Campbell, of Guelph.
The tall, slender, stately bride was shrouded in a voluminous white veil, and crowned with orange blossoms, and leaned upon the arm of her father. He gown was simple and beautiful, com-posed of duchesse satin, rich and heavy; the skirt was cut with a square rain, which fell in long folds along the aisle. The waist was really lovely; was a soft mass of shirred and tucke chiffon, and had a berthe of rich old lace, having rose point medallions which fell gracefully from the satin collette over the back and sleeves. The bridal veil was of tulle, imported for the event, and completely shrouded the gown with pretty misty effect. The bridesmaids' costumes were a marvel of beauty and picturesqueness; their gowns were composed of white duchess satin, quite plain as to the yesterday afternoon. skirts, which hung in perfect godets.

Distinguished Visitors at the Great Exposition-Results of the Contests in the Speeding Ring-Grand Parade of Prize Winning Live Stock-Success of the 29th Western Fair Fully Assured.

It is estimated that about 25,000 people visited the Fair yesterday. International Visitors' Day compares very favorably in point of attendance with that of preceding years. A distinguishing feature was the rain. The shower came up suddenly and took the sightseers who were intend upon something other than weather indications com pietely by surprise. There was great currying for shelter. All the buildings were packed with people in a few utes, but by the time the crush in the several buildings began to be anoticeably inconvenient the first shower was over and the crowds surged out into the grounds again. The second downpour, which came shortly afterwards, was considerably heavier than the first, and drove the people off the open stands. A few had umbrellas waited patiently till the clouds should roll by, but they formed a small section. The rest hurried to the various buildings, tents, side shows, booths, etc., on the grounds-anywhere, in fact, where fine crothes could be pro-tected from the rain. In the main building the crowd was thickest. Salesmen sounded the praises of their wares to crowds that could not, if they would, get out of hearing. The aisless were blocked everywhere. It afforded excellent opportunity for each person to examine the exhibit nearest at

LITTLE CUPS USED

Caused Considerable Talk Among Conservative Methodists.

Port Huron, Mich., Sept. 16. - The mpressive communion services of the Methodist Church opened the forty-second annual Detroit conference, yesterday morning. Bishop Cranston, Cincinnati, officiated, assisted by the presiding elders of the differen tricts. About 400 pastors and laymer took the sacrament

The use of individual cups at the Lord's supper, contrary to the usage of the church, caused some talk. The new method is due largely to Rev. M. W. Ryan, of Ypsilanti.

The executive committee was instructed to secure such alterations in the civil code as will provide for the election of aldermen and councilors in the different country parishes by ballot instead of by one proving as at the congress will ask the congress will ask the government was a fact.

Keyes charged that the Trades and Labor Council of Toronto had been a Finding that he had stirred up a horner's nest, Delegate O'Donoghue desired to withdraw the resolution, but the congress preferred to snow it under by a big majority of votes.

With the busy season upon us the stocks which am-90,000 barrels will rapidly decline. Field reports have been of little moment lately, but last week a good show of oil was found in Plympton, mention of which is made elsewhere in this issue, and on Saturday Wm. Mc-Rae drilled in what is supposed to be a 40-barreler in Lowry Bros.' property west of Marthaville. Drilling rigs that have been idle during the summer are moving to new and old fields, and op-erations in this valuity bid fair to eclipse anything of the past few years .-

Eloquent Appeal for Unity and Patriotism in Developing Our Resources

Speeches by Lord Mount Royal, Sir Richard Cartwright and Others.

Montreal, Sept. 17.-The banquet tenered by the Montreal Board of Trade n honor of the Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier last night was a magnificent tribute to a great Canadian who has rendered distinguished service to his ellow-countrymen. The premier was n excellent form, and his speech, while necessarily non-political in character, was patriotic in tone, lofty in sentiment, and, above all things, cloquent. The walls of the banqueting hall were profusely decorated with the national colors, and opposite the president's chair was a portrait in oil of the Queen. The chair was occupied by Mr. John McKergow, president of the Board of Trade. The vice-chairmen were Messrs. E.L. Bond, D. G. Thompson, F. W. Evans, A. J. Brice, Henry Miles James Crathern Charles F. Miles, James Crathern, Charles F. Smith, W. B. Matthewson, R. Mackay, H. Stikeman, and A. W. Stevenson. Mr. David Watson was chairman of gallery and guests' table, Mr. Jas. Pike was chairman of entrance w. Pike was chairman of entrance and guests' table. In addition to the premier the invited guests were Sir Richard Cartwright, Hon. R. W. (Loud cheers.)

