Toronto, May 3 .- Tanned, and the picture of health, Lieut.-Col. W. M. Gartshore, president of the McClary Manufacturing Company, London, is again among friends, after spending six months in New Zealand, Australia and the Orient.

Accompanied by his wife and grand-daugheer, Miss Catherine Cleghorn, he arrived in Toronto yesterday. He will begin the last lap of his journey homeward this evening, arriving in London at 9 o'clock. Although he spent the day and night visiting old friends and inspecting the Toronto offices of his company, Col. Gartshore was impatient at the delay. He told The Advertiser so when interviewed today at the home of Richard

"I would have been in London last night," he said, "if I had not been are very anxious to have you back. Gartshore seemed highly pleased. "Well, I assure you they will not be one bit more pleased to see me than I them," he said.

Asks About London. Then he eagerly inquired about conditions in London and about many of his friends. He was glad to hear that something definite was being toward ridding the city of the level crossing menace and the Grand Trunk station.

"I heard Sir Henry was in London, and that the city gave him a great reception. It's rather a good thing that I did not arrive when he was there," he said, with a smile. "I see nothing in the way of elevated callroads in London except the cost. They certainly would prove a paying investment in the long run."

Col. Gartshore thought it would be splendid thing if the C. P. R. would use the C. N. R. tracks, and rid the city of all level crossings at once. "It would lighten the burden, too," he said. "The C. P. R. would join the C. N. R. just east of the city and leave them again at Hyde Park. The C. P. R. proposed that some time as but the G. T. R. would have none sed that some time ago it, refusing to relinquish their ex-clusive hold on the heart of the city. Now that the government owns the road a solution might be found."

He further laid down as fundamental that there was not available enough wages, salaries and dividends in any year, to buy the production of that year. A considerable proportion of it had returned to the credit system. He illustrated this by figures prepared for him by a group of his associates in the United States. From 1990 to 1917, these figures indicated, the production of the U. S. rose by 83 per cent while in 1919 an actual wage of $1,153 had not as much purchasing power as $426 in 1899.

"Are you of the opinion that prohibition under the O. T. A. makes for increased production of goods?" Seventy-six per cent said that prohibition increased the regularity of attendance of the worker, and 74 per cent said it improved their capacity for work. Eighty-five per cent said that poverty and drunkenness were not as common now as under the old har. Some manufacturers complained about bootlegging. The sum re-relived by the dispensaries during the year was $1,175.000, as compared with $325,000 during 1921. The overhead expenses were 86 per cent. Doctors prescriptions showed a marked inbrease, the board being of the opinion that large amounts were sold for beverage purposes. What Caused the Change?

It would be interesting to know just how Mr. Drury and Mr. Morrison patched up their differences on the eve of going to the people for another vote of confidence.

There was nothing of this sort in the air when the deal with a situation that has been manipulated in premier made his first speech of the campaign in Milton, for there he announced that he was going to carry on as he had been carrying on, and that he would seek to bring to his support men and women who held views similar to his own, no matter whether they were engaged in agriculture or not.

He had taken that course because he thought it was right, and the chances are that he still thinks it would be the right course. Mr. Drury has never received encouragement from Mr. Morrison in the carrying on The residents down around there had heard it several of the work of government. It may be that he never expected any, in which case he was not disappointed in not receiving it.

the premiership, but at that time it was not supposed that he would be able to carry on and form a govern- witness said it had horns. ment that would function, Mr. Morrison himself never hoped that such a thing would be possible. When it Was demonstrated that the thing was workable, and that Mr. Drury had found it possible to gather around him a combination of forces that could go ahead with the work of government, Mr. Morrison lost interest in assisting Mr. Drury. His chief interest since that time has been in seeking to make it plain to the agriculturists | O. T. A. paid a visit to that district. that a mistake had been made in having a group there large enough to be called upon to form a government. He has been so persistent in doing this that Mr. Drury has been constrained on several occasions to say that he could not and would not follow the dictation of Mr. Morrison.

It had been thought by many that Mr. Morrison's function with the U. F. O. was to teach them business methods, and carry out the idea of making the work of farming a better occupation in Ontario, and that Mr. Drury, on the other hand, was leading the forces that were to give political expression to the views of the agriculturists. In this way there would have been team work, but things were not carried out on those

Now these two factions have "made up." Mr. Morrison seems to have dictated the terms subscribed to. for they were the terms of the Morrison school, viz., a strictly agricultural bloc in the legislature, and after the election the matter of carrying on the government -if called upon-to be referred back again to the U. F. O. executive, dominated by IIr. Morrison.

It may be urged that the Liberals who met in-Toronto a week or so ago, and denounced in such do. strong language any idea of working with Mr. Drury, and something to do with the decision. It may also be rison and his friends with him than against him in the supper on the back stairs. coming campaign. Whatever may be the cause, Mr. Drury has apparently abandoned the Drury party idea. scampaign gets far along. It should be interesting, barrel left those 14 eggs cold. because the premier does not impress one as a man who lightly changes his mind.

The Best Thing That Could Happen.

A report from Toronto says that the campaign chest of the Conservative party is empty, and for that reason the men who get the nominations there will have to prepare to finance their own campaign. This is said to eliminate some of the younger and more fiery generation, and rather place the chances at the disposal of some Conservatives who have both political onions out of a bottle with a hatpin. ambitions and the money to pay for them.

If the Conservatives have no campaign funds it probably means that all the parties in Ontario are starting out on the same basis. There has been too much secrecy about campaign funds in the past, and this secrecy has had much to do with the impression, quite general at times, that there is a barrel of money at the disposal of politicians who will go in and take itwith the idea that they will perform in parliament according to the wishes of the men who put up the

No political candidate should be called upon to finance his own campaign. There are eandidates in Western Ontario who have not recovered yet from the effort of trying to get squared away from the inroads that were made on their own private funds during the Dominion election of 1921. They were nominated, and the hat passed at the meeting. The sum total of the ffering was placed at the disposal of the candidate, out it was not enough to pay his way for a week. There are certain fixed expenses which must be incurred, such as the renting of halls, advertising, hiring rigs, traveling, etc. In the course of a campaign these things will run into a lot of money.

