Labor Would Exclude Orientals From Canada

STATE POLICY ON IMMIGRATION AT CONVENTION

Delegates Favor Formation of Advisory Council for Dominion.

OPPOSED TO BONUSES

Seek to Prevent Hiring of Workers Outside of Canada.

Montreal, Aug. 23.—Total exclusion of oriental immigration to Canada was unanimously endorsed by the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress this morning in the formulation of its immigration policy.

A Dominion advisory council of immigration, formed along the lines of the Employment Service Council of Canada, is also recommended.

The six following recommendations were then passed:

1. Placing among prohibited classes all labor hired to replace strikers, or those hired without the sanction of the employment service of Canada.
2. Opposition to all bonuses or grants to private agencies.
3. Request the British government for closer supervision of immigration advertising and control of booking agencies.
4. In order to relieve congestion in industrial centers, land settlement and colonization schemes should be made available to citizens and others already located in Canada.
5. Medical and other examination of immigrants to take place so far as possible at port of embarkation.
6. Legislation to prevent hiring of labor outside of Canada by private employers.

The last mentioned clause is aimed to prevent the coming of strike breakers into Canada.

SAYS ACT TO BLAME.
MONTREAL, Aug. 23.—Money-grabbers are served up as the cause of the Nova Scotia mine strike by the presence of federal troops, the Dominion trades and labor congress told Premier Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Dominion premier, in a telegram sent him this afternoon following a request by the United Mine Workers of America, district No. 26, that labor's massed protest be voiced on the subject.

Immediately after the wired plea from the president and secretary of the miners at Glace Bay, N. S., was received by President Tom Moore, routine proceedings at the congress were suspended while instructions committee to frame a formal protest to the prime minister. The protest, embodied in a resolution, was passed without a dissenting voice and was ordered to the prime minister and to Premier George H. Murray of Nova Scotia.

Claims Troops Not Needed.
The wire reads:
"With further reference to the use of troops in the Nova Scotia mining industrial disputes, this congress, in annual convention, emphatically approves the telegram sent by President Moore on behalf of the executive council of this congress, protesting against the use and concentration of troops in mining centers as intimidation of the workers and as a too-ready assistance to the money-grabbers, whose only care is their pockets, rather than the rights of the public. The presence of the troops, particularly when there is no disorder (property being protected by the workers) and especially where the miners of Turn to Page 11, Column 4.

LAYS COSTS TO HEALTH RULES

City Clerk Blames Board for Boosting Building Prices.

Scoffs at Suggestion of Inspector Sanders to Erect Cheap Houses.

Branding the suggestion of Sanitary Inspector R. H. Sanders that the city erect houses to rent from $12 to $15 per month to relieve poverty, as an absurdity, City Clerk S. Baker declares that it is in a measure board of health regulations that cause the cost of building in Ontario to soar.

Sanitary Inspector Sanders suggested civic-owned houses, at cheap rent, in his report to the board of health Tuesday night.

"It's an absurdity," declared the city clerk Wednesday morning. "The board of health should not make such a suggestion when board of health regulations make houses more expensive. The city could not build houses without putting in all sanitary conveniences, and the board of health demands them."

"If the board would permit building houses without these conveniences, it could be done. I understand that some shacks are being built in the annexed district to rent cheaply, but the people will not go out there. In Detroit the city lets people live in all kinds of conditions until they are able to build decent houses."

"Of course, this building of cheap dwellings must be a private enterprise," concluded the city clerk, "because the municipality could not build them without installing all sanitary conveniences. The people would not stand for it."

Mayor J. Cameron Wilson is inclined to treat Inspector Sanders' recommendation lightly.

"There is no likelihood of the city acting on Sanitary Inspector Sanders' suggestion," was the sole comment Mayor Wilson had to offer on the report.

BELIEVE BRITISH TRADE DEPRESSION IS LIFTING
Manufacturers and Shipyards Experience Improved Demand For Finished Products.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Tangible indication that the British trade depression is lifting is found in the orders arriving from abroad, particularly for the iron, steel and jute industries.

It is stated that the first effects of the autumn demand are already being felt in the distinct improvement in the amount of business transacted, it was reported at yesterday's meeting of the London Iron and Steel Exchange.

Inquiries for considerable quantities of pig iron are being received from America. The producers of finished materials are laying in stocks apparently in anticipation of an important expansion of business shortly.

Dundee firms are working on orders for five million grain bags for Russia. In the past few weeks the Belfast shipbuilding yards received orders to resume building or the re-conditioning of a number of vessels whereon work was suspended, owing to the trade depression.

Inquiries for new tonnage are becoming much more numerous and the output so far this year is greater than in the corresponding period of 1921.

MINERS EXPECT REPLY TO NOTE

Telegram of Protest Sent to Premier King at Summer Home.

Believed Troops Will Soon Be Withdrawn From Nova Scotia.

BULLETIN.
Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 23.—The scale committee of the Pittsburg Coal Producers' Association today ordered the 1920-22 scale posted at all mines owned and operated by its members, but declined to yield to the demands of the United Mine Workers that the check-off provision of the scale be enforced. About 45,000 union miners are affected.

Sydney, N. S., Aug. 23.—Organized labor's protest against the presence of troops in the strike areas of Nova Scotia will, it is expected, be replied to by the prime minister today. The telegram of protest was received at the premier's office, it is understood, and was at once forwarded to Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, who is at his summer home at Kingsmead today.

It is pointed out at the militia department, however, that under the law the government is compelled to await a request from the local authorities before the troops which have been sent into the strike area can be ordered withdrawn. In view of the continued order being maintained by the miners themselves, it is not expected to be very long before that request reaches the authorities here.

The 1921 rate of wages, a two-year contract, and the reinstatement of all employees of the company who may have been discharged for refusing to take the place of strikers in the early stages of the walkout, will be the principal proposals of the United mine workers when the Sydney coal peace conference reassembles this afternoon at 2:30, according to usually well-informed circles.

The members of the British Empire Steel Corporation and the United Mine Workers' delegations would say nothing officially.

It seems probable that the negotiations today will adjourn again until Thursday.

Dr. Clarence Mackinnon, principal of Pine Hill Presbyterian College, Halifax, called in as an extra representative by the United Mine Workers, has not attended in Sydney, and the conference this afternoon will go ahead without him. Official reports from the coal fields say that all was quiet during the night in Cape Breton south.

Hon. D. D. McKenzie, solicitor-general, arrived in North Sydney this morning, and it is reported that he will use his influence to effect a settlement of the coal strike.

OFFER INCREASED WAGES.
Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 23.—Forty thousand bituminous miners in Westmoreland and Fayette counties today had before them an offer of increased wages equal to the highest the mining industry has ever paid. In these two counties, generally known as the non-union field before the call of the miners' strike, many of the men are now organized, and the public today awaited developments from the heart of the bituminous region.

Union leaders representing 75 locals, controlling more than 10,000 miners, voted almost unanimously to pass up the average increase of nearly $2.50 a day until recognition of the union was accorded by the independent companies making the offer.

Mine operators today were prepared for a rush of returning miners, and extra deputies were on hand to prevent disorder.

CONVICT MINERS' LEADER ON CHARGE OF SLAYING
St. Clairsville, Ohio, Aug. 23.—Domenic Venturato, president of the coal miners' local, the first of seven defendants to go to trial, was convicted yesterday of first-degree murder in connection with the shooting of John T. Major, a non-union miner on June 27. His counsel today planned steps for a new trial.

Collins' Brother Claims No True Irishman Killed Famous Leader
CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—Bandon, County Cork, where Michael Collins, Irish leader, was assassinated last night, is just 12 miles from Clonakilly, where he was born, said his brother, Patrick Collins, Chicago police sergeant, when informed of Michael's death.

"Many is the time Mike and I have walked to Bandon as boys," the sergeant said. "Never would I believe anybody in that town would kill my brother."

That his brother had been expecting to be killed was revealed, Sgt. Collins said, in a letter the Irish leader wrote a fortnight ago.

"But he wrote me that if I did get the news that he had been killed to know that he had died like a Collins and fighting for Ireland," added the Chicago man.

"If it were a real Irishman that killed Mike, I would say the Irish race stands disgraced. But I know it was not. It was some blackguard not fit to wipe his boots."

URGE REMOVING OVERHEAD WIRE

E. V. Buchanan Believes Telegraph Companies Should Take Action.

Hydro Wires To Be Taken Down in Business Section Within Week.

That the time is now ripe for the city council to take action to clear the streets of the downtown districts of all overhead wires is the opinion expressed Wednesday by E. V. Buchanan, manager of the Public Utilities Commission.

Within a week or ten days the Public Utilities will begin removing hydro wires from Dundas and Richmond streets, between Ridout and Wellington streets, and the G. T. R. and Fullerton streets. The district will then be supplied with light and power by underground cables which will be laid, with connections completed, within a week.

With the hydro wires out of the way, Mr. Buchanan believes the council will obtain results if they ask the telegraph companies to remove their mesh of wires from the main thoroughfares.

Mr. Buchanan stated that the companies had expressed willingness to take action as soon as the city had taken steps to remove the power wires.

If the telegraph companies will comply with the city's request in the near future Richmond and Dundas streets will soon be clear of all unsightly poles and wires, except those of course which feed the street railway.

The Bell Telephone already has placed its wires underground. The public utilities have been working steadily for weeks at a tedious task of laying huge cables through manholes on Dundas and Richmond streets and making connection therefrom with all stores and business houses. The cables have all been laid, and it remains now only for some of the stores to complete inside connections before the overhead wires can be removed.

With the completion of the task all poles west of Richmond on Dundas street will be removed. As the hydro wires have merely a right-of-way over the telegraph poles on Dundas street east of Wellington, poles will not be removed from the north side of the street until the telegraph companies take action.

With the placing of all wires underground the business district of the city will be given a lower insurance rate, more than making up for the cost of changing inside power connections in the various stores.

The work of changing the hydro wires will cost the city between fifty and sixty thousand dollars.

W. J. BOWSER WILL LEAD CONSERVATIVES IN B. C.
Convention at Vancouver Supports Meighen's Request For Name Liberal-Conservative Party.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 23.—Hon. W. J. Bowser, leader of the Conservative opposition in the British Columbia legislature, was re-elected leader of the party in this province at the Provincial Liberal-Conservative convention here last night. His election was made unanimous.

Balloting occupied the attention of the delegates throughout the evening. Two other names were before the convention, those of Hon. H. H. Stevens, M.P., and H. L. Howe, president of the provincial branch of the National Liberal-Conservative party.

The vote follows:
Bowser 252, Stevens 201, Howe 27.
The name "Liberal-Conservative Party" was accepted by the British Columbia Conservative convention at the afternoon session yesterday. While many delegates stuck to their objection to "hyphenated" titles and diluted versions of "Conservative Party," which they claimed was good enough for any party, the motion was finally carried after eloquent appeals from Senators Taylor and Green and Leon Ladner, M.P., for the adoption of the name suggested by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Aug. 23.—President E. G. Grace, of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, today announced an increase of 20 per cent in the wage rate for common labor, together with an equitable adjustment in the rates of other classes of its employees, effective September 1.

DELORME CASE AGAIN TO FORE

Dr. Brochu Refuses to Certify Former Cleric Incapable.

Montreal, Aug. 23.—The whole question of Adelard Delorme's condition will be reopened in the superior court on Aug. 30, at the continuation of hearings on interdict proceedings instituted by a Delorme family council.

Montreal, Aug. 23.—Interdict proceedings taken by relatives of Adelard Delorme, the priest who was charged with the murder of his half-brother Raoul, and was committed to the asylum, will be affected by an announcement of Dr. D. Brochu, superintendent of the Beauport Asylum, where Delorme is detained, that he cannot give a certificate that the priest is unable to attend to his affairs.

The certificate of the doctor is required so that a trustee can be appointed to administer Delorme's estate. Dr. Brochu's report on Delorme was today forwarded to the lawyers for the family, who applied to the courts for the interdict order.

The decision of Dr. Brochu practically amounts to a statement that Delorme is not insane, and will probably cause a number of complications under the law if Delorme is pronounced sane according to the satisfaction of the attorney-general's department, he can be placed on trial for the murder of his brother. The decision will also have direct bearing on a claim that might be put in for payment of the $25,000 life insurance of Raoul Delorme.

YOUTH LOSES LIFE IN ATTEMPT TO SAVE DOG
Hood River, Ore., Aug. 22.—John Young, 18, son of Owen D. Young, former president of the General Electric Company of New York, was killed here today—having given his life to save a dog.

Young was employed as material checker in a construction camp of the Pacific Power and Light Company here.

The camp dog, which had been Young's companion, ran in front of a moving locomotive on the front of which Young, late yesterday, was riding.

The boy leaped from the engine, snatched at the dog in an effort to throw it to safety, but slipped and fell directly beneath the wheels of the moving train.

He died before help could reach him.

SCOTS GATHER FOR GRAND TIME

United Caledonian Society Stages Mammoth Picnic at Port.

