possible on the public roads, the rate to be 2 cents a mile, and the speed

PARMELEE'S PILLS possess the power of acting specifically upon the diseased organs, stimulating to action the dormant energies of the system, thereby removing disease. In fact, so great is the power of this medicine to cleanse and purify, that diseases of almost every name and nature are driven from the body. Mr. D. Carswell, of Carswell postoffice, Ont., writes: have used Parmelee's Pills, and find them an excellent medicine, and one that will sell well."

Rich Mines Discovered in Montana-Teeming With Prospectors.

Great Falls, Mont., Oct. 23.-A stampede is being made for new gold fields on Harley Creek, and the hills are teeming with prospectors who have staked out every foot of ground in the vicinity of the first claims. and are out with a brand new town christened Johannesburg as a token of the future of the camp. WORD FROM KOOTENAY

Good Mining Prospects for the Year and Increased Facilities to Miners.

Nelson (Special), Oct. 21.—The mining prospects for next year in this locality are excellent, and a large influx of prospectors is expected. Miners and others coming in have been in the habit of bringing with them large quantities of Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which they all swear by, But-but there are none and whose virtues they have extolled to such an extent, that the druggists throughout the section have become alive to the necessity of laying in large supplies to meet the greatly increasing demand. The remedy is generally regarded as an indispensable part of a miner's outfit both for its portability and a value in preserving health which cannot be

> A LIFE SAVED .- Mr. James Bryson Cameron, states: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs, and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice, I procured the medicine, and less than a half-bottle cured me; I certainly be-lieve it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I dcubted the power of any remedy to do me any good."

DERMATOLOGY.

An Art for Which There Should be Little Use.

Why Not Have a Better Understanding With Yourself as to What Makes Your Skin Sallow and Blotchy.

The treatment of diseases of the skin has been much studied by scientific men. Soaps, lotions, cosmetics, etc., without number have beeen heralded all over the country for years. It is a fact that nearly all diseases of the complexion are directly caused by some stoppage of nature's drains. All the local treatment in the world cannot permanently cure these annoying complaints. The bowels, nature's drainage system, must be kept free from clogging or disease results. Especially is this true with women.

It is almost past belief to what extent female troubles are directly traceable to constipation of the bowels. The researches of an eminent physician led him to believe that much scientific treatment, with a view to regulating the bowels, was erroneous. He demonstrated that the simple remed dies of nature used in as nearly natural state as possible, were most efficient. These researches led to the production of Karl's Clover Root Tea, the greatest regulator of bowel disorders known to man. Its wonderful efficacy has amazed all who have used it. Mr. Louis Goetz, of Buffalo, N. Y., President Cleveland's old caterer, says of this wonderful remedy: "I have taken Karl's Clover Root Tea every evening before going to bed, with great results. My skin looks better and the pimples are disappearing. Have been troubled for years with eruptions on the skin, and all remedies so far have failed to help me. A few deses of Karl's Clover Root Tea worked wonders.

A proper use of this sterling remedy will insure bright, clear skin, healthy color and freedom from headache, dizziness, indigestion, and all kindred ills. It can and does cure all forms of disease resulting from a clogging of the system. This natural remedy, brewed directly from roots and herbs, strikes directly to the seat of the trouble, and is a boon to mankind. Do not suppose that you are a sufferer from some high sounding organic complaint. Look to your bowels. Keep

and saggy, although there was a show of firmness around opening. It was not the buying demand that enthused life into a market, but it was the scalping element, who had played the other side for past few days, and, not getting any benefit, were ready to go long in selling out; prices eased off some. It is merely a local market. Some bear influences exist. Corn firm on light receipts. Shorts

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 22.—Receipts at the Toronto cattle market today were lighter, and buying was somewhat better, but in most lines the feeling was only firm. There were 65 carloads of stuff, which included 1.342 sheep and lambs, 1,413 hogs and 26 calves. Export cattle—The feeling was improved in this line, on the strength of better cables from Britain and a slightly better quality of the stuff offered. Prices ranged from 32 to 4c per lb. Too many big rough cattle, not fat enough, are offering. It is likely that there will be some demand for exporters all winter. In butchers' cattle, although prices were no better, still the feeling was slightly firmer today. Lots of poor cattle continue to arrive. The range today was from 2½ to 3½ per lb—the latter for extra choice cattle. For these the market was slightly stronger. Some of the poorer stuff sold as low as 1½ to 2c per lb. Stockers and feeders—The demand continues fairly active for good feeders, although light stockers are rather quiet. $3 40 to $3 50.