If a man has certain political beliefs he should be offling to make his little offering to the campaign fund ecessary to put these into operation. He pays his ments to his lodge, to his church, or his labor union. But when it comes to his political activity many of them are willing that the candidate should go around seeking money where he can get it, and probably compromising his freedom of action in the legislature

It would have a wholesome effect on politics in general were the financing of the campaign made more of a public matter. It would put an end to a whole lot very little, if any, foundation in actual fact.

Three Things About Alberta Coal.

Sir Henry Thornton discussed Alberta coal during his stay in London. There are a few things that point out what he is prepared to do as far as the Canadian National is concerned:

1-He will try to make it possible to cut the rate. he will not handle the traffic at a loss.

2-The operators in Alberta must not seek to take price for the coal at the mines.

3-The distributors in Ontario must not increase their charges. Each of these three points is reasonable. The bis ue in the first place is service to Eastern Canada. If there are complications that threaten to take away from the consumer in Ontario any of the benefits of Alberta fuel the government should be prepared to act quickly in either production or distribution

The people must be served.

Action More Useful Than Views.

According to despatches from Washington, President Harding is inclined to view the sugar boycott carried on by women of United States as "wholly consistent." He is also stated to believe that it will be beneficial and help bring down the price of sugar.

Such an admission is as weak as it is uninteresting. A boycott against a household necessity is an admission that the government of the country is powerless to order to gouge the people of United States and Canada. Every time a householder in either of these countries buys a pound of sugar, tribute is paid to the sugar combine, and officialdom comments that the boycott is "wholly consistent." The situation calls for the action of the president rather than the comments of the president.

The only way in which it could be located was when the cattle started to grow restless at its approach and Mr. Morrison had a part in putting Mr. Drury into finally stampeded. The hired man had seen it a couple of times, and described it as wearing tusks. Another

Regina could probably tell this with better effects than Winnipeg. In the days when sidewalks were not as plentiful in that city as they are today it was a fine business getting around after a rain.

By the time a person reached home his feet resembled wo well-made poultices, stuffed with pieces of straw, burned matches, and all other things that are thrown about the streets.

But it is great land to hold moisture and produce growth. May the sticking on the part of western land be mutual, continuous and advantageous.

PAYING HIGH FOR THEIR GAINS.

(From the Halifax Chronicle.)

The high tariff adopted by the United States last year was put on the statute books presumably in the interests of the farmers, who, however, in securing what they hoped would be protection for their own products, of corruption talk and suspicion for which there is had to submit to a largely increased tariff rate on practically everything that entered into daily use. The tariff which was promoted as in the interest of the agricultural community developed into a tariff which was not merely high protection, but was practically prohibitive in many of its features.

The United States farmer gains a third of a million dollars per day under the new tariff on the things he produces, but the same tariff is costing him a million iollars a day on the things he consumes. In other words, health as your work requires, as he gains on his wool, but loses on his woollens; gains on his wheat, but loses on his flour, etc.

Detailed statements are shown to prove the assertion of the bureau. The wool tariff represents a gain contact with God. dvantage of an increased demand to secure a greater to agriculture of $37,500,000 a year; it costs farmer buyers $27,300,000, and it costs all consumers $91,000,000. The sugar tariff represents a gain to United States growers of $45,800,000; it costs farmers $48,000,000 on the sugar your work is done.

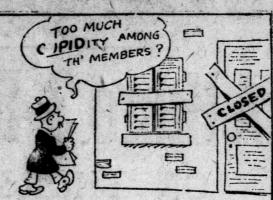

Then you will be clad to go they buy, and it costs all consumers $192,400,000. The (Copyright, 1923, by the Republic wheat tariff represents a gain to farmers of $10,000,000 year, a cost to them of $3,000,000, and a yearly cost to all consumers of $12,000,000.

Defy United States.

Some talk is going on openly defy-ing the United States and running ships into the New York harbor with the bars sealed, just to see what will happen. This is by no means an unlikely situation, as the shipping com-panies consider the supreme court decision as the last straw after the high tariffs, which reduced the freights and the laws which have hampered the most profitable emi-gration business. It seems quite likely, therefore, that the harbor of New York will witness some "international 'incidents," unless the authorities take a lenient course after June 1.

who put stamps on letters in the most haphazard manner imaginable -here, there, or anywhere on the envelope, and without taking the trouble to see that they are properly 'stuck fast' before dropping the let-ter in the mail-box, sometimes with the result that the stamp comes of while it is on its way through mails, and then, though the letter is sent on to its destination, the person to whom it is addressed may have to 'pay up' on account of the missing

You see, the trouble is that if you lick the stamp in the good old-fashioned way you may, in a moment of en-thusiasm, remove too much of that very necessary mucilage which should keep it in place on your letter. If you have ever tried it, you are probably already convinced that this was never intended. Otherwise, we would be making every effort to supply the stamps in more popular flavors—as-sorted to suit all tastes—for in the language of the modern businessman

"Just moisten the envelope and press the stamp down firmly on it, making sure before dropping it in the street letter box or postoffice re-ceiver that there is no danger of it coming off—just a little care then may insure you against future embarrassment or critical remarks made by the addressee which may make your ears burn, even if you don't realize at the time why someone, election agent has been ordered to be somewhere, is giving you the reverse reported for corrupt and illegal practices.

Marlborough Urges Linking Up Questions of Migration and Preference.

Associated Press Despatch. London, May 3 .- In the House of Lords last night, Lord Marlborough moved a resolution requesting a definition of the government's imperial policy and urging the linking up of the questions of imperial migration and preference.

Lord Long, implored the government to show the dominions that "we appreciate their overtures."

