OWEN SOUND HOTELS RAISE THEIR RATES

First Effects of Local Option
Passing, According to Hotel
Proprietors.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Owen Sound, Jan. 26.—One of the first changes noticeable here since local option was passed is the raising of hotel rates. All prices advance shortly.

Immediately on the carrying of local option several weeks ago, License Inspector Matthew C. Beckett visited each hotel and warned the hotelmen that since it was to be local option for three years longer, he purposed taking every means at his disposal to insure the enforcement of the law. It was to be war to the hilt if the hotelmen would not meet the requirements of the law. To the objections of some that the business would not pay, the inspector urged that all the hotelmen meet and strike a schedule of rates as would insure them a comfortable margin over expenses. None of the hotelmen was willing to take the initiative, to say nothing of the fact that there were two avowedly temperance hotels. Thereupon the inspector himself called the meeting and the hotelmen attended, and a day or so ago another meeting was held, at which a schedule of prices was arranged to suit the accommodation afforded by the various hotels here. The new schedule represents an increase over the previous rates, but yet no more than charged for similar accommodation in towns of corresponding size. The act of the hotelmen in connection with the matter is being commented upon favorably by citizens generally, and it is felt that the illegal sale of liquor by the hotels will probably cease entirely. In fact, during the past three weeks it has become a matter of comment locally that the town has never been so "dry" and the conviction is growing that this state of affairs has come to stay.

MILLBANK CHURCH HAD PROSPEROUS YEAR

Rev. Walter Moffatt, Formerly of London, Presided at Largely Attended Meeting in Church.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Millbank, Jan. 25.—The annual meeting of the congregation of Knox Church held here last night, was very largely attended. Rev. Walter Moffatt presided, and interesting reports were presented from the various organizations of the church, showing all departments to be in healthy condition. A forward step was taken with respect to missions, in that it was decided to make a canvass of the congregation with a view of meeting the large increase asked in connection with the million dollars' budget of the church.

Miss Inez Kirkland, a popular young lady of Newton, left recently for Golden Rock, to undertake the duties of teacher in that western town.

MITCHELL WEDDING

Eat What You Like

AND WHAT AGREES WITH YOU,
BUT DO NOT EAT TOO MUCH.

DIGESTION WILL BE GOOD IF YOU
REGULATE THE SYSTEM WITH

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

Overeating is the great cause of liver troubles, biliousness and constipation. The digestive system becomes clogged with poisonous waste matter, the liver fails and then follow kidney disorders of the most painful and fatal form, such as rheumatism, Bright's disease and dropsy.

The beginning is almost invariably with the liver and should be overcome by the prompt use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills before serious disease is developed.

An occasional dose of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills when the liver gets sluggish and the bowels constipated will keep the whole digestive system in healthy working order.

Hundreds of thousands of people have found this out by their own experience and would not think of being without this medicine in the house. Others have been restored to health by this treatment after their cases had reached more serious and complicated stages.

There does not seem to be any medicine obtainable which is so successful in awakening the action of both liver and kidneys as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Merit alone can account for their enormous sales.

WILL NOT SPEAK IN ULSTER HALL

Churchill Writes Saying He and Redmond Will Use Some Other Building.

LESSENS CHANCE OF ROW

But Likelihood of Trouble and Bloodshed in Belfast on Feb. 8
Still Remains.

London, Jan. 25.—The danger of a clash in Belfast on Feb. 8 between the Ulster Unionists and the supporters of home rule on the occasion of the meeting at which Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty; John Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader, and others are to speak, has been considerably lessened by the action of Mr. Churchill in writing a letter to the Marquis of Londonderry, chairman of the Belfast Unionist council, in which he agrees not to speak in Ulster Hall, which has been the Mecca of Orangemen for years, on the occasion referred to. The Orangemen have held all their great meetings in this particular hall, and they have declared for weeks past that it should not be profaned on the night in question by a home rule demonstration.

Churchill's Letter.

Mr. Churchill says, however, that he will speak in Belfast on that night, but in some other hall. He adds that if there should be any rioting on the occasion in question, the responsibility for it will rest on Lord Londonderry.

Mr. Churchill says in his letter:

"It is my duty to keep my promise to the Ulster Liberal Association, and assert the right of free speech in a public meeting. But as the main objections appear to be directed against the holding of the meeting in Ulster Hall, I shall ask the Irish Liberal Association to accede to your wish. There will thus be no necessity for your friends to endure the hardships of a vigil or sustain the anxieties of a siege. Neither will it be necessary for you to break the law in an attempt to deprive us forcibly of the use of property to which we are lawfully entitled."

"It is not a point of any importance to me whether I speak in Belfast. On the contrary, I desire to choose whatever hall or place is least likely to cause ill-feeling to the Orange party."

The letter concludes:

"It has, however, become of importance to public liberties that a meeting should take place at Belfast on Feb. 8, and I desire to hold it there in the lawful exercise of elementary rights of citizenship."

The harbor commissioners of Belfast, by informing Mr. Churchill that Feb. 8 would be an inconvenient day for his proposed visit of inspection, gave strong support to the Unionists. On the other hand, the Liberals made a formal demand to be placed in possession of Ulster Hall on the morning of Feb. 8, with a view of defeating the Unionist tactics.

At this point, as a result of the conference held in London yesterday, Mr. Churchill volunteered to accept a change in the place of meeting.

Ulster Still Seething.

The excitement in Ulster over the coming meeting was added to this week by the action of the Unionists in hiring Ulster Hall for the night of Feb. 7, with the intention of holding it by force of numbers on the next day and keeping the supporters of home rule out. Everything pointed to a tremendous assemblage of men, and a serious and serious trouble was anticipated. The action of Mr. Churchill, as already stated, has quieted these fears to a great extent, though the likelihood of trouble and bloodshed still remains.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Jan. 25.—Winston Spencer Churchill's action in giving up his intention to speak in Ulster Hall, Belfast, on Feb. 8, is commented on favorably in today's newspapers. Only the bitterest opponents of the first lord of the admiralty chide him with retreating from a position which he should never have taken up.

The home rule meeting in Belfast will now probably be held in St. Mary's Hall, which is right in the Nationalist quarter. Dispatches from Ireland today express the fear that it will be difficult to prevent trouble in Belfast on the day of the meeting. The Unionists may find that they have created a force which they will be unable to control. Some of the Irish Unionist newspapers now advise Winston Churchill to cancel his visit entirely.

SUPPORTS MR. GRAHAM

Ottawa Journal (Conservative) Takes a Stand on South Renfrew Deal.

Ottawa, Jan. 25.—The Ottawa Journal (Conservative) declines to follow the Government in opposing Hon. George P. Graham in South Renfrew. In an editorial today, it reviews the situation in the riding, and concludes by declaring: "Mr. Graham ought to be in Parliament. He would be of far greater value to Canada than any new man can be."

MARGARET ANGLIN ILL

Her Nerves Give Way on First Night of a New Production.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 25.—Margaret Anglin, the Canadian actress, who was to have appeared in the leading role of Henry Arthur Jones' new play "Lady Gilmore," at its first production this evening at the Academy, is ill from nervous breakdown. A large audience was assembled, and nearly every seat in the Academy had been taken when the announcement was made that "Miss Anglin has been rehearsing the new play here for over a week. Her role is a very exciting one, and at the last moment she gave way under the strain of overwork and nerve tax. Her physician reports that she may be able to appear tomorrow night."

A number of theatrical managers and critics were in town to see the production.

From All Sections of Store Comes News of Final Clearings on Saturday

TOMORROW, if we may judge by the grouping of stocks in many departments, a determined effort has been made to clear the balance of all Special Sale merchandise which has been interesting shrewd shoppers all week. Winter stocks are being crowded back and a strong crusade has been organized to finish with all winter clearings as far as possible Saturday. No rummage goods, either, though the prices do indicate such, but new, clean, high-grade clothing of all kinds for men and boys. Overcoats, Suits, Furs, Underwear, etc., the balance of lines of which just a few too many were bought, as it is impossible to judge the quantity to the garment that you will sell in a season, over which weather or other conditions have some control. We will not go into detail here, but give just a bare list of straight prices showing exact reductions.

LONDON, FRIDAY, JAN. 26.

SELF-CONFESSED HUMBUGS.

The vote (on the Lancaster bill) was used in exposing the insincerity of politicians who made party capital of the ne temere decree in the Federal elections.—London Advertiser.

Will our contemporary have the courage and honesty to name the members of the House of Commons "who made party capital of the ne temere decree?"—London Free Press.

Was Mr. Sexsmith, of East Peterboro, not trying to make party capital of the ne temere decree when he brought the matter up in the House last year? (See Hansard, page 6269.)

Had Colonel Hughes no party motive in dragging the same question before the House last year? (See Hansard, page 7,200.)

Had Mr. Taylor, of Leeds, no partisan purpose in badgering the Minister of Justice on the same subject? (See Hansard, page 8,555.)

Did Mr. Burnham, the member for West Peterboro, make no use of the ne temere decree? Here is an extract from the debates in the House in November last:

Mr. E. M. Macdonald inquired whether Mr. Burnham held that the Dominion Government had power to deal with it (the promulgation of the ne temere decree), and legislature under the British North America Act.

Mr. Burnham replied that it certainly had the power. It was a question that senators, synods, assemblies, and conferences had taken up. It was a very important question in Ontario, and was one reason for the defeat of the Laurier Administration.