Middlesex and Elgin to Contest Honors in Tug-of-War.

Scotchmen for miles around gathered on Inverie Heights, Port Stanley, at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon, primed and ready for the great events which are to form the first annual picnic of the United Caledonian Society of Elgin and Middlesex. The day is to see a revival of all the old Caledonian games and customs which the hardy forefathers of the Ontario Scotch practiced in the pioneer days of the province, and it is safe to say that few forthcoming events have aroused keener anticipation than this revival of the old Caledonian picnic.

It is but a few weeks since the Caledonians of Elgin and Middlesex commenced to think about a union, but already the signs of their progress are manifest in the gigantic picnic which they are staging at the lakeside.

There are to be a hundred and one things of interest, but the supreme feature of the day is the tug-of-war between Elgin and Middlesex, for which the London Free Press has donated a silver trophy, and for which James Gray, J. R. Drummond, A. L. Hodgins and J. W. Froehorne have donated cash prizes. In addition to these, substantial awards have been given by the John Marshall Company.

Captain T. E. Robson, county treasurer of Middlesex, captains the Middlesex team, while the warden of Elgin leads the Elgin bunch.

There are twelve classes in the dancing exhibition, and there will be piping as well.

Wrestling on the green and putting the shot are all scheduled.

REPORTS 3,000 LEAVE FOR WEST
C. P. R. Passenger Agent Makes Statement on Harvesters' Excursion.

"Nearly three thousand persons left this section of Ontario for the harvest fields of the Western Provinces this year," said H. J. McCallum, city passenger agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway Wednesday morning.

Two special coaches containing more than 100 harvesters left the city this morning at 7:30 for the last excursion to the west. A large number also left on the noon train.

The first excursion on August 17 claimed the majority of those intending to take the trip, said Mr. McCallum. The special train run from Windsor to Toronto, via the C. P. R., on that date was overcrowded and the noon train leaving London had more than 1,000 excursionists on board.

The Canadian Pacific Railway in its weekly crop report issued in Winnipeg Tuesday gave a conservative estimate of the season's crop at 317,000,000 bushels while the Winnipeg Grain News declares that the output will reach 350,000,000 bushels.

Owing to the bumper crop it is expected that some districts in the prairie provinces will find it difficult to get enough help. Conditions are far different from those in 1921 when the Canadian Pacific cancelled its second excursion because the harvesters on the first special met the requirements of the farmers.

URGES RINSING OF CREAM CANS

Board of Health Will Ask Provincial Authorities To Pass Law.

Manufacturers Claim Containers Rust As Result of Consumers' Neglect.

Expressing the opinion that containers used to deliver ice cream should be rinsed and dried before being returned to the manufacturer for refilling, members of the board of health, in session Tuesday night, decided to write the provincial health authorities and ascertain if a measure to enforce such a suggestion can be introduced.

It was pointed out that a local bylaw would be useless in this regard, because ice cream manufacturers send much of their product out of the city to nearby centers, and the metal containers, in such cases, would be returned dirty. These manufacturers are in favor of a law compelling their customers to clean the cans, one firm declaring that a loss of $3,000 per season is sustained by rust on the interior due to failure to rinse the containers.

The board of health also decided to ask the provincial authorities for advice on the suggestion to compel consumers of bottled milk to rinse out the bottles before returning them to the dealers.

Urges Raised Stands.

In addition, the board recommended to the city council that a bylaw be prepared compelling dealers in market produce to place their vegetables and fruit upon raised stands in front of their stores to prevent dust or animals from coming in contact with them. Sanitary inspectors have complained that street vendors, in the habit of throwing their fruit and other refuse into the streets and urged that they be compelled to carry a garbage can on their vehicles.

No action was taken, because city bylaws provide a fine if these offenders are detected throwing refuse into the road. The board decided to become a member of the Canadian Tuberculosis Association, expressing the opinion that this body is accomplishing good work.

On receiving information that there is no sanitary sewer connection for houses on Hill street between William and Adelaide streets, the members present recommended that as the ratepayers desired such an improvement a sanitary sewer be installed for their convenience. This recommendation will be forwarded to the city council.

In his report to the board for the month of July Sanitary Inspector Sanders pointed out that twenty restaurants were inspected, and that with one or two exceptions they were in first-class condition. Flies and need of facilities for sterilizing dishes were the chief complaints in one cafe.

Commend Bylaw.

Butcher shops were found to be all right, and the butchers invariably commented favorably on the new bylaw preventing the public from handling meat before purchase, declaring it to be a very sanitary measure. Inspector Sanders reported that fish shops have been improved, "but the wagons were not what they should be, and the owners were given notice to put them in proper condition or they would lose their licenses."

The time-worn complaint that soft drink vendors have, as a rule, poor facilities for sterilizing glasses, was once more reported by the inspector. Chinese laundries, yards and cellars have been improved recently, according to the report.

Regarding houses, six were inspected, four of which should be improved because the owners refuse to improve conditions, but Inspector Sanders reports that the tenants cannot afford to pay the rent demanded for better dwellings.

"It would be a good sanitary measure and a help to a large number of citizens if the city would build small houses to rent from $12 to $15 per month," said the report. The total number of inspections conducted during July by Mr. Sanders was 188, while Inspector Ross made 278 calls.

Tourist Business a Boom For London

$2,400 SALE MADE.

One store last week sold for presentation a $2,400 diamond to a tourist, who was in search of very fine quality and, of course, he went to John A. Nash, My Jeweler, 183 Dundas street, where you will eventually buy."

INVESTIGATE COAL COSTS IN TORONTO

TORONTO, Aug. 22.—The local agent of the Welsh colliery called at the city hall today to offer $50,000 tons of Welsh anthracite coal at $12, f.o.b., Montreal. To bring this to Toronto by rail would cost $1.10 per ton, transportation charges at Montreal would be 75 cents a ton and the cost of handling in the yards at Toronto would be 60 cents a ton.

This would make the price in Toronto about $17.50 a ton. Details as to the size of the coal are to be furnished before the city takes any action.

ESTIMATES WHEAT YIELD AT 350,000,000 BUSHELS

WINNIPEG, Aug. 22.—The Grain Trade News in its weekly crop report made public here today, estimates the wheat yield of the three prairie provinces this year at 350,000,000 bushels. This compared with a total crop in the banner year, 1915, of 360,000,000 bushels.

However, the total acreage in 1915 was only 13,867,715, while this year the prairie provinces have between 20,500,000 and 21,000,000 acres sown to wheat.

According to the Dominion bureau of statistics estimate, based on conditions prevailing to the end of July, the prairie provinces should harvest 297,781,000 bushels. The Canadian Pacific Railway, in its weekly crop report issued yesterday, estimated the yield of the prairie provinces at 317,000,000 bushels.

HAVE NEW PLAN TO END STRIKE

Brotherhood Chiefs To Submit Proposals At Conference of Rail Heads.

Four Surprise Factors May Influence Action of Association.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Four surprise factors entered into the United States rail strike situation today, any one of which, according to representatives of the roads and brotherhoods, may vitally influence the action of the Association of Railway Executives when it meets tomorrow to consider peace proposals for mediation with the Big Five Brotherhoods. They were:

1. The announcement that presidents of three powerful eastern roads, Samuel Rea of the Pennsylvania; E. R. Loomis of the Lehigh Valley, and William Besler of the Jersey Central, were expected to arrive from Europe on the Majestic in time to participate in the conference of the Association of Railway Executives.
2. The grant by three large steel corporations of a 20 per cent increase in the wage to its several hundred thousand day laborers.
3. Assertions by L. F. Lorse, president of the Delaware and Hudson, and chairman of the Eastern Presidents' Conference, that predictions of a strike settlement and peace in the industry were "all bunk."
4. The announcement that several of the brotherhood chiefs are en route from the West with proposals for settlement of the shop crafts strike, which they will submit to rail executives if all other peace advances fail.

The decision of the steel corporations to raise the wages of laborers, announced just twenty-four hours prior to the scheduled meeting of the executives, was hailed by the strikers as a point in their favor. It not only justified their refusal to accept wage cuts fixed by the railroad labor board, they said but was ample proof of an impending industrial boom which would put the railroads, with their thousands of bad-order cars, more than ever in need of their old repair forces.

DIVIDES SECTION OF LAND NEAR BLENHEIM INTO LOTS

District Being Opened Up For Erection of Summer Cottages.

BLENHEIM, Aug. 22.—A considerable tract of land owned by William D. Bates at the entrance to Government Park in Harwich Township, has been laid out in lots for him by an Ontario land surveyor and will be offered to the public for building purposes soon.

Mr. Bates has for years owned a very desirable tract of land, being part lot 1 just off the town line in the Point of Pines, but up to date it has not been offered for building purposes.

So popular has Government Park become as a summer cottage resort this year, a large number having been erected, that Mr. Bates is opening up his land for that purpose.

He proposes, it is understood, to have the sub-division registered and will have regulations governing the building upon them and the sanitary conditions that are to prevail. Buildings will not be allowed to be erected closer to the streets, all of which are 65 feet in width. Buildings erected must be of a certain value and the plans approved of before erection.

Harwich Township Council have struck their rates for 1922 as follows: County rate 13 2-10 mills, township rate 5 mills, general school rate 3 2-10 mills—total 21 4-10 mills.

This is reported as 2-10 higher than last year, but is owing to the higher county rate, as the township rate is 9-10 lower than last year.

HELD ON CHARGE OF HOMICIDE

Robert Ormiston of Mitchell Arrested Following Sunday Accident.

Coroner's Jury Declares Motorist Exercised Best Judgment.

SPECIAL TO LONDON ADVERTISER.

STRATFORD, Aug. 22.—Robert Ormiston of Mitchell, whose auto killed Bert Cook on the Mitchell highway Sunday, was arrested and brought to the city today. He is charged with culpable homicide.

The coroner's jury last night returned an open verdict, declaring Ormiston used his best judgment in taking the north side of the road to avoid a collision.

The warrant was sworn out on the following charges, preferred by Provincial Constable Kirby:

That Robert Ormiston did kill one Bert Cook, by his omission without legal excuse to observe and perform his legal duty.

A spark from the power house chimney alighted on the roof of the "subshop" at the G. T. R. this morning and caused a small blaze.

Mayor Gregory, Ald. C. R. Myers, J. A. Andrew and J. B. Waugh will have charge of the Stratford booth at the Made-in-Stratford Exhibition at the Toronto Exhibition.

Another big shipment of coal was received this morning by the G. T. R. for use in this district. This shipment consisted of 25 cars, and now brings the total received up to 50 cars.

The departure of large numbers of harvesters for the West within the past few weeks has apparently made little difference in the farm help situation here, according to M. C. McPhail, local agricultural representative. A good farm hand is always acceptable, he said.

William Miller, who was brought back from Peterboro on a charge of stealing $40 from J. A. Dempsey of Ellice, pleaded guilty today before Police Magistrate Makins, and was remanded for sentence.

D. Davidson of this city has been appointed apprentice examiner of the G. T. R. system, succeeding A. J. Chenoweth.

The marriage took place here Tuesday of Annie Gaffney, London, to G. M. Edwards of London.

GRANTS INTERIM RESTRAINT ORDER

Toronto Judge Halts Waterfront Radial Project Until End of Month.

TORONTO, Aug. 22.—Justice Kelly has granted an interim injunction until August 31 restraining the city council from taking further steps towards executing the agreement for the entry of the hydro radials along the city's waterfront. On August 31 the court will hear argument as to whether the agreement is a valid one or not.

There has been much opposition in many quarters against the action of the city council in agreeing to the entry of the radials along the waterfront. The writ asking a declaration that the proposed hydro radial entrance agreement between the city of Toronto, the Toronto Harbor Commissioners and hydro-electric power commission of Ontario is in violation of the rights of the ratepayers entered on behalf of Cecil R. Peckover, the board of trade. They sue on behalf of themselves and all other ratepayers.

The writ also asks a declaration that the agreement is ultra vires of the defendants that any resolution of the defendants to enter into the agreement will be illegal and voidable and also that the agreement is in violation of the municipal act and a breach of trust by the city and harbor commissioners.

The marriage took place here Tuesday of Annie Gaffney, London, to G. M. Edwards of London.

REPORTS TOBACCO MATURING RAPIDLY

Crop in Kent County Expected To Be Harvested Next Week.

TORONTO, Aug. 22.—The following is a summary of reports made by the agricultural representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

Tobacco in Kent has been maturing rapidly of late owing to the warm weather, and it is reported that some of it will be harvested next week.

Lincoln says: "Early St. John peaches are now appearing on the market and this crop constitutes the first of our high quality peaches. There is likely to be a large supply, and consumers can get good quality varieties from this on. A few Wyoming Red grapes are being offered. This is the first of the early grapes. There is a great demand for peach picking here, and as the season advances the demand is likely to become acute until the end of September."

Halton, speaking of the apple crop, remarks: "Spies and Baldwins are rather scarce. There is a good crop of Kings, McIntosh Reds, Snows and most other varieties. Scab is very prevalent and considerable deformed apples. Apples grading No. 1 will be very scarce in the county."

