Middle-Aged Woman Sought As Burglar Theory Is Doubted.

POISON WAS BOUGHT

Parents Blame Thieves and Are Closely Questioned by Authorities.

Associated Press Despatch. Chicago, Nov. 19 .- A middle-aged woman, who two weeks ago bought a small vial of chloroform at a hotel pharmacy, was the object of search today by authorities investigating the mysterious poisoning of the 5-weeksold son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Allen, in a suite of the hotel. Discarding a theory that robbers killed the baby while its parents listened to a radio in another room. investigators turned to the idea that revenge motivated the slaying.

PARENTS ARE QUESTIONED.

Special to The Advertiser. Chicago, Nov. 19.—An all-day in-estigation of the killing of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. James Raymond Allen in their suite at the Belmont hotel, proved fruitless, both the father and mother of the baby were taken to the state attorney's office last night for questioning.

It was at first supposed the baby had been smothered by a burglar. Later it was found that the room reeked with the odor of chloroform.

Change Theory.

Such progress as was made by Capt. Naughton and his aides yester-day caused the investigation to veer sharply away from the jewel thief explanation and center on the theory that the child was poisoned by some-one—a woman, it is suspected—who was familiar with the arrangement of the Allen suite.

Mr. Allen, an official of Stackhouse
& Allen, dealers in electrical supplies, held staunchly to the robbery theory.

"My wife has a number of valuable pieces of jewelry," he said. "I think a thief slipped in feared detection, and snuffed out the baby's life

"Now, if you think my wife knows more than she's told about this you're mistaken." Allen suddenly retorted at

Discovery that Ernest Hempel, 2229 Wellington avenue, a clerk at the Belmont hotel pharmacy, had sold a small vial of chloroform to a woman three or four weeks ago was also con-sidered as vitally important in the

New Witnesses.

Hempel said the woman, a stranger to him, said she intended to use the chloroform to clean a dress. Hempel was held in readiness last night to view all witnesses as they arrived at Mr. Crowe's office.

Among the facts brought to light Mrs. Allen is of an extremely nerv ous disposition and was confined in a Kenilworth sanatorium three months before the birth of the baby, her only child. She is said to suffer mental aberration, termed as intermittently

LIST OF NOMINEES SHROUDED IN DOUBT

Trustees Rev. R. D. Mess and J. B. Wright Announce Intention of Retiring.

With the three big "C" members of the board of education still undecided whether or not to stand for re-election, though the chances are that they will do so, the list of nominees for the board, with nomination day only five days away, remains more or less shrouded in doubt.

Trustee A. R. Cairneross, vicechairman: Trustee G. F. Copeland chairman of the advisory-vocational committee of the board, and Trustee B. N. Campbell, immediate past chairman of the board, are considering the question, "to run or not to run" as a unit. In other words, if Mr. Cairneross decides to stand for re-election, meaning as it does, practically that he will be chairman of the board next year, both Mr. Copeland and Mr. Campbell are certain to be in the field again, but if Mr. Cairneross decides to drop out, then it is more than likely that the other two men will follow a similar course. Trustee Rev. R. D. Mess, M.M.. chairman of the medical committee of the board, and "roving member" of the board, has announced that he will not again be a candidate on account of ill-health, while Trustee J B. Wright, senior member of the board from the point of years of ser-vice, has also stated that for business reasons he must retire this year.
This leaves only Trustee Mrs. J. A.
Rose of the half dozen trustees who must face the music at this election. and she has intimated more or less definitely that she will be at the barrier. Mrs. Rose wants to see the east collegiate institute finished, and she wants to be a member of the board for the second year of the twoyear period set aside by Premier G. H. Ferguson, minister of education, in which the present administration system, inaugurated as the direct out. me of the Brittain report, is on become permanent or to be hrown into the discard.

New blood may be transfused into the board's veins by the entry into the field of some of the following, whose names have been prominently mentioned, and one or two of whom have promised, that they will be conomic conference.