Hon. Dr. Pugsley asked if the question played a part in the speaker's riding in the last election and if it was used against the Government.

"Assuredly," was Mr. Burnham's reply. "The country demanded a Government strong enough and willing enough to enforce the laws of the country against all who would set them at defiance."

"May I ask the honorable gentleman," queried Hon. Mr. McLean (Halifax), "if in his judgment this question played an important part in the campaign conducted throughout Ontario, and, if so, what proportion of the result was attributed to it?"

Hon. Mr. Monk said that the member from Halifax had no right to ask such a question, while Hon. Frank Oliver maintained that the question was quite in order, a warm exchange of words taking place between the minister and ex-minister. Mr. McLean meantime reiterated his question.

"I have no objection to answering it," finally declared Mr. Burnham. "The question certainly played a very important part in the election throughout Ontario. The people wanted the laws of the country vindicated and the people protected."

"The Burnhams, the Hugheses, the Sexsmiths, and the rest of the tribe that snatched a party advantage from the agitation over the ne temere decree, voted against the Lancaster bill to save the Government, and proclaimed themselves frauds and humbugs."

THE GERMAN ELECTIONS.

The most significant feature of the German elections, now concluded, was the advance of the Socialists against a wave of jingoism on which every other political group chose to ride. The working classes have given warning that they will tolerate no further burdens for aggressive "world policies."

The Socialists have doubled their strength in Reichstag and form the largest single party there, with 110 members in a House of 397. They would have nearly half the chamber if the large towns and the industrial districts were given representation proportionate to their population and electorate. Berlin is the most flagrant illustration on a large scale of the under-representation caused by the urban development of the last 40 years. It has a population 150 per cent. larger than when the empire was established, yet it continues to be limited to six members as then, instead of the 25 to which it would be entitled on a strictly equitable system.

One of its electoral districts has 900,000 people. It is only by the continuance of this gerrymander that the Socialists will be kept from controlling the Reichstag within the next decade, if they maintain the same rate of increase in voting strength as in the past decade.

In the last Reichstag the Conservatives and Clericals, "the blue-black bloc," commanded an absolute majority. In the new House they are in a minority and the balance of power will rest with the National Liberals and Radicals, two middle-of-the-road parties representing chiefly the commercial and professional classes. They will co-operate with the Socialists in reducing the oppressive food taxes, but they are for industrial protection, for a big navy programme, and a "spirited" foreign policy. It is not likely that they will be so keen on increasing taxation for the army and navy when the German proletariat has declared itself so emphatically against militarism. The Socialist party, or Social-Democratic, as it is more accurately named, is not so revolutionary and doctrinaire as in its earlier days. In its parliamentary programme it makes no mention of the abolition of private ownership, but confines itself to these demands:

1. Abolition of plural voting (existing only in Prussia).
2. Local self-government.
3. The Imperial Government entirely responsible to Parliament.
4. Church disestablishment (not an immediately practical reform).
5. Free public schools.
6. Freedom of the press.
7. Lowered cost of living.
8. Lessened military burdens.
9. Gratuitous legal proceedings.
10. Gratuitous medical attendance.

Only the last three planks of the platform are Socialistic. The party is becoming more practical and less doctrinaire, as it increases in power, and as it becomes more dependent on the moderate elements that have been drawn to it because there is no genuine Liberal party to serve as a counter-attraction.

GROWTH OF BRITISH SHIPPING.

Lloyd's return for the past year shows how greatly in advance of other shipbuilding countries is the United Kingdom. Including sailing vessels, and not including warships, the tonnage built in the leading countries in 1911 was as follows:

	Ships.	Tonnage.
United Kingdom	483	1,519,000
Germany	89	350,300
France	26	123,000
Austria	11	62,100
United States	59	105,800
Holland	45	78,700
Japan	35	22,000
Norway	43	21,700
Denmark	12	19,200
Italy	18	19,100
Belgium	6	14,200

The compilation sets forth the number and gross tonnage of steamships building on Dec. 31 in 1910 and 1911 in British shipyards, as follows:

	Ships.	Tonnage.
1910	313	1,124,000
1911	441	1,510,000
Increase in 1911	128	386,000

The prosperity is shared in by all the principal shipbuilding centres, with the exception of Barrow, Liverpool, Middlesbrough and Stockton, the output of each being shown as follows:

	Dec. 31, 1911. Inc. or dec.	Tonnage.
Barrow	2,249	9290
Belfast	302,650	51,343
Glasgow	355,263	163,783
Groenocok	228,573	48,303
Hartlepool	64,353	22,218
Liverpool	14,794	7,316
Middlesbrough and Stockton	68,357	75,020
Newcastle	249,943	36,921
Sunderland	194,648	67,751

Decrease, *Increase.

Fifty-nine warships, with a tonnage of 255,555, were under construction for the Admiralty at private British yards on Dec. 31, in addition to eight warships, with a tonnage of 132,200 for foreign powers.

Perhaps the new group in the House of Commons will call itself the Lancastrians.

An agricultural boom is expected in New Ontario this year. It will be quite independent of the growth of "blind pigs."

"Ulster will fight, and Ulster will be right," cried Lord Randolph Churchill. But there is a suspicion that many in Ulster would rather fight than be right.

Speaker Sproule has made his first prayer in French. The difficulty of governing a bilingual country is increased when an Ontario man sits in the House of Commons for nearly 40 years, and makes no attempt to acquire the French language.

The banquet tendered by the Toronto Globe staff to Senator Jaffray, president of the Globe, upon his attainment of his eightieth year, was a merited compliment to that sturdy veteran. The Dominion owes much to the Globe and the Globe owes much to Mr. Jaffray.

Churchill insists on speaking in Belfast, but will not insist on speaking in Ulster Hall, a building which for some reason seems to be sacrosanct in the eyes of the Orangemen. He refuses to show the white feather, but holds out an olive branch. If his opponents have a remnant of prudence left they will accept the offer and keep quiet.

A Few Lines of Most Anything Goods He Needed

"Do you keep football goods here?" asked a gloomy-faced young man, as he entered Jones' shop.
"Yes, sir; everything in that line."

Parlor Magic.
With the gramophone on our tables we don't envy the folk their fine entertainments.—From a letter written to The Advertiser by a country gentleman.

Well, they say farm life's dreary.
That it's just all gloom and drone,
Well, perhaps they're right, eh partner?
But get down the gramophone!

Let's send out for John and Mabel,
Then take down that pesky phone,
Tell the deacon, if he's able,
To come hear the gramophone.

Start the show with "Dear Old Georgia,"
Then the one "bout 'Left Alone.'"
That's a beauty—Howdy, Deacon!
Come and hear the gramophone!

Now we've heard those, let's have Sousa.
One that's got the saxophone.
Don't forget the one that's comic,
And wind up the gramophone.

By the land! Let's have the lancers!
City life would make me groan!
Clear away the chairs and tables,
Let's prance round the gramophone!

City folks may get the glitter
But they cannot find more "tone."
That's contained in that contraption
That they've called the grammy-phone!

Finds her revenge in recitatives,
And He must swallow it.

BLYTH FUNERAL

Rev. Dr. McLean Buried From Church Where He Preached Forty Years.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Blyth, Jan. 25.—The funeral of Rev. Dr. McLean, for 40 years pastor of the Presbyterian Church, was held here today and was one of the largest ever in this district. It had always been Dr. McLean's wish to be buried from the church in which he had preached for so many years, and the service held here today was attended not only by the members of the congregation and relatives, but by nearly every pastor in the presbytery. Dr. McLean is survived by his wife, Mrs. (Rev.) McLean, Mrs. (Rev.) Stewart, Rev. W. McLean, Miss Miller at home, and Donald, who is working in the Northwest.

BORDEN GIVES IN TO OPPOSITION

Question of Dismissal of N.T.R. Commission Allowed To Stand Over.

SIR WILFRID'S PROPOSAL

Suggests That the Retiring Commissioners Be Granted a Three-Months' Salary Allowance.

Ottawa, Jan. 25.—It would appear that Mr. Arthur Meighen, the lawyer from Portage la Prairie, and Mr. William Sora Middleboro, the lawyer from North Grey, still doubt the wisdom and efficacy of Premier Borden's policy of cabinet material.

Their strong views on this matter took practical form in the Commons today, and they rushed manfully, and entirely unsolicited, to the aid of the ministers.

The matter under consideration was a second reading of Hon. Mr. Cochrane's bill to amend the Transcontinental Railway commission. The minister had explained that the decision to discontinue the services of the three commissioners whose resignations had been secured was resultant upon the fact that the work of constructing the railway had been so far advanced as to warrant dispensing with the offices they occupied.

Sir Wilfrid's suggestion. Sir Wilfrid Laurier had asked for a report of the work completed, the retiring commissioners had touched at all, and had suggested the advisability of following the course adopted by Hon. Mr. Foster in dispensing with the services of the lecturers of the annuities branch, by granting the retiring commissioners three months' salary allowance.

Hon. Mr. Cochrane confessed that he had not the data at hand to give the House the information asked for at the present sitting, owing to the absence of the chairman of the commission from the city, and asked that the bill be put through its committee stage, with the understanding that the matter be raised by the Liberal leader should he call with it at a third reading. This Sir Wilfrid agreed to.

Then came Messrs. Meighen and Middleboro, and a resultant two-hour discussion, growing more acrimonious as it proceeded, and at the end Premier Borden capitulated, and the bill stands over for further consideration in committee of the whole.