Weather Hurts Corn.

Kent fears that the dry, hot weather has brought corn along unduly, with a possibility of it not filling too well at the tips.

Grey calls attention to the following bumper yield of fall wheat: "In the Beaver Valley, near Clarksburg, a sample of fall wheat taken from the machine weighed 63 lbs. per measured bushel, and when cleaned at the mill it weighed 66 lbs per measured bushel."

In Kent, however, where over one-tenth of the entire fall wheat of the province has been raised, the crop is not increasing in popularity, judging by the following statement of the representative: "The comparatively poor yield of wheat in some sections due to the ravages of the Hessian fly, coupled with the present price, have made farmers consider whether they are pursuing the best course in growing such large acreage of wheat in this county. My personal opinion is that a larger number of live stock, particularly cattle and hogs, will have to be introduced."

Peel says: "First crop alfalfa seed is being harvested with a promise of large yields. There will be very little of the second cutting worth keeping for seed. This is not podding at all satisfactorily, probably due to the leaf spot, which is common in many fields."

Fort William reports that the sunflower sward crop in the Slate River Valley is making wonderful growth.

Kent states that there are some big steers in that county that should have been marketed earlier.

Ship Mixed Stock.

Leeds says: "Small carlots of mixed stock are being loaded at the country points, but there is hardly enough stock of any one kind to fill a car. Prices are lower if anything, with hogs at $12.25 a cwt., cows and bulls 30 a lb., good calves 6c, and lambs 8c."

Dufferin states that farmers are shipping lambs earlier than usual this season, but that too many farmers are careless in the matter of supplying the weight best suited to market demands.

Dundee states that the buckwheat crop is looking well this year and that there should be a good flow of dark honey.

Lambton and Addington says: "Cross plowing, skimming and double discing, especially on unseeded fields, are methods of after-harvest cultivation practiced by farmers in this county, and no doubt will control any noxious weeds as well as better prepare the land for the 1923 crop."

Lambton says that Holland and Swiss laborers are being placed on farms in that county for fall and winter work.

Perth maintains that the harvest excursions to the West have had no serious effect upon local farm labor conditions.

Fall plowing is progressing satisfactorily.

CRUISER PICKS UP CREW OF SEAPLANE

Report Airmen On Trip From New York To Brazil Safe.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Lieutenant Hinton, pilot, and "the members of the crew" of the seaplane Sampaio Correia, which left Nassau, in the Bahamas, today for Haiti in its flight from New York to Brazil, were picked up by the U.S.S. Denain at 7 o'clock this evening in latitude 20 north, longitude 84.38 west, according to a wireless message to the naval communications office here tonight from the Guantanamo station. All those on board the craft were understood to be included in the report that "the members of the crew" had been rescued.

Upon the report being received from the cruiser Denver, it was added, a station tug was sent to assist in salvaging the seaplane. No other details were contained in the brief message received here.

SHOE FIRM INAUGURATES CAMPAIGN OF EDUCATION

The Hurlbut Shoe Company of Preston has inaugurated an advertising campaign to educate parents on the proper care in the selection of children's shoes.

The Hurlbut Shoe Company is to be congratulated on its campaign regarding the care of children's feet. Cramped feet will hinder the school boy in his studies at school, the company points out, and gives pointers for keeping the children's feet in condition. Incidentally, the Hurlbut Shoe is manufactured especially to meet the needs of growing, red-blooded school boys and girls.

Several types of shoes for children are sold. The Hurlbut trade mark on any shoe is an assurance of comfort, satisfaction and good quality. The Hurlbut Shoe is widely recommended for school children.

RATIFY HYDRO PURCHASE OF RADIAL INTERESTS

TORONTO, Aug. 22.—The Ontario government late this afternoon passed the order-in-council ratifying the clean-up deal, whereby the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, for a consideration of $32,000,000, secures the power and radial interests belonging to the MacKenzie syndicate.

The government's order gives general approval to the transaction. The whole matter was purely formal, the report of the crown law clerks simply showing that all papers concerned were in order, and recommending the government's approval.

KIDDIES ENJOY PUTTING AT PORT

Youthful Patrons of City Playgrounds Hold Frolic at Lakeside.

Youthful Londoners Aid in Giving Youngsters Happy Time.

Few days have seen so very many youngsters so supremely and completely happy as Tuesday when Port Stanley was thrown open to the thousands of London kiddies who have been patrons of the civic playgrounds. The youngsters, to the number of over two thousand, left the city in the day fall of the joy of participation, revelled at the lakeside in full joy of realization, and came home at night, tired out and happy, but full of the joy of remembrance.

Of Serious Nature.

The day was not passed without some minor mishaps which are bound to occur when a crowd of youngsters are together for a good time, but there was not a single accident of serious nature to mar the day—condition which may be credited to the careful supervision of Mel Brock and his assistants.

The London and Port Stanley Railway bathhouse with all its splendid equipment became the kiddies' for the day. The lake was rough and thus afforded the children the extra joy of "jumping the waves" and thus they sported a treat which even the dandiest swimming pools at the playgrounds cannot provide. It did take, however, extra work for the supervisors, and they were kept busy keeping an eye on each youngster to see that none ventured too far out to become in danger of being overcome by the waves. Only one little girl strayed to a distance, but she was speedily brought back to safety. The members of the Mother's Club were on hand when it came to sorting out the clothes and looking after the dressing, and a large share of the credit must go to them for the expediency with which matters were handled.

The management and employees of the London and Port Stanley Railway were more than generous in their contributions to the day. In addition to allowing the children full run of the conveniences, employees were on hand ready to lend a hand in giving assistance to the kiddies, and nothing which might have been done was overlooked.

Regaled With Goodies.

It goes without saying that a picnic is not a picnic without ice cream, peanuts, lemonade and so forth, that a day might be in every sense a day of plenty. These were on hand in abundance, and each child was royally regaled with as many goodies as it could stomach. It was possible for one little boy to throw away his supply.

There were no races, contests or prize-giving. The intention was to give each child an equally fortunate day and to make no one more fortunate than the rest, so that all these things are dispensed themselves, and while the water there were many who loved progress gained in swimming racing with one another, but the links were all impractical and arranged amongst the kiddies themselves.

Believing that the object in life is to give happiness to others, it would be most seen that, if joy could be measured out, those seven men who fathered the undertaking had done their share and could rest their laurels for the rest of their lives.

The day was the happiest days of the children's lives.

E. V. Buchanan, manager of the public utilities commission, which department has the handling of the playgrounds, was in attendance and a hand in looking after the children, and he was in an appearance during the day and contributed in some measure to seeing that each kiddie had a good time.

There was a baseball game between the east and west playgrounds to feature the afternoon program, and the last of 21 to 3, and in a game played between the girls' teams, the girls of the East End were also victorious with a score of 14 to 13.

There was not one who was not basking in the pleasure of assisting with the outing, but also there was one who would not have admitted that it had been a strenuous undertaking and that they were glad it was all over, and over without accident.

CHIEF OF POLICE Robert Birrell, who is on vacation, returned from a trip to several places, including Detroit, and attended the Scotch picnic at Port Stanley today. In none of the centers he visited is the traffic better regulated than in London, he declared, and London, he has concluded, is indeed the best place in which to live.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

So long as we love, we serve. So long as we are loved by others, I would almost say, we are indispensable, and no man is useless while he has a friend.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

TOMORROW'S DOINGS.

THURSDAY—Human Society meets at City Hall, 8 o'clock.

RAYMOND ASHTON, clerk on the assessment department at the city hall, has returned to his duties after enjoying holidays in New York.

SEVERAL MINOR actions, most of them suits for small sums of money, were disposed of in the ninth division court by Judge J. C. Judd at the court house this morning.

MEMBERS OF THE Hackett L. O. L. are holding a "Corn Cob Garden Party" at 312 Wharncliffe road north, Thursday night. A good program has been prepared, in addition to which the London North Brass Band will be in attendance.

WORK ON THE NEW Western University bridge over the north branch of the Thames river is progressing rapidly. Already two cement piers on the east side have been constructed and work has been started on others. The bridge will be completed by December 1, it is expected.

FOR DRIVING north on Richmond road near King street without having license markers, supplied by the minister of highways, on the front and rear of his car, G. E. Blackstock was fined $10 and costs in police court this morning by Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon.

ACCORDING to a postcard received Wednesday by a member of The Advertiser editorial staff from the Assessment Commissioner, Stephen Grant, who is holidaying at Cedar Brook, that popular civic official is enjoying his annual vacation very much in Muskoka.

TO COMPETE with the youth of Perth County, a junior catch-judging team from Middlesex composed of Duncan McCallum, Clinton Sells and Daniel McTaggart, of Appleton, and George Mackintosh, of London, will visit Mitchell on Thursday. The team probably will be accompanied by R. A. Finn, district representative of agriculture and of the Springdale also of that department.

D. G. WAIDE has taken out building permits to erect a two-story brick-vener residence on Thornton street, estimated to cost $2,300 each. In addition, J. A. Beechie has taken out a permit to construct a two-story brick-vener residence on Thornton street, costing $5,500. Building permits for the new number 79, and the total estimated cost of the work involved is $115,995.

MEMBERS OF THE Irish Benevolent Society viewed the downpour of rain Wednesday morning with indifference, and congratulated themselves that they did not agree with the suggestion of city merchants, who, desiring to stage Dollar Day on August 17, urged that the society picnic be postponed until August 23. As a result of the refusal to change the picnic date, the Irish Benevolent Society enjoyed ideal weather for their annual outing.

INCOME TAX APPEALS will constitute the bulk of the agenda of the court of revision which meets to hear protests against assessment for ward one in the city hall Friday night. There are 86 appeals listed to be heard, and of this number 47 are against income assessment. Of the remainder, 27 appeals are against overassessment of land and buildings, 5 are against business tax assessment, and 5 are against frontage measurements entered on the assessment's rolls. Friday night will probably mark the final sitting of the court this year, as appeals have already been heard on the other three city wards.

WITH THE ARRIVAL of a carload of desks and furnishings for the South London Collegiate, work on fitting that school for opening on Sept. 4 is well underway. The students' desks will be of a commercial design, so constructed that the top will lift, making room for books and supplies on the inside. The chairs are separate, so that they may be used to supply the auditorium as the occasion arises. The school has been thoroughly cleaned and renovated and the desks for the teachers have already been installed. Public schools, the Technical School and the collegiates will all open on Tuesday, Sept. 4, the board of education desires to remind pupils. There has been some misunderstanding that the opening day would be the first day of the month.

MILITARY PLANES COLLIDE.

Pisa, Italy, Aug. 23.—Two military airplanes collided in mid-air near here today at a height of 1,000 feet. The two pilots and two observers were crushed to death under the wreckage of the machines.

PLAY PARK KIDDIES TO HOLD SPORTS

E. V. Buchanan Expects 4,000 Children to Attend Big Meet.

Saturday next will remain long as a bright spot in the lives of thousands of children, patrons of the eight city playgrounds, for on that day one of the largest sport meets ever held in this city will be staged at Thames Park, with children from every playground competing.

It is estimated by E. V. Buchanan, general manager of the public utilities, that at least 4,000 kiddies will meet at the city hall Saturday at 1:30 o'clock, from whence, headed by a band and with colors and banner floating, they will march to the spacious grounds of the park. Throughout the day every sport imaginable will be indulged in, and exhibitions will be given of physical training and games.

A three-ringed circus will be a feature, and swimming events in the large pool will be something new. In four of the playgrounds swimming has been taught this year, and so it is expected that the aquatic sports will be keenly contested.

Final games of baseball to prove the champions of the City Playground League will be played. Volley-ball and a tennis tournament will follow. A huge track meet will establish the championship for athletics among the various grounds. Efforts have been made to discourage the idea of individual championships, as the belief of those in charge that setting up of champions in sports has a detrimental effect on the purpose of the instructors, to develop generally a love of play and healthy sport among the children of the city.

To effect this, championships will be awarded only to playgrounds as a whole. Each ground will be asked to enter representatives in every event, but the same boy or girl cannot be entered in two events. In this way, it is hoped that the sports will have a far-reaching effect among the children.

The games will be supervised by the various playground supervisors.

SAYS COAL RATION SCARE IS ENTIRELY UNWARRANTED

Mayor Wilson Declares He Has Heard Nothing of Appointment of McCallum.

Condemning the published statement that steps will probably be taken to ration out available fuel supplies to London homes as unwarranted, and likely to alarm the people unnecessarily, Mayor J. Campbell Wilson declared, Wednesday morning, that there is no foundation for the assertion that License Inspector J. W. McCallum may be deputized to supervise distribution of coal in London this winter.

"The first I knew of it was that I saw in the paper," declared Mayor Wilson, "and I have heard no more about it. There is no use publishing such statements and getting citizens who have no coal excited. It is making things more serious than they actually are, and should be stopped. Under our present plans, we hope to have a supply of coal for everyone at reasonable prices, and there will be no homes in London without fuel this winter if we can help it."