Oatmeal—Rolled oats are quoted at $3 25 in wood, and $1 55 in bags, and the market is quiet. Feed-Bran, $14 50 to $15; shorts, white, $16 to $16 50. Hams-City cured, per 15, 16c to 11c. Lard-Compound, 65c to 65c; lard, pure, 85c demand continues fairly active for good feeders, although light stockers are rather quiet. Buils brought from 3¢ to 3½ per lb for shipping purposes. Stock buils dull at from 1½ to 2½ per lb.

From about $2 to $2.50 per nead is the general run. Offerings in calves were heavier, but all sold easily. Poor ones are not wanted. Good and choice veals fetch from $1 to $7.

Milch cows and springers—Not so many came in, and the market was steady in sympathy with other stuff. Good milchers with large bags sell at $30 to $40 per head, but poor cows are hard to dispose of at even $20 per head. One or two poor ones sold for even lower prices. conference of the Huron Anglican Lay Workers' Association, which opened in Windsor this morning. Rev. Canon Richardson will read a paper on "The Christian Endeavor in Relation to the Anglican Church.' -Already the local benevolent societies are getting ready for the winter. Tonight the St. Andrew's Society advertises the annual meeting of Scotchmen and their descendants, to be held tomorrow night in the rooms over Ald. J. W. Jones' establishment. -Typhoid fever prevails at the home of Rev. Thomas Cullen, Askin street, South London. Mr. Cullen and a daughter are seriously ill of the disease, and within the last few days two other members of the family have been taken sick, presumably with the same malady.

-Mr. David Rodger. assistant storekeeper at the London Asylum, has been promoted to the position of assistant bursar. Mr. Rodger has been in the service for nearly twenty years, and has always had the confidence of his superior officers. The promotion was deserved.

-James Patterson, employed at Bradford's, and Joe Barnes, employed at Pigot & Bryan's, were scuffling for the possession of a ball on the flat roof of a building in rear of the respective establishments yesterday when Barnes lost his balance and fell twenty feet to the ground. He escaped serious injury.

-"McCarthy's Mishaps" will be presented at the Grand Opera House tonight, with Barney Ferguson in the title role as usual. Both play and comedian are too well known to require a detailed description. The company, which has always been kept up to the highest standard is unusually strong this season, including Miss St. Geo. Hussey, the inimitable impersonator of Irish dialect characters. Miss Marguerite Ferguson is also one of the principal features of this clever organization, with her famous grotesque and fancy dancing. -What appears a new scheme to get something for nothing was played on a Caradoc farmer on the market on Tuesday. A well-dressed lady-like person bought from him two bags of potatoes which were to be paid for on delivery at her house at 428 "But as she had none on Princess avenue. hand, would the farmer kindly fill her market basket and bring the remainder in the afternoon and get his pay ?" Of course the farmer complied. After driving over the avenue a number of times he found that there was no such number on the street. that his potatoes were gone, and that he was the victim of a contemptibly small sharp trick.

-G. F. Robertson, stationer and news dealer, East London, has bought of Benjamin Sowers' twenty acres at the terminus of the electric railway at Springbank. This is fine summer residential property. On the northwest corner of the property, and directly opposite Mayor Little's summer residence, rises an eminence, overlooking the country for miles around, giving a magnificent view. A gentleman who spent his holiday at Springbank this summer viewed the landscape over from this eminence and remarked: Though I have been over the Rocky Mountains to the Pacific coast, and seen many fine sights in my travels, have not seen a more beautiful landscape than this. I question if there is a finer view on the continent of

There promises to be keen rivalry for the presidential post of honor, and among the possible candidates are Dr. George C. Davis, U. A. Buchner, W. J. Harvey and J. D. McCrimmon.

A LONDONER HONORED. Mr. W. B. Scarth, ex-M. P. for Winnipeg, and a former Londoner, has been appointed to succeed Mr. John Lowe, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, who has been superannuated. It is probably 30 years since Mr. Scarth was a resident of London. At that time he was a traveling agent for the large wholesale house of Adam Hope & Co. His chief occupation was that of winding up of estates for the house. He is a Scotchman, coming from Caithness. After he left London he engaged in business in Monday night Rev. J. H. Moorehouse, of Toronto for a while and then went to Win-London, gave an excellent and impressive nipeg. His subsequent career was very successful, and friends in London will hear of his appointment with personal pleasure. WATSON'S SINGULAR ESCAPE.