A widespread sentiment. Mr. Meighen was not content with the minister's explanation of the removal of the commissioners. He declared there was a widespread public sentiment against these men and their conduct, and charged that they had paid a Mr. Johnson, a Liberal lawyer of Winnipeg, some $600 for services which should have been performed for $100, six times the usual charge.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier stated that if it were true that there was a large and widespread sentiment against the removal of the commissioners there was a larger and more widespread sentiment that they had done their work well. He spoke to their credit that superintending the spending of millions, only the sum of $300 was now called in question.

Mr. Middleboro came next. He contributed a recapitulation of the Lumsden charges, which Mr. Macdonald (Piquette) subsequently described as a "delightful mixing and muddling of fact and fiction." He suggested that the incursion resorted from men who were looking for the opportunity to serve their country for a consideration.

Mr. Crothers Next. Hon. Mr. Crothers was next on the firing line. He said the commission had been created by a "deliberate and intentional" act of the government, and that the commission was a "deliberate and intentional" act of the government, and that the commission was a "deliberate and intentional" act of the government.

Hon. Charles Murphy. Hon. Mr. Murphy thought Mr. Borden should have followed the historic precedent and stood with his back to the door before he released his ministers from cabinet council, demanding that they all say the "habit adopted by some of the ministers of crawling out of an awkward position into which they have gotten themselves is not going to be repeated in my case," he declared. "I stand within the judgment of the House in making that statement."

But Mr. Crothers did not come back, and the ex-secretary of state proceeded uninterupted.

The Premier Capitulates. It began to look like a protracted debate, when the Premier rose and capitulated. The Government, he said, would bring down the information asked for by the Opposition before trying to proceed further with the consideration of the bill. Accordingly the committee rose, with matters as they were.

SOVEREIGN BANK NOTES

Court Decides in Favor of Curator and Against the Directors.

[Canadian Press.]
Toronto, Jan. 25.—That the mere payment of $2,000 security for their appeal to the Privy Council is not sufficient to stay execution against those directors who gave their notes for lack of the Sovereign Bank and then protested that the stock was not theirs, and that the notes could not be collected upon, is the decision of Mr. Justice Clague in a judgment given this morning.

The judgment was given in the action brought by Curator W. E. Stavert against D. W. Campbell, and applies also to similar actions against Donald McMillan, James McPhee and D. D. McMillan.

ORNAMENTAL LIGHTS FOR DUNDAS ST. EAST

Petition for Extension of the System is Practically All Signed Now.

The petition for the extension of the ornamental street lighting on Dundas street from Wellington to the Fair Grounds is practically all signed up, and in a week's time will be presented to the council.

Forty names have been added during the past few days, and a few more only are required to comply with the municipal act.

Richmond street has already been finished, and the bylaw will be prepared within a very short time. General Manager Gaultz expects that construction work will be commenced early in the spring.

H. E. COMMISSION WANT A STORE ROOM

City of London Will Provide the Provincial Body With Accommodation.

The water commissioners have received a request from the hydro-electric commission that sufficient room be allowed them in the new stores building to accommodate them. It is the intention to make the Hydro-Electric Commission a branch of the Hydro-Electric Commission, and they are desirous of obtaining a store in connection with the local stores department.

"We are altering our plans to accommodate the commission," said Manager Gaultz. "These will be considered by the commissioners at an early date, and a definite proposition made. In addition to the stores department, room space for two automobiles is required."

COUNCIL WILL DEAL WITH MANY BYLAWS

Items for City of London Bill Will Be Sanctioned at Meeting Today.

A special meeting of the city council has been called for this afternoon at 5 o'clock to pass the necessary bylaws to grant $25,000 towards the erection of a union traction station, the bylaw to issue debentures to the amount of $75,000 for the extension of the street lighting system, and other necessary expenditures on capital, and $25,000 for main extensions in connection with the waterworks department. It is necessary to pass the bylaws at once, in order that they may be included in the City of London bill, which will come up at the next session of the Legislature.

K. OF C. BANQUET FOR BRO. HESSIAN

Popular Member of the Order Has Been Transferred to Kingston—A Presentation Made.

On Wednesday evening a complimentary banquet was tendered Brother E. V. Hessian, of the military stores department in this city, who has been transferred to Kingston. About one hundred members of the order, together with a representation from the Foresters, sat down to table. The chair was occupied by Grand Knight Macdonald.

A liberal toast was given through the speakers being Rev. Father Laurendeau, Senator Coffey, John O. Dromgoole, Stephen Pocock, Chris. Fitzgerald, Jun. Claude Brown and John Forristal, Jun.

Mr. J. J. Callaghan, on behalf of the Knights of Columbus, presented Brother Hessian with an illuminated address of a most complimentary character, expressing regret that his duties called him to another part of the province and giving him assurance that the best wishes of his brother knights will accompany him to his new home. The address was accompanied by the presentation of a handsome travelling bag.

IMPORTANT TO MOTHERS

Mothers should know just why Zam-Buk is so effective in cases of rashes, scalp sores, pimples, and eruptions on babies and young children. Most ordinary salves contain animal oil and fat. Every housewife knows that if animal oil or fat be left exposed to air for any length of time putrefactive changes must occur. These changes occur more or less even if they are hidden by scent. Now, an salve which sinks into the pores enters the blood. You would not feed your child impure food. Why put into its blood rancid animal fats?

Zam-Buk contains no trace of animal fat or oil, or any mineral poison. It is compounded of healing herbal juices and essences. Applied to cuts, burns, bruises and skin injuries it allays pain, kills disease germs and heals. Sold everywhere at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

BEAUTY OF HEADDRESSING

By Cynthia Grey.

A woman should be as careful of what she has on her head as that which she has in it.

A woman's headdress may not be so important as her head. There can be no doubt, however, that what she wishes to wear on her head, and the way in which she chooses to wear it, vastly affects the impression she makes on others.

Headdresses should be, first, becoming; second, beautiful; and third, useful. I place the quality, which naturally should come first, last, because we have long since dispensed with the primitive idea of what a headdress should be.

As a rule, women do not know what beauty means; they do not consider that the "fitting and appropriate" have always their part in what is beautiful. Therefore, they always follow whatever presents itself as a novelty.

A headdress should never deform the shape of the head. It should, in color, enhance the complexion—whichever it may be—and bring out the shadings of the hair. It should hold its place of honor in the whole toilet. It might be, and almost always is in these days, the most expensive part of the attire.

The present fashion of wearing caps is as artistic as it is unbecoming. Only young girls can look well with these caps on without the fitting Watteau costume; its powder and patches. A cap, no matter of what material it is made, makes anyone's face, if one is over 18 years of age, look 10 years older than she is.

Turbans are beautiful on some women. Guido probably felt the peculiar charm of the turban when he placed one on the beautiful head of the melancholy Beatrice Cenci. In her face there is a pathetic dignity which is enhanced by her head adornment and which would certainly be impaired were any other cap substituted. There are many turbans that might be called beautiful artistically. But there are more seen at the present day that are ridiculous.

The ultra-fashionable le women who hide their crowning glory under a silken turban cannot possibly realize that they are smothering the life out of their hair, stopping the circulation in the scalp and taking chances that those men do who become prematurely bald from wearing tight-fitting hats. Luxuriant tresses are, certainly, the most natural and appropriate adornments of a youthful face.

"Beauty unadorned, adorned the most."

Women should study their heads. They should dress them with becomingness and in taste, regardless of the extremity of fashion.

First consider your hair, then adorn it accordingly. We are obliged to wear hats, but I am thankful we do not have to wear caps.

Remember, thin locks may be a misfortune, but caps are your own fault.

CYNTHIA'S CHAUFFEUR

[BY LOUIS TRACY.]

Then, having found a clear space, she dozed for a while, and Cynthia, like a true-born American, began the day's business by giving the answer before either of her companions even thought of putting the Great Question. "Grimalkin will win!" she cried. "Mr. Deane told my father so. I want to play Grimalkin for ten dollars."

Though Medenham was no turf devotee, he formed distinctly unfavorable conclusions as to the financial stability of the bawling bookmakers near at hand. "If you wish to do any betting, Miss Vanrenen," he said, "give me the money and I will invest it for you. There is no three o'clock. We have an hour and a half in which to study form."

For the life of the turf, Cynthia could not imitate the complete annihilation of self practiced by the well-bred English servant. The American girl missed the presence of this trait far less than the other woman, but by this time even Mrs. Devar began to accept Medenham's good-humored jests as a sign of equality as part of the day's amusement.

Cynthia handed him a card. She had bought three while they were crawling up the hill behind a break-down of jeering Cockneys.

"What will win the first race?" she asked. "Father says you men often hear more than the owners about the real performances of horses."

Medenham tried to look knowing. He thanked his stars for Dale's information. "I am told Eyo has a chance," he said. "Well, put me a sovereign on Eyo."

That lady, being quick-witted, took care not to offend Cynthia by pretending not to understand, though it set Medenham's teeth on edge to hear a race horse called a pony. She opened a gold purse and produced a coin.

"I don't mind risking a little," she muttered.

Medenham found, however, that she also had handed him a sovereign, and his conscience smote him, for he guessed already, with accuracy as it happened, that she was Miss Vanrenen's paid chaperon during the absence of the girl's father on the continent.

"Personally, I am a duffer in matters connected with the turf," he explained. "A friend of mine—a chauffeur—mentioned Eyo."