SENDS LONDON GIRL TO MERCER ON THEFT CHARGE

Court Gives Violet Atkins Indeterminate Sentence For Stealing Jewelry.

Declaring that he should have confined her to an institution on her first appearance in court when she stole a bicycle, Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon sentenced Violet Atkins, 16 years old, to an indeterminate period of not more than two years in the Andrew Mercer Reformatory on a charge of theft, in the police court this morning.

According to the complainant, William Wilcox, the girl was doing some cleaning for him at his home on Thames street, when she stole some jewelry which he had previously shown her.

Her mother sat beside her on the prisoner's bench when she was awaiting sentence. When her fate was known, the mother kissed the girl good-bye, while an officer waited to take the girl away. Then the mother left the room.

TO WORK UNTIL MIDNIGHT LAYING STREET CAR RAILS

Large Gangs of Men Are Employed To Hasten Undertaking.

In an effort to avoid delaying city employees engaged in laying an asphalt pavement on Dundas street east, the London Street Railway Company has instructed gangs of men laying new rails on this job to work until midnight each night. This extra work, it is hoped, will keep the rail laying ahead of the pavement gangs and thereby expedite the job.

Employees of the city engineer's department began concreting the south side of Dundas street from Asinand avenue to the city limits Tuesday afternoon, and a second mixer for concrete will be put on the job Thursday. The trackwork is well under way, and night gangs are welding the ends together.

"Every bit of dirt will be excavated on this job by Thursday afternoon," declared the city engineer, Wednesday. "As for completing the job by Fair week, I may say that we will have a good shot at it, but we may be held up. It is not up to us but the London Street Railway Company to keep the job going, because we can keep ahead of them and want them to keep ahead of us in laying their rails."

Oyez! Oyez! Oyez! Take Notice, Tax Installment Day, Aug. 31, Draws Near

Statistics at the London branch of the Dominion taxation department show that the majority of people in Western Ontario paying income tax do so in one installment and that a very small percentage take advantage of the four installment plan whereby the payments are spread over a period of several months.

J. W. Plewes, assistant inspector of taxation, stated Wednesday morning that the logical reason for this is that six per cent interest is charged on all accounts being paid in installments, and if the taxpayer fails to pay the installment before a set date the interest jumps to ten per cent.

FILMS LONDON AS "CITY OF HOMES"

Federal Government Prepares One-Reel Picture of Municipality.

The exhibits and publicity bureau of the department of trade and commerce, Ottawa, has just completed the production of a one-reel motion picture dealing with the city of London, which will be ready for fall release in Canada through the Canadian Universal Film Company.

The picture has been entitled "The City of Homes." The film contains many of the beautiful spots in and around London, and also stresses the point that London has probably the highest home ownership average in the North American continent. The nearest approach to the London record is the city of Des Moines, Iowa, with a home ownership percentage of about 60 per cent.

Those who have had the privilege of seeing a pre-release of "The City of Homes" state that it is one of the best productions of the Seeing Canada series that has been made by the exhibits and publicity bureau for some years.

MAKES PLAN FOR WHEAT DISPOSAL

Dunning of Saskatchewan Telegraphs Suggestion to Premier King.

Regina, Sask., Aug. 23.—(Canadian Press.)—A cable suggestion outlining the method which might be adopted by the banks to assist the farmers to market their grain in such a manner as to prevent the glutting of the wheat market, and a consequent depression in prices, was telegraphed yesterday to Premier King by Premier Charles A. Dunning of Saskatchewan.

Pointing out that the banks stand at the "base of the pyramid of credit," Mr. Dunning suggested that "if they could devise some means of extending credit to enable more gradual liquidation," he felt sure that the effect would be felt through all classes of creditors "down to the farmers, and probably prevent slaughter of wheat prices."

Mr. Dunning points out that merchants as well as farmers stand creditors to the banks in considerable sums of money, and his proposal involves a gradual liquidation of their bank indebtedness by all creditors, thus eliminating the necessity for merchants and other creditors to wait for cash payments early in the fall.

MRS. GEORGE HOPKINS, DURHAM CITIZEN, DIES

DURHAM, Aug. 22.—The death occurred this morning of Mrs. George Hopkins in her 66th year. Only last week she became seriously ill with severe pains in her leg. Dr. Groves of Fergus was sent for, and pronounced it sarcoma, or disease of the bone.

She suffered intensely, and on seeing no remedy other than amputation, this took place on Sunday forenoon. The patient rallied, but was too weak to survive the shock.

Deceased was a daughter of the late William Leacock, born in Bentinck, and married there. Her husband predeceased her 19 years ago.

The family consists of three sons and four daughters. Mrs. Peter McIlvride, Rapid City, Man.; Alex and Robert, 2nd con. Bentinck Township; William, Proton Township; Mrs. Currie, near Rapid City; Mrs. C. Moughton, Bentinck, and Dolly of Toronto.

Council May Make Short Shift Of Left-Handed Turn for Motorists

Ald. Gordon Drake's proposal that the left-handed turn for motorists be prohibited at Dundas and Richmond streets will likely be given short shift by the city council at its next meeting, following the action of down-town merchants who have lined up 100 per cent strong against this alteration in traffic rules.

Holding that to compel a motorist to go around the block to reach their stores, rather than to allow him to take the left-handed turn at the main corner, will drive business away from them, these merchants have prepared a petition urging that Ald. Drake's proposal be thrown out, and every merchant approached has expressed a willingness to sign it.

As soon as Alderman Drake's suggestion was referred to the city council recently, Alderman L. H. Douglass publicly condemned it and characterized it as an absurdity, more typical of a village set of traffic regulations. He declared that he would oppose the suggestion in city council.

MRS. J. ARMSTRONG DIES WEDNESDAY

Well-Known London Woman Succumbs After Year's Illness.

After a long illness, Mrs. Annie McColl Armstrong, 349 Maitland street, widow of the late James Armstrong, M.P., Wilton Grove, Westminster, died Wednesday morning, August 23, at 5 o'clock.

She had been suffering for more than a year from acute heart trouble, when she contracted influenza and pneumonia early in March, complications developing.

Mrs. Armstrong had for several years been unable to take part in the Women's Missionary Society and other organizations in which she was deeply interested, owing to ill-health. She was a member of the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, and a member of the Women's Missionary Society.

She was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan McColl, Lilac Dale, Westminster, born and living there until the time of her husband's death, when she moved to the city.

She is survived by one son and one daughter, Murray and Isabel C. Armstrong, both of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. John H. Elliot, Lilac Dale, Westminster, and Mrs. F. McColl, London. The funeral, which will be private, will take place from her late residence to Woodland cemetery, on Friday, Aug. 23, at 2 o'clock.

MEET TO FIND NO MEETING CALLED

Three City Fathers Affected by Fit of Forgetfulness.

It happened Monday night, but the secret did not leak out until Wednesday. Although members of the city council, in session last June, decided to dispense with the regular meetings scheduled for the third Monday in July and August, this fact was apparently overlooked by at least three city fathers.

Last Monday night, Ald. O. I. Cunningham drove up to the city hall shortly before 8 o'clock, and was heard to express surprise at the fact that none of his fellow councillors were on the job for a regular meeting. Within a few minutes Ald. F. R. Watkinson hove in sight, and he too expressed surprise that the other aldermen were so tardy.

After exchanging their views on the subject, Ald. Cunningham and Ald. Watkinson perceived Ald. John Ashton sauntering up the street. However, Ald. Ashton's wit was equal to the occasion, as suddenly remembering that he had set out on a wild goose chase, as there was no meeting scheduled, he proceeded to chaff the other two city fathers for their forgetfulness.

"How is it that you are here then?" asked Ald. Cunningham.

"Me?" replied Ald. Ashton. "Oh, I was just coming downtown this way."

And now Ald. Watkinson and Ald. Cunningham are circulating the rumor about the city hall that the city council held a minority meeting Monday night.

COULD PLACE 6,000 MEN ON HARVEST

J. A. Bowman Blames Railway Executives for Western Labor Shortage.

Winnipeg, Aug. 23.—J. A. Bowman, superintendent for Manitoba for employment of Canada, declares eastern railway executives would have assisted materially in relieving the present shortage of farm help in Manitoba had they granted his request for the privilege of allowing harvesters to work first in Manitoba and then continue through Saskatchewan and Alberta at excursion rate, instead of asking for the ordinary rate after a stopover.

He charged comparison of existing conditions with those of 1915 as odious inasmuch as in former years the one-cent rate was in operation, while this year it costs the man 27 cents a mile to travel west. In addition to this difference harvesters were permitted to first of all work in Manitoba fields and continue west as crops ripened, at one cent mile fare.

"We could place 6,000 men on the farms of this province were they available to us," Mr. Bowman stated. Harvesters from all parts of Eastern Canada, from Maritime Provinces to Eastern Ontario, forming the second contingent to be brought west by Canadian Pacific Railway, commenced arriving in Winnipeg this afternoon, when 870 men and women from Nova Scotia were ticketed and sent on to their final destinations. Women were few; it was learned, but more numerous than is customary on trains coming such distance. Ontario harvesters arrive tomorrow.

County's Spree Rates Are Higher Than City's.

IT costs a person $3.95 more to be arrested for being drunk in the county than in the city, even when the action is tried in the same court. A drunk, who had been arrested by Provincial Officer Stanley at Springbank Park Tuesday night, was fined $10 and costs in city police court this morning.

The costs amounted to $6.95. Of this the city costs amounted to $2.50, and the officer's to $4.45. Usually the city gets its regular $2.50 and the city officer 50 cents. The provincial officer's costs included mileage. License Inspector J. E. Kennedy laid the information.

SAYS BRITISH CROP BADLY DAMAGED

Geo. T. Hiscox and Wife Return After Visit to Old Country.

Returning to London after a six weeks' visit to England, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Hiscox of Queen's avenue state that in many agricultural sections of that country the crops have been seriously damaged by the excessive rains experienced this summer. Unusually cold and disagreeable weather has also alternated with the rainstorms, and altogether the outlook for the British farmer is not very hopeful, according to Mr. Hiscox.

While they were in England a cloudburst occurred over the city of Manchester, with the resulting destruction of many thousands of dollars' worth of property.

That a serious scarcity of food and considerably increased prices may result from the damage to the harvest by the rain, is regarded by Mr. Hiscox as quite possible.

While overseas, Mr. Hiscox visited the birthplace of his father, the late Thomas Hiscox of London, at Shepton-Mallett, in Somersetshire, and also the home of his mother's people at Merton Park, in Devonshire, near Plymouth.

Returning on the Empress of Scotland to Quebec, they had as a fellow passenger, Ven. Archdeacon Cody, former minister of education in Ontario, who had been to Buckingham Palace to preach before King George V. and other members of the royal family.

On the Sunday evening which they spent on board they attended services conducted by Hon. Dr. Cody, assisted by Rev. M. George Thompson of Greenwich, Conn.

Mr. Hiscox was the weather on the homeward trip that the heating system of the steamer was turned on full, and Lieut.-Commander E. Aikman, R.N.R., told them that in his experience of many years he could not remember any previous August when artificial heat was required on an Atlantic trip.

SEEK PERMIT TO NAME HIGHWAY

Municipal Delegates Meet Hon. F. C. Biggs in Connection With Plan.

Desire Road From Niagara to Windsor Included in "Roosevelt Highway"

Final permission to designate the provincial highway from Niagara Falls to the Windsor Border as a portion of the "Teddy Roosevelt" transcontinental highway will be obtained, it is expected, from Hon. F. C. Biggs, minister of public works, at a meeting in Hamilton Wednesday. Mr. Biggs was scheduled to visit Hamilton Wednesday in connection with the opening of several highway bridges, and the Chamber of Commerce in the city took advantage of his proposed visit by calling a meeting of representatives of all municipalities interested in the scheme of designating the road, and invited him to be present.

Representatives from Windsor, Chatham, Woodstock, Brantford, and several other places left for Hamilton early Wednesday, confident that the minister would give his approval to the plan before night.

Mr. Biggs has expressed himself as favorably inclined towards marking the road as a portion of the "Teddy Roosevelt" highway, and so it was felt that very little argument would be necessary.

Every important municipality on the provincial highway has now expressed itself in favor of the scheme. Woodstock was the latest city to express its attitude. In a letter to the London Chamber of Commerce Wednesday morning full approval was given.

It is proposed to mark the highway in Ontario by a red and white sign without the letters "T. R.," which will be used on the highway on the American sign. It is expected that by designating the road in Ontario a large number of tourists will be attracted to this portion of the continent and that the cities and towns through which the road passes will benefit accordingly. Ontario will also obtain considerable publicity in all parts of the United States.

London is represented at the Hamilton meeting by John Bridge, of the chamber of commerce, and C. E. Bernard, of the London Motor Club. A. W. Tracy of Duluth, secretary of the "Teddy Roosevelt" highway, who has been in London for several weeks in connection with the designating of the Ontario portion, also attended the meeting.