Action which will follow will place have promised that they will be candidates: D. C. McNaughton, Wm. A. Martin, Rev. W. R. McIntosh, D. D. Hugh Shuttleworth, Leber Jones for which will follow will place in concrete form the results of the three-day deliberations of the conand Dr. E. S. Detwiler.

Dr. Saunders.

He explains that Garnet wheat will mean more money to the farmers of the west because it is the only grade yet developed which will grow equally well in almost all parts of the west property of the west p the west Because of this, along with the fact that it matures earlier than other present types of equal yield volume, farmers in both the north and south sections of the prairie area will benefit. Two Earlier Types.

At present there are two types of wheat, Prelude, perfected by Dr. Saunders in 1912 and which is earlier Dr. than Garnet, and Ruby, discovered in 1915 and which is as early as Garnet, but neither of these yields as heavily as Garnet.

Garnet is preferable also in districts that need an earlier wheat with as heavy a yield as Marquis. After Marquis was introduced the area in which it could be grown profitably was greatly increased and now with the introduction of Garnet, Dr. Saunders expresses confidence that this same area, although not expended in actual acreage will grow a larger amount of wheat with a consequently greater profit for the

The west is so vast in extent that at present five or six different types of wheat are necessary," said Dr. Saunders. "This is owing to the differences in rainfall, length of season, soil and many other factors. How-ever, it has been found that Garnet will grow successfully in almost every section." "Do you think the time will come when because of this it will be used solely in the west?" he was asked. Suited to Vast Area.

"No," was the reply. "There are certain districts where because of excellent soil and weather conditions the crops are as much as could be expected each year. However, there a vast area apart from these which Garnet will supplant the types now in use. Although Garnet wheat has not vet

Wealthy New Yorker Makes Admission in Trial For Annulment.

Under the inexorable cross-examination of his wife's attorney, which allowed him no avenue for escape. Leonard Kip Rhinelander, young son of a wealthy and socially prominent family, continued to make admissions yesterday before Supreme Court Justice Morschauser and a jury in White Plains that markedly weakened the case his attorneys have been carefully building up against his part negro wife, whom he is suing for annulment. Following close upon his admissions of the day before that he had been unwilling to have his wife's private love letters spread upon the record, but at the instance of his attorneys had broken his promise to her to keep them sacred, Rhinelander time and again amazed the court-room with his admissions yesterday With little outward perturbation except for a more pronounced stammer and a rapid blinking, he testified that "on advice" of his attorney of record Leon R. Jacobs, he had sworn to five falsehoods in a bill of particulars which contained only four paragraphs and which, he said, Jacobs had given him to sign.

Archibald Klumph Will Fly From Cleveland to London Meeting.

The new era in transportation methods will be ushered in for London on Nov. 30, when for the first time in local history a distinguished visitor to the city will make use of an aeroplane in order to fulfil a speaking engagement here.

On that date London Rotarians will stage an inter-city meeting here and the principal speaker will be Archibald Klumph, of Cleveland, president of the Cuyahoga Lumber Company of that city, and international president of Rotary in 1917-18. He is an exceedingly busy man and when the request from the local Rotarians came, he figured out that! the trip to London and return by rail would consume the best part of three days. # MEIGHEN MAY INVADE QUEBEC IN BAGOT VOTE, ADVISERS SAY Deferred Election Date Set For December 7-Nominations Nov. 30.

MEIGHEN WILL ACT

Lieutenants Believe Leader May Try To Make Amends For Hamilton Attack.

> By E. C. BUCHANAN. Special to The Advertiser by Staff Correspondent.

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—One method having failed with Quebec, the Conservatives propose to try another. After having remained away from Quebec throughout the general elections campaign, Mr. Meighen, his advisers say, should go to Bagot and defend himself and his party in connection with the forthcoming election. It is probable that the Conservative chief will accept the advice.

The constituency of Bagot will witness one of the bitterest political contets ever waged in Canada. Both parties are determined to make a supreme effort in the riding. Conservatives admit they have little chance of winning the seat, which was held by the late member-elect, J. E. Marcile, from 1898, but they are not disposed to let even the slightest chance go by default.

Seat Means Much.

