GENERAL MAUDE, THE BRITISH MESOPOTAMIAN LEADER DEAD

BRITISH AND FRENCH GUNS ARE HERALDING NEW WEST DRIVE

COLES DROPS OUT AT LAST MINUTE; LEAVING RACE TO G. S. GIBBONS AND CRONYN

Soldiers' Nominee Switches and the Local Nominations Close With Only Two Candidates in Field for Federal Election.

LONDON.

George S. Gibbons, Labor-Liberal.

Major Hume Cronyn, Unionist.

E. MIDDLESEX.

J. M. Ross, Liberal.

S. F. Glass, Conservative.

George S. Gibbons, Labor-Liberal candidate, and Major Hume Cronyn, Unionist, will contest the city of London in the coming election. Lieut.-Col. W. G. Coles, the choice of the Great War Veterans' Association, dropped out of the race this morning and has transferred his support to the Union Government candidate, despite his assertion made time and again that he was in the fight to a finish.

Mayor Stevenson, who it was stated would get into the ring at the last moment, decided that it was not up to him to participate in the election, and declared that his name would not appear on the ballot paper.

The nomination meeting was as quiet as a funeral. Reporters and Deputy Returning Officer Richard Bayly were in the majority for some time after 12 o'clock, when Mayor H. A. Stevenson finally drifted in with his statement that he was out of it for the present.

It was not until 1:37 that Major Cronyn, accompanied by J. P. Moore and Ed. Johnston, the two "ditched" candidates of the Conservative machine, and James Flock made their appearance in the city council chambers. Mr. Flock handed over the $200 election fee at ten minutes to two. Mr. Gibbons' papers had been handed to Mr. Bayly earlier in the day.

Promptly at 2 o'clock the nominations were declared closed with the two above mentioned men in line for London honors.

Chauncey Jarvis was declared official representative for Mr. Gibbons, with N. Clarke Graydon as Major Cronyn's choice.

EAST MIDDLESEX.

The East Middlesex nominations were held at Byron Village. The two candidates, J. M. Ross, merchant, of Lucan, and S. F. Glass, arrived at the hall shortly before the hour of closing.

Among those who signed Mr. Ross' nomination papers were: W. E. Grieve, A. J. Blakie, J. S. Cousins, Wm. Marr, E. B. Hunt, D. Anguish, Wm. Oldham, Adam Nichol, G. E. Johnston, George Ardy, James House, Jos. A. Dale, Ed. Winter, Angus Beattie, J. B. Nichol, W. Simpson, G. W. Laidlaw, Rowland Stephens, E. W. Kelly, Wm. G. Pack, J. B. Ring, Geo. Lind, Robt. DECISION MADE LATE TODAY IS COLES' STORY

Soldiers' Nominee Declares Withdrawal Was Not Premeditated Move.

In an official statement given out this afternoon, Lieut.-Col. W. G. Coles, whose withdrawal from the local federal election field was the surprise of nomination day, declared the retirement was not a premeditated move.

"It was not until 1 o'clock that we decided, for patriotic reasons, to withdraw," declared Col. Coles, who had announced his intention of contesting the seat as the choice of the Great War Veterans. "We believe that we could have won, but we took no chances on causing a wedge. We will accept the platform of the Union Government, which is almost identical with that of the soldiers."

DEATH TAKES MAUDE, CHIEF IN TURK WAR

Commander of British Forces in Mesopotamia Is Dead.

AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

One of Most Successful of the British Generals in Great World War.

London, Nov. 19.—Gen. Maude, British commander in Mesopotamia, died yesterday.

An official announcement issued today says Gen. Maude died in Mesopotamia yesterday evening after a brief illness.

A Brilliant Commander.

Major-General Frederick Stanley Maude, the captor of Bagdad, was rated as one of the most brilliant commanders of the war. After a series of British defeats in Mesopotamia, General Maude was placed in command late last year, and won an unbroken series of successes. Advancing from the Babylonia plains, he captured Kut-el-Amara, where General Townshend's army had been compelled to surrender. He continued his drive up the Tigris, advancing 90 miles in two weeks, and last March captured Bagdad. With the opening of the new campaign this fall he pushed up the Tigris more than one hundred miles beyond Bagdad, his operations being designed primarily to defeat the expected attempt of the Germans and Turks to recapture the city.

A Distinguished Career.

General Maude was 53 years of age. He had a distinguished military record before the war. He took part in the Sudan campaign in 1885, and received the medal with clasp and the Khedive's Star. He served with distinction in the South African war, where he won the Distinguished Service Order and the Queen's Medal with six clasps.

Prior to taking command in Mesopotamia, General Maude saw service in France, where he was wounded. He was mentioned five times in the dispatches and made a commander of the Bath.

From 1901 to 1904 he was military secretary to the governor-general of Canada and later private secretary to the secretary of state for war.

WAR'S FREAKS.

With the American Army in France, Nov. 18.—(By the Associated Press)—The experience of an American sergeant in a support trench has demonstrated that a shell can go within a few inches of a man and not hurt him. Recently the sergeant was standing back of the lines holding his rifle out of the mud by the sling. Suddenly there was a rush of air and the rifle was almost pulled from his hand, followed by an explosion in the mud 30 yards in the rear. The sergeant was knocked down, and when he scrambled to his feet he discovered that the shell had clipped off the rifle stock, leaving only the barrel in his hand.

BATTERIES BUSY IN NIGHT FIGHT IN MEUSE BANK

French and German "Heavies" Very Active — Foe's Thrusts Fail.

Paris, Nov. 19.—Heavy artillery fighting is still in progress on the Verdun front east of the Meuse, says today's official report. The announcement follows:

"On the right bank of the Meuse the artillery fighting continued actively during the night, especially on the front of Chaume Wood. An enemy raid against one of our works northeast of Hill 344 was without success. Another effort against small posts southeast of Malancourt, on the left bank of the river, also was repulsed by our fire.

"The night was comparatively calm on the remainder of the front."

THE MARIPOSA LOST.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 19.—The steamer Mariposa, which grounded on the rocks in the narrow passage of Sumner Strait, Southeastern Alaska, slipped from its perch and sank at a late hour last night, according to word received here today. The 265 passengers were picked up by steamers and landed at Wrangell.

KAISER REFUSES TO TALK PEACE WITH SOLDIERS

Will Treat Only With Imperial Government or Constituent Assembly.

Petrograd, Nov. 19.—Emperor William, according to Petrograd news papers, has informed the Russian Soldiers' and Workmen's deputies that he will treat for peace only with the legal successor to the Imperial Government or with the constituent assembly.

JORDAN CHANGES TUNE

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 19.—David Starr Jordan, chancellor of Leland Stanford University, and for some time leader in the peace movement in this country, declared in a sermon here yesterday that it was plainly America's duty to go "full speed ahead" with the present war program. The kaiser, he said, had viewed the rise of internationalism and social democracy in Germany with alarm, and realizing that the movements were turning his people away from war had ordered the crushing of democratic France.

ITALIANS OPEN OFFENSIVE AGAINST TEUTONIC HORDES AND TAKE SOME OBJECTIVES

BITTER BATTLE RAGED FOR DAYS IN MOSCOW CITY

"RED" FORCES MERE BOYS

Civil War At Ancient Capital More Sanguinary Than At Petrograd.

London, Nov. 19.—The fighting in Moscow between the Bolsheviki and troops of the provisional government has been far more serious than anything that has occurred in Petrograd, according to special despatches received here from the Russian capital. The Petrograd correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says he talked with a member of the Moscow City Council who came to Petrograd to appeal for help. He was besieged for four days in the council building, from which he made his way to the railroad station through the Bolsheviki lines. He said the real fighting began on November 10, when the Bolsheviki forces seized the Kremlin. They were expelled by a party of cadets, who, in their turn, were killed by the Bolsheviki. The revolutionists later were again driven from the Kremlin.

Battle For Kremlin.

From November 12 onward, the despatch adds, the councilman reported that the military operations were concentrated in the centre of the city. The Government force consisted of about 3,000 military cadets and a hastily organized white guard of students. It had three guns, a plentiful supply of rifles and a number of machine guns. Of the 100,000 soldiers forming the Moscow garrison not more than 15,000 supported the Bolsheviki. Most of the regiments remained in their barracks, but thousands of soldiers escaped from Moscow by trains and on foot. The Bolsheviki red guard in Moscow was composed mostly of boys from 12 to 18 years of age. It had about fifteen field guns, with which the Kremlin was bombarded continuously from Sparrow Hill. From other points their firing was very bad, the shells falling wide of the mark, smashing private houses and killing the inmates.

Innocent Killed.

Three thousand persons, chiefly members of the peaceful population, had been killed or wounded up to Wednesday, the councilman said, and as there was no means of collecting the bodies they lay for days where they had fallen. There had been continual firing in many parts of the city from windows and roofs and the population was terrorized and afraid to move. It was impossible to get food supplies to the centre of the city.

The National Hotel, where there were many British and French visitors, was under fire for several days, and the upper part of the hotel was destroyed by a shell. On Tuesday shells began to fall on the city hall, where the committee on public safety was sitting, and the committee decided to move to the Kremlin.

When the councilman left Moscow the Kremlin was well defended by machine guns manned by cadets, and there was an abundant supply of ammunition and food. A violent bombardment was concentrated on the Kremlin last Wednesday, the day the councilman left Moscow.

Cathedral Destroyed.

On Wednesday the cathedral of the Assumption within the Kremlin, with the famous Tower of Van Veliky, was destroyed, and the church of St. Basil caught fire. This wanton destruction of national shrines, the correspondent says, shrines which even Napoleon spared, seems to have stimulated both sides to conclude peace. He adds:

"The fantastic church of St. Basil is a priceless treasure and one of the wonders of Oriental architecture, while the Cathedral of the Assumption was the glory of the Kremlin. The news will send a shudder throughout Russia. M. Lunacharsky, Bolsheviki minister of education, was so shocked that he resigned, but has since withdrawn his resignation. He has issued an appeal to the people to preserve the national treasures. On all sides one hears the exclamation, "Even the Germans would not have done this!"

A Poor Peace.

The peace concluded in Moscow, the correspondent says, is a poor one—a peace of exhaustion and fear that means victory for neither side.

A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Petrograd reports that the art treasures from the Hermitage Palace, Petrograd, which were sent to the Kremlin for safe keeping, have been destroyed. It says also that the Hotel Metropole was attacked. The guests, including a number of foreigners, were rescued unhurt at the instance of foreign consuls.

Petrograd, the dispatch adds, was perfectly quiet Sunday, although the populace is becoming increasingly anxious concerning the future. The food ration will be reduced on Monday to three-quarters of a pound every two days. It is hoped by this action to avert famine for twelve days.

Diaz Forces Driving Upon Austro-Germans In Asiago Plateau Occupy Advanced Elements of Enemy's Trenches — Germans Are Bttacking In Great Strength On Monte Monfenara and Monte Tomba Lines.

Rome, Nov. 19.—Italian forces have begun an offensive on the Asiago Plateau and have occupied advanced elements of trenches, the war office announced today.

Further attempts of the Austro-German troops to cross the Piave have been stopped.

On the front west of the Piave, south of Quero, great numbers of Austro-German troops are attacking the Monte Monfenera and Monte Tomba lines.

THE BERLIN CLAIMS.

Berlin, Nov. 19.—Via London.—Quero and Monte Cornelle, on the Northern Italian front, have been taken by storm, and the Italians have been driven from Monte Tomba, the war office announced today.

THE WAR SITUATION

Austro-Germans Checked—British and French Raiding—Jaffa Taken by British—Russia's Civil War.

In the Trentino and along the Piave the Italians have the Austro-Germans in check and there are indications of a reawakening of fighting activity on the western front, especially in Flanders and around St. Quentin, east and northeast of Ypres, the British are now well established on the Passchendaele Ridge. These positions have been under heavy bombardment by the Germans for several days, apparent evidence that the Germans are nervous and hope by their artillery fire to check a new British thrust.

Raids Near St. Quentin.

Around St. Quentin, north northwest of the Ailette, where the French gained a notable success recently, German and allied patrols have been busy. North of St. Quentin both the British and Germans carried out raids. French artillery has been shelling heavily the German positions south of the town for several days and a thrust by French troops, evidently as a feeler, was repulsed by the defenders, Berlin reports.

Although the Teutonic pressure from Asiago east to the Piave continues very strong, the Italians hold valiantly to their positions and the invaders have been unable to make much progress. On the Asiago Plateau the Italians repelled violent attacks and near Casera recaptured an advanced position, taking 100 prisoners. Between the Brenta and the Piave the invaders have occupied positions from which the Italians withdrew.

Invaders Held Back.

Austro-German efforts to force the Italians back from the western bank of the Piave and Fagare have failed.

The invading force which crossed at Fagare has been driven back across the river, while efforts to debouch from the bridgehead at Zenson were repelled by Italian counter-attacks. On the right bank of the Piave the Italians have taken nearly 1,300 prisoners in two days.

Another army is reported marching on Petrograd to oust the Bolsheviki from control there. The vanguard, which is said to be near Gatchina, 30 miles southwest of the capital, already has had several brushes with the Bolsheviki forces. It is rumored that Premier Kerensky is returning with the new force. All the reports lack confirmation.

At Russ Capital.

There apparently is internal dissension in Petrograd between the Maximalists and the less extreme Socialists, who have protested against acts of the Bolsheviki regime. A report received in London says there has been a split in the Bolsheviki ranks and that some of the ministers have resigned. In Moscow the revolutionists and the provisional government forces have reached a truce, after days of fighting in which several thousand persons were killed and some of Russia's religious shrines within the Kremlin were damaged or destroyed by the artillery of the revolutionary forces. The American embassy in Petrograd has asked for a special train to take 300 Americans to Harbin, Manchuria, whence they can reach either Dalny or Vladivostock to take steamers home.

Jaffa Occupied.

Jaffa, the ancient Joppa and the seaport on the Mediterranean for Jerusalem, has been occupied by the British. The Turks gave up this important point without resistance and are retiring northward under pressure. Jerusalem is 35 miles southeast of Jaffa, and its occupation by General Allenby's troops probably is a matter of only a few days.

Premier Lloyd George's recent utterances of the necessity for an allied war council will be debated in the House of Commons today.

GLORIOUS ACHIEVEMENT FOR ITALIAN SOLDIERS.

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Sunday, Nov. 18.—By the Associated Press.—The Austrians who forced their way across the Piave River above Zenson, have been thrown into the river, drowned, bayonetted, killed or captured, until now not an enemy remains on the west bank at that most threatened point. The fight was one of the most fearful chapters of the war and one of the most glorious.

Details of the fight have been gathered from eye-witnesses who saw the fearful struggle through Friday and Saturday, and who say the whole west bank was cleared except for the corpses.

Foe Staked All.

The wounded were so numerous that many have not yet received succor. The enemy had staked everything on getting to the west bank of the river and the Italians staked everything on keeping him on the eastern bank. This nerved both to desperation. The Austrians had the first move Friday in two separate crossings a short distance above Zenson, first at the village of Fagare, and then an old mill called the Sega Mill near Follina.

Several circumstances enabled them to pass. They chose a place where a sand bar ran in mid-stream, giving them a landing and dividing the main stream into two small shallow currents. Also there was a heavy mist screening their movements. They carried material for an improvised bridge with uprights and iron plates for flooring. This was about 5 o'clock in the morning, and in the mist at that early hour they got across the second narrow channel to the west bank. The last ten feet the men waded across in water above their waists. In their first rush they swept past four Italian machine gun batteries, capturing their guns and driving the Italians back into the village of Fagare.

The Real Fight Begins.

Here the real fight began as the Italians had now recovered from the surprise, and fought like demons. It was a hand-to-hand fight through the streets of the town with no place for artillery or machine guns, and the Italians using bayonets, hand grenades, knives and gelatine torpedo. The Austrians held part of the town near the bank with the Italians on the land side. The Austrians tried to throw a line around the town and succeed in part on one side until the Italian batteries to the north, got the range of the line outside the shelter of the streets. This line was the first to be demolished and then the Italians on this side of the town advanced cheering, hewing their way. The enemy held at first, then began to seek cover and finally broke as the Italians push-

ORATORY TAP WILL BE TWISTED HARD, IT IS ANTICIPATED

City Fathers to Turn It On Tonight.

COUNCIL IS MEETING

Various Questions, Sure to Provoke Speeches, Coming Up.

Although the city council will not be overburdened with work at its session tonight, it is expected that here will be some oratory tossed to the winds when the city papas get going right.

The Victoria Hospital bylaw will be on the boards for discussion. Those magic words, "Victoria Hospital," are sure to make the mayor peevish, and he is expected to make the speech of his career on the subject of who shall rule the destinies of the hospital, the council or the hospital trust.

Whether the board of control will continue to control will also be talked over. The city solicitor stands about 50-50 on the subject, it is claimed.

The closing of Bathurst street, as requested by the London Railway Commission, will also come up for discussion. The commission is anxious for the city engineer to go ahead and tear up the Grand Trunk tracks that interfere with the L. & P. S., while the board of control recommends the safety first or legal method.

The heating of the East End town hall is bound to cause some argument. Aldermen who hold forth in Wards 1, 2 and 4 are not interested. They don't have to make election speeches in a cold hall, but it is a vital question as far as Ward 3 is concerned.

LEAKY BOILERS GIVE CHURCH PEOPLE SCARE

Caused Cancellation of All Centennial Meetings for Week.

Considerable excitement was caused in Centennial Methodist Church Sunday evening when the boilers sprang a leak, giving the impression that they had been badly cracked. All church meetings were cancelled for the week, as it was supposed that the repairs would take some time to make.

An examination this morning showed that the safety plug had merely been burned out, and in consequence all meetings scheduled for the week, with the exception of the Epworth League tonight, will be held.

IS DRILLING AGAIN.

EMBRO, Nov. 18.—James Sutherland has received a letter from his son, Pte. Robert Sutherland, who was badly wounded in France a few months ago. At the time of writing he was drilling again, and expected to be sent back to France next month.

NO LACK OF EVIDENCE RIGHT HERE IN LONDON

To Prove the Remarkable Upbuilding Influence of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food—Two Good Reports Today.

London, Nov. 5.—Day after day we are printing in this paper, reports from London people who have been cured by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

There are in the meantime hundreds of other cases of which we never hear. But you will find that your friends and neighbors know about this great restorative treatment, and have something good to say about it.

If you are skeptical, ask them what you may expect from its use. Use the Nerve Food regularly and you will soon find that weakness and disease are giving place to strength and vigor.

Mrs. E. Jackson, 836 Stedwell street, London, Ont., writes:

"I suffered from nervousness and a rundown system. There was a ligit feeling in my head which troubled me greatly. I got some of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and before long I was on the right road to recovery. This treatment helped me very much, the light feeling in my head disappeared, and I felt much better in every way."

Mrs. George Wellman, 457 Dorinda street, London, Ont.: "I was generally rundown in health, felt very tired and languid, had no energy or ambition, could not sleep well at nights and, in fact, my whole system was completely out of order. I have used several boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and can truthfully say that I have found it a splendid medicine. My health generally is very much improved, my nerves are steady and I can heartily recommend this preparation as being an excellent blood builder and nerve restorer."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, a full treatment of 6 boxes for $2.75, at all dealers, or at Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Do not be talked into accepting a substitute. Imitations only disappoint.—Advt.

WEEK-END TOLL OF LONDONERS WAS HEAVY ONE

Ominous Casualty Reports Continue to Arrive in Large Numbers.

PRIESTS AMONG WOUNDED

Catholic Chaplains From This District Reported Wounded and Gassed.

Week-end casualty reports show another heavy addition to London's honor roll. The heavy gait struck more than a fortnight ago, so far as local men serving in the western war theatre are concerned, has been maintained with a regularity that has been most ominous.

Mrs. Jossph Wallace of 534 Dundas street received word by cable on Saturday evening that her brother, Pte. Charles McGeary, died of wounds in Belgium on November 16. The message came from Mrs. Wallace's son, Pte. Robert Wallace, of the A. M. C., and read as follows:

Belgium.

Charles, here, wounded, died 16th; writing.

ROBERT.

Pte. Wallace and his uncle were devotely attached to one another, and when Pte. Wallace enlisted in April of 1915 Mr. McGeary, who was then employed with the London Electric Company, decided also to join the A. M. C. He signed up with the McGill University Stationary Hospital Unit, and about a year ago transferred to the Princess Patricias.

Only a few days ago Mrs. Wallace received a letter from her son, in which he says in part: "I was having a shower bath a little while ago, and who should walk in but Uncle Charlie. I was surely surprised and pleased to see him. He looks fine, in fact, better than I ever saw him look before. I think he has taken on considerable weight. He couldn't stay long, but waited until I had finished my bath and then I walked a long way with him towards his battalion. I hope to see him again soon. He said to be sure and remember him to you. He will write you soon. Said he hears from you. We had a great talk together, and I wish he could have stayed longer."

Pte. McGeary was 28 years old and unmarried. He is survived by the following brothers and sisters: William in Detroit, Frank in the States, Mrs. Joseph Wallace, 534 Dundas street, Mrs. George C. Chantler, South London; Mrs. Richard Jupp, East London; Mrs. Richard Schreiber, of Blackfriars street.

Two Priests Wounded.

Two priests from London diocese have been listed among recent casualties, according to a message received by the Right. Rev. M. F. Fallon, bishop of London, which states that Major (Rev.) Father McCarthy has been slightly gassed, and Capt. (Rev.) Father Lowry has been wounded.

The cablegram, which was sent by Lieut.-Col. (Rev.) Father Workman, assistant director-general of Catholic chaplain services in France, was as follows:

"Major (Rev.) Father McCarthy slightly gassed, remained at duty. Captain (Rev.) Father Lowry, gunshot wound right leg. All did magnificent work."

Rev. Father McCarthy was assistant pastor at Mount Carmel and Rev. Father Lowry assistant at St. Joseph's Church, Stratford, before proceeding to the front. Father McCarthy left here as a captain, and has since received promotion to his majority.

Fourth of Family Wounded.

Pte. Allan Thoday, 802643, who went overseas with the 135th Battalion, was, in a telegram to his wife, Mrs. Allan Thoday of Windsor avenue east, Springwood Park, reported wounded by shrapnel on November 7. He is the fourth member of the family to have appeared in the casualty list, two brothers-in-law, Cyril Clemance and Stanley Clemance, having been wounded and gassed respectively. H. A. Magee, another brother-in-law of the Clemance brothers, has been wounded. A third brother-in-law, Second Lieut. A. C. Drake, is serving with the Imperial forces in Egypt, while another brother, Leslie, is with the Canadian troops overseas.

Capt. Dunlevy's Son Gassed.

Gunner Pearson Dunlevy, who left London with a draft of the 63rd Battery, is today reported as seriously gassed. He is now in a hospital at Etaples, France.

Gunner Dunlevy is a son of Capt. "Barney" Dunlevy, who went overseas with No. 1 Depot Unit of Supply, Canadian Army Service Corps, with the first Canadian contingent. Capt. Dunlevy, one of the best known soldiers in the city, went overseas as a warrant officer and won his commissioned rank in France. His son qualified as an artillery officer, but rather than wait chances of an overseas appointment enlisted as a gunner and went across.

Corp. McCoy Wounded.

Corp. McCoy, recently reported as having been decorated with the Military Medal, has since been wounded. An official cablegram to his wife announces that he has been hit in the back.

Corp. McCoy's family is now recovering from an attack of diphtheria, which adds to the pathetic touch of the casualty report following so close the announcement of the decoration won by the bravery and devotion of the soldier father and husband.

PTE. DOUGALL McMURPHY DIES.

Pte. Dougall McMurphy was admitted to the 2nd Casualty Clearing Station in France, suffering from a penetrating shrapnel wound in the hip. This information reached the Mrs. McMurphy, 136 Horton street, Saturday. A letter received today announced his death.

This is the second time that the parents of Pte. McMurphy, Mr. and Mrs. Archie McMurphy of Mount Brydges, have been affected by the awfulness of war, as Sergt.-Major Archie McMurphy, another son, was killed in action about a year ago.

Pte. McMurphy enlisted with one of the last Western Ontario battalions to go overseas, and previous to that served in the home guards. He was employed with the Crystal Lake Ice Company before he enlisted.

Police Constable John McMurphy is a brother, and Mrs. Jas. Lambourne, West London, and Mrs. George (Mooney) Gibson are sisters.

Killed in Action.

Word has been received that Gunner Wm. Hawkins of Hamilton has been killed in action. He was well known here, and before enlisting was a fireman on the Grand Trunk, running between Hamilton and Windsor. Sergt. Roy McLeod of this city is a cousin.

Pte. Goddard Wounded.

Word was received Sunday by Mrs. George Goddard, 51 Irwin street, that her husband, Pte. George Goddard, 823268, has been wounded in the face, and was received at the 6th Field Ambulance Hospital on November 6. Before going overseas he was in the 142nd Battalion.

Another Londoner Killed.

Pte. Thomas Murray, a London boy who enlisted with No. 1 A. M. C. training depot here, and later transferred in England to an infantry battalion, has made the supreme sacrifice. An official message to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Murray, who now live on Stirling street, but who formerly resided at 652 Piccadilly street, announces that he was killed on November 3 or November 4.

Pte. Murray went overseas with an A. M. C. draft last March.

Another of London's Own.

Mrs. May Godman, 185 Maitland street, was officially notified that her husband, Pte. Fred Godman, 823388, was admitted to No. 6 Field Ambulance Depot, November 6th, with gunshot wound in the head. Pte. Godman went overseas with the 142nd Battalion.

Ex-School Teacher Hit.

Lieut. H. B. Galpin, a London school teacher, who went overseas with an artillery unit, has cabled home that he was slightly wounded. He has since returned to duty.

The official casualty lists received at noon today record three more London men listed as wounded. They are: T. W. Merriman, W. N. McGillivray, whose address is given as "General Postoffice, London," and Arthur Froggett, 804 Queen's avenue.

Wounded in Thigh.

Another Londoner has suffered wounds in the recent fighting in Belgium, according to information which reached this city today, stating that Pte. Benjamin P. Waud had received a gunshot wound in the right thigh on November 3.

The official word came to his mother, Mrs. E. Waud, 9 Alfred street. Pte. Waud left here with a London battalion, and was with a famous Western Ontario unit when wounded.

Pte. George Stephen Laskey, who enlisted here with the 142nd Battalion, is reported wounded in the left arm and admitted to hospital. He is a son of W. J. Laskey, messenger of the Bank of Montreal, an has seen hard service, having been twice in hospital since he went overseas. Diphtheria and trench fever were the causes.