BOAT TRAIN SERVICE ENDS IN MIDDLE OF SEPTEMBER

Last Eastbound Passenger From Point Edward to Leave on 15th of Month.

Word has been received by local G. T. R. officials that the last boat train this year will run from Point Edward to Toronto via London on Sept. 15. The last eastbound train will leave on the 15th of the month.

About the 1st of September the passenger traffic on the Great Lakes begins to lessen, and by the middle of the month it isn't heavy enough to warrant the running of special trains to and from Point Edward. After Sept. 15 the boat traffic will be handled on the regular trains.

All the passenger steamers plying the Great Lakes this summer have enjoyed an exceptionally heavy season, it is said, and a decided increase has been noted in the number taking the special excursions from Detroit and Sarnia to Duluth and return and from Buffalo to Duluth and return.

That Drury Letter.

THE TORONTO STAR can see nothing in the letter which Premier Drury sent to his colleagues, intimating that he was certain he could secure a larger measure of support for his administration.

"But what is there wrong with the letter?" asks The Star, "and what could be more natural than that Mr. Drury, or any other political leader in his position, should write it?"

"He wrote to staunch supporters all over the province with a view to increasing the support which his administration enjoys. This is something in which every political leader must take an interest. He asked those to whom he wrote to send him, in confidence, the names and addresses of men in towns or cities who would now be likely to support his administration, although they had not formerly done so. He wanted to hear from his staunch supporters what they thought about holding a convention representative of all citizens, whether former supporters or not, who would now be prepared to support him. In substance it means that the present government desires to attach to itself that enlarged support which the premier believes it has earned by the service it has given."

"Has any political leader been in office in this province or anywhere else who has not written that letter, or one like it, in his desire to make his position secure?"

"How can this letter be regarded as a challenge to Mr. Morrison except by those who desire to bring these two into conflict? What possible objection should Mr. Morrison have to the scoring of such a success by the present government as to earn it a much wider support than that with which it began?"

The Morrison group would regard the bringing of new urban support to the Farmer government as diluting the membership. It is right on that one point that the whole affair hinges, and this will be amply shown in the next few months.

Maximilian Harden's Views.

WHETHER the world agrees with MAXIMILIAN HARDEN or not, it has always been willing to grant to him the fact that he had the courage of his convictions, even in the face of kaiserism or in the face of the same elements that seek to once more plant kaiserism in Germany.

Right now HARDEN is urging that in the best interests of Germany, Britain and France should pull together, and few men are better posted on international relations than the same HARDEN.

The uninitiated never expected to hear a plea of this nature come out of Germany. They have been fed on very different stuff—that France or England's necessity be Germany's opportunity—that, if she could pry them apart, she could eat them up separately, one after the other—that every scowl and scoff that passed between London and Paris brought a broad grin of satisfaction to the face of Berlin.

Those who suppose that Germany, in 1922, is thinking along these lines are themselves thinking in the terms of the Prussian junkerdom of ten years ago. The monarchist party, of course, clings to its ancient dream. The Communists see visions of victory through discord.

HARDEN, however, speaks for the modern progressive German citizen under a new regime—and, seeing that this citizen is numerous enough to keep a republican government seated in Berlin, against the plots of the monarchists on the one hand and the Reds on the other, he comes pretty near representing the Germany of today.

HARDEN, it must be remembered, is a newspaper man with strong Socialistic tendencies. Before the war he was a thorn in the side of the militarists. During the war he was dubbed "a defeatist" and his paper was twice suppressed. A few weeks ago the reactionaries attempted his life.

He regards his country as a land of vast industrial possibilities, a land capable of developing the highest ideals in government, a land whose international relations should be made beneficial to her neighbors and herself.

Just as naturally he opposes any policy that would strengthen the hands of either the monarchists or the Reds.

In a complete split between France and Britain he sees both these dangers for Germany. Any temporarily successful monarchist coup in Germany might finally plunge the whole country into Communism—it would scarify the ancient war wounds—it would destroy her last hope of rebuilding her financial structure. The entente helps to keep Germany republican.

Germany, he says, needs a strong friendly France, and France needs a strong friendly Germany. International trade between these two powers is essential to the rehabilitation of Europe.

A split between France and England would further demoralize the whole of Europe; and Germany would be the first to suffer. In further combination among the powers France, Britain, Germany, Italy, Scandinavia, not in further division, MAXIMILIAN HARDEN sees the only hope for Germany.

He does not speak for the whole of Germany, but he does speak for the element in modern Germany on which her future rests. He knows that republican Germany can deal better with a Britain and France in accord than with these two powers in discord.

Fabulous Riches.

THIRTY gold coins, of the first series of gold coins ever minted by man, are dug up by American archaeologists in the buried ruins of Sardis, ancient city in Asia Minor.

These thirty coins were minted by Croesus, last of the kings of Lydia, and first big international banker.

You have heard the expression, "Rich as Croesus."

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER could buy and sell Croesus at least a dozen times over. Yet Croesus' name endures on through the ages as the greatest symbol of wealth, in all important languages.

It was Croesus' ability in handling money, rather than his actual cash, that made his wealth proverbial.

The psychology of this is that people are less interested in possessing wealth than in getting more. That was Croesus' way. He could start with a shoestring and keep trading until he had a million.

You see this principle at work in HENRY FORD's appeal to the popular imagination.

There are several men in the world with about as much money as Ford. Yet they are seldom heard of. Ford's wealth would not fire the average brain if he had inherited it. The glamour that surrounds his bank account is due to its being built up from practically nothing.

Ford, you know, only a few years ago, ran a bicycle repair shop.

People, in their mad scramble for wealth, are more interested in accumulating more and more than in reaching any definite fortune. When it comes to wealth, most of us are insane—with a pronounced wealth-phobia.

Croesus became king when he was 35. This was in the sixth century B. C. He was a great conqueror and specialized at collecting tribute.

Solon, famous Athenian sage and law-giver, was asked by Croesus: "Should not my vast wealth make me the happiest of men?"

Solon answered that no man is really happy who is yet alive. This, of course, was ridiculous cynicism—the "sour grapes" line of big talk frequently heard from financial failures today.

Socrates, the truly wise, if he had lived in Croesus' time, and could have looked into the future 2,500 years, would have said to Croesus:

"Money and gold are not the real wealth. Far ahead, in the year 1922, I see workers. As far as money is concerned, you would call them impoverished."

"Yet they have porcelain bathtubs, automobiles, choice foods brought from the far corners of the earth, and thousands of other comforts and conveniences—the real wealth of life—denied to Croesus. And you, mighty Croesus, would give half your kingdom for a little device called a radio, which poor boys of the year 1922 will make for a few dollars."

Wealth cannot be expressed in terms of dollars piled on top of other dollars.

A miser may have a trunk full of money, and he may have a heap more under the kitchen floor, and yet be the most miserable old skinflint on the face of the earth.

DR. BISHOP'S ADVICE

EXOPHTHALMIC GOITER

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

AVE you ever noticed persons whose eyes protruded from their sockets? Ten to one, these persons had what is known as exophthalmic goiter.

This is the most serious form of goiter. The simple form of goiter is accompanied usually by enlargement of the neck and an operation on such a goiter is not fraught with great danger.

However, the operation on a goiter which is accompanied by rapid pulse, tremor and great nervousness, is dangerous.

Generally the first symptom noticed in the case of exophthalmic goiter is a rapid pulse. The heart beats fast at times, causing the victim to say there is palpitation, and throbbing in the neck. Then the eyeballs protrude. Enlargement of the throat gland comes in even sooner or later, though not always noticeably. Trembling of the hands is an easily noted sign. Persons with goiter are continually on edge mentally. They are nervous, irritable, depressed and liable to insomnia.

Some good rules to follow are: Avoid all excitement or irritation. Get an abundance of rest. Go to bed early, sleeping long hours and taking a mid-day nap. Sleep in a thoroughly ventilated room. Eat and drink nothing that irritates the nervous system. Eat slowly and chew thoroughly. Avoid foods difficult to digest. Eat little meat. Drink plenty of milk. Eat foods prepared with milk, cream or butter-milk. Avoid meat broths, and such organs as sweetbreads, liver, kidney, tripe and pluck. Eat freely of cooked fruits and vegetables and very ripe fruits. Drink fruit juices prepared from ripe fruits. Eat eggs, butter, bread, toast, rice and cereals. Drink an abundance of good water, known to be pure or distilled or boiled. Use no tobacco.

Seen and Heard by a Summer Vacationist At Grand Bend

IN A ROOM which they shared together at Ottawa, W. G. Euler, M. P. of North Waterloo, and Dr. Rankin, of Perth, for many weeks looked over politics. At the weekend, these two looked over the troubled waters of Lake Huron, which were pounding around in as lively a fashion as the stormiest days of the last session. Between sessions, the genial doctor from Stratford attends to the aches, pains and hurt feelings of Stratford, while the hard-hitting Euler from Kitchener puts new ginger into his newspaper property.

AND then on Sunday afternoon the scribe ran into Oscar Griffith, of Parkhill, and near by was his brother Fred, of London. The third corner was held up by Lou Phippen, of Sarnia. All were from Parkhill in the early sixties, and naturally talk turned to things that used to take place there. The history of the place was pretty well reviewed, and it was established for a fact that Dick Stookes opened up his barber shop there in 1837, and in the meantime had moved over 87 miles of Parkhill, Williams and McGillivray whispers. "LET George do it!" That's the rule on Woodward avenue, Exeter side. In this case the ham-mock wouldn't stay put—there had been too many young people trying its capacity. The neighbors all said: "Get George." George came, armed with a brace and bit that would make a hole in a wall. Next day the scribe's typewriter went on the blink. It would neither go nor stop, and somebody sent over word, "Get George." George came with a jack-knife and a wise look. He said the thingamajig that held the doorknob in shape was wrong. Turned it on edge, spread it on the floor—pasted it together again. It runs. Another chap had a garage floor that ran uphill. Word came that George had a wheelbarrow, a spade and a knowledge of excavation. So George came, saw, dug and departed, and garage is all right now. Some person wants a trunk moved, a jag of wood. George has a truck and a car. Nice little truck, minus wind shield, mud guards, etc., the etc. In this case including 157 things that most people swear are needed to run a car. But the truck goes it, held together by faith and good works. Then on Sunday they wanted some person to preach to some 400 campers at the open air church on the Parkhill side. So they let George do it, and he did it thoroughly. Well, George in this case is Rev. George A. Leichter, pastor of Adelaide Street Baptist Church, London. In odd moments, between looking after the wants of every person in general, he is finishing up his own cottage, "Alabama Lodge." Campers vote him a decided success either as a preacher, architect, carpenter, carter, handy-man or summer citizen generally.

DEPARTMENT stores may think they have variety, but they have absolutely nothing on one of the vegetable men who comes around here every day or so to see that Grand Bend starveth not, neither is faint. His three staple lines are vegetables, limburger and kittens. If he can't sell vegetables he turns to his sweet-scented limburger, and if he fails in these two, he has his last chance for business in a ten-cent cat. A few years ago folks used to put each fresh crop of kittens in a sack and toss the outfit in the river. This latest apostle of thrift throws them out to campers at ten cents per head. A cottage that hasn't got a dose of limburger or a ten-cent cat simply isn't in the running at the Bend.

Cars Damaged When Drivers Lose Control On Oily Kitchener Street

Special to London Advertiser. KITCHENER, Aug. 22.—Too much tar and oil on Church street caused a unique motor accident, when two cars slipped completely around in descending the hill toward Queen street and crashed against trees at the side of the road, demolishing their left rear wheels.

A third car essayed the hill, but Alma College grounds. Dr. F. E. Bennett, president of the society, reports that dozens of entries have been received from all parts of the province, and that everything indicates that this exhibit will be as large as that of the American Gladiolus Society, which showed here last year.

Every available room at the college will be filled with flowers, while the trial gardens, west of the college grounds, will be in full bloom.

Large Exhibits Arrive. Among the large exhibits which have arrived are those of Campbell Bros. of Simcoe and the horticultural societies of Guelph and Weston.

A telegram was received from J. Lockie Wilson, superintendent of horticultural societies in Ontario, stating that he will arrive in St. Thomas Wednesday noon, and will officiate on behalf of Hon. Manning Doherty, Ontario minister of agriculture, who is unable to attend the show. Dr. Reynolds, principal of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, is also expected Wednesday. He will be one of the guests of honor at the banquet in the Grand Central Hotel, department of Agriculture to display

Protests are being received from all sections of the city of the method used in oiling the streets. The oil is smeared on over the entire surface so that traffic has no choice but to wade through.

Wednesday evening. A special program has been arranged by Bandmaster John Grieves for the weekly concert of the Elgin Regimental Band, which will be rendered on the Alma College grounds, Wednesday evening. During the evening, Mr. Grieves will sing "Land of Hope and Glory," by Edgar, while John Bridgeman will sing "The City of Flowers," by J. H. Coughlin, which proved such a hit at the American Gladiolus Society's show last year. Kiwanian E. H. Coughlin will have charge of the community singing.