"Oh, that is all—Eyo," laughed Cynthia. "I like the colors—Eau de Nile and white. Look! There he goes."

She had good eyes, as well as pretty ones, else she could not have distinguished the silk jacket worn by the rider of a horse cantering at that moment along the cleared course. Crowded coaches, four rows deep, lined the rails near the judge's box, and the half-hued parades of their feminine occupants almost completely blocked the view, a distant one in any case, owing to the width of the intervening valley.

Medenham raised no further protest. He walked to a stand where a press of people betokened the presence of a popular layer of odds, found that Eyo's backed him for four pounds, and he pushed and elbow his way through a struggling crowd, immediately after the bet was made, Eyo's quotation was reduced by two points in response to signals tick-tacked from the inclosures. "This, of course, argued a decided following for Dale's selection, and these seventh hour movements in the turf market are illuminative. Before he got back to the car there was a mighty shout of 'They're off!' and he saw Cynthia Vanrenen stand on the seat to watch the race through her glasses."

Mrs. Devar stood up, too. Both women were so intent on the troop of horses now streaming over the crest of the six-furlong course that he was able to stare his fill without attracting their attention, and he was able to stare his fill without attracting their attention, and he was able to stare his fill without attracting their attention.

"I like Cynthia," he said to himself, "though I shall be in a deuce of a mess if I meet her anywhere after this piece of masquerading. Not much chance of that, I expect, seeing that Dad and I go to Scotland early in July. But what a bore to tumble across Jimmy's matter. I hope it is not a case of 'like mother like son,' because Jimmy is the limit."

SOCIETY WEARS DAINTY DAGGERS

MISS MARY K. GRAHAM.

New York, Jan. 24.—The female of the species has a new fad, more deadly than the hatpin. Women of fashion are actually wearing daggers.

A Fifth Avenue jewelry house a few weeks ago imported a line of glistening stilettoes, sheathed in diamond-encrusted gold. Society girls rushed to the fad and any evening now you will see them at the opera or in the fashionable restaurants wearing these sinister ornaments.

In the accompanying picture Miss Mary K. Graham, daughter of the rich F. Worden Graham, of Washington and New York, is seen wearing a bejewelled dagger near her heart.

How To Do the Hair.

Dear Miss Grey: 1. Would you please tell me two or three new ways for girls of 12 and 13 to do their hair? 2. Will the kimono sleeves be worn in the summer dresses?

BLUE EYES. Of a single new way, let alone two or three. Sorry. Perhaps some correspondent can tell us.

2. Yes. School for Girl. Dear Miss Grey: Do you know of a school or any place where a partly afflicted, dull girl could be taught light work and sewing? WORRIED. You might apply to the Mome for Epileptics, Woodstock, Ont.

The Wedding Ring. Dear Miss Grey: Will you kindly tell me (1) if it is always customary for the groom to provide a wedding ring for the marriage ceremony when the ceremony is performed in church, and when an engagement ring has already been given? (2) For a similar ceremony is it necessary and proper for the groom to have a gentleman to support him? ANXIOUS.

1. Certainly, it is the groom's place to provide the wedding ring. 2. It is quite proper, although not absolutely necessary.

Raisin Filled Cookies. Cream one cup sugar and a half cup shortening. Add half a cup sweet milk, one beaten egg, three and a half cups flour. Add a large teaspoonful baking powder and a pinch of salt. Flavor as desired.

Filling. Mix three-fourths cup sugar and boiling water, and one cup seedless raisins. Cook until thickened. Cool. Roll cookies very thin. Place a teaspoon of filling on top of each and cover with another cookie. Press down edges and bake in a quick oven.

Stage Dialogues. Dear Miss Grey: Having received very helpful aid from you by reading from your columns, I desire to ask you a few questions, and hoping you will answer as soon as possible: Where would a young lady, desiring to become an actress, write for a book on "Stage Dialogues," or any book on that subject? BLANCHIE.

Education of English Girls. The English girl is in a fair way to be made wiser, if not happier, since an Englishman, evidently desiring to be competent in the matter, has undertaken to instruct her in the practical details of everyday life, having established a school for that purpose.

The pupils at this odd institution are taught how to alight from an electric tram without endangering their own safety and that of pedestrians. They are taught how to open a window and put up a shade in a railway carriage, what kind of shoes to wear to conserve their health and comfort, and when to wear them, and how to fill a fountain pen.

In addition, instruction is given in the art of folding clothes, both men's and women's, the proper method of doing up umbrellas and trimming lamps, of opening packing cases and tins, and of driving nails and pulling corks, to say nothing of the correct method of lighting fires, or, as the British say, of building them.

Other courses embrace instruction in the care and feeding of dogs and other animals, to show, for instance, why it is wrong to give dogs chicken bones.

The theory of sanitation is also taught, and practical demonstrations are accorded of the effect of grease on the linings of pipes, and the reasons for keeping it as far as possible out of sinks.

Lectures are given on the prices of all household things, and the quantity required for stated numbers of persons.

Every girl in the school must have a pocket, since purse-carrying in the hand is strictly forbidden.

DO YOU KNOW?

That to wipe all dust from your windows and rub them with a cloth dipped in vinegar will produce a high polish on the glass.

Starch should be mixed with soapy water, for thus the linen will have a more glossy appearance and be less likely to stick to the iron.

Moisten grease spots with cold water and soda before scrubbing, as this will cause them to be more easily removed.

Good black ink, mixed with the white of an egg, is excellent to restore the color to black kid gloves or shoes.

Any kind of steamed bread will be tastier if it is baked ten or fifteen minutes immediately on being taken from the steamer and before being removed from the mold.

If new cake tins are put on top of the stove until they have a bluish color, but not until they become burned, cake will not stick to them during the baking, as it usually does to new tins.

Household Hints

When packing a pasteboard hat box in a trunk for a journey save the hat to the bottom of the box. No amount of jolting of the trunk can crush or injure the hat or trimmings, as it will remain firmly in place. This is an especially good plan where the trimming consists of expensive plumes or tips.

In making angel cake, add one tablespoonful of cornstarch to the sugar and sift five times. The cake will be tender and velvety and never tough. To keep it moist and tender turn a crock over it. Angel cake can be cut easily if the knife is wet in cold water.

To bake potatoes quickly, clean and pour boiling water over them, let stand on the stove five or ten minutes before putting them in the oven to bake.

To clean windows in winter when water would freeze on them, first wipe off the dust with a dry cloth, then with a cloth saturated with kerosene. Polish with a clean dry cloth.

An effective waist is made by embroidering with some one or more colors and making tating of the same embroidery cotton for the neck finishing.

In cleaning the dark stain on the inside of aluminum vessels, you will find that by boiling water and borax and letting this solution stand in it for some time all stains are removed.

When baking beans, put in about half a teaspoonful of ginger, which will aid in digesting them, and one or two tomatoes, according to size, which will give the beans a very good flavor.

Edson, Alberta, the first divisional point on the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway west of Edmonton, has become a busy point. Teams are leaving every day for the Grande Prairie country. Up in the Peace River District, road houses have been erected and good accommodation is afforded for travellers, and ample provision for the accommodation of horses is assured. This route is the favorable one to reach the Peace River country at this time, and it is surprising to see the number of people that are going in.

Death at Charleston.

Charleston, S. C., Jan. 25.—Jockey A. Burton was almost instantly killed while riding his father's horse, McAndrews, in the fourth race at Palmetto Park this afternoon. Stedfeldt, with Forsythe in the saddle, stumbled at the head of the stretch and McAndrews fell over him. The diminutive Forsythe escaped uninjured, and rode in the concluding race. Burton was hurled to the jockey room, where he died from concussion of the brain. The boy's father, Julius and Fred, were prominent riders on the Canadian circuit several years ago, and this had also rode in Canada last year.

"BILLY" DELANEY DIES AT OAKLAND

Was the Greatest Fight Trainer
That Ever Entered Pugilistic Circles.

DISCOVERED JEFFRIES

And Was Later Responsible for Jeffries Being Defeated by Johnson —Got His Revenge.

Oakland, Cal., Jan. 25.—Billy Delaney, maker of champions and probably the greatest trainer of fighters the ring game ever knew, died here today. His end had been expected for some time.

Delaney made champions, and then helped to unmake them. His first big success was James J. Corbett. He trained "Pompadour Jim" for his first battle with Joe Choynski, which was also Corbett's first big fight. Corbett whipped Choynski. Delaney trained Corbett for his succeeding battles.

While Corbett was preparing for his championship tussle with Bob Fitzsimmons, Delaney, who had heard of Jim Jeffries, sent for him and engaged the big fellow to act as sparring partner for Corbett. Fitzsimmons, trimmed Corbett, and Delaney switched to Jeffries. He saw in the big, awkward giant a possible champion, and he brought Jeffries to the front. It was Delaney who trained Jeffries and saw him beat Fitzsimmons and Corbett, and gain the heavyweight championship.

Delaney trained Jeffries for all his big engagements. Jeffries went into retirement. So did Delaney. The champion and his trainer had some difficulty and Delaney became the enemy of Jeffries. Delaney tried to make Al Kaufman championship material but in this he failed.

Then came Johnson, the black giant. Johnson worked his way to that stage where he laid claim to the heavyweight championship of the world. Jeffries was still in retirement, and it was Jeffries who kept Johnson from owning a clear right to the title. There were months of quibbling, arguments, coaxing, and Jeffries was finally brought out of retirement to fight the negro for the championship.