Pte. Laskey's wife, who, with their two children, resides at 129 Price street, was officially notified today.

Khaki Courier To Bear Message of Victory Campaign

A "courier in khaki," and no less, is the latest acquisition to the Victory Loan headquarters staff. Pte. Theodore Robinson of the A. M. C. has obtained a week's pass in order to do his bit for the Victory Loan, and on Tuesday morning early starts out a-foot for Toronto, even as the runners in the brave days of old. On the way he will stop at Woodstock, Brantford and Hamilton, conveying in each of these cities to the Victory Loan headquarters the greetings of the London headquarters.

After paying the respects of London to the provincial headquarters he will return to this city.

Pte. Robinson is by no means a novice in missions of this description. Last year he walked from Detroit to Denver, a distance of 1,500 miles, on behalf of the American Red Cross.

GOD'S "LAST CALL TO SUPPER" BEING SOUNDED NOW

Must Be Answered or World Will Suffer as Before.

"But as the days of Noah were, so shall also the coming of the Son of Man be," was the text taken by Sergt.-Major Harry Edwards, the soldier evangelist, last evening at the First Christion Church, in one of the most intense sermons yet given in the series.

The title of the sermon was "Last Call to Supper," and the plight of a hungry man who has missed the last call to supper was described by the speaker. The people in the days of Noah, said the speaker, were aware that something was to happen. They knew that the building of the ark was something out of the usual. Noah was a preacher that did not get a convert after over a hundred years' preaching. The people knew that they were sinning against God, but they heeded not the warning that God was tired of striving with the wicked any longer. They went down to their bridge parties, and their pink teas, and their clubs and haunts of sin, and heeded not God. They made sport of the old man and his sons who were building that big structure. They looked wise and touched their foreheads with a wink when people asked what the old man was doing. When they saw him building a big vessel on dry land away from any water, they said he was one of those "fanatics." One day it began to rain, and it kept on raining, and before very long the scoffers saw the big vessel surrounded by water and begin to float. They realized that they had missed "the last call to supper."

"As it was in the days of Noah, so it will be when the son of man comes. History is repeating itself. The same pleasure seekers are scoffing at the teachings of Jesus. The same people are pleasure mad and cry "fanatics." Preachers are preaching without getting converts. The church is classed as a nuisance to them, because it interferes with their questionable pleasures. It interferes with the unscrupulous merchant in his dealing with his fellowman. It interferes with all the delights and pleasures that the devil is providing for the people at this time.

"The last call is being given for supper, to sup with the Lord, and many are looking wise and quoting the damnable heresies that crept out of Liepsic and Heidelberg, as German Kultur, in which our Lord is relegated to the scrap heap as not being up-to-date enough for the colossal intellect of 'German Kultur,' and our young people are swallowing such teaching with avidity. The last call is now being made for supper. Is it being ignored, as in the days of Noah?"

"The preacher who is not trying to make the 'last call' just a little louder than the call of 'kultur,' and all other false cells of the devil, is not doing his duty to him whose ambassador he is. The cheap, clap-trap, spectacular, convenient brands of so-called religion that is rampant in the world at this present time is only the device of hell to drown the 'last call to supper' to sup with our Lord, by his invitation."

GIVE DOLLARS TO GOVERNMENT, SAYS REV. DR. SILCOX

Victory Loan Must Be Met, Says Minister.

The eightieth anniversary of the First Congregational Church was celebrated on Sunday with special music, Rev. Dr. Silcox taking both morning and evenig services.

"Provide things honest in the sight of all men," was the text taken by Rev. J. B. Silcox for his sermon in the evening. "One of the truest tests of a man's character is the money test. When you know how a man gets and spends his money, then you know the man," said Dr. Silcox. "An honest dollar means industry and enterprise. It means frugality and conscience. It means clean sound manhood, it means that you have earned it, that you have done a dollar's work for it. It is as clean as though it came straight from the mint of the Almighty.

"Providing things honestly prohibits dishonorable ways of getting money. You must not only earn your dollar before you get it, but you must be sure that it is a clean honest dollar. The curse of God rests on the tainted dollar.

"No business firm would think for a moment of engaging a young man who was addicted to gambling. It is true, very true, that the darkest hour in the history of a man is when he sits down to consider how he can get money without earning it."

Dr. Silcox urged his congregation to bring out their dollars with enthusiasm and lend them to the Government and win the war, through buying Victory Bonds.

"There is no duty more imperative than this. The claims of our country are paramount over all other claims at this critical hour. It is not enough to do your bit, you must do your utmost," said Dr. Silcox. "Do it now and until victory is won. The cause of civilization is the cause of God, and for this cause we must give our money as our sons overseas are giving their lives. When our soldiers are giving their blood, let it not be said that we withheld our money. Every dollar that we can spare to the Government in taxes and loans to carry on this war to victory we must give, and give as though it were a personal responsibility."

This evening a social gathering will be held in the schoolroom of the church to commemorate the anniversary.

SUFFERED WITH NERVES

COULD NOT KEEP QUIET

Diseases of the nervous system are very common.

All the organs of the body may be sound while the nerve centres may be affected.

Many women become run down and worn out by household duties never ending, and sooner or later find themselves with their nerves shattered, and the heart action weakened.

On the first sign of any weakness of either the heart or nerves, flagging energy or physical breakdown, do not wait until your case becomes hopeless.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will at once quieten the shaking nerves, strengthen the weak heart and build up the entire system.

Mrs. F. Bailey, 221 Earl street, Kingston, Ont., writes: "I was suffering very much with my nerves, so much so that I could not keep myself quiet at all. I was recommended to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, so I bought three boxes, and I must say I have derived much benefit from them, so much so that my friends have all noticed the change in me."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c per box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ITALIANS OPEN

ed them out of the town back to the river.

Driven Into the River.

Some plunged into the water and sought to get to the sand bar. All the machine guns were abandoned. Most of the enemy fell along the water's edge, and an observer who saw the gruesome sight says the bodies on the river bank and in the water reminded him of heaps of seaweed after the tide had gone out.

Further up the river at the Sega Mill the other crossing had brought on another bloody fight which lasted until late yesterday when the whole shore was clesred of living Austrians. But it was lined with dead. The movement here began late on Friday night and reached its culmination about 11 o'clock Saturday morning.

Batteries Cross River.

Friday night several Austrian battalions got across under the cover of darkness. They chose narrow channels and some of the Austrian officers rode across on horseback. They took a position near the town cemetery and opened on the Italians during the night with machine guns. The Austrians carried two searchlights which they placed on the Italian position, while the Italians were without searchlights. It was only by the flashes of the Austrian machine guns that the Italians could direct their fire.

Last Desperate Effort.

At daylight yesterday the enemy still held his position at the cemetery. The situation began to look serious, and for a time it appeared as though the Italians would have to fall back. But now the famous Bersaglierie brigade was brought up fresh from its heroic rearguard defence of the main army as it retired on the field. Some of the other troops were from nearby towns, and they were stirred to a last desperate effort to save their homes.

The Italians charged shortly after dawn, their line moving straight up the hill to the cemetery. Against machine gun fire and guns on the bank the Italians moved with bayonets, grenades and torpedoes. It was one of those charges inspired by love of home and country which will live always, and it was irresistible. The enemy wavered and broke just as the Italian artillery, on a nearby height got the range of the cemetery, but the main fighting was hand-to-hand with the enemy being pressed back steadily to the river, where they were cut down, drowned, bayonetted or captured. By 10 o'clock yesterday all had been swept away, except a few straggling groups, but by noon not one of the enemy's force was left on the western bank.

In addition to some 1,500 killed the enemy lost 1,500 prisoners, including two colonels and some thirty other officers. All the Austrian machine guns were captured and are now being used by the Italians.

The fury of the fighting is shown by the fact that the old Sega Mill on the river's brink was taken and retaken six times during the ebb and flow. The mill is full of bullet holes, but shows no evidence of shellfire, indicating that the fighting was entirely at close quarters.

Succored the Enemy.

Italian stretcherbearers did noble service yesterday in caring for the great number of Austrian wounded who lay along the shore. Two of these stretcherbearers waded out to the sand bar amid-stream where several seriously wounded Austrians had dragged themselves. They were brought back and cared for carefully by the Italian hospital corps. One of these wounded Austrians was wounded seriously in the leg and he was supported between two Italian soldiers on the way to the receiving stations.

The Italians recovered their dead, some of them at the water's edge. One gunner was found hnaging lifeless over his machine gun. This summarizes a most desperate fight to preserve the Piave line.

EVERY DAY A HAPPY DAY 10 CENTS FIG SEN 25 CENTS The Gentle Laxative Nyal Quality Stores

FIRST WEEK OF TRIBUNALS WOULD INDICATE ABOUT 3,500 MEN CALLED UP IN DISTRICT

Returns, If Taken as Criterion, Mean That Only 13 Per Cent of Estimated Eligibles Will Be Secured as Reinforcements in Western Ontario Counties.

If the records of the 111 tribunals in this military district for the past week can be accepted as any criterion for future decisions the final figures will show that no more than 3,500 men have been secured in the first class in the eleven counties comprising this military district.

This estimate is based upon completed returns received from the tribunals decisions of the last week. This means that refusals include only A 2 men, as all others placed in Categories B, C, D and E, are allowed exemption from combatant service, unless a medical examination should reveal that they have been found medically fit. About 10 per cent of those claiming exemption are refused, and 90 per cent allowed.

From the 1,092 who reported for service it has not yet been ascertained how many are medically fit, but allowing that all are fit and placed in A 2, class it will mean about 13 per cent of the men in the entire district will be secured as reinforcements. At least one-half of the men refused exemption have entered notices of appeal, but these will not be disposed of for some weeks yet.

867 Granted; 110 Refused.

The records of Wednesday last are good examples of preceding, and the following days work of the tribunals. On that day 977 claims were handled throughout the district 867 of these being granted and 110 refused.

The seven city tribunals have, after one week, managed to get their work down to a system so that the confusion that existed the first day or two has been completely eliminated, and things are now being conducted with clockwork regularity.

A feature of today's sittings was the number of men from the rural districts who appeared in person before the tribunals. The majority base their claims upon the fact that as producers they are of greater advantage to the country than they would be as soldiers. Some, though, supplement this claim with those grounds that cover exceptional domestic or financial obligations.

At the tribunal at the registry office, Gordon Birrell, son of Inspector Birrell, of the police force, was allowed exemption on the grounds that in his present capacity as an expert electrician he should not be taken.

Judging from the number of applicants for exemption who base "conscientious objections" as their grounds for seeking immunity to military service, the objector with conscientious scruples thrives particularly well in London.

Fight Fires, Not Men.

In comparison with the populations of Toronto and London there are approximately twice as many conscientious-objecting young men in this city. A member of the local fire department told the members of Tribunal 185 today that he did not mind fighting fires, but that he drew the line when it came to fighting men. He said that he was a Quaker, and had been taught from boyhood to refrain from killing anybody.

The Quaker was asked to furnish evidence to support his claims, but replied that he had had nothing to do with Quakerism since boyhood, and therefore could not submit the necessary evidence. It became apparent that the applicant had resurrected his conscientious objections in order to escape inclusion with the first draft. He had not been medically examined, however, and the tribunal deferred judgment.

The tribunal sitting at the Foresters' Hall have adopted the method of hearing the large proportion of applicants before 11 o'clock in the morning, and then deciding the cases during the afternoon.

Conscientious Objectors in Plenty.

A number of Baptists and Methodists have appeared before the tribunals with the claim of conscientious objection to combatant service.

At Tribunal 189 a member of the Baptist Church appeared and said that his conscience bothered him to such an extent that he could not possibly bring himself to kill a man. One of the members of the tribunal informed the claimant that Baptists were not exempt on the "conscientious objections" clause.

"I thought all Baptists were exempt," the applicant told the tribunal.

Tribunal 185 disposed of 26 cases Saturday. Seventeen were categorized below Class A and, therefore, granted temporary exemption. Four cases were refused and two granted conditional exemption.

ROTARY CLUB AIDS IN PATRIOTIC WORKS

Record of Hamilton Organization Is Reviewed by Member.

W. H. Hewlett of Hamilton addressed the luncheon of the Rotary Club today. He told of the work being done by the branch of the organization in his city, and emphasized the part it had played in assisting Red Cross work. He told also of how it was aiding the Victory Loan Campaign.

E. Yeates, recently returned from Washington, told of his visit to the Rotary Club there. A notable feature in its rules, he said, was that members were fined $1 every time they failed to attend a meeting.

It was announced that two weeks from today ladies would be invited to the luncheon, and that the speaker would be Dr. Mullen of Hamilton.

$210,000 ADDED IN ONE BLOCK TO LOAN SCORE

Ontario Loan Application Starts Off Second Week With Vim.

GETS AWAY WITH RUSH

Second Lap for Big Objective Finds Workers More Eager Than Ever.

Another big boost to London's Victory Loan "score" was recorded today with the announcement that the Ontario Loan and Debenture Company had taken a $350,000 block. Of this total, $210,000 is "new" money, the balance being represented in previous war loan stocks converted into the new issue.

While there has been no blowing of whistles, playing of bands and ringing of bells to mark the opening of the second week of the Victory Loan campaign in London and the county of Middlesex, it has started out with a grand flourish, nevertheless. The faces of the members of the headquarters staff wear expressions of elation, and there is a jubilant feeling in the air.

The Victory Loan started out to win on the morning of Monday, November 12th at 9 a.m. Exactly one week later it had more than half accomplished the whole objective and far outdistanced the objective for the first week.

After the Sunday rest, the members of the staff are refreshed and prepared to take hold again with renewed cigor. Floods of Victory Loan posters and other new literature have poured out of express packages this forenoon, with the result that the city is to be even more papered up than during the first week. Anybody who has misse the Victory Loan campaign up to the present won't have any further excuse. It will be literally true thta it will stare them in the face wherever they turn.

NEW HOMESTEAD LAW FOR WESTERN CANADA ANNOUNCED BY GOVT.

Applicants Must Be British, Neutral or Allied Subjects.

OTTAWA, Nov. 18.—An order-in-council has been passed providing that no applications for an entry for a homestead in Western Canada shall be granted unless the applicant was a British subject at the commencement of the war and has since continued to be a British subject or a subject of one of the Allied or neutral countries. This regulaton will not apply to any alien-born person naturalized since the commencement of the war who is a member of the Canadian Expeditionary Forces, or who has been honorably discharged from the Canadian army.

MUCH MORE MUST BE DONE BEFORE THIS WAR IS WON, MESSAGE GIVEN TO WOMEN'S CANADIAN CLUB HERE

Speaker, Condemned as Spy by Germans, Declares No Government Without Whole-Hearted Support of People Could Have Perpetrated Such Atrocities as Those of Huns.

"Germany is fighting a war of annihilation, of extermination. The more I see, the more I am obsessed by the necessity for much more to be done before this war can be won. Once for all we must conquer this ruthless enemy that is intent upon extermination of all that lies between it and the goal it has set itself to win. Don't for a moment make the mistake of believing that the German Government alone is carrying on this war without the people behind it. I don't believe for a moment it would be possible for any government to accomplish all that Germany has done, to perpetrate the atrocities that have been committed, unless it had the whole-hearted backing of the people. And this war is going to be won by the Government that has the most united whole-hearted support behind it. Every one, young and old, man and woman, must put his or her shoulder to the task. It isn't enough for you to say 'I have done something' or 'I am doing my part.' It is the duty of every one of you to ask yourself the question, 'Am I doing my utmost?' Only when all the people are doing their utmost can this war be won."

Hospital Organizer.

The foregoing significant words were spoken on Saturday afternoon to the members of the Women's Canadian Club by a woman, who perhaps more than any other woman in the whole of the empire or the Allied countries has had an opportunity of observing the manner of war that Germany wages and who probably to a greater extent than any other woman in the empire has been privileged to render service to the fighting men of the Allied nations and to minister to the stricken of at least one country where Germany has attempted to carry out the policy of annihilation, namely Serbia. The name of the speaker was Mrs. St. Clair Stobart, and her services in this war have included the organization of a hospital unit in Antwerp before it fell into the hands of the Germans; organization of hospital units in France for the French Red Cross, and probably the most conspicuous service of all, in connection with the Serbian army at headquarters, previous to the second invasion by the Germans and Austrians, associated with this, service to the civilian population, and later, service as commander of a flying hospital corps which followed up the army in its advance against the foe and ministered to the sick and wounded in the great retreat which ended in flight through Montenegro and Albania.

Years before war broke out Mrs. St. Clair Stobart recognized some justice in the argument for witholding the franchise from women that they take no part in national defence. She organized a "Women's Convoy Corps" to receive advanced training in first aid, home nursing, signalling, etc., even to pitching of tents. Each year weeks were spent under canvas. The idea was to be prepared for service in case emergency arose in which the empire might be called upon to defend itself. When the first Balkan war broke out in 1912 the trained women had their opportunity for service, Mrs. Stobart organizing a unit which did such good work that when the war came upon the world in 1914 she was asked to organize a Belgian Red Cross hospital at Brussels. Accompanied by her husband as treasurer of the hospital and an English Church clergyman as chaplain, she reached Brussels August 12. The following day "the Germans took possession somewhat prematurely," to quote her own humorously turned expression. With her husband and the chaplain she got a passport to Holland. Arrested as spies in a town through which they were passing she learned from the lips of a German officer the German attitude in the war. She appealed to him to take into consideration the fact that she and her companions were representing the British Red Cross, that they had their papers and were in the right in what said said.

"Right?" he replied. "You are English and whether you are right or wrong, this is a war of annihilation."

Condemned as Spies.

The three were condemned to be shot. "The chaplain, representing the church; my husband, a judge, representing justice, and myself healing. These are three things the Germans are trying to annihilate," commented Mrs. Stobart. After a miraculous escape, service in Antwerp and in France, the speaker, in Serbia, saw the population being ruthlessly destroyed by the dread typhus, which the Germans had brought into the country. Other plagues were destroying victims — diphtheria, scarlet fever and rapidly spreading communicable diseases of other descriptions. Watching the peasants streaming by the army headquarters to market, she asked an officer: "Who ministers to the Serbian civilians? Who is attempting to control disease among them?" The answer was that all the doctors had died of typhus or were with the army. She had an inspiration to establish a free dispensary in a tent by the road, putting up a sign announcing medicine would be given free if bottles were brought, and diagnosis and treatment free as well. In two weeks, 12,000 civilians had been treated.

An appeal was cabled to the Serbian relief fund in London for material, personnel and equipment for at least six, and if possible twelve more dispensaries. Six more were eventually established at points within a radius of 50 miles; 22,000 people went through the hands of those in charge of the dispensaries. Some idea of the ravages of typhus was given in the statement: "In the cemetery of the headquarters town there were 4,000 newly-made graves of typhus victims."

Then the orders came to move up with the army. One day the orders to Major Stobart, commander of the Flying Hospital Corps, was for a retreat movement.

Serbians Fearful Plight.

Graphically the story was told of the awful tragedy of the retreat of the overwhelmingly outnumbered Serbian army, the retreat accompanied all the way by rear-guard fighting and with persisting hope of relief from the allies. Later it became the retreat of a whole nation.

"The memory that lives continually with me," said Mrs. Stobart, "is of the remarkable dignity, orderliness, silence with which the tragic retreat was conducted. We have heard from the enemies of the Serbians that the Serbian soldiers are a wild, fierce lot. They are a peace-loving, home-loving, nation-loving people. Their great passions are their love of home and country. In all that retreat, calculated, if anything could be, to demoralize men, never once did I hear from a Serbian soldier a word that could offend the most fastidious ear, witness an act that could offend the most fastidious."

Continuing, the speaker presented a picture at once grim and magnificent of the flight through the inhospitable land of Montenegro and Albania, grim in its agony of suffering, of men, women and children dropping by the way, magnificent in the splendid spirit of heroism revealed.

So successful was Mrs. Stobart in painting a picture of the sufferings, the nobility and the dauntless courage of the Serbian people that an appeal on behalf of the Serbian Red Cross at the close brought a response in contriutions amounting to $100.

In connection with Serbia, Mrs. Stobart quoted from a recent article written in an Austrian newspaper, in which the statement has been made: "Possibly Serbia will persist, but there will be no more Serbs."

In the slides which she showed was one of Austrian officers watching the crucifixion of a number of victims, a picture taken from the body of an Austrian officer who was killed.

"I have been asked," said Mrs. Stobart, "if the stories of atrocities have not been exaggerated. My reply is 'impossible.'"

Mrs. Stobart is delivering a series of lectures in Canada and the United States, and has been lent to America for this purpose by the British foreign office.

VICTORY LOAN SPARKS

UNIVERSAL SERVICE. — BUY VICTORY BONDS

Probably no greater act of sacrifice has been committed in order to invest in a Victory Bond, and thus help the men at the front, than that of a widow who called today at the headquarters and intrusted to a clerk her greatest treasure, a diamond ring, evidently her engagement ring from the fact that there were initials inside the band.

"I must have a bond," she said, "but, unfortunately, I haven't the money to buy it. The only way I could think of to get money was by raising it on this ring. Can you have it sold for me?"

So touched were officials at headquarters by the willingness of the woman to do her bit by parting with her most precious possession, that they are devising means of disposing of the ring to the best advantage. It is probable it will be sold at auction. On request of the owner, the initials are being filed out to prevent her identity becoming known.

Among the women with big personal interests at stake who invested in Victory Bonds on Saturday was Mrs. Mills, a widow.

She has three sons, five grandsons and seven nephews serving in France, and naturally wants to do her part to bring them home as soon as possible.

Among speakers enrolled to talk Victory Loan at meetings in the industrial plants of the city during the campaign are: F. G. Mitchell, E. R. Dennis, John Cottam, Principal G. F. Rogers of the collegiate institute, Jared Vining, Ald. Ashplant, G. C. Gunn, City Clerk Baker, A. W. White, E. H. Johnston, T. W. Scandrett, T. Rowe and G. M. Reid.

A meeting of the Victory Loan groups committees takes place Tuesday evening at headquarters.

Arrangements have been made whereby the team workers in the campaign are visiting the different schools of the city today to interview the principals and teachers, instead of calling upon them individually in their homes. In this way a great saving of time is being effected.

The many incidents published of patriotic sacrifice in order to buy Victory Bonds in London, which have arisen during the first week of the campaign in the city and district, have attracted the attention of the headquarters for the province in Toronto. The result is that the headquarters has asked the London committee to follow up these cases, and also keep track of others to be used in connection with the history of the Victory Loan campaign in Ontario.

"You had better take all that I have, $3,000, in order to help hurry the boys back," was the statement made by a widow in this city to one of the canvassers who called on her, J. C. Spence.

Cotton banners displayed on the delivery wagons in the city are a new feature of Victory Loan publicity today.

The girls of the Helena Costume Company have taken $4,400 in bonds and expect to raise the amount to $6,000. The girls are sure taking their share in the big drive.

One salesman sold a bond to the Kaiser Saturday. Yep, it's true. "I've lost a lot of business on account of my name, but I'm going to buy a bond just the same," said the purchaser. Three cheers for Mr. Kaiser.

Members of the staffs of the Aetna Life, Helena Costume Company, Metropolitan Life, London Life, Prudential, and the George H Davis Insurance Agencies are helping to address and stamp 20,000 envelopes to be sent out from the Victory Loan headquarters today.

City Organizer Graham was the only man of the staff who stayed with the drive till closing hour Saturday night. Bet he sleeps with a Victory Bond under his pillow and swallows a few of 'em before meals. His middle name is efficiency.

Demand a button when you buy your Victory Bond. Be sure and wear it and don't lose it, for you can't get an extra one.

The following are details of the city canvass in the Victory Loan campaign for the week ending Saturday, November 17, 1917, which totalled $3,-330,000:

38 SINN FEINERS ON HUNGER STRIKE LET FREE FROM PRISON

Those Remaining in Dundalk and Mount Joy Trying Same Game.

DUBLIN, Nov. 18.—More than thirty imprisoned Sinn Feiners, who were on hunger-strikes, have been released from Dundalk prison and eight from Mount Joy. Some who came to Dublin yesterday were met by large crowds and cheered. The remaining Sinn Feiners in Dundalk and Mount Joy also have gone on a hunger-strike.

Great Victory Loan Parade At Montreal Thrills Metropolis

British, French, U. S. Soldiers and Tars in Five-Mile-Long Procession.

Montreal, Nov. 19.—Headed by the tank Britannia and followed by a contingent of United States marines and soldiers, a five-mile-long Victory Loan procession passed through the business streets of Montreal today. In the procession were floats representative of every branch of the busines sand financial elements in the city.

French and English soldiers and sailors from all the allied armies marched through the streets and received a tremendous reception.

REV. JOHN MORTON DEAD.

Hamilton, Nov. 19.—Rev. John Morton, one of the best known Congregationalist ministers in Canada, died here today. He was a native of Scotland, spent his early days in Woodstock and received his education later in Scotland, where he was ordained. For fifteen years he was pastor of First Congregational Church here, a former chairman of the Congregational Union of Quebec and Ontario, and for a time professor at the Canadian Congregational College, Montreal.

SHIPPING TURNIPS.

ST. MARYS, Nov. 18. — Great quantities of turnips are being shipped out from St. Marys to outside points. Considerable baled hay is being shipped to points where scarcity exists.

WINDSOR MAN HAS GAINED 20 POUNDS

"I Now Know What a Wonderful Thing Tanlac Is, Says Pickell.

"I have gained 20 pounds by actual weight, and now I know for myself that Tanlac is something wonderful." William S. Pickell, who made this remarkable statement, is a well-known paint contractor and resides at 51 Windsor avenue, Windsor.

"About a year ago," continued Mr. Pickell, "I began suffering from stomach trouble and going down hill. My appetite went square back on me, and I always had to be very careful about what I ate. I was very easy to take cold, and was annoyed a great deal by a hacking cough, caused by the irritated condition of my throat. I fell off to one hundred and thirty-eight pounds and felt rundown and tired all the time. My sleep was broken. I was very nervous and just felt worse than I can describe. Many days I simply felt like giving up entirely, and it was by mere force of will that I kept at my work.

"I had read so much about Tanlac that I concluded to see if it was good for me, and what it has done in my case proves its value in building up people who are all rundown like I was. I have a fine appetite now and eat just anything I want with no bad after-effects. My sleep is sound and restful, and I don't have that tired feeling any more. I now weigh one hundred and fifty-eight pounds—have made an actual gain of twenty pounds already—and have just finished my second bottle of Tanlac. I really feel like a different man, and two bottles of the medicine have done my daughter a world of good, too. I expect to take a few more bottles, and am telling all my friends how fine it is."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Ltd., under the direction of a special representative, and by an established agency in every town.