LORD MOUNT ROYAL. Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal n rising to propose the toast of "The cominion Parliament," was greeted with great applause. He said his task was an easy one, after the eloquent speech delivered by the prime minister who had just returned with all the honors bestowed by her majesty. Referring to the jubilee procession in London, he said Canadians there felt a thrill of pride at the ovation given to their premier and to that contingen which did honor to itself and to Can-

Hon. R. W. Scott made an able response, holding that the Parliament of Canada was at least abreast of any other legislative body in the world. SIR RICHARD CARTWRIGHT.

Sir Richard Cartwright was als oudly applauded on rising. The recent action of the Parliament of Canada in favor of preferential trade with Great Britan, had been, he said, by far the most notable political feature of her majesty's reign. He always recognized, and he had proclaimed it when it was not so fashionable as now, that Canada occupied a unique position in the British Empire. Without disparaging any other colony, he claimed that the Confederation federation of Canada is entitled to universal weight in the empire. He was pleased to hear the words of the premier regarding the feeling which he desired Canada to cultivate towards the United States. The Parliament of Canada could render no greater service to the empire than to cultivate frie ly relations with the United States. He was not, and never was, in favor o abandoning one jot or tittle of the jus rights of the people of Canada — (ap plause) but it became the people of Cattle—Receipts, 1,500; market is steady; beeves, $3 85 to $6 25; cows and heifers, $2 to $4 50; Texas steers, $3 70 to $3 2; westerns, $3 25 to $4 30; stock—and feeders, $2 20 to $4 35. res and feeders, $3 20 to $4 35.

Canada's Boom; Britain's Awakening

Under the heading, "Canada's Awakening," the London Daily Mail of Aug. 31 publishes the following trite editor

"The triumphal return of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to Canada, happening fortuit-ously to coincide with President Faur'e return to France, almost forces a comparison. While ostensibly invited as a guest of the mother country for the diamond jubilee celebrations, Sir Wilfrid doubtless made up his mind be-fore starting that his real errand was a business one. President Faure's in-vitation to St. Petersburg, likewise or-In England there was a market in proved epoch-making in the national ink it is written with. From the standpoint of Canada and Great Britain, then, Sir Wilfrid's return home with messages of new under standing, new affinity, and new ideals is in every way as epoch-making as the return of the French president, and no stretch of vivid French imagination in Muncey.

Story of How Daniel the Dog Inter rupted the Minister's Sermon and Willie Came to His Rescue.

[Our Little Ones.] Willie was asleep and Dan was lonely. Willie is the minister's son, Dan is his dog. It was Sunday morning, and everyone was at church but these two friends. It was warm and sunny, and they could hear the good preaching, for their house was next loor to the church.

In some way while Willie was listening he fell asleep. Dan kissed him on the nose, but when Willie went to sleep he went to sleep to stay, and did not mind trifles. So Dan sat down with the funniest look of care on his

The Western Fair board directors met at the usual hour this morning, and Mr. W. J. Reid, the chairman of the The to pay all the accounts for the special attractions.

A report was received of a meeting of Thursday night, with Mr. McCrae, chairman, and H. K. Fairbairn, secretary. They want better accommodation and are willing to pay for it. The re-port suggested that prizes for fat cattle be the same as other classes; that there be a box-stall provided for calving cows; and that a herd prize be given for grades. It was stated that some of the pig pens were so small that pigs could not turn around in them. It was also suggested that there should be sections for 3-year-old cows and 2-yearold heifers, and a longer list of prizes for calves and younger animals; also that two classes be provided of calves in the dairy breeds.