Delaney waited. One day shortly before July 4, when the bout was to take place, Delaney came into the Johnson training camp and took the negro in hand. Delaney had been ill. His physicians advised him to remain at home, but he risked his life and came on to coach Johnson on Jeffries' weaknesses and give him the key to victory. Delaney wanted revenge on Jeffries, and he had it on the afternoon of July 4, when, sitting in Johnson's corner, he saw the former dock wallop from Galveston, Texas, unmercifully beat down the white man and take the championship from the Caucasian race.

Delaney lived one year and seven months in which he gloried in the revenge he had over his enemy, James J. Jeffries, the man whom he made heavyweight champion of the world, and who turned against him.

The funeral will be held Saturday, and the body will be cremated. Delaney leaves a widow and two sisters. The latter live in New York State. Delaney lived almost his entire lifetime on the Pacific coast. He was inseparably associated with the history of amateur and professional boxing in the west. He was a pioneer in rigorous training methods, enforcing rigid discipline and much of his success. Delaney was a boxer of considerable note, as well as a trainer, and a few years ago served as sparring partner for men.

While he was thoroughly familiar with every aspect of the sport, defending it staunchly and advancing its interests in every possible way, Delaney was not heavily interested financially, and rarely made large bets.

GEORGE BONHAG LOWERS A RECORD

H. McDonald Lowers the Record for Throwing 18-Pound Shot at New York Athletic Carnival.

[Canadian Press.] New York, Jan. 25.—Two world's records went to the board at the annual athletic carnival games of the Irish-American Athletic Club, held in Madison Square Garden last night. The first to go was the record for throwing the 18-pound shot, when H. McDonald threw the weight 44 feet 14 inches. The former record was 43 feet 9 inches. In the 5,000-metre run, George Bonhag, who had been in the record book for 17 years, was beaten by Louis Scott at Celtic Park, covering the distance in 15 minutes 5 1/2 seconds.

PANAMA CANAL TOLLS

English Paper Says That British Shipping May Be Heavy Loser.

[Canadian Press.] London, Jan. 25.—The news that Herr Hain, the German shipping magnate, is on the way to Panama has caused a new flurry among British shipping men, who were already somewhat perturbed by the prospect of the new conditions which will follow the opening of the canal.

The Pall Mall Gazette gives prominence to a letter from a correspondent who has just returned from Panama, and who says:

"If some improvement is not speedily made in the British mail services to South America, and along the western coast, we may expect to find, when the canal is opened, that both the Germans and the Americans will get ahead of us, and capture the lion's share of the increased traffic."

"Already passengers are avoiding the English boats, and taking passage either by the German or the American 'fruit' line in preference. Panama all the talk was of preferential rates for American shipping, or penal rates for foreigners. It comes to the same thing. The Americans cannot possibly pay these very heavy rates and charge, and these American ship-owners will not stand if they are levied on their ships. The Americans undoubtedly can make the opening of the canal the opportunity for a great effort to re-establish their mercantile marine."

After expressing the opinion that the canal cannot pay as a commercial undertaking, but that if German ships receive a heavy preference, a national advantage will be gained, the correspondent continues:

"I am convinced that in the mind of the American Government the first consideration is the strategic benefit to be derived from the control of the canal. It is, of course, well known that the entrance is being fortified, but few people know the strength of the masked batteries in the American zone behind Colon. Approach thereto is forbidden, naturally enough, and I cannot give details, but I have seen sufficient to know that American control of the canal has been thoroughly safeguarded from attack. The excuse given is that these armaments are necessitated by the recent increases of armaments in Jamaica."

The Click of the Steel Shoe

The Junior O. H. A. game scheduled to be played at Kingston next Monday night has been defaulted to Belleville by Frontenacs, in view of the fact that Trenton has already won the district. As Boyer, left wing player of the Senior Frontenacs, will not be able to play for several weeks, it is likely that George Richardson, of both Queen's and Frontenacs fame, will be played in his stead against Varsity in Toronto next Wednesday. Richardson has volunteered his services.

Edgar Dey, of Ottawa, member of the Halifax Socials team, who has been a regular to his bed for two weeks as a result of injuries sustained in a game, went to a third operation yesterday, and is now in a precarious condition. His mother has arrived at Halifax from Ottawa.

Bruce Stuart has broken into hockey again. The former captain of the Ottawas has consented to take charge of the St. Johns of the capital, and coached a players for the first time last evening. He will receive a $200 bonus in the event of winning the championship of the Ottawa section of the Interprovincial Amateur Hockey Union. Stewart will challenge for the Allan cup in the event of qualifying.

CITY AMATEUR LEAGUE GAMES

The mighty have fallen. The Baled Havanas, whom many thought would go through the Manufacturers' League without a defeat, were defeated last evening by the Lawson & Jones' team in a fast game at the Westminster rink by the score of 3 to 1. The Lawson & Jones team sprung a surprise, as they have been putting up an indifferent sort of fight so far this season, but last night they woke up at the start, and before the cigar-makers realized the fact they were being beaten.

The half-time score was one all, each team putting up a great game in the first period. The Lawson & Jones defence was working strong, and the fast line of the Gasts broke through forward line and again just when it looked as though a score would follow. In the second half, the players were able to come back stronger than their opponents, and they scored the winning goal, while their defence proved invincible. The game was refereed by "Sid" Rankin.

The teams were:
Lawson & Jones—Talbot, goal; Adams, point; Orr, cover; Myers, rover; Stanton, centre; Clarke, left; Land, right.

ASKINS 6, DUNDAS CENTRES 2.
Dundas Centre went down before Askins in a Methodist League Senior B rink last evening. The Askins rink last evening by the score of 6 to 2. Askins Street played First Methodist B rink last evening by the score of 5 to 4. The teams were:
Askins—Crawford, goal;

Linkin, who is now a member of the Junior O. H. A. team, and Harry Nelles. The half-time score was 3 to 0 in favor of Askins Street. In the second half, the Dundas Centre seven set a faster pace, and in a few minutes had scored two goals, but the Askins Street team smoothed them out, and ran in three while their opponents failed to tally again.

The teams:

DUNDAS CENTRE JUNIORS 3 ASKINS STREET 0.

Dundas Centre Juniors demonstrated that they are the strongest team in the Methodist League Junior series when they defeated Askins Street Juniors by the score of 3 to 0 at Westminster rink last night. Both teams played good hockey, but the Askins Street team was a little better than their opponents from the south part of the city, and they had an easy time winning. At half time the score was 2 to 0.

The teams were as follows:
Dundas Centre—Burkitt, goal; Henry, point; Nelles, cover; Brodison, rover; Flint, centre; Shair, left; Jackson, right.

ALPHA CLUB HILL STREET 5.
First Methodist Intermediate defeated Hill Street at the same rink last evening by the score of 5 to 2. Hill Street were defeated by the score of 5 to 2. Hill Street were defeated by the score of 5 to 2. Hill Street were defeated by the score of 5 to 2.

Brown, point; Croden, cover; Nash, rover; Patterson, centre; Thorne, left; Hilbrough, right.

SMITH OUTPOINTS THOMPSON.

TRACTION COMPANY NOT TO BLAME

Inquest Into Death of Indian Killed at Lambeth Monday Night.

CREW WERE EXONERATED

Did All That Was Possible To Avoid the Accident—The Evidence Adduced.

"We are unanimously of the opinion that Kahazi Dostator came to his death by being struck by Traction car No. 50. From the evidence produced we exonerate the Traction Company from all connection with the said unfortunate affair."

After a brief deliberation, the jury in the inquest into the death of Kahazi Dostator, the Indian, who was killed at Lambeth last Monday night, brought in the above verdict. The inquest was conducted by Dr. Routledge of Lambeth.

W. H. Beal, the motorman on the car that struck Dostator, was the first witness called. He was going about 35 miles an hour. The time would be about 7:18. He saw the Indian going west and turning east. He blew the whistle several times. When he saw an accident was inevitable he threw on all the emergency brakes. The force of the collision deranged the mechanism of the brakes, and he lost control of the car, which went some distance before stopping.

He then got a light from the rear of his car and ran back to warn the special, which was following. When he returned the Indian had been found under the rear of the car. The witness helped to place him in the vestibule and went on to Lambeth.

Applied the Brakes. Anson Lewis, conductor, said the car was going at from 35 to 37 miles per hour. He heard four whistles, and the brakes being applied. He told the passengers not to go near the back of the car, because the special was following. After the motorman had gone back to meet the special the Indian was found. The witness thought he must have rolled under the car.

George Hobbes, the motorman on the special, saw the horse 150 feet away, but could not stop his car. With the assistance of passengers he tied the horse to the wire fence so that it could not slide back on the track. There were blood-stains ahead from where the horse lay for several hundred feet, indicating that the Indian had been dragged along the track under the car.

Charles Wrightman, conductor of the special, thought he smelled the odor of liquor on the Indian after the accident. He had seen Dostator under the influence of liquor on several occasions, but he had never seen him incapable. A broken bottle had been found on the track, but he had not noticed it at the time of the accident.

Crew Exonerated. Frank Balfour, W. J. Swift and A. Shipway were passengers on the regular car. They stated that the conductor and motorman had done all they could in connection with the accident. The brakes had been applied, and the car was stopped as soon as it was possible.