At the Patricia today, Tuesday and Wednesday, twice daily, at 2:15 and 8:15.

At Majestic Today and Tuesday, the Star Supreme, Alice Joyice in "The Fettered Woman."

This is one of the best productions this star has appeared in for some time.

PATRICIA

"CIVILIZATION."

A Screen Epic of the Birth of the Millennium.

"Civilization," presented by Griffin Pictures, the most stupendous and daring cinema spectacle of all times, written by C. Gardner Sullivan and produced by Thomas H. Ince, and which will have its first local showing in the Patricia today, is best summed up as a screen epic, depicting an indealistic conception of the birth of the millennium and the bringing about of universal peace through the second coming of Christ. As to the photography, it probably has never been equalled in motion drama.

It is, perhaps, in the individual countenances and the registry of the passions, hopes, joys, sorrows and fears of mankind that "Civilization" is exceptional. The faces of the characters selected to depict motherhood, bereft of offspring for cannon fodder, show the joy and sorrow of all mothers.

The painter of The Angelus would envy the effects secured by Director Ince in his pastoral scenes preceding the calamity of war. The musical accompaniment is excellent.

The theme of "Civilization" has been handled once and for all. The production in its entirety is superb and stands for all that is complete, fascinating and illuminating. The cast is composed of the following artists: Herschel Mayall, Miss Lola May, Howard Hickman, Miss Enid Markey, George Fisher, J. Frank Burke, Charles K. French, J. Barney Sherry, Jerome Storm and Miss Ethel Ullman.

MAJESTIC

Alice Joyce in "The Fettered Woman" at the Majestic Today and Tuesday.

Angelina Allende ..... Alice Joyce
James Deane ..... Webster Campbell
Jack Wolver ..... Donald McBride
Tobe ..... Lionel Grey
Adolph Bink ..... Templer Saxe

Dr. Allende has invested all of his own money and his daughter's in the town of Anne's Bridge. When the boom is over, everything is lost, and the doctor kills himself. Angeline returns from school to find herself "land poor." Some sharpers try to steal the land from her, and in a mix-up she is accused of shooting one of them, and is sent to a reformatory for three years. When released she tries to get summer boarders, and James Dearle is the only one that answer her advertisement. He falls in love with her, and finally is able to prove her complete innocence of the shooting charge.

Alice Joyce is seen to decided advantage in the role of the persecuted girl, her part at all times being perfectly in keeping with the role. It is quite the best work that Miss Joyce has done lately. Webster Campbell answers the requirements of an attractive hero. Donald McBride and Templer Saxe give good characterizations and uphold their portion of the work in good style. Lionel Grey in the small role of the hermit was excellent. At the Majestic today and Tuesday.

A. F. OF L. MAY ORGANIZE STENOGRAPHERS' UNIONS

Unionizing of City Firemen Is Also Approved.

BUFFALO, Nov. 18.—Resolutions for the appointment of organizers to form local unions of office workers and stenographers were favorably reported by the committee on local and federated bodies and adopted by the A. F. of L. yesterday. Women organizers were recommended for this work. The unionising of city firemen was approved.

The abolition of all private employment bureaus and the enactment of laws providing that all labor be employed through the national free employment bureau of the United States department of labor, was approved without debate.

The first vote of the convention came on the date of annual meeting, the recommendation in favor of a change from November to the second week of June being adopted, 255 to 21. An amendment to have the change become effective in 1919 was lost.

PASTOR ADMITS HE GOT PASSPORTS BY FRAUDULENT CLAIM

Rev. Henry Sperling Released at Kitchener on $10,000 Bail.

KITCHENER, Nov. 18.—Rev. Henry F. W. Sperling, D.D., pastor of St. Peter's Lutheran Church, who is being held by the federal authorities for internment, was granted a special hearing last night on instructions from the department of justice. As the result of the hearing he was allowed to leave the jail and return to his parsonage under $10,000 bail. He is remaining at the house pending a decision on his internment by the department.

At the hearing, German papers, forbidden in the Canadian mails, which were found in the clergyman's possession, as well as a letter in which on November 10, 1914, he had inclosed $3 to Rev. Dr. Oberlander at Syracuse, N.Y., to be used for the German war sufferers' fund, were produced.

German war fund pamphlets sent him by Pastor Oberlander of New York, with the request that the Kitchener minister solicit contributions for the German war fund in this city, were also produced. The federal agents also brought before the hearing letters from Germany received by Sperling through relatives in Utica, N.Y. These letters were from Sperling's cousin, a clerk in the German war department.

Sperling admitted having forbidden German literature in his possession, but was unable to give satisfactory answers when asked his reasons. He admitted singing German patriotic songs at the Lutheran conference at Syracuse, and also admitted having obtained passports to the States under fradulent claims. Sperling will be allowed to forward a statement to Ottawa in his own behalf.

SOLDIERS ARE NOT DISQUALIFIED FROM BEING CANDIDATES

Doubtful Point Is Cleared Up by Chief Returning Officer.

OTTAWA, Nov. 18.—All members of the naval and military forces are eligible as parliamentary candidates. The question of the eligibility of an officer or soldier has apparently been arousing much doubt in many constituencies as telegrams for a ruling on this and other points have been pouring in on the general returning officer, W. F. O'Connor, K.C. Mr O'Connor has replied in these terms:

"Neither officers nor soldiers are disqualified under the Dominion Elections Act. They are preserved from disqualification by sections one and two of chapter seven of the Dominion Elections Act of 1915. Being qualified under the last mentioned act as members, they become eligible as candidates."

BORDEN IS NOMINATED IN KINGS COUNTY, N. S.

A. DeWitt Foster, of Horse Deal Fame, Indorses Candidature.

KENTVILLE, N. S., Nov. 18.—Nomination of a Conservative candidate in King's County at the general election was unanimously tendered Sir Robert Borden, at a party convention here on Saturday afternoon. The premier, in accepting the nomination to run in his home county, which obviously very much moved him, referred to his early associations with this vicinity which he left for Halifax over forty years ago, and said that when he decided to stand aside in Halifax, his old seat, for his cabinet colleague, Hon. A. K. MacLean, the offer of the nomination in King's County coincided with the desire of his heart.

Sir Robert in the course of a reference to the Union Government recalled the approving stand taken by Nova Scotian statesmen like Premier Murray and Hon. W. S. Fielding, and announced that the latter gentleman would be elected by acclamation for Queens-Shelburne.

Amidst loud applause Sir Robert said the issue in the election was nothing else than the national destiny. He felt a profound confidence that they would remain in the conflict with the undiminished resolution which had animated them for three years.

A. DeWitt Foster, former member for the riding, was present and indorsed the premier's candidature.

SWISS PACIFISTS ARE ROUTED WITH SABRES

ZURICH, Switzerland, Nov. 18.—The police were obliged to use their sabres to break up a pacifist manifestation here Friday evening. Several persons were wounded and numerous arrests were made.

PEKING CABINET CRISIS.

Peking, Friday, Nov. 16.—The entire cabinet resigned with Premier Tuan Chi Jui today, and it is considered probable that President Feng-Kwo-Chang will accept the resignations. Hsu Shih-Chang, former prime minister, is expected to be named premier to form a coalition cabinet, giving South and Central China representation.

TEUTON FORCE IS GIVEN SETBACK ON PIAVE FRONT

Severely Defeated in Attempt to Get Across River.

ONE FORCE IS WIPED OUT

Another Driven to River Embankment by Murderous Shellfire.

Italian Headquarters, Nov. 18.—By the Associated Press.—The Austro-Germans on Saturday made furious attempts to break the Italian line and crossed the Piava River at two points, but were annihilated at one point and driven back at the other. The Italians are holding, but the situation is considered to be grave.

Fighting has assumed extreme severity on the northern line and along the Piava River above Zenson. The enemy, whose forces exceed the Italians on the northern line, has now thrown fresh divisions into the battle in an effort to break through. The Italians are resisting with desperate tenacity, using hand grenades to meet infantry rushes following artillery and machine gun fire. It is one of the bitterest struggles of the war, and the losses are heavy.

Navy's Splendid Service.

The Italian navy is doing splendid service, seconding the army in the bombardment of enemy positions toward the mouth of the Piave River. The navy, which held the coast front from the mouth of the Isonzo to Grado, saved all of its material and cannon, and these are now being trained on the enemy at the mouth of the river and for some distance up where the water is deep and wide. Near Revedoli an Italian marine battalion repulsed on Saturday a rush made by an Austrian storming party, and Italian torpedo-boats off Porto di Cortellozzo drove off an attack of an Austrian torpedo fleet. The latter action was accompanied by operations of a fleet of Italian hydroplanes and seconded by Italian coast batteries.

Italians Reanimated.

Conditions all along the line show that the spirits of the Italians have been reanimated by the present successes.

On the middle of the Piave River, where the Austrians succeeded in gaining a foothold on the west bank near Zenson, they are held to the water's edge, and their only communication with the east bank is at night, when a flat boat is dragged from side to side, bringing a small stock of supplies. Here on the shore line they have set up a line of machine guns to hold back the Italians from rushing them into the river. Some of the more ardent Italians begged for leave to rush this line, and are restrained only by the positive orders of their commander, who will not send his men in the face of such machine gun fire, when he believes that the line can be reduced by other means.

Chief Operation is North.

Further north, where the front turns westward, from the Piave River across the Asiago Plateau, Gen. Ritter von Krobatin, former Austrian minister of war, is driving his Austrian forces together with one Hungarian division in an attack which may be the turning-point of the whole operation. It is here where the Piave front and the Trentino front meet that Gen. von Krobatin is throwing all his pressure on this meeting point, so as to force a wedge between the two Italian armies. What this success would mean is fully realized, for should this wedge come through it would not only separate the Italian armies, but would require the consideration of a retreat from the Piave River, as it would not be possible to maintain a position on the Piave with the left flank thus menaced.

Von Krobatin Staking All.

This explains the fierceness of von Krobatin's attack from the north, as he is staking all on getting behind the Italians' Piave line. But all his efforts have not succeeded in shaking the main line, although here and there it has moved backward and forward during the violent fighting. At Mont Roncone the enemy's advance completely failed, while at Mont Tomatuo he advanced a little. But these are all episodic fluctuations, as the main front holds.

Gen. Armando Diaz, commander-in-night to announce the solidarity of both main fronts, and to give merited tributes to his men. While the situation is thus satisfactory in repulsing the first onslaught, there is no delusion that the enemy will abandon his design of progressing on the Venetian plains. The fighting, while desperate, has not yet developed the enemy's full power, and it is still to be shown where he will strike his greatest blow. But his first shock has been met and checked, and the Italian arms have gained new lustre.

Turning Point At Hand.

The battle of the Piave River, as it will be known, has now developed to a stage where the enemy's first attempts to make a breach in the Italian lines have failed. This defensive result has not only been accomplished by the Italian army, but time has been secured to effect that recovery from the retreat which will permit the army to resume its offensive power as well as its defensive.

The enemy was taking full advantage of the delicate period after the retreat, knowing that every day counted for the restoration of the solidity of the Italian offensive force. In this knowledge, too, the Italian supreme command is proceeding methodically, giving ground here and there and holding elsewhere, as all this is part of a systematic plan to bring to the army offensive qualities to deal a blow at a chosen moment.

Few Days Will Tell.

One hears tonight talk in high quarters that if the Piave line holds another few days the tide will be turned, as its successful defence through six fearful days has established that the enemy has his limitations.

Thus far, nothing beyond battalions have crossed the river, and no corps or brigades much less divisions, has passed the deadline. Only at Zonsen and Grisolera are there any serious lodgments on the west bank of the Piave, and Saturday the enemy was forced back to the river at Zonsen and elsewhere with more than a thousand men captured, while the flood waters bar him before Grisolera.

It is because the Piave has resisted so well that the enemy is now turning his attention to the north and trying to make a breach there, which he failed to make on the Piave. The line on the north runs along Asiago, Cismon and Quero and there the Italian position remains virtually unchanged.

Solidifying Northern Front.

In the east where the mountain line joins the Piave the Italian position has been moved a little farther back, not in giving ground but to solidify the whole northern front from Mont Tondecare on the west to the Piave on the east, thus changing the defence in the centre and both northern wings. This is the version after one of the most trying weeks Italy has ever known. It makes the whole country breathe easier and await with serenity, almost confidence, those crucial days still ahead.

A trusted man was sent by the correspondent to the Lower Piave to inspect the inundated district, and he has returned with details of the fearful scene of desolation made by the release of the flood of waters by the Italian engineers to bar the progress of the enemy. What was a smiling farmland ten days ago is now transformed into a vast sheet of water stretching for miles.

Trapped by the Flood.

The extent of water interposes an impassable defence to any advance of the enemy in the quarter, and under this sheet of water is soft mud, now soaked to quicksand, about six feet deep, making it impossible for enemy artillery or horses to enter without sinking. The first party which got across has been forced back, and is now held at bay by the flood.

SHE WENT DAYS WITHOUT FOOD

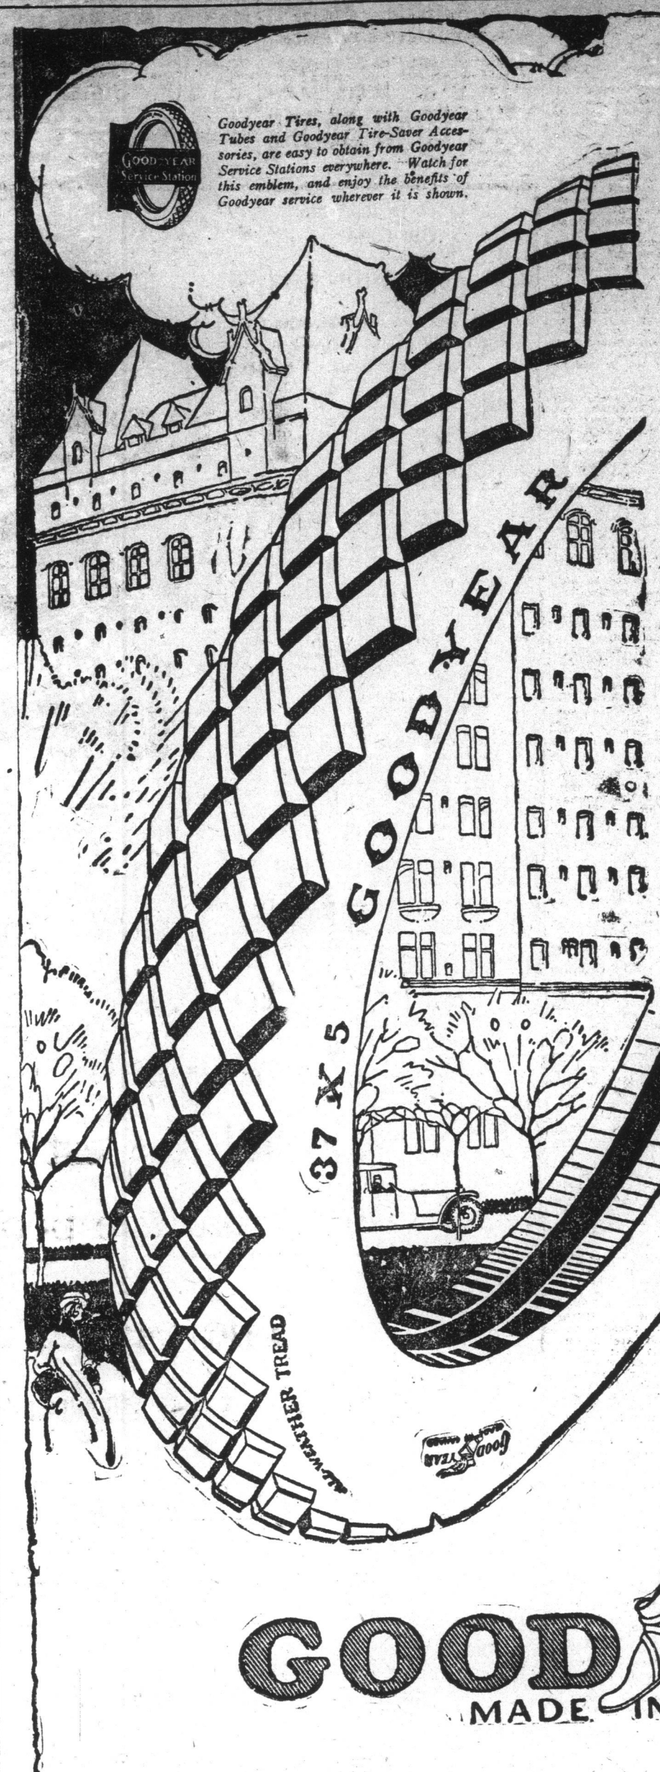

When Hospital Treatment Failed an Operation Was Advised—But Cure Was Effected Without the Use of the Knife.

Glace Bay, N. S., Sept. 29.—Here is a case which sorely puzzled the hospital doctors. It was evident that the great suffering from pain under the left shoulder-blade was due to torpidity of the liver, but no medical treatment seemed to do any good.

In fact medicines failed, and the doctors said an operation was the only hope. But Mrs. Watkins hesitated before the enormous risk of an operation, and decided to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills first.

The result was that she was perfectly cured three years ago, and feels now that she can report the cure as thorough and lasting. This is not an isolated case, but proves that this great medicine cures when ordinary prescriptions fail.

Mrs. Annie Watkins, Glace Bay, New Harbor, N. S., writes: "I think it is time for me to give my experience with your wonderful Kidney-Liver Pills. For seven months I suffered with what the doctor called indigestion; but whatever it was, I suffered terribly. The pain would start under my left shoulder and pass down my side until it reached the pit of my stomach. It just seemed as if the flesh were being torn from the bone. At times I used to go without food from one morning until the next. I had no energy left for work at all. At last our doctor sent me to the hospital for a month. For four days and nights I never broke my fast except for a drink of water. After four weeks' treatment there I returned home, and was back only four days when the pain came back worse than ever. Then I was told I would have to undergo an operation, but I would not consent to that. At last I read about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and started to take them. At first I did not notice much difference, but still I kept on using them, and by the time four boxes were used I was perfectly well again. That was in 1914, so you see I can safely say that I was cured. I shall always be grateful." Dr Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Refuse substitutes, for they only disappoint.—Advt.

Goodyear Tires, along with Goodyear Tubes and Goodyear Tire-Saver Accessories, are easy to obtain from Goodyear Service Stations everywhere. Watch for this emblem, and enjoy the benefits of Goodyear service wherever it is shown.

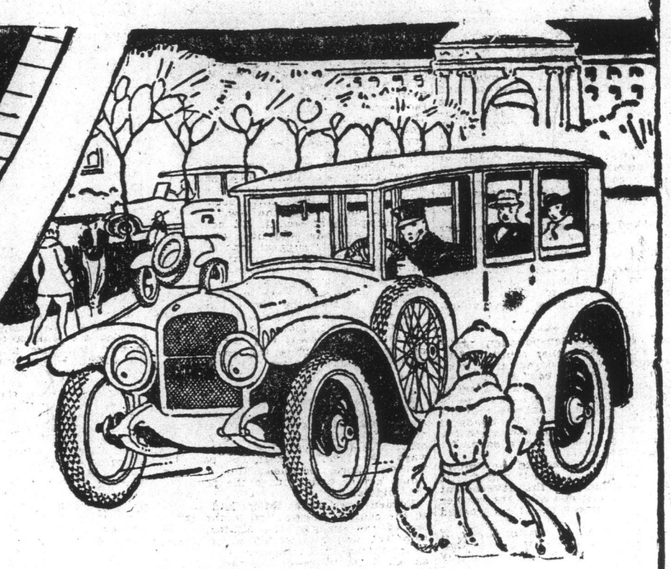

On All Four Wheels

Goodyear engineers after many tests, believe Goodyear All-Weather Tread Tires to be the best insurance of safe winter driving. On the rear wheels they prevent skidding around corners, and when you apply your brakes suddenly. On the front wheels they enable you to get out of muddy ruts or to cut across snowy car tracks, with safety. Yet they steer as easily as a smooth tread tire.

Goodyear Tires are better in many ways. Yet the price is reasonable because they are made in Canada. From the table below you can see what a saving you make. Even good, plain tread tires imported from the United States cost you more than Goodyear All-Weather Treads made in Canada.

MANY CHRISTMAS BOXES GO FROM FOREST TO BOYS IN TRENCHES

FOREST, Nov. 18.—The girls of the Carvell Club held a ten-cent tea in the town hall yesterday afternoon, which netted over $30, which they handed over to the Red Cross workers. A soldier's box, filled to the top with good things for overseas, was drawn for, and won by Miss Flossie Coleman, who has a brother overseas.

The public school and St James Presbyterian Sunday school have sent Christmas boxes to all the boys overseas who were ex-pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fraser celebrated their golden wedding at their home on Prince street. Only immediate relatives were present. The children were: Stanley of Forest, Mrs. E. R. O'Neil, Warwick, and Ila, who lives at home; also six of their eleven grandchildren. Among other gifts were two leather upholstered chairs from the children, of whom Dr. Bruce Fraser and Mrs. R. Hanham of Woodrowe, Sask., were unable to be present. Mr. and Mrs. Fraser were married in Ravenswood Presbyterian Church November 13, 1867, by Rev. Mr. Goodfellow, and resided in Bosanquet till a few years ago, when they moved to town.

HON. NEIL PRIMROSE, M.P., IS KILLED IN PALESTINE

LONDON, Nov. 17.—The Evening Standard reports that Hon. Neil Primrose, M.P., youngest son of the Earl of Rosebery, has been killed in Palestine. He was a lieutenant in the Bucks Yeomanry. In the present Government he had been parliamentary undersecretary for foreign affairs and parliamentary military secretary to the minister of munitions. He was born in 1892.

NO CONSERVATIVE WILL OPPOSE FRANK CARVELL

OTTAWA, Nov. 18.—Sir Robert wrote the chairman and secretary of the Conservative Association in Carleton-Victoria, urging that Hon. F. B. Carvell be unopposed by the organization, and at a meeting of the association held subsequently it was decided that a Conservative would not oppose Hon. Mr. Carvell.

GERMANS SINK DUTCH SHIPS.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 18.—A dispatch from Ymuiden says it is officially reported that a Dutch lugger has been sunk by German naval forces, one man being drowned and the remainder being taken to Wilhelmshaven.

It is also reported that the lugger Jacoba has been sunk and all of her crew drowned.

SISTER MARY BASIL AWARDED $24,000 IN SUIT FOR ABDUCTION

Policeman Is Only Defendant Not Assessed.

KINGSTON, Nov. 18. — Sister Mary Basil, who sued Archbishop Spratt and others for twenty-nine thousand dollars for assault and abduction, was awarded twenty-four thousand dollars by the jury before Mr. Justice Britton in court here Saturday night.

Of this amount Archbishop Spratt, the Roman Catholic Corporation, Mother-General Francis Regis, and the Sisters of Charity are to pay twenty thousand dollars and Dr. Daniel Phelan four thousand.

The other defendant, Policeman Naylon, was assessed nothing. The jury after being out for two and three-quarters hours brought in their finding.

When the foreman of the jury, A. E. Weller, announced the finding the great audience applauded vigorously for several seconds, apparently unanimously indorsing the findings of the jury. After court adjourned throngs of persons gathered around the victorious and happy plaintiff and warmly congratulated her.

Her lawyers, W. N. Tilley, of Toronto, and Lieut.-Colonel A. B. Cunningham, Kingston, also received many congratulations, and the jury was complimented by scores on their findings.

After the jury's findings had been announced Lally, McCarthy, K.C., counsel for the defence, asked concerning the application he had made during the trial for a non-suit in the charges against the archbishop, the Roman Catholic corporation and the Sisters of Charity. His lordship announced that he would reserve his decision on the application.

NO PEACE BEFORE 1919.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Russia's collapse and the unreadiness of the United States make hopeless any thoughts of peace before 1919, in the opinion of Medill McCormick, Congressman-at-large of Illinois, who has just returned from a visit to most of the important fronts of the European battle lines.

ENEMY DRIVEN FROM WHOLE MAHENGE AREA IN GERMAN AFRICA

Mviti and Chiwata Latest Places Captured — 1,515 Prisoners Since Nov. 1.

LONDON, Nov.18.—An official statement on the campaign in East Africa last night says: "On the Makonde Plateau (German East Africa) Wednesday we occupied Mviti after slight opposition and on Thursday occupied Chiwata after a sharp engagement. Forty-six German Europeans and 425 Askaris were captured.

"Since November 1 our columns have accounted for on all fronts a total of 473 German Europeans and 1,073 Askaris killed or captured, two naval guns, and thirty-three machine guns as well as a quantity of material.

"The enemy has been driven from the whole of the Mahenge area."

STR. GEORGE BAKER STRUCK A BOULDER

SAULT STE. MARIE, Nov. 18.—The steamer George Baker, of the Pittsburgh Steamship Company, struck a boulder while off Vidal shoals this morning and punched a hole in her bow large enough to sink her. For a time it seemed as though swift current would carry the vessel across the channel and obstruct navigation, but tugs arrived promptly and prevented further trouble. It is hoped the boat will be up by midnight as her cargo is being lightered, sufficiently to bring her bow out of water.

BRITISH RAID WOOD IN MACEDONIAN WAR ZONE

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Raiding operations by the British in Macedonia are announced in an official statement from Saloniki today, which reads:

"Yesterday morning our troops carried out a successful raid on a wood southwest of Akindzali, northeast of Lake Doiran. Several prisoners were brought back and casualties inflicted upon the enemy. No other events are reported. Bad weather has hampered operations during the last week."

GAS, HEARTBURN, INDIGESTION OR A SICK STOMACH

"Pape's Diapepsin" Relieves Stomach Distress in Five Minutes.

Time it! Pape's Diapepsin will sweeten a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach within five minutes.

If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is usually a sign of acidity of the stomach.

Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches or dizziness. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin helps to neutralize the excessive acid in the stomach which is causing the food fermentation and preventing proper digestion.

Relief in five minutes is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large fifty-cent cases contain enough "Pape's Diapepsin" to usually keep the entire family free from stomach acidity and its symptoms of indigestion, dyspepsia, sourness, gases, heartburn, and headache, for many months. It belongs in your home.

DEATH OF MRS. HENDERSON.