One exhibitor said it was unfair to drop from $15 to $8 in the first and second prizes, as there might be little difference between the animals. It was thought that with the good year the directors had had, that they should increase the amount of prizes for stock. It was poor pay for the exhibitor as the Leys.

A Mix-Up on a London Omnibus in the Matter of Making Change Which Was Precipitated by a Meddlesome Florid Gentleman.

It is not alone on London trolley cars that conductors have their troubles. Here is an exquisite bit of a sketch going the rounds from Jerome K. Jerome, on "The Man Who Always Interferes," that conductors all over the earth will sympathize with: It was upon an omnibus that my own personal acquaintance with him began. I was sitting beside two lalies when the conductor came collect fares. One of them handed him sixpence, telling him to take her to Piccadilly Circus, which was two-

"No," said the other lady to her friend, handing the man a shilling, "I pence and I'll pay for the two. The conductor took the shilling punched two twopenny tickets, and then stood trying to think it out. "That's right," said the lady who had spoken last; "give my friend four-pence." The conductor did so. "Now you give that fourpence to me." The friend handed it to her; "and you," sh concluded to the conductor, "give m eightpence, the sixpence he had take The conductor doled out to her th eightpence, the sixpence he had take from the first lady, with a penny and two halfpennies out of his own bag distrustfully, and retired, muttering something about his duties not including those of a lightning calculation "Now," said the elder lady to the younger, "I owe you a shilling. deemed the incident closed, when suddenly a florid gentleman on the opposite seat called out in stentorian

The sentiment of the customs has been lost. Rice and shoes are no longer omens of good luck. The modern thrower of them has transformed them into missiles with which to annoy and mortify the bride and groom. The better class of people have already begun to substitute a shower of rose petals, and this new and far more beautiful idea is rapidly being fol-lowed. We might have preserved the old customs, but we have not. Henceforth, promiscuous rice-throwing and will be left to the boors of our modern society, into whose hands these acts have fallen, and who seem happiest when they can convert the graceful customs of olden times into practical jokes.'

No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial ready for use. It corrects all looseness of the bowels promptly and causes a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor, and is rapidly becoming the most popular medicine for cholera, dysentery, etc., in the market.

Wife lived improperly before their marriage.

Mr. Alexander Sanderson, Choudrant, La., says: "Having used Ayer's Pills at least 25 years, I would say that for all diseases of the bowels, stomach and liver, which can be remedied by pills, these are always effective. They keep the system in perfect order." No one need fear cholera or any

Verdict of the Coroner's Jury in the Case of Engineer O'Hagan's

At the adjourned inquest into the cause of the death of Engineer John P. O'Hagan, which occurred on the morning of the 2nd inst, about three miles west of Strathroy, the jury de-liberated for two hours and rendered the following verdict: "That John Patrick O'Hagan, engineer of the freight train No. 96, came to his death by a rear-end collision between freight No 96 and No 4 Lehigh express, going east on the Sarnia branch of the Grand Trunk Railway about three miles west of the town of Strathroy at 3:30 a.m., on Thursday, Sept. 2, 1897. We find the engine of No. 4 became disabled by stripping the threads off the valve stem, causing a delay of 33 minutes, so that No. 96, which left Wyoming at 2:42 a.m-eleven minutes after the express-came into collision with the rear end of said train at the point mention And we also find that Brakeman Edward Wilson greatly underestimated the distance that he should have traveled in placing the fog signals on the rails, and was negligent in the discharge of his duty. We also find that William'S. Wilson, train dispatcher at London, violated the rules of the G. T. R. in allowing train No. 96 to pass Kingscourt before No. 4 had been re-ported as having left Strathroy. eight miles southwest of here, for their Each Indian brings a bushel of buckeye roots, which, after pulverizing, they place in gunny sacks and place in the river. A juice is formed by the water, which kills or intoxicates thousands of fish for miles below, after and by hand, being thrown into canoes and then taken by the squaws, and cleaned and cooked.

The feast lasts as long as the fish hold out, and the Indians make merry with their queer games and plays, which are always witnessed by large crowds of white citizens.