Dr. A. R. Routledge saw the Indian at Lambeth, and found his skull stove in and his legs broken. He had not noticed any evidence of the Indian having been drinking. Dr. Ferguson performed a post-mortem examination on the body. Death had resulted from a fracture of the skull.

Not more than half of the witnesses summoned were called upon to give evidence.

YOUNG PETROLEA MAN DIED VERY SUDDENLY

Alex. Knight Was Found Unconscious in His Bedroom and Never Rallied

[Special to The Advertiser.] Petrolia, Jan. 25.—Alex. Knight, aged 24, died very unexpectedly at his home here today. Last evening he returned from Oil Springs, and walked to the home of his mother on Main street, and had supper. He retired soon afterwards, and shortly after midnight was found unconscious. He never rallied.

Emma Mann, wife of Henry Mann, died today. Deceased had been an invalid for the past seven years as a result of paralysis. The remains will be taken to Stratford for interment. Mr. Mann, who for a number of years conducted a general store in Petrolia, was also stricken with paralysis about a year ago, and is at present confined to his room.

A TALK ON ROSES

Interesting Address By Mr. J. McKendrick, of Toronto, in Board of Trade Rooms.

Mr. J. McKendrick, of Toronto, who is considered one of the greatest authorities in Canada on roses, addressed the members of the London Horticultural Society in the Board of Trade rooms last evening.

Mr. McKendrick's summer home on Toronto Island is known as one of the most beautiful spots in Ontario, as he is continually experimenting in the growth of different varieties of roses, and has in all several hundred different types.

While he devotes a great deal of his attention to the plants themselves, a department of his hobby is the education of children to love the flowers, and despite the fact that every boundary of his place is covered with blossoms in the summer months, his methods have been so successful that the bushes have not suffered in the slightest from passersby.

In referring to the proposal of the water commissioners to construct a river drive to Springbank Park, Mr. McKendrick advised the society members to agitate to have the work of beautification undertaken at the earliest possible moment. London, he said, is naturally a most beautiful city, but could be added to a great extent by the cultivation of the rose.

The love of England's national flower, declared Mr. McKendrick, is like a disease, and once inoculated, a person cannot escape from it. Every vacant or unsightly place is suited to some particular variety of rose, and a small expenditure will marvelously improve places that are even now considered splendid.

A WEAK, ACHING BACK CAUSED HER MUCH MISERY

Could Not Work and Had No Ambition For Anything.

Those who have never been troubled with kidney trouble do not know the suffering and misery which those afflicted undergo.

Weak, lame or aching back comes from the kidneys, and when the kidneys are out of order the whole system becomes deranged.

Doan's Kidney Pills are a specific for all kidney troubles.

Mrs. W. R. Hodge, Fielding, Sask., writes:—"A few lines highly recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. For this last year I have been troubled very much with nasty sick headaches, and a weak, aching back which caused me much misery, for I could not work and had no ambition for anything. My kidneys were very badly out of order and kept me from sleeping at nights. I tried many kinds of pills and medicines but it seemed almost in vain. I began to give up in despair of ever being well and strong again, when a kind neighbor advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, which I did, and am thankful for the relief obtained from them, for now I am never in trouble with a sore back or sick headaches. I will always say Doan's Kidney Pills for mine, and can highly recommend them to any sufferers."

BILL TO DISESTABLISH CHURCH IN WALES

Minister McKenna Say All the Resources of Govt. Will Be Used to Carry It

London, Jan. 25.—Addressing an enthusiastic Doan's Kidney Pills Club tonight, Reginald McKenna, home secretary, said that early in the coming session of Parliament he would introduce a bill for the disestablishment and disendowment of the Church in Wales. All the resources of the Government, he added, would be used to carry the measure to a law.

The home secretary was interrupted for fully twenty minutes by his fringes, many of whom were expelled from the hall by the stewards, amid scenes of extreme violence.

A bill was introduced in 190 by Premier Asquith for the disestablishment and disendowment of the Church in Wales. It provided that all ecclesiastical corporations, the Welsh dioceses should be dissolved, but, owing to the pressure of Parliamentary business, it was withdrawn. The Government pledging that should be the first measure introduced in the next session. The Constitutional crisis, however, prevented the fulfilment of this pledge. Mr. Asquith has promised that this bill shall share with home rule the best energies of the Government in 1912.

Eat More Bread

Few people eat enough of what is rightly called "the staff of life"

FOOD authorities declare that wheat is the KING of all foods. It is the best food for growing children, the best for old age, the best for every age of life. It is best chiefly because it contains most of the life-building nitrogen combined with the proper degree of starch.

Of all the forms in which wheat may be eaten, bread stands at the top. There is no food yet created that can take the place of good bread—"the staff of life."

The better the flour you use, the better, more wholesome, bread you'll make. And better bread means the use of PURITY FLOUR.

The bread will be better, higher-class, because PURITY FLOUR consists exclusively of the high-grade portions of the best Western hard-wheat. There are no low-grade portions of the hard wheat berries, nor no soft wheat flour, in it. It is all high-grade—a strong, vigorous flour. The loaves will be more nutritious, because they contain the high-quality nitrogen, gluten, starch and phosphates—the blood-enriching.

body-building and life-sustaining elements of the world's strongest wheat. Think of the added enjoyment of eating bread you know is so chock-full of wholesomeness. Think of the good it will do your children, your husband and yourself. Think of the wisdom of eating lots and lots of it, for it is a fact known to the medical profession, that few people eat enough of "the staff of life."

Of course PURITY FLOUR will cost you slightly more than ordinary flour. It's worth the difference. And it will make "more bread and better bread" for you than you can obtain from the same weight of ordinary flour.

And the pastry PURITY FLOUR makes! It's more delicious too, if you take the precaution to add more shortening than is required with ordinary flour. The extra strength of PURITY FLOUR requires the addition of more shortening for best pastry-results.

Think of the PURITY trade-mark when you buy flour.

Add PURITY FLOUR to your grocery list right now.

DYING BY HUNDREDS. Denver, Col., Jan. 25.—"Cattle, rabbits and quail are dying by the thousands in Northeastern Colorado and across the line in Western Kansas," said Rudolph Borchardt, deputy state game warden, last night, on his return from a trip of investigation in that section. Borchardt said that he counted hundreds of cattle, on each side of the highway, lying dead in the fields. He said he could see no prospect of relief, as not enough hay was being taken into that section of the country to relieve the starving animals.

COUNCIL WILL CONTROL PARKS

Board of Works Will Not Transfer Authority to the Water Commissioners.

OPPOSITION IS STRONG

Aldermen Cannot See That There Would Be Any Benefit in a Change.

The recommendation of the water commissioners that all the city parks be placed under their jurisdiction, and that special legislation be secured to permit of the change, will not likely be considered this year, and as a result the present arrangements will prevail.

Up to the present time, the board of works, to whom the matter was referred, have taken no action whatever. A definite position should have been taken on Thursday night if the request was to be included in the city of London bill to come before the Legislature at the coming session.

Under No. 2 Committee. However, No. 2 committee did not touch the question. There will be a special meeting of the council this afternoon at 5 o'clock to pass all the by-laws coming up for ratification. The recommendation of the water commissioners, not having been considered, it cannot come up before the council this afternoon.

As a result, the parks will remain under the control of No. 2 committee as usual. It is known that City Solicitor Meredith is agreeable to transferring the authority providing that the council limit the money to be expended by the commissioners to an amount, not exceeding one-half a mill on the dollar, or approximately $15,000. It will be many years, of course, before that amount could be expended on the parks, so the limitation would not hurt much.

However, the members of No. 2 committee are not enamored of the scheme, and would not support it.

"I see no advantage to be gained by the change," said Ald. Robinson. "I think conditions are quite satisfactory at the present time."

"What would be gained?" asked Ald. Moore. "I see no logical reason for transferring our authority in this matter."

"It would not do any good," was Ald. Blandford's comment. "At least, I can see no advantage to be gained."

Other members of the council are of the same opinion, and no action is looked for in the control of the parks for some years to come.

S. A. CITADEL WAS TAKEN BY STORM

Excellent Concert Given by the Choir of Dundas Centre Methodist Church.

To those who went to the concert in the Salvation Army Citadel last evening, given by the Dundas Centre choir, was shown the way to capture the fort without the weapons of war. Among the numbers given were anthems and choruses; a piano duet by the Misses Darvel and Williamson; solos by Mr. White, Mr. Andrus, Mr. Skinner, Miss Reid and Miss Ware; quartettes by the Elgar and the Dundas Centre quartettes. The applause given to each and every number showed the way in which the choir members held their audience all through. After the concert the choir was tendered a banquet by the army, and were treated most royally to a spread of dainties and expressions of goodwill, and were extended an invitation to favor them again at some future date.

WAS TROUBLED WITH Headache AND Constipation.

After Suffering For Two Years Was Cured By BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS.

Headache of whatever nature is nearly always symptomatic of other diseased conditions, rather than a disease itself, but in most cases a disordered stomach, constipation, or bad circulation is the chief source of the difficulty. Burdock Blood Bitters removes the cause of the trouble through its cleansing, strengthening and tonic action on the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. Mr. Wm. Redmond, Cardigan Bridge, P. E. I., writes:—"I have been troubled with headache and constipation for about two years. After trying every doctor I knew, a friend advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I found myself, after using one bottle, getting much better, and after using three bottles I was completely cured."

"After then I was on a visit, and found my cousin very sick, and the doctor told her there was something wrong with her head. I told her to use Burdock Blood Bitters and she was cured in a short time. I can safely recommend it to all."