INGERSOLL, Nov. 18.—Mrs. Henderson, wife of William Henderson, died in North Oxford yesterday after an extended illness. She was in her 55th year, and had been practically a lifelong resident of the district. Besides the husband she is survived by one son who resides in St. Thomas. The funeral will be held Monday afternoon from the residence of her brother, John Dye, to Ingersoll Rural Cemetery.

BORDEN BETRAYS WORKINGMEN OF WHOLE OF CANADA TO PROFITEERS

President Watters Tells How Ottawa Crowd Bled the Motherland.

MUST CONSCRIPT WEALTH

Speaker Charges Premier Is False to Promise Made Labor Men.

ANY PLAN TO KEEP POWER

Throngs of Electors Hear Big Issues Discussed at Mass Meeting.

"Since it is just as necessary, we urged them to conscript wealth first—to confiscate the thing of lesser value first, but the Government said no. They wanted to take the man by the scuff of the neck, but to keep their hands off the 'sacred' wealth, which is just as essential as men to win the war. If men are to be confiscated, then for God's sake, we urged, confiscate the thing of lesser value also."

In the above words, J. C. Watters, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, denounced the policy of the Government in the present crisis before an enthusiastic audience at the Masonic Temple Saturday night. The meeting, which was held under the auspices of the London Trades and Labor Council, was well attended, and Mr. Watters, and George S. Gibbons, the local Liberal-Labor candidate, both were greeted with great applause. Mr. Gibbons also addressed the gathering, dealing especially with the defects in the enumerating system of compiling the voters' list. Among the other speakers were Joseph Dean, president of the London Trades and Labor Council, who occupied the chair; Ernest Ingles and R. H. Hessell.

Are Not Disloyal.

In his opening remarks, Mr. Watters stated that although the members of the Trades and Labor Congress had been characterized as disloyal, they were not disloyal. They had pledged themselves at the St. John convention in 1914 to do all in their power to help at the outset of the war. Compulsory methods were opposed unanimously at the Vancouver convention, and at each succeeding convention since. Likewise the attitude of the Government had been to win the war without compulsory methods.

"Time and time again our executive interviewed Premier Borden," declared the speaker, "and he told them each time, 'What we want is willing service and voluntary co-operation. We want no coercion, but willing service.'"

The 400,000 men and more overseas was proof of the success of the voluntary system.

Robbed Motherland.

When the eighteen-pounder shells were costing the mother country $5.15, the speaker had employed an expert, and after allowing for cost of buildings, machinery, overhead charges, depreciation and a fifty per cent increase in the workers' wages, he showed that the shells could be placed in the hands of the British for $1.40. He had urged the Government to use their own shops for shell manufacture.

"While they were bleeding the Empire to the tune of $5.15, was it unpatriotic for us to suggest that the Government use its own shops, and save the mother country from being bled white?" asked the speaker.

"What is the use of having a war, if we can't make millions out of it?—that has been their policy, as judged by dollars and cents."

It was absolutely disloyal on their part to suggest that the shells could be made without cost to the country in Government shops, and the Government would not listen. It was disloyal, not to the country, but to the profiteers, and therefore the Government would not listen.

We urged the Government to commandeer the private shops, the railways, the mines and all the national resources and man-power, in order to send supplies to the boys without the profiteers getting in, and we were disloyal for that reason."

The Government Policy.

"The Government, through its mouthpiece, the minister of railways, stated that 'nothing could be madder than to interfere with private enterprise.' So we saw that the war was being waged on the basis of private enterprise, and the Government has never interfered with private enterprise."

"We urged the Government to concentrate all the powers of the nation on winning the war, and they said they would, but they never have, and their course has been a flat contradiction of their word."

By conscription of wealth was meant the confiscation of all the material wealth of the nation, the land whence come the supplies, the mines for fuel and iron, the railways and the mills in which the necessities of life were manufactured.

The minister of finance had intimated that wealth was a very timid thing, and that if anyone spoke of conscripting it, it would take wings, and fly out of the country, and Canada could not get along without it.

But this was not true, added the speaker, for if the title deeds were removed the real wealth would remain.

Should Be Used.

"We claim that if the nation is in danger then all the wealth should be used to protect it, but the Government did not think so, but said that wealth is sacred, and instead of confiscating wealth they confiscated the man.

"As long as wealth is not conscripted, keep your hands off the man, we say; for the man must be fed, equipped and supplied or he is useless. If wealth were conscripted, it would be such a guarantee that the country was in danger that the trouble would be to keep men from flying to the colors, and to keep them in the essential industries.

"If the Government said there is no man, nor company of men, the C. P. R. or anyone else who can stand in the way, and that the country must have that railroad to win the war; if they said the same to the mine owners, the mill owners and the others, is there a man of you that would not respond when you knew that the Government was in earnest?"

The premier had told the labor executive that he could not guarantee that conscription would never be necessary, but if it did become necessary he would consult them. They had his written word "that if conscription was the only means of preserving the state, he would resort to it."

Premier Is False.

"Therefore his action shows that this is the last resort, since he has had to adopt conscription," said the speaker. "Then I charge the premier with this: He is either betraying the Trades and Labor Congress, because the nation is not in danger, or he is betraying the nation, because he is not doing all he ought to do to preserve the existence of the state."

They had had much trouble with the imperial munitions board regarding wages and working conditions, and they had made efforts to get an agreement that peace conditions would be maintained. No satisfaction had been obtained from the chairman, Sir Joseph Flavelle, a smooth old chap, and one of the greatest hypocrites in the Dominion of Canada.

They had cabled to Lloyd George on two occasions, and the premier had also cabled, but without satisfaction, so they had intimated the possibility of a strike. The chairman had thrown up his hands in horror. "Every shell was a life-saver," he replied, adding: "Think of the boys at the front making $1.10 a day; what if they struck?"

Out for Profits.

"Don't tell us that," the executive replied, "we know better. Not a shell is being manufactured as a life-saver. Let the Government cut out the profits, and it will see how many life-savers will be made. If there was a fraction of a cent more in ornaments, they would make them instead.

"If I had my way, which I suggested to the Government," added Mr. Watters, "the whole stream of profits which is flowing into the pockets of the manufacturers, and which is making millionaires out of the sufferings of the people, would be cut off and diverted to the boys at the front, and we could then pay them $10 a day."

"As long as the government is for privateering, we claim they have no business to put their hands on the man. However, they have seen fit to do it, so don't resist the law."

Conscription of wealth did not mean to take away the land from the farmers. They would suggest that the government appoint a man of the type of Dr. Robertson, and that he, and his assistants ascertain how much of each kind of grain and other supplies were required, so that the farmer could be told exactly what to grow. With some system or order, just what was wanted would be grown; and there would be no surplus. Thus the government could guarantee better prices to the farmers.

Should Be Removed.

The men who stood between the farmer and the miller or consumer should also be removed. No elevator men would be required. The government would be operating all the railways, and could afford to pay the farmers more, because the millions would not be added on to the price by the middlemen.

Borden with conscription had divided the country in two, and in the opinion of the speaker, the Military Service Act was not calculated so much to re-inforce the boys at the front, as an after-the-war measure. The idea was to establish a military caste, for militarism had always been the bulwark of autocracy. It would be well for those present to think over the Military Service Act. In Germany when the workers had threatened to wring their rights from the masters, they were called to the colors, and compelled to obey. In France three or four years before the war, a railway strike was almost successful when the same thing was done, and the men were forced to work.

He felt that the military service act might be used on behalf of the employers against the workers, and he recognized the danger to the boys who would return from the front. The M. S. A. could be easily perpetuated, and then if anyone dared to rebel against unjust conditions they would see how quickly militarism could be the bulwark of autocracy.

No One Responsible.

"Be careful of the Union Government, for neither party is responsible," said he. "It is irresponsible, and can do what it likes. The nature of it was contrary to democracy, so the voters should be careful. It is a little amusing to me."

He had more to hope for from Frank Carvell than the others, as he had been a thorn in the flesh of the late Government, and might be again.

"Who is responsible for union government?" Mr. Watters asked. "Whose idea was it? Who would want an irresponsible government? If you laid your finger on Mackenzie & Mann, Z. A. Lash, their solicitor; Sir Thomas White, Hon. Frank Cochrane and the Canadian Bank of Commerce, you would be pretty near the mark. They are the power behind the throne. Sir Thomas White is the particular representative of Mackenzie & Mann, and no man was ever more faithful to those whom he represented."

The speaker then told of the methods used by Mackenzie & Mann in getting money out of the Government, and termed them the two most infamous scoundrels in Canada.

"Can we expect the Union Government to be any different to the late Government?" asked the speaker, "when the manufacturing interests, the financial interests and Mackenzie & Mann have still got a strangle hold on them? I am without hope for the country under such circumstances."

The war-time elections act was an effort to win the election by waving the flag, but any scoundrel could wrap himself in the flag, and the present Government was doing so to save its existence.

Any Scheme to Win.

"I have said that the present Government should be defeated, because they are not out to win the war, but to win the election."

A number of Canadian boys' lives had been sacrificed at the front on account of the infernal Ross rifle, yet because the Government did not want to interfere with private profiteering, they continued to let the contract for the rifles run on.

"As long as the present Government stands for private profiteering, and for sacrificing, betraying and deserting the men at the front, the quicker we get rid of that inefficient bunch—Union or Conservatives, call it what you will—the better it will be for the country," said Mr. Watters in conclusion.

Mr. Gibbons on rising referred to his nomination as the representative of Labor being confirmed by the Liberal convention. The Liberal party had given him a clear mandate, if elected, to judge each matter as it arose in the House, and to oppose any measure that was in the interest of the privileged few.

He favored the organization of the workingmen for their own protection and advantage; it was becoming more necessary now, in view of the organization of joint stock companies and industrial combines.

I believe in trade unionism with all the mistakes it has made, a[illegible]rce for good, he declared. In the next 25 years a strong resentment would probably spring up, separating labor from capital, unless labor were given representation in Parliament. It was absurd that one of the most intelligent classes in the community were without representation in the Dominion or Provincial Houses. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, if returned to power, would call the representatives of organized labor, as had been done in the British Government.

The speaker said that labor conferred a great honor on him, but also had imposed a great duty and responsibility, and he pledged himself to fulfill it. He would vote for the repeal of that portion of the act which would give one dollar of the people's money to Mackenzie & Mann.

The Borden Government, faced with defeat, knew it was bankrupt, and in sheer iniquity brought in the act which disenfranchised hundreds of citizens of Canada. Many loyal women also had been disfranchised by the act.

The old method of registration had been done away with, and enumerators of the Government's own party were making up the lists. "I am advised that an enumerator must be passed by the Unionist organization before he will be accepted," he added.

Doubtful Methods.

They were sending their own men into each subdivision to decide who had the right to vote. The lists were not printed then, but they were put in the enumerator's pocket, as far as the voter was concerned, until fifteen days before the election. Then one copy was put up in a conspicuous place in the subdivision and another in the post-office.

No one unless they went to the post-office and searched through the seventy-one lists for his own, then looked through it for his name, could know whether the Borden Government was giving him a vote.

Only four days were allowed to find out if a voter's name was on the list. Then, if not on, a written notice of appeal must be sent within the four days. The board then sits for five days, and a man must leave his business and hang around hoping that his case might be reached so that he could give his evidence.

"I ask every man and woman who has a vote to go out and force the enumerator to put their name on the listtt," added the speaker, as it will be impossible to hear all the appeals in the four days' time allowed."

Can Carry London.

"Can labor carry London?" asked Mr. Gibbons. "Yes, if labor fights as only labor can, it will in spite of the domination of Mackenzie & Mann and Hanna, hew its way to victory on December 17.

"Mackenzie & Mann will not allow London to put in a Labor representative without a struggle. Every man opposed to the big interests must do his bit. Get together and smash your way through the entanglements of the war-times elections act on December 17," declared Mr. Gibbons.

R. H. Hessell stated that the supporters of union government, as it was called, would likely offer all kinds of criticism regarding the efforts of workingmen of London to have a representative in the Dominion House, but they were not going to be governed by the criticisms of the politicians. It was up to every man, no matter what his politics had been, to show that the workingmen had some backbone, by giving the Labor candidate a good majority.

It was no wonder the food controller was not paid for his services, according to Ernest Ingles, for four employees in his office were drawing $16,000 a year. "Good God, if they ever paid him, we'd be done," he exclaimed. All they have accomplished is to tell the working classes to quit eating. In another month you will be asked to register a protest against 100 different deals traceable to the present Administration. I do hope that the citizens of this city will rise on December 17 and register the biggest kick this country has ever known.

NEWFOUNDLAND ISLAND CONSIDERS CONSCRIPTION

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Nov. 18. — Selective conscription may be adopted in Newfoundland, as in Canada, in order to maintain the strength of the colony's overseas forces, in the opinion of Government officials here. The island has sent 6,000 men to the firing line in the last three years. Some speakers have set the number of men that should be raised at 1,000.

JAPANESE MISSION SEES NEW SOO LOCKS

SAULT STE. MARIE, Nov. 18.—The Japanese Railway Mission, which is making a tour of inspection of the various lines in the United States, was taken on a tour of the Soo locks today. The visitors viewed with interest the progress of the work on the fourth lock, the trip being made on a special vessel furnished by courtesy of the canal authorities.

Afterwards the members of the mission were locked up through the Davis lock, and taken to Vidal shoals, returning via the Canadian locks and St. Mary's Rapids.

MEREDITH IS APPOINTED.

OTTAWA, Nov. 18.—It is understood that at a meeting of the cabinet council held on Saturday Sir William Meredith, chief justice of Ontario, was formally appointed as the Government representative on the board of arbitration which will fix the value of 600,000 shares of Canadian Northern Railway stock to be taken over by the Government.

FOREST SOLDIER KILLED.

FOREST, Nov. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Wilson have word that their son, Pte. Orville K. Wilson, was killed in action October 22. He was in his 24th year. He enlisted at Winnipeg in the spring of 1916 and went overseas with the 32nd Battalion; but before leaving for France was transferred to the 49th. He was wounded during the early part of last summer. Besides his parents, three brothers and two sisters survive, Stanley and Earl Wilson, Detroit, and Mrs. W. J. Skinner, Miss Edna and Augustus of Forest.

A message to Mrs. E. B. Walton states that her son, Pte. G. R. Walton, who enlisted in the 110th Battalion, has received gunshot wounds in the right arm. This is the second time Pte. Walton has been wounded.

Pte. Robert A. Walton, who has been training at Camp Hughes, paid a farewell visit this week to his mother, Mrs. E. B. Walton, before going overseas.

OAKES MAY RUN.

GUELPH, Nov. 18.—The political situation so far as South Wellington is concerned is still unsettled, and not until the actual hour of nomination comes will there be any solution. The Liberals who are supporting Sir Wilfrid Laurier are making every possible endeavor to secure a candidate to oppose Hon. Hugh Guthrie, but up to tonight there is no one definitely in the field. There are rumors, however, that J. W. Oakes, formerly license inspector of the riding, may be a candidate. He was one of those who at the Liberal convention on Friday favored the move to adjourn, without nominating a candidate, and he expressed himself at the same time as being of the opinion that it was not so much men that were needed at the front as it was food, and that more production should be the watchword. The name of W. W. Tyson, who was twice defeated for the Ontario Legislature, has also been mentioned.

URGES ORGANIZATION.

STRATHROY, Nov. 18.—Dr. Rankin, Liberal candidate, had another rousing rally in his committee rooms last evening, at which several local men spoke, besides the doctor, urging thorough methods of organization especially in respect to the checking up of names on the lists.

One of the most enthusiastic supporters of Dr. Rankin is John C. Kay, of Listowel. "I have three sons at the front, some of them have been spilling some of their blood, and more than that I have a daughter there nursing the wounded soldiers. That is the reason I am supporting Dr. Rankin and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, for I can't trust that bunch at Ottawa," enthusiastically declared Mr. Hay.

It is announced at Unionist headquarters that Premier Borden will be here on Friday night. The Conservatives are bringing all the big guns to bear in North Perth, even as they did in the by-election, when F. W. Hay redeemed North Perth a year ago for the Ontario Legislature.

HALL IS CHOICE.

PRESTON, Nov. 17. — Mr. Hall, of Guelph, is the Labor candidate for South Waterloo, he being the choice of tonight's meeting at Bernhardt's Hall, Rev. Mr. Walker, who was nominated to represent the labor men of this riding at their former meeting, has found it impossible for him to stand, and it was necessary for the labor men to hold another meeting to select a candidate. Mr. Hall is a strong labor man. The meetings held here tonight was largely attended, and the workingmen have pledged themselves to support their representative.

FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES
ASHAMED TO GO OUT

Many an otherwise beautiful and attractive face is sadly marred by unsightly pimples, blotches, flesh worms and various other blood diseases.

Their presence is a source of embarrassment to those afflicted, as well as pain and regret to their friends.

Many a cheek and brow cast in the mold of beauty have been sadly defaced, their attractiveness lost and their possessor rendered unhappy for years.

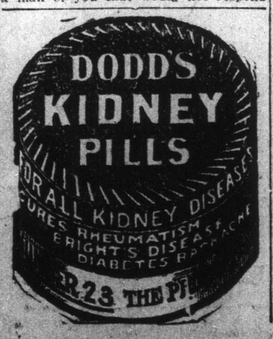

Why, then, consent to rest under this cloud of embarrassment?

There is an effectual remedy for all these defects.

It is Burdock Blood Bitters. This remedy will drive out all the impurities from the blood and leave the complexion healthy and clear.

Mrs. Katherine Henry, Port Sydney, Ont., writes: "Two years ago my face was so covered with pimples I was ashamed to go out at all. I tried several remedies, but they were of no use. At last a friend advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I got a bottle, and by the time it was used I could see a difference. I then got two more, and when I had used them the pimples were completely gone. I can highly recommend B. B. B."

Freedom Must by Freemen be Upheld

IN Canada there is no Prussian autocracy to reach out and take the possessions of the people by force. There is no tyranny of an "all highest" overlord with "divine right" to make the people fight and pay.

The people of Canada themselves decide to do the fighting and the paying.

Canadians are asked to lend their money, not forced to give their money.

LET LAURIER LEAD.

LET LAURIER LEAD. Let him who has all his life "worn the white flower of a blameless life" again guide and control the future of Canada. In his young days he became thoroughly British, though of French descent. The best British ideals became his ideals. He advocated in his paper published at Three Rivers principles opposed by the priest of that diocese, and in consequence of that opposition was compelled to cease its publication. His principles remained. He held and advocated the principles of true liberalism, undeterred by opposition from any source. He has held the same freedom and independence of clerical control as is held by the most independent Protestant. His life, both public and private, has been an example and an inspiration to all.

Let Laurier lead. When premier of Canada a prosperity never before enjoyed came to it. He proved to be a competent leader of men. He was master of the administration. No corruption was tolerated. No effort was omitted that would place Canada at home and abroad on a better foundation. He earnestly sought to establish a united Canada, to abolish all distinctions of race and creed. He missed no opportunity to enlarge the trade of Canada at home and abroad.

Let Laurier lead. Let him, who as premier, so worthily and ably represented Canada at the Queen's jubilee and at the King's coronation, again occupy that position. His success on these occasions was like calling a new world into existence. Canada, little known, was then well-known, and he was recognized by the British Empire as its greatest statesman outside of the British Isles.

Let Laurier lead. Let him, who stands as the first Canadian statesman since Confederation, the first great builder of the superstructure, the foundation of which was laid by the fathers of Confederation, again rule its destinies. Let the influence of Canada, the foremost colony of the British Empire, be continued through him to all the colonies of Greater Britain. Let it be known that Wilfrid Laurier of French descent and Louis Botha of Dutch descent are the two greatest statesmen in the British Empire outside the islands of Great Britain. Let it be known that they are fast friends, and that Laurier's British faith became the faith of Botha too, and South Africa, the youngest colony, as loyal as the oldest and the best, Canada. Let us not overlook the splendid work and words of Gen. Smuts as well, and ever remember that we all, and these eminent British statesmen, belong to that Greater Britain which is to exert a greater influence for good than ever before on the future of the world.

Let Laurier lead. He stands for all that's good and noble in life. Home, the most sacred spot on earth, will always be his most especial care. His endeavor will, as always, be to make the conditions of life in Canada the best on earth, to fill the land from shore to shore, with peaceful and happy homes, with people living under just laws, enjoying freedom, health, happiness and prosperity that will be envied and imitated by all the older lands in Europe.

Let Laurier lead. His influence joined with that of the leading statesmen of the United States, will insure government of the people, by the people, for the people over the continent, and continue the blessings of peace in America for all time.

Let Laurier lead. He has carried the Liberal banner for nearly half a century and kept it unstained. The old Union Jack, "the flag that braved a thousand years the battle and the breeze," will be safer in his hands and surer of victory than in the hands of any other man in Canada.

THE TEST OF NERVE.

SIR ROBERT BORDEN tells an audience in Sydney, N.S., that the Germans say the war will be decided by the test of nerves, and then proceeds to intimate that the return of the Liberal party to power, under Sir Wilfrid Laurier, will mean that Canada's nerve has failed.

Sir Robert is well aware that his statement is puerile nonsense. If his Government is turned out it means that Canada has nerve enough to strike at the root of the disease which has been hampering her war efforts; that she is determined not only to support her soldiers at the front but their dependents in the Dominion, but refuses to support the parasites which fatten off the nation's anguish.

To send Sir Robert and his henchmen back to power would be to indorse their actions of the past years. Even the most brainless gambler ceases to bet on a horse which consistently performs badly just as he refuses to put his money on the jockey who is known to "sell out." He loses faith, and promises do not restore it.

If nerve is all that is required, Canadians can prove their's and at the same time their faith in the nation by taking the Government of millionaires from office and substituting a Government of the people. Is it insinuated by Premier Borden that the people would then prove less patriotic than when ruled by the barons and baronets? Does he imagine that if he and his Government wanted to drop out of the war the Canadian nation would permit it? No more would it allow any other government which proved traitorous to exist or to direct its destiny. If the Liberal party is in the majority when the Parliament next assembles it will mean that Canada has more faith in the ability of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to lead it to victory than in that of Sir Robert Borden. No sane man would insinuate that the desire for such victory is not equally strong in both.

HERE'S THE SITUATION

"No wonder there is talk that the Government is dominated by the moneyed interests."—London Free Press, August 6, 1917.

"Send war profits to hell."—Sir Joseph Flavelle to the munition makers.

HEROIC COUNTRY PATRIOTS.

"Since the middle of October the Red Cross room here," says the St. Marys Journal, "has been about the busiest place in town. Some of the women have been there almost every day cutting and knitting, and, with the Red Cross worker in Toronto, can say, 'Nearly dead, but very happy.'

"Two of the workers, at least, should be 'mentioned in dispatches,' both living on farms. One came in carrying a large box, and the committee opened it and took out 34 shirts and pyjamas, beautifully made.

"'Surely you got your neighbors to help you,' remarked one.

"'No, indeed, I did not; I made them myself.'

"'Would you like some more?'

"'Yes, I'll take two dozen pyjamas; I have to do my sewing at night and I can't see to sew the dark flannel.'

"The committee gave her eighteen—all that were cut—and in ten days they were returned and more taken out. Another worker had been helping all week at a neighboring farm where the threshers were at work. She had helped to make 40 pies and to prepare dinner and tea for twelve men besides ten in the family, and still could spare two afternoons for work at the Red Cross room."—From the Toronto Globe, Nov. 17.

HEROIC country patriots! Well said! They are Canada's beloved heroines! Yet, as such, they do not receive a vote at the coming elections, and The Globe is supporting the Government which permitted them to be treacherously deprived of the right they won by their "heroic country patriotism."

MR. O'CONNOR'S REPORT.

AGAIN W. F. O'Connor has given out an important statement in his position as acting commissioner on the cost of living, this time accusing cold storage firms of accumulating excess stores of butter and eggs to the detriment of the ultimate consumer.

This report is not so startling as his exposure of the packing profiteers, because there has long been suspicion that some cold storage companies were by no means philanthropic concerns, but in some ways it is of even greater importance. Bread and butter are looked upon as two of the great essentials; the poor can get along without bacon and pork, in fact they have to at present prices, but butter or a good substitute is a necessity. Moreover, Mr. O'Connor demands a decrease in price, holding that in vogue at present to be unnaturally high. This, if effective, means an immediate lessening of the drain on the public's purse.

It has taken the Government a long, long time to get into action along these investigating lines clamored for by the populace. Now a start has been made, orders-in-council have been passed and offenders have been warned. What is to follow? Is the Government ready to "make good" its threats? Will it force the companies to unload their accumulations at a reasonable rate and price, or will it content itself with Mr. O'Connor's warning?

Firms which have been or are unpatriotic enough to hoard up butter and eggs and force up the price by their actions, will not hesitate to try other means of maintaining their long-held position and keeping up profits. They might attempt to flood the market with their commodities and bring down prices with a rush to an abnormally low mark in order to arouse the producers to protest and bring pressure to bear on the Government to call off its controlling forces. This would mean temporary loss to the companies, but might bring ultimate gain. The accumulation should be reduced gradually—just enough to fix the price at a normal level, and the rate should be determined by the food controller. The people will expect really beneficial results from Mr. O'Connor's fearless reports.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Will Rowell be a spur to the jaded Borden Government?

Total of Victory Loan to Friday night about $60,000,000. Ontario's share $48,289,650. Which is the banner province?

It will be well to take all Petrograd dispatches with the proverbial grain of salt until it is known who is sending them.

Sir Robert Borden insists that on no less than two occasions he either started or encouraged recruiting movements. Now there's a record. Isn't Canada proud of her premier!

Borden would take credit to his Government for the excellence of Canadian soldiers in the firing line. But, really, some small part of the credit is due to the men who have done so wonderfully in spite of bad rifles and faulty equipment.

Sir Joseph and the other dragons devastating fair Canada have doubtless come to think that the money of the many is safer, anyway, in their pious and skilful hands. But a little more squeezing may kill the goose that lays the golden eggs for these clever gentry, or cause her to bite in self-defence.

The way to prevent a Russian Red Revolution some day in this country is to increase gradually the taxation on wealth. The Liberal party, not the Unionist, is in favor of such progressive taxation. Choose between Tom White and Wilfrid Laurier. The former represents Flavelle and the capitalists, the latter stands as ever for the common people.

THE FAIRY GODFATHER.

By Grace Macy.

"I don't see how we're ever going to choose which one of us is to go. I do think that he might have deigned to designate some one by name. For my part, I don't care whether I go or not. It will be awfully lonesome."

"Listen to 'Teen prepare for a diet of sour grapes. It's never the princess royal who is chosen. I'll bet a cookie Eve goes."

Eve glanced up from the pattern she was stencilling on a pongee sunshade.