Christopher Watson, 1,000 Waterloo street, had a miraculous escape from being crushed to death at the new electric railway power house on Thames street yesterday afternoon. Watson was ascending a ladder within the walls of the building when one of the principals being put in to support the roof above his head fell with a crash, and the superstructure descended all about him. The ladder was broken in pieces and Watson fell among the ruins fifteen feet below. He was able to rise, but had to be assisted subsequently. His clothing was badly torn, and the flesh at his left thigh, where a part of the iron struck, was a bruised mass. The injured man was taken in a coupe to a doctor's office, where it was found that no bones were broken. The piece of iron weighs nearly two tons and is one of four being placed in position by the Hamilton Bridge Company. In falling it tore away a portion of the brick work and was itself considerably bent. A couple of inches to the left would have meant death to Watson. As it is he will be laid up for some time. He is a married man with a family. MR. MARTIN'S RECITAL.

Cronyn Hall was well filled last evening with a large and critical audience, the occasion being Mr. Thomas Martin's piano recital, an event which is always looked forward to with pleasurable anticipations by pianists and music loving citizens. In listening to Mr. Martin one hardly knows which to admire most, his wonderful technique, his grand and noble tone, or his marvelous and accurate memory. The "Song Without Words," by Grieg, received a most beautiful and poetic rendition. Miss Eva Roblin has a high and clear soprano voice, which she uses in a most artistic style. She was heartily encored. Monsieur Le Simple is a 'cellist of rare attainments. His singing quality of tone was greatly admired. Mr. W. A. Bluethner as accompanist was most satis actory.

Constantinople, Oct. 23.-The Grand Vizier, Kiamil Pasha, has communicated to Shakir Pasha the scheme for reform to be introduced in Ezeroun, Bitlis, Van, Sivas, Mamuretulaziz and Diarbekir. The High Commissioner has been instructed to maintain a scrupulous watch over the execution of the reforms and to report the results by letter to Constantinople. The communication also defines in detail the functions of the High Commissioner relative to the amnesty to be granted to political prisoners and the return of Armenian emigrants and exiles. Disturbances of a serious nature are reported from Kerasun. The Turks attacked the Armenians inhabiting the Boys'. village of Sonlus, in the district of Mudania. CHAPTER XV.-A MAN TO SEE MR. WARREN.

It was a little short of half-past one when Will Spencer dashed into the Warren kitchen and cried:
"Where's Elsie, Mrs. Warren?

Where's Elsie?" Mrs. Warren, who had her hands in a dough pan, looked up in surprise, and saw him standing excited and anxious, with Elsie's hat in his hands. 'Why, Will," responded Mrs. Warren, quaking with new fear, "she left to meet you only a few minutes ago." 'Few minutes! Think, Mrs. Warren, how long was it?"

She looked at the clock, too bewildered almost to read the time.
"It was just after dinner," she re-

"half-past twelve, I suppose." "Great heavens! Almost an hour! Where's Nick?" and Will seized the dinner bell from a shelf and ran to the door, swinging it until it waked the echoes from the farm to Sam Springer's store.

Mrs. Warren was terribly agitated by the young man's excitement and the announcement that he did not need to put into words, but, as we have seen, she was not the one to give way more than momentarily, no matter how severe the strain or how appalling the emergency. She crossed the kitchen and laid her hand on Will's arm, saying:

"Nicholas will be here in a minute now. You don't need to ring any more. Where did you find Elsie's hat?" "Not half way from here to Newcomb's woods. It was right in the path.

"What's the matter?" asked Mr. Warren, appearing from around the shed and running. "Has Dutton—" 'Elsie, Nick," answered Will; "Elsie-I don't know-she's gone!" "Gone, lad? Where?"

"Will held out her hat. "This is all I know about it," he answered.

Mr. Warren's face, flushed with his run, suddenly grew pale, and he leaned his arm against the doorjamb for support.

"She was to meet me at Newcomb's woods," continued Will, "and I found this in the meadows—"
"Take me there," interrupted Mr.
Warren. "You stay in the house, Martha; there's no telling what mischier

may be done next."