The opposition wants the seat, not for any moral effect in Quebec, but to secure one more vote in the commons toward the defeat of the Mackenzie King government. The Conservative leaders are leaving no stone upturned to find the votes which will give them a count of 123 in a house

With the writ issuing for the deferred election, it is now assured that the new member for the riding can be in his seat when the division Nominations will be on Nov. 30, and polling on Dec. 7.

A week must be allowed before the successful candidate can be formally declared elected, which would make him eligible for his seat on December 14. If parliament opens on December 10, there will likely be the cember 10, there will likely be the usual adjournment over the week-end, so that a vote on confidence would not come before the 14th at

Test Vote Easy.

Members from distant parts of the country are complaining about the possibility of not being able to get ome for Christmas with parliament in December, but they are not likely to be subjected to such hardship. The prime minister, in his statement last night, clearly indicated that he expected Mr. Meighen to challenge the confidence of the mons in the government without delay after the opening, and unless the Conservative leader prefers to postpone the test, the vote would be

The Prime Minister's Statement.

The statement issued yesterday by the prime minister of Canada warrants careful consideration. In quality and purport, examination will prove it to be unique among explanatory manifestos hitherto issued by prime ministers or

We are accustomed to statements from party standing of finances, the number of cases dealt leaders, explaining why they have taken a van- with, and that's about all. The report available tage, for their own or party's gain, of this or that situation. Mr. King's statement is in effect an apology for not taking advantage of a situation in a manner which, no doubt, even many of his political opponents would regard as proper and indeed almost obvious.

The defeat of a party leader in his own constituency is no new thing in Canadian politics. It happens in nearly every election. And it has grown into an accepted practice that in such a E. Kelly, the inspector for the London society case the defeated leader may, following the necessary formalities, take another seat in the as the city. It is not the application of force or House. His party, recognizing that his own sea the power of a threat that has made Mr. Kelly's was lost in the party's cause, is usually glad to see that another constituency is provided.

In 1921 Mr. Meighen was defeated in Portage la Prairie. His government, having only fifty supporters, was obliged to resign. But before of tact and human sympathy conditions in that doing so Mr. Meighen appointed one of his foll home might be made worse through resentment lowers to "a position of emolument under the at what might be considered interference. crown," thus creating a vacancy through which Mr. Meighen's return to parliament was assured

Although most observers fully expected Mr. a number of homes on a better basis; its doors King to follow the precedent and practice set have been open to children when others were by previous leaders, in accepting a seat, if not closed. The manner in which its claims are the extension of the practice pursued in 1921 by Mr. Meighen, whose position was far different from that enjoyed now by Mr. King, the prime possess. A call from the Shelter receives just as prompt an answer as from any other quarter minister declines to follow any such course.

He takes the position that the first thing to determine in the unusual circumstances resulting from the polling is whether the newly-elected the same basis. representatives of the people wish the government to carry on or not, and that in order that the business of the country may proceed with of the work accomplished realize that here is an out interruption this point must be determined agency through which a bright chapter of help- lantern and went home. at the earliest possible moment. He is unwilling ful accomplishment is being written each year. to delay the calling of parliament for making this decision even by a day in order that he might serve his own or his party's tactical advantage by holding a by-election. He is unwilling, pending the assembling of parliament. to take advantage of his undoubted prerogatives as head of the government, in the way that to many onlookers must have seemed natural and years.

Mr. Meighen, as Mr. King points out, has challenged the right of the government to continue in office. To test that challenge and for that purpose alone parliament will asemble on December 10, if possible, and in Mr. King's words "the test can be made just as soon after the members assemble as the leader of the opposition cares to raise the issue."

make no move to secure a seat in parliament.

If, as has been stated, the existing situation as between parties is unprecedented in British parliamentary history, Mr. King is creating a precedent which in dignity, restraint and highmindedness may safely be followed hereafter by statesmen anywhere. Mr. King's course has Diviously been determined not on the basis of what would be of advantage to self or party but on the basis of self-renunciation and the strictest propriety. It is a refreshing and stimulating episode in Canadian annals, one which we believe in years to come will be pointed to with pride by Canadian students of history, regardless of par'y considerations.