"No, I thank you," she laughed. "I have none of the 'back to nature' impulse at all. I'm going with the Birchbys for four weeks down to Ashbury and it will take me four more to recuperate before I have to go back to school."

"Well, I wish he'd ask me," Dick returned. "I'll bet the old duffer has a dandy place up there in the mountains. I've always wanted to be a naturalist."

"Yes, you have," laughed Eve. "Your fancy as a naturalist has never lighted on anything smaller than a circus elephant."

"Hush, here comes Dad," warned Christine, as the study door slammed, and the doctor's quick step sounded along the hall.

He looked the group on the veranda over with shrewd, kindly eyes, drawing on his motor gloves.

"Have you chosen the victim yet?"

"Dick wants to go," said Eve, "but I'm sure Mr. Caldwell expects one of us girls. Don't you think so, Dad? You see, he says his sister is staying with him, and he wouldn't have mentioned a chaperon if it had been just a case of Dick. I can't go, and 'Teen doesn't want to."

Suddenly from the army hammock at the end of the veranda there bobbed a tousled head of red curls.

"I want to go," called Pipes, confidently. "I'd just love to go, dad. You know I'd get along all right."

Her elder sisters eyed her hopefully. Pipes would be the best to go, after all. She was just between fifteen and sixteen—what Dick called a fine pattern of a 'flapper.' She would enjoy the mountain life and even the loneliness, and it would leave the others free to do as they pleased.

So the letter was sent back accepting Mr. Caldwell's invitation for one of the young Prestons to spend the summer up at his camp in the Catskills. And one week later Miss Constance Eleanor Preston, otherwise Pipes, found herself deposited on a little platform at Indian Leap. She wore a dark, blue pleated serge skirt above her shoe tops, a smocked white middy blouse, and a big white Panama hat. As a concession to the heat she had pinned her red curls up from her neck, and looked almost seventeen. All the way up in the train, she had made up a mental picture of Mr. Caldwell. He would be a nice old gentleman, with a square-cut gray beard, probably in an alpaca coat. No such personage appeared around the station. A small yellow buckboard, with a trimly clipped horse, stood on the far side, and Pipes eyed the outfit longingly. There was no station, only a waiting bench with a projecting roof over it. Seated on this was a young man reading a magazine. Pipes approached him with her usual serene assurance

"Do you know the way up to Mr. Caldwell's place?"

He looked up at her with a gleam of interest in his brown eyes.

"I'm going by there. Can't I take you up?" he asked. "It's about six miles. You're not Miss Preston, are you?"

"Oh, yes, I am," answered Pipes. "Why? Did he send you down to meet me?"

The young man nodded gravely.

"I was sent down to meet Miss Constance Preston, from New York. You see," he added, "I thought you'd be about 25."

"I am sixteen," replied Pipes, with her best air of aloofness. 'Perhaps you were thinking of my eldest sister, Christine, or the next one, Evelyn. We call her Eve—she's twenty-one. Dick's seventeen. I'm the only member of the family that they could drag up here to this forsaken place. But I rather like it, don't you?"

She liked it better as the weeks went on. The camp was in the hemlock belt on the south side of Indian Leap. The lodge was a big one-storied affair surrounded by a wide veranda. Miss Eunice Caldwell, a dear little old lady who slept most of the time, was chatelaine and hostess. Mr. Caldwell himself was like nothing so much as a big, shaggy mountain bear. He was out all day long, following his pursuits as a naturalist, and Pipes tramped with him happily. Quite naturally, their nearest neighbor joined them. Pipes never quite forgave him for his nonchalant first meeting with her, and yet it was impossible to know Gerard Ames without liking him.

Very unexpectedly Miss Eunice let the cat out of the bag.

"You know," she said, in her comfortable way one day when Pipes and she were alone, "I have to laugh to see how reconciled Horace is getting. When he wrote that letter I think he rather hoped that Eve would come up I haven't seen your sisters, my dear, but I believe that Evelyn is the pretty one."

"Yep," answered Pipes, happily. "Eve is the pretty one, 'Teen is the clever one, and I am the freckled one. I'm sorry he was disappointed.

"Oh, but he isn't now, my dear. It's quite satisfactory. You see, it's very lonesome for him when Gerard is away. For I am not at all interested in insects. I don't think you will ever realize what your companionship has meant to him, no matter what may happen."

Pipes paid no attention to the words then. She was getting ready for a trip to Indian Leap after a particular kind of moth they had been hunting for weeks. She waited all the morning for Mr. Caldwell to return from a jaunt with Gerard, and finally started out alone.

They missed her at lunch time, but it was not until twilight that Gerard began to be frankly uneasy. Miss Eunice told him that Pipes had gone over to the Leap after some sort of a bug. The two men started out with lanterns to seek her. Gerard never forgot that night and its dangers. The Leap was a sheer fall into a chasm hundreds of feet deep. With Mr. Caldwell's help, he lowered himself over the precipice, when they heard her first answering call for help.

"It's just my ankle," said Pipes. "And maybe a shoulder and collarbone. I was getting down here all right when I slipped and fell, but I got the moth, tell him. Don't crush it. It's in the net."

It was a month later when the Preston family received a letter from Mr. Caldwell.

"I am sure you won't mind my keeping Pipes here until she has fully recovered. She's engaged to my nephew, and the two of them will have all I've got. They're very happy. I'm sorry the older girl could not have enjoyed a vacation here also."

The two girls were silent, but Dick chuckled.

"The foxy old fairy godfather," he said "Hurrah for Pipes."

Cincinnati authority tells how to dry up a corn so it lifts out.

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once and soon the corn loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

A quarter of an ounce of freezone costs very little at any drug store, but is sufficient to take off every hard or soft corn or callous. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue or skin.

Luke McLuke Says

It often happens that when a man is praying not to be led into temptation he hurries through the prayer so he'll get it finished before she gets out of sight.

A man invites men to a party so he can entertain his friends. A woman invites women to a party so she can snub her enemies.

A wife's affections are worth $10,000,000 if they cannot be alienated by another man. They are not worth 10 cents if they can.

A man who does a lot of feeding down town in hotels and cabarets gets the idea that a lot of diners should use the finger bowls before the meal instead of after it.

If a man has brains enough to hang on to his money, other men say that he has more money than brains.

The Princess who wonders why the Hero kisses the Heroine's hand instead of her lips in the romantic drammer doesn't stop to think that maybe the Heroine had onions for supper.

One good thing about being stone deaf is that you can afford to believe all that you hear.

When a woman gets tired of worrying over her same old troubles, she can always conjure up new ones to take their places.

Any fool can convert cash into experience. But it takes a mighty smart man to reverse the process.

What has become of the old-fashioned candidate whose qualifications were that he was born in a log cabin, the son of poor, but honest parents?

Women, Echoes and the United States Supreme Court run a dead heat in one respect. Each has the last word.

There is only one thing a married man can do that is more dangerous than forgetting to mail the letter his wife gave him. And that is to forget to burn the letter he has received.

Another thing we have discovered is that the longer an explanation is the less it explains.

A Nourishing, Laxative Food for Growing Children

It solves mother's food problem. Roman Meal is much more nourishing than wheat or oats used alone, and is twice as nourishing as corn; it is so thoroughly and easily digestible that even a baby of eight months or over thrives upon it. It keeps the liver active, prevents indigestion and relieves constipation.

Dr. Jackson's

is nothing but a simple, absolutely drugless combination of entire berries of wheat (30%), whole berries of rye (35%), flaxseed rendered tasteless and odorless by electricity (25%), and 10% wheat bran. That's all. This simple mixture is porous because it is granulated, thus letting the digestive juices reach every particle and preventing indigestion.

Flaxseed is the most nourishing seed known. In Roman Meal it prevents the irritating effect of bran on the lining of the bowel, and lubricates the digestive tract. It is laxative and keeps the skin clear.

The bran in Roman Meal provides the natural waste without which the muscles of the digestive tract positively will not act. The digestive system was fashioned for the express purpose of dealing with coarse, waste-containing food. Roman Meal is such a food; it relieves constipation; or money refunded. Ask your doctor.

You notice that entire berries of wheat and rye are used—important. Modern cereal foods are light in color because they are mostly starches, which so often ferment and cause trouble. Roman Meal retains the dark parts of the grains because they build up muscle, brain, nerves, organs and blood. These dark parts also contain the salines which keep the blood non-acid. They contain the flavor, too—the sweet, nutty flavor of the grains!

Roman Meal is an ideal food for children; it takes the place of drugs, keeping little folks healthy and strong. What delightful porridge it makes; when you follow directions it is delicious, but when you stir it while cooking you spoil it. Do not stir except while mixing meal and water. It also makes all kinds of delicious baked products. At all grocers.

JIMMY COON STORIES

By Dr. Warren C. Partridge.

JIMMY COON'S COUSIN MAKES HIM A VISIT.

Jimmy Coon had never seen his Big Cousin of the Great Wood, Mr. Black Bear. But he had heard his parents speak so much about that dear Big Cousin Bruin, that Jimmy felt very proud of his wonderful Cousin. And Jimmy told all of the little folks of the Great Forest about his famous relative who was coming in to make them a visit.

And one day when Jimmy Coon was quarreling with Teddy Possum, Jimmy cried out, "You'd better look out what you say to me, for when by Big Cousin Bruin comes he could swallow the whole Possum family at one bite!"

And Jimmy saw the shivers run down the backbone of Teddy Possum, and he shuddered and stopped teasing Jimmy Coon. And one day the little people saw a big giant, dressed in a beautiful long black fur overcoat, which reached to his feet, walking on his hind legs like a man. And he walked up to the veranda of the Hemlock Apartments and stood looking up to the windows of the Coon residence, on the twentieth floor.

Mrs. Coon was very much ashamed that their front door was so small.

And Cousin Bruin put his immense arms around the trunk of that big tree and began to climb. When the monster was half-way up to the Coon residence, the neighbors saw him, and they were almost scared to death.

All the Possom family stuck their heads out of their windows, and they all yelled, "Bloody Murder!" And they began to climb out of their front windows, and to scamper, screamng, in every direction.

When this racket was heard the Coon family came to their window, and when they saw Cousin Bruin climbing their front stairs, to make them a visit, they shouted with joy.

And Father Coon stuck his head out of the window and called out, "Welcome, Cousin Bruin. Come right up and right in. We are expecting you, and dinner will be ready in a few minutes."

And Cousin Bruin smiled a very broad smile, indeed, when he reached the Coon plazza, and showed all his very long teeth, and answered: "Cousin Coon, I'm delighted to see you; but I had no idea you were such high-livers. Why, I never saw any of our relatives live in such high life as you do! I'm afraid you'll put on too many airs for me!" And Cousin Bruin chuckled in a very low, big, bass voice. And at his loud voice, all the little Coons shivered, and hid behind their mother's skirts.

And you would have been tickled if you could have seen Cousin Bruin shake hands with Father Coon, and trying to get into the door! And all he could possibly do was to stick the end of his nose in the door!

Mrs. Coon was very much ashamed that their front door was so small, and she made many excuses. But all the little Coons were still afraid of this big black shaggy giant; and they all ran and hid under the bed.

Cousin Bruin was so tired after his long journey that he had to lie down, and he began to stretch himself out on the porch to rest. But the veranda cracked and seemed about to fall. So Father Coon came out and suggested, with many blushes and excuses, that they all go downstairs to their summer dining-room.

And it was a funny sight to see Big Cousin Bruin and all the Coon family backing down the Big Hemlock. When they reached the first floor they went to the lawn to have dinner. Mrs. Coon soon set the table and all sat down to a fish dinner.

Mrs. Coon had never met Cousin Bruin, and she did not know that he was such an immense giant. Of course, Father Coon helped the guest to fish first, and Cousin Bruin said, "You will excuse me, but I had no time to get a lunch on my trip here, so I'm awfully hungry."

And all the family opened wide their mouths to see Cousin Bruin eat. And they were so astonished to see him take such big mouthfuls. And he passed his plate so often that before you could say "Jack Robinson!" everything on the table had disappeared down Cousin Bruin's throat.

And Cousin Bruin said: "I'm not feeling very well today, and my appetite is not as good as usual."

Division of Property.

"Country Housewife" offrs to send her method of canning pork and beef if any reader wishes. She asks these lega. queries: 1. Can a wife rent or sell her own property without her husband's signature?

2. If husband dies without a will what share of property can wife claim, there being no children?

Ans.—Re the recipe, there's no doubt someone will find "Country Housewife's" way of practical help. I hope she sends it. Answers to the legal queries are: 1. Yes.

Wife only: Net value of estate not exceeding $1,000 to wife absolutely; excess over $1,000, half to wife and half to next of kin, in equal degree to intestate, or their legal representatives (or if not next of kin, to the crown).

Wife, mother, brother, sister and nephews or nieces. Half to wife, residue to mother, brothers, sisters and nieces, but nephews and nieces take per stirpes.

Wife and father—Half to wife, half to father.

Wife, mother, nephews and nieces—Two-fourths to wife, one-fourth to mother and one-fourth to nephews and nieces.

Wife, brother or sister and mother—Half to wife, half to brothers, sisters and mother equally.

Wife and mother—Half to wife and half to mother.

The Flower Family.

Dear Miss Grey,—It is a long time since I wrote you, but I see where "Aunt Nannie" got "stung." If she had put on a plantain leaf, and when she got home, put on some spirits of ammonia (a 10-cent bottle will last quite a long time, it's good for all kinds of bites and stings), it would have relieved the pain. For those who suffer from throat or asthma, try a teaspoonful castor oil and a teaspoonful honey. We do not want to think of colds this lovely weather, but the cold comes. I have had a tickle in my throat and honey set it all right.

I was reading where you said the cosmos was your fancy flower. Every flower is so sweet to me I cannot tell which I like the best. There are sweet peas, rose of Sharon, lily of the valley, Christmas rose, primrose, tea rose, sweet william, tulips, asters Johnny-jump-ups, maid of the mist and sympathizing tears. All are very lovely. The summer is gone, the flowers are faded, the song birds are gone, the mists have gathered, the vale is chilly. That just puts me in mind of Kilworth. It is lovely, but give me dear old London. The dearest and best years of my life were spent in dear old London. This London is lovely, too. I must close, with best wishes to all readers of C. G.'s Corner, and Miss Grey. AN OLD FRIEND.

Ans.—I do not think I said the cosmos was my favorite flower, but rather one of my favorites. I am like you, "Old Friend," fond of so many members of the flower family it is difficult to set one on a pedestal above all the others. We love one for sweetness, another for purity, another for coloring, and some, perhaps the dearest of all, because of tender memories associated with them.

Now, don't stay away so long next time, please.

Women As Hog Raisers.

Dear Miss Grey,—Here I come for the second time. You didn't invite me back, but you didn't kick me out, so here I am back again, though under a different pen name.

I saw in yesterday's paper where the food controller has been making a speech and has asked the men of Canada to get their women folks to raise hogs. Oh joy! I think he and some of the big guns down at Ottawa are going to set the example in hopes that we will follow suit, and so we will if they make the start. Wouldn't it be fun to step along some day about 10 o'clock, when they have been disturbed in their beauty sleep, have donned their, ahem—double-barreled skirts and are proceeding to er— sweep and dust the pig house. Really, Miss Grey, they have as much right and much more time than we have. They will be feeding the pigs by the war menus and probably serving it up in courses. What pleasure it will afford them to watch the porkers daintily munch it down. Mr. Food Controller has evidently forgotten what pigs require in the form of eatables. You know they dearly love grain, and one reared without grain (bless its soul) will surely feel, when its short life is drawing to a close, that it has lived in vain. And so it has. Mr. Hanna will agree if he happens to get a slice on one of his meatless days. I dare say some of those people never saw a whole pig all at once, and have derived their knowledge of hogology from the piece they saw on their plate one day at dinner. For their benefit, should they chance to read this, let me say that the salt and pepper is applied while cooking and the diet is just grain, plain, ordinary grain. Oh! ye brewers, woe is yours when we Canadian women start our piggeries.

Well, Miss Grey, I tried a recipe from your page for orange marmalade, part pumpkins, and it is just fine. Don't anybody be afraid to try it. And say! If I ever come back to the Box I will try to write something sensible. With best wishes for the page, I am X. Y. Z.

Ans—Oh please don't! Don't make an effort to be sensible, I mean. For you are too interesting and original just as you are, and it'd be a shame to spoil a bright letter by being too proper!

I also read the suggestion of Mr. Hanna re the women of our land raising hogs. What do our country sisters think of the idea? You know I don't believe even the Hon. Food Controller, to say nothing of the sanitary inspector, would favor C. G. housing one on The Advertiser premises!

Now X. Y. Z., you are invited to call again.

Their Christmas Tree.

Dear Miss Grey,—We are getting started with our Christmas tree practice and I am on the committee to get the dialogues. I see in last Saturday's paper where Nadine has some dialogues on hand and I would be pleased to get them. I will leave my address with you so she can send them as soon as possible; also a stamp for postage. Yours, A SUNSHINE GIRL.

Ans.—Two or three requests for Nadine's concert material had already been sent her, but no doubt if aught remains she will be pleased to let you have them.

DAILY BIBLE QUESTION CLUB

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL QUESTION.

By Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.O.

A Psalm of Thanksgiving: Psalm 103. Golden Text—Bless Jehovah, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits.—Psalm 103, 2.

1. Verse 1—It reads well in type, to call upon our soul to bless the Lord, but is it wise, and devout, and in good form, to literally do this out aloud, either privately or in public? Why?

2. Verse 2—What is the benefit of the habit of frequently meditating in the wonderful goodness of God to us?

3. Verse 3—Why is it not possible for God to forgive a part of our sins without forgiving all of them?

4. Many persons claim to have been cured of dangerous diseases by God without any human aid. Would you say, or not, and why, that it is God's plan for all sick people to be so cured?

DAUGHTERS OF THE EMPIRE

The officers in charge of the Western Ontario unit at Bramshott Camp, England, have built a recreation hut, and are endeavoring every way to make things comfortable for the men and keep them contented within camp grounds. Some of our chapters have already contributed to this purpose, and another sum of $125 will be forwarded this week. The following extract from a letter written by Capt. Galbraith will give an idea of how some of the money is being spent. He says: "We are giving lunches and cigarettes to the men going to France or back to Canada. We also buy a lot of fruit for the men's meals, as that is not supplied with the rations. We are also going to arrange card parties once a week, and give prizes. Some of the poor fellows are badly broken up, and we try to make things as comfortable for them as possible. We took some of the money you sent and bought some coal for the recreation hut before the coal for heating was issued; and the men crowded in to the warmth. You know how cold and raw it is here, even in summer, and this last one has been very cold and wet." Anyone wishing to help with this good work can send their subscription to Mrs. Cl. T. Campbell, 327 Queen's avenue.

Bale 475—24 suits pyjamas.
Bale 476—16 flannel shirts, 12 pairs bed socks, 1 convalescent suit, 8 pairs hospital slippers, 18 washcloths.

The convener of the soldiers' comfort committee acknowledges the following contributions for the bales—Lord Roberts Chapter: 77 pairs pillowcases, 114 trench towels, 5 hospital shirts, 204 huck towels, 4 sleeping caps, 27 suits pyjamas, 11 pairs bed socks, 8 pairs hospital slippers.

7th Regiment Chapter—16 suits pyjamas, 206 towels, 43 pairs socks.

Trafalgar Chapter—13 grey flannel shirts, 1 convalescent suit, 10 suits pyjamas, 16 pairs socks.

Hamilton Gault Chapter—13 pairs socks.

Campbell Becher Chapter—27 pairs socks, 46 towels.

Hugh Niven Chapter—61 towels, 6 pairs socks.

Mary Armstrong Chapter, Strathroy—210 pairs socks, 378 towels.

The Bethel Ladies' Aid has forwarded through the Lord Elgin Chapter the following articles, representing their September and October work—48 pairs socks, 82 pillowcases, 13 suits pyjamas; also $7 for maple sugar. The boys and girls of Mrs. Ironsides' class saved their pennies to buy sugar, and made up four boxes of candy, which are now on their way to the soldiers. Other boys and girls might follow their example.

During the first week in December the C.E.F. Chapter, I.O.D.E., will hold a bazaar to raise money, and will doubtless be as successful as the cause and the workers deserve. This chapter has undertaken a special work—that of providing assistance to the families of returned soldiers who may be in need, and as the members are all either wives or widows of soldiers themselves, their work is a labor of love. Among other things, partially used clothing remade into articles as good as new for children and young people. Any contributions for this department will be thankfully received at their rooms over the Bank of Commerce, or a telephone may be sent to Mrs. (Col.) Coles, Princess avenue. At the same time, they are not neglecting other patriotic or benevolent schemes. They now propose to furnish a ward at the Byron Sanatorium, and the proceeds of the bazaar will be used for this purpose. They will be glad to receive contributions of articles suitable for the sale.

Six weeks will pass before Christmas comes, but if you wish to remember the boys at the front or the prisoners in Germany, just think that Christmas comes tomorrow, for it will take time to get money or comforts across the sea. Some of the chapters have already packed and shipped their quota of boxes, and some have sent in the money, which goes direct to England and will be expended there in the purchase of something that will help cheer our Canadian boys, whether they are fighting in the field or languishing in German prisons. To the fields comfort commission the municipal treasurer has already sent $211, being the contributions from the following chapters—Lord Roberts, $25; Trafalgar, $25; Lord Elgin, $20; Hamilton Gault, $10; 7th Regiment, $50; Campbell Becher, $25; Sir John Carling, $10; Sir George Ross, $10; Hugh Niven, $10; Gore of Downie, $25; Mrs. Douglass, $1, for her two prisoners; Mrs. T. H. Smallman contributes $10; Mrs. F. Spry, $2, for the prisoner in her care.

Some people are so uncharitable or so misinformed as to suggest that the Daughters of the Empire who are working for the soldiers on collecting money are being paid for their services. This is absolutely untrue. Not a single member has received a penny for her work. All give their time and labor freely, and there is scarcely one of them who does not in addition contribute to the various patriotic funds, whether connected with the order or not. And we believe this to be true of the members of other patriotic societies.

During the last month the following prisoners have gratefully acknowledged the receipt of parcels sent through the Daughters of the Empire of London: Pte. N. Williams, Pte. W. Scott, Pte. T. Taylor, Pte. J. H. Scholes, Corp. R. H. Rock, Sergt.-Major A. E. Thomson, Pte. P. S. Thomson, Pte. T. W. Rutherford, Pte. H. J. Ballou, Lance-Corp. H. de Nevers, Pte. H. G. Freeman, Pte. A. H. VINOL MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG

Positive—Convincing Proof

We publish the formula of Vinol to prove convincingly that it has the power to create strength.

Cod Liver and Beef Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates, Iron and Ammonium Citrate, Lime and Soda Glycerophosphates, Cascarin.

Any woman who buys a bottle of Vinol for a weak, run-down, nervous condition and finds after giving it a fair trial it did not help her, will have her money returned.

You see, there is no guess work about Vinol. Its formula proves there is nothing like it for all weak, run-down, overworked, nervous men and women and for feeble old people and delicate children. Try it once and be convinced.

Back of the Lines.

Back of the lines, the battle glow
Is dim, we know;
Back of the lines there's no wild charge,
Nor a red barrage;
But for all of that, there's a game that waits,
A mighty game in the unshelled gates,
Of "carrying on" with all you've got,
Of tossing your ante into the pot,
Of keeping faith, while the skulker whines
Back of the lines.

Back of the lines, the battle light
Shows no mad fight;
Back of the lines there's no last stand
In No-Man's Land;
But for all of that, there's a bitter game
With its call on nerve and the soul aflame,
There's a job at hand, if we hope to win,
To stand the gaff till the score comes in,
Of helping on, while the weak heart whines
Back of the lines.

FOR THE LAST TIME.

These are extremely sensitive days. Any half-statement seems to be carried further out to the most pessimistic conclusion. Our humble statement decrying any championship because one college may not have sent as many football veterans to the service as some rival has sent has brought forth more than one loud roar. It was not our idea to impugn the patriotism of any college, for the colleges in bulk and in particular have done a record work in this war.

But here is a fact that no one can hurdle—a college eleven that has returned four or five or six veterans, from whatsoever worthy and reputable cause, doesn't come into fair competition with others who have sent practically every veteran to the service and who have no nucleus to start with. Therefore, no championship is in order. If this logic doesn't stand, we give it up.

HOLDING ON.

"Has England," writes a reader, "maintained any competitions through the war paralleling our major leagues?"

Not that we know of. But, after three years of war, Canada, with Toronto and Montreal in the International League, still carries on. And Canada's war record is one of the world's greatest achievements since time began its first drift on through space.

"Fight game stopped in New York." But there is still enough fighting here and there throughout the world to more than even up for New York's deficit.

FROM THE WEST.

Sir: While giving Ouimet and Guilford all needed credit for their 1917 achievement, don't forget that Evans and Gardner defeated Ouimet and Travers at Detroit in 1915. It is needless to say that Travers is well above Guilford, making a stronger team. I'd like to have a small bet on Evans and Gardner against Ouimet and Giulford over any neutral course. H. K. F.

As great a team as Evans and Gardner were and still would be, the Ouimet of 1917 is a different golfer from the Ouimet of 1915. In that match he figured in but two holes, being far below his normal form.

WHEN GOD'S REPUBLIC GOES TO WAR.

In God's Republic blooms the rose, and little children play—
The fairest, freest, largest land in all the world today,
So let it be; let thrones go down, let kings find endless sleep;
O men and masters, may we well our ancient altars keep!

But not for us the coward's part, the peace that slays the soul,
While hungerily o'er helpless homes the wheels of murder roll;
From Poland's ruined firesides, from Belgium's blasted farms,
They call to God's Republic, and the answer is—"To arms!"

When God's Republic goes to war, a whispered cipher runs
From Chesapeake to Puget Sound for her ten million sons,
They rouse the countryside at last, they wake the hills forlorn;
Behind them, undefeated, vast, the armies of the Corn,

O men and masters, brothers all, and sisters oversea,
This be our righteous common cause, to set the whole world free:
Let despots call on God for aid, profaning cloisters dim,
But God's Republic, unafraid, stands forth and fights for Him!
—William Hurd Hillyer.

It took the world ten years or longer to trim Napoleon. But you may recall, with all his early start, where Napoelon finished!

POULTRY ENTRIES AT GUELPH WINTER FAIR BREAK ALL RECORDS

London Chicken Men Will Be Well Represented at Show.