CITY HALL CHANGES WILL COST $2,000

Plans of City Architect Were Received By Committee on Thursday Afternoon.

At a meeting of the city hall committee, held yesterday afternoon, the plans of City Architect Nutter for the alterations of the auditorium to provide room for the city engineer, the assessment commissioner, medical health officer and other offices, was presented, with an estimate that the whole improvements would cost $2,000. Practically all the space upstairs is utilized, the plans providing plenty of space for the various officials.

The committee were satisfied with them, and it was recommended to the council that the necessary money, $2,000 be placed to the credit of the committee for the work.

Those present were Ald. Coles (chairman), Ald. Robinson, Ald. Wright, Ald. Moore, Mayor Graham, City Architect Nutter and Secretary Baker.

It will be some time before the city can begin work on the city hall auditorium to provide offices for the city officials. The city hall has been rented to the Hermitage Club for a dance on Feb. 9, and another social affair is planned for Feb. 16. It will be impossible to begin work before that time, and it may be some days later before anything is done. Temporary arrangements will be made to handle the departments after March 1.

ASK CITY SOLICITOR ABOUT CROWWELL ST.

Board of Works Seek Best Means of Getting Over the Difficulty.

The opening of Crowwell street through Antheist's gravel pit, over which there has been considerable controversy, has finally been referred to City Solicitor Meredith, who will advise what is the best action to be taken towards the settlement of this rather vexed question.

At the meeting of the board of works last night, Ald. Robinson reported that he had interviewed Mr. Antheist, but nothing could be arranged between them. The latter threatened to sue the city for damages if any effort was made to fill in the street.

Antheist would not sell the property to the city. He would agree to open a street north and south provided the city would waive all rights to Crowwell street, which runs across the property.

"I think the only thing we can do now is refer the matter to City Solicitor Meredith," declared Ald. Robinson. "We had better discover at once who is to blame, and what is to be done."

The members of the committee agreed with this, and the chairman will take the matter up at once.

The Helena Costume Company's request to cross certain streets with steam pipes was not considered, the question being laid over until the next meeting of the committee.

The request of the Bell Telephone to erect poles on certain streets in the city was granted, provided the work is done to the satisfaction of the city engineer.

The reports on the cost of a topographical map and the West London bridge were not ready, and City Engineer Wright informed the committee that they would be ready for next Thursday.

Those present were Ald. Robinson (chairman), Ald. Moore, Ald. Blandford, City Engineer Wright and Secretary Baker.

A CHILD-WEDDING. Greenwich, Conn., Jan. 25.—Filling of papers in a suit for divorce here by attorneys for Mrs. Ella Miller Adams against her husband, Warren Adams, disclosed a marriage in New Rochelle, N. Y., in 1901, of a 13-year-old girl to a 16-year-old boy. According to the papers in the suit, Adams, before his marriage, was extremely jealous of his 13-year-old fiance, and for this reason the girl's mother suggested that the two marry, but live apart for two years. With the girl dressed in long skirts to make her appear older than she really was, the pair went to New Rochelle, and the marriage was performed. They did not live together until 1903. They separated in 1906.

NO COMMONWEALTH BANK. Melbourne, Jan. 25.—At a conference here between the premiers of the various states and Prime Minister Fisher, the Commonwealth, the former rejected the offer of the latter to take over the savings banks of the states and provide capital for a commonwealth bank. Fisher likewise rejected the counter proposition of the state premiers to grant the proposed commonwealth bank a quarter of their future business.

A TENSE SCENE IN THE HOUSE

Over Debate on Resolution to Equalize Freight Rates East and West.

SUPPORTED BY LIBERALS

But W. F. Maclean, Who Introduced It, at the Last Moment Backs Down.

Ottawa, Jan. 25.—The sincerity of Mr. W. F. Maclean's long-continued and self-advertised battle on the railway corporations was given a dramatic test in the Commons at half-past 11 o'clock tonight. With his customary gusto, the gentleman from South York had moved an amendment to the Government resolution to go into supply, calling for the abolition of territorial variance in railway tariff rates. Urged by the Premier to withdraw his motion, Mr. Maclean declared he stood for principles, and would divide the House. The debate dragged on, to the accident of disclosure of western Conservatives.

Finally Hon. Frank Oliver rose, and speaking for the Liberals, after consultation, inquired whether Mr. Maclean meant business, and whether his amendment was to be understood only as a declaration that there should be no discrimination in rates because of geographical location. The South York man replied in the affirmative. "Then," said Mr. Oliver, "we will support the amendment."

There was a tense moment, in which an anxious Government, looking for a second "bolt" within three days, showed its feelings. Both Hon. Messrs. Rogers and Foster rose, and went back to their supporters. The courage of Mr. Maclean's convictions became manifest. He sprang to his feet. "I don't want to press a vote of confidence motion," he hastened to declare. "I just wanted to get out the discussion. I will withdraw my motion and leave it under suspension."

There was a roar of laughter. Major Beattie's being particularly of the "I told-you-so" character. Even Mr. Lancaster protested audibly.

Mr. Maclean turned savagely upon the man from Lincoln. "You had friends who helped you," he declared.

"I stood by my guns," Mr. Lancaster retorted.

"I must call the attention of the honorable member for South York to the fact that if he drops this amendment it will not be within the rules of the House for him to bring the matter up again this session," said the Speaker.

"I understand that. I'll look after myself," replied Mr. Maclean, amid another roar of ironical laughter.

"Should the amendment be withdrawn?" Mr. Speaker asked the House.

"Yes," replied Mr. Maclean.

"No," came from the Liberal ranks.

Mr. Speaker declared the amendment withdrawn, and Mr. Maclean hurried from the chamber amid more ironical laughter.

"We have shown up a dyed-in-the-

Refused to Withdraw.

Despite Premier Borden's urgent request to the member for South York to withdraw his amendment, Mr. Maclean held his ground.

Mr. Turfitt, who was his vigorous follower the Premier with his second address. The Government, he declared, could not go on shirking matters of vital public importance forever.

"This is no matter for shirking or shirking," he declared. "This is a matter for Parliament to deal with, and deal with at once."

The Government suffered another uncomfortable period. The Conservative westerners began to scurry for cover and to complain somewhat bitterly.

Mr. Stevens, of Vancouver, voiced their complaint. "It is not fair to spring this amendment without notice at the present time," he exclaimed. "I want to put myself on record as stating that the freight rates in the west discriminate unfairly, but I am not prepared to vote for this resolution, which is a vote of want of confidence not only in the Government, but in the railway commission."

Mr. Maclean's Amendment.

Mr. Maclean submitted his amendment on the Premier's motion to go into supply. It was to the effect that "this House hereby declares it to be against the general interests of Canada to have any territorial variance in the application of tariff charges by the board of railway commissioners for Canada."

The South York man argued that Parliament should establish the principle of equality of railway rates throughout the Dominion, which would give the railway commission something to go on in its forthcoming investigation.

The Premier.

Premier Borden preferred to deal with the situation himself rather than leave it to the minister of railways. The subject was one, said the Premier, which the Government had not been able to give attention to so far. It would, however, seek to give it the earnest and thoughtful consideration it deserves. The resolution went further than the Government was prepared to go. It was a difficult and complicated subject, and it increased in complications as the Government undertook to study it.

Cost of construction, length of haul and density of population all entered into it, and he did not think it would be wise to lay down the amendment as a principle for the guidance of the commission. The Premier urged Mr. Maclean to withdraw his amendment.

Mr. Turfitt said the amendment was absolutely right in representing the condition of affairs, so far as the west was concerned. Western freight tariffs were 25 to 50 per cent higher than for the same kind of service in the east. It was not a matter of shirking; it was a matter for Parliament to deal with. The Government should strengthen the hands of the railway commission by the appointment of the best counsel and experts. The commission should take the initiative. It should not have to wait for complaint. The railways, said Mr. Turfitt, deliberately sought to keep the commission away from rates by seeking to take up its time with hundreds of more trivial matters. He suggested that this situation be remedied by making two sections of the commission, one of which would have to deal with rates and nothing else.

Dr. Neely said that the west would be somewhat skeptical of the sincerity of the interest the member for South York pretended to take in it, for that gentleman had emphasized in red ink on the front page of his newspaper the words "Glory, Hallelujah!" when Ontario had voted down the relief of the western situation by securing larger markets. He was, however, emphatically in favor of according the West some justice by the amelioration of existing unjust freight tariffs. In conclusion Dr. Neely said he could not support the resolution in its present form.

NE TEMERE TO BE WITHDRAWN

IS REPORT FROM MONTREAL

Stated Edict to That Effect Will Shortly Be Issued at Rome.

A special to the Toronto Mail and Empire says:

Montreal, Jan. 25.—The near future will see the "ne temere" decree withdrawn, in so far as it applies to Canada. Your correspondent is in a position to make this statement with absolute confidence. It is based upon information the accuracy of which is not open to question.

Steps have already been initiated, and are now in progress, the success of which will remove the vexed question of the validity of mixed marriages from the field of practical consideration in this country. The appeal is being made direct to the Vatican, and to His Holiness the Pope personally, and is known to have the endorsement and support of eminent adherents of the Roman Catholic Church in Canada.

There is good reason for believing that a decree will be issued by the Pope withdrawing the "ne temere" decree from operation in Canada—as was done in the case of Germany—before the judicial committee of the privy council has passed upon the constitutionality of the Lancaster bill.