The Earl of Beauchamp declined to believe that the loyalty of the dominions would be increased by a tax on British food.

The Duke of Devonshire, replying, said that when the occasion arose he 'touchy' friend or relative, or someone of whom you are asking a favor, hoped the government would be able to still further extend the principle of imperial preference, which had been laid down by his predecessors.

Referring to state-aided migration, he said that if the government required wider powers they would not hesitate to come to parliament for them. They fully realized that they had a opportunity. The question of migration was not a policy of despair, for the purpose of battling with temporary unemployment conditions, but a question of a means whereby the great untouched natural resources of the Empire could be turned to use.

BELIEVE U. S. DECISION IS PROHIBITION'S DOON

French Trans-Atlantic Shipping Interests Stunned By Congress' Action.

Special Cable to The London Advertiser and The Philadelphia Public Ledger. Paris, May 3.—While French trans-Atlantic steamship interests appear stunned as a result of the United States Supreme Court decision affecting liquor within the three-mile limit, certain French writers take the view that such a decision really sounds the death-knell of prohibition and that in a short time French wines again will be traversing the Atlantic to quench the American thirst." Their argument is that the supreme court must naturally-and honestlynterpret and sustain the federal law but that it has really been egged on to do it so promptly in order that America may really discover what an international mess has been brewed as a result. Thus these Paris optimists feel that a revulsion of feeling is likely to occur shortly in Washing ton that will result in modification of the Volstead act.

Long citations appear in order to prove that prohibition does not prohibit and straw votes of American papers are reprinted showing majorities favoring repeal of the un-popular act. Secretary Weeks is quoted as admitting there is strong opinion favoring a return to "usage of wine, cider and beer," while the last election is produced as proof that the anti-prohibitionists really

Lieut. J. B. Sarrell, M. C., Succumbs to Heart Failure at His Home in Tiverton.

Local military authorities received word this morning of the death at his home in Tiverton of Lieut. J. B. Sarrell, M.C., who was stationed on for nine months in 1919. His death is said to have been caused from heart failure brought on by operation for appendicitis.

Officers at the barracks well remember the popular lieutenant, and the news of his passing comes as a sad surprise to his numerous friends in the Forest City. His intimate pals in London say that he was always in the best of health, and describe him as being one of the most amiable and clever young men that has ever held a commission in this city.

Lieut. Sarrell, who was in his 31st year, was one of the first to answer the call when the Motherland threw the call when the Motherland threw her forces against the Hun. Though he enlisted as a private with the 11th Battalion on the 23rd of September, 1914, his dashing courage on the fields of France brought him distinction, and it was while attached with the 8th Battalion, Manitoba Regimental Depot, that he won his commission. He fought in France, Belgium and Germany, and on April 10, 1918, he was invested with the Military Cross by His Majesty King George V. at Buckingham Palace.

Shortly after returning from overseas, Lieut. Sarrell joined the London staff during May, 1919, and six months later was transferred to another military district. He had served in nearly every large city in Canada, and was on the reserve list of officers. The last record the Lon-don authorities have of Lieut. Sarrell was in August, 1921, when he was with a regiment in Saskatche-

-by a leading physician (name on request).

"After having recommended it to many of my patients over a considerable period of time, and having watched the beneficial results following its use, I have no hesitation whatever in making the statement that BROWNS' 100% PURE WHOLEWHEAT COMMUNITY BREAD has proven itself, in my practice, infinitely superior to any other wholewheat bread I have ever tried."

The REASONS BROWNS' 100% WHOLEWHEAT "COMMUNITY" BREAD is prescribed by doctors and dietists is because it is the GENUINE ARTICLE! It contains "ALL OF THE WHEAT," which is very seldom the case with SO-CALLED WHOLEWHEAT BREADS, and furthermore it contains NO SUL-PHURIZED MOLASSES-so commonly used in "brown" breads.

MAKE SURE YOU GET BROWNS' 100% WHOLEWHEAT BREAD, and you can rest assured you have the genuine.

Last night representatives of both the London A. A. A. and professiona baseball club met the finance committee to ask for tax exemption for Tecumseh Park. This could not be granted, but a money grant will likely be made to cover the amount of the taxes. The professionals offered the use of the park to the amateurs if the taxes were covered, and the city council by making such a grant will be giving amateur baseball a lift. Norman Keene, one of the directors of the London baseball club, in a brief address, explained that most of the American teams in the Mint League were kept up by municipal grants, and while the London club was not asking for any assistance in that way, they were in a position to help out the amateurs if a grant toward the taxes were made.

The seniors drill again this afternoon. With nothing but the weather to gamble on, it will be a long session, starting at 4 p.m., and grinding through till the customs house clock ding-dongs "seven."

So far, Manager Ed. Stein has not selected a probable final combination from his big camp of aspirants. He even hints that the selection of a good many of the bidders for season jobs is going to be a "some-sized" job. Whatever combination is sent into the big amateur race this year, however, Manager Stein is sure of one thing. They all have the right spirit.

That means more than it looks at the first glance. The right spirit team play, harmony among the players, wil-lingness to listen to advice, and an absence of that know-it-all quality.

The boys have worked veral times, thus far, under the watchful eyes of Manager Stein and Coach Gil. Forgue. It is of Manager Stein and Coach Gil. Forgue. It is too early to size up a probable lineup or to anticipate the chance the locals have of cop-ping the Ontario honors, but when Ed Stein says he is pleased with what the lads have shown in their brief workouts things are not Roland Young, the British middleweight champion is the man Augie has selected as his first victim, just who will prove the victim is a bit uncertain, for Young is a real scrapper, who beat Ted Kid Lewis, for the British title. The writer believes the fight ought to be a most interesting one, the big question will be regarding Tommy's ability to stand Jack off and wear him down with terrific wallops. What will happen if Jack lands one of his terrific clips is quite another matter.