GUELPH, Nov. 17.—Secretary R. W. Wade of the Ontario Provincial Winter Fair, was here today making preparations for the big show to be held here the first week in December. He is greatly pleased with the outlook, as the entries in all the departments, which are now closed, show that in many instances new records have been made.

That big feature of the fair, the poultry show, will have this year something like 6,500 live birds on exhibition, as compared with 5,000 last year, which was considered a great year. To make room for this increase there has been provision made for more accommodation.

Breeders from London and district will be well represented. A feature this year will be the exhibition of breeding pens with fifty entries. There will be a laying competition, which is a new departure.

In the horse department there are 321 entries, a list which has only been exceeded on two occasions. The feature of this entry is the large number of Canadian bred Clydesdales of all classes.

The total number of beef cattle is slightly under 300, with the grades on crosses somewhat lighter than usual owing to the fact that the heifer classes have been elliminated this year in order to encourage the farmers to raise them instead of selling for beef.

There are 105 entries in the dairy classes with 74 cows entered in the dairy test, which is always an interesting feature of the show.

The sheep entries break all previous records, totalling 463, which, with the carcass entries makes 541, while there are 293 swine entries. The seeds show a falling off to some extent from last year, due to late threshing, but the entry will be a large one

JORDAN SECOND IN TREBILCOCK TROPHY SHOOT ON SATURDAY

Springwood Club Finishes the Event, in Which Glover Took the Prize.

There was a good attendance at the weekly shoot of the Springwood Gun Club on Saturday afternoon, and a very good day's sport was enjoyed by those present.

Jordan finished his score for the Trebilcock cup, making 23, his total score being 234 actual hits, with four added, making 238. This gives him the second prize. The winner of the cup was Glover, with Jordan second, Day and McCausland third and fourth, and Simcox fifth.

A new competition was started Saturday for a silver cup, known as "The Club Cup." This event is to be for 150 targets, 25 to be shot each Saturday, added bird handicap. The birds added will be given at the end of the match. Gibson made the best score in this event, making 25 straight.

A team shoot was also on the program, the captains being McCausland and Foster, the former winning by ten birds.

Coleman won the "joker" medal from Foster. Clinger won from Coleman, and Foster won from Clinger, and then defended it against Glover. On

The scores for the different events follow:

The Club Cup, 25 targets—Gibson 25, Clinger 23, Glover 22, Coleman 22, Baker 22, Jordan 22, McCausland 22, Foster 22, Day 21, Blackburn 19, Roy Clinger 19, Capt. Bice 19, Simcox 17, Smith 17.

Team Shoot—15 Targets.

McCausland 14, Day 13, Glover 15, Coleman 15, Blackburn 14; total 71.

Foster 14, Clinger 15, Jordan 14, Baker 10, Roy Clinger 8; total 61.

Extra Event—10 Targets.

Clinger 10, Blackburn 10, Coleman 10, Glover 10, Jordan 9, McCausland 8, Day 7.

High guns for the day—Clinger, 47 out of 50; Coleman, 47 out of 50; Glover, 47 out of 50.

MANY CHANGES, SAYS M'CAFFERY

Toronto Club All Dressed Up and No Place To Go.

Toronto, Nov. 18.—President J. J. McCaffery of the Toronto Baseball Club, who was in attendance at the Minor League meeting at Louisville last week, stated last night that while the proposed merger was knocked on the head by the convention, yet he believed that before the winter was over many changes would take place in baseball. "So far as the Toronto club is concerned we are ready to go ahead next season," remarked the local president. "However, they are like the person who was all dressed up and no place to go."

The International League will hold their annual meeting on December 10, and at that session the magnates will discuss the advisability of continuing next year. Changes in territory will also be discussed, while some of the owners are willing to operate with a six-club circuit, with three clubs in the East and three in the West. Richmond and Montreal would be the natural ones to be dropped.

Mr. McCaffery when spoken to regarding the report that Ed. Barrow might be next president of the American Association, stated he would not be surprised.

While in Louisville, Joe Kelley, Bill Clymer and Larry Lajoie took the occasion to make a presentation to President McCaffery. The trio have at some time or other managed the Leafs.

WOODSTOCK HAS CINCH, DEFEATING GALT 22 TO 7

Winners Scored Four Touchdowns—Kossack Makes Fine Fifty-Yard Run.

WOODSTOCK, Nov. 18. — The Galt Collegiate rugby team was defeated here Saturday afternoon by the local collegiate squad by the score of 22 to 7. The locals scored four touchdowns, none of which were converted. Three of the touches were made by bucking over the line while the fourth was scored by Hossack after a fine 50-yard run. N. S. McKechnie was referee.

63rd Battery Defeats St. Jerome's Squad 5--1

Artillerymen Take Exhibition Game From Kitchener Team Saturday Afternoon—Visitors' Tackling Best Seen Here This Season.

The 63rd Battery rugby squad put it over the St. Jerome's College team from Kitchener to the measure of 5 to 1 in a snappy exhibition game played at Carling Heights on Saturday afternoon. On the whole the teams were pretty evenly balanced for, although the gunners were heavier than the Saints the latter made up for their lack of weight by their tackling which was by far the best seen on local gridirons this season. Bill Duffield was in the game with the battery squad, and as usual Bill was as good as three men on the line. His bucks went right through the lighter Saints' line almost every time. He was shoved over the line for the touchdown following a short run by Tiernan which gave the soldiers the game.

The Saints tallied first, scoring when Cutler kicked to the dead line in the first quarter. This was the only point they made. They put up a stiff game, but were unable to get through the artillerymen, although they made some nice runs.

In the second measure the 63rd scored their touchdown." Dutch" Tiernan's short run following their first down advanced the ball considerably. On the second down the gunners pushed the Saints back and on the third Duffield was shoved right through the Collegians and over the line. The 63rd failed to convert.

The Saints possess a fast team. Their backs are exceptionally good. When it comes to tackling every man on the visitors was right there. They tackled low and downed their man every time. Time after time the artillerymen broke through the line, but the tackling of the Saints prevented big gains. Berger, a former Preston hockey star, did nice work. Cutler in right half made some short runs. Eicheldinger, Ross and Barnes also showed up well. The line men were lighter than the gunners but showed plenty of pluck in scrimmages.

Tiernan, Gilchrist and LaBel did nice work for the battery. Tiernan made several short runs which gained yards. Mills and Duffield shone among the gunners. Duffield's bucking was one of the features of the game.

The line-up of the teams:

St. Jeromes.		63rd Battery.
Cutler	right half	Gilchrist
Hopkins	flying wing	Reynolds
Berger	center half	Mills
W. Hawkins	left half	Tiernan
Eicheldinger	quarter	LaBel
Moert	scrimmage	Underwood
Greer, Lang	scrimmage	Stone
Kelleher	scrimmage	Olsen
Kennedy	inside	McKee
K. Hawkins	inside	Duffield
Volk	inside	Jessup
Dehler	middle	Campbell
Rose	outside	Cole
Barnes	outside	Johnston

The score by quarters:

63rd Battery	0	5	0	0

Zoccano Fights Cline Friday Night At Soo

Tony Zoccano, the well known local scrapper, who staged several bouts here last winter, will take on Irish "Patsy" Cline of New Jersey, on Friday night at Sault Ste. Marie. Tony was in town for a few hours on Sunday and left this morning for Toronto. Cline is a second-rater, and promises Tony a lively ten rounds on Friday evening.

Asked about boxing this winter in London, Zoccano said that he would not fight here unless he could get Eddie Morgan as an opponent. Morgan, says Zoccano, is the only man who would draw a good crowd here.

"I would not fight here unless with Morgan," said Tony, "He is a good man in the ring, and would draw well here. I think that if he came we could stage a fine fight."

Morgan fought here with Zoccano a year ago last Labor Day, and the pair staged one of the finest bouts ever seen in this district. The fans were greatly pleased, and it is certain that if the pair met again a big crowd would turn out to see the fun.

Asked about bringing Cline here this winter Tony said that he would be unable to make any statements until after his fight on Friday night. He wants to see how he stands in comparison with the Jersey boy. Cline weighs about the same as Tony.

Zoccano has been out West and down in Montreal doing some boxing and is in fine shape for the Friday night affair. He will return to London about Christmas to size up conditions in this town.

BOSTON BRAVES MUCH STRONGER BY SIGNING PAIR

Powell and Rehg, Outfielders, Are Purchased From the Providence Club.

SHOULD HELP STALLINGS

Hub Fans and Critics Pleased at New Additions to Team.

Boston fans and press box critics say George Stallings has added much to the strength of the Boston Braves by buying Walter Rehg and Ray Powell, outfielders, from Providence, which club is owned by James E. Lannin, former magnate of the Boston Americans.

Rehg was familiar to Bostonians, as he had been with the Red Sox for three years as utility outfielder before he was shipped to Providence. This young man had had quite a busy career, anyhow. He first saw the light of day in fast company in Pittsburg, as a member of the Pirates.

The first time he came to bat for the Pirates was in a pinch, and Bill Klem was umpiring. Bill was also nursing a grouch. He asked the busher what his name might be. Rehg told him, but it did not get through Bill's skull, and a repetition was demanded. Rehg therefore spelled his name in 36-point caps vocally, so to speak, whereat the crowd in the stand was much amused.

"I know your name now," fretted Bill, "and also that you are the freshest kid in baseball."

That prank was rather a handicap, as fresh kids are not taken seriously, but since then Rehg has grown more sedate.

Rehg is a right fielder, and bats right-handed. He was obtained to take the place of Joe Wilhoit, who was waived to Pittsburg, and later to the New York Giants. His batting average for a while was around .230, but he finished well over .250. As an outfielder Rehg is bothered by the sun, which militates against his usefulness as a specialist in right.

Ray Powell, a left-handed centre elder, also came to the Braves from Providence. He was tried out once with the Detroit Tigers, but four years ago Powell, Ed Lafitte and Tutwellers were sent to Providence in a big deal and grew up with that club. His consistent work there attracted the attention of the scouts and several were after him when Boston grabbed him.

Powell is a notable fielder in centre or any other suburb, and to that he has added his accomplishments in batting.

Powell has admittedly strengthened the Braves, but the advantages from Rehg will be determined by the speed at which Rehg hits, and Boston is still in the market for another outfielder to be tried next spring. Neither Powell nor Rehg is a young ball player, which fact militates against their chances of being regarded as fixtures in the Braves' battle array.

SHORT CONTRACTS MEAN BIG SAVING

When the major league club owners get together shortly to consider the future of baseball, they will vote not only for the 140-game schedule, but also for a new form of player's contract.

It is the plan to reduce the term of the contract to five months, covering the period from May 1 to October 1.

This means that a player who receives $5,000 for six months' work this year will be asked to sign a new contract calling for $4,167. By cutting down all the players in this manner, each club will lop off from $15,000 to $20,000 from its salary list, and the major leagues combined will save more than $300,000.

ASSUMPTION SQUAD TRIMS MICHIGANERS

Canadian College Gave Hillsdale Team Walloping at Windsor.

WINDSOR, Nov. 18.—Assumption College, Sandwich, defeated Hillsdale College here yesterday in the annual rugby battle by a 10 to 0 score. The Michiganers were so far outclassed that the score does not show Assumption's superiority. Assumption was nearly always within striking distance of Hillsdale's goal, but numerous fumbles prevented more scoring

A seventy-yard run by Jacques for a touchdown and a pretty-placed kick by Spratt accounted for the scoring. Hillsdale never was within the thirty-yard line. McMahon starred on the defence for Assumption, while Dunn and Welly did some great tackling for the city team.

Summary:

Assumption.		Hillsdale.
McMahon	L. end	Martindale
Nicholson	L. tackle	Hobart
Hefner	L. guard	Bailey
Welty	Centre	Smith
Burns (capt.)	R. guard	Shepherd
Donnely	R. end	Grey
Dussla	R. tackle	McGuire
Bondy	Quarterback	Borridge
Spratt	L. half	Beck
Jacques	R. half	McCall
Dunn	Full back	Cartwright

Summary: Touchdown—Jacques Goal from placement—Spratt. Goal from touchdown—Spratt. Referee—Ashe (Pittpy). Umpire—Hippler (Eastern). Head lineman—Mathers (Lehigh). Substitutions—Ritter for Donnely; A. Grey for Martindale; Sweeney for Cartwright; Labadie for Bondy. Time of quarters—15 minutes.

SANATEL DEFEATED IN MATCHED RACE

Toronto Driving Club Matinee Was Great Success—Many Horses Entered.

Toronto, Nov. 18.—The Toronto Driving Club held a matinee at Hillcrest on Saturday afternoon. Lovers of the harness horse turned out in a goodly number.

The feature was a matched race between Sanatel, 2:18¼, and Mony, 2:17¼, which event went to the latter after five strenuous heats. Summary:

Matched race for prize:

Mony (Locks)	2	2	1	1	1
Sanatel (Wyatt)	1	1	2	2	2

Time, 2:22½, 2:20½, 2:21, 2:24, 2:25.

Dan Eldger (Farrell)	1	1	1
George Locanda (McDowell)	3	3	2

Time, 2:20, 2:21½, 2:21.

If weather is favorable another matinee will be held next Saturday, with all horses competing Saturday in one race.

DETROIT PLANS HOCKEY SEASON

Expect to Play London and Other Ontario Towns This Winter.

Detroit, Nov. 18.—A city hockey league, made up of teams from various automobile factories is projected for the great Canadian winter pastime in Detroit this winter.

Manager Brown of the Arena, who recently made the trip through Ontario to line up games for the Detroit septette, visited Toronto, Hamilton, London and Sarnia, and is confident his team will have plenty of opposition from the Canadian side.

Nothing new has developed during the past week regarding the formation of the Middle Western Hockey League to include Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago and Pittsburg, but a meeting will shortly be held to take definite action on the project.

ANNOYING SYMPTOMS

How Heat Flashes, Dizzy Spells and Other Bad Feelings at Change of Life May Be Relieved.

Richmond, Va.—"After taking seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new woman. I always had a headache during the Change of Life and was also troubled with other bad feelings common at that time—dizzy spells, nervous feelings and heat flashes. Now I am in better health than I ever was and recommend your remedies to all my friends."—Mrs. Lena Wynn, 2812 E. O. street, Richmond, Va.

While Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, the annoying symptoms which accompany it may be controlled, and normal health restored by the timely use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Such warning symptoms are a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and dizziness.

PROBERS DECIDE PACKERS' GAINS WERE VERY HIGH

Davies Co. and Matthews-Blackwell Made Extraordinary Profits.

WENT TO EIGHTY PER CENT

Packers Held Responsible for the Present High Prices of Hogs.

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—That the profits made by the William Davies Company, Limited, and Matthews-Blackwell, Limited, particularly the former, were exceptionally high during the war period, and yielded "an extraordinary return upon the capital invested," is the striking statement made in the report of the commission appointed to investigate further the businesses of these two companies. The commission, which consists of G. F. Henderson, K.C., chairman, and Messrs. A. B. Brodie and G. F. Clarkson, has made an unanimous report to Hon. T. W. Crothers, minister of labor.

Profits made, according to the report of the commission, ran as high as 80 per cent on the money invested. The commissioners, in closing their report, draw attention in concise form to its salient features. They say:

"(a) That the profits made during the war period were exceptionally high and yielded an extraordinary return upon the capital invested. In the year 1916 the trading profits of the Davies Company were equal to 80 per cent on its investment in packing house plants and retail stores. War taxes, however, are repayable out of these profits.

High Percentage Boosted.

"(b) That these exceptionally high profits were due to an extraordinary expansion in the volume of business done, as well as to an increase in the percentage of profits earned upon sales.

"(c) That the increased volume of business done was almost entirely attributable to export sales, principally to the British war office. These sales yielded a high percentage of profit.

"(d) That in respect to its export business with the British war office the Davies Company for a considerable period of time enjoyed the advantage of a fixed minimum selling price, a concession granted, so far as we could learn, to no other packer. It was suggested during the inquiry that this concession might have been obtained by Sir Joseph Flavelle, whose occupancy of a public position would facilitate his so doing. The evidence of Sir Joseph is that he took no part in the negotiations which resulted in the granting of this concession, and the cable correspondence indicates that it resulted from a business negotiation influenced only by business considerations.

Boosted Hog Prices.

"(e) That the present high price of hog profits in Canada is premarily due to the high prices paid by packers for live hogs in Canada; this in turn is the result of aggressive competition between the packers to fill the insistent demand for hog products created by the war.

"(f) That upon the sale of hog products to retail stores and distributors in Canada, the Davies Company in 1916 made a profit of three-fifths of a cent per pound, and in 1917 a profit of two-fifths of a cent per pound. The actual profits per pound of the Matthews-Blackwell Company, Limited, are not ascertainable, but having regard to its earnings they could not have exceeded these figures.

"(g) That out of every dollar paid by the public in the purchase of hog products in the Davies Company's retail stores, 19 to 21 cents represents the cost of operating such stores and the expenses of delivery to customers.

Public Demand the Best.

"(h) That in considering the present prices of bacon in Canada, it must be remembered that the packer had to dispose of the whole animal. During the period of the war it would seem that there has been a larger domestic demand for the choicer cuts, such as bacon. As the demand for bacon has increased the demands for the other parts of the animal have lessened in proportion, thus throwing upon the parts from which bacon is manufactured an unusual proportion of the cost of the whole. A careful study of the statements already given is necessary to a proper appreciation of the fact.

"While during the whole of the period in question the main object of each company appears to have been to do as large a volume of business as possible, and to obtain for itself the profits upon it, no effort would appear to have been made by either, at any time, to come together with a view to keeping down the price of live hogs in Canada.

"In conclusion, we desire to record the fact that both companies did all in their power to facilitate our work and that of our accountants."

Arriving at Profits.

The commissioners in their main report state that the profits shown by the Davies Company are arrived at after deduction of the annual bonuses paid to employees, these bonuses being regarded as an increase in salary and wages paid. On this basis the percentages of profits obtained on sales of the four years ending March 31, 1917, were: For the fiscal year ending March, 1914, sales amounted to $10,774,274, from which profits of $15,521, equal to .14 per cent, were earned. For the fiscal year ending March, 1915, sales amounted to $16,883,111, upon which profits of $484,631, or 2.87 per cent, were earned. For the fiscal year ending March, 1916, sales amounted to $25,135,468, upon which profits of $1,335,454, or 5.22 per cent, were earned. For the fiscal year ending March, 1917, sales amounted to $21,080,632, upon which profits of $1,634,161, or 3.99 per cent, were earned.

"From the above figures," says the report, "it is at once apparent that the large increase in profits for the years 1916 and 1917 resulted in part from increased sales and in part from higher percentage of profits to sales in the two years. Upon analysis it appears that the increase in sales is principally in the export business, and that the segregation of profits, as between domestic and export business, is a matter of primary importance."

Comparison by Years.

The report shows that during the year 1914, the Davies Company made profits of $70,857 on meat products sold to the Canadian public, $48,867 on specialties and cooked meats, $1,570 on produce purchased in the United States and sold outside of Canada. On English exports they sustained a loss of $103,768.

In 1915 the company made profits of $119,463 on meat products sold to the Canadian public, $176,836 on specialties and cooked meats, $2,718 (loss) on produce purchased in the United States and sold outside of Canada, and $220,825 profits on English exports.

In 1916 the company made profits of $107,034 on meat sold to the Canadian public, $122,837 on specialties and cooked meats, $14,773 on produce purchased in the United States and sold outside of Canada, and $1,180,503 on English exports.

In 1917 the company made profits of $178,114 on meat products sold to the Canadian public, $142,840 on specialties and cooked meats, $46,528 on produce purchased in the United States, and $1,416,041 on English exports.

Percentage of Profits.

The percentage of total profits during the four years on meat products sold to the Canadian public was 12.7 per cent; on specialties and cooked meats, 13.2 per cent; on produce purchased in the United States and sold outside of Canada, 1.6 per cent; and on English exports, 72.5 per cent.

The commissioners point out that subsequent to August, 1916, the two companies investigated went for the first time into the Chicago market. This may have had some effect in increasing prices in the United States.

"The fact must be borne in mind," says the report, "that the Canadian companies received in the British market one price for Canadian products and a different price for their American products, and we feel that even if they had not entered the United States market the demand for United States products which they filled would no doubt have been filled by American packers."

Davies Company's Advantage.

"It is noteworthy," continues the report, "that during the period from August, 1916, to February, 1917, the Davies Company enjoyed the very distinct advantage over its competitors of having a fixed minimum price, which unquestionably gave it greater assurance in making its purchases of live hogs. From a perusal of the cable correspondence leading up to the granting of the concession it would appear that in June, 1916, the company became apprehensive as to the effect upon the market of the arrival in Great Britain of accumulated supplies of foreign bacon, and in order to protect itself against loss in event of a declining market it stipulated for, and obtained the concession, continuing to enjoy it after the foreign situation had become adjusted. So far as we can learn, no other company in Canada or the United States enjoyed this advantage. Having a guarantee that it would receive cost for its products the Davies Company could not lose in a declining market, but in an advancing market every chance was in its favor to make profits which were limited only by the prices prevailing in Great Britain at the time. The Davies Company and the Matthews-Blackwell Company were the principal dealers in Canadian hog products in the English market.

Influence Selling Price?

"We have no direct evidence that they were in a position to influence the selling price of products in England, but owing to the urgent demand for hog products which then existed, it seems to follow that their influence in that regard must have been importance. The Davies Company's chief competitor, the Matthews-Blackwell Company, was not aware of the concession granted to the Davies Company, but had such confidence in the prospects for higher prices in Great Britain that it met the competition of the Davies Company for live hogs without hesitation. It was suggested during the inquiry that this concession might have been obtained by Sir Joseph Flavelle, whose occupancy of a public position would facilitate his so doing. The evidence of Sir Joseph Flavelle is that he took no part in the negotiations which resulted in the granting of this concession, and the cable correspondence indicates that it resulted from a business negotiation influenced only by business conditions."

The Enormous Profits.

This statement shows for the William Davies Company an investment at the beginning of 1914 of $1,314,243, on which a profit was made, before deduction of interest, of $263,269.60, or 20.41 per cent of the investment. After deduction of interest the percentage of profit to investment was 6.89. In 1915, on an investment of $1,351,840 profits before deduction of interest on borrowed money were 56.80 per cent, and after deduction 43.82. In 1916 the investment was $1,744,251, profits before deduction of interest on borrowed money, etc., 93.76 per cent, and after deduction 80.02 per cent; profits earned for the period from April 1 to August 11, 1917, appear before deduction of interest to have been at the rate of approximately 46 per cent per annum of the investment and 30 per cent per annum after deduction of interest.

The Other Firm's Profits.

A similar statement in reference to the Matthews-Blackwell Company shows that on an investment of $2,107,447 in 1914, which had increased to $2,129,892 in 1916 the percentage of profits to investment before deduction of interest was, in 1913, 12.77; in 1914, 3.88; in 1915, 21.06, and in 1916, 31.87. Deduction of interest reduced the profits in 1913 to 6.49; in 1914 to 2.89; in 1915, to 14.06, and in 1916 to 25.16. Profits earned from November 1, 1916, to August 6, 1917, were approximately at the rate of 52 per cent per annum on the investment before deduction of interest and 45 per cent after.

Dealing with the statements made by a former employee of the Davies Company to the effect that the company adopted a fraudulent system of keeping bacon intended for shipment to the war office, known as the "post cure," the commissioners say that after a thorough investigation into this subject no evidence has been adduced which warrants such a suggestion.

Cured in Half Time.

"The Davies Company had as far back as 1902 adopted a new and secret process whereby their product could be sufficiently cured for shipment in two weeks, the completion of the cure taking place while the product was in transiting. In view of the fact that the process customarily adopted in Chicago and other packing house centres would seem to require a period of one month, the Davies process obviously gave the company a great advantage over its competitors. The new process, however, had a disadvantage in that it was of such a nature that it required prompt delivery to the smoke-house after arrival in Great Britain. Failing prompt delivery, deterioration would set in with consequent loss to the company.

"When transportation difficulties became acute and when the greater demand necessitated a greater spread of time for delivery, the Davies company met the difficulties by providing additional vat accommodation at both Toronto and Montreal, and, as far as possible, treated all export bacon to the post cure process.

Held for Good Market.

The main object of this further pickling process was to prevent deterioration, but there was, of course, the further advantage in that it enabled the company to hold the products for a longer period of time, and not only to make deliverries as called for, but to take advantage of what proved to be a continuously advancing market. Incidentally there was a substantial gain in weight since it is a fact, at least up to a certain point, that the longer the product remains in a state of saturation, the more weight it takes on. It is only fair to point out, however, that the Davies company method of cure is of shorter duration than that of most other companies and in spite of that the evidence shows that the gain in weight of the Davies products, after being treateed to the the 'post cure' process, is not greater (if as much) as the gain in weight obtained by other packers in the ordinary course of business."

The report contains a detailed analysis of the cost of curing hog products, showing that hams sold wholesale for 32c per pound, the product of hogs costing 18c per pound caused the packer a loss of .95c per pound. The retail stores sell this ham at 35c to 38c per pound.

"The above condition," says the report, "is attributable to the fact that for the last seven or eight months there has been a surplus supply of hams on the market, forcing the packers to dispose of them without a profit, if not at a loss, in order to insure consumption. At the same time the margin obtained by the retailers is not sufficient to cover their cost of distribution, except on maximum prices, which gives him a margin of 6c a pound to cover the same."

YANKEE CAPTAIN FOOLS SUBMARINE COMMANDER BY USE OF SMUDGES

An Atlantic Port, Nov. 19.—A smudge lighted on the hatches of an American freighter saved the vessel from an attack by a German submarine recently, according to officers of the steamer, which arrived here yesterday. Shortly after leaving an European port the ship's watch sighted a submarine approaching, well out of the water. The captain instantly ordered small fires kindled on the hatches, using material which was almost noncombustible, but which produced a heavy pall of smoke.

When the submarine came near the steamer was stopped. The captain informed the commander of the U-boat that he had a cargo of explosives and that on account of the fire he was about to abandon the ship. The submarine immediately departed, its commander evidently believing that an explosion was imminent. The fires were then put out and the steamer proceeded.

A ROTHSCHILD KILLED.

London, Nov. 19.—Major Evelyn De Rothschild, son of the late Leopold De Rothschild, has been killed in Palestine. He was in the same regiment as his cousin, the Honorable Neil Primrose, son of the Earl of Rosebery, who died recently of wounds received in the Palestine fighting.

HAIG PREPARING ANOTHER DRIVE TOWARD ROULERS

Tremendous Firing in Flanders Indicates Dash Is Impending.