Plan Toronto Display. A large marquee is being erected on the college grounds where ice cream and soft drinks will be served by the members of the Ladies Auxiliary, the proceeds to be devoted toward financing the show.

So prominent has the city become among those in which special attention is given to flower culture that a special stand is being erected in the grounds of the Canadian National Exhibition by the Ontario department of Agriculture to display gladioli grown here, Dr. Bennett reports. The choicest blooms, many of them the finest in America, will be sent to Toronto, and besides giving pleasure to all flower lovers, will have great value in attracting attention to this city.

HEPWORTH BOY INJURED WHILE OPERATING BINDER

Russell Hammond Struck by Kickers When Horses Start Suddenly.

Special to London Advertiser. HEPWORTH, Aug. 22.—Russell Hammond, fourteen-year-old son of "Mac" Hammond, a farmer near Hephworth, met with a very painful accident on Friday.

He had finished cutting a field of grain and was removing the last sheaf of grain from the binder, when the horses started and the kickers of the machine in coming around struck him on the mouth.

His tongue was cut three parts through, requiring three stitches to close. He is doing as well as can be expected.

MORRISON WILL MAINTAIN STAND

Declares Himself Firmly Opposed To Drury's Broadening-Out Policy.

Fears Premier Has Selfish Motive in Urging Broader Party.

KINGSTON, Ont., Aug. 22.—Speaking to several hundred persons at the U. F. O. and U. F. W. O. picnic at Fair's Grove at Glenburnie this afternoon, J. J. Morrison, secretary of the U. F. O., made it clear that he was opposed to the broadening-out policy of Premier Drury, and he declared that King and Drury wanted strong governments so that they could govern the country in the manner they wished, yet both declared that strong oppositions were needed to keep them doing right.

It had been suggested to him, he said, that the Drury government desired to broaden out in order to hang on. But he had never seen a government that did not desire to hang on, and still hanging on was not wise. The best thing to do was to go to the people and ask them if they wanted them to hang on.

Judge Grants Request For 2-Year Term.

OTTAWA, Aug. 22.—Sentenced to a term of one year in jail when he pleaded guilty to a charge of theft, William McGuire implored Judge Achim in Hull police court this morning to "please give me a two-year sentence." The request was granted. The prisoner, who ought to know, since he has ten previous convictions to his credit, was prompted to make the unusual request by the fact that he did not like the Bordeaux jail, where he probably would have gone. He preferred the penitentiary, and he will accordingly be transported to St. Vincent de Paul.

The other fellows wanted to come into the U. F. O. party. They believed in its principles, so they said, and they knew the machinery of government better. If, however, they were allowed in, they would dominate the party and the U. F. O. would be back where it started from. A resolution was passed to the effect that the U. F. O. and the U. F. W. O. of Frontenac County were of the opinion that as the U. F. O. and the U. F. W. O. elected the present provincial government, they should demand to be consulted in connection before any action was taken in connection with changing the name of the political party in Ontario. Addresses were also delivered by Mrs. W. Wilmet of York, a provincial director; W. S. Reed, M.P.; J. L. Haycock, ex-M.L.A., and D. C. Rogers, county director, who presided.

BOARDS MAY UNITE TO SETTLE RAIL DISPUTE

Special to London Advertiser. ST. THOMAS, Aug. 22.—From the fact that conciliation boards for Michigan Central and Pere Marquette shippers, which have been sitting here, have practically the same question to solve, it is regarded as probable that the two boards will confer in making a finding. Although nothing official has been given out, it is said that a meeting of the members of the two boards may be called in a few days, following the completion of the evidence taken in the Pere Marquette shippers' case in Windsor, and the situation carefully discussed with the view of reaching a mutual understanding, if possible, and making a joint recommendation to the department of labor.

It is probable that the representatives of the shop crafts federations and the companies' officials will also be consulted. The feeling still prevails that the railway strike will be settled in the United States before the conciliation board decisions are handed down, and that all danger of local walkouts will be eliminated.

1000 Eggs in Every Hen

New System of Poultry Keeping—Get Dollar a Dozen Eggs—Famous Poultryman.

Tells How

"The great trouble with the poultry business has always been that the laying life of a hen was too short," says Henry Trafford, International Poultry Expert and Breeder, for nearly eighteen years Editor of Poultry Success. "The average pullet lays 150 eggs. If kept the second year, she may lay 100 more. Then, she goes to market. Yet, it has been scientifically established that every pullet is born or hatched with over one thousand minute egg germs in her system—and will lay them on a highly profitable basis over a period of four to six years' time if given proper care. How to work to get 1,000 eggs from every hen; how to get pullets laying early; how to make the old hens lay like pullets; how to keep up heavy egg production all through cold winter months when eggs are highest; triple egg production; make slacker hens hustlers; $5.00 profit from every hen in six winter months. These and many other things will be told in a new book, '1,000 EGG HEN' system of poultry raising, one copy of which will be sent absolutely free to any reader of this paper who keeps six hens or more. Eggs should go to a dollar or more a dozen this winter. This means big profit to the poultry keeper who gets the eggs. Mr. Trafford tells how, if you keep chickens and want them to make money for you, cut out this ad and send it with your name and address to Henry Trafford, Suite 470N, Herald Bldg., Birmingham, N. Y., and a free copy of 'THE 1,000 EGG HEN' will be sent by return mail.—Advt.

MAIL-BOX RULES.

1. Write on one side of paper only.
2. Sign name and address.
3. Inclose stamped envelope.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.
Dear Miss Grey.—Here I come again, already yet so soon, eh? Well, those riddles didn't prove so hard after all, did they, Cynthia? I see where Betty Bee answered them correctly in today's paper, believe I can answer hers, too. As round as an apple, as busy as a bee, the prettiest little thing you ever did see. Answer: A watch. Brothers nor sisters I have none, but that man's father is my father's son. Answer: Brother.

I'm anxious to know your name, Betty Bee, so I'm sending for your address.

I'm sorry, Cynthia, I didn't send self-addressed envelope for Hawaiian address, but will do so this time. I guess I hadn't my thinking cap on.

ONLY A GAL.
Please, please write on one side of the paper only. I guess you have never heard the Mail-Box rules or you wouldn't have done this. Only a Gal. The first is: write on one side of the paper only. 2. When asking for addresses, patterns, etc., please inclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope. 3. Write with pen and ink. I am sending on Betty Bee's and Hawaiian's addresses, as you remembered to inclose the envelope this time. Now that you know the rules, I know you will not break them again.

HAS EIGHT CHILDREN.
Dear Miss Grey.—This is my first attempt to write to your interesting Box, and as I am in need of help, thought I might get some here. My husband is a returned soldier and not able to do a day's work, and as I have eight children, four boys and four girls (girls' ages 17, 12, 12 and 1 years and boys' 9, 7, 4 and 3 years), would be very grateful if some person with any clothes to spare would send them to me, or any clothes which I could make over. I would pay the postage on same. I have to work hard myself, and find it hard to clothe them all. Hoping to receive help, I am,
A MOTHER OF EIGHT.

P. S.—My address is with Miss Grey. Inclose a dime for S. C. H. fund.

You have a large family to take care of, Mother of Eight, and it must keep you hustling to look after them all. We have so many requests for help that the Mail-Box is getting pretty well cleaned out by now. I hope, though, you receive some help, as you are deserving of it. Thank you for remembering our hospital fund when you are in such straitened circumstances yourself. Your elder girl will soon be able to help you, won't she?

ANSWERS TO RIDDLES.
Dear Miss Grey and Friends.—Here I am again. This is my second letter to your Mail-Box. I have not enjoyed my holidays very much, as I have been sick, but am feeling better now. I saw where Only a Gal had put some riddles in. I think I can answer one: What relation is your mother's brother's brother-in-law? Answer: My uncle by marriage. I saw where Buskins wants to correspond with someone her own age. If you will send her address I would write to her.
ROSEBUD NO. 2.

I am sorry you have been ill, Rosebud No. 2, and hope you are well enough now to enjoy the remainder of your vacation. If you send a stamped, self-addressed envelope repeating your request for Buskins' address, I will be pleased to send it to you. The answer you have given is correct. You have forgotten and written on both sides of the paper.

TWO SHADES OF GERANIUMS.
Dear Miss Grey,—I am just sending for Moss Rose's address, as I see in today's paper she is getting very anxious for help. Also could I have another S. F. pattern, for I have never been able to find mine since moving a year ago.

I have two shades of red geraniums. Anyone wishing slips could get them.

I would like very much to get a pink and white, or I would prefer a clear pink petunia slip. I have plenty of single, just grown from seed, but would like one for a house plant. I must hurry away, as I am a very busy mother. Find mine inclosed for hospital fund. Will sign as before,
ERIKUM.

Certainly you may have another stocking foot pattern. They are hard to keep track of, yet very useful. It is good of you to offer your geranium slips, and hope you receive petunia slips in return. Geranium is offering slips. I will send her address along with Moss Rose's, and you can write to her direct. Thank you, Erikum, for the hospital fund. The box is getting pretty heavy, so I will have to soon turn in the mites into the hospital treasury.

WHEN PREPARING POTATOES
Dear Miss Grey,—Please, ask letters to send my recipe, for which I inclose a shimplaster. How wonderful these little things swell the hospital fund, which is such a blessing to the dear kiddies. Also please send me the address of Little Mother of Four.

The RED HOUSE MYSTERY

by A. MILNE

CHAPTER XVII.

THE inquest was at 3 o'clock; thereafter Antony could have no claim on the hospitality of the Red House. By 10 o'clock his bag was packed, and waiting to be taken to the "George." To Bill, coming upstairs after a more prolonged breakfast, this early morning bustle was a little surprising.

"What's the hurry?" he asked. "None. But we don't want to come back here after the inquest. Get your packing over now and then we can have the morning to ourselves."

"Righto." He turned to go to his room, and then came back again. "I say, are we going to tell Cayley that we're staying at the 'George'?"

"You're not staying at the 'George' Bill. Not officially. You're going back to London."

"Oh." "Yes. Ask Cayley to have your luggage sent in to Stanton, ready for you when you catch a train there after the inquest. You can tell him that you've got to see the Bishop of London at once. The fact that you are hurrying back to London to be confirmed will make it seem more natural that I should resume my interrupted solitude at the 'George' as soon as you have gone."

"Then where do I sleep tonight?"

"Unofficially, in my bed, unless they've got another spare room at the 'George.' I've put your confirmation robes—I mean your pyjamas and brushes and things—in my bag, ready for you. Is there anything else you want to know? No? Then go and pack. And meet me at 10:30 beneath the blasted oak or in the

RUPTURE KILLS 8,000 ANNUALLY

Eight thousand persons each year are laid away—the burial certificate being marked "Rupture." Why? Because the unfortunate ones had neglected themselves or had been merely taking care of the signs (swellings) of the affliction and paying no attention to the cause. What are you doing? Are you neglecting yourself by wearing a true, appliance or whatever name you choose to call it? At best, the truss is only a makeshift—a false prop against a collapsing wall—and cannot be expected to act as more than a mere mechanical support. The binding pressure retards blood circulation, thus robbing the weakened muscles of that which they need most—nourishment.

But science has found a way, and all true sufferers in the land are invited to make a test right in the privacy of their own homes. The PLAPAO method is unquestionably the most scientific, logical and successful self-treatment for rupture the world has ever known.

The PLAPAO PAD when adhering closely to the body cannot possibly slip or shift out of place, therefore cannot chafe or pinch. Soft as velvet—easy to apply—comparatively inexpensive, today he used whilst you work and whilst you sleep. So straps, buckles or springs attached.

Learn how to close to hernial opening as nature intended so the rupture CAN'T come down. Send your name and ten cents, coin or stamps, today to PLAPAO CO., 412 Stuart Bldg., St. Louis, Mo., for trial Plapao and instructive information—ADVT.

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES

AFTER THE LAST HORSEMAN HAD DISAPPEARED DOWN THE ROAD JACK AND FLIP RAN ALONG THE HIGHWAY AS FAST AS THEY COULD. THE LITTLE TRAVELLERS WERE GETTING SHORT OF BREATH. JUST THEN HE HEARD ANOTHER HORSE.

JACK TURNED AND SAW A FAST FLYING RIDER, WITH A MOUNTED STRETCHER. THE BOY WONDERED WHAT HE WAS GOING TO DO. JACK KEPT ON RUNNING, HOWEVER, BUT WIT NO MATCH FOR THE SPEEDY HORSE.

QUICK AS A FLASH THE RIDER REACHED DOWN AND GRABBED JACK AROUND THE WAIST AND LIFTED HIM UP ON HIS HORSE'S BACK. "DON'T BE FRIGHTENED, SONNY," SAID THE MAN. "WE'LL TAKE CARE OF YOU."