It is to be hoped the moral of it will not be lost on Mr. King's opponents of the moment, They may misinterpret the sincerity and simplicity of the prime minister's position. If they do, they will make a serious blunder.

An Injustice to Canada.

A report published in the London Free Press from Washington on the number of Canadians and others leaving United States for Canada

"The figures, which were published today, show that in the quarter ending October 1, 1925, the total number of immigrant aliens admitted into the United States from Canada was 22,049, while the total number of aliens emigrating to Canada was only 652."

The Free Press gave prominence to the despatch under a heading: "Few Canadians Return From United States-Canada Sends 22,049 in the former some person's got to win. Three Months; 652 Return."

The system of accepting United States figures on Canadian immigration is neither reliable nor teeth in them. During the year, 200 licenses to fair. The figure 652 representing Canadians, U. S. citizens or others who had entered Canada tember, which would be "the quarter ending to mail their Christmas parcels early, and most hardened criminal is to treat him rough, Cctober 1." seemed so ridiculously small that of us haven't any idea what to put in them. we wired our Ottawa correspondent for returns from the Canadian government. The answer

"Cauadians who returned to Canada from the United States during July after being absent six months or longer numbered 3,029, and other immigrants from the United States 1,567; during August 3,667 Canadians returned from the United States, and other nigrants from that source 'numbered Figures for September are not yet

CHAPTER I

During the autumn of 19—, I was sharing a pleasant set of rooms with Mark Lesty, who was shortly taking up an appointment at a London hospital, and it was, I think, about the middle of that month that the extraordinary affair of Halesowen and his Egyptian potsherd came under our notice.

He moved from the room; his gait had a mincing awkwardness, quite indescribable; and we heard his retreating, heavy footsteps as he passed down stairs. Then we stood and gaped at one another. "His confounded ingenuity," rapped Halesowen, "has completely tied my hands."

Being interrupted, at this moment.

He fixed his eyes upon us with an expression of doubt.

"There was someone, or something, in the room!"

"What do you mean?" asked Lesty, incredulously.

"I quite distinctly saw a hand and founded ingenuity, rapped naies owen, "has completely tied my hands."

Being interrupted, at this moment, by the re-entrance of the gentleman in question, further discussion of the subject was precluded. Zeda carried a small iron box which he placed a small iron box which he placed the reading lamp. Not a thing was to be seen. There was no one in the

Doctor Zeda, placing the portion which he held in his hand against that in the frame, but not so closely as to bring the parts in contact, turned to us with a triumphant smile. "They correspond, gentlemen, to a smallest fraction!" he declared; which indeed, was perfectly true.

"Here! I say!" drawled Lesty. "You'll come to a bad end, young Old Reid Home On Queen's Avenue Will Be Center of Girlhood Activities in London After the First of the New Year.

"Come in the evening. Come in the morning, Come without bidding,

Come without bidding.
Come without warning."

This is the quaint old motto which is carved deeply above the old oak fireplace in the entrance hall of the new Y. W. C. A. building on Queen's avenue. And nothing perhaps could express the idea which the Y. W. C. A. embodies than just this motto. To give it even greater emphasis the hospitable Latin word "Salvi," overtops the whole, and interpreted means "Welcome."

Building is Roomy.

From the exterior the building gives the impression of vastness, but even this is deceptive. It is larger even than it appears. Three roomy floors are partitioned off into many, many rooms inside, some of them very spacious. The intention of the Y. W. C. A. board is to use this building as it stands for administration pur-poses, and to build a gymnasium and swimming-pool on the back part and swimming-pool on the back part of the lot, facing Wellington street. The space available for such a building is 67 by 106 feet, ample for the purpose. Already a local architect has plans ready for the necessary addition.

scored four goals to their opponents' lone tally.

While five of the eight goals scored were recorded in the final period, the preceding frames were not without their quota of fast hockey, and in the first few minutes one of the most promient men on the ice was Joliat, who several times brought the fans to their feet by sparkling plays. He teamed well with Billy Boucher, and both gave Holmes, in the Victoria nets, a hectic time. The visitors were not without the spirit of retaliation, however, and several times the veteran Vezina was called on to do some snappy work.