He dashed around the house and across the road, Will after him, through the opening in the wall, and down the faint path between the hillocks. "Here, Nick, you've passed it," called Will presently.

Mr. Warren came back and examined the ground attentively. "There's no sign of a struggle," he said. "How long is it since you found "Less than ten minutes. 1 reached the edge of the woods on time, and as Elsie wasn't in sight I started across the meadows to meet her. 1 knew just what way she would come, for there's only one log bridge across Silver Brook, you know. When I found the hat I called her name a great many times, and I went to the top of this knoll. You can see over most of the meadows from there. She wasn't in sight; she didn't answer, and, thinking that something might have alarmed her, and that she had gone to the house, I hurried up there.'

Mr. Warren ran to the top of the hillock, and he, too, scanned the mead-"There's a dozen hollows you can't see into from here," he said, "I'll take those to the north, you to the south.

orders, which will be made up in the most fashionable style, with the best quality of trimmings and those to the north, you to the south.

Hurry, and if you don't find any trace in a quarter of an hour, come back."

Will did not need the injunction to hurry. Both men started down the hillock in opposite directions on the run, and shortly after their voices might have been heard calling "Elsie!" in long-drawn shouts, as they zigzagged from one mound to another, prowled among the stumps of trees, and looked behind rocks and the few scattered boulders that ha drolled down the mountain centuries before.

Wanga had left them no trace to reward their anxious efforts, and when the quarter-hour had passed Will and Warren met again at the base of the hillock and looked at one another in silent inquiry.
"I can't think," faltered Will, "unless they?"

"Yes, about a mile from your house." "Were they in camp?" "There was no sign of camp, no fire, or remains of a fire that I could see.' "Trust a woodman to see that if there was any. They weren't stopping there, then. Now, the question is, has anything been seen or heard of them "I'm thinking of Dr. Nason's horse," remarked Will.

"And I'm thinking of the man who tried to break into my tool chest. You don't know anything about that, but I'm thinking also of the attempted murder of Dutton and the firing of the cabin. You lay all these things to the

"Who else is there to ray them to—wait. Where's Golding?" "I haven't seen him this morning.

Have you?" "Too often; but he went away by seven e'clock at the latest. He hasn't showed up since. Do you suppose he could have been lying in wait for my girl, the villain?"

Mr. Warren's voice broke in a great sob, and it seemed as if he would sink to the ground. Will stepped forward and took his arm.

"We don't know anything about it yet, Nick," he said, his voice steady only by the strongest effort of his will. "The whole village ought to be alarmed. There isn't a human being in the whole township that wouldn't turn out to hunt for Elsie."

"That's right, lad," responded Mr. Warren, recovering; and then, with that fatuous attempt at hope that almost invariably characterizes despair in one of its stages, he added: "Perhaps she's at home now. We'd best go there and see." They went back to the house, each deluding himself with the thought that possibly Elsie had returned by some roundabout way. Mrs. Warren met them at the door, but there was no necessity of exchanging questions and answers on the main point of interest. of men. "I wish you'd speak to Freeman, fore you do anything else. He seems to know something about this."

"Why, what has he done or said?" "He must have heard Will when he came in, for after you had gone I heard him call faintly. I went in. He was very excited. There was bright color in his face and his eyes were wild. I bent down and asked him if he could tell me what he wanted.

"Your daughter?" he whispered, inquiringly. "'Yes, Freeman," I answered. 'I'm afraid something's happened to her.' "Of course, I didn't know exactly what I said, for I couldn't think that Elsie had been lost-or harmed. Well, Freeman was more excited than before. He tried to get up, but when he had half risen he fell back exhausted and moaning. Of course, I wouldn't let himself exert himself again, and told him so. He mumbled your name two or three times and then closed his eyes in the old way, but by the twitching of the wrinkles on his forehead and cheeks, I judged that he was

"Go on, lad," exclaimed Warren. "That's the name the white man called the colored fellow Elsie and I saw on the mountain."

Dutton groaned and covered his face with the sheet. "Dut," said Warren, earnestly, "are you trying to tell us that this Wanga

> Vanderbilt's Little Gift of $15,000,000 to His Daughter-The Presents.