THE RIDER WENT A FEW FEET FURTHER, THEN TURNED OFF THE ROAD AND HEADED BACK OVER THE HILLS. HE SOON REACHED THE OUTPOST, WHO BEHEADED THE COUNTERSIGNAL. IN THE NEXT CHAPTER JACK MEETS THE LEADER OF THE WILD HORSEMEN.

let's leave it for a moment and take another look at the two brothers. In conjunction, this time, with Mrs. Norbury.

"Mrs. Norbury?" said Bill, surprised. "Yes. Mark hoped to marry Miss Norbury. Now, if Robert really was a blot upon the family honor, Mark would want to do one of two things. Either keep it from the Norburys altogether, or else, if it had to come out, tell them himself before the news came to them indirectly. Well, he told them. But the funny thing is that he told them the day before Robert's letter came. Robert came, and was killed, the day before yesterday—Tuesday. Mark told Mrs. Norbury about him on Monday. What do you make of that?"

"Coincidence," said Bill, after careful thought. "He'd always meant to tell her; his suit was prospering, and just before it was finally settled, he told her. That happened to be Monday. On Tuesday he got Robert's letter, and felt jolly glad that he'd told her in time."

"Well, it might be that, but it's rather a curious coincidence. And here is something which makes it very curious indeed. It only occurred to me in the bath this morning. Inspiring place, a bathroom. Well, it's this—he told her on Monday morning, on his way to Middleton in the car."

"Sorry, Tony; I'm dense this morning."

"In the car, Bill. And how near can the car get to Jallands?"

"About six hundred yards."

"Yes. And on his way to Middleton, Mark stops the car, walks six hundred yards down the hill to Jallands, says: 'Oh, by the way, Mrs. Norbury, I don't think I ever told you that I have a shady brother called Robert,' walks six hundred yards up the hill again, gets into the car, and goes off to Middleton. Is that likely?"

Bill frowned heavily. "Yes, but I don't see what you're getting at. Likely or not likely, we know he did it."

"Of course, he did. All I mean is that he must have had some strong reason for telling Mrs. Norbury at once. And the reason I suggest is that he knew on that morning—Monday morning, not Tuesday—that tain—that he knew on Monday that his brother was coming."

"Is that going to help us much?" "No. It makes it more difficult. There's something rather uncanny about it all. I don't understand it. He was silent for a little, and then added, 'I wonder if the inquest is going to help us.'

"What about last night? I'm longing to hear what you make of that. Have you been thinking it out at all?"

"Last night," said Antony thoughtfully to himself. "Yes, last night I was thinking it out at all."

Bill waited hopefully for him to explain. What, for instance, had Antony been looking for in the cupboard?

"I think," began Antony slowly, "that after last night we must give up the idea that Mark has been killed; killed, I mean, by Cayley. I don't believe anybody would go to so much trouble to hide a suit of clothes when he had a body on his hands. The body would seem so much more important. I think we may take it now that the clothes are all that Cayley had to hide."

"But why not have kept them in the passage?"

"He was frightened of the passage. Miss Norris knew about it."

Bill said nothing for a little, and then with a sudden laugh confessed, "It was so exciting yesterday," he said apologetically, "and we seemed to be just getting there, and discovering the most wonderful things, and now—"

"And now?"

"Well, it's so much more ordinary."

Antony gave a shout of laughter. "Ordinary," he cried. "Ordinary? Well, I'm dashed! Ordinary! If only one thing would happen in an ordinary way, we might do something, but everything is ridiculous."

Bill brightened up again. "Ridiculous? How?"

"Every way. Take those ridiculous clothes we found last night. You can explain the brown suit, but why the underclothes. You can explain the underclothes in some absurd way, if you like—you can say that Mark always changed his underclothes whenever he interviewed anybody from Australia—but why, in that case, may dear Watson, why didn't he change his collar?"

"His collar?" said Bill in amazement. (Continued in Our Next Issue.)

BLAMES C. P. R. FOR WAGE REDUCTIONS

A. R. Mosher, Railroad Employees' Head, Testifies Before Conciliation Board.

OTTAWA, Aug. 22.—(By Canadian Press).—"The chief influence which is working to force down wages on the government railroads is, in our opinion, the influence of the Canadian Pacific," A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railroad Employees, declared this afternoon at the session of the board of conciliation investigating the question of wage reductions between the Canadian National Railways and its employees.

Mr. Mosher expressed the belief that the greatest danger to the government railroads was not a political influence but the influence of owners of privately-owned roads. He said that the private owners were seeking to have the government lines run according to policies which would least interfere with the profits of their privately-owned property.

In continuing the argument to uphold wage schedules as they now exist, the representatives of the employees pointed out that since last year a decided change for the better had taken place. The volume of traffic had increased, operating expenses were relatively lower and the net revenue greater. These facts the employees considered would justify wage increases rather than decreases.

POLICE HUNT FOR MISSING FATHER

WINDSOR, Aug. 22.—John Stinson, aged 46 years, former prominent choir leader of Toronto Presbyterian and Methodist churches, is the object of a wide police search in and around the border cities today as a result of his strange disappearance yesterday afternoon from his family.

Stinson, a few minutes before, when he attempted to enter Detroit with Mrs. Stinson and three of their children, was rejected by the American immigration authorities owing to an alleged incurable ailment from which he suffered.

DIES FROM INJURIES OF ACCIDENT ON HIGHWAY

HAMILTON, Aug. 22.—Thomas Bullock, 51 Hatherly avenue, Toronto, who was injured in a motorcycle accident on the Toronto-Hamilton highway on Sunday morning, died at 1:45 this afternoon at the City Hospital.

Joe Dino, Toronto, is held by the Burlington police on a charge of criminal negligence.

Lace On Underwear

THE newest underwear is showing trimmings of lace—not used in frilled and lavish fashion, but put on without fussing. The lace is used in the flounces of petticoats. It is laid in flat rows, and this is doubtless due to the still skimpy lines of the fashionable silhouette which demand underwear with smooth, straight lines. Creamy Valenciennes is used and the hand-made Irish and fluted laces are still good. Venice medallions are also effective and in demand.

Underwear that does not use lace for its adornment is trimmed with applique designs or plumes in a color other than that of the garment.

Lattice trimming, too, is very good. Both hand and machine embroidery is used, but only in plain white or flesh color to match the garment.

One of the newest nightgowns is illustrated—it has gone back to the old-time very high waist and has short, trimmed sleeves and a low-cut square neck.

Tailored lines are found in the new brasserie and step-in combination—a comfortable, convenient garment women have welcomed earnestly.

Radio Radiations

BY THE RADIO EDITOR. SINCE the inception of radio all kinds of devices have been tried out in an effort to eliminate the great bugaboo, static.

Years ago eliminators were being carried around the country in little black boxes. These were operated in a mysterious manner. Sometimes they worked. More often they didn't.

The first real step forward was taken by R. A. Weagant, an American engineer, during 1917 and 1918. At the expense of considerable time and money, Weagant erected experimental antennae along the Atlantic coast. Some of these were six miles long.

With these aerials, the engineer was able to get a remarkable elimination of static—at times. There is no doubt that his system did cut down static to a degree. But it did not always work.

Unlike its forerunners, it could not be put in a "little black box." But it was coated in a theory, which Weagant termed a new law of nature. He said that all static was propagated in vertical directions, while radio signals were propagated horizontally.

Activity stirred up among radio engineers by these disclosures soon developed many flaws in Weagant's theories. But it did more than this. It stimulated such great interest in this greatest of radio problems, that it could soon be said with certainty that static was not in any great degree propagated in vertical directions. Like the radio signal, it traveled in the main, horizontally.

It was also learned that the greatest natural disturbances came from certain directions almost always.

Our greatest American source is in the Gulf of Mexico and northern South America. The greatest source for the Eastern Hemisphere is over Africa. No static of consequence originates over the sea.

In laying out the high-power transoceanic stations, advantage has been taken of these discoveries. Sets are installed to receive from east and west and not from north and south.

A continent or island in the tropics upon which there are high hills or mountains is most certain to be a source of static. The larger the land, the higher the mountains, and the more tropical the climate, the greater the energies stored up in the natural disturbances.

Fish—Eat More of It and Less Meat

BY BERTHA E. SHAPLEIGH. Cooking Authority for Columbia University.

EVEN those housewives who live near the ocean or inland lakes and are used to fresh fish forget to have it on the table except on Fridays.

Most people eat too much meat. Fish is classed with meat, eggs and milk as a protein food, supplying that which is necessary for repairing and building up the body.

Many cooks know but one or two ways for cooking fish; they bake or boil it, and one tires of it when always served in the same way.

There are many ways of reheating or making over fish, and for luncheon or supper these dishes are especially good. Croquettes, scalloped fish and potatoes, fish salad are some of these methods.

Wide Variety for Choice. Of course those people living on the coast or near the Great Lakes have a large variety from which to make a choice. Many fish are in the market the year round, while others have seasons.

Inland people must depend on fish caught in fresh bodies of water—and usually there are one or two good ways of cooking such fish.

Now that we have such a wonderful system of refrigeration, fish can be shipped from one part of the country to another—although it is likely to be frozen and, of course, loses some of its flavor when thawed. Such fish should be cooked as soon as the ice is out.

Canned Shell Fish. Shell fish such as lobster, crab, shrimp, clams and oysters are excellent canned. Many prefer canned lobster even though the fresh is obtainable.

Salt and smoked fish are appetizing, and at times nothing is so satisfactory as smoked herring or finnan haddie or salt codfish. Finnan haddie now comes in cans. Creamed finnan haddie and baked potato, or salt codfish and creamed potatoes make a most satisfying meal.

Always serve a tomato or cucumber salad, or lettuce, with a well-flavored dressing or coleslaw with fish, if possible. Spinach and green peas or beans are good vegetables to serve hot.

If fish is boiled have the potatoes baked or fried. Often it is well to combine fish and shell fish, as stuffing haddock or cod with oysters.

Planked Fish. White fish, shad, haddock and blue fish are delicious when planked, that is, broiled on a plank and served with a potato border with such vegetables for garnish as would go well with that particular fish.

A good sauce is an improvement to most any fish. Drawn butter with hard-cooked egg or pickles is good with boiled fish and the hot egg and butter sauce is good with baked fish.

Any left-over boiled or baked fish is excellent for salad. The fish may be combined with a vegetable and served with a mayonnaise or a salad dressing, to which has been added onion, pickles and a little chili sauce or catsup.

How Bobbed Hair Girl Solved Curling Problem

"My worries began after having my hair bobbed. I simply could not keep it in curl, especially on damp days. After reading about liquid silmerine in all the leading magazines, I decided to give it a trial. I applied it according to directions and then put my hair up loose some of its flavor when thawed. Such fish should be cooked as soon as the ice is out."

This letter from a Pennsylvania enthusiast is one of many which show that liquid silmerine is equally effective for bobbed and long hair. This harmless liquid, obtainable at any drug or department store, is just splendid for keeping any hair beautifully wavy, soft and glossy.—ADVT.

How Much of Your Life Have You Spent In Bed?

Said a gentleman to us the other day: "I have just completed my fifteenth year of sleep."

We at first imagined he was "pulling our leg."

But, no, for here's his explanation: "I am 45 years old today, and I have slept an average of eight hours a day"—just as important.

How do you sleep?

Is it sound, deep, refreshing, or do you wake up in the morning feeling tired and unrefreshed.

The mattress you sleep on has much to do with the quality of your sleep; a hard, lumpy mattress is not conducive to deep, refreshing sleep.

The Fischman Ventilated Spring Mattress is specially constructed to give you the quality of sleep so essential to the maintenance of good health.

GEORGE SMITH PASSES
SUDDENLY AT CHATHAM

Former Prominent Dover Township Farmer, 71 Years Old, Dies.

Special to London Advertiser.

CHATHAM, Aug. 22.—George Smith, a prominent farmer of Dover Township and father of ex-Warden Harry Smith, died at his home on the River road last evening shortly after 6 o'clock. Although he had been in failing health for some time his death was unexpected, and it came as a severe shock to relatives and friends.

The late Mr. Smith was born in Romney Township 71 years ago, and was the eldest son of the late John Smith. In 1876 he settled in Dover Township and farmed successfully until 1908, when he moved to the city. He was a member of Parthenon Lodge, A. F. and A. M., and Mocha Temple of the Mystic Shrine. He was a staunch member of the First Presbyterian Church of this city.

Besides his sorrowing wife he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Charles Chinnick of Raleigh, and Mrs. T. J. Montgomery of Harvey street, this city. Three sons, ex-Warden Harry Smith, who is now Dover Township clerk; J. D. and R. G. Smith of Dover Township, and three brothers, Edward and Thomas R. Smith, Leamington, and John D. Smith, King street west, this city.

The funeral will be held under Masonic auspices Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment will take place in the Maple Leaf Cemetery, and Rev. (Capt.) D. H. Marshall will officiate at the grave.

TRADE HEAVIER ON GREAT LAKES

Marine Companies Secure Fuel and Trade On St. Clair River Increases.

Cargoes To Be Shipped From Duluth To Overcome Stevedore Strike.

Special to London Advertiser.