Heavier Falcons.

Five hundred fans again cheered the juniors through a torrid session at the arena last night, and while the complexion of the league standing was somewhat changed, with St. Marys sitting on the top rung, the fans saw faster hockey. The scores, as in the opening night were low. Westervelts breaking into the win column with a 1 to 0 victory over the Hawks, St. Marys blanking the Orioles 2 to 0, and the Falcons taking a 2 to 1 decision from the Yeung Britons.

The games were played in the order named, and as each squad was shoved on the ice the pace got faster, and the fans certainly got their fifteen cents' worth. Improvement stood out like a wart on a flapper's cheek, and if the youngsters continue to better their style with each program it is going to be a wow of a league when the schedule stands on its last legs.

and the Orioles was choked with thrilis, with the former squad finally emerging the victor.

This tilt was a decided improvement on the evening's hockey, and was fast from start to finish. From the first both teams started bang-up tactics and Elwood's dashes along with Foxworthy's shooting kept the crowd on its feet through the first period.

The second period was much like the first, and dashes by Askew, the lanky schoolboy candidate for London's junior team, were brilliant but not productive. Fitzgerald, a clever and promising youngster, who played left wing for the winners, came to the front, and in the middle of the period stickhandled his way through the Oriole defence to score.

with McCormicks for the major league title.

This arrangement calls off the game between the Brownies and McCormicks, which was scheduled for Saturday night. A great deal of interest is centered in the two teams, but the interest will be none the less with the Tecumsehs as opponents to the major league finalists.

The C. O. F. girls have shown a lot of class on their campaign this season and carried the Hamilton girls to three games in the semi-finals for the provincial honors. Saturday night should provide a real game for the softball fans.

Strength of Mining Issues Is Feature On Stock Exchange.

Toronto. Nov. 19.—Trading remained on a contracted scale on the Toronto stock exchange this morning, but a slightly firmer tone was shown. Smeiters, the leader, advanced a point to tall back later to show the leady and Barcelona and Canada Steamships preferred strengthened fractionally.

The strength of the mining issues was an outstanding feature. Dome sold up 99c to $17.49, and McIntyre 25c at $21. Among the very few declining stocks was Mackay preferred. 21.50 point lower at 105½. Dominion Bank was point lower at 215.

New York. Nov. 18.—Flour easy: spring patents, $8.40 to $8.75; hard winter straights, $8.40 to $8.75; hard winter developments in the local market for spring wheat grades of flour, but the undertone was firm. The condition of the market for winter wheat flour was unchanged.

The market for white corn flour was unchanged.

The tone of the market for milifeed was very firm at the advance in prices noted. There was considerable inquiry from United States buyers for supplies. Reported for The Advertiser by McDougall & Cowans. Montreal, Nov. 19. Open High Low Close 5 Abitibi

M. M. MacBride Declares He Didn't Receive a Five-Cent Piece.

Special to The Advertiser.

Brantford, Nov. 18.—Commenting upon the court's decision, absolving him of the bribery charge preferred by W. G. Brown, Mayor M. M. Mac-Bride, M.L.A., of Brantford, declared: "All I desire to say in connection with the matter is that I didn't receive a five-cent piece."

Magistrate Campbell, in rendering judgment, expressed the opinion that he could see "nothing except malice" in the prosecution, and dismissed the case, holding that there was "not sufficient evidence to put the defendant on his trial."

The complainant, through his counsel, availed himself of a section of the criminal code which permits him Rheumatism

Knowing from terrible experience the suffering caused by rheumatism, Mrs. J. E. Hurst, who lives at 204 Davis Ave. D86, Bloomington, Ill., is so thankful at having cured herself that out of pure gratitude she is anxious to tell all other sufferers just how to get rid of their torture by a simple way at home.

Mrs. Hurst has nothing to sell. Merely cut out this notice, mail it to her with your own name and address and snewill gladly send you this valuable information entirely free. Write her at once before you forget.—Advt. ing this matter to a higher court if he desires to do so. He has given a bond of $500 to this effect."