Tommy Gibbons' knockout of Chuck Wiggins in New Orleans should not be overlooked. Chuck is nobody's set-up, and while he is not a terrible puncher, he has generally had the cleverness to avoid a great deal of punishment, and when his cleverness failed to stand him in stead, he has shown the ability to take shocks that would put less rugged men soundly to sleep. Soccer Notes

We have good news for London soccer juniors. Westminster Hospital, through the good offices of Dr. McGhie, medical superintendent, has not only kindly granted Army and Navy Vets football club the use of the institution's soccer field, but have extended the same privilege to the London and District Junior Football Association teams, who in all probability may be seen cavorting there whenever the wearers of the red, white and blue are playing away from home.

Representing the L. and D. J. F. A., the writer wishes at this opportune time to thank the Westminster Hospital authorities for the offer extended, which we can unhesitatingly state will be eagerly taken advantage of by London's younger soccer element.

Westminster Hospital soccer grid-iron this year, after everything has been put in tip-top shape, will be one of the best soccer football pitches in London and district.

While on this theme it will no doubt interest London's sportsmen to learn that Westminster Hospital's sport activities this summer will be greater than ever before. With a rather nifty baseball team already organized, and a soccer football aggregation that will oppose Army and Navy Vets, etc., in friendly encounters, they are also contemplating the formation of a cricket eleven and other outdoor healthful sports.

London junior soccerites will also be glad to know that. Captain Pete Lang. St. Thomas Junior Rovers' energetic manager-player, is at present on the lookout for a memorial cup for London and District Junior Football Association competition, with the series to be played off towards the fall of the year. This will make three competitive L. and D. J. F. A. trophies and one for the London juniors themselves.

The St. Thomas Junior Rovers, C. A. will take place on Saturday on Wood-worth avenue grounds. S. cm. the kick-off taking place at 5:30 p.m. C. A. S. C. please note this as being official. Referee "Alf" Allman of St. Thomas will take charge of this game.

In the West Ham United - Bolton Wanderers English Cup final played at Wembley Park stadium. London, England, Saturday, April 28, sentiment favored the London team because they were of the second division and because of their game fight to bring off a dual event—the championship of their division and the cup.

But for the goal scored by Jack Bel

But for the goal scored by Jack Bolton, inside-right, in the first three minutes of play and the fact that the "Hammers" wings were cramped by the encroaching crowds—and the Londoners are noted for their dashes along the chalk-line—the result might have been different. A goal scored so early in a cup final means an awful lot to a team.

Judging by the despatches, it was a lively final, the liveliest on record from a crowd standpoint. As an exposition of skifful soccer it was a poor affair, according to the critics, and all because of the crowds that invaded the playing field time and again and hampered the outside men. When twenty-two players tuned up to the minute for the big event of their lives, and more or less on edge, had to aid the police in keeping the excited multitude in order, it cannot be wondered that their play suffered.

Both elevens were affected alike, and the F. A. did right in recognizing the game as the final. It was another case of the best-laid schemes of men developing, an unexpected kink.

as Wanderers cop the coveted mug, the biggest crowd that ever assembled inside any sports ground anywhere, and while official records of the actual attendance can never be forthcoming, one may honestly admit that the previous record of 127,307 at. Hampden Park, Glasgow, on March 23, 1912, was beaten by last Saturday's multitude at Wembley Park.

Fortunate it was that no one was seriously injured in the mad rush, before which the iron gates and barriers went down, and when the police time and again forced the crowds back from the field. It was not a riotous crowd. Not one red cent or rather one penny taken at the 153 turnstiles was found to be missing after all was over, and, mark you, not one bottle of beer was stolen, which proves beyond doubt that the huge crowd of humanity was neither beer-thirsty nor bloodthirsty. A few "bob" will repair the damage to the stadium.

President Ernest Duckworth, St.
Thomas League, has hit on a rather novel play in order to have competition in the Horton Cup series. The St.
Thomas League prexy proposes to invite entries from the whole of Eighn County, with the qualifying round taking place among the juveniles, then juniors, with the last two remaining teams being left to compete in the first round proper, having their seniors as the opposition. The plan is a very feasible one indeed, and one that would undoubtedly give the competition an impetus never before dreamt of, and to both the juvenile and juniors' viewpoint would most assuredly be an incentive towards reaching lefty summits later on.

Graham Bruce and his Thistle colleagues are at present busy as beavers rounding up enough Chelsea Green youngsters in order to form at least two juvenile elevens. If the enterprising "Jags" succeed in their great missionary work a juvenile league will immediately be formed and a trophy secured for competition. An open-air meeting will be held by Chelsea's younger element for the purpose of organizing such a league on Friday evening, with the meeting-place being located on the banks of the River Thamas

British Open Champion and Correspondent of The Advertiser.

Aboard S. S. Aquitania, May 2.—In returning the British open championship cup to Great Britain, I took the opportunity to glance over some of the previous winners of this famous trophy.

The cup was played for the first time in 1872, over a half century ago. Previous to this championships were played, but a belt was the prize then, instead of a cup. The belt lasted for a period of twelve years, and was finally won by young Tom Morris, and became his property.

Young Tom continued his brilliant championship play, and won the new trophy the first time it was played for. His name is the first on the cup. This was his last stand, however, as the field of contestants became larger, and more good players developed. Young Tom Associated Press Despatch.

Paris, May 2.—Despite the declaration by the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States that he cannot compete abroad, Charley Paddock, American cinder-path star, intends to take part in the international collegiate track meet here this week, it was definitely stated today both by Paddock and the French General Association of Students. The association said if Paddock broke any records the new marks would be recognized officially by the International Federation of Students.

"I want to make it clear," said Paddock, "I am not defying the A. A. U.'s ruling, as it alleges. I am not a member of the A. A. U. and I have never asked its permission to participate, since it has nothing to say concerning collegiate meets."