PETAIN TO MOVE FORWARD

Present Week May Witness Two Important Moves on West Front.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The Associated Press carries the following:

Again the artillery duel on the Flanders front has reached tremendous proportions, and it is not unlikely that Field Marshal Haig has in preparation another dash froward from the region of Passchendaele toward the town of Roulers and the important railway line serving the German front from the North Sea eastward. The Germans, anticipating another of the irresistible operations of the British commander-in-chief, are directing their heavy gunfire on the positions in the neighborhood of Passchendaele and Langemarck and south of the Polygon wood.

To the south the big guns of the French and the Germans also are active along the Chemin-des-Dames, and the present week doubtless will witness another attempt by Gen. Petain's army here to press farther forward toward Laon.

ATTACK IN THE OPEN.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The report from Field Marshal Haig's headquarters in Flanders tonight reads:

"At dawn today a strong hostile raiding party attacked our trenches in the neighborhood of Gillemont farm, southeast of Epehy, and effected an entry at certain points. We counter-attacked across the open, and after sharp fighting ejected the enemy and captured a few prisoners.

"The enemy also raided our trenches early this morning southeast of Havrincourt. Some of our men are missing. On the battlefront the usual artillery activity continued on both sides."

An artillery duel of considerable intensity is in progress on the Flanders front, according to today's early war office statement.

The only infantry operation mentioned was a trench raid near Monchy in the Arras section. The statement reads:

"Early last night Lancashire and Highland troops successfully raided the enemy's trenches in the neighborhood of Monchy-le-Preux, capturing a few prisoners.

"The artillery activity on the battlefront continues on both sides. The enemy's artillery fire is directed principally upon our positions in neighborhood of Passchendaele and Langemarck and south of Polygon wood."

Held Friday's Gains.

"During the day," says Saturday's official report from British headquarters in Flanders, "the ground captured by us last night north and northwest of Passchendaele has been consolidated. The hostile artillery has again shown considerable activity east and northwest of Ypres.

"Highland troops carried out a successful raid this morning south of the Scarpe River."

WILL LIMIT PROFITS ON FRUITS, VEGETABLES, SAYS HON. MR. MEIGHEN

Winnipeg, Nov. 18.—In addition to having limited profits on flour to 25c per barrel, and to having established control of the packing industry and confiscating all profits on the latter over 15 per cent as well as half the profits between seven and fifteen per cent, the Government is now taking steps to limit profits on the sale of fruit and vegetables to not more than 12½ per cent. This announcement was made for the first time last night by Hon. Arthur Meighen at he Unionist convention at Portage la Prairie.

BURIED AT NEWBURY.

NEWBURY, Nov. 18.—The funeral of Miss Hanna Sheppard was held from the home of W. O. Kraft. The only surviving member of the family is a brother, John, of Petrolea.

WILSON APPROVES LLOYD GEORGE'S PLAN FOR UNITY

London, Nov. 18.—Col. E. M. House, head of the American mission, has received a cablegram from President Wilson, stating emphatically that the United States Government considers that unity of plan and control between all the Allies and the United States is essential in order to achieve a just and permanent peace.

Washington, Nov. 18.—Although no formal announcement on the subject was made at the time, it was generally known when Col. House and his mission left for England, that the United States favored the creation of a joint military staff, on which it would have representation.

2 GERMAN CRUISERS DAMAGED IN BATTLE OUTSIDE HELIGOLAND

Enemy Mine Sweeper Also Sunk by the British.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—German light cruisers which fled through Helgoland Bight yesterday before British warships of similar type were pursued to within 30 miles of Helgoland, where they came under the protection of the German battle fleet and mine fields, the admiralty announced today.

One of the German light cruisers was observed to be in flames, and the machinery of another seemed to be damaged, while one German mine-sweeper was sunk. The British light forces returned without losses, with but little material damage to the ships, and slight casualties to the personnel.

Official Statement.

An early announcement made by the admiralty today says:

"There is no further detailed information yet regarding the operations of our light cruisers in the Helgoland Bight yesterday, beyond the fact that the enemy's light cruisers were chased by them to within thirty miles of Helgoland, until they got under the protection of their battle fleet and mine fields, when our light forces returned.

"One of the enemy's light cruisers was seen on fire, another appearing damaged in her machinery, as she was dropping astern. An enemy mine-sweeper was sunk in addition. We had no losses, and only slight material damage in ships. Our casualties in personnel were slight."

REPULSED, SAYS BERLIN.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 18.—"Strong British naval forces for the first time since the war attempted to break into the German Bight (Helgoland), on Saturday morning," says a Berlin dispatch today, quoting an official statement dated Saturday.

"The British were located by the German guard ships on the Horn reef, Terschelling line (about 60 miles out from Helgoland Island), and the advanced German naval forces, by a speedy counter-thrust, easily repulsed them, it is declared, without losses on the German side."

THE ROAR OF BATTLE.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 17.—Advices from the Island of Mano say that a most violent cannonading was heard from the North Sea between 8:30 and 10 o'clock this morning. At intervals, during the firing, there were great explosions.

Several warships were observed on the horizon.

MINERS' WAGE INCREASE DEPENDS ON COAL PRICE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Anthracite operators and miners on Saturday agreed on a wage increase of approximately 20 per cent, conditional on an increase in prices of coal at the mine, to cover the raise and submitted their agreement to fuel Administrator Garfield. The operators say they will not grant the increases unless the Government raises the price.

CITY OF JAFFA IS CAPTURED BY BRITISH FORCES

Turkish Enemy Is Continuing to Retire to the Northward.

BRILLIANT CAVALRY DASH

Abu Schusche Ridge Carried at a Gallop — 431 Turks Sabered, 360 Captured.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The city of Jaffa (on the Mediterranean coast) was taken possession of by the British army in Palestine. The Turks, who apparently are continuing their withdrawal northward, offered no opposition.

The text of the official statement making this announcement reads:

"Yesterday Jaffa was occupied by Australian and New Zealand mounted troops, without opposition. The enemy appears to be continuing his retirement to the north."

Saturday's official statement said that the Turkish forces, which have been falling back before the British advance in Palestine, were apparently preparing to make a stand north of Jaffa.

The Turks were said to be attempting to prepare a position paralleling the River Nahr El Aujer, which empties into the Mediterranean about four miles from Jaffa.

The text of Saturday's statement reads:

Carried at a Gallop.

"Gen. Allenby reports that yesterday there were minor advances in certain sectors of our front. Our Yeomanry, who on Thursday took Abu Schusche Ridge, five miles southeast of Er-Hamle, captured 360 prisoners and one gun. They carried the Turkish position at a gallop and 431 Turks were counted on the ground.

"The Australians, in taking El Tine, captured large numbers of prisoners, one gun, three airplanes and considerable quantities of ammunition and stores. On Thursday one hostile airplane was brought down.

"The Turks are reported to be endeavoring to prepare an entrenched position north of Jaffa, roughly, parallel to the River Aujer (Nahr El Aujer).

Macklem Admits He Had No Right to Colonel's Uniform

Signs Statement at Windsor Declaring He Was Mistaken.

WINDSOR, Nov. 18.—Throwing aside all pretensions to being either a British or a Canadian army officer, and admitting he had no right or authority to wear the uniform of a colonel of the staff, Omar L. Macklem, who was deported from Detroit by the United States immigration authorities last week, has cleared his mind by affixing his signature to a statement admitting he "was mistaken."

Macklem's confession was made to Lieut. P. J. Moran and a newspaperman at the Crawford House here Saturday, and states that "after reading Militia Regulations and Orders I find I was mistaken and had no right to wear the uniform." His statement concludes: "My object in making the statement is to set myself right and to clear the army of any stigma that may be attached to it by wearing an unauthorized uniform."

SWISS PACIFISTS WILL BE SWIFTLY SQUELCHED

Zurich, Nov. 19.—The police have arrested eight persons charged with inciting Swiss troops to disobey orders and to insult their officers as a result of pacifist manifestations here. Three battalions of infantry and three squadrons of cavalry arrived today in anticipation of a possible fresh outbreak.

WILLIAM SOEDER FATALLY INJURED BY FALL AT STRATFORD

Had Skull Fractured When Rope Broke and Scaffolding Fell.

STRATFORD, Nov. 18.—Falling 35 feet while at work plastering the end of the main shop at the Grand Trunk late this afternoon, William Soeder, 210 Huron street, suffered a fractured skull, from which he died in the General Hospital a couple of hours later.

Mr. Soeder, with two other men, were on a scaffold suspended from the roof by three ropes. The centre gave way where it was secured to the roof, and this allowed the scaffold to sag quickly about four feet. Mr. Soeder was standing about the centre of the plank and was thrown to the ground. He lit on top of a number of barrels, and was picked up unconscious and hurried to the hospital, where he died soon after.

BORDEN INDORSES FIELDING.

OTTAWA, Nov. 18.—Sir Robert Borden, who returned to Ottawa this evening, has written to each of the members of the Liberal-Conservative committee of Queens-Shelbourne, urging that there should be no Liberal-Conservative opposition to Hon. W. S. Fielding in that constituency.

GENERAL MAUDE IS ILL.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Major-General Frederick S. Maude, commanding the British forces in Mesopotamia, according to the Daily Mail, is sick.

Women! It's Cheap! Use Lemon Juice and Make Lotion

To keep your skin and complexion naturally soft, white and clear at all times you simply must use a lotion or cream every day. But choose the one that is best and costs the least.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quarter pint of the most remarkable beauty lotion at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier.

Just try this lotion. Make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant cream and massage it into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should naturally help to whiten, soften, freshen and bring out the hidden roses and beauty of any skin.

Your druggist will sell three ounces of orchard white at little cost, and any grocer will supply the lemons.

Don't Let Your Truss

Make Operation Necessary

Operation for rupture would hardly ever be heard of if it weren't for the mischief done by elastic and spring trusses.

Mighty few people ever have to be operated on when first ruptured.

But wearing makeshift trusses year after year is sooner or later almost sure to make work for the surgeon.

You know that from your own experience—you know you're worse now than a year ago—probably getting worse all the time.

If you keep on that way, how long will it be before you'll have to undergo a dangerous and expensive operation?

Aren't you willing to let us prove—by a sixty-day demonstration—how you can save yourself from all that?

Especially when you can make this sixty-day test without having to risk a penny?

60 Days' Trial to Prove How Good It Is.

Here is something—a guaranteed rupture holder—which has saved thousands of people from ever having to be operated

It has so thoroughly proved its merits that we are willing to send it on 60 days' trial.

We'll make it especially for your case—make it to your measure—and practically lend it to you for a test.

If it cannot be made to keep your rupture from coming out or from bothering you in any way, then it won't cost you a single penny.

No Leg Straps—No Belts.

Simply write for our free book—that will tell you everything you want to know.

It shows how our guaranteed rupsure holder is made on an absolutely new principle. How it instantly and automatically protects you against every strain, so your rupture can't possibly be forced out. And how in addition it provides the only way ever discovered for overcoming the weakness which is the real cause of rupture.

The book tells how our guaranteed rupture holder—the famous Cluthe—is so beneficial that physicians in all parts of America now recommend it instead of advising operation. How it has completely cured thousands of people whose cases seemed almost hopeless. How it does away with the curse of belts, leg-straps and springs. How it is perspiration-proof and will hold in the bath. How you can try it sixty days and how little it costs if you keep it.

This Book Free Is Full of Facts Never Before Put in Print.

This book sums up all we have learned about rupture during nearly half a century of experience.

Shows just why elastic and spring trusses are the ruptured man's worst enemies.

Exposes the humbug "appliances," "methods," "plasters," locks, etc.

Explains why operation is always dangerous—and why, even if you manage to live through it, you may have to keep on wearing a truss.

It shows why sixty days' trial is the only safe way to buy anything for rupture, and how the famous Cluthe Automatic Massaging Truss is the only thing you can get on such a long trial, because the only thing good enough to stand such a test.

Don't fail to get this book, with a list of over 5,000 voluntary indorsements. Don't put it off. Just use the coupon below or simply say in a letter or postal, "Send me your book." The minute it takes you to write for it may free you from rupture troubles for the rest of your life.

AMERICAN COLONY IS ANXIOUS TO GET OUT OF RUSSIAN CAPITAL

Embassy Has Requested Train for Departure.

KERENSKY CONTROL GONE

Traveller Reaching Stockholm Says Premier Will Never Regain Power.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—The American embassy at Petrograd, according to a Reuter dispatch, has requested that a train be provided to convey 200 members of the American colony in Petrograd to Harbin.

LENINE IS ON TOP.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The Berlin Tageblatt declares that Premier Kerensky and Nikolai Lenine, leader of the Bolsheviki revolution in Petrograd, have effected a compromise essentially favorable to Lenine, the Exchange Telegraph correspondent at Copenhagen reports.

KALEDINES GETTING ARMY.

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 18.—Petrograd was quiet up to Wednesday evening, according to advices from what are regarded here as reliable sources. The railway employees were refusing to transport troops for either faction, and the food situation in the capital was becoming serious.

There is little definite news from the provinces, but an apparently reliable report said Gen. Kaledines was assembling a considerable force of Cossacks.

The correspondent talked with an American businessman, the manager of a concern in Petrograd employing a large staff, who has reached here after having left Petrograd on Wednesday morning. He reports that no foreigners in the city had been molested, and that Lenine said to a delegation of foreign diplomats who called on him at the Smolny Institute: "Instructions have been given to treat all foreigners with all consideration. They are guests of the republic."

The American characterized Lenine as a man desiring peace, but said Gen. Trotsky was using violent language and threatening all his opponents with death. The correspondent's informant agreed with all the other observers with whom the correspondent had talked in the prediction that Kerensky would never regain power, even if his party should prevail.

ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF LONDON'S BRANCH LATEST "Y" OFFICIAL

Advertiser Illustrations

R. P. LIDDLE, new assistant secretary of the Y. M. C. A. London branch. He has been in his present position for the past three months, and during that time has assisted greatly in promoting the work of the organization. His activities are directed chiefly to furthering the senior branches of the association and in aiding E. R. Wilson, general secretary, here.

YOUTHFUL VISIONS INSPIRED WORLD'S GREAT BENEFACTORS

Caused Change Which Benefited All Humanity.

At the mass meeting of men in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, W. A. Hines of Toronto was the speaker Sunday.

The subject of Mr. Hines' address was "Aspirations and Ideals." He gave many instances of successful businessmen who accounted their success directly to an ideal which they developed in youth. The speaker said that every man, to become a success in his particular vocation, must first acquire an ideal, which he must ever try to live up to. Every great man, every wonderful achievement, has been the result of an inspiration, and all true inspirations develop from ideals of truth, honor and all the material attributes of humanity.

"Man is a pilgrim forever endeavoring to gain entrance into the beautiful celestial city, which represents the ideal of material things," the speaker said. "A man's aspirations are the laws of his life. All of humanity's great benefactors have become inspired with an ideal during their youth. David Livingston, the missionary and explorer, at the age of 10, received a vision while working in a carpet factory, and in order to become true to that vision he realized that he required education. The boy, therefore, went to night school, and during every minute of his spare time read books and acquired a great mass of knowledge. Eventually he set out on his great mission of benevolence and educational work. He attempted to mitigate the suffering of the natives of Africa, which was brought on from the unfavorable conditions of the Dark Continent, and in so doing received his great reward."

Mr. Hines told the story of how John —ton saw a vision when a very young boy, and how he also realized that to become of any use to the world he must become educated. How the blind poet attained his ideal when he wrote some of the finest poems of the world was eloquently described by the speaker.

Mr. Hines concluded by saying that the success of a man, whether in business or a profession, was attained according to the standard of his ideal. "Heart hunger" is the great incentive of all men to gain success, and it is when one is possessed of this hunger that the great efforts are made and the ideals realized.

QUERIES REGARDING MILITARY SERVICE

Send In Your Problems and They Will Be Answered From Official Information by The Advertiser.

Question.—1. A widow's only son is at the front. He has a wife and children in Toronto. Can the widow draw any allowance?

2. What has she to do to have her name on the voter's list?
E. L. A.

Answer.—1. It is to be presumed that the wife is drawing separation allowance, and as both cannot draw it, it would be impossible for the mother to draw it unless the wife did not require it.

2. She must make sure that the enumerator in her subdivision puts her name on the list.

Question.—Two young men in the first draft have claimed exemption, but if they could join the navy they would not want exemption. Local recruiting offices state that they have not taken any men for a year for the navy. Is there any way we can obtain admission to it?
F. C. and S. D.

Answer.—A call was issued a few days ago for signallers for the naval service through district military headquarters here. Write an application to the assistant adjutant-general of Military District No. 1, Wolseley Barracks, London, Ont. You might also write to Commodore Aemelius Jarvis, naval recruiting officer, Toronto, Ont.

NO JAIL TERM, BUT FRONT LINE DESERTERS' LOT

Police Magistrate Will Turn Over All Arrested Under M. S. A. to Military.

SHIP MEN TO FRANCE?

This Seems Likely Procedure for Those Who Figured On Life in Jail Instead of Army.

The impression that the jails and the prisons will be filled with men who have disregarded the military service act and have refused to either sign an exemption claim of report for service sheet is dispelled by Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, who says he will hand over every men coming before him to the military authorities, providing they are acceptable.

The order-in-council governing procedure with respect to the disposition of men arrested under the act as deserters states that the magistrate can hand the man over to the military authorities.

Magistrate Graydon takes a definite stand in this regard, and today announced his decision of turning over all men brought before him to the military authorities to deal with. This plan will be in all cases where the military authorities agree to accept the man. If they decline, then it will be a case for the magistrate to dispose of under a civil prosecution.

It means that many men who imagined they were going to get a term in jail instead of a course in military training will be fooled, and in the end will be in the army, the very thing they tried to escape. The opinion of the magistrate is that nothing would be gained by placing the men in jail when they are needed in the army.

When a man is arrested as a deserter and found A 2, and the military authorities come to deal with his case, the prospects are he will not get the consideration that others who signed under the act did, but as a deserter he will likely be, without further ceremony, shipped overseas and get his training in the war zone, where to desert then would mean to go before a firing squad.

Deputy Registrar Wismer has announced his intention of authorizing the arrest of a number of men within the next few days.

HAWAIIAN PEOPLE MORE MORAL THAN WHITE BRETHREN

Returned Missionary, Speaking At Latter-Day Saints' Church, Says So.

James Davis, recently returned from service as a missionary in the Hawaiian Islands, was the special speaker at the anniversary services of the Latter-Day Saints on Sunday. The occasion marked the 42nd year of the sect in the city, as well as the first anniversary of the opening of the new church on Maitland street.

Speaking to a meeting in the afternoon, Mr. Davis gave an interesting talk on the islands, particularly Oahu, on which Honolulu, the principal city of the group, is situated. He described the climate as enervating.

Discussing the probable origin of the native population, he said that many scientists thought it to be Malay. Others thought that the people were descendants of the same branch of humanity as the North American Indian. Customs which bore out this theory were the establishment of cities of refuge, the absence of divorce laws, and the tendency to deify almost every object. He had found also that similar surnames were to be found among the Oregon Indians and the natives of the islands.

The people, before the arrival of the white man, had been a happy race, indolent, with no written language and no money. They were not warlike, and difficulties which did arise were easily settled. The white man brought commercialism, money, whiskey, tobacco and religion. He imparted artfulness to his brown brother, and eventually cheated him out of thousands of acres of rich land. This he did by offering the native a paltry sum if he would sign a document. These proved to be mortgages, and within a few years much of the land had new owners.

Good influence had been brought as well, and educational facilities had been much improved. As a race they had higher moral standards than the white man.

LOCAL MANUFACTURERS INVITED TO CONFERENCE

Local manufacturers have received invitations to attend an Industrial Accident Prevention Association convention, to be held in Toronto on Tuesday in the assembly hall of the Normal School buildings, and it is expected London's industrial plants will be well represented. The plea to heads of plants to be present is on the ground that "70 per cent of accidents are preventable by education; only 30 per cent, at most, by mechanical guards. It pays to know."

Among the speakers will be W. C. Phillips, Frontenac Moulding and Glass Company; J. R. Shaw, Canada Furniture Manufacturers, Ltd., Woodstock; C. W. Price, field secretary National Safety Council, Chicago, Ill.; H. H. Biggert, International Harvester Company, Hamilton; S. Price, Workmen's Compensation Board; J. F. M. Stewart, Point Anne Quarries, Toronto; H. Cockshutt, Cockshutt Plow Company, Ltd., Brantford; Miss Nesta C. Edwards, Kimberly-Clark Company, Nennah, Wis.; G. C. Martin, T. H. & B. Railroad, Hamilton; A. W. Wright, Workmen's Compensation Board, Toronto; David Brown, plant engineer, Canadian Westinghouse, Hamilton. A demonstration of first aid work by Dr. Charles J. Copp, commissioner St. John Ambulance Brigade, and moving pictures will be educational features.

SOUTH WATERLOO IS DOING ITS SHARE

GALT, Nov. 18.—The first week's canvass for Canada's Victory Loan in the district of South Waterloo has resulted in total subscription of $344,500 being received, it was announced at local headquarters here last night. South Waterloo is the smallest of any of the districts, and so far no big subscriptions have been received. Workingmen are generously responding to appeal and a large number of foreigners are investing in the loan. The canvassers expect better results next week.

GIRLS' CONFERENCE HELD AT STRATFORD

STRATFORD, Nov. 18.—With upwards of 225 delegates present from various centres in Western Ontario, the third annual Stratford Older Girls' conference here proved a decided success. The sessions opened Saturday afternoon at St. Andrew's Church with an address by Miss Taggert of Toronto. She is superintendent of the Sunday division (girls' section) of the Ontario Sunday School Association. In the evening a big banquet was held at St. James' Church, after which Miss Taggert and Mrs. Fenton B. McIntyre of Brantford spoke. Sunday afternoon a mass meeting was held in St. Andrew's Church. A new feature of the session was group games.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

75 CENT ADVANCE RECORDED IN HOGS

Predicted Jump Occurs On the Market Today.

The advance in the price of live hogs materialized this morning on the local market, and an increase of 75c was recorded. The supply and demand of hogs in the vicinity seems to be practically the same as last week, and no obvious cause for the advance is obtainable. Although porkers sold at a much reduced price following efforts of the packers and buyers of the country to lower the price about one month ago, it was predicted that porkers would resume their soaring proclivities after the effects of the efforts of hog men had worn off. Tomorrow the price is expected to range around the $17 mark, and from then on slight, unimportant advances are likely to be registered from day to day.

Potatoes also showed a slight advance, when a few bags sold at $2.25 each. The popular price for the best quality of potatoes is $2.25, a few of inferior kind selling at $2. Spuds have advanced during the past week at a rate of 5c per day. The supply of tubers appears to be equal to the demand at all times, and the jump of prices this morning is accounted for by a move on the part of the wholesale dealers in vegetables, who are said to have boosted the price of spuds gradually so that sudden jumps may not be recorded during the winter.

Hay is scarce and sells at an unchanged rate. The supply of fodder during the past week was exceptionally large, but the demand could not be met with notwithstanding the abundance. The number of loads appearing on the square was comparatively small, but the old prices have been maintained.

Oats registered a slight advance when the majority of hundredweights offered sold from $2.05 to $2.10. Oat values fluctuate from day to day, but the prevailing prices seldom range over or below $2 to $2.15.

Vegetables of the coarser variety are plentiful. The fine type of vegetable is practically unobtainable at this time of the season.

Butter is plentiful at unchanged prices and eggs are scarce and firm.

Fruit is no longer to be secured, except upon exceptional occasions, when a few apples and grapes appear.

All kinds of meats and hides are unchanged, and the demand continues to be somewhat slow.

GRAIN.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Opening: Corn—January, $1 17; May $1 15½@1 15⅝.

Oats—December, 64⅝@64½c; May, 64⅝@64½c.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Corn eased down in price today, influenced by an improvement in the quality of spot offerings and by prospects of enlarged arrivals. Besides, the Government report on frost damage to corn was construed as bearish. The official estimate of the crop was said to contain a larger percentage of good corn than had been generally figured on.

Opening quotations, which ranged from ⅛c to ¼c lower, with January at $1 17 and May at $1 15⅜@1 15½, were followed by a moderate general setback.

MONEY.

London, Nov. 19.—Bar silver, 43⅜d per ounce.

New York, Nov. 19.—Bar silver, 85½c per ounce.

London, Nov. 19.—Money was in increased demand, and discount rates were quiet.

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE.

London, Nov 19.—The stock market maintained a generally confident tone today, without any increase in business, but prices were occasionally harder. The feature of the trading was the demand for Shell Oil shares, now that the authorities have requisitioned the shares of the Royal Dutch Oil Company under the mobilization scheme. Spanish and Scandinavian bonds were good on the exchange position, but the other sections were dull.

WALL STREET.

New York, Nov. 19—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Equipments, notably those comprising the war division, were the strongest stocks at the opening of today's market. Advances of 1 to 2 points soon were registered by American and Baldwin Locomotives, Marine preferred, American Smelting and Industrial Alcohol. United States Steel, Bethlehem Steel, General Electric and the motors were firm to strong with leading rails, Delaware and Hudson rallying 2¼ points from last Saturday's sharp break. Liberty fours recorded a full 2 per cent discount at the new minimum of 98, the 3½'s meanwhile hardening from 99 to 99.80.

Noon.—Rails were subjected to fresh pressure before the end of the first hour. Delaware and Hudson reacted 4 points to the new minimum of 89½, and a revelsal of three-quarters of a point forced Pennsylvania to 46½, the lowest quotation in over 40 years. Steels, shippings, metals, motors and oils suffered temporary setbacks, but hardened again in the apathetic second hour. Liberty fours continued to sag to the low price of 97.66, but the 3½'s varied between 99.02 and 99.80.

1:30 p.m.—Absolute stagnation ruled during the mid-session. The monotony of that period was unrelieved, except for a further decline in Delaware and Hudson to 87¾, and a new minimum of 97.40 for the Liberty fours.

RAILWAY EARNINGS.

Montreal, Nov. 19.—The average daily receipts of the three principal railway systems in Canada—Canadian Pacific, Grand Trunk and Canadian Northern—in the second week of this month were $860,000, a new high record. For the first fortnight of the month the total gross earnings were $11,306,896, against $10,329,960 in the corresponding period last year.

OATS, BARLEY, FLAX IN POOR DEMAND

Trading at Winnipeg on Saturday Was Quiet.

Winnipeg, Nov. 17.—Demand for oats and flax was extremely poor today, and trading was quiet. The wheat situation was unchanged. Grain deliveries are still light and far below what is required to be sent east before the close of navigation. Farmers are seizing the opportunity of the continued mild weather to finish their fall plowing.