WHY WALK WHEN YOU CAN RIDE

Inis is the time of the year when a good used car comes in mighty handy. Some people object to buying a car now, because they reason the weather and roads will soon be bad. Of course, we hope for both good weather and good roads, but, if we can't have them, that is no reason for not having a car. Remember, it is always easier to ride through bad weather and over bad roads than to have to walk. have to walk.

McGugan and John McGill were the churches, clubs and dramatic societies are turning from the old style of two, three, and four-act dramas to the newer and more popular play of one act.

In an interview this morning, R. E. Crouch, librarian of the London public library, stated that this increase in interest in this form of the drama most certainly marked a new era in literature and arts. The popularity of these plays lies in the fact that they are for the most part put on by amateurs, they are entertaining and light, and their shortness adds to their charm.

"I attribute the increased popular ity of the one-act play in London to the training given by the teachers of dramatic art, and the propaganda of he Little theatre, New York," said Mr. Crouch. "The Little theatre claims that in a few years the one act play will completely overshadow the longer drama, that this will be so is doubtful, but it is certain that at the present time the one-act play is here to stay."

In recent additions to the library there are a number of the newer shorter plays, among them being a volume of three by Eugene O'Neil, the American playwright, who wrote Desire Under the Elms, the play which created such a furore in litwhich created such a turore in iterary circles last year. Dr. Gordon Discusses Canadian Home Life in St. Andrew's Address

"No nation is secure without the love of the home," Dr. C. W. Gordon

Home is the greatest institution in the world, and it cannot exist without love, he said.
Dr. Gordon, better known as Ralph

Connor went on to say that it is only necessary to think quietly and earnestly about the home to realize just now much it is worth while. "The finest things in life are behind the front door of the home, not in the banks," he continued. "Man's wife and children are his greatest treasures, and he must love them above all other things to realize their true worth. I am glad Canada has such a great home love. There is no home so fine, so well managed, so soundly based on love and common sense as the Canadian home. He traced the origin of the word The word comes from old English, and contains the idea of a place of defence, a storehouse of place of defence, a storehouse of valuables, and a place of recreation from the struggles of life, a place to lay off ham and to forget petty annoyance, and grievances. Dr.

Gordon believes that if there was a true appreciation of the value of the home there would be no need of movies or outside entertainment. He recommends a baby in the home as a gloom chaser and a dispenser of forgetfulness. "The multitudinous antics of Deanery Decides Question of Having Anglican For Institutions.

DR. WALLER SPEAKS

Impetus has been given to the appointment of an Anglican chaplain for the hospitals and charitable institutions of the city through the thorough discussion of the question that has been taken up at the meet ings of the deanery of East Middlesex, now in session at Cronyn hall with A. L. G. Clarke, L.Th., St. John the Evangelist church, presiding as rural dean.

As a result, although the plan of meeting the stipend of the chaplain selected has not yet been definitely settled, it is almost a foregone conclusion that an appointment will be made by Rt. Rev. David Williams, D.D., bishop of Huron, at an early date, primarily to visit the sick and conduct services in the eleven or more institutions in the city.

Rev. C. C. Waller, D.D., principal of Huron college, delighted the deanery chapter this morning with intensely personal and inspirational intensely personal and inspirational address on the subject. "The Ultimate Issues," in the course of which address he touched upon many matters of vital interest to both clergymen and laymen.

"The ultimate issue, the ultimate purpose of life," declared Dr. Waller, "by isolating the fundamental principle is to find God, and to become like Him through following Christ." Sense of Proportion.

Dr. Waller warned the deanery that rather than, as should be the case, being mindful of the sense of proportion and deal more largely with only the biggest things of life, and the things, which after all, are all that

In his address, Dr. Waller proceeded step by step to illustrate his theme by examples from the personal life of the individual, man's relation to his work, and lastly, the clergy-man in his relation to the whole body nally in the wrong before the whole civilized world and bearing the odium of Christianity, which at the moment embraces many fragments, but the ultimate issue of which, demands the reunion of Christendom to accomreunion of Christendom to accomplish the work of the church in bringing the world to a knowledge of God said that he was unable to conceive and His teachings.