After Braid got started he was a consistent winner. He annexed the championship in 1905 and 1906, and the competition was keen in both instances. The iteid of players had almost doubled. This was the last time the British open was ever won in successive years by the same player, so this is what I face this year. If I am lucky enough to repeat this year I will break a record that has stood for almost twenty years. The task ahead of me is something to be taken seriously.

Largest Amount In History of EMPLOYEES OF VICKERS Port Collected In April.

The task ahead of me is something to be taken seriously.

Harry Varden has his name on the Cup six times, and is therefore accounted the greatest of all British golfers. He held it during the war, so it was in the possession of his club for ten years. Braid and Taylor won five championships. Up until the time Jock Hutchison won at St. Andrew's year before last, the cup had never left Great Britain. Arnod Massie, a Frenchman, won the title in 1907.

Had Never Compared Our American professionals never had competed in this event until 1910. Willie Smith, a Scotchman by birth, Wille Smith, a Scotchman by birth, and a player who had won our American championship, went over and finished in fifth place at St. Andrew's. Johnnie McDermott was the first American homebred to compete. He played at Muirfield in 1912, but failed to qualify, much to the disappointment of American golfers, who rated McDermott as the equal of the star British players. On the following year little Johnnie tried his luck again. This time he finished fifth, and made a very good impression. One or two of our amateurs played for the title the next impression. One or two of ou amateurs played for the title the nex year, but failed to make any kind of shaked payed for the the next year, but failed to make any kind of a showing.

Several of our best pros made an assault on the title in 1913, but McDermott and Tom McNamara were the orly ones to make much of a showing. That year the entry list had grown to immense proportions, as 269 took part. The remarkable showing of the American players in the past two years has caused the British some concern. When we made a wholesale atack on the championship at St. Andrew's Jock Hutchison grabbed the title and Tommy Kerrigan was a good third. Barnes and myself were tied for sixth place. Several of the others were close behind. Our success last year is still fresh in the minds of the American golf fans. I was lucky enough to win the chief honors, and Long Jim Barnes was close behind, tied with Duncan for second place. Jock Hutchison was a good fourth, only a stroke behind them. Nova Scotia Motorists Protest Present Method of Levying Fees.

Canadian Press Despatch. Halifax, N. S., May 2.-Automobile owners and dealers, smarting under the extremely high fees payable to the provincial government for licenses, are talking of trying to get the application of the tax altered to permit of what they consider a more equitable distribution, namely, to have the tax added to the price of gasoline. This system is in use successfully in some of the states of the union. By its method the car user who does not do a great deal of motoring would not have to pay and Advance in Dupont Add Interest.

DEMAND INCREASING

LAULINAL OHUNES Buying In of General Motors

By STUART P. WEST.
Special to The Advertiser.
Wall Street, New York, May 3.—Two rincipal features in the stock market oday were renewal in a large way of saying in General Motors, acompanied a usual by a sharp advance in Dupont allway shares. It has been said an tong that the people back of the narket for General Motors represent ne of the strongest groups working t present on the bull side. It was remarkable that in a hesitating general rice movement they could put this tock above 17—almost its high of the eason.

The dividend meetings of General Motors and Dupont are scheduled for ater in the month. It is pretty well stablished that Dupont dividend will be raised from $6$ to $3, and the street s beginning to talk more about a higher that of General Motors. At least, the ata regarding current earnings and raise on hand would seem to afford the stable of the super conditions. rders on hand would seem to afford round for such expectation.

The two strongest stocks in the rail-ary group were Pittsburg and West erginia and Pere Marquette, the former making a new high for the year above 42, and the latter crossing 40 again. The explanation, stated above, is that dividends are expected in both instances, and some are looking for a distribution on Pere Marquette as early is June.

related by the American etroleum Institute show that a good leaf has already been accomplished. For the week ending April 23 receipts of California Oil at Golf ports and on he Atlantic seaboard dropped to a daily verage of 146.285 tharrels, against a fally average of 225.000 the week before. No surprise was expressed in any of he markets at the French refusal to ecept the 20,000,000,000 gold marks aparations offer. The continued decline mark exchange was the only reflec-francs went lower at the start, but allied subsequently. A sharp reversal vas shown in the latest Bank of France statement from the deflationary movement in note circulation which had been one on for nearly a month. The reach government has again had to increase its borrowings in the unusual um of 500,000,000 francs, and this has reing on for nearly a month. The French government has again had to increase its borrowings in the unusual imm of 500,000,000 francs, and this has een accomplished by an increase in utstanding paper accounts of nearly 00,000,000 francs.

WALL STREET GOSSIP

By MONITOR. New York, May 2. Professionals again were the main cfors in trading. Floor traders vied

It was learned through private banking channels that before the legislature adjourns this week it may rush afough into law a bill providing for axing leans about 1½ per cent. Sinch egislatioh, observed a stock exchange an, would put a severe burden on vall Street's shoulders, where every usiness day of the year millions of cliars figure in daily borrowings from anks or other institutions. Needless o add, it was the opinion of this man hat such a law was unfair to the lower and of Manhattan Island.

Specialties were extraordinarily trong, although none of them snapped ack to their recent highs. General lectric, to which Wall Street has aken a decided liking, rose four points, nd this was believed to be but paral, recognition of the good business in and, as well as that apparently seen the promised expansion of power nd its usage. Notwithstanding wide ublicity given the $15.000,000 order, Vestinghouse failed to follow appreciably.

Montreal, May 3-Noon.—The Montreal Stock Exchange displayed very little activity in the first part of today's session, and price movements everywhere consisted of but small fractions.
Perhaps the only exception from the standpoint of volume of trading was rlace around 11 o'clock, but the price remained unchanged from the recent acvel at 95.

The only pulp and paper stocks to be traded in were Abitible at 67. Howard Smith at 78½ for broken lots, and Riordon at 4%. All the others were absent from the list.