The result will be that the "ne temere" decree will cease to be an issue in Canada, irrespective of any Federal legislation. The right which the Lancaster bill is designed to assert will no longer be subjected to attack, and the necessity for the bill itself will be removed.

The representations which are being made to the Vatican with the above object in view are backed by an exceedingly powerful element in Canadian society, both ecclesiastical and lay, and carry with them such weight as to practically assure their success. The withdrawal of the decree seems, therefore, to be a question of time only, and the time is not expected to be long.

ALL KINDS OF GRAIN ARE IN GREAT DEMAND

Supplies on the Local Market Are a Little Short These Days.

LONDON, Jan. 26. Active prices prevailed on the market again this morning. Hay sold at $16 to $18 per ton, with the ruling price about $17. Only one load sold at $18. Oats are not very plentiful, but an odd load sold at $16 to $17. All kinds of grain are very much in demand, but are difficult to obtain. While hay appears to be plentiful, grain is showing a scarcity.

Dressed pork is worth from $7.75 to $9 for light hogs and $8.50 for heavier hogs. Live hogs are at present quoted at $6.10, and in comparison with the live hog quotation the price for dressed pork is very satisfactory.

THE CITY TODAY

No Bids Received. The home of the late Sir John Carling was offered for sale yesterday afternoon by public auction, but no bids were received. As a result, the property will be sold by private sale. Mr. J. W. Jones was the auctioneer.

A Social Evening. The Epworth League of the St. John's Methodist Church, held a social evening, a very large crowd attending. A splendid programme was rendered. Miss Irene Carmichael's readings being of special note. Mr. Moorehouse of Birr, gave an interesting address.

A Debate. At a meeting of the young people of St. James' Anglican Church, South London, held Thursday evening, the question of whether or not examinations are necessary to the promotion of education was debated. The affirmative was supported by Mr. Scott and Mr. Taylor, while the negative was supported by Mr. C. Parsons and Mr. Taylor, who were successful, supported the negative side.

LONDON TOWNSHIP MAN FOR HEAD FARMER

It Is Not Likely That Model Farm Will Be Established at the Asylum.

There is a movement on foot to have a model farm established in connection with the asylum here.

The position of head farmer is now vacant, and Mayor Graham is anxious to have an expert appointed to cultivate the 800 acres along the lines so successful at Guelph.

"I think it can be worked," said Mayor Graham. "There is plenty of land there, and the same results obtained at Guelph could be obtained. Excursion into London would be a ruin and this city would become the Mecca of the farmers of Western Ontario."

However, the patronage for East Midland is in the hands of Mr. George W. Stead, ex-M.P., and it is understood that the recommendation for a head farmer has been forwarded to the department at Toronto. The man to be appointed will be Mr. R. Guest, of London.

He is a practical farmer and would obtain the results necessary, but he is not an expert such as Mayor Graham has suggested should be placed in charge.

Some of the county councillors are in favor of the movement suggested by his worship, while others are dubious.

"It would be all right, if the county were not taxed in any way," said Reeve Currie of Glenora.

Mr. Currie, it is provided it did not interfere with the efficiency of the Model Farm," said Reeve Morgan of Alisa Craig.

A BOOST FOR ST. THOMAS FROM HON. ADAM BECK

He Is of the Opinion That Railroad City Should Sell Power to City of London Road.

The statement credited to Hon. Adam Beck that he advocated that St. Thomas sell the company electrifying the London and Port Stanley road all the power required for operation, created a considerable discussion on the street today, and the opinion prevailed that there must be some misunderstanding in connection with the matter.

In conversation with The Advertiser, Mr. Beck stated that he had not made himself clear on the subject of the London and Port Stanley road.

"There are advantages, many advantages, in supplying power to the London and Port Stanley, or any other road from a point midway of the system," he stated, "and the efficiency, and better results follow. Whether or not these advantages would offset the higher cost of power that must necessarily be paid, I am not in a position to state definitely at the present time. This might be the case, and I might not."

"Of course there would be a general lowering of the cost of power if an amount necessary to run the road were sold at St. Thomas. All the municipalities along the line would benefit, as the cost of the transmission line would be lowered to each of course, if London sold this quantity all the other towns would benefit as well."

"The question has not been fully considered as yet, as the proposition to electrify the line has reached no definite conclusion as yet. That will develop later."

TWO EMPLOYEES ALMOST ASPHYXIATED

Narrow Escape of William McRoberts and Bert Collins.

William McRoberts and Bert Collins, employees in a local brewery, had a narrow escape from asphyxiation Thursday afternoon while repairing some large vats. The ready assistance of fellow workers alone saved them from death. The men were engaged in placing a shellac in the interior of the vats. It is necessary to crawl in a small hole and work on the inside. A coke fire is used in the work, and McRoberts and Collins, thinking the gas had all disappeared, crawled in. They had not been long inside when the fumes began to affect them. They called for help, and the other employees of the place came to their assistance. With considerable difficulty they were dragged out, and fresh air and revived. Both men were unconscious when taken out. In a short time they would have succumbed, as the gas was particularly deadly.

Music and Drama

"The Rosary" Tomorrow. "The Rosary" with John Meahan in the role of Father Kelly, comes to the Grand twice tomorrow, matinee and night. "The Rosary" has proven to be one of the sensations of the past year in Chicago and New York. One company played for almost four months in Chicago.

alone, and the engagement in New York—in fact, in all the large cities—was equally as successful. Seats selling.

ALLEGED ROBBER

"Did you notice anything peculiar about the way the man walked in crossing the street?"

"No, I did not."

"Could you detect the odor of intoxicating liquor on the man's breath?"

"I did not notice any odor."

Mrs. Fraser added to Mr. McKillop that she had a shawl over her head which the man tore off and threw to the ground.

Detective Harry Down was next called by the crowd of onlookers. On Tuesday, Jan. 15, at 9 o'clock in the evening he arrested the prisoner on the south side of King street, west of Richmond street. Down was accompanied by Detective Nickle.

After moving about forty feet with the prisoner O'Brien took his gloves off very quickly. He put his right hand in his right overcoat pocket. Down was then on the left side but jumped about and put his hand in the same pocket. In this manner he grasped the chain and locket belonging to Mrs. Fraser.

The pistol had a 32-calibre revolver which he obtained from John Lampan on Thursday of the same week, the shooting having been committed on Monday night.

The pistol had a 32-calibre revolver which he obtained from John Lampan on Thursday of the same week, the shooting having been committed on Monday night.

The detective did not notice during the day that the man had been drinking, and he bore no evidence of intoxication at the time of his arrest.

The Revolver. Mr. Bartlett endeavored to learn the manner in which the revolver was obtained, and was told that Lampan had brought the revolver to the police station.

To Mr. McKillop, Detective Down added that while in casual conversation with the prisoner during the afternoon at a King street hotel O'Brien or Maloney, had told him that he was a Toronto teller.

Lampman Tells Story. John William Lampman, of 14 Campbell street, from whom the police secured the revolver, was next called. He did not hear of the hold-ups until after the prisoner's arrest. He knew the man, and was then drinking with him from 1 p.m. till 4:30 p.m. on Monday, Jan. 15.

Lampman also knew O'Brien, or Maloney, in St. Thomas before that time. He met him at the hold-ups, and was with him when he shot at Lampan's home. The prisoner had gone back and forth between St. Thomas and London and had returned from his last trip on Sunday.

Lampman was at a place on Monday night, and did not go home until after 6 o'clock Tuesday morning. O'Brien was then in bed, and did not get up until about 11 a.m. Wednesday morning. He was then at the police station, and was with him when he shot at Lampan's home.

O'Brien's Moustache. Lampman stated that O'Brien's moustache was fairly short, but had been trimmed. On Tuesday morning they shaved each other, and Lampman removed the prisoner's moustache.

Lampman cleaned the revolver in question Sunday morning preparatory to going shooting. On Saturday, he said, both were drinking, and each "had a little carry."

There had been no whiskey or drinking at Lampman's house for some days.

Pawnbroker's Evidence. Noah Fox, son of Joseph Fox, a pawnbroker, of 213 King street, testified that he saw the prisoner at the pawnshop on Tuesday morning, and that he was accompanied by Lampman, who then gave him the name "Jack Smith." The prisoner had a moustache of medium length at the time.

Smith got $10 on a watch. Mrs. Fraser was again called to the stand and gave testimony similar to that offered when the first charge was heard.

Miss Volk on the Stand. Miss Christine Volk, the victim of the other hold-up on the same night as the Fraser affair, but about 20 minutes earlier, was called to the stand to give evidence in the fourth case against the prisoner.

Miss Volk testified that she resides at 500 Colborne street, and that on the night in question she was proceeding home shortly after 10 o'clock.

She was met by a man who demanded her money, and she, at the same time threatening her with his revolver. She at first told the man she had no money, but when he persisted in his demands she opened her purse and emptied it into his open hand. As Miss Volk did so the man suddenly closed.

"I am not fool," he told her, "I want all of that."

Witness again opened the purse and gave him the last ten-cent piece.

She was then compelled to remove her gloves, the hold-up man declaring that he wanted diamonds. He took a small signet ring, but allowed her to retain another with an inexpensive setting. On being informed that a brooch set with brilliant stones was not valuable, he also decided not to take that.

"I am nothing but an English bloke, anyway," he declared, adding that he could button up her