Rev. A. A. Bice, All Saints' church, chairman of the city chaplaincy com-mittee, appointed by the Anglican Clerical association, outlined the need for the appointment of a chaplain. He pointed out that there are eleven the dominions was a serious error or more institutions in the city where sick Anglicans have to be visited and in six of which the Anglican church in six of which the Anghean chatch is the services at different times during the services at different times during the week, at hours, unfortunately, when can statesman had stated that the the clergymen ought to be attending o duties in their own parish. and that of this number 50 were in the dominions. He was not going from points beyond the bounds of Middlesex county. He stated that the clericus had approved of a plan to raise $500 in the Anglican churches of this city, to be added to the sum of $300 allowed by the Huron synod, to meet the salary of the chaplain to be appointed. In this connection the following allotments had been suggested: St. Paul's, $130; thad been suggested: St. Paul S, $100;
Cronyn Memorial, $100; St. James, $70; St. John's, $55; St. George's, $40; All Saints, $40; St. Matthew's. $35; Christ, $30.

Many Outsiders.

Supporting the appointment of a chaplain Mr. Clarke stated that there are 400 Anglicans in city institutions at any given moment and that 200 of the curb and onto the sidewalk. By his number come from outside the county. Mr. Clarke added that in his experience in visiting Anglicans n city institutions three out of every five were not members of any Angli-can church and that thus the possiilities of visiting the sick, of bringing about conversions and of linking up the people with some church are invaluable. The rural dean asserted that he sees 'a tremendous work" for the chaplain when appointed, in visiting the sick, in conducting services, and only the minimum asked for by the institutions is now being held, in greeting immigrants from other countries, who are reported by port chaplains, in acting as an official to whom outside Anglican clergymen can forward the names of families moving to the city or students coming to the University of Western Ontario in order that these people may be looked after and directed to the church with which voiced the opinion that since such a large proportion of the Anglicans the institutions come from outside the county the synod should be asked to shoulder the whole of the expense, but the deanery did not oncur in this opinion, and a reso-ution tabled by Mr. Charlton along this line was referred to the clericus committee, which is still working on the whole scheme, instead of being orwarded to the executive committee of synod, at whose hands the plan had received a cold reception on previous occasions.

A deanery committee on missions A deanery committee on missions was named, to include the following: Dean Tucker, Rev. R. J. Brown, Col. C. E. H. Fisher, A. H. Whitlow and e rural dean

NEW VICTOR SHOWN BY MASON AND RISCH

Orthophonic Machine Praised by Critics Now Displayed in London.

Before a group of select guests, dis-tinguished in the musical and scien-tific world, the new orthophonic vicrola of the Victor Talking Machine made its first Canadian appearance in the Windsor hotel in Montreal this

This new Victor machine is now on display at the Mason & Risch showrooms, London.

Every type of music was reproduced. And the audience wondered how the original beauty of tone was kept in the reproduction. The pro-gram opened with the Soldlers' chorus from Faust. In rapid suc-cession there followed the music of full orchestra, the violin, the piano and other instruments. The program was concluded with a splendid ren-dition of the March Slave by the Philadelphia Symphony orchestra. Its preponderance of brass and immense variety of color offered a severe test to the reproducing inrument, which it accomplished to

The most unusual accomplishment not the extraordinary range of the instrument as much as its remark-able fidelity to the original music. The biggest problem that all manuacturers of sound-reproducing in-truments have had to contend with the preservation of tone values in production. For instance, with an instrument aving a fundamental and four overnes it has been absolutely necessary to faithful reproduction that all tones should come through with their ratio of sound pressures unchanged. During the experiments with the new machine a process for the match-ing of impedances has been developed by the associate engineers. Hitherto these impedances had hindered the passage of undisturbed sounds. These mpedances were matched with impedances created by electricity, and thus nullified. This is the basis of the orthophonic victrola. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to come to our store and hear this wonderful instrument. Mason & Risch, 248 Dundas street,