SARNIA, Aug. 22.—Traffic on the Great Lakes is now heavier than any period in the present season, and despite the effect of the coal strike which tied up a number of vessels for several weeks the season will, on the whole, be one of the most successful.

A number of marine companies have apparently been able to procure recent supplies of coal, and the St. Clair River is busier than ever. Marine companies also point to the unusually late season owing to the great amount of wheat and flour and numerous commodities to be moved westwards. Ore vessels are in full employment, the Pittsburgh fleet is noticeably working at full pressure, and many Cleveland fullers are also passing this port.

Reiss and Hutchings, both large fleets, have been operating in general freight and smaller fleets have been extremely busy in the lumber and limestone trade. Aside from the scarcity of coal cargoes this season has been excellent throughout.

Load at Duluth.

That eastbound freight normally loaded at Port William and shipped by lake passenger steamers to Sarnia will be sent by rail to Duluth and loaded at that point, where the steamer made today by H. S. Gilder, manager of the Northern Navigation Company. This action will be taken as a result of the strike of stevedores at Port William and Port Arthur.

The steamers Hamonic and Huronic were loaded on the last return from the west by members of their crew and assistance which had been taken from Sarnia to offset the effect of the strike.

So far as can be ascertained there is no probability of a strike among the Sarnia dock men, who have been performing their duties quite contentedly.

Inmate Missing.

A city-wide search was instituted by the police and officials of the local house of refuge to find Joe Florio, 30, who has been missing from the institution since Saturday. The officials are at a loss to know what has happened to the man, and are inclined to discount a story told by other inmates of the institution that they saw the missing man being led away from the refuge farm by two strangers.

Florio was something of a mystery inmate. He was kept in the local jail as a vagrant for two years and eighteen months. It was deemed expedient to transfer him to the house of refuge. In all that time he has not, until very recently, answered any remark or question addressed to him. Given a pail and scrubbing brush he was happy, however, and the superintendent of the house of refuge is concerned with finding a solution to the mystery of the man's disappearance.

FLAMES DAMAGE BRANTFORD PLANT

Man Observed Loitering Around Factory At Early Hour in Morning.

Special to London Advertiser.

BRANTFORD, Aug. 22.—What might have been a serious fire took place early this morning when the northern half of the Brantford Novelty Company's plant was gutted, the damage from fire and water making the place a very sorry sight. Damage amounting to $1,500 is reported.

About 12:30 this morning a policeman saw what he took for workmen about the building and at 3:30 the firemen got a call to the factory. The blaze, sharp enough while it lasted, was soon under control and no damage was done to the southern half of the store or to adjoining buildings. All the machinery used in the manufacture of these novelty machines was destroyed and much material and unfinished work were damaged.

The proprietor claims that no person by his authority was working in the building after 5:30 last evening, and thinks the men seen by the policeman were there for illegal purposes. This is the busiest time for the factory and much loss will follow the delay.

The buildings are thick in the district and the material was of unusually inflammable character. The building, which was formerly the Imperial Hotel, was not greatly damaged by the fire, but the fire reached the outer walls and the contents before the fire-fighters prevented further possibilities.

Chief Lewis, who investigated the cause of the fire, reported at noon that there were no signs of incendiary either side of the factory. The fire started at the rear of the building at an early hour this morning, noticed smoke and turned in an alarm at the central fire station. His quick work helped the firemen greatly.

The funeral will be held under Masonic auspices Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment will take place in the Maple Leaf Cemetery, and Rev. (Capt.) D. H. Marshall will officiate at the grave.

CARMEL PRESBYTERIANS HEAR NOTED MUSICIANS

Special to London Advertiser.

HENSALL, Aug. 22.—On Sunday last at both the morning and evening services at Carmel Presbyterian Church the congregation enjoyed a musical treat, when Albert Pequegnat, noted basso, sang two solos, including "The Ninety and Nine," and "Open the Gates of the Temple."

Mr. Pequegnat was accompanied by M. H. Falla, the organist and conductor of Queen Street East Presbyterian Church, Toronto.

Inspiring sermons were delivered by Rev. Mr. Ross of Hamilton, who had charge of the services during the absence of the pastor, Rev. J. J. McCombe, on his holiday.

Pequegnat and Mr. Falla were here for the day as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Drysdale, members of Carmel Church.

ASK RESTORATION OF TRAIN SERVICE

Chatham Residents Protest Restricted Passenger Schedules of Pere Marquette.

Special to London Advertiser.

CHATHAM, Aug. 22.—Chamber of commerce officials are getting in touch with officials of the Pere Marquette with a view of having the present restricted passenger service restored to normal. A few weeks ago the railway company announced a restricted service owing to the coal strike, with the result that it is tying up industry in no small manner.

A delegation of commercial travelers met Manager Landon of the chamber of commerce yesterday afternoon. Steps were immediately taken to get in touch with Pere Marquette officials, who promised that the restricted service would be eliminated as soon as a supply of coal for passenger locomotives was available.

The lifeless body of an old man by the name of Chandler, who has been missing from his home for some weeks, may be found in the bush section of Orford Township, is the opinion of county police officials who have been investigating the disappearance of the old man since his absence was first noted.

Missing since Monday, August 7, the aged man is believed to have missed his way when returning to his home, and becoming exhausted might have fallen a victim to heart failure.

Inspector T. M. Side arrested John Henley of Wallaceburg yesterday afternoon on a charge of selling liquor contrary to the Ontario temperance act. In order to give the license authorities time to secure their evidence, trial of the case was postponed to a later date.

Fire Chief Pritchard is all smiles today. He is the possessor of a brand new chief's car, which was delivered by the Gray-Dort Motors this afternoon.

The car was duly tested and accepted service. It carries, in addition to inspection equipment, two hand chemical extinguishers, a motor siren and a hand siren.

SURPRISE KERWOOD MAN ON HIS 85TH BIRTHDAY

57 Descendants Tender Reception to Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson.

Special to London Advertiser.

KERWOOD, Aug. 22.—On Thursday afternoon, August 17, a very pleasant gathering took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, the occasion was the celebration of the 85th birthday of Mr. John Richardson, sen., of Kerwood. Brothers and sisters, children and grandchildren, great-grandchildren and a few intimate friends to the number of 50 were invited.

The occasion was one of complete surprise to Mr. Richardson. It is doubtful if the family record of Mr. Richardson can be duplicated. In a family of eight children, 38 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren no death has yet been recorded.

YOUTHFUL FORGER SENT TO PRISON

Special to London Advertiser.

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 22.—William Lackie, a 19-year-old boy, was arrested today by Constable Carleton Place on a charge of forgery, committed at Tavistock, where he was employed, was today found guilty and sentenced to three months in the Ontario reformatory. The magistrate gave Lackie a chance to make restitution; however, his relatives would not come to his aid.

HANOVER WORKMEN ARE INJURED IN ACCIDENTS

Special to London Advertiser.

HANOVER, Aug. 22.—Albert Fizzell and W. Zuffelt, employees of the Hanover Cement and Stone Company, were injured today when a crane was working on the crane, oiling up, when he had his arm dislocated, and was otherwise bruised.

Mr. Zuffelt had the second finger of his left hand crushed while dumping a car.

AGED KITCHENER CITIZEN SURVIVES AUTO ACCIDENT

KITCHENER, Aug. 22.—Henry F. Jacobs, who was knocked down by a motor car in front of the Mutual Life building in Waterloo on August 7 and seriously injured, had sufficiently recovered today to leave the hospital.

He will be confined to his bed at home for several weeks. The man suffered from a fractured skull, a broken collar bone and several fractured ribs. His recovery is considered remarkable, as he is over 60 years of age.

WITHDRAW CASE AGAINST HILDER

Defendant Pays Costs of Court Proceedings At Woodstock.

Special to London Advertiser.

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 22.—The case against A. E. Hilder, found guilty a week or so ago by Magistrate Patterson on a charge of selling shares in a dry milk sales company under false pretences, was today abandoned and the accused paying the costs.

The case has aroused much interest throughout the county. Today the crown attorney stated that he had no objection to having the charges against Hilder dropped, and he exhibited letters from some of the farmers who had purchased stock, and who were really the complainants in the case, in which they asked to withdraw their accusation against Hilder. Two of the stockholders had their money returned, while the other had a change of heart and now wished to retain the stock purchased.

At the preliminary hearing evidence went to show that Hilder's agents had misled purchasers, who believed they were buying stock in the Oxford Milk Producing Company, a company recently established here, whereas the stock was really in a sales company which was expected would include in its activities the sale of the products of the milk company.

The water wagon used to sprinkle the local streets came to grief yesterday afternoon, and in its collapse the driver fell and suffered a broken ankle and other injuries.

George Bruce, the driver, was working Dundas street when one of the wheels of the wagon came off and the tank turned turtle.

STATES POLICY ON IMMIGRATION

the municipalities of Nova Scotia have disowned the necessity for any law which would lead to serious trouble and rioting and is subversive of the rights of the people and makes a mockery of the law.

"Congress asks that you bring strong pressure on parties responsible for presence of troops, to evacuate the strike areas."

The peculiar position of the congress now was that there no longer existed a provincial federation of labor in Nova Scotia, which might take up the question with the provincial government there while the various local trades councils in the affected areas had not taken the question up with the Dominion Congress. Consequently the latter did not know whether it should or should not intervene in the dispute.

Upon a recommendation of P. M. Duggan, the resolutions committee was authorized to prepare a special resolution on the question immediately.

sage today to Wm. Cosgrove, acting chairman of the Irish provisional government.

"I deeply regret to hear of the death of the commander-in-chief of the Free State army. In his death the free state has lost a fearless soldier, a leader of great energy and devotion, and a man of remarkable personal charm. Please convey to the members of your government my profound sympathy with them in their loss of one of Ireland's brilliant sons at a moment when Ireland most needed his special qualities of courage and resolution."

DE VALERA IN CAVALRY.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—Eamon De Valera has become a cavalry man, and consequently is more elusive than ever, says the correspondent of the Daily Mail with the national army in the field. The republican leader and all the members of his contingent are reported to be mounted on hunters, he adds.

De Valera is believed to be either in the neighborhood of Fermoy, County Cork, where it is known he has a large number of his followers are concentrated.

"FORGIVE THEM" IS LAST WORD.

Cork, Aug. 22.—Large numbers of Republican irregulars ambushed the commander-in-chief's party en route to Bandon. An armed car, which was accompanying the National army officials, inflicted heavy casualties upon the irregulars. Just as the attack was beaten off, a bullet struck Mr. Collins in the skull, and he expired within minutes. His last words, addressed to Major-General Dalton, were: "Forgive them."

The ambush occurred in a wild mountain road between Macroom and Bandon at 7:30 o'clock.

Collins was in an open touring car with Major-General Dalton, governor of the Mountjoy Prison, and Captain Montgomery, an officer of the general staff.

A party of National army troops, escorting the officers, had just passed the little village of Beallinblack when a volley of shots rang out from a group of Republican irregulars who were concealed along both sides of the road.

The body was brought to Cork this morning and transferred to a steamer for conveyance to Dublin.

believe that for this purpose soldiers are being sent here.

(Signed), "D. LIVINGSTONE, President."

"J. B. McLACHLAN, Secretary."

"District 26, United Mine Workers of America."

Delegate Watson of the United Mine Workers of America asked that the congress pass a resolution as suggested by the telegram.

B. McLachlan suggested that in view of the importance of the issue, the framing of a resolution should be left to a special committee.

Pleas For Support.

Mr. Watson, in his plea for support to his union, said the striking miners were protecting the mines from damage of all kinds, and that they had the support of the public in their fight. If the men were peaceable, why all the display of military force which was not needed in the strike?

He then outlined the history of the strike, recapitulating a number of charges which the miners' organization had preferred against the British Empire Steel Corporation owing the mines.

Tom Moore then outlined the part which the congress had played so far in the strike. For the last three years, he said, the men had been subject to all manner of aggravation.

"At the time of the organization of the British Empire Steel Corporation from the iron and steel companies, I gave warning of what would happen. Either they would have to grind down the wages paid labor, or else charge excessive prices for their product to pay dividends on the capital of the new corporation. This forecast has been borne out to the fullest degree."

"But our hands were more or less tied by the action taken by the miners' executive who, because two of their members had been elected to parliament, decided they would do without the assistance of the trades unions. They sent back their charter to the Sydney Trades Council and decided to depend upon their own political organizations."

Executive Protests.

On Friday last a telegram was in which the congress protested the Premier King. Mr. Moore continued, in which the congress protested the unnecessary calling in of troops into the strike areas.

The prime minister had replied that only such troops had been sent as had been requested by municipal authorities through the district officer commanding that military district.

The peculiar position of the congress now was that there no longer existed a provincial federation of labor in Nova Scotia, which might take up the question with the provincial government there while the various local trades councils in the affected areas had not taken the question up with the Dominion Congress. Consequently the latter did not know whether it should or should not intervene in the dispute.

And many other similar reports, all prove that this heating appliance has exceptional merit. May we send our twenty-page booklet, giving detailed information. Write or telephone for it today.