New York, Oct. 23.-As Nov. 6 draws would raise such a weapon against him who threatened or seemed to near, the talk of society is of the Marlborough-Vanderbilt nuptials. Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt will be the third New Yorker who has been made a British duchess. The marriage, now 20 years ago, of Miss Consuelo Yznaga, Dutton with it. Will remembered that for whom she was named, Lord Manhe had seen another gun about the place somewhere, and taking the rifle deville, who became eventually the Duke of Manchester, excited much attention. Then came the marriage of the present Duke of Marlborough to Mrs. Hammersly, but that took place in the mayor's office, and was devoid of sensational social details. These are Miss Vanderbilt's illustrious predecessors. The ceremony at St. Thomas' Church will go down into the history of New York's fashionables as one of the most notable events ever celebrated

HEAPS OF MONEY.

Money will not be spared. There will be nine attendants, all beautiful girls, with immense fortunes, whose combined dowries will probably foot up $50, 000.000—the Misses Gertrude Vanderbilt, Emily Sloane, May Goelet, Evelyn Burden, Marie Winthrop, Elsa Bronzon, Daisy Post, Julia Jay and Katherine Duer. They will all wear little diamond coronets in brooches, gifts of the young duchess, as remembrance of the occasion. The ushers will have no titles, but they will make up the lack in mil-Hons. The complete list has not been announced yet, but it is supposed to include Miss Vanderbilt's cousin, Cornelius Vanderbilt, and Harry Havemeyer. The duke's best man will be Hon. Ivor Guest, one of the most popular young men, and too great a catch to be allowed to return to England without marriage being arranged for over here. For once, it said, Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt will abandon her ideas of exclusiveness and scatter cards broadcast to all of her acquaintance. Four thousand invitations to the wedding have been issued. Except those sent abroad it is not likely tht any will go beging. On the contrary, were St. Thomas' Church twice as large, it probably would not be able to accommodate half those who would like to see the marriage. Everybody is wondering what the Vanderbilts will give in the way of wedding gifts. Wm. K. Vanderbilt will present his daughter with some splendid gems, in addition to the princely settlement he has made on her and on Blenheim—$10,000,000 on the former and $5,000,000 on the latter. Of course the new duchess will have a coronet. Mrs. Astor set the fashion several seasons ago, and since then every society woman has one of these

-John Pullman, a bricklayer living on Kent's lane, fell from a one-story scaffold Monday, at Mr. Wm. Scarrow's new house on York street, opposite Leonard's. He was badly shaken up, but no bones were broken. It will be a couple of days before he will be able to work.

-Since the pavement at the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets has been completed the danger of collisions between pedestrians and wheelmen is doubly great. The majority of the lat-ter have made a practice of crossing the intersection at a ten or twelve mile rate, and many narrow escapes have been experienced. Commencing today, all riders "doing" the intersection at an immoderate rate will be summoned. The great majority of wheelmen exercise extreme care, but there are a few foolish ones who are a "give-away" on the whole class.

REDUCING THE DISTRICTS. The special committee appointed at the London Methodist Conference to rearrange the conference districts met in Colborne Street Church yesterday morning, with Rev. Dr. Williams, of Mitchell, in the chair. The committee considered the question thoroughly, and decided to recommend the conference to reduce the number of districts from 15 to 11. Aylmer, St. Marys, Kincardine and Listowel are the districts which it is proposed to wipe out.

In the afternoon the missionary committee on the apportionment of grants to the various districts met and made allowances as follows:

Is Bicycle Riding Injurious? —Col. Smith, D. A. G., No. 1 Military
District, was in St. Thomas yesterday, exhibited by all classes for the bicycle examining Lieut. Campbell and inspecting carries with it an element of danger. Exercise is essential to vigorous health, but in disease or in those cases where the muscular force is greatly reduced the use of the wheel should be employed cautiously. The proprietors of the very well-known remedy, Putnam's Corn Extractor, attribute the largeness of their sales not to the use of the bi-cycle by the people of Canada, but to the absolute certainty of their preparation to remove the most painful and obstinate corns in twenty-four hours. Putnam's Corn Extractor is always certain, safe and painless. Try it.

A man in Biddeford, Me., who is 66 years old, is having troublous times just now in cutting a wisdom tooth.

THERE IS NOT a more dangerous class of disorders than those which affect the breathing organs. Nullify this danger with Dr. Thomas' Eelectric Oil—a pulmonic of acknowledged efficacy. It cures soreness and lameness when applied externally, as well as swelled neck and crick in the back; and, as an inward specific, possesses most substantial claims to public confidence.