Shawlnigan was the most active public utility issue, and yet the turnover was only 250 shares. All transactions took place at 116. Bell Telephone fluctuated between 121 and 121½ for broken lots. Brazilian sold at 50 and 50½. Detroit united at 76. Illinois common at 54, 1 point up from the close. Ex-dividend lots of Montreal changed hands at 116 and 116½.

British Empire second preferred again sold at the recent low of 21¾. Steel of Canadian Car preferred at 75.

There was hardly anything doing in the textile and specialty groups. Broken lots of Canadian Converters sold at 97: Asbestos common changed hands at 63½. ½ up from the close; Atlantic Sugar was on the easy side at 22.

THURSDAY'S OPENING PRICES
Chicago, May 3.—With freezing temperatures in Canada, and with rainy weather and other unfavorable conditions for the domestic spring crop belt, wheat prices took an upward swing today in the early dealings. At first, however, the market here reflected a setback in Liverpool quotations. The Liverpool decline was ascribed to prospects of enlarged shipments from Argentina. Chicago opening prices, which varied from unchanged figures to half cent lower, with July $1.19% to $1.19%, and September $1.18% to $1.18%, were followed by a slight general sag and then by a rise to well above yester-

WALL STREET CONDITIONS CAUSED TORONTO FAILURE

Special to The Advertiser. Montreal, May 2.-The failure of onto Stock Exchange firm seemed to have no effect on Canadian stocks. The firm of Duncanson, Howe & Co., the one in question, also holds a seat on the Montreal Stock Exchange, but they have never been active in this they have never been active in this market, and appear to have made little use of their local privileges. They bought the seat a couple of years ago, when quite a number of Toronto houses developed a desire to create a local connection, but the matter seems to have rested there. So far as is known locally, the clients of the firm were not heavily committed in any leading Canadian issues. It was stated that, on the other hand, it was the break in Wall Street that largely influenced their downfall. Considerable regret was expressed in the local street that this firm had to go under, as the members were well and favorably known here, and the house ranked as one of the most prominent in the Toronto field.

MINING NEWS

The Whitney Porcupine Gold Mines Syndicate is making preparations for initial development on its property in Whitney Township. The syndicate owns 120 acres, and surface work, according to officials, has shown the occurrence of favorable ore bodies. Power lines across the property and the T. and N. O. Railway is in close proximity. An up-to-date mining plant is being established.

Operations at the Vipond Consolidated mill, which has been closed down for several years, are likely to be resumed at a comparatively early date. Arrangements are being made for an examination of the mill as it stands. It has a capacity of 75 tons per day, but it is the intention of the management to bring equipment right up to date. Whether the mill will be enlarged to a capacity of 150 tons per day will depend on results obtained on the third and fifth levels, which will be known within 60 days. The company has opened up an ore body of excellent grade on the 400-foot level in the 405 cross-cut.

commenced nearly a decade ago, in connection with the Tough-Oakes Mine, and which left its echoes right up to the present, has finally been brought about. A "settlement agreement" has been signed in London, whereby all the lawsuits, instituted by Mr. Latilla, against C. A. Foster, and none of which actually came to trial, have been withdrawn. Under the terms of the settlement Foster sold out all interest in the Tough-Oakes Mine to Commander Denis Burnie,

The decision on the part of the Coniagas Mines to continue development o the New Ray property in a large way below the 400-foot level was taken only after thorough diamond drilling work had indicated the downward extension of ore bodies of commercial value. The company is sinking to the 1,000-foot level, and lateral work is planned at various stages. The Conlagas is greatly encouraged by development results so far, and if beliefs of the management regarding the property are confirmed, New Ray will become an established producer.

Executive of Canadian Associa tion Calls Upon Departments
To Take Early Action.

Canadian Press Despatch. Montreal, May 3.—At a meeting of the National Executive of the Canadian Fisheries Association held here yesterday afternoon, a resolution was adopted calling on the Ontario Provincial fisheries department at Toronto and the Dominion Department of Fisheries at Ottawa to accede to the request of the Lake Erie Fishermen's Association that they set up joint commission to investigate a number of outstanding fishery prob-lems on the great lakes. Among the subjects of complaint are the Pro-vincial regulations under which the Lake Erie fishermen carry on their fisheries. These have been made much more onerous by reason of the Fordney Tariff.

Trades Council Denies Instructing Dr. Stevenson To Back Rev. G. Q. Warner.

The local Trades and Labor Council at its regular meeting last night instructed the secretary to write to A. E. Barbour and tell him that the frades and Labor Council had not instructed Dr. Hugh Stevenson, M.L. A., to use his influence in backing Rev. G. Q. Warner for the juvenile court judgeship.

This action was taken after the ouncil had received a letter from Mr. Barbour stating that the Free Press had printed a story to this effect in its issue of March 9.

Mr. Barbour will now be advised in an official communication from the secretary of the council that no such instructions had been given and such instructions had been given and that the council was not interested in the matter from a political viewpoint; all of which will, of course, Hester Davis, Peterboro, Endeavors To Lead Horse From Burning Barn.

Prof. A. Short Relates Banking History Before Commons

Canadian Press Despatch.

Peterboro, May 3.—The Children's Shelter here, which housed fifteen little inmates, was destroyed by fire last evening, following an outbreak of flames in a barn adjoining.

The children were playing on the The children were playing on the lawn when the fire broke out, and none of them was injured. They are being cared for temporarily by neighbors.

With the roof of the barn blazing and fragments of burning wood fall-ing inside, Hester Davis, sixteen, rushed into the building in a vain attempt to save a horse stabled there. The animal was so restless that she was unable to free it, and she was forced by the fast-gaining ing provincial election against Prefire to retreat. To Be Equipped This Year.

New York, May 3 .- Soviet Russia has begun the development of a great commercial and military aircraft program and occupies an im-craft program and occupies an important position in the international race for supremacy in the air, according to the aeronautical chamber of commerce, which has made public its annual survey of aviation throughout the world.