November and December oats closed unchanged; May ¼c lower.

Flax closed 8c lower for November; December 4½c lower, and May 3½c lower.

TORONTO.

Toronto, Nov. 17.—Grain quotations are as follows:

Wheat—Ontario, No. 2 winter, $2.22, in store, Montreal; Manitoba, No. 1 northern, $2.23½, in store, Fort William; No. 2 northern, $2.20½; No. 3 northern, $2.17½.

Oats—Canada western, No. 2, 76¼c; No. 3 Canada western, 73¼c, at lake ports for immediate shipment: Ontario, No. 2 winter, 70@71c, outside; No. 3 white, 69@70c, outside.

Peas—No. 2, $3.80@3.90.

Rye—No. 2, $1.75.

Barley—$1.21@1.22, outside for malting.

MONTREAL.

Montreal, Nov. 17.—A feature of the last week in the grain trade has been the strong upward tendency of prices for oats in both the Canadian and American option markets, due chiefly to the good demand for supplies for export account. This tended to strengthen the local situation considerably, and prices responded to the extent of from 3c to 5c per bushel, as compared with the prices ruling the previous week. The demand for oats on Saturday was only fair. The market closed strong, with No. 2 C.W. quoted at 85c, and No. 3 C.W. at 83c.

Corn—American, No. 2 yellow, $2.15@2.30.

Oats—Canadian Western, No. 2, 85c; do., No. 3, 83c; extra No 1 feed, 83c.

Barley—Malting, $1.33.

FLOUR

Toronto, Nov. 17.—Listed quotations at Toronto are:

Flour—Manitoba: First patents, $11.50, bags; second patents, $11; strong bakers, $10.60; Ontario winter, 90 per cent patents, $9.70, bulk, seaboard.

Millfeed—Manitoba bran, $35 per ton, carlots, Montreal; shorts, $42 per ton on track, Toronto.

Montreal, Nov. 17.—The flour market has been active, but there was no change in quotations. A stronger feeling developed in rolled oats, in sympathy with the upward tendency in oats, and millers in some cases advanced the price 25c per barrel, though the general quotations remained as they were previously.

Kaiser Says Italian Collapse Was the Judgment of God

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 18.—Advices received here from Berlin say the German emperor in addressing a Brandenburg regiment on the plains near the Tagliamento, recalled the soldiers' share in the battle of Champagne, at Verdun and Tarnopol. The emperor said: "But you have had a greater task, that of breaking through the Italian front near Flitch and Tolmino—a heavy task considering the mountains and the enemy's immense means of defence. Your success exceeded all calculations so greatly that a higher power than the power of man must have been at work. The enemy's collapse was the judgment of God."

In a later speech the German emperor said:

"We are fighting for faithfulness, justice and truth, and it is these that will win."

HOG COLERA OUTBREAK.

SARNIA, Nov. 18.—Hog cholera has broken out in Port Huron. An attack of the disease has practically wiped out all the stock of J. H. Kinney of Petite street. Forty-seven hogs were killed from the disease, but through prompt action of Dr. Stevens and Dr. Newton of Washington, it is expected that 22 of the the animals will be saved.

LIMITED HITS AUTO.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Mrs. Grace Goodwin, wife of Bert Goodwin, a well-known orchestra leader, and Mrs. Harry Kenneweg were killed and four others were injured, one perhaps fatally, yesterday afternoon, when a Lehigh Valley Railroad limited struck an automobile at Mortimer, a station near here. The fatally injured is Mrs. Kenneweg's daughter, two years old. Bert Goodwin, who operated the machine; Harry Kenneweg and Miss Grace Reus, his sister-in-law, were the others hurt.

EARTHQUAKE NEAR AUSTRALIA.

Melbourne, Australia, Nov. 18.—An earthquake of unusual intensity was recorded here today and also at Sydney. The disturbance was located approximately in the Kermadec Islands, a small British archipelago off the east coast of Australia.

WABASH FARMERS ARE GETTING GOOD PRICES FOR LATE POTATOES

WABASH, Nov. 18. — The fine weather of the past two weeks has given the farmers a great opportunity to finish up their fall work.

Considerable plowing and corn-husking has been done. Beets have been pulled and pitted and are now being chopped and used extensively as hog feed.

Potatoes that were dug and bagged about a month ago have been sorted over ready for pitting. Very few rotten ones have been found. Local dealers are paying $1.75 per bag for them.

Clover threshing commenced in this strict about a week ago, but has been dispensed with during the past few days on account of the dull and cloudy weather.

A meeting of the shareholders of the Wabash corn-shredding outfit took place last evening at the home of Engineer Tim Kelly, and arrangements were made to commence corn-shredding as soon as possible.

As a great deal of the corn is quite soft, it is being pulled off the stalks and thrown direct to the hogs.

Reeve Archie Phillips of Wabash and a number of farmers attended the meeting in Chatham to discuss "Hogs and Feed."

Joseph Anderson, John Law, Alex. Hopper, Fred Mason and William Bibington are making a canvass of Wabash and vicinity in the interests of the Victory Loan bonds.

A REPEATER

Nov. 13, 1917.—James Patterson, of Beattie's bakery, St. Thomas, testifies as follows: "For over five months I was unable to follow my occupation, and it was impossible for me to stand on my feet, owing to extreme rheumatic pains, which at times I seemed unable to bear. I used Parker's Celebrated Oil and can say the pleasure is mine to testify that I am able to walk with ease. The pain and soreness have entirely disappeared. I will always be a booster for Parker's Celebrated Oil." Manufactured and for sale by William Parker & Sons, 10 Mondamin street, St. Thomas, and all dealers.

WATCH VOTERS' LISTS; APPEAL ANY CASES OF SUSPECTED INJUSTICE

Work of Many Enumerators Will Probably Bear Watching.

Some suspicion has been created in certain sections as to the compiling of voters' lists by the enumerators.

Several communications have been received touching on this subject. One man claims that in his town the enumerators are putting on nothing but women voters.

In small towns and rural municipalities, the procedure is to follow the last voters' lists, adding to it the names of soldiers' relatives entitled to vote under the military service franchise act. The enumerators add the names of the women, and strike off the names of men who they consider not entitled to the vote. The voters' lists are taken as the basis for the male vote.

However, there is considerable scope for injustice, and it would be well to scrutinize the lists carefully when they are posted up, and appeal every case, where there is the suspicion of injustice.

In many places, extreme partisans have been selected as enumerators, and some of them will bear watching.

However, it is understood that the enumerators in Ontario are compiling the lists with the voters' lists of this year as the basis. If this is done fairly, and the names of all women entitled to vote on properly, there can be little criticism.

In cities, the enumerators are as a rule not paying the same attention to the voters' lists.

PATHOS AND HUMOR FEATURE CLAIMS OF MANY LOCAL YOUTHS

Deaf Ear Is Turned to Pleas of Mothers.

LIFE OF THE HOUSEHOLD

Businessman's Unusual Request for Son's Exemption Turned Down.

Pathos and humor alike featured the claims for exemption heard by the tribunals Saturday afternoon. A number of cases of women pleading for the exemption of their sons on the grounds of maternal affection, failed to move the members of the tribunals in the performance of their duty, and for the most part the claims advanced by the mothers were refused.

Tribunal 186 was approached by a woman who made a tremendous plea for the exemption of her son on the grounds that she possessed an affectionate disinclination to part with him. The young man was manifestly eligible for service, and when it became evident that the tribunal could not allow the claim the mother became hysterical. She told the tribunal that in her opinion the Canadian boys should not be sent away to fight another nation's battles.

"If you were living in Belgium and were attacked wouldn't you expect your son to go to your assistance?" John Cottam, military representative, asked the woman.

The applicant said the circumstances of her case were entirely different. The application was refused.

Life of Household.

A prominent businessmen of the city sought exemption for his son on the basis that the family could not bear to part with him, as he was the life of the household. Although appreciating the young man's powers of instilling "pep" into the household, the tribunal thought that his services were more urgently required overseas, and the application was refused.

Claiming that he was the sole support of his aged parents a young man applied for exemption on the "peculiar domestic position" clause at Tribunal 186, but was refused when it developed that his statements were untrue. The man's parents, it became evident, lived in England, but according to the applicant were entirely dependent upon his generosity. After being cross-questioned, however, the claimant admitted that he only received $15 per week, and that the last time he had sent money to his parents was six months ago, when he mailed them a $5 bill.

Wants to Sing.

An applicant, who appeared before tribunal 189 sought exemption on three different grounds. He said that he was a Baptist, but notwithstanding this fact, entertained conscientious objections to combatant service. He also said that he would be ruined financially were he drafted to France. Failing to convince the members of the tribunal that he was required in Canada the applicant declared that he wished to remain in the city to continue his singing and piano lessons.

"You will have many opportunities for singing on the western front," one of the members said. "Exemption refused."

A FLUTE RECORD.

Arthur Brooke is one of the flute players in the Boston Symphony Orchestra and is a consummate master of his instrument. This is manifested in a score of ways in his rendition of "The Whirlwind" on Victrola Record 18312. The other side of the record holds a beautiful oboe solo by Arthur Foreman. For sale by Ye Olde Firme of Heintzman & Co., Ltd., 242 Dundas street.

HAS TRENCH FEVER.

Pte. Percy Potter, a Sarnia boy, who enlisted here with the 33rd Battalion, is in the 22nd Casualty Clearing Station in France with trench fever, according to word received here Saturday. He was admitted to the hospital on October 14. His parents reside in Sarnia.

A Good Samaritan.

He told the story of how two years ago he came in contact with the aged couple and immediately began contributing toward the upkeep of their home. He related how he rose in the morning and got breakfast for himself, leaving the table set for his foster parents after he went to work. Mrs. O'Leary is totally blind, and the assistance given to the old couple by Mr. Berryman came in good time, as Mr. O'Leary was fast becoming enfeebled from old age.

The tribunal considered that Mr. Berryman was doing very good work in contributing toward the maintenance of his foster parents, and granted him exemption so long as he continued to support them.

The members of Tribunal 189 decided to postpone the hearing of exemption appeals of G. T. R. employees until November 23, when the applicants will all be heard together.

Many Are Granted.

Because their work is considered to be in the interests of the country, practically every telegraph operator who appeared before the tribunals during the past week was granted exemption. Employees of concerns who manufactured candy, biscuits, or any article of consumption considered a luxury stand little chance of being granted exemption.

Vernon Ball of the McCormick Manufacturing Company, claimed that his occupation was in the interests of production. The tribunal thought otherwise, however, and Mr. Ball's application was refused.

George Fletcher, 119 Thompson avenue, said that he was a farmer, and as such entitled to exemption. It became apparent, however, that Fletcher had not been on a farm for seven years but that he had been making his living as a molder. Exemption was refused.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR GEORGE WYATT LARGELY ATTENDED

Young Londoner Laid Down Life on Heights of Passchendaele.

A memorial service for Signaller George Wyatt, a promising member of the Talbot Street Baptist Sunday school, who was killed in action October 26, was held at the Talbot Street Baptist Church last evening. Rev. H. H. Bingham delivered an address on "Friendship of God," which title, he said, was suggested to him by a letter sent by Signaller Wyatt to his parents shortly before the young man's death. Mr. Bingham read the letter at the opening of his sermon, which follows: "It would surprise you just to see the effect one trip to the line has on some fellows, and if a person would not believe that there was an Almighty before it would not take one long to change his opinion. God seems to be the only friend a fellow has in this country."

Had High Standard.

Mr. Bingham said that to reach the intended meaning of the letter one must read between the lines. The letter does not represent his confession of faith, but a simple, sincere expression of his own soul, the testimony of his own experience. The young man, while a member of the church and while training and serving in the front line trenches maintained a high standard of living. George Wyatt did not believe that his sacrifice would necessarily save his soul, but he relied entirely upon Christ. "The young soldier laid down his life on the heights of Passchendaele," Mr. Bingham concluded. "He and the bereaved have not been called upon to make the sacrifice in vain, for George Wyatt died that freedom might live."

At First Church.

Rev. W. J. Knox delivered an eloquent address at the First Presbyterian Church last night in commemoration of the members of the church who have been killed in action. He featured his sermon with the recommendation that all those who have been bereft of loved ones owing to the ravages of war seek solace in the thought that the young men who have succumbed to the maw of Mars in the performance of their duty died that the great attributes of humanity might be saved.

"These young men gave up their lives in this titanic struggle against forces which are inspired by an ideal of pagan autocracy which has been left behind in the progress of the world's civilization," the speaker said. "It seems impossible that these young men who were all with us three years ago are now enjoying the great reward for their sacrifices. Surely every man and woman here can hear the voice of our heroes crying in a wilderness of blood. Their cry is a message to us to carry on the work which they have begun. It is up to us to finish their work. The young men of the country who have died in an effort of liberating humanity demand with dumb eloquence that those who remain must continue the fight for the benefit of civilization. At this time there must be unity if we are to accomplish our purpose. The man best fitted for the life of the trenches and the man most capable of stimulating production should be set immediately to his respective task, that the great work begun by those who have paid the supreme sacrifice may be efficiently, victoriously terminated."

Mr. Knox added that every man should sink his prejudices. Differences of opinion in politics and national affairs should be eliminated and the country should unite in a solid brotherhood whose sole aim is bringing the present conflict to a successful conclusion.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES WERE WELL ATTENDED

Despite inclement weather, anniversary services at the Dundas Centre Methodist Church were well attended, the church being filled both morning and evening. Rev. Charles A. Sykes, B.D., of Kitchener, and formerly of Toronto, was the preacher at the morning service. He took for his subject, "Jesus as a Church Member." He dealt with people whose idea is that the modern church of today is far behind the times, instead of following the example of Christ and dwell upon its good and make it dominant throughout the world.

"Jesus, the Thesis of Christianity," was his subject in the evening. He pointed out that we, our Lord was upon the earth. He did not wish to be called the Messiah, but that He wanted to live before people and give them the right conception, so that the sum of all impressions would lead His flock to give Him the same kind of trust as they would give to the infinite God only, and that He should live the filial life before them and show them the way to walk through life in harmony with God. Special music was rendered by the choir.

COMMITTEES FORMED BY HORTICULTURISTS

There was a good attendance of the directors of the above society at the regular monthly meeting Friday. The president, S. F. Wood, occupied the chair, A. M. Hunt acting as secretary. Mr. Wood presented a budget to the board, in which he outlined the work that should be done by the society during the year. He suggested that four committees be formed, namely, educational, membership, premium and show committee, each one to have its own special work, as indicated by its name. The suggestions were adopted by the board, and the following committees appointed:

Educational—Messrs. W. E. Saunders, Dr. Reynolds, M. Dale.

Membership—Messrs. W. T. Lawrence, R. A. Somers, H. C. Mitchell.

Show—Messrs. W. McNaughton, T. C. Fleming, A. J. Morgan

Premium—Messrs. J. C. Middleton, W. S. Potts.

The president and secretary to be members of all committees.

The premium committee will soon announce what will be given as spring and fall premiums, and in the meantime the membership committee is working hard to bring the membership this year up to the thousand mark.

Soldier Couldn't Ask Barber in France for a Haircut.

One of the American soldiers writing home from France a few days after arrival commented upon the difficulties experienced in obtaining a hair cut and shave. "Barber shops, few and far between, were always upstairs. I couldn't make people understand what I wanted. Finally after I did find a barber he made me take about everything he had because I couldn't make him understand me and I didn't understand him. I am busy learning French now and the next time I get a furlough I'll talk to the barber in his own language."

This soldier's annoyance might well have been more serious. Knowledge of French for all who go to France is practically a necessity. To meet the demand for knowledge of French the newspapers are conducting a distribution of a new and authoritative book covering the double function of diary and dictionary. This book is The Soldiers-Sailors Diary and English-French Dictionary. It is a handsome volume of pocket size, richly bound in durable textile leather, printed on strong bond paper with gold edges and the diary spaces, being undated, are perpetually good, the possessor being able to start the diary at any time.

The Soldiers-Sailors Diary and English-French Dictionary is being distributed an a coupon plan explained elsewhere in this paper. The book is found to be invaluable nearly everybody, its use not being confined to those in the military service.

LONDON PURSES ARE OPENING WIDE FOR THE VICTORY LOAN

Total Now Stands at $3,330,000, With More Coming.

London purses opened wider than ever Saturday, and in consequence the Victory Loan total for the city reached $3,330,000 at the end of the first week of the campaign. Saturday's total hit the $434,150 mark.

To say that local headquarters staff is pleased with the return is putting it mildly. The staff has worked hard all week. It has been after midnight each night before the list for the day was completed, and the result of the hard work put in by the entire organization is amply seen by the amount already subscribed. The objective set by the city of London by the Ontario headquarters is $5,000,000, and it is expected that it will be easily passed this week, with another seven days still to go in the campaign to get the citizens to not only help the government, but themselves at the same time.

County Campaign.

The county campaign is gathering speed with each successive day. Saturday the rural communities sent in applications to county headquarters totaling $151,000, or $17,000 more than the city. It was the first day that the county put it over the citizens. The county total stands at $466,350, which is some $50,000 behind the objective for the week. However, Chief Organizer A. H. McLennan is satisfied that once the county salesmen get working properly that it will go away beyond the objective of $1,600,000.

T. B. Parkinson's team had the grand average for the week, with $13,120 per day. It will be hard to beat.

Spoke on Sunday.

Sunday the ministers of the various churches in the city all spoke on behalf of the loan. They declared that the buying of bonds was not only patriotic, but a Christian duty, and urged their congregations to invest their money in Victory Bonds.

The following young ladies from McClary's gave up their entire half holiday on Saturday, and gave valuable assistance in assisting the already overworked staff at Victory Loan headquarters: Miss M. Larkin, Miss N. Thurling, Miss R. Rawling, Miss L. Norfolk, Miss M. Cornelius, Miss J. Thomas. Frank D. Sharman also volunteered to help out and was kept busy all Saturday afternoon taking applications at headquarters.

LONDON ELECTRIC IS MAKING ADJUSTMENTS IN CURRENT CHARGES

The London Electric Company has notified its customers that a general re-adjustment of rates is now under way.

According to information given out by Charles T. Barnes, acting manager, today this action was decided when it was found that some of the company's customers were paying too small a figure per month on the flat rate whereas others were paying too high a charge calculated on the same basis.

In order to remedy this the company decided to make a general readjustment.

The price now will be on the flat rate plan on the basis of about 3 cents per kilowatt hour. Where a customer is paying a certain flat rate and it is found this rate figures up more than the above price per kilowatt his monthly rate will be reduced. Where a customer is found to be burning a greater number of lights or using such a quantity of current that his monthly rate puts the price of the current below 3 cents per kilowatt he will be called upon to pay a higher monthly figure if he continues to take the current on the flat rate plan.

The readjustment will be to place the price per kilowatt, on the flat rate, as near as possible to the amount it figures out on the meter system.

TAG DAY NETTED $703 FOR PATRIOTIC WORK

The sum of $703.95 was raised by the Hugh Niven Chapter, I. O. D. E., for soldiers' comforts on Saturday. This chapter has recently been organized and is composed of young girls. Funds were needed for hospital work, yarn for knitting and material for Red Cross supplies, so after the generous support of citizens, to whom the chapter is indebted, this work will be carried forward.

A number of returned soldiers aided in selling tags, a prize being awarded to the one bringing in the best returns. All incidental expenses were taken from the general fund, so that the entire receipts will be devoted to the soldiers' comfort fund. Conveners and sub-committees were: Mrs. W. J. Ashplant, Mrs. C. W. McDonald, Mrs. J. Anderson, Mrs. C. Zwicker, Mrs. E. Moore, Miss Coyle and Garrett Jeffrey. Mrs. Emerson Nichols, regent of the chapter, took a general supervision of the work.

BREAK A CHILD'S COLD BY GIVING SYRUP OF FIGS

Cleanse the little liver and bowels and they get well quickly.

When your child suffers from a cold don't wait; give the little stomach, liver and bowels a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

If your child coughs, snuffles and has caught cold or is feverish or has a sore throat give a good dose of "California Syrup of Figs," to evacuate the bowels, no difference what other treatment is given.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

MEDICAL BOARD'S WORK INCREASES FROM TRIBUNALS

40 Men Sent Up For Examination Before Doctors On Saturday.

27 IN OVERSEAS CLASS

14 Found Fit For Front Line, and 13 For the Non-Combatant Units.

The number of men ordered before medical boards here by the exemption tribunals for examination is increasing daily. Saturday 40 men were examined by order of the seven tribunals. Twenty-seven of these proved fit for overseas service, fourteen being in Class A 2, fit for combatant service, and thirteen attaining Class B 2 standard, fit for non-combatant service overseas. Three were found to be in Class C; the status of one was doubtful. Only nine were declared totally unfit for service.

One man named Dionne from Sarnia applied for immediate service. There were four surrenders under the military service act. One was found fit and sent to the 1st Depot Battalion, Western Ontario Regiment. The remaining three were given leave of absence and will be sent to their units later.

No men were sent by the registrar to be examined

Eight recruits were examined, two from Detroit being rejected. The men accepted were W. Millard, Canada, Detroit, W. O. R.; H. W. Keeler, Canada, Detroit, W. O. R.; R. D. Montgomery, U. S. A., Engineers; B. J. Millaley, Ireland, Engineers; L. MacDonald, Canada, W. O. R.

EVERY KHAKI-CLAD MAN ENTITLED TO SEAT IN HEAVEN

Should Be Given Free Tickets, Says Evangelist.

"If I were running heaven I should give every man in khaki a free ticket," exclaimed Evangelist Gordon V. Thompson, in introducing his address on "Heaven and Hell" last night at Colborne Street Methodist Church. What the Almighty would do, Mr. Thompson said, it was not his business to judge. He believed there was a great undertone of religious fervor among our soldiers and that most of them died firmly trusting in Christ as their Saviour.

The evangelist said he did not care whether hell were a place or a state, it was none the less real. If there were no hell, there ought to be for those who caused this war, and there would be. It would mean pain, separation from loved ones, insatiable desires that could not be satisfied, and haunting memories These facts were deduced from the parable of the rich man and Lazarus.

The singing was conducted by William A. Hines of Toronto, who also sang some effective solos. By special request, a male quartet from the choir, consisting of Messrs. F. Ball, J. Ross, F. Dowling and N. B. Adams, sang "Drifting Slowly Down." The church was crowded to the doors.

The local expenses have now been met by the surplus collections, and no more offerings will be received until the closing meetings, when a free will offering will be given the evangelist.

Great interest is now being manifested in the revival meetings, and between 100 and 200 converts have been recorded. This is the last week of the services, and the topics are as follows: Tonight, "The Leprosy of Sin"; Tuesday, "Mother"; Wednesday, "Who Is My Neighbor?" Thursday, "My Surroundings"; Friday, "Too Much Mustard (amusements)."

BRANDS MAN WHO SAYS "ENOUGH" AS NO TRUE CANADIAN

Speaker At Sunday Concert Pleads for More Men.

"The man in Canada who says that Canada should do no more, should become another Russia, is no true Canadian, and will get no vote of mine," was the statement made by Capt. Hindson, until the introduction of the militia service act chief recruiting officer in this district, acting as chairman at a patriotic concert given by the 7th Regiment Band in the Majestic Theatre last night.

"That man doesn't know the spirit of the Canadian people," he continued. "Our men in France are neither Grits or Tories. They are Canadians, and splendid Canadians. I sometimes think they are the only real Canadians (applause). They are not thinking about elections. They are thinking of preserving Canada, liberty and civilization against the onrush of the German barbarian."

The speaker appealed to the audience to display the same spirit as the soldiers. It was regrettable that an election had become necessary, but it was to be hoped that in the turmoil nothing would be done to dissipate the force and energy of the people.

If any had doubts of the necessity of the act he asked them to consider that in the first class, 315,000 men had already claimed exemption; that of the 33,000 Class I men in this military district, 32,000 had claimed exemption, and that 60 per cent of men whose exemptions had been disallowed were taking their cases to a higher tribunal.

The idea had got abroad, he said, that there was a limit to Canada's participation in the war. "Have we any right to assume that our liability is a limited one?" he asked.

P. H. Bartlett, addressing the meeting, read George Pattulo's tribute in the Saturday Evening Post to Canada's fighting forces.

Speaking on the military service act, he said: "We have to look at it from all points of view. That question of compulsory military service is as old as history itself." He traced its course through the empire of Greece and Rome to France, Europe's greatest democracy, and to the United States, whose constitution provided for the national defence by calling up every white man in the country when necessity demanded. A law of similar effect had been on the statutes here 49 years. The doctrine of military service was founded upon the right of a nation to call upon its sons when it was imperilled. The nation protects the man in every part of the world. Even Paul, in one crisis, had called to his protection his Roman citizenship.

Mr. Bartlett then read the militia act as drawn up by the eminent Frenchman, Cartier, and re-enacted by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in 1904.

Its terms, he said, were much more drastic than those of the present act, and permitted placing under arms every man in Canada between the ages of 18 and 60, not only in Canada, but beyond. No selection was provided, the ballot system being authorized. "That may have been very well for the times in which the act was authorized," he said. "We have to meet entirely new conditions. The forces of Canada today are double the total engaged in the historic battle of Waterloo. You must deal with the problem of home conditions, as well as those of the battlefield."

The concert was held under the auspices of the Overseas Chapter, I. O. D. E. In addition to several instrumental selections given by the band by permission of Lieut.-Col. William Spittal, a solo was sung by Sapper Thomas Corsolo of the Engineers, and a violin solo was played by Sergt. S. McVeigh, A. M. C. Both were heartily encored.

ROSS ROBINSON IS EXPECTED TO RECOVER

Improvement was reported late last night in the condition of Ross Robinson, of Southwold, who was injured Friday night when his coat caught in the flywheel of a gas engine which he was starting on his farm near Southwold. It is expected at St. Joseph's Hospital, where he was taken, that he will recover

Mr. Robinson's injuries were severe. His collar bone and shoulder blade were broken, and his right arm fractured in two places as it was almost pulled from its socket. Nearly a dozen cuts in his head resulted from his striking the engine as he was whirled around by the flywheel. He was attended by Dr. Roy Routledge, of Lambeth.

THIRD SON SIGNS UP WITH COLORS

W. M. Jackson of the general manager's staff of the Bank of British North America, Montreal, has enlisted as a gunner in the 79th Battery for overseas service, now stationed at Montreal. Gunner Jackson is the son of R. W. Jackson, ex-reeve of London Township, and is the third of a family of four boys to put on the King's uniform.