The report, covering flying activities in 58 countries, finds France leading all nations in commercial and military aviation, and working on heavy programs. The survey of the Russian activity, however, is of unusual interest.

unusual interest.

"Russia is using German, French and Dutch airplanes," says the report. "Special aviation schools have been established at Toula, Moscow, Smolensk, Kharkow, Pola, Ekatarineslaw, Mokilaw and Petrograd. The Council of Commissaries has voted to obtain 300 new planes for the Red Army. It is reported authoritatively that 100 planes have been bought from Italy. In four cities the government has established domestic aircraft factories. The program for unusual interest. aircraft factories. The program for the year is fully to equip seventy Armed Hunters Search In the Thickets For "Nightmare" Animal.

Windsor, May 3 .- The big "nightmare" animal which was reported roving Essex County, Ont., last week, seeking whom it might devour, left a lot of fresh tracks and consternation throughout the countryside yesterday.

Last night, for the first time in a reek, Essex children were permitted to play out after supper. It had been reported that the mysterious "thing" with horns, gleaming tusks and glittering, pink-rimmed eyes, according to several witnesses, was only a prize hog belonging to Harry J. Neal, member of the Windsor Board of Education.

Then Dennis Marentette, who has a farm near 200 acres of wild wood-iand at Huron Line and Grand Marais roads, gave notive to neighbrute was rambling again. Marentette said he found fresh tracks which might have been made by a big bear or something. They were large tracks, with claw marks, and

Want Ads For House-to-House Workers

Here is a method which brings success to house-to-house workers-"canvassers." Canvassers in general always have had a rather difficult time of it. The average housewife's attitude is instinctively antagonistic. She is apt to listen not at all to the canvasser's story-or to as little of it as she can manage.

This is principally because the canvasser is nearly always a stranger. If he is known, he gets, usually, a courteous hearing. And of the people who give him an attentive hearing, the percentage he sells to is always satisfactory, sometimes very satisfactory. This is where Want Ads enter.

A mechanic whose trade is dull in the spring has a sideline subscription business. To increase his sales, he uses Want Ads. Here is one:

"L. A. Stone, who takes subscriptions at lowest combination rates, representing 150 national magazines, farm papers, newspapers, will call on you soon. Have your order ready.

Mr. Stone believes that Want Ads of this type account for much of his success. When he introduces himself, he says: "I am L. A. Stone, the Want Ad subscription man." He relates that if the party has seen his Wants Ads, as is often the case, he almost invariably gets interested recognition, and a courteous hearing.'

Also, people do, as he requests, have their orders ready. Something about "will call on you soon. Have your orders ready" starts people to thinking seriously about their subscription needs. Anyone who sells house to house, either a part of his time, or all of his time, can use the same plan successfully at low cost. It will work for the man who sells fresh-killed poultry, horseradish or hulled corn; the lady who sells custom-made corsets or soap. Thanks to the Want Ads, the canvasser when he calls is not a stranger. He is raised in esteem. He gets respect and courtesy. He sells.

And put in, "Have your order ready," or similar suggestion. It is an excellent sentence to use.

Woodstock Magistrate Frees Youths, Parents Pay Costs.

Special to The Advertiser. Woodstock, May 3, - Mortimer

Clarke and Sidney Gregory of Toronto came up for trial after being remanded for a week before Magistrate A. S. Ball yesterday in police court on a charge of stealing a Ford sedan, the property of James Bassett, from Vansittart avenue, on the evening of April 24. Both the accused who were defended by W. T. McMullen, pleaded guilty to the council to rescind the bylaw ap-pointing the Port Stanley commischarge.

On the request of Crown-Attorney Ball, who pointed out that it was also the desire of Mr. Bassett, Magistrate Ball suspended sentence on payment of the damages done to the car and the costs of the prosecution amount-ing in all to $58.50. The parents of the accused appeared in court and shared equally in the payment of the costs.

A YEAR'S SUPPLY. A YEAR'S SUPPLY.

He was one of the city's wealthiest men, but he made no ostentatious display of his wealth. A little, thin, poorly-clad girl stood looking in the window of the restaurant at the good things to eat. The man approached and touched her on the shoulder.

"What is your name little girl?"

"What is your name, little girl?" Tompkins, sir," she an swered, looking up at him with great, haunting, blue eyes.

There was something in her pleading, innocent voice that stirred a strange feeling in the millionaire's

"Is your mother very poor?"
"Oh, yes, sir."
"What is your mother's name?"
"Susan, sir. Just like mine."
"Tell, me, child," said the wealthy man, clutching her arm in an agony of suspense. "Has your mother a wart on her nose, and does her breath smell of onions?"
"Yes, sir."
The millionaire covered his face with his hands for a moment, and then said in a trembling voice:
"Little one, your mother and I once knew each other. You have her

No gift his genius might have had Of titles high in church and state, Could charm him as the one he bore, Of children's poet-laureate.

He smilingly pressed aside his bays And laurel garlands that he won; And bowed his head for baby hands To place a daisy wreath upon.

He found his kingdom in the ways Of little ones he loved so well; For them he tuned his lyre and sang Sweet, simple songs of magic spell.

Ah! Greater feat to storm the gates Of children's pure and cleanly hearts,

In this city there are in all eight centers where public schools pupils of Grades VI, VII and VIII are taught nd the work is continued during the first two years at collegiate institute. Training in the public schools is under the supervision of S. R. White, who teaches at Riverview School, and four other instructors, Georgo Cowie, Edmund Geiger, George Scott and Mr. Shortill. The workroom at Ryerson School ranks among the first in the province, according to Mr. White. It is exceptionally well proportioned in size, and is well lighted and decorated with much descriptive material. In addition to the boys at Ryerson School students from St. George's are trained here. Altogether, Mr. Cowie, the instructor, teaches about 165 boys each week.

hough both eyes were gone.

Making inquiry, he learned the lad was an Armenian, an atrocity victim, who had been brought to the States by the American Armenian Relief Association.

"Mr. Brown was still more interested," said Mr. McDermid, "and asked if he might talk to the boy. The young chap, who was only eighteen, told him that the Turks had killed his father and killed his mother then put his eyes out But said er, then put his eyes out. The committee, thoroughly seized with the appalling need and the horror of conditions from which it is hoped to save at least a handful of children, is optimistic enough to believe that adopting Armenian children will prove a popular movement in the city in the next few months.

Share-Up Children.

While it is scarcely hoped that many people will see their way clear to make themselves entirely responsible for adoption of even one Armenian boy or girl, it is believed that groups or organizations will be happy to co-operate in such service.

A TABLE OF HIS OWN.

I have found that the most satis factory way of feeding a young child is the separate table and chair. For my first baby I had a small table and a chair just his size placed near our large one. When his little sister was old enough to sit at table, however, we were cramped for space, so my kusband hinged a little table to the down out of the way when not in use. While I was getting dinner I served the baby what he ought to have. In this way he did not see other foods, and so did not ask for them. When he was through he was content to play or sleep while we enjoyed our quietly, "I am the Stranger—the man who knows. Very little these bunglers do is hidden from me. And now as I am going I will impart to you also my warning and advice. At weapon. present you are, in act and in deed, Lady Tallbois of Knayth. But who knows," he said slowly, "how long you will enjoy that enviable position? You are standing on the brink of a precipice, for which that absurd gap in the floor is merely the figurative

"I guess you're right," muttered "Take this, then, for your guid-ance." Obey no more summonses from these meddlers who claim your obedience. Have the courage—it is your one good quality—to refuse to let them rob you, for already they are overpaid. Above all, abstain from any act of malice whatever towards Joan Mottisfont, for I tell you that

"More than once," said Goodenough quietly, "you have been on the edge

M RS. JAMES WEIR of 373 Grey Street, London, Ont., Whose Return to Health Has Been a Source of Much Rejoicing to Her Many Friends.

Mrs. James Weir tells a story that will strike home with thousands of men and women, for there is hardly anyone who does not suffer from one or the other of the symptoms she describes. They are all due to a weakened condition of the organs, brought about by the persistent indigestion and constipation. Remedy these two ailments and the whole body responds. Mrs. Weir will desirable result in her case.

"For the past year." states Mrs. Weir, "I have suffered agonies caused by gastritis. The food I ate lay in my stomach. It would not digest. Gas would bloat me and press against my heart, causing palpitation and shortness of breath, and it seemed at times that I would smother. For months a was unable to eat potatoes or meat cooked in finy way. Pains would shoot through my back and across my kidneys. I couldn't sleep, and dizzy spells often attacked me, and everything seemed to go round in front of my eyes. It was a fact that I hated at times to venture out alone, as I never knew when a gastric or dizzy spell bring.

When Buying Drugs Does QUALITY Count With You?

Our stock of drug store goods is not only larger in quantity and variety, but the QUALITY is the highest obtainable in all the drug markets.

"In medicine, QUALITY is of the first importance." That is the basis on which we do business.

So many physicians believe this and send their prescriptions to us to be filled.

"If you get it at ANDERSON & NELLES' Drug Store, it is sure to be good."

In a drug store will be found many things that do not come under the head of medicines. Our line of Trusses, Crutches, Silk Elastic Stockings, Bandages, Etc., form an important part of our drug stock.

Experience is a most valuable factor in handling Trusses. It counts both in the selection of stock and in the fitting of trusses. This experience we have had. It adds much to the value of the trusses sold and adds nothing to their cost. Our stock is a complete and modern one in every respect. We solicit inspection of it at any time by those who need trusses. Whenever one of these appliances is required we guarantee a perfect fit and satisfaction in every way. Our Own Elastic$3.50

Rogers, General Editor of the General Board of Religious Education, promised the support of that body with regard to the home department literature

Miss Gladstone Speaks.

Miss Gladstone gave a ten-minute address, preceding the passing of the resolution on the home department as a link between the home and the Sunday School without which, she said, workers among children could not hope for success. not hope for success.

The salient point in the address of Mr. Rogers on "Lesson Helps and Courses" was that the Sunday Courses was that the Sunday Schools were supplementary to relig-ious training in the homes, and not as some people were prone to con-sider, a substitute for home-training. Mr. Rogers also referred to a change in the editorial policy of the Board from concentrating on dogma to concentrating on the child and its social activity and development. "You must adapt your material to the stage of experience of the child," he said "and provide also material which is graded to suit the spiritual emands of the child Laud Miss Bricknell. The congratulations of the Sun-day School workers went to Miss M. Bricknell, who has conducted the junior congregation department in Cronyn Memorial Church for 116 weeks, without missing a Sunday.

Miss Bricknell spoke of the junior congregation as the system is followed in Cronyn Memorial Church.

One interesting fact brought out in her address was that the children are not partial to children's hymns, but prefer to sing the hymns appropriate the season of the church's year. Several delegates expressed en-husiasm for the system of the junfor congregation, Rev. A. G. L. Clarke stating that it was the looked-for solution to the problem of holding he interest of the child in its church Rev. G. Q. Warner referred to the unior church plan which was being tried out in various parishes, stated that this together with junior congregation had promise of being a most successful scheme for holding the interest of the adoles-cent after confirmation.

MOVING TO STRATFORD

Special to The Advertiser.

Stratford, May 3 .- The Goderich Manufacturing Company, Ltd., headed by J. E. Baechler, is considering bringing their entire sawmill to this city in the early fall, according to yesterday's edition of the Canadian Lumberman. The company's extensive rebuilding operations which they had intended carrying out in Goderich are in abeyance at the present time The Goderich Manufacturing Company, who ship very many carloads of logs yearly from Goderich, nearly all of which pass through Stratford, say they would save several thousand dollars annually in freight if their cutting up plant was located in the
